PRESIDENT WILSON ACCEPTS PART OF MEDIATOR IN ARMENIAN MUDDLE MAYBE

His Acceptance Is Conditional Upon Moral Influence

WITHOUT AUTHORITY

TO EMPLOY FORCE UNLESS HE CAN GET CONSENT OF CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Wilson has accepted the invitation of the League of Nations to act as mediator in the Armenian situation.

The President's acceptance is conditioned upon the use of moral influence. He explained that he is without authority to employ force without the consent of congress.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Dec. 1.—The question of the admission of Germany to the League of Nations will not be brought up for serious discussion at this session of the assembly. Undoubtedly there are enough nations favoring Germany's admission to guarantee the necessary two-thirds vote at some future meeting if Germany has given effective guarantees of its sincere intention to observe its international obligations.

The delegates from many of the smaller nations more or less friendly to Germany were inclined early in this session to force the issue of Germany's admission to this session. The French delegation under the aggressive leadership of Viviani has bitterly opposed this suggestion, both in and out of the meetings, and has succeeded in converting enough delegates to win its point.

It was announced that Spain and Brazil had offered to join President Wilson in the role of Armenian mediator.

LITTLE CHILDREN ARE HUNGRY IN AUSTRIA

PARIS, Dec. 1.—The misery of Austria's hungry children is told by Pierre Hamp, writing in a Paris weekly. He watched the breadlines before the soup kitchens where American relief agencies are feeding all those under 14 years of age.

At the door each child must show a card and when they leave they are searched, says M. Hamp.

Because there is not enough for all the hungry to be fed, the children may not carry away food. Yet the keen intelligence of the young sometimes outwits the watchfulness of their elders.

"To be sure," one of the managers told him, "we should have to undress the children. One little girl put her slices of bread in her stockings. The next week she came with a rag over her cheek, saying she had the toothache. Under the cloth she had a lump of bread."

Pointing to two little girls, she said, "Often I must force them to eat. Grief at the thought that their mother has nothing kills their appetite. Unless I watch them the bread they leave on the table is taken by others."

Another little girl, wearing men's shoes in which her feet were loose tried to crowd in ahead of her turn. Sent back in the line, she cried. Asked why, the child explained she was wearing the only shoes in the family. She wanted to hurry back so her brother might have the shoes and come, in his turn, while there still was food.

"They are people," said the manager, "whose pride is not yet dead. They would not let their children be seen in the street barefoot."

As the children pass in line and have their bowls filled with cocoa they begin at once to drink and to eat the white bread. They are too hungry to wait until seated.

Sometimes, as the children leave, they are compelled to raise their arms for some hold hidden bread, in their armpits; and sometimes they are searched for many would, if they could, conceal food for the hungry mother at home.

Men who are afraid of work deserve to be scared to death.

ONE CAR OF LETTUCE IN RETURNS

BROUGHT J. B. LITTLE THE NET SUM OF $2,455.44

The lettuce market is off some at present probably on account of so much leafy stuff going in at once but the record made by some of the growers here this season is worthy of more than passing note. Lettuce is not the main crop of the Sanford section and being a crop that does not require much money to make is looked upon more as a catch crop that fills in before the celery comes off and every season some of the growers make big money and some of them make only ordinary profits and some do not hit the right markets to make any on the lettuce but they pocket their profits and loss with the idea that other crops coming along will recoup them for any loss that they might suffer on lettuce.

However, this season much to the surprise of all the wise ones lettuce reached the peak on the first shipments and the following story of the crop of J. B. Little, a grower on the West Side is a fair example. Mr. Little shipped through the F. F. Dutton Co., 400 hampers of lettuce, 6 hampers of which brought him $8.25 per hamper and 394 hampers brought $8.00 per hamper and after the commission and other shipping charges had been deducted netted him here the sum of $2,455.44. As the four hundred hampers made a car load of lettuce this price is thought to be the highest price that ever came back to a grower for lettuce here or elsewhere in the United States and is a fair example of what the growers in the Sanford section can and are doing.

These figures are taken from the sales slip and are bona fide although are almost beyond belief. Many other growers here realized handsome sums for their lettuce but the exact figures are not obtainable at this time and these are only given to prove the statement made a week ago that a car of lettuce from Sanford brought $8.00 per hamper in New York markets.

FINDING IS KEEPING

NEWPORT NEWS, Nov. 30.—Twelve cases of fine bonded liquor were found Saturday afternoon on the roadside between Williamsburg, Va., and an old country estate nearby, and the finder of the twelve cases promptly carried them away. Later in the afternoon an agent of the owner, a wealthy resident of Detroit who was moving his private stock to his Virginia home under permit, remonstrated strongly with county police authorities.

DISASTROUS FIRE IN JASPER, ALA. PLAYS HAVOC

DESTROYS TWENTY BUSINESS HOUSES AND TEN RESIDENCES.

JASPER, Ala., Dec. 1.—A fire here today destroyed twenty business houses and ten residences before it was brought under control at 9 o'clock today. The loss is estimated at $500,000. A high wind fanned the flames through the principal business section.

