STRIKERS GO TO JAIL — WITH MUSIC

To the accompaniment of banjos and guitars, 85 striking foundry workers made their cells ring with their singing in the county jail at Cleveland, Tenn. They voluntarily went to jail rather than make bonds on contempt of court citations for alleged violations of an injunction by the foundry employing them. The boys are shown tuning up for a tune.

Civic Organizations Unite In Tribute To Dr. E. D. Brownlee

Presbyterian Pastor Concludes 25 Years Of Service To Community And Church

City And County Praise His Work

Church Membership Grows From 135 To 650 In 25 Years

Twelve local civic and religious organizations joined today in tributes to Dr. E. D. Brownlee, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, as he nears the 25th mile post of his service to Sanford. It was on Jan. 1, 1913 that Dr. Brownlee took over the pastorate of the local Presbyterian Church.

The Seminole County Board of Commissioners adopted a resolution commending him for his "valued citizenship" and "untiring service," and the City Commission, through Mayor Edward Higgins, expressed its appreciation of Dr. Brownlee as a citizen, while Superintendent of Public Instruction T. W. Lawton praised his contributions to the school.

Others joining in recognizing Dr. Brownlee's completion of a quarter of a century as a pastor here, were the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, the Woman's Club, the American Legion, the Kiwanis Club, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Lion Club, the Ministerial Association, the Rotary Club, and the colored ministers of the city.

Born in Plainfield, N. J., the son of John and Elizabeth Brownlee, Dr. Brownlee was educated at the University of Georgia, the South Western Presbyterian University, and Princeton University. He received his degree of Doctor of Divinity from the University of Georgia in 1924, and also from Rollins College in the same year.

He was ordained a Presbyterian minister on May 23, 1917 and served for a while as field secretary in Georgia for the Student Missionary Association, later becoming pastor of the Rock Springs Presbyterian Church of Atlanta, Ga. Shortly after coming to Sanford in 1918, he married Miss Lillian Gibson of this city.

In connection with his official duties with the church, Dr. Brownlee inaugurated and managed the Presbyterian progressive program, inaugurated the Com-

Frost Is Seen Over Central Areas Tonight

Cold Wave Sweeps On To South And East, Bringing Freezing Weather To Florida

By Associated Press
A cold wave moved eastward across northern Florida, bringing chilling winds and a prediction of killing frost. The Weather Bureau forecast temperature as low as 23 to 25 degrees in the northern part of the state tonight and warned that killing frost may extend as far down into the peninsula as the upper sections of the Everglades.

Pensacola and the extreme northwest of Florida experienced a cold wave last night, Jacksonville, Central Florida and even the area around Lake Okechobee were warned to expect much colder weather tonight and tomorrow morning.

It was the first hard freeze of the year and it slipped the southern states from Texas to the Atlantic seaboard. Snow sifted over the upper Mississippi valley southwest to St. Louis and eastward to New York. Light snow fell as far south as Atlanta. The heaviest fall in the South was five inches at Flatport, W. Va.

The Weather Bureau predicted fair and colder, with a cold wave in the central portion tonight, and temperatures 23 to 25 degrees, with killing frost in the extreme north, about freezing frost in the central portion, and possibly frost in the mucklands of the Okechobee region; Sunday fair, continued cold. Extreme northwest Florida; fair and colder; in east portion, temperatures ranging 23 degrees, 21 to 23 degrees on coast, frost tonight, Sunday fair and continued cold.

Plans Are Made For Biggest Year At Local Market

Michael Reports All Is Ready To Accommodate Farm Sales

Extensive preparations for what is expected to be the largest season since the opening of the Sanford State Farmer's Wholesale Market are nearly completed, according to J. G. Michael, manager of the market.

Although the season is just beginning buyers are beginning to patronize the market regularly, although there is only a small amount of locally grown produce brought in for sale at present, it was pointed out.

In order that the operations of the market may be handled more efficiently during the coming season, the Supervisory Committee have adopted a number of regulations applying mainly to traffic at the market which will become effective today.

All automobiles must be parked on the east side of the market, and the operation of dealer's vehicles which may be parked at their stalls.

Trucks must be parked on the truck parking lot located on the north side of the market platform. Buyers trucks enter the market grounds free unless bringing merchandise to sell in this case they pay the regular per load fee.

Transferring loads from one truck to another may be done only on the truck parking lot. All merchandise entering the market for sale will be charged a per load fee at the gate, providing that such merchandise does not belong to a dealer on the market or is destined directly to a dealer on the market, in which case the load must go directly to the dealer's stall.

There will be only one entrance to the market, namely the north side of the platform, and the exit will be on the south side of the platform.

Schmah Appeals For Conservation Of State Forests

Michael Reports All Is Ready To Accommodate Farm Sales

Conservation of the forests of Florida through a more economical utilization of timber in the construction of containers in which Florida grown produce is shipped to market, was the principal topic of discussion at the regular meeting of the Seminole County Agriculture Association, Gus Schmah, president, stated yesterday afternoon.

