Speer, Paschea Leffler and Miss Nita Moore, dressed as Irish biddies in white dresses, green aprons, yellow kerchiefs, and little white kerchiefs tied over their heads.

The journey was continued to Japan. Mrs. J. D. Roberts, where many colored Japanese lanterns and umbrellas of various colors and sizes united with the handsome palms, ferns, cut flowers and chrysanthemum decorations to make a very attractive scene. The guests were invited to sit on pretty cushions on the floor, where they were served by fascinating Japanese girls with rice in cute little bowls and chop sticks and tea with dainty wafers; while they were entertained by Mrs. R. C. Maxwell in Japanese costume and chrysanthemum in her hair, with several recitations, and Mrs. E. L. Robertson, accompanied by Dr. O. L. Miller on the piano, sang Japanese songs. Two little Japanese girls, Jean Maxwell and Irma Smith presented each guest with a chrysanthemum. The tea table in a bower of bright green and protected by a huge umbrella was presided over by Mrs. H. H. Hill, in Japanese costume. Mrs. Roberts was assisted by Mrs. J. D. Barker, Mrs. J. D. Jenkins, Mrs. H. H. Hill, Misses Margaret Davis, Luca Chappel; Margaret Roberts, Eleanor and Ruth Roberts, Esther and Katherine Wilson and Mrs. R. C. Maxwell. Messrs. R. M. Mason and Moye inspected the tickets.

The trip was then resumed with Cuba, the Pearl of the Antilles, its destination. Each traveler was fully repaid for their long journey from Japan, when at Mrs. S. O. Shinholser's, Cuba, in all of its tropical loveliness and brilliancy burst on their view, with Mrs. E. L. Robertson, dressed as a senorita, sitting on the stairway, amid gorgeous palms, banana plants and ferns sang Spanish love songs, accompanied by Dr. O. L. Miller on the guitar. The popular decorations were pink and green with a brilliant yellow room, where punch was served the thirsty travelers and cigars as favors were given the gentlemen. In the lovely red room, a huge banana plant filled one corner and bananas from a bunch on the plant were served to the ladies as favors by Misses L. J. Dameron and Beth Mettinger, dressed as Cuban senoritas. Mrs. J. W. Barnes as a senorita gave several delightful readings and sang Spanish songs to her own accompaniment on the guitar. Mrs. Shinholser was assisted by Mrs. C. E. Smith, Mrs. W. Palmer, Mrs. H. E. Hester, Mrs. R. L. Robertson, Mrs. J. W. Barnes, Misses L. Josephine Dameron, Elizabeth Mettinger and Mary McKim. Mr. W. L. Palmer and Mr. Shinholser looked after the tickets.

Leaving Cuba, the last stage of the journey began, when the party reached Iceland. Mrs. F. W. Miller. They gave up their tickets to Messrs. F. W. Miller and T. A. Newton, who bade them welcome to their frigid clime. The dazzling whiteness of Iceland was a decided contrast to the vivid coloring in Cuba. Ropes of simulated ice extended from all sides of the room, with icicles hanging from the walls, the trees were covered with snow, large snow balls were in abundance, and guarding all of this awesome radiance was a huge polar bear, with several smaller brown bears. The only color visible was red and white flags of Iceland. The same flag in miniature was given as favors. While ice cream and cake were being served Mrs. T. A. Newton, Mrs. Claire Walker and Mr. Frank Campbell entertained the guests with vocal and instrumental music. Mrs. Miller was assisted by Mrs. T. A. Newton, Claire Walker, Gladys Morris, Francis Liddon, Kate Underwood and Martha Miller, who were dressed in white with white hoods.

The entire trip and entertainment of the evening was delightful and thoroughly enjoyed by the entire party, who enthusiastically entered into the spirit of the occasion, appreciating the efforts made by the ladies of the Missionary Society to give them a pleasant evening. Too much praise cannot be accorded Messrs. G. W. Spencer, Frank Milteer, Willie Hill, Hodges, Swope and Dr. O. L. Miller, who with their automobiles contributed very largely to the success of the Trip Around the World.

Congregational News

Last Wednesday evening at a business meeting of the church, Rev. J. D. Langley was invited by a unanimous vote to become its pastor. He has agreed to assume the duties of pastor while he remains in the city, but as he has had plans in view looking to his removal from Sanford he could promise only a temporary service. It is to be hoped, however, that he may reconsider and that the church and the city may not lose his valuable services. Preaching next Sunday at the usual hours. Remains for the evening service at 7 o'clock and Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.

The Irish Potato Crop

It is understood that the Irish potato acreage of Irish potatoes in Florida will probably be about one-fourth larger this season than last. The crop in the Hastings section will be increased 200 or 300 acres over last year. On the lower east coast at Miami and vicinity the potato acreage will probably be 30 per cent larger than last year. The potato acreage will also be increased in the Sanford section.

