Altamonte Takes $18 Million Budget To The People

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

It was a case of one, two, three. One being transportation problems, two being police protection and three being fire protection.

That's the picture Altamonte Springs City Manager Jeff Etchberger, Mayor Ray Ambrose and city commission members painted for about 30 residents on hand at the Westmonte Civic Center Tuesday night for a town hall-style meeting on next year's proposed budget.

Etchberger overviewed the proposed $18,614,928 budget for fiscal 1982-83 which carries a healthy millage rate rollback along with a hike in refuse collection rates.

If Altamonte's proposed budget is approved, residents would realize a reduction in property taxes from $3.78 per $1,000 assessed valuation to $3.15 per assessed valuation. With additional revenues generated from the increase in the state sales tax, a slight increase in federal revenue sharing monies and accrued interest from city accounts, Etchberger is proposing a final millage rate of $2.852 per $1,000 assessed valuation to finance city operations next year.

The proposed budget represents an increase of about $2.2 million over this year's budget.

"I feel the budget addresses all the priorities expressed by the people," said Ambrose. "I feel the city is running a good, three-pronged attack for the public."

Etchberger keyed on what the commission listed as its priorities, with transportation problems on top.

Some of the highlights of a city transportation overview Etchberger presented to the audience were plans for the widening of State Road 436 and Boston Avenue, a 1½-year project; the construction of a Northlake-436 extension along Crane's Roost Boulevard to help thin out the overburdened stretch of 436 fronting the Altamonte Mall; intersection improvements at Spring Lake Road and Maitland Avenue and the four-laning of State Roads 436 and 431, a project scheduled to be completed by 1986.

Along the lines of transportation problems which go hand in hand with city growth and development, Commissioner Bob Reis asked the residents for increased input about future land use in the city.

"Land is at a premium in Altamonte Springs," Reis said. "And the commission would like more input from residents about future property use in Altamonte."

Etchberger also commented on the city's second priority — increased and improved police protection.

The city manager said under the direction of new Police Chief William Liquori, the police department would be stepping up its public participation programs, including the Neighborhood Crime Watch Program.

Etchberger noted the fire department will undergo some reorganization and will publish a monthly newsletter for city residents in the near future.

With city taxes going down next year, there were no complaints about where money was going to be spent. But several residents did ask about the city's recent hike in garbage collection rates and pointed to trash problems in relation to the city's eight holidays per year.

On July 14 the commission approved by a 4-1 vote a 50-cent per month hike in garbage collection rates from $5.75 to $6.25 per month for Altamonte's 4,300 customers.

Last year, the city took its refuse pickup system out of the general operating fund and put it into an enterprise fund system where users would carry the financial burden of the system.

Even with the rate hike, Altamonte's refuse rates remain one of the lowest in the Central Florida area.

Etchberger said while he understood there is concern about no pickup on Mondays following each holiday, the overtime compensation for refuse workers would mean a further hike in collection rates.

He also said that even if city refuse crews picked up on Mondays following the eight holidays, they wouldn't have anywhere to dump because county holidays paralleled city holidays and the county transfer stations would be closed on those days.

Even with the recent hike, one member of the audience, a former Orange County resident, commented the city's efficiency despite the eight annual holidays was far better than any service her family had received in the past.

The commission will take its initial step in adopting the proposed budget next Tuesday. The first of two public hearings on the proposed budget is slated for Aug. 31. The final budget hearing will be held Sept. 14.

Negotiators from the Seminole Education Association made their demands to the school board negotiating team Tuesday at Lake Mary High School. The SEA team, from left, is Rick Harris, Oviedo High School; Ron Boeth, head negotiator; Deborah Whitmire and Michael Galyean, Sabal Point Elementary School.

The negotiating team for the Seminole County School Board, from left, is Jim Neville, Red Bug Elementary School principal; Owen McCarron, county director of instructional personnel; Ernest Cowley, chief negotiator; Dan Pelham, principal at Sanford Middle School, and Don Reynolds, principal at Lake Mary High School.

Seminole Teachers Union Settles For Average 13% Pay Increase

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County teachers will be taking home an average of 13 percent more pay in their paychecks this school year.

The Seminole Education Association, which represents 2,000 public school teachers in the county, reached a tentative agreement with the Seminole County School Board early today.

Board negotiator Ernest Cowley said the new agreement raises the base salary for a beginning teacher from $11,500 to $12,700, a 10.43 percent increase.

For teachers with more experience, the increases will be higher because of step raises and longevity pay. On the average, teachers will receive a 13.22 percent salary increase, bringing the average teacher salary from $16,486 to $18,666, Cowley said.

"I believe this will keep us at the top in the state in salaries," Cowley said.

Seminole County is in the top five counties in the state in teachers' salaries.

Cowley said the agreement with the teachers came at 1 a.m. today. The bargaining session began at 2 p.m.

School Budget Hearing Tonight

A public hearing on the Seminole County School Board's proposed $111 million budget for fiscal 1982-83 will be held at 7:30 tonight in the board offices at 1211 S. Mellonville Ave., Sanford.

The proposed budget is an increase of $14 million over last year's budget and includes a reduction in the tax rate.

Because of higher assessments and increased construction in the county plus the state's rollback provision, the tax rate drops from $8.27 per thousand to $6.82 per thousand.

The budget also includes a proposed tax levy to fund construction of a new elementary school in Sanford and improvements to Lawton Elementary School in Oviedo.

Tuesday.

The agreement increases by more than $5 million the boards' payroll for teacher salaries. In fiscal 1981-82, the school board paid $35,244,983 for teacher salaries and benefits. The board will pay $40,811,445 in fiscal 1982-83.

The pay hike, along with increases in insurance premiums and retirement payments for unused sick leave, was part of renegotiated pact between the SEA and the board. The contract is in its second year and will expire in 1984. Cowley said settlements with other county unions were also re-negotiations of contracts which will expire in 1983.

The board also has reached agreement with non-instructional personnel and clerical workers for 10.43 percent base salary increases.

The agreement with the non-instructional workers was reached last Thursday. "The earliest we've ever reached an agreement," Cowley said. In the teachers' contract, as in the other union agreements, the school board agreed to pay 100 percent of the premiums for comprehensive major medical insurance for the employees. Annual costs for the insurance climbed 27 percent this year to $560.

The renegotiated agreement calls for the schools to pay retirees 50 percent of their salary for unused sick days up to 120. Beyond the 120 days, the schools will pay 75 percent.

Cowley and the board's negotiating team resumed negotiations with the Bus Drivers Association, which covers drivers and maintenance personnel, at 9 a.m. today at Lake Mary High School. It is the last union to reach an accord.

Voters Have Short Ballot Sept. 7

Seminole County voters will have a short ballot of local candidates to make selections from in the Sept. 7 primary election, one of the shortest in recent years, Seminole Supervisor of Elections Camilla Bruce said today.

Only four races will appear and three of those contests are non-partisan.

Republicans in the new 34th district — Winter Springs, Longwood, some of Sanford, Casselberry, Oviedo, Geneva and sections of Brevard County — will choose a nominee to oppose Winter Springs Mayor Troy Piland, a Democrat, in the November general election.

Their choice is between Casselberry Councilman Jim Lavigne and Carl Selph.

All voters in the county, will be eligible to vote in three non-partisan races to select a School Board member and two circuit judges.

Circuit Judge Kenneth Leffler is opposed by Irving Gussow of Fern Park. The victory in this contest will be elected in the primary.

For the group 3 seat in the Seminole-Brevard judicial circuit, the choice will be among Eugene Collier, Edward M. Jackson and Jere E. Lober, all of Merritt Island. If none of the three gets a majority in the contest, the two with the greatest vote will vie for the office in the November general election.

In a School Board race, incumbent

Allan Keeth is challenged by Jean Bryant and Ken Patrick.

Again if none of the three receives 50 percent plus one vote, the two getting the highest number of votes will be on the November ballot.

Meanwhile, unless write-in candidates qualify by noon July 27, the names of County Commissioner Sandra Glenn, School Board members Pat Telson and Bill Kroll, Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. and State Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, will not appear on any ballot during the election season running from September through early November.

All will be automatically elected unopposed.

Lake Mary Commission Works To Revise City Charter

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

A proposed new charter, written in language any layman can understand, is to be delivered to the Lake Mary City Council at its Sept. 2 regular meeting.

The city's Charter Revision Commission Tuesday night agreed former City Councilman Pat Southward will put the document together and City Attorney Robert Petree will review it for legal details and final wording.

The commission will give a final review to the document and make last minute changes at an Aug. 17 meeting.

Before the commission came to agreement on the proposed charter, however, Commission Chairman Burt Perinchief lashed out at the council for opposing one charter proposal. That proposition requires that four of the five councilmen must run within geographical districts and be reelected by the voters of those districts only. The fifth councilman would be elected at large.

Councilman Gene McDonald, a member of the charter commission, told the council last week the revision group "was hell bent on adding a district scenario to the city charter."

At his urging, the council voted unanimously to tell the commission the proposal is not a good idea.

Perinchief said he was "outraged" at the council's action. He said he was told the elected body gave free rein to the advisory group to make recommendations on any portion of the charter and those recommendations would go directly to the people for a vote.

He attacked McDonald, saying the councilman has missed four of the commission's eight meetings, calling McDonald's attendance "sorry."

He added McDonald first brought the districting proposal up for commission consideration.

Perinchief said McDonald's "grandstanding" on the issue caught his colleagues unaware and some of them responded emotionally.

After some other commission members began interpreting the council action as a lack of confidence in the commission's work, the group asked Mayor Walter Sorenson, also a commission member, to ask the council if it will stand by its word.

Sorenson was told to ask the council for a reaffirmation of its pledge to submit the proposed charter as written and without change to the voters for approval or disapproval.

Before Sorenson was asked to act as "peacemaker" between the commission and the council, Petree said the council last week indicated it did not feel the concept of districting was appropriate at this time. He added the council did not direct their criticism at the commission, but rather at the issue.

"I'm concerned now that a schism is developing between these two working bodies — (the council and charter commission). And there are enough problems in the city," Petree said.

He urged the commission to offer "an olive branch to the council in a calm way and ask the council to meet with you."

The attorney also recommended the commission create a simple, readable charter. "Then there will be less chance of some lawyer creating confusion with litigation," he said.

The proposed changes in the charter include:

- Increasing the terms of the council and mayor from two to four years.
- Changing times of city elections from December to September to coincide with the first general primary election.

—Setting the method of appointing and dismissing appointed officials, such as the city manager, city clerk, city treasurer and city attorney.

Under this section, the mayor can fire the officials with approval of the council or the council with a vote of three members can fire an employee.

—Changing the name of the council to a city commission.

—Calling for the Department of Public Safety — police and fire departments — to report directly to the council while other city departments are under the control of the city manager.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

State Spending Curbed As Tax Collections Fall

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet are curbing state spending until it is clear whether the recession is going to end this fall. Graham and the six Cabinet members voted Tuesday to continue hiring and spending restrictions because of the possibility state taxes won't produce enough money to finance the $10 billion new budget. State taxes last month produced $40 million less than predicted, which might mean a longer and deeper recession for the Florida economy than expected and an under-funded state budget.

New FDLE Head Confirmed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A former New York City policeman is the new director of the Florida Department of Law Enforcement. The Cabinet Tuesday confirmed Gov. Bob Graham's appointment of Bob Dempsey, assistant director of the Dade County Public Safety Department, one of the country's largest police forces. Dempsey will succeed York, who is moving to the Florida Sheriff's Association as a lawyer and lobbyist. Dempsey is to take over FDLE Sept. 1, when York was scheduled to go over to the sheriff's group.

Jet Crash Cause Unknown

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE (UPI) — Air Force officials say they still don't know why an F-86 Sabre jet, towing a 15-foot foil-covered target for two F-15 Eagles, crashed into the Gulf of Mexico while en route to the target-practice area. The Air Force officials said the cause of Tuesday's crash was still being investigated.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Intensive Search Launched For IRA Guerilla Bombers

LONDON (UPI) — Police warned Britons to be alert for more IRA terrorist attacks and Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher ordered an intensive search for the guerrillas whose bombs killed nine soldiers and wounded 52 other people. The Irish Republican Army took responsibility for the two separate blasts Tuesday aimed at a mounted cavalry parade and a band concert that left bleeding horses and bits of flesh scattered over Regents and Hyde parks. The IRA's campaign of terrorism to force the reunification of Northern Ireland with the Irish Republic had been relatively dormant in Britain for almost a year and was overshadowed recently by the Falkland Islands war.

Longwood Man Claims Water Bills Are All Wet

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

Somehow, it just didn't seem to all add up for Longwood resident John Sabatini. So, he came before the City Commission at Monday's regular meeting to find an explanation for back-to-back water bills that totaled exactly 42,000 gallons for the months of May and June. Which seemed particularly odd in view of the circumstances at the Sabatini residence, 138 Shadow Trail, during those months.

Sabatini told the commission that during May, his three-member household played host to two relatives. Toss in the fact that Sabatini, a professed back-yard gardener, admitted watering his lawn heavily because of new sod, and he completely understood the 42,000-gallon billing.

"But how can it be exactly 42,000 in June too," asked Sabatini, "when our relatives were gone, we were gone for two weeks on vacation, and I didn't have to water the lawn because of all the rain we've had in the last month?"

