There Are More Ways To Get Into Trouble With Congress Than One

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Refusing to answer questions is just one way of getting in trouble with Congress. Another way is to tie your horse to a tree in the nation's Capital. Congress says you have to drink sitting down. Of course each year there are fewer and fewer saddleless citizens who arrive here aboard old hobbin and stout Congress by anchoring him to an elm. But there are plenty of other things a man can do and unwittingly find himself in contempt of the national legislature, which passes all the laws affecting life in the District of Columbia. These statutes aren't listed in the guidebooks. And there are so many of them that a cautious visitor to the city should check with his congressman before adventuring about here in the land of the wiseacre and the home of the he it resolved. Otherwise he might decide to go out and fly a kite some windy Fuller Warren, Jacksonville attorney and two-time member of the Florida legislature, announced formally today he is a candidate for governor this year. Warren, 42-year-old Navy veteran, had been considered a probable candidate for some time. A life-long student of government, Warren gave as one of the most important planks in his 24-point platform "reduction in the unbearably high cost of government" through the establishment of a central purchasing commission and other progressive measures.

Don't collect bird's eggs with out a special permit. Don't walk down Pennsylvania Avenue carrying a woodcock—dead or alive—between Jan. 1 and July 1 or it will cost you $5. The rest of the year it's okay. Be careful never to challenge anyone to a duel as the penalty is ten days in jail. But be even more careful about wearing the insignia of the Daughters of the American Revolution—if you're not a member. They can jail you for thirty days on that charge—if you can't pay the $20 fine. Congress denies you any right to build a bonfire or kill a starting bull on the other hand it won't let card or dice sharpsh pluck you bare either. If you lose more than $25.07 in fair game, you can sue the winner for the money. If

House Gives Approval To Voice Of America

Republican Members Introduce Bill For Truman To Start Rationing Of Meat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Ray Sawyer, legislative director of AMVETS, said today 16,000,000 tenants in this country "need the continued protection of rent control until the construction of new rental housing units has caught up with the demand." Sawyer told a Senate Banking Subcommittee the present federal rent control law should be extended for a year beyond Feb. 29, the date it is now scheduled to expire.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—The House unanimously sent to President Truman today legislation giving the full approval of Congress to strengthening of the State Department's "Voice of America" foreign broadcasts used to counter Soviet propaganda.

It accepted without debate Senate amendments to the bill passed originally by the House last Friday.

The legislation merely authorizes the program and does not finance it. Separate appropriation legislation will be considered later. The program now is operating in a limited manner of funds supplied last year.

The legislation gives the State Department legal basis for its foreign information service and commits Congress in principle to support a broad program of counter-propaganda to "sell America."

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

WE MAY BE LIKE HIM IF
WE WILL KEEP IN HIS PRE-SENCE.—CONSCIOUSLY AND
THE REBORN WILL APPEAR.—Ps. 10:17: Let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us.

Governor Dewey announces that he will accept the presidential nomination if it is offered to him.
He will not only accept it, in fact, he will snatch it if he can.

Don't sell England short,
advise Roger Babson, in his weekly column. Nobody is selling England short . . . but the British Socialists.

One enthusiastic supporter of Henry Wallace, belonging to what he calls the Progressive Citizens of America, says that Henry Wallace will drive Harry Truman right off the Democratic ticket within the next few months. May be so, but if he does, he sure will make a lot of Republicans out of some mighty good Democrats.

Congratulations to the O. J.
Popes on their narrow escape Saturday night . . . and sincere sympathy over the loss of their home. It takes such a tragedy as this to make us realize how sensitive such a visitor from the skies
can be, how fortunate Sanford was during the war that it did not happen often.

Bernard MacFadden, Florida's 80-year-old candidate for governor, is not as young as he used to be, but he is young enough to run for governor . . . and we mean RUN. "I can't lift 100 pound barrels the way I used to,"
he says. "But I am still in good shape." If his candidacy succeeds in doing nothing else than proving that a man needs to be only so old as he feels, it will have been worth while. Too many of us are dying of old age, these days,
at 35.

Over 800,000 auto tags were sold in Florida last year for $14,584,701 as compared with 694,432 tags for $12,358,976 the year before. So far this year tag sales are reported ahead of last year and another record seems likely to be set up. What it would be like if new cars were readily available for purchase is anybody's guess, but the presumption is that the State would take in a lot of money. Most of the money from tag sales goes to the public schools.

You know, of course, what is causing inflation . . . that is, high prices. Everybody knows that,
but so two people agree exactly as to what it is. If you were a farmer, it is the unions which keep forcing wages up. If you are a union man, it is the exorbitant profits which the big corporations are making. If you are a business man, it is high taxes and socialist government experiments. The banker will tell you it is because the people have more money now than ever before, and that the increase in the available supply of money has far outstripped the production of goods. For instance, bank deposits and currency in circulation have increased from $12 billion just before the war to $12 billion at the present time.
In other words, the average person has about four times as much money as he used to have.
Consequently he is buying more,
and since the supply is limited, he is bidding against his neighbor, forcing the price up, just the same as if he were at an auction. It does not take an expert in economics to know that the cure for that situation is either less money, or more goods, credit restrictions, or increased production.

Historic Third Party

Henry A. Wallace is not the first Iowa-to lead a formidable third party movement. James B. Weaver, a former congressman, was nominated in 1880 by the Greenback party, which advocated the confinement of currency to paper money in place of gold and silver, and the payment of the national debt in paper money. He polled only 300,000 votes, but 12 years later made a real showing.

In 1892 the newly organized People's Party or Populists, who combined with a belief in unlimited silver coinage an advocacy of many reforms later enacted by Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson, nominated Weaver for president. His ticket fused with the Democrats in several states, and partly on this account broke into the electoral college with 22 votes. He polled over a million popular votes, something like 10 per cent of the total.

Had the Populists continued as a separate party, there is no telling whether they would have grown even stronger or simply petered out. As it was, they merged with the Democrats in 1896 when that party nominated Bryan.
Weaver went along with them, and remained a Democrat.
His days of political achievement were over, but at one time he cut a wide swath.