JAX TRACTION COMPANY REFUSES RECOGNITION

Grants All Other Demands Asked By Striking Employees

FLORIDA NEWS AND VIEWS FROM EVERY SOURCE

Daily Happenings in The Land of Flowers Culled and Tied Into a Nosegay of Brieflets

Recognition of the street car employees' union is the stumbling block which prevents the settlement of the big street car strike which is still going on in Jacksonville. The Jacksonville Traction company officials stated today that they would positively not make any further concessions than those already announced and would under no conditions recognize the union of the men. The striking street car men say that this is one demand they will force and there seems no chance for a settlement of the difficulties at the present time. The citizens' committee and the committee of the board of trade have not yet given up hope and are meeting today with the representatives of the street car men's union and the officials of the traction company in an effort to bring about a settlement. Cars are being operated by the strike breakers and trouble is expected at any time.

While en route from Washington, D. C. to Pensacola to cast his vote in today's election, J. Edward O'Brien, president of the National Bar Pilot's Association and one of the best known citizens of Florida, died suddenly yesterday of heart failure aboard a West Point steamer near West Point, Ga. The body was taken off the steamer at Opelika and shipped through Montgomery to Pensacola last night for burial.

The announcement that the Seaboard Air Line was made Tampa division headquarters for all lines from Fernandina to Tampa, including all branches of the road to Cedar Keys and Venice to Dunnellon means much to that city. This change which was brought about by the increased tonnage of Tampa territory means a great step forward to Tampa in transportation and traffic arrangements.

Bradentown on Tuesday voted in favor of a further bond issue of $50,000 for public improvements to a total of $100,000, of which $25,000 of the money will be used in paying additional streets, constructing new bridges across Jacques' and Weir Creeks, extending the sewer system and enlarging the water works plant.

In Lakeland the Woman's Club is collecting money to install drinking fountains at certain points in the city and at the schools. The club is strictly up to date according to the Telegram and is planning to do away with the public drinking cup. "The ladies are very successful in getting funds," remarks the Telegram, "and will no doubt get the required amount." The fountains cost $20 each.

Dr. J. D. Palmer, one of the most prominent physicians in Jacksonville was accidentally shot and killed in his office Saturday. Dr. Palmer was treating a patient who, on entering the office, took a revolver from his pocket and laid it on his table. In moving about the revolver fell on the floor and exploded, the bullet striking the doctor in the legs and ranging up into the abdomen.

Talking of the Jackson county fair, recently held in Marianna, the Chipley Banner says that it was a manifest success, and instead of lasting only three days, as at first contemplated, was continued over two days further.

The board of trade committee on commission form of government met last night together with a number of other citizens who are interested in changing the form of Tampa's government to the commission plan, and discussed information, which the committee has gathered from a number of cities now "enjoying" the delights of government by a commission. No formal plan was entered into at this time, but one will be developed later. The commissionites are very enthusiastic, but they intend to proceed slowly.

ARE COMING TO FLORIDA

Canadian Farmers are not Satisfied With Crops.

FAR NORTHERN PLACE TO LIVE

Former Florida Man Tries Canada And Now Anxious To Return To The Land of Flowers

A gentleman who some time ago emigrated to Canada and is sorry that he ever left the balmy climate of Florida writes an interesting letter to The Herald on the subject of farming in the bleak, cold unhealthy climate of northern Canada. He also states that hundreds of other people are trying to improve their position and come to Florida and that some fine Sanford literature can be had on the many of them. He now desires to return to Florida.

It is stated that a number of Canadian farmers who have been advertised by transportation companies, to be the finest land in the world for farmers. The terms on which one can buy such estates are so good that the allurements of year by year crop failures in Canada are being abandoned and the farmers are flocking to Florida.

Paper for the Growers
Lucky Sanford lettuce and celery growers can consider them selves fortunate in having the Florida Growers Association News office in this city. Under ordinary circumstances it would be a good thing for Sanford to have such a paper here. The News, however, is in a class by itself. James McComb, Jr., the editor, is one of the oldest fruit and vegetable operators in the country. He is familiar with all the markets in the country. He knows what quantity of either commodity will supply the markets. He is personally acquainted with the members of the leading firms in all parts of the country. He knows how they do business. A glance over his paper, The News, shows that he does not carry the name of any but the best firms in the business.

The office of The News will be in The Herald building. Mr. McComb has taken the front space on the south side of the main floor. Growers will find this a most convenient place to stop in and see over market wires and other reports that will be on file. They will find Mr. McComb's checkbook of good information and suggestions.

Complaints are often heard from shippers who have been stuck by shipping to firms they have not known. In the future there will be no reason for any grower to lose a dollar this way. If they do not know the firm they think of shipping to, they will call on Mr. McComb. He will be glad to advise them and cooperate with the growers in every way to help them get best results. He will also advise the growers to use his office freely. Growers should call on him and get acquainted. It will surely pay them.