Commission members were stumped. City Administrator David Chacey asked Sabatini if it might be possible that his water meter had a leak, or that maybe some dastardly neighbor had hooked up a garden hose in the Sabatini's absence and pilfered a few thousand gallons. "I doubt it," Sabatini said. "I know my neighbors. I don't think they'd do something like that, and if they did, it would only happen one time."

Sabatini also said he checked his pipes and his water meter, and alas, could find no leaks. "Have you had your water meter calibrated recently?" asked commissioner Chick Pappas. "Someone from the city water department came out to check it," responded Sabatini. "And there was nothing wrong with it."

Sabatini further stated that water department personnel had monitored his water meter over a six-day period and found the usage for the period to be at 3,000 gallons.

"There's four weeks in a month so four times 3,000 is 12,000 gallons. Even if you multiplied that by six the highest you would come up with would be 18,000 gallons," Sabatini said. "Yes, yes," agreed the commission. "Nothing wrong with your math at all."

Sabatini said his inquiries into the problem had been met with courteous and prompt attention from the city, but he was still at a loss in determining where all of his water is going.

The June Yard of the Month award winner, who also informed the commission that his home has several water-saving devices like restrictive shower heads, was assured by the commission that the city would be checking his water bill to see if July's usage turned out to be 42,000 gallons again. Sabatini left the commission on a lighthearted note.

"At 42,000 gallons, it's getting so when I take a shower, I turn the water on, get wet, turn it off, lather up and then turn it back on to rinse off," he chuckled.

"At 42,000 gallons a month, I have to save some water for the lawn."

Water Board Seen As Culprit In Deer's Plight

MIAMI (UPI) — Florida Game officials say almost all the 718 starving deer killed during a "mercy hunt," in the flooded Everglades were in poor condition, and that the fawns among them would have soon died of disease or drowning.

"The majority of the deer were in poor to very poor shape," Lt. Biff Lampton of the state Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission said of the two-day hunt Tuesday. "We rate a deer's condition from poor to excellent and the best we saw among those collected was only fair," Lampton said.

Meanwhile, two hunters' groups said they want to build islands for the deer herd in Conservation Area III and conservationists have vowed to fight the state water control agency they blame for the flooding and resulting food supply shortage.

The 1,500 hunters who took part in the effort to thin the deer population Sunday and Monday harvested far under the 2,200 expected to be killed in a four-day hunt originally scheduled before conservationists obtained a court-ordered delay. Game officials said one major reason the hunt fell short was because of negative news media coverage of the kill.

The conservationists captured 19 deer, but one died while being brought in on an airboat and a fawn died shortly after being moved to a South Dade farm.

Conservationists have called the South Florida Water Management District a "culprit," for flooding the Everglades, resulting in the necessity of the hunt.

The water management officials admit they flooded the area, but say conditions caused by the severe flooding of residential and farm land during the past month would force them to do it again despite the negative effect on the deer.

"Unfortunately, this agency would remove water from residential areas as well as agricultural areas where farmers may lose thousands of acres of useful farmland," said Enid Atwater-Butler, a spokesman for the management district.

"Those are water conservation areas in the Everglades. They are not a wildlife refuge," she said. "The people of Florida pay taxes and they pay for flood control. If we have to, we will put water into those areas."

"We have 3 million people in south Florida and the people depend on those areas for water," said Atwater. "Unfortunately the deer have been caught in the middle."

Management district workers tried Tuesday to lower the water level in Conservation Area III. The level in the area stood at 10.82 feet above sea level Tuesday, a foot above the regulation level set for the area in July.

It may take another month to remove the extra 12 inches of water from the area depending on how much it rains, Atwater said.

Jack Kassewitz, Jr., who led the effort to rescue the 19 deer, said Tuesday he does not accept claims that rains caused the high water.

"I just don't buy the heavy rain argument. What is intriguing to me is how these decisions are made," he said. "I am going to take a week's rest, then go after the real culprits in this controversy, the South Florida Water Management District, which flooded the Everglades unnecessarily."

Kassewitz, head of National Wildlife Rescue, Inc., said he is not yet sure what action will be taken against the water control agency.

Kassewitz and Cleveland Amory's New York-based Fund for Animals tried to block the hunt in three courts, causing a two-day delay.

Also Tuesday, Jack Moller of the Dade County Halftrack Conservation Club said his group and the Broward County Airboat and Halftrack Conservation Club were establishing a fund to build man-made islands for the Everglades wildlife.

The two groups, which supported the hunt, said they would ask the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for permission to build a number of eighth-acre islands in the conservation area by dredging muck. The islands would provide refuge for the animals and replace tree islands that have been flooded under.

The Flaw In The Sea Treaty

President Reagan's announcement that the United States will not sign the Law of the Sea Treaty may give the impression that the Americans are miffed because they could not get their way in the treaty negotiations. That's a misreading of what makes a flawed document of an international agreement that is otherwise acceptable to most nations of the world.

For one thing, three other countries — Venezuela, Turkey and Israel — joined the United States in voting against the adoption of the treaty at the final United Nations negotiating session in New York last April. And 17 others, including the Soviet Union, West Germany, Great Britain and Italy, abstained from voting.

Obviously the United States is not alone in harboring misgivings about the treaty. It is not clear how many nations in the end will commit themselves to its terms.

The problem lies in the treaty's attempt to establish an international framework for seabed mining. The Third World countries whose will prevailed in the treaty negotiations were not content with demanding a share of the wealth when minerals are recovered from the ocean floor. They insisted that an international body under their control also be given rights to seabed mining technology developed by private entrepreneurs, and that the use of that technology be subject to international control.

As Mr. Reagan pointed out, that would be eminently unfair and would wind up deterring investment in seabed mining ventures rather than encouraging it. But he also pointed to legal problems which could be more significant than philosophical ones if the treaty were ever offered to the U.S. Senate for ratification.

The terms of the treaty could be altered after 20 years by a vote of an international seabed mining authority in which the United States would be a minority participant. Our government can hardly be expected to pledge itself to a treaty which may have its provisions changed in the future.

The President's objections to the seabed mining provisions of the treaty are understandable enough, but we are left with the question of how the United States will fare if the treaty goes into effect without our participation. The same treaty contains many useful and non-controversial sections dealing with recognition of territorial limits, navigation rights on the high seas, fishing regulations and the like.

The administration's experts on international law assure us that rights of shippers and naval vessels guaranteed in the treaty will be recognized by all countries whether they are signatories of the treaty or not. The United States can make its stand on seabed mining without jeopardizing other aspects of the treaty which it is willing to support.

The U.S. government is already negotiating bilateral agreements with other countries for mutual recognition of their rights to engage in seabed mining. Such agreements promise to open the way for orderly development of a deep-sea mining industry regardless of what happens to the Law of the Sea Treaty.

The United States has gone along with the principle that mineral wealth on the ocean floor should be regarded as "the common heritage of mankind." Our objections are aimed at the procedures envisioned for harvesting that wealth. In trying to deal themselves in, by demanding an unreasonable share of the action, the developing countries may simply have dealt themselves out.

By DONNA ESTES

With reapportionment U.S. Rep. Bill Chappell, D-Ocala, will no longer be representing any part of Seminole County in the Congress.

The former speaker of the Florida House, went to Washington after his first election in 1968. At first all of Seminole was included in his fourth Florida district, but after reapportionment in the 1970s, he had only a handful of Sanford precincts in his district.

Nevertheless, he was available to any Seminole resident who needed assistance.

Since he narrowly defeated Sanford's own Douglas Stenstrom to get the Democratic nomination in 1968, he has not had another election.

He and Stenstrom became quite good friends after that Democratic primary 14 years ago. And Chappell has become quite a powerful member of the Congress. He is currently serving on the House Ways and Means Committee and on its budget subcommittee as well as on other committees.

Chappell is considered by some to be a "boll weevil" in the House because he often supports the programs of President Ronald Reagan.

Chappell may have problems in his re-election effort this year. He is being opposed by Reid Hughes, a Mobile oil and Phillips 66 distributor and environmentalist from Volusia County for the Democratic nomination.

According to a member of Hughes' campaigns staff, there is no truth to the rumor that Hughes is running against Chappell for the purpose of strongly reminding the seven term congressman that he has promised to retire after his eighth term in 1984.

The staffer said the fact is that State Rep. Sam Bell, D-Daytona Beach, who was chairman of congressional reapportionment early this year, carved out the fourth congressional district strictly for himself. However, after pressure was put on Bell to return to the Florida Legislature instead, Bell decided to step aside in the congressional race.

Hughes and Bell are close personal friends and Hughes means to win this contest, the staff member said.

More and more political parties are taking place in Seminole by candidates running for office.

Last weekend, County Commission Chairman Bob Sturm held a barbecue at the former soccer ball field off State Road 434 in Longwood. The crowd, estimated at about 700 during the six hours the event was held, enjoyed the food and the music provided by a country-western band.

Only a few days earlier, Carl Selph, past president of the Florida Young Republicans, had a fund-raiser at his campaign headquarters, the former Casselberry post office, off Triplet Drive in the city. He said about 300 people attended. He is a GOP candidate for the Florida House seat which includes in its district parts of Longwood, Casselberry, Sanford, Winter Springs, Oviedo and part of Brevard County.

Birth Defect Detection

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The advancement of medical technology allowing doctors to detect defects in unborn children also forces them to "play God" under a recent ruling by the California Supreme Court, legal medicine experts say.

"If you look at what God used to do, namely, take care of the problem (through miscarriage or living life with a deformity), and that's left to doctors now, then doctors are playing God," said San Francisco attorney Allan D. Jergesen, who specializes in medical law.

"The real ethical dilemma comes from deciding what to do when tests show a deformity in the fetus."

On May 3 the court ruled 4-year-old Joy Turpin, who was born deaf, had the right to sue her parents' doctor, Adam J. Sortini, for being born. Before Joy's birth, Sortini told the Turpins their first daughter's deafness was not genetic and they would not likely produce a second deaf child.

Joy, like her sister, Hope, is stone deaf. The Turpins said if they had known they had a one in four chance of producing another deaf child, they never would have conceived Joy.

"The actual fact that the child was born is the injury," Jergesen said. "You don't need to have a defective child for this. You can have a healthy, bouncing baby boy or girl and still have a case in this (wrongful birth) area of the law."

For example, if a woman has had a tubal ligation and believes she can no longer become pregnant, and then she finds herself pregnant because of negligence on the part of the doctor who performed her sterilization, she can sue him for wrongful birth — even if the baby is perfectly normal.

The question of wrongful birth — suits brought by parents who claim their doctors' negligence caused their child to be born — is "scarcely controversial," Jergesen said.

Appellate courts in 10 states consistently have ruled parents should be able to recover damages in the event a doctor's negligence allowed a child to be born, where, if the doctor had provided due care, the child would not have been born.

Typically, the damages in wrongful birth cases include the extra costs of rearing a disabled child and compensation for physical and mental pain and suffering, although calculating the damages is difficult.

The case of Turpin v. Sortini, in which the deaf child sought damages for herself, constitutes wrongful life. And unlike the generally accepted wrongful birth suits that have sprung up since 1975, it is quite controversial.

The Turpin case was a joint action — wrongful birth brought by the parents and wrongful life brought by the child.

In the wrongful birth suit, the parents proved negligence on the part of Dr. Sortini and won the right to sue for the extra costs of raising a deaf child. Joy, who won the right to sue for wrongful life, probably will receive no money because double recovery of damages is unlawful.

Dr. David Rubsamen, a consultant on legal medicine, said in the Professional Liability Newsletter that the wrongful life action is important only if the parents happen to die. He said the Turpin opinion does not add up to a greater financial burden for health care providers.

JEFFREY HART

Reagan Corrects Hart

In a recent column, I alleged that a) President Reagan had hosted a White House luncheon for a group of Soviet dissidents, but that b) the invitation to Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn had somehow been mislaid, and that Solzhenitsyn had refused a late invitation, and that c) though some powerful anti-Soviet statements had been made at the luncheon, the PR people at the White House had put them off the record.

My judgement of all this was heavily colored by the refusal of then President Ford to invite Solzhenitsyn to the White House, a policy decision of heavy symbolic significance.

It now appears that I was misinformed on some of the important particulars here, and readers of this column deserve an update.

Mrs. Nacey Loeb, the able publisher of the Manchester Union Leader in New Hampshire, ran an editorial based upon my column, and received a personal letter in reply from the president.

It is a graceful letter, and convincing. According to the president, "Solzhenitsyn was definitely invited to the luncheon but didn't want to be a part of the group we'd invited. For what reason I don't know."

My comment. Yes, Solzhenitsyn is known to be a difficult character in some respects, there are factions among the exiled dissidents, and this would be entirely plausible behavior.

Further, however, Solzhenitsyn is one of the great men of our time, a symbol of courageous resistance to tyranny, and I say this despite deep disagreements with some of his utterances, most particularly his disdain, often articulated, for the U.S. Constitution. Solzhenitsyn regards it as the product of a rationalist 18th-century Enlightenment and as irrelevant to the crisis of the 20th century.

Still, Solzhenitsyn did not make it to the White House luncheon in question and, especially with the behavior of President Ford in mind, it would seem appropriate to issue another invitation.

President Reagan further states that the "off the record" ruling on the luncheon was not a muffling operation by the staff but was at the request of the Russian guests. "Our guests asked that our discussion be off the record—no press coverage."