Top Political Story

"Three stories stand out in my memory as I look back over Florida politics for the last year," writes Henning Heldt, alert political editor of the Miami Herald.

"First and foremost was the bitter struggle at the state legislative session last spring over the bookie wire service
bill, which split the 95 house members into two bitter camps and left scars likely to carry over into many another session.

"I'll never forget the dramatic moment when lanky, 27-year-old Rep. Brailey Odham of Sanford jumped to his feet before a vote on the bill to charge that money was being 'laid on the line' for votes to kill the measure designed to cripple bookie operations in Florida.

"There was just one exciting development after another—the tense special session of the house called to hear Odham and Rep. Clarence Camp, II, charge publicly that veteran Rep. Bernie Papy of Key West had offered them bribe to vote against the bill, the vote to suspend Papy pending grand jury action and then the surprise rescinding of that action by the house just a couple of hours later.

"Then came Papy's resignation, his occasional return to cloakrooms adjoining the house chamber during the few days of the session remaining before adjournment to confer with friends, his indictment and then, a month later, his spectacular trial and acquittal in the tiny Leon county courthouse after a battery of expensive legal counsel headed by Pat Whitaker of Tampa had pictured Papy as a victim of 'newspaper persecution.'

Believing In Bunk

Imagination is one of the greatest things in the world.
From imaginative power in all ages men have risen to superior heights by the use of sights or vision which dull plodders have insisted were not there at all. But there are limits to human understanding and credulity. There was the "flying saucer," the reader will recall, which rolled its little time upon the stage; then came fiery cones and green mists, and Heaven only knows what further wonders will yet be unrolled as the days pass and human imagination attains its full powers.

For the present, it is mostly mist and mystery. The Shakespearean formula still seems to hold—"There are more things in Heaven and Earth, Horatio, than are dreamed of in your philosophy." But in such matters it is well for observers in strange fields to go slow and not accept at random every new wonder. For along with what Heaven and Earth plainly set forth, there is a surprising amount of plain bunk. And "green mists" especially are under suspicion.

All the green mists are not in the sky, either. A good many are poured out by politicians as camouflage for what they are really after.

It's A Good Thing They Didn't Have
The Housing Problems In Those Days

By HAL BOYLE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—
Both America and the White House—home of its presidents—
were born in quarrel and grew in controversy.

The story of the battles from which the United States emerged are taught to every schoolboy.
Less well known is the slugging that has surrounded every change made in the White House
—new brought again into the news by President Truman's proposal to tack a $15,000 back porch on the old dwelling.

The arguments began before the building was erected. There were objections that the site was swampy and unsanitary. Those in favor said the opponents merely wanted to locate it elsewhere to improve their prestige, that it was too lavish—yet several White House ladies later thought it old-fashioned and undesirable and wanted to shift to other quarters.

All that is left of Major Hen-rieh's original building are the foundation and part of the walls.
In 1814 when some visiting Englishmen thoughtlessly set it afire—no fire insurance either in those days—it had already cost $33,007. By 1846 the rebuilt edifice had set the taxpayer back another $301,498.

Well, they got their money's worth, although some folks didn't think so at the time. The plumbing was so bad that the deaths of two presidents and several lady members of their families have been attributed to it. But despite the germs the hospitality before the civil war was usually wide open.

Andy Jackson—there was a man who knew how to throw a party—made it the voters' joint. The door was closed to no one, and at official dinners
the common people pushed in uninvited and chased the servants around to grab refreshments.

Two uninhibited girls once had themselves lifted up to the chibby by means and set three shirts awinging, to the disgust of general guests.

Jackson got $25,000 a year
but spent $10,000 of his own money for entertainment during his two terms. And when he left, Andy—the guy who said "to the victor belongs the spoils"—

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Mohandas Gandhi's fast ("unto death," if necessary) to compel the Muslims and Hindus to cease the bloody strife which has threatened to plunge the Indian sub-continent into war, ended yesterday in triumph for the aged and frail little Mahatma
when he received solemn pledges that his peace program would be carried out.

Of course it is probable that not even Gandhi himself believes this means the immediate inauguration of an unbroken era of brotherly love between the Hindus and Muslims—between the two dominant religions of Pakistan
(mainly Moslems) and India (largely Hindu). Bitter religious and racial differences which have been going on for centuries can hardly be wiped out in the twinking of an eye.

Still, the Mahatma's achievement is great, for he has shocked untold millions into pausing and reflecting on the iniquity of communal strife. He has received promises from the government of India that all steps will be taken to alleviate the plight of Muslims living in predominantly Hindu dominion. And both Muslim and Hindu leaders have sworn that they will strive for communal peace.

This has been an historic event in the stirring life of the most powerful figure among the Indian peninsula's four hundred millions—the man who, more than any other, has been responsible for winning his people's independence from England. Rarely has his country been so united.

On Saturday, when the doctors warned that Gandhi's life was in danger from fasting, the capital city of New Delhi took the day off to pray for his survival. All business was suspended, and thousands of feeding Hindus immense numbers joined in mass demonstrations which were calculated to convince the Mahatma that the religious hatreds were quenched. However, he clung doggedly to his fast (perseverance being one of his outstanding characteristics) because he wasn't convinced that he had won his fight.

Then when Gandhi finally became convinced yesterday that India would be turned back to peace, the capital exploded into a celebration which ran far into the night. The Mahatma told a prayer meeting that he had broken his 121 hour fast of the pledge and counsel of friendship from India and Pakistan.

(It would be interesting if one could look ahead and see how history deals with such an incident with this sensational milestone in his 78 eventful years. I believe we are safe in assuming that future generations will give him a place among the outstanding spiritual leaders of all time.
As for this generation, untold millions in India literally worship the "Mahatma" (a term of respect which means "Great-Soul'd One").

Gandhi always has condemned
these demonstrations strongly,
and even has frowned on the use of the term "Mahatma." However, so far as that designation is concerned, nothing could stop
the Indians from employing it.
Indeed I've heard Gandhi's own son, Devadas, who is publisher of the Hindustan Times of Delhi, persistently refer to his father as the "Mahatma." Actually Devadas generally says "Mahatma-j-i," that little suffix denot-ing reverence and affection.

