Sanford Teacher Devotes Herself To Special Olympics

ELEANOR SHILL
... she's the first

By DARLENE JENNINGS
Herald Staff Writer

Eleanor Shill, a teacher at Goldsboro Elementary School in Sanford, has become the first person in Seminole County to be certified as a Special Olympics track and field director.

Miss Shill attended a Special Olympic Workshop in Daytona Beach last year which trained her how to be director and coordinator for an athletic program for mentally retarded children.

"First the instructors at the workshop showed us how to train for the events, and then we actually did whatever the event was," Miss Shill says. "This way we can be better prepared to train our own athletes."

Some of the training offered to the students, like Miss Shill, who were interested in working with special children consisted of seminars on nutrition for athletes, and sports medicine.

"In the sports medicine part of the workshop we learned how to deal with everything from a sprained ankle, which is treated by the I-C-E method — ice, compression, and elevation — to learning how to treat a student struck by lightning,"

Miss Shill says.

"If a student is struck by lightning, we check the heart beat, and extend the neck," she adds.

Miss Shill graduated from the University of Florida in 1972 with a bachelor's degree in education, but she had been exposed to mental retardation long before she had ever thought about becoming a teacher.

"My uncle was retarded, and he lived with his mother behind us until she died when I was 10 years old. Then he came to live with us," she says.

"I didn't look at him any differently than anyone else, because I was just always exposed to mental retardation, and I just accepted it as part of life," she says.

It was while Miss Shill was attending the University of Florida that she received her first experience teaching retarded children, at the Sidney Lanier Center.

"I had not planned to go into special teaching, it was just one of those things that happened," she recalls. "I enjoy my job, and I can't picture doing anything else."

Miss Shill has been teaching at Goldsboro for nearly six years now. She teaches a class of nine "slow" learners, or as she calls them, "culturally deprived."

"Some of my students come from homes where the parents might not be able to help their children with their reading skills," she says.

However, it's the 27 students in the educable mentally retarded class at Goldsboro who receive most of Miss Shill's special training for the Olympics. Three times a week the athletes, under the supervision of their coach, train for the Olympic games.

Miss Shill trains the special athletes in how to improve their skills at the softball throw, the 50-yard dash and the standing long jump, and sometimes they practice the 400-meter run.

She also coordinates the athletes' activities when they attend county, district, and state competitions. Outside the elementary school, the Special Olympics offers a 25-yard wheelchair race, but none of the Goldsboro team members have need for the wheels.

"None of our children are physically handicapped," she says. "We do have one girl who does have epilepsy, though."

The five-foot-six, hazel-eyed teacher says she is glad there is a program that mentally handicapped children can call their own.

"This program is a good one, because it is totally fair no matter what the limitations of the students might be," she says.

However, coordinating the students and training the athletes isn't always rewarding.

"It's a lot of frustration trying to get it all together. They get tired and you get tired, but the students must enjoy it because they keep on coming back for more," she says enthusiastically.

The Special Olympics program was designed by the Kennedy family to develop special children's athletic abilities and so children can grow through an organized sports program.

Each year in Seminole County the Olympics are held in the spring, and the state finals are held in June.

The games are patterned after the International Olympics and include a torch-lighting ceremony and a parade of athletes. The winners are honored with ribbons at the county games, and with medals at the state games.

One of Miss Shill's former students went on to the International Olympics in Brockport, N.Y., in 1977.

"Robert Goodman was a very good student and a very fast runner," Miss Shill remembers.

In a scrapbook she keeps on the Special Olympics, there is a letter from Goodman to Miss Shill when he participated in the district competition in Satellite Beach.

In part it reads, "... I ran so fast that my heart was beating fast. It felt like I had a heart attack. I did not look back because I was afraid it would slow me down."

The letter continues, "... When the race was over I was so glad. I won! I told my mom about the Olympics and went to bed — tired, but very happy... Robert Goodman."

The motto of the Special Olympics has very special meaning to the teacher, because, she says, "It's what the program is all about."

The motto says — and it is read aloud before every Olympic game — "Let me win, but if I can't win, let me be brave in my attempt."

Christmas Lights DBA Appeals For Donations

The president of the Sanford Downtown Business Association (DBA) is issuing a public appeal for donations to help pay for this year's Christmas decorations.

"We have about one week to go in our drive to raise enough money to pay for them, but we're still considerably short of our goal," said C. Boyd Coleman, DBA president.

Until last year, the city of Sanford put up, took down and stored the Christmas decorations which the DBA bought and maintained to adorn the downtown business section during the holidays.

The business association managed to find a company with which to enter into a lease agreement this year. The lease, a four-year pact, calls for the company to furnish the Christmas decorations each year and to put them up, take them down and store them as well as maintain them, Coleman said.

And since the lease agreement the DBA would enter into calls for the company to perform those duties, the city would be relieved of that task, Coleman explained.

The city does not contribute to the cost of leasing the decorations, he added.

This year the DBA hopes to have the decorations installed sometime toward the end of November along First Street and some side streets in the downtown area.

They'll be taken down some time after New Year's, Coleman said.

"A few active participating merchants in the Downtown Business Association cannot carry the burden alone," he added, explaining contributions are needed desperately in order for the DBA to get enough money to commit to the lease arrangement.

"This must be a community effort. Every professional person, every merchant and every businessman in downtown Sanford has a stake in our city. It would be very difficult to get the Christmas spirit in a dark and dismal place. We don't want Scrooge living in our town," Coleman said.

"Anyone who wants to help us light up for Christmas can send their check to the Christmas Lights Fund, P.O. Box 669, Sanford 32771, and we'll gratefully accept any amount," he added.

To date, he said about 15 contributions have come in from individuals, civic groups and professional people, "but we're nowhere near our goal."

Sanford City Engineer Mack LaZenby inspects sewer plant sludge drying beds.

Has Dual Role In Sanford

LaZenby Meets Challenge

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Mack LaZenby not only takes his dual role as Sanford's engineer and utility director seriously, he considers it a challenge.

He continually looks for new and innovative ways to solve the old problems of increasing sewer plant capacity, of cleaning out drainage pipes and of providing efficient service to the people of Sanford.

The 39-year old native Virginian holds a bachelor's degree in civil engineering and a master's in sanitary and environmental engineering from Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He was doing graduate work at VPI when he learned Sanford was looking for a civil engineer to add to its staff, and decided that was the job for him.

Today he is one of the few registered professional engineers on the staff of a city the size of Sanford, population 24,000.

In recent months, looking for a way to increase the efficiency of the city's sewer plant on Poplar Avenue, LaZenby did a lot of reading and traveled to several cities around the nation searching for new ideas, innovative ways to increase efficiency at the Sanford sewer plant. Upon returning to the city, he came up with a plan to install a greenhouse type of apparatus made of glassfiber over the sludge-drying beds at the sewer plant. The wet sludge is all that remains after the plant processes sewage.

The usual process is to spread wet sludge over the ground to dry. With almost daily rain showers in Florida, it was taking up to three weeks for the sludge to dry before it could be removed to a landfill area.

LaZenby's idea, which was approved by the City Commission and implemented, was to install a glassfiber roof on posts over the four sludge-drying beds to keep the rain off the material. The cost for the covering and installation was $82,000. Now, sludge dries in about seven days and can be easily removed.

The results of the faster drying process are: Sludge can be more rapidly removed from the plant, allowing it to operate more efficiently; plant capacity is increased from six million gallons daily to about eight million; a saving in energy costs for operating the plant is estimated at 15 to 20 percent annually; and an improvement in efficiency by the plant's manpower may be as high as 40 to 50 percent.

Sludge, since it is so thoroughly dry, is lighter and more easily removed by the employees.

Putting on his second hat, as utility director, LaZenby shows off the 24-inch sewer line being built from the Poplar Avenue sewer plant to the $25 million Central Florida Regional Hospital under construction on Mangoustine Avenue at U.S. Highway 17-92.

The city utility service will be available to the hospital long before its opening date in the fall of 1982.

Another major advance in the utility system is the 12-inch water line being installed to serve the Randlewood section at Hidden Lake and other areas. The line extends 4,300 feet down Airport Boulevard to Randlewood. The engineering specifications and bid documents were handled by LaZenby, and city crews are doing practically all the work. The line will soon be completed and await future development.

A new approach being used to provide drainage in Randlewood was LaZenby's brainchild. While the streets are curbed, grassy swales are located behind the curbs to allow percolation of water directly into the ground. This keeps a lot of drainage water from going into Hidden Lake. A regional sewer-lift station has been built in the subdivision.

A new well recently was installed at the Mayfair County Club by the city to give additional water capacity in preparation for growth.

LaZenby said the new well is a good one and has 1,000-gallon-per-minute capacity.

A major headache LaZenby has suffered through in recent weeks was getting a new computer on line to process utility bills. At the same time, the city increased water rates for the first time in nine years, and that added to the computer difficulties. Hopefully, LaZenby said, all the bugs are now worked out of the system.

It took only a little engineering design recently to modify the main fire station on French Avenue to provide room under cover for the city's new $297,000 aerial fire truck. LaZenby did the engineering; firefighters did the modifications.

LaZenby is proud of a new piece of equipment recently acquired by the Utility Department. It's a truck with a huge vacuum-cleaner-type device on it to clean drainage pipes.

When LaZenby joined the city staff 10 years ago, the city's sewer plant had a four-million-gallon daily capacity and provided primary treatment — that is it took only the "big stuff out," LaZenby says. Today, the city's sewer plant, located on 24 acres off Poplar Avenue, is 94 to 96 percent effective in removing pollutants.

A United Way Agency

Hospice Meets Needs Of Dying

Hospice of Central Florida Inc., a new agency to the United Way of Seminole County, is a physician-directed multidisciplinary team dedicated to meeting the needs of the dying—mostly cancer patients—and their families.

