Shakespeare Tragedy Is World's Beloved Romantic Spectacle

Deathless in its beauty, sublime in its passion, magnificent in its spectacle, "Romeo and Juliet," starring Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard in the world's most beloved romance, shows Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theater.

"Romeo and Juliet" as it has been produced by Irving G. Thalberg is a motion picture that is truly great, a picture that will bear seeing again and again, a picture that marks an important step in the advancement of entertainment.

More radiant than ever, Miss Shearer fulfills the promise she gave as the lovely Elizabeth Barrett in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." It is her finest role. She rises to every occasion in a part made famous by the great actresses of the stage. Her Juliet has a breathless expectancy, a feeling of vibrant youth essential to the portrayal of Shakespeare's immortal heroine. Howard's selection as Romeo was a happy one. He is every inch Romeo. Together they make these young lovers of Verona live again.

"Romeo and Juliet" has been pictured with fidelity. Beginning with the opening scenes, which establish the hatred of the Montagues and Capulets, whose feud causes the young lovers to marry in secret, the death of Mercutio at the hands of Tybalt, Romeo's slaying of Tybalt to avenge his friend's death, his banishment, and the swift dramatic events that follow, the picture is all action. The love story is woven like a golden thread through this background of hate.

"Romeo and Juliet" is recommended to every member of the family. It is a picture that will never be forgotten, for it is a picture that will live for years.

Bing Crosby Back In 'Rhythm On The Range' On Friday

Bing Crosby, Bob Burns, a blooded bull, a box car and a crazy cross-country pilgrimage; hot "swing" tunes and songs of the old West; Francis Farmer, Martha Raye and her clock-wiping face; a rodeo, songs, gags and songs.

Those are a few of the ingredients of Paramount's "Rhythm on the Range," romantic and hilarious musical which returns Friday to the Ritz Theater. Others, no less important, include the thugery of Warren Hymer, James Burke and George E. Stone, the Russian cowboy antics of Leonid Kinsky, the skilled acting of Samuel S. Hinds and Lucille Webster Gleason, and the subterranean urges of Charles Williams.

Made in "Rhythm on the Range" varies everywhere from the spectral melodies of the famous Bob Burns "hazocola" to the by Louis Prima's world-famed swing band. It launches six song hits, all of them already popular: "I Can't Escape From You," "The House That Jack Built For J.B.," "If You Can't Bug It You'll Have To Swing It," "Empty Saddles," "Roundup Lullaby" and "I'm an Old Cow Hand From the Rio Grande."

"Rhythm on the Range," a seventh hit, was inspired by the picture.

ARTIST VIEWS NEW FILM

This is Artist Vladimir Cherkoff's conception of Fred MacMurray and Claudette Colbert as they appear in "Maid of Salem," a historical romance which begins on Wednesday at the Ritz Theater. It's a story of love in old New England. Frank Lloyd directed.

Witch Scare Basis Of 'Maid Of Salem' Showing Two Days

The wildest outbreak of popular hysteria in colonial times, the famous witchcraft scare of 1692, which rocked the American colonies and was responsible for the execution of over a score of women before it passed on is the background for Frank Lloyd's latest production, "Maid of Salem," a romance with Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray, which shows Wednesday and Thursday at the Ritz Theater.

Miss Colbert plays the role of a Puritan maiden who is accused of being a witch because she is seen with a tall, dark stranger, and because she was observed dancing by herself. Upon this testimony, provided by hysterical women and children with over-wrought imaginations, she is convicted and sentenced to die. The fact that the tall, dark stranger is handsome Fred MacMurray, who plays the role of a fugitive Virginia cavalier, hiding near Salem, means nothing. Unable to produce him in the flesh, the court files that the stranger is the devil himself.

She is saved in a breath-taking climax when MacMurray appears. His appearance also serves to awaken the fear-stricken populace to the folly of the witch-hunts and the scare dies as suddenly and as mysteriously as it began.

Supporting the popular romantic couple is an elaborate cast which includes Harvey Stephens, Louis Dresser, Bennie Barlett, Gale Sondergard, E. E. Clive, Bonita Granville, Virginia Weidler, Roska Butler, Beulah Bondi, Edwards Ellis, Donald Meek and a score of others.