After he had broken his fast yesterday Gandhi said that if the solemn pledge he received with double force my intense wish to live a full span of life doing service to humanity." He added that by full span, he meant "at least 125 years, or as some say, 131 years."

I can see the broad grin on Gandhi's wrinkled face when he said this, for he has a sense of humor, as I discovered on acquaintance. However, that's not a new idea with him, for he often has predicted that he will live to be 125. He also believes in reincarnation, and says:
"I think we all come back here again if we are not pure enough to enter heaven."

Children will often eat cooked breakfast cereal if it is topped with a spoonful of red jelly.

Proposal Made To Keep Old Forts As Historical Sites

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—A proposal to allow state or local governments to acquire without cost old forts that they want to preserve as historic sites is expected to be brought before the Senate Armed Services Committee soon.

Recommendations have been prepared by the committee staff for an overall policy on the matter.

Just before adjournment last summer Congress adopted a resolution directing the War Assets Administration to refrain until March 15 from disposing of a number of these forts calling on the War Assets Administration for further information about them.

This was done rather than proceed with consideration of a batch of bills to make special provision for certain forts.

The forts for which separate bills had been introduced included Ft. Wayne at Detroit, Reno at Ft. Reno, Okla., Douglas at Salt Lake City, Wingate in New Mexico, Monticue and Sumter near Charleston, S. C., Schuyler in New York, the San Antonio (Tex.) arsenal and two or three little forts in the harbor defenses at Pensacola, Fla., and Boston.

A study made by the Armed Services Committee staff for presentation to the senators that a advisory board be created to classify surplus forts as suitable for historic parks or for recreational use.

Local governments would be allowed to acquire free a fort wanted for preservation as a historical park and at a discount, possibly of 50 percent, a fort to be used for recreational purposes.

The proposal, if adopted, probably would be as an amendment to the Surplus Property Act, of as much as 100 percent in which provisions for discount disposal of surplus property for health and education purposes to local governments.

Mayor Eugene I. Van Antwerp of Detroit and members of the city council were here yesterday to press for action on the bill to turn over Ft. Wayne to the city.

The highlight of the school's events last week was the Glee Club's Dance. The dance was held at the Mayfair Inn Friday night. The ballroom was donated by Mr. Weber. The dance was such a success that the Glee Club has decided to make it an annual event.

The band hired for the occasion by the Glee Club was the "Meltones" of Orlando. Chaperons were Mr. Harris, Mr. McCaslin, Dr. and Mrs. Rucker, and Miss Ollie Reese White, director of the Glee Club.

The third highlight of the program was the student's enjoyment as much as any other, the distribution of favors. A few boxes of such inconspicuous items as horns, rattles, caps, and confetti streamers turned the ballroom into a rolling sea of scrambling students, loud noise and frequent breakers of confetti.

Sanford Crash

It was a heavy type used in basic training during the war and was powered by a 450-horsepower engine and carried a heavy load of gasoline.

Mr. Pope revealed that Major and Mrs. Meeks had telephoned him and Mrs. Pope at 5:25 o'clock asking them to dine with them at Angel's dining place at Twenty-fifth Street and Sanford Avenue. The Meeks arrived in their automobile at about 5:40 o'clock but due to the rain, stayed outside in the car until about five minutes after six, when Mrs. Meeks went to the door of the house to summon the Pops, who left immediately.

Upon their return in Major Meeks' automobile, they saw the fire hose stretched across the street, but did not know it was their house on fire until they got within a block, said Mrs. Pope.

According to Fire Chief Cleveland, the explosion of the plane as it broke through the wall, threw gasoline all about the house, setting it all aflame. Parts of the plane, including the fuselage and occupants, were found to the southwest of the house. A few feet away, a burning parachute was found in the street.

Lowly Penny Is Now Coming Into Its Own

PHILADELPHIA—The lowly penny is more in demand than ever what with odd-cent prices, sales taxes, slot machines and the like but the U. S. mint assures there's coppers enough to fill all needs.

Superintendent Edwin H. Dyer says "we have more one-cent pieces than the nation can handle and were now making about 250,000 daily."

The superintendent appointed to the post here in 1936, says there are 97,786,000 pennies in the vaults.

In 1946, the mint here coined 591,655,000 pennies. In the first 10 months this year the total was 174,330,000. The superintendent says "it is not a matter of producing a million of those," Dressel asserts. "But don't sell the penny short, he advises."

NOTICE TO AUTOMOBILE OWNERS
Thursday, January 15, 1948, "The Herald" carried a front page story of a Seminole County jury awarding $10,000.00 DAMAGES to EACH OF TWO PERSONS injured in an automobile accident! $20,000.00!
This was not in New York, or Chicago, or Los Angeles! IT HAPPENED RIGHT HERE AT HOME! No one was killed in this accident. Both plaintiffs were able to appear in the courtroom!
Look at your own automobile liability policy now. If it is a policy with standard limits you are protected only up to $5,000.00 for each person injured or killed and you are subject to all damages for bodily injury which exceed $10,000.00 in any accident. RECENT JUDGMENTS GIVEN BY COURTS HAVE BEEN FOR FAR GREATER AMOUNTS! Are you financially able to pay damages awarded which exceed the standard limits?

COMMENTS from the SIDELINES

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.

Azaleas
Continuing our little whirl around the Florida State League baseball cities, we stop in our progression at Palatka, the home of the Palatka Azaleas.

Ray Ryan, general manager of the A's for 1948, is beating the bushes in the mid-western states, looking for men for the club in view for the coming season.

Ryan reports from Hamilton, Ohio, that he has several men in view for the coming season.

Some of the array of talent lined up by the Palatka boss includes Albert Schultz, 19 year old third baseman from Houston, Ohio; Harold Barber, right handed six foot pitcher; Marvin Knowlton, a right hander from Albany and Ray Ridenour, shortstop attending Miami (Ohio) University.