I certainly accept this account for two very good reasons. First of all, Ronald Reagan has been throughout his public career a man of consistent and impressive probity. And second, any of those concerned—Solzhenitsyn, the dissidents—could embarrass him by contradicting his account, and they have not done so. My earlier column was in error.

The president's letter to Mrs. Loeb contains some other items of great interest. Reagan entirely denies that he is being "packaged" or "moderated" by his staff of his appointees in the executive branch. "It just isn't true. I'm not turning my back on Taiwan and, other than a few State Department types, no one is trying to push me that way. Maybe my speech at the United Nations will also indicate I'm not soft on Russia. And none of our gang tried to talk me into giving up our tax cuts..."

The U.N. speech was magnificent.

Reagan continues: "Maybe a few events in the last couple of days will further substantiate my claim that I'm being me. I just hope being me can accomplish all that needs to be done."

Well, yes indeed. The administration has taken a tough line on the Siberian natural gas pipeline; why after all, should the West help finance the Soviet system? And it has refused to sign the highly restrictive Law of the Sea Treaty. Both wise policy decisions.

ANTHONY HARRIGAN

Peace, Freedom Business

SEWANEE, Tenn. — In countless communities across America, Independence Day was celebrated with simple but touching ceremony. The ceremonies are over until the next Fourth of July, but in numerous towns and cities, many people will remember some especially poignant moment.

In this small university town on a mountaintop, about 100 people, adults and children, gathered for a flag-raising at a stone bridge across a brook in a ravine garden call Abbo's Alley, named after a former professor whose creation it was.

The setting had special meaning for the residents of this community, for the bridge honors Charles Juhans who died in France on July 4, 1944, fighting for his country. Charles Juhans was the son of the Rt. Rev. Frank Juhans, Episcopal Bishop of Florida and Chancellor of the University of the South. It is a tribute to the basic values of this community and of America that a young man who gave his life for his country almost 40 years ago is remembered in a solemn celebration of American independence.

The Charles Juhans exist in every generation. Their sacrifice purchased and renewed American independence and freedom from the 1770s to our own day. Each deserves to be remembered — those who died at Bunker Hill and Yorktown, on Iwo Jima, and in the ill-fated rescue of the hostages in Iran in April, 1980.

One hears a great deal about peace these days. Earlier this summer, many thousands of demonstrators gathered in New York City to call for a nuclear freeze which they said would promote peace.

A characteristic of the contemporary "peace" movement is that it fails to include respect for those who helped achieve peace by victory on the battlefield. What kind of peace would America have enjoyed if the Charles Juhans of this nation had not been willing to make what orators used to refer to as "the supreme sacrifice"? To be cut down in early manhood is, of course, the supreme sacrifice.

Sewanee, like other academic communities around the nation, has its little platoon of self-styled peace advocates. It is interesting to note that they weren't on hand here to celebrate American independence and honor the memory of a son of Sewanee who gave his life for a peace that ended Nazi totalitarianism.

One can't help but note that those in our country today who describe themselves as part of a "peace fellowship" are most determined that no offense will be given to contemporary totalitarianism, the Soviet colossus that oppresses people and denies human rights from Afghanistan to Poland.

Dr. Robert S. Lancaster, former dean of the university here, wrote a few years ago that "memory civilizes us." It also helps us keep the faith insofar as our country is concerned. America holds a unique place in history. It is much more than a single culture or tribal homeland. It is a place of refuge. It is the embodiment of the dreams and hopes of mankind. America has enjoyed long periods of peace, but only because there has been sacrificial service by brave men and women, and because freedom has been their primary cherished value.

JACK ANDERSON

Lax Security Threat To Defense Center

WASHINGTON — In the daily conflict between the press's right to inform vs. the government's need for security, President Reagan invariably has come down on the side of secrecy.

His gag orders have locked many official embarrassments in all the secrecy that the necessities of security and the taboos of patriotism can impose.

As evidence that the Reagan administration is more concerned about censoring the news than protecting security, I asked my associate, Dale Van Atta, to find out how well the administration protects the real secrets that affect the nation's safety.

He walked in off the street and picked up architectural blueprints of the White House, no questions asked. Yet this is the nerve center of the federal government.

Next to the White House, perhaps the most sensitive complex in America is the National Military Command Center. This is the Pentagon's crisis center; the nation's defenses depend on its computers. Sabotage of the NMCC's electrical system, for example, could render the United States helpless during an enemy attack.

Yet Van Atta also picked up a draft report titled, "Preliminary Estimate Emergency Power Generator for the National Military Command Center." It's a contract bid put together by a company called TRW, which does extensive super-secret work for the government.

Incredibly, this draft report has never been classified. It is available to dozens, perhaps hundreds, of federal workers and outsiders who have never been given security clearances.

Yet it contains highly sensitive security information. Van Atta got a copy of the report with no trouble. When he reported this to veteran military and intelligence sources, they were flabbergasted.

"The NMCC is the primary link between the National Command Authority and the armed forces," says the TRW draft. "The NMCC is the focal point for the information flow required for the strategic direction, maintenance and coordination of worldwide U.S. military activities." In other words, knock out the NMCC's computers and you've crippled the nation's military response. Yet if its contract bid to provide emergency power to the command center, TRW innocently gives away details of the center's current capability that the Kremlin would give an arm and a leg for. And the information is totally unclassified.

Without giving away details that would be helpful to an enemy, I can report this much: The second page of the contractor's draft bid includes a full sketch of the rooms occupied in the Pentagon by the command center. It shows where the "Alert Quarters" are, as well as the locations of the Emergency Conference Room, the Nuclear Warfare Status Branch and the National Military Intelligence Center-Defense Intelligence Agency, among other vital units.

The report tells where the command center's generators are and lists the electrical system's weaknesses. "The computer systems in (one room) are vulnerable to even momentary power outages and fluctuations," the report notes. At least one of the electrical systems "is vulnerable to ... commercial power outages."

On page 7 of the TRW draft is a diagram that shows how the Potomac Electric Power Co. substation feeds juice to the command center. Then follows page after page giving all the switchboard numbers, locations, circuits, power panels and their capacities that individual systems can handle — even the highest power surges that flow through the systems.

Schematic drawings accompany the text, providing just about everything saboteurs would need to knock out the most critical military center in the United States. Yet nobody in the federal government saw fit to haul out the ever-ready rubber stamp and make this information top-secret.

Clearly, the laxity with which material is handled represents a security breach big enough to drive a Stalin tank through.

CAPSIZED BY STORM

A father-and-son boating trip almost turned into disaster Tuesday afternoon when their 14-foot sailboat capsized, dumping four people into the stormy waters of Lake Monroe. Seminole County sheriff's deputies and an unidentified boater pulled Lester Sorensen, 36, and his son, Mark, 16, both of Winter Springs, along with Orlando residents Eugene Flick, 38, and his son, Robert, from the lake after their boat overturned near the Sanford marina.

Ex-Scoutmaster Arrested Again

MIAMI (UPI) — A former scoutmaster convicted of manslaughter in the 1979 death of a Boy Scout has been arrested again by police who found him giving a pre-dawn "counseling" session to a nearly naked 17-year-old youth in a parked pickup truck.

Carmine (Chuck) Falco, 34, convicted two years ago for the booby-trap death of a 14-year-old Boy Scout, was charged Tuesday with carrying concealed firearms, loitering, prowling and possession of a controlled substance.

Falco was convicted of the July 18, 1979 booby-trap shooting death of the scout. The boy was killed by the blast of a shotgun rigged for burglars in the North Miami residence where Falco still resides.

Falco was released on $2,050 bond Tuesday, eight hours after his arrest.

Police said they arrested him at 3 a.m. along with the youth, a neighbor dressed only in gold-colored underwear. The youth, whose name was withheld, was later released into the custody of his grandparents.

Filing Deadline Friday

Candidates for a vacant circuit judgeship in the 18th Judicial Circuit (Seminole-Brevard) have until noon Friday to qualify with the state elections office in Tallahassee to have their names placed on the Sept. 7 primary election ballot.

The post was left vacant when Circuit Judge Richard Muldrew died July 10.

Candidates who have qualified so far are: Eugene "Gene" Collier, Edward M.

Jackson and Jere E. Lober, all of Merritt Island.

The position is traditionally filled by a Brevard County attorney.

Meanwhile, Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize of Sanford, appointed to the bench in Jan., 1980 by Gov. Bob Graham, was elected unopposed Tuesday when no one qualified to run against him for the group 2 seat.

Habib Offers Five-Point Mideast Peace Plan

United Press International U.S. Presidential envoy Phillip Habib offered the Palestinians a five-point plan aimed at breaking the Israeli siege of Moslem west Beirut and allowing a guerrilla pullout from the city, a Lebanese newspaper said today.

The Habib proposal came after President Reagan met Tuesday in Washington with the foreign ministers of Saudi Arabia and Syria in talks that generated "new ideas" on the crisis, and a Palestine Liberation Organization offer to recognize Israel under certain terms.

Palestinian and U.S. officials had no immediate comment on the report but diplomatic sources said the five-point plan "looks like similar ideas floated over the past weeks," As Safir said.

The Habib plan reportedly called for Lebanese troops to replace Israeli forces around Beirut while multi-national, peace-keeping forces take over positions presently held by the PLO.

PLO forces would move first into refugee camps and later to locations outside Beirut, according to a set timetable, the report said. The Palestinians would withdraw from Lebanon simultaneously with Israeli and Syrian forces.

Habib proposed extending the term in office of Lebanese President Elias Sarkis for another two years and a "strong" Lebanese government would be charged with the restoration of normal life," it said.

Longwood Board Considers Lot Split, Building Request

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

Longwood's Board of Adjustment will meet in special session tonight to consider the request of developers to split a Lyns Drive lot and build two homes which may be smaller than city regulations allow.

The 7:30 p.m. meeting at City Hall, 175 West Warren Ave., is expected to generate the same opposition from surrounding residents on Lyns Drive that prompted the board to table a decision on the lot split last month.

Last month's controversy centered around residents' contentions that Dowling and Lunsford Inc., of Altamonte Springs, promised they would not build homes on the back lots that front Bistline Drive and back up to Lyns Drive.

A decision was tabled at the last meeting to give board members the opportunity to review minutes to find out exactly what, if anything, was promised by the developers concerning the use of the land.

Dowling and Lunsford contend that an apparent change in building codes since the contractors originally bought the land two years ago would permit them to split one lot into two lots with frontage set at 87½ feet for the two smaller lots with a 300-foot depth.

Residents claim the developers assured City Attorney Marvin Rooks that they wouldn't build or change the zoning of the lots. Rooks, however, is on vacation, and could not be reached for comment.

Board members have expressed a desire to talk to Rooks about the matter, leaving open a possibility tonight's expected decision on the requested lot split could be tabled again until Rooks returns next week.

Neighbors on adjacent lots along Lyns Drive contend that if the lot split is permitted, two homes will be built smaller than city codes permit. But developers say that there are already several homes in the area that don't conform to building codes.

The developers want to build on two L-shaped lots instead of a standard rectangular home lot.

Replacing an inefficient air conditioner is no longer a wrenching experience.

We'll help you pay for it.

Our Watt-Wise™ financial incentive could pay you several hundred dollars towards replacing a money-wasting air-conditioning system. Save through lower operating costs and FPL's financial incentive program by replacing your old inefficient air-conditioning system with a new energy-efficient central air conditioner or heat pump. The FPL incentive plan applies to qualifying customers whose homes were constructed prior to October 1, 1980.

To be eligible for the incentive, the new installation must have been completed on or after January 18, 1982 by a participating contractor.

Following on-site verification by FPL that the new system meets high-efficiency standards, a Watt-Check™, made payable to you for the amount of your incentive, will be mailed.

Will everyone benefit from Watt-Wise incentives?
Yes.

These incentives are less costly than the oil necessary to generate the electricity wasted by inefficient homes. Every 600 kilowatt-hours of electricity not used is a barrel of oil no one has to pay for. This also helps us postpone the building of expensive power plants. The less oil we use, and the less new building we have to do, the more we can help hold the line of everyone's electric bill.

For more information on how to qualify for the Watt-Wise incentive, send us the coupon or call the Watt-Wise Line at 1-800-432-6563.

Company Denies Man's Claim

Probe Continues Into Jury Duty Firing Claim

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County State Attorney's Office is continuing its court-ordered investigation today into a Lake Mary man's claim he was fired from his job after he refused to ignore a summons for jury duty.

Circuit Court Judge Kenneth M. Leffler ordered the investigation after he was informed a potential juror, Carl W. Neidhart, told court officials he had been fired as an accounting clerk with Pioneer Federal Savings & Loan Association, of Clearwater, because he reported for jury duty July 12.

Neidhart, who was employed at the company's Winter Park office in September 1980 and transferred to the Clearwater office in April, reportedly told court officials he returned from vacation July 5 and learned he was to appear in Sanford for jury duty for the week of July 12. Neidhart reportedly notified his supervisor, Bob Fintel, company comptroller and assistant vice president, that he planned to report for jury duty July 13.

Neidhart was fired from his job later that day by Fintel for "insubordination," said Ann Welch, company public relations officer. Fintel declined to comment on Neidhart's termination or any other aspect of the incident.