LIVES WITH A BULLET IN HIS HEART

OMAHA, Dec. 1.—James Freeman, a city, has a bullet in his heart all alive. He was shot by his brother-in-law whom he had been separated from when he returned home he is said to have threatened her. She met him at the door and fired point blank, the bullet striking him at the left breast.

He was taken to the police station, nearly three miles away, where medical attention was given him. He was removed to a hospital and an X-ray taken which showed the bullet nestling in the heart.

TOMATOES SHIPPED TOO GREEN

COMPLAINTS FROM MARKETS IN 1919 SEASON

Of the total of 7,571 cars of early tomatoes shipped in 1919 from the seven early tomato growing states, Florida shipped 4,478 cars, or more than one-half.

As a result of complaints from the market regarding the quality of Florida tomatoes the U. S. Department of Agriculture has made some investigations and finds that the quality of Florida shipped tomatoes is admittedly inferior in many respects to vine-ripened or greenhouse tomatoes.

They have found that the chemical composition of Florida vine-ripened tomatoes compares favorably with the various analyses reported of such fruit grown in other localities, so the inferiority of the former cannot be credited to the kind of soil or climatic conditions prevailing in Florida.

Their investigations have shown that this inferiority is caused by harvesting the tomatoes too green and by a lack of ventilation during the ripening period.

It is the custom to pick tomatoes when they are grass green and allow them to ripen and color in ripening rooms, while in transit, and after arrival at the market. When the fruit is picked too green it ripens slowly, has a tendency to wrinkle, colors abnormally and has a bad taste and flavor.

A very important factor influencing the quality of Florida tomatoes is ventilation or lack of it during the ripening period. It has shown in these experiments that when the commercially picked fruit was allowed to ripen in a room without ventilation that the acid content was increased approximately 138 per cent over that of vine-ripened fruit and the sugar decreased approximately 21 per cent. It was found that wrapping with paper, increased the acid content approximately 102 per cent and decreased the sugar nearly 5 per cent as compared with the normal fruit. The increased acid and decreased sugar content affect very noticeably the palatability and flavor of the fruit.

It was definitely established that the combined results of picking fruit too green, of wrapping and of closing the cars in transit probably account for the total differences existing in quality between commercially shipped and vine-ripened tomatoes.

The results of these investigations have been published in U. S. Department of Agriculture Bulletin No. 859, a copy of which should be in the hands of every tomato grower, and can be had free by writing the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

AMERICA'S LOSSES IN WORLD WAR INFANTRY HIT HARD

PROPORTION OF KILLED AND WOUNDED SAME AS CIVIL WAR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Final figures on army casualties in the world war are contained in the annual report of Surgeon General Ireland, made public last night, showing 34,249 killed and 224,089 wounded.

The proportion of killed and wounded is about the same as in the civil war, although mortality from gunshot wounds in the world war was only 8.26 per cent as compared with 13.6 per cent in the civil war. The report said this indicated that improved surgical and sanitary methods in the recent war had saved the lives of 5.54 per cent of all American soldiers who were wounded.

Of every 1,000 men sent to France, 110 were admitted to hospital as the result of battle casualties, the report says, and nearly seven men out of every thousand died as the result of wounds.

Infantry losses were heaviest, 215.6 out of every 1,000 men of that arm being wounded and 12.77 killed. The signal corps was next with 52.22 wounded and 3.13 killed per thousand. Deaths from wounds totaled 13,691

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—John Craner, an employee of the Wallace Downey Shipbuilding Corporation, denied the allegations of Tucker K. Sands, the former Washington banker, that he knew anything of a division of alleged forty thousand dollars "bribe" for procuring contracts of boards in connection with the name of R. W. Bolling, the shipping board treasurer and brother-in-law of President Wilson.

PRUSSIAN ASSEMBLY SUSPENDED

AFTER DISORDERLY SCENES FOLLOWING DEBATE TO TRANSFER ROYAL MONEY.

BERLIN, Dec. 1.—The Prussian assembly session was suspended today after disorderly scenes following a debate on the motion to transfer the property of the Hohenzollern family to the Prussian state and assign a suitable income to the former reigning house.

AMERICA AND MEXICO MAY GET TOGETHER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—A formal proposal from Secretary Colby that commissioners be appointed by the United States and Mexico to draft a treaty upon which can be based resumption of full diplomatic relations between the two governments, has been taken to Mexico City by Roberto V. Pesqueira, Mexican confidential agent in Washington.

This was disclosed tonight when the state department made public Mr. Colby's answer to Pesqueira's recent letter urging recognition by the United States of the new government of Mexico. It was handed to the Mexican agent before his departure on Thanksgiving day to attend the inauguration of President-elect Obregon of Mexico today.

Referring to his conversations with Mr. Pesqueira, Secretary Colby in his letter said that they served to leave no reasonable doubt "of the high and enlightened purposes that actuate the present government of Mexico."

or slightly more than 6 per cent, while 158,585 of the wounded, or 70.7 per cent were returned to duty, the remainder being invalided home for treatment and discharge.

