Flag-Waving Crowds Cheer Ike In Manila

MANILA (UPI)—A spectacular crowd approaching two million shouting, cheering, flag-waving Filipinos engulfed President Eisenhower in an enthusiastic welcome today at the start of his two-week tour of Asia.

The President responded by assuring the Philippines and all the Orient that any differences among true allies can be negotiated in peaceful partnership.

LaMotta Tells Probers Fight In '47 'Fixed'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former middleweight champion Jake LaMotta, with a death threat from the underworld hanging over his head, told Senate investigators today his 1947 fight loss to Billy Fox was "fixed."

LaMotta testified that he was "play acting" when the referee stopped the Madison Square Garden bout in the 4th round and gave the victory to Fox on a TKO.

LaMotta said he had been offered $100,000 earlier to throw the fight, but had refused.

Board Holds Firm On Parking Rule

City Commissioners stood firm Monday on their past ruling of no parking on Ninth St. from Sanford to French Ave., despite residents who appeared at the meeting in protest of the ruling.

"We vote one night on something, then we change our mind because two people out of 18,000 don't like the way we vote," Mayor Earl Higginbotham said.

"We're hurting ourselves and getting the reputation as being a wobbly-wobbly commission. Let's stand by our ruling and at least give them a change," Higginbotham added.

"We are setting a policy as to what is or isn't a hazard to the public," Commissioner Joe Baker said.

The Mayor then asserted that stops, "are not people's personal property and they must reconcile themselves to that reality."

City Board To Keep Present Tax Structure

City Commissioners Monday voted to keep Sanford's present tax structure as is, after a report on a survey was made by the city clerk, which would have changed the present tax assessments.

Youth Curfew Law Is Strengthened

A phrase was added to the city's curfew ordinance Monday by the commissioners which would hold parents responsible for their children's actions.

The ordinance establishing the curfew hours for minors from 11 p. m. to 6 a. m. was passed by the commission.

The commissioners felt that hour would give youths enough time to return home from a night out, either at the movies, the Civic Center or other activities.

Pilots Facing Contempt Action

MIAMI (UPI)—Federal district judge hears a contempt of court motion today against 11 Eastern Air Lines pilots accused of master-minding a wildcat strike of pilots that is costing the airline $620,000 daily in gross revenue.

The men are accused of violating a restraining order which Judge Joseph Lieb issued June 7, barring the pilots from striking in a dispute with the Federal Aviation Agency over seating arrangements for FAA inspectors.

Kennedy Outlines Policy; Raps Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, front-runner for the Democratic nomination, set forth today a 12-point foreign policy program which he said would rescue the United States from "the increasing deterioration of America's world position."

In a prepared Senate speech, billed in advance as a major foreign policy pronouncement, the Massachusetts Democrat caustically hit out at both President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon for having failed in his opinion to deal effectively with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Deploing what he considered U. S. failure to deal with Khrushchev and the Russians from a position of strength, Kennedy said:

"As a substitute for policy, Mr. Eisenhower has tried smiling at the Russians; Mr. Nixon has tried smiling at them; and Mr. Nixon has tried both. None have succeeded."

In spelling out his foreign policy program, Kennedy backed the current U. S. stand against recognizing Red China or admitting the Peiping regime to the United Nations. But he suggested bringing the Chinese Communists into the Geneva nuclear talks as a test of their good behavior.

Cruise Discussion

Members of the Sanford Boat and Ski Club will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday to make final arrangements for their next cruise, scheduled Sunday. The meeting will be held in the Little Green Hut in Ft. Mellon Park.

The upcoming cruise will be to Ponce de Leon Springs and members will leave from the Monroe bridge at 9 a. m.

Japanese Police Open Crackdown On Protesters

TOKYO (UPI)—Police raided schools and union offices today to shackle leaders of anti-government groups who have threatened violent demonstrations when President Eisenhower arrives in Japan Sunday.

The giant Sohyo Federation of Labor Unions promptly announced it would pull 5,800,000 workers out on strike throughout the nation Wednesday in protest against the Eisenhower visit.

Members of the Zengakuren student organization, an ultra-leftist group that has vowed to "punish" Eisenhower, injured 11 policemen with a rock barrage during one raid and said they would rally their followers for new demonstrations at Metropolitan Police Headquarters later in the day.

With Communist China's Peiping radio goading the leftists to new violence, the atmosphere in this Oriental capital grew more tense as the day for Eisenhower's visit approached.

Government and civic officials sought to counter the anti-Eisenhower feeling by drumming up a huge demonstration of pro-Western citizens for Eisenhower's arrival.

The country's second largest union, the Japan Labor Federation, announced it would go along with a request from Premier Nobusuke Kishi and welcome Eisenhower.

It said it opposed the idea of Eisenhower coming at this time but since he is a state guest "we should welcome him."

Casselberry To Get Improved Service

House to house mail delivery service for Casselberry residents will begin July 1. Acting postmaster D. W. Willson said Friday.

According to Willson, post office regulations require that an area be at least 50 percent developed and have improved streets to qualify for house delivery.

Latest census figures show a growth from 407 in 1950 to 2,442 residents in 1960, ranking the town of Casselberry second to Sanford in Seminole County.

Foe To Die

SANTIAGO, Cuba (UPI)—Rebel Capt. Manuel Beaton, a bitter foe of Premier Fidel Castro, was convicted of high treason by a military court today and sentenced to death before a firing squad.

Board Cancels Building Plan

The County Commission today agreed to abandon plans for remodeling the courthouse and to leave the problem up to the new commission which takes over in January.

The board authorized the clerk to write a letter to Winter Park architect James Gamble Rogers ordering work on the plans stopped until further notice.

Rogers presented preliminary plans of the courthouse renovation at a meeting last month. Estimated cost of the remodeling job was approximately $100,000.

Chairman John Krider informed the board today that Rogers will present an overall design of the new jail at the board's meeting July 12.

Discussing the remodeling plans on the courthouse, Krider said the board felt that since a new commission will take over next year "it should be up to it to carry out the project."

Four members of the present board, Krider, Lawrence Scofield, Homer Little and J. H. Van Hoy, will not be in office after Jan. 1.

In other business during the meeting, the board agreed to go along with State Road Department engineers on the Maitland Ave. alignment.

Five residents in the area had protested the alignment but the board agreed that the present alignment was the most feasible.

The board also voted to change the name of the county health unit to Health Department and to incorporate the welfare department as the county clinic.

