British Crisis

deals $6,319,792,047.

Attlee said British armed strength would be reduced by 420,000 men by next March. The forces numbered 1,297,300 men on July 1.

"An exhaustive inquiry has been instituted into the whole future of our defense policy," he said.

At another point, the Labor government leader said Great Britain was increasing the rate of her troop withdrawal from overseas.

"Despite these accelerations in the rate of withdrawal, there is no change in our foreign policy or in the defense policy which underlies our foreign policy," Attlee asserted.

The Prime Minister said his Socialist government would "have to take some measure of control over the employment of labor" in order to stimulate production. He continued:

"This will involve some sacrifice of individual liberty, though as little as possible. It may be necessary to take steps to limit employment on less essential work."

Attlee said the government also would "take action" against any industries operated with "inefficiency or lack of will."

To save dollars, Attlee said Britain would take these steps:

Permit movie makers showing films here to convert only a fourth of their earnings into non-British currency. Permit Britons overseas to spend only $140 on foreign vacations in the 14-month period beginning Oct. 1, instead of $300 in the yearly period as at present. Cut by one third the basic gasoline ration of 11 gallons a month for private motorists with 10-horsepower cars.

Attlee said the government would strive for a 20 per cent increase in domestic farm production and "press ahead with our plans for the expansion of production in the colonial empire."

"We shall apply ourselves to further development of our resources at home," he said. "We must concentrate as much as possible on x x x the production of goods for export and the production of all those things which save us imports. This will mean cutting out non-essentials. We must increase our total output so that we can stand on our own legs as soon as possible."

Attlee, in his grim statement outlining the Socialist regime's plans to overcome its dollar famine, said Great Britain had proposed negotiations with the United States for revision of two clauses in the loan agreement.

"I am glad to say Mr. Marshall (U. S. Secretary of State) replied agreeing to those discussions," he said. "They will not cut across the proceedings of the Paris conference."

His reference was to international conversations on Marshall's proposal of American aid for European economic recovery, a proposal shunned by Russia and the Eastern European countries in her sphere.

Attlee said the loan clauses to be discussed were the agreements on sterling convertibility and non-discrimination in trade, both targets in Churchill's address to the opposition Conservative Party.

Under the non-discrimination clause, Britain may not cut down her purchases in the United States in order to increase them in non-dollar countries.

ALTHOUGH THERE ARE STILL MANY GAPING AREAS TO BE FILLED, Hiroshima, Japan, first target of an atomic bomb has made notable progress in rebuilding itself in the two years that have elapsed since the great blast in this Japanese city ushered in the atomic era. More than 50,000 new houses have sprung up from the city's rubble and more are going up every day. Long after the scars of the A-bomb have been obliterated, Hiroshima will be remembered as the unveiling place of this new power. Photo from Look Magazine. (International) living a Christian life.

"It is all too easy for youth to put religious life on a taken for granted basis," he declared. "They need to find out why they are Christians." He stressed the need for families playing and having devotion together, to develop more recreation together and attend less to paid recreation, and urged that business men aid in youth development programs.

Miss Mary Beth Joiner told of the rapid growth of the Youth Caravan program during the past 15 years, and said that this year 85 teams are touring the United States and Cuba. She outlined the program of work, study, play and worship necessary to train members of the Caravan. Miss Naomi Rupert entertained the Kiwanians by leading them on an imaginary lion hunt and making them go through a lot of motions.

Howard Montieth announced that an interclub meeting with Orlando Kiwanis will be held here on Sept. 10. E. C. Harper announced plans for a ladies night program.

POLES MAKE PLEA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—(AP)—Poland appealed to the United States today to restore its cancelled share of the $332,000,000 American reliefprogram. Ambassador Josef Winiewicz submitted the plea to Secretary of State Marshall and told reporters after the conference that "Poland really needs food."

Meyer Testimony

while he was not even in this country.

Meyer said the expense for Hall covered five or six days in January, 1944, and included four to six people.

"Why were you paying these bills for Col. Hall and charging it up to aircraft?" Ferguson wanted to know.

"Here we go again," Meyer said. "Business."

He has contended time and again in his appearances, starting last Friday, that he entertained freely, and that he was instructed by Hughes to charge such entertainment to Hughes aircraft. He reiterated again today that he kept his accounts "loosely."

Meyer read into the record a long list of smaller sums he said he spent on Hall in the same period. Ferguson asked how Meyer learned that Hall had taken over from Roosevelt. Meyer said possibly through the Hughes company.

"Did you spend any money on Hall prior to this time?" Ferguson asked.

"I don't think so," Meyer replied.

He added that the entertainment occurred in Los Angeles. Ferguson asked how Hall happened to be in Los Angeles.

"He obviously was there to look over our plant," Meyer said.

One of the Hughes contracts was a $22,000,000 one for reconnaissance planes. Ferguson read items of $48.65, $10 and $5 for dinner and tips at the Beachcombers Hotel, and $12 for lunch at Romanoff's.

Ferguson said it was not clear whether the total bill covered entertainment for Hall alone, and Meyer agreed that "it definitely is not clear."

Ferguson—But it all is charged to Hughes aircraft.

Meyer—Right.

Ferguson—Whom was it for if it wasn't for Hall?

Meyer—I can't remember. As I have said before, I kept accounts loosely and (recorded) the dates and the money to the best of my knowledge.

Ferguson—I see some entertainment down at the bottom here for girls. Why was that charged to Hughes aircraft?

Meyer—Thats' what I am trying to figure out myself.

When Hughes reached Washington, he told reporters he was ready to repeat under oath "Everything I have said" about the investigation of his contracts.

Truman's Trip

complex and unwieldy" that there is "grave danger that it would impede rather than promote the government's efforts to encourage scientific research."

The bill would have established a national science foundation as an independent agency to promote research in national defense and other fields, abolishing the present office of scientific research and development.

It would have had responsibility for developing a national policy for encouraging basic research and education in the mathematical, medical, physical and other sciences, as well as those related to defense.

He said government expenditures for scientific research and development now amount to hundreds of millions of dollars a year.

"Under present world conditions, this work is vital to our national welfare and security," Mr. Truman said. "We can not afford to jeopardize it by imposing upon it an organization so likely to prove unworkable.

In another sharp criticism of the legislation, the President said the qualifications prescribed for foundation members would mean most of them would have been people employed by organizations eligible for grants.

"Thus," he asserted, "there is created a conflict of interest which would inevitably give rise to suspicions of favoritism regardless of the complete integrity of the members of the foundation."

Hughes Accuses

template that anyone who has been in public life as long as I have—in the state legislature, as governor, in the house and the senate—could, on such short acquaintance with Hughes x x x make so bald a proposition as he here describes.

"It sounds more like Hollywood than it does Washington."

Pausing for a few seconds, Brewster said:

"I can assure you that I never did."

Hughes told the committee that Brewster made the offer to drop the hearings "in so many words" at a luncheon in Brewster's hotel suite here the week of Feb. 10, 1947.

"During that lunch," Hughes testified, "the senator in so many words told me that the hearings need not go on if I agreed to merge the TWA airline with Pan American and agreed to go along with the bill for a single overseas airline."

Brewster has denied any direct or indirect connection with Pan American. He had been favorable to legislation which would set up a single overseas airline as the "chosen instrument" of the government. Hughes made his charge only after a long exchange with Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) of the subcomittee conducting the hearings.

When Hughes took the stand at 1:42 P. M. (EST), he first asked more time to read testimony he had given previously in closed-door sessions of the committee.

Ferguson told him the committee was ready to hear the "side issue" of Hughes' transcontinental argument with Brewster.

"Is it your desire to go into this matter now?" he asked Hughes.

"It is not my desire, but I am willing to go ahead," Hughes replied.

"We have no desire to force you to do this," Ferguson said.

"You don't have to force me," the airplane builder retorted. "I am very happy to go into it."

He said he had "made statements to the press" about Brewster, the chairman of the full senate committee, and he stands by those. He asked, however, to be permitted to call witnesses of his own choosing and to cross-examine Brewster.

"The committee won't give Senator Brewster the right to cross-examine you nor will you have the right to cross-examine him," Ferguson said. He added that Hughes could submit written questions to be asked Brewster when the latter takes the stand.

"That involves a certain delay, there," Hughes said.

"Yes," conceded Ferguson, "but the committee is accustomed to delay."

Hughes said he didn't want to "launch into this matter and have my hands tied."

Ferguson promised to consider calling any witnesses Hughes might name, as soon as his own appearance on the stand has been completed.

Hughes related that he conferred with Juan Trippe, head of Pan American and promised to give Trippe his answer on Merger in 30 days.

After conferring with Trippe, Hughes said he asked Noah Dietrich, vice president of Hughes Tool Co., to go into the details of the merger proposition.

"Dietrich reported that he didn't think it would be possible to make an equitable transaction with Mr. Trippe," Hughes testified. "I then told Dietrich to drop the matter there, at least for the time being."

The lanky plane manufacturer said that next, Francis Flanagan, assistant counsel for the War Investigating Committee, came on the scene at the Hughes plant in California and started "acting very tough."

"It was apparent to me from the timing it was the application of screws x x x after my failure to accede to the wishes of Mr. Trippe," Hughes said.

He said he wanted to correct a statement by Brewster that "it was my own idea for Mr. Flanagan to come to the coast."

He found a discussion of that in the record of the secret session, Hughes continued, and found that it came up after a talk about the number of man-hours spent on preliminary design on his 200-ton flying boat.

"It was for some such detail that I suggested that the committee send investigators to the coast," he said.

When Flanagan arrived, Hughes asserted "he wanted to go into Johnny Meyer's expenses account, and he said he knew there had been a $100,000 payoff on the plane, and 'What about it?'"

In reply to a question, he said he does not recall when Flanagan showed up, but that "I know the timing was such I felt the two were definitely connected."

Hughes said "I have naturally been jealous of my reputation, and there is no question that the threat of publicity was a powerful weapon."