Shell wounds were by far the most deadly, the report said, adding that no American soldier lost both arms and both legs in the world war or both legs or both arms and one other extremity. Eleven lost both legs at the thigh; one both legs at the knee; nine both legs below the knee; one both feet and three one arm above the elbow with one leg at the thigh. More than 4,400 soldiers lost a part of one or more extremities. Sixty-six lost the sight of both eyes. 44 lost the partial sight of both eyes and 644 lost one eye or sight of one eye.

Plans Have All Been Laid By "13" Club

ON THE LAKE FRONT

ROD AND GUN CLUB WHEN ONE HUNDRED MEMBERS HAVE BEEN SECURED NEW CLUB WILL BE ORGANIZED

The "13" Club of Sanford organized about three months ago and made up of live members of the Chamber of Commerce have been doing things since their organization and not wishing to ask for donations for carrying out their plans for building a bigger Sanford have been giving a series of dances and entertainments the proceeds of which are to be used in building a suitable home for the new Rod and Gun Club that will be organized here in the next few weeks. The Rod and Gun Club will be a rendezvous not only for the yachtmen, the tourist and the visitors of all kinds to the city but it will also be a place for general recreation, an assembly hall, a place for dances and other amusements. The "13" club has already taken an option on a fine location on the lake front near the home of John Russell in one of the prettiest parts of the city and will take steps to immediately erect a fine club house and have a basin for boats and regular amusement place for the many winter visitors—a place where they will enjoy the lake and the river in boating and fishing and hunting.

The club some time ago put on a big day in Sanford and gave the proceeds to the hospital and when the Rod and Gun Club is started on the way the Club will devote its time and money to other enterprises and will keep several good things going all the time for the upbuilding of the city. They are also putting on entertainments of all kinds and hold a dance each month and are considering a fine Chautauqua for the month of April thus giving the city something in the way of amusements all the time and keeping the city filled with new people.

Their next dance will be given on Friday night at the Valdez Hotel and on the night of the 31st of December they will give a big dance in honor of the winter visitors, and the girls and boys who have been away to school and will make this dance a big get-together dance for everyone in the city who wants an evening of enjoyment and a chance to meet old and new people in Sanford.

In fact the "13" Club has many big enterprises on the way that cannot be made public at present but they mean much to the city and will be put over for the members feel that the city has lost enough time over certain projects and should now be up and doing.

There is no better city than Sanford.

And you can tell this story to your friends all the time.

And tell it so often that you will begin to believe it yourself.

What Sanford needs most at the present time is temporary quarters for the million people that want to come here this winter.

The only reason there was not one thousand more people in Sanford today is because we lack one thousand houses in supplying the demand. Can we make some arrangements at price for houses or tents.

We are having plenty of shows at present. Shows are all right but we do not want them all the time. We would like to have a week or so in which to get ready for Christmas.

North Carolina is unhealthy for wives. Two husbands killed their wives there yesterday.

Courts of Nevada don't want Mary Pickford and Owen Moore to separate and are trying to separate Mary and Douglas Fairbanks. They claim that Mary and Owen conspired to obtain a divorce and if they did the fool courts should recognize the fact that this ought to be sufficient grounds for a divorce.

The cows are eating the Sanford Heights people out of house and home. Now, of course, we recognize the fact that the city officials have a hard time keeping cows out of the yards just as they are helpless about keeping tame rabbits of the neighbors from eating all the beautiful flowers in the yards in the heart of the city but the owner of the garden can always kill the cows and the rabbits as a last resort or kill the owners which is a lesser crime in Florida.

GAINESVILLE'S CAMP SITE.

Gainesville is one of the cities which is after the tourist trade, and making an effort to care for the campers and motorists. The following dispatch from that city shows what the people are doing there:

"Gainesville tourist camp site will be placed among the best in the entire state, with one day's labor, as a result of plans adopted by the directors of the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce, which call for the volunteered services of every Gainesville citizen with public pride for one day's labor.

"Every person who is willing to cooperate in this big day's work—don overalls and appear on the scene early and work late on the appointed day—is asked to give his or her name to J. F. Burnett, chairman of the committee in charge, and stand ready for the call, after which it is hoped the city will be able to entertain transient visitors in a royal manner that will leave with them, a tender feeling for the city of Gainesville.

"This plan was included in the report of the camp site committee composed of James H. Parrish, R. E. Brush and W. H. Hayes, and was enthusiastically adopted by the board of directors of the chamber.

