County Is First To Reach Goal In GS Campaign

Seminole County was the first in the four-county Citrus Council Girl Scouts of America area to reach their goal in the current Girl Scout campaign fund drive, said R. A. Cobb, campaign chairman, this morning.

"We have raised a total of $2,185 and have sent our check to the Citrus Council," Cobb said this morning.

"Our county is the only one of the four counties completing its quota up to this time," he said.

The campaign chairman said this morning "I'd like to thank the public, all of those who contributed, the newspaper and radio and also all of those workers who participated and helped make our campaign so successful."

"Several more checks are expected to be received in the very near future," Cobb said this morning, "which will raise our total even higher than what it is now."

Delegation Meeting With Navy Secretary

John Krider, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, and J. Bralley Odham, local builder, along with Congressman A. S. "Syd" Herlong Jr. left last night by Eastern Airlines for Washington.

Krider will stay in Washington in behalf of Seminole County and to follow every lead available in an effort to keep the proposed Naval Air Station, Sixth Naval District in the Seminole County area.

In a long distance telephone conversation this morning, shortly before noon, Krider said that a meeting has been scheduled with Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas this afternoon at 2:30.

The meeting with the Secretary of the Navy was arranged by Congressman Herlong.

Krider, Congressman Herlong, Senators Smathers and Holland had lunch together this afternoon in the Pentagon Building to map plans for Krider's stay in the nation's capital.

Congressman Herlong said this morning "We're going to leave no stone unturned to keep the Navy installation in Seminole County."

However, Herlong said "The decision is not to be made by the Congressmen but we are doing everything possible to keep the proposed station there."

Congressman Herlong, Senator George Smathers, and Senator Spessard Holland will accompany Krider on his visit with the Secretary of the Navy.

Both Krider and Herlong said "We will keep you posted as to how we are progressing here in Washington."

Engine On Nehru's Plane Catches Fire

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India escaped injury today when an engine caught fire on his twin-engine plane—a gift of the Soviet government—and he was forced to make an emergency landing.

The plane, a two-engine Ilyushin-14, was presented to Nehru by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin last year when Bulganin and Soviet Communist Party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev were touring India.

The plane landed at a neglected wartime airstrip at Raichur, 110 miles southwest of Hyderabad. Nehru looked untroubled when told of the fire and only smiled when the pilot later apologized to him for the incident.

The accident happened on the third day of the national elections which will last for three more weeks. Nehru flies to various areas to campaign just before voting begins in that particular area.

Docks, Terminals Study Discussed By Board

Federal Assistance For Sewage Plant Appears 'Remote'

The City of Sanford's bid for public assistance in the construction of a sewage treatment plant is 34th in a list of 38 applications made under Public Law 660.

Announcement of the remote possibility for financial assistance in the construction of the nearly quarter-million dollar project came last night at a meeting of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles said that the application for federal assistance under this law must be made each year and the possibilities of coming closer to the assistance are "remote."

"We may be even further away than 34th place," said Knowles, "because each year there may be additional applications filed for the appropriation made under the Public Law 660."

Knowles advised the Board of Commissioners that the firm of consulting engineers, Smith and Gillespie of Jacksonville "expects have the preliminary plans and report on the sewage treatment plant ready by the next meeting."

Members of the Board of Commissioners withheld comment on the federal assistance program until the engineers report is received and passed.

Attention of the commissioners was called to a request to submit an engineering report for sewage treatment facilities at a cost of $100. However, commissioners, even though they felt that the city should keep an eye on all developments that might prove valuable to the city, did not authorize the report.

3 Explorer Scouts Pulled To Safety

MONTREY, Calif. (AP) — Three 16-year-old explorer scouts, missing since Saturday, were pulled to safety up a 1,000 foot cliff Monday by an Army rescue unit.

The youths, all sons of Ft. Ord officers, were in good physical condition.

They were David Phillips, son of Brig. Gen. John D. S. Phillips, commanding officer of the 5th Division Artillery; Tommy Bates, son of Col. Robert S. Bates, Gen. Phillips' executive officer, and Randy Gripp, son of Maj. Frank R. Gripp, division chaplain.

The boys camped in a ravine by a stream and were trapped by rising water from a drenching storm that swept the area over the weekend.

"We weren't worried," young Phillips said. "We knew somebody would find us eventually."

President, Mollet Rebuilding Franco-American Relations

Home Is Destroyed By Fire; Police Study Arson Angle

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and French Premier Guy Mollet got down to the job today of rebuilding strained Franco-American relations.

They arranged morning, noon and afternoon meetings at the White House during the first full day of Mollet's official visit to Washington.

At the same time French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau met separately with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Mollet pledged on his arrival Monday that "we are going to put our hearts, our minds and our full strength to achieving the peaceful and just purposes that are common to our two republics."

Rebuilding relations between the United States and France hit a postwar low last fall when France and Britain invaded Egypt without first conferring with this government. The invasion strained badly the formerly close ties among the "Big Three" western allies.

Only recently, after the British-French withdrawal from Egypt, did Mr. Eisenhower agree to meet with Mollet and the new British prime minister, Harold Macmillan. The President will confer with Macmillan in a separate meeting in British Bermuda March 21-24.

"The purpose of these two meetings is to get Big Three confidence back on the tracks," one official said.

Sanctions Pose Problem

Despite efforts to restore former good relations, France and the United States are split on the question of sanctions against Israel. This could be a ticklish point in the Eisenhower-Mollet talks unless Israel soon agrees to withdraw her forces from Egypt.

Librarian Prospects Presented

Three prospects for the position of "librarian" at the General Henry Shelton Sanford Memorial Library were presented to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night when Gen. J. C. Hutchison made a report to the board on the library.

Dr. J. Bernard Root, chairman of a committee appointed to search for a librarian, submitted the names, salaries and working hours proposed for the three prospects.

Dr. Root said "these are three persons whom we believe are capable of working acceptably at the General Henry Shelton Sanford Memorial Library."

Possibility that one of the prospects might work in conjunction with the Seminole County School System spurred the Board of Sanford City Commissioners to delve deeper into the possibilities of employing this person. Dr. Root told the board that "this prospect will, more than likely, move to Sanford."

Announcement of contributions made to the General Henry Shelton Sanford Memorial Library and Museum Committee for the building fund was also made to the commissioners.

H. B. Pope, chairman of the committee's building committee said that the burglar alarm system will be checked and completed this morning.

The library, he said, has been adequately protected with a burglar alarm system which is connected directly, by telephone line, with the Sanford Police Department.

Gen. Hutchison said "each book in the library has been valued at $300 by Dr. A. J. Hanna of Rollins College."

The Board of Commissioners was also told that Dr. J. B. Root has been assigned as chairman of a committee to draw up "rules and regulations for the operation of the library."

"We are working for the City," Gen. Hutchison told the Board of Commissioners, "and we want our work to be satisfactory to you."

Prior to the discussion relative to the library building itself, the Board of Sanford City Commissioners instructed its attorney, William C. Hutchison, to draw up the proper resolution of thanks to Mrs. Carola Dow for her gift to the City of Sanford. "That was a wonderful letter in The Sanford Herald today," commissioners commented, "and our answer should be incorporated into the resolution."