The goals of Hospice are: to help the patient stay at home as long as possible; to control pain and other symptoms; to provide comfort and hope; to care for all family members through the illness and during the bereavement period; to keep health-care costs down; to coordinate existing community services; and to promote the concept of Hospice among lay persons and professionals as an integral part of a total community response to terminal illness.

When a patient is told by his doctor, "There is nothing more I can do to cure your cancer, there is still much that can be done to help the patient remain active and involved in the life of his family and community. Such care needs little technology, but needs much attention, both professional and non-professional, to the personal needs of the patient and family."

As society has become more understanding and willing to meet the special needs of dying people, it has recognized that there are many non-clinical needs not covered by existing health care systems or agencies. Statistics show cancer strikes one in four Americans, and though not for everyone, Hospice care offers an alternative method of meeting these special needs. Patients are referred to Hospice by their physicians. All patients are accepted regardless of race, religion, creed or national origin. Hospice patients have an incurable illness and a limited life expectancy.

While there is no charge for care, contributions are requested and gratefully accepted. All patients live in either Seminole or Orange counties. The average daily cost to Hospice is $45 per day per patient. Hospice is totally dependent on donated funds and services in order to maintain its program.

This year one-third of the Hospice cases are in Seminole County. Hospice provides service 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The Hospice team, composed of a doctor, nurse, clergy or counselor, social worker and volunteer, meets frequently to go over the patient's symptoms and pain control and monitor the case. The referring physician is considered a central part of the team, which is concerned with the physical, psychological, financial and spiritual needs of the patient and family.

Personal services by volunteers include friendly visits, in-home recreation, transportation, assistance, reading to patients, letter writing and child care.

Reagan Nearing Victory On His Arms Package

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Reagan, gaining momentum on his embattled proposal to sell AWACS radar planes to Saudi Arabia, may be closing in on a third major victory over Congress. Reagan, who last summer lobbied record tax and spending cuts through the Democratic-dominated House and Republican-controlled Senate, now seems to be just a handful of votes from scoring an uphill win on his arms package.

Budget Cuts In Trouble

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Recognizing stiff opposition against more spending cuts this year, Senate Republican leaders are trying to shift the focus of the budget debate to 1984. The GOP leaders sent President Reagan word Friday his proposed second round of fiscal 1982 budget reductions is in trouble and that they would concentrate on reaching his budget-balancing goal over three years.

ALLEN, Ky. (UPI)—A 70-year-old man, apparently upset about an argument, walked into a ramshackle auto-parts store and without saying a word opened fire with an automatic weapon, killing five men and wounding three others. William O. Bevens was arrested at his home in Printer a few hours after the shootings Friday and charged with five counts of murder, state police said.

Judge Susan H. Black gave Joseph G. Helmich Jr., 44, the maximum sentence Friday, saying, "Congress has expressed its views on the seriousness of this offense." He will be eligible for parole in 10 years.

Gunman Robs Bank Near Longwood

A lone gunman wearing a stocking mask robbed the Flagship Bank, 500 Hunt Club Blvd., near Longwood, at about 2:46 p.m., Friday, taking an undetermined amount of money, Seminole County sheriff's deputies said.

Witnesses told deputies a lone gunman entered the bank and ordered employee Suzanne Campbell, 39, to put some money in the briefcase he was carrying. Once the money was in his briefcase, the man fled in a white Ford Thunderbird, southbound on Hunt Club, then eastbound on State Road 436, deputies said. Witnesses said the license plate of the vehicle was covered with a brown paper bag.

The gunman was described by witnesses as a white male, about 18 years old, 160 pounds; approximately five feet, five inches tall, wearing a stocking mask and a khaki sport shirt and carrying a small blue-steel revolver.

DOUBLE TROUBLE
A lone gunman robbed the Thornton Service Station, 1540 N. Orlando Ave., Maitland, Saturday morning, taking an undetermined amount of money from the station, Seminole County sheriff's deputies said.

An employee, Wilson Knott, 19, told deputies the man hung around the station talking to him for about 30 minutes concerning the man's alleged car trouble. A few minutes later the gunman pointed a snub-nosed gun at Knott and demanded all the money in the station, deputies said. The gunman also stole Knott's rifle from under the station counter.

Deputies said the gunman is described by witnesses as a black male, about 28 years old, approximately six feet tall, with an Afro and mustache, wearing a plain shirt and dark pants and driving a small blue car.

TWO ROB GENEVA STORE
Two unknown men robbed the Handy Way convenience store on State Road 46 in Geneva Friday and took an undetermined amount of money from the store, Seminole County sheriff's deputies said.

According to store clerks Elsie Oravec, 34, and Hattie Byrd, 36, the two men entered the store and one took a beer from a cooler and walked to the counter pulling a handgun from his pants. The other man pushed the clerk from behind the counter and took the money from the cash register, deputies said.

The two men were last seen fleeing in a brown-over-beige Oldsmobile, eastbound on SR 46, deputies said.

The witnesses described the gunman as a 25-to-28-year-old male, five feet, 10 inches tall, 175 pounds, carrying a silver revolver, and wearing a green short-sleeved shirt with white jacket, blue jeans and white hat, and had a small beard. The other man is described as a 20-year-old black male, about five feet, eight inches tall, 175 pounds, wearing a white T-shirt and blue jeans, with short hair and clean-shaven, deputies said.

PULLED FROM CAR, ROBBED
A Casselberry man was pulled from the car in which he was a passenger by an unknown man at about 7:45 p.m. Friday while the car was stopped at a stop sign at the intersection of Jackson and North streets, Altamonte Springs, Seminole County sheriff's deputies said.

Jerry Gross, 20, of 1189 Quintuplet Dr. told deputies one of six black males standing at the Jackson Street intersection opened the passenger door of the car and pulled him out of the vehicle, ripping his wallet from his left rear pocket. The man took approximately $275 from Gross' wallet, deputies said.

Gross told deputies he struggled with the man when someone hit him on the back of the neck with a wooden stick. He said he chased the assailant but was unable to catch him.

Deputies said the driver of the car, Jeffrey Andrade, 16, of 1403 Park Dr., Casselberry, and another passenger, Andrew Wingate, 22, of 1520 Oak Lane, Casselberry, remained in the car during the incident.

TIRESTAKEN
Witnesses observed a lone man remove two Remington HR 70-15 auto tires from McRobert's Tires, 405 W. 1st St., Thursday afternoon and roll them down the alleyway behind the store. The tires were valued at $120.

GUNS RECOVERED
About $1,115 worth of firearms were taken from Seminole Sporting Goods, 2484 Sanford Ave., Sanford, just before 2 a.m. Friday. But most of the weapons have been recovered.

Police said thieves broke into the store's east window by smashing the glass with two soft drink bottles. A burglar alarm apparently scared them off during the commission of the crime, however.

While responding to the alarm, Sanford Police Lt. Ralph Russell saw a black and cream colored Buick leaving the area. According to police reports the event unfolded this way: When Russell stopped the vehicle on 29th St. the driver Kevin Jerome Miles, 2200 W. 13th St., Sanford, got out of the car and started walking toward the police cruiser.

But then a passenger of the car started driving the car away. After putting Miles in his patrol car, Russell gave chase. The fleeing car was wrecked on Montezuma Ave. Handguns and air rifles valued at $965 were recovered. Miles was being held Friday at the Seminole County Jail in lieu of $8,000 bond. He is charged with armed burglary and grand theft.

HIT AGAIN
For the fifth time in the past three months, B & P Roofing, Box 298, County Road 427, Longwood, was the target of burglars.

This time they forced open a garage door to gain entry to the business, police said. Stolen were three cassette tape recorders and a pair of prescription glasses, total value $150. The incident occurred sometime between 6 p.m. Wednesday and 7:30 a.m. Thursday.

FOILED AGAIN
Coke bottles were used to break a window pane and gain entry into another Sanford business Thursday.

Sometime between 5:30 p.m. and 9:40 p.m., police said, burglars broke the window pane of the front door of Norris' Exotic Plants, 601 Celery Ave. Once inside, they opened an interior door leading to a TV repair shop, activating the burglar alarm, which apparently scared them away, police said.

A black cloth hat was found inside, apparently belonging to a foiled thief.

Moshe Dayan Dies At 66

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — Moshe Dayan, charismatic hero of Israel's Six-Day War who later advocated concessions to the Arabs he conquered, died suddenly of heart failure and will be given a state funeral. He was 66.

Soldier, politician and symbol to many of the young nation of Israel, Dayan, famous worldwide for the black eye patch he wore, died Friday in Tel Aviv's Tel Hashomer hospital less than 24 hours after being admitted with chest pains. His family said the cause of death was heart failure. His wife, Hachel, and daughter Yael were at his bedside.

Israel Radio said Dayan, leader of Israel's 1956 Suez campaign and 1967 Six-Day War, would be buried in state, probably Sunday.

In Washington, President Reagan called Dayan a "symbol of Israeli resolve to be free and independent." "We are deeply saddened to learn of the death of Moshe Dayan — a courageous soldier and a great Israeli statesman," Reagan said in a statement released by the White House.

In Plains, Ga., former President Jimmy Carter called Dayan "a great statesman and courageous leader." In a prepared statement he said, "His dedication and tireless efforts at Camp David helped to bring about the blueprint for peace between Israel and Egypt and all their neighbors."

Dayan was at his most brilliant in the 1967 war, when Israel simultaneously battled the armies of Egypt, Syria and Jordan, and conquered East Jerusalem, the West Bank and the Gaza Strip, all heavily Arab regions that remain under Jewish control. In addition, Israel took the Golan Heights from Syria, a major strategic point.

But heavy Israeli losses early in the 1973 Yom Kippur War when Dayan was defense minister tarnished his military reputation and indirectly hurt the chances of the new political party he formed when leaving Prime Minister Menachem Begin's Cabinet in 1979.

SCC Slates Workshop To Fight Illiteracy

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer
"Reading" and writing" and "rithmetic..." — the basic skills everyone knows, right? According to some, however, many people never get past the first skill — reading. Glenda McClure, Seminole Community College (SCC) adult reading instructor, says the college is doing something to combat illiteracy in the area.

