School board members: Sparks fly

Bob Goff says for his conduct he will take his beating like a man, but not with his hands tied behind his back.

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

Bob Goff's apology is not enough for fellow Seminole County school board member Larry Furlong, who will proceed with his plan to ask that Goff be censured.

tions and continuous abuse of school staff almost requires us as a board to publicly disavow his behavior."

Goff's use of expletives and questionable comments at two recent -of-town conferences were noted in an e-mail message from school Superintendent Dr. Paul Hagerty to school board members. Complaints about Goff's behavior from a school district vendor and Orange and Brevard county officials were brought to Hagerty's attention last week. Hagerty had recently admonished Goff for his abusive and intimidating treatment toward school staff members through another e-mail message. Goff subsequently sent letters of apology to the vendor and officials who attended the conferences.

But Furlong, who has seen drafts of the letters, said it was a stretch to say it was an apology, and he is not satisfied.

"Censuring Bob is the only remedy I know to deal with his conduct," Furlong said. See School, Page 4A

Larry Furlong says he will ask for censure of Bob Goff, despite Goff's apology for his improper behavior.

Animal activists leave spray painted message

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

For the second time in two weeks, vandals struck at the Boys Town Oviedo office in Oviedo.

Boys Town officials are offering a $1,000 reward for information for the arrest and conviction of the perpetrators who, so far have caused more than $10,000 worth of damage.

According to Boys Town officials, on Tuesday four plate glass windows were smashed and a message was spray painted on the outside of the organization's building at 950 N. Central Avenue, Oviedo. The message was left by the Animal Liberation Front, an animal rights group. On Sept. 12, the building and a transport van were vandalized.

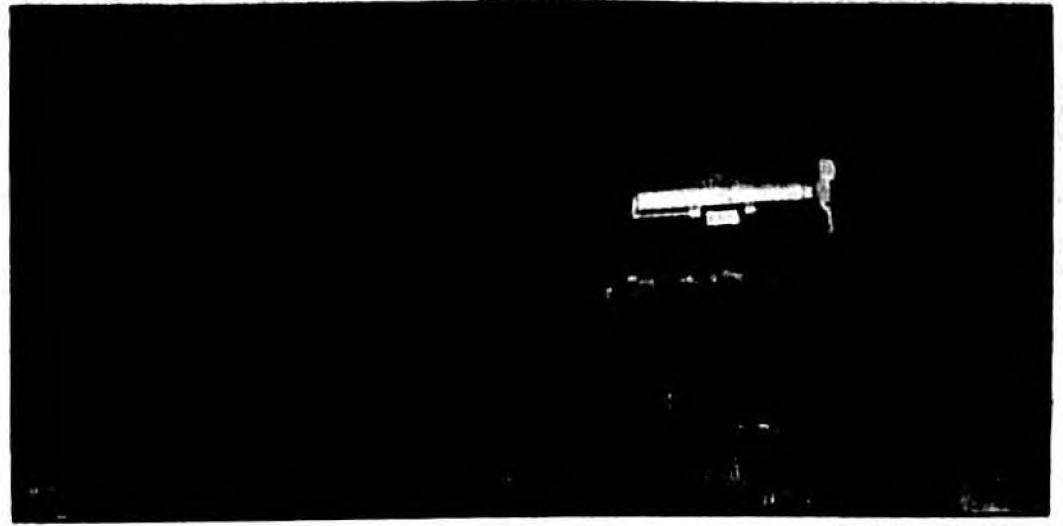

Boys Town of Central Florida Director Kim Culp called the acts a crime directly against the children and the families her organization serves. Culp said Boys Town never conducted animal experiments in Florida.

Culp said she hopes the culprits are arrested soon because of concerns for the safety of children and youth working at the offices.

Encephalitis alert expands to 27 counties, including Seminole

By DAVID FRAZIER
Herald Staff Writer

The Florida Department of Health (DOH) is issuing a St. Louis Encephalitis (SLE) Medical Alert covering 27 counties, including Seminole.

The northern border of the alert is Hernando, Sumter, Lake and Volusia counties, and the southern border is Collier, Hendry and Palm Beach counties. Seminole County is located near the center of the 27-county wide area.

The DOH is doing this for the following reasons: continued chicken seroconversions in several areas; recent significant rainfall in some areas; recent confirmed human cases in Brevard, Hillsborough, Lee and Polk counties; to provide greater flexibility for counties to take additional measures as indicated locally; and, to heighten the public's awareness to take personal mosquito precautions to limit their exposure to the insects and prevent the virus. So far this year, the number of confirmed human cases is far less than the 1990 epidemic year -- by the first week in October 1990 there were 100 human cases.

Seminole County has to date only two confirmed seroconversions among its sentinel chickens which continues to indicate low level of activity. There are no human cases in Seminole as of yet. However, DOH feels it important to emphasize the importance of personal mosquito precautions. The people at greatest risk of SLE disease and complications are older individuals, particularly over 55 years old. DOH is monitoring conditions closely and will update the public regularly. St. Louis encephalitis is a mosquito-borne viral disease that causes inflammation of the brain. In an average year, Florida has from one to 10 cases of SLE. Several large outbreaks -- involving as many as 200 cases -- have occurred in the state in recent decades. Many infections with SLE are not apparent, but, when symptoms occur, they can range from fever with headache to coma. Other symptoms include: fatigue, dizziness, weakness and confusion.

Though SLE is maintained by a bird-mosquito cycle (birds do not develop disease), it may occasionally be transmitted to humans by mosquitoes. While the virus can affect anyone, it has its greatest impact on the very young and the very old because their immune systems

SHS gospel group opens arts festival

By JEFF BERLINCKE
Herald Staff Writer

They sound like they've been together for years.

In fact, just last week they played to a crowd of nearly 500 and are the opening act at the Lake Mary-Heathrow Art Festival Saturday.

Actually, AK2, a gospel singing group made up of Seminole High School students, has been together for only three weeks.

That was when sophomore Kareem Merthie was sitting in the music room at Seminole and freshman Amy Hartwig decided to start singing along.

Something clicked and Merthie saw the start of something good. Soon after, he got in touch with sophomore Z.Z. Ramirez who Merthie said he considered a sister, and the three started to make music.

What's really unusual is that they are their own Rainbow Coalition. Ramirez was born in Germany to Puerto Rican parents, Hartwig is white and Merthie is black. Also, all three go to different churches and come from different musical backgrounds.

They form an interesting-looking group, but you can't tell the difference when they start to harmonize.

"To me, it doesn't matter what somebody's race is," Hartwig said. "I think it's unfair to say that a person has to be one way, just like if a black person wants to be a rock star."

Ramirez agreed. "It's an example of how to overcome things if you put your heart into it and reach other people's hearts. If you can overcome that, the sky is the limit."

The sky is the limit, especially for AKZ. While they aren't thinking yet of a recording contract, they played before nearly 500 people last week at the New Life Church where Kareem's father is the pastor.

It's not bad for the short time the group has been together. Merthie is a basketball player and the others have their own lives away from the group, but somehow, they have found time to create some beautiful music. In fact, at times when they can't get together in person, they practice over a three-way telephone hookup. It might not be the perfect situation, but for AKZ, it's a labor of love.

"Sometimes I'll answer the phone and it will be Kareem and we don't talk; we just start singing," Ramirez said.

"We sound pretty good for two weeks," Merthie admitted.

The group also is unshaken in its confidence since its faith is so strong. All three attributed their past, present and future to their belief in God and said, even though they hear barbs from some of their fellow students at times, it is their faith that carries them through the tough times.

"We believe we were brought together by God," Ramirez said. "We always pray at the start and end of practice and that's where our foundation is. We believe we have been brought together because God wants it that way."