"This same committee, with the ad-

 "Last night saw the largest number of tourists on the camp site since its institution, more than forty cars, and 125 people camping there for the night. W. H. ROLLINS COLLEGE IS A HOME INSTITUTION

Florida is justly noted among the Southern states for the excellence of its educational institutions of all grades from kindergarten to college. Its high schools in every town are models in buildings, equipment, and educational staff; the country schools are doing good work and establishing an esprit du corps, which is exceptional in rural schools. There are a number of higher educational institutions in the state, which have established reputations for scholarship and learning. Some are state institutions, fostered and supported by the state, while others are established and upheld by private enterprise. Among the best of the latter class is Rollins College. It is beautifully situated on the banks of one of Florida's beautiful lakes, in the pretty little town of Winter Park, which, because of its influence has become the educational and literary center of South Florida. Its campus of 25 acres is beautifully sodded with St. Augustine grass, and shaded with native oaks and pines. Three tennis courts are provided for the devotees of that old time game, while those who prefer baseball, football or basketball are afforded facilities for their favorite games. Lake Virginia, which fronts the campus is ideal in its opportunities for aquatic sports.

The environment of Rollins is ideal for an educational institution. The quiet, literary atmosphere of the little town of Winter Park, devoid of the distracting amusements of a large city, is conducive to study and meditation. The courses of Rollins are those of the usual college curriculum, calculated to make men and women of broad culture and deep and independent thinking. The numerous faculty is well qualified by culture and experience to direct the students' minds in the proper channels. The president, Rev. George Morgan Ward, D.D., LL.D., is a man of wide reputation as a successful educator, and of exceptional learning.

Altogether, Rollins College, a peculiarly South Florida institution, has an especial claim from every viewpoint, upon the citizens of this thriving and prosperous section, who desire for their children a thorough, well-rounded education.—Tampa Daily Times.

NEW SMYRNA JOINS THE ARMY.

New Smyrna has joined the ranks of municipalities working under the commission-manager form of government. This event is of more than ordinary interest in Florida because of the fact that there are several other communities about the same size as the town of New Smyrna figuring on taking the same step. The question arose in the recent campaign at New Smyrna as to whether the commission-manager form would work out satisfactorily in a place the size of New Smyrna. Those opposed to the charter change said it was all very well for communities the size of Tampa, Tallahassee, Orlando, Daytona, Sanford, West Palm Beach and St. Augustine, but would not work in a smaller town. Now will come a practical demonstration of the value of this system of civic government and the eyes of the state will necessarily be turned toward New Smyrna as a manifestation of the interest felt in the outcome of the new venture. It is not to be presumed from this statement that there are not many communities in the United States much smaller than New Smyrna that have found the commission-manager plan a solution of almost all municipal troubles. New Smyrna is fortunate in having much valuable material to draw from in the selection of a commission, who in turn will be called upon to engage a city manager. We take the liberty of offering the suggestion that the electors of New Smyrna are in duty bound to select for the commission only such men as are known to be in active and thorough sympathy with the commission-manager plan and who will undoubtedly do their best to carry out the provisions of the very excellent charter that has now been adopted and will go into effect on the first of the New Year.

 New Smyrna may well be said to have a new municipal vision, and certainly there is no community more happily situated or more generously endowed by nature where so much can be done to make it thoroughly attractive and beautiful. This, of course, is aside entirely from the direct benefits that are bound to accrue from a very simple and effective business administration.—St. Augustine Record.

"The automobile camp supplied by the city of Eustis had a population on Monday of about fifty, mostly from Michigan," says the Eustis Lake Region. "The tents and automobiles showed a rather prosperous class of visitors, who are greatly pleased with the situation on the shores of Lake Eustis." These automobile camps are now springing up in a night, almost, all over the state, and the travelers who have come a long ways in their cars, seem delighted with the places set apart for their pleasure and comfort. No doubt hundreds of those who camp for a while will later decide to move into hotels and apartments, and many will buy or build and become regular winter or all-the-year-residents. The camp, however, gives them a chance to look around, and is proving highly popular.—Times-Union.

ESCAPE HORRORS OF BOLSHEVISM

Canadian Mining Engineer and Wife Tell of Days of Terror in Nikolaievsk.

MANY TIMES NEAR DEATH

Americans and British in Siberian Mining Camps Have Miraculous Escapes From Massacre—Rescued by Chinese Gunboat.

Seattle, Wash.—With harrowing experiences and tales of terror, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Barker of Vancouver, B. C., arrived here, after three years and the Bolsheviki of eastern Russia. For two months, as prisoners of the Bolsheviki leader Ghiroloff and his wife, Nina, they lived in hourly peril of their lives, and were finally rescued, with sixteen other foreigners, by a Chinese gunboat.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker set sail for Vladivostok in the latter part of March, 1917. They arrived in Nikolaievsk in June of the same year, and soon after Mr. Barker assumed the position of assistant manager of a mining camp in the Orsk gold fields belonging to a British company 60 miles from Nikolaievsk.

Nikolaievsk is a far cry from Petrograd, so the overthrow of the czar made little difference in the daily life at the mining camp on the Amur. In October, 1918, Admiral Kolchak took over the administration of that section, and soon after a Japanese garrison quietly took possession of Nikolaievsk. According to Mrs. Barker, it was after the overthrow of Kolchak that trouble began. One day Ghiroloff appeared at the head of a band of Bolsheviki and unceremoniously took over the mines. At the same time Reds overran Nikolaievsk territory. Reign of terror ensued, during which no one's life was safe.

