'Oscar' Award Nominations Are Announced

Films, Actors and Directors Are Cited; Industry To Elect

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 11 (AP)—"Going My Way," Paramount's heart-warming story of two Catholic priests, and its stars, Bing Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald were nominated Sunday night for "Oscar" by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

About 9,000 members of the film industry will participate in the voting to select the winners, who will receive the "Oscar" on the stage of Grauman's Chinese Theatre March 13.

Fitzgerald became the first actor in the modern history to be nominated for both "the best performance by an actor" and "the best performance by a supporting actor" in "Going My Way."

Nextest previous approach was in 1932 when Teresa Wright was nominated in both the women's acting categories but for two different pictures.

Others named for the top performance by an actor were Charles Boyer in "Gaslight," Cary Grant for his portrayal of an engineer's cocky boy in "None but the Lonely Heart," and screen newcomer Alexander Knox for his interpretation of the late World War President in "Wilson."

None of the actors nominated were previous statue winners but three of the actresses nominated for best performance were former "Oscar" winners. Swedish star Ingrid Bergman, who was named out for the top honor last year by a screen Cinderella, Jennifer Jones, was named for her performance in "Gaslight."

Veterans nominated by their fellow players were 1931 "Oscar" winner Charles Laughton for "The Sign of the Cross," and 1937 winner Bette Davis for her interpretation of the valiant Fanny Steffington in "Mr. Skeffington." Everett (Mrs. Sinner) Garrison for "Mrs. Parkington," and Barbara Stanwick who just missed the grade for her portrayal of Stella Dallas in 1937, named for her performance as a cold-blooded murderess in "Double Indemnity."

Other nominations announced for the best picture of the year besides "Going My Way" were "Double Indemnity," Paramount; "Mr. Skeffington," M.G.M.; "Since You Went Away," Selznick International, and "Wilson," Twentieth Century Fox.

Named as the best performance in a supporting part were Ethel Barrymore in "None but the Lonely Heart"; Jennifer Jones in "Since You Went Away"; Angela Lansbury in "Gaslight"; Aline MacLellan in "Wilson"; and Agnes Moorehead in "Mrs. Parkington."

Directors hailed for outstanding achievement were Otto Preminger for "Double Indemnity"; Leo McCarey for "Going My Way"; Otto Preminger for "Laura"; Alfred Hitchcock for "Gaslight"; and Henry King for "Wilson."

Manila Justice Warns Americans On Complacency

While all the other countries of the Pacific, the Japs, the Dutch, the Chinese, the Russians, and even the Filipinos were preparing for war, the United States not only failed to get ready, he said, but actually contributed to the arming of the Japs for this great struggle by sending scrap iron and oil to them which was stored for use against us.

Prior to Judge Malcolm's address, Andrew Stone was well known in the Club by George Touhy. Visitors introduced were Bill Hull of DeLand, Frank Rogers and Bryon King of Orlando, L. E. Mann, George D. Bishop and David Harold of Sanford. President Roy Holler presided over the meeting and Gordon Brisson had charge of the program.

Jap Peace Feeler Reported After Manila's Capture

Nicholas Field Taken And Cavite Naval Base Seized; Tokyo Radio Active

(By Associated Press) A tentative Japanese peace-feeler was reported from London today after General Douglas MacArthur announced "The end is in sight" in the battle for Manila.

American ground troops seized the Cavite naval base on Manila Bay, captured Nicholas Field on the southern outskirts of Manila and cleared the end of the Japanese garrison commanding the Philippine capital.

London quoted a commentator over the government-controlled Tokyo radio as saying Japan's policy is not to reject any hand which offers peace.

Capture of the Cavite naval base and Nicholas airfield were announced by Gen. MacArthur, who said the end of Japan's trapped Manila garrison was in sight.

MacArthur reported enemy casualties of more than 68,000 for the five weeks of the Luzon campaign as compared with American casualties of 9,883, including 2,102 killed.

Capture of the Cavite naval base put the Yanks on the shores of Manila bay for the first time.

Capture Battery

The 11th airborne division in taking Cavite seized 10 enemy airplanes and a battery of three-inch guns intact.