"It's sad, but there are people in Seminole County who just cannot read," Mrs. McClure says. "Many of them never had the benefit of formal training and others, who did go to school, just didn't learn."

SCC is beginning a new adult literacy workshop to prepare tutors to teach non-readers how to read and write, Mrs. McClure says.

"A non-reader needs the one-on-one attention a tutor can provide, and we feel the program is a needed one," she says. "We will train the tutors and then they will work with non-readers and persons with under a fourth grade reading level ability to read and write."

The workshop will be held from 6:30 to 10 p.m. Nov. 3, 10, and 17 in Building 8 on the SCC adult campus. The fee is $11 to cover the cost of the books a tutor will need to teach his students. There is no charge to the student, unless he wishes to purchase books also, Mrs. McClure says.

Reading instructor Glenda McClure shows Peggy Donato where to sign up for the Literacy Workshop at Seminole Community College Nov. 3, 7 and 10.

"Non-readers are dependent people," Mrs. McClure says. "They're dependent on other people to go to the store for them, or else they buy from pictures appearing on labels. They can't read their own mail or newspaper, and they often are taken advantage of financially because of it."

"I've found there are people who had to quit school or forego school altogether because they had to work to keep their families going," she adds. "Then there are those who just didn't put anything into learning and now wish they had."

Mrs. McClure has students from all walks of life, including small-business persons, farmers, housewives and high school students. "Through our program, students can begin learning to read and write from the very first lesson, she says. "What we need desperately, however, is people who are willing to help them learn. So far, we have had five people say they want to become tutors."

Methane Gas Explosion Kills 93 Japanese Miners

TOKYO (UPI)—Methane gas exploded in a coal mine 1,900 feet underground in northern Japan, sending out a cloud of black dust and gas that trapped and killed at least 93 miners in Japan's worst mining disaster, company officials said today. "The mine filled with dense coal dust and I just ran and ran for my life," said one survivor, miner Taketoshi Alma.

Egypt Rounds Up 1,500

CAIRO, Egypt (UPI)—President Hosni Mubarak's government tightened its grip on a nation shaken by the assassination of Anwar Sadat by rounding up more than 1,500 people in a sweeping crack-down on Moslem militants and other opponents.

The arrests were disclosed Friday as two American AWACS planes patrolled Egyptian skies for the second day to detect a reported Libyan military buildup across the border from Sudan, Egypt's ally.

Counterattack On Solidarity

WARSAW, Poland (UPI)—In a harsh counterattack on Solidarity, Polish officials called for a purge of union members from party ranks and warned the government could impose a national state of emergency to restore order in the nation.

"One cannot be a member of our party and at the same time one a party which is our enemy," Communist Party leader Stanislaw Kania said Friday in the first day of a two-day session of the party's Central Committee, its main policy-making body.

Korchnoi Wins 1st Game

MERANO, Italy (UPI)—Soviet defector Viktor Korchnoi gained his first victory in his grudge match with world chess champion Anatoly Karpov, but still faces a difficult challenge to win the crown.

One hour before the sixth game of the match was resumed Friday, the Karpov delegation notified chief arbiter Paul Klein of Ecuador that the 30-year-old Soviet had resigned the game, which had been adjourned Thursday after 41 moves.

Good Students Make Good Business

The importance of quality education was stressed by Jim Wells, general manager of the NCR Corp. plant at Lake Mary, to the more than 300 educators, students, and businessmen to kick-off Business Education Day activities at Lake Mary High School Friday.

Noting that half of NCR's employees are computer scientists and electrical engineers, Wells said the company must have quality community colleges and universities nearby where these skilled employees can continue their training to stay technologically current.

The special day is sponsored by the five chambers of commerce in Seminole County annually. The chambers include those in Sanford, Lake Mary, Altamonte-Casselberry, Longwood-Winter Springs, and the Maitland-South Seminole Chamber. Representatives of 35 businesses chose teachers and students to tour their respective businesses after breakfast at Lake Mary High and a program in the school auditorium.

Barbara And Dolly: Broadening The Appeal Of Country Music

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Barbara Mandrell stood on a wooden chair in her party suite waving a glass of champagne high in the air, bubbling over her unprecedented achievement in the Country Music Association Awards show.

The last three years. Nobody had ever done that before. "She was high as a kite, naturally," said MCA Records publicist Jerry Bailey. "She was in a great mood, bouncing around, drinking some champagne. This was really all of her dreams coming true."

She received the CMA honor because of her efforts to broaden the appeal of the music she was raised on. Her new television series — "Barbara Mandrell and the Mandrell Sisters" — deserves some of the credit.

Miss Parton has since gone on to star in movies, perform in Las Vegas and continues to be one of the most highly paid country stars in the world. It took some time for Nashville to realize it had not lost a star, but gained a friend.

Tribe is the spirit club at Seminole High. The ultimate goal for the administration and Tribe members is to have all juniors and seniors in the Tribe. This goal isn't as easy to reach as it seems because Tribe is not just a "Pep" club. Tribe is an honor club. To get into Tribe a student must be very active in all aspects of school life.

initiated separately instead of in a single group. "I was surprised. I like how they are doing the initiations this year. It is more of an honor. It feels good that they picked me as a part of the "spirit" club at school," Kim said after becoming a member of Tribe.

In years past, teachers have nominated students for Tribe based on their school and class spirit, and academic standing. After being reviewed, all of the nominees met and went through the initiation ritual at once. This year nominations are made by other Tribe members. They are then reviewed by the Tribal Council. Only one or two people are initiated per week. This makes getting into Tribe even more of an honor because new members are

Paramedic Program To Be Discussed

By TENI YARBOROUGH Herald Staff Writer

"We don't anticipate any problems with getting Council the information they've requested," firefighter Frank Stone said today concerning the proposed advanced life support (paramedic) program. The paramedic program is slated for discussion at Tuesday's 7:30 p.m. council meeting at city hall, 95 Lake Triplet Drive, Casselberry.

Jail Probe Ends, Changes Made

Seminole County Sheriff John Polk said today an investigation into alleged sexual harassment of female inmates at the county jail is complete and has resulted in a policy change.

Although one jail guard was terminated as a result of the probe, Polk said there has been no finding that any other employees were involved in misconduct. "I'm not going to go into what was done," he said. "I think it's a dead issue." Elisha Smith, 42, was suspended without pay from his job at the jail for what Polk termed "conduct unbecoming an officer." He was officially fired June 29. Smith was accused of sexually harassing at least one and possibly more female prisoners. "No other employees were involved in conduct unbecoming officers," Polk said today. He did, however, say the probe has resulted in a change of policy at the jail. "We have taken steps," Polk said. "No male corrections officer will be allowed to go anywhere in the female section without a female corrections officer going along. "And vice versa. No female corrections officer will be allowed in the male section without a male officer."

Last-Quarter Surge Falls Short, Spruce Creek Clips Lake Brantley

By JOE DESANTIS
Herald Sports Writer

Spruce Creek used a determined goal line defense to hold off a late challenge by Lake Brantley Friday night, preserving a 14-7 victory that kept the Hawks undefeated in district play and one-half game behind Seminole High in the Five Star Conference.

"We did what we had to do when we had to do it," confirmed winning coach Terry Manfredi about his Hawk's goal line defense that stopped Lake Brantley two yards short of the endzone on a late Patriot drive.

"That was a hell of a defensive effort. I'm proud of our kids—they deserved to win with an effort like that."

Manfredi's Hawks battled back from a 7-6 halftime deficit to go ahead early in the fourth period, 14-7, on a seven-yard scoring run by halfback Kenny Flowers and a successful two-point conversion effort that saw sophomore quarterback Billy Elmore hook up with Willie Wingfield.

Then the Hawks sat back and used a defense that stretched, but never snapped against a Lake Brantley comeback bid.

Trailing with just under five minutes remaining in the game, Lake Brantley rode the legs of Rob Brown and a pair of 15-yard penalties against Spruce Creek to the Hawk's nine-yard line with a first-and-goal-to-go.

Patriots

Quarterback Fred Baber grabbed seven yards on a roll out, then sandwiched around a pair of fruitless thrusts by halfback Kevin Besaw before the Creek's defense rose to the occasion on fourth and goal in the form of defensive back Rod Turner.

Baber rolled left on the Patriot's final thrust of the drive and attempted to find a receiver in the left corner of the end zone, but Turner shot through a gap in the Lake Brantley line and nailed the Patriot signal caller for a nine-yard loss to halt the comeback bid.

Lake Brantley got one final try with just 27 seconds on the clock but Baber was separated from the pigskin with a blindsided hit as the Hawks recovered the fumble to kill Lake Brantley's last chance and improve to 2-0 in district standings and 3-2 overall.

The loss dropped Lake Brantley to 2-1 in district play and evened the Patriot's overall record at 3-3.

Lake Brantley had taken a 7-0 lead early in the second period when wide receiver Al Rollison turned quarterback on a flea flicker play and connected with Gary Decker for a 33-yard pickup that moved Lake Brantley to Spruce Creek's 14 yard line. Halfback Rob Brown scooted 14 yards on the next play for the score. Kevin Besaw's PAT kick made it

7-0 Lake Brantley with 10:40 showing in the half.

Spruce Creek answered with just 57 seconds left prior to intermission when sophomore quarterback Billy Elmore first eluded a strong Patriot pass rush, then zig-zagged his way to a 23-yard touchdown. Kyle Davis and John Desmet crashed through to block Paul Ching's PAT attempt to preserve Lake Brantley's first half lead of 7-6.

Spruce Creek's Kenny Flowers, bottled up through the first three quarters, shook loose on a pair of long runs midway through the final stanza to set Spruce Creek up with a scoring opportunity. Flowers put the finishing touches on the Hawk drive with 9:37 remaining on a seven-yard touchdown run. Manfredi elected to compensate for the first PAT miss by going for a two-point conversion. Elmore spotted Wingfield over the middle and connected with a three-yard dart to push the Hawks in front 14-7.

