 HUSBAND

(By The Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Edward H. Shaughnessy, of Chicago, second assistant postmaster general, died today of the injuries received in the Knickerbocker Theatre disaster Saturday night. Although his injuries were known to be of a critical nature his condition had shown improvement up to yesterday and his death was unexpected. His wife and 10-year-old daughter, both of whom are recovering from injuries received in the disaster had not been informed of his death early today. The daughter has both arms broken, and the wife is suffering from a fractured rib and shock. Shaughnessy's death brings the fatality list of disaster as recorded by the police up to ninety-eight.

 SECLUSION

(By The Associated Press)
 ROME, Feb. 2.—The Conclave of the Sacred College which is to choose the successor to the late benedict began its sittings today. Fifty-two cardinals in Rome went into seclusion last night and when the doors of the Vatican closed they were cut off from communication with the outside world until their task is done. Balloting is not expected to consume more than two days.

Crowds gathered today in St. Peter's square to watch for the tell-tale smoke wreath from the chimney of Sistene chapel where conclave sits. A ballot is taken on the morning and evening of each day the conclave is in session and the smoke puffs are only indication to watchers as to the progress made. When no election effected small amount of straw burned with voting papers, causing smoke to assume dark color. When choice is finally made ballots, burning alone, emit thin wisp of light smoke.

HONEST PEOPLE AROUND IN FLORIDA HOTELS AND OTHER PLACES

(By The Associated Press)
 BELLEAIR, Feb. 2.—A guest at the Belleview Hotel here recently told the clerk at the desk she wished to deposit her jewelry in the safe. An hour later she brought down the package with her name and home address upon it. Finding the clerk busy, she laid the package down in front of him without noticing it was not the same clerk she had spoken to before. When he was disengaged, he picked up the package and seeing a Buffalo, N. Y., address on the package put eight cents in stamps upon it and mailed it. Upon its arrival in Buffalo no one answered the bell, the package was found, and returned to Belleair, the finder knowing the lady had gone here. Upon its arrival at the hotel it was placed in her box with her other mail. Her astonishment may be imagined when she opened it and found some sixty thousand dollars worth of jewelry intact.

PRESIDENT TAKES TRIP
 THRU SNOW

TO GET VIEW OF SNOW-BOUND NATION'S CAPITAL

(By The Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—President Harding went out for himself early last evening and got a first hand view of the slush bound capital.

Having read newspaper description of the aftermath of the blizzard, the president decided to take some exercise and see for himself, so accompanied by Secretary Christian he slipped away from the White House just before six o'clock and headed for the "F" street shopping district which is to Washington what Fifth avenue is to New York and Michigan boulevard is to Chicago.

Thousands of government clerks, other homegoers and late shoppers were wallowing almost helplessly in the sea of slush or gingerly picking their way over the dirty ice covered pavements as they jostled along or scrambled to get aboard the scarce and overburdened trolley cars.

Flappers with slopping goloshes, winter girls in "nickers and young glades who inhabit the capital's late afternoon promenade street rubbed elbows with the president as he trudged along, some of them without recognizing him.

NEW MARKETS OPEN FOR FRESH FRUITS

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Highly developed refrigeration facilities with the essential factor of speedy transportation added, has opened two great markets with seemingly unlimited possibilities to fruit growers of North and South America.

Frank C. Munson, president of the line of steamships plying between New York and Latin-American ports, today announced the completion of a series of experimental shipments of fresh fruits between South America and the United States. The experiments, he announced, proved conclusively that the time has arrived for the development of the new markets.

BALLOON WILL GO UP SATURDAY IN CASE OF A FAILURE TODAY,
 WIND IS AGAINST FLIGHT TODAY

Miss Jaeger, the Balloonist, has been waiting all day for the wind to get right for the balloon ascension and said just before this paper went to press that in the event she could not get up today she would go up Friday and Saturday as she wanted to please the people who wanted to see the flight and as her contract called for two days exhibition she would stay over and make a flight Saturday. If it happens that she can not go up today she will go up tomorrow and Saturday. Ballooning is different from airplaning. Balloons can only go up when the weather is right for putting in the gas. If the wind is high the balloon creeps over and burns up and these is also danger in ascending on a windy day.