The cavalry division units also reached Manila bay just below the embattled downtown sector as they speared through the Passay (Continued on Page Three)

Patterson Urges Nurses Draft Act To Relieve Army

Armed Forces Are Reported 16,000 Nurses Short of Goal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14, (AP)—Under a secretary of War Patterson today urged prompt enactment of a nurses draft law. He said 16,000 soldiers have already been wounded and the end of the fighting in Europe is in sight. He said the Army now is short 16,000 nurses.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14, (AP)—Chairman William H. Davis appealed to management and labor yesterday to help the War Labor Board clear its backlog of more than 2,000 cases by settling more of their disputes promptly.

"Labor and management," he said in a statement, "may find they have surrendered their liberty by asking the board to settle every case between them."

To supplement the board's recently initiated speed-up program Davis proposed:

1. Fuller use by employers of all means of collective bargaining machinery.
2. Maintenance of existing contractual relations while a case is before the board awaiting decision.
3. Neither side should pick up delays after a case has gone to the WLB.
4. All sides should acquiesce themselves in the signing of wage stabilization pacts while negotiating and before taking their troubles to the board.
5. Submission of written briefs where possible and use of single hearing officers instead of tripartite panels.

So jammed has the board's docket become despite its own efforts at cutting corners that at present it is about 20 weeks behind. Several big cases are before it, including wage and other demands by packing house, textile and General Motors workers.

The backlog of pending cases is estimated at 12,000. The board received 14,000 disputes in the first 10 months of 1944. As of February 2 it had 1,016 awaiting settlement.

In urging employer and employee to make "complete use" of collective bargaining, Davis said:

"Davis said the board has decided that once it has received a case no delays or postponement will be permitted either side unless a written request demonstrating exceptional reasons is presented."

Lieut. M. P. Teague Gets 2nd Air Medal

Second Lieut. M. P. Teague of Dayton Beach, leader of a group which participated in the first B-29 bombing of Japan on June 15, and present in the first B-29 flight group flying the hump between India and China, has been awarded a second air medal and oak leaf leaf cluster and has been recommended for the distinction of flying cross with one cluster, according to a recent letter received by his father, A. B. Teague, who at the present time is assisting his brother, J. R. Teague at the City Iron Store.

"They are taking away our ship, 'Old More', the sixth B-29 that was built, with which we flew our first hump trips," wrote Lieut. Teague. "It was the oldest, but to us, the sixth B-29 in the air. It was the sixth B-29 and our crew it was just one of us, and had good flight characteristics which enabled us to carry greater bomb loads and on less gas than other ships, and still have gas left."

Before embarking for foreign service, Lieut. Teague received three years of training in air schools, and a year of intensive study in a plant manufacturing B-29 planes.

Sgt. W. L. Stoudenmire Wounded In Action

Sgt. W. L. Stoudenmire, Jr., who has been wounded twice in the European theater of war, has for the past two months been convalescing in a hospital in England where he is suffering from trench fever.

A letter received last week by his mother, he expressed his happiness over receiving his first letter in two months. He received several letters in one day and having been concerned over the health of his family, was satisfied to hear that all were well.

So far he hasn't received any of his Christmas boxes he wrote, but he has hopes of getting them one day now.

His address is: Sgt. W. L. Stoudenmire, Jr., 42811184 Det. of Palmetto AFB, c/o Post Master, New York, N. Y.

Sportmen Invited To See Field Movies

"We have secured some very interesting hunting and fishing pictures from the Field and Stream Magazine and the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission in Tallahassee," wrote Mr. Denard.

Charles H. Shaffer Is Back In Sanford

Charles H. Shaffer, SPS-2c, USNR, former Sanford motor cycle patrolman and cab line operator, has returned to his family, 424 Palmetto Avenue, after receiving his honorable discharge from the Naval Service. He was last stationed at San Bruno, Calif.

Mr. Shaffer served for 12 years in the police force, then resigned to found and operate the Grey Cab Company, Park Avenue and Third Street for two years. He has served a year and a half in the Navy.

He added that he had not as yet made any business plans but would devote some time to hunting and fishing, results of which would make known to Mr. Stellan Blomstrom, well known Sanford sports expert now serving in France, who in the past often used to ask him about his hunting and fishing adventures.

