

Fed Cagers Have Some Fun with Tavares, Meet Leesburg Tonight

Sanford's on and off Celery cagers, who have been playing for the last several weeks, found they could make some money last night and would be back on the road again tonight. Tavares in a tilt over Leesburg here in a fray which will be held at 8:00 P. M. A game between the two teams is slated to precede the monthly meeting.

Tavares simply "wants" in the game last night. The Bulls apparently left their shoes, and court generosity made, and the Bulls, never really pressed, had some fun for

Hall Takes Ace Dog, Hi-Guide, to Miami Track

"Something

"HAS BEEN ADDED"

Yes, when the stork brings a new member of the family, something very precious has been added to life — something worthy of your best care. That's when you value the dependability of your electric water heating service.

But you don't need "something added" to your family to appreciate what a comfort it is to have plenty of hot water on tap, night and day, rain or shine.

Your electric water heater is an important protection of your family's health... so keep it serving you efficiently and economically at all times. Let your repair dealer check its operation from time to time. Proper maintenance of all your electrical appliances will save vital materials Uncle Sam needs to win this war.

St. Louis "Hurler" Receives Injury

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24. (AP) — Old Pate has been hurt and the St. Louis Cardinals have crossed their fingers in the hope the midget doesn't receive a series of injuries like that of his no-hoppered 1941 pennant aspirations.

The machine broke in two at Archer, 140 miles from the Cardinals' camp at St. Petersburg, where batterymen began their spring training today. It was being tested behind Scout Joe Matha's automobile.

While most Americans would be an adventure to get a glimpse of a free deer, there is one to every 20 persons.

Japs Threaten Australia, Hit At New Guinea

Enemy Drops Bombs On Java Harbor; Sharp Encounters Occur In Bataan

(By Associated Press)

Japanese bombers struck again today at Port Moresby on the southern shore of New Guinea, less than 400 miles off the northeast tip of Australia. Australians reported they sighted a strong enemy war fleet off the coast of New Guinea.

The government asked the opposition to agree to adjourn until after the attack.

Australian defense authorities were determined to meet the most of the time remaining to them.

They were paying particular attention to the Japanese northward advance in New Guinea. The Japanese have been in that big island for four weeks and the fact that they are operating fighter craft from secret airfields is considered a clear indication that they rapidly are establishing formidable bases.

Lykes Makes Fine Frosh Cage Record

Jim Lykes, son of Roland M. Lykes and grandson of J. P. Lykes of 311 West Tenth street, is making an outstanding record at Wake Forest College in North Carolina, according to an article in a North Carolina newspaper concerning the Deacon freshman basketball team.

The article reads as follows: "Jim Lykes, one of the greatest Asheville high centers in history, is carrying on in his own little way and stealing most of the back-patting as a leader, both offensively and defensively on the Blue and white combination."

"He is burning up the courts in this neck of the woods with the frosh. The spry kid can do most everything that goes with a well-rounded basketball player, and he has shown that high school coaching gave him a better-than-average foundation for college competition."

"As the first-year team heats the mid-way mark on the season's slate, Lykes is well up in the scoring parade. Coach Murray Oranson, boss of the varsity, watches the Asheville boy turn the courts and thinks he is a coming "great" in the cage game. A 6-4 lad, Lykes can really get around."

Lykes has visited Sanford several times, according to his grandfather.

Bob Pastor Stops Touted Negro Heavy

CLEVELAND, Feb. 23, (AP)—Bob Pastor, 155, amazed a capacity crowd of Cleveland fans here last night by scoring an eight-round technical knockout over Larry Franklin, highly-touted Negro heavy.

The referee stopped the fight after Franklin had gone down for a nine count and was unable to continue.

Before Franklin went down he took a savage 20-second battering on the ropes that left him wringing and groggy. A left hook to the chin put the big broad-shouldered Negro in trouble and Pastor made the most of it.