Drain District Protests Heard

A delegation of residents from the Loch Arber and W. Crystal Lake area today protested the establishment of a drainage tax district in that area.

One resident, Ned Julian, called the proposed move a "scheme to involve people not affected by the district."

Julian said the commission would be setting a "dangerous precedent in establishing a piecemeal approach to drainage which will be costly."

Julian's remarks came at a public hearing before the county commission on whether to hold a special election on establishing the drainage district.

Board Chairman John Krider cited a petition from 132 freeholders in the area asking that the district be set up.

However, the board held off any action on the special election until further study.

Another resident of the area involved, Ralph Peters, said that the county should bear the brunt of the expenses rather than a chosen few.

Col. Paul Basell, a resident of Crystal Lake said he had a petition of 10 names of residents in the area opposing the district. Basell said that before any election is held, the people should be informed of the costs of such a project.

If a special election is called for by the board and the majority of the property owners favor the district, a plan to eliminate flooding would be put into effect before the fall.

Estimated cost of the drainage plan is approximately $40,000.

News Briefs

UN Action Nears

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Argentina probably will request a United Nations Security Council meeting to seek the return of former Nazi Col. Adolf Eichmann from Israel, informed sources said today. The formal request was expected to be made later this week.

Damage Suits

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—The Florida East Coast Railway Monday filed two $300,000 damage suits against Sinclair Refining Co. They were filed in connection with a truck-train collision that killed one railroad man and severely burned four others last week.

Bribery Trial

DELAND (UPI)—Questioning of witnesses is to begin today in the bribery trial of Jacksonville Attorney Walter Arnold and professional bondsman John Womack. Arnold and Womack are accused of offering State Attorney W. W. Judge $2,500 in 1958 to delay an abortion trial in St. Johns County.

Balloon Still Up

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. (UPI)—The Navy's wandering 40-story research balloon today appeared to be riding a stiff wind that has taken it far out over the Pacific. The huge plastic bag began moving Monday night with a 12 knot wind after bobbing in roughly the same area over the weekend. At last report it was more than 850 miles west of San Diego.

False Prince

NORWALK, Conn. (UPI)—The FBI announced today the arrest of Edward L. Woods, 28, of Baker County, Fla., on charges of impersonating an African prince with a British accent. FBI agent-in-charge Edward J. McCabe said Woods claimed to be Mujuru Nkhourri Catewaya, crown prince of the Masai people of Upper Volta, West Africa, a two-year-old republic.

Johnson Named Tops

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson has been picked by 20 leading Washington correspondents as the ablest man in Congress, a Newsweek magazine reports. Johnson received 41 votes. Sen. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) received none. Kennedy and Symington are active candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination. Johnson is an unannounced contender.

Curtains Up

NEW YORK (UPI)—The house-light dimmed, the curtains rose and the footlights blazed once more Monday night, signaling an end to an 11-day Broadway blackout that had left the theatrical capital in darkness. An estimated 18,000 playgoers were in their seats at 19 theaters which resumed activity after being closed since June 2 because of a bitter contract dispute between Actors Equity and the League of New York Theaters.

Ramage Praises Wing At SNAS Change Of Command Ceremonies

Capt. James D. Ramage today in a parting message to his men of Heavy Attack Wing One, called the wing one of the finest he has ever served with and added that the wing, "came closest to attaining perfection" of any squadron he commanded.

Ramage made the remarks at a special change of command day service, as he was relieved of command by Capt. F. G. Edwards.

More than 1,500 persons attended the ceremonies including Rear Admiral Kenneth Craig, commandant of the Sixth Naval District.

Other participants in the change of command ceremonies included Cdr. F. D. Milner who relieved Cdr. K. F. Rowell as commander of Heavy Attack Squadron Seven. Rowell will replace Edwards as commanding officer of Heavy Attack Squadron Three.

Persons attending the ceremonies also saw the new A3J in action.

NAS Commanding Officer Capt. Robert Slye said the new bomber would herald a new day at the Sanford Naval Station.

After the ceremonies, a reception was held at Lake Golden. On hand at the reception were Sanford, county and civic officials.

Around The Clock

A new square dancing class for beginners will start at the Civic Center Wednesday at 7 p. m. Joe Curtis will be the instructor.

The Sanford Elks Lodge will observe Flag Day here at 7:30 p. m. today at the Civic Center. Guest speaker during the observance will be Major Wood, commandant of the Marine Barracks, at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

First place in the Sanford Duplicate Bridge Club play at the Civic Center last Thursday was won by the team of Cecil Rines of Sanford and Gail Supanick of Orlando. Second honors went to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ramsey, Sanford, with third award to Mrs. Buford Vaughn, Winter Park, and Mrs. Peter Schall, Orlando, the play director. Activities resume at the Center Thursday at 7:45 p. m. and all duplicate players in the area are invited to participate.

Roads Committee To Continue Probe Of Highway Engineer

ORLANDO (UPI) — The Legislature's Interim Roads Committee, following Chairman Scott Kelly's war cry of "Damn the torpedoes, full speed ahead!" plans a third hearing in the case of Highway Engineer Roveri Dolphi.

The committee concluded its second hearing in Orlando Monday without reaching any decision on Dolphi's controversial house-buying.

Kelly's comment came after criticism of the hearing by State Road Board Chairman William Killian.

Killian told the committee, "I have no idea of what information the committee has or where it is headed or what it plans to accomplish."

The comments of Killian, who says he has found nothing illegal in Dolphi's house-buying, were met sharply by Kelly.

"Ever since this committee was started," the Lakeland lawmaker said, "we have been accused of witch-hunting. To borrow a phrase . . . Damn the torpedoes and full speed ahead!"

To finance full speed, the committee set up a $2,500 revolving fund for incidental expenses. They decided to hike the salary of committee investigating attorney T. David Burns from $400 to $600 a month.

The committee heard testimony from construction supervisor Karl Elliott that he gave Dolphi a $1,000 house for $250 Dolphi promised but never paid.

The house, like two others Dolphi has admitted buying, was cleared off a highway right-of-way.

Hard Luck Lawyer Killed In Crash

DANIA (UPI) — The machine age finally killed Frank Akerman Monday. He fought it to the end without complaining.

Fourteen years ago, in the Army at Camp Rucker, Ala., Akerman was in a jeep accident. He lost his right hand in the wreck, but he came home to become an honor student and vice president of the student body at the University of Florida.