"While Mr. Neidhart was fired for insubordination, I can assure you he was not fired for wanting to report for jury duty," Ms. Welch said. "We feel we are on firm ground with this situation. Our company has always been happy for someone to serve on jury duty. In fact, this company pays its employees full pay while they are on jury duty in addition to what the court pays them for serving. I don't think you'll find this is a common occurrence in all businesses," she added.

"We are acting as an arm of the court in this matter," said Assistant State Attorney Don Marblestone. "We have taken a sworn statement from Neidhart and once the court transcribers can transcribe it and we can review his statement, we will make our recommendations to Judge Leffler. I expect we should have the report back within two weeks and make our recommendations to the judge shortly thereafter.

"We are not looking at a case for prosecution here," Marblestone said. "Once the judge has our report, he will then decide what action, if any, the court should take. He can order a rule to show cause which means the person who is suspected of firing an employee because that employee reported for jury duty will be ordered to appear in court to explain any reasons he may have for the termination," he said.

Marblestone said if Leffler determines Neidhart was fired from his job because he appeared for jury duty, the court could charge contempt of court against the employer resulting in a fine, imprisonment in the county jail, or both. If the court rules that no violation has occurred, "Neidhart can always file a civil action against the company," he added.

Florida law prohibits an employer from terminating or threatening to fire an employee because that employee is summoned or appears for jury duty.

Minishuttle Under Review

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The Air Force is examining a miniature version of the space shuttle that could be launched into orbit from the top of a jet freighter for fast missions, officials say.

Called an air launched sortie vehicle, the minishuttle resembles the rocket ship used in the James Bond movie "Moonraker." According to a report by Boeing Aerospace Co., it is designed to fly unmanned but could be modified for manned space voyages.

Boeing officials predicted Monday the sortie shuttle will blast off as early as 1988. It could virtually take off from any large airport in the world on a few moments' notice, they said.

"That has military attractiveness," said Jerry Cuffe, program manager for advanced rocket engines at Pratt & Whitney Co., which subcontracted the study to Boeing as a part of a larger report to the Air Force.

The Boeing report is presently being reviewed by the Air Force Rocket Propulsion Laboratory at Edwards Air Force Base in California.

The minishuttle, officials said, would ride to an altitude of 37,000 feet atop a 747 jetliner. With the transport pointing in a 60-degree flight angle, the spaceship would fire nine small rocket engines to reach orbit.

Once in orbit, it could act as a freighter, delivering a small cargo. It would also be able to fly over any point on Earth on short notice.

An external fuel tank similar to the shuttle would be used to store fuel for the minishuttle. The tank would burn up during re-entry into the Earth's atmosphere. However, the orbiter would be reusable, landing by computerized remote control on a runway.

Dempsey New Law Enforcement Chief

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Bob Dempsey, a former New York City policeman and Duval County police administrator, was confirmed by the Cabinet today as Florida Department of Law Enforcement director.

Gov. Bob Graham appointed Dempsey to succeed Jim York and the six Cabinet members voted unanimously to confirm the appointment.

Dempsey is to take over FDLE Sept. 1, when York was scheduled to leave to become a lawyer and lobbyist for the Florida Sheriff's Association.

York was appointed acting director of the Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles by the Cabinet today, however, following the suspension with pay of director Chester Blakemore.

Astronauts Enjoy Day At World's Fair

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Columbia astronauts Ken Mattingly and Henry Hartsfield greeted tourists at the World's Fair Tuesday on the 13th anniversary of man's first walk on the moon.

In their first public appearance after the flight, the astronauts said ordinary people will have to wait "a number of years" to take trips into outer space until the shuttle Columbia completes more important missions.

"We could probably charge somebody 10 cents a mile," commander Mattingly said. "If I had the money, it would sure be worth it."

"The need to go is probably the dominant thing here," Hartsfield said. "It'll probably be a number of years before just the desire and the money will pave the way."

The astronauts visited the fair 13 years after Neil Armstrong set foot on the grainy surface of the moon and proclaimed it was "One small step for man, one giant leap for mankind."

Then-President Nixon called it the most momentous event since creation.

In a later interview on ABC's Good Morning America, the astronauts narrated films of their orbital mission that began June 27 in Florida and ended July 4 with a perfect landing in the Mojave Desert.

"You can really float around and be free as a bird," said Hartsfield of films showing him inside the shuttle. "It's really a great feeling."

Other footage showed Hartsfield putting on suction-cup shoes. "The idea was to see how well they worked in holding you down so you could do any task," he said. "Actually, they worked pretty well. We were kind of surprised."

The shuttle's fourth mission, which included the first secret military payload, prepared the way for the space ship's first commercial mission, scheduled for Nov. 11.

Two firms plan to use the shuttle to orbit satellites during the fifth mission.

Chester Blakemore

Second State Official Charged For Plane Use

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles director Chester Blakemore was suspended by the Cabinet, Tuesday, the second state official to be caught up in a scandal over the use of Florida Highway Patrol airplanes.

Blakemore was suspended with pay until at least early September to give Attorney General Jim Smith and Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington — the Cabinet's management review team for the highway safety department — time to review trips on FHP aircraft by Blakemore's wife and other family members and Blakemore's review of the FHP.

J. Eldridge Beach took an abrupt retirement as FHP director about 10 days ago after reports surfaced that he has used patrol airplanes for vacation and hunting trips and to go to football games.

The Cabinet appointed Jim York, outgoing commissioner of the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, as acting director of the highway safety department.

Blakemore said he accepts the suspension, which was demanded on Monday by Comptroller Gerald Lewis, and believes he will get a fair hearing before Smith and Turlington.

He says he made mistakes, but they were the result of his relying on information from FHP officials about the use of patrol airplanes in the past rather than following strictly Department of General Services rules on the use of state planes.

"I welcome the review," he told reporters. "It will give me an opportunity to explain in detail some of the thinking that went into some of the decisions I made that are being criticized now. I'm confident of the outcome."

He said he would pay later today a bill of just over $1,000 which Lewis claimed he owes the state for letting his wife and daughter accompany him on trips on FHP planes.

Lewis, facing a tough reelection campaign against outgoing House Speaker Ralph Haben, jumped on the FHP scandal and launched his own investigation. State Attorney General Don Modesitt, who already was probing the patrol, has accused Lewis of political grandstanding and charged that the comptroller's investigation is interfering with the state's attorney's office probe.

Gordon Slams Ormond Beach

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

Sanford National Sylvester "Slick" Franklin Jr. is the first to admit Edward Gordon is a man of few words.

His content to let his bat do his talking for him.

Tuesday night at Fort Mellon Park in Sanford, Gordon's aluminum spoke pretty loud. The 12-year-old third baseman unloaded a grand-slam home run in the second inning which propelled the Nationals to a 13-5 victory over Ormond Beach in the District 4 Tournament.

"That was a good booster for us," said Franklin about the right-center field blow which gave the Nationals a 7-1 advantage. "Edward was due. I'd been criticized for playing him by some people."

"But I know what he can do. He played for me all year and I have confidence in him," the slick one added.

Confidence, it seems, surrounds this Sanford National team like the London fog. Franklin's squad needs just one victory Thursday — against either Ormond Beach or the Sanford Americans — to earn a trip to the state tournament in Tallahassee beginning Monday.

"We're still playing them one at a time," said Franklin summing his best coach's cliché. "We'll go with 'Sugar Tex' (Willie McCloud) to nail it down Thursday."

Sanford jumped ahead in the first inning. Tarance Carr walked and Jeff Blake lined out to the pitcher, Jay Lendway, who made a super stab of his shot up the middle.

Leonard Lucas, who started on the mound for the Nationals, rode a Lendway fastball way out of the park in right field for a 2-0 edge.

Rightfielder Ronald Blake joined the home run derby in the top of the second with a blast over the right field wall to leadoff the second.

Willie Grayson singled, but was forced at second by Carr who was in turn forced by Jeff Blake. Lucas rapped his second hit and Todd Revels coaxed his second walk to load the bases and set the table for Gordon.

Gordon followed with a fly ball to right center which cleared the fence by 10 feet and sent the National bench into hysterics. The home run chased Lendway and brought on Jeff Grodi.

Lucas, meanwhile, didn't have too much trouble with Ormond Beach. He allowed just one run — a solo rocket shot to center by Andy Camarda — during the first three innings and struck out five.

Sanford added a single run in the third when Grayson singled, moved to second on an error by the pitcher and third on a wild pitch. Jeff Blake chased him home with a shot to center for an 8-1 lead.

In the fourth, some aggressive base-running developed two runs. After two were out, McCloud walked and Tim Graham reached on an error by the first baseman. A wild pitch sent both ahead a base.

And when Grodi uncorked another wild one, McCloud raced home and Graham alertly followed him in when the catcher threw it past the pitcher for a 10-1 bulge.

Ormond Beach bounced back with one in the fourth on an RBI-single by Benji Fricke, but Sanford put the game on ice with three more runs in the sixth.

Shawn Green, pinch-hitting for Gordon, roped a double down the right field line and raced to third on a wild throw. She then raced home when McCloud hit a ground ball to third. After pinchhitter Sheldon Slater grounded out and Bobby Cofield struck out, Carr plated the final two runs with a ringing double to left center for a 13-3 lead.

Ormond added its final two runs in the sixth on an RBI single by Kenny Burdi before Lucas induced Jeff Guenther to ground back to the mound for the out.

Benton's 21 Points Drop Virginia AAU

BOSTON — A 22 point third quarter turned a close game into a runaway as the Florida Girls AAU 15 and under basketball team downed Virginia, 55-43. Tuesday night in the National AAU-Junior Olympics basketball tournament.

the National AAU-Junior Olympics basketball tournament.

Seminole High's Mona Benton poured in 21 points and turned in a key defensive effort for Florida, which is comprised of Seminole County high school players.

Florida resumes play today at 12:30 against Michigan. A win would send Florida into a game Thursday against the winner of Southern California and Illinois.

"We got off to a slow start," Florida coach Bill Moore said. Virginia took a 7-5 lead after the first quarter but, from then on, it was all Florida. "We started pushing the ball up the floor better in the second quarter. Valerie Jackson (Lyman) did a good job leading the break."

Jackson chipped in 150 points, handed out eight assists and came up with four steals. Dieidre Hillery (Seminole High) led both teams under the boards with 12 rebounds.

Florida led, 23-17, at halftime but blew the game open by outscoring Virginia 22-8 in the third quarter. Florida led by as much as 21 points in the third.

Moore, also the coach at Lake Mary High, was impressed with Benton's defense as well as her scoring binge. "Virginia had a point guard that was supposed to be a good one," Moore said. "Mona just shut her down and had her frustrated by the third quarter."

Ocala Highlands Close, But No Cigar

Sanford Americans Light Up Scoreboard For Narrow 13-10 Victory

By CHRIS FISTER
Herald Sports Writer

If Lawrence Hawkins had a victory cigar for Tuesday night, he probably chewed it up somewhere around the fifth inning.

"The team played hard and didn't give up," the Sanford Americans' manager said after his squad held on for a 13-10 nailbiter over the Ocala Highlands in the second round of the District 4 Tournament at Fort Mellon Park.

The Americans got a big six-run second inning and a five-run fifth inning and led 13-6 going into the bottom of the fifth. Then, the roof nearly caved in on the Americans as Ocala scored four times and left the bases loaded.

"It got a little tight there in the fifth," Hawkins said, Ocala might have scored a few more runs had it not been for a key defensive play by first baseman Reginald "Cheese" Bellamy.

With no outs and runners on first and third, Ocala's Pat Shutters slapped a grounder to Bellamy who scooped it up, stepped on first, and, when Tony Penuel was caught between third and home, Bellamy ran him down and tagged him out for an unassisted double play.

Baseball

"Cheese used his head and made a good play," Hawkins said.

Johnny Wright pitched one and a third scoreless frames to sew up the victory for the Americans. "He came through good for us," Hawkins said.

The Americans will play again tonight at 7 against Ormond Beach. Ocala was eliminated from the tournament.

RBI singles by Beto Moreno, Sanuny Edwards and Bellamy paved the way for a six-run second-inning. Bernard Mitchell, Anton Reid, Harrison Hampton, Moreno, Edwards and Bellamy each scored for the Americans in the second.

Ocala got an unearned run in the second off American starter Jason Heffington. Lance Hutchings reached on an error, went to third on an errant pick off attempt and scored on a passed ball. Sanford made it 8-1 in the top of the third as Mitchell reached on an error and Von Eric Small laced a single. With two outs, Edwards blooped a double that eluded the outstretched glove of diving Ocala right fielder Jim Bissell and both Mitchell and Small scored.

The Highlands cut Sanford's lead to 8-4 with three runs in the bottom of the third.

Tom Hills and Robert Aeh walked and Jeff Head singled to load the bases. Hills and Aeh scored on a wild throw on a pick off attempt and Head scored on a passed ball.

The Americans scored the deciding runs in the top of the fifth. John Lewis singled, Hampton was hit by a pitch and Moreno reached on a fielder's choice to load the bases with one out. Edwards then looped a double over the left fielder's head to plate two runs and Bellamy cleaned the bases with a three-run homer over the left field fence.

Ocala tallied four times in the bottom of the fifth but failed to cash in on a bases loaded opportunity. All four runs were unearned.

Ocala sent the tying run to the plate

two times in the bottom of the sixth but Wright coaxed Bissell to pop out to third and struck out pinch hitter David Mathis to end the game.

