Republican Leaders Have No Scruples About Buying Elections, Says Oldfield

ALLENTEW, Pa., Aug. 21. (P)—Both the Pennsylvania and Illinois primaries show the Republicans have no scruples about buying an election. Representative Oldfield of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, declared here today in opening an aggressive campaign for the election of William B. Wilson, Democrat, to the senate.

"There is one subject upon which the Republican campaign managers will be as silent as President Coolidge this year," Mr. Oldfield said. "That is the Pennsylvania $3,000,000 Republican primary and the Illinois $1,000,000 Republican primary."

Secretary Mellon says that the slush fund collected for the Pennsylvania primary was the same money collected for a church, presumably this includes the contributions of Joseph W. Grundy, who said that he contributed because the McMillan-Pepper ticket's candidate for governor was opposed to taxing corporations, and Grundy was looking out for the corporation.

"That was the case in Illinois," said Mr. Oldfield. "The successful Republican candidate, William B. Wilson,"

ROAD CAMP BOSS DISCHARGED FOR VESSEL SINKS IN BEATING CONVICT

Action Of State Board Follows Investigation By Representative Of Governor;
15 Convicts Are Examined

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 21. (P)—Discharge of G. D. Dollar, captain of state road crew number one, for beating a prisoner was announced by the board of commissioners of state institutions.

Upon receipt of notice from Theodore Johnson, a prisoner in that camp, that he had been severely beaten by Captain Dollar, Governor Martin sent B. H. Dickson, supervisor of state convicts, to make an investigation. Dickson reported that Johnson had tried to run away from a guard, had been captured and put in the sweat box when he refused to work, and that he had care of the convict and guard for being placed in solitary confinement. The captain therupon, according to the report, jerked him from the box and beat him.

Captain T. H. Heyman, acting captain of the Ashtabula car for Maitland, which brought the survivors here, described the sinking of the Gerken. Despite that one man had been washed overboard, he despaired of the lives of the remaining trio of four who took to a small boat just before the Gerken sank.

Mr. Dickson also examined 11 other prisoners reported to have been struck by Captain Dollar, who was also accused of having taken money from the prisoners and kept it.

The board also found through a letter from Mrs. Vada Tillman of Winter Haven, that Louis Wyke, now serving a sentence for the killing of her husband, had been allowed to visit his home frequently on leaves of absence. It was reported that other prisoners had been given leave to absent themselves from Raiford, particularly at Christmas time.

In a letter to Superintendent J. S. Blitch of the prison farm at Bradford, the board ordered the superintendent never to allow prisoners their temporary freedom again. In some cases trustees are sent out to truck in supplies but the board was very plain in demanding that state prisoners be kept in prison.

The men aboard the missing lifeboat were George McMinn, wife; Richard Freeman, watchman; Herman Wageman, fireman; and William Logan, derrick engineer.

It is feared the four men may have been washed out of the little craft.

Report of the sinking of the Gerken, a freighter, listed out of Buffalo, N. Y., and the rescue of the 16 men was received here by the Inter City Radio Telegraph Company, in a radio dispatch from the Maitland.

The sinking steamer was described by J. B. Gamble, captain of the boat. His steamer, he said, was loaded at Erie Peninsula, and was bound for Buffalo. When it was being pounded by the heavy seas it sprang a leak.

Water rushed into the hold of the boat very rapidly and it was only a matter of a few minutes before the ship sank.

The three lifecrafts battled the large waves for more than an hour until the Maitland, bound for Canada, crossed their course and was attracted by the distress flares shot from the boats.

The missing lifeboat could not be found when a search was conducted for it by the Maitland after daylight, according to a hasty radio message received here.

More Than 800 Of Chevrolet Field Force To Attend Detroit Meeting

DETROIT, Aug. 21.—With the Chevrolet Motor company's $10,000,000 expansion program well under way, providing production facilities for 1,000,000 cars during 1927, more than 800 members of the company's field force will hold a three day convention in Detroit starting Monday, Aug. 23, when the sales campaign for the coming year will be outlined by R. H. Grant, general sales manager of the company.

This convention, the largest and most important sales gathering in the history of the automotive industry, marks the culmination of the greatest sales production period in the activities of the Chevrolet Motor company—an enormous and startling rise to national popular favor that is conceded to be without precedent in the automotive industry.

With more than half a million cars produced during 1925, the close of this year will see production far above the 600,000 mark and the possibility of one million cars in 1927. It is the potential production for 1927 that has called the entire field sales forces of the Chevrolet organization to Detroit that plans may be made known to the whole selling organization in every part of the country for the merchandising of the 1927 production.

General Sales Manager R. H. Grant will sound the key note of the convention "1,000 more cars per day"—to the selling organization including regional managers, zone managers, division representatives, sales promotional representatives, and service promotional representatives.

His statement will be backed by the most remarkable record ever made by an automobile manufacturer in recent years and will more than ever accentuate the Chevrolet company's record as the most interesting and absorbing topic today in automobile circles.

The part that each member of the sales force will play in the handling of the tremendously increased production which the company plans for 1927 will be detailed by Mr. Grant.

The many friends of J. M. Lord will be interested to learn that he is improving after a critical illness at his home in South Sanford.

Mrs. J. D. Letson of Stuart is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lord having been called here the first of the week by the serious illness of Mr. Lord.

Mrs. Norma King McLaughlin of New York City, who has been the charming house guest of Mrs. Robert A. Newman at her home in Rose Court, is now the guest of Mrs. W. J. Thigpen at her home on Park Avenue.

Miss Catherine Pittman of Tampa is the attractive house guest of Miss Georgia Mobley at her home on Oak Avenue.