BAND CONCERT POSTPONED

ON EXPENDITURES IN RACE FOR CITY ELECTION
 JOBS

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 2.—Members of local political circles today were deeply interested in the final outcome of an attempt by the city council to enact a municipal corrupt practice law. The measure passed the council last night on first reading and was referred to the committee on laws and rules.

The law would limit the expenditure of money in primary elections in elections in Jacksonville, would provide just how such money should be spent and would require candidates to file statements of expenditures thirty days before, five days before, and 10 days after a primary. Candidates would be permitted to spend money only for printing postage stenographic work and similar objects. No candidate would be allowed to his poll workers to distribute cards and electioneer at the polls and no corporation would be permitted to contribute to campaign funds.

The law would limit the expenditures of candidates as follows: Mayor, $1,000; city treasurer $800; city recorder, $800; tax assessor $200; municipal judge, $800; city commissioner $800; councilman at large $120 and councilman $50.

Violation of the law would entail a fine of not to exceed $500 or imprisonment for not more than 90 days in jail, or both.

TAMPA WOMAN KILLED IN AUTO CRASH AT ORLANDO YESTERDAY

Mrs. Emelo Suarez, 49, of Tampa was mortally injured and Mrs. M. Alexander also of that city was slightly hurt yesterday morning when a car in which they were driving to Orlando was overturned about one mile south of Kissimmee. Mrs. Suarez died yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Orange General Hospital, where she had been taken for treatment.

The two women were coming to this city to meet Ocala friends who were to visit Mrs. Suarez in Tampa during the absence of her husband, who is at present in Havana, Cuba on a business trip. Mrs. Suarez was driving but lost control of the car with the result that it crashed into a tree a short distance south of Kissimmee. Both were brought to the hospital here by F. B. Whelpley of Lakeland who reached the scene shortly after the accident occurred. The body was taken last night to the Hand Undertaking Parlors where it will remain until word is received from Mr. Suarez.—Orlando Sentinel.

(By The Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The soldiers bonus should be paid out of special taxes such as increased first and second class postage and tobacco levies Secretary Mellon declared today before house ways and means committee. Mellon reiterated his belief that it would be impracticable to depend on foreign debt for financing proposed five-year adjusted compensation plan because revenue from that source problematic.

Special taxes mentioned by Mellon were one cent increase in the first class postage, increased second class postage. Increased cigarette tax of fifty cents per thousand; increased tobacco tax of two cents a pound; increased documentary stamp taxes; tax of two cents on each bank check; license tax of fifty cents per horsepower on automobiles; total estimated return from these taxes was $300,000,000.

Mellon did not recommend any of the taxes suggested.

NAVAL PACT
 DISARMAMENT

TREATY RESTRICTING USE OF
 NEW AGENCIES ALSO ADOPTED

(By The Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The Washington negotiations for limitation of armament reached their consummation today when a plenary session of the arms conference gave definite and public approval to the two treaties limiting navies and restricting the use of new agencies of warfare.

At the same session, the Far Eastern wing of the conference moved forward toward completion of its tasks by announcing officially the terms of the Shantung settlement and by giving final approval to nine of the resolutions adopted in committee in regard to Chinese problems. The agreement on Shantung already has been put into a draft treaty between Japan and China, and the other Far Eastern settlement are to be embodied in at least two general conventions which will come before the conference shortly.

As soon as Japan's intention to withdraw from Shantung had been definitely stated, the British announced formally for the first time that their government was ready to hand back to China the leasehold of Weihai-Wel. The French let it be known tonight, however, that they expected to treat directly with China over possible retirement from their leased territory at Kwang-Chow-Wan, a decision which appeared to cloud the prospect of any general conference agreement regarding the Chinese leased territory.

Two other conference projects one relating the Chinese eastern railway and the other to the prohibition of importation of arms into China, also encountered serious obstacles when the committee work of the delegates was resumed late today. The Japanese made some technical obligations to the Chinese eastern proposal which, coupled with Chinese and French opposition to some features, resulted in appointment of a Japanese-French-Chinese "subcommittee to consider a compromise. The Italians and Japanese presented such pertinent reservations to the arms importation resolution that it was virtually decided not to press it for adoption.