Bulldog Drummond Back In New Film Showing Two Days

Murder on the fog-bound moor, a kidnapping, the machinations of a counterfeiter, and the imprisonment of a beautiful woman in a house of mystery are a few things "Bulldog Drummond" has to solve in "Bulldog Drummond Escapes," the latest in the trestle series of detective films, which shows Wednesday and Thursday at the Ritz Theater.

Roy Milland plays the role of the master sleuth and soldier-of-fortune who has entertained the world for a generation in fiction, on the stage and on the screen.

Heather Angel is the beauty whom he rescues, and Porter Hall is the evil genius behind the mysterious coup.

Drummond solves the crimes in eight action-packed hours, in his usual sophisticated and light-hearted manner, to the satisfaction of all concerned, particularly Inspector Nielson, who discovers that he and his assistants were working on only one angle of the complicated mess stirred up by Hall.

The latest adventure of the famous screen sleuth is a screen adaptation from the novel by H. C. "Sapper" McNeile and Gerard Fairlie, who created the character.

Miriam Hopkins Stars In 'Men Are Not Gods'

The romantic complications that ensue when a dramatic critic's impulsive secretary alters one of her boss's reviews as sends an actor she has never seen soaring to overnight fame are described in amusing fashion in "Men Are Not Gods," Miriam Hopkins' latest starring vehicle which comes to the Ritz Theater next Friday.

The newest offering of Alexander Korda's imposing new Denham studios, "Men Are Not Gods" marks the first English production Miss Hopkins has made.

Gertrude Lawrence, Sebastian Shaw, Rex Harrison and A. F. Matthews are prominent in the supporting cast of the film which Walter Reisch directed from his own original story.

A bright, modern comedy with a powerful dramatic climax, "Men Are Not Gods" tells the story of pretty Ann Williams, secretary to Mr. Skeates, London's leading dramatic critic. When Ann lets herself be persuaded by an actor's wife to turn a vitriolic review of the actor "Othello" into a "rave," she automatically lets herself out of her job and into one of the most dramatic triangles the screen has ever shown.

"Rio Grande Ranger" Shows Here Saturday

Ex-Navy Men Establish Contingent For Neutrality

By The Associated Press
Spanish mines damaged the second foreign vessel off Spain's east coast today. Spanish Government troops announced a wedge-like advance into insurgent southern lines, and throughout Europe, rearmament remained the number one concern of the powers.

A French steamer limped toward Palamos after hitting a mine. Last week a British steamer had a similar experience in the same area, but reached a French port in safety.

The British have been trying to find out who laid the mines—Government or Blockading insurgents?

Government troops said they split an insurgent army which was moving along the South Mediterranean Coast from Malaga.

Retired British naval officers began an organized neutrality contingent which will keep the Hispano-Portuguese border to keep arms and fighters out of Spain.

The French vessel, Marthe, reported she was seriously damaged, but probably could reach Palamos harbor.

Church Institute Speakers To Show Negroes' Problem

Nearly 50,000 negroes have been graduated from the American Church Institute for Negroes, whose quarter will sing Tuesday night at the Episcopal Church parish house, the Rev. Martin Dram, pastor, said today.

He pointed out that the institute devotes much of its time to attempt to show Caucasians the difficulties under which the negro labors because of racial barriers established by custom, many of which are unnecessary.

The problems of the negro will be set forth by the Rev. Cyril E. Bentley, associated director of the institute, and Prof. J. E. Blanton, leader of the organization's singers.

Activities are slated to begin at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Mr. Dawson said the Egyptian visitor was vitally interested in the tile irrigation system in operation here, although he preferred his native open ditch type in use in Africa, since it is less expensive and delivers the same results.

Special Delivery Messenger Held In Death Shots

Theodore Crawford Tailed In Slaying Of Relative

Theodore Crawford, negro, employed as the Sanford post office as a special delivery messenger, was held by County authorities today in the fatal shooting of Richard Jackson, also colored.

Crawford was arrested Saturday night by City Patrolman J. B. Quattlebaum shortly after he was alleged to have shot Jackson four times.