Laurels Claimed by Others

Not just yet can Mr. W. H. Williams be called the champion globe trotter, after his last Tuesday evening's walk around the world. During the trip he was in America to Ireland, from Ireland to Cuba, and they were starting on his walk to Japan, when Dr. O. L. Miller rescued them from the perils of the long journey by kindly offering them seats in his automobile. There is also a gentleman and his wife who sailed from Cuba to America, from America to Ireland, and from Ireland to England, all in one trip, ahead of the three.

It is stated that in this instance, as in other great achievements of mankind in life, the ladies can hold their own and stand abreast with the men on nearly every occasion. In a large crowd of instances they lead.

If there is any one, or it may be others, on that noted trip, who walked all the way around the world, let them speak now, or else forever after hold their peace.

Junior Baracas Have Halloween Party

The Baptist Pastorium was the scene of a most enjoyable Halloween social on Thursday evening given to the Junior Baraca class and their invited friends. There was a house full of these and there was a corresponding amount of enjoyment on this occasion. The fun began at the very door, where a very unusual kind of headshaking took place. The main events of the evening were a contest of skill at remembering and naming the greatest possible number of objects on a table of some fifty different articles, which was won by Miss Linda Connelly; and a guessing contest in which the identity of famous authors, statesmen, musicians and women was to be determined. Other merry Halloween games filled the rest of the evening, except the latter portion which was devoted to refreshments, served in dainty Halloween pumpkins by younger members of the school dressed in Halloween costume.

Cecilian Music Club

The Cecilian Music Club will meet at the studio of Mrs. Fannie S. Munson Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Turkish army is in full retreat on Constantinople, and the Turkish government has asked the powers to intervene in the Turkish-Balkan war. An official bulletin was issued by the government at Constantinople tonight, admitting defeat at the hands of the Bulgarians in the great battle on the Traean plains, application was made to the embassies in Constantinople tonight for mediation by the powers to end the hostilities and arrange a peace agreement. The ambassadors, prior to this, had asked the porte to grant permission to each of the great powers to send one war ship through the Dardanelles, and this request has been complied with. The only guarantee of safety for the native Christians, and perhaps foreigners, in Constantinople is to be found in the presence of the warships of the great powers in the harbors of the Turkish capital. It is the general belief that Bulgaria, chief of the Balkan states, will refuse to listen to anything in the way of intervention until the Bulgarian army is at the gates of Constantinople, and will insist that Turkey make an appeal direct to the allies without interference from the powers.

Shortage of freight cars, type menace of a coal famine and industrial paralysis in some parts of the United States has become so serious that the Interstate Commerce today sent to shippers and railroads drastic recommendations for its relief. The recommendations included a thinly veiled intimation that should they fail to remedy the situation the commission would find a way to do so.

Sanford Do Grow

Speaking about Sanford going forward, Sanford is like a boy who did not grow between 10 and 16, but after that grew more in one year than in the four previous. Some of you Sanford people remember the first depot, a small dilapidated rough board house in the corner where Hill's hardware store now is, and then the railroad 22-mile narrow gauge road, and a branch road to Lake Jessup. At that time there were at least two saloons in Sanford, plenty of beer, but O. for water it was hard to find and when found was always full of wiggle tails. The only respectable houses then in Sanford were the Sanford House and the Everglades Hotel, Mr. Doyle's. In the streets, even First street, some wire grass was growing and it was so easy to stumble over when you were walking the streets. Just step on the top of the wire grass with one foot and then stick the other one under and down you would go. The one that has tried it knows. The writer went out a little to the east of Sanford to see a Rumanian family who lived there, and had called his place Villa Shoorra, a place hard to find then among palmettos and shrubs. Now going out to the same place you go on a fine brick road, Second street, and you will find a house good enough for the Czar of Russia to live in, but it is occupied by Mr. C. R. Walker.

Social a Success
The social held by the ladies of the Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon and evening was a very gratifying success. The delicious supper and oysters which they served, and of which they supposed they had an ample supply, was very soon disposed of. They could have sold double the supply they had provided.

CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

A Budget of Opinion "Just Between You and Me"

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A Chief is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Pront 'Em"— So Says Saunterer.