FLORIDA WEATHER AGAIN DESERVES CONSIDERATION

The country has passed through one of the severest cold spells of the past two decades. The weather, of course, was felt in Florida, but not to any noticeable extent. Not even in the extreme northern part of the state did the thermometer register thirty-two degrees, or freezing; and in the southern part of the state rumors of cold waves carried with them far-away sounds.

The sun continued to shine in Florida; the mockingbirds remained on the job and serenaded the crisp of day; the streams flowed on in the old indolent way; nature flirted with the breezes in the same light apparel, and the wonders of the Sunshine State are appreciated more than ever.

Florida's weather is one of its greatest assets. The statement is time-worn, but the truthfulness of it has again been forcibly impressed upon residents and visitors within our gates.

Nature location is the great protection. Land and sea join arms to guard off the extreme weather, and the sky smiles on the union. We have commercialized on our ideal weather, and are still doing it, but there is no end to the possibilities in this direction. Everlasting advertising is going to help the state realize them. Slogans such as the one adopted by Miami will help—"It's June in Miami" is suggestive, and other sections of the state are justified in adopting slogans of similar meaning. These slogans are remembered long after other things are forgotten.

Florida weather again stands out for national consideration.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

A CRUDE MISTAKE

Postal authorities are searching for the men who inserted advertisements in several newspapers inviting registration, at an expense of $1, for employment at the Mussel Shoals nitrate plant just as soon as the formalities of its transfers are completed. The effect of these ads, it is said, is to put a good many dollars in the pockets of the scoundrels who inserted them and to bring to Florence, Ala., a large number of needy workmen who are bitterly disappointed at having been so cruelly stung.

It is a shame that any man mean enough to play such a trick upon the idle but eager working men of the country should be found. It is also a shame that the men who were caught in this perfectly obvious trap did not know enough to detect its fraudulent character at a glance.

Henry Ford never does, nor has things done, in that way. When he wants men he will say so himself. He can not use them at this plant until the government accepts his offer, which may be many months hence, and maybe not at all. And he will then, no doubt give the public full information regarding his plans. He will certainly not permit any private agency to levy assessments for registration on the men he intends to employ.

Work may be good at Mussel Shoals in the future, but there is nothing doing there now, and laboring men, with ground-floor aspirations, should be patient until they hear, direct from Ford himself, how many are needed and what will be the requirements. We have a hunch that all kinds of speculation with the end of getting easy money through this development will fail.—Lakeland Telegram.

FLORIDA FOOTBALL PLAYERS FIRING ON COAST LINE AND MAKING GOOD

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 2.—It is the far cry from the lusty cheers of an admiring throng of spectators at a football game to the task of "making smoke" for a grease besmeared engineer but Carl "Tootle" Perry, star lineman and captain of the University of Florida football eleven during the season just closed, is firing a locomotive on an Atlantic Coast Line passenger run between Jacksonville and Leesburg.

Perry had fired several years during the summer months and had obtained leave of absence from his duties at the University. His fourth year as a player ended with the football season last fall, however, and he left school shortly before Christmas to return to work permanently. John Hogan, a football enthusiast and one of the most widely known of the younger Coast Line engineers in Florida is Perry's engine mate and between the two of them they have almost abolished the English language, according to members of the train crew. "98-10-42-10" shouts Hogan, as the train moves slowly out of a siding. Perry looks back to see if the flagman has climbed aboard. "42-37-4-23," replies "Tootle" and Hogan settles down on his seatbox for

Mrs. Mabel T. S. Falco of Brooklyn is the aldermanic nomination in the thirty-third aldermanic district. Mrs. Falco lives on Columbia Heights, and is the grandniece of James G. Blaine; her father, Col. H. D. Stanwood, was a veteran of the Civil war.