Akerman received his law degree in 1952 and began a rise toward prominence.

Then four years ago he accidentally cut off his left hand while operating a power saw in his home workshop.

Friends said this second setback did not discourage him. He was fitted with two mechanical hands, dressed and shaved himself and continued an active public life in civic and Democratic Party affairs.

Several days ago he flew to Atlanta to have one of his mechanical hands adjusted. He left his car at the airport in Miami.

He flew back to Miami Monday morning, picked up his specially designed car and was driving home to Pompano Beach, in the city of Dania, only a few miles from his home, his car collided with another that was backing into a parking space.

Akerman, 35, was thrown from his car and killed.

TWO NAS Navymen, Charles Earls, AM2, and Charles Yelverton, AN, make minor repairs on the F2H Banshee in Sanford's city park as two youngsters wait patiently for their mechanics to finish so they can be off on their imaginary missions.

Sanford Kids Harder On Navy Plane Than Korean War Ever Was

It's amazing to determine, but the kids of Sanford who "fly" the F2H Banshee in Sanford's city park are "harder" on the plane than the boys who were harder on the B-29 than any other aircraft than any pilot ever was.

This was proven recently when two NAS Navymen, Charles Earls, AM2, and Charles Yelverton, AN, were called upon to make minor repairs to the aircraft which was donated to the city of Sanford by the Navy on Armed Forces Day, 1959.

The two youngsters, who were present during the repairs, were

Casselberry Lions To Install Officers

The eighth anniversary of the Casselberry Lions Club will be celebrated with installation of officers and Ladies Night at the King and Prince Restaurant Thursday night.

Glenn Humes, general chairman, reported at a club board meeting that arrangements for dinner, special entertainment, installation and induction of four club Lions have been completed.

Retiring president Ralph Diggs, who will be master of ceremonies, will be succeeded by president-elect E. P. Richards. Elected to serve during the coming year are Milton Freeman, first vice president; Ray Gilbert, third vice president; Raymond Morris, secretary; Carl Jack, treasurer; Diggs, fall twister and C. K. Fisher, lion tamer. Directors for two-year terms are Ben R. Evans and Paul C. Altman, with Tom Hueston and Ray McCord slated for one year.

Two Doctors At Meet Caught Shoplifting

MIAMI (UPI) — Two Mexican physicians attending the American Medical Assn. convention were charged with shoplifting Monday after a policeman said she saw them pocket $45.20 worth of department store merchandise.

Dr. Hector L. Devalos and Dr. David R. Gonzalez, both 42 and both from Mexico City, face trial in city court Wednesday on charges of petty larceny by shoplifting.

Policewoman Vivian Walsh said she and a security agent at Burdine's Department Store in downtown Miami saw the two pocket the following items:

Three pairs of shorts, a bottle of perfume, a necklace, two pairs of earrings, a cigarette lighter, four bow ties, a box of matches, and a money clip.

Former Sanford Native Dies

Charles H. Whitner, 73, for many years the Armour and Co., representative in Seminole County, died at Halifax Hospital in Daytona Beach Saturday morning.

He was a native of Sanford, but moved to Daytona Beach about 13 years ago. He recently retired as an insurance agent. He was a member of First Presbyterian Church and the Daytona Beach Builders' Association.

His widow, Bessie P. Whitner and a brother, Donald B. Whitner, Jacksonville, are his survivors.

Women hold nearly 40 per cent of the 48,000,000 driver's licenses issued in the United States, according to the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

Machinists Vote On Convair Offer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Machinists are voting on a new Convair offer that could end their nine-day strike at key Atlas missile bases and set a pattern for work contracts through the aircraft-missile industry.

Convair's new offer came late Monday after near-continuous negotiating between its representatives and the International Association of Machinists since Saturday.

The work contract affected only off-site personnel—those at Convair installations at military bases — and not Convair plant workers. About 3,000 IAM members are at bases and 22,000 at Atlas plants.

"I feel this offer is substantially better than the offers made for off-site personnel by any other aircraft-missile companies," said C. C. Lindsey, negotiator for the IAM.

Although terms of the offer were not disclosed, off-site personnel had sought an hourly boost of $1.23 on top of their minimum $2.73 hourly wage.

Happy Hunting

LONDON (UPI) — The following ad appeared today in the Times of London: "House-hunting American executive, wearying of looking at shabby places in Edwardian decor, seeks well-furnished, well-decorated house or flat with modern facilities, central heating . . . send full details: Two footcres to follow up on monstrosities done by inferior descendants."

DeBary Recreation Fund Drive Contributions Over $6,000 Mark

Contributions toward the DeBary Recreation Center building fund have catapulted to $6,425.50, as responses to the drive has increased, Joseph Hering, volunteer firemen's association president said.

The drive is being sponsored by the local firemen's association.

R. H. Tuell, owner of the Pacer Gas Station, presently under construction on Hwy. 17-92 in DeBary donated several hundred yards of fill toward the recreation center construction.

The association thanked Tuell and four members of the association who transported the land fill to the proposed construction area. The men were Darwin Bruce, Al Farrin, Henry Schob and Joe Brenner.

BRAZIL, Ind. — Cross-country hiker Dr. Barbara Moore, who was knocked down by a car on a four-lane highway, vowing to complete her walk from San Francisco to New York.

"I'm going to continue my trip when I get out of here in a couple of days — I hope. It's fortunate I don't have a fracture."

POMONA, Calif. — Sign on the door of a restaurant in this Los Angeles suburb, explaining that the owner is on vacation:

WASHINGTON — Senate boxing investigator John G. Bonomi, shrugging the risk involved in investigating and exposing racketeers.

"They are much more afraid of me than I am of them."

LONDON — Lady Lewisham, stating that she doesn't plan to make an appearance at the Royal Ascot, the four-day horse race meet that is probably the highlight in the British Commonwealth:

"I hate the Ascot. People only go there for a show. I can't be bothered."

Crippled Plane Lands Safely

CHICAGO (UPI) — A United Air Lines jet airliner broke a nose wheel on landing at O'Hare International Airport today and nosed over into heavy mud off the runway.

Authorities said none of the 41 passengers or seven crew members was hurt.

The plane, United's flight 855 from New York's Idlewild Field en route to Los Angeles' International Airport, was attempting an instrument landing in heavy rain when the accident occurred.

A United official said the Douglas DC-8 suffered "some, but undetermined" damage.