Flowers finished the night as the game's leading rusher with 75 yards on 14 carries. Rob Brown paced Patriot rushers with 68 yards on 10 tries in the defense dominated contest.

"Both of us got our butts whipped last week," pointed out Manfredi. "This was a big step for us, it puts us 2-0 in the district."

"Spruce Creek made the key play when it had to," agreed Lake Brantley's Tullis. "I thought we played well after last week's showing against Winter Park. The defense played exceptionally well. You just can't be in the right defense on every play of the game and they broke a couple on us."

The Hawks' poised sophomore quarterback Elmore was the "breaker" against the Patriots. On several occasions Lake Brantley put extreme pressure on the quick-footed soph only to have him slither away for drive sustaining gains, including his 23-yard touchdown scramble.

"We knew coming in he would be a factor," acknowledged Tullis. "His quickness made us miss a couple of times tonight."

Tribe Defense Dooms DeLand

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

DELAND — After missing on five consecutive passing attempts, Sanford quarterback Jeff Litton probably figured he was overdue.

So, when Tribe linebacker Greg Register recovered a fumble on the 19 yard line, Litton zipped a quick dart into the right flat to tight end Frank Rowe and the 6-foot-3 senior rumbled all the way to the two yard line.

On the next play, Litton followed center Jay Hauck and guard Donald Croslyn into the end zone for the touchdown. Senior Allan Cahill added the extra point with 4:08 remaining in the third quarter.

An awesome Seminole defense made the TD standup as the Tribe punished the Bulldogs, 7-0, in a Five Star Conference battle at Spec Martin Stadium in DeLand.

The victory was the fourth in a row for Coach Jerry Posey's Seminoles and kept them atop the Five Star with a 3-0 record. They are 4-1 for the season. Spruce Creek whipped Lake Brantley, 14-7, to move to 2-0. Brantley is 2-1.

DeLand, meanwhile, is 0-4 in the Five Star and 1-5 for the year.

"A lot of people are going to look at the score and say, 'Seminole played poor and DeLand played great,'" observed Posey after the victory. "But it was a hard-nosed game. You can never tell about the Seminole-DeLand games."

It might have been easier to tell if the Seminoles hadn't squandered three excellent scoring opportunities in the first half.

All three were waylaid by failure to convert third down attempts. Sanford moved the ball up and down the field almost at will as fullback Lenny Sutton barreled for 46 yards, scatback Johnnie Littles scooted for 45 and Victor Williams ran for 35.

Williams was injured in the second quarter when he turned to catch a swing pass and was leveled by Tim Herndon. He was taken by ambulance to the hospital. No report was available on his condition. "He really got his bell rung," said Posey.

The first of Sanford's three golden opportunities came after defensive tackle Bill Painter recovered the first of his two fumbles at the Tribe 15 yard line.

Littles scampered 27 yards to the 43 on a nice trap play. Seminole went to "Bull" again and he skipped for four more to midfield. Strong side tackle Isaac Williams then shielded two Bulldogs as V. Williams turned the right corner for 21 yards to the 'Dogs' 28.

Rendal Manley ran for seven, but Sutton was stopped for no gain. On the first crucial third down, V. Williams was tossed for a five yard loss to the 27.

Posey considered a field goal, then called for Litton to punt. The blond senior, however, sailed the kick deep into the end zone, which returned it to the 20 yard line.

"Well, we didn't think Litton would kick the ball into the end zone," laughed Posey when asked about his decision. "We've been over-extending (Alan) Cahill a bit, so we decided not to try it (44 yard field goal attempt)."

Late in the first quarter, Cahill pounced on a Bulldog fumble to set up Seminole at its own 35. After Littles ran for two, Litton took off on a nice scramble for 19 yards to the 38.

Next, Litton found Sutton open and the Seminoles

193-pound senior raced 14 yards to midfield. Sutton plunged for two before Litton misfired on an aerial attempt.

On third down, Litton faded to pass, but niftily fed a handoff to Sutton who rambed past the surprised Bulldogs for 24 yards on a draw play.

Another five yards by Littles and a Litton incompletion gave the Tribe its second crucial third down situation at the DeLand 20.

Litton dropped back to pass, but was smothered by a host of Bulldogs. Cahill was summoned to boot a 45 yard field goal, but the kick was wide to the left.

Two minutes later with five minutes to play in the half, Register and Painter sacked DeLand quarterback Robert Flack to force a punt from the eight yard line.

Seminole's Freddie Howard, who returned a kickoff 92 yards for a TD against Apopka, picked off Doug McDaniels' line drive punt at the 44 and scampered 21 yards down the right sideline for a first down at the 'Dogs' 23.

Sutton slipped nine yards to the 14, but then lost one. On third down, the 6-foot-1 senior bulldozed for five yards and a first down at the 10.

Littles ran for one and Williams trudged for three to the six yard line. Litton, on third down, faded to throw, but was engulfed by two Bulldogs to negate the Tribe's third scoring opportunity.

Cahill was called upon again, but this time he missed wide left as the snap was high and Litton did a good job of just getting it placed.

Painter recovered his second fumble with just 1:35 remaining, but Litton fired three blanks as the half came to a close.

DeLand fumbled six times on the night and lost five. The most important coming in the aforementioned third quarter when Register pounced on quarterback David DeMarah's miscue at the 19.

"That hurt us bad," admitted Stowers about the fumble which eventually led to the only score of the night. "But I thought our defense was outstanding tonight."

"There's just not too much difference between first place and last place in this conference. The team that wins is going to have to improve if they want to represent this district very well," assessed Stowers.

While the improvement is warranted in the Seminole offense, it's doubtful that a defense could play much better, especially since it was without its mastermind — coach Dave Moore.

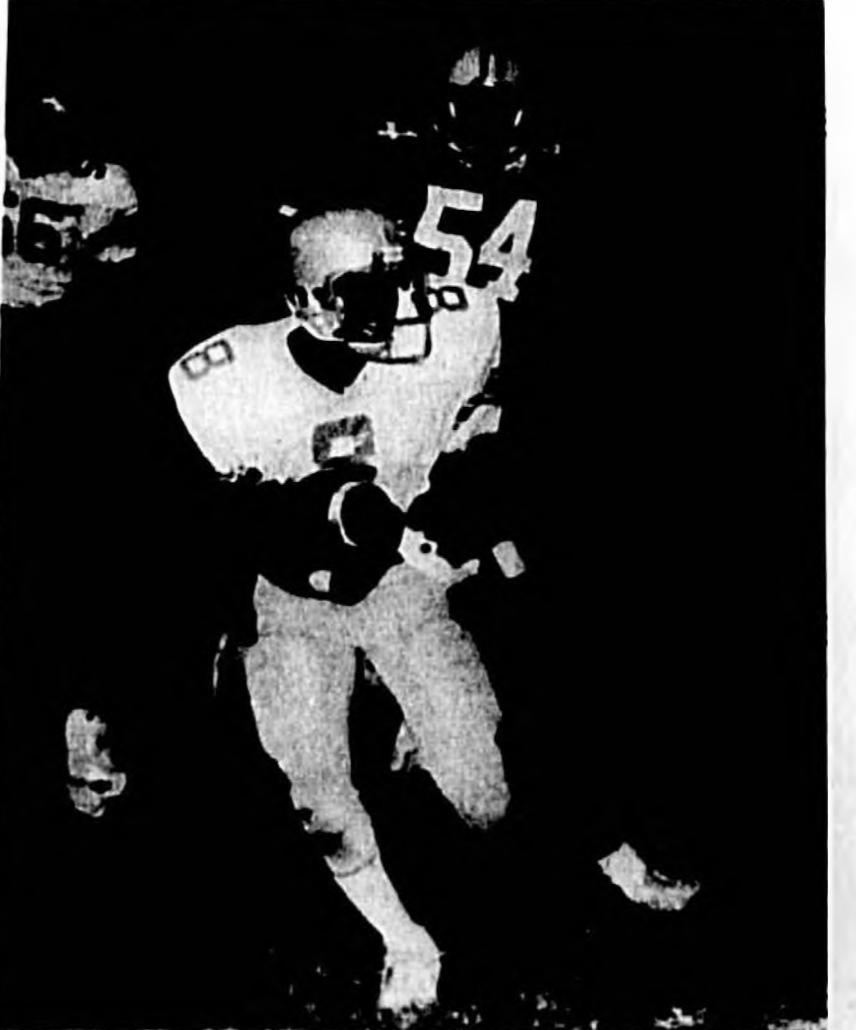

Sanford takes a break from its conference schedule next Friday when it hosts Lakeland Kathleen.

Sanford Chosen For Tournament

Tim Anderson, the innovative pro at the Altamonte Springs Racquet Club, is once again hosting and directing intra-city tennis competition involving top players from four United States cities.

The tournament will take place Friday, Oct. 23 through Sunday, Oct. 25 at the Altamonte facility.

Cities sending teams to host Orlando include Atlanta and Richmond, Va. The fourth city was to be Jacksonville, but because of tournament conflicts, the top players in the city had to cancel the team event.

The replacement for Jacksonville — are you ready for this? — is SANFORD, FLA. Yes, Sanford has been invited to play in this prestigious event.

Sanford's team will be comprised mostly of Seminole Community College students, and although will be at a great disadvantage as far as experience and age are concerned, should give a good account of themselves.

Team Orlando will have a very strong side with top area pro Mike DeFranco heading an impressive list of area tennis stars. For Lake Howell High standout Craig Perry, Rollins No. 1 player, will be on the team along with Mick Andrews, Richard Trapp, Rick Chase and Jerry Stewart. Atlanta and Richmond will both field very strong teams and the two day competition should be played on a very high level.