The tremendous waste incurred through the construction of the "perfect container," which meets the demand at the present time, is a threat to the existence of one of this state's greatest natural assets, Mr. Schmah said, adding that at the present time better materials were used in these containers which were burned after use.

Members of the association went on record as opposed to the use of the best of the state's timber for the short-lived container, when a container of a much inferior quality could be constructed which would serve as satisfactorily and thereby conserve the highest grades for more permanent uses.

At the present time approximately 23 percent of all timber brought to the crate mills is discarded, the Agriculture Association President stated, adding that if the lumber is off-color or contains small knots it is thrown on the trash heap.

The celery industry alone uses approximately 900 carloads of timber annually besides the timber used in containers made for all the other Florida grown products, including citrus and other vegetables, Mr. Schmah stated, pointing out, in view of these figures, the extent of the present annual waste.

This practice is not only a threat to the forests of the State, Mr. Schmah said, but also reverts to the grower who must pay an estimated 5 per cent additional for the "perfect container" which serves only to attract the fancy of the buyers at the market terminals, and cannot in any respect improve the quality of its contents.

The Agricultural Association, Mr. Schmah asserted, plans to take the initiative in a campaign to reduce the enormous waste which, he said, will not only conserve forests but will result in a savings for the growers.

Celery Feds Lose To St. Augustine By 20 To 7 Score

Led By Larry Tutten Saints Score Three Touchdowns To One

ST. AUGUSTINE, Nov. 20.—Coach Bill Ferraro's St. Augustine Mulletts pulled a surprise on a Seminole High School eleven last night and led by Larry Tutten gained a 20 to 7 victory over the Celery Feds on San Marco Field last night in the ancient city.

Tutten and Mullett back who has taken the backfield role of the former Bobbie Johnson, scored two of the St. Augustine touchdowns and the saved way for the other with several neat punts and using his right hand to sling a number of passes that were deadly to the Fed defense. During the evening, Tutten gained a total of 213 yards against the rugged Fed eleven.

The Celery Feds scored first in the early minutes of the second period as Morgan faked back and shot a beautiful 23 yard heave to Darrell Ferguson for a touchdown and Ferguson kicked the extra point from placement.

The Mulletts came back and opened with a sensational ground attack in which they went right through the Sanford defense with ease and took to the air as if it were scheduled.

Tutten started the scoring of two touchdowns in rapid fashion as he broke away for 60 yards and was nailed on the 24 yard line. Tutten then smashed over for the tally and a pass from Borum to Palmer was good for the extra point.

Delinquent Taxes To Be Adjusted By City Commission

Formula Is Adopted In Meeting Last Night; Two Trucks Bought

The City Commission is now in a position to adjust all delinquent city taxes and special assessments prior to 1933, City Clerk Frank B. Lamson stated this morning.

In a special meeting of the Commissioners last night a formula for adjusting delinquent taxes was adopted by the Commissioners who announced that they had organized themselves as a Delinquent Tax Adjusting Board and that all applications would be given immediate consideration by the Board.

The Commissioners, heretofore, have postponed the adoption of a formula for adjusting taxes awaiting a decision of the State Supreme Court on the Murphy "low dollar" Tax Certificate Act which provides for purchase of an auction of the delinquent certificates held by the state.

County Clerk O. P. Herndon stated today that since the Supreme Court, in its recent decision, had approved the Act in its entirety, he has again begun to receive applications for the sale of the Tax Certificates at a public auction and that probably next week he would begin delivering the Certificates previously sold at auction, which have been held up by order of the Court.

In view of the fact that property holders may pay up in date their State and County taxes at a nominal cost and also receive a "satisfactory" adjustment on delinquent city taxes and special assessments, Mr. Lamson estimated that much property in Sanford would probably be returned to the tax rolls on an active tax paying basis.

15 Japs Seize Keystone City Without Fight

Seizure Called Most Amazing Capture In Annals Of Warfare; Not A Shot Fired

Chinese Withdrew Tired And Hungry

Capital Is Moved Inland, 750 Miles To City Of Chungking

SHANGHAI, Nov. 20.—(AP)—A Japanese army spokesman said 15 Japanese soldiers under a second lieutenant captured Soochow, the keystone of China's "Hindenburg Line" without firing a single shot. He added the fall of the city was "one of the most amazing captures of any important city in all the annals of war."

The spokesman said there was no real Chinese resistance at Soochow. He said the main Japanese force, expecting a fierce battle, was amazed to meet only small groups of apparently dazed soldiers.

He said the few Chinese soldiers in sight were looting and made no effort to stop the Japanese. When the Japanese flag was unfurled, he added, the Chinese left the city. He explained the Chinese looked tired out and hungry.

In Nanking the Chinese government formally announced the removal of the nation's capital from here to Chungking in Szechwan province as Japan's legions surged toward this city through three gaps in the main Chinese defenses on Sunan River.