"I was exhausted fighting Mr. Trippe's political maneuvers in Washington," Hughes declared, and suggested they get together, so Trippe came to the coast.

nue, and is known as the Geneva or Mims Road. Recently a section of this road was completed east from the Lake Jessup Bridge through Geneva to Mims. There are two proposed routes for tying in the completed section from the Lake Jessup Bridge with the present highway west of Sanford.

"One route proposes to take the road from the Lake Jessup Bridge along the river to Lake Monroe, thence along the lake, through the swamps, and connect with our Lakeshore Boulevard, and over part of the State Road No. 17 to the town of Lake Monroe, then southwesterly to the present state road. This will require a lot of expensive filling, and it might be reasonable to assume that considerable delay would be encountered because of the great expense.

"Another proposed route is to go directly west on Geneva Avenue past the Country Club to a point near Twin Lakes, then northwesterly into the present road near Wilson's Corner. This route would open up new territory, would result in putting more values on the tax books, would be a shorter route, and would not throw additional traffic into our Lakeshore Boulevard, which is crowded with through north and south travel.

"Our Senators and Representatives have done some good work in getting the road completed as far as it is, so let's be on our toes and help push through to a speedy completion this link of the Cross State Highway."

equipment from virtually every greater Miami department. "we couldn't fight the fire because there was not enough water." He said exploding gasoline caused intense heat and prevented firemen from working in close to the blaze.

The buildings were used as repair hangers and storage facilities for the Air Transport Maintenance Company, the Peninsular Air Transport Co., and several smaller charter lines.

Marshall Kidwell, a mechanic for one of the charter airlines who turned in the alarm about 2:00 A. M., told firemen that "there was a small flash of light on the wing of the A-26 which quickly enveloped the whole plane. I ran for a fire extinguisher, but the flames were out of control."

Daniel McLaughlin, also an airport employee, said that "an explosion accompanied the first flashes of fire and within a few minutes flames were leaping in every direction in the hanger."

Chase said that at least two fire engines were scorched by the blaze which raged uncontrolled until nearly 6:00 A. M.

No rain of consequence was in immediate prospect for most of the dry midwest topsoil, now generally depleted of moisture by three days of temperatures ranging from the high 90s to well above 100 degrees. Pastures were reported drying up and hay crops reduced. Corn has fired in at least a few areas.

Army Gets New System Of Promotions

Truman Signs Measure Providing Advancement By Merit, Not Seniority

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Army's archaic system of promotion by seniority went out the window today with President Truman's signing of legislation setting up a permanent promotion-by-merit program for the Army and the Navy.

One of the lengthiest and most complicated measures enacted by the 80th Congress at is first session, the legislation is the outgrowth of months of study by committees.

In addition to setting up a new promotion system for the Army and tightening the Navy's existing advancement system, the bill cuts down on the number of high-ranking officers in both services and abolishes in peacetime the wartime rank of five-star officer. However, it does not effect the rank of the eight officers now holding five-star rank.

Affecting directly or indirectly the status of an estimated 175,000 officers in both services, the legislation is intended to encourage the better-qualified men and to weed out through a process of elimination those unfit for command.

It will take several years for the entire new program to get into full operation, for some parts of the new law don't become effective until after 1951 though most are effective immediately.

The new plan provides for promotion of officers by selection in the lower ranks, with boards

Jewish Leaders In Palestine Order 3 Hour Work Stop

JERUSALEM, Aug. 7, (AP)—Jewish leaders decreed a complete three-hour work stoppage this afternoon in protest against the internment by British authorities of three Jewish mayors and some 40 other Jews for the avowed purpose of checking terrorism.

Violence continued meanwhile. British authorities announced that 12 oil tank cars were wrecked by a mine explosion at Ras El Ain, between Tel Aviv and Haifa. The blast ripped up 300 yards of railway track, but caused no casualties, the announcement said.

An extraordinary meeting of Vaad Leumi (the Jewish National Council) and other leaders decided upon the work stoppage in the Jewish areas of the Holy Land. They ordered all Jewish traffic halted and all Jewish shops, restaurants and places of amusement closed from 2:00 P. M. to 5:00 P. M.

The leaders at the same time called for the abolition of emergency regulations and the reestablishment of the supremacy of civil

Plant Roof Collapses In Miami Downpour

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 7, (AP)—A heavy downpour caused the roof of a building to collapse here today but no one was injured because the proprietor was delayed by the rain.

Seven employees arrived at the Miami Citrus Packing Co. plant at 7:30 A. M. while rain was pouring in torrents. The door was locked, so they took shelter under an awning across the street.

A few minutes before the owner arrived with the key to let them in, the roof collapsed with a roar.

The Weather Bureau said 4.09 inches of rain fell in 2 1/2 hours.

Indonesians Ask U.S. Delegate To Visit Nation

America Is Urged To Use Influence To Get Arbitration

By HARRIS JACKSON

JOGJAKARTA, Java, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Indonesian Republic "cordially accepted" today the United States offer of its good offices in the Indonesian dispute with the Netherlands.

Premier Amir Sjarifoeddin asked the U. S. government immediately to send a representative by plane to this Republican capital, "in order that the Republican government may more fully acquaint the U. S. representative with its official point of view." No U. S. State Department representative ever has visited Jogjakarta.

The premier, in a statement broadcast by the Jogjakarta radio, urged the United States to "use its influence with the Netherlands government and in the (United Nations) Security Council" to obtain acceptance of the Indonesian proposal that an international arbitration commission be dispatched to Indonesia without delay.

The statement, addressed to U. S. Consul General Walter A. Foote in Batavia, said that if the Security Council, through an international commission, could settle the dispute, "the United DADE CITY, Fla., Aug. 7, (AP)—A circuit court jury deliberated only 28 minutes today before convicting Arthur Berry, Jacksonville Beach magazine salesman, of killing Willie Mae Benton, 14-year-old schoolgirl.

The conviction carries an automatic sentence of death in the electric chair.

Barry's mother, Mrs. Harold Berry began sobbing and half collapsed in her chair where she had been sitting at her son's side during the trial.

Judge John U. Bird recessed court immediately upon receiving the jury's verdict.

Large Cuban City Shaken By 6 Quakes

HAVANA, Aug. 7, (AP)—One man died of a heart attack and 30 persons suffered injuries as the city of Santiago was shaken six times yesterday afternoon and last night by earthquakes.

The populace of Cuba's second city (pop. 120,000) remained out of doors all night in fear that their homes would collapse. Most of the city's houses showed cracks today as a result of the earth's movement.

The first tremor was felt at 3:02 P. M. (EST) yesterday and the last at 12:45 A. M. today.

Most of the injuries were classified as light.

The tremors were felt throughout Oriente province, but with less intensity than in Santiago. Among cities reporting effects from the quake were Guantanamo, Bayamo, Palma, Soriano, Antilla, Baire, Contramaestre, Sagua, Detanamo and Central Tacajo.

The buildings reported most damaged in Santiago include a hospital and an art school. The walls of some private homes collapsed.

New SHS Bandmaster Reveals Plans And Urges Civic Backing

Bandmaster

B. E. Black, who served as a bandmaster in the Pacific Theater and who intends to make the Sanford school band second to none in the state.

B. E. Black, who resigned his position as leader of the Columbia High School band at Lake City in order to organize a large band at Seminole High School, today announced that it his intention to build up a 100 piece school band, and urged that pupils, the Chamber of Commerce and civic organizations aid in making the project a success.

The band will not be limited alone to high school students but may include those from the Junior High and Grammar School, he said.

He declared that when he came out of the Marines and branched [illegible] idea of a [illegible] and Lake City that he found little or no interest in such a project in that town of 6,000 population. At that time they had a school band of only eight pieces, he said.

The Lake City Chamber of Commerce, the Kiwanis Club, Rotary Club, the American Legion and the V. F. W. got behind the band idea, he revealed, and parent formed a band boosters club.

In the district competition at St. Augustine, the band made the district "first" division right up with Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Palatka and Gainesville, he pointed out.

It takes time to build up a good band he declared, but it can be done in Sanford as elsewhere. He told of how James O'Neal, present bandmaster at Fort Pierce schools, went into Eustis a few

Briton Says Crisis Caused By U.S. Prices

137,000 Additional Cut In Armed Forces Announced By British Official

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A British official blamed rising American prices and "the rapidly increasing surplus of U. S. exports over U. S. imports" today for the sudden worsening of Britain's economic crisis.

Britain's plight is linked to a "worldwide dollar famine" caused by America's selling to foreign countries more than twice as much as she buys, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Hugh Dalton, told the House of Commons.

Dalton was replying to criticisms by Conservatives and Left wing Socialists that the Labor government "squandered" the $3,750,000,000 U. S. loan that Prime Minister Attlee's new workmore and eat less program promised "too little, too late."

Dalton disclosed that because of Canada's dollar shortage the United Kingdom has agreed to pay dollars from the U. S. loan for [illegible] of its Canadian purchases and draw on its Canadian credit for the other 50 percent of the costs.

The Army, Navy and air force will be cut to 870,000 men by the end of next year, Dalton said.

Dalton told the House that the service manpower figure of 1,007,000 by the end of next March, announced yesterday by Prime Minister Attlee, "is not to be regarded as a target but as a milestone which we are determined to leave behind as rapidly as circumstances will allow."

Attlee's end-of March figure was a cut of 80,000 below previous estimates. The end of the year figure announced by Dalton represents a further cut of [illegible] during 1948.

Thousands Of Auto Industry Workers Idle

DETROIT, Aug. 7, (AP)—Approximately 5,000 Briggs Manufacturing Co. employees were sent home today and the OPackard Motor Car Co. notified some 1,500 workers that final assembly operations will not be resumed until next Tuesday as worker absenteeism hampered car body production in two Briggs plants today.

Briggs reported that its Conner Avenue plant was closed after 112 of the plant maintenance force failed to report for work today and that 900 workers were absent from its Mack Avenue plant. Briggs sent 1,800 home from the Conner plant and 3,800 from the Mack Avenue unit.

Closing of the Conner plant cut off Packard's supply of bodies.

A Briggs spokesman said the absenteeism generally was attributed to the heat, which he said inside the factories registered 85 degrees. No worker comment was available.