Merthie is the leader of the group and has written several songs, including one that will be performed Saturday, "Paid Off." Anyone who hears their rendition will understand why Merthie calls Hartwig the "Martha Carey" of the group and Ramirez the "Powerhouse" as they harmonize to Merthie's steady vocals. He also likes to teach his music to the others and they've picked up on things pretty quickly after only two weeks.

"I love to teach music and they love to sing," Merthie said. "All I have to do is show them the notes and they can do the rest."

By the way, it should be pretty easy to figure out the reason behind naming themselves AKZ (Amy, Kareem, Z.Z.), right?

Guess again. Sure, the initial help, but the reason for the names is a shortened version of the biblical chapter "Acts."

Their favorite verse is the one that they carry in their heart every time they take the stage: "Ask and it shall be given."

That's what they'll be thinking Saturday as the applause rains down on them at the Lake Mary-Heathrow Art Festival. AKZ will take the stage at 10 a.m.

Turn does not need. What worked for Natural Born Killers—although a bit excessive there as well—does not work for this movie.

Sean Penn plays a shady drifter who winds up in the desert town of Superior. He mingles with the eccentric and eclectic locals, and he ends up in a struggle to break out of this nightmarish situation.

U-Turn is basically a B-movie. Stone tries to offer something more in the treatment of the material which is admirable but, ultimately, worthless. He over indulges and that is a shame. It would have been much better if he had made a strong, straight forward film. The story is sacrificed because of it.

The theme is about the rats life sometimes deals us. For Penn's character, his stay in the small town is like being in purgatory. But, it is amazing

According to the sheriff's report, the home invasion on Nova Road in Paola was drug related. Upon entering the home, two suspects, both carrying semi-automatic weapons and wearing ski masks ordered several victims, including a child, to lie on the floor. The suspects then demanded money, guns and drugs, threatening to hurt the child if the victims did not cooperate, the sheriff's report said. One of the victims was struck in the head and the suspects then locked the victims in the bathroom and fled the scene, the report said.

A new drug, Zylfo, may reduce acute attacks in those with chronic asthma. It is said to sharply limit the need for steroid drugs to treat flare-ups in those with mild to moderate cases, and make them less dependent on beta-agonist inhalers.

Exercise and your heart: running fast helps lower blood pressure, but endurance runs improve high-density lipoproteins (the good cholesterol), say researchers at Berkeley Lab in California.

Some medical research seeks to prove what everyone "knows." Scientists at Stanford University School of Medicine in California sent older people with insomnia out to walk or do other exercise four times a week. Yes, they slept better.

There may be relief ahead for migraine sufferers in a new nasal spray form of the drug dihydroergotamine mesylate. In tests it reduced or eliminated migraine pain fairly quickly. Spray is better than pills for those with severe nausea.

They came not to say "goodbye" but to say "I love you," to a woman who has made hundreds of lives so much richer.

For the past eight years, therapeutic specialist Robinson took loving care of the developmentally disabled and elderly at the Westmonte Recreation Center in Altamonte Springs.

She was also a swimming instructor for the Special Olympics and gave countless hours to what is known as the Special Population of Central Florida.

To the dismay of the community, Robinson was out of her job as of last Friday.

Her position with the city was unceremoniously eliminated by Bill James, the director of Leisure Services and Ron Orasha, the deputy director of Recreation. Eliminated despite the passionate protest of those Robinson had served.

"We wanted to help save her job," said Chris Drummond, who has cerebral palsy. "JC loves us and takes care of us. It is sad she has lost her job. I hope she will get a new job. She will always be our friend."

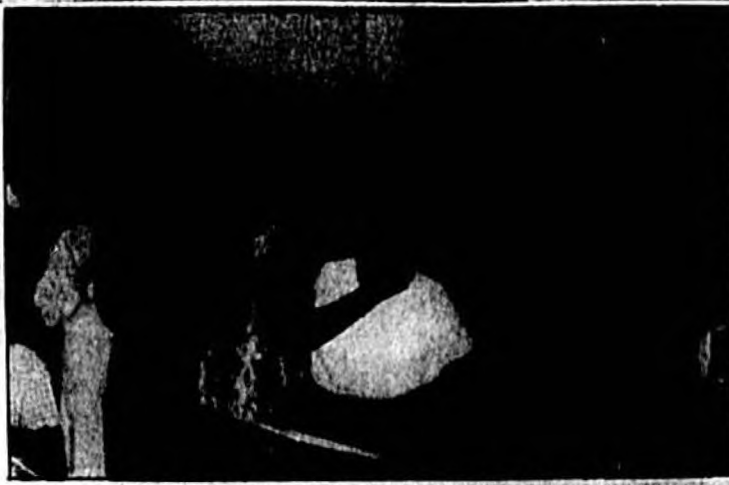

Drummond initiated a petition to help Robinson stay. For two months, he carried it with him wherever he went. He received signature after signature. Some of these signatures wandered from the lines on the yellow, legal-sized lined pages. Wandered and bore smudges - perhaps from the tear drops.

"It wouldn't have mattered if we had a thousand signatures," said Rosella Jones. "They weren't interested in our opinions."

So on Thursday night, more than 200 of Robinson's Special Friends gave the woman they worship an appreciation dinner. They brought food for the potluck social. They brought gifts like a huge angel on stained glass ("She is our angel," said Jim Collins) and they collected 8015 to give her.

Larry Levine, the Seminole County coordinator for the Special Olympics, brought three boxes of Kleenex. He should have brought more.

There was hardly a dry eye in the house when guitarist Ruth King sang "How Sweet It Is to Be Loved by You," or when Drummond, Collins and several others choked up as they gave short speeches.

Herald photos by Russ White

The Special Friends of therapeutic specialist JC Robinson had a dinner for the woman they worship Thursday night in Altamonte Springs. Jim Collins (right) needed a chair to dance taller than JC.

"There is so much love in this room," Levine said. "More love than anyone could ever expect in his or her life. JC knows how much we love her and we know how much she loves us."

"What's she done?" emcee Levine teasingly asked those at the dinner.

"A Whole Bunch," the audience chanted. "A Whole Bunch."

By the time Robinson had been hugged personally by everyone in the place, she took one of the few remaining tissues to dry the tears.

Observing Robinson closely - perhaps uneasily - was young David Picciano, who had been her assistant at Westmonte for four years and who now assumes her responsibilities.

"JC. She took me under her wings," Picciano said, "and now she's set me free."

Just in case, he has her pager number.

City wants to help you fight mosquitoes

By DAVID DOVAN
Special to the Herald

Do you have mosquitoes in your yard? You may be breeding them in your own back yard and don't know it.

You can take simple, positive steps to reduce this menace right at home. Here are a few solutions that are simple, cheap and pesticide-free.

