Restoring Sanford, one brick at a time

From staff reports

SANFORD - City officials, directors of civic boards, members of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce and other state and local elected officials will join Sanford Mayor Larry Dale Friday to usher in the kickoff of the Second Street Project, the city's newest infrastructure improvement program.

The event, slated as "Restoring and Improving Sanford...one brick at a time," will take place at noon, Friday, in Magnolia Square in downtown Sanford, with a light lunch hosted by Conklin, Porter & Homes Engineers, Inc.

The event will give an overview of the $1,743,000 construction project about to begin on Second Street, as well as how this construction is part of a much larger $23.5 million city-wide drainage, water usage and water reclamation plan that has been in development for over 10 years.

In order to reach the kickoff stage in the project, city officials say it took an extensive time period of cooperation and approvals by the St. Johns River Water Management District, Seminole County, various city departments and Conklin, Porter & Holmes.

The Second Street Project is funded by the City of Sanford Stormwater Utility Fund, and is to improve drainage in the downtown area. Work will include:

- Placement of a storm sewer interceptor system to divert downtown drainage flows along Second Street to the Pump Branch storm outfall.
- Replacement of old water lines and sanitary sewer lines.

Trail goes public

Although a grand opening was held on Tuesday, May 5 (as seen above) for the Cross Seminole Trail, the event was basically for officials and the media. Coming up Saturday, May 16, the public grand opening will be held. The city of Oviedo will sponsor a Trailfest, to mark the grand opening of the 3.5 mile portion of the trail linking downtown Oviedo with Winter Springs. The occasion will begin in downtown Oviedo with a 5K Fun Run/Walk starting at 7 a.m. at Station Street and the Oviedo Shopping Center. Warm-up is at 6:45. Bicycles and in-line skate rentals will be available along with a skating clinic and demo by the Central Florida Trail Blazers. The opening ceremony is scheduled at 10 a.m. with a day-long listing of activities, events and displays for all ages.

Should government meetings be televised?

By Tony Tisale
HERALD CORRESPONDENT

CASSELBERRY - The Seminole County Council of Local Governments (CALNO) met recently in Casselberry, to discuss an item city governments are considering: the broadcasting of meetings on local television. Sheriff Don Eslinger also told the group that the weekend jail program will be replaced.

After the traditional opening remarks and role call, members and guests were welcomed by Casselberry Mayor Bruce Pronovost.

Although the format for the proposed cable channel was not discussed, it was mentioned that it would differ from Orange County's current Orange TV. CALNO has indicated it will continue efforts of gathering support for this activity throughout the county. Winter Springs Commissioner and CALNO Chairwoman Cindy Gennell said, "this is the time for the governing bodies to join up."

Seminole County School Board and CALNO member Larry Furlong first brought this issue up some time ago, around the same time county government started its efforts.

Since then, it was understood that the county had more leverage to get the project started because of its agreement with Time Warner Communications (TWC). Further, TWC and Channel 24 had worked with a task force to examine this increased media coverage.

Furlong said, "This has taken a lot longer than any of us had ever hoped for."

It was also mentioned that Channel 24 would like to be the vendor on the system and there were certain capabilities that they have. However, there will be a healthy competition for this project. Furlong had also discussed how the City of Sanford and many other cities in the county were aiding in this project.

Seminole County Sheriff Don Eslinger was also on hand to explain the Weekend Day Reporting Program. "We've asked the judges to change the weekend program to a day reporting program," he said. It is expected to start October 1.

The new program will replace the weekend jail program and will allow individuals to repay their debt to society by doing community service work during the day and returning home during the evenings. Eslinger also said, "I'm asking you to go back to your respective governments with this, we want to make better use of our resources."

Also discussed was a resolution adopted by the council where the cities of Seminole County (Altamonte Springs, Casselberry, Lake Mary, Longwood, Oviedo, Sanford and Winter Springs), along with the Seminole County School Board and Seminole County will pursue an Interlocal Agreement called the Intergovernmental Planning Coordination Agreement of 1997 (IPCA).

This agreement will give notification between the county, cities and the school board in matters dealing with issues like mutual borders, voluntary annexation, density changes, rezoning, comprehensive plan changes, and other land related issues. A motion was made and the agreement was officially passed by CALNO.

This was followed by a brief update by each government representative. These reports included: Casselberry Commissioner Al Clark who congratulated the Seminole County Sheriff's Office, as well as, the Casselberry Police Department for their work on the adult entertainment issue. ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - The Seminole County Sheriff's Department SWAT Team raided an apartment at 1208-A Oak Street in Altamonte Springs recently, and as a result, a man who has already been in and out of the John E. Folk Correctional Facility several times, is back behind bars once again.

