

Rapid Progress Being Made In Ballistic Missile Development

A United Press Staff Correspondent
By CHARLES COGDON
WASHINGTON — Such rapid progress is being made in developing 1,500-mile ballistic missiles that the first ones may be assigned to military forces by the end of this year or early in 1958.

Some of the missiles might be made available to Britain at the same time in line with the "agreement in principle" reached at Bermuda by President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

This assessment was obtained from high-ranking military sources in a position to know about American progress in development of the IRBM intermediate range ballistic missile and other weapons of the future.

The Bermuda developments and the elevation of Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles, a scientist and mathematician, to deputy defense secretary appeared to mark a second "new look" at military forces, bringing up to date a major modernization started in 1953.

Ten Minutes to Moscow
 Military sources said the IRBM will be as vital to Britain's needs as the ICBM intercontinental ballistic missile to America's. The intermediate range weapon would greatly reinforce Britain's ability to deter war.

The IRBM, these sources say, could reach Moscow from British launching sites in about 10 minutes.

The United States will not, and cannot under the law, supply Britain with atomic warheads. But it was made clear at Bermuda that such warheads will be stored at U.S. bases in Britain and could quickly be fitted to the guided missiles if hostilities broke out.

The rapid progress reported with the IRBM high lights advances in the whole guided missile field in this country.

For the first time, as expenditures for missiles continue to reach new records, military services are beginning to install missile units and eliminate conventional forces in their stead.

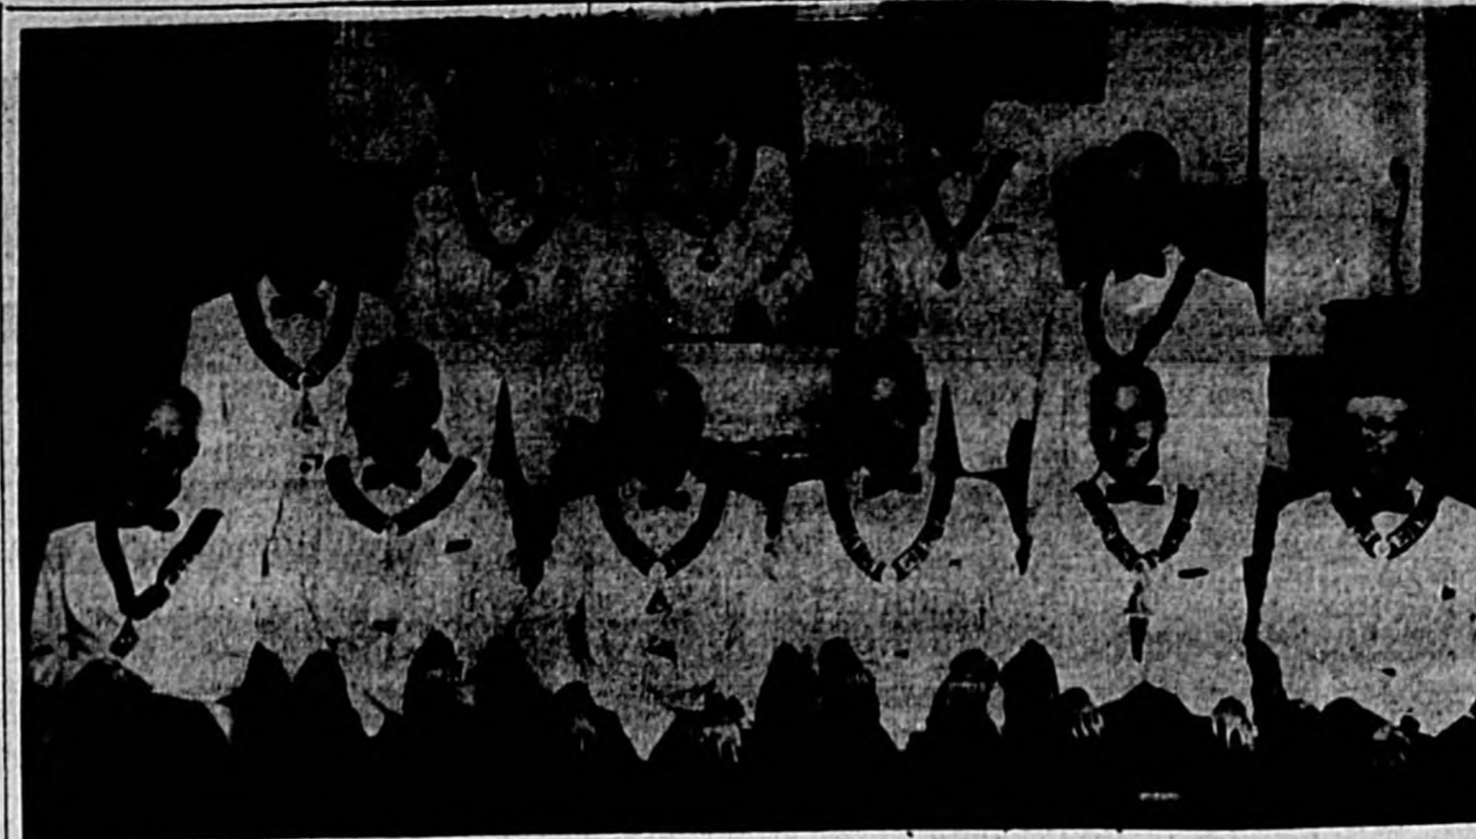

Changes in Services
 The Air Force, for example, in the year starting July 1 will drop six wings of piloted fighters and light bombers from its Tactical Air Command because the Army now has missiles to take over much of its own ground support.

The Army has all but eliminated anti-aircraft guns as the number of anti-aircraft missile launching sites increases across the land. In about a year Nike missiles will have atomic warheads.

The Navy, in some instances well ahead of the other services, is replacing guns with missiles and atomic explosives, and conventional propulsion with nuclear power which enables ships to remain at sea indefinitely.

The revolution in weapons has already caused the Eisenhower administration to cut U.S. armed forces by 800,000 men. It is now considered sound speculation that the current force of 2,800,000 men may be cut to 2,500,000 by 1961.

A "REEL" DEMOTION
HOLLYWOOD — Film maker Mervyn LeRoy finally persuaded Air Force Master Sgt. Albert Williams to accept a part in "No Time for Sergeants," a film on which Williams is a technical adviser. Williams reluctantly accepted a role of a corporal.

NECESSARY BUT ATTRACTIVE STORAGE UNITS

Train your children to be neat by providing them with the facilities of storing away their toys, picture and story books, and phonograph records. Empty, up-turned orange crates are ideal for this purpose, as they can be grouped together in a row or in a corner arrangement, to save space. They're low enough for the children to reach easily, and can be attractive additions to a room if painted in bright colors or covered with wall-paper to match or contrast with the decor of the room.

Flaps Down—Wings Too

FORT WORTH, Tex. — Police debated today whether they could give Raymond Graber a ticket for low flying. He started a number of drivers Wednesday by axling his light plane, minus its wings, down the highway.

Knowland Thinks Time For Another 'Great Debate'

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland thinks it's about time for another "great debate" on foreign policy.

So far, the issue which is bothering him has not aroused any fervor for debate on either side of the political aisle by men of comparable stature. But it could come when Congress considers the administration's foreign aid program and perhaps when the Senate reviews the treaty to put the United States in an international atoms-for-peace agency.

Knowland is troubled because he believes the administration is moving toward a "Communist Marshall Plan," a program of aid for the Russian satellites of Eastern Europe.

Against Polish Aid
 Since early winter he has been sounding alarms on this subject. More recently and more specifically, he has protested against offers of aid to Poland in negotiations last month.

He also dissented from the administration on one provision of a bill passed by the Senate this week. The provisions would permit the administration to barter surplus farm products to Iron Curtain countries for strategic materials.

Knowland said the Communist countries could buy agricultural products from the United States with dollars, if they wished, thereby reducing the dollars available to international Communism for subversive action against this nation.

Senate Votes Favorably
 The Senate voted against Knowland on this issue, 54-23. GOP Senators split almost down the middle with 21 supporting his amendment and 19 opposing it.

The California senator, who often has foreign policy disputes with the administration, argues that any help to the satellites gives at least indirect help to Russia. He also has suggested that any such help would mean either enlarging the overall foreign aid program or subtracting from the aid given to U. S. allies and neutrals.

The other side of the argument is that any moves to provide aid for the Soviet satellites would be intended to encourage their independence from Russia—an argument Knowland will not buy.

Control Of Plant Insects Gardening School Subject

James E. Brogdon, Extension Entomologist, with the Agricultural Extension Service told Sanford and Seminole County Landscape and Gardening School members last night of the "control of some insects and mites of ornamental plants."

The seventh session of the 8-session course sponsored by the Sanford Garden Club Federation in cooperation with the Florida Agricultural Service was devoted entirely to Brogdon's subject.

He said "The climate in Florida makes our state an ideal place to grow ornamental plants."

"By the same token," he said, "it is an excellent place for insects and mites to thrive and cause tremendous damage." Before explaining in detail the insecticides, their formulas, and their applications, Brogdon said "One of the (Continued on page 2)

Incomplete Figure Shows Over $1,000 Collected For Drive

Incomplete figures reported this morning on the "C" Day fund drive for the Seminole County Unit of the American Cancer Society were reported as $1,128.37. This was the total up to 9 o'clock last night, according to Mrs. Phil C. Stanley Jr., "C" Day chairman.