Puerto Rican Bishop Will Preach Here

The Rt. Rev. Charles Blayney Coleman, who has spent 33 years of his ministry in Cuba and Puerto Rico, will preach at the Holy-Cross Episcopal Church tomorrow at 11:30 o'clock, according to an announcement made today by the Rev. Martin Hram, pastor of the church.

Bishop Coleman is not only qualified to speak on Puerto Rico but he is a powerful exponent of the Christian faith who in reality has "budded for the land," the Rev. Hram stated. The West Indies, it was pointed out, first received Episcopal attention in 1902 and has now grown to include 12,000 baptized members and 6,000 communicants. The Episcopal Church maintains there a hospital, a diocesan relief room and three schools, and in these developments Bishop Coleman has played an important role.

Advertise Old Goods And Help Business

The exchange of commodities is what is commonly known as business. When this exchange is rapid, business is said to be good; when it is slow, business is bad. One of the greatest handicaps to an exchange of new commodities is the difficulty of disposing of used goods.

The automobile dealer can't sell many new cars unless he finds a buyer for the customer's old car; a man in the market for a new radio or a new refrigerator can hardly be sold unless some disposition can be made of the old one; a housewife who would like to buy a new gown hesitates because the old one will still be in her hands.

The fact could be added to this, but this would go on for ever. What is important is for people to realize that through a more rapid exchange of used goods there will follow a quickened sale of new products. Both the individual and the merchant stand to gain.

Unemployment Census Will Close At Mid-Night Tonight, Says Holly

The National Unemployment census will close at midnight tonight and all persons in Sanford and Seminole County who are unemployed or partially employed should have filled out the forms and returned them to the mails by that time, R. J. Holly, local postmaster, stated today.

No more of the forms will be distributed, Mr. Holly said, adding they should be filled out and returned to the Post Office today, others would be received for tabulation in the census until Tuesday.

Mr. Holly commended the people of Sanford who are seeking work for the cooperation they have shown in filling out and returning the forms up to the present time, he said, a large number of the cards have been returned.

Drug Rings Smashed By Treasury Raids

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Secretary Mogenstern said Treasury agents, in synchronized raids across the country, had smashed a $750,000 annual narcotic distribution ring. He added that preliminary reports showed 17 importers and large scale dealers in illicit drugs, most of them operating through the Hip Sing Chinese tong, were seized in the roundup.

Officials said seizures made previously during the course of a six months investigation indicated the narcotics handled by the syndicate had been imported from Japan, India and France.

A Good Citizen

The Herald joins today with other civic and religious organizations in tribute to Dr. E. D. Brownlee of the local Presbyterian Church who is this year completing a quarter of a century of work as a pastor in this city. It was on January 1, 1913 that Dr. Brownlee first assumed his duties here and since that time he has devoted the best part of his life to the development of the Presbyterian Church and to the moral and spiritual uplift of this community.

Twenty-five years ago the Presbyterian Church had a membership of scarcely 135; since that time 1,185 persons have united with the church, 650 of whom are still members. During Dr. Brownlee's pastorate here a fine new building has been constructed and paid for at a cost of some $35,000, as well as a manse costing $9,000. The ratio of membership to population is much higher here than in the average city throughout the South.

But even more important than the material achievements of Dr. Brownlee in his religious activities has been the indelible imprint which his fine character and the truly noble conduct of his life have left upon every part of our community. His mode of living has set an example for weaker souls to follow who perhaps could not be reached in any other way. They could not have failed to see and to have profited by the practical Christianity which marks his life.

For twenty-five years he has done what he could to relieve the poor and suffering of this community. He has cheered the sick and comforted the bereaved. He has appealed to the wanderers and sought to make people see the wisdom of being good. There has never been a person among all those who knew him who did not feel that whenever trouble came he could go to him for comfort and for guidance. He has been a helpful, understanding friend to all.

But withal, Dr. Brownlee has never lost his joy of living. He is a sportsman of the highest order and the very first guns of the hunting season find him in the woods with his dogs. He takes an active and helpful part in the social and commercial life of the town. He is an enthusiastic member of the Chamber of Commerce and is always ready to do his part whenever he is called upon. He belongs to the Kiwanis Club and takes an active interest in every worthwhile movement for the benefit of his city and county. He has shown that it is not necessary to be a recluse in order to live right.

And so to Dr. Brownlee today, we pay our respects. May he be with us always and may we always profit as we have in the past by the splendid example of his inspiring citizenship.

Why Grass Is Green

The most important research problem in the world, according to Charles F. Kettering, world famous inventor and research director of General Motors, is to find the answer to the question of why grass is green, which he calls the fundamental problem of man's existence on earth. "It seems so simple that people think I am joking," Kettering says in an article in The American Magazine, "but I am perfectly serious. It is the green in grass, in leaves and in plants which has brought to us, from the sun, all the energy we have. Some little engine in the green of grass and leaf has the gift, unknown to man, of capturing energy from the sun's rays, storing that energy, building it.