Ryan seems to be sold on the performance of all these boys, and according to his reports, the college shortstop, Ridenour, is the best prospect he has seen in 25 years of baseball, and grabbing him from under the noses of the major league scouts was nothing short of wonderful.

Ryan is slated to return to Palatka in about two weeks and at that time the job of managing the Azalea aggregation for 1948 will be given a thorough airing. The Azaleas are one of three clubs in the FSL which is without a skipper. Leeburg and Sanford are the other two clubs yet to name their field general.

Hill Park
Work is progressing on the Municipal Ball Park for the coming 1948 Florida State League season.

A large amount of work has been done in the past week toward cleaning up the outside portion of the grounds, that is, the part along the fences, the walks and the like.

During this week reconstruction of the fences is scheduled to begin.

A new score board, similar to the one at Harris Field in Gainesville will be erected. Specifications for the score board are being sent to Sanford by the Gainesville club, so that we can use them, John Krider reports.

The board will be placed to the left of the left field foul line and about 10 to 15 feet in from the fence, so that it will not conflict with fielders.

Rotary Meeting

depends upon how thoroughly an operator sterilizes his equipment. Pasteurized milk, he added, is the safest as the heating of the milk to a temperature of 143 degrees for 30 minutes kills all the harmful germs without destroying the palatability of the milk. After the milk is pasteurized, he continued, it still must be protected from germs in sterile equipment until it reaches the consumer.

The work of the dairy inspector, he said, concerns primarily four phases:

- (1) Buildings—must have concrete floors easily washed and well drained.
- (2) Cows—must be healthy and tested regularly for disease communicable in milk.
- (3) Equipment—must be easily cleaned.
- (4) Methods—milk and operator must be carefully trained.

Tracing the history of dairying in Seminole County, Dr. Roth said that before the war there were 14 dairies, mostly small ones, in Seminole County, and that now there are only three, large and well equipped and well operated. The people are getting better service now, he added, than ever before.

Visitors introduced by Robert Harris included Rev. J. E. McKinley, Robert Thompson, and John Paul Payne. Rev. McKinley announced the classes which will be conducted at the Episcopal Parish House beginning tomorrow afternoon under the Extension Division of the University of Florida.

Andrew Sline announced a meeting of the Merchants Association on Friday night and Charles Morrison requested Rotarians to bring coat hangers to his office or the Herald office for the benefit of the Glades baseball players.

President Gordon Brisson announced a Rotary dance will be held on Apr. 3.

Fourth Week Of Racing Starts Tonite At Track

The fourth week of greyhound racing opens tonight at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club with several new season records having been established last week. Best times for the current meeting to date were registered last Saturday night when Nellie Gray ran the five-sixteenths of a mile in 32 seconds flat. Little Bessie was clocked in 29 and one-fifth seconds for the futurity sprint.

Two new season records for mutual returns were also established last week when the daily double combination paid $1.457 and the triple returned $1.10 for a straight win ticket.

The V. P. Spradling Kennel led in victories last week with seven but the J. E. Miller Kennel leads in wins for the three week period with a total of 17. Spradling is next with 10 while Ed Willard Kennels are tied for third place with a total of 13 victories each.

Tonight's card of 10 events will offer six races from the five-sixteenths of a mile box, although the feature night contest will be a sprint from the futurity box. Three other futurity races will complete the program.

Georgia-Florida Circuit Hikes Players And Pay

MOULTRIE, Ga., Jan. 19 (AP)—Georgia-Florida Baseball League directors increased the number of active players from 15 to 17 here yesterday and hiked the salary limit of the Class D circuit from $2,250 to $2,500 per month.

In approving the larger active roster, directors specified that no more than seven rookies nor more than three veterans shall be carried. Last season the league permitted clubs to carry four veterans, but was required to have at least five rookies.

A 140 game schedule opening April 12, was formally adopted. Directors formally approved the transfer of the Moultrie Club franchise from Jim Hooper to the Moultrie Athletic Inc. and Alex Hall was officially seated as league director representing the Philadelphia Athletics, who will operate the team.

The men's doubles will be finished at Orlando in conjunction with a tournament there this week. Larned and Buddy Behrens, Fort Lauderdale, will meet the winner of the match between Gonzales and Dorfman and two Rollins players, Richard Balbiers and Enrique Buse.

BLEADH GUILTY
CLEARWATER, Jan. 19 (AP)—John Allan, former University of Florida football player, entered a surprise plea of guilty to second-degree arson when arraigned this morning before circuit Judge John U. Bird of criminal court in what had been scheduled to be the opening of a two-day trial based on the $400,000 fire that destroyed the Leo Packing Company cannery plant in Tarpon Springs last August.

AID FOR CITRUS
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—The Department of Agriculture has agreed to initiate immediately a $9,000,000 price support program for grapefruit. Florida members of Congress said today. There was no immediate confirmation by the department.

Senator Holland (D-Fla.), an spokesman for the Florida delegation, said he understood the department would call for bids today from the grapefruit industry on single strength canned juice and concentrates to be purchased by its commodity credit corporation to support prices.

Baruch Testifies
before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He urged that the excess profits tax be restored at 50 percent of wartime levels, a different basis than Mr. Truman urged. He offered it as one point in a program for building peace.

Harriman testified before the House Ways and Means Committee—which is considering income tax reduction proposals.

Opposition to "any material reduction in income tax rates" was expressed to the ways and means group by the American Farm Bureau Federation. President Allan H. Kline said in a statement that "a period of inflation" is not the time for such a move. The federalation urged, however, that the community property principle in income taxation be extended to all citizens.

Harriman did not specifically refer to the President's excess profits tax suggestion in his opening statement to the committee but he anticipated objections that such a tax would hamper investments in business expansion. He commented: "Since business needs for investment are being reasonably met with no evidence of a lack of means of financing by business, I do not believe it is meaningful to say that there is a shortage of savings to satisfy business needs."

Baruch then proposed his domestic program, saying "the time has come to organize -- to mobilize -- for peace. It cannot be put off safely any longer. The time for courage and decision is here."