1. Get rid of old tires, tin cans, buckets, drums, bottles or any water holding containers.

2. Fill or drain any low places (puddles, ruts) in yard.

3. Keep drains, ditches and culverts clean of weeds and trash so water will drain properly.

4. Cover trash containers to keep out rain water.

5. Repair leaky pipes and outside faucets.

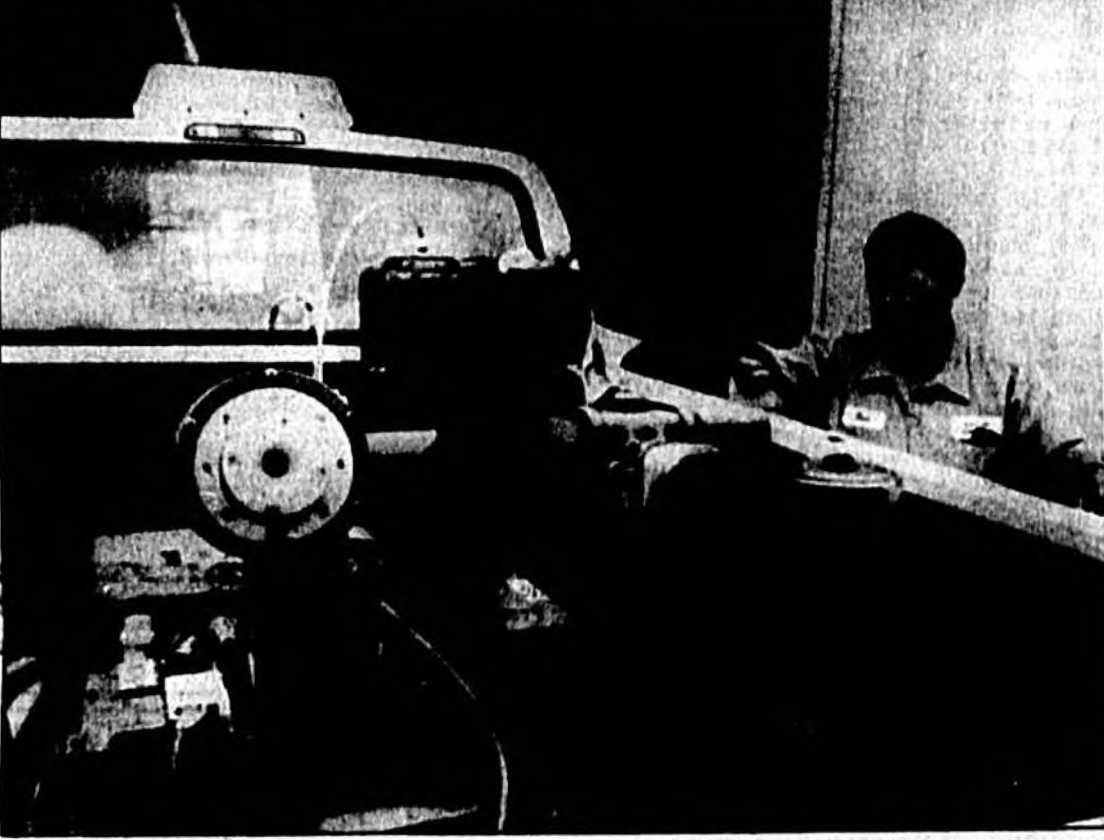

6. Empty plastic wading pools at least once a week and store them indoors when not in use.

7. Tree holes and hollow stumps that hold water, fill in with sand or concrete.

8. Change water in bird baths and plant pots or drip trays at least once a week.

9. Keep grass cut short and shrubbery well trimmed around the house so adult mosquitoes will not hide there.

10. Roof gutters plugged with leaves hold water and mosquito larvae. They should be

For censure, the school board would publicly disavow Goff's actions. Among other sanctions, Furlong will ask that Goff not be allowed to have one-on-one meetings with school employees. Another person would have to be present at the meetings.

Furlong compared the situation to a student expulsion hearing.

"When a kid does something wrong and they are caught they say they are sorry. If someone repeatedly break the rules there's got to be an action," he said. "Prisons are full of people who say they are sorry."

"What kind of example would we as a board be setting to the kids if someone repeatedly breaks the rules despite every attempt to correct the behavior, and we do nothing?"

Furlong said he made his decision to ask for board action through the censure process before the out-of-town incidents. He said his main concern was how Goff treated school staff.

At a recent lunch meeting Furlong said staff members told him horror story after horror story about Goff's abusive and intimidating behavior.

"At that point I was convinced that we were on the verge of losing people in high positions," he said.

Based on reports from school staff, Furlong said Goff has repeatedly threatened jobs and, in his opinion, the state's attorney should be contacted.

Addressing Goff's previous comments on his (Furlong's) desire to become chairman of the school board, Furlong said it is absolutely untrue.

"I don't know where he conjured up that idea because I plan to nominate Sandy Robinson for chairman in November," Furlong said.

Goff said on Friday that Furlong was entitled to bring up any issue he wants at the school board meeting.

"I am truly sorry Mr. Furlong doesn't want to accept my apology," Goff said.

Goff said he was elected by the people to ask questions.

"Given his (Furlong's) history I would have expected him to be asking the same questions himself. I'm sorry he's lost the passion to question staff like he used to at the county level," Goff said.

Goff said Furlong's action is his way of "going to the other side and this is how he earns his membership into that club."

Goff said the whole issue is the way in which he asks questions. Goff admitted that at times he has questioned staff hard.

"It's called accountability," Goff said. "They holler that I am too aggressive... the public has a right to know the answers. This is not a private school system."

Goff said he is truly sorry for his behavior at the conferences and he will take his whipping like a man.

"But I'll be darned if I'm going to sit there and take a beating with my hands tied behind my back from a hypocrite."

Pastor says 99% is not good enough

In the "Power of Total Quality," John R. Georgius, president of First Union Corporation, uses statistics to make a point about the importance of maintaining quality during periods of expansion. He says if 99.9% accuracy were good enough, we would have to accept:

- 18 major plane crashes each day around the world
- doctors operation on the wrong patient 500 times each week
- 17,000 pieces of mail lost by the U.S. Postal Service every hour
- or your heart skipping 864 beats a day

He added, "If 99.9% were good enough, First Union would record the wrong amount or account number on 2,600 checks or deposits every day. If 99.9% were good enough, First Union would make an error on 4,140 checking or savings account statements a month.

I personally admire someone who stresses quality nowadays when taking the easy way out appears to be the norm.

Aren't you glad God doesn't take the easy way out? Aren't you glad God won't settle for

Rev. Jimmy Dale Patterson

99.9% when it comes to bringing all of His dear children home? Aren't you glad the circle will be unbroken on the other side?

God's standard is no different for us. He expects 100% commitment from His followers. 99% is not good enough. Why not give Him your all today?

Game of the week:

Lake Howell (1-3, last week beat Lake Mary, 13-0) at West Orange (2-2, last week lost to Dr. Phillips, 28-7), 7:30 p.m.

WINTER PARK They're back. Just when you thought it was safe to play Lake Howell, the Silver Hawks moved back into the district race with a shutout over Lake Mary in the rainy slop. After three losses, including an overtime defeat to Oviedo, the Silver Hawks moved into a tie for second as they attempt to get another shot at the state title that has eluded them for so long. They will take on a tough West Orange team that got spanked last weekend by Dr. Phillips. The loss came two weeks after the Warriors shocked nationally ranked Evans. Christian DeJesus, Travis Vinson and Jose Figueroa lead a multi-faceted Lake Howell running attack and Jesse Hannon calls the signals. On defense, Kawika Mitchell is the leader of a stingy defense that was helped by the weather last week. West Orange doesn't have much of a passing game but has a strong runner in Reggie Thomas.

Lake Mary (0-4, last week lost to Lake Howell, 17-0) at Dr. Phillips (4-0, last week beat West Orange, 28-7), 7:30 p.m.

LAKE MARY This game couldn't have come at a worse time for Lake Mary, the Rams have gotten off to a nightmare start and didn't even threaten to score in a rainy game against Lake Howell last week. With an anemic offense, the Rams now face one of the best defenses in Central Florida. Dr. Phillips which enters undefeated. Last season, the Rams won the matchup, 3-0, but may be lucky to score tonight. Cory Cooper still hasn't thrown an interception since joining the varsity this season and Tim Spivey has been strong despite getting shut down last week, but the Rams running game, featuring Robbie Randall and Laurence Rudolph who suffered an injury last week, have been erratic. Cam Carter the Rams' spiritual leader on defense broke through last week with his best game of the season. Dr. Phillips is led by quarterback Calvin McCall and receiver Doug Gabriel. The Panthers are also nearing the state top-10. Lake Mary will have to bear down on defense to have a chance and make it a low scoring game. Otherwise, the Rams will head into the break at 0-5.