Shortly before noon Chrysler Corp. reported that 900 workers in its Lynch Road gear and axle plant and a like number of De Soto division employees had left their jobs declaring it was "too hot to work." Official readings at the time placed the outside temperature at 88 degrees.

Meanwhile 55,000 Ford, Lincoln and Mercury hourly-rated workers began a lay-off expected to last at least until next Tuesday, attributed by the Ford management to the strike of 7,000 workers at the Murray Corporation of America plant.

Car Fire Attributed To Visiting Smoker

W. A. Morrison, Ford dealer, today attributed the fire that started in his new Ford sedan Saturday evening while he was in the baseball park to someone getting into the car, sitting down and then leaving a lighted cigarette. He declared that he did not smoke himself.

State Highwayman L. C. Bender using a portable fire extinguisher, kept the blaze under control until the Fire Department arrived to fully extinguish it, said Mr. Morrison.

VISITING ENGINEER

Wiley Gillespie of the Jacksonville engineering firm of Smith and Gillespie today conferred with City Commissioners and Mayor H. J. Gut in regard to City utilities, said City Manager H. N. Sayer.

Mr. Gillespie was on his way to Winter Park and declared that he will return here soon to check on utility projects, principally at the City pump station where new Diesel engines are being installed.

Hughes Hits Brewster Over Airline Hostess; Declares It's All Lies

Plane Manufacturer Asks To Cross Examine Senator On War Time Contract

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Howard Hughes shouted today that testimony of Senator Brewster (R-Me.) before the Senate War Investigating Committee "is a pack of lies and I can tear it apart if I am allowed to cross question him."

The lanky Hollywood film producer and flier hurled that declaration at Brewster as he took the stand for the second day in the committee's inquiry into Hughes $40,000,000 wartime aircraft contracts.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.), presiding at the hearing under control of a subcommittee, demanded first of Hughes and then of Brewster if they had any written questions ready for each other.

Ferguson said that under rules of the subcommittee questions must be submitted in advance in writing.

Hughes flushed. He reached into an envelope and pulled out several long sheets of writing.

"I want to make it very clear those are not all," Hughes began. "Furthermore, the testimony yesterday of Senator Brewster is a pack of lies and I can tear it apart if I can be allowed to cross question him."

The audience, packing the Senate caucus room, applauded when Hughes demanded to know whether Ferguson would submit in advance to him (Hughes) any written questions Brewster supplied.

Banging on the table, Ferguson ordered the room cleared of spectators.

U.S. General Probes Red Plant Seizure

VIENNA, Aug. 7, (AP)—Lieut. General Geoffry Keyes, American member of the four power control commission for Austria, requested an explanation today for Russian seizure of the Lobau Refinery to Vienna.

U. S. Army headquarters said Keyes, in a letter to Col. General V. V. Kourasov, the Russian member of the council, asserted that if Soviet military forces had seized the oil works in the capacity of trustee pending agreement on a definition of German assets in Austria for inclusion in the Austrian peace treaty then the action could be "understood."

If that were so, the U. S. general said, "I should appreciate a letter from you to that effect."

"But" the letter continued, "if the refinery has been seized as a German asset without awaiting completion of discussions or resolutions of differences either within the Austrian Treaty Commission or the Council of Foreign Ministers, the action cannot be understood or accepted."

4 Die As Plane Shoots Down Into Oil Plant Chimney

Flaming Waste Gas Burner Swallows Up New Englanders

EVERETT, Mass., Aug. 7 (AP)—A small airplane plunged out of a fog-shrouded sky early today into a flaming waste-gas burner of a monster oil plant, carrying to fiery death the ship's four socially prominent occupants as the pilot apparently thought he was shooting down into brightly-lit Boston Airport.

The dead were:

Thomas Mandell, 46, treasurer of the Carrier-Mandell Air Conditioning Corporation of Boston and son of the late George S. Mandell, publisher of the old Boston Transcript.

Mandell's two debutante daughters, Anne, 22, and Harriet, 19, both of Boston.

Pilot Nelson Pell, 42 year-old veteran flier and member of a socially prominent Long Island, N. Y., family.

Flying the Mandells back from Montreal, Pell is believed to have become lost in the murky early morning fog and to have mistaken the lights flaring atop huge gasoline stills of the Beacon Oil Company for those of an airport, fire officials said.

Witnesses said that the small Stinson aircraft, its motors silent, dropped into the mouth of the chimney-like furnace "like a dead pigeon" after narrowly missing several towering tanks containing high explosive petroleum products.

The furnace, resembling a huge brick silo, rises about 50 feet in

Four-Day Heat Wave In Midwest Breaks As Deaths Reach 69

By the Associated Press

Thundershowers and cooling breezes cut further into the Midwest's worst heat wave of the year today after deaths from the four days of 100-degree temperatures had risen to at least 69.

"The heat wave is definitely broken at Chicago and all points North and West and is being broken eastward," the Weather Bureau said after a shower at Chicago early today tumbled the mercury from 81 to 72 within a few minutes.

Elsewhere, though, the forecaster said continued high temperatures could be expected today, particularly from southeastern Michigan southward through Indiana, across southern Illinois and throughout the southern Plains States.

At Joliet, Ill., about 40 miles south of Chicago, a brief but heavy downpour was accompanied by strong winds which blew down many trees and disabled the city's power service. Some homes and automobiles were damaged by the falling trees.

A high reading of 101 degrees yesterday gave Chicago its hottest three-day period since July, 1911. On each of the three days, the mercury climbed to 100 or more.

Yuma, Ariz., reported the nation's highest temperatures yesterday, 113 degrees. Phoenix in the same state had 112.

Other points reporting 100 or more included: Fresno, Calif. and Advance, Mo. 106; Batesville, Ark., and Paris, Tenn., 105; St. Louis, Mo., Shreveport, La., and Effingham, Ill. 104, Little Rock, Ark., and Pelleston, Mich. 103, Nashville, Tenn. 101, Grand Rapids and Traverse City, Mich. 100.

Operations Begin On St. Johns Project

Dredging operations designed to deepen the St. Johns River from Palatka to Sanford to a 12 foot depth were started this morning by the dredge "Ventura" of the Hill Dredging Company near Dunn's Creek six miles south of Palatka, it was announced this morning by Edward Higgins, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

With the signing of a bill for an additional appropriation of $300,000 last week for this work, a total of $600,000 is now available for the project, Mr. Higgins said.

Dares Senator To Repeat UnderOath His Charge Hostess Was Afraid Of Hughes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Howard Hughes today challenged Senator Brewster (R-Me.) to repeat under oath a press statement by Brewster that an airline hostess was afraid to travel alone with Hughes in his private plane.

The plane manufacturer issued the challenge after inviting the Senate War Committee to stack against each other the records of Brewster and Hughes for "telling the truth."

Hughes referred to the airline hostess incident as a "smear campaign." And he said the Senators ought look after their reputations when deciding whether he or Brewster is telling the truth in their controversy over an airlines merger proposition.

With both under oath, Hughes has charged and Brewster has denied that the Senator once offered to call off the Senate investigation of Hughes' $40,000,000 wartime plane contracts if he (Hughes) would agree to merge his Trans-World Airlines with Pan American.

Hughes said that after he had revealed that his private airplane carried Brewster and Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) from Washington to Columbus, Ohio, last February, Brewster told newsmen in Washington that a TWA hostess of this ride had confided that "she absolutely refused to be alone with me."

"I wonder why it was necessary to bring the name of this girl into this," Hughes said.

Then he offered a sworn affid-

Employers Help National Guard Enlistment Drive

Enlistment in the National Guard is being encouraged by many large employers in this and other communities of the nation, Brig. General J. C. Hutchison revealed today, when he announced a plan whereby employees of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and the Winn Lovett Grocery Company might enlist in the guard without jeopardizing their regular vacations or their customary pay while on maneuvers.

Both of these concerns, it was announced have agreed to give their employees time off for summer encampments in addition to their regular vacations and to reimburse them during this military training period, assumed to be five days this year and two weeks next year, for the difference between their regular pay and the amount they recieve from the government.

This program has been adopted by the companies in order to

Hughes Inquiry

jumped up in the audience.

He spoke out clearly:

"I speak for the audience." Then, on its behalf, he promised that those attending the hearing would remain quiet.

"We want to hear this as American citizens," he declared.

The young man said he was Leonard Small, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a student at George Washington University here.

Capitol police, moving forward to carry out Ferguson's instructions to clear the room, hesitated. One of them said to Small "You won't speak for anyone," and then moved forward — apparently to oust Small first of all.

Ferguson intervened.

"Don't put him out for saying he is an American citizen," he said.

Then Ferguson said he was relying on Small's promise the audience would remain quiet and recalled his instructions for police to clear the room.

Brewster went back to the chair to answer a series of written questions Hughes gave to Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) of the Senate sub-committee.

In his replies, Brewster:

1. Acknowledged that he had eaten at least "three breakfasts in the last few months" at a special residence maintained here by Pan-American Airways as a guest center for officials and employees.

But the Maine Senator insisted this could not be termed the "Pan American Palace" and instead waved photographs of what Brewster called "TWA's palatial" home and swimming pool.

2. Agreed that Sam Pryor, a vice president of Pan American and former Connecticut Republican national committeeman; is a close friend of his.

3. Said it was true that he had spent two Thanksgiving vacations of about one week each at a home Pryor has at Hobe Sound, Fla. Brewster said Pryor was not there and he (Brewster) had purchased his own food and borne all expense.

4. Acknowledged that he once accepted free transportation in Pan American's specially private airliner from Washington to Raleigh, N. C. He said he went to Raleigh to confer with the late Senator Bailey (D-NC) at Bailey's request about aviation legislation.

Brewster also repeatedly hit at Hughes' story of a "proposition" for a merger.

"The suggestion that I held a whip over Mr. Hughes is ridiculous," he declared.

New Army System

of officers determining the qualifications twice in succession, authors of the bill said, will automatically drop an officer from the service.