These are the major things he proposed in that "mobilization":

1. Reduce major food prices "in exchange for guaranteeing farmers an assured price for their crops for the next three years."
2. Stabilize wages in return for this rollback.
3. Restore the excess profits tax at 50 percent of wartime levels.
4. Continue rent control "with provision only for clearly justifiable increases."
5. Postpone tax reduction for two years and then cut levies gradually over a five-year period.
6. Put off all less essential state and federal public works, giving priority to "increasing production, housing, schools, hospitals and other essential needs."
7. Set up a capital issues commission to review all public and private projects "with a view to deferring less essential projects."
8. Establish a congressional digging committee" which would cut government costs.

Baruch, an adviser to presidents in two world wars, said the situation "requires a bold, resolute, concerted attack against the choking fears of inflation and another war."

His tax and farm price rollback proposals were only subheads for his anti-inflation point of his general program.

"The broader program embraced:

- "1. The United States stand ready to buy all non-perishable raw materials produced anywhere and by anyone in the world for the next five years, and which cannot find normal commercial markets."
- "2. Extend the President's present tariff authority for the next three years."
- "3. That the countries of Europe -- as many as are willing -- band themselves into a political, economic and defense union under the United Nations. This would include the lowering of trade barriers among them."
- "4. That the United States, and such others as will join us, mutually guarantee the nations entering this union against aggression. By guarantee I mean a firm promise to go to war in joint defense if any of them are attacked."
- "5. That the European nations organize to liberate and use every productive resource of the continent."
- "6. Stabilize all European currencies and establish realistic rates of exchange."
- "7. A two year peace production drive in this country -- to work for peace as we worked for war -- where feasible, with longer hours and overtime; where not, to smash production bottlenecks."
- "8. As part of this work-for-peace drive, an across-the-nation anti-inflation program."
- "9. Settle realistically all pre-war and wartime intergovernmental debts."
- "10. The British and others to retain their empire preferences for three years."
- "11. A general staff for peace to develop an overall, global strategy for America's peace-making."

Baruch told the committee: "These measures, put into effect promptly, can boost production sufficiently to cover the whole Marshall Plan and still break the present inflationary cycle almost immediately, cancel part of the national debt, while laying the groundwork for orderly tax reduction in the future."

Betty Jameson Wins Tampa Women's Golf Tilt With 307 Score

TAMPA, Jan. 19 (AP)—Betty Jameson, playing over the rugged Palma Cera course here, won the $3,000 Tampa Women's Open golf tournament with a score of 307.

The National Open Champion from San Antonio, Texas, added rounds of 77 and 78 yesterday to a halfway total of 151 to win handily, four strokes ahead of National Amateur Champion Louise Suggs of Lithia Springs, Ga.

Miss Suggs topped the amateurs with 154-81-74-311. Her 74, one under par for the 6,093 yard par 75 layout, was the lowest round of the meet.

Miss Jameson was only one stroke over the 306 posted by the great Babe Didrikson Zaharias in winning here last year. Mrs. Zaharias did not compete this year.

Patty Berg, Minneapolis pro, was a close third with 157-77-78-312, but after that the scores began to rise.

Other leaders were: Peggy Kirk, Finney, Ohio, 158-82-77-317; Mary Mead, Portland, Ore., 159-78-83-320; Grace Lengyel, Stetson University, 163-82-77-321; Kathryn Memphis, Greensboro, N. C., 159-81-86-326; Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Texas, 163-82-82-327; Carol Diringer, Tiffin, Ohio, 162-83-83-328; and Mary McMillan, Green Bay, Wis., 164-81-84-329.

Stetson President Hails College Growth

DELAND, Jan. 19 (Special)—Private institutions of higher learning and church-related colleges and universities are on trial today as part of a world-wide conflict of two opposing philosophies—one Christian, the other pagan.

Bo said J. Ollie Edmunds, A. B., A. M., L. L. B., L. D., newly elected president of John B. Stetson University, in the first general student convocation here today since illness forced the resignation last year of President William Sims Allen.

The 2,400 Stetson students heard the new president in an open-air meeting in the shadow of Deland Hall, the oldest college building in Florida, and on the concrete base of Hullay Tower, famous Stetson landmark. Student enrollment has grown so rapidly in recent years that no single auditorium on the campus is large enough to accommodate the student body.

"Legislation has been introduced in 17 states which would remove the tax-exempt status of private and church-related colleges found guilty of certain practices," President Edmunds said. He continued:

"These assaults on the freedom and independence of private and church-related colleges are being made by pressure groups attempting to pass coercive legislation."

Cooked vegetables make excellent salads. Lima beans marinated in French Dressing, for instance, and served on a bed of shredded lettuce, are good with a fish dinner. A grating of onion may be added to the vegetable as it is marinating if the dressing does not already contain onion.

Jaycee Anniversary

Was elected temporary president of the newly formed Jaycee group. He served until Feb. 13, 1946 when Jack Ratigan was elected president. Other officers were Young Harris and J. B. Odham, first and second vice-presidents; Ray Slaton, secretary and Gene Tucker, treasurer.

jects included urging citizens to vote, assisting in the organization of The Sanford Baseball Association, and arranging for a homecoming celebration for veterans and barbecue in co-operation with the senior Chamber of Commerce. The charter was received from the national organization on May 8, 1946.

When requested by the American Legion to furnish a candidate for Boy's State at Tallahassee, Jaycees have chosen Francis Wilson. They urged improvement of French Avenue, which the financially embarrassed City was unable to repave, as a farm to market trucking road. Local legislators got busy, with the result that the State footed the bill and resurfaced the street.

Leather covers were donated by the group to the high school library and more than $200 was raised toward re-equipping it with furniture and facilities. Captained by Cliff Ables, they urged Sanford voters to be sure they were registered in order to vote in the City primary. Sanford as a result turned out a much larger vote than it had for a number of years.