Project Gets Big Boost

The roooped Docks and Terminals project will have smooth sailing according to the sand-off it received last night at the Board of Sanford City Commissioners meeting.

City commissioners received a copy of the survey prepared by W. M. Bostwick, engineer of Daytona Beach last night.

Commissioner F. D. Scott, holding his copy of the survey in mid-air said "This is important—we should figure some way to put the Docks and Terminals Project over."

The survey, completed for the Florida Power and Light Company as a Seminole County Chamber of Commerce project, is contained in a folder of 50 pages which includes graphs, sketches, analyses and other data pointing to several of the huge project for Sanford and Central Florida.

Possibly the highlight of the survey is the fact that the cover page gives Sanford-Seminole County the title of "The Wholesale Distributing Center for Central Florida."

Commissioner A. L. Wilson commented at last night's meeting "If we had this building tomorrow we would be 25 years late."

Wilson has been rather pointed in his stand for the Docks and Terminals project. He said in an interview prior to the meeting last night that "This is the most important undertaking of the city and nothing should stand in its way."

Merle Warner, City Commissioner stated emphatically "I go for it 100 per cent!" He applauded Commissioner Scott's words when he remarked that the Board of Commissioners should figure out some way to put over the project.

Mayor David Gatchell immediately instructed City Manager Warren E. Knowles to place the discussion regarding the "Docks and Terminals" on the next meeting's agenda.

In first appearances, the Docks and Terminals project has gotten off to "a head start" with discussions apparently underway in an optimistic attitude.

The project, costing in the neighborhood of a half-million dollars, will bring rail, truck and water traffic together in one vast distributing point at Sanford on Lake Monroe and the St. Johns River.

Four-Story Rubber Plant Building Destroyed By Fire

BUTLER, N. J. — A general alarm fire gutted a four-story rubber plant early today in the heart of Butler.

The fire, which started in the Pequannock Soft Rubber Co. plant at about 12:30 a. m. EST, virtually split the building.

The front wall of the building collapsed into Main Street. The plant's rear wall cascaded down onto the tracks of the Susquehanna Railroad which runs behind the plant.

Authorities said they expected the fire in the plant which covers a three-block area to burn until this afternoon. Firemen were threatened by intermittent explosions which shattered windows in the area.

An estimated 200 employees who were working in the plant when the fire started were evacuated safely. One fireman was injured fighting the blaze and several others were treated for smoke inhalation.

The county civil defense director declared the vicinity surrounding the plant a "disaster area."

If pies like this are made in Ireland, we're ready to set sail! And that's not flattery, either—it's a well-deserved compliment for this special dessert. White as the clouds that float over the Emerald Isle, is the tender-thin flaked coconut atop the lovely green filling of this pie. And for a "quick trick" that's as clever as the Irish—add a half cup of flaked coconut to the dry pastry mixture... then add water, mix and roll out as usual. Cut the shamrocks from large green gumdrops and enjoy the results!

Coconut Lime Chiffon Pie
2 teaspoons gelatin 1/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cold water 1 teaspoon grated lime rind
3 egg yolks Few drops green food coloring
1/3 cup lime juice
1/4 teaspoon salt 1 baked 9-inch pie shell
1/2 cup sugar chilled

1/2 cup cream, whipped and sweetened
3/4 cup Baker's Angel Flake Coconut, plain or toasted
Combine gelatin and cold water in mixing bowl; mix well. Beat egg yolks until light. Add lime juice, salt, and 1/2 cup sugar. Cook in double boiler over hot, not boiling, water until thickened. Pour over gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened.

Beat egg whites until foamy, add 1/4 cup sugar gradually, and continue beating until stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture. Add lime rind and green coloring. Pile lightly in pie shell. Chill until firm. Just before serving, spread with whipped cream, sprinkle with coconut, and garnish with shamrocks.

To garnish: Cut shamrocks from large green gumdrops and scatter over top of pie.

Storms And Sniffles Linked By A Survey

By HERMAN H. BUNDESEN, M.D.

BEWARE of storm fronts. Not only do such conditions mean bad weather, they also might mean bad colds.

A unique joint investigation, made by a private weather forecasting company and a pharmaceutical firm, has revealed that there is a 50 to 75 per cent increase in cases of common colds following closely on the heels of meteorological changes which the weather forecasters call storm fronts.

Definite Link

This seems to establish a definite link between storms and sniffles.

Several factors appear to be involved in the weather's triggering an outbreak of colds. First, there usually is fair weather and a temperature somewhat above average.

Then there is a sharp drop in temperature, coupled with increased rainfall, wide day-to-night temperature range and higher humidity as well as wind velocity.

Dry Area

If you live in a dry area, the rain, snow, humidity and cloudiness factors are more important than for someone living in a normally wet area.

The joint study, the first of its kind, was conducted in two stages. First, the daily sales of cold tablets were recorded in cities throughout the country. Then weather records for each city were analyzed.

The researchers found that sales of cold tablets mushroomed after storm fronts struck the various areas.

What does all this mean to you? Well, for one thing, it enables the weather bureau to predict fairly well in advance the likelihood of an outbreak of colds in specific areas.

More Colds
The National Weather Institute in Los Angeles, which participated in the study, says the Atlanta, Ga., and Miami, Fla., areas can expect to have more cases of colds than usual from now until about March 4.

When the newspaper, radio or television weather reports for your community forecast storm fronts, you can take special precautions to protect yourself against fatigue, chilling and other things which help lower your resistance.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
H. M.: Why aren't mastoid operations performed as frequently as they once were?

Answer: Because of the use of the new antibiotic drugs. Symptoms do not progress to the severe stage which requires operations.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THERE NEVER has been an author quite like Gerard Lambert, whose memoirs, "All Out of Step," have been published by Doubleday.

Back in the days when ad budgets were as minuscule as those of book publishers, Lambert launched a $5 million campaign for a new mouthwash that made halitosis a household word. Then he "retired" at 42 to devote himself to yachting, the mysteries of government, etc. He came out of "retirement" to head a razor blade firm.

Perhaps Lambert's sharp-tongued coup came when he agreed to buy a full-page ad in the Mencken-edited American Mercury for one year—with the proviso that he might run any copy he wished short of libel and licentiousness. For twelve months Lambert lambasted Mencken from stem to stern. By that time, recalls Lambert, the sage of Baltimore was so all-fired mad no attempt was made to renew the contract.

SYNOPSIS
Connie Barrow's suspicions were aroused by her husband's clumsy excuses for his regular Wednesday night absences. She trailed Steve to a private dance studio and then realized he was taking dance lessons as a means of escape from her. Keeping herself unnoticed, Connie watched the door of the studio till Steve left, and went in for a private word with his teacher. She found the instructor, Anita Farrell, a woman who had been a dancer and a teacher. She had to believe his accusations of his innocence.

Explorer Solves Two Archeological Mysteries Of Isle

OVER THE NORTH POLE — Thor Heyerdahl, the Norwegian explorer, says that he has solved the two great archeological mysteries of Easter Island in a scientific adventure he described as even more fascinating than his famous Kon-Tiki expedition.