As a result of the raid and articles found in the apartment, Sheriff's Investigator Kevin Brubaker arrested Joseph L. Williams of that address.

According to Seminole County sheriff's spokesman Lt. Jack Cash, Brubaker reportedly received information that Williams may have in his custody, a shotgun he was discharging in the community.

SEMINOLE COUNTY - The first Saturday in May is known as Kentucky Derby Saturday. A group of Special Athletes from Seminole County made it their big day on horseback, also.

Beth Newberg, Joe B. Nesehi, Valerie Sutton and Mark Bridges - ranging in age from 10 to 38 - rode in the Special Olympics 1988 State Equestrian Championships in Tampa on May 1 and 2.

Although the four began their equestrian training last September at Elise and Jim Hulme's Circle "H" Ranch in Sanford, they were proficient enough to win one gold, two silver, and three bronze medals at the Florida State Fairgrounds.

Bridges won a gold medal in the Trail Class, guiding his horse, "Mr. Bojangles" over a course of sharp turns and obstacles. "This was a remarkable performance for Mark," said Elise Hulme. "Eight months ago he was not comfortable being even near a horse."

The Hulmes taught the riders horse safety and behavior, care and grooming, tacking, stall cleanliness and horsemanship skills. A veterinarian showed how he gives horses injections, drawing blood for tests and listening to the horse's heartbeat.

Elise Hulme had volunteered years ago in a Broward County program known as Horses & Handicapped. She worked with numerous special riders for 8 years. When her husband, Jim, was transferred by BellSouth to Orlando, she asked if there was a program here.

"They told me there was one five years ago but it ended," Hulme said. "I asked around and decided to contribute what I could. We had two horses and a place for the riders to come. We had four participants and four volunteers who served as horse handlers and side walkers."

In the overall plan, there are three additional projects, some already under way or in the planning stage.

The multi-phase Mill Creek and Cloud Branch drainage improvements have been in progress on the city's west side for more than 5 years. Phase I, completed in July of 1986, improved the vicinity of 8th and 9th Streets. Phase II completed in July of 1987 was from 9th Street to 14th Street, and Phase IIIA, completed this spring, is from 18th street to Country Club Boulevard.

Other projects are currently in the design phase and will include improvements from 14th to 18th Streets.

Additionally, the Supplement-tal Reclaimed Water Supply Study now under way will involve evaluation of the use of water from Lake Monroe to supplement reclaimed water irrigation demands. This impacts not only the city of Sanford, but Lake Mary, and Seminole County.

The Airport Water Reclamation Facility, already in the planning stages, will include construction of a water reclamation facility as well as water main and force main projects. It is expected to begin as soon as possible, with the required legal advertising for the facility already being arranged. It will be funded by the city as well as the State Revolving Fund Loan Program.

Planned parenthood applauded

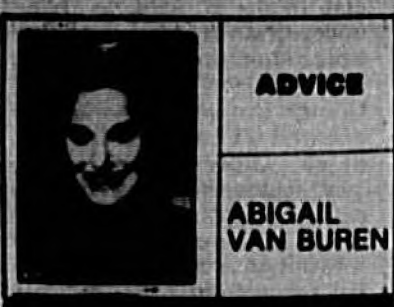

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for your recent response to "Pleased in the Sunshine State," whose daughter and son-in-law were helped by Planned Parenthood. Years ago, they helped me, too.

In 1970, when I was 16 years old, I met a man who was 23. Two years later, we were still together and talking seriously about marriage. I knew we were young. My one request was that we wait to have children. My fiancé agreed.

My parents had never spoken to me about sex, much less birth control, so I knew nothing about how to avoid becoming pregnant after we were married. I decided to do my senior term paper on methods of birth control. In my research, I discovered Planned Parenthood.

When I explained that I wanted the information for my term paper, they offered to send a speaker to school to speak to my class. On the day of the presentation, many students were late for their next class. The hunger for knowledge that these 17- and 18-year-olds possessed was astonishing. The presenter used visual aids and handouts, and the students' questions were answered honestly and fully. One classmate was seven months pregnant. I wonder if her pregnancy could have been avoided had such an open, frank lecture been given seven months earlier.

I followed Planned Parenthood's advice, and when my husband and I had been married for three years, we decided to start our family. We had our two beautiful children when we knew we were financially stable and mature enough to care for them properly.