Heretofore the Army has promoted its officers largely through a seniority system, a man's rank usually being contingent upon his length of service rather than his qualifications. The Navy has followed a system of selection, with modifications, for years.

In its report on the bill, the House Armed Services Committee said it will bring more rapidly to the top youthful officers with proved ability and "will offer careers satisfactory enough to attract capable men, promising enough to hold in service the capable men, already in uniform, and economical enough to be acceptable from a budgetary standpoint."

One of the major provisions of the new act is a limitation on four-star officers. It limits the peacetime military establishment to 14 four-star officers after July 1, 1948, five for the Army, four for the Navy, four for the Air Corps and one for the Marine Corps. In addition the President's chief of staff would hold four-star rank while serving in that capacity.

There would be three-star officers, 23 in the Army, 14 in the Air Corps, 2 in the Marine Corps and 23 in the Navy. The Army would have 122 two-star generals and 202 one-star generals.

Until such time as the armed services' strength reaches the levels prescribed by permanent law, the new law continues the present system of temporary promotions for temporary-duty officers.

For the Navy, the legislation introduces for the first time the selective system of promotion in the grade of admiral. Hereafter, an officer of admiral rank must justify his retention in that rank after each four years of service.

One result of that change, the committee said, will be to permit outstanding officers to become admirals at an earlier age by weeding out the older men ahead of them who can't qualify to retain their status.

The bill also allows the promotion of especially well-qualified men in advance of average officers.

Another change is the introduction of limited duty officers into the Navy system. These officers will come from enlisted men and warrant offices ranks only. They may rise as high as commander, but will be assigned to specialized duties not competitive with general line officers.

The new law provides for commissioning of all officers in the regular Army rather than in a branch of the Army, such as the Infantry. This will permit the transfer of officers within branches.

Indonesia Request

Nations would be creating a much needed precedent to prove to the world its authority can stop war and settle disputes." It said that United Nations arbitration offered the only hope of settlement.

Sjarifoeddin earlier said he hoped that such a commission would be made up of the United States, Great Britain, Australia, India and the Philippines and perhaps Siam.

"The government and people of the Republic of Indonesia are fully prepared to submit to a decision in which arbitration is recommended as the primary means to settle the dispute," the government statement said.

The Netherlands army asserted today that it had suffered 22 casualties in truce violations by the Indonesians since Monday midnight and officials of the Republic voiced counter accusations that the Dutch had committed new breaches of the cease fire order.

A Dutch communique said four new violations of the order halting hostilities had occurred in Java and Sumatra, and that such actions in the last three days had cost them four dead, 17 wounded and one missing.

Premier Amir Sjarifoeddin of the Republic declared in Jogjakarta that Dutch forces had moved four miles nearer the Republican capital yesterday and that preparations were under way to transfer governmental functions to Bukittinggi, in Sumatra, if necessary.

In making this announcement, General Hutchison urged that other employers should consider the merits of this proposition and the importance of the National Guard to the maintenance of law and order and the security of the nation.

The three mayors rounded up by the British are Israel Rokach of Tel Aviv, Oved Ben Ami of Natanya and Abraham Krinitzi of Ramat Gan. They are being held at the Latrun detention camp with the other arrested Jews, most of whom are members of the Right Wing Revisionist party. The Jews were arrested under emergency regulations and no specific charges have been lodged.

Chinese In Position To Defeat Red Army

NANKING, Aug. 7—(AP)—Air-supported government troops in western Shantung province forced units of Red General Liu Po-Cheng's army back against the flood-swollen Yellow River today while government forces in eastern Shantung increased pressure along the Tsingtao-Tsinan railway.

Military observers said government commanders had every opportunity to inflict a major defeat on the Communists in the West because the Yellow River was now five miles wide and few boats were available.

Airline Hostess

avit by Harriett Applewick, a TWA hostess, which termed the Brewster charges "absolutely untrue."

The big crowd at the hearing laughed when Hughes added that he "never carried a hostess" along on his private plane.

He explained that Miss Applewick was along from Washington to Columbus to "serve meals to the two senators." Hughes said he had never seen the TWA hostess before the Ohio trip and had never seen her since."

He asked that Senator Brewster be requested to answer this question:

"Are you willing to state under oath whether you made the statement to the press?"

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) accepted affidavits of Miss Applewick and M. E. Bell, captain of the Hughes ship, and indicated Brewster would get a chance to reply later.

The hearing was punctuated by frequent flare-ups of temper. Once, Ferguson accused Hughes of "trying to discredit" the committee.

The outburst from the chairman of the Senate War Investigating subcommittee came after Hughes during a turbulent session in the witness chair:

Accused the committee of being "unfair" by firing cross questions at him but not at Senator Brewster (R-Me) who Hughes charges once attempted to "blackmail" him into agreeing to an airlines merger.

Called a "pack of lies" Brewster's denial that there is any truth in the "blackmail' story.

Finally, Ferguson flared up.

"We appreciate that what you are trying to do here indicates clearly you are trying to discredit the committee," Ferguson said in measured phrases. "That means the integrity of the United States Senate is at stake."

He told the multi-millionaire plane manufacturer that he cannot control the committee "by your great wealth."

Near Sweetwater Park entrance, the Ben Joneses' (Louise and Ben) new bungalow is going up in a hurry. The Joe Beasley, Jrs. are making rapid progress on theirs in the new sub-division at Sweetwater Park. Pete and Novella Aulin plan to start laying the blocks on theirs next to Louise and Joe's next week. The Rev. and Mrs. J. N. Thompson, who were burned out last Thanksgiving day, are now enjoying the comforts of their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Carraway have returned from Daytona Beach, but plan to be off for another destination in a couple of weeks.

The newly created Evening Circle of the W.S.C.S. held their monthly meeting Monday evening at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Lionel W. Nelson. Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Lionel W. Nelson, Donald Leinhard and W. A. Teague. Officers elected were: Chairman, Mildred Ulrey (Mrs. D. R.); Vice-chairman, Virginia Staley (Mrs. Merritt). Secretary, Katherine Teague (Mrs. W. BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

BUT SOME HAVE NOT EVEN LISTENED, NOR CARED TO HEAR WHAT GOD HAS TO SAY TO US: Whatsoever God hath said unto thee do.—Gen. 31:16.

ANATOMY
(From Biologia)

Hands one can understand—they hold
And move, caress, and grasp and bleed;
They are hard, they are warm or cold,
They are soft; and for the blind they can read.
Faces too are within man's ken,
And so are lips and eyes and brow;
They have their mysteries, but then
One can always touch them, here and now.
But what of that ineffable
Which by a single sound is broken
Whose habitat is neither skull
Nor vein, and whose word is never spoken?
How frail is man' humility,
How stout his arrogance, to know
But half of his anatomy
And rest thereon his happiness and woe.

PAUL H. OEHSER

The population of Shanghai, China, in case you are interested, is 4,274,486. We'll bet you didn't have any idea it was so large.

As if to show how democratic Japan has become, Emperor Hirohito took his wife to a baseball game the other day. That is supposed to prove something or other, but we are not quite sure just what.

The United States has paid its respects to Hungary, something which wouldn't be of very much importance if it were not for the fact that Hungary is, in a way, Russia. And Hungary has done no worse than Russia and is not nearly as responsible.

President Truman takes an optimistic view of the world situation. Speaking to a group of boys at an American Legion forum he said, "We will eventually wind up by having peace in the world, and by having people live as free individuals regardless of race, creed or color." He did not say, however, when "eventually" is.

Now the Egyptians are trying to run the British out of their country. They were glad enough to have them there, however, when Marshal Rommel was facing El Alamein. We think if we were the British we would get out of Egypt, India, Burma, and Palestine . . . for a while, and wait until we were invited back.

John Temple Graves says that there is such a thing as being "obnoxious whether you are innocent or guilty or something between. That's Elliott. It isn't just that he is so infantile, but that his childishness has this obnoxious quality." And when you add that obnoxiousness to a callow disregard for the ordinary decencies, you get, something, well, something that is very obnoxious.

There seems to be a difference of opinion among the experts. General MacArthur says that the atom bomb may be developed to the point where it will destroy the human race. And only a few days ago General Jacob Devers, commander of the Army ground forces, said that it probably would not be used at all in the next war. We remember shortly after the first World War when some experts were saying that poison gas or the next war would wipe out the human race; and when the war finally came, it was scarcely used at all, then not effectively. Though the atom bomb is a most effective weapon, said we are glad we have it, our advice to worried mothers is not to lose any sleep over it.

Lost Worlds

Is there a Lost World? Many remember the movie, based on Conan Doyle's story of that name, of a plateau abounding in dinosaurs and other prehistoric life, which a party of explorers found in the Amazon valley. There was this much possibility to it, that no one knows what is in much of the 5,000,000 square miles of jungle and swamp that make up the Amazon area and that of its tributaries.

To explore it adequately is a gigantic undertaking, worthy of a universal institution like the United Nations. So the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Exploration has taken this area as its first project. As if the Amazon were not enough, part of the upper Orinoco valley and British, Dutch and French Guiana will also be explored.

A lost world such as Doyle imagined is not likely to be found. There might be ruined cities, the products of unknown civilizations. Cities built by the Maya Indians centuries ago have been found in Central America, completely overgrown by the jungle.

More probable are prosaic but valuable data on natural resources, primitive tribes and natural history. As the world's largest unknown area, it must yield much new information.

Buying Black

Always unstable by its very nature, the black market in Berlin is now undergoing a re-organization, says David M. Nichol, writing from that city.

The fact that the United States has cut off the shipments of cigarets to the occupied zones, together with Russia's move to ship in large quantities of cheap cigarets, has just about removed that former item of currency. An end has been reached, also, to the supply of personal articles of value which the Germans have been using for black market trading.

Purchasing offices which the Russians have maintained for the buying of watches, jewelry and old gold have been closed without warning. Such small-scale operations are thus curtailed, but champagne, light bulbs, stockings and sugar still maintain their status and are carried between zones and between countries by the big operators.