Appeals for donors to the Central Florida Bank were headed by the Jaycees with the result that Seminole County topped many other counties in donations. H. G. McIntosh was chairman of the drive for the Jaycees. Seeing the need for a properly built, equipped and staffed Tourist Information Booth to aid in attracting tourists here, the Jaycees co-operated with the Senior Chamber of Commerce in inducing the City to appropriate funds for its erection in September, 1946. It was dedicated on Labor Day, 1947, and now serves as a place where visitors may secure information concerning the community and area.

Co-operating with the Sanford Merchant's Association, the Jaycees promoted a fine Christmas parade which everyone enjoyed and which drew thousands of visitors to town.

has served the county as school trustee for several years as well as in the capacity of county commissioner.

Prior to the depression he was in the contracting and road building business, and has much experience in building roads, and knows the kind of machinery that the county needs for this purpose.

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Overstreet declared that since he is fully acquainted with the needs of the people in his district he feels fully qualified to serve them in the future. He is married and has four children.

Vegetables Hurt

by Christmas, it can be seen that the continuing of shipments well into January have served to largely offset the lateness of the initial movement.

"I would not attempt to minimize the seriousness of the cold wave which has destroyed many thousands of bushels of tomatoes, and other produce. The loss is bad for the consumer. However, winter production of tender crops is a gamble, and the bad fall weather made it more of a gamble than normal for this crop-year. The fact that this killing cold came several weeks later than it could normally be expected has given some compensation for their fall damage and, as I said in the beginning, there is evidently a possibility that Spring plantings have not been irreparably injured."

Soaring Meet

soaring champion of France, flying his own special ship, made 128 points on altitude, duration and distance, with a record of more than two hours in the air on Jan. 15. She was awarded the Challenge Trophy, donated by the Florida Soaring Association.

Bill Coverdale of Chattanooga, Tenn., placed third with 111 points and for remaining in the air the longest time during the meet: four hours and 18 minutes on Jan. 15. He was awarded the Woodard F. Barnwell Memorial Trophy.

George Sebeck of Brooklyn, N. Y. won the spot landing contest by making a bull's eye, landing so perfectly that a plumb line bob placed on the front of his sail plane, touched the nail driven in the runway. Last year one of the pilots got within an inch of the nail.

Ken Scribner won the acrobatics prize with his bewildering inverted loops and rolls. Ken is a pilot with Pan-American Airways at Miami. Ted Schuch of Atlanta was second, Wally Wilber of Dallas, Tex. was third, George Sebeck was fourth, George Tabery of New York was fifth.

Fritz Compton of Miami won an altitude prize by going up 1,800 feet above the 600 altitude release point. Fred Brittain was up an hour and 10 minutes on Sunday. James Theodore, an instructor at the Sanford School of Aviation, won the Novice Trophy in soaring. Ginny Bernis, leading U. S. woman pilot, was busy helping with the meet, but found time to win 25 points.

Bad weather and cold plagued the meet from the start, but Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock the skies cleared, and there was a large number of spectators on hand to see the acrobatics.

Walter Krohne, president of the newly formed Florida Soaring Society, declared that he was well pleased with the outcome of the meet, and today expressed thanks to the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, and to the Jaycees whose chairman, Chic Lassiter gave so much time and effort to the meet.

He also thanked Roy Brown, airport manager for cooperation, Lawrence Brulin, publicity director, students of the Florida Aviation Academy, Boy Scouts, City and State Police, Erickson Funeral Home for providing the ambulance, J. E. McAlexander for the sound truck, and many others who aided in making the meet a success.

At the banquet last evening, the contestants, and the Florida Soaring Association were congratulated by putting over the meet by E. G. Kilpatrick, Jr., Chamber of Commerce president.

Citrus Embargo

ficient time has elapsed for all freeze to show up.

Several speakers protested that the ban should be placed in effect as soon as possible in order to prevent the rushing to market of fruit whose holders fear it might show cold damage later.

Most outspoken was H. C. Barnett, Plant City shipper, who called for an embargo tonight.

"With present low prices those shipping now cannot benefit much any way if they are shipping good fruit," Barnett said, "but they can do a great deal of harm if any bad fruit reaches the public."

Later he burst forth with: "I hear all this talk about protecting the industry (in allowing time to move present supplies). You are losing sight of the fact that your first consideration should be the consumer, the person who has to dig down in his pocket. Every business in the world runs its business for the customer except this one. It seems we run it just for each other."

The Dead Sea, Albert Nyanza, Lake Nyasa and Taganyika are all situated in the great "African Rift" which slashes across Asia and far down into Africa for almost one-sixth of the circumference of the earth.

One of its three runways is about 7,000 feet, which would make possible the operation of superfortress-type bombers should any emergency require a shift from its use as a passenger and cargo base.

The announcement of American air officials in Europe said the Tripoli field was being re-opened because of additional transport flights necessary to serve American missions in Greece and the Middle East, and the air base at Dhahran in Saudi Arabia.

State Department officials said that Edwin W. Pauley is resigning as an advisor to Secretary of State Marshall because United States policy on reparations has taken definite shape.

Pauley has been a reparations advisor since last March. He and his deputy, Julius C. Edelstein, have asked that they be relieved effective Feb. 15.

Two Republican Congress members introduced legislation authorizing the Truman Administration to set up meat rationing machinery, including printing of ration books.

The bill, sponsored by Senators Flanders (R-Vt.) and Rep. Javits (R-NY), provides up to $1,000,000 to allow the Agriculture Department to make all necessary reparations.

Under terms of the measure, President Truman is authorized to submit a detailed meat rationing program to Congress. It would go into effect automatically unless disapproved by both the Senate and House within 30 days.

Meanwhile presidential politics splurged in three directions as the Republican National Committee met here for a two-day meeting to arrange a 1948 campaign budget and discuss convention plans.

Although the GOP committee as a group has nothing to do with the war at a time when the United States was preparing to ferry B-29s eastward to bases in Asia for the beginning of the air attack on Japan. It has two runways, the longest about 7,000 feet. Because the base is being turned over to the Saudi Arabian government, the chief function of the detachment now stationed there is to train Arabian personnel in the use of equipment and maintenance of the field.