I see by the Orlando papers that Mayor Reynolds of that city had some ten merchants up before him one day last week for having trash around the back doors of their stores and he promptly soaked each one $2.50 despite their protests. He stated emphatically that no excuses would go and that they must keep their premises clean even if they had to hire a special dray to haul off the garbage. I have often spoken about the appearances of our main streets and I believe that a drastic campaign by the Sanitary Inspector would make the business men of this city more careful. There are fronts to the business houses and trash in the back that are simply awful, and if Mayor Spencer will let it be known that his inspector from now on will yank up every offender and that he will hand each one a fine the stores both back and front will be kept cleaner. Some one is responsible for the grass and weeds. Some one is responsible for the trash scattered all over the alleys. Now of course I do not want to say that our officials are specially lax in this respect or that the merchants are lax because I often notice that the small boy is often responsible for much of the trash scattered in the alleys, for if the trash is placed in the barrels the boys like to turn them over in passing and like to rummage through the papers and they in a few minutes will upset the work of the man who is trying to keep his premises clean. But trying to keep them cleaner, cutting the grass on the streets in front and at the sides of the stores, making the sanitary man haul the trash off every day and other methods will give our city a better appearance and mean time the mayor can impose a few fines just by way of keeping in his hand.

Well, today will solve the question and we will soon know whether Wilson, Teddy or Taft will rule the roost and while I have no doubts about Wilson being elected, we can never tell what the trusts have up their sleeves and it has been my observation for some years back that the trust always gets the results after we have gone to the polls as free men and cast our votes only to find out in a few days that we are still money slaves to the world. We look for better days if Wilson is elected and there is no doubt of his ability to look the great question fairly in the face and to give the vast majority the square deal. A closes student of economics and the political history of the world for many years, an office holder and very close to the big questions of the United States for the past two years, Mr. Wilson is well equipped to grapple with the problems that will confront him as our chief executive. We are looking to him for reforms that will benefit all classes. We are looking to him for changes that will benefit the working man and the classes as well as the masses. Not radicalism that will disrupt and tear down and cause panics but a true policy of reform that will gradually put the country upon a more stable basis financially, commercially and morally.

The next four years will witness many changes in the personnel of all the political parties and the Democratic is in the public eye. If Democracy and progressive policy go hand in hand and the country prospers as it should under free trade, then four years will serve to strengthen the party. But if the promises are as pie crust as some political promises prove to be, then there will be a new party spring up that will sweep the country four years hence and it will be the survivor of all the old line parties and the platform will be built with the best planks of all the old parties and the new party will mean something.

It is said in an argument issued by the National Soil Fertility league that agriculture is applied science. That term may frighten some people who do not quite understand it, though it need not do so. It is merely the teaching of farmers how they can get the best results from their lands.

The proposal of the Lever bill, which passed the house in congress and is pending in the senate, is based on the theory that it is the duty of the United States and the states to carry to the farmers the latest and best methods of farming known to science. That can be done through extension departments of the land.

It is quite true, as the league argues, that it is a man's job to be a good farmer, an occupation that calls for such ability, training and industry as any other in the world. To plow and sow and reap without understanding is no more real farming than cutting a man's leg off with an axe is real surgery. When it is considered that during the last decade meat producing animals dropped off 20,000,000 in number, the population increased by about 21 per cent and farm income was only four per cent, there is a call both for thinking and for action, especially in view of the fact that within fifty years more the population will be doubled again.

The example of Denmark is wisely referred to, for trained farm demonstration has brought Denmark back from poverty to thrift, doubled values, quadrupled bank deposits, made a prosperous nation. There is no question of American prosperity at the moment but there is a question of what tomorrow may have to show, and it is the need of meeting tomorrow that prompts the advocacy of the Lever bill.

The great point is that the nation begins to appreciate the farmer and to appreciate that the farmer must have every facility for education in his special line if the people themselves are to be as prosperous as they are entitled to be and they must put up some money, not much, to that end.

The Lever bill proposes, so little as three or four hundred thousand dollars for the whole United States to spend in hiring competent men to demonstrate the best methods of farming. Yet one can see that the small sum did to men of the best training, oldest experience and happiest faculty of exposition will be worth a thousand times its face value as money.

Record-breaking crops, busy factories and brisk business constitutes prosperity. As is usual when business is good there is fear that our banks will not have the power to meet even the most transient demand for currency without impairing their reserves. It is against the law to cut the percentage of reserves below the legal limit. The banks must, therefore, curtail loans, however well secured, in order to keep their reserve intact and supply the currency absolutely necessary to move the crops. New wealth in the form of crops, instead of stimulating business, choke it.

The country's credit system is inelastic. Must there be another panic to impress on lawmakers the urgent necessity of reforming the banking system? If a bank has in its vaults the amount of legal tender money required by law it doesn't matter much whether there is a panic or not so far as the bank is concerned. All it has to do is to stop making loans and wait until the situation is changed. The farmer, the merchant or the manufacturer, with labor to pay cannot get loans no matter how good his securities. Any honestly managed bank can weather a panic, if it merely observes the law and sacrifices the business man whom it was organized to serve.