The Americans will go with Bellamy on the mound tonight hoping to stay alive in the tournament. "We are going to have to keep playing hard and keep a good attitude," Hawkins said.

Rain Cancels Juniors Again

Both games—New Smyrna Beach and Port Orange (6 p.m.) and Sanford vs. Ormond Beach (8 p.m.)—have been rescheduled for Wednesday.

The double-elimination tournament will run through Friday. Sanford manager Pete Courlas will start right-hander Dewaine Mitchell tonight.

Second-Best Broncos Look For World Series Chance

Baseball

Manager Carl Vanzura's Sanford Broncos may be labeled "second best" at the Seminole Pony Baseball Complex — but you'd never get Vanzura or his 11 and 12-year-olds to admit it.

"We're not just looking forward to the district," said Vanzura Tuesday. "We're looking forward to the state meet too. This is the scrappiest bunch I've ever Vanzura got his pick of the second 15 players after Gil Ebbert, whose Forest City team won the league championship, took his choice of the first 15 players.

Vanzura's team opens a best 2-out-of-3 series with Semoran Thursday night at the Seminole Pony Baseball Complex near Winter Springs, Ebbert's team received a bye and will compete in the Bronco State Tournament beginning July 28.

Despite losing four starters to vacation or injury, Vanzura is confident his team will do well. "We've played Ebbert four or five practice games pretty well," said Vanzura who managed the Sanford team this year.

(not to be confused with the Seminole Broncos).

Darren Seefelt will hold down the center field job and be leadoff. Speedy Johnny Luce will play third base and catcher Randy Green will bat third.

"Green has had some tremendous practice games," said Vanzura of his two homers and in the second game he hit a grand slam.

Jed Wilson, from Sanford, will bat cleanup and play right field. Wilson batted .380 during the regular season. Casselberry's Allan Fortenberry will bat fifth and play second base. Another C-Berry man, Mike Davis, will play left field and bat seventh.

Sanford's Jimmy Bussard, who struck the ball at a .400 clip, will bat seventh and play first base. Forest City's Carlos Abrew is penciled into the eighth spot as the shortstop. Eric Swannie, a monstrous 5-9 and 200 pounds, is Vanzura's opening-game pitcher.

The pitching staff is five deep. Green is the number two man and Fortenberry is number three. Davis, who possesses a very "sneaky curve," is fourth and Bussard, an off-speed specialist, is the relief man.

Outfielders David Houghton, a .380 hitter from Sanford, is expected to start half of the time. Sanford's Jimbo Lucas, another outfielder, is also on the bench.

Vanzura received some bad news in practice the other day when Sanford's Chris Eiland broke his right hand during pickoff practice.

"That really hurt," said Vanzura. "I thought Chris would be our catalyst. He was my most consistent hitter (.430) during the year and was like a vacuum at third base during practice."

Vanzura figured to add Casselberry's Chet Smith and Forest City's Eddie Halleran to the roster, although neither will be available until the state tournament. Eiland could be used for pinch-running duty if the Broncos make it to the state.

Then we'll find out who's second best.

Wade, Laney Capture Glove Championships

Jay Laney and Glen Wade, both of Sanford, each brought home a state boxing championship after winning their divisions at the Sunshine State Games in Gainesville July 17-18.

The boxing was held at the University of Florida gym and both Laney and Wade received gold medals for their efforts.

Wade definitely had a tougher time than Laney, though. Laney, fighting at the senior novice 100 pound weight class, won by a walkover. That is, he could find no challengers thus was declared state champion.

The 21-year-old Wade faced two challengers but they were no match for him at the 125 pound light featherweight division. One minute and 13 seconds into the second round of his first fight, Wade decked Tampa's Keith Sergeant who stayed down for the count.

The fight for the gold medal went the distance but Wade's ring savvy enabled him to win by a unanimous decision over Reuben Lowing of Pensacola.

Sanford's Dunn Qualifies For State Calf-Roping

By CHRIS FISTER
Herald Sports Writer

Breakaway calf roping and goat tying. Those two things may not pop-up in many conversations, but Seminole County has one of the best calf ropers and goat tyers in the state.

Calf roping and goat tying are the two events that Sanford's Lori Dunn excels at when competing in the Florida High School Rodeo Association competition.

Dunn, who will be a senior at Seminole High School, is the only student from Seminole County in the Florida High School Rodeo Association. The Association holds 15 rodeos during the school year and the top 15 performers in each of the 11 events goes on to the state rodeo at Kissimmee.

The 1982 State Rodeo was held June 17-

Seminole County Profile

19 at the Silver Spurs arena with Dunn qualifying for state in both calf roping and goat tying. In the three-day competition Dunn recorded the highest scores in breakaway calf roping and earned the right to represent Florida in that event at the National High School Rodeo Association competition.

The National Rodeo is the largest of its kind in the world with 34 states and two Canadian provinces taking part. This year the Nationals will be held at Douglass, Wyoming on July 26 through Aug. 1 and the Dunn family will leave for Wyoming on July 22.

Being a member of the Florida High School Rodeo Association is just like being a member of any prep athletic team. Members have to keep the same grade average as any other high school athlete.

Dunn joined the Rodeo Association when she was a freshman at Seminole. Her brother and a few friends who were also in the rodeo encouraged her to join.

In Dunn's best event, breakaway calf roping, the competitor has a rope tied to their horse's saddle horn and must lasso a calf when the rope breaks off from the saddle horn the time is recorded.

There is also a rodeo association at the collegiate level and most of the professional rodeo performers come from the college association.

Broncos Put It Together, Win Tampa Softball Tourney

By CHRIS FISTER
Herald Sports Writer

TAMPA—When the Seminole Bronco softball regular season came to an end, Mike Averill put together an impressive All-Star squad for tournament play over the summer. And, after coming close in four of five previous tournaments, the Seminole Broncos put it all together and stormed to the Tampa Round Robin

Softball

Tournament Championship this past weekend.

In game one, Seminole encountered the Tampa Mustangs in a rematch from the Clearwater tournament which Tampa won. Kim Averill, Lori Helms and Karen DeSheller paced the Broncos at the plate as Seminole tallied five times in the first three innings and thwarted a late Tampa rally on Denise Stevens' snag of a line drive en route to a 5-3 victory.

Averill's two-run homer over the center fielder's head provided Seminole with a 5-4 victory over the Clearwater Fillies in the second game. Averill collected four RBI while Laura Davis was three for four with a triple and Ava Gardner was two for three. Two hits each by Andrea Fenning and Diedre Burke and two RBI by Burke, Gardner and Stevens carried Seminole to an 8-1 demolition of Clearwater in game three.

Outstanding defensive play and a clutch triple off the bat of Averill enabled Seminole to edge Tampa, 2-1 for the championship.

WHO AM I?

I could really knuckle down. At age 19, I broke in with the Red Sox. That was the year when Roger Maris hit 61 homers. I'm known for a dubious achievement. In one season, I won 20 games and lost 20 games.

ANSWER: Walter Wood, the 1954 White Sox pitcher.

Hubbard's 4 RBIs Overhaul Cardinals

United Press International
The Atlanta Braves proved Tuesday night they can be persistent.

National League

"In the past, if we scored five runs in the first inning and they scored six, we would be down," said Atlanta second baseman Glenn Hubbard, after the Braves defeated the Cardinals 8-6, at St. Louis to maintain a six-game lead over second-place San Diego in the NL West. "Now we just say we're down, 1-0, and we go from there."

The Braves led, 5-0, after a half-inning but Rick Mahler was unable to hold the lead as the Cardinals scored six runs in the bottom of the first. Atlanta then showed its character.

Claudell Washington's two-run single in the fifth snapped a 6-6 tie and lifted the Braves to their fourth straight victory. The Braves trailed, 6-5, entering the fifth, but reliever Jeff Lahti walked the first two batters and Jeff Keener took over and gave up a single to Rufino Linares to load the bases.

A sacrifice fly by Hubbard, his fourth RBI of the game, tied the score and after Keener walked Bruce Benedict, Jim Kaat relieved and struck out pinch-hitter Bob Watson before surrendering Washington's third single of the game.

Reliever Joe Cowley, who pitched just one inning, picked up his first major-league victory. Steve Bedrosian pitched the final 2-2-3 innings and struck out five to earn his sixth save.

In other games, Chicago topped Houston, 5-3, Pittsburgh downed Cincinnati, 3-1, San Diego blanked Philadelphia, 2-0, Los Angeles trounced Montreal, 10-1, and San Francisco defeated New York, 5-1.

Pedro Guerrero was on the base paths a lot Tuesday night against Montreal. The Los Angeles Dodger outfielder slammed a home run and double as the Dodgers hammered the Expos, 10-1.

In the AL, it was Toronto 9, Kansas City 2, Detroit 1, Chicago 0; Oakland 6, Cleveland 4; California 7, Baltimore 4; Seattle 6, New York 5 and Minnesota 5, Milwaukee 3. Texas at Boston was rained out. Cubs 5, Astros 3. At Chicago, pinch-hitter Bobby Molinaro lined a three-run double with two out in the eighth to rally the Cubs. Pirates 3, Reds 1. At Cincinnati, John Candelaria, Rod Scurry and Kent Tekulve combined on a five-hitter to lead the Pirates, dropping the Reds to their fifth straight loss. Padres 2, Phillies 0. At San Diego, John Montefusco and Luis DeLeon combined on a two-hitter and Terry Kennedy hit a solo homer in the second to pace the Padres. Dodgers 10, Expos 1. At Los Angeles, Pedro Guerrero homered and doubled twice to drive in five runs and power the Dodgers. Giants 5, Mets 1. At San Francisco, Reggie Smith's two-run single high-lighted a five-run third inning that gave the Giants their victory.

'Take-Us-Serious' Jays Stop Royals

Despite the fact they stay in last place in the AL East, it might be time for the baseball world to take the Toronto Blue Jays seriously.

"The players have made me a believer, even though I have been believing in them since spring training," said Toronto Manager Bobby Cox, after guiding his Blue Jays to their sixth straight victory Tuesday night, a 9-2 rout of the Kansas City Royals.

Alfredo Griffin's two-run single ignited a four-run fourth inning and Dave Stieb fired a seven-hitter for Toronto. Stieb won his third game in a row and recorded his league-leading 11th complete game. Larry Gura lost his first game ever against Toronto after 10 career wins.

"I like getting those complete games," said Stieb. "It gives me an added incentive."

Barry Bonnell led off the fourth with a single to left and stole second. Jesse Barfield walked and one out later, Willie Upshaw singled through the left side to load the bases.

Buck Martinez then walked to force home Bonnell and Barfield, and Upshaw raced home on Griffin's single past third

All-Stars Split 4; Host Inverness Next

The Sanford All-Stars returned from a recent road trip with a split of the four games they played. Sanford clashed with a tough Dania team and dropped two straight to the Redbirds. The Redbirds got two hits each from Doc Ware, Ed Little and Charles Ward en route to a 12-3 rout of the All-Stars, in the opening game. Dania pitcher Al Lavine gave up eight hits but fanned 15 All-Stars to pick up the victory on the mound. Sam Raines had two triples and a single to pace Sanford.

Sanford matched the Redbirds in hits, six each, in the second game but came up two short in the run department and fell, 7-5. Frank Spillman had two hits and three RBI to pace Dania while Levi Raines had two hits and Merthie homered for Sanford.

The Sanford bats came alive against Lawley with 17 hits in a 13-3 opening game rout and 13 hits in the nightcap. Merthie had four hits, two singles, a double, a homer and three RBI to lead the All-Stars at the plate. Lucius Williams added three hits while Terry Hazlett and Levi Raines each contributed two hits.

Levi and Ned Raines both clubbed round trippers in the nightcap to lift Sanford to a 14-7 win and raise the All-Stars record to 25-7.

The All-Stars will host Inverness Saturday and travel there Sunday.

Weaver Suspended

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Suspended Baltimore Orioles' Manager Earl Weaver aired his latest criticism of American League President Lee MacPhail, saying MacPhail is like "a little boy" who needs constant supervision.

MacPhail suspended Weaver for one week Tuesday and fined him $2,000 for "making physical contact" with umpire Terry Cooney during an outburst at last Saturday's game against the Seattle Mariners. "Somehow it seems unfortunate Lee MacPhail had to become involved. However, he's harmless. He's more or less like a little boy," Weaver said. "If you lead him in the right direction and watch him closely enough, everything will turn out all right."

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Rams Lure Hornet McCorkle To Lake Mary Soccer Position

The Lake Mary High School soccer program took a very big step forward Tuesday when Principal Don Reynolds named the highly-successful Larry McCorkle as its coach. McCorkle, who began his coaching career at Seminole High School in 1974, has a sparkling 93-7-7 record for the past four years at perennial powerhouse Bishop Moore. Included are three state championships. Twice, McCorkle has been named Coach of the Year by the Florida Athletic Coaches Association. He is also the Florida State age 16 and under coach along with being an "A" license member of the United States Soccer Federation. "We're real pleased to have Larry," said Reynolds on Tuesday. "I've kept in touch with him over the years and was able to convince him to come." McCorkle, 30, his wife Sandy and daughter Casey, 2, live in Casselberry.