E. S. Rigney Is Back In America

E. S. Rigney, MM 1/s of Seneca, who served more than a year with the Sea Bore in New Guinea, has been returned to the United States and the hospital at Corona, Calif., and is being treated for a condition approaching nerve deafness, according to a recent report. He will soon be sent to a Pennsylvania hospital for a nine weeks course in lip reading.

Mr. Rigney has three children: Al Rigney, AB 3/c, serving with the Navy at San Diego, California; James Rigney, a pupil at Seminole High School and Mrs. Blinnie Rigney of Sanford.

Prior to entering the service, Mr. Rigney was a driver here for the Texas Building Company.

NEW YORK CITY, Feb. 14. (Special) A tremendous upsurge in the desire of American fighting men to read books has taken place within the past year, the Council on Books in Wartime was told yesterday by Lieut. Col. Ray I. Trautman, chief of the Library Section of the Special Service Division, Army Service Forces, who has just returned from a tour of the European fronts.

Speaking at the Council's third annual luncheon meeting at the Ambassador on Feb. 1, Col. Trautman revealed that, although the Army has increased the output of Armed Services Editions from 20 million to 50 million a year in the past 12 months, there still are not enough books to go around.

The Armed Services Editions are paper-bound books of best sellers, popular classics, and other general interest which are distributed overseas and to domestic hospitals without charge. The books are published by the Council on Books in Wartime, a voluntary group of book publishers, librarians and booksellers. More than 500 titles have already been published since its inception in September, 1943.

Col. Trautman, whose tour took him to England, France, Belgium, Holland and Germany, said the fighting man's interest in reading books "any kind of book" has reached the point where they are willing to pay another soldier just for the privilege of being next in line to read his book. It is not unusual for a soldier to reach the front where they are willing to pay another soldier just for the privilege of being next in line to read his book. It is not unusual for a soldier to reach the front where they are willing to pay another soldier just for the privilege of being next in line to read his book.

On Christmas Day in Belgium, Col. Trautman visited the operating room of a hospital and found a Council Book (popular name of the Armed Services Editions) which had smudged a patient's forehead. "The nurse said she was nearly every page for about ten thirds of the book when they suddenly ended," the Colonel said.

Col. Trautman told the story of a platoon of combat engineers separated from the rest of their company for several weeks. They were only about 10 books away from the front. The platoon commander had the books collected in order to have "mass readings" every night. Col. Trautman said the men would gather around and listen to somebody reading aloud by the light of a flashlight. When the batteries gave out captured German flashlights were used.

In Paris prison camps, the books distributed through the International YMCA, are of the utmost importance in making life bearable for prisoners of war, Col. Trautman said.

Col. Trautman revealed how the Psychological Warfare Division of the Army sent planes over Vucowley island and dropped some books by parachute. Reports later told how the natives had taken the books to someone who could read and translate them with the result that an extra warm feeling of cordiality for Americans now exists in that area.

It was emphasized by Col. Trautman that the men never could be told about titles. While lighter fiction is generally the most popular there is no record of anyone ever turning down the more serious authors such as Shelley, Litmann, Poe, Mann, Lamb, or Housman, all of whom are represented in the Council Books.

Vagrancy Cases Are Found In Court

Disorderly conduct and vagrancy were the most numerous cases on the docket in City Court Friday.

The case of Gene Suvney, charged with stealing an automobile was transferred to the County Court.

For disorderly conduct, Jack I. Bushlow and P. H. Gately were each fined $10 or 30 days bond.

Of E. C. Redick, charged with improper parking, was treated. The following cases were dismissed: I. T. Stranger, charged with assault and battery and making threats and disorders; conduct charges against Coleman W. Henney, John S. Emerson, and Forest A. Lee, also a reckless driving charge against Mary Z. Kenis.

Fines and charges against negroes were: Naomi Martin and Gladys Holloway, disorderly conduct and vagrancy, $10 each or 30 days; Frank Jones, disorderly conduct, $15 fine or 30 days; vagrancy, Willie J. Lawrence, $10 fine or 30 days; Frank Jones, $25 or 30 days; and Willie Henderson, $25 or 30 days for reckless driving. Mary Brown Dean was fined $15 or 30 days.