Planned Parenthood offers a safe, professional environment where people can take their questions and fears, and be assured they will receive honest information and reliable care for their needs.

If your readers are interested in a presentation like the one given at my school so many years ago, they should contact Planned Parenthood. Education and prevention should be everyone's priority.

MARY CRUZ CAMPO

DEAR MARY: Although not every school district across the country will allow Planned Parenthood to send educators to their campus, Planned Parenthood is vitally interested in providing education and information wherever it's needed. To arrange for an educational presentation, those who are interested should contact their local Planned Parenthood office.

DEAR ABBY: In response to "Anonymous, Naturally," who was frustrated with late customers, I must share this story about our visit to Ireland:

Unaware of the closing time, my husband and I began shopping in a haberdashery shop in Dublin. The lone clerk began covering the tabled merchandise with large sheets. (That should have been a clue.) We told the clerk we wanted to buy an Irish cap for my husband, and we had come all the way from California in the United States to purchase it.

The clerk's comment was, "Ye should ha' left 15 minutes earlier!"
MARIE M. PEDERSON,
SANTA MARIA, CALIF.

DEAR MARIE: Faith and begorra, the clerk ha's a quick wit - not uncommon for the Irish. Thanks for sharing your story; it tickled my funny bone.

Lake Mary Commissioner Gary Brender thanked the county's Trails Program and also discussed Lake Mary's part of the Trail. In planning of the Trails sites, Brender says, "Now is the time to do it."

In his report on the school board, Brender referred to a zoning in the Winter Springs report. Gennell said the Trails opening went very well and that the next big opening will be May 16.

The Seminole County Council for Local Government (CALNO), is a cooperative effort between the individual cities of Seminole County, as well as the Seminole County School Board and Seminole Community College.

When first formed, the acronym CALNO stood for the initial cities in the organization: Casselberry, Altamonte Springs, Longwood and North Orlando. While North Orlando was renamed Winter Springs, and additional government bodies were added to the organization, the acronym CALNO has remained unchanged.

CALNO meets on the first Wednesday of each month on a rotational basis among participating entities.

each Saturday to the Circle "H" ranch.

"Elic and Jim Hulme went beyond the call of duty with the kids," said Phyllis Bridges of Longwood. "Their patience and understanding of these mentally and physically challenged athletes was extraordinary."

Bridges said that the Elic Hulme worked week after week on Saturdays and often had to compete with distractions and short attention spans.

"Unfortunately, these kids don't learn the first time and sometimes not the tenth time you instruct them something," Bridges said. "Elic understood and succeeded. She is an exceptionally fine coach."

Bridges said that the type of therapeutic riding is wonderful for the mentally and physically challenged. One of the riders is visually impaired and has cerebral palsy, one is hearing impaired and highly anxious, and one is young with a short attention span. Mark was afraid of horses and dogs and wouldn't come within 10 feet of either, but now it's hard to get him out of the saddle.

"We are thankful for the people in our community who take disabled persons under their wings and raise their self-esteem and their self-respect," Bridges said.

Do not rate the baseball season on a lack of a state championship

SANFORD - This column should have been written two weeks from now. It was supposed to be about how two teams from tiny little Seminole County shocked the state by taking baseball championships, following on the heels of Lyman (1986) and Lake Brantley (1987), to establish it as the best little baseball county in Florida.

Somehow, it didn't work out that way. How could anybody have known that Seminole wouldn't have walked away with the Class 5A title or that Lake Mary, Oviedo or Lake Brantley wouldn't have taken 6A? Maybe even two of the county's surprises, Lake Howell and Lyman?

What may have happened is that the Seminole County teams may have just beaten up on each other so much that, by the time regionals came around, there was nothing left in the tank.

Lake Mary lost to Gainesville last Friday, 13-1. Take it as given, being ranked No. 1 in the state and No. 4 in the nation, but Lake Mary isn't 11 runs worse than anyone. But after coming out of a tough regular season district race, then winning the district tournament, it was tough to keep the season going. How many times can the one-two late season pitching punch of Josh O'Brien and Brian Bretzer be unshakable?

There was Oviedo, a team that struggled at times despite having as much talent as any team in the county, but came on for a late run at the end of the season. The Lions beat the defending state champions from Lake Brantley, but lost a heartbreaker when Ben Knapp, whom we can now anoint as the county's best pitcher, lost on a one-hitter in the regionals.