This whole illegal, artificial set-up is a symptom of the economically diseased state of Germany. Only when production can be raised to somewhere near normal, and the recognized currency of the country will buy a reasonable amount of the necessities of life, will the black market, with all its evil effects, have a chance to die out.

Railroad Nicknames

Indiana has been celebrating the 100th birthday of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville Railroad. Not that one Hoosier in 1,000 knows it by this, its official title. To all it is the Monon, a by-name derived from an Indian word meaning "fast-running."

The Monon is not the only road whose real name is known to few. The New York, Chicago & St. Louis means little to many who live along the Nickel Plate. The Big Four is know as such far more widely than its official designation, the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis. And ten Westerners and Southerners speak of the Katy to one who refers to the Missouri, Kansas & Texas.

These names the railroads accept. They may have other ideas about the derisive renderings of their initials, as when the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western becomes the Delay, Linger & Wait. But that is another story.

Beyond The Big Power Veto

Christian Science Monitor

Again it is the Big Power veto. Again it is Russia exercising it. So the United Nations efforts to deal with the Greek crisis are once more frustrated.

This is the eleventh veto monkey wrench which Russia has thrown into the UN machinery. The bitterness of the American representative on the Security Council is therefore understandable. The feeling among other western members reflects to some extent the American impatience. This feeling is that the UN is increasingly menaced by Russia's unrestrained use of the Big Power veto.

The layman may ask whether Russia has not a right to employ its veto power. The right answer is that Russia has a legal right under the charter. But at San Francisco the Big Four pledged themselves to use the veto power sparingly.

The Big Power veto over peaceful settlements is not, however, quite so final as it seems. This, despite the fact that to the observer inexperienced in UN ways, every veto looks like the end of hope for a solution. Sometimes it even looks like the end of the UN itself.

But take the veto now in the news. It prevents the UN from adopting a United States-sponsored proposal to set up a permanent commission to watch the Greek border. But it does not end UN discussion of this need.

In fact, a proposal by Mr. Gromyko is due for debate in a day or two. Out of that debate a compromise might come, all earlier indications to the contrary. We make no such prediction. But the fact remains that the Russian veto alone does not necessarily write finis to UN efforts to deal with Greece.

It cannot prevent the United States from proceeding with the Truman program of aid to the Greek Government. This aid can still be used against the guerrilla attacks in which three Russian satellites have already been implicated by a UN inquiry. The Russian veto cannot prevent the United States from working within the UN at the same time to establish international restraints on the border raiders. It does not end the authority of the sub-commission which has been studying conditions along the Greek border.

What it does do is throw over the Greek crisis the long dark shadow of Big Power conflict. It is that aspect of the Russian veto which causes disquiet among friends of the UN. For if this is true in Greece cannot be disentangled from the power contest being waged at many points between Russia and the Western Allies. The UN may confront its decisive test in Greece.

It need not do so, however. As long as American power holds Greece together, American patience can afford time to hold the UN together. But the objective of this effort must not be simply to make the UN an arena for an American-Russian showdown. It was never intended for that.

The objective must be to preserve the UN intact in this period of sharp Big Power conflict. If that can be done, there is hope that the UN will one day find ways to deal with international disputes with a minimum of hindrance from the Big Power veto.

Odom Takes Off On Round World Flight To Break Record

CHICAGO, Aug. 7, William P. Odom, 37 year old former British ferry command officer, took off at 12:53 P. M. (CDT) today in his converted twin-engine Army bomber in an effort to halve the late Wiley Post's 1933 solo globe circling time record.

While a handful of spectators at Douglas Airport shouted good wishes, Odom, piloting the "Reynolds Bombshell," started off on the twice-postponed flight with a box of chicken sandwiches and some fresh oranges and tomatoes.

The plane, with about a two-thirds load of gasoline, gained altitude swiftly, circled the field, and headed toward Gander, Newfoundland, the first scheduled stop, aided by a 30 mile an hour tailwind.

Odom, who set a round-the-world flight record with a crew of 78 hours and 55½ minutes in April, is shooting for a 90 to 94 hour solo record.

Post's record, which still stands, was 186 hours.

The weather was reported good to Gander and if Odom makes a second tentative stop, it has been up Paris, he plans to land at Rome.

In a message shortly after the takeoff, Odom said he had attained a 220 mile an hour speed at 5,000 feet and had observed a solid overcast over Lake Michigan.

"It feels much better up here in the clear, cool air," he said. "It will be a routine flight to Gander. The takeoff was smooth and easy. I'll be back Sunday."

Election Issue In Britain Created By New Regimentation

DEWITTE MCKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

That was a most convincing speech which Socialist Prime Minister Attlee made in the House of Commons yesterday in dealing with England's economic crisis, convincing from the viewpoint that the politico-enomic system of this America of ours, the system that Britain forsook for Socialism, is the best of them all.

Mr. Attlee's explanations of the collapse, and the drastic remedies which he proposes, show clearly that his country's first all-out Socialist experiment has in the short period of two years arrived at the point of considerable governmental regimentation of the individual. In short, the royal road to Utopia has made a sharp turn toward a regime which certainly partakes, perhaps only temporarily, of totalitarianism.

Right here it should be said in fairness that the government has been saddled with many burdens inherited from the war. Of course former Prime Minister Winston Churchill says there will be no recovery from the country's present misfortunes until "the guilty men, whose crazy theories and personal incompetence have brought us down, have been driven from power by the votes of the nation." However, he is leader of the conservative opposition to the Attlee regime. Thrusting politics aside we note that Mr. Attlee made these striking admissions:

"I would agree that it might have been better if we had had a greater concentration of effort. Maybe we have tried to do too much in a short time.

"It may well be that we have relaxed controls too soon. There has been a failure on the part of some workers to realize that shorter hours and higher wages must be matched by greater effort."

And so because of this lack of realization, the Prime Minister said his government would have to take some measure of control over the employment of labor in order to stimulate production. He added:

"This will involve some sacrifice of individual liberty, though as little as possible. It may be necessary to take steps to limit employment on less essential work."

The government will take action against any industries operated with "inefficiency or lack of will."

Employees in the more essential industries will have to work longer, and coal miners will be asked to work half an hour a day additional.

Attlee appealed to workers not to press for increases of wages. He asked industry and commerce to refrain from declaring high dividends.

England's imports are to be cut down in a manner that will mean hardships for many people." Among other things there will be further food restrictions.

Its armed strength is to be reduced by 420,000 men from the present total of about 1,297,000. America will be asked to ease clauses in the loan agreement.

It is a gloomy picture which Attlee painted, but he faced the issue with determination and he stood by his Socialistic guns. At this early stage in his great political experiment he feels impelled to resort to regimentation, thereby most surely creating an issue upon which the next general election will be fought. That issue is: Will the British public stand for peace time regimentation?

New Telescope May Solve Question Of Life On Planets

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Newsfeatures

PASADENA, Calif.—United scientists of the 25th century have solved the problems of interplanetary travel, they'll probably still be using the $6,250,000, 200-inch telescope now nearing completion atop Palomar Mountain.

There's no better place on earth for a telescope of this magnitude says Dr. John A. Anderson, executive officer of the Observatory Council of the California Institute of Technology, in charge of the Palomar telescope project.

The moon might be a better spot for star gazing because it has no atmosphere. But as long science remain earth-bound Palomar will be important.

Atmosphere above Palomar is clear virtually every night of the year. The site is only 125 miles from Caltech, and a good paved road runs all the way to the top. Palomar Mountain itself is a solid block of granite, 30 miles long, 10 miles wide and 25 miles deep.

Even a severe earthquake would harly jar the telescope enough to knock the ashes off an astronomer's cigaret.

The mere fact that unborn generations of scientist are expected to rely heavily on the new telescope is one reason it has taken so long to build. It must be as nearly perfect as possible, and that takes time. The late Dr. George Ellery Hale, founder of Mount Wilson Observatory, first started working on the Palomar project 19 years ago.

Another reason was World War II. For five years the telescope was neglected while scientists turned their attention to weapons. The telescope was nearing completion when war broke out in Europe, says Dr. Anderson, "and would have been put in operation about the time of Pearl Harbor."

Greatest technical problem in building the telescope was the mirror. Structural work on the telescope—the instrument exclusive of the 20-ton mirror weighs 500 tons—was not even started until 1936, after scientists had assured themselves such a mirror could be made.

In 1929, Dr. Hale and his associates decided to try to mold the mirror of fused quartz. After two years of experimenting, a disk of fused quartz was poured, but it cracked while cooling. The $600,000 spent thus far on the project was written off as a loss and a manufacturer of ovenware glass (Pyrex) was authorized to try his luck.

Using a mixture of silica sand, soda and borax, this company started experimenting in 1931, pouring disks of various sizes from 26 inches on up to 200 inches. Not until December 2, 1934, did it succeed in pouring a satisfactory 200-inch disc. Ten months were required for it to cool and the disk was shipped 3,000 miles by train to Pasadena in 1936. The Caltech optical shop has spent the last 11 years—with time out for the war—grinding and polishing almost five tons of glass off the surface of the disk.

To reduce weight and provide greater structural strength, the mirror was poured with a waffle ribbed back. This ribbing causes the "honeycomb" effect readily noticable in photographs of the glass disk. A thin coating of aluminum will be spread on the reflecting side of the disk after it is moved to Palomar.

M. H. BROWN, optician in charge of the grinding of the mirror, says his crew now is within one-fifth wave-length of the goal. A short wave-length roughly is 1/100,000 of an inch. The goal is to polish the the mirror to within one-tenth wave-length of a perfect parabolid arc.

"We can't polish the mirror down to absolute perfection," admits Brown. "That would take another 100 years. Maybe longer."

New SHS Band

days ago and that small-city organized a school band that won national fame.

New instruments are needed, he asserted, especially basses, bassoons and percussion instruments. Mr. Smith today appealed to all civic groups to aid in securing these instruments.

Mr. Smith revealed that he had left his Lake City post in order to be near his parents who live in Longwood.

Plane Crash

the middle of the oil plant. The small plane was completely swallowed up as it dropped into the 20-foot wide "field burner."