Tribe Lifters Take 5 Titles

Five Seminole High School weightlifters took first place honors this past weekend in the Junior Olympic Division of the Sunshine State Games at Gainesville. June graduates Chris and Brian Hollwedel each grabbed a top prize. Chris, competing in the 16-17 year-old division, won the 165-pound weight class. Brian, competing in the 18-19 year-old division, claimed the 181-pound title. Seminole High junior Ed Rinkavage captured the 198-pound class for the 14-15 year-old class and sophomore Strickland Smith won the 165-pound title in the same division. Mike Cushing, a sophomore, took the 148-pound title. Fighting Seminole junker Tom Miller placed second to Chris Hollwedel at 165 pounds. The weightlifters are trained by coach Bill McDaniel.

Bennett Attends Games

Seminole High's Mike Bennett participated in the first Florida Athlete-Leader Conference which took place during the Sunshine State Games July 15-17. Bennett, who will be a senior at Seminole plays football and runs track for the Tribe. Last year, he blazed to a 10.1 100-yard dash. One hundred boys and girls, representing 78 high schools throughout Florida, were selected from nominations submitted by high school principals and governing bodies included in the Sunshine State Games. The participants were chosen based on their athletic achievements, scholastic record, demonstrated leadership potential and extra-curricular activities.

Another Tragedy Hits Evans

BOSTON (UPI) — Boston Red Sox star outfielder Dwight Evans is coping with another family tragedy — his 5-year-old son is battling an inoperable tumor at the base of the brain, a newspaper reports. Evans' son, Justin, is undergoing daily radiation treatments for the tumor at an area hospital, the Lynn Daily Item reported. His other son suffers from so-called "Elephant Man's Disease." Justin's battle against the tumor was revealed publicly for the first time in an interview with Daily Item Executive Sports Editor Red Hoffman. "Yes I guess you can write it," Evans said last week, fighting back tears. "You can write it as an inoperable — no inoperable — tumor at the base of the brain." The Item reported that every day "for weeks" the 31-year-old star, who tied for the American League home-run lead last year, visits the hospital when he is not on the road with his wife, Suzie. "The man upstairs never sends down more than you can handle," Evans said. Further details about the illness were not revealed.

Like Diamonds, Mom Says A Good Recipe Is Forever

By LOU CHILDERS
Herald Correspondent

A good recipe is forever.

That's what Sharon Post of Geneva believes because she is still using a recipe for Drop Doughnuts that she learned how to make in a seventh grade home economics class.

"It is a real easy recipe for kids to make," says Sharon who lets her daughters, Sherry, 17, and Tina, 12, have the run of her kitchen when they find a new recipe they want to try.

Two recipes the Post family has recently "fallen in love with" are Tropical Storm, a refreshing blender drink, and After Dinner Mint Pie, a frozen, no-bake dessert.

Sharon says it is strange how a family can get "hooked" on a great recipe, and she adds, "My husband, Jim, loves Pepper Steak, therefore we have it often." Jim is a supervisor at the Seminole County Juvenile Detention Center in Sanford. Jim and Sharon have one son, Jeremiah, three and one half.

Sharon has hundreds of recipes that she has collected over the years. She always copies recipes out of magazines if she has a wait at the doctor's office, and she has many that were shared by friends and relatives. Her paternal grandmother's recipe for Bourbon Balls is a classic that is great to make ahead to store in a tin, ready for unexpected company.

"For several years I lived in Miami," says Sharon, "and naturally my next door neighbor was Cuban." She goes on to explain that neither of them completely understood one another, and that in order to overcome the language barrier so she could learn to make Cuban Picadillo, she had to watch her neighbor prepare it in person and sort of communicate with a mutually-invented sign language. Anyway, Sharon says the results are terrific, and her household is very fond of Cuban Picadillo.

Mix ingredients thoroughly. Heat 3-quart pan half full of lard or shortening. Drop batter into hot grease by teaspoons. Cook until golden brown on both sides, turning as you cook. Drain well on brown grocery bag or paper towels. Place doughnuts in bag of powdered or regular granulated sugar and shake to coat. Remove coated doughnuts from bag, and arrange on a small platter for serving.

Yogurt-syrup blend tops refrain.

Refreshing Refrain From Fresh Fruit

Summer desserts are at their best when they make the most of fruits at their peak of freshness.

A simple dessert that takes little time to prepare combines fresh nectarines and blueberries with a yogurt-maple syrup topping. Grated orange peel and cinnamon add zest to this refreshing dish.

FRESH FRUIT REFRAIN

- 4 fresh nectarines
- Lemon juice
- 1 cup blueberries
- 1 cup plain yogurt
- 3 tablespoons maple syrup
- 1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel
- Cinnamon

Slice nectarines from pit; sprinkle with lemon juice to prevent discoloration. Arrange in rows in shallow serving dish. Sprinkle blueberries between and at ends of nectarine rows. In small bowl, combine yogurt, maple syrup and orange peel. Pour into serving dish and sprinkle with cinnamon. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 5 to 6 servings.

'Duck Dinner' Wins $1,000 In Contest

Pauline "Pete" Kriz's recipe, Duck Dinner, won first prize in the Concord Duckling Florida Recipe Contest. Concord Farms' president Don G. West and Southeastern Sales representative Tony Credico presented Mrs. Kriz with the first prize check of $1,000 on July 13, at Winn-Dixie, French Avenue, Sanford.

Mrs. Kriz has lived in Lake Monroe near Sanford most of her life. She and her husband, L.J., who retired from the Seminole Sheriff's Department, enjoy traveling. They have one daughter.

Mrs. Kriz entered the contest as a result of the $1 refund offer for the purchase of Concord Duckling on the entry blank. She and her husband worked on the recipe for several days and combined several cooking methods. "We wanted something different than stuffed, roasted duckling," Mrs. Kriz said.

The Concord Duckling Florida Recipe Contest was held during mid-February, March and mid-April and was open to residents of Florida. Judging was based on simplicity, appeal, taste and appearance. Three winners were selected from the hundreds of duckling recipes received.

Second place and $300 went to Gloria Ward of Margate for her recipe, "Easy Oriental Duck." Third place and $200 was awarded to Bertha Sofransky of West Palm Beach for her recipe, "Duck Mit Kraut."

Mrs. Kriz's winning recipe is as follows:

DUCK DINNER

- 1 Concord Duckling
 - Flour
 - Salt and pepper
 - 3 tablespoons shortening
 - 1 can mushroom soup
 - 1/2 cup milk or water
 - 1 sliced onion
 - 1 clove minced garlic
 - Potatoes
- Cut duck into serving pieces, dredge in seasoned flour. Heat shortening in heavy pan and fry pieces as you would fry chicken. Brown pieces well and drain off grease. Mix mushroom soup with milk or water. Add to the browned pieces of duck. Add onion and garlic.

Place cover on pan and bake in 350 degree oven for 1 to 1 1/2 hours. During last 30 minutes of cooking, add potatoes cut in 1/2 inch pieces. Cook until duck and potatoes are well done.

A Mold For Health

Here is a molded salad — Americana at its best — but with fresh bean sprouts, mushrooms, chives and sunflower seeds among its ingredients. This is crunchy, well-seasoned treat that goes well with barbecued meats and poultry or summer salads.

VEGETABLE GARDEN MOLD

- 2 packages unflavored gelatin
- 2 cups cocktail vegetable juice
- 1 cup ginger ale
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce
- Generous dash garlic powder
- 1/2 cup fresh bean sprouts
- 1/2 cup thinly sliced mushrooms
- 1/2 cup shredded carrot
- 1/4 cup thinly sliced celery
- 2 tablespoons chopped chives
- 1/4 cup sunflower seeds

In saucepan, sprinkle gelatin on 1/4 cup vegetable juice to soften. Place over low heat, stirring until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat. Add remaining juice, ginger ale, soy sauce and garlic. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in vegetables and sunflower seeds. Spoon into 5-cup mold or individual molds; chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens; garnish with additional shredded carrot. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 4 1/2 cups, 4 servings.

Microwave Magic

Cook Up A Perfect Potato Every Time

The potato is an ideal microwave vegetable. Its high moisture content attracts microwave energy and the tight skin holds the steam. Its uniform density helps it cook evenly.

The procedure to follow for a perfect microwave baked potato is: prick the scrubbed potato with a fork twice, (this allows the steam build-up an escape), place a paper towel on the oven floor to absorb moisture, arrange the potatoes at least one inch apart so that the microwaves can penetrate from all sides, a circular pattern, or spokes of a wheel pattern is most efficient, turn the potatoes over and rearrange them half way through the cooking time.

Wrap in foil, with the shiny side in. They will feel slightly firm, but will complete cooking during 5-10 minutes standing time.

Hint: select potatoes of equal size and shape. Use 100 percent power for baking.

Time Schedule

- 1 potato — 3-5 minutes
- 2 potatoes — 5-7 minutes
- 3 potatoes — 7-10 minutes

Ice cream combinations worth dreaming about.

Create Ice Cream That's Velvety, Culinary Delight

No words can describe the sublime pleasure of homemade ice cream. Real cream and milk, fresh fruit, chocolate and a few other ingredients effortlessly processed can turn this mixture into a velvety, culinary delight.

For even more enjoyment, you can create ice cream combinations you've only dreamed about. As the recipes indicate, there's a creamy vanilla sweetened with milk and honey or a peppermint with chocolate, crushed peppermint candy and creme de menthe. Black Forest Ice Cream offers a bonanza of favorite flavors — chocolate, cherry pie filling and toasted almonds in a base of milk and whipping cream. Peach Melba? Now you can have this famous dessert in ice cream form, swirling raspberry sauce into fresh peach ice cream just before ripening.

HONEY VANILLA ICE CREAM (Yield: 2 quarts)

- 2 eggs
- 3/4 cup honey
- 1 1/2 cups milk

1 tablespoon pure vanilla extract
1 1/2 cups whipping cream
Crushed sweetened fresh strawberries
Beat eggs until foamy in a large mixing bowl. Gradually add honey; beat at low speed until well blended. Gradually blend in milk and vanilla. Chill at least 30 minutes. Whip cream until it forms soft peaks; fold into chilled mixture. Churn-freeze, using slightly greater portion of salt to ice than for other ice creams. After freezing, transfer ice cream to a freezer container. Ripen in freezer 2 hours before serving. Serve topped with crushed strawberries.

BLACK FOREST SWIRL ICE CREAM (Yield: approx. 2 quarts)

ICE CREAM:
3 cups milk
2 cups whipping cream
3/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon pure vanilla extract
1/8 teaspoon salt

BLACK FOREST SAUCE:
(Yield: 1 1/2 cups)
3/4 cup cherry pie filling
1/2 cup chocolate fudge topping
1/4 cup toasted slivered almonds
1/4 teaspoon almond extract

For ice cream, combine all ingredients in freezer can. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Chill at least 30 minutes. Churn-freeze. While ice cream is churning, combine all ingredients for sauce. Chill. After freezing, transfer ice cream to freezer container, alternating layers of ice cream with chilled sauce. Swirl each layer with a spatula for marbled effect. Ripen in freezer 2 hours before serving.

PEACH MELBA ICE CREAM (Yield: approx. 2 quarts)

MELBA SAUCE: (Yield: approx. 1 cup)
1 package (10 oz.) frozen raspberries in juice, thawed
1 tablespoon cornstarch
Dash salt
2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice

ICE CREAM:
1 1/2 cups mashed fresh peaches (blanched and peeled)
1 1/2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
Sugar
2 cups whipping cream
1 1/2 cups milk
3/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1/8 teaspoon salt
4 drops yellow food color, if desired
2 drops red food color, if desired

For sauce, drain raspberries, reserving juice. Add water to make 2-3rd cup liquid. Combine raspberry liquid, cornstarch and salt in a small saucepan. Heat to boiling, stirring frequently. Cook 2 additional minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in lemon juice. Press raspberries through a sieve. Stir pureed mixture into sauce. (Discard seeds, etc. in sieve). Cool and chill. For ice cream, combine peaches and lemon juice. Sweeten to taste. Combine whipping cream, milk, sugar, extracts and salt in a large mixing bowl. Stir in peaches and food color. Chill about 1 hour. Churn-freeze. After freezing, transfer ice cream to freezer container, alternating layers of ice cream with cooled sauce; swirl each layer with a spatula for marbled effect. Ripen in freezer 2 hours before serving.

NOTE: If fresh peaches are not available, you can substitute 1 1/2 cups mashed frozen sliced unsweetened peaches that have been thawed and drained.

CHOCOLATE PEPPERMINT ICE CREAM (Yield: approx. 2 quarts)

1 1-3rd cups sugar
4 teaspoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 cups milk
3 squares (1-oz. each) unsweetened chocolate
2 eggs, beaten
1 1/2 cups whipping cream
1/4 cup white creme de menthe
1 cup finely crushed peppermint candy

Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in heavy 2-quart saucepan. Stir in milk until smooth. Add chocolate squares. Bring to boiling over medium heat, stirring frequently. Doil and stir 2 minutes. (Chocolate does not completely dissolve; the mixture looks very speckled. This does not affect the finished product). Stir a small amount of hot mixture into eggs. Return to saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens, about 1 minute. Do not boil. Remove from heat. Place mixture in a large mixing bowl. Beat on medium speed of mixer until mixture becomes smooth and all the chocolate is dissolved. Mix in whipping cream. Chill several hours or overnight. Stir in creme de menthe. Churn-freeze. When mixture begins to thicken, gradually add peppermint candy through the add-ingredient feature. After freezing, transfer ice cream to a freezer container. Ripen in freezer 2 hours before serving.