"Thence came, in ages past, all the heat and power now stored in coal, in wood, in oil, in natural gas. Solve that secret and we shall know how to take power from the sun. If we knew that secret we could build engines to transform enough radiation from the sun into heat or chemical energy or electricity to run our machinery. Then the conservation of our natural resources would not be so important as it is now."

Nina Hawkins, editor of the St. Augustine Record, says the Stuart Daily News takes a sarcastic rap at people who make a convenience out of newspapers, but who do not lend their support as subscribers and advertisers. "He prints the following as being typical of some who use the columns of the newspapers, and would like to use them more if they could get a little free advertising, yet cancel their subscriptions," Miss Hawkins says, and quotes the Stuart paper as follows: "Please send me a few copies of your newspaper containing the obituary of my aunt. Also publish the enclosed clipping of the marriage of my niece. And I wish you would mention in your local column, if it doesn't cost anything, that I have two bull calves for sale, and our church is giving an ice cream supper, tickets 25 cents. As my subscription is out, please stop the paper, as times are too hard to waste money on newspapers." Honestly, some twenty years ago, this writer, once a country editor, received this little news note from a man who had never taken his county paper: "Saturday my boy, Jim, fell off the barn and broke his leg. As he will be laid up for some time and as we are hard up for cash for doctors and medicine, I wish to say that I have for sale reasonable, one mule, seven head of hogs and about twenty chickens. First come first served."—Times-Union.

Bolles School Head Praises Celery Feds

The high type of sportsmanship exhibited by the Celery Feds in their game with the Bolles School of Jacksonville, last Thursday night was highly commended in a letter to G. H. Sanford Students Are Members Of Club

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 20.—Four students from Sanford are members of Freshman clubs recently organized at Florida State College for Women. The clubs, devoted to extra-curricular activities as a follow-up to the first weeks of college education, are intended for the pleasure and self-improvement of the members. Most popular are those dealing with social dancing, modern drama and amateur photography. Directing these activities are faculty members and superintendents.

Sanford girls and the Freshman clubs of which they are members are as follows: Miss Virginia McRoy, poetry study club; Miss Doris Dorner, Miss Dorothy Mitchell, and Miss Elizabeth Whittington, managers in the making.

CANDLELIGHT

By NINA OLIVER DEAN

"No man shall kiss his wife nor allow his dog to bark on the Sabbath, nor shall he ever, at any time, eat any mince pie."

This line from the Connecticut Blue Laws has a quaint charm and recalls a day when men were indeed made of sterner stuff. For modern use, the rule might be amended to read, "No man shall kiss any other man's wife on Sunday." I certainly would like to know what device the puritan employed to keep his dog from barking on the Sabbath. I'm just wondering if I had a calender on the door of my poster pup's kennel with a cross marking the day, if he would get the idea.

Ann Lindbergh once wrote a lovely verse when she was a student at Smith College about a girl who said she knew she looked like a Puritan saint, but inside she felt like a dancer. For that matter, I'll bet a lot of dancing hearts beat underneath those little white kerchiefs at Plymouth Rock in colonial days. Wasn't it Priscilla, whose very name is the acme of Puritanism, Priscilla in her gray gown and demure white collar, who said so bravely, "Why don't you speak for yourself, John?" It sounds sort of streamlined and in the twentieth century to me.

Anyway here's a recipe for mince pie that might be heavy on a Puritan conscience, to say nothing of a Puritan stomach. It's the kind our grandmothers used to make with ritualistic fervor every Fall and pack down in a stone jar to ripen.

- Old Fashioned Mince Pie: 2 pounds lean fresh beef, boiled, thoroughly cooled, and chopped fine; 1 pound beef kidney suet, cleaned of strings and minced to a powder; 4 pounds of apples, pared and chopped fine; 3 pounds raisins seeded and chopped; 2 pounds currants, washed six times; 1 pound citron, cut fine; 2 pounds brown sugar; 2 cups molasses; 1 pint best brandy; 2 tablespoons cinnamon; 2 tablespoons mace; 1 tablespoon ground nutmeg; 1 tablespoon ground allspice; 1/2 lb. thoroughly and lot stand for several days before using. Put into a stone jar, covered, and keep in a cool place. When the pie is made, the mince may be thinned with wine. Oh, poor Puritans who couldn't ever at any time eat any mince pie! The approach of the last Thursday in November brings many memories of those early colonists and a vivid picture of that first Thanksgiving day some three hundred years ago when they gathered together to thank God for their survival of a year of hardships.

The fruits of their labors were grouped around them and supplied the color which their costumes lacked—the red and white of pumpkin, the red and white of maize and the brown of the turkey. In the eyes of these people, there must have been a look of achievement, of having carried on, of having stuck to their guns and saved the lot.