For most teams, the final game for the seniors is the final time they'll ever take a baseball field, but at Oviedo, Seminole, Lake Brantley and a few players from the other schools, it only means they'll be trading their high school uniforms for professional or college jerseys.

At Seminole, the Tribe made it to a ranking of second in the state before a one-run loss Tuesday to Jacksonville-Walton. The 'Nobles' Lance Odom had been unshakable down the stretch before a series of felding blunders cost Seminole a chance to head for Tampa.

There's no team in Central Florida with more talent than the 'Nobles, with six players likely to be drafted by the professional ranks, but in the end, Seminole came up just a bit short.

Don't forget the triumphs at Lyman and Lake Howell. The Greyhounds led the district going into the final week of the season before wearing down with three close losses and the Hawks were an early surprise under new coach David Vince.

Think of the names who will move on to play at a higher level next year: Bretzer, O'Brien, Scott Hinkski, Randy Lewis, Odom, Tim Raines, Ned Raines, Don Taylor, CS Williams, Scott Ferrell, Jeremy Frost, Knapp, Paul Werner, Tim Hule, Mike Monaco, Robbie Sitz, Felipe Lopez, Chad Hall, Danny Burleson, Evan Loiacono, Tyler Carr and at least a half-dozen more who will be sitting up next year.

And don't forget the county's most hustling team - Winter Springs - which will contend for a title in the year 2000.

Seminole County won't be represented in Tampa next weekend, but, considering the level of play and the talent that came through the area this year, it was a successful year.

Last Second Shot: Make all the fun you want of the red DeVro, Shag O'Neill, but he's become the most dominating player in the NBA today, including number 23 in Chicago. What will he do to Greg Odenberg in the western finals?

White Sox railroaded

Railroaders-Cubs top Sunniland in Bambino baseball

From Staff Reports

SANFORD - So much for a showdown. Erik Breum hurled a two-hitter and Karl Henkel and Freddy Howard drove in two runs each as the Railroaders-Cubs thumped their nearest competition, the Sunniland Corporation-White Sox, 13-3, in Sanford Recreation Department Babe Ruth Baseball Bambino League action at Roger Holler Junior Field Wednesday evening.

In the other game, the First Union-Athletics solidified their hold on third place in the American Division by scoring eight runs in the sixth inning to pull out an 11-5 victory over the Play It Again Sports-Yankees.

With the victory the Cubs are now 13-1 and have all but clinched the top-seed from the American Division for the City Championship Series. Completing the American Division standings are the White Sox (11-3), the Athletics (6-8) and the Yankees (2-12).

On Saturday, the Yankees tackle the Cubs at 8:30 a.m. and the Athletics take on the White Sox at 10:30 a.m.

And on Monday, the White Sox face the Yankees at 5:45 p.m. and the Athletics battle the Cubs at 7:45 p.m.

After Erik Breum struck out the side in the top of the first inning the Cubs jumped on the White Sox for four runs in the bottom of the first.

Erik Breum reached on an error and scored one out later on Howard's first of three triples on the evening. Howard also scored on the play on an error.

Levi Gilb followed with a single and moved over to third on a wild pitch and a stolen base before scoring on a single by Roger Breum, who in turn scored on a pair of passed balls and a wild pitch.

Larry Thomas was the first White Sox batter to reach base after four strike outs and Arnold Rivers also walked. Thomas and Rivers would later score as Bacarie Mitchell and Eddie Bloom reached on errors.

The Cubs tacked on three runs in the second inning as Erik Breum, who reached on a fielder's choice, scored on a Henkel triple.

Arrest without warrant may not be valid

PEOPLE'S LAW
MANNY ACEVEDO

A valid arrest triggers certain protections afforded by Florida law as well as by the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Amendments of the U.S. Constitution. An arrest that is not valid, on the other hand, may lead to the suppression of statements made after the arrest and/or to the suppression of physical evidence. Therefore, the validity of an arrest has a major impact on the consequences of the arrest.

Arrests can be made with or without a warrant. Generally, a warrant may be issued by a judge when he or she believes that a person complained against has committed an offense within his or her jurisdiction. Once the warrant is issued the warrant may be executed by any sheriff of the county in which the arrest is made. However, if there is no warrant, an arrest may not be valid. The validity of the arrest will turn on the classification of the alleged crime and the circumstances surrounding the arrest.