The figures reported this morning does not include funds from the business area, the county, or the colored sections of Sanford.

Mrs. Stanley said this morning that "If anyone who was not called on at home would like to contribute, their contributions can be sent to T. E. Tucker, at the Florida State Bank who is treasurer for the fund."

"To have so many volunteers recognize the importance of cancer and with such generous response from the general public on "C" Day is very gratifying," said Mrs. Stanley.

The general chairman of the overall countywide drive is Irving Fryor, Mrs. Gertrude Dinglefelder is president of the Seminole County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Pilot Club Makes Plans For Easter Egg Sale Apr. 20

Plans for the Pilot Club's annual Easter Egg Sale were made at the meeting of the club which was held in the Yacht Club last evening. Mrs. Sue S. Stevenson presided.

The sale will be held in front of Sears Order Office on Saturday, Apr. 20, beginning at 8:30 a. m. Gaily decorated eggs, Easter bunnies and cookies will be on sale. Proceeds of the sale, which is an annual affair with the club, will be used toward its two main projects, the "Milk Fund" which supplies milk for indigent families in Seminole County, and maintenance of a room in the local hospital. Members will meet at the home of Mrs. B. E. Chapman and Mrs. David Gatchel on Wednesday, Apr. 17; at the home of Mrs. Esther Rive on Thursday, Apr. 18 and at the home of Mrs. V. C. Messenger on Friday, Apr. 19 to prepare the eggs.

Mrs. B. E. Chapman, vice chairman of the Seminole County Mental Health Association, sponsored by the Pilot Club, outlined plans for the forthcoming "Ball Runners" campaign. "Ball Runners" will get underway Apr. 23 and last through May 4. All members were urged to attend a meeting of the association on Monday, Apr. 15 at the Parish House at which time plans will be completed for the drive. Sen. Cleveland Fills In As House Speaker school needs and teacher shortages.

TALLAHASSEE — The Florida House speaker had no voice to speak with Wednesday. After six days of talking, Speaker Doyle Conner of Starke lost his voice. Conner stayed in his room "not feeling bad" but suffering from an embarrassing attack of laryngitis. Speaker pro tem Mack Cleveland of Seminole took his place on the rostrum.

It was reported that "Although a leader in many fields, especially in the south, Florida is lacking in teacher attractiveness." According to the officers of the local association "Out of the 48 states, Florida is ranked a lowly 38 in the pay scale—only nine states above the poorest."

"Many people," an official of the association stated, "particularly around Sanford and Seminole County, have been confused about the average teachers' salaries in the state. The figure is set at $3,600. But this is high, according to the number of counties."

It was reported "Of the 47 counties in the state, only 10 counties pay the average salary or above, and this means that 37 of the counties pay below the average." However, the official did not state what category Seminole County fell into, the first ten or the 37 under average.

"Should the teachers get the $1,100 raise, Florida teachers would then be receiving only the average teacher salary," it was stated.

It was pointed out that the $1,100 proposed raise would apply to a teacher unit, not each teacher. And, it was explained, "in every county there are so many teacher units which are based on the children. Each 27-30 students constitute a teacher unit with Seminole County at present staffed with 19 mode teachers than the allotted teacher units."

The Seminole County Education Association reaffirmed its original stand of solid support of the FEA program and opposes any drastic action, although their stand is that the teachers in Florida deserve at least an average teacher salary.

Mrs. Hilda Wray, president of the Seminole County Education Association, pointed out "yesterday's meeting that the FEA had agreed to study a merit system and also pointed out in a conference afterward that so far the proposed merit system ranged from the socialization of the teaching profession and paying teachers for the number of dependent children instead of their qualifications as a teacher, to giving extra pay for trips taken in the summer."

The teacher organization said "It seems that a merit system without close study could develop into a political football and worsen the dilemma of the teacher problem."

Barrows Named Police Chief At Altamonte

Barrows served on the Parkerburg, W. Va. police department since 1951, resigning his duties there on March 15 this year, to move to Florida because of climatic conditions affecting his child's health.

Barrows submitted letters of high recommendation from Mayor Frank W. Cove Jr. and Chief of Police Bruce E. Parsons of the city of Parkerburg. His appointment here followed the action of approval of the council. He will go on official duty April 15 at (Continued on page 2)

Over 200 Gather For Canal Hearing

G. Gibbs Initial Speaker

More than 200 people from over Central Florida and other areas interested in the Sanford-Titusville Canal proposal, packed into the ballroom of the Mayfair Inn this morning at 9 o'clock when Col. B. R. Kirkpatrick, District Engineer, Jacksonville District, for the Army Corps of Engineers, opened the hearing which was called on Mar. 11 for this date.

Other officers listening to arguments for and against the canal were: Angelo Tabla, Chief, Hydrology Section; William O. Koski, Chief, Navigation Reports Section; and Col. Paul D. Troxler, office of the Chief Engineer.

The entire proceedings are being tape recorded for future study relative to the report which will come from the hearing.

Col. Kirkpatrick, in opening the meeting, stated that the hearing was called pursuant to a resolution adopted Jan. 27, 1957, in which the District Engineer was directed to make a survey of the channel from Sanford to Indian River near Titusville.

Heretofore these hearings have been heard on the proposed canal and reports found that the canal was not recommended and not economical for navigation benefits.

"The benefits must exceed the cost of the canal," Col. Kirkpatrick told the audience of both men and women attending the hearing. "A proposed channel was pointed out which extended from Lake Harney to Puzos Lake, thence to Hills Lake and to Lake Loughman, extending from there in a direct line to Titusville."

First to be called on to make statements would be the proponents of the Canal the Colonel said. Following them those opposing the canal would be given an opportunity to speak. Federal and State agencies are to follow those who oppose the Sanford-Titusville waterway.

George Gibbs, head of the Gibbs Corporation of Jacksonville was the initial speaker.

Gibbs followed the history of the effort to have the canal extended, citing that the Legislature, more than 100 years ago authorized the State to build the waterway. "For 30 years we have been telling people what has happened and what might happen in an area available by yacht."

"I want to state," said Gibbs, "that the State of Florida is one of the fastest growing states in the union from an industrial standpoint. One of the things that cause produce at a low cost. We have industry to thrive in it and we can the things that will attract industry so we must have a place for workers to live and attract people to Florida."

Again, George Gibbs pointed out that Sanford could be the site of a steel factory. "Progress of the south is due to water transportation," he said.

"The Port of Canaveral will become one of the centers of the world if we can feed to that area the products necessary," said Gibbs. And he said "Florida is the heart of food attending the hearing. America's market."

Safety Committee OKs 65 mph Speed Limit

TALLAHASSEE — Rapid fire action was expected at a round of committee meetings Wednesday on controversial bills to open juvenile court hearings to the public, establish a 65 mile per hour speed limit and decrease small loan interest rates.

The most noteworthy bill up for a vote was a Senate measure adopting forest green and white as official colors for all sheriff department vehicles.

Most of the interest centered around committee hearings before the general sessions. A Senate Judiciary committee meeting had before it the touchy proposal to allow the public and the press to attend juvenile court hearings. Similar proposals failed in the 1955 Legislature and there has been much opposition to the bill.

The Senate Banking Committee met at the same time to consider a bill backed by the small loan industry which would decrease the interest rate on loans by one-half per cent but raise the authorized amount of loan from $300 to $600 maximum.

Opposition Arises

Committee members indicated they favored the bill and would send it to the floor in a hurry, but Sen. Verle Pope, St. Augustine, vowed to fight the measure all the way because, he contended, it enables the small loan firms to "commit larceny instead of petting" (Continued on page 2)

Film To Be Shown At Mental Health Session Apr. 15

The Seminole County Association for Mental Health will meet at the Episcopal Parish House, Monday April 15 at 8 p. m. and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. A. R. Key, program chairman, has arranged for a 40-minute film called "Breakdown" which sympathetically presents the treatment for mental illness. Mrs. Key said that the picture does a remarkable job in outlining the proper attitudes toward patients and some ways to assist in their cure and rehabilitation.

The outline for the campaign for members and funds for the coming year will be given by Mrs. B. E. Chapman, chairman.

A full attendance is urged so that more people may be better acquainted with what has been termed as America's number one health problem.

Commission Fights Attempt To Lift Price Controls

TALLAHASSEE — A new attempt to lift controls on milk prices was to be fought out by the State Milk Commission Wednesday.

The commission, at a closed meeting in Jacksonville last month, defeated by a 4-3 vote the same motion to remove price controls. But Howard D. Walton of Miami, a consumer member, reintroduced the proposal at a public meeting here Tuesday.

Walton said he wanted the matter taken up at an open meeting to clear up "bad publicity."

The decision delayed to permit Alex D. Shaw, Agriculture Department representative, to be present.

Walton's motion was seconded by H. G. Cochran of Lake City, another consumer member. Henry Schneider, distributor member from Eustis, objected and declared the action of the Jacksonville meeting should stand.

They said the bill, in effect, would prevent further competition through a provision permitting the comptroller to decide when the "interest" of a community would be served by another company young into business.

The House Public Safety Committee unanimously approved bills to set a maximum 65 mile-per-hour speed limit, give highway patrol troopers a flat 6 1/2 per month pay raise, increase patrol strength from the present 406 to 500, allow local authorities and the state road department to set minimum speed limits, double the legal distance between trucks on the highways and give American Legion auxiliary troopers the same immunities and protections as the highway patrol when working with the patrol.