Rams girls edge Tribe in volleyball

From Staff Reports
SANFORD Thursday night the Lake Mary girls volleyball team defeated Seminole, 15-11, 15-10, in a Seminole Athletic Conference contest at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium. The Rams are now 16-1 record while the Fighting Seminoles fall to 3-14. "Seminole played well and never gave up. We played sloppy," said Lake Mary coach Cindy Henry. "It is hard because the girls are on fall break and they get relaxed and out of their regular routine." In the first game, Lake Mary led all the way, but not by a large margin. The second game was different, however, as the Rams were down 9-8 before pulling out the victory due to an outstanding performance by Kelly Harbour. "Kelly had a strong game and she saved the team. Seminole could not get around her," said Henry. Harbour had seven kills and two blocks while Jeannie Manz had 10 kills and eight digs. Stephanie Dale had seven kills and six digs and Jackie Crispell had an excellent night serving and raked up five digs. Lake Mary hosts the Deland Bulldogs on Tuesday the 7th and then travels to Boone on Wednesday. Thursday night Lake Mary hosts an important district and conference game against Lake Brantley. All varsity matches begin at 7 p.m.

Lake Brantley revival

Reborn Patriots hand Seminole first defeat

By KELLIE WERNER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD Last night at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium, Lake Brantley came calling and handed the Tribe its first loss of the season, scalping its host 27-21. Lake Brantley has now gone from 0-3 to 2-3 in just two weeks. First-year head coach George Clayton came up with a big Seminole Athletic Conference win last night over a now 4-1 Seminole team. "We were lucky tonight," Clayton said after the game. "Seminole is truly a great team. Our offense played real well and did a great job. Our defense, however, blew up in the second half. We tried to give it to them late but we held on." Although the Patriots might have tried to give the game to Seminole, Lake Brantley was very stingy and the 'Noles had to fight for every yard. On its opening drive, Lake Brantley running back Ryan Pagan trudged 72 yards to the end zone on only four carries and the Patriots were out to a 6-0 lead only two minutes into the game. Pagan would go on to rack up 184 rushing yards for the evening. Seminole turned its first possession over on downs and again Lake Brantley crossed the goal line. This time, quarterback Brian Criswell punt points on the board with a nine-yard touchdown run and a quarterback sneak for the two-point conversion. The first quarter ended with the Patriots up 14-0 and the Seminoles attempting to put together a touchdown drive of its own. Running backs Deon Howard and Joe Knight started experiencing success with the running game early in the second quarter, but would have difficulty throughout the evening with the Patriot defense. They were both held to under 100 yards in the game for the first time this season. Seminole was forced to punt but a holding penalty against the Patriots allowed Seminole the opportunity to continue its drive. Lake Brantley's lead was cut in half when quarterback Garrett Goldsmith rushed for a two-yard touchdown and Jason Armstrong added the extra point. The longest drive of the night culminated in Lake Brantley's next possession. Complete with seven first downs, one fourth-down conversion and a keeper by Criswell for the two-yard score, the Patriots went up to a 21-7 lead and burned seven minutes off the clock, ending the half. Upon returning to the field for the second half, Laashen Carden returned the kickoff 95-yards for a touchdown and immediately brought the score to 21-14. For the remainder of the quarter, the Patriots and the 'Noles traded unsuccessful possessions. Late in the period, however, Seminole began another touchdown drive. After five first downs, Knight and Howard got untracked and another touchdown by Goldsmith tied the game at 21. Good field position on the next punt helped to set up Lake Brantley's final scoring drive, which was capped by a two-yard rush by Pa-

Lake Brantley quarterback Brian Criswell (No. 12, white uniform) scored two touchdowns, added a two-point conversion run and engineered a tie-breaking late touchdown drive as the Patriots edged Seminole 27-21 Thursday night.

The missed extra point gave Seminole hope, however, that it could find the end zone in the remaining 3:29. Despite a combined attack of passing and rushing, the 'Noles were unable to cross the goal line and had to give the ball back to the Patriots with only one minute left. Criswell downed the ball to end the game and the team earned its second victory of the season with the 27-21 win. "This is a very disappointing loss," Seminole coach Jim Worthington said. "But I think it's also a wakeup call. The team came out flat in the first half and you can't only play two quarters against a good team like them (Lake Brantley). Lucky for us this wasn't a district game so the loss isn't as hard. This should motivate the kids to play all four quarters of the game every time they step onto the field." The next time the 'Noles do step on the field will be in two weeks, when they host district foe Oak Ridge in another Thursday night game at 7:30 p.m. After the fall break, Lake Brantley will travel to Lake Mary (0-4) for a conference matchup on Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Dyke kicks Oviedo back into district race

By TONY DEBORNER
Herald correspondent

LONGWOOD Dan Dyke earned a little notoriety of his own Thursday night. So far this season, Lyman High School placekicker/punter Mark Lewis has Seminole County high school football fans talking about his prodigious punts, his kickoffs through the end zone and his frequent field goal attempts of 50 yards and beyond. He was at it again Thursday night in Lyman's 6A-District 3 contest against the Oviedo Lions at the Carlton Henley Athletic Complex, averaging over 47 yards a punt (including a 65-yard blast), just missing field goal attempts from 52 and 48 yards, and hammering every kickoff through the end zone. But it was Dyke's 47-yard field goal with 3:17 left in the game that capped a 17-point second-half rally for the Lions, giving them a 17-14 win over the Greyhounds. Going into their bye week, the Lions are now 4-1 overall, 2-1 in 6A-District 3, and 2-0 in the Seminole Athletic Conference. Lyman falls to 1-3, 1-2 in the district, and 1-3 in the conference. "People have been talking about Mark all season," said Dyke who, like Lewis, plays varsity soccer in the winter. "That's understandable. He has great range. But that takes all the pressure off of me. "I felt that I was going to make it when I went out there. And when I hit it, I knew it was going through." Dyke had been 0-for-3 on field goal attempts so far this season, including a 47-yard effort that fell short in the first half Thursday night. But when faced with fourth-and-4 from the Lyman 29-yard line, Oviedo coach Greg Register immediately went to Dyke. "There was no hesitation, no debate," said Register. "The reason we called timeout was so that there wouldn't be any confusion as to what we were going to do. The kick was within his range. That's Dan's job. And he did it." Dyke had a chance to win the game thanks to the efforts of running backs Jamie Scott and Kevin Quintero. After being limited to a combined 48 yards in the first half, Scott and Quintero collected 132

Tough day for SYFA

Special to the Herald
PORT ORANGE It was a tough day for the Sanford Youth Football Association this past Saturday in Port Orange as the local squads won only two of five games. The first loss of the day was dealt to the Mitey-Mites 18-0, DeJarell Hayes, Donald Culberson and Trey Tittenger all played well despite the final score. The Junior Pee Wees were next and they avenged their only loss of the 1996 season, winning 18-0. Kelvin Johnson, Lavario Carey, Scott LaMont and Roger Breum all played well for the 'Noles. What do you get when you have Anthony Taylor, Kendrick Knight, Kenny Scott and a strong offensive line? A lot of points and a 31-6 victory over the Hawks! With a good part of his team down with, or recovering from, the flu, Coach Tipton went with what he had healthy and was pleased with the results. The Junior Midgets suffered their first loss of the season 26-0. Maurice Byrd, Keith Rivers and Robert Greenwell all played well. The next victims of the Hawks were the Midget squad as they were handed a 36-0 loss. Marquis Jones had two sacks and 10 tackles, Horace Moore had at least 25 tackles and Mr. Interception, Justin McKinney, pulled down another two, giving him eight for the season. After the game was over the referee came over to the Seminole bench and praised Joshua Butler and Darryl Wright for not giving up and trying to rally their teammates. Tomorrow, the 'Noles travel to DeLand's Stetson University to play the Volusia Panthers.