Passengers were taken off the jet in heavy rain and loaded onto another jetliner for the flight to Los Angeles.

Danger Of Any Attack On President During Asian Tour Slowly Diminishing

TOKYO (UPI) — Danger of any attempted physical attack upon the President of the United States when he arrives here Sunday to be greeted by the emperor of Japan, is steadily diminishing, Japanese and American intelligence sources told United Press International here today.

Today's newspaper editorials indicate that a somewhat abashed nation, which has always felt that the minority is entitled to make its complaints heard by public demonstration, was clearly not prepared for the excesses of violence which greeted Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerly and U. S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II at Haneda Airport Friday.

A wave of reaction against the extremes of the demonstrators seems to be manifesting itself throughout this, the world's largest city.

The situation is, however, extremely volatile, any act of counter-violence, such as a Japanese policeman or an American Secret Service agent shooting, even in self-defense, would be a hammer blow on a percussion cap. The dynamite is here.

Despite relaxing tensions, Zenjiro Horiki, chairman of the Metropolitan Public Safety Commission, has advised Chief Cabinet

Secretary Eisusaburo Shiina that he cannot guarantee Eisenhower's safety and has asked that the trip be postponed. Shiina replied that it is now too late to consider postponement.

To guard against any general explosion, 10,000 police reinforcements are quietly converging on Tokyo from prefectural police headquarters throughout the country. They will augment the 15,000 metropolitan police assigned to guard duty here Sunday.

A dry run already has been held along the 12-mile route from the airport to the city, participated in by cars similar to those which will bring in the Eisenhower party, and by approximately one quarter of the available police motorcycle force.

In the reassuring vein, a source with access to top intelligence reports told United Press International that no repetition of the Hagerly-MacArthur affair is anticipated.

"We expect unfriendly banners to be displayed by the left-wing and Communist elements," this source said, "and as much noise as the vociferous minority can create."

"There may be an effort to delay the motorcade on its way in from the airport by demonstrators following the time-honored custom of sitting down in the roadway. In that case they will merely be carried out of the way by the police.

"We doubt that there will be any more rock-throwing or threatened physical attack."

Worthy Grand Matron Visits Local Eastern Star Chapter

One hundred fifty seven members and guests attended the banquet and official visit of the worthy grand matron, Mrs. Frances Gray, to Seminole Chapter No. 2, Order of the Eastern Star.

Distinguished guests introduced included Mr. Cecil Theus, Worthy Grand Patron; John Nicholson, Associate Grand Patron; Thelma Caples, Grand Adah; Carleta Sibley, Grand Esther; Mildred Masters, Grand Martha; Mamie Lou Minor, Grand Warder; Mae T. Donovan, Past Grand Matron and Grand Secretary Emeritus; and Helen Theus, Past Grand Matron. They were given a warm welcome and saluted with grand honors.

Other distinguished guests were Martha Lyons, Past Grand Chaplain; Ruth Huber, Past Grand Chaplain; Ulla Chilton, Past Grand Organist; Jessie Mae Hicks, Past Grand Ruth; Bessie Seville, Past Grand Ruth; Irene Richey, Past Grand Ruth; Murray Jarvis, Past Grand Ruth; Virginia Anderson, Past Grand Ruth; and Grand Instructor District 24, and

Virginia Boyle, member of the credentials committee. All distinguished guests received a cordial welcome and were presented with gifts.

The chapter room was decorated with a huge arrangement of dahlias in the worthy grand matron's colors of white, green and purple. Her emblem, the open bible, was suspended within the triangle above the station of the associate matron and associate patron. In front of the worthy matron's station was placed her emblem, the cup, with the motto "my cup runneth over." Salomon's Head of Christ was placed atop the emblem, both illuminated.

Degrees of the order were conferred on Miss Anna Mae Muir, Mrs. Ann B. Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walter Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schleicher. After the initiation ceremony they were warmly welcomed by chapter members and guests and presented with gifts by the worthy matron, Mrs. Marjorie Shepard.

A courtesy, Exemplifying the Open Bible, was presented in honor of the worthy grand matron. The program opened with the singing of "Open My Eyes That I May See" by "Martha", Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson. The Conductress, Mrs. Ethel Peurfoy, and Associate Conductress, Mrs. Estle Cole, recited passages linking the work of the Eastern Star with the bible, and Mrs. Vivian Welsh read the 13th chapter of First Corinthians. Meses. Eva Williams, Linnie Moyer, Katie Corley, Elizabeth Huff and Leona McLain, representing the star points of the order and wearing net capes in the colors of the stations, exemplified the meaning of the colors and emblems of those stations. The worthy patron, Mr. E. J. Still, recited the passage "God has no hands but our hands," followed by short appropriate remarks by John Carver, J. E. Blackman, Robert H. Williams, Harvey L. Dunn and Leslie Sheppard. The program closed with the singing of "Thy Word is like a Garden, Lord" by Mrs. Eloise Pfeiff.

On behalf of the chapter, Mrs. Helen Leinhardt, associate matron, and J. T. McLain, associate patron, presented gifts and honorary memberships to the worthy grand matron, Mrs. Mae Sheppard, presented Mrs. Gray with a gift and an honorary membership in the Club.

Mr. Theus, gave a short address in which he stressed the importance of little things. It's the little things, a smile, small courtesies, that comfort and console us, and it's the little things that annoy and aggravate us. "Men show themselves in big things as they wish to be known," said Mr. Theus. "In little things they show themselves as they really are."

The worthy grand matron's address brought out the importance of having vision and the method used in attaining our ambitions. "We are quick to criticize rather than to work," she said. "We should be willing to give our best without criticism, practicing the teachings of our beautiful order and make someone more happy and comfortable for having come our way."

The banquet which preceded the meeting was held at the Shrine Club. The long tables looked cool and inviting with their tall violet decorated with pots of African violets on small mats of fern. The grand officers table featured a centerpiece composed of a large purple candle in a nest of African violets, an open bible and ceramic vase.

Mrs. Mae Donovan gave the invocation, Mrs. Shepard gave the welcome and Dick Alken sang two selections. A welcome was extended to the various honored guests and they in turn responded.

Stretch The Budget By Careful Buying

Myrtle C. Wilson
Home Demonstration Agent
The shopper who depends upon price alone can end up with something far short of the bargain she was seeking.

It's true that high price does not always mean high quality. No where is this more true than with food. Let's look at food prices for a minute and see if there are any guides to smart food shopping.