Over 300 Enjoy Talent Night

By MARIAN JONES
OVIEDO—The Junior Class of the Oviedo High School sponsored their annual Talent Night Friday evening in the school auditorium. They should be congratulated on changing to a Talent Night from the traditional play. This enables them to use talent from the entire school, which brings forth parents, grandparents, sisters, brothers and other relatives, as well as friends to see them perform.

The auditorium seats 300. Chairs were placed everywhere they could be placed and still some remained standing, so the estimated audience would go well over 300 for this occasion.

We saw Mrs. Charles S. Lee, a past president of the P.T.A., who had not been out for a long time on such an occasion—the young grandson was in one of the acts. It did good to see Goldie out again. Seemed like old times. We want to compliment all who participated. Anyone who went enjoyed everything immensely.

George Williams, fourth grader, stole the entire show with his 16 Tons. He walked away with first place.

Danuta Morski, portraying Marilyn Monroe, was also a prize winner, as well as Joe Battle and John Cross.

The sixth grade's Take-Off on Hamlet also won a first place award.

Other acts included Carol Parker's dancing the Charleston; John Heller's "The Kumbakonam"; Ann DeKasha's piano playing; Mary Ann Alayton, June and Peggy Fleming singing a trio; Ann Lundy's Baton Twirling Johnny Balph and his orchestra; Jim Miller's solo; and Janet George's act, "It Ties".

The first grade's act, Love and Marriage deserves much credit as well as All Around the Kitchen by the second grade; They Go Wild Over Me by the third grade; The Yolk Dance by the fifth grade; and Somewhere Over the Rainbow by seventh and eighth grade girls.

George Mean, was a wonderful master of ceremonies. He conducted a quiz contest between acts and gave away silver dollars.

that "many people have said that Sanford has not taken advantage of its water. It was not because of the lack of desire—but the lack of finances."

He called attention to the new jetty that will form a pleasure boat basin and said that it would be "completed in the near future."

"We feel optimistic about our waterway more than ever before. I don't need to tell you what a tremendous asset this canal will mean to Sanford. We would be along a super highway along the St. Johns River," said the Mayor.

Mayor Gatchel pointed out to the Corps of Engineer officers and to the audience the scale model of the proposed Docks and Terminals project and said "I hope you realize that Sanford, in all seriousness, is putting in this facility."

"Sanford is now on its way with the use of the waterfront. If the Canal goes through Sanford will take its place as the port of Central Florida," said Mayor Gatchel.

Col. Herbert Gee, representing the St. Johns-Indian River Improvement Association and the Geological Survey, stated that surveys had already been submitted on traffic for both the Sanford-Titusville Canal and the Cross State Canal.

He pointed out that estimated tonnage would come to 630,000 tons. However, he stated that the figure does not include statements from certain new industries regarding the tonnage that would be moved on the waterway.

"New industries seeking this state will take full advantage of the waterways," said Gee.

Rolland Dean, formerly of Sanford reviewed the many attempts to secure the construction of the Sanford Titusville Canal and outlined four important points favoring the proposed waterway. Flood control, attraction of new industry, value to pleasure craft, and growth were benefits from the proposed waterway.

"The Southern Bell Telephone Co. has estimated 130,000 people will come to this area in four years—our inland waterways must keep pace with the world and Sanford would become the port of Central Florida," he said.

Other speakers during the morning session included Earl Brown of DeLand, president of the St. Johns-Indian River Improvement Association, P. C. Knox of DeLand, former E. Breckenridge of DeLand, and Mrs. Victor Hutchins Jr. of Orlando.

Mrs. Hutchins represented her mother, Mrs. W. E. Colburn of Port Arthur, Tex., the former Miss Mary Chappel of Sanford.

"I don't see how a 12 foot channel built for pleasure boats and flood control would produce these results. We need to solve flood control problems, problems of water lowering and salt intrusion," she said.

The husband of a building contractor, she spoke for the Sanford Titusville canal pointing out that cement from Bunnell, jalousties from Miami and many other products could be shipped by way of the new canal.

She was the only woman speaker during the morning session of the hearing.

A luncheon was held at 12:30 today honoring the visitors to Sanford attending the hearing.

Easter Cantata Is Postponed

The illness of some of the members of the cantata brought about the cancellation of the presentation as originally scheduled, but it is hoped that it may be sung at an early date, it was said.

Announcement will be made in ample time should a new date of presentation be fixed.

His Job His Downfall
MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Television actor Ted Archer appeared in one too many glass houses Monday night. A viewer recognized him as the man he and police had been looking for for six months as a swindler. He was arrested as he left the TV studio.

Tuesday night will be Dr. Donald Coe who will speak on the subject of "Disease and Nemotodes of ornamental plants."

Altamonte Baptist Church To Acquire Building Site

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS—Rev. Paul Middleton, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Altamonte Springs announced this week that the church congregation voted at a recent meeting to purchase the property on the northeast corner of Altamonte and Frost Avenues for a building site. The area covers approximately 170 ft. on Altamonte Ave. by 300 ft. fronting on Frost Ave. which is owned by E. C. Bates.

A special drive for funds is now underway to be climaxed Easter Sunday by a concerted effort to pay for the lot in full by that date.

Following the Easter service the congregation plan to launch a bond issue for the construction of its new educational building and sanctuary. It is hoped that this work will be completed by early summer.

The newly organized group now hold a full schedule of services in the Switzer building, on Altamonte Ave. adjacent to the new building site.

starting salary of $250. per month. In another action, the council voted to accept a bid for a model 1953 eight cylinder, four door standard shift Chevrolet from Holler Motor Sales, Sanford, low bidder of five Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth dealers from Sanford and Orlando. Holler Motor Sales' bid was for $1,600.00.

The car is to be the town's first city owned police car.

Allen Forward, a member of the board of trustees for the Altamonte Chapel, was present to explain the church's request to have an alley opened to traffic, directly north of the educational building.

L. T. Bryan, trustee of the First Baptist Church, asked for permission to use the Community House to hold Sunday School classes. Both of these requests were granted.

Councilman Horace Weltmer insisted that compensation be paid to Mayor Swiford for duties performed and time spent while carrying out his duties. Town Atty. Wilson Alexander said in his opinion each council member and the mayor should receive some fee for their efforts. No official action was taken on the matter at this time.

Bill To Up Orange Advertising Tax Clears 1st Hurdle

TALLAHASSEE—A compromise bill to raise the advertising tax on Florida oranges on a two-year basis cleared the first of four hurdles Tuesday, but still is a long way from the House or Senate floor.

The bill was voted favorably out of the House Finance and Taxation Committee, which met in joint session with the Senate group to hear arguments on the controversial measure.

W. J. Steel of Orlando, attorney for the State Citrus Commission, offered an amendment limiting the raise from three to five cents per box on oranges to two years. Representatives of the Florida Canners Assn. agreed to the compromise.

The Senate committee, however, delayed action on the bill until after the Senate Citrus Committee has acted. Senate Citrus Chairman Douglas Stenstrom of Sanford said he did not know when he could get the committee together. The House Citrus Committee plans to vote on the bill Thursday.

Support American Cancer Society; Help Fight Dreaded Disease

"C" Day is just over—but with a concerted drive just behind us there should be no more of efforts toward building a fund that will help accomplish the purpose—Conquer Cancer.

Again this year, those who are serving as volunteers in the Seminole County organization of the American Cancer Society, are hoping to go over the top in their quota to provide funds for a program to thwart an ever increasing threat to human suffering from cancer.

In Seminole County alone, last year, there were 45 deaths from cancer reported by the Florida State Board of Health. This disastrous toll should serve as an incentive to develop a fund to quell the terrific suffering and eventual death.

The funds, raised by voluntary contribu-

Apr. 15 Draws Near

The dreadful deadline, April 15, approaches. By that time all citizens who have not already done so must file reports on their incomes for last year and pay any taxes they owe.

Paying these taxes can be painful, and dealing with complicated, badly written income tax forms can be frustrating and a trial to even those who are ordinarily patient. Somewhere in the middle of the forms, after the taxpayer has referred to line three, section one, part two, then tried to remember why he referred to it, he is willing to throw the whole thing up and take his chances with Alcatraz.

Yet, for all the inconvenience, for all the disappointment of having to give up such a large portion of our incomes, we are indeed fortunate. There are many people in the world who would fill the forms out without complaint, who would pay taxes with no regret, to enjoy the privileges which are ours.

It is natural that we should complain, and that we should hope for tax relief. But we must remember that despite the faults of our government and the unwise manner in which our taxes are sometimes used, we do get our money's worth and more. "Taxes," said the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, "are the price I pay for civilization."

It is a consoling thought to hold when we seal our returns in an envelope and send in our payments.

Community Industrial Development

AVON PARK—Top national and state industrialization specialists will be featured speakers at a community industrial development conference to be held at the Jacaranda Hotel here on April 24-25.

A major address will be given by Milton D. Blacker, of Winter Park, industrial development engineer for Florida Power Corporation. He will share the spotlight with William J. Clapp, president of Florida Power; H. McKinley Conway, publisher of Industrial Development, U. S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C. The General Extension Division of Florida (GERD), Florida Power, and the Florida Planning and Senior Association are jointly sponsoring the conference. Also cooperating are the Florida Development Commission, Tallahassee, and the Avon Park Community Development Association.