What a dramatic contrast this scene makes to Thanksgiving in Florida in 1937. Instead of grey skies and ice-fingered trees, the sun shines and the days are golden. The meadow glow of the pumpkin is not on the ground but in the grocer's window, but the orange and grapefruit trees are gold with fruit and the green of winter vegetables takes the place of autumn corn. The turkey is still with us, and on Thanksgiving, the people of Florida will eat too much of this elegant fowl and count their blessings just as their ancestors did.

The Floridian's clothes are quite different, but the expression in their eyes is the same. They too are pilgrims. They too have labored in the work of building a comparatively new state. They too have survived after years of hardship, and they too have a look of having been tried and not found wanting.

And so Florida is thankful not only for her growers' who have labored faithfully and well, but for those poor citizens with talent and ability who have found their pot of gold in Florida's soil and their land of heart's desire under Florida's palm trees. We are thankful for her golden harvest abiding in her green groves, for the new houses, hotels, and apartment houses—buildings that are more than just shacks and are more than mere character and charm for her schools and colleges that both grows in culture and intelligence, for her rich natural resources that are

An unflattering friend of our schools."

A letter from T. E. Simpson, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce read as follows: "I appreciate very much the opportunity of extending, on behalf of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, sincere congratulations and best wishes to our good friend Dr. E. D. Brownlee, upon the completion of his twenty-fifth year in the ministry at Sanford."

"When a man has lived in a community for twenty-five years, no matter what his calling may be, and enjoys the confidence and affection of the residents of that community as Dr. Brownlee does, it is indeed something of which to be proud.

"Certainly no one has contributed more to his fellowman in Sanford and Seminole County. We are fortunate in having such a staunch supporter, and I trust that he will be with us for another twenty-five years.

For the Woman's Club, Mrs. A. M. Phillips, president, wrote: "We are thinking of Dr. Brownlee, of his twenty-five years in Sanford. But we are thinking more, and feeling more the sterling worth in service he has wrought. Dr. Brownlee was and is our nearest neighbor. He has lent us the atmosphere that now makes our home. We've tried to keep thriving the smews of strength and love and courage born of pioneer days, for his generous cooperation helps rear organizations that remain in Sanford who still remember when our Club Home was once the Presbyterian House of Worship."

"As Sterling needs must have another metal to help solidify it so was blended another sterling quality, a sterling quality of her partner who is now one of our staunchest pillars. So in this Club Home is permeated the cheerful glow of two dear neighbors. And what is a building without a light? So down the years of changing joys, the Woman's Club of Sanford continue to clasp hands with Dr. Brownlee and to be constantly burns in all Sanford and for us."

The American Legion was represented with a statement from L. F. Boyle, past commander, as follows: "Campbell-Loosing Post No. 53 of the American Legion is pleased with this opportunity to join with the other good people of this community in honoring Dr. E. D. Brownlee as he brings to an end twenty-five years of faithful service as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city."

"Dr. Brownlee has always been a true friend of the veterans and his help, assistance and counsel in the past to our comrades, their wives and families have won for him a warm spot in our hearts. To both Dr. and Mrs. Brownlee we wish health, happiness and long life that they may be able to continue their splendid work in our community."

The Kiwanis Club joined in the tributes to Dr. Brownlee with the following from S. J. Nix: "The members of the Sanford Kiwanis Club extend their congratulations and felicitations to Dr. E. D. Brownlee and the members of his church upon his rounding off twenty-five years of service in this community."

"Dr. Brownlee has been a most valuable member of our club, and we deeply appreciate his friendship, fellowship, and fine spirit of cooperation in our endeavor for our community welfare."

"We do not overlook the splendid services of Mrs. Brownlee, but we emphasize the fact that she has been Dr. Brownlee's helpmate and companion, and has herself made great contributions toward the growth and spiritual development of our City and County."

E. E. Lahey, in behalf of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, issued the following statement: "Dr. E. D. Brownlee, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Sanford, Florida, is completing his twenty-fifth year of service with this church. It is with great pleasure that the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce offers congratulations for the years work which Dr. Brownlee has performed for the citizens in the community of Sanford. It is our hope that Dr. Brownlee will have many more years of continued service. We also extend to Mrs. Brownlee our best wishes."

Maxwell Stewart for the Lions Club said: "We the members of the Sanford Lions Club deem it an honor and a pleasure to join with the citizens of Sanford, and Seminole County, in congratulating Dr. E. D. Brownlee as he completes twenty-five years of service as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford, Fla. He has given of his time to every worthwhile undertaking in the Community through all these years, and we wish for him many more years of continued service in Sanford. We desire to express also our deep appreciation of Mrs. Brownlee who has been active, not only in Church, but in all Civic matters for the betterment of the Community."

Hollywood Bureau Issues Brochure On History Of Kiss

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 20.—(AP)—For the benefit of any actor or director who doesn't know about such things, one of the studio's research departments has issued a brochure on "The History of the Kiss."

Brief though it is, it fairly bulges with information, based largely on Nyrop's kiss history, published in 1902.