The prisoner was held in the City Jail for several hours then turned over to Sheriff C. M. Hand who made an investigation.

Police Chief Roy Williams, who made the first report on the shooting, said Crawford's own reason for the shooting was to "straighten out some matters at home."

Jackson, a brother-in-law to Crawford, was said to have been shot on the steps leading to the second floor of a Sanford Arizona building. Chief Williams said Crawford, with a government pistol in his hand, had started out to "kill a man and probably his wife." His mission, the chief continued, was interrupted momentarily by Jackson but four bullets quickly removed the barrier.

Patrolman Quattlebaum was said to have arrested his prisoner as he was attempting to beat in the head of a negro woman with his stolen weapon.

Police reports indicated that Crawford had been drinking.

A coroner's jury under Judge J. C. Roberts held a routine investigation of the shooting this morning.

Five And Ten Workers Bar Management

Woolworth Employees In Detroit Store Hold Institution Since Saturday

By The Associated Press
Sit-down strikers barred the management from one Detroit store of Woolworth and Company today as Union leaders prepared for a telephonic conference to decide whether strikes should be spread to others of the five and ten cent chain.

The Woolworth chain operates 40 stores in Detroit and more than 2,000 in the United States.

Meanwhile, uncompromising demands of dispirited employees congregated efforts to solve labor disputes as fresh discord developed in scattered parts of the country.

Relatively little headway was made by mediators who sought to effect amicable adjustment between employe and employer.

Operations were resumed quietly at the Douglas Aircraft Plant at Santa Monica, Calif., following a six-day suspension.

Although pickets ringed the Chevrolet strikes in Janesville, building, the new Fisher Body and Wis., presaged a longer conference between General Motors and UAW.

Autogyro Here To Spray Seminole County Celery

Pilot Covers 150 Acres Per Day; Slow Flying Speed Of Machine Makes Thorough Job Possible

The celery industry of Seminole County was expanding today into its third dimension as O. J. Parns, contracted with Chauncy Parsons of the Gino Associates to spray a celery farm with the use of an autogyro.

While spraying from airplanes is an established operation with many Florida citrus growers, the employment of an autogyro on celery crops is believed to be entirely new in the State.

Parsons asserts that he can cover 150 acres per day with his gyros, and declares the coverage is most thorough.

He pointed out that the whirling of the gyro blades along the fuselage of the ship has a tendency to shoot the dust or spray being distributed downward with considerable force, whereas in the usual airplane spray method gravity is depended upon to settle the materials.

Parsons said further that the force is so great the spray or dust is upward, covering the underside of leaves and plants as well as the upper sides.

One of the great advantages of gyro spraying, the pilot explained, is the comparatively slow flying speed of the machine against that of the ordinary airplane. Speeds of 35 to 40 miles per hour are practical with the autogyro, he said, while airplanes must maintain probably 65 to 70 miles per hour in order to remain aloft.

Parsons' plane is slated to arrive here tomorrow afternoon from Homestead where it has been employed on truck crops.

The flyer is stopping at the Mayfair Hotel.

Firemen Burned Football Field As Blaze Rakes Project Opened Local Building By County WPA

Unofficial Loss Is Placed In Hundreds Of Dollars

Rube Willis, Sanford fireman, was painfully but not seriously burned on the head and neck early this afternoon when fire gutted the rear of a dry cleaning establishment at 108 Palmetto Avenue. Unofficial estimates placed the property loss in the hundreds of dollars. The blaze, it was believed, originated from a small oil stove on which a meal was being prepared.

The burning building was directly across the street from the fire station, and firemen were throwing water in less than a minute after the alarm.

Despite their swift action, a can of cleaning fluid exploded and literally covered the interior of the structure with liquid fire.

Department members forged their way into the smoke-filled compartment to get their fire hose into playing position, despite the choking fumes and intense heat.

One at a time, the crew holding the nozzle of the hose started through the door into the open to expell the choking smoke from his lungs and gulp down fresh air. He would return to duty while another of the crew made the busy trip into the open.