The handsome 43-year-old scientist had a strange story to tell—and he told it in a strange place—10,000 feet over the North Pole in what must have been the first interview ever given over the top of the world.

Below us as we spoke in the first regularly scheduled airliner to cross the pole on the new Scandinavian Airlines short-cut route between Europe and Tokyo we could see vast wastes of snow in the twilight glow of the Arctic night.

30 Ton Figures

But it was of the warm Pacific that Heyerdahl was speaking. He said he was completing a book and editing a color film of his year-long stay on Easter Island, the loneliest inhabited spot on earth. It is a Chilean possession 2,000 miles west of the north coast of Chile, the nearest land. There is one regular ship a year, and the Polynesian natives squeeze out a living from poultry and farming.

The island was discovered in 1722 by a Dutch admiral looking for an entirely different island even then the first white men were bored and puzzled by the great petroglyphs or stone figures tumbled about the place. Some of these weighed 30 tons and had obviously been dragged long distances—but how this was done by the natives and their primitive equipment and what the monuments were intended to mean is the first place remained a puzzle over the centuries.

Relives Past

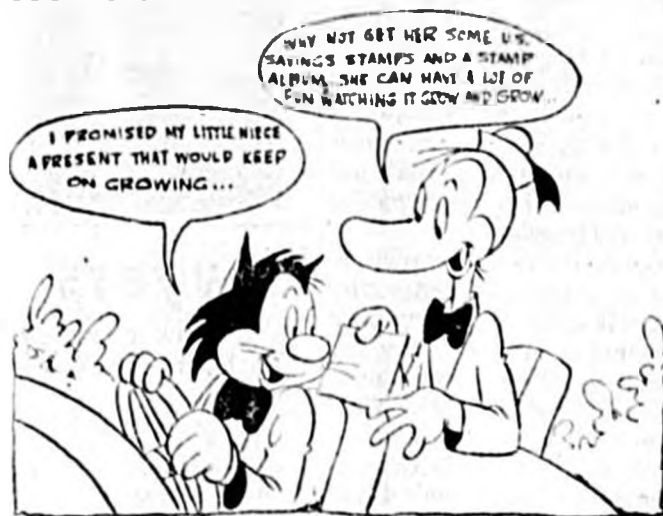

"I decided to put the native superstition about me to practice use. They had a head man they called the 'alcalde' or mayor," Heyerdahl said. One day I gathered a group of natives, appointed the alcalde to lead them and arbitrarily told them to take stone statues just like their ancestors. "The most astonishing fact was that the alcalde and the natives raised a 30-ton statue using only two logs and small stones. They rolled the big stone along on the logs then they raised it by literally building a wall under it with small stones. They would shift a few inches and slip in a stone and so on until it was six feet off the ground and then they slid it into a standing position.

"That showed us all we needed to know about how the ancient natives had solved the technical problem of the big statues."

But what did the carvings mean? Heyerdahl said he was taken to secret burial caves and shown still unique carvings. This led to the revelation of the simple but tenaciously held secret of what the great statues meant. They are ancestral figures representing early chiefs. After death their spirits lived on in stone.

Modern Day Dogs Plagued With Ulcer Producing Tensions

CHICAGO — If your dog has been off its food lately, it may be that the pace of big city living is giving him ulcers, according to a Pennsylvania veterinarian.

Dr. William C. Glenney said the modern day dog is plagued with such ulcer-producing tensions as fear of traffic on city streets, doubts about food and relations with other dogs.

Glenney, owner of an animal hospital at Wynnewood, Pa., and president of the American Veterinary Radiology Society, discussed canine problems at the society's annual meeting Sunday.

He said the situations confronting the big city dog are a far cry from the placid life of the "Old Dog Tray" of literature.

Ray and others like him, in days gone by, Glenney said, had only one worry — "to keep noble and ever faithful."

Tray's descendants frequently develop inferiority complexes, trying to cope with urban living, he said.

For instance, Glenney continued, in order to prove that he is not afraid of the big dog next door, who barks at him all the time, a dog may start chasing cars just to prove his courage.

The cars become larger beasts to the dog and their "bark is more resounding," he said. Glenney also warned that the rough attention dogs get from the children of the house also leads to ulcerous tensions in the animal.

"Some children think the good old dogs enjoy it," he said. "But if they knew the truth, their rough tactics, in many instances, is really driving the dog out of his mind."

Dogs and humans could take a cue from the cat on how to stay healthy in the modern world, he said. Cats know how to relax.

"Cats don't burn themselves out over matters that don't matter in the final analysis anyway," Glenney said.

Some people read about the symptoms of a disease and then imagine they suffer from it. They often worry themselves sick—usually needlessly.

Never believe you have anything wrong unless your physician confirms it by his skilled diagnosis. If you have any pain or discomfort that persists, consult your physician instead of worrying about it. There are few diseases now that cannot be relieved if the diagnosis is made early.

Faithful Community Standing Behind Krider While In Capitol

Congressman A. S. Herlong, Jr.
Senator George Smathers!
Senator Spessard L. Holland!

They've all expressed their views regarding the Naval Air Station, Sixth Naval District.

Naturally, to have our Congressional delegation in favor of a move which is economically beneficial to the community, is somewhat of an achievement. And we understand that Congressman Bob Sikes goes along with the idea, too.

So that leaves the door ajar just a little bit for Seminole County Chamber of Commerce manager John Krider and Builder J. Bralley Odham as they invade Washington today in behalf of leaving the Naval Air Station in Seminole County where it justly belongs.

Sanford (Seminole County) was the largest center south of St. Augustine at one time in the history of the great state of Florida. It was large and progressive because the great men of the time came here to develop those things which have made Florida famous in the past — citrus, celery, produce, and the like. Famous men, such as General Henry Shelton Sanford, Count Frederick De Bary, and others equally big on the tongues of Floridians came to the Sanford area to do great things for the State of Florida. They were the forerunners of all that has made Florida the greatest state in the nation.

Other great men, of leisure, went to nearby areas to settle down for a life of casual living. As time went on they invested in industry and its sidelines, in buildings and centers—forgetting that Florida was becoming a world renowned state because of just what was progressing in Sanford.

So Sanford continued in its agricultural ways, as did the entire country of Seminole profiting in its venture during its heyday! But industrial development began its upswing and those areas grew faster and more furiously than did solid, staid, plodding Sanford and Seminole County.

Time came, though, when Sanford was to benefit by a Naval installation. And its economy began to weave about the hearts of the citizenry, its business houses began to depend on customers of Navy personnel.

It seems as if one were meant for the other.

And then the scare came! Would it—or would it not become the permanent installation Seminole Countians were dependent on?

Then, lo and behold, the Sanford economy began to hinge on political shenanigans! Such, it seems, is the modern custom among modern politicians. As some would have it—Sanford would be left high and dry, leaving behind only the memories of a community who paralleled its activities with those of Navy personnel.