An explosion rocked the area as the plane crashed. The body of one girl fell between the outer and inner walls of the great twin-walled brick and steel cylinder. The other three plunged into the red-hot flaming interior and were burned beyond recognition within a few minutes.

It was the third in a series of tragedies that has virtually wiped out one of New England's oldest and best known families. An elder brother died in action in World War I, shot down on the last American flight over German lines just before the Armistice. A younger was killed playing polo 12 years ago.

The Mandell plane was an hour and a half overdue at the Beverly airport, 16 miles away, when it crashed, leading fire officials to speculate Pell was attempting an emergency landing.

Any chance to save the quartet was hopeless. Waste gas being pumped into the furnace was quickly shut off and then, through emergency doors, workers dragged with long poles and hooks to recover the remains of the victims as the interior cooled.

Witnesses reported hearing a motor sputtering about a half mile from the Beacon Oil Plant said that it "just missed the Boston elevated structure grounds before plunging down the chimney.

The big Boston airport is just across Boston Harbor from the oil terminal. Several other airports are located in the vicinity.

Pell, who is a veteran transport pilot and formerly flew with the China National Airways, came to Massachusetts about three months ago to take charge of operations for the North Atlantic Airways.

Joseph Murphy, general manager of the Beacon Plant, said a possibly worse disaster was averted as the plane barely skimmed huge tanks storing hundreds of thousands of gallons of gasoline, naphtha, benzine, oil and tar.

Some employees at the oil plant said they saw a plane circling overhead before the crash, leading officials to speculate that Pell was looking for a place to land.

Had he flown just 10 feet to the left of the furnace chimney, they said, he would have landed in a pond "suitable for an emergency landing."

Ammonium Nitrate Is Banned In New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 7, (AP)—Fire Commissioner Frank Quayle has banned ammonium nitrate, the fertilizer ingredient that was on ships that exploded in the Texas City and Brest, France, disasters, from piers and warehouses of New York City.

Quayle said last night that the ban would be enforced against the nitrate "no matter what its mode of transportation — ship, rail, truck, plane or otherwise." He described it as "a commodity that is most hazardous to handle."

Tip from the Smart Sex

WHO is it that's first to spot—and quickest to go for—a really fresh new fashion idea when it comes along?

The ladies, of course!

And who is it that, according to careful surveys, put Buick far ahead of its price class and up among the lowest-priced three when they name the car of their innermost choice?

The fair sex—but naturally!

And who is it, when you come right down to it, that gets the most practical use from enough stirring Fireball power to handle the day's travel-jobs without strain and struggle?

Who relishes most the restful ease of wide, cushiony seats; and the blissful gentleness of all-coil springs that make rough roads well-mannered and good roads glass-smooth?

Who goes for a car big enough to be company-minded—yet light and easy enough in handling to park without a tussle, and flit shadow-light through market-hour traffic?

Who, good friends, has the family's smartest eye-for-a-buy—the shrewdest size-up of what's really good?

No one but the Lady of the Household!

So we toss out this thought to you menfolks:

Chances are that you've been hankering for the kind of thrill that lurks in this great-hearted, great-powered beauty.

You'd sort of like to get your hands on a car as big and mighty as this—if you thought the better half could be sold on it.

Take our tip—she's already sold. Favored as it is by red-blooded males, no Buick we've ever offered has won the smart sex quite like this one.

So why not pull a pleasant surprise some evening soon? Just come home and say, "Well, I placed an order for a Buick today. They're taking 'em with or without a car to trade."

Lady Graham Tells Of Scotch Gardens

AP Newsfeatures

NEW YORK—The Marchioness of Graham is in the United States on a post-war reverse lease-lend mission involving —exclusively— the gardens of Scotland.

Lady Graham, herself an ardent gardener at her estate at Fintry near Glasgow, came to the United States to attend the meeting of the Garden Club of America in Minneapolis. She carried the invitation of the Duchess of Gloucester to gardens of the British Isles and a notebook in which to jot down garden ideas which could be utilized in her native heath.

The big contribution to America by Lady Graham was her knowledge of "Scotland's Garden Scheme," under which a number of the famous estates including Glamis Castle and Balmoral were thrown open to the public for a fee. The profits—$92,000 last year —went to the support of the Scottish District Nursing Association.

"Scotch gardens have never been particularly famous," she told a small news conference recently. "while English gardens are famous the world over and there are many of them in the United States.

"But most of the famous English gardens have Scot gardeners —because they are the best there are."

Lady Graham explained that until about 50 years ago, the usual garden in Scotland was walled-in and sheltered, and that within the walls were grown vegetables, flowers and fruit.

"About 50 years ago expeditions to China and Tibet and other foreign lands resulted in bringing back plants we had never seen before in the British Isles," she continued. "We discovred, much to our surprise, that many of them thrived in Scotland."

In the warmer western part of the country, the gardeners developed rhododendron gardens and water gardens.

"And what's more palm trees and tree ferns grow beautifully there," she added.

In eastern Scotland, with its high ground and frost through April, all sorts of Alpine plants flourish richly.

The "Garden Scheme" was a boon during the war in stimulating interest in increasing the food supply, Lady Graham said.

"Most of the big estates were short a number of gardeners," she said. "At first we thought that we'd have to abandon the whole scheme because there just weren't enough people to keep gardens weed-free. Then we decided to go ahead with the scheme anyway because if a garden had been in perfect condition it would have looked very unpatriotic."

Among the most popular gardens are, of course, Balmoral which was one of Queen Victoria's favorite castles, and Glamis, (pronounced "Glams") which was started in the 11th Century, has a tradition-laden history, and was the family home of Queen Elizabeth before her marriage. Auchincruive and its hanging gardens originally belonged to the Oswald family, and was once the home of Richard Oswald who as minister plenipotentiary with the United States. ## Mae Conoley McCall Becomes Bride Of James Maxwell Alford In Lovely Ceremony

The First Presbyterian Church was the scene last night of the marriage of Mae Conoley McCall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet McCall of this city, to James Maxwell Alford, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rutledge Alford of Tallahassee. The candlelight ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock by Dr. E. D. Brownlee before a background of ferns, bamboo, palms and tall white baskets of white gladioluses. Graduated candelabra held burning white tapers which were lighted by Jimmy Fox and Edward McCall.

Prior to the ceremony Mrs. F. S. Vernay, organist, rendered "Ave Maria" and "O, Perfect Love". Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, soloist, sang "Beauty's Eyes". "Clair DeLune" and "Leibestraum" were softly played during the exchange of marriage vows and, following the ceremony "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Mrs. Roumillat. The traditional wedding marches were used.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of lace over ivory satin. The fitted bodice was made with a high neckline and had long leg-o-mutton sleeves. The voluminous skirt terminated in a long graceful train. Her full length veil of imported bridal illusion was attached to a coronet of seed pearls and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was white gardenias and orchids placed against a fan of white ostrich tips.

Mrs. Lee Moore served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. David Nusbickel of Winter Park, Miss Martha Perkins, Miss Nancy Collum and Miss Gene Caswell of Orlando. Mrs. Moore's dress was of yellow organza over taffeta. The fitted, shirred bodice was an off-the-shoulder design and the skirt was bouffant with ruffled panels extending from the waist to the hemline. She carried a yellow ostrich tip fan trimmed with yellow taliaman roses. The bridesmaids were all gowned in Nile green organza made identical to that of Mrs. Moore's. They carried chartreuse feather fans accented with Ixora. They all wore matching ostrich tips in their hair and long shirred gloves.

Mr. Rutledge served his son as best man and ushers were Julian R. Alford and Charles H. Alford of Tallahassee, David Nusbickel of Winter Park and Raymond G. Fox of Sanford.

Mrs. McCall, mother of the bride, wore a coral faille dress embroidered with crystal beads. Her corsage was of white roses. The mother of the groom, Mrs. Alford, was gowned in pale pink and sweetheart roses and gardenias formed her corsage.

A reception at the Mayfair Inn followed the wedding. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. R. G. Fox and shown to the receiving line. Palms, ferns and candelabra formed a background for the receiving line which was composed of Mrs. McCall, Mrs. Alford, the bride and groom, and the attendants. Miss Jane Thigpen presided over the bride's book. The bride's table was covered with a white Madeira cloth and centered with an arrangement of white asters, gladioluses and fern. This was flanked with five branched candelabra holding burning white tapers. The four-tiered wedding cake, served by Mrs. Hugh Whelchel, was placed at one end of the table. Another smaller table was centered with the white flowers and at each end was placed a cut glass punch bowl. Mrs. F. S. McCall, Mrs. James Ridge, Mrs. Edmund Meisch and Mrs. E. I. Hoy presided at the punch bowls during the evening.

Others assisting were Mrs. J. A. Harold, Mrs. J. D. Woodruff, Mrs. Roy Williams, Mrs. B. L. Perkins, Mrs. B. L. Perkins, Jr., Mrs. Richard Brown, Mrs. A. W. Lee, Mrs. J. C. She wore a white pin-tucked crepe blouse and white accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of lavender orchids.

Mrs. Alford graduated from Leon High School in Tallahassee and has been attending the Florida State University where she is a member of Chi Omega social sorority. ## Hints To Housewives

Weekly from Home Demonstration Specialist, Tallahassee

By ISABELLE S. THURSBY

The guava, the so-called apple of the tropics, grows and flourishes happily all over southern Florida. It grows well in nearly every type soil whether it is light and sandy or rich and heavy. Hence, Floridans are fortunate indeed in having such a valuable and dependable fruit growing and flourishing under a variety of conditions and spreading rapily from seed. No, the common guava does not come true from seed.

With the recent discovery of the heavy concentration of an important vitamin contained in the guava many Florida people are at last awakening to its remarkable potentialities and are making extensive plantings for commercial use.

During the war years, government agencies concerned with the nutrition of the men in military service purchased many tons of guava from Cuba. In fact, the entire Cuban crop was taken over in 1944. Puree was manufactured for fortifying canned cherries, berries, and other fruits and jams and jellies to a desired Vitamin C content. Large quantities were dehydrated. Allied troops were supplied with guava products in emergency rations to help maintain resistance against infection.