Processing Tips

Have on hand: four trays refrigerator ice cubes, one box table salt and two cups cold water.
Place bucket onto motor and base so drive socket engages with drive shaft. Rotate bucket until it settles in base.
Pour chilled ingredients into cream can. I liquid level should be below "fill" line to allow expansion. Stir mixture with wooden spoon or rubber or plastic spatula to avoid scratching.
Insert dasher into cream can. See that rounded ball-end of its center fits matching indentation at bottom of cream can.
Snap transparent lid over top.
Place loaded cream can into bucket, making sure it's engaged at bottom.
Adjust support arm to fit; lock in place.
Fill ice bucket with one cup water and one layer ice. Sprinkle six tablespoons salt over ice.
Plug in motor. Begin building freezing mixture with remaining ice and salt to fill bucket. Pour remaining one cup water over top of ice-salt mixture.
The processing time is called churn-freezing, i.e. churning while mixture freezes.
Churn-freezing time varies from 20 to 50 minutes. Motor will labor and slow down toward end. Do not process more than 50 minutes.
Unplug; remove support arm and bucket. Wipe away ice and salt from lid before removing dasher.
If desired, remove ice cream and pack into freezer containers; freeze to ripen. During ripening, flavors will blend and develop while ice cream hardens to desired consistency.
More salt than indicated shortens processing time but produces coarser texture. Less salt mean slower processing but finer texture.

Artists Receive $1.8 Million In Grants

Secretary of State George Firestone announces the approval of nearly $1.8 million in state and federal funds for grants to Florida artists and arts organizations.

Firestone approved the grants following recommendations from the Florida Arts Council, an advisory body within the Department of State. The funds will go to 171 organizations and 46 individual artists in 34 counties across the state.

Under the state's basic grant program, $1,451,585 was awarded for projects by organizations and $132,500 was approved for fellowships artists. The awards also provided $59,687 to help 45 local organizations host performing groups participating in the 1982-83 State Touring Program, and $121,074 to help 12 organizations bring professional dance companies to Florida communities as part of the 1982-83 Dance Touring Program.

This year's grant awards also include $9,775 in technical assistance grants to help promote professional development in local arts organizations.

Firestone said that this year's awards are consistent with the trends set during the past few years, in that they emphasize "the need to bring art to people living in the less populated areas of the state and the need to promote art education in the schools and local communities." Firestone also noted that the number of minority and ethnic art grants had increased this year over last year's program.

Firestone applauded the Florida Arts Council and the 10 technical review panels — which assisted the council in reviewing the grant applications — for "their tremendous effort and dedication" in reviewing the large number of grant applications received this year by the Division of Cultural Affairs.

"This year's review marked one of the most efficient in the history of the grant program," Firestone said.

Phil Wernli, director of the Division of Cultural Affairs, said that nearly 458 grant applications were received this year, with funding requests totaling more than $3.3 million. According to Wernli, division rules limited grants to $40,000 for organizations, $5,000 for fellowships to established artists and $2,500 for fellowships to emerging artists.

Of the nearly $1.8 million awarded, $1,397,079 comes from state funds approved last spring by the Florida Legislature and nearly $395,000 comes from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Don't Give 2¢ Tip If Service Is Poor

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently went into the dining room of a first-class hotel for a leisurely breakfast. We ordered orange juice, bacon and eggs, hot buttered toast and coffee.

The waitress brought the bacon and eggs, coffee and orange juice, but no toast. We waited and waited, and when we finally caught her eye, she admitted she had forgotten the toast, then she disappeared. Meanwhile we covered our already cold bacon and eggs with our napkins so they wouldn't get any colder.

When she finally showed up with the toast it was cold. Worse yet, our coffee was cold and she never came around to offer us more. Needless to say, it was a very poor breakfast.

My husband left a tip although she didn't deserve one. A friend once told me that whenever she gets poor service, she leaves two pennies to let the waitress know that she didn't "forget" to leave a tip, but valued the service at that amount.

What do you think of my friend's idea?

M.T.F. IN L.A.

DEAR M.T.F.: I wouldn't give 2 cents for it. If the service was poor, I would first complain to the waitress. In your case I would have asked the waitress to please refill the order and serve everything at the same time and hot. And if she was either unwilling or unable to do so, I would have left no tip and complained to the manager.

DEAR ABBY: Is it ever proper for a guest to remove the centerpiece (flowers) from the table and take it home without asking anybody?

I have a friend who does this whenever she goes to an affair where there are flowers on the table. She's taken flowers home from luncheons, weddings, fund-raising affairs, you name it.

I would never have the nerve to do it, but she says if she doesn't take the flowers, either the help takes them home or they are thrown out. Please clear this up in your column. Thanks.

INNOCENT BYSTANDER

DEAR INNOCENT: It never proper to take a centerpiece without asking the hostess.

DEAR ABBY: I'm 69 and have been a widower for three years. I had a marvelous wife for 41 years, and after she died I said I would never marry again.

Well, last summer I met a lady, and the impossible happened. I fell in love. She's 65, a widow, and she suits me to a "T". We've been seeing each other regularly and now we want to get married, but we've run into some heavy opposition from both sides.

My children (married) say they like the lady but they think we should live together and try it out first. Well, we've already had a few weekend trips together and we don't need to try anything out.

Her children (also married) have advised her against marrying me because they're afraid my health might fail and their mother will be stuck nursing a sick old man. (I've had a triple bypass, but I'm in good health and my doctor says I have nothing to worry about.) They also think we should live together first and see how it works out.

Abby, to tell you the truth, we would be ashamed for our grandchildren to know we were living together. I love her and she loves me, so what should we do?

S. AND J.
DEAR S. AND J.: Follow your hearts and get married.

Everybody needs friends. For some practical tips on how to be popular, get Abby's Popularity booklet. Send $1 plus a long, self-addressed stamped (37 cents) envelope to Abby, Popularity, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Tasty Melon Ideas

Watermelons are at the peak of the season and can be prepared in a variety of ways. The following recipes are submitted by the National Watermelon Association, Morven, Ga.

FRESH WATERMELON BOAT WITH TURKEY SALAD
2 qts. cooked turkey (or chicken) cut in large chunks
4 c. seedless green grapes
3 c. diagonally sliced celery
1 c. French dressing
4 tsp. fresh lemon juice
two-thirds c. mayonnaise
1/4 tsp. black pepper
1 tsp. salt
watermelon balls

In large bowl combine turkey, grapes and celery. With fork or wire whisk, mix French dressing to lemon juice, mayonnaise, salt and pepper until well blended. Add dressing to turkey mixture, toss lightly to moisten ingredients. Cover, chill until ready to serve. Spoon into scalloped watermelon boat, along with watermelon balls cut from boat. Makes about 12 servings.

WATERMELON RIND PRESERVES
6 c. watermelon rind, diced
3 oranges
2 lemons
4 1/2 c. sugar

Peel the green skin off the outside of the rind of watermelon and cut out the red meat. Slice the rind into cubes that are about 1" square. Seed the oranges and lemons and cut them into thin slices. Add the fruit slices and sugar to the cubed rind. Boil slowly until the rind is clear. This should take about 2 hours. Place in sterile jars and seal tightly.

If you would like to make these pretty for that Christmas fruit cake, take out half of the preserves and add green food coloring to one half and then add red food coloring to the other half. Add color as you desire before sealing jars.

QUICK AND EASY WATERMELON PIE
1 can sweetened condensed milk
4 ounce container refrigerated non-dairy whipped topping, thawed
1/4 cup lime juice
2 cups watermelon balls
1 9 inch graham cracker crust

Fold together milk and topping. Add lime juice. Fold in watermelon balls, reserving about 5 balls for a garnish. Pour into graham cracker crust. Place remaining watermelon balls on pie to garnish. Chill for 2 or more hours before serving.

RED AND WHITE WATERMELON SALAD
6 ounces strawberry gelatin
2 cups hot water
3 cups watermelon balls
8 1/4 ounce can crushed pineapple, undrained
1 1/4 cups chopped pecans, divided

4 ounce container refrigerated non-dairy topping, thawed
one-third cup milk
8 ounces cream cheese, softened to room temperature
Dissolve gelatin in hot water; let set until slightly firm — 40-50 minutes. Add melon balls, pineapple and 1 cup pecans; pour into a 9x13 inch pan. Chill until firm. Beat cream cheese until fluffy. Gradually add milk and beat until smooth. Fold in non-dairy topping and placed on chilled fruit mixture. Sprinkle with remaining 1/4 cup pecans. Refrigerate until serving. Serves 12.

WATERMELON RIND PICKLES
4 lbs. prepared rind (thick)
2 T. whole cloves
1 qt. vinegar
4 lbs. sugar
2 T. whole allspice
10-12 inch sticks of cinnamon
1 qt. water
Lime water made with 2 qts. of cold water and 1 T.

See MELON, Page 7B

It is important to teach care when removing hot pans from the oven. Remind the child to always wear a protective mitt or use potholders. Never use wet or thin potholders.

Most important when baking with kids is to enjoy yourselves. Surprise Cupcakes and Granola-Peanut Butter Brownies are as fun to make as they are good to eat.

SURPRISE CUPCAKES

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Prepare 1 package any flavor cake mix as directed — mix in bowl. Divide batter evenly among 12 ungreased medium muffin cups, 2 1/2 x 1 1/4 inches. Spoon 1 teaspoon peanut butter onto center of batter in each cup. Bake 20 minutes. Place 4 miniature marshmallows on top of each cupcake. Bake until marshmallows are puffed and light brown, about 5 minutes. Cool completely before removing from pan. 12 cupcakes.

GRANOLA-PEANUT BUTTER BROWNIES

1 package supreme fudge brownie mix
1 cup any flavor granola, slightly crushed
1/4 cup packed brown sugar

1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
1/2 cup peanut butter
2 tablespoons margarine or butter, softened
1 egg
Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease bottom only of rectangular pan, 13x9x2 inches. Prepare brownies as directed on package. Spread dough in pan.
Mix remaining ingredients in 2-quart bowl; drop by teaspoonfuls evenly over dough. Bake 30 to 35 minutes; cool Cut into about 1 1/2-inch squares. 4 dozen brownies.

Chicken Chutney As Easy As Pie

Pie making is becoming simplified with the availability of well-made prepared pie crusts. These come in several varieties — such as graham cracker, chocolate, butter and even graham cracker tarts — so they are ready for dessert or main meal fillings.

A chicken chutney pie is as simple to make as layering the ingredients in the ready crust and popping the pie into the oven. Serve with a fruit salad.

CHICKEN CHUTNEY PIE

- 1 butter-flavored ready crust
- 2 tablespoons sauteed onions
- 3/4 cup chopped chicken
- 2 tablespoons chutney
- 4 ounces Monterey Jack cheese, grated
- 1 can cream of chicken soup (10 3/4 ounces)
- 1/4 cup milk
- 2 eggs

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Wednesday, July 21, 1982—7B

1/4 teaspoon curry powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of white pepper (optional)
Saute onions. Layer onions, chicken, chutney and cheese in pie shell. Beat soup, milk, eggs and seasonings together, pour over chicken mixture. Bake at 400 degrees 35-40 or until filling is set. Let cool slightly before cutting. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 1 pie.

Melon Ideas

lime (calcium oxide).
To prepare the rind from a firm, not over-ripe melon, trim off the green skin and pink flesh. The trimmed rind should weigh 4 lbs. and should be cut in 1-inch pieces. Soak the rind for 1 hour in the lime water. Drain the lime water, cover the rind with fresh water and cook 1 1/2 hours or until tender. Add more water while cooking if necessary. After cooking, drain the water.

Put the spices loosely in a clean, thin white cloth, fold like a bag and tie at top lightly. Put the spice bag into the liquid made of 1 qt. of vinegar, 1 qt. of water and 4 lbs. sugar and bring to a boil. Add watermelon rind and cook gently for 2 hours. Remove spice bag and pack rind in clean, sterile jars.

Fill jars almost to top with hot syrup, and seal tightly. Yield: 6 pints.

WATERMELON SALAD WITH CELERY-NUT DRESSING
4-ounce cream cheese, softened
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
one-third cup heavy cream, whipped
1 and one-third cups celery, thinly diced
3 cups watermelon balls, chilled
Bright green lettuce leaves
1/2 cup pecans, chopped

Beat cream cheese with mayonnaise until smooth and fluffy. Fold into whipped cream, add celery. Arrange watermelon on salad greens and top with celery-cheese dressing. Sprinkle with chopped pecans. Serves 6.

WATERMELON SPICE PIE
1 1/2 c. watermelon rind
1 t. cinnamon
1/4 t. cloves
2 t. flour
1/2 c. raisins
1-2 crust pie pastry
1 c. sugar
one-third t. nutmeg
1/8 t. salt
1/4 c. vinegar
1/2 c. pecans, chopped
Cut green outer rind and most of pulp from watermelon rind; cut into 1/4 inch cubes. Combine cubes with water to cover in saucepan; bring to boil, then simmer until tender. Drain. Add sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves, salt, flour, vinegar, raisins, and nuts to cubes; blend well. Pour into pastry shell; cover with pastry. Cut steam vents. Bake at 450 degrees until crust is browned. Reduce temperature to 350 degrees; bake until filling is set.

