Since Sun-Up...and Still Not Tired!

The sun gleamed low in the east when he set out on his journey this morning.

And here he is-well after nightfall-still going strong at the wheel! If you have spent any time in a new Cadillac car, you can understand his reluctance to bring his day's journey to an end. For the man who holds the wheel of this magnificent motor car is heir to the greatest satisfactions ever conterred on a motorist. To begin with, the car holds him in superb comfort through even the longest day. Its seats are wonderfully soft and buoyant . . . and every imaginable convenience is in constant attendance. Then, of course, there is Cadillac's almost unbelievable case of handling. Starting, turning, stopping . . . the car seems almost to read his mind.

And, finally, there is the deep satisfaction he enjoys in commanding his own Cadillac car. For possession is nine points of the pleasure when your motor car bears the beautiful crest of Cadillac.

Little wonder, then, that he still finds himself at the wheel. For the miles ahead are always tempting -when the miles past have been so wonderfull

If you haven't as yet driven a new Cadillac, we urge you to visit your dealer soon.

Present Social Security Scheme Makes Difficult To Plan Retirement

years of age or older. By 1975 there will be about 21 million of our citizens in that age bracket. To provide each one with a Social Security income of $100 a month would cost over $25,000,000.00 a year.

Furthermore, one does not have to be a citizen of the United States to be covered by Social Security. An Italian, Indian or Greek might come here and work for a year and a half and retire to his own country to draw regular Social Security payments from age 65 until his death.

Government now absorbs close to onethird of our national income. There is every reason to believe that this burden will increase rapidly if the Social Security scheme as now set up, is to be carried out. Moreover, it is now standard practice to "liberalize" it before each election. The tendency will be toward greater and greater expendi-

About 14 million Americans are now 65 seem to be part of the answer to this problem. Most of our citizens are able to work beyond 65. We must stop enticing people and forcing them to retire and allow them to go on working as long as health permits. Those who retire early must get along with less and those who work on for additional years

> Germane to the whole problem is the declining purchasing power of the dollar. If we return to the gold standard and a more stable dollar, plans for the future could be made intelligently and with some confidence. Since there is little current prospect of doing that, and every expectation of continuing inflation, it is difficult for the individual to plan his retirement; likewise for the corporation, that of its employees and the government, its workers.

One of the biggest factors in the cure of cancer is early detection of the disease. The chances of early detection are greatly improved where there is general awareness of the danger signals. Another important factor in early detection is the periodic health checkup.

There is nothing difficult about these two things-learning the danger signals. and having a physical checkup at regular intervals. And taking these precautions may mean, quite literally, the difference between life and death. Yet it is apparent that great numbers of people have not troubled themselves to learn about the widely advertised danger signals and have not established a pattern of regular checkups.

Those who do not go to a physician for such a checkup might almost as well have lived in the Middle Ages, for all the good recent medical advances do for them. Even if an absolutely sure cure were now known