Tests show that a product made from this goodly fruit, guava powder, is so rich in Vitamin C that four ounces of it would protect an arctic explorer, for instance, from scurvy for almost three months. Does it not seem therefore, that Florida people should increase its cultivation and utilization for their own nutritional betterment?

Winter Furs Will Be In Low-Price Range

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

There's good news for working girls this year in the new budget-priced fur coats ready for the fall market. Modern science and furriers' skill combine to produce some new numbers that look like mutation minks but turn out to be muskrat.

Esther Dorthy, the light-hearted designer who up to now has specialized strictly in the fabulous, recognizes a trend of the times and turns up this season with a series of coats priced in the budget bracket but utilizing all the tricks she usually keeps up her sleeve for the platinum-plated trade.

Choosing muskrat as the most practical long-wearing of low-priced furs, Miss Dorthy puts it through various processes of plucking, bleaching and dying and produces coats ranging in tone from sable gray and nutria to ivory.

The coats come in lengths ranging from 38 to 45 inches, have softer, rounder shoulder lines, full cut backs, decorative buttons, gay linings—and sometimes attached hoods.

Celery Feds To Entertain DeLand Red Hats Tonight

Locals Split Twin Bill With A's Last Night; Tomac Hurls Outstanding Victory

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.
Herald Sports Editor

The fifth place Sanford Celery Fed ran/old one half game on the fourth place Orlando Senators last night by splitting a twin bill with the Palatka Azaleas at the Municipal Park. Sanford won the twilight affair, 7 to 2, and dropped the nightcap, 11 to 8.

Tonight the Feds entertain the DeLand Red Hats in a single till at the local ball orchard.

As the result of last night's tilts the Feds are resting four full games ahead of the Palatka A's and only three and one-half tilts behind the Solons.

Johnny Tomac went the route for the Feds in the opening contest and scattered effectively ten Azalea blows to chalk up the 7 to 2 victory.

Rookie righthander Jack McCammon opened on the hill for the locals in the finale but was relieved in the second canto by Van Kinnamon with the bases loaded and two men out. Kinnamon, stringbean southpaw, was recently acquired from the DeLand Red Hats.

Ralph Satterfield, Fed first sacker, was hit by a hot grounder off the bat of Al Pirtle in the ninth frame of the opening till. It is not believed that the injury is serious, however Satterfield may be out for a day or two in order to treat the painful bruise. Jerry Silverman will handle the initial sack duties while Satterfield is out.

The final till, saw Manager Johnny Tonsef send four hurlers to the hill in an attempt to stem the Fed tide. Three Azalea chunkers pitched in the final inning.

Centerfielder Dave Bridle paced the Fed attack as he pounded out four hits in seven trips during the evening.

Tonight Manager John Krider will probably name Carl Kettle, Fed knuckle ball artist, as the hurler to face the red hot DeLand Red Hats who are enjoying seven consecutive victories.

Plans For Player Night Well Under Way Says Palmer

Plans for the "Player Appreciation Night" to be held at the Municipal Park Saturday night when the Sanford Celery Feds meet the Orlando Senators are well under way and will be completed by tomorrow night, it was announced today by Floyd Palmer, chairman of the committee.

Palmer stated that the committee to aid in the event would be named and announced by tomorrow.

There will be no field events, and the program will consume not a few minutes, Palmer stated. We want to cut this to the bare necessities, but still give everyone an opportunity to share in the appreciation ceremonies, Palmer stated.

Sid Herlong Named President Of FSL

DeLand August 7 (Special)—League directors recognized the resignation of Al Com as president of the Florida State League here yesterday afternoon in a called meeting, and immediately named Judge Sidney Herlong, Jr. of Leesburg as his successor.

In addition to elevating Herlong, the directors elevated Earl Bussy of St. Augustine to the vice-presidency vacated by Herlong tagged a $50 fine on the Daytona Beach Baseball Association for failure to protect players from "vile and abusive language" uttered by fans.

The Lake County judge issued a firm warning to all clubs that failure of any association to protect visiting players from unsportsmanlike abuse would result in a simular penalty.

Clarks Return From 11,000 Mile Trip Through 33 States

O. W. Clark and family returned home Tuesday from an 11,000 mile trip to the Pacific coast during which they visited points of interest in 33 states, said Mr. Clark today. He declared that during the whole trip they "advertised Florida." They were accompanied to Long Beach, Calif., by Mrs. Annabelle Lee and Earl Lee who plan to live there. They left on June 30.

Mr. Clark reported that except in the west, he found prices of shoes and merchandise much higher than in Florida.

They visited Mt. Capulin in New Mexico, he said, Pike's Peak in Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, the Grand Canyon and Boulder Dam. In California they visited Hollywood and Los Angeles and vicinity and crossed the Golden Gate Bridge and visited Chinatown and other points of interest in San Francisco. They drove through the Redwood forest. In Oregon they saw the sea lion caves, he stated.

Other points of interest described by Mr. Clark were the Grand Coulee Dam in Washington, Vancouver, B. C., the Lewis and Clark caves in Montana, Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming including Old Faithful geyser, also bears, deer, elk and moose. They also saw the Black Hills in South Dakota.

State Employment Service Re-enters Agriculture Field

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 7 (Special)—The Florida State Employment Service has reentered the agricultural placement field, with authority to solicit orders and make referrals, Carl B. Smith, Chairman of the Florida Industrial Commission announced.

Under the terms and provisions of an Act of Congress, approved April 28, this year, the Department of Agriculture will withdraw from this field and the Employment Service will resume its activities as of December 31, 1947, as provided under the Wagner-Peyser Act.

Under the agreement entered into with the Department of Agriculture through its Extension Service, Mr. Smith said the Employment Service during the interim will proceed to make farm placements, soliciting orders directly. During this period the Department of Agriculture, through the Extension Service agents in the counties will continue agricultural placement activities.

Persons desiring farm labor can file their orders directly with the local Employment Service the Department of Agriculture office as before the farm placement service was taken over by the Department of Agriculture during the war. This plan in no way interferes with the Extension Service carrying on its program.

A memorandum outlining the new plan has been sent to the field offices of the Employment Service and the new plan is already in effect.

Control Over Time Buying Ends Nov. 1

Truman Signs Measure But Hits Congress For Ending Credit Restraint

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—President Truman today signed legislation killing all controls on installment buying Nov. 1, 1947.

The President said he regretted that Congress did not follow the recommendation of the Federal Reserve Board and of the Council of Economic Advisers by enacting legislation to provide for continuing as long as necessary regulation of consumer credit as a means of helping to promote economic stability."

Mr. Truman had asked for specific peacetime authority to regulate the American institution known as the "easy payment plan," a a bulwark againht inflationary tendencies.

But Congress, instead, sent him a bill intended to force an end to the credit curbs in three months.

In a statement criticizing the legislation the President said:

"It is unfortunate that the Congress did not provide for restraints on over-expansion of installment credit in order to diminish inflationary pressures arising from this course."

Mr. Truman observed that continuation of present controls for the next three months has been "permitted and implied by the Congress," and he added that "this is preferable to immediate abandonment of these restraints."

"For that reason," the President continued, "I have signed the joint resolution."

He said it would be "far better to reduce prices than to relax terms in seeking new customers."

The restraints on installment buying were instituted in wartime under the economic control and authority within the trading-with-the-enemy act. The Presi-

California Forest Fire Continues To Rage Uncontrolled

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8, (AP)—Reinforcements of 150 firefighters, parachuted to Condor Peak in the Angeles National Forest, joined in the battle today as the Big Tujunga Canyon brush and light-timber fire raged uncontrolled for its fourth day.

Early today the blaze had crept down the canyon to within one and one-half miles of the small community of Tujunga and U. S. Ranger M. W. Durham said the burned over area now totaled approximately 4,200 acres.

An effort was made yesterday to create rain by artificial methods above the burning area where two have died and the list of injured reached some 75.

The Los Angeles Times, with the aid of scientists, arranged to have dry ice dropped from a plane on a cloud in an attempt, which proved unsuccessful, to induce showers. The paper explained that a "single cumulus cloud failed to cooperate."

The attempt was made because of recent such rain-making successes in Arizona. At an altitude of 14,000 feet a plane made five sweeps across the top of the cloud, dumping from 60 to 120 pounds of powdered dry ice each time. Scientists explained that the cloud was not high enough to be in the freezing level where such an experiment might have proved successful.

Father-In-law Killed By Frightened Wife

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 8, (AP)—Haggard and unshaven, Prosecuting Attorney Sidney McMath declared today his pretty 28-year-old wife shot and killed his father last night while "hysterical with fright" as a result of the older McMath's drunken abuse.

Red-eyed and worn from an all-night investigation, the former Marine hero issued a prepared statement telling how his wife, Anne, grabbed his .45 caliber service revolver and fired wildly as Hal P. McMath, 57, when he approached her cursing and his fist clinched.

City Beautifying Plan Is Proposed At Jaycee Meet

BusyProgramPlanned For State Conference This Weekend

A proposal by Jack Ratigan that the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsor a plan to beautify the north and south roadway entrances to Sanford and the parkways along Park Avenue was enthusiastically approved last evening by the group at their supper meeting at the Mayfair Inn and was referred to their executive committee for further action.

In addition to this idea, Mr. Ratigan advanced the idea that the Merchants Association and civic groups back a plan to plant shrubs and flowers all the way along Seminole Boulevard into Sanford.

Gene Tucker, co-chairman of the Conference Committee, urged that "all members of the local group participate in the State Jaycee conference at the Mayfair Inn during the weekend. Registration will take place from 10:00 A. M. until 5:00 P. M. Saturday, he said. There will be a buffet supper from 6:30 to 7:30 P. ## Reds Hit U.S. For Violating Human Rights

Brazil Attacked In Heated Session Over Membership Of Bulgaria In UN

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 8 (AP)—Russia charged today that the United States was guilty of serious violations of human rights as a result of the administration's campaign to remove "so-called disloyal employees from government positions."