Three definitions of the word "kiss" are included. It is a "touch or pressure of the lips," "a salute or caress given with the lips," or "a lip click." Recording departments are unalterably opposed to clicks because they sound like rifle shots when translated onto the sound track.

The forgotten Mr. Nyrop's scholarly treatise says that Romanians kiss like to be kissed by bearded men, that tobacco flavored kisses are favored by German girls and that the Romans knew only three kinds of kisses. "But Nyrop," the researchers' final authority—listed only five sorts of kisses: love, affection, peace, respect and friendship.

The love kiss, wrote Nyrop, should not be too long, nor too short, and it should be moist but not wet. He added that he thought it best not seen in public, which just goes to show how conditions have changed since 1902.

Only this one book, declares the research department, has been written about the kiss since 1902. The department thinks, incidentally, that it is about time another book on kissing is compiled and the information is that during the two and a third centuries that have passed much additional information about kissing has been assembled. Most of this could be gleaned from a study of pictures made in Hollywood.

Nevertheless, the research department is grateful to this Mr. Nyrop, for, if a question ever does arise, they've got the dope right there in black and white.

Rev. S. Stipin, as follows:

"In behalf of the colored ministers of the city I wish to say that we highly esteem Dr. Brownlee having served in the city for twenty-five years as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. He has been helpful to our race as well as to others. Annually he and his very friendly wife visit our various churches along with others of their Church Circle bringing to us helpful information, which we very much appreciate. We do hereby ask God's blessings continually upon them and may they live on to do greater works in the future."

Irene Dunne Stars At Ritz Sunday In Colorful Picture

Romantic, Exciting Plot Features 'High Wide, Handsome'

A romance flavored by the music of Jerome Kern, set in the colorful period of the middle West in Pennsylvania, is the theme of "High, Wide and Handsome," which comes Sunday to the Ritz Theater.

Book and lyrics were written by Oscar Hammerstein II, and the film was directed by Rouben Mamoulian.

In "High, Wide and Handsome" Irene Dunne is a young and high-spirited carnival singer while Randolph Scott is a young Pennsylvania farmer who has begun drilling for oil on his farm, making the land an oil well in the country. These two, from widely different backgrounds, meet, fall in love, and marry. On their wedding day, oil is discovered in Scott's well and he promises to develop it.

But little time for his new wife, Scott becomes an exciting and colorful life with the carnival. Miss Dunne soon finds her husband's life is not what she expected. Unable to reconcile herself to the selling of the land to which she had dedicated her life, she runs off after a quarrel with Scott, and joins another carnival.

Scott, in the meantime, has been waging a war against railroad interests which threaten the independence of his group of oil drillers; and the huge influence and resources of his rivals have forced him into a position where his life is threatened.

Miss Dunne learns of her husband's (danger) and rushes back to his farm. Conflicts and difficulties arise between her and Scott, and she returns to her work and is instructed to join his fight.

"HIGH, WIDE AND HANDSOME"

This is how Artist William Rose visualizes charming Irene Dunne, leading lady of "High, Wide and Handsome," which opens Sunday at the Ritz Theater. Miss Dunne appears opposite Randolph Scott. The story was written by Oscar Hammerstein II to the music of Jerome Kern.

Barbara Stanwyck And John Boles Play Lead At Ritz On Thursday In "Stella Dallas"

The Samuel Goldwyn production of "Stella Dallas," with Barbara Stanwyck in the title role, at the Ritz Theater Thursday and Friday, is a tense drama of a mother who sacrifices her own right to happiness for the sake of her daughter. It gives Miss Stanwyck the strongest role in her entire career and one which was coveted by every leading actress in Hollywood.

Co-starring with Miss Stanwyck is John Boles, with a distinguished supporting cast, including Anna Shirley, Alan Hale, Herbert O'Neil, Al Sherman, Billie French, team of Dallas and Shanon and Tim Holt, son of Jack Holt.

"Stella Dallas" is without doubt one of the most poignant and gripping stories ever to be filmed. It was originally a best-selling novel by Olive Higgins Reutsky, later a success on the Broadway stage and as a silent picture produced by Goldwyn twelve years ago, scored a sensational hit.

It brought to attention such stars as Constance Bennett, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., who played his first adult role in the production, Lois Moran and Alice Joyce. Ronald Colman, whose picture career had just started, leaped to box-office prominence, and Belle Bennett, in the characterization of the mother, was catapulted from obscurity into the star class by her performance.

In the new sound version Mr. Goldwyn has utilized every facility of his tremendous production resources in the creation of what is regarded as one of the more important pictures of the current season. Two of the land's finest writers, Sarah Mason and Victor Heerman, prepared the script, and the direction was in the hands of King Vidor, who made "Street Scene" for Mr. Goldwyn as well as a succession of other smash hits. "Stella Dallas" is released through United Artists.

PRINCIPALS IN THANKSGIVING FILM

Anne Shirley, John Boles and Barbara Stanwyck comprise this family group in the Samuel Goldwyn production, "Stella Dallas," attraction at the Ritz Theater Thursday and Friday. Tense drama develops when Barbara Stanwyck forfeits her right to her own child to insure her happiness.