Bonds of negroes were extracted on the following charges: Odell Mhyard, disorderly conduct, $20 bond; Willie Henderson, $11 bond; Earlean Robinson, assault

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin, warning Germany to surrender quickly Monday night announced a nine-point plan to crush Nazism and collaborate for a lasting peace.

The announcement stemmed from the "Big Three" meeting at Yalta, Crimean watering resort. The conference, which lasted eight days produced detailed decisions, not only in the military field but in even the more difficult realm of European politics.

AMERICA'S FARM FORCES

The crucial, critical year is just ahead for America's Farm Forces. This is the year they must produce MORE (even than last year's record crops) with less help and with fewer replacements of farm machinery.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY

Ad your Standard Oil Man for a free copy of his Wartime Maintenance Manual for farm machinery. This 64-page book will be of great assistance to you in preserving the life of your farm equipment.

1. Detailed agreement among the United States, Britain and Russia on military plans against Germany which will result in shortening the war. As if speaking to the German people over the head of Hitler, the communique warned them that "Nazism is doomed. The German people will not make the cost of their defeat heavier to themselves by attempting to continue a hopeless resistance."

2. A final decision to split Germany into zones of military occupation after victory. The United States, Great Britain and Russia each will occupy a zone, and France will be invited to occupy another. If she accepts, she is expected to do the control commission will be expanded to include French members. Victory is to be followed by destruction of Nazism and militarism and elimination or control of German industry capable of war production.

3. A commission will be set up in Moscow to consider the amount of German reparations, and how they should be paid. The communique spoke especially of reparations in kind, presumably raw materials and goods.

4. A formula for settling the Polish issue was agreed upon. It provides for merging the provisional government now recognized by Russia with certain unimpaired democratic leaders from within Poland and from exile Poles abroad. It also provides that Churchill and Roosevelt recognize Stalin's insistence on the Curzon line as Poland's eastern boundary which gives Russia huge chunks of so-called Old Poland including the cities of Vilna and Lwow.

5. Another formula along the same lines was disclosed from Yugoslavia. The Big Three and Marshal Tito, who is now ruling the country from the south, and Dr. Subasic, the minister of the exile government at London, should immediately set up their coalition government as previously agreed on.

6. To provide continuity of the Big Three, the chief of state agreed that the foreign secretaries should meet every three or four months beginning in London about the middle of the year.

7. The Big Three made up their minds on the big issue still unsettled in the Dumbarton Oaks plan for world organization and agreed that the United Nations should hold a full conference on this plan in San Francisco beginning April 25. The formula for settling the issue which had previously been a point of contention was whether a big power of aggression should have a veto power on any action against itself. The formula for settling this dispute will be made known as soon as China and France have been consulted.

8. It was agreed that the Big Three powers should join in assisting any of the liberated or former Axis states of Europe in carrying out measures designed to guarantee the peoples' right to choose their own government. This is one of the most far-reaching decisions that it means that from now on the United States may have a direct hand in every European settlement pending the proposed creation of the world security organization which will give it even greater role in world affairs.

9. The Big Three summed up by predicting that victory and the Dumbarton Oaks plan together will provide the greatest opportunity in all history to create a lasting peace, with freedom from fear and want.

MOSCOW, Feb. 14. (AP)—The Soviet Union's official press described the Crimea conference today in glowing terms, and the impression in Moscow was that President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin all were highly pleased with its results.

Pravda, the official Communist party organ, set the keynote of Soviet reaction to the Big Three Conference with the declaration that the parley "has proved that the alliance of the three big powers possesses not only an historic yesterday and a victorious today, but also a great tomorrow."

The government newspaper Pravda hailed the conference as "the biggest political event of current times—an event which will enter in history as a new example of coordinated solutions of complicated questions in the interest of peace and democracy."

president of Kiwanis International.
Mr. Dean, so far as we know, is not related to the editor of this paper, though we are sure he is a very great man and one with whom we would be proud to claim kin. However, our Deans are all rebels and he

According to the United Press,
"A 10-year housing program providing 19,000,000 jobs for 600,000 new homes and housing units for 5,000,000 families was advanced tonight by the American Federation of Labor."
Let's see now since we know the average five persons to each family, and only about 2,000,000 people in the whole world, that would make some 12 1/2 houses for each family in the world.