Play starts Friday at 10:00 a.m. with Atlanta meeting Richmond. Orlando plays Sanford at 4:00 p.m. Play will continue Saturday morning starting at 9:00 a.m. All matches will be played at the Altamonte Springs Racket Club and admission is free. If you like to watch really good tennis come on down — you will really enjoy it.

The Bayhead Member Doubles Championships were played last weekend at the Lake Mary club. Winners in the women's doubles were Cathy Gray and Sharon Morton. They defeated Bettye Reagan and Shari Jones in the finals. The men's competition was won by Jim Edmonds and David Holt over father and son team Lee and Jon Holt.

Rogers, White Wilt Dodgers, Expos Need 1 For Series Trip

NL Playoff

MONTREAL (UPI) — When the baseball players strike was settled in the early morning hours of July 31st, Steve Rogers was one of the last player representatives to leave the negotiating room in New York.

He said that one job was done and another was yet to be completed. He then hunched his shoulders against a chilly dawn breeze and went out for breakfast.

It's been that way for Steve Rogers right up through October. One job after another gets done, the latest piece of work being a seven-hitter that carried the Expos to a 4-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers Friday night in Game 3 of the National League Championship series.

The Expos moved to within one game of winning the first National League Championship in the team's 13-year history. Jerry White, another of the unexpected surprises that the Expos keep springing on their adversaries, contributed a three-run homer to cap a two-out, four-run rally in the sixth inning.

"After eight or nine years, to play in a game of this magnitude and win is so gratifying," said Rogers, who has had to shrug off the image of a "big-game loser" for two seasons.

The Expos' emotional and demanding fans have screamed in unison for Gary Carter in the past, and for "Cro" (Warren Cromartie) and Tim Raines, but they have never been known to strike up a stadium-wide chant for Rogers, the Expos' workhorse.

Until Friday night, that is. "The crowd was fabulous," Rogers said. "It's very satisfying but what is most satisfying is having done the job."

Rogers, an Expo since 1973, struggled through a tense ninth inning with "one good pitch" — a sinking fastball — after Steve Garvey and Ron Cey lined back-to-back single leading off.

Following a summit at the mound with Fanning, Rogers took Pedro Guerrero to 3-1 before getting him bounce to third baseman Larry Parrish, who started a double play that killed the Dodgers' chances.

Jerry Reuss was staked to a one-run lead when Ron Cey drove Dusty Baker home from third on a ground ball to the infield in the fourth inning. He was rolling through the Expos' scappy lineup until the sixth, having spaced three hits — all of them after two were out in the sixth, Andre Dawson singled, took second on a walk to Carter and came home on Larry Parrish's single to left. White jumped on a 2-1 pitch that was up and in, driving it to the left field seats.

"You win some and you lose some," said the Dodger lefthander, who was 10-4 in the regular season and had overwhelmed the Houston Astros and Nolan Ryan in the deciding game of the Divisional Series.

"Not that I am taking this lightly... I know how important this game was. If we had won this game we would have had a helluva shot."

Baker was not impressed by the Expos' pitching but he is worried about the Dodger's anemic hitting attack.

"When we are not hitting as a team, then everybody looks tough," he said. "But when we are hitting, then nobody looks tough. It's hard to accept, especially when you know you can hit."

The Dodgers sent Burt Hooton, 11-6, against the Expos in Game 4 today. Fanning will counter with Bill Gullickson. If the series goes to a fifth game Sunday, Fanning will start Ray Burris, who won the second game against the Dodgers with a shutout Wednesday night.

Nettles A Hit At Party Too

NEW YORK (UPI) — Third baseman Graig Nettles lined a blow to outfielder Reggie Jackson's mouth at a victory celebration in Oakland Thursday night following New York's clinching of the American League Pennant with a 4-0 win over the A's.

Nettles' swing came at a party held for Yankee teammates and their families by owner George Steinbrenner at a restaurant just a mile from Oakland Coliseum.

The trouble began when Jackson, who makes his home in Oakland, arrived late at the party accompanied by several friends.

Nettles inquired as to their identity and upon learning they were friends of Jackson's, became upset and got up to look for the Yankee star.

Nettles discovered Jackson in a hallway, where the two had a heated exchange. Jackson slapped away a beer bottle in Nettles' hand and it was at that point that Nettles delivered his punch.

O.J. Forum Topic: Tourism

The Orlando Area Chamber of Commerce's next Orange Juice (O.J.) Forum, on Oct. 20, will feature tourism. The guest speaker is Frederick M. Bush, assistant secretary of tourism for the U.S. Department of Commerce. Bush will present the Reagan administration's views on the need for a national tourism policy and the federal role in Central Florida tourism.

This month's forum, sponsored by the Continental Resources Co., will be held at Edyth Bush Auditorium, Loch Haven Park, beginning at 7:30 a.m. with coffee, orange juice and pastry being served. The program will start at 8 a.m.

After the forum, Bush will be available to the press for interviewing.

The monthly forums are open to the public.

New Phone Call Setup

Orange City Telephone Co. customers dialing "Operator" after Sunday will find their calls being assisted by operators in Winter Park instead of Daytona, according to company officials.

With the completion last month of the new microwave tower, Orange City Telephone will soon reroute all local directory assistance and toll service for the company's subscribers to Winter Park Telephone's toll facility. The Southern Bell toll center in Daytona has been providing toll service for OCT subscribers in Orange City, Lake Helen, Cassadaga and Deltona.

New Beef Products Due

Consumers in the next few years may be seeing new intermediate price beef products show up as producers offer alternatives to the $4 or $6 a pound steak.

The new products will come from a variety of processes such as flake-form, press-cleave, massage-tumble and electrical shock. Dr. Gary Smith, a Texas A&M University meat scientist, told a beef conference recently.

The new products will be somewhere between ground beef and a steak. Smith said these "value-added" products will compete with poultry and pork. He said meat restructuring research by universities would be important in such new products.

Brucellosis Labs Busy

More than a million and a half blood samples were processed through the brucellosis laboratories during the first full year of the accelerated program to eradicate the cattle disease from Florida.

The main state-federal laboratory in Jacksonville and its 14 satellite field labs conducted tests on 1,507,391 blood samples taken from state cattle from Oct. 1, 1980, through Sept. 1.

GROUND BREAKERS

A NEW LOOK

As part of a plan to remodel all K mart discount department stores during the next several years, 11 K marts in the Orlando area, including the ones in Sanford, Altamonte Springs and Fern Park, are receiving a new interior design. The updated look is intended to prompt customers to think of K mart for more of their shopping needs by making the stores more pleasant and conveniently arranged. The remodeling also highlights discount values in national-brand and private-label merchandise. A major part of the redesign is a remade apparel department with contemporary hanging displays.

Pine Seedlings Available, But Act Quickly

Heavy demand for pine tree seedlings is expected by the Florida Division of Forestry this year to re-stock thousands of acres of land denuded by the worst fire season in history.

"We have plenty of high quality pine seedlings available now, but they may not last long because of the special situation this fall," said Forest Management Chief W.R. Helm, whose responsibilities include the state-owned tree nurseries. "Landowners need to get requests to us quickly."

"More than 500,000 acres of land have been burned since January and in many cases, entire stands of young trees were killed. Replanting that land this year, added to the normal reforestation work in Florida, will throw an extra load on us for seedlings," Helm said.

Landowners may purchase as few as 500 seedlings costing $7 to millions at the rate of $14 per 1,000 from the state nurseries, and the trees will be delivered during the winter planting season.

The state supplied more than 50 million seedlings last season and that did not meet all the demand. There are more this year, but they aren't likely to last long when the reforestation season arrives.

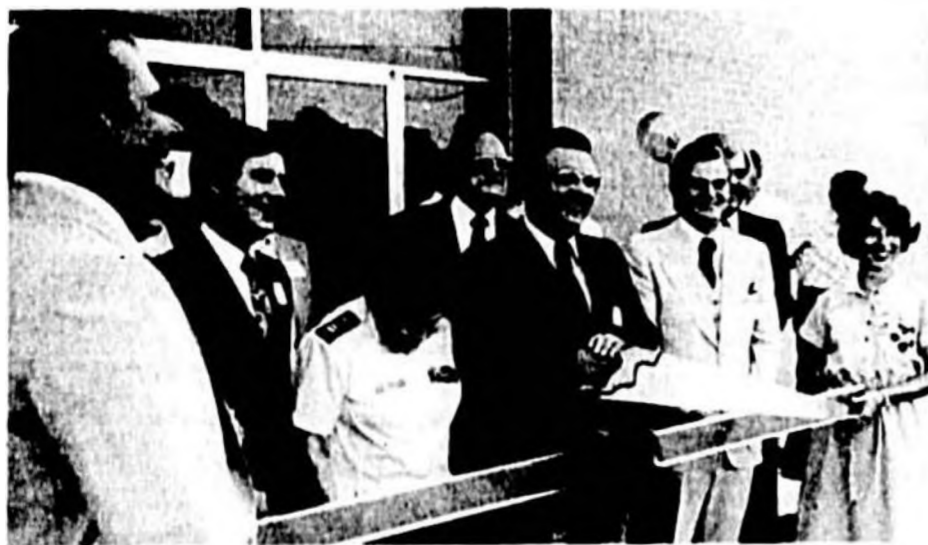

Florida has planted more than 100 million tree seedlings each year for a number of years, with pulpwood-growing companies frequently growing their own seedlings in addition to those produced by the state for the smaller landowners.

Most of the pines available in the state nurseries are of the slash variety, including about 22 million genetically improved seedlings, which grow about 15 percent faster than ordinary trees.

In addition, the state nurseries have loblolly, spruce, longleaf and sand pines available in quantity, and smaller numbers of hardwoods and flowering trees, including oaks, maples, sycamores, dogwood, tupelo and catalpa.

Sales, Use Tax Reports Changed; Public Meetings Are Slated

Many local business people may be in for a surprise when they receive their Florida Sales and Use Tax reports near the end of October. The return package is totally different from the one used for so many years by the Florida Department of Revenue.