Smart food shoppers buy for a use. If eggs are to be used for cooking, for instance, look for Grade B eggs. They are nutritionally the same grade as the A's and cost less. Buy cooking apples for a pie. Their appearance is not important. Paying the top price for an item when a lower quality will do is poor shopping technique. The wise shopper also looks beyond the price per pound. Expect more servings from a pound of top round steak than from a pound of chicken. Compare prices of these two items at the meat counter and take cost per serving into consideration.

Buy according to the needs of your family. No matter how good a bargain appears in the store if it doesn't appeal to your family's palate and ends up in the garbage pail it's no bargain. Buy the right quantity, too, so that there's little left over. Sometimes you'll purchase more than enough for one meal to plan for leftovers.

The skilled food shopper takes good care of the food she has bought. Get it home as soon as possible. See that the food is properly stored. This way you will be protecting your food bargain.

How To Remove Stains From Fabrics

Up-to-date information for homemakers on how to remove stains from fabrics is provided in a U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletin, "Removing Stains From Fabrics" describes how to take spots out of both new and traditional fabrics.

Success in stain removal depends on fast action as well as proper method. Quick action prevents stains from setting into the fabrics. Prompt action also reduces the chance of accidentally setting the stain with the heat of hot-water washing or ironing.

The bulletin lists specific directions for removing 75 different types of stains as well as a general guide to dealing with three general categories of common stains: greasy, nongreasy, and stains that are a combination of the two.

Greasy stains (from butter, margarine, car grease, for example) on washable articles are sometimes removed by normally laundering the fabrics. Usually, however, it is necessary to use one or both of the following treatments: (1) Work liquid detergent thoroughly into the stain, then rinse in hot water; (2) sponge with a dry cleaning grease solvent. On nonwashable articles, the stain is sponged with a small amount of grease solvent. Directions are given in the bulletin for use of solvents to avoid forming rings on the fabric. Extreme caution is advised in using all grease solvents because they are poisonous and can cause illness if swallowed or if vapors are inhaled.

Other directions: For nongreasy stains (such as fruit, black coffee, milk, catsup and chili sauce), sponge with or soak in cold water. A long soak may be needed. If the stain is still visible, rub liquid detergent into the stained area, and then rinse thoroughly. On nonwashables, a final rinse with alcohol helps to remove the detergent and to dry the fabric more rapidly. Because alcohol affects some dyes, test it on an inconspicuous part of the garment before using. Dilute alcohol with two parts of water for use on acetate fabrics.

For combination stains (from ice cream, chocolate, gravy, coffee with cream and so on), sponge with or soak in cool water first. Next, rub detergent into the stain and rinse well with water. If a greasy spot remains, sponge with a grease solvent. The treatment is the same for washable and nonwashable fabrics.

Bleaching is recommended only as a final step in getting rid of traces of discoloration. Directions are given for using four kinds of bleaches — chlorine bleaches, sodium perborate, hydrogen peroxide, and color removers. The bulletin warns that chlorine bleaches are damaging to silk and wool and cause yellowing in fabrics treated with some types of wash-wear finishes.

Single copies of "Removing Stains from Fabrics" are free on request from the Home Agent's office.

Today Is Flag Day—It Should Inspire Each Of Us

Today is Flag Day and is a good day for everybody in the United States to review the pledge of allegiance, which any Scout can repeat quickly, but which is not as firmly in the minds of most people as it should be.

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

An insertion was made in the pledge in 1954 by an act signed by President Eisenhower. The words, "under God" were inserted after "nation."

The president said "in this way we are reaffirming the transcendence of religious faith in America's heritage and future; in this way we shall constantly strengthen those spiritual weapons which forever will be our country's most powerful resources in peace and war."

Old Glory, first called by William Driver, master of the brig, Charles Daggait, in 1831, has been a symbol of the freedom of this nation since a resolution in the Second Continental Congress authorized it in 1777.

From the original 13 stars representing the colonies, the flag has grown to 50 stars with the official addition of Hawaii July 4. The nation also has grown tremendously, but the pledge of allegiance is the same, except for two words.

We should be inspired by the fact that we have a chance, under God, to fly a flag that stands for national character and that each of us can add to that character by having the proper respect for it and appreciation of it.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON—No matter how many ways individual members of the committee may divide in their conclusions, the sober, restrained inquiry conducted by Senator J. William Fulbright into the shooting down of the U-2 and its consequences has been a service to the nation.

A great many questions remain unanswered. Despite persistent questioning administration officials did not supply even on an off-the-record basis the reason for scheduling an espionage flight on May 1, a day of nationwide celebration in the Soviet Union—two weeks before the summit conference was to open in Paris.

But reading between the lines committee members deduced that those directing the flights had become so confident after four years of operation that they believed they could detect in advance any spectacular rocket or missile shots the Soviets planned to send up on the eve of the summit. The photographs of Russian installations they were shown convinced the committee of the remarkable achievement of this high altitude photography. While no one is likely to say so in public, overconfidence, together with lack of any effective high-level direction and coordination, seems to have been principal reason for the tragic mishap.

There were bound to be questions which could not be answered in public and much of the transcript was necessarily censored. Some of the blank pages resulted not from highly secret evidence but as a consequence of heated exchanges between certain committee members. It was considered in the public interest to strike this out.

A loud and continuous complainant was Frank J. Lausche (D., Ohio). He seemed to feel there was something immoral about any inquiry, and on the day that Hugh L. Dryden of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration testified Lausche went to extraordinary lengths of denunciation.

"I want to congratulate the senator from Ohio on his Fourth of July oration," Senator Albert Gore (D., Tenn.) said after one especially fiery outburst.

"What do you mean by that?" Lausche demanded. "I was not delivering a Fourth of July oration."

"Why, I thought it was such a fine Fourth of July address that I almost stood up and cheered," Gore remarked.

This suggests one of the remarkable aspects of the current controversy—that it is unpatriotic to inquire into or criticize any aspect of the fate of the U-2 and its far-reaching political consequences. To do so, the argument goes, is to give aid and comfort to the Communist enemy at a time when unity must be the first order.

Memories are short. In some instances the talk of patriotism first, last and always comes from those who throughout the Korean War kept up a drumfire of attack on President Truman. They attacked him for getting into the war at all, for the way in which it was conducted and finally for not concluding it as these critics thought it should be concluded. This was in the midst not of an alleged cold war but in a shooting war, with Americans in numbers being killed and wounded every day.