The charge was made by Soviet Representative Alexei N. Krukov before the membership Committee of the United Nations Security Council after the United States had opposed Bulgaria's application for admission to the UN.

Krasilnikov, in a slashing attack on the United States, challenged the right of U. S. Representative Hayden Raynor to criticize Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania for violation of human rights "when the United States might be open to even more serious charges in this respect."

He then asked how the United States would like for the three ex-enemy states, or any other state, to protest against the anti-Communist drive, the "anti-labor legislation" passed by the last session of Congress or "the recent trial of a leader of one of the political parties in the U. S. A."

"If this is the domestic concern of the U. S. A., he said, "I would like to know how the U. S. thinks it can interfere in the domestic affairs of these countries which it is flooding with protests."

Raynor replied that he felt the United States had ample justification for protesting against the suppression of freedom by the three Communist-dominated governments.

"We are parties to the Yalta

Ex-Sanford Men Head Gainesville Reserves

Two former Sanford citizens and Navy veterans now living in Gainesville have been placed in command of the new organized division of the Naval Reserve in Gainesville. They are Lieut. John H. Hintermister, USNR, manager of the White House Hotel, who has been appointed commanding officer, and Lieut. Walter L. Cooper, Jr., insurance and real estate man, as executive officer.

The appointments were announced Tuesday by Capt. J. W. Boulware, district director of Naval Reserves. Lieut. Arthur L. Funk, USNR, associate professor of social sciences, University of Florida, was appointed as training officer.

All three of these officers had extensive sea and command duty in World War II and other assignments which particularly fit them for the work of the organized reserve division in Gainesville, Capt. Boulware said.

Two More Subpoenas Are Issued In Hughes War Contract Investigation; Brewster Sorry For Hostess Remark

Senator Says He Is Not Proud Of Dragging Her Into Airplane Investigation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Me.) said today he regrets making a press statement that an airline hostess was afraid to travel alone with Howard Hughes.

"I am not proud of my comment on that affair," the Maine Senator told a news conference.

Brewster made the original statement ten days ago after Hughes, multi-millionaire plane builder, had asserted that Brewster accepted $1,400 worth of free air transportation from him.

Brewster is chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee which is looking into $40,000,000 worth of plane contracts awarded to Hughes and Henry J. Kaiser.

A sudden truce last night ended a side inquiry into charges by Hughes that Brewster offered to call off the contract investigation if Hughes would merge Trans-World Airlines, which he largely controls, with Pan American Airways.

Brewster said he called today's news conference to reply to questions put to him by Hughes on the stand yesterday which he did not get a chance to answer before the Brewster-Hughes phase of the case was closed.

Hughes had challenged Brewster to repeat under oath his statement that Harriet Applewick, a TWA hostess, had refused to travel

Odom Heads For India After Brief Cairo Fuel Stop

CAIRO, Aug. 8—(AP)—Pilot William P. Odom, a third of the way along on his effort to set a new solo record around the world, left Cairo today at 6:39 P. M. (11:39 A. M., Eastern Standard Time) for Karachi, India.

The former British ferry command airman, now living in Roslyn N. Y., was only 22 hours 46 minutes out of Chicago. His starting point, as he headed down the 2,200-mile leg to Karachi.

He was trying to cut to 90 hours or less the 186-hour record for a solo flight around the world set by Wiley Post in 1933.

Odom spent only 55 minutes in Cairo refueling. He arrived from Paris at 5:44 P.M., and said he had averaged about 350 miles an hour on the hop from France in perfect weather. Gander, Nfld., was his only stop before he left Paris.

Tail winds were promised to help on the India leg.

The 6 foot 2 inch flier, 27 years old, left Paris at 11:39 A. M., Cairo time (4:39 A. M., eastern standard time) after a stop of 91 minutes to take on 2,000 gallons of gasoline. He got 1,200 gallons of gasoline in an hour's stopover last night at Gander, his first landing after leaving Chicago at 12:53 P. M., Eastern Standard Time yesterday.

Anti-Red Hungarian Chief Reported Dead

BUDAPEST, Aug. 8, (AP)—A reliable informant said today he had seen a Soviet letter reporting the death of Bela Kovacs, former secretary-general of the Smallholders Party whose arrest by the Russians provoked protests from the United States government.

The informant said Russian Minister G. M. Pushkin had reported the death, without specifying place or time, to the offices of Hungary's acting Foreign Minister, Erno Mihalyfi.

Since Kovacs was arrested by the Russians, he presumably died in a Russian prison.

A spokesman for Mihalyfi said at a news conference today that "nothing was known" of the state of Kovacs' health.

Greek Money Market Reveals War Fears

ATHENS, Aug. 8, (AP)—The price of gold rose sharply today in uneasy Athens, and veteran observers said it reflected fears that internal violence might burgeon into war if the Communists attempted to establish a free state in northern Greece.

The Athens money market, which in the past faithfully has foreshadowed governmental crisis, quoted the gold sovereign today at 179,000 drachma. The stabilized rate is 135,000. The gold rate was 139,000 when the $300,000,000 American military aid program began to function.

"Crisis Powers" Bill Is Approved By British House

LONDON, Aug. 8 (AP)—Britain's Socialist-dominated House of Commons approved today the government's sweeping "crisis powers" bill, described by Winston Churchill as "a blank check for totalitarian government."

The House gave the bill a second reading approving it in principle, without a record vote. The government hoped to push its measure through all remaining parliamentary stages before the Commons' scheduled adjournment next Wednesday.

An amendment to reject the measure was defeated 251 to 143.

The Socialist government says the bill is necessary for effectively dealing with the British economic crisis. It would empower the government to tell men and women where they must work and to take over the management of firms considered to be operating inefficiently.

Home Secretary Chuter Ede, backing the bill, said "We believe

Growers Favor Soil Conservation Here

Only 34 out of Seminole County's 600 to 700 growers turned out on Wednesday to approve establishment of a soil conservation district in Seminole County. All of the voters, 18 in Longwood and 16 in Sanford, were in favor of the program, according to County Agent C. R. Dawson. No votes were recieved from Oviedo or Chuluota districts.

The result of the vote will be sent to the Soil Conservation Board in Gainesville to determine whether or not the vote warrants establishment of a soil conservation office with a technician in charge in Sanford.

If this be done, the technician will visit farmers to test soil types, make maps of farms, and make recommendations of improvements to a committee of five farmers, elected by the farmers, to test as to feasibility. The entire expense of carrying out such plans is up to the farmer. All that the government pays is the salary of the technician and the upkeep of his office, said Mr. Dawson.

Lions Informed Of Jaycee Aims, Accomplishments

Expansion Of Communism Stressed At Lunch Meet

Setup and aims of the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce and an outline of the program of their summer conference to be held this weekend at the Mayfair Inn was the subject of a highly informative talk by Jack Ratigan to members of the Lions Club at their luncheon today at the Mayfair Inn.

The Jaycees, he said, sponsored the present state automobile financial responsibility bill which goes into effect on Oct. 1. They also backed the bill which extended the police authority of State Highway Patrolmen, he declared. Although the Jaycee proposal for a State Athletic Commission was defeated, it will probably be promoted again, he said.

One of the national matters of concern to the Jaycees is the growth of Communism, Mr. Ratigan asserted. He told of a personal visit to Union Square in New York where he had seen 50,000 Communists gather for a May Day demonstration.

"Another matter which is vital

$23,000 Collected By Youth In GI Benefits

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8, (AP)—Federal authorities were bringing to San Francisco today a former Air Forces officer, who a state investigator said, had admitted collecting $22,000 to $23,000 in veterans' unemployment compensation in the past 18 months.

Chief Investigator James Reimel of the California State Department of Employment said the former pilot had related filing approximately 75 fictitious claims to compensation in that time, in offices ranging from Sacramento in northern California to Riverside county in the South.

Ferguson Demands Meyer Be Put Back On Witness Stand Seeks Hughes' Files

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—Howard Hughes agreed today, after first angrily refusing, to make records of his personal bank account and other private papers available to Senators investigating his $40,000,000 wartime plane contracts.

The row over this came during a wrangling session punctuated by a threat from Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) to bar all spectators from the Senate War Investigating Committee's hearings if the audience did not stop applauding Hughes.

"We are going to have quiet or you will not be allowed to stay in this room," the white-haired chairman shouted to the audience.

The applause came as the millionaire Hollywood producer was jousting with Ferguson about terms of an $18,000,000 contract to build the "world's largest airplane," a flying boat.

When the committee reconvened after a luncheon recess, Hughes announced through an attorney his willingness to make his papers already subpoenaed available for the senators.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) capped a bitter verbal exchange with Howard Hughes today by issuing a subpoena for private documents and papers Hughes has in a downtown hotel.

Ferguson's action, as chairman of the Senate War Investigating committee, came after Hughes had refused to produce John Meyer, his publicity man, and had said he would make available from his papers only those cleared by his attorneys.

A subpoena also was issued for Meyer.

The academy, which is maintained by the Seventh Day Adventist denomination, is located in Seminole County between Forest City and Apopka.

The annual is dedicated to Mrs. Celeste Hall-Kirstein who recieved her B. A. degree at Rollins College in 1945 and who is teacher of English and Spanish and sponsored the 1947 graduating class at the Academy.

John M. Howell AB-MA-PhD. is principal and the faculty, including heads of various industrial projects, numbers 27. There were 51 in the graduating class this year. Juniors number 45, Sophomores 43 and Freshmen, 61. The total student body was 200, aside from six seniors who were away on military or nursing duty.

Forest Lake Academy by means of its varied industries for students gives them not only manual training but enables them to pay in part, if not all of their education. The Laundry which supplies the Florida Sanatarium and Hospital among others, is pictured with its $15,000 worth of new equipment. A dairy is shown which has a daily output of 170 gallons of milk; 60 of which goes to the Sanitarium. About 3,000 chicks are hatched each week at the poultry farm. ### CORN PRICE UP

CHICAGO, Aug. 8, (AP)—Corn soared to new record highs on the Board of Trade today on buying induced by continued dry weather in much of the Midwest, particularly in the major producing state of Iowa.