The program will bring together manufacturers' representatives and community leaders in an attempt to define the specific needs of industry and the steps Florida communities can take to prepare for possible plant location. Blacker, who for seven years was manager of the Orlando Industrial Board, and is a past president of the Orlando Manufacturers Association and a director of the Southern Industrial Development Council, will address the conference on the subject of industrial parks, buildings and sites as factors in development.

Clapp, who is also a member of the Florida Development Commission, will deliver the keynote address, discussing the broad implications of Florida's industrialization on the local community.

Conway is the nation's leading publisher of periodicals and reference materials on industry. He will address a banquet meeting on the subject: "Nation-wide competition among communities."

Larson has been largely responsible for the development of federal programs to provide industrialization services to individual communities. He will outline the U. S. Department of Commerce program, and the various types of aid which are available. Other participants will include Howard Smith, field executive for the Florida Development Commission; B. Beasley, chief of the reports and analysis division of the Florida Industrial Commission; John A. Hart, of Miami, publisher of the Florida Realty Letter; C. Wickham, Sking, director of administration for the Minneapolis - Honeywell plant in Clearwater; David O. Nihart, manager of the Dade City chamber of commerce; Mary Ellen Ward, Avon Park planning consultant;

Frederick H. Bair Jr., Auburndale planning consultant and executive secretary of the Florida Planning and Zoning Association (FPZA); and two Florida Power executives: Robert E. Gledd, director of the community development and James I. Shoemaker, sales analyst.

Conference coordinator is W. W. Young, head of the General Extension Division's economic development and community service department. Registration information may be obtained by writing him at 809 Seagle Building, Gainesville, Florida.

"MUCH PEOPLE . . . when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet Him, and cried, Hosanna: Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord."—St. John 12: 12, 13.

tions are divided and used on a five-category basis.

Of the total, 28 per cent issued for research. For public and professional education on the subject of cancer, 30 per cent of the fund is used. Direct and indirect service to indigent cancer patients within the county takes 27 per cent; administration uses 8 per cent; and fund raising uses only 7 per cent.

All local work is on a voluntary basis within the county and the Gift and Loan closet maintained by the Seminole County Unit of the American Cancer Society served 11 patients last year.

It is logical that contributions to the cancer fund are used to alleviate human suffering through research, education, and service.

Only through concentrated efforts in a community can the disease which has gained a strangle hold in America be diminished. No one person or organization can give the time, money, or scientific knowledge necessary to conquer.

To conquer cancer there must be a little help from everyone and only then will the disastrous toll be dissipated, only then will suffering be reduced to a minimum.

Some day cancer too will be an unknown factor, but until then the cooperative help of a generous community will be needed.

Money Not Answer

Teamster President Dave Beck proposed to spend one million dollars to give "his side" of the story on the charges that were made against him by the Senate committee investigating labor racketeering. But apparently Beck's proposal met strong opposition from some Teamster officials, who were responding to pressure from the rank and file. The Beck "public relations" fund will be far short of a million.

The idea that the expenditure of a million dollars can have effect on the way people will judge Beck is disturbing. If he is innocent of wrong doing it should take far less than that to prove it. There are many who believe that simply by giving truthful answers to a number of questions, and presenting his financial records for examination, he can remove suspicion—provided that there is no basis for suspicion.

Beck is a citizen. An such he is entitled to invoke all of the privileges which the Constitution guarantees. Yet by refusing to account for the manner in which he handled funds he has demonstrated an alarming contempt for the opinion of the society in which labor unions must function. His was not a case of a man willing to plead the Fifth Amendment and take the consequences himself. His union and the members he represents stand to be affected seriously by the results of this investigation.

Not one million dollars worth of public relations expenditures nor 10 million dollars worth—can repair the damage that Dave Beck has done to the labor movement. Only a willingness on his part to tell the truth, publicly and completely, can do that. If he decides to pursue this latter course he will need far less than a million.

During 1956 American doctors wrote 34 million prescriptions for tranquilizing drugs, according to an official report. At least an explanation might be found in growing disregard of the old highly recommended daily health schedule consisting of eight hours for work, eight for play and eight for sleep.

Kinsman To Represent Fla. Power, Light Co.

ATLANTA—George C. Kinsman, of Miami, was elected to the 16-state regional advisory council on nuclear energy here today.

Kinsman, vice president of Florida Power & Light Company, was named to represent the power industry and is one of seven members-at-large.

The council is supported by the 16 southern states to help promote atomic developments in the region on an interstate basis.

Representing seven key fields of activity, the new at-large members were elected by mail balloting of the 16 original council members appointed by their respective governors. Dr. John E. Ivey Jr., director of the southern regional education board and temporary chairman of the council, announced the results of the polling.

"With the 23-man membership soon complete, the full council will soon complete its organization and carry on with the major tasks before it," Dr. Ivey said.

By fields they represent, the new at-large members are:

Agriculture—Dr. C. C. Murray, dean, school of agriculture, University of Georgia, Athens.

Education—Dr. Louis A. Pardo, vice president, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg.

Industry—Edwin A. Jones, president, J. A. Jones construction company, Charlotte.

Labor—Edmond C. Oggs, commissioner of labor and industry, commonwealth of Virginia, Richmond.

Medicine—Dr. James R. Maxwell, Maxfield Clinic, Dallas.

Power—George Kinsman, vice president, Florida Power & Light Company, Miami.

Public Health—Dr. R. H. Hutcheson, commissioner of public health, state of Tennessee, Nashville.

The council, which first met in February in Atlanta, was established at the request of the 1956 southern governors' conference. The governors provided for state contributions to support the council's work, and attached the interstate presidency to the SREI for administration. They also asked that the council itself, after its establishment, name seven at-large members to insure representation of key social and economic groups on the body.

The original 16 members of the council:

Alabama, State Rep. Vaughan Hill Hobson, Montgomery; Arkansas, William P. Rock, executive secretary, Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, Little Rock; Delaware, Dr. G. Fred Somers, associate dean and associate director, school of agriculture, University of Delaware, Newark, Delaware.

Florida, J. Velma Keen, attorney and chairman, Florida Nuclear Development Commission, Tallahassee; Georgia, Frank H. Neely, chairman, Georgia Nuclear Advisory Commission; Kentucky, Dr. R. C. Ernst, dean, speed scientific school, University of Louisville; Louisiana, Dr. Richard C. Keene, professor of physics, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge.

Maryland, Henry T. Douglas, manager, new industry location, Baltimore association of commerce; North Carolina, W. D. Carmichael Jr., vice president, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill; Oklahoma, Dr. Randall T. Klemms, director, Oklahoma department of commerce and industry; Oklahoma City.

South Carolina, R. M. Cooper, director, state development board, Columbia; Tennessee, Dr. George H. Whitatch, executive director, state industrial and agricultural development commission, Nashville; Texas, Frank Norton, attorney, and chairman, Texas committee on atomic energy, Dallas; Virginia, W. H. Caldwell, commissioner, division of planning and economic development, Richmond; West Virginia, Dr. Irvin Stewart, president, West Virginia University, Morgantown.

Keep Child Amused While Convalescing

By HERMAN H. BOWEN, M.D.

IT'S a great relief to learn that your ill youngster is on the road to recovery. But convalescence may take a long time.

Taking care of a convalescing child, especially if he is confined to bed, can be a real chore. Each a youngster, you see, is easily upset, tired—and easily bored.

Doctor's Advice

It's up to you to see that he gets enough rest when he needs it and to keep him occupied when he is not tired. Get your doctor's advice on just what your child can and can't do while recovering from an illness or injury.

Interests of a young convalescent change quickly. Of course, there's always television, radio and phonograph records to help pass the time. But he'll tire of these things eventually.

Travel Folders
All kids like vacations. And if your child is at all interested in adventure, he'll probably get a kick out of looking through travel folders. You can get them easily from travel agents, railroads and most newspapers.

Let your child help with simple household tasks like finding places where clothing needs to be mended and chipping nuts or shredding vegetables.

The best time for you to do your own housework is in the morning. Not only do you feel more like working during those hours, but your bedridden youngster is fresh enough to amuse himself for a while without your help.

Pleasant But Firm

Be pleasant but firm when it is time for him to eat or to nap. Bedtime in the evening might be made more pleasant if it includes a warm bath and maybe a simple rubdown.

The youngster probably will find it more relaxing and more pleasant if Daddy takes over for those final chores of the day. I think mother will enjoy the few moments' rest, too.

TV NOTES

By HUD JENNINGS & JIM BURKETT

In the course of a day's business we are asked many questions concerning TV. Let's investigate a few.

Now and then we are asked, for example, if it is safe to leave a TV set on during an electrical storm. Generally speaking, it is safe, but there is always the long-shot possibility of a strike. Pulling the cord would be a help if lightning were to hit the antenna which is, fortunately, a rare occurrence.

Why does a radio operating in the same room as a TV cause lines on the picture screen? Possibly this results from the radio oscillator radiating at a frequency that affects the TV receiver.

Occasionally we hear from people who are concerned because the screen keeps flashing for a short period after the set is turned off. Relax. The set won't blow itself into the attic. This condition is caused by the filter condenser for the high voltage discharging because no power is being applied.