Local businessmen and merchants, pulling together in union, have provided a fund to send their Chamber of Commerce Manager to Washington to find the answer. There is no better person, faced with the problem of getting the details, looking into the innermost thoughts of those who might sway the decision one way or the other, than John Krider.

The entre' has been provided for him to reach the topmost person who might have even one word to say about "where the Naval Air Station, Sixth Naval District" might be placed.

John Krider knows the story—he knows that Seminole County is the "one" place where the Navy will profit the most—John Krider knows that Sanford and Seminole County is the "one" community that will sustain itself the most—with the proposed base being located at Osceola.

There is weather in its favor—entertainment — churches — schools — community activities — homes bought and many paid for by Navy personnel — a community imbued with the Navy spirit — a community which provides the most for those who come to be with us, a short time or a long one.

Providing himself with all the answers—John Krider has invaded the Nation's Capitol and there he will stay until the time comes for the answer — yes or no!

Naturally — a faithful community is awaiting the answer "Yes".

Move Against Communism

One of the most sensible and potentially effective moves against Communism in the United States has been taken by the American Bar Association. Its house of delegates started the ball rolling nationally on a program to combat Communism by exposing it to analysis in high school and college classrooms.

This action was based on a program recently started by the Bar Association in Florida. In our state the lawyers have prepared an address, "The Meaning of Communism," which is being presented to high school students. Its purpose is to give pupils an understanding of the sharp difference between democracy and the alien ideology of Communism.

Such a program, conducted nationally in high schools and colleges, would do much to tear away both the mask that hides the true face of Communism and the shroud of ignorance that hampers most thinking on the subject. There are those who argue that we should let well enough alone, and that the less young people know about Communism, the better. This is nonsense. It is never wise to be ignorant of one's sworn enemy. The truth about Communism is the best defense we have against it. We cannot fight it by pretending that it does not exist.

This takes on even greater importance now that the American Communist party is claiming to be independent of Moscow. The Federal Bureau of Investigation reports that actual membership in the party has dwindled almost to insignificance, but at the same time it cautions that we must remain alert to Communist ideology among the comparatively large number of fellow travelers who continue to follow the Communist line. But we cannot be properly alert to Communism unless we know what it is, and are able to recognize the Communist line when we hear it.

Long Convalescence Isn't Always Wise
by HERMAN M. DUNN, M.D.

PROLONGED convalescence isn't always a good idea. In fact, the sooner you get back into the normal swing of things—and that includes work—following surgery or injury, the better off you are apt to be.

Best Judge
Every case, of course, should be judged on an individual basis. Your doctor is the best judge as to when you should get out of bed following a serious injury or an operation.

By and large, however, patients may be returned to work much earlier than is normally believed. Recent Air Force studies bear this out.

In general, the Air Force is returning men to duty after about one-half to two-thirds as long a convalescence period as is usually advised.

Take tonsillectomy, for one example. A survey of two large industries recently showed that employees lost 12.2 days work on the average while recovering from this relatively simple operation.

Days Lost
A public health survey showed an average of 9.1 days lost.

The Air Force, on the other hand, returned men to duty after only 7.7 days.

hemia shows an even more marked difference. Colonel Don B. Wenger, of the Air Force medical corps, reports that men were returned to duty within 18.9 days. Industries reported a convalescence period of 33.6 to 61 days and the public health survey showed an average of 72.9 days.

There is no definite evidence that this early return to duty by Air Force personnel is harmful, Col. Wenger reports.

Indeed, prolonged convalescence might do more damage. Remaining in bed for a long period is bound to affect your appetite and impair elimination.

Both your metabolism and circulation slow down and your muscles begin to waste from inactivity. You're apt to lose weight.

There are psychological problems, too. You tend to worry about yourself and long to return to your family and friends and your everyday activities.

Col. Wenger has found that in some cases healing is actually accelerated as a result of activity.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Q. M. C. Can vitamin B-12 be taken by mouth by a person with pernicious anemia?

A. Answer: Vitamin B-12 can be taken by mouth. However, it should be used only as the physician prescribes.

Lawyers Guild Holds Convention

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON — The National Lawyers Guild concluded in New York over the weekend a 20th anniversary convention which is a reminder that back there in February, 1937, FDR's New Deal both came of age and began to wither.

That was the month and year in which John L. Lewis' brash Congress of Industrial Organizations CIO put an arm-lock for keeps on big industry in the United States.

The first week of February, 1937, saw Mr. Roosevelt's plan for reorganization of the Supreme Court presented to Congress.

The National Lawyers Guild was born in the Washington Hotel here after four days of labor pains ending Feb. 22, 1937.

Mr. Roosevelt's Supreme Court plan broke the fighting front of the New Deal coalition in the least expected of sectors — that held by the Democratic Party itself.

All of this came in a matter of months after the 1936 New Deal political sweep which gave FDR every state but Maine and Vermont. The Republican Party was prostrate, its congressional membership reduced to a handful.

Mr. Roosevelt's court plan was denounced as a program of court packing. The bitter debate became more bitter as it progressed in a matter of six months to a smashing Senate repudiation of the President's court plan.

Emboldened by FDR's sortie against the Supreme Court, a group of New Deal lawyers de-

GERHARD J. WUENSCH

Wuensch Wins Benjamin Award

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—Gerhard J. Wuensch, native of Vienna, Austria, now faculty member of Jordan College of Music, Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind., has been named winner of the $1,000 Benjamin Award for 1956. It is announced by Dr. Benjamin F. Swalin, director of the North Carolina Orchestra.

Established in 1954 by Edward B. Benjamin, philanthropist and business man of New Orleans, La., and Greensboro, N. C., the award is given annually through the Symphony Society for the best composition of a restful nature submitted by a citizen of the United States, Canada or Mexico. Dr. Wuensch came to this country on a Fulbright award to teach at the University of Texas, and took out citizenship when he married a Florida young woman, Miss Anne Lovell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. V. Lovell of Sanford.

Wuensch's Nocturne for Orchestra and Minor was chosen from a large number of entries. World premiere of the work will be given by the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra during the May 13, 1957 season. The composer will come for the presentation. For four years Dr. Wuensch has been program editor and composer for the "Vienna Broadcasting Station 'Ravaz'". In that capacity he composed music for such serious plays as Goethe's "Faust", Kafka's "The Trial", and Molnar's "Liliom." Sponsored by the American House in Vienna, he made three concert tours through Austria and Germany with an American singer. He also performed with a chamber orchestra Samuel Barber's cantata, "Summer Knoxville 1916", for which he wrote a German translation. A pianist and organist, he states that he never considered music seriously until his release in 1945 as a Russian war prisoner.

More than 100 inquiries have been received at Symphony Headquarters regarding the fourth annual Benjamin Award. Deadline for submitting compositions was Dec. 31.

Mr., Mrs. W. L. Dickerhoff Newcomers Here This Month

Among the many newcomers to Sanford this month are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dickerhoff and their two children, David and Jane. They came to the "sunshine state" from Anderson, Ind., about a month ago and have made their home on 108 Laurel Dr.

Mr. Dickerhoff is a comptroller for Odham and Tudor, located on 1792 and began his work with this home building organization only recently.