Russia Alarmed In East, Withdraws From Spain Fight

LONDON, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Russia, alarmed by the threat to her Far Eastern frontier as a result of Japanese victories in China, has informed the Spanish Loyalist government that she is withdrawing material support, it was reported last night.

The Loyalist regime at Barcelona has been told, it was said, that Russia's role in Spain must be liquidated because of "growing preoccupations" with events in the Far East.

Other factors which caused the reported Soviet decision, it was learned, were Moscow's dissatisfaction of the position of the Spanish Communist party, the group which Russia has been supporting in the coalition of parties which forms the Loyalist regime. Moscow was reported to feel there is no hope that the communists could gain control of the Spanish government even if the Loyalists were completely eliminated.

15 Japs Seize Keystone City Without Fight

Chinese government officials reiterated their determination to resist the Japanese to the last man. Chungking, on the meandering Yangtze River west of here, is about 750 miles farther inland. Soochow, the pivotal stronghold of China's "Hindenburg line" between here and Shanghai, fell to the Japanese after a fierce bombardment. The Japanese said the Chinese army was retreating in confusion from the city. Both ends of the "Hindenburg Line" also were turned by the advancing Japanese.

Today was the one-hundredth day of the Japanese-Chinese war. There was some division of sentiment here about the defense of the capital city. Some elements urged the Chinese army to retreat so as to spare the city from destruction. Others, including high Chinese army officials, insisted every effort should be made to defend the city.

Meanwhile Chinese reinforcements continued to come up from the west and preparations went on for a "last man" stand here. In North China, another army continued to resist the Japanese advances and to defend Tainanfu, the capital of Shantung province, the only provincial capital uncaptured in the Japanese northern conquest.

Japanese Urge Chinese Chief To Surrender

Message Is Dropped From Airplanes Asking End To War And Decrying Resistance

Japs At Shanghai Defy Foreigners

Britain, France And U. S. Hit In Move To Seize Customs

SHANGHAI, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Japan urged Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek today to surrender. The message was dropped to him by Japanese airmen making their first flight over Nanking since the government announced its transfer from the capital to Chungking about 1,000 miles farther inland.

No bombs were dropped—the only message urging cessation of hostilities. Chinese pursuit planes attacked the Japanese fliers, nevertheless, engaging them in spectacular dogfights over Nanking. One unidentified plane was ing. One unidentified plane crashed.

The Japanese airmen apparently trying to determine the strength of the remaining Chinese air force, were taken by surprise. The mysterious message "advised" Chiang to end China's resistance and to surrender himself to the Japanese.

The Japanese army threatened today to seize all Chinese government institutions in Greater Shanghai defying Britain, France, the United States and other powers interested in the international areas of this war-ravaged city.

The Japanese already had seized more than 30 Chinese vessels in the International Settlement, including ships of the maritime customs, and pressed into service Chinese members of their crews. The ships will transport supplies to the Japanese armies west of Shanghai now fighting their way to Nanking.

Nanking, the former national capital, was virtually deserted after removal of the government to Chungking, Hankow and other cities deep in the interior. U. S. Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson and heads of other diplomatic establishments were leaving for Hankow tomorrow.

FIGHTING IRISH BLANK CADETS BY 7 TO 0

Literally rolling across the goal line is Notre Dame's Smonich (right) after he had plunged four yards for the only Irish touchdown against Army at the Yankee Stadium in New York. Though the Ramblers from South Bend won by only 7 to 0, they so completely outclassed their rivals that the cadets were able to cross midfield only twice, and made but three first downs to Notre Dame's 10.

Duc De Guise Seeks Crown Of Paris Kings

Foreign Powers Seen In Plot To Overthrow Government Of French Republic

PARIS, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The Duc de Guise, pretender to the throne of France, issued a manifesto distributed in Paris today announcing that he had decided "to reconquer the throne of my fathers."

The 5000 word manifesto left no doubt that the pretender, now living in exile in Belgium, planned a pacific conquest. It caused intense excitement, however, among the French royalists.

The manifesto was distributed as government agents were ferreting out what appeared to be plot to overthrow the republic and had added the job of tracing the whereabouts of the Count of Paris, the Duke's son.

The Count left Versoix, Switzerland late yesterday after Swiss federal police "invited" him and group of his followers to leave the country on the ground he was carrying on political activity.

Belief that a foreign power is involved in the plots against the government by the "Cagouards" (the hooded ones), was expressed last night by Albert Riviere, minister of pensions, as police seized additional arms and ammunition from the organization's hidden stores.

Sections of the press made the same accusation and the communist newspaper L'Humanite carried headlines reading: "Orders came from Rome and Berlin."

Police continued their raids from Belgium to Marseilles. Riviere, speaking at a meeting in Paris, said:

"Mr. Riviere will not admit the slightest blow at their legitimate liberties. Capable of defending themselves against all internal machinations, they rise up unanimously against all foreign interference."