We are also asked what make of TV is the best buy on the market. At BENNETT'S TV SALES & SERVICE we feel that Dumont turns out a fine piece of electronic merchandise which for performance and reliability is as good a buy as you can hope to find. Drop in at BENNETT'S TV SALES & SERVICE, 408 West First St., and check the Dumont feature by feature. You'll most likely agree that here is your next set. Phone FA 2-2221.

A CRISIS IN FLORIDA

MORE THAN 5000 NEW TEACHERS NEEDED!

GOOD TEACHERS MAKE GOOD SCHOOLS!

We have many but can we keep them?
(There were more than 3000 teacher resignations last year.)

Can we afford to send our children to overcrowded classrooms, taught by unqualified, untrained and underpaid teachers?
NO! Education is the mainstay of Democracy, and teachers are the mainstay of education. At the heart of every school stands the teacher—without him there is no real education.

Will Higher Salaries Mean Better Teachers?

YES! Better trained teachers will be attracted to Florida, and incompetent teachers with sub-standard training can be weeded out.

People Of Florida Want Good Schools! Do You?

Wire or write the Hon. Douglas Stenstrom, Florida State Senate; Hon. Mack N. Cleveland, and Hon. Gordon Frederick, House of Representatives, Tallahassee, Florida, urging their support of the program recommended by the Florida Education Association, with provisions for adequate means of financing the BETTER SCHOOLS PROGRAM.

Now Hear This!

by JACKY FENWICK

At least 24 people had a wonderful time Monday night! That's how many turned out for the Square Dancing Lessons at the Chief's Club. Things were in a state of confusion for a while during the afternoon, because the "caller" flew away! By that I mean L. Harry Griffin, who had been scheduled to "call", and teach the group, found himself on Monday's flight schedule! Since it was too late to reach everyone, and arrange to postpone it, arrangements followed! Jacky Fenwick stepped out to be a "help" in this "emergency". Some discovered he had unwittingly been stationed, and he "saved" the evening for everyone! There has been a slight change in the way it had been planned, and a chance that will be sure to please everyone. Chief Griffin has generously offered to donate his time, complete fee of charge! So, instead of the previous advertised $1.00 per person, or $1.00 per couple, it's all for free, so you can come whether the budget "stretches" or not! You're sure to have a good time, as every report I had of Monday night's fun was about as enthusiastic as anyone could make it! The next get-together for this "happy group" will be this coming Monday, April 15, at 8:00 p. m. If you couldn't make it last time, try and be there next week!

Had a nice long "gab fest" with Mrs. Pat McClure, who heads the V. A. H. T. wives group, and some where in the conversation she managed to tell me that they had a good turnout for their Monday night meeting held at Dr. Gordon Backer, scheduled to speak on the "Medicare Program", was accompanied by the Air Station's senior medical officer, Dr. Hansberger. First of all, Dr. Hansberger spoke about "Medicare", followed by a question and answer period. Then Dr. Backer gave a talk on "The Common Allments of Children". This also was followed by a questions and answers period. These two periods turned out to be not only interesting, but informative. Much was learned by many, and the whole thing lasted a great deal longer than anyone expected it to! In the way of refreshments, coffee, finger-sandwiches, and glazed doughnuts were served. All agreed it had been a very interesting meeting.

A few more people are taking advantage of the facilities offered to Navy people at the Lake Golden Recreation Area. Last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. William Pulver, and their two children, Donny and Steve, along with the Laniers, Rob, Diane, Cindy, and Johnny, had a picnic supper at Lake Golden and decided it was a nice spot for just such "goings on". Joanne and Don Fleishman got together with the Pulver's on Sunday night, for a card game, at the Pulver's home on Forest Dr.

I may be boring a lot of people with constant repetition about the E. M. Club "Name" Contest, but it's the only way I have of urging everyone to get out there and enter! This way the wives may be reached, as well as the men, and I may be prejudiced, but I think a "woman's touch" might be what the place needs! I'm not asking you to make a special trip out there to do it, but only to remember to enter when you find yourself out there.

V. A. H. 5 won their game Monday afternoon! (Thank goodness!) They beat the Marines 7-4, so our house was peaceful Monday night!

Speaking of V. A. H. 5, (and I know I do a lot.) must add my congratulations to those of so many others, on their winning the "Bombing Derby"! The whole squadron has been waiting impatiently for their "jets", and can well be proud that they won without them!

Elsie Knight Circle Meet Held Monday Eve. In Hasty Home

Mrs. Irving Pryor has charge of the program for the meeting of the Elsie Knight Circle which was held at the home of Mrs. V. G. Hasty on Laurel Ave. Monday evening with Mrs. Hasty presiding.

The subject of the program, "Semi-centennial of the Carver School for missions and social work" gave interesting highlights into the founding and growth of the school which originally was started in Greenville, S. C. and later moved to Louisville, Ky. where it is now located.

Mrs. C. A. Anderson, stewardship chairman, taught a chapter in the book, "Stewardship Enriches Life". Mrs. F. L. Dampier reported on a visit to the County Home that she and Miss Martha Fox had made recently. It was voted by the circle to "adopt" a child at the Florida Baptist Home for Children in Arcadia. Mrs. Pryor was instructed to write to the home for the name of a child to remember on special occasions.

Mrs. V. C. Messenger invited the group to meet with her in May. Following the business and program meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Millers Close Out Exhibition Season Today

The Minneapolis Millers traveled to Daytona yesterday to face Rochester in a morning game but found the grounds soft and called the game off so that they would not break up the field for the New York Giants-Cleveland game in the afternoon.

The Millers close out their Spring Exhibition Season today in Daytona as they face Omaha. They will leave Sanford tomorrow in small groups by plane.

Most of the Minneapolis Millers players watched the Giants beat Cleveland 4-2 and then thought nervously of the meeting held by the top brass of the Giant organization afterwards.

After winning a wide open game from Springfield 18-13 Monday in Memorial Stadium, most of the players were thankful for an opportunity to rest for the day.

Last night Jack Schwarz, head of the Giant Farm System, Red Davis, Minneapolis manager, and Bill Rigley, Giants manager, had dinner together and a lengthy meeting. At press time there was no official word from the meeting and those attending were unavailable for comment. Indication is that the meeting has been resumed.

The only official results of the meeting to date is the acquiring of four players by Minneapolis from the Giants. Henry Thompson, veteran third baseman with the Giants for eight years was assigned to the Millers along with Ed Bressoud, who moved up from the Millers after two seasons with them as short stop. Bressoud was raised to the Giant club during the summer. Along with Thompson and Bressoud the Millers also acquired Jim Constable, a left-handed pitcher who had been with Minneapolis three years before going to the Giants in the Summer, and Fernando Rodriguez, a right-handed pitcher.

There has been no hint of the future of the New York Giants with Sanford, but Carl Hubbell, Jack Schwarz, and Red Davis were lavish with praise for their welcome into Sanford this year just prior to taking the trip to Daytona yesterday.

The hope of having the Giants come to Sanford in the immediate future is unlikely, however, despite the high hopes of many Sanford people. It is understood that the Giants still have two years to go before their contract with Phoenix, Arizona, has expired.

Lawrence Designed Diplomat Course

HOLLYWOOD, Fla.—Robert F. Lawrence—a man with nearly 40 years experience designing golf courses—has again utilized his creative talents in moulding the Diplomat golf course which will be headed by Carl Middlecott as pro.

The Diplomat, part of Samuel Friedland's $20,000,000 hotel resort development, may well cap a career that began for Lawrence back in 1919 when he was associated with the top golf course architect of the '20's—Wiliam Flynn.

Flynn and Lawrence designed the Idian Creek link and Lawrence first tried his individual talents in laying out the Miami Shores Country Club back in the 1920's.

He later was retained as architect for Pepper Pike and Country Club of Cleveland, 16th in Ohio, and designed several courses in Pennsylvania.

Other local courses laid out by Lawrence are the Fort Lauderdale Club and Country Club and the Pompano Country Club.

But none of these have given him so much personal enjoyment as the Diplomat—a course with which Friedland has given him a completely free hand to do one of

Cocoa Edges Sanford 4-3 In Extra Inning

"WE HAD IT BUT WE MUFFED IT," LAUDE

The Cocoa Tigers tightened their grip on second place in the Orange Belt Conference last night in Cocoa as they edged the Sanford Seminoles 4-3 in a rousing game that went into an extra inning and was a heartbreaking loss for the Seminoles.

The game was heartbreaking because the Seminoles didn't come through in the pinch and left a total of 17 men stranded on bases during the game and led for the first seven innings of play.

The Seminoles played a terrific game. They pulled off two double plays, Eddie Barbour, who started the game but tired after the sixth, struck out nine opposing batters in six innings.

Even in the eighth inning the Seminoles had the advantage as they loaded the bases with no outs and were unable to realize a run out of the inning.

But the result of the loss by Sanford was only proof that the Seminoles had the stuff with which to break the conference race wide open, and the game gave more vigor to the Seminoles determination to upset Winter Park tomorrow afternoon with a probably radically reshuffled lineup.

Baseball coach Dave Laude was lavish with most of his praise. "We showed me what we're capable of," he said. "We outplayed them, we were sharp, we led in the game all the way, but we just couldn't come through in the pinch. We had the game but we muffed it."