WATERMELON BOAT
Cut watermelon lengthwise. Cut edge of melon in saw-tooth design with sharp knife. Scoop out center with melon-ball scoop, leaving about an inch of the watermelon fruit intact. Fill the watermelon half with all the prepared melon balls. Decorate with strawberries and mint. Wrap in plastic wrap or foil. Chill.

FESTIVE WATERMELON CAKE
1 box white cake mix
T. plain flour
1-3 oz. pkg. mixed fruit Jello
1/4 c. wesson oil
1 c. cut-up watermelon pieces
4 eggs
Sprinkle flour over cake mix. Add jello, oil and watermelon. Mix thoroughly with electric beater, adding eggs one at a time. Divide batter into 2 greased and floured 8-inch pans. Bake for about 30 minutes at 325 degrees. Ice when cool.

TOPPING
1 stick of margarine
1/2 to 1 c. of cut-up watermelon
1 box of powdered sugar
Soften margarine and add sugar. Blend in the watermelon gradually until a spreading consistency is reached. Red food coloring may be added. Spread the topping over the cake.

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, July 22, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY JULY 22, 1982

Don't be afraid to take on greater responsibilities this coming year, both workwise and socially. Conditions are now ripe for you to make your mark in the world.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Try to practice moderation in all of your endeavors today. Be industrious where industriousness is required, but also allow yourself time for leisure. Predictions of what's in store for you for all four seasons following your birth date and where your luck and opportunities lie are in your Astro-Graph, Mail #1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be alert today for financial opportunities. Something you're presently involved in which you haven't taken too seriously could become profitable.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You have more direct control over your present conditions today than you may give yourself credit for. Don't wait on others to make things happen. Do it yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you apply yourself you could be extremely lucky today in turning your desires into something of substance. Keep your sights on the bottom line.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You are very capable today in advancing your self-interests. Even more to your credit, you are also concerned about seeing that good things also happen for your friends.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There could be a sudden shift in conditions today. Something you feared might be difficult to achieve will fall well within your range of capabilities.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Joint ventures should turn out fortunately for you today, whether they be for commercial purposes or merely social. You're lucky where team effort is required.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) When negotiating important matters today, don't agree to anything unless the terms suit you. You can get what you want if you stick to your guns.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Persons in a position to help where your work or career is concerned will begin to take a greater interest in you as of now. Dazzle them a bit.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Ventures or enterprises which bring you into direct contact with imaginative or creative people should work out to everyone's mutual benefit today.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't be hesitant to tackle difficult tasks today. Once you get on a roll, they'll be completed to your satisfaction. Hard work enhances your efficiency.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Look for situations today which will arouse your motivations for personal gain. You're luckier than usual in areas that could add to your income or resources.

A Sane Solution For Smelly Feet

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read your column suggesting that you use pHisoHex for smelly feet. I started using pHisoHex as advised by a doctor about 25 years ago after an operation for a cyst. A number of years later it was banned because it contained hexachlorophene which was reported to be a cancer-forming agent. This is just a reminder.

Dr. Lamb

DEAR READER — Thank you for your good intentions, but hexachlorophene-containing products were not banned because of cancer. They were banned as non-prescription items because they caused brain damage in newborns, particularly premature infants.

Hexachlorophene was used in many hospital nurseries to control staphylococcal infections, which are particularly dangerous. The skin of babies absorbs hexachlorophene rapidly and in toxic amounts, enough to cause brain damage.

This does not occur in adults. It is usually adults who have problems with foot odors, not premature infants. There is no reason why pHisoHex cannot be used to treat foot odors, unless it proves irritating to the skin. The exception would be in women who are pregnant or women who may be pregnant and do not know it.

pHisoHex is commonly used by surgeons in scrubbing for surgery. Why? Because it is effective and is not dangerous to the surgeon. Even adults should not use it all over the body at one time or in the genital area. But none of these limitations prevents its use in controlling foot odor. By the way, it is a prescription item.

You should not use alcohol on the skin where you use pHisoHex. The alcohol will destroy its penetrating action. The reason pHisoHex is effective when other soaps are not is that it penetrates the skin to the area where bacteria live and create odors. Simple washing won't do the trick.

There is much more to controlling foot odor and rules for those who can't use pHisoHex. Changing socks twice or more often a day, frequent foot bathing and changing shoes every day are part of the program.

To give you more details on controlling foot odor I am sending you The Health Letter number 11-8, Your Feet and How To Care For Them. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Please! Is there any way for a vain lady to have spider veins removed? I've talked to two doctors and both told me not to fight mother nature. I'm 33 and would like a couple more years of clear legs before getting out the cane. Why won't doctors be more sympathetic?

DEAR READER — Show me a person who is not vain in any respect and I'll show you a person who has no pride in himself, and his health and lifestyle show it.

Of course you can do something about spider veins. Those small veins can be eliminated by electrolysis, putting a small electric needle at the location of the vein and literally frying it. Touching veins on the face with an electric needle is often called an electronic facial. These are usually done by a dermatologist.

Whether you want electrolysis (commonly used to eliminate unwanted hair) on your legs or not may depend on how many veins you have and how extensive the procedure has to be in your case.

The hand appears to be a cinch. But after taking dummy's ace of diamonds and cashing two high trumps he sees that West has a trump trick. Apparently there is nothing to be done with his third club except to lose a trick with it.

Some intense cerebration discovers that at the risk of going down one trick extra he can find a way to avoid that diamond loser. It will require a good bit of luck, but with a chance to make a slam you are going to take every chance.

South proceeds to cash his ace of hearts and king of diamonds. Then he leads the ace and a small club. If West held a singleton club he would not gain by ruffing, but West did have to follow.

Now South takes the heart finesse. If it loses he would be down two, but fortune smiles on South. Now he cashes the remaining heart, throws West in with his good trump and waits.

West is a gone gosling. He doesn't have the last club and must lead a diamond to let South ruff in dummy and chuck that losing club. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Overall, State's River Water Is 'Good To Fair'

TAILHASSEE (UPI) — The water quality in Florida's rivers is holding its own even though the state is one of the fastest developing in the country.

Eighty-seven percent of the river waters sampled by the Department of Environmental Regulation recently was rated as "good to fair" although the agency did identify 23 rivers or tributaries as "water quality problem areas."

The department checked 110 rivers, streams, creeks, estuaries and lakes between June 1979 and December 1981 in an effort to measure the health of Florida's 2,000-mile major river system.

Among the pollution problem spots, six had improved since a similar state check two years earlier, with nine deteriorating.

In northwest Florida, the water quality is generally good in the Perdido, Escambia, Yellow, Choctawhatchee and Chipola rivers, DER found.

A battery reclaiming operation that polluted Dry Creek, a tributary to the Chipola, has closed and cleanup work is underway to restore the creek, suffering currently from an accumulation of heavy metals.

DER checked the Apalachicola and found "very good water quality," although discharge from two sewage treatment plants has degraded one of the river's tributaries, Mosquito Creek near the Georgia-Florida line.

The quality is generally good in Apalachicola Bay, although one DER station reported high bacteria levels, which is a normal occurrence during times of heavy rains.

The Fenholloway River near Perry, a dumping ground for a large paper mill, remains polluted, DER said, but there has been "considerable improvement over the last few years." The Buckeye Cellulose Corp. is attempting now to treat wastes from the mill before they are discharged into the Fenholloway.

The Suwannee River in north Florida "may be characterized as having very good water quality in most areas with a few notable exceptions," DER said.

Several Suwannee tributaries drain an extensive phosphate mining area and are suffering from pollution. The worst problem area is Swift Creek, which has high phosphorus levels. The Amelia River also has pollution, but that is caused by pulp mill operations along its banks, not phosphate mining.

The quality of the St. Johns River varies depending on the quality of its tributaries. From its headwaters to Lake Poinsett, the river and its tributaries are polluted by agriculture runoff.

One of the worst problem areas in this stretch is the Econlockhatchee River, suffering from farming runoffs. Lake Jessup, another St. Johns tributary, received treated effluent and runoff from several urban areas. The operation of an advanced sewage treatment plant at Iron Bridge, should result in improved water quality soon.

The Wekiva River, which joins the St. Johns just below Lake Monroe, has a pollution problem, although this has lessened since construction of a sewage treatment plant at Altamonte Springs.

Water quality is poor in the upper section of the Oklawaha River, Lake Apopka to Lake Griffin, particularly in Lake Apopka. The lake remains eutrophic even though nutrient loads have been reduced.

Liberty, Loitering

HARTFORD, Vt. (UPI) — Saying "one man's saunter is another man's walk," the American Civil Liberties Union is prepared to defend anyone arrested under a new loitering law in Hartford.

A municipal ordinance went into effect Saturday outlawing loitering and making it punishable by a $500 fine or six-month jail sentence. Officials said it was designed to give police a tool they could use to clear the town's downtown shopping area of troublesome youths who sometimes congregate.

But the Vermont branch of the American Civil Liberties Union said it is prepared to challenge the law the first time it is used, arguing it is too broadly worded and may be unconstitutional.

Approved in May, the ordinance also bans "spending time idly" — as well as activities that might be considered "hanging around."

'Songwriters Of The Year'

Unseen Note-Ables Of Country Music

NASHVILLE (NEA) — Kye Fleming and Dennis W. Morgan experienced a songwriter's dream-come-true four years ago. Their first national chart song reached No. 1.

The song, "Sleeping Single in a Double Bed," was no flash-in-the-pan for the songwriting team. It has been followed by 19 other chart-breaking hits, including the Grammy- and Country Music Association-nominated song of the year, "I Was Country When Country Wasn't Cool," and a No. 1 hit on both country and adult contemporary charts, "Smoky Mountain Rain."

At this year's Nashville Songwriters Association International awards, the two were named writers of the year and took home honors for "I Was Country" and "I Wouldn't Have Missed It for the World." Cash Box, a trade magazine, also named them Country Writers of the Year for 1981.

Though they now concentrate on the country market, neither grew up in the country tradition.

Miss Fleming says she was an Arkansas "Navy brat" who got hooked on music as a teen-ager. Now 30, she started playing the guitar, singing and writing while in the ninth grade, emulating the styles of folk musicians like Joni Mitchell.

Morgan, 29, was a small-town boy from Tracy, Minn., whose musical imagination was turned on at the tender age of 10.

"For me, it was the Beatles," he says. "I saw them on Ed Sullivan. That changed my life, literally. I played my first dance when I was 12.

"The guitar was bigger than me," he adds with a laugh.

Both were solo performers who appeared across the country at coffee houses, clubs, hotels and colleges.

By the time they met in 1978 in Nashville, both had decided to zero in on writing, not performing. It's a decision neither regrets.

"You're not in the public eye," Miss Fleming says, "so you just do your thing and go home and have a nice quiet evening and come back to work. It's great."

"No road work. No bands," adds Morgan. "It's really like a job, and yet it isn't."

The two firmly believe in writing on a regular basis. They work seven hours a day, five days a week, at the of-

Kye Fleming (left) and Dennis Morgan treat songwriting like any other job — working seven hours a day, five days a week, during dry periods as well as productive ones. Their efforts have paid off in 20 chart-breaking hits and a recent "writers of the year" award from the Nashville Songwriters Association International.

ices of the Tom Collins Music Corp. Though Morgan works on the guitar and Miss Fleming holds the notebook, both contribute lyrically and musically on their songs.

"We do try to put in a certain number of hours a day," Miss Fleming says. "We don't write weekends or

"You could wait forever," Miss Fleming smiles. "We write. We put out a whole lot of songs this way, and they're not all good, but your chances of coming up with a good one are a whole lot better than if you're sitting out there saying 'I'll write next week.'"

"Smoky Mountain Rain" is a great example of that," Morgan says.

"Smoky Mountain Rain" is a result of two songs that didn't work being combined into one song that did. Like most of their songs, it was written with an artist in mind — in this case, Ronnie Milsap, who is from the Smoky Mountains.

Both cite "Smoky Mountain Rain" as a prime example of the importance of keeping all those bits and pieces of songs that most songwriters have.

"We use a little cassette tape player," Miss Fleming says. "You can sing two or three lines and say, 'Ah, that's good.' And I swear, if you don't have the tape going, sometimes you can go back and you've lost the whole thing."

"Easy come, easy go," Morgan smiles.

They also emphasize the importance of writing, even when it means wrestling with words and music during dreaded dry periods.

"That's when it is really hard, and we still come in and battle it out," Miss Fleming says with a sigh. "During a dry period, you may not be knocked out about it, but there may come a time or a (musical) feel or something that you don't recognize at the time."

Morgan continues: "It will be on tape or paper so you can look back. You may not think you're getting anywhere, but you are."

"You really are," Miss Fleming says. "One song that I can think of right off the bat that we wrote in a dry period is 'Best of Strangers.'"

"And 'Tumbleweed' was written during the same time," Morgan adds. "So, there are two chart records that came out of a dry period," Miss Fleming says. "If we hadn't been going in every day and battling through the dry period, we wouldn't have come up with either one of those songs."

Constant work also helps develop two key components to commercial songwriting: objectivity and the ability to rewrite, rewrite, rewrite.

With a smile, Morgan admits that he had no objectivity about his work when he started writing because every song he wrote meant everything to him.