Work of Vengeance. In March last an arrangement was concluded between the Japanese garrison and the Reds, whereby the latter were to hand over their arms for one day, on which the Bolsheviki proposed to hold funeral services for their fallen soldiers. The day was set, but instead of fulfilling their part of the agreement the Japanese surrounded the headquarters of the Reds 24 hours before the exercises were to have been held and wiped out the entire headquarters staff of the Bolsheviki. Next day the enraged Reds began their work of vengeance. Streets were strewn with bodies of slain Japanese. Mrs. Barker said several attempts on their lives actually occurred, despite the fact that her husband was operating dredges under penalty of being shot for disobedience if he refused. On May 18 it was planned to massacre the entire Barker family, Kamanov, a Russian, who was at heart no Bolsheviki sympathizer, frustrated this plan by placing an armed guard around the house.

The Reds continued their reign of merciless terror. Ghiroloff and his wife yied with each other in their diabolical plots and cruelty. A Mr. Dyer, an American manager of a gold plant, nearly became a victim because he insisted on wearing a white stiff collar. Dyer was thrown into jail, while the council quarreled among themselves as to whether he should be killed slowly in the public market place or shot outright by his wife. Dyer's life hung in the balance for three days, while his wife was on the point of collapse. Then the remaining officials of the mine went in a body to Red headquarters and prevailed upon Ghiroloff to release his prisoner.

Lives Threatened Many Times. Time and again thereafter Mr. Barker said their lives were threatened. On May 23 the Bolsheviki decided to kill or torture every soul in the village. They had learned of the advance of Japanese troops, with reinforcements. The Bolsheviki burned the city to the ground, and then, destroying the mining camps, fled into the hills.

At this juncture the commander of a Chinese gunboat, which had been icebound in the Amur river during the winter demanded that the foreigners be delivered to him. While the baggage and few valuables of the foreigners were being loaded into open boats three Bolsheviki cutters came alongside and opened fire. A vigorous engagement followed. Luckily for the fugitives the Chinese were victorious. The Chinese succeeded in landing the refugees at an obscure port, however, from which they soon left in a dilapidated Japanese freighter.

They learned later that the Bolsheviki had returned to the city after the gunboat had left, had killed all the remaining Russian children at the mines, and carried off their mothers as slaves into the woods.

TOWN KILLS ADAGES

Municipal Offices Now in the Hands of Women.

Yoncalla, Ore.—Yoncalla is now strictly a woman's town. In spirit and in fact women are the town's leaders since the recent election when they elected a woman mayor and a woman to every other place in the city government unbeknown to the men of this little town.

The women say the election has permanently disposed of two old adages, to the effect that women can not keep a secret and that they can not successfully "play politics."

Over tea-cups, at social gatherings, after prayer meetings and from house to house the women carried on their political campaign secretly prior to election. It had been "whispered," they said, that the men intended to let the incumbents hold over without bother of a new ticket.

The women did not like the administration. They bolted and went to the polls and marked in the names of their candidates. The men were concerned with national and state politics only. The men did not bother about the city election. Result:

Mrs. Mary Burt, mayor, native Oregonian, graduate of Pacific college, class of 1873, who has lived here 43 years (Rep.).

Councilwomen—Mrs. Jennie R. Lasswell, wife of the retiring mayor and prominent clubwoman; Mrs. Bernice Wilson, pioneer school teacher, and wife of postmaster; Mrs. Nettie Hannan, wife of a retired capitalist.

The women have no definite plans for promoting the welfare of the town. Mayor-elect Burt said.

"We intend to study conditions," she said, "and do all in our power to give the city of Yoncalla a good, efficient government."

"At the worst we can not do much worse than the men have done."

Mayor Jesse B. Lasswell, who has lost his job, said his cohorts "were taken off their guard," but he has promised the women his help.

BULGARS MOURN LOST LANDS

Charge Serbia With Seizing Frontier Before Settlement at Paris Conferences.

Paris.—The Bulgarian legation here has received the following telegram from Sofia:

"Serbian troops have crossed the frontier to occupy the territory detached from Bulgaria by the treaty of Neuilly without awaiting the demarcation of the frontier and the settlement of numerous questions brought before the ambassadors' conference in Paris."

"The Bulgarian government, finding the occupation premature, protested, but to prove its loyalty it ordered the Bulgarian authorities to withdraw without resistance."

"Serbian troops entered Tzaribrod. All the stores were closed as a sign of mourning and three days of mourning have been declared throughout Bulgaria."

REFUSE TO FAVOR RUSS REDS

First Congress of German Shop Soviets Turn Down the Proposition.

Berlin.—The first congress of shop soviets recently held here refused to go on record as favoring the soviet government of Russia.

There was a sharp clash between the communists and independent socialists over the question, but the motion was voted down. About 1,000 delegates attended the meeting.