HISTORY OF "THE TAMING OF THE SHREW"

"The Taming of the Shrew" is a touching love-story in four acts, relating the numerous adventures of the merry pair—Petruccio and Katherine, a shrew, Katherine is a beautiful, haughty self-willed girl, the elder daughter of a rich merchant of Padua, named Baptista. She gains a wide reputation as a shrew and scold and her father despairs of ever marrying her off. At this period arrives in Padua a gentleman named Petruccio, in search of a wife. He is a daring, adventurous fellow, who, hearing of the haughty Katherine, decides immediately to woo her and tame her for a lark. He arranges to meet her at her father's house, and his first encounter furnishes a scene of greatest merriment. She rebuffs him with haughty disdain and scorn, but the more indignant she becomes, the more determined it Petruccio to make her yield; for despite her own temper, he is charmed by her beauty and spirit. Telling her father and friends that they have agreed to wed, Katherine rages but cannot escape the trap set for her by Petruccio. The succeeding scenes of the wedding where Petruccio appears in a fantastic garb and carries her off bodily; the journey afterwards to Petruccio's house, and the unique reception he has planned to give his bride when she arrives, keeps the audience in constant roars of laughter. Katherine is powerless against him, so the true woman in her yields to his mastery and compels her to love him against her will. The pretty fashion in which she totally succumbs to her lord is charmingly done, and the merry comedy ends with a dainty lecture to all women on their duties to their husbands.

"The Taming of the Shrew," with its witty dialogue, rollicking situations and side-splitting incidents, is considered one of the most comical as well as one of the most popular of Shakespeare's Edward Waldmann's modern version presented as a modern farce comedy has been arranged with all dreary dialogue eliminated and the comedy is a scream from the beginning to end.

It will be presented by Edward Waldmann, assisted by his own leading lady, Dorice Wingrove and Sanford's local talent at the Princess Theatre, Friday evening, under the auspices of the Sanford Women's Club.

On account of the great demand for seats, tickets should be reserved in advance at Brewer's and Roumillet's.

FLORIDA FRUITS TO BRING HIGH PRICES SAYS LOCAL GROWERS

But This Claim Is Disputed By Well Known Shippers

Florida's remaining citrus crop is likely to bring unusually high prices before the close of the present season, in the opinion of many local growers and shippers, but there are others who maintain that the peak in prices has already been reached.

Since the recent freeze in California the price of fruit has shown considerable increase and a representative of the American Fruit Growers said yesterday that oranges may sell for eight dollars per box before the close of the season. On the other hand S. J. Sligh, a large shipper, expressed the belief that the damage on the Pacific Coast was slight and that Florida fruit would not command much greater prices than are now offered because of the depressed conditions in the north.

Mr. Sligh points out that the California Fruit Exchange recently issued a statement claiming a loss of 20,000 cars of oranges due to the freeze. But the estimate of California's crop is 65,000 cars and only 8,000 cars had been shipped prior to the freeze so with 37,000 cars of fruit yet to be marketed it looks as if the shortage will not be felt, especially in view of the sub-normal demand on the northern markets.

Shipments from Florida for the present season amount to 11,130 cars of oranges and 6,680 cars of grapefruit, according to figures given out by the American Fruit Growers yesterday. Since January 1, approximately 5,000 cars of citrus products have been shipped. It is estimated that Florida's remaining crop will not total much more than half what the California growers claim to have for future shipment.

Viewed in this light it does not look as if the price would go much higher in Florida, but there are numerous predictions to the contrary. A representative of Gentile Brothers company stated that Valencias should bring $4.50 or $5 per box and that other oranges should reach a price of at least $3. The Standard Growers Exchange is expecting to see the price advance some later in the season. The A. J. Nye Company frankly admits that the situation is uncertain, but makes the claim that growers are asking prices much higher than the shipper can pay at the prevailing market price.

From the opinions gathered it would seem safe to say that there will be some advance in prices later in the season, but no accurate forecast can be made at this time, in the opinion of all the companies which were interviewed. Orlando Sentinel.

ANOTHER ROOF CAVES IN, BUT NONE IS HURT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The roof of the Baltimore & Ohio freight depot at First street and Florida ave. N. E., crashed in late today. Eight men had just checked out for the day. No one was injured.

The snow had been practically removed from the slate roof, it was said, but it was impossible, it was added, that the supporting brick piers and oak beams had been weakened by the accumulation of snow from the recent storm. Damage to the shed and freight was estimated at $20,000.

The crash came as unexpected as in the case of the Knickerbocker theatre, the roof giving way suddenly and coming down with a deafening crash. A great mass of debris filled the interior of the structure, which is 400 feet long, 40 feet wide, and one story in height.