Although he admits that Abraham Lincoln really said a mouthful at Gettysburg, Dr. Frederick C. Packard, Jr. of Harvard University, ricks Demosthenes' speech "On the Crown" as the greatest oration of all time. Now what little boy or girl in the class ever heard of Demosthenes? The last time we heard him mentioned was when Foss Hathaway said that if he had the vocabulary of Demosthenes or Doyle Cartwright he couldn't defend the State Road Department against all its enemies.

The 22-year old female editor of the student newspaper at William and Mary College comes out openly against racial intolerance.
Says she "Negroes should attend our colleges in the same clubs, be our roommates, and marry among us," creating quite a sensation among the students. But when Mrs. Roosevelt goes around using her influence virtually to the same end, what can one expect from a 22 year old college senior?

One of the most interesting talks we have heard in a long time was made at the Rotary Club Monday by Judge George Malcolm, a resident of Manila for 33 years and former chief justice of the supreme court of the Philippine Islands. Judge Malcolm commented rather adversely on a so-called "assessment policy" toward Japan which preceded for some years the disaster at Pearl Harbor and he condemned our failure to get ready for war while all the other nations in the Pacific were arming to the teeth and the Japs were storing up for future use against us all and scrap iron our blind government in Washington was permitting to be shipped to Japan.

What does a soldier overseas worry about between killing German snipers and dodging trench mortars. Well, we get some idea of that from a letter written by Sgt. Blumstrom, former Herald sports reporter, who is concerned over whether Dr. Lacey, who has been advertising for a soda fountain girl almost continuously for the past few months, ever get the Blumstrom reward. A batch of 30 or more Herald's all at one time and evidently read every word in every one of them for months a message to virtually all those who make news in this little town. Those at home who never have time to read the paper would find they have more time if they were busier at the front.

Plant Sale

The Garden Club is sponsoring a plant sale in Sanford on Feb. 22 and 23 which should be generously supported by all those who believe in civic beautification and who enjoy the sight of flowering shrubs in their own gardens. A few years ago we sponsored an azalea sale here which saw several thousand plants sold to the public in about an hour and a half. We hope this one will go over just as big.

But it should be better, since that sale was put on during the depression when money was scarce and people were more concerned about where their next meal was coming from than how to improve their foundation planting. Yet they found the means somehow to take advantage of that sale and purchase several thousand plants which today add materially to the beauty of this city.

In these days of scarcities, there is no scarcity of azaleas. There are no priorities among those who may purchase them. There is no manpower problem connected therewith, unless you are more disposed to hire someone to plant your shrubs for you than to get the benefit of the healthful outdoor recreation yourself by doing your own gardening. There is no inflationary factor involved for every dollar spent on shrubs is just one dollar temporarily removed from the channels of trade which would otherwise serve to boost prices.

Gardening affords a good way to get your mind off your wartime worries. There is no better way to banish cares and relax taut nerves in order to get a refreshing night's sleep. And there is, if some intelligent care is used in planting, no better way to conserve wartime assets and save for the future, since a dollar invested in an azalea will grow into a two or three dollar plant within a few years. And what more could you do for Sanford than by helping to make it one of the most beautiful cities in Florida?

Infant Prodigies

Adolf A. Berle, Jr., former assistant secretary of state, who has just been appointed ambassador to Brazil, must get tired of hearing himself referred to as an infant prodigy. To avoid this fate, he should not have graduated from Harvard at 18. The brilliance which this feat disclosed has continued throughout his life. Harvard will probably forever associate him with its other amazingly young graduate, Edward Everett. That governor of Massachusetts, minister to Great Britain, United States senator and secretary of state, got an early start by receiving his undergraduate degree at 17. Now for all his achievements he is chiefly remembered as the deliverer of the formal oration at Gettysburg who was completely put in the shade by a two-minute address by Abraham Lincoln.