The closeness of the confines where the major portion of the blaze raged caused the heavy streams of water to rebound and shower the firemen who emerged, when the fire was extinguished, drenched to the skin.

An electric wire swung as the ceiling fell shortly after flames withdrew. Practically all the plaster was ruined and was dislodged. A quantity of clothes were consumed, although a score or more of suits hanging in the front of the shop escaped beyond smoke damage.

Firemen, other than Willis, fighting the blaze were G. L. Duncan, Joe Tatum and R. T. Thomas.

The dry cleaning plant was owned by J. M. Vickery.

Sanford Manager To Teach Youngsters Tricks Of Game

By PAT PATTERSON
They steps buoyed by visions of a minor league career, 150 young stalwarts, stormed onto the infield at Municipal Athletic Field this morning as Joe Engle opened his nation-wide baseball school, the only one of its kind.

Engle greeted the athletes, who represent every State in the east, mid-west and south, with promises of professional contracts to those showing promise.

Opening classes found on hand less than one half of the students who are registered to attend the school. The number is expected to top 250 by Wednesday or Thursday.

Every one of the instructors were on the field and started their proteges through warming up exercises with cautions to "take it easy" because of the low temperatures.

The staff is headed by Engle and Clyde Mize, manager of the Chattanooga Lookouts. Mize will direct the general field work and handle pitchers and catchers.

Zim Litch, veteran scout and coach of the Lookouts, is slated to show the finer points of the game to the infielders.

"Raw Meat" Bill Rodgers, well-known to Sanfordites as the manager of the local club during the latter weeks of last season, is assigned to instruct infielders and pitchers.

Outfielders are to be drilled by Freddie Singleton, Washington Senator outer gardener and All-American football performer from the University of Alabama.

The aged but agile Bernie Neis, familiar to Florida State League fans and one-time first-footed outfielder of the Cleveland Indians' outfit, will toss his efforts in with Singleton.

At Engle's side in directing the business end of things will be young Calvin Griffith, son of Clark Griffith, the Washington Senator mogul, who was re-

High School Youth Produces Celery Gift To Governor

Herbert Thurston, a member of the Seminole Chapter of Future Farmers of America, produced the best crate of celery that could be found today in Seminole County.

C. R. Dawson, County farm agent, bought the crate as a gift to Gov. Fred P. Cone, who was promised the vegetable during his visit to the County display in the Central Florida Exposition at Orlando recently.

Mr. Dawson pointed out that the Thurston crate is not necessarily the best celery produced in the County, but that it was the finest that he saw on his trip today in selecting the governor's gift.

Young Thurston produced the vegetable in his Future Farmers project tract of land, a feature of the agricultural courses taught in Seminole High School.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THE REMNANT: Thus saith the Lord of hosts; If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these days, should I also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will save my people from the east country, and from the west country; and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.—Zechariah 8:6-8.

As Dave Rubinoff would say, after all a woman is only a woman, but a good cigar is a Garcia.

Congratulations to the Melbourne Times which has recently installed Associated Press service.

The American Federation of Labor, 1,001,000 in membership, has recently increased in membership. No wonder, with all the sit-down strikes.

Gov. Cone has ordered an audit made of the Chatham hospital receipts. Having the prisoner held for the audit.

Now that they have found Dr. Townsend guilty of contempt of the House of Representatives, just imagine what they could do to some of the rest of us for the things we have been thinking!

An English passenger ship has been struck by a Spanish mine, endangering the lives of more than three hundred persons on board. Somehow vague memories of 1916 and '17 return.

Wonder what old Patrick Henry, who said "Give me liberty or give me death," would do today regarding the proposal to pack the Supreme Court so that the federal government can tell a farmer how many acres of beans he can plant and a tailor what he can charge for pressing a pair of pants.

If the Supreme Court enforcement program passes, a Forum writer in the Orlando Sentinel insists, someone should write a "fitting obituary to democracy, set to the tune of 'The Funeral March,' and have it sung at the Statue of Liberty and broadcast throughout the world on the Fourth of July by the Four Horsemen—Bible, Mussolini, Stalin, and Roosevelt."