The United States maintains an apparent interest at another distant spot—Asmara, inland in Eritrea from the Red Sea. There chief attention is to the operation of a link in the military-diplomatic radio communication network.

with selecting a presidential candidate, its individual members have their preferences. All the announced and unannounced candidates came in for informal discussion.

Two generals—Dwight D. Eisenhower and Douglas MacArthur—figured prominently in the private talks, although neither was represented even unofficially at the gathering.

The Democratic high command was disclosed to have asked Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt to campaign for President Truman's election and to have received assurances of her willingness to cooperate. Chairman J. Howard McGrath confirmed this and told a reporter he also expects James A. Farley, who broke with the late President Roosevelt over the third term issue, to become active again during the 1948 campaign.

Drop Charge Or Prove It, Pauley Asks

Says Profit Not Due To Inside 'Leaks' But To Knowledge And Good Business

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley demanded today that Senate investigators either prove he used inside government information for personal gain or acknowledge publicly that he made money in commodities through sheer business ability.

He insisted that the full record of his admittedly profitable market dealings "is a story of profit honestly and honorably made, legally, ethically and in the American tradition."

Pauley, a special assistant to Secretary of the Army Royal, declared "I have never at any time in my life used any government position, or any 'inside information' for my personal financial gain."

He made the assertions in a letter to the Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The letter and the full records of Pauley's commodity transactions for the past three years were made public by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), chairman of a subcommittee which Bridges named to inquire into speculation by government employees.

Pauley, a California oil man and former Democratic national treasurer, has announced that he intends to wind up his temporary job with the Department of the Army sometime this month and (Continued on Page 51)

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—The arrest on a deportation warrant of Claudia Jones, negro woman writer and secretary to the National Women's Commission of the Communist Party in the United States, was announced today.

She is charged with being an alien in the United States in violation of law in that she advocates and teaches the overthrow of the government by force.

She was arrested last night at her Manhattan home by officers of the Immigration Service and the FBI and was removed to Ellis Island to be held in custody pending release on $10,000 bond.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Senate Armed Forces Committee today rejected a personal plea from President Truman to allow Maj. General Laurence S. Kuter to become chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board and retain his rank and pay as an Air Force general.

The committee refused to approve necessary special legislation in the case. This confirmed an earlier unanimous vote by the same committee against the legislation.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) told reporters there were two votes. He said the first was on a proposed compromise by Senator Tydings (D-Md.) which would have allowed General Kuter to serve for one year as CAB head with the committee's pending a (Continued on Page Six)

Prices Raise Army Cost By $250,000,000

Purchasing Officer Says Anti-Inflation Laws Would Benefit Armed Services

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson today asked brewers to agree voluntarily to reduce overall use of grains 20 percent during the remainder of the current grain shortage.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Col. Philip Smith, an Army purchasing officer, said today that a 30 percent price increase for supplies during the last nine months has cost the Army about $250,000,000.

Smith told the Senate Banking Committee, studying bills to check inflation, that if all pending legislation to stabilize prices, measures to impose price controls at wholesale would be "of most benefit to the armed services."

The Army officer emphasized this was his own opinion and that he was not speaking for the Army Department.

Before the hearings were resumed, committee Chairman Tolby (R-NH) came out in favor of a "get-ready" meat rationing law. A bill to authorize the Agriculture Department to set up the necessary machinery is before the group.

Smith said he could not help much on this, but that Rear Admiral W. M. Gallagher, scheduled to appear later in the day, probably would know.

Smith is not volunteer that most fuel oil for Japan and other Far Eastern areas is shipped from the Persian Gulf region. (Continued on Page Six)

Reduced Yield In Celery Foreseen From Cold Spell

A reduction in yield on golden type celery due to the recent frost was today reported by growers. A certain amount of pithiness has resulted which will necessitate stripping to the extent of 15 to 25 percent, causing considerable reduction in size of the stalks, they state.

The pithiness on the other hand means that the stalks will be little by the cold; therefore larger sizes, which command the best prices, will be available.