Not only is the return different, but according to the executive director of the Department of Revenue, Randy Miller, it's better, easier to complete and decidedly faster to process than the old return. Miller, a man who does not believe in change for the sake of change, said a one-year pilot project in Clay, Nassau, Duval and Palm Beach counties has produced excellent results and has provided the Department ample time to gear up for state-wide implementation of the "Rapid Deposit System" in October.

"Rapid Deposit" is a new machine processing system which allows the department of revenue to process sales tax and, in most cases, deposit the dealer's check for payment of tax in an interest bearing account on the same day it is received in Tallahassee. "We're going to be putting Florida tax dollars to work at a much faster rate than before," Miller said, "and every dollar generated in interest is a dollar that doesn't have to come from another source." Miller also says that the state will benefit from the Rapid Deposit System at the county level as well, through increased efficiency in the state's revenue sharing program.

That in brief, is the big picture on the new Rapid Deposit

System. But, what about the local business person who has to file a Sales and Use Tax report, and find themselves looking at a form they have never seen before? No problem, according to Miller. The Taxpayer Assistance Section in Tallahassee, in cooperation with the department's area offices, is scheduling public meetings Oct. 27 in the third-floor Management Room of the State Office Building, 200 W. Robinson St., Orlando, at 1 and 6 p.m.

In addition to an explanation of the Rapid Deposit reporting package, the department spokesmen will conduct an orientation for new business people in the area. Subjects such as who must register, how to register, tax liability, and reporting procedures as well as the most recent changes in the tax law will be fully covered. A question and answer session will conclude each meeting, and everyone attending will be given a Sales and Use Tax information packet for future reference.

Referring to the return package itself, Miller said that one of the major elements in the successful implementation of RDS is the proper use of the package by the dealer. One of the advantages of the new system is that the returns will be mailed to the dealers in sets of three. Each portion of the return is clearly marked with the date indicating the period for which the tax is due. Care should be taken to submit the correct portion of the return to avoid tax payments improperly credited. Miller said that this area would be covered at the public meetings.

Ken Donaldson, 19, has painted the four walls of Carriage Cove Teen Center with murals depicting different phases of the subconscious mind. In mural, left, Donaldson calls the work of art 'Surrealistic Self Portrait' representing his spiritual being

Vivid Murals Give Artist New Life

"Living in the Past" reflects a sad period in the artist's life.

By DAILENE JENNINGS
Herald Staff Writer

In Carriage Cove on State Road 427 inside the trailer park's teen center breathes the images created and painted by Ken Donaldson.

The 19-year-old artist has painted the inside of the concrete building's four walls with six vivid murals all of which he calls "surrealistic" and some of which reflect the artist's life in recent months.

Donaldson said he painted the walls of the building for the sake of self-expression, and he plans to "finish" the building by painting the ceiling as well.

"I've always had a dream to be something like the next Michelangelo," said Donaldson in a comfortable tone of voice, "but I realize I have a few years to go," he grins.

Donaldson said he had wanted to paint the center long before April of this year when he began the project. But he had to get the management's approval and when it finally came, they even agreed to pay for the paint.

"I did the work for the cost of the paint, but next time I do a mural I think I'll charge a fee," he laughed.

He admits that he did the mural for publicity reasons as well as for his own personal reasons.

The lean artist with the curly dark hair has named each of his murals which took him three months altogether to complete and he has a tale for each of them.

"Peace Valley," "Surrealistic Self Portrait," "No Mean City," and "Malice in Blunderland" are the murals described as surrealistic. The paintings are an attempt to express the workings of the subconscious mind which means they may be interpreted to mean what they will to the beholder.

"Peace Valley," as interpreted by Donaldson, is an abstract view of a valley in which only plant life is evident and life in the valley is unspoiled by man.

"Surrealistic Self Portrait," one of the most elaborate paintings Donaldson painted at the center, is reflective of his "spiritual self," Donaldson said.

"The portrait involves my spiritual being," he said. "I am symbolized by the color blue which means calm. The rose that forms the mouth and then branches into a thorn bush to form the face means torment and at the same time means pleasure," he said evenly as he described the mural.

Looking askance, the brown-eyed artist who lives in Geneva, remembered out loud that he was somewhat depressed when he painted most of these paintings.

"I did not have a job at the time and I wasn't in school. The pressure was very great," he said looking straight ahead. "I had also just broken up with a girl that I had gone with for two years," he added.

Donaldson said he found painting at this stage of his life to be very therapeutic and it helped him to relax.

One of the paintings that Donaldson says is reflective of his life is the one dedicated to the break-up with his former girlfriend. "It's called 'Living in the Past.'"

"Living in the Past" tells about how I was involved with my girlfriend and how she became involved with another man," he said.

The mural shows a man in a red space desperately pushing up the red space and trying to separate a blue space his former girlfriend and her new boyfriend occupy.

"The painting's characters do not resemble the actual people in this triangle because I did not want to pinpoint anyone," he said.

Donaldson said his mural "Running to Nowhere" is a painting which tells of his unemployment and his uncertainty about life in the future.

"The painting shows a man lying on the ground at the end of the road, trapped by a barbed-wire fence with nowhere to go. He can only look behind him now," Donaldson said somewhat nostalgically.

The scene is very dark and depressing.

However, the former resident of the park said his state of mind has

Elephant Man

SCC Presents A First For Central Florida

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Billed as a freak, the man with a "baggy skin" and bone disorder was paraded through the streets of London in carnival-style until a kindly surgeon helped him gain self-respect and win the respect of those who came in contact with him.

"Everyone who sees it will leave with something... it affects us all," said Sara Z. Daspin, director of Bernard Pomerance's The Elephant Man premiering at the Seminole Community College (SCC) Fine Arts Theatre.

The Elephant Man, to be dramatically played for the first time in Central Florida by SCC students, is based on the true-life story of John Merrick from 1884-1890 in London. Merrick, according to Mrs. Daspin, suffered from a severe disorder affecting 1 out of 3,000 people which distorted his entire body. Merrick became increasingly worse until his death.

"John Merrick affects people with his purity," Mrs. Daspin said. "The only mistake the people made back then was they didn't focus on the natural person of Merrick and what a person is worth. That is a tragedy."

"I'm not using any make-up to depict Merrick's skin disorder," student Paul Wegman, who will portray Merrick in the play, said. "In photos we have of Merrick, his skin had large folds and pockets and he walked very awkwardly because the disorder also affected his bone structure."

Wegman said he will distort his own body so the audience "can use their imaginations to perceive The Elephant Man in their own realm of experience."

According to Mrs. Daspin, the 10-member cast will portray 20 characters in the play, "some actors playing three or four character roles each." She said the students have been working for three weeks to put on the play premiering Oct. 28 through Nov. 1.

"We're all very excited about doing the play," Mrs. Daspin said. "We've wanted to do it since it came out and we wrote, finally receiving permission to do the play."

Tickets for the play will go on sale Oct. 19 throughout the entire production at the Fine Arts Library or interested persons can call SCC at 323-1450, extension 281. Tickets cost $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for senior citizens and students. Play times are 8 p.m., Oct. 28 — Oct. 31, and 2 p.m., Nov. 1.

Starring in the play are SCC students Wegman, as John Merrick-The Elephant Man, Orlando; Tim Harding, as Dr. Frederick Treves and a Belgian policeman; Rick LaVelle, Orlando, as Dr. Carr Gomm; Chad Jordan, Sanford, as Ross Walsham, Bishop Walsham How and Snok; Richard Alber-sharot, Orlando, as Will Porter and Lord John; Mimi Cartee, Forest City, as Miss Sandwich, Princess Alexandria and a whore; Tina Preisler, Winter Park, as Mrs. Kendal and the carnies' girlfriend; Maria Cloce, Winter Springs, and Melissa Patten, Maitland, as the Pinheads; Grant Griggs, Longwood, as the conductor, carnies' orderly's assistant, and a London policeman; and, Laura Grant, Longwood, as the nun.

The SCC drama department will also present another premier showing in Central Florida on Dec. 9-13, of Bernard Slade's Romantic Comedy, Julia Sargis, of SCC, will direct the production.

Dedman-Mealor Rites Couple Wed In Portugal

Laurie Elizabeth Dedman and David James Mealor were married at Capela de Farol da Gura, Portugal. Chaplain Charles Keyser, USN, performed the noon ceremony and communion service.

The bride is the daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Tyler F. Dedman, Alta da Luz, Cascais, Portugal. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ball of Lake Mary.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Lamar Mealor, 1707 Carmel Lane, College Park, Ga.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a candlelight lace gown fashioned with a smocked bodice, gathered sleeves with ribbon at the upper arm and wrists, and a short train. She wore her hair in French braids adorned with tuberoses. She carried a cascade of yellow, white and light blue flowers to complement the blue and yellow tiles of the tiny chapel.

Mrs. Deborah Dedman Loe attended her sister as matron of honor. Another sister, Carole Elise Dedman, was the bridesmaid. They were attired identically in light blue gowns with a strapped underdress topped with a georgette overlay, blouson-styled. They carried yellow and white flowers.

The bridegroom's father served as best man. Groomsman was Brian B. Loe, brother-in-law of the bride, Alexandria, Va. Following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at the reception at their home.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID JAMES MEALOR

After a two-week honeymoon through Europe, the newlyweds are making their home in Lake Mary. Dr. Mealor is director of the School Psychology Program at the University of Central Florida. The bride received her Master's of Education degree in special education at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. She teaches school in Orlando.

...Vivid Murals

Continued From Page 1C changed considerably since he painted these murals. He is now working, lives on a five acre lot, and says he is now very "relaxed" with his life.

He looks forward to the day when it will be possible for him to go to school and study Art History at a higher level of education.

The blue jean clad artist with a brown leather cap says he is also moving into painting canvases, and he has begun taking assignments for his paintings.