The conviction of Police Lieutenant Becker of New York should do more good than simply clean up the dishonest portion of the police department of the metropolis. It should be an example to all such men as Becker. New York has no monopoly on such. There are similar men in other large cities and even the smaller towns have their Beckers. The temptation for an influential police official to be crooked is very strong and the watchfulness of superiors should be welcomed as a means of saving a possible day of reckoning. A police scandal is usually the most revolting one can experience and eternal vigilance on the part of those charged with the responsibility of police affairs is something that is due the public. Of course we never expect to have such a case in Sanford. The larger cities are the ones to suffer from the graft case of the Becker type.

The Killer was Here The negro Anderson who terrorized Tampa several weeks ago by killing several people and burning houses was captured by the police and while handcuffed broke away and escaped has been captured in Jacksonville. A Tampa man here the other day came to The Herald office and said that he had recognized Anderson over in Georgetown and getting the officers went over there and arrested the negro, but he proved his identity and was released. Since Anderson's capture he has confessed to his various crimes and given an account of his escape from Tampa in which he relates that he was in Sanford for a few hours and beat his way from here to Jacksonville on the train.

Could he have been located here the man making his capture would have been $2500 better off, as this standing reward was offered for his arrest and conviction.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church will hold their monthly meeting at the parsonage on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A full attendance of the members is specially desired.

PAYS HANDSOME DIVIDEND

Sanford Building & Loan Association In Excellent Shape At a meeting of the directors of the Sanford Building & Loan Association held October 31st at its office over First National Bank its affairs for the past six months were thoroughly gone over and a semi annual dividend at rate of over 4 1/2 per cent on the common stock was declared. Secretary and Treasurer reported sale of 138 new shares common stock and $3000 cash preferred stock for month of October, with a gratifying increase all during the last semi annual period.

Applicants for loans can now be accommodated more promptly than at any time in the history of the association. Arrangements were made at this meeting to finance over $10,000 of new buildings. We have now a large number of our citizens and business men earnestly supporting the association and contributing to the upbuilding of our progressive city. But many others are not yet with us, and the board requests each member of the association to use their influence to secure new stock from his or her neighbor.

Stockholders who went in for five to twenty shares three or four years ago are reminded that their stock at present earning ratio will mature in 75 to 78 months from date issued. Wouldn't it be a good idea to start another series now. Stock will be accepted for coming semi annual period for a few days yet. Come in.

It's a good investment and in addition is a trade stimulant, and don't forget that our 7 per cent preferred stock is gilt edge investment. Our board will probably not sell more than $10,000 additional preferred stock, as we prefer to sell common.

Our Building Record There are many people who have an idea that Sanford is not growing. If they would take the trouble to examine the building permits issued from the Clerk's office they might change their minds. This is what the writer of this did. He found that permits for buildings valued at one hundred and three thousand dollars had been issued since January 1st last.

While this shows there is no boom, it shows that there is a healthy growth and that "we do move." With the paving of Ninth street, and the bulkheading of the lake front we can expect a rapid growth. I am writing this for the benefit of the knockers, of whom I am sorry to say that we have a few.

R. G. Snow, representing John Nix & Co., commission merchants, is in the city this week. Mr. Snow formerly represented the Packer and made many friends in this and other sections of the state who are glad to greet him again.

Holland, the Overland agent here reports the sales for this week with two cars sold in Orlando and one in Kissimmee. The Overland cars are great favorites everywhere and then Bob Holland is a good salesman.

Mrs. Waldron Entertains
Mrs. George B. Waldron was hostess at a delightful Halloween party at the Congregational parsonage Thursday evening complimentary to the young people of the Congregational Sunday school and a few other friends. The usual interesting games were played. The chief amusement, however, was afforded by the efforts and failures of every one to pin a black cat on a witch's broom, while blindfolded. Success crowned the efforts of Dick Tehune, who won the prize.

Another feature of much interest to the young folks was the good fortune which was brewed for each in a caldron. About twenty enjoyed the pleasant evening and delicious refreshments of ice cream and cookies with pumpkin faces.

Masquerade Ball

The masque ball given by the Lend a Hand Club Thursday evening last as the opening event of the social season was a brilliant and delightful function, contributing as it did to the enjoyment of so many of the young people, and many others who are fond of social pleasures, and crowning with success the hopes and efforts of the Lend a Hand Club to secure the funds with which to begin a much needed civic work in our city. Everything conspired to make the ball a success. The evening was delightful. On arriving at the hall the tickets were surrendered to Mr. C. O. McLaughlin, the custodian of the entrance to the hall, who gave each individual a card on which to vote for the lady and gentleman who wore the most attractive costume.

Misses Frances Gonzales, Alice Caldwell, Fannie Reba Munson and Fern Ward, masked and dressed to represent pumpkins in yellow and green, pinned numbers on each masker as they arrived, as the voting was to be by number.

The ball room was charmingly decorated with all the Halloween symbols to which graceful green bouquets, palms, ferns, yellow flowers and many other cut flowers, lent artistic grace. A large pumpkin lantern, on a silver tripod table, grained a grotesque appearance each arrival.