Festival of the Arts

Festival hits a high note in 11th year

BY DAVID FRAZIER
Herald Staff Writer

Art enthusiasts and lovers alike will descend upon the pristine L & L Acres Ranch on the weekend of October 4 and 5 for the 11th Annual Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts. Heralded as Seminole County's largest and most prestigious single event, the festival will showcase world renowned artists, local performers, fun and educational activities along with patrons' choice of food and beverages.

Presented by Target department stores, more than 350 artists from around the world will compete for $20,000 in prizes. Artists will include Herbert Felic Hofer, winner of the 1984 United Nations Peace Prize and 1995 International Hall of Fame Outstanding Artist Award, and Roddy Reed, winner of the 1994 Best of Show at the Cherry Creek Art Festival and Artworks '94 and first place at Cherry Creek in 1995, just to name a few.

Art teachers from all Seminole County schools will participate in the children's area. The Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts will contribute $5,000 in awards to the schools. The art festival has awarded more than $307,000 in scholarships to graduating high school students over the past 10 years. In addition, the art festival donates admission tickets which are sold in advance through Seminole County schools, allowing the schools to keep all revenues from the sales.

The festival was recently ranked among the best. See Festival, Page 9.

An open letter from festival Chairman Joanne Lucas Bourg

-From our humble and inauspicious beginning in 1987...the Arts Festival has succeeded in producing one of the FINEST outdoor art shows in Florida, bringing NATIONAL ATTENTION to the Arts and to Seminole County-

Joanne Bourg

The seeds for The Lake Mary Heathrow Festival of the Arts were planted in June of 1987 by a group of Lake Mary visionaries whose dedication and determination produced an event that continues to please art aficionados far and wide. Initial "Start Up" money was graciously provided by the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce.

This success ultimately allowed the Lake Mary Heathrow Scholarship fund to be increased in 1996. The scholarship goal for 1997 is $50,000.

The Festival grants scholarships in the following categories: band, dance, creative writing, chorus, visual arts, TV film production, piano, drama and computer graphics.

Additionally, The Lake Mary Heathrow Festival sponsors an admission program that is enthusiastically endorsed by Dr. Paul Hagerly, Seminole County School Superintendent.

We offer all 47 schools in Seminole County a program where every $1 festival admission ticket a student sells will be returned by the school they attend.

There are 55,000 students attending schools in Seminole County. If every student would pre-sell two $1 admission tickets to the festival, over $100,000 could be returned to their schools! In 1996, $15,000 admission fees were funneled back into Seminole Schools.

The success of the major county wide cultural arts fund raiser is based on a partnership with the community. Thousands of volunteers, the five Seminole County Chambers of Commerce, individual contributions from local business, and many, many other people who give of their time to improve the quality of life in this community.

The Lake Mary Heathrow Festival of the Arts is endorsed by: Governor Lawton Chiles; Greater Seminole Chamber of Commerce; Lake Mary/Heathrow

Mayor Larry Dale, Sanford.

The Lake Mary Heathrow Festival's mission is clear and simple!

- To raise scholarship money for graduating High School Students.

- To foster pride and involvement in the community.

- To stimulate and energize the local economy.

- To entertain, have fun and to celebrate the arts!

The festival is not a nationally recognized celebration of the arts. It makes important cultural and economic contributions to our great state while increasing the awareness and appreciation of the arts locally and across the county.

Festival visitors can seek out their favorite among the 350 featured artists and learn the inspirational secrets of creating the original art.

The Lake Mary Heathrow Festival of the Arts continues to prosper each year due to the outstanding efforts of the 17 individuals who make up the board of directors. Their collective commitment creates a unique opportunity to see, experience and appreciate the arts.

Past scholarship winners embrace a bright future

By JEANA HUGHES
Herald Correspondent

What a night! You were all dressed up in your best clothes. You sat through the introductions, speeches and thank yous patiently waiting for your turn. Finally your name is called and you nervously make your way to the center of the stage. All of your hard work and talent have paid off. Your mom is armed with the camera recording these moments for posterity. Your dad is wearing a smile so big you would think he had won. You accept the congratulations and the scholarship. Awards night has come and gone, and you are one step closer to your future.

The thousands of dollars in scholarships awarded from the money raised by the Lake Mary-Heathrow Art Festival during its 10 year history have helped approximately a hundred Seminole County high school graduates continue their education and pursue their dreams. See Scholarship, Page 18

One student's success story

By JEANA HUGHES
Herald Correspondent

For Lake Mary High School graduate Travis Bennett, his art is his music and his instrument is the French Horn.

Bennett won a Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts scholarship in 1994. The scholarship helped Bennett to continue his education and his musical training.

Bennett is a senior at Florida State University where he is a student of Dr. William Capps, Professor of Horn. At FSU, Bennett is a member of the University Symphony Orchestra, University Chamber Orchestra and the Horn Choir. Bennett will graduate from FSU in May, 1998.

Just as he did in high school, Bennett has continued to excel at college both musically and academically. He is a member of Phi Kappa Lambda, an academic and achievement based fraternity, and a Gold Key member. He is major in Music. See Bennett, Page 16 shows in the country by readers of Sunshine Artist magazine, America's premiere show and festival guide. The 10th annual poll, published in the September 1997 issue, features information about the top shows and festivals in terms of attendance and sales potential for individual artists and craftsmen. "It is a great honor to be ranked among the best shows in the country, particularly when our exhibiting artists have nominated us," said Joanne Bourg, show director and chairman of the Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts.

The Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts first began in 1987 with "seed" money from the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce. It has grown to be one of the finest outdoor art shows in Florida, bringing a great deal of national attention to the arts and to our community.

The festival will run Saturday and Sunday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. I.A.I. Acres Ranch is located directly across the entrance to Heathrow Shoppes. Take exit 50 off Interstate Four on to Lake Mary Boulevard. Admission is a $1 donation at the gate.

Face to face with culture

Besides viewing some of the most ingenious and beautiful art exhibits anywhere, festival patrons can also take advantage of the opportunity to meet the artists and gain some insight into their inspiration for the work. E. Carrasquillo (right) explains his craft to passers by.

Recording artist Connie Blackwood: Born singing

BY DAVID FRAZIER
Local Staff Writer

Performing live at the 11th Annual Lake Mary Heathrow Festival of the Arts, Connie Blackwood will be bringing her "alternative country and blues" mixture for the festival crowd. The Oviedo resident will take the stage Saturday, October 4, at 1 p.m.

It has been a hectic year for Blackwood recording in Tennessee, touring in Georgia and getting ready to pitch her music to major record labels in New York later this month. Now at the festival, Blackwood plans to entertain audiences with four original tunes plus covers.

Blackwood is a New Jersey baby, but as she puts it, was "born singing." She moved to Seminole County from Nashville with her Marco Lopez husband. She was awarded a bachelor of arts degree from William Patterson College in Wayne, New Jersey. She interested in "country music" with a major in music and theater. Her education is presented with the singing ability of other artists and a strong performance style.

Blackwood has appeared on the radio in Europe, Latin America and Nashville, New York, Ralph Emory as well as on the famed Ernest Tubbs Midnight Jamboree Radio Show. Her first CD titled "Too Hot to Handle" was released two and a half years ago. Her repertoire consists of "up tempo" songs and "story" songs. Some of the songs that she has written have been pitched to such country superstars as Garth Brooks and Lott Morgan.

But Blackwood's talents, even though they're mostly dedicated to country music, are not concentrated in one area. She is an Actors Equity Association Member and she has appeared in a movie called Life produced by students at Full Sail.

Blackwood has also made a cameo appearance in Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles: The Movie.