The Republicans in 1953 pitched most of their campaign on the "assault on Korean War" and the "Democrat president" who by his blunders had got us into it. In one internal back-platform speech after another candidate Eisenhower said that Asians should fight their own wars and American farm boys should keep their homes on the farm. The climax came with General Eisenhower's pledge to go to Korea and, so the implication was, bring an end to the war.

The Eisenhower administration did end the Korean War under terms Truman had previously rejected. This was by ending half the country to Communist control, leaving in the overcrowded southern half such a congested population with so few natural resources that it is doubtful whether the Republic of Korea can ever become a viable nation, or for that matter, can even survive without continuing massive aid from the United States.

The Republicans are at this moment supremely confident that Premier Khrushchev will elect their candidate, Richard Nixon, president. They are even a bit smug about it. This is one reason they react violently to the mildest criticism of the radical reformer that the Eisenhower foreign policy has suffered.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Case E—68—Fay E., aged 46, is the wife of an Ohio judge.

"Dr. Crane, I used to be quite active in civic affairs," she admitted, "and thought I still was quite enterprising."

"But three weeks ago I sent for your Compliment Club material. Every day I have faithfully paid an honest compliment to each of three different persons. But last night I suddenly realized I had paid compliments to only two people. Thus I was one short of my quota to keep my record straight and entitle me to the membership certificate in the Compliment Club."

"So I deliberately put on my hat and coat and went down the street. Finally, I entered a drug store, where I overheard a girl clerk, with an excellent sales demonstration for a new brand of cosmetic."

"I complimented her and then came home. Thus, I am still eligible for my membership certificate, and hope to complete the 30-day experiment without further trouble.

"You once stated that barely 10 percent of those who launch upon the Compliment Club experiment, ever complete the full 30 days."

"I have always been a realist, and finisher of the tasks I have undertaken, for I was the oldest child in a large family. So I have vowed to be in the upper 10 percent who win your diploma."

"Already I have profited greatly by this experiment. Therefore, the first place I have learned that I had begun to draw within my shell much more than I had ever imagined."

"Thus, the fact that I ended a full day with only two compliments to outsiders, vividly showed me how aloof I have been from life."

"Ten years ago I could easily have paid 30 compliments to as many different people before midnight, for I was much more active then."

"Your words a case record a year or so ago about premature old age, saying that psychological senility can attack a person even at 25 or 30, if he permits himself to withdraw from life."

"But you reminded us that a person can consciously resist this natural aging process by refusing to sever the social, business or friendship bonds that tie the young person's interest to external reality."

"Instead of becoming an invertebrate grandmother, therefore, with nothing much to think about beyond the mail carrier's arrival or the delivery of the daily paper, I am now resolved to remain young in my mind."

"That's why I enrolled in your Compliment Club experiment, and that's why I am reversing my senile tendencies. So I am resuming activity in my clubs. I am going back to church and Sunday school."

"I am resisting the inertia of my body and mind, by forcing myself to keep active. Thus, I will retain a greater number of interesting external connections."

"You said that rejuvenation is largely a psychological matter. I am convinced that you are correct."

"Before I began your Compliment Club experiment, I now realize that I was as set in my ways as many a woman of 60."

"But within these past three weeks I have reversed this precocity of old age and am now about as active as an average woman of 35."

"And I'm going to remain young in mind, for I had a wonderful mother who never withdrew from reality. She kept her external interests and sense of humor until her death at 85 years."

"So, tell your readers to enroll in the Compliment Club, and get the rest of their families or Sunday school class to do the same. It's fun."

POSTCARDS

by Stan Delaplane

As everybody in the International Set knows, the Royal Ascot races begin today in Merry England.

It is a tremendously important social event—a horse who has raced in the Royal Ascot would not dream of taking hay with a horse who has only raced, say, at Santa Anita. ("After all, there's a limit, old man, after all.")

Anyway, all over the world today the people of the Set who cannot be there are thinking about it.

Over tea at the Repulse Bay in Hong Kong; in outposts like Sydney, Australia, where one must make do with friends de veau flamba at Caprice; in Chicago and New York and Montego Bay; the Waldorf, the Ritz and all the Sheraton-This-and-That's—the word goes round this day:

"Ah, to be in England, now that Ascot's here."

The most important part of this Royal Ascot will be the courting of Princess Alexandra.

That seems to be part of the Queen job—Queen Elizabeth has just got Princess Margaret married off. Now she must do something for Princess Alexandra.

Not that Queen Elizabeth will not enjoy the races too. The Queen is a punter. Recently she gave a Royal party for the press. Some 500 newsmen attended.

The Queen talked only about horses. How they were doing at the tracks.

So naturally, nobody got any copy out of it except the sports writers.

The Queen has invited two eligible, 25-year-old bachelors to the races; the Duke of Atholl and Viscount Lumley.

"Both are rich," the wire service report adds simply.

We had a long talk about this with some members of the racy Bay Meadows set.

One of them was married to a jockey once. But she gave it up and is now cashier at the place we eat Thursday when they serve corned beef.

"Joey was a nice sort of boy," she said, "though it does give you a turn when you realize your husband only weighs 90 pounds soaking wet."

"He even took me down to Halesh for the meet. I had to go Grayhound—that was just after Joey put a bundle on Paper Clip who was a sure thing. Only the jockey gave him a rough ride, the little cheater. I heard later he was picked up for burglary and did six months in the county moon-an-all."

"But with Joey, he could never settle down. That's the way it is with horse people. That and the form sheets all over the floor every morning. Until I said, 'Joey, we just aren't making it. You go your way and I'll go mine.'"

I asked her if it would make any difference if Joey had been a Duke. A rich Duke.

"Could be," she said. "A horse-playing Duke with a bundle would not be so nervous as like a jockey. Joe-Blow-Go-Blow. On the short, too."

"Also, I imagine a Royal party is not like those gin-and-tonic binges Joey used to like to go to over at the beach. I told him, 'Joey, you're going to gin yourself right out of the money. But he said it helped keep his weight down. That's important with a jockey.'"

"Kid," he told me, "there isn't a loose calory in a fifth of gin. It's when you start lousing it up with vermouth it kills you."

WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON—This is a story of Morocco—the ironic story about what happens when a country turns its back on us...

In December of last year, President Eisenhower stopped briefly in Morocco on his Middle East tour and agreed that our forces would evacuate our facilities there by the end of 1963—and leave behind all that we had built for our own use.