His current painting for a friend of his sister that he is working on is a unicorn standing over a woman lying on the ground with a small boy in the background. "It's a picture of innocence and guilt," he said. "Because nothing is ever too peaceful."

Up until now the only artistic training Donaldson has received has been from his former high school art teacher Anna Ruiz, when he attended Lake Howell High School.

"I had been painting since the sixth grade," he remembers, "but it was the training I received from Anna Ruiz that made me realize I have something."

"School was very discouraging for me in most other regards because the report cards kept coming home saying 'Ken is good at art, but his English is terrible'" he said with a sad laugh.

Other paintings in the teen center were done to relate to the teens who use the center for a gathering place. The titles of those paintings are: "No Mean City," "Malice in Blunderland," and "One Fantastic Ride."

Even though "Malice in Blunderland's" theme is about using drugs, Donaldson says the intent is not to advocate their use.

"Some of the teens that meet here have at least experimented with drugs and this painting was to reach out to them, and not to advocate any drug usage at all," he said emphatically.

"No Mean City" is Donaldson's interpretation of a popular rock and roll group's album cover and "One Fantastic Ride" is a tribute to the space shuttle, and to moving forward in life.

'Gold Rush' Reservations Due

By DORIS DIETRICH
OURSELVES Editor

Leave it up to the Ballet Guild of Sanford-Seminole to come up with the ultimate.

Annually BGS Board of Directors hosts an appreciation gala for supporters and sponsors of the company dancers. The Old-South Cottillon last year at the former Mr. P's Supper Club in Sanford will long be remembered by the patrons attending.

The theme for this year's sponsor party will take supporters back to the Gold Rush days. Richard Scott and his committee have created several unusual gimmicks for the annual event to be held at the Sanford Civic Center, Oct. 24, beginning at 8 p.m.

Ballet Guild is sustained through civic support. Company dancers, accepted through audition, are required to have a minimum of 20 sponsors this year at $10 per sponsor. The annual sponsor drive is the major source of revenue to keep the dancers on their toes.

During the year the guild is featured in a dazzling concert and perform free mini-concerts at various functions in the community.

Anyone interested in sponsoring one of the dancers and attending the "Gold Rush Gala" is asked to call Theresa Kenis, 322-4247 by Tuesday night.

The dress code for the gala is anything from diamonds to denim. A band will provide the music for dancing and hors d'oeuvres will be served. An open bar will be available.

Hero, Heroine Contest Planned For Seniors

Florida Cypress Gardens will celebrate Senior Season '81 by sponsoring the First Annual Hero and Heroine Contest in December.

Two model senior citizens, a woman and a man, will be selected by a panel of their peers after names are submitted for consideration by senior organizations.

Crowning of the winners will take place at Cypress Gardens Dec. 11 before the start of the 12 noon ski show.

It is expected the criteria for choosing a "Hero" and "Heroine" will include each nominee's contributions to the community as well as personal traits.

Throughout Senior Season '81, starting Oct. 15, Cypress Gardens will be offering senior citizens a discount.

Further details on the First Annual Hero and Heroine Contest will be released in coming weeks.

Gingerbread N' All That eventually, somehow, as people talk to us about Browser's Barn, they wind around to the question of "Where did you come from?"

It's a natural enough question, and it was so of Utah or New York, they wouldn't be surprised when we say, "Florida." They're a bit startled. It's when we elaborate -- and we do elaborate -- that they are really surprised.

You see, Cook's family was living up in Jacksonville when it was known as "Cowford." That's before 1822. Clara's family migrated to Florida from South Carolina before the Civil War, coming on horseback and in ox carts, bringing other live stock with them. There's a family tradition that the ox cart drove east before the end of their journey and the hitching of the family milk cow to help pull a cart the last 18 miles.

All of which means nothing, except it answers the other frequently asked question of why Browser's Barn was built the way it is. It is a typical southern barn, and the land with which we're most familiar.

It also explains our interest in the Longwood Historic District and Central Florida Society for Historic Preservation.

But let us point out that you don't have to be a fourth generation Floridian to enjoy the early history and participate in the preservation of the past.

A group of Longwood ladies, the Civic League or Longwood Women's Club, as it is now called, has been doing it for more years than we've been alive. They've just finished the major project of repainting their building which is adjacent to Browser's Barn and which houses their Historic Library.

Dick Diamonico, a later arrival from another state, took great pains to build his new office on Pine Street in a historic mood. We hope that others will follow his lead.

And, incidentally, we're also on the side of Cattle, the rooster, Jimmy Brown's horses and bees, and the other well cared for goats and domestic animals living in and around the Historic District. It adds a touch of authenticity.

We'll be glad to discuss any or all of the above with you when you come to Browser's Barn to enjoy having lunch at the Function Room, The Room, 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, or just to browse the shops 10 to 5 on the same days.

...THE HOPE OF OUR COMMUNITY,

OUR NATION!

Does the name make a difference?

St. John wasn't his last name — that was French and usually mispronounced. But around Cape Cod, he was known simply as St. John, after his home town in Canada.

Remember that every day. Then folks might feel that same excitement when they run into you and me. That's something to strive for.

Fight Against Hunger Part Of Security

By DAVID E. ANDERSON
UPI Religion Writer

Charity is not enough in the fight against world hunger, according to Bread for the World, a Christian citizens movement, and so they have organized to bring about basic reforms in U.S. foreign and domestic policy.

An interfaith, grass roots organization that in the past has generated thousands of letters from church members to their congressional representatives on hunger issues, Bread for the World is now bringing some heavyweight lobbying pressure to bear in support of a new understanding of national security and global hunger.

Most recently, former President Gerald R. Ford, two former secretaries of defense and a former CIA director endorsed a Bread for the World statement that calls for making hunger elimination a central part of the U.S. national security posture.

"The security of the United States and other nations is directly affected by a broad range of global problems that defy military solutions," the statement said.

"These include shortages or potential shortages of food, oil, water and other basic resources; desperate poverty; population pressures; environmental deterioration, including soil erosion and water pollution; and large scale refugee problems," the statement added.

While both religious leaders and academics have increasingly pointed to such developments as potential sources for war, there has been little said in the development of defense and national security policy suggesting an official awareness of the problems.

The statement, in its assessment of the gap between the developed and less developed world, puts the matter bluntly:

"Ever greater numbers of people perceive the disparity between their own continuing deprivation and the prosperity of others, and judge their predicament to be neither just nor inevitable.

"As this perception grows, so does the likelihood of social unrest and violence."

Joining Ford in issuing the statement were Harold Brown, a secretary of defense under President Jimmy Carter, and Robert S. McNamara, secretary of defense under President Lyndon Johnson, as well as one-time CIA chief William Colby.

Religious leaders signing the statement ran the theological gamut and included Cardinal Terence Cooke of New York, evangelist Billy Graham and the Rev. Eurge Carson Blake, former general secretary of the World Council of Churches.

But the statement is only one part of the effort.

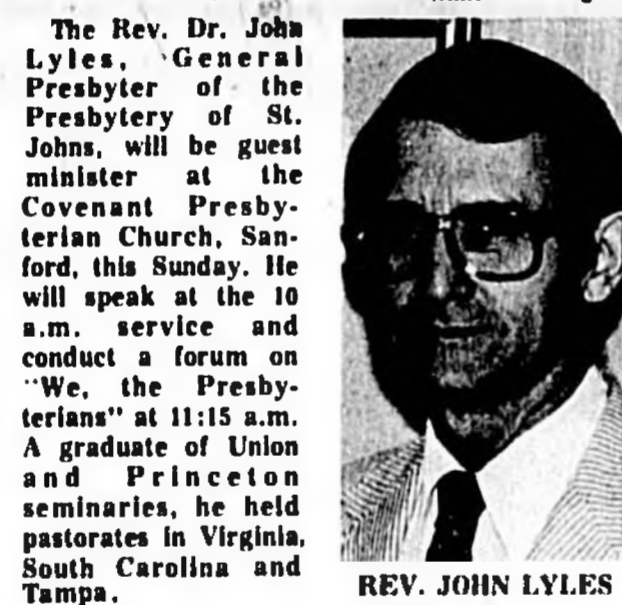

Two of the statement signers, Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., and Robert Dole, R-Kans., have joined in co-sponsoring legislation that would make the essential thrust of the statement a part of U.S. policy.

"A narrow focus on the military aspect of global security will lead to less, not more security, as the arms race all too tragically reminds us," said the Rev. Arthur Simon, executive director of Bread for the World.

The proposed legislation, which supporters say would cost no additional money, would target and streamline the U.S. foreign aid efforts as well as link aid to self-help efforts.

Now, Bread for the World must go back to the pews to again generate grass roots support — in letters and telephone calls in support for the proposed legislation.

Messengers representing churches from Chuluota and Geneva on the south and east to Seville on the north will assemble to conduct business, hear reports of progress, make plans for 1982 and be inspired by messages.

The afternoon session will begin at 3 p.m. with supper being served at the church between 5:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. The evening session will start at 6:45.

Music will be provided by the Ladies Trio from Central Baptist Church, Sanford, Jerry Todd, music director at First Baptist Church, Orange City and a mixed choir made up of choir members from the various churches in this area. The annual sermon will be preached during the afternoon session by the Rev. Howard Long, pastor of Blake Memorial Baptist Church, Lake Helen. The guest speaker for the evening message will be the Rev. Jack Smith, director, Evangelism Department, Baptist General Convention of Pennsylvania and South Jersey. Dr. J. Ted Cosmato, pastor of Seminole Heights Baptist Church, will preside over the meeting and at the close of the evening session will turn the gavel over to the new moderator, Dr. Gordon Beck, pastor, First Baptist Church, DeBary.

Members of the recently constituted Seminole Heights Baptist Church of Sanford are scheduled to be accepted into the Seminole Association at the evening

The Seminole Baptist Association is a fellowship of Southern Baptist churches in the North Seminole county and West Volusia county area.