In one corner of the room a brilliant harvest moon shined on a picture of a moving picture of strikingly beautiful costumes and merry makers. In another corner of the room a white owl made its magic appearance, guarded by several large owls perched in the branches of the trees at the side of the cave, and in front of the cave a huge cauldron was suspended over a tripod and in the cauldron the Misses Lillian Whittier, dressed in a costume and cloak decorated with large black cats and snakes, and wearing a very tall pointed witch's hat, tossed a delicious punch, which she dispensed to the dancers with bewitching smiles.

The refreshment room was worldly suggestive of Halloween, with the drapery of the refreshment table, decorated with large black bats, owls, cats and pumpkin lanterns and yellow flowers. Corn stalks galore were in evidence. When the maskers had all arrived, many lovely costumes, with their hats, hoes, and picturesque effects, worn by both ladies and gentlemen presented such a brilliant picture, that one was reminded of an Oriental scene. It would be a pleasure to describe each costume in detail, they were all so tasteful and becoming to their wearers, but to do so might necessitate an extra edition of The Herald, therefore only the chief actors personated will be given.

When the hour arrived to open the ball the dance was led by a Spanish cavalier and a Colonial lady—Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly.

Four little girls, Misses Fannie Reba Munson, Frances Gonzales, Alice Caldwell and Fern Ward, dressed to represent pumpkins and masked, pinned a number on each arrival in costume and masked. The assemblage in their many hood and various styles represented, presented a vivid and striking picture, most pleasing and attractive. At the given hour the dance was led by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly, representing a Colonial dame and a Spanish Cavalier, Mrs. DeCotte, a Colonial lady, and Mr. DeCotte in evening clothes and black mask, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Robertson, Spanish sorcerer and toubador, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hurt, Spanish lady and railroad engineer, Mrs. Robert Newman, night in black and silver stars and moons; Billie Hill, Colonial gentleman, Mrs. Samuel Puleston, fairy queen, silver and white; Mrs. J. H. Roumillat and son, Karl, Gypsy fortune teller and military cadet; Mrs. J. W. Brady, fancy blue costume; Mrs. J. W. Dickens, Japanese lady; Mrs. C. C. Howard, Chinese lady; Miss Madge Ward, Martha Washington; R. R. Deas, George Washington; Miss Mabel Bowler, Liberty, red, white and blue costume, with gold stars; W. J. Thigpen, typical "Uncle Sam"; Miss Irene Brady, Colonial lady; M. L. Raines, Turk; Miss Charlotte Hand, night, black and gold stars; F. E. Roumillat, Mephisto, in vivid red, Miss Genie Wicker, Colonial lady; Frank Miller, western cowboy; Miss Peachey Leffler, Bohemia girl; J. D. Roberts, fancy red continental costume; Miss Ruth Butler, Red Riding Hood; W. A.

Leffler, a Turk in red and yellow; Miss Annie Higgins, "Folly," C. Smith, Hindu; Miss Alice Whittier, a witch, pink dress trimmed with black cats, Weidman Caldwell, sailor white costume; Miss Lillian Gibson, witch, pink dress trimmed with black cats; David Caldwell, Turk, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Herndon, dancing girl and country boy; Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Butt, Japanese lady and clown; Miss Newsome, fanny dress; Miss Douglass Abernathy, "Priscilla," Miss Mary Chappell, "Janice Meredith," colonial costume; Roy Chittenden, "Sitting Bull," Miss Mercedes Munson, Night, black with gold stars; Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin, "Fru," green and white dress trimmed with golden harps; Ralph Wight, admiral of the navy; Miss Louise Shephard, dancing girl; Frank Campbell, college boy in white costume; Miss Vada Ward, French maid; W. L. Watson, moon master; Miss Linda Leffler, Little Bo Peep; Braxton Perkins, Clown; L. Cleveland, red devil.

An intermission followed the awarding of the prizes, which was done by Mr. Geo. A. DeCotte in a brief, graceful speech, after which delicious creamed oysters served on lettuce leaves, salad, apples, puddies and other appetizing dishes were served. The dancing was continued until a late hour.

A number of the maskers were present with their partners, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The dancing was continued until a late hour. The refreshment table was presided over by Mrs. Henry Wight, Mrs. H. A. Ward, Mrs. C. M. Hand, Mrs. A. W. Fitts, Mrs. Paxton, Mrs. J. H. Roumillat, Mrs. J. W. Dickens and Mrs. J. E. Hurt.

The club representative of the music club, Mrs. M. H. Bowler, and Miss M. H. Bowler, presided over the music.

Sanford Music Club

The Music Club held their regular meeting at the studio of Mrs. Fannie S. Munson Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. R. E. Peck, leader.

There was a splendid attendance of the members, who enjoyed the delightful program. Wagner, the great composer, pianist and poet among opera writers was the subject for consideration.