The same year that Mr. Eisenhower reluctantly agreed to our getting kicked out of the United States made an outright grant—a gift—of $4.8 million in "special assistance" to Morocco.

So along come our most eager money-asking bigshots, the people from Mutual Security, to present their 1961 requests before a money appropriating committee.

In view of what's happening to us in Morocco, does the United States cut off its foreign aid to that country?

Quite the contrary, say the Mutual Security officers. Morocco should get more...

Here's a sample of testimony with Marcus Gordon, a regional director of the International Co-operation Administration, on the stand:

Rep. Otto Passman (D., La.), chairman: What amount did you have for Morocco (in technical assistance) in fiscal year 1959?

Gordon: Fiscal year 1959, sir, was $531,000.

Passman: Now, fiscal year 1960 how much did you reduce it to?

Gordon: We increased it to $700,000.

Passman: Are you asking for a decrease for fiscal year 1961—or an increase?

Gordon: We are asking for an increase—to an even $1 million.

For sums paid Morocco under "military assistance," I checked with the Pentagon and learned that the first nine years it came to a total of $45,000.

And what is it for this year—just after the Moroccan government set its date to give us the gate? The sum is $757,000—more than 10 times what we gave them under this category the past nine years put together!

This is modern history's weird definition of mutual aid—"You kick us out of your country and we'll start paying you more money."

Three Minutes A Day

By JAMES KELLER

"Your Inner Conflicts" was the title of a book being read by a young lady on a bus.

Though probably only about 25, her tired and depressed attitude made her look much older. She seemed to carry the worries of the world on her shoulders.

People who lead unhappy, dejected lives are often the victims of circumstances beyond their control. They need and deserve the Christian sympathy of those blessed with that inner peace and joy which too many lack.

It takes time and patience to enter into the troubles and sorrows of others. But if you strive to restore the faith, hope and charity that is missing in their lives, and give them an outlet for their hidden goodness, you may help them for time and eternity.

A good book can be helpful in lifting the spirits of those who are depressed. But there is no substitute for the human touch that only a person like you can give.

"Bear one another's burdens, and so you will fulfill the law of Christ."

"You'll have to hold him during the exam, Professor; we couldn't get a sitter."

Party Splits Threaten Belgian Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (UPI) — The Belgian Congo today showed dangerous splits which threatened its existence as a nation 16 days before it gains independence.

African political leaders who won independence from Belgium for their huge territory on the Equator were unable to agree among themselves on its government and boundaries. Some territorial leaders threatened to secede.

The Belgian law granting independence requires that the Con-go's territorial unity be preserved. If a secession movement succeeded, Belgium conceivably could postpone independence past the June 30 date it has set.

Amid the squabbles, many white settlers were fleeing the Congo rather than remain under an African-dominated government. South Africa was reported willing to help them settle there, possibly with an airlift.

The most serious threat to Congolese unity came in Leopoldville Province, which controls the only outlet to the sea in the entire Congo, a territory three times the size of Texas.

The Assn. of the Lower Congo, or Abako Party, demanded separate federal status for an undefined territory within the province.

It called for the nomination of its leader, Joseph Kasavubu, 43, as the Congo's first president.

If these demands are not met, it threatened to secede its territory from the Congo and join the neighboring Congo Republic, formerly part of French Equatorial Africa.

Father Of U-2 Pilot Throws Up Silence Barrier

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A distraught Virginia shoemaker, Oliver Powers, today imposed a barrier of silence around his fourth-coming trip to visit his U-2 pilot son imprisoned as a spy in Russia.

Powers, 55, from the cross-road community of Norton, Va., Monday obtained a passport from the State Department and a visa from the Soviet embassy for the trip sanctioned by Russian Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The cobbler told newsmen he would go to Russia in about 60 days to see his only son, Francis G. Powers, whose U-2 high-altitude spy plane was brought down far inside Russia on May 1.

When he made the announcement to reporters, his voice was emotion-choked; his eyes tear-filled.

"I want to be left alone," he pleaded.

The elder Powers, who once said he had decided not to go to the Soviet Union, read a statement asking reporters not to bother him. He said newsmen already had delayed his trip for at least two months.

"Our entire family sincerely appreciates the kind and humanitarian interest which has been shown by the general public to all of us," the father declared.

"However, we will appreciate to further inquiries from news agencies or other parties. When we feel it appropriate to issue another statement it will be done through the regular news media."

Powers said he had been given assurances he would be able to see his jailed son. He refused to say who gave him the assurances.

Attempts by U. S. embassy officials in Moscow to talk to the pilot have been fruitless. Powers has been held incommunicado since the Reds said he was shot down and captured May 1.

The number of people covered by major medical insurance in the United States has increased from 8.8 million in 1956 to an estimated 21 million in 1959, according to the Health Insurance Institute.

IT'S ALL IN A DAY'S WORK. Royal Guard Tallman, registered Great Dane owned by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hammond of Chuluota is nonchalant as he shows some of his many trophies. DeBary Volunteers Stop Fire Spread Twenty-four DeBary volunteer firemen responded to a brush fire at the corner of DeBary Dr. and Palm Rd. Friday and snuffed out the flames that might have caused considerable damage.

Fire Chief Ed Healy said, "If the ground in that area had not been heavily soaked by last week's heavy rain, the fire would have really spread." No one was injured.

The Fire Chief has requested that all residents insert the fire house number, NO. 2-3848 on the back of their telephone books.

MONMOUTH, N. J. (UPI)—Wille Harlick picked up where he left off in Saturday's Belmont Stakes when he won Monday with Miss Royal in the featured Navy League Purse at Monmouth Park. Miss Royal, a four-year old filly, hadn't won in seven previous starts this season and paid $10.00, $6.80 and $3.40.

300,000 Red Spies At Work, State Department Told

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet Union, Red China and their Communist allies have a trained elite corps of at least 300,000 espionage and security agents operating throughout the world, the State Department advised a bipartisan Senate committee Monday.

The department sent a blueprint of Red espionage to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which held hearings on the explosive U.S. U-2 spy plane incident.

"There has never been a government in history which has placed heavier emphasis on espionage," the report said of the Soviet Union.

The report said that in addition to regular Soviet spy agents, the Communist cause is abetted "by members of foreign Communist parties, numbering some 4,000,000 adherents in the free world."

"It is plain that the Soviet Union has a vast head start in the acquisition of what might be described as intelligence data regarding the United States and the free world," the department document said.