Amos Jones Honored By St. Paul Church

The Rev. Amos C. Jones, pastor to the St. Paul Missionary Baptist Church, Sanford, will be honored this Sunday on the occasion of his fourth anniversary as pastor of the church. The St. Paul family will express its love and gratitude at the 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. services.

Guest speaker for the morning service will be Glenn Ball, a logistics engineer at Music To Worship By Distracting?

A man from Oregon, writing in the denominational magazine A.D., says, "There is no church in the country that takes care of my needs. I require Harry Emerson Fosdick-type preaching and George Beverly Shea-type music and no church has this. Is my feeling unusual? Or are there other people who feel the same way?"

That's my hand you see going up in answer to the second question.

This letter-writer, who likes a preacher who "challenges my intellect and suggests some new and original ideas about Christian living," laments that all the singable gospel hymns have been taken out of the new hymnals.

"Bach," he says, "sounds like an orchestra tuning up and there are precious few of his compositions we can sing."

Leaving aside for today the question of what has happened to great preaching, let us consider the music we are forced to sing and listen to in the average mainline church. I say mainline church because, like the man from Oregon, I like the singable gospel hymns that are sung in the evangelical churches.

I once interviewed a distinguished music critic on this subject of church music. To the question of whether classical church music is preferable to popular church music, he said that is a purely personal choice.

"There are some churches," he said, "in which gospel hymns would be almost a sacrilege. But in others they are the very soul of the service. Without them the religious experience would come to almost naught."

Then I asked this critic, a former choir director, what his preferences were in church music.

Be prepared for a surprise.

He said he would prefer no music at all during the church service.

"I always listen to the music in church — to the musicalness of it, if you know what I mean — but invariably I am removed from any semblance of devotion during the music," he said. "Not that I don't like the music, but I find it very distracting."

I am inclined to agree. When I was doing my theology at Harvard, I used to look forward to going to Holy Communion on Wednesday mornings at Christ Church (Episcopal) in Cambridge, Mass. There was no music — no choir, no congregational singing, no organ.

Unless you were serious about the bare-bones religious transaction taking place, you didn't come to these services that were entirely without frills and come-ons.

Attending such a service was a test of whether you came to church to get religion or to be entertained — or bored, as it often turns out.

To a lot of choir directors today with their sophisticated musical tastes, popular religious music strikes them as "little more than a variation of 'Home on the Range,'" in the words of the late Dr. Archibald Davison, once professor of music at Harvard University.

SAINTS AND SINNERS

George Plagenz

"The average layman feels at home with that song," said Davison, "and his performing powers are adequate for its requirements."

But Davison found such popular music too man-centered — "practical, relaxing and entertaining" — and lacking in the quality of great church music, which is "an offering to God of the best music we can find."

I am a "Home on the Range" man when it comes to church music. But there are times when, like the music critic I have quoted, I prefer no music.

It is at those times that I feel closest in spirit to that Italian peasant who used to come to the Catholic church in his village and sit for hours just looking up at Christ on the cross on the altar.

One day the padre said to him, "What do you say to Our Lord all day, my friend?"

"I say just nothing at all," replied the peasant. "I just look at Him — and He looks at me."

No music — no words. Is that the ultimate religious experience?

Bible Quiz Film Made

NEW YORK, — The American Bible Society is releasing a motion picture production primarily for television called the National Bible Quiz.

It will also be available for church and school use and is designed to test viewers' knowledge of the Scriptures and to stimulate their interest in the Word of God.

The production, to be released this month, has been researched and coordinated by the American Bible Society, and made possible by a grant from Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL), in Appleton, Wisconsin.

Questions about Biblical translations, origins, events and characters will be posed by program host Peter Hackes, NBC network newscaster.

Viewers will be given ample time to complete their responses before the correct answers are provided.

A highlight of the motion picture is an interview with Dr. Eugene Nida, consultant to ABS and one of the nation's foremost Bible translators. Dr. Nida answers questions about the work of the Society in its efforts to translate, produce and distribute the Holy Scriptures worldwide.

The program will be released as a public service to commercial, public and cable television stations throughout the nation.

It is estimated that the production will be viewed by 48 million people during the next three years.

For more information on how to obtain copies of the film write to: The American Bible Society, Department BQ, 1865 Broadway, New York, NY 10023.

The American Bible Society is the nation's largest supplier of Holy Scriptures. Since its inception in 1816 more than three billion Scriptures have been distributed worldwide.

ABS along with its 66-member partners worldwide that form the United Bible Societies, does its work without doctrinal note or comment and without profit.

tem this showed major suits and a fair to excellent hand. This was an excellent one.

Chemia of France, who sat North, bid two hearts as an advance cue bid to show diamond support and great strength. The American East jumped to four spades and Mari of France bid a Blackwood four notrump.

West five spades and continued to six spades after Chemia bid six clubs and Mari went to six diamonds.

Then came the key bid by Chemia of France. He didn't know who could make what. He just knew that seven diamonds couldn't be hurt and might even make on a heart lead.

This came back to West. He might have taken out insurance by going to seven spades. Instead he elected to double and then had to decide which ace to lead. He finally decided that in spite of the early heart cue bid Chemia was more likely to be void of spades and led his ace of hearts.

Mari ruffed in dummy, led the king of diamonds, picked up East's queen and claimed the grand slam and 19 IMPs for France.

They would still have won the match if America had saved at seven spades. We deliberately left the American pair's names out. Suffice to say that not one of West's teammates or any other expert blames him for not leading the spade.

For Sunday, October 18, 1981

YOUR BIRTHDAY
October 18, 1981

Alm high in the year ahead and you'll have a better chance to succeed. It's better to shoot for the moon and miss than to sly on a streetlight and hit it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your potential for success is very good today, but there is a chance you may make things more difficult for yourself than they need be. Look for easy routes. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You are blessed with a very keen imagination. Unfortunately, you may use it in ways that are counterproductive today. Instead of seeing clouds, look for sunshine.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Try not to let yourself become involved in commercial situations today in which you lack expertise and knowhow. Costly errors are possible.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A failure to show the proper spirit of cooperation today could alienate you from associates whose help you might need. Be a team player.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You may find it easier to talk about what you hope to accomplish today, rather than to do it. It would be better to perform first, boast later.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) It would be marvelous if we could take others at face value. Unfortunately, this is sometimes unwise. Don't let first impressions catch you off-guard today.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be tactful with your mate today about family issues. There's a possibility that something quite trivial could be blown out of proportion.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You may not take direction too well today, or your instructions to subordinates could be confusing. In either case, be careful.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Sometimes good things come to us without expending too much effort. However, if you're looking for something for nothing today you may be sadly disappointed.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You may have to deal with some restrictive conditions today which could prevent you from acting as independently as you'd like. Resisting will make matters worse.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Normally you are rather optimistic, but today you might dwell more on the negative aspect of a situation than on its positive ones.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Avoid acquaintances today who tend to impose upon your generous nature. If you must deal with them, have an understanding as to who pays for what.

YOUR BIRTHDAY
October 19, 1981

You will be luckier this coming year in ventures or enterprises which you are able to control, rather than with those which include partners. Don't be afraid to strike out on your own.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your goals will not be realized today unless you take active steps to accomplish them. Overcome your tendencies to procrastinate. Make yourself move. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be careful today. There is a likelihood you may repeat mistakes similar to ones you made in the past. Try to learn from experience.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You have an inquisitive nature. Normally, friends don't find your curiosity offensive. However, if you ask too many probing questions today it could perturb pals.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're capable of major accomplishments today, but those with whom you deal may not find too much to admire in your methods. Protect your image.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your way of doing things today and the way your boss wants things done could be poles apart. It's best to comply with wishes. He signs the pay check.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Be sure that all of your affairs are in order before you attempt to tell another how he or she should handle things today. Your suggestions may not be welcomed.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Others could butt in today in areas normally your bailiwick, and disrupt your established routines. Try to avoid confrontations.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Work in harmony with coworkers today, not in competition. If each serves his or her own interests, nothing will be accomplished.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Rather than going on a spending spree today, it would be more prudent to seek ways to trim your budget. Funds can be managed better.

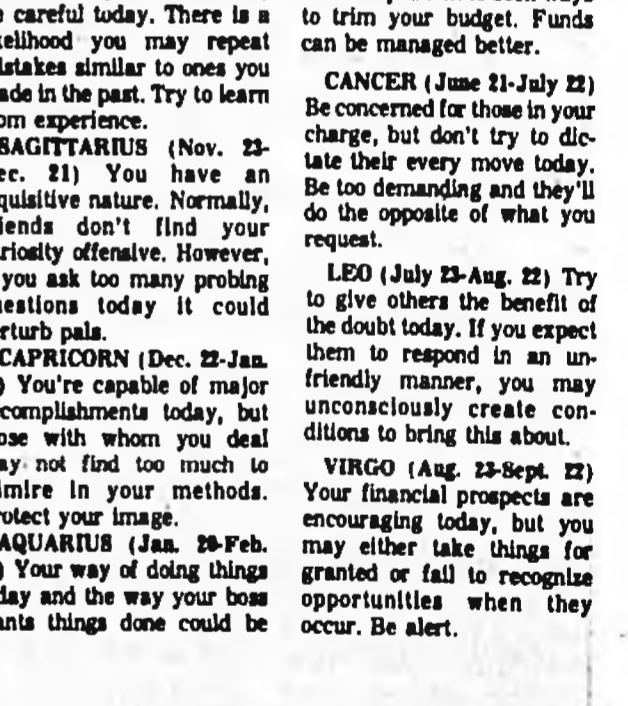

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be concerned for those in your charge, but don't try to dictate their every move today. Be too demanding and they'll do the opposite of what you request.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Try to give others the benefit of the doubt today. If you expect them to respond in an unfriendly manner, you may unconsciously create conditions to bring this about.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your financial prospects are encouraging today, but you may either take things for granted or fail to recognize opportunities when they occur. Be alert.