Janice Buffet sings Jimmy Buffet. And Connie Blackwood sings Connie Blackwood, said Blackwood about the originality and individuality of her work. Even though Blackwood has enjoyed a moderate amount of success, she still realizes the unpredictable nature of her business. "You never know from one day to the next," she said. If New York is a success, all festival patrons could possibly witness a star on the rise.

Connie Blackwood will perform Saturday, Oct. 4, at 1 p.m.

Wildlife artist's work to grace T-shirt

By KELLIE WERNER
Herald Staff Writer

Don Goad's vibrant artwork for the past few years has been featured in the Sanford Herald and Lake Mary Life. His latest work, a colorful illustration of a frigatebird, will appear on the T-shirt for the 1997 Annual Convention of the Seminole County Historical Society. The bird, which was the inspiration for the T-shirt, is a frigatebird, a large seabird with a hooked beak. Goad's artwork is a detailed study of the bird's feathers and form. The bird is shown in profile, facing right, with its wings slightly spread. The background is a textured, light-colored wash that makes the bird stand out. The illustration is a black and white line drawing with some areas filled with stippling or cross-hatching for shading.

The T-shirt will be available for purchase at the convention, which will be held at the Seminole County Historical Society. See Goad, Page 27

Wildlife artist Dan Goad's colorful marine wildlife will be featured on this year's souvenir T-shirts.

Scholarship

sue their artistic talents. Financial constraints can place a tremendous burden on students and their families at a time when the door to their futures should be open wide. Past scholarship winner Lori Zurkuhlen expressed it this way. "...the scholarship helped to alleviate the initial fear that something so simple and tangible like finances would stand in the way..." of her educational goal.

The scholarship helped Lake Brantley graduate Rob Good attend the University of Central Florida. After attending UCF for a year Good transferred as a junior to Maryland Institute of Art in Baltimore. He continues to produce award winning paintings and drawings.

Travis Bennett, a 1994 graduate of Lake Mary High School, is now a senior at Florida State University. Bennett will graduate in 1998 with a bachelor's degree in Music Performance. His future plans include a masters degree in Orchestral Performance.

Sabrina Reali, a 1993 Seminole High School graduate, will graduate from Seminole Community College at the end of this semester. Reali has chosen a profession in the insurance industry and plans to continue her education at the University of Central Florida.

Yoruba Rosario, a 1994 graduate of Lyman High School, is attending Pensacola Christian College. He is pursuing a degree in drafting.

For the Geer family, winning a Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts scholarship is a family affair. Steven, a graduate of Lake Howell High School won the scholarship in 1994. His brother, Senn, also a Lake Howell High School graduate, won the scholarship the following year.

Steven is a senior at Columbus School of Art and Design in Ohio. He was selected to attend a special month long art course in Monterey, California sponsored by Disney.

Senn received his Associates Degree from the International Fine Arts College in Miami. He now works in the electric publishing industry. The picture of Senn's that was displayed at the Lake Mary-Heathrow Arts Festival also won a Congressional Award, and was displayed at the Corcoran Art Gallery in Washington, D.C.

Not all of the students choose a profession in the arts, but their art, music or dance remains an important part of their lives. For many, the scholarship is a helping hand to continuing their education, and to a brighter future. Zurkuhlen expressed the lasting impact the scholarship had for her when she thanked the festival and the business sponsors. "Your kindness will always be remembered and appreciated."

ing in Music Performance with a minor in Psychology. Bennett competed in the 1997 Southeastern Horn Workshop. He won the Low Horn Mock Audition and was a finalist in the Solo Competition.

Soon, Bennett will begin auditions for graduate school where he plans to earn a masters degree in Orchestral Performance. In the future, Bennett wants to pass on his love of music and his expertise by working with college students.

Bennett and his family are "appreciative of the support of the Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts and the generous staff they gave his college education."

Poster artist celebrates vibrancy of life, jazz

BY DAVID FRAZIER
Herald Staff Writer

On the cover of this tab, there is a painting by a man named Jerry Lanham. He is the poster artist for the 11th Annual Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts. Lanham said that he is "quite honored" to be chosen for his art.

Born in Tolt, Kentucky in 1939, Lanham grew up in the coal camps of West Virginia. When he was young, he painted meat and produce signs for a local grocer to earn a little money. After serving in the Army, he lived in Hollywood, California where he supported himself as a sign painter between casting calls for acting jobs. In the early 70s, he opened the first school of hang gliding on the East coast. After eight years as a hang gliding instructor, designer and builder, he landed and hasn't flown since.

A lifetime of traveling throughout the states and working at a variety of professional endeavors, the multi-talented Lanham settled in Orlando, Florida and embarked on the art career he had aspired to, as a young boy. A self-taught artist, Lanham works in acrylics and mixed medium. His abstract and impressionist pieces have won awards in the Central Florida area including "Best of Category." Lanham's use of vibrant colors, his sense of composition and imagination enable him to create dynamic high impact pieces.

Lanham became involved with the festival when an official saw one of his works. Lanham said that he got into painting jazz while working on a piece listening to the local jazz radio station. "It's something I wanted to do," said Lanham. He experimented with it doing a few throw away pieces until finally coming up with a work that he was satisfied with. He describes his jazz paintings as "unique" with a distinct and different look. "I like lots of instruments and colors (in my paintings)," he said.

Lanham has done live shows from New York to San Francisco. He is a published artist worldwide, and most of his posters and work can be seen in Top Artist, a magazine out of Milan, Italy. He has been with the magazine for three years.

Lanham, who seldom shows his work in festivals and exhibits, will have a tent set up with various pieces for display at this year's art festival.

A vibrant collection of jazz acrylics is a trademark for Lanham.

Silent auction is festival highlight

By KELLIE WERNER
Herald Staff Writer

One of the highlights of the Lake Mary Heathrow Festival of the Arts has always been the silent auction.

A major fund-raising activity since the inception of the festival, the silent auction is another way to put dollars back into the scholarship fund.

"Our scholarships benefit Seminole County high school students who aspire to attend college for a profession in the arts," said Board of Directors member Janet Flowers. "All of the proceeds from the silent auction go directly into the scholarship fund."

Interested persons bid on the poster art for the year's festival at the silent auction. The piece is donated by the artist for the purpose of the Auction. Page 27

Goad

Continued from Page 18 poster and T-shirts bearing the work of art will be available at the souvenir tents. This item should prove to be one of the festival's best attraction yet.

Goad's stunning wildlife paintings have sold in every state of the union and in 15 foreign countries. He, along with Andy Warhol and Jasper Johns, just to name a few, was commissioned by President and Nancy Reagan to add to the White House art collection at the Smithsonian. An art publisher sought Goad out for a poster which sold out within two weeks, permitting him to become a much sought after full-time painter and his work has even been featured on the popular television program 60 Minutes.

Lately, Goad has expanded his repertoire to include the endangered sea turtle and exotic island scenes. He still enjoys his fly fishing in Alaska and his bicycle rides around St. Simons Island, where he has lived for many years.

With his painting career in full swing, he no longer has the time to seek out that perfect wave, as he did as an accomplished surfer, traveling to exotic places such as Hawaii. His talent and popularity as an artist don't allow him the time that he had before he gained a name in the art world.

He's certainly not complaining, however.

"I'm fortunate in that I do exactly what I want to do for a living. That provides a lot of satisfaction," Goad said.

Local admirers and art aficionados are encouraged to not miss Goad and see his display of beautiful art. Stop by and meet not only a gifted artist but a truly nice gentleman.

Auction

A silent auction is one in which bids are written on a piece of paper, instead of shouted out while the item is on the auction block. The highest bidder is the recipient of the artwork, and if he or she is not present at the time, they are directly notified.