The workers in the German industrial and commercial establishments, who are now given an active voice in administration of them, were impressed in the congress with the need of conserving raw products so that Germany may produce sufficient commodities to enable her to establish credits abroad with which to pay for the importation of the most necessary food and raw materials.

Missing Thirty Years.

Bristol, Tenn.—News has been received in Bristol that a son of Mrs. Morgan Snodgrass, living near Steele's Creek, three miles from Bristol, who disappeared from home thirty years ago when a boy of ten years, returned unexpectedly and is now visiting his mother. The report says that Mr. Snodgrass is a resident of Oklahoma.

Stork's Arrival Kept Dad From Jail. Mount Vernon, N. Y.—Because the court learned that Almato Falcon, convicted of carrying concealed weapons, had just become a father of a boy, the prisoner was freed with a small fine.

WEATHER REPORT

For Florida: Fair and cooler tonight, probably frost in extreme north portion; Thursday, fair.

A lot of men bought ladies stockings at the Perkins & Britt sale this morning.

It begins to look as though the people of Sanford would get cheaper milk if all indications point the right way.

One little man was knocked down in the rush and was not found for several hours afterward, being under the feet of the crowd.

Code Hill, one of the pioneer residents and farmers of Orange and Seminole county, was in and paid the Herald office a visit this morning.

The directors of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce will meet at the Hotel Valdez tonight at eight o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce room to take up matters of importance.

Every hotel in Sanford was crowded to capacity last night and people were walking the streets this morning looking for rooms. If you have a room let the public know it through the Herald.

J. E. V. Jervoy, of Charleston, is in the city looking after the lettuce crop. Ned Jervoy is one of the most popular buyers of vegetables that comes to this city in the winter and has made Sanford for many years.

A. W. Day and son, A. W. Jr., from Ashby, Alabama, have arrived in the city and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grayam on the Heights. They intend to locate in Sanford when a suitable house can be procured.

The world is not so large after all. Robert McKim, a Sanford boy and a graduate of the Sanford High School, who went to California several years ago and has a fine position with a big wholesale house there went to Sacramento some time since and found a room with George Tyrler and wife and upon discovering that Mr. Tyrler was from Florida he also found that he was a brother of Mrs. R. J. Holly of this city. Robert felt that he had found friends at once as Florida is a long way from California and Floridians think it just about the greatest state in the union although California is a close second.

ALBERT DORNER WON TWO PRIZES

While Sanford and Seminole county did not have an exhibit at the State Fair at Jacksonville several individuals had stuff on display and among them was Albert Dornier who sent down some fine specimens of Sanford lettuce, the Dew Kissed Brand, the heads were 17x17 inches across, drew two first premiums and today received the blue ribbons for his prizes. Mr. Dornier is raising some new kinds of lettuce and celery on the Celery avenue place that he promises will revolutionize the business. Albert says he is off the begging stand now as he played the grind organ and sang songs near the court house the other night and made over $9 for charity purposes.

Confidence Men In State—Watch Out

THE 1920 CROP OF SUCKERS NOW BEING HARVESTED IN FLORIDA

(By Florida News Syndicate)
JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 1.—Gamblers and confidence men who have formerly found in Florida a rich field for their endeavors will again seek to operate during the present winter. This statement is made possible by the fact that there are now in Jacksonville several well known followers of various branches of "confidence," and the further fact that plans have been well laid for the season's operations.

Through underground channels comes the information, direct and reliable, that there is something of a mild war on between several organizations of confidence workers. One gang is well fortified with money and backed by influence that has in the past made possible the boldest operations. Another gang is not so well provided with funds and not nearly as well equipped with influence. The stronger of the two gangs already has caused considerable trouble here for the lesser of the lights of the confidence fraternity. What the result will be remains to be seen.

Confidence workers follow the seasons. Every winter Florida is infested with these gangs and every winter the toll of "takings" amounts to figures of almost unbelievable magnitude. Few have been the "squawks" of victims, as the confidence men carefully select the patrons of their establishments, seeking always to pick men who cannot afford for business or other reasons to "squel" once they lose their money—which is the inevitable result of dealing with such operatives.

Last winter, shortly after Thanksgiving, United States Commissioner Bassett, at St. Augustine, personally conducted a raid which resulted in the arrest of six confidence workers. They were brought to the Jacksonville jail and released under bond. At least one member of this gang has been seen in this city already this season, though he is now out of the state. Several other well known confidence workers are now present in Jacksonville, in addition to the local representative of one of the largest and best organized gangs in the United States. This man makes Jacksonville his headquarters throughout the year.

Lure of Easy Money

The lure of easy money makes an easy job for the confidence men. Fake races, mining stock that is "sure to pay the greatest dividends," oil wells that exist only on paper, though technical reports may be most flattering, are among the methods employed of separating the possessor of wealth from his holdings.

There is only one preventive for this evil which has cost Florida visitors literal millions of dollars in the past, and that is the most widespread publicity. As long as there are men there will be men of avarice and cupidity and while certain men possess great amounts of money there will be other men who spend their time and talents devising means of separating the holder of wealth from his shekels.