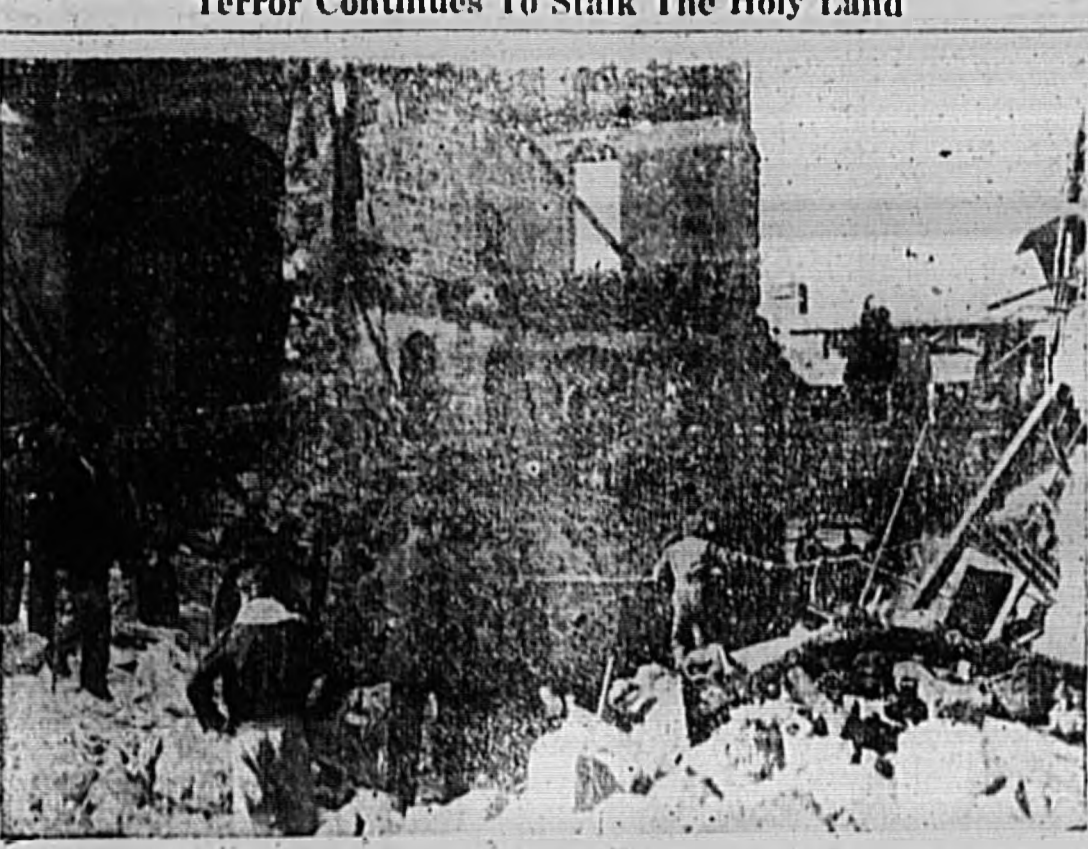

Younger golden celery has been retarded about a week, but has been but slightly damaged, say growers, and is expected to make larger growth and be of better quality than if the freeze had not occurred.

Cotton Seen As Displacing Rayon For Tire Cords If Prices Right

ATLANTA, Ga. Jan. 20 (AP)—Cotton can challenge its competitors with drastically lowered prices if growers use science to cut production costs, industry spokesmen predicted today as they assembled in Atlanta for the tenth meeting of the National Cotton Council Jan. 21-23.

Dr. Leonard Smith of Washington, D. C., utilization research director for the council, said cotton would entirely displace rayon in tire cords if its cost was 20 cents a pound.

Cotton presently brings 33 to 35 cents a pound in the post-war boom.

Frank McCord, chief of market research at Memphis, said supply and demand are expected to balance in 1950. Thereafter, he said, cotton will compete price-for-price against rayon and other fibers.

Dr. Smith said cotton appeared to have a three-fold advantage. He predicted there would be sharp reduction in production cost by reason of mechanization.

Additional, he said, there is reason to expect lower costs in processing and finishing, as result of research advances.

Henry Wallace Candidacy Seen As Boost To GOP Prospects

By JACK HELL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Republican national committeemen professed growing confidence today that moves into the Democratic vote by Henry A. Wallace this fall will help elect a GOP president for the first time in 20 years.

As the committee assembled to approve a campaign budget and appoint delegates to the June nominating convention in Philadelphia, National Chairman Carroll Reece said Wallace's entry into the race has resulted in "the desperate efforts now being made by Mr. Truman to recover his disreputable lost foreign legion."

This has left no doubt, Reece said in a prepared address, of "the domestic partnership of the Democratic Party and the Communist Party."

Rep. Katherine St. George of New York assayed the effect of Wallace's third party campaign in a speech to the National Committee last night in these words: "Merciful providence has sent him as a candidate at this time."

Senator Heicker of Ohio, the Republican vice presidential nominee in 1944, told the same banquet meeting "we are going to nominate a president in June."

Mr. St. George cautioned that gathering it would be unwise to rely too strongly on the Wallace candidacy for victory and said the GOP must pin its faith on "the principles of republicanism."

At some members of the National Committee said frankly if privately that they expected the Wallace vote to make the difference in their states.

One committee member who asked not to be quoted by name said he is impressed by the Wallace favor in private polls taken in his state. He said he has no doubt that if Wallace maintains this percentage in November the Republican nominee, no matter who, will win.

Heicker, who is supporting his chief son's colleague, Foster A. Taft for the nomination, told the National Committee that it is all right to say that politics should end at the water's edge in a bipartisan foreign policy.

Although these seemed to be a general feeling, Wallace's candidacy would make it easier for any Republican nominee to win in November, many committee members said.

Mr. Smith today announced his candidacy for the office of County Tax Collector in the Democratic Primary to be held May 4. He is at the present time engaged in the retail furniture business, which he has had 27 years of experience.

Born in Ocala and educated in Ocala schools, he moved to Sanford in 1921 after serving two years in the Navy during the first World War.

Mr. Smith is Past Commander of the Campbell-Lanning Post, American Legion, treasurer of the local Red Cross chapter for several years and president of the Sanford Merchants Association.

He is also a member of the First Methodist church, the Masons, Kiwanis and the Elks club. He resigned as finance officer of the Legion on Jan. 13. Mr. Smith has one daughter who is now attending Florida State University.

"First of all, Mr. Smith said, I want to express to my many friends throughout the county my sincere appreciation for the splendid support which I received in my 1944 campaign. Because of that support, I am encouraged to believe that a rather sizeable proportion of Seminole County taxpayers will vote for me."

The research program is being consumed in the United States this year, while another 3,000,000 bales would go overseas. Total production is forecast at about 18,000,000 bales.

Indications that price would be an important factor after 1950 were found by the special subcommittee on cotton, of the House Committee on Agriculture. This committee said that only 5,255,000 bales of cotton would be consumed in the United States (Continued on Page Six)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—John Foster Dulles said today Soviet leaders are trying "by every act short of new war" to destroy the weakened economies of Europe's free states.

Russians Are Seen As Dangerous By Mrs. Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Jan. 20 (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt says today unless the United States finds ways to be strong enough, as Russia will work with us, we will have to build for another war.

"We need not as well as strength in dealing with the Soviet," she said last night in her first public address since returning from last month's Geneva meeting of the United Nations Commission on Human Rights, of which she is a member.

If the United States withdrew from Europe, "Russia would go in ever there we went out," she said. "Russia is the most powerful nation in the world," she said.

"Russia is next. She is never, therefore not so sure. They infiltrate where they can, and they are going to expand if they can. They really believe their way is the only way to govern the world." (Continued on Page Three)

Reds Demand Britain, U. S. End Zone Pact

BERLIN, Jan. 20 (AP)—Russia formally demanded today the dissolution of the American-British joint economic administration of their zones of Germany, asserting the arrangement violated the Potsdam agreement.

The Marshal spoke after General Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor, told of measures taken by the two Western Allies to better economic conditions in Western Germany, beset anew today by hunger strike protests and threats of strikes. Clay left immediately after the meeting for Washington.