Since the nature of the festival is to return everything back to the community, the silent auction is a perfect way for citizens to include their donation to the scholarship fund and have a unique piece of art for their collections at the same time.

Ace

Gymnastics, located in the Big Tree Crossing Industrial Park in Longwood.

Ace provides training in both competitive and recreational gymnastics. It is owned and operated by Michael Mather and Joan Gnat. Mather handles the business side and attributes its success to the program designed by Gnat, a former Olympian. Gnat competed for the U.S. in Munich in 1972 alongside fellow stars, Olga Korbut and Kathy Rigby. Gnat is also the highest ranking judge in the Southeast and has been invited to judge the upcoming international competition in Belgium. "Joan leads the finest group of coaches assembled in Florida," says Mather.

Another factor in favor of Ace is the recent success of the "Magnificent Seven" at the Olympics in Atlanta. Those competitors will be strutting their stuff at the upcoming John Hancock tour at the Orlando Arena. Gymnastics is currently the second fastest growing sport in the U.S.

Ace will be featured on the Main Stage at the arts festival at noon on both Saturday and Sunday. After each show, the team will be available to meet with the audience and answer questions about the sport.

Warren Hill, an acclaimed saxophonist, will be part of the marquee of entertainment at the 11th Annual Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts. Hill will be a part of the "WLOQ/Jazz Under the Stars" on Saturday, Oct. 4. "Warren is a big favorite among WLOQ's listeners," said Steve Huntington, program director for Smooth Jazz 103.1. "He performed here in Central Florida a couple of years ago, and everyone loved the energy and the passion that Warren always puts into his live performances. This year's WLOQ/Jazz Under the Stars will be especially exciting with Warren Hill Smooth Jazz 103.1 proudly presents "WLOQ/Jazz Under the Stars" at the 11th Annual Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts on the L & L Acres Ranch on Saturday evening, Oct. 4. This year's concert will feature acclaimed saxophonist Warren Hill.

Opening for Warren Hill is guitarist Richy Kicklighter, who lives in Sarasota, and has released five albums nationally. Kicklighter hails from Stamford, Conn., where he was born on April 19, 1950. Seven years later, his family moved south to Sarasota, Fla. and that's been his home ever since. "I got into music in my mid teens," said Kicklighter. "In fact, I was given a guitar for my sixteenth birthday and was hooked from the start," he said.

The gates for "WLOQ/Jazz Under the Stars" will open at 7 p.m., and the music starts at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $15 in advance and $18 at the gate. Advance tickets are available through Ticket master outlets or charge by phone at (407) 839-3000.

Last year, Smooth Jazz 103.1 brought The Rippingtons featuring Russ Freeman, and Billy Mann to "WLOQ/Jazz Under the Stars" and thousands of fans attended the nearly sold out show.

"It's really a great setting for a concert," said Steve Huntington, program director for Smooth Jazz 103.1. "Everyone sits out there under the stars and big trees, kicking back enjoying the music. It's a wonderful event and we're proud to do it again this year!"

This year's "WLOQ/Jazz Under the Stars" is sponsored in part by Contemporary Car/Mercedes Benz. For more information on "WLOQ/Jazz Under the Stars," contact Sabrina Evans at Smooth Jazz 103.1 at (407) 647-5557.

Arts festival sends in the clowns: Peaches is coming!

BY DAVID TRAZIPI
 Herndon, Va.

Clowns are everywhere these days, popping up everywhere you look. But when Emily Teaches was asked to recognize her favorite clown, she chose the clown who turned up clown in the early 1980s. She says, "I've been clowning with you for a long time, but you're still the best." She makes a return appearance to the 11th Annual Lake Mary Holiday Festival of the Arts the weekend of October 4 and 5.

Peaches is a 1984 graduate of Clowns of America International, she is a 1989 graduate of Christ Clown College of Winter Park and also a 1990 graduate of Clown Camp University of Wisconsin at LaCrosse, Wisconsin, which is the largest gathering of clowns in the world today for strictly educational purposes.

Teaches has studied at many conferences, conventions and seminars and she has both mentored and menteeed the talented, budding professional clowns. Peaches has taught the required course of the Lake Mary Clown Hospital and she has also been a guest at the Lake Mary Clown Hospital. She has been a member of the Lake Mary Clown Hospital since 1984.

Creative Arts Award winner honored to be back at festival

BY RUSS WHITE
Herald Staff Writer

Returning to Seminole County's largest, single event -- the Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts -- is popular artist Herbert Felle Hofer. The recipient of the Creative Arts Award at the 34th International Hall of Fame in Atlanta, Georgia last year, he comes back to the very festival whose committee members unanimously voted him for that prestigious award.

"I am very grateful to the people in Lake Mary-Heathrow and feel honored to be back again," Hofer says. "This is a wonderful festival, a wonderful place for a festival. I enjoy the experience immensely."

An Australian-born artist, who now resides in Miami Beach, Hofer has gained international acclaim as a man whose work touches the hearts of nations. He won the 1984 United Nations Peace Prize for his painting, "Search for Paradise."

Hofer's work has been avidly collected by people such as Pope John Paul II, actor Robert De Niro, actress-singer Lena Horne and director Federico Fellini.

It has been said that one cannot remain "impervious" or "untouched" by Hofer's paintings. Each one is an invitation into Hofer's new and enchanting world. He's best described as a folk artist whose works are filled with people, places and things all expressed in vibrant colors.

"I'm dreaming all the time," Hofer,

Peaches has directed and taught in the clown classes held by Fun World Alley #118 and the Central Florida World Clown Alley #158, in Orlando from 1985 to the present.

She has directed and taught clown classes, held in Orlando, by "Peaches" and her clown friends, as well as directed and teaching advanced clown classes and Christian clowning classes in 1992. She coordinated and directed the children's activities for the Book Fair, held in downtown Orlando at Lake Eola Park on April 11 and 12, 1992. Now she plans to her grin-inducing show to the festival on Sunday, October 5.

Welcome to Leo's place - how great thou art!

By RUSS WHITE
Herald Staff Writer

Visitors to the 11th annual Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts this weekend surely will notice a man in a Florida Highway Patrol hat darting in and out at L & L Acres Ranch in a pink jeep with a fudge on top.

His name is Leo Trepanier and he owns the place.

A more delightful character would be hard to find.

Trepanier, 82, may have a tear in his eye as he makes the round at this year's festival. It has been a favorite activity at L & L, and it's going to be the last.

Most of the acreage where the festival has been held all but its first year will soon be developed for mixed commercial use. There's a public hearing for rezoning on Oct. 14.

"It's not the country anymore," Trepanier said. "Times and things change. I'm still going to live here at the ranch and have property that groups like the Boy Scouts will still be able to use."

"They'll find something else for the art festival. I'm pleased we could have it here as long as we did. I've enjoyed the festivals. I hope this one will be better than ever - that we'll have good weather, that everyone will be comfortable."

Festival No. 1 was held across Lake Mary Boulevard at what is now the Barclay Apartments. Realizing the success of the show, Trepanier donated his 150 acres of ranch land for No. 2.

And so it came to be that the Festival's home was Leo's home.

He's delighted him to welcome the 100,000-plus guests even though it means moving 30 cows and a handful of horses and ostriches. No problem, he says. Just as long as he gets some help cleaning up after festival closes Sunday evening.

Trepanier came on the Florida scene in the mid 1950s. Born and raised in Duluth, Minn., he appreciated the kinder winters hereabouts. "Duluth is God's country in the summertime," he says, "but not in the winter. I had myself enough of winter."

Investing in the celery business and teaming with his brother-in-law Jeno Paulucci in the Chun King enterprise and others, Trepanier built himself a fortune. He gobbled up land such as L & L Acres Ranch and another 800-acre in Chuluota.