COAST REGION FROM CAROLINA UP SNOW-BOUND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Buried underneath from one to two feet of snow, one of the most severe storms in several decades, the Middle Atlantic section of the country spent Sunday in valiant but mostly vain efforts to resume the activities suspended Friday night when the storm swept up from the south.

The storm, described by the weather bureau as the worst in twenty-three years, had its center tonight slightly north and east of Cape Cod and was moving slowly out over the ocean, but in its wake from North Carolina to southern New England and from the coast to the Allegheny mountains, all was buried under a snow blanket.

Washington as the center of the storm area and the center of the storm's strength suffered the most severely—a toll of nearly a hundred lives having been taken and more than a hundred injured, some of whom may be added later to the list dead. The loss of life in the capital with one or two exceptions was due to the collapse of the roof of a motion picture theatre under the weight of twenty-six inches of snow and this catastrophe also accounted for most of the injuries.

Even aside from the theatre disaster, the capital was hard hit and although the snow stopped falling a few hours after midnight, it was not until long after day had dawned that the full effect was assessed. Day-break found the city without any sort of street car service, its streets blocked to impassability with snow, its suburbs completely cut off, deliveries of bread, milk and other perishable foodstuffs greatly curtailed, and many buildings endangered by the load of snow. The hours of Sunday were spent in attempts to restore a semblance of normal conditions, and though aided by favorable weather—sunshine and thawing temperature—the city tonight was still in the grip of the storm.

BRIDGE TO HAVE LONGEST SPAN

Structure to Connect-Detroit and Windsor Will Break All Records.

WILL MEASURE 1,802 FEET

Upper Deck Expected to Be Ready for Service Within Four Years—Two Years More Will See Bridge Completed.

Detroit, Mich.—Plans for the new international suspension bridge to connect Detroit and Windsor, just announced, show that it will have the longest single span in the world, measuring 1,802 feet, or 24 inches longer than the great cantilever at Quebec.

Haring unforeseen delays, actual construction work will commence next spring, and within four years the upper deck should be ready for service.

Weights 107,000 Tons. The bridge and its approaches will have a total weight of 107,000 tons, with eight cables carrying the huge span.

Suspended from two towers, each rising 380 feet above the water, the span will have a width of 97 feet for the highway deck with two trolley tracks, two sidewalks and two roadways.

Completion of the bridge will mean the end of the train ferries, which for years have carried freight and passenger traffic across the Detroit river.

The bridge, which will be built by the Canadian Transit company and the American Transit company, with the approval of the Canadian and United States governments, will span the river almost from the center to the shore line of the two cities.

Bonds for $30,000,000. The promoting companies have been authorized to issue $30,000,000 in securities for the project. It is estimated that completion of the highway or upper deck will cost approximately $15,000,000.

Plans for the bridge were drawn chiefly by Charles E. Fowler of New York. Associated with him in the erection of the structure will be George H. Pegrum, chief engineer of the Interborough Rapid Transit company.

BLOCK EFFORTS TO INSURE U. S. GETTING REFUND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—By fair ly decisive votes the senate refused today either to require congressional approval of the agreements to be entered into with debtor nations by the proposed allied debt refunding commission or to limit the authority of the commission in the matter of deferring the time when interest payments on the eleven billion dollar foreign debts shall begin.

Those in charge of the bill hope to dispose of the measure then, but many amendments still are pending with plenty of more discussion in prospect.

UPSALA AND GRAPEVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. G. Hirsch and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ericson for a nice auto ride after service Sunday, to Sorrento and back.

Mr. and Mrs. August Swanson and son Archie and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Lundquist and children after Sunday school in town enjoyed a picnic lunch with Happy Jack Caves and wife at their tent.

We understand one of the young Mrs. Bridgemans is very ill. Dr. Pulcston having been called out a number of times. Mrs. Hirsch called in to see her on Monday.

Joe Nerose and wife are building on an addition to one of their tenant houses. Last week they ground cane and made themselves some Florida syrup. We are sorry to learn Mrs. Nerose is still feeling poorly.