While in Ind. both were very active in church work with Methodist young people's groups. Mr. Dickerhoff was a member of the Lion's Club and Mrs. Dickerhoff did her share of civic work as a member of the Kappa sorority.

When asked about their hobbies they replied "Bringing up two youngsters is such a full time job it leaves little time for anything else." David is 4 and Jane is 8 months, so those of you who have children know what they mean! However, Mr. Dickerhoff later admitted he loves to fly and is in the Air Force Reserve.

In reply to how do you like Sanford? they stated, "We just love it!" "The people are so friendly and pleasant and the size and location of the town is perfect."

What do you have? Fresh bouquets of roses all winter long for as little as $2.

Charles Sherwood, horticulturist at Iowa State College, recommended a soil mixture of one third field soil, one-third coarse sand and one-third Iowa peat. If you can get it, Rose fertilizer once a month will help.

Choose miniature roses in red, pink, yellow and white varieties. Each plant costs about $2. The blooms are from three-quarters inch to 1 1/2 inches wide and full grown plants from 6 to 12 inches high.

Rest the plants for two or three months in the early fall. Don't give them plant food and give them only a little water, just below the top of the pebbles. Let the sun do the rest.

Marcia and Jack Cousins of VAIL-9 moved into their new home in Loch Arbor Saturday. Also building out here are Mary and Charlie Carman. At present the Carmans are living in Frank and Betty Johnson's house in Pinecrest.

Attending the final performance of BELL, BOOK and CANDIE Saturday night were Mike and Hazel Rowell, Mary and Jim Nelson, Marty and Lou Mills, Camille and Bob Metzger, Malie and John Harlow, and Cliff and Rosemary Duncan.

Alice and Ernie Mills returned from this European trip laden down with objects d'art. Alice reports that she saw Italy from one end to the other. Meanwhile the children were enjoying themselves with Alice's mother in Washington. The Mills were formally welcomed home Saturday night when Jane and Wally Phillips gave a party for John and Ann Bear, Alice and Ernie and Camilla and Bob Metzger.

Seminole Face Vero Beach Quintet Tonite In Elimination Tourney

Without having time to rest on their laurels after their shooting upset of Cocoa last Friday night, the Sanford Seminoles case quintet takes to the tournament trail tonight, attempting to be seeded in the Class A Group 5 Elimination Tournament for the State Tournament by facing unpredictable Vero Beach.

Vero Beach has instigated into the court procedure one of the whitest and deadliest formations ever dreamed up by the Kentucky tradition—the flying wheel.

In this formation, the pivot man stands in the center of the scene of activity with the ball; and the other four men begin to trot around him in a concentric circle.

The theory behind the formation goes something like this: The four men will be guarded, and the guards will follow the trotting men in the circle. Gradually the speed of the four men will increase until they are in a dead run at full speed around the pivot man—with the defenders still following.

After running at the dizzy speed for a few seconds the four men halt suddenly, the defensive man is caught off guard, the pivot man makes the pass before the outside man is again guarded, the play-pattern resumes, the shot is made, and the flying wheel scores.

But one thing Vero Beach probably doesn't know and will just as probably soon find out is that basketball mentor Bud Laver is also from Kentucky and has seen the formation in operation by masters of the game—he has also seen it chilled, though not quite so often.

One of the best ways to stop the flying wheel is to play the deliberate game that beat Cocoa

Friday night. Though playing for the foul shots is very often not as interesting as a wide-open game, it is often more effective, as anyone who was in the audience last Friday will vouch.

To break up the flying wheel, the defensive men merely come to a sudden halt when the four outside men are running at top speed, thus letting one of the four run into one of the five defenders before the outside men stop.

If all of this seems involved, don't be alarmed—it is. But even more so than a simple written analysis.

The flying wheel is the reason that Vero Beach, with a very poor potential, is in the contest for a seeding with the Seminoles. It works well against the novices and it takes skill and precision to stop it.

And that is the job of the Seminoles basketballers tonight—to gain, almost overnight, the skill and precision that could mean the difference between being seeded in the Group 5 Tournament.

According to Laver it will be one of the hardest formations to cope with that the Seminoles have faced all season. "It's an erratic formation, and that's why it hasn't been widely accepted," says Laver. "But at the same time it is dangerous, especially against an inexperienced team like the Seminoles."

Assistant coach Dick Silvers had words of optimism, however, for the situation. "Coach Laver has played in the flying wheel situation before," Silvers said. "He knows it from beginning to end and he has been drilling the boys in it all this week. He had to cram a lot into yesterday's session, but he did it, and I think we'll be ready tonight."

SOKC Requests Review Of Harness Racing Track Case

TALLAHASSEE — Attorneys for the Sanford Seminoles Club have asked the Supreme Court yesterday to review the case of a harness racing track near the dog track which they said "strikes at the security and stability of the whole racing industry."

"I think we will have enough to pay all the bills, including the full price of the football uniforms," Tyre said. "It has been a long struggle, but the dividends for the projects have been good, because we are the only school which will be competing that does

In less than one year of existence the Seminoles Club has done more on the local athletic scene than any comparable organization in a decade, including the removal of the Stadium Tax and the inauguration of a junior high school football program, something wished for on the local scene for years.

The organization will begin its meeting at 8 p. m., and at that time all bills against the club will be received.

But harness track lawyers said the case is not properly before the Supreme Court and should be decided first in Seminole and Leon County circuit courts which action is pending. The court took the question under advisement.

Miami attorney Carl T. Hoffmann said the court should clarify a 1947 law which prohibits one racing establishment from locating within 100 miles of another.

Orlando attorney Don Genterfitt, representing the harness track which was authorized in an election last November, said the law applies only to identical facilities and says nothing about a horse track being located near a dog track.

Horses sired by the 17-year-old stallion earned $1,153,933, almost $600,000 more than the previous record of $523,000 established by the same horse in 1955.

Adios is owned by a syndicate made up of three Pennsylvania nurseries, Meadows Farm at Meadow Lands; Hanover Shoop Farms, Hanover; and Hempt Farm, Mechanicsburg. The stallion, who changed hands for a record $300,000 two years ago, stands at Meadows.

Adios sent 141 trotters and pacers, predominantly the latter, to the races in 1956 and they won 473 dashes, three less than Castleton Farm's King's Counsel who led the nation in that category.

Adios also established a new record for money winnings by two and 3-year-olds with 72 of his gate banking $508,443. They won 204 races, likewise a new national standard.

Each of the five leading sires on the money earnings list flies the Hanover Shoop Farms banner. The other four stand for service at Hanover itself and in order of rank are Knight Dream ($383,191), Titan Hanover ($314,609), Hoot Mon ($311,477) and Nibble Hanover ($294,500).

If Ted Williams is worried about his batting eye, he shouldn't. Any ball player will tell you it's tougher hitting at night time than it is under the sun. So what happened in 1956? Well, the wild and woolly Williams led his league in arc-light hitting with a .382 average, crowded only by Yankee Moose Skowron's .371.