Laude said this morning that a radical change would be part of the result of the game last night. "We can still take three conference with a decent break," he declared. "If we can knock off Winter Park tomorrow afternoon, and I think we will, that will throw Cocoa and Winter Park into a tie for first place in the conference. We'll meet Cocoa again, and the score will be different then. Cocoa will meet Winter Park again, and if we can help whip them tomorrow I think they'll start slipping back."

Laude said that he would pin his hopes for the conference on a three-way tie for first place that would result in a play-off. "Then," he said, "we'll take it the way it comes, and we'll do all right."

The Seminoles face undefeated Winter Park tomorrow afternoon in Winter Park.

Johnny Yeackle, Doyle Corley, Ronnie Russel, Brantley Schirard, Eddie Barbour, and Ken McMurray all got hits for Sanford.

L. C. Smith, who relieved Barbour in the seventh was charged with the loss.

At noon today track coach Fred Ganas ordered his charges to eat lightly and be ready to continue their trail of school record breaking events that have highlighted this week's action in Seminole High School track meets.

Ganas said that he had never anticipated the spectators support that has marked this season's athletic program here.

"The boys are putting all they've got into these meets, and the results are the proof. School records are falling right and left and the boys are really putting on a good show for their new and expanding audience."

Ganas said that runners like Murray Nance, Phil Byrd, and Mike Tammy have put on marvelous shows of form and skill so far this year.

"We are making the schools in this area take notice of us now," Ganas said. "We're getting tougher and tougher in competition every week. Things are looking up, and we're on our way to a sound, enthusiastic, and successful athletic program here."

Tuesday afternoon the Seminoles hit the century mark as they rolled up 100 points against Eustis and Tavares in a tri-angular meet. "That means we're over the hill and on our way," Ganas declared enthusiastically.

Spectator attendance at the opening of the season for the track meet was estimated to be around 50 persons. It has now grown into an enthusiastic throng of cheering fans that number between 200 and 300.

Payon amounts to one-fifth of all U. S. man-made fiber production.

Conring The News

BY VIRGINIA CUNN

I am using a new typewriter this afternoon since mine is being fixed, so if this one doesn't write like me, it is borrowed from Sonny Powell, and it is determined to get the best of me. It's not Sonny's fault, as he tried to urge another on me, but this looked so cute and new. Not used to these gadgets. Anyway I'll try.

Bill and Betty Lomas took their four oldest children (leaving their Laurie home) to Sanibel Island last week-end. This lovely spot is on the West coast of Florida and is accessible only by ferry from Fort Myers. It is famous as a shell collectors paradise. The Lomases were accommodated on the adjoining island of Captiva, and since they were joining friends there the week-end was far from dull. The waters of the gulf can be surpassed in color only by those surrounding the Pacific Islands—those lucky Lomases.

Congratulations to Harold Rine for winning the Garland W. Spencer Memorial Golf Tournament. Also we are proud of Cy Filton for winning the second flight over Harry Cushing. Cy's brother and sister-in-law are here for a week from Hamilton Ohio. They are Vaden and Grace Filton—Vaden is Cy's younger brother, but not more than twenty years. Grace is originally from Richmond, Virginia, and since by now Jean Filton will have accused me of using them for fillers, I will no longer expound on the many interesting things I found out about the Vaden Filtons. Since they will be here for a week, I'll sneak it in spasmodically.

More golf news comes from Naples where our girls are fighting the battle in the Annual Women's tournament, which incidentally, will be held in Sanford next year. Either the weather was too hot for them, the wind too strong or the course too new—anyway the pride of Sanford didn't shine in the qualifying rounds on Monday. The course is longer than our own and perhaps the length was taken up in extra sand traps. We are convinced that some of them will shine anyway in their own flights. The very fact that fourteen from Sanford went to the tournament is enough to prove we have a town of ardent golfers, as only double that amount went from Jacksonville, and they have four golf courses that I know of, and maybe another by now, the place is growing so fast. Cheer on especially for our two navy girls, Jeanne Foulk and Louise Parker, although we cannot slight the other twelve who are good friends, too. At least, if they don't win at all, let us hope that they are having a good time, because that is the main purpose of the whole thing anyway.

Was amused this morning by the confusion caused by the installation of the new "walk" signals on First and Park. Guess we are all so used to yawning that it is hard to believe when all the cars stop at once. People were jamming up on every corner while the walk signals were flashed, then when the traffic started to move, they darted across. It's a good thing innovations come gradually, or we might all be run over. The Sanford scene changes so quickly that a constant visitor might well wonder if he were in the same town. In a short time we will have a new Farmer's Market, a White-way to light up First street, and a Civic Auditorium. Sanford is going in the right direction, even if a few miss the sleepiness of the Sanford of a few short years ago.

BAPTIST CIRCLES

The Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church met Monday for its regular monthly business and social session. The various circles convened in appointed classrooms. This meeting was followed by a covered dish luncheon at noon and a program at 1 p. m. on "Observing Youth Activities Week". President for the day was Mrs. A. B. Childers.

The following were elected as nominating committee: Mrs. Jack Fox, Mrs. Irving Pryor, and Mrs. J. Roy Britt. A check talk dealing the work of the Training School and the Carver School of Missions was presented by Mrs. Charles Arnold. Mrs. H. C. Moore accompanied by Mrs. Roy Britt at the piano sang softly "Christ for the Whole Wide World" as Mrs. Arnold talked. The devotional given by Mrs. George Dixon was taken from Hebrew 11:1-3. Brooks Jr. read an interesting story written by Jane Stringer a student at Carver School, which told of her pleasant experience there. Mrs. M. H. Wade gave a very interesting Stewardship Message. Mrs. W. C. Lynn and Mrs. Blake Centered around the Easter theme was the devotional given by Mrs. M. N. Cleveland entitled "Our Living With the Eternal Word". Mrs. F. E. Bolt gave the lesson on Stewardship.

Arrangements were made for visiting shut-in members. Mrs. A. L. Thomas gave a summary of the excellent work being done by the young people in the primary and intermediate classes. These classes contributed $27.00 toward the Annie Armstrong fund.

Present were: Mrs. Clyde Humphrey, Mrs. M. N. Cleveland, Mrs. F. E. Bolt, Mrs. A. L. Thomas, Mrs. H. W. Bucker, Mrs. A. L. Thomas, Mrs. Tooby, Mrs. A. L. Thomas, Mrs. L. A. Phillips, Mrs. Hal A. Colbert, Mrs. H. E. Turner and a visitor, Mrs. A. B. Childers.

The Sanford High School P-TA held its regularly monthly meeting last night in the Auditorium of the school. After routine reports were heard the group discussed the Florida Educational Association's stand on bills, 30 and 20 concerning the teachers' salary and better school facilities. The program was strongly in agreement with the P.E.A. and recognizes the needs of the school system.

Woodrow Cash, chairman of the nominating committee revealed the names of new officers. They are: W. J. Crabtree, president, B. F. Richards, vice president, Fred Murray, secretary and Ted Williams, treasurer.

Stuart Gatchell, Director of Secondary Instruction spoke on "What Sanford Will Do About that the W.M.U. of Seaboard Association will meet at 10 a. m. April 23 at Central Church, Daytona Beach, with a covered dish at noon. Mrs. Turner Lodge was asked to be publication officer in the absence of Mrs. M. N. Cleveland who has moved away. Mrs. Abraham closed the meeting with a poem "Shut Ins and a Prayer".

The following members were present: Mrs. B. C. Moore, Mrs. C. L. Park, Mrs. John D. Ahlstrom, Mrs. O. F. Gibbs, Mrs. Tooby, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Fred Myers, Mrs. J. Cunningham, Mrs. Turner Lodge, Mrs. Willie C. Pippin and one visitor, Mrs. Horton from Miami.

Circle Number Five
Circle five met in the T.C.L. classroom of the First Baptist Church with Mrs. S.A.B. Wilkinson presiding. Mrs. W. D. Gardner led the circle in the W.M.U. watchwords and opened her devotional taken from John 1:10 "What God Can Do For Us". Mrs. C. B. Burke gave routine secretary and treasurer's reports. Challenge For Dr. Mays

CHAPTER I
HELEN BLANDIN stirred, and lifted, blinked her eyes and straightened the pillow on her head. Musing at the end of the week, John was very late. Ten minutes after eleven was no time to go to bed. Not on a Monday night, with spring housecleaning ahead of her, the month's work to plan—and today's tasks still aching relentlessly in her muscles.

Her head tilted alertly. A flash of light swept across the window drape; she got up swiftly and snatched on the garage lights, then walked to the side door. John's smile was both glad to see her, and reproving that she should be waiting. "I'll talk to you about all night," he threatened as he kissed her. "I wanted to hear about the meeting."

"That's good, because sure as anything I'm going to talk about it." She turned to look at him. As he hung his trench coat in the hall closet, the bright overhead light shone down upon his coat of brown hair and threw a green shadow of his pipe-in-mouth profile against one wall. There was, definitely, an air of repressed excitement about Dr. John Blandin.

"I'll get some milk," she said, passing him. "We should go to bed." She was already in the kitchen, setting things upon a tray. When she returned to the living room, John was slanted into his armchair, and he lifted an eyebrow ruefully. "You spoil me—even to fresh brownies."

"When he had finished a third of the milk and two brownies, Helen slapped her hands flat upon the rubbed wood of the table in front of her. "Now," she said, "you may tell me!" He grinned at her. "You know I'm excited!"