Forest West has been doing a little fencing of late for Geo. Ballinger, Chas. Cramer and Volie Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Cramer and Mr. West attended service in Orlando last Saturday and on Sunday after the service they treated Mr. and Mrs. West and Leonard to a visit with friends on Celery avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kroll and children from Windmere came up Sunday and spent the day at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Tyner in honor of the birthday of her sister, Miss Eunice Tyner.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Tyner and baby and Mrs. Brown, of Sanford, Walford Piorson and Mrs. Ballinger were also callers there in remembrance of the day, enjoying some of the birthday cake and coffee.

Bible study night has been changed to Tuesday so that those who work and had other meetings on Wednesday may be able to attend. At our last meeting we had a half hour of singing and prayer before Mr. Clark introduced the lesson to give the late comers a chance to get there. We all enjoyed the service but had bad luck getting home although Brother West came back and helped us with the tire trouble.

"Happy Jack" Caves and wife entertained quite a crowd on Thursday night at their tent having a big bonfire and a table and seats near his camp and he gave us one of his interesting talks, telling how he began life for himself at eight years of age on board a sailing vessel, later serving on three boats in Uncle Sam's navy and beginning his pedestrian life in an appeal to the young men to join the navy, although he has since given that up and is now on an endurance test for John Hopkins' University. Since being taken off for a two months rest for being underweight his route has been changed but he has still a thousand miles to travel before June 1st. He says he has used up twelve dogs on this trip but he is expecting Eunice, a big Dane, who began the trip with him to arrive soon in hopes of finishing it with her. When it began to rain Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lundquist asked us all into their house where Happy Jack made some coffee and served us with sandwiches with the ladies help. Over thirty-five out and all had a good time.

Upsala is asked to join with Paola for a union Sunday school institute to be conducted by Rev. G. V. Albertson and Rev. J. S. Clark on the 5th. Rev. Albertson will have charge of the school at 10:00 and Rev. Clark will give us a message at 11 then comes a basket or picnic lunch on the church grounds and Mrs. Albertson will speak for us and a friend of theirs as well as our own Mrs. Ericson. This will give us all a double service. We have a nice little school at present and there is always room for improvement so let's go and learn all we can. All interested in the work in this and other places and in hearing a good sermon, come out and spend the day. You surely will enjoy it. We hope those who have cars will see there is a way for all to get there.

"THE SCOFFER" AT THE STAR THEATRE FRIDAY

The attraction at the Star Theatre for Friday is "The Scoffer," which seems to bid fair in arousing more than the usual interest among local devotees to the cinema art. This is an Allan Dwan production, made by the Mayflower Co. and released through the Associated First National and it is based on the theory that even a religious man's faith in the Supreme Being can be shaken by adverse circumstances. It is said a powerful dramatic situation is created through bringing to a climax such a man's attempts to discredit the Higher Power in a comparison with man's might. This picture is booked for Friday (tomorrow) night. See it.

KIWANIS DEFEATS ROTARY

In one of the most spirited matches since the organization of the Bowling League, on the Parish House alleys last night the fast Kiwanis team defeated the Rotary team. Although Rotary ended up 250 points behind, the game was close until the last minutes of play and the outcome was in doubt until the last of the three games.

Dr. Bower, as usual, came off with the honors. He has never been beaten by any of the Sanford bowlers and in the days of the bowling league at the Elks Club he set a mark, a record that has never been topped.

A schedule is being drafted to take care of the balance of the season and will be announced in the Herald later. The next match will be between the Men's Club and the Congregational Club this coming Monday night.

Last night's games were featured by the unusual number of fans, including man yof the fair sex, and there was plenty of amusement on the side lines to keep every one in the proper frame of mind to do a lot of rooting and pulling for both sides. Last night's scores follows:

LOOKS LIKE GOOD WEATHER FOR NEXT FORTY DAYS

Yesterday was groundhog day and as it was cloudy all day the ground hog could not see his shadow and the legend goes that when the ground hog cannot see his shadow it will be fair weather. It is the case the farmers and fruit growers will rejoice although the weather has been all that could be desired here for the celery growers during the past three weeks. The weather was too warm in the fall for the lettuce but has been very good for celery and fair weather promised by Mr. Ground hog yesterday will be forty days more of good weather and cold weather will be over after the middle of this month. We shall watch the weather and see how much the groundhog knows.