Baseball, Track Teams Practice Yesterday Despite Bad Weather

Chiefs Will Hear Report On Auction, Fish Fry Tonight

W. W. Tyre, chairman of the Junior High School Football Practice Committee of the Seminoles Club, said this morning that the Seminoles Club will meet tonight at the high school to make a report of the success of the Fish Fry and Auction and survey the financial situation.

"A few days and we would have lost everything that has been gained in two weeks hard work," Tyre remarked. "This weather is a particular disadvantage to us because we are the only school which will be competing that does not have indoor facilities to carry on training during inclement weather."

Track, in its second season at Seminole High met with great success last year in student popularity. This year the student merchants will have a bigger schedule than in the past. "And we don't intend to cancel out any of our 15 event meets, even if we are plagued with bad weather. This is one sport that is designed for the betterment of the individual participant and not for any other reason. It builds men for boys and leaders from followers; we are enthused with last year's results."

Coches Laude, HS baseball mentor, was not as consoled with conditions presently as in the track department. "We will virtually have to start all over again," said the mentor who will send his charges into a season opener in Memorial Stadium against Winter Park March 19.

"Our whole success depends on a duality of individual and team coordination," Laude asserted. "We were, and are, in a building process with fine future timber. At this time we are not ready for the pressure that has been forced on us by this four-day drag."

Laude said that he would continue a stress of basic fundamentals and would even double back to make sure that the idea worked out prior to last Wednesday, the last day of practice, had not been forgotten.

"It is imperative that we understand and know thoroughly the fundamentals before we start putting on a lot of pressure," Laude said. "We will work harder, however, trying to master the fundamentals, but the real pressure will not become apparent until perhaps in the middle of next week."

Ganas said that the school was primarily interested in building this year. "We have undertaken an extensive training program in both scholarship and athletics that will take a lot of work here," he said. "We hope to make great strides this year that will include bringing night baseball back to Sanford for the high school home games, swimming and by next year golf."

Ganas said that such a wide athletic program would appeal to more students and make the school more complete. "Mass education does not end in the classroom," he said. "It reaches, or should reach, any and every boy and girl that has an interest, or desire to learn a sport—that is what we are trying to build up."

By Hugh Aubrey Sports Editor
A Water Ski Show

Dick Pope, head of the blossoming enterprise at Cypress Gardens, has taken upon the organization the job of compiling a much needed catalogue of water skiers.

But, he says, he needs the help of the Sanford and Seminole County area.

Cypress Gardens is compiling a book on water skiing, tournaments, pioneers, etc. He has asked the Herald to contact the people in this area regarding information that might be included in the book.

This would include names and locations of any water ski school, water ski shows, ski clubs, ski tournaments, and other interesting information, such as the youngest or oldest skier.

Then too, any champion, possible champions from this section or celebrities who have skied here.

It is always amazing to learn of the places where skiing is done daily including lakes, rivers, streams and bays.

There is a deadline staring Dick and Cypress Gardens in the face and his organization would appreciate as early returns from our lake studded section as possible.

All material should be sent to Al McFadden, Publicity Director, Florida Cypress Gardens, Box 1380, Winter Haven, Florida.

Now come on, water ski fans, clubs, interested citizens and civic groups. This proposed book shows all indications of being widely accepted, and we don't want our section centering around Sanford, Lake Monroe, the St. Johns River, and Seminole County left out.

We have an ample portion of the fine water-ways of the State, and we profit in every way from its exploitation. Wonderful help and cooperation in this matter will be greatly appreciated by the Cypress Gardens group, and we are the ones that will benefit the most from our effort.

Don't let the other fellow or club do it. A duplication of material will draw more attention to us.

NEW YORK — Daniel Boone never had it so good as the marksmen of today.

The tipoff on this comes from Ed Agramonte, one of the nation's top gunsmiths. The reason is that, competing for the market against the eye-catching handwork of foreign gun, American craftsmen are turning out firearms which look like they should be in Tiffany's window.

You can get rifles with right-hand or left-hand stocks, bolt action and cheek rests and the .303 shot is made to fit you whether you're short or tall, thin or fat.

For Human Tanks I don't know whether there are any rampant rhinos, errant elephants or loose lions in your neighborhood. But, if there are, Agramonte has developed a new ultra-high velocity rifle, the .378 Magnum, which does everything but mount the trophy over your fireplace.

This $1,000 baby has a gleaming inlaid mesquite stock and a target look as big as a 21-inch television screen. All you do is center the cross hairs and—POW—from 400 yards you're as good as deadwood dick.

For ordinary American game Agramonte suggests a 30.6 318-rifle which costs only $350, although you can get the same calibre in factory-machined rifles for as low as $150.

In the shotgun line, the newest gimmick is the Remington 68, in 12, 16 and 20 gauge. This gun has a gas-operated tube which draws off the gases and operates the mechanism. For the average man, Agramonte suggests the 12-gauge with the 20-gauge for women.

Heart Of House Is In Kitchen

CHICAGO—The kitchen once again has become the "heart of the household," says Edward J. Riley.

The General Electric spokesman based his statement on the size and features of appliances shown at the recent International Home Furnishings Market.

"Mrs. America wants a fashionable and functional kitchen," Riley said. "She demands capacity and convenience in her appliances."

Riley pointed out that once the family gravitated to the kitchen as the chief source of comfort and warmth. Then, as plumbing and heating improved, we moved most of our home life away from the kitchen.

"It became a work area tucked in the back of the house," he said.

"Now with less domestic help," continued Riley, "women spend much more time in the kitchen. They even entertain there occasionally. So appliances not only remove most drudgery, but actually add to the beauty of the home."

B. Mills Promoted To Department's Assistant Manager

A graduate of Seminole High School, Benny Mills Jr., has recently been promoted to assistant manager of the tape recording department of the Combined Insurance Company, Ill., according to word received by B. F. Mills Sr., who works at Touchton Barber Shop here.

Benny Mills' many friends in Sanford might be interested to know of the following write-up which appeared in an Inter-company memo regarding his progress:

On Jan. 27, 1954 a tall lanky red head (6'6") walked into the combined personnel office and applied for a job. He was put to work as a driver in the mail room and developed the reputation of being an excellent chauffeur and of knowing Chicago from one end to the other.

June 1, 1955 he was transferred from the mail room to the sales department and gained another reputation for being able to find things that others could not locate. For example, Mr. Stone wanted a certain book, after all known methods of locating the book were exhausted, the assignment was given to—Ben Mills. He found the book.

Ben is known throughout all of our buildings for his wonderful sense of humor.

On Feb. 17, 1956 Ben was transferred to the Tape Recording Department. He took an immediate interest and started studying everything he could about tape recording. He has gained an extended knowledge in this field. He can be seen running hither and yon at any Regional Meeting getting his equipment set up to record the meeting. From the meetings he selects the most inspirational talks, makes reproductions and they are sent to our Managers throughout the country to be played at sales meetings.

Ben is an "idea man" and has thought of numerous ideas that have been accepted and used by the Sales Department. (Incidentally, if you see Ben walking around with his head up in the clouds, don't bother him—he's thinking and is about to get another idea.)