Every person is advised to remember that "tips in the market" are dangerous, and that horse races run in back rooms are sure to result in financial disaster.

Chambers of Commerce, tourist organizations and civic bodies throughout the state are being asked by the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce to take up this fight and make impossible the profitable operation of confidence gangs in the state this winter.

"The Store That Is Different"

DIVERSIFICATION THE KEY- NOTE TO SUCCESS

Diversity, including the raising of livestock, is without doubt the keynote to successful farming. Any one crop, choose what you may, is sure to fail in the long run. The man with a variety of crops is almost certain of a substantial income, says Professor J. M. Scott, of the Florida Experiment Station. With the one-crop man the same thing is not true. If the one crop fails or if the market for it is poor, much is lost. A farmer of the one-crop type must depend on the bank or fertilizer company to carry him through another year when he strikes a bad year. If he had diversified, his chances would have been more numerous. He would have had hogs and cattle to sell. He would have had eggs and poultry to sell. He would have had corn, potatoes, etc. All of these things would help to tide over the bad year.

The farmer who grows a variety of crops and has livestock on his farm will be able to convert much of his crops into meat and milk and eggs and at the same time turn back to the soil valuable plant food for future crops. This is a practice general farmers must follow if they want to live at home and board at the same place. The farm that gets a large portion of its food, food for man and beast and soil, from elsewhere can hardly be called a real farm.

In order to carry stock thru periods when pastures are scant, ample provision must be made for storing feed. Corn cribs, potato houses, hay mows, or sheds, and silos are necessary. The silo is possibly the most economical saver of feed for cattle. In it the entire nutritive value of feed can be saved. Silage is succulent, furnishing green feed through the winter months. It might take the place of the pasture in summer during the droughts.

CRIME IN U. S. BEATS EUROPE

Investigator Tells Why "Tolerant America" Is Plagued With Murders and Thefts.

TASK OF POLICE MUCH HARDER

Neither the Police of London Nor Paris Would Be Able to Cope With Crime in New York or Chicago, Says Raymond B. Fosdick.

New York.—Tolerant American cities are overrun with criminals to a greater extent than metropolitan districts in Europe and neither the police of London nor of Paris would be able to cope with crime in this city or Chicago, according to Raymond B. Fosdick, who made public statistics compiled for the bureau of social hygiene.

"The police of an American city are faced with a task such as European police organizations have no knowledge of," said Mr. Fosdick in giving statistics from one part of his forthcoming work on "American Police Systems." "The metropolitan police force of London, with all its splendid efficiency, would be overwhelmed in New York, and the brigade de surete of Paris, with its ingenuity and mechanical equipment, would fall far below the level of its present achievement if it were confronted with the situation in Chicago."

Mr. Fosdick discusses the relation of heterogeneous population in America to the crime rate, and concludes that preponderance of crime in this country is augmented by unassimilated or poorly assimilated races.

We Condone Violence.

"It must not be supposed, however, that our foreign and colored population is the sole cause of our excessive crime rate," continues Mr. Fosdick. "If the offenses of our foreign and colored races were stricken from the calculation our crime record would still greatly exceed the record of western Europe. With all its kindness and good nature the temper of our communities contains a strong strain of violence. We condone violence and shirk its punishment."

"As to the fact of our excessive criminality the statistics furnish startling evidence. London in 1916, with a population of 7,250,000, had nine premeditated murders. Chicago, one-third the size of London, in the same period had 106, nearly twelve times London's total. In 1918 Chicago had 14 more murders than England and Wales. In 1919 the number of murders in Chicago was almost exactly six times the number committed in London.

"In 1918 New York had six times more homicides than London, and exceeded the total homicides of England and Wales by 67. This contrast cannot be attributed to the peculiar conditions in London induced by the war. In each of the years from 1914 to 1918, inclusive, New York had more homicides than occurred in London during any three-year period previous to the outbreak of the war in 1914.

"Statistics of this kind could be multiplied at length. In the three-year period 1916-18, inclusive, Glasgow had 38 homicides; Philadelphia, which is only a trifle larger, had during this same period 281. Liverpool and St. Louis are approximately the same size; in 1915 St. Louis had 11 times the number of homicides that Liverpool had, and in 1916 eight times the number.

More Burglaries Here.

"Equally significant is the comparison of burglary statistics between Great Britain and the United States. In 1915, for example, New York city had approximately eight times as many burglaries as London had in the same period. In 1917 New York had four times as many burglaries as London. In 1918 the burglaries which the police reported in New York were approximately two and a half times those in London.

"While war conditions undoubtedly served to heighten this contrast they were by no means entirely responsible for it; in 1915 New York city had more burglaries than occurred in all England and Wales in 1911, 1912 or 1913. Chicago in 1916 had 532 more burglaries than London; in 1917, 3,450 more; in 1918, 866 more and in 1919, 2,146 more.