Did you know that under the Social Security Act one business may be making an enormous profit and yet pay practically no tax at all toward old age pensions simply because it furnishes very little employment to workingmen, but another business, even though it may be losing money, has to pay an enormous tax for old age pensions because it furnishes employment to many people? It's a funny world, isn't it?

According to Dr. Stuart Gillis, president-designate of the 1937 Senate, the one-half of one percent gross sales tax is not enough to take care of the shortages which have developed in state revenues since the passage of the homestead amendment. "The Legislature will be compelled to find some new sources of revenue," he says. "Some members feel we may be forced to accept a sales tax as a final resort."

In this year of old Lord and Social Security, Larine Pruden, New York psychologist-educator, advises members of the Progressive Education Association, to train children for Insecurity. Citing war threats, industrial unrest, political uncertainty and economic instability, "the only thing to count on in the future is insecurity." Teach your children to be men, and to be able to take care of themselves no matter what happens.

Stock Buyers' Pointers

Some good advice for those who seek their fortunes in Wall Street stocks is offered readers of Forbes Magazine by Joseph D. Goodman who has prepared the following Wall Street Axioms which are guaranteed, if not to make millionaires out of all the sheep that come to be shorn, at least to keep their losses at a minimum:

- 1. Eternal vigilance is the price of safety.
2. A good investment is a good speculation, and if it is not a good speculation, it is not even a good investment.
3. No man ever makes himself poor by taking profit.
4. The market is made by the minds of men. What the minds of men have made, your mind can solve. The problem requires study, practice, experiment, persistence, and unlimited patience.
5. If you do not see the way clear, do nothing.
6. The market will be here tomorrow.
7. Always have some resources free for bargains.
8. If your stocks worry you, sell to the "sleeping point."
9. No grist can be ground with water which has run past the mill.
10. Speculation begins where certainty ends.
11. Caution is the father of security.
12. No one is always right, but successful men are more often right than wrong.
13. Never sell stocks on account of a strike.
14. Do not sell a security which has long been inactive, just as soon as it begins to move forward.
15. Cut your losses short and let your profits run.
16. Do not plunge recklessly after one or more successful trades.

How It Happened

As the American traffic accident toll continues its steady climb out of the depression, when for the first time in 1932 it failed to gain, only to rise again in 1933, and to climb on and on in '34, '35, and '36 until it reached a peak of 36,800, it is interesting to consider the following analysis of automobile casualties, as prepared by the Travelers Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn.:

Nearly 94 percent of drivers involved in fatal accidents last year when 36,800 persons were killed and 667,840 injured, were male and only six percent female. It does not necessarily follow that women are safer drivers than men, the insurance company carefully points out, because adequate data on the relative exposure are lacking.

More than 97 percent of drivers involved in fatal accidents had one or more years' driving experience. More than 75 percent of all fatal accidents occurred when the road was dry. More than 85 percent of all fatal accidents occurred in clear weather.

Saturday was the most dangerous day for driving in 1936, and Tuesday was the safest. In 1935, the fewest number of accidents occurred on Wednesday. More persons were killed last year between seven and eight o'clock in the evening than at any other hour, but the heaviest injury toll came between five and six o'clock in the afternoon.

About 60 percent of the fatalities occurred during the hours of darkness, when there was only about 25 percent of the total traffic on the road. Nearly 80 percent of the total vehicles involved in fatal accidents were passenger cars. More than 93 percent of all vehicles involved in fatal accidents were in apparently good condition when the accident occurred.

19 Reported Dead As Severe Storms Lash Europe, Africa

LONDON, Mar. 1.—(AP)—At least 19 persons are dead today as one of the worst storms in recent years lashed the British Isles, the coast of Western Europe and North Africa. The roaring gale reached 98 miles an hour at Holyhead, North Wales, and at numerous points greater than hurricane force. The death toll in Britain reached 12 over the weekend, mostly from exposure and exhaustion. Snow drifted 20 deep in some sections, halting transportation.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CRISIS

By WALTER LIPPMAN

If we rule out the packing of the Supreme Court as vicious, if we rule out limitations on the court's power to review as producing the dangerous conditions where the will of a legislative majority is the supreme law of the land, then we must come back to the idea of amending the Constitution. Since since the N. E. A. decision in 1935 I have been collecting proposed amendments, but thus far I have never seen one which seemed to me desirable or practicable. For all the amendments, such as Senator Ashurst's or Representative Marcantonio's, or even those of General Johnson, would transfer wholesale to Congress all power it may choose to exercise over any aspect of the economic life of the country. Under all of them, as I see it, the wildest exploits of General Johnson when he was rampant under the Blue Eagle would have been constitutional.