Ben is strictly a family man. He prizes his family above everything else. He's certainly to be admired for this wonderful trait. He, his wife, Shirley and their two children make a wonderful family. (Ben is looking forward to having eight or ten.)

Ben is doing an excellent job in the Tape Recording Department. Thursday, Feb. 7, he was made Assistant Manager of the Tape Recording Department — that's Ben Mills.

FORD IS AMERICA'S WINNINGEST CAR!

For 1957, Ford's off to a flying start on the NASCAR Short Track, Convertible and Grand National Race Circuit—with more points than all other cars combined!

And now—just in from Daytona—seven more Ford firsts!

- A 300-hp 1957 Ford out-accelerated all other low-priced cars in the standing mile competition.
- A 1957 Ford Sunliner outclassed all other low-priced cars in the 160-mile National Convertible Championship Race.
- A modified Ford Thunderbird, running in the Experimental Class, out-accelerated every other car in NASCAR history.
- A modified Thunderbird topped every American Sports Car, finished first in its class and placed second to Europe's fastest sports car at the National Amateur Sports Car Race.
- A standard production Thunderbird took first place in the flying mile—outperforming all sports cars made in America.
- A modified Thunderbird won the flying mile in the fastest time made by any car at Daytona this year.
- And a Ford Thunderbird topped the field in acceleration from a standing start in Modified Sports Car Class B.

It was Ford Thunderbird power that set a new stock car record at Indianapolis, too... and powered the '57 Ford to 458 world endurance records at Bonneville, Utah.

Top Men In Business Usually Quite Healthy

By HERMAN M. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE big boss of most of our American business firms—the president or chairman of the board—probably is in better physical condition than any of his immediate subordinates. Most likely he's much sharper mentally, too, even though he's a few years older.

There's a good reason for this. Most senior executives are apt to be overweight by the time they are 60.

Various Ailments

Statistically, they have had one or more heart attacks, have high blood pressure and frequently gout or arthritis. An occasional few have or have had cancer.

Although obviously successful and secure economically, the average senior executive is plagued with a moderate amount of disease.

The top man of the firm, on the other hand, probably has become the big boss because of his fairly stern, self-disciplined mode of living. This same self-discipline accounts for his good health.

Ignore Warnings

Those of you who are not so demanding of yourself frequently ignore the early warnings of disease because you are so absorbed in your work. The big boss watches himself as well as the business.

I'm not drawing these statistics and statements out of the air. I'm

Can't Find Time

It's just not convenient for most bosses to go to a hospital or clinic for an annual checkup. Many also never seem to find the time to see their personal or company physician.

Establishment of specialized medical facilities with carefully selected doctors trained to do thorough job is the ideal solution for large group examinations.

But, lacking that, let me urge all of you executives—junior and senior alike—to arrange soon for your physician to give you a complete physical examination.

Believe it or not, your business can get along without you for a few hours—maybe even for a whole day or two if necessary.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By STANLEY

Quotes From News

VATICAN CITY, Rome: Pope Pius XII announcing that while euthanasia mercy killing is unlawful, under given conditions the dying may receive drugs to ease pain.

"Beyond doubt, suffering will never be completely banished from among men, but its harmful effects can be restricted within narrower limits."

CAIRO: A communique issued from King Saud of Saudi Arabia on his weekend meeting with King Idris of Libya endorsing President Eisenhower's policies.

"The two Kings found themselves in agreement in appreciation of Eisenhower's understanding of Arab issues."

WASHINGTON: A joint statement released after a meeting between U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Israel's Ambassador Abba Eban:

"It is hoped that out of these discussions a solution will be found consistent with the principles of the United Nations."

CLEVELAND: Sen. John F. Kennedy D-Mass promising to vote for the Eisenhower Doctrine while asking an all-inclusive effort to settle Middle East problems: "If it is impossible to settle all of these problems, I believe it is impossible to solve any of them."

MCKEESPORT, Pa.: One of four masked stickup men torturing Frank Rendulle with a heated meat hook and black jacks to get him to reveal the hiding place of his money: "You'd better tell where the money is, this guy another of the robbers is a sadist."

WHILE INVESTIGATORS probed the cause of the blaze that swept the Katie Jane Old People's Home in Warrenton, Mo., workers were continuing to remove bodies of the 71 persons who perished in the fire. The flame-ravaged building housed 181 patients, 80 of whom were reported rescued. Shown here are members of the 75-man rescue force who probed through the pile of steel and bricks for bodies burned beyond all recognition.

THANKS TO THE ALERTNESS of a passing taxicab driver, Mrs. Joseph Santos and her daughter, Susan, 5, were saved from a kerosene blaze in Brooklyn, N.Y., which killed three persons. The child was dropped into the arms of the cab driver. He also aided in the rescue of Mrs. Santos--and then he modestly drove off. (International)

SPEAKING OF CARDS

HAVE A HEART!

Have you always wanted to prove that your heart's in the right place? Then here's your chance.

February is "American Heart Month" and during each of its twenty-eight days the 350 chapters of the American Heart Association will go all out to raise funds for the unending battle against our number one public enemy of health, Heart Disease. Here's how you can show that your heart's on the right side.

February is the perfect month to plan a Hearts card party as there are many occasions that call for a "hearts" theme. There's Valentine's Day, of course, when you might invite over several couples in the neighborhood. Or, you might set the date for Washington's or Lincoln's birthday, to honor two of America's stout-hearted patriots. If there's a February engagement or wedding in your crowd, what could be gayer than a "Hearts" shower? Whatever date you choose for your Hearts card party, ask your friends to bring along a contribution for the Heart Fund and you can turn the proceeds over to your local chapter or to the American Heart Association.

Most everyone knows how to play Hearts because it's been a popular card game for generations. Dating back to an 18th Century Spanish favorite called Reverse, Hearts is the only game in the vast card repertoire which bears the name of one of the four major suits. It is also one of the few card games in which the player tries to lose rather than win tricks.

The object of the game, which many of you probably know, is to avoid taking Hearts in tricks, because each Heart won counts against you. The villain of the game is the Queen of Spades and she counts thirteen points against you. She's the reason Hearts is often called Black Lady.

Here's your opportunity to play cards to your Hearts content while you're helping a worthwhile cause. If you would like the official rules for Hearts, plus some popular variations such as Omnibus Hearts, Cancellation Hearts, Domino Hearts, send for a free leaflet to Dept. H, Playing Cards, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17.

Kelsey Suffers Burns In Flash Fire At Home

Orlando's Police Chief, George Kelsey, is confined to his home suffering from first and second degree burns as a result of a flash fire yesterday at his home.

Kelsey was attempting to light two cook stoves in his garage when he was sprayed with gasoline. A flash fire followed in which he was burned about his upper and lower legs.

The fire occurred about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. It was first thought to be the George Kelsey home when the Orlando County Fire Department answered the alarm sounded by Kelsey's brother Emmett.

Kelsey had already controlled the fire when the fire apparatus arrived. He was treated at the Orlando Clinic by Dr. Edward W. Stener.

Jaeger Joiner, Assistant Horticulturist of the University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service spoke to the group on the "Basic Principles of Landscaping."