Brooklyn Pitcher Doesn't Like Cubs

MIAMI, Feb. 23, (AP)—New York's ready to end one of baseball's weirdest holdouts, Brooklyn's Kirby Higbe, isolated yesterday as the only reason he refused to accompany the Brooklyn Dodgers to their Havana training camp last week is "because I just don't like the place."

The right-hand ace will make his first airplane flight today alone to join the team, but he's dreading the next 10 days.

Higbe, who already had signed his contract, balked at the last minute on flying down with the rest of the players last Wednesday. Club officials said he wouldn't go because he couldn't take his wife along.

Presenting "Silly Side Of Sports"

CHARLOTTE, Feb. 23, (WV)—Somehow, it's a few minutes North Carolina basketball teams staging a close pennant race, not by a crucial game. Came the ninth inning and the home team, trailing by one run, filled the bases. The leading hitter came to bat against the opposition's ace pitcher.

The count went to three and two and the stage was set for a great drama. The packed stands were tense as the pitcher wound up and cut loose a fast one over the plate. The batter didn't budge. Billions for the umpire's crowd waited for the umpire's final decision. The umpire hesitated and then bawled: "Throw it over!" Players and fans alike were amazed. "Throw it over? What do you mean?" the umpire was indignantly asked.

"You got to throw it over," he explained. "It was a tie pitch."

"A tie pitch? What the hell is a tie pitch?" the irate players demanded.

The umpire elucidated: "A tie pitch," he said, "is one that ain't quite good enough for a strike and ain't quite bad enough for a ball. Throw it over."

The Secret Service was established by congress in 1904 to suppress counterfeiting. It did not take over the job of guarding the President until after the assassination of William McKinley in 1901.

MacArthur's Troops Smash Enemy Lines In Surprise Attack

Allied Planes Over Rangoon Down 21 Japanese Craft; British Hang On

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur, and his fighting force won special attention from Congress today. They won't have in the income tax returns of the Philippines on Dec. 15. A Joint Senate-House conference approved the bill for fighters in the Philippines.

The return and payments, however, must be made when the war ends.

A bulletin from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in the Philippines today reported American and Filipino troops launched a surprise attack and hurled the Japanese invaders back several kilometers on the Bataan peninsula.

This was the most sizeable advance by Gen. MacArthur's beleaguered defenders since they were driven into the Bataan mountain wilderness nearly two months ago.

Fighting still is in progress. A War Department spokesman here advised newsmen to "make your own interpretation" of the reports.

There was no suggestion, however, that reinforcements were near arrival.

Allied fighter planes today shot down 21 Japanese raiders in battles for control of the air.

The Japanese reported that they had lost 21 fighters and 10 bombers.

British demolition squads continued their destruction of vital Rangoon installations.

The Japanese northern offensive against the British in the direction of India, was said to have begun last week from Chungking, north of Chungking.

The Japanese base 80 miles inside Thailand from the Burmese border.

Rangoon communications broadcast by the All-India announced that British-Indian-American volunteer armies had taken a terrific toll on the Japanese air force.

20 planes destroyed and seven were probably downed yesterday.

It is believed that the Japanese were fighting in the vicinity of the Rangoon air base.

The Japanese reported that they had lost 21 fighters and 10 bombers.

British Announce Nazi Battleships Are Out of Action

An official British announcement today said that the German battleships, Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, and the cruiser, Prinz Eugen, are severely damaged and are being held in the English Channel.

The Red Army's strangulation of a German army trapped in the Bataan-Russia area appeared today to be the final stage of a maneuver aimed at trapping all Nazi forces in the bloody northwestern corner of Russia.

The Russians declared they had defeated the reserves which the Nazis are hurrying into the flaming battle of the Staraya Russia area, where the Soviet ring of destruction closed tighter upon the survivors of the crushed German 16th army.

The German-Fascist forces are suffering great losses in manpower and equipment, today's communiqué said.

"During" Feb. 25, our troops continued to advance and occupied a number of populated places."