Both prodigies justified their early promise. Neither, however, made such a startling beginning as William Pitt, son of the Lord Chatham who stood up for the American colonies during the Revolution. Pitt became prime minister of England at 24. That is a mark for coming centuries to shoot at, probably with complete failure. Berle, Everett, Pitt are all answers to the contention that infant prodigies never amount to much in later life. For every case like that of Boris Sidis, who cracked under the strain of precocity, there are others to prove that anyone wishing to be brilliant in life should start young. Mendelssohn, for example, and Mozart.

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

Everytime I take a swing into West Florida I realize more than ever what a vast and diverse 'Real Empire' is wrapped up in the term "All Florida." No other state in the union has so much to offer the tourist, home-seeker and investor.

Unfortunately too many folks have the impression that Florida is primarily a playground and think of the State in terms of coconut palms and bathing beauties, but Florida, — the REAL Florida, has much more to offer and to really know her you must leave the metropolitan centers and winter resorts and travel the splendid highways that take you through miles of bearing groves, rich farming country, great forest areas, past shimmering lakes and across majestic rivers.

The thriving communities of West Florida, between Tallahassee and Pensacola, like most others in the State are crowded and busy. Among the towns I visited were Bristol, Blountstown, Wewahatchka, Quincy, Marianna, Chipley, Bonifay, DeFuniak Springs, Crestview and Milton.

What this rich section may lack in the way of flashy night spots and amusements, it makes up for with a wealth of natural resources and in the wholesomeness and neighborliness of its people. Call them country folks if you like, but they are sincere, kindly, honest, hardworking people of pioneer stock, the kind who have made America great.

It had been several years since I had visited Pensacola and I found the city jammed with people. Great military establishments and war industries have made themselves felt. Hotels were packed, stores and shops crowded, business was booming.

I made the return trip via the Gulf Coast Highway. It is one of the most beautiful drives in the State, making its way along the coast through Ft. Walton, Panama City, Port St. Joe, Anapichicola, Crawfordville and Wakulla to Tallahassee.

Approaching Panama City I was amazed at the development for miles along the beautiful beach, thousands of new homes have been built, most of them occupied by defense workers employed at the shipyards. The yard itself is a revelation. The Eglin Field and Camp Gordon Johnson, great military reservations, occupy vast areas, censorship does not permit a description of them, but just driving through without stopping is impressive.

Visiting editor Frank Pericola of the Panama City News-Herald, I asked what was going to happen to the thousands of new beach cottages in the post-war period. He wasn't a bit worried about that. He is confident that the demand for beach cottages would always be great, pointing out that the Gulf Coast area is the logical and natural beach resort for summer and winter visitors from Georgia, Alabama and neighboring states.

People in this area as in other sections of West Florida were feeling the severe black pepper shortage. Several hotels and restaurants were completely out, not a single store, even in out-of-the-way places had any. Cigarettes, of course, were scarce and Coca Cola hard to find. There seemed to be plenty of meat, with both ham and bacon on the breakfast menus and exceptionally good steaks now and then.

The universal complaint was the help shortage, even the small or communities are feeling the pinch. Stores need clerks, stenographers and typists are hard to find. The colored folks are pros- perous and yet have to make a fuss over them to get a lawn mowed or your washing done. Everybody is in the money. Service men's allotments, shipyard pay envelopes and general easy money have developed the "abundant life" for everyone. There seemed to be more cars on the road than ever and gas was plentiful, some of it mixed with liquor probably accounted for the half dozen wrecked cars we passed en route.

West Florida is producing new industries and developing men with courage and vision are planning for the future. When the Gulf Coast Highway is fully completed, this section will get its share of tourist trade and boasts such outstanding attractions as beautiful Wakulla Springs and Caverns State Park, magnificent beaches and cottages, miles of scenic highways. Don't discount West Florida. It is on the beam and promises to stay there.

This "stamp holiday" is declared to give dealers an opportunity to clear their shelves, and also to ease the shoe situation for consumers. Men's and women's shoes alike are featured in the sale, and ends and broken sizes, but children's shoes are not included. As Mr. Hissen remarked, the demand for children's shoes exceeds the supply, and there is no surplus accumulated on dealers' shelves.