Not bad for a kid who grew up playing hockey on the frozen lakes of Minnesota and who fancied himself as a pugacious right wing and center iceman.

Trepanier's dad was in the meat business and came from a French-Canadian family. Trepanier bears a strong resemblance to the late French showman Maurice Chevalier, and you think that at the drop of a chapeau or trooper's hat he'll break into a song like "Thank Heaven for Little Girls."

But Leo says he's not much of a singer. Amusedly, he recalls being asked to the stage after one of the festivals was concluding and nearing the excited guests chant, "Leo, Leo, Leo."

By this time, Trepanier says, everyone is feeling no pain. Expect it to be the same this year. "It's become sort of a ritual," he says, grinning.

The Festival is only one of the big weekends at Leo's ranch. He loves being host to the Boy Scouts, who set up an annual camp.

"I remember when I was a Boy Scout we used to be lucky to have one pup tent," he says. "Now the Boy Scouts come in expensive RV's...times have

Torch singer joins entertainers

BY DAVID FRAZIER
Herald Staff Writer

Joining the group of entertainers at this year's Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts on Sunday, Oct. 5 is Orlando resident Rebecca Ferguson. Ferguson, 52, of 2933 Tradewind Trail, Orlando, will be performing many favorite jazz tunes and torch songs for festival audiences to enjoy. Ferguson has appeared in community theater productions of Stop the World I Want to Get Off, Fiddler on the Roof, and Solid Gold Cadillac. She has also performed at local senior citizen centers and retirement communities. From time to time, Ferguson is a guest artist with the Herbie Lee Trio. Currently, she can be heard at the Saturday Market at Church Street Station.

Accompanying Ferguson, Rusty Baker, 38, of 1006 Henson Ct., Oviedo, has performed at Walt Disney World's Magic Kingdom and both the Daytona and Altamonte Springs Hilton. Baker is currently the organist at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Winter Park.

changed, you know." It amuses Trepanier's friends just how unpretentious the man is. He prefers comfortable short-sleeved shirts with no ties. Maybe a blazer for a formal occasion. "Leo know how to live," says Ellen Schirmer, the proprietor of the Willow Tree Cafe on East First Street in Sanford. "Everyone loves him. Listen to the girls when he comes in. 'Hi, Cutie,' they call to him. And he loves it." Schirmer likes to kid about the fact Leo has never bought himself a new car. "He gets them after they've been used, when they don't cost as much," she says. Leo smiles. The pink jeep, apparently, was new. "In 1964," he says

In a pinch, artist turn clay into ceramic pots

BY JEFF BERLINICKE
Herald Staff Writer

In a pinch, Roddy Reed can turn a piece of clay into a hand-built ceramic pot which can make any collector the envy of art fans everywhere.

Reed, an artist from Tampa, will show his works at the 11th Annual Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts coming October 4 and 5.

His brilliant pots, which average about four inches tall by five inches around, have been featured on the cover of Ceramics Monthly and he has sold through such brokers as Christies in New York City. His works are featured in museums all over the country and he exhibits internationally.

His pottery comes from an ancient form of art called pinching, a process which involves only one finger. In a solid ball of clay, an opening is made with one finger and the ball is slowly turned in his hands, without wheels or tools of any kind.

Eventually, the clay is pinched into a final shape without changing the size of the original opening. Finally, the piece is burnished with a smooth object, and finished by hand with a glaze coat.

The process to make just one of the pots can take anywhere from five to 100 hours, depending on the surface design and the finished project can run anywhere from $300 to $5,500. The vessels are perfectly rounded even on the bottom. It rests on a curved surface which exemplifies Reed's talents as he continues to turn out innovative and contemporary works.

Reed said he considers his work to be "non-utilitarian" and made only for the pleasure of the creator and owner.

was singing and playing guitar when he was eight-years-old. By 14, he was playing local clubs as lead singer and lead guitarist in a rock band. Wreaned on Led Zeppelin and Rush, the only reason Hill picked up the saxophone was to play in his high school's band. But when a summer jazz program at the Eastman School in Rochester, New York introduced him to jazz, his musical life changed forever.

After high school, he enrolled at the University of Toronto studying physics. For a year, he chose academia over music except for weekend hours with his jazz combo. Much to the chagrin of his parents, Hill dropped out determined to pursue music. He was accepted to Boston's prestigious Berklee College of Music, where his talent blossomed.

Soon, Hill became Berklee's star sax player, playing gigs and doing studio work. On graduation day, 1988, Hill was given several featured solos in the all-star student band. After renowned producer Russ Titelman noticed him, he went to a New York studio playing on a Chuck Khan album that included such musical luminaries as Miles Davis, Steve Wonder and Prince. Subsequently, Hill moved to Los Angeles, where he started to write and create demos of his own music. It seemed by chance that a tape of Hill's found its way to Atlantic Records. Afterwards, he cut an album for them.

Hill is a best-selling instrumentalist, famous for his lyrical melodies.

This singer/songwriter/producer, a Nashville resident for the past few years, has had several number one hits on the adult contemporary charts. Hill has said while writing music for saxophone, "If you can't sing it, why play it?" He will be singing and playing "Jazz Under the Stars" at the arts festival.

Hofer

51, says. "Painting is a window to an imaginary world. I consider myself a positive thinker. If a negative thought comes up, I try to get rid of it right away."

He takes his audience into lush tropical scenes, magical castles in the air and other places we never imagined in our own dreams.

Hofer's art, some say, can be described in a word: "Peace."

Hofer, who bears a resemblance to actor Burt Reynolds, grew up liking the film work of movie hero Errol Flynn and the writing of Ernest Hemingway. He says that he believes none ever strived as hard to improve his craft than Papa Hemingway.

The two --surely-- would have been wonderful companions on a jungle safari.

Born in Wiener Neustadt, Austria in 1946, Hofer studied interior architecture and later traveled through Europe and Africa in search of personal and professional growth. Just as Rousseau and Gauguin, Hofer became enchanted with the jungle.

He paints two weeks on and two weeks off and has a mailing list of more than 500 art patrons.

One of his most special moments was when he presented a piece known as "Navigator of the Ship called Faith."

Less prestigious but still rewarding is his front cover art for the Miami Beach telephone book. He laughs when told this lends a whole new dimension to the expression painting by numbers.

"When I returned from Atlanta with my Hall of Fame award, I was nicely surprised by the citizens and leaders in Miami Beach," Hofer said. "They presented me with an award of their own and the mayor gave me a key to the city."

"I'm a very happy man. I have a wonderful wife (Randye) and we're new grandparents...I feel as if I am living the great American dream."

Logo: Hands are tools of the craft

BY KELLIE WERNER
Herald Staff Writer

Hands are the tools of the craft for an artist.

Whether that artist is a painter, a sculptor, a small child working with finger paints, or a senior citizen making jewelry, the hands are what artists use to bring their imaginations to life.

That is the reason behind the Lake Mary Heathrow Festival of the Arts logo.

"The logo represents the universal nature of art as well as the tools that every crafter uses to create," said original chairman and administrator for the festival, Bonnie Manjura. "Art is so universal and crosses all boundaries. The hands represent that one aspect of both art and community that transcends all divisions."

In 1986, when the core committee of Lake Mary city commissioners Randy Morris and John Percy, as well as Joanne Bourg, Larry Lucas, DeLores Lash and Manjura began bringing the idea of a community art festival to life, they knew right away that they wanted a logo. After all, the city commission had a seal, so did the City of Lake Mary and Heathrow had an image package. The festival needed something universal and non-trendy.

The idea for the hands came about and everyone agreed that this was the perfect logo for the Lake Mary Heathrow Festival.

"The basic idea was of all artists putting their hands down on canvas and working together to create art," Manjura explained. "The original committee was looking to show a collaboration of all people working together regardless of mediums, cultures and ages."