Each person was equipped with an outline of the address and with a folder giving details of the speaker's subject.

Sources Say Ike, Mollet Oppose Cut In NATO Forces

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower and French Premier Guy Mollet have agreed to oppose proposed cuts in NATO forces, informed sources said today.

The sources said the two leaders agreed it is necessary to maintain North Atlantic Treaty Organization strength at present levels at this time because Russia continues to be as great a threat as ever.

European NATO members—particularly Britain—are under considerable pressure at home to cut their NATO commitments as a means of trimming defense expenses.

The President and Mollet today plan a second and final round of their talks which started Tuesday. Mollet and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau planned to meet earlier with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Besides current NATO plans for European economic integration, Tuesday's talks covered creation of an atomic energy authority for Europe Euratom and the Middle East.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerly said afterward a good deal of agreement was reached on problems other than the Middle East. He said he could not elaborate on the Middle East crisis.

American officials said later both the United States and France are seeking a solution of Middle East problems without resorting to UN sanctions against Israel.

Stetson Internship Program Underway

The program also includes preparation and follow-up at the University under the supervision of the director of interns and the major professor.

Warden to Speaker

JACKSON, Mich. — Michigan Hotel Assn. members are not sure whether or not one of the speakers scheduled to address their conference Saturday typifies their standards of gracious hosting—although his guests stay on and on. The speaker is Warden William H. Bannan of Jackson State Prison.

Unusual interest has developed in the project from predictions made recently in another hearing before FPC, that no other new interstate pipeline may be successful in obtaining adequate gas reserves under present Federal regulation of producers. Demand for the service in Florida has been increasingly strong because of the state's virtual dependence on fuel oil, which has been subject to substantial price increases recently, and the fact that this represents the most rapidly growing area in the nation now unserved by natural gas.

Opposing intervenors who lost their fight for rehearing were the New York State Public Service Commission, Atlantic Coast Line railroad and the Florida Economic Advisory Council, the latter a representative of the state.

The second of the series of instruction will be given next Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Seminole County Court house room with Dr. E. W. McElwee speaking on the "Developing the Landscape Plan."

division of the plan into lots or areas such as recreational, lawn, view from living or dining room, and the service or utility area.

The speaker developed his ideas systematically and methodically. The fourth division of Joiner's instructions at last night's Garden Club School pertained to the principles of design that should be considered in the development of the phases of the landscape plan. "Simplicity, unity, balance, and proportion are the most important principles to be considered," Joiner told his audience.

Teacher Leads Pupils To Safety; Dies From Burns

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. — An elderly school teacher who led all but one of her students to safety from a burning Mount Airy, N. C., school building, died of burns in a hospital today.

Mrs. Cora Beasley, third-grade teacher at Flat Rock Elementary School, died at 4:45 a. m. EST. It was largely due to her efforts that all but one of the 400 students of the school escaped alive, although 33 teachers and students were burned in the flash fire last Friday, authorities said.

Larry Adams, 9, a crippled third-grader, was trapped inside the burning structure and perished.

Mrs. Beasley returned for the boy after leading her other students from the building but she herself was trapped. She was dragged from the building by Principal A. P. Phillips only seconds before the roof collapsed.

Demand Here Great

Industry officials are moving rapidly toward completion of arrangements for a 2,600-mile pipeline system to bring Florida its first statewide natural gas service after unanimous action by the Federal Power Commission they described as a "major victory."

Sanford is in a peculiar position, at present, relative to natural gas service even though, according to a city official, the "demand potential" in Sanford is second in Florida only to Miami.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles said the "demand here is greater than that of Orlando, Tampa and all other cities because of the two power plants in the area."

Several meetings have been held relative to natural gas service for Sanford. The Sanford Gas Company indicated to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners that they would bring the natural gas into the Sanford area for use by its customers and citizens of Sanford.

However, the Board of Sanford City Commissioners has notified the Sanford Gas Company that it would not renew the franchise granted them for Sanford under existing conditions of the contract. Negotiations should get underway immediately, indicated the Sanford City Manager, relative to the terms of a new franchise for the Sanford Gas Company.

FPC ruled that the applications have met the "basic conditions" of their certificate, dismissed all motions for rehearing, approved several modifications sought by the pipeline and allowed an additional 30 days to adjust certain particulars as to a few rate requirements.

Houston Texas Gas & Oil Corp. and Coastal Transmission Corp., joint applicants for the $150 million project, now expect to complete financing arrangements and construction of the line from the lower Rio Grande valley to southern Florida in time to inaugurate service by the summer of 1958.

Unusual interest has developed in the project from predictions made recently in another hearing before FPC, that no other new interstate pipeline may be successful in obtaining adequate gas reserves under present Federal regulation of producers. Demand for the service in Florida has been increasingly strong because of the state's virtual dependence on fuel oil, which has been subject to substantial price increases recently, and the fact that this represents the most rapidly growing area in the nation now unserved by natural gas.

Opposing intervenors who lost their fight for rehearing were the New York State Public Service Commission, Atlantic Coast Line railroad and the Florida Economic Advisory Council, the latter a representative of the state.

Annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale Gets Underway March 4

By VIRGINIA CONN

Working closely with Mrs. Randall Chase, Neighborhood chairman for the Citrus Council of Girl Scouts in Seminole County, Mrs. Dorothy Higginbotham, Neighborhood Cookie Chairman, has announced that the annual sale of Girl Scout Cookies will begin Monday, the fourth of March. The Cookie Cupboard at 1816 E. 2nd St. will open Monday from 9:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. so that each Troop chairman may pick up the cookies for her troops in this way the girls will have the cookies after school on Monday and will not need a special troop meeting. The cookies will be the same this year. The ever popular cream-filled sandwich, half vanilla, and half chocolate, and that extra special thin chocolate mint cookie that so many of us wait the whole year for. The cookies will be forty cents a box.

The profits from the annual Cookie Sale are used to further Girl Scout camping, that activity dearest to the heart of every Girl Scout. The results so far are that 70 acres of land in Barberville, Fla. have been purchased and partially paid for; a deep well pump has been installed to provide water facilities for the entire camp; there is a complete set of architectural plans, and the mortgages have been amortized. The camp is called Camp Ticochee and is for the use of the Citrus Council. This means that the four counties in the Council will be equally using the facilities. At this time there is a desperate need for buildings and equipment, which will be started with the profits from the Cookie Sale. The sale is the only means of acquiring funds for camping.

Self-Employment Forms For Farmers Reports Available

Most farmers are now under social security and must pay a self-employment tax of three percent of their net earnings from farm income. L. W. Tomlinson, District Director of Internal Revenue Service, said today.

If you are a farmer and your gross income from farming for 1956 is not over $1800, you may, if you wish, treat two-thirds of your gross income from farming as your net earnings from self-employment.

If your gross income from farming is over $1800, you must figure your net, but if your actual net is less than $1200 you may report $1200 for social security purposes. If your actual net profit from farm self-employment is more than $1200 you have no choice but to use the actual net.

Necessary forms for reporting farm self-employment will be available at the office of Internal Revenue Service.