Shoe Ration-Free Period Announced

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 14 (Special) Another ration-free period, wherein shoe dealers may get rid of old-stock and broken sizes without ration stamps, has been announced by the Jacksonville Office of Price Administration. According to Thomas E. Hissen, Acting District OPA director, dealers will have a two-week period from February 19 through March 1, during which over four and a half million pairs of shoes will be offered at specified price reductions, and without requirement of ration stamps. These shoes have accumulated on dealers' shelves during the past several months, Mr. Hissen stated. Ordinarily, they would be moved by means of seasonal clear-

Atcheson - Advises Growers On Need Of Quality Fruit

LAKELAND, Feb. 14. (Special)—Declaring the Florida citrus industry, for the last two or three seasons, has been doing "a mighty good job of advertising and sales promotion," Bill Atcheson, veteran director of the fruit and produce sales division of the huge Kroger grocery chain, operating 3,000 stores in 17 midwestern states, declared here after a tour of the citrus belt, adding "you must find some way of getting your fruit to the market in fresher condition." Atcheson, who also conferred with the advertising committee of the Florida Citrus Commission, said the average housewife today is "demanding freshness and quality and is not paying much attention to the price as long as she gets what she wants." "After all, it is the consumer that keeps us in business and makes it possible for our chain and other retail outlets to buy your fruit—its the ultimate consumer that rings the cash register all the way down the line," he said. Declaring "we like Florida's (citrus) better than that from other areas" Atcheson said the citrus industry has been doing a "hang-up job" of advertising and sales promotion work—so much so that the consumer is now asking for "Florida oranges" with more gusto. In answer to a direct question he said the commission, in his opinion, could do a profitable and advantageous job of advertising and sales promotion, compared to competitive efforts with a larger advertising tax, say three cents instead of the current one cent a box. "Brand names mean nothing" in Florida citrus merchandising, he said, declaring that the name "Florida" stamped on individual fruit would have prestige and would do a job comparable to that of "Sunset" used by California. "Florida oranges" do mean a lot to the consumer today because she has been taught that they have up to one-fourth more juice, and that is what she wants in oranges," he said. "Research should be used, he said, to determine the desires of the housewife in buying not only oranges but in all citrus fruit, and then you should strive to give her what she wants—because she is the one to whom you cater."

But above all, he said "Florida needs ways and means of getting the fruit to the consumer more rapidly to make sure that it is in prime condition when she gets it in the market. "You already have a definite plus in your marketing by being closer to the market area than California, and you should extend that advantage to its fullest." The trend in packaging of all fresh fruits and vegetables is to consume units, the Krogers said, and this sound selling fits into the picture as a merchandising asset. Admitting that the packaging of consumer units, such as the eight pound cotton mesh bag which has been extremely popular this season, consumes a lot of time Atcheson said he is looking for the development of a small unit which will do this packaging at the point of sale, or in the packaging house, speedily and economically. Openly critical of the failure of the Florida citrus industry to tell the story of "color-added" as against "tree-ripened" oranges, Atcheson, said that not one person in thousands realizes that the "color-added" orange is ripe that peculiar conditions in Florida keep it from coloring properly on the tree. Commenting on the anticipated increased production of Florida oranges in the future, with a crop of something like 65,000,000 boxes estimated in five years, Atcheson said that increased advertising funds, properly spent, coupled with sales promotion and the proper consumer and market research to determine what the buyer wants, "will handle your problem." An increased advertising tax, as projected by some circles within the industry is "mighty good business," he said.

All Time Peak Is Reached By Laundries

JOLIET, Ill., Feb. 14. (Special)—If your laundry was as late it was largely due to the all-time peak volume of 6 1/2 million bundles by laundries in 1944, according to the American Institute of Laundering. The nation's record laundry bundle contained 24 billion (24,000,000,000) individual items of soiled linens. This stupendous pile, which topped the 1943 volume by 20 million bundles, was processed despite shortages of labor, equipment, trucks, and tires. And it has freed one and a half million women weekly for other home and other vital home front activities. At the same time the sanitary quality of the laundering has been maintained on a par with pre-war standards, according to George H. Johnson, General Manager of the Laundry Institute.

It's a big event... Have a Coca-Cola

...or having fun at the family reunion

Baby takes his first steps toward his dad home on turlough, and the circle beams in friendly happy reunion. And, of course, there's a family from the family refrigerator to add its life and sparkle. To visitors and family alike, the words Have a Coke are the signal for a friendly get-together. They have a supply of the Coca-Cola ready to cold in the refrigerator. Have a Coke for the party that stretches—a happy symbol of a friendly way of life.