It does not seem to me necessary or wise to centralize the control of all business in Washington. For while it is true that more of the business of the country is national than the Supreme Court feels able to admit, there is a vast amount of business which is still essentially local. And I do not believe that the American people need or desire a General Johnson poking his finger into their local business. But at the same time I feel reasonably sure that they do want more national regulation of their economic life than the Constitution as now interpreted will permit. Broadly speaking, they would probably like to go as far as the great dissenting justices led by Holmes, but not nearly as far as General Johnson went in the mid summer of 1933.

What has always stumped me has been to imagine how an amendment could be drawn which enlarges the Federal power without making it omnipotent. But I now think that perhaps there may be a way to do it and I can best explain my notion by telling how I arrived at it.

I struck me that men like Senator Ashurst, Mr. General Johnson, and Mr. General Johnson in packing the court, as Senator Norris would do by curbing the courts as Mr. Ernst would do by enthroning a two-thirds majority as the supreme court giver. So far as congressional power goes, what men like Senator Ashurst want is to enlarge the national authority in dealing with economic affairs. With this purpose I sympathize, however much I might differ with them now and then as to what kind of national legislation was desirable.

It then occurred to me that the main trouble with their amendments was that they would confer power wholesale, whereas the desirable way to enlarge the Federal power was to grant new powers bit by bit, for fairly specific ends, after thorough examination by the courts and after reasonable consideration by Congress and by the people.

This led me to the idea that the remedy lay not in one omnibus amendment but in a series of amendments made from time to time as the needs for them were felt. The original grant to Congress enumerates seventeen powers. Why should it not be possible, then, to add new powers to the list? Congress, for example, has specific power to establish post-offices and post roads. If the people want Congress to establish electrical generating stations and transmission lines, and if this is not constitutional why should not the authority to do that specific thing be asked of the people? Congress has, rightly I believe, contended that the conservation of the fertility of the soil is a national interest. If Federal legislation concerning that is not constitutional today, then why not a specific amendment authorizing such legislation? Amendments of this sort would be wholly within the spirit of the original Constitution. If the fathers thought it proper to specify that Congress should have power to make uniform rules on bankruptcy, why should there not be an amendment which gives specific power to end the scandal of Delaware and make uniform corporation laws?

Now the obvious objection to this way of approaching the trouble is that the Constitution is very difficult to amend. There is no denying it. In thinking how this objection could be met, I gradually realized that I was of two minds on the subject. In respect to the political structure of democracy and in respect to civil

Prof. Charles Gantt To Address P.-T. A.

By REV. J. H. RIMT
From traveling around the world on a tramp steamer to the sequestered life of scholar has been the experience of Prof. Charles Gantt, a Sanford boy who entered the State University five years ago, after having successfully competed for the County scholarship.

In the middle of his senior year he was invited to the office of the Dean and asked how he would like to return the following year to study for his Master's degree with Teaching Fellowship at his disposal.

This year he has been carrying on his studies in the Field of Education and teaching two classes at the P. K. Yonge Laboratory School. Dr. Meade suggested to him that he find out what parents desire to find out in the report cards which their children bring home from school. "Do they wish to find out what actual progress the child is making in the pursuit of a given study or do they wish to know what progress is being made relative to the progress of the class?"

Prof. Charles Gantt will address the South Side P. T. A. Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock and the public particularly school principals and members of P. T. A. and parents of school children are cordially invited to assist him in his research.

Mrs. J. Dingfelder is program chairman for this evening.

One of the longest engagements on record ended when Chen, Min-ah, 68, a retired Chinese army officer, married his 61-year-old sweetheart to whom he had been betrothed for 50 years.