Two very entertaining and instructive papers were read, "Biography of Wagner," Miss Josie Stumon, and an outline sketch of his works, prepared by Mrs. J. H. Roumillat and read by Mrs. M. H. Bowler, as Mrs. Roumillat was unable to be present.

The musical part of the program was compositions of Wagner, and were selections from his most famous operas, and were given in demonstration of his style, scope and power, as a writer of clear cut and uninterrupted melody, with harmonious and striking scenic effect. A march from Tanhauser, arranged as a duet, was delightfully rendered by Misses Madge and Veda Ward. The exquisitely beautiful "Evening Star," from the opera Tanhauser, played on the cornet by Miss Jessie Stumon, accompanied by Miss Mary McKim, was very much enjoyed.

The concluding musical number on the program, Wagner's "Bridal Chorus," from Lohengrin, was sung by six ladies: Mrs. G. B. Waldron, Mrs. M. H. Bowler, Miss Josie Stumon, alto; Mrs. T. A. Newton, Miss L. Josephine Damron and Miss Mabel Bowler, sopranos. A brief discussion on "Wagner's Influence on Piano Composition," concluded the program, after which two names were voted on for membership, and the business of the club was attended to, followed by the calling of the roll by the secretary, Miss Mahoney, and the adjournment of the club until November 16th.

WHO WILL BE PRESIDENT
 The death of Vice President Sherman, within the week of the national election in which he was a nominee to succeed himself, makes it within the bounds of possibility that we may have another Republican President, and a President whose name is not now mentioned among the candidates of the Republican party.

This seems a peculiar statement, but, be it remembered, no such condition has ever before arisen in the history of the United States.

The fact stands out that Woodrow Wilson must be elected President on Tuesday or he will not be elected at all. The Democratic ticket must receive a majority of the electoral votes according to the ballots cast today, or we will have another Republican administration.

Why is this so?

In the event that no ticket receives a majority of the electoral vote in the election of today, that is to say 266 electoral votes, the election, under the constitution, devolves upon the House of Representatives. The constitution provides that in such election each state represented in the House shall have one vote. The vote is naturally to be determined by the political complexion of the representatives from that state. The present House shows an equal number of Democratic and Republican states, with four states which have their delegation in the House equally divided. It appears an impossibility that any candidate for President can receive a majority of the votes of the states in the House. The election then goes to the Senate. In that body, by a very peculiar provision of the constitution the candidates for President are barred and the Senate elects, from the two highest candidates for Vice President, a Vice President of the United States, who, by virtue of that office, becomes President of the United States. The Senate is regular Republican by six clear majority. The Republican majority of the Senate, if the choice is left to them, will vote for the regular Republican nominee for Vice President. But Mr. Sherman, the regular Republican nominee for Vice President, is dead. Who takes his place? The man selected by the Republican National Committee to take Sherman's place on the ticket. The National Committee, with Sherman dead, and this prospect before the party, will naturally put in his place the man desired for President. The Senate will elect him vice President and we will have a Republican President.

This furnishes all the more reason for putting Wilson over this time. Unless we do, the brightest hopes of Democracy may be blasted. Wilson from the present outlook, bids fair to receive more than 300 electoral votes which, of course, will settle the question. But in case he should fall short of 266, the chances of a Democratic President would become very remote. — Tampa Tribune

Several counties in the state that are too large in area are considering county division, among them Volusia, and the matter in that county will be left to the voters at the election today. Whenever the people of any county find that they are not getting their share of the improvements or that they can transact the official business of that county in a better manner, or that with a smaller county they can save money to the taxpayers and get more in the matter of improvements for the money expended in taxes, they should be allowed to form a county of their own. Most of the counties in Florida are too large and there is no doubt but that concentration would bring better returns to the tax payer, and general satisfaction.

The latest money crop for Sanford is tobacco, an item that will be taken up by the Commercial Club at once and with one of the expert growers of the state on the ground the matter will be carefully investigated, a trial crop planted and success will be the result for the reason that Sanford's sub-irrigated soil will grow any kind of crop better than any other part of the state. The tobacco crop will be planted after the celery is off and it will be one of the best crops that we could start, as the output will be sold before the crop is planted and there is good money in Florida to-

NEEDS EXPLANATION
 On the ballot published by the Orlando Sentinel at the head of the names of Orange county representatives appears the words, "Vote for one," followed by the name of S. L. Robinson. There are two Representatives to be elected from the county and according to all rules and traditions the name of Forrest Lake should come first.

What did you mean by this, Mr. Ferris?

City Council Meets

 Miss Carrie Ensminger entertained the Clover Club and their friends at a very pretty and delightful Halloween Social Friday evening. The rooms were tastefully and effectively decorated with black cats, owls and witches. Halloween refreshments were served, consisting of pumpkin pies, with cheese and lemonade.