The Paris Solr said: "Public opinion is unanimous on this point; those abroad who do not like us have already used this affair—which they no doubt provoked—as a pretext for perfidious attacks."

Arrest of Moreau de la Meuse, an industrialist suspected of having aided the Cagouards in obtaining arms, was the chief development of the past 24 hours, but police activity continued unabated.

On orders from Paris, a villa at Caen was searched this morning and a machine gun and 24 pistols were found.

Vegetable Crops In Seminole Hurt By Cold Weather

The coldest weather of the season gripped Sanford and Seminole County over the week-end and sent shivers down the spines of localities.

The mercury dropped to 39 Saturday night but a low of 35 degrees was recorded by G. P. Paxton local meteorologist, the following night.

Fall crops such as beans, squash and tomatoes were reported, a total loss but small celery, cabbage and other similar crops were apparently undamaged by the cold blasts from the northwest.

The citrus, too, the Herald was reliably informed, escaped any appreciable damage. However, grove owners were in readiness to start smudge pots in their groves if plunging temperatures went too low.

Thermometers dropped to 23 degrees in extreme north Florida but first reports indicated only minor damage to truck crops and little or no damage to oranges, grapefruit and tangerines in that section.

State marketing officials said, however, that several days may be needed to determine crop losses.

The weather bureau forecast was fair and slightly warmer for tonight and increasing cloudiness and warmer for Tuesday.

Temperatures around Gainesville fell to 25 degrees, 10 degrees colder than the 1936 low, early yesterday morning.

The temperatures recorded in Sanford Saturday and Sunday nights were much lower than those reported farther south.

Jarrell Indicted For Operating Lottery; Kinlaw For Selling

Joseph W. Jarrell and Stinson Kinlaw were indicted by the Seminole County Grand Jury today in connection with the lottery racket which has been under investigation by the body for the past week. The Grand Jury is still in session and it was emphasized today that it has only partly completed its work, indicating that other indictments may be expected to follow.

Jarrell was indicted on six counts for operating a lottery for money while Kinlaw's indictment was based on the sale and transmission of lottery tickets for money. The penalty for conviction of the first offense avoided by law consists of a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $5,000, or imprisonment for not less than one year nor more than ten; and for conviction of the latter offense, a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $2,000, or imprisonment for not less than one year nor more than five.

In submitting its report, the Grand Jury said that there are many places of legitimate business in Seminole County where the sale of lottery tickets is permitted on their premises and "that the sale of these lottery tickets is now being conducted so publicly and extensively as to contaminate not only the entire City of Sanford but the entire County of Seminole as well."

The Grand Jury urged law enforcement officers of Sanford and Seminole to make every effort possible "to ascertain and (Continued on page three)

Radio Is Seen As Hitting Basis Of Monroe Doctrine

By MORGAN M. BEATTY AP Feature Service Writer WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The news that Brazil has joined the growing list of Latin American dictatorships has brought home to official Washington generally a fact that has long harassed the state department's inner circle, namely:

Radio waves are constantly undermining the Monroe Doctrine—our time-honored barrier against European political systems.

(In case you've forgotten, President Monroe told European nations 114 years ago that we would keep hands off Europe, and expected, in return, that they would keep their colonizers and their political systems out of the western hemisphere.)

But here is what has been happening:

1—European radio stations—especially German, Italian and Russian—have been broadcasting news and entertainment programs to Latin Americans in their own languages for several years.

2—These broadcasts naturally reflect fascist and communistic systems in a highly favorable light and constantly use labels and terms that go with those systems.

3—Some South American newspapers pick up this information daily and re-distribute it in printed form.

All of this means that the Monroe Doctrine is daily suffering erosion from Europe, and yet the Doctrine is not being violated any nation may broadcast information and entertainment.

4—Meanwhile, South Americans are growing more and more familiar with fascist and communistic ideas and labels, such as "the corporative state," "centralized control," "economic expansion for the state," and the like.

One unofficial authority in Washington, who is in a position to analyze first-hand reports from South America, puts it like this: (Continued on Page Three)

Advertise Old Goods And Help Business

The exchange of commodities is what is commonly known as business. When this exchange is rapid, business is said to be good; when it is slow, business is bad. One of the greatest handicaps to an exchange of new commodities is the difficulty of disposing of used goods.

The automobile dealer can't sell many new cars unless he finds a buyer for the customer's old car; a man in the market for a new radio or a new refrigerator can hardly be sold unless some disposition can be made of the old ones; a hunter who would like to buy a new gun hesitates because the old one will still be on his hands.

The list could be added to indefinitely, but this would gain us nothing. What is important is for people to realize that through a more rapid exchange of used goods there will follow a quickened sale of new products. Both the individual and the merchant stand to gain.

The best way to speed up the exchange of used goods and thereby keep the economic blood stream is to advertise in the classified section of The Sanford Herald. A wider use of this medium will result in more prosperity for every one.