"It is exciting," he broke in. "You see—we're going to have our screening clinic." He leaned toward her. "Honestly, Helen! Now. Right away. Complete. No patches, no make-shifts."

"Not at the school?"

"Oh, yes, but the whole building put into professional service, with proper equipment—and everything!" Helen rubbed her short and fringed. "The makeshift operation was rather fun," she smiled. "Our Sunday get-togethers to raise the drive, out the grass, make curtains. I'm taking my turn at the switchboard. But tell me about it, John."

While she still thought back over the big project slowly undertaken and slowly developed by a group of earnest doctors, John Blandin finished his snack, and took out his pipe. "The makeshift served its purpose," he agreed. His brown eyes glinted. "The fun we had had in men together: our strained backs and skinned knuckles make up a big investment. After a time—oh, about twenty years—we've been developing the thing into what we wanted it to be. But—his soft voice broke with eagerness, "there's work that should be done now. Helen! We need this thing now! We need it right out here in the County—we're growing so fast out here in the suburbs, what with our shopping centers and our housing developments. Well, I don't need to argue the thing to you. You've been sold on the idea for as long as I have—and that's over three years."

He got to his feet and paced around the room, a slight man with a tense face, and clever hands. His voice trembled with emotion. "It must be as wonderful to you as to me, Helen, to have twenty years suddenly telescoped into a few months!" It came to the table and leaned toward her. "We'd have made it in time," he assured her. "But now—"

"Will it take in the whole County?" she asked. That would be a radical change in plan. "No, darling. Our prospectus—his upper lip fluttered upon his pipe stem. The word had been a joke for so long. "Our prospectus," he said more firmly, "is not to be changed. We'll serve the four towns as originally planned. Burbank, Shrevebury, Folsom and Lansdowne. Of course there will be no geographical limit set upon patients—upon them. They can come from Thebesoo if they like. But doctors from only four suburbs will participate. More said something tonight about taking in other communities—but I argue that to get it too big will worsen the situation in the city—with people and the doctors, too, living too far away from the center. It would be better to let the northern part of the County develop its own center."

"Of course, darling." Her pencil point crossed out the most kind, wrote picnic men in its place. "It's worth," John was saying, "anything it would cost! I've always known that." He puffed smoke about his head. "Even if it had taken twenty years to develop. We need just such a clinic out here in the County. Our only hospital out here is the County Hospital, which is not set up to function as a screening clinic and which is bound to be influenced by politics."

"Huddled," said Helen, writing lemon pie for Saturday night's dessert.

"At least nothing of the sort has ever been proven. And just because we don't like Wilkins-Smith..."

"I'd like him better if he were called just Smith."

Helen turned her sheet of paper over, and wrote lemon pie again for the end of the month. "Go on," she urged. "I shouldn't have digressed."

Canal Called State's Most Essential Project

Minor Opposition Heard

Only minor opposition to the Sanford-Titusville Canal proposal cropped up yesterday during the final hours of the hearing conducted at the Mayfair Inn.

Col. E. E. Kirkpatrick called on those opposing the new waterway during the afternoon session which was adjourned at 4:15 p. m.

Judge Ernest Householder represented both the Board of Seminole County Commissioners and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce before the Army Corps of Engineers and its staff. The Judge spoke near noon for the Sanford-Titusville Canal.

He told the officials "It takes the combined act and gift of God and the realization and work of man for the creation of the Sanford-Titusville Canal connecting the St. Johns River and the Indian River.

Here we sit in an enlightened age of progress and do not want to make it useless," said the Judge.

"As a nation we have accomplished wonders with our natural resources," he said, and "we have conquered our streams and rivers and made them useful for man. We have constructed harbors and tamed our oceans so man could make use of our waters. We have gone over, under and through our mountains, and we have made use of our air and the elements above us for the fastest transportation."

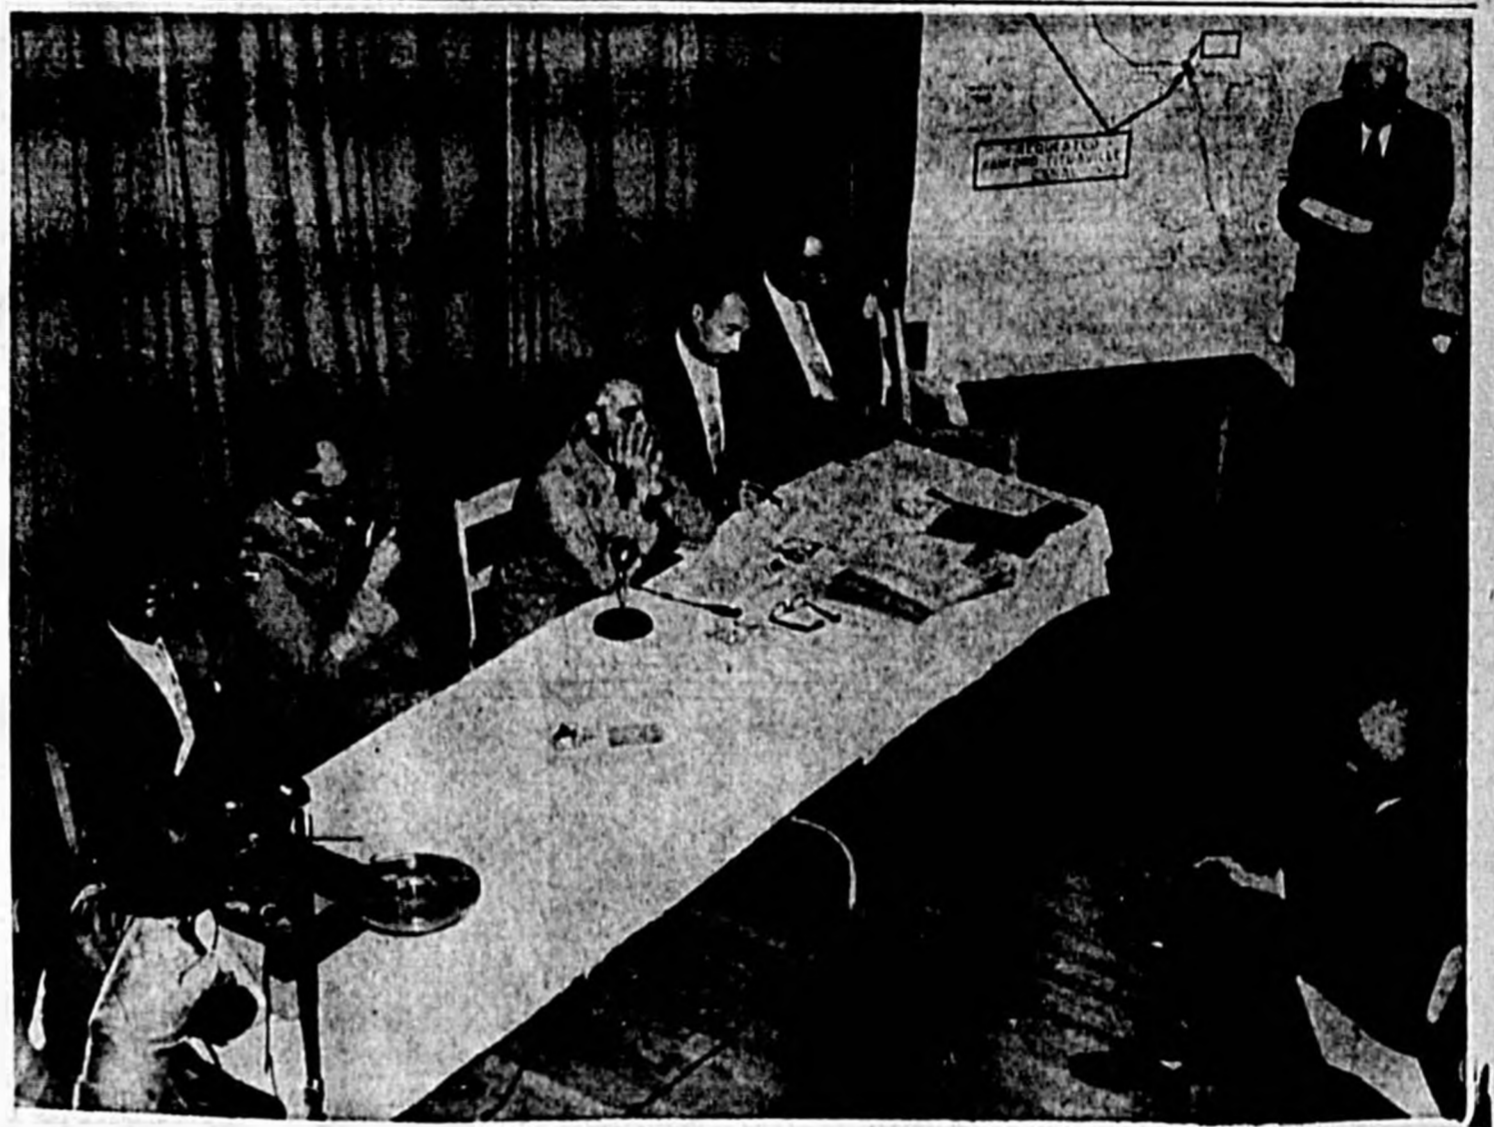

He said "A great discovery has been made in recent years—that Florida is not only a place to make a living, but a place to live. So millions upon millions of our people have their eyes, hearts and desires upon Florida. And the demand for this project is outstanding."