FOUND A BEER BOTTLE
 But Not in the Manner or Place That He Expected It

Last Sunday evening a white man who has been loitering around the negro quarters of the city looking for blind tigers as he claimed, seems to have suddenly found something else, for while he was looking some one saw him first and gently tapped him on the coco with a beer bottle. When the gentleman came to he was willing to seek his downy couch and let the blind tigers roar. He says no more hunting of tigers in the wilds of Georgetown for him, and hereafter when he wants a drink he will take the flowing well or get in the pool at the Bye-Lo hotel.

LET US SOLVE YOUR CLIPPER PROBLEM

By furnishing you with a sapple pair of the famous "TUTTLE CLIPPERS," now in use by 75 per cent of the citrus growers in California, and by scores of the big fruit companies in Florida, who have bought heavily of them the past month.

We claim that the TUTTLE CLIPPER will pick all varieties of citrus fruits WITHOUT INJURY and that it renders clipper-cutting ABSOLUTELY IMPOSSIBLE.

It will do as perfect work in the dark as in the day light, and can be operated by a child as well as by the most experienced orange grower. Each pair is a marvel of mechanical expertness and comes in a separate box, with half a dozen extra springs and a slip of emery paper to keep the blades in good condition.

These are a few strong points in its favor. YOU WILL FIND OTHERS EVERY DAY THAT YOU USE IT.

The Right Has Triumphed

Responding to a telegram from the Democratic national chairman declaring that Governor Wilson unquestionably was elected the Democratic candidate sent a message to Mr. McCombs as follows:

"I deeply appreciate your telegram and wish to extend to you and other members of the campaign committee my warmest gratitude on your fidelity and help in the campaign on which you fought out the essentials.

"The right has triumphed. Every Democrat and every true Progressive of whatever alliance must now lend his full force and enthusiasm to the fulfillment of the people's hope of the establishment of the people's right so that justice and progress may go hand in hand."

OVER 400 VOTES FOR WILSON

Tuesday's Election Appears From First Returns to be a Democratic Landslide—House Held by Democrats, but Senate In Doubt

With the election of Woodrow Wilson to the presidency and Thomas Marshall to the vice presidency, as indicated by the earlier returns, the early returns gave indications that the choice of the Democratic candidates will greatly pass the 300 mark.

Early returns gave Governor Wilson and Governor Marshall the "solid south" and the states of Connecticut, Delaware, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New York, West Virginia, Indiana and Missouri. Early returns from the west began to come in, these earlier estimates were confirmed, and Montana, New Mexico and New Mexico were added to those that seemed certain for the Democratic candidates, while scattering returns from San Francisco and Los Angeles made it probable that California might join the Wilson Marshall column.

Electoral College Vote. Early returns indicate that the vote in the electoral college will stand approximately as follows:

LATE RETURNS ADD TO WILSON'S DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENT WILL HAVE AT LEAST 442 VOTES.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 7.—With fuller returns coming in from the few states that were in doubt last night in the national election, it seems that Wilson will hold California. He has gained Kansas, Illinois and probably Wyoming, while South Dakota and Minnesota are for Roosevelt. Illinois is very close.

The probabilities are that the final table of electoral votes will stand as follows:

State	Roosevelt	Wilson
Alabama	12	12
Arizona	0	6
Arkansas	6	6
California	14	14
Colorado	6	6
Connecticut	7	7
Delaware	3	3

Victory!

Another City Election. Woodrow Wilson, who has just been elected President of the United States, has added a city election to take place on Tuesday, December 10th. The election is made necessary by the resignation of George Fox, Jr., as City Collector and Treasurer and the resignation of George Fox, Jr., as P. M. Fisher as Alderman. The election will be held for the purpose of electing a Collector and Treasurer and two Aldermen. As every one is rather skeptical with politics the campaign will not be a very warm one. Addison Williams, who is seeking the position of City Collector and Treasurer very satisfactorily, will be a candidate to succeed himself and up to date there have been no announcements for Aldermen.

Now that the date for the election has been definitely settled some good citizens will come forward and sacrifice themselves for the benefit of the dear public.

It is certain that the election will not go by default in the Aldermanic race for this is a most coveted position, entailing short hours, big salary and plenty of glory.

Who is the next lucky man?

Election Proclamation
Mayor of Sanford, Florida.
In accordance with the ordinances of the city of Sanford, Florida, I hereby appoint E. W. D. Dunn and J. I. Anderson as inspectors and Green Smith as clerk of said election.
G. W. SPENCER,
Mayor.

New Addition to Herald. The Herald office continues to improve every day. A material fact in this regard is the purchase of a new printing press. The first adaption to the Herald farm was a new little girl that came to the name of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hynes, on Tuesday night. The business manager even forgot about the election in the joy over the arrival of the little girl and he has been giving cigars to his friends ever since.