A Russian dispatch dated Staraya Russia—indicating Red army possession of the strategically-located town itself—said the most furious fighting was continuing.

It intimated that new developments were imminent, after the smashing of the 16th German army and the slaughter of 12,000 Nazis in a bloody trap about Lake Ima, some 140 miles south of Leningrad.

Staraya Russia in peacetime is only a summer resort, but militarily it was very as the springboard for many-phased operations.

Its capture means not only the thousands of German now being committed to the Leningrad outpost, from this base operations are possible to cut off all the Nazi armies north of Lake Ima to the Estonian shores of the Gulf of Finland.

The Red army's advance was carried out with the utmost of stealth in one case Red army units marched 27 miles in a single night without having to fire a shot.

The German fighting force was broken in large measure by an effort to stop the push which is continuing north.

Jap Ships Have Been Hit Hard, Washington Says

At Present Rate, Sea Power Of Foe Will Be Doomed In Year

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Such tremendous blows have been dealt to Japan's navy and merchant marine that if the rate of destruction continues for one year, the ever-vital ocean will be sealed, United States Naval officials disclosed last night.

This authoritative word was given to reporters after the navy disclosed officially that it had sent 53 Japanese naval and merchant vessels to the bottom since Dec. 10.

It also said in passing that it has good reason to believe that three more enemy submarines have been sunk by United States Navy forces in the Atlantic theater, and four damaged.

This brings the total ships sunk or damaged by the navy in that ocean since the war began at 21, inasmuch as Secretary Knox had declared on Dec. 21 that 14 had either been sent to the bottom or hit.

Mr. Knox, in mentioning the figure of 53 Jap ships sunk since Dec. 10, added that the navy believed it had sunk more and damaged five. Nor was this the whole picture.

In addition, battle losses have been dealt by the navy although the figures on their deeds were not up-to-date enough last night to include in the grand total, they have been sinking or damaging Japanese vessels at the approximate rate of one a day.

Price Control On Pork, Beef Likely

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wickard said Wednesday recent advances in prices of hogs and beef might prompt the government to face to face with the necessity of instituting price controls.

Prices of these farm products are high enough to be a great concern.

Mr. Wickard said the possibility of placing controls on prices of hogs and beef is authorized under the recently enacted price control law, but has been discussed with Price Administrator Leon Keyserling.

Keyserling said he would be in charge of any such controls.

Hit 2 Transports And 2 Other Vessels; Japanese Gain In Sumatra

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson today said the United States is "winning every bit of aid possible."

American submarines torpedoed two enemy transports, an auxiliary ship and a freighter in attacks in the past 48 hours on the Japanese sea-borne invasion forces in Dutch East Indies waters.

The Dutch Indies headquarters also listed a Japanese warship, one of a squadron as "presumed" to be hit.

The Dutch acknowledged the Japanese have reached the narrow Sunda Strait across from Java in a drive down Sumatra. Dutch naval forces bombed Japanese held Oosthaven, a southern Sumatra port.

Japanese bombers raided the Sumatra naval base and airbase in western Java. The Dutch reported continued fierce fighting on Celebes, acknowledging the Japanese capture of Sintang, western Borneo, and the island of Bangka, off Sumatra.

Japanese reinforcements were urgently needed.

The Japanese occupation of Bali and Timor, a spokesman said, was completed, the encirclement of Java by cutting off its communications with Australia.

The "other hand" he added, "is the overall aspect of the situation in the fact that the Japanese are spread over a large area. It will be possible to obtain local superiority and wipe out the Japanese invasion forces."

The main Netherlands Indies garrisons were only partitioned by the number of fighting divisions.

The greatest possible losses on the ground and to destroy everything that might be useful to him before retreating in the interior of Java.

The battle for Java, he indicated, will be about with the Allies throwing in everything they can muster in this area.

The former Socialist, now official leader of a parliament overwhelmingly conservative, greeted a spontaneous enthusiasm into the house which has been lacking since Winston Churchill's own speech of the summer of 1940.