"The people of not only Seminole County and other adjacent counties but of the nation are knocking at your door to recommend and approve this essential waterway improvement," said Judge Householder.

The opening of the canal will give Central Florida direct connection with Canaveral and will mean hundreds of thousands of tons of water transportation to the Central Florida area, commented the Seminole County Judge.

And he concluded "It is the most essential project in Florida today."

Opposition to the Sanford-Titusville Canal came from sportsmen's associations and sportsmen generally.

Hearing Called On Bill To Create Department To Handle Labor Feuds

'58 Women's State Golf Tourney Will Be Played Here

The 1958 Women's State Golf Tournament will be held in Sanford next year at the Mayfair Inn Country Club, according to word received by Frank Mebane Jr., manager of the Mayfair Inn from Naples this morning.

Mebane said that the tournament would be held here during the month of April, 1958 but that the exact date of the meet has not yet been set. He said that the tournament would attract 2000 or more women golf enthusiasts from over the entire state for an entire week.

The Mayfair Inn manager pointed out "We already have received the 1958 Men's State Golf Tournament scheduled here for next year during which an additional 200 or more golfers will be attracted to Sanford for a week."

The two tournaments will advertise the Mayfair Inn and Golf Club over the entire state, said Mebane when he received word that the next year's women's tournament was slated to be played in Sanford.

With the two tournaments attracting Florida golfers to Sanford and the December Mayfair Inn's PGA tournament "will make Sanford, the Mayfair Inn, and the Mayfair Inn Country Club the golf mecca of Florida," said Mebane.

Employer-Employee Banquet Of DCT Program Monday

The first annual Employer-Employee Banquet of the Diversified Cooperative Training Program will be held Monday night at 7 p. m. at Seminole High School, according to an announcement made today by the director, Louis J. Girard.

Sixteen students of the high school organization and their employers will attend the banquet to which guests have been invited. Guests will include representatives of the State Department of Education's vocational section; the chairman of the County school board, chairman of the Seminole County board of school trustees, Superintendent of Public Instruction; the vocational director of the Seminole County school system, and both the principal and assistant principal of Seminole High School, the chairman of the DCT Advisory committee, and a representative of the Seminole High School faculty.

Principle speaker for the occasion will be Lee P. Moore, an investment consultant of Goodbody and Co. whose topic will be "The Nation's Market Place."

County Principals Are Reappointed

The Seminole County Board of Education, this morning, reappointed the principals of Seminole County Schools to their positions for the 1957-58 term, according to Superintendent of Schools R. T. Milwee.

There were no new principals appointed, he said. The entire morning today was spent discussing the building program of the Seminole County School system in an attempt to laying the forthcoming building program in a feasible manner.

TALLAHASSEE — The House Labor Committee today called a public hearing at 8 a. m. April 11 on Gov. LeRoy Collins' bill to create a new department under the Industrial Commission to handle labor disputes.

Rep. John B. Orr Jr. of Dade, committee chairman, appointed a two-man subcommittee to study the bill in the meantime. Orr said he wanted to defer action at this time because of numerous requests for a public hearing.

The committee also delayed action on a bill by Rep. Cecil Costin of Gulf to guarantee that employees elected to public office may get their old jobs back at the same pay and same seniority. Labor spokesmen favored the bill but agreed it needed further study.

"I have some serious misgivings about this type of legislation," Orr said. "I would like to have some evidence of substantial discrimination that would warrant our intruding again on business."

Chester Daniels of Sanford, spokesman for the CIO Council, said the purpose of the bill was to "encourage working people of Florida to get into public office. The government belongs to all the people."

Red Cross Drive Progresses Slowly, $4,859.72 Total

The Seminole County Chapter of the American Red Cross is continuing its efforts to reach the hundreds of people who have not been contacted for membership and funds such as are now being used in cyclone and tornado relief for many hundreds of people in the Southeastern States, according to a spokesman for the local organization.

Total funds toward the $10,000 quota set by the local organization that have been reached are $4,859.72. "We have not yet reached the halfway mark in our campaign for funds," the spokesman said.

The Seminole County Chapter of the American Red Cross will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 p. m. for a progress meeting at which time they will hear from unreported districts, companies and individuals.

A noticeable development is the interest of Negro workers to replace the leadership of Prof. J. N. Crooms who died during the early days of the local Red Cross fund campaign.

Through an acquaintance of 42 years of teaching Prof. Crooms knew his people," the Red Cross spokesman said today. One thousand pictures of the Negro professor have been printed with a supporter's imprimatur on them.

Prof. Roy Allen, principal of Crooms Academy, reports that the Red Cross goal in commemoration of Prof. Crooms will be $1,000.

Fight Against Up In Refrigeration Charge Ends

A decision of the United States Supreme Court on Mar. 4, ended a three and a half year fight by the nation's growers and shippers opposing increases in refrigeration charges on fresh fruit and vegetables by the railroads.

Luther L. Chandler, Goulds, chairman of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association's Special Refrigeration Case Committee, in outlining the effects of the final decision on Florida growers, said action of the Association and The Growers and Shippers League in opposing the increased charges had saved the Florida fresh fruit and vegetable industry some $2,000,000 while this fight was carried on. In addition, the industry will also save about one-half million dollars per year as long as the new present rates remain in effect.

"The Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association's Special Committee included Dixon Pearce, Miami, and John Evans, Oviedo, They (Continue On Page Ten)

Legion To Observe April As 'Child Welfare Month'

The American Legion will again observe April as "Child Welfare Month," Commander Lynn Lyon of the Campbell-Loring Post No. 53 of Sanford announced today.

The American Legion has two primary child welfare goals, according to Commander Lyon, first to assure care and protection for children of veterans and second to improve conditions for all children.

During April the local Post will join with more than 17,300 other American Legion Posts in conducting special programs to focus public attention on the educational needs of America's 68 million children and young people.

Among the education matters which are recommended for special attention by the American Legion's Child Welfare Committee. (Continue On Page Ten)

Fringe Area Residents To Form Organization

A specially called meeting of property-holders in the so-called "fringe areas" of Sanford was held last evening, with the result that those attending formed themselves into a temporary committee to organize a group to be named tentatively "Sanford Fringe Area Taxpayers Association."

The purpose of the group was roughly outlined as to guard and protect the interests of property holders in the areas immediately adjacent to the City of Sanford, and especially those areas which might be likely to be annexed to the City of Sanford by legislation now pending before the Legislature.

It was decided to hold a meeting on Thursday, Apr. 18, at 8 p. m. The spot selected for the meeting was the Farmers Auction Market just south of Sanford, on Route 17-92.

Purpose of the meeting will be to complete the organization of the group, and to discuss matters of interest and vital concern to the property-holders in the areas to the East, South and West of Sanford, which fall into the category of areas possibly to be annexed to Sanford. It is therefore hoped by the committee that all interested parties will plan now to attend this meeting.

Car Fails To Make Curve; Crashes Into Building

An automobile traveling on the Bookertown Road at Lake Monroe failed to negotiate a curve into the Lake Monroe Road last night shortly before midnight and crashed into a store at the intersection.

The car, driven by Joe Wayne Croston, 27, attached to HATTU maintenance section of the Sanford Naval Air Station, was buried in merchandise and debris as it pushed into the store of the Gardner's Store.

Croston, owner of the 1957 Chevrolet, was accompanied by Thomas Joe Donoghue, also attached to the NAS squadron.

Damage to the store was estimated by Deputy Sheriff H. B. Smart of the Seminole County Sheriff's office, at $1,300.

The store's water supply pipe was broken, shelves in the merchandise store room were splintered, and merchandise including garden tools and implements were thrown into one pile.

Auto damage was estimated at $400 when the entire axle of the car was raked and bent, the windshield shattered, and other fixtures of the car bent.

Neither of the two passengers of the car were injured in the smashup.

Boating Apparel To Be Displayed At Club Meeting

The Sanford Boat and Ski Club will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Sanford civic center building in Fort Mellon Park.

A manufacturing representative for boating apparel will be on hand at the meeting to show the new lines for the coming boating season. The local Boat and Ski Club is interested in having the club's emblem imprinted on such items as the local members will use.

Dr. A. W. Woodall, president of the Sanford Boat and Ski Club, has issued an invitation to "anyone interested in boating and water safety" to attend the meetings. Members do not necessarily have to own boats, he said.

Wax Reproduction Of 'Lord's Last Supper' On Display

A life-size reproduction of "The Lord's Last Supper" is on display in downtown Sanford at the corner of First St. and Magnolia Ave. under the auspices of the Sanford Police Benevolent Association.

No admission is being charged to view the display in wax sculptured by H. B. Maxey, originator and designer, who followed Leonardo de Vinci's masterpiece.

Fourteen months of exacting work went into the preparation of the exhibit. The 12 figures are seated around Christ at a 16-foot banquet table. The Master and His apostles, including Judas the betrayer, are dressed in the colors and fashions of the times. The table is set with authentic copies of items used as models by de Vinci in his painting.

The exhibit is housed in a special built trailer with an interior walkway along one length. The display is behind glass and the entire room is air-conditioned to maintain a temperature of 70 degrees.

"The Lord's Last Supper," being sponsored locally by the Police Benevolent Association, is being shown throughout the United States and 33 foreign countries. The exhibit is not affiliated with any religious sect. However, it is a serious study of religious art.