"Even more startling are the statistics of robbery. In each of the four years from 1915 to 1918, inclusive, New York city had from four to five times more robberies than occurred in all England and Wales in any one of the five years preceding the war.

Future Has No Terrors for Him.

Cincinnati, O.—Bernard Parrochhi, cellist with the Symphony orchestra, is back in town and will devote his entire time to his art, for he's had a good time for a year. He's spent $24,500 of the $25,000 he inherited, and he spent it all seeing Europe. Parrochhi will not have to worry about the future, however, for $180,000 is due him when he becomes sixty-one years old, five years hence.

Buzzard Stops Power.

Harrisburg, Pa.—Electric power service was interrupted here when a turkey buzzard became entangled in the high tension wires four miles north of York. With its broad wing span the bird forced a connection between two wires and a short circuit resulted.

AMOY, CHINA.

During the war it was natural that practically all of our warships stationed in the Orient should be sent to Europe to help "down" the German submarines. Now that that job has been accomplished successfully the Asiatic Fleet is being reassembled; several armored cruisers and a flotilla of new destroyers having been sent there for duty.

In consequence, the natives of Amoy, a seaport city on the straits of Formosa, China, have again become accustomed to seeing the American sailors in the streets of their city. Amoy is about nine miles in circumference and is divided into two sections, an inner and outer town, which are separated from each other by a ridge of hills on which a fort of considerable strength has been built. Each of these divisions of the city possesses a large and commodious harbor. There are dry docks and excellent anchorages. Amoy may be regarded as a port of the inland city of Chanb-Chow, with which it has river communication.

In the photograph, a sailor is seen posing for his picture in the heart of the business district, while the shop keepers in their quaint costumes look on in silent wonderment.

Many interesting and valuable trinkets, which were purchased in the shops on this snug little island, have been sent back by the sailors to the home folks.

WALTHALL & ESTRIDGE GIVE UP MILK BUSINESS

Walthall & Estridge have given up the distribution of milk of the Sanford dairies on account of too much other business in their City Market and they could not give the attention to the distribution of the milk business that it should have. In this paper is the announcement of Paul Keely that he will resume the distribution of the milk from his Pinehurst Dairy and the other dairies will do the same and live in the milk districts of Sanford will take on its accustomed form where it started when Walthall & Estridge took over the distribution of milk from all the dairies.

The plan of a central station for the better distribution of milk is a good one all right and Walthall & Estridge could have succeeded in the business had they been free to give it all their attention and some time in the future the milk supply of Sanford will be distributed in this manner but it seems that the time is not opportune at present. The various dairies are giving satisfaction at present and if they will conform to the regulations of the state board of health there will be no more difficulties in the milk supply of the city.

Sanford has some of the best dairies in the state and the people of this city are fortunate in having so many good dairies for the size of the city.

World Famous Shows Light Up Lakefront Every Night This Week

BIG CROWDS EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING TAKE IN THE SHOWS.

The World Famous Shows are keeping the lake front busy and well lighted these nights and regardless of what some of the objectors to shows may have they cannot help but admit that the lights and the noise and the big times liven up the city at night and brings people to town that would not come otherwise.

And then when you get right down into the show street and see the different exhibitions and delusions some of them real good and some of them as the showman tells you are fakes and you know it and he knows it and yet it amuses and gives one something different and the world today is looking for something different (this is no ad for P. & B.) and the World Famous Shows are furnishing fun and amusement for the week and furnishing clean amusement. They have many and varied attractions from the boy who can tell you off hand the population of any city in the United States and Orlando, or London and Timbuctoo to the wrestlers who are playing with the home boys every night just to please the crowd and who really are not exerting themselves at all but are pleasing the public. Each and every show is well worth the money and the wheels of fortune and other games of chance are just like we would have in our own little affairs and made to get money and you don't have to patronize them unless you want to and you are invited to walk down the midway even if you don't want to spend a cent. But you are different if you can resist the appeal of the lights and the noise and the music even if it is against your religious scruples to patronize the show for who could resist the hot dog and ham sandwich and the hamburger man and the pop corn and peanuts and red lemonade and the doll rack and the place where you get blankets and other prizes if you are lucky enough.

A good show, yes. A place where you and the kiddies can enjoy yourselves, yes. Nothing that will offend you in any way and you can spend an evening among these folks and enjoy it to the fullest. They are the same kind of amusement that you go miles to see if it shows in some other town and that you decry in your own town so be a sport and go to the shows that have come to your town because every other town is doing it. Sanford is too big to turn down any form of amusement and regardless of whether you like this sort of amusement or not you can still be amused and find many sources of enjoyment at the World Famous Shows now going on and they will be here until Saturday night. They are all to the good and a fine bunch and they are trying to give you clean amusement of this nature.

This show has played to the following towns right down the line, Charleston, S. C.; Brunswick, Ga., and Palatka, and in each town they were complimented on the cleanliness of their attractions.

Get some of those late postcards at the Herald office. The Valdez Hotel, the Welaka Block, the Seminole Hotel and other points of interest. Only one cent each. Send a Sanford card to your friends.