It was sent to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter. Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) made it public in connection with the committee's inquiry into the U-2 spy plane incident and the summit collapse.

"There can be no doubt as to the scope and scale of the Soviet espionage effort directed against the free world as a whole," the report said.

"It has been reliably estimated that within the Communist bloc and the free world some 300,000 trained officers serve in the 27 intelligence and security services of the Sino-Soviet bloc states."

The department also reported that 360 persons in 11 free world countries have been convicted of espionage on behalf of the Kremlin in recent years. Included were 13 in the United States.

Some Political Campaigners Travel Around Country Like 'Preachers'

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "One of the most remarkable peculiarities of the present time is that the principal leaders of the political parties are traveling about the country from state to state, and holding forth, like Methodist preachers, hour after hour, to the assembled multitudes."

So wrote John Quincy Adams in his diary on Oct. 1, 1840. The Van Buren - Harrison campaign was then in full swing and old J.Q. viewed the proceedings with asperity. I can't say that I blame him.

It was from this campaign that much of our present day political foolishness evolved. Adams had due cause for alarm.

I have been steeping myself in American presidential campaign lore at an exhibit of old-time political paraphernalia prepared by the Smithsonian Institution.

Times may have changed since then but campaign techniques, except for the development of the tele - prompter, have remained fairly constant.

William Henry Harrison, who won the election, came from the Virginia aristocracy, was the richest man in Ohio and owned a fine house. It was only natural that his campaign symbol was a log cabin.

One of the charges made against Van Buren was that he had spent $9,000 of the "people's money" on an imported Brussels carpet for the White House. If that has a contemporary ring to it let Nixon, Kennedy, Rockefeller, Johnson and Symington make the most of it.

One thing the old campaigners didn't do, however, was to coy with each other. I wish I could say the same for the current crop of politicians.

A couple of months ago, a Democratic group here circulated a memorandum under the heading "Republican 'Payola' records." It attempted "to josh about alleged conflict of interest cases in the GOP by tying them in with House disc jockey investigation."

I can give you some idea of its contents by reporting that the song listed after Sherman Adams' name was "Button Up Your Overcoat."

I had no sooner recovered from this when a Republican group put out a "political birdwatcher's guide." It was replete with descriptions of the "big-billed jackanapes" (Kennedie's silver spoon), the "high flying gap jumper" (symingtonia misallaneous), and the "major leader bird" (lyndonius johnsonium).

Thurmond Seeks Renomination

COLUMBIA, S. C. (UPI) — South Carolina Democrats voted in a primary today featuring only one major race—a bid for renomination by Sen. J. Strom Thurmond (D-S. C.).

Thurmond, who won his Senate seat six years ago in an unprecedented write-in campaign, is opposed by R. Beverly Herbert, Sr., 60, a Columbia attorney who accused Thurmond of falling adequately to defend the South's traditional pattern of racial segregation.

The state's six incumbent U. S. representatives are unopposed. Interest centers chiefly on local races for the Legislature.

With over a half-million Democrats registered, only about half that number was expected by party officials to cast ballots in the state's primary—actually the election in the Democratic-controlled state.

Despite Herbert's forcing of Thurmond's hand for re-nomination, the campaign itself has evoked little interest. The largest number of persons to show up at any of their nine debates over the state was 50.

Taxes from petroleum and petroleum products account for more than 30 per cent of all Arkansas state tax revenues.

It made two in a row over the tough Tarpons and the Greyhounds tonight in Leesburg in hopes to keep the straggle going.

Lippard pitched himself out of trouble in the first two innings giving up only three hits. In the first inning the leadoff batter got off with a single and Lippard walked two to load the bases but he got tough in the clutch and came out without any damage. In the second inning he gave up consecutive singles with one out but he got the next two batters to fly out and he was out of trouble again.

From here on out he was tough and retired the Tarpons without any difficulty until the eighth inning when he was hit by a home run from Manager Bobbie Robertson to the ball pen for his only run. Bobbie then collected promptly for the next two batters and kept the Tarpons out of trouble.

In the ninth inning Colick got the first batter on a pop up in the infield and then struck out the rest through the box. The next batter was out on an error by George Arroyo moving Lippard into the base. Vic Parta then sent a long fly to center scoring Lippard with Tampa's only tally of the game. Colick then got big Eddie Rodon on a sacrifice and the game was over.

Besides the beautiful pitching by Lippard and Colick, it was center fielder Pat Dick and Biller Hines who did the work at the plate for the Greyhounds. Dick collected a perfect single at the plate and four for four and driving in two runs with a triple in the first inning. Hines also collected a perfect single for five and driving in two runs with a triple in the first inning. He also collected in the seventh with a very important victory for Manager Bobbie Robertson and his Greyhounds as Tampa has been getting consistently in the league and only trailed them by three and a half games before this meeting.

In other PFL action, Orlando scored four runs after two were out in the ninth inning to defeat Daytona Beach 6-2.

Lakeland pitcher George Dreyer pitched up his 10th win as the Indians beat the Yankees 7 to 6 in a game that was a pitchers' duel.

St. Pete won 17 to 10 in a game that was a pitchers' duel. The average American pitcher is expected to win five times a season, according to the statistician.

JOHN G. JENKINS of Paola shows the ten pound bass he caught recently with a cranker pole in a lake near his home. Jenkins said the big bass took three of his hooks before getting hold of one strong enough to snare him. After a half-hour battle, the fish was hooked by the taxidermist.

$ WIN CASH PRIZES WEEKLY! $

BASEBALL CONTEST!

FREE CASH PRIZES will be awarded each week (in accordance with Contest Rules at right) as follows: 1st PRIZE: $15; 2nd PRIZE: $10; 3rd PRIZE $5. Nothing to Buy. Nothing to Pay. No Obligation.

CONTEST RULES

- 18 Baseball games scheduled to be played this weekend are placed, one in each ad on this page. Indicate the winner by writing in the name of the team opposite the advertiser's name in the entry blank on this page. No Scores. Just pick the winners.
- Pick a number which you think will be the highest number of runs scored in any one game — by BOTH teams — and place this number in the space provided in the Entry Blank. This will be used to break ties.
- One entry only to each contestant. Entries for this week's contest must be brought to the office of this newspaper, or post-marked, not later than Noon, Friday, June 17th.
- Winners of this week's contest are not eligible to win again within three weeks. Decisions of our contest judges are final.