Maternity Death Rate Reaches Low Point In Florida

Jacksonville, Feb. 14. (Special) The State Board of Health this week revealed that "despite the war, shortage of doctors and nurses, plus the second largest crops of babies in the State's history, the maternal death rate reached an all time low in 1943. More babies were born in 1944 however, than ever recorded in the history of the country. During last year (1943) 125 Florida mothers died from childbirth, of this number 95 were white and 30 were colored. Ninety five percent of the white mothers were delivered by physicians, while only 31 percent of the Negroes had direct medical supervision during delivery. The remaining colored babies in this group were delivered by midwives. Another interesting and important revelation, according to Dr. Lucille J. Marsh, director of the Board's Maternal and Child Health Bureau, was that the Negro maternal death rate has decreased more than 50 percent during the past two years. One possible reason for this reduction in deaths is the fact that the majority of the more than 200 midwives in Florida, the instruction in the more modern methods of midwifery is being furnished by the State and individual health units are holding regular classes, with attendance stressed as mandatory. Even greater results in bringing down the Negro children's death rate are now expected in connection with the State-wide Negro Health Committee's new program which includes a more detailed educational work with individuals in maternal and child health pursued from local level.

TOKYO POUNDED IN NAVAL RAID

Two Russian Forces Meet West Of Oder, Push Toward Berlin

Konev's Troops Running Toward Two Key Cities, Outflanking Capital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16, (AP)—The Allies are expected to deal with German field commanders—not with the Nazi government or the Wehrmacht's general staff—when the hour comes for imposing the unconditional surrender terms. This was suggested by competent quarters as the answer to one question arising from the Biz Three Conference.

LONDON, Feb. 16, (AP)—Almost all of Germany has been placed under virtual martial law by a decree requiring the military trial of "whomever tries to evade duties toward the community." Civilians showing "cowardice" will be subject to the death penalty.

Marshal Ivan Konev wheeled the main weight of his powerful offensive toward Berlin today after linking with Marshal Gregory Zhukov's forces west of the Oder River as the massed armor of the First Ukraine Army bore down toward the German capital's Spre River defenses from the southeast.

Moscow dispatches said the Nazi Neisse River defenses were shattered in fierce battles near East and Guben. Konev's troops, reported across the Neisse in force, were smashing toward Breskrow and Cottbus, 31 and 62 miles from Berlin, rapidly outflanking the German's Oder defenses.

The Canadian offensive ground forward slowly, closing in on Goch. As the Germans rushed reinforcements from all parts of the western front to bolster the last major bastion before the open country leading to Rhur and the Rhineland.

The Scots advanced close to Mayland, and the fighting reached new heights of fury but the Canadians and British welded two bridgeheads over the Niers River into a single five-mile foothold.

Pfc. Herbert Cherry Back From Overseas

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Feb. 16, (Special)—Pfc. Herbert Cherry, age 24, of Rt. 2, Box 276, Sanford, Fla., son of Mrs. Lilly E. Cherry, of the same address recently returned from service outside the continental limits of the United States and is now temporarily stationed at the Army Ground and Service Forces Redistribution Station here. While at this installation he will be given a series of tests to determine his fitness for future assignments.

Pvt. William Pulver Wounded In Action

Pvt. William F. Pulver, who was wounded in action in the Philippines and then flown to California, has been transferred from a hospital here to the Army Hospital at Woodbury, Texas, according to a letter just received by his wife, Mrs. Neppie Pulver.

Early in April Pvt. Pulver expects to come home on a 90-day leave and get acquainted with his five-month-old daughter, Penelope Mickey Pulver, according to Mrs. Pulver.

How Internees Lived At Santo Thomas

THIS PHOTOGRAPH, made shortly after the U.S. First Cavalry division entered the Santo Thomas University internment camp, shows the patio in which some 4000 internees lived and cooked their meals. When the American troops entered Manila and released the American prisoners they were living in rudely constructed "Nipa" huts as shown above. (International semi-photos)