Recently named president of the Chattahoochee club when Engle stepped out to assume active direction of the Washington farming system of which the Sanford Lookouts are a part.

The local Ivory farm, a term applied by veteran ball players to any institution for rookies, offers probably the best of opportunities for youthful diamond performers who plan to make baseball a career.

Griffith, who has shown more than a passing interest in the school, has financial control of the following clubs: Washington, Chattanooga, Trenton, N. J., Jacksonville, Charlotte, N. C., and Sanford.

With any of these teams the letter of the Sanford school students are likely to be placed, although there are scores of other outfits whose managers are eyeing Engle's school with jocular purse strings to grab off some talented rookie who may escape other eyes.

Engle said classes probably will continue for three to four weeks.

Florida State Loop Is Practically Set As 8-Club Circuit

Six Clubs Already In; Seventh Awaiting Word From Orlando

With six clubs, practically ready to go and the seventh awaiting word from Orlando, the possibilities of the Florida State League become an eight-club set-up located in near-actuality today.

The six clubs, all of whom were prepared to deposit their $500 franchise bonds yesterday were Sanford, St. Augustine, DeLand, Daytona Beach, Palatka and Ocala.

Through Lee Meadows, former Pittsburgh Pirate hurler, the Leesburg club announced that it had accepted a working agreement with the St. Louis Browns through Bill Shinnick, vice-president of the Missouri city's farm clubs and former head of the Florida State League. The Leesburg forfeit deposit would be made as soon as the Orlando magnate had signed their intention of entering competition in the circuit this season, then ascending the loop to eight clubs.

A favorable decision is expected from the Orange County seat before the week terminates as three groups, one from Ocala, consider the franchise there.

While major league clubs were handling the state for their training seasons, the local ball park became the scene of the Charnagoor baseball school with 400 youngsters showing their wares in an endeavor to win a contract with one of the Lookouts' farm clubs.

In all likelihood, some of the youngsters attending the sessions will become a part of the Sanford team for this season.

New York Life Bowlers Take First Place Post

Win in 3 Games To Break Deadlock For League Leadership

Although rated as underdogs, the members of the New York Life bowling team have come up fast in the Sanford Bowling Club competition, hitting their stride last week to win two out of three games from the J. C. Hutchinson rollers, thereby stopping into first place, held by three teams two weeks ago and by two last week.

The Kilgore Bowlers, who dropped out of the three-way tie the week previous, sunk further in the standing, losing three games to the Valdes Hotel pin tumbler while the H. B. Pope bowlers splitters, tied with the insurance crew last week, lost their hold on first place, sinking to third by losing three games to the Roumillat and Anderson quintet which moved up to the second position.

By virtue of their triple win, the Hostetlers moved from last place to a tie with the Hutchinson's for fifth place.

High individual scores were rolled by Billy of the Valdes team with a 203, Luberman of the Hutchinson's with a 207, Kasserman of the Valdes with a 221 and Hoyer of the New York Life with a 212.

County Physician Is Given Increase In Monthly Wage

Commissioners Vote $50 Additional, Ask Langley To Be Own Assistant

Parole Request Of Gracey Heard Board Declines To Give Race Fund To School Building

By PAT PATTERSON
After explaining to the County Commissioners the need for an assistant physician, Dr. W. Theo Langley today was given an increase of $50 per month in pay over his salary of $100 per month as County physician and was asked to serve in the two capacities at the pleasure of the Board.

This pay boost, it was explained, merely returned the expense of the County medical unit to the same plane on which it rested before Commissioners abolished the post of assistant physician several weeks ago.

The Board concurred unanimously with the movement as proposed by Commissioner F. A. Dyson and seconded by Commissioner W. B. Ballard.

The Commission received—but took no action on—a petition from Mrs. C. C. Gracey asking that her husband be released on parole from the Florida State Prison Farm where he was sentenced to serve several years in connection with the death of Odell Dumbough.

Speaking in behalf of the School Board, Chairman asked the County to pay a portion of the annual race track revenue for the construction of a negro school building in Midway to replace a structure destroyed some months ago by fire.