Crimes are classified as either misdemeanors or felonies. Misdemeanors are crimes punishable by a year or less in county jail and/or a maximum fine of $1,000. Generally, misdemeanors include crimes like Assault, Battery, Carrying a Concealed Weapon, Disorderly Conduct, Driving Under the Influence, and certain drug offenses. Felonies, on the other hand, are crimes which are punishable by death or imprisonment in the state penitentiary for more than a year. Felonies include more serious crimes like Burglary, Robbery, Sexual Battery, and Murder.

Whether an arrest is for a misdemeanor or a felony generally determines under what circumstances the arrest may be made without a warrant. For a misdemeanor, a warrantless arrest may be made only if the offense is committed in the presence of an officer. Additionally, a misdemeanor warrantless arrest must be made immediately or in fresh pursuit. The law, however, is less restrictive where warrantless arrests for felonies are concerned. Unlike for a misdemeanor, a felony offense does not have to be committed in the presence of an officer for a warrantless arrest to be valid. In the case of a felony all the law requires is that an officer have a reasonable belief that a crime was committed and that the person to be arrested committed it.

There are however, some exceptions to the general rules stated above. For example, an officer may make a warrantless arrest regardless of the classification of the alleged crime when a warrant has been issued and is held by another officer. Additionally, an officer may make a warrantless arrest when there is probably cause to believe that a person has committed an act of domestic violence, child abuse, or there is danger of such violence unless the person is arrested without delay.

A great number of arrests are executed without a warrant every year. The validity of each arrest turns on two major factors: the classification of the crime alleged and the circumstances surrounding the arrest. Consequently, those factors will usually determine whether certain constitutional protections afforded an arrestee will be triggered or whether certain statements or evidence may be suppressed. In the coming weeks we will be discussing other aspects of arrests and criminal law.

Can earlobe indicate heart problem?

DEAR DR. GOTT: A while ago, doctors reported that a diagonal crease in the earlobe was a sign of heart disease. Is this true?

DEAR READER: The original investigations revealed that a diagonal earlobe crease was often a marker for potential heart disease in middle-aged people. Although not discredited, these findings have been largely ignored because other factors, over which patients have better control, were found to be more important. Such factors include cigarette smoking, obesity and high cholesterol levels. Therefore, there is much less emphasis today on earlobe creases. Doctors are focusing more on the preventable causes of heart disorders.

DEAR DR. GOTT: About six years ago, my 67-year-old father was diagnosed with Parkinson's disease. He was given medication and, at one point, was up to 17 pills a day. Then he changed doctors.

This new physician disagreed with the diagnosis and stopped all the medicine. My father still shakes. We are in shock and don't understand this turn of events. Isn't there some test to diagnose Parkinson's?

DEAR READER: For the most part, Parkinson's disease is a "clinical diagnosis," meaning that the ailment is suspected by the way a patient looks and behaves. Parkinson's disease causes a resting tremor, poor coordination, an expressionless face, a typical gait, and other neurological signs. There is no specific test to confirm the diagnosis.

Your father's situation is not unusual. One doctor said he has Parkinson's, another disagrees. Before judging which physician is correct, I'd have to have further information. What drugs were originally prescribed? Were they effective? Is he substantially worse without medication?

If the original doctor prescribed anti-Parkinson drugs, such as Sinemet, and your father's tremor disappeared, only to reappear when the medication was stopped, I would conclude that he has Parkinson's disease and should have continuing therapy. On the other hand, if discontinuing the drugs made no difference whatsoever, I'd tend to side with the new physician. One fact is clear: Patients with Parkinson's disease do not need 17 pills a day. Two or three should be adequate.

Perhaps the situation could be resolved by obtaining a third opinion. Take your father to a neurologist. Such a specialist should be able to clarify the issue and prescribe the appropriate remedy for your father's symptoms.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I had a vasectomy several years ago. Now that I have remarried, I am considering having children. Is a reversal possible? What are the chances of success?

DEAR READER: Many men choose to have their vasectomies reversed. This requires microsurgery, during which the tubes that carry sperm from the testicles are repaired. Most urologists are familiar with this procedure, but for obvious reasons, there is no guarantee of success. In general, more than 50 percent of vasectomy reversals lead to fertility, but this figure varies.

If you are considering such reconstructive surgery, you should ask your urologist about his rate of success. If it's less than 50 percent, consider going to another urological surgeon whose results are more favorable.

A second collection that is readable

By Phillip Alder

Having mentioned Mike Lawrence's second computer product over the last two days, I'll turn my attention to David Silver's second bridge book, "A Study in Silver" (Master Point Press). It contains 12 stories parodying various books (four by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle) and movies. The chapters are humorous, containing a spectrum of deals (mostly difficult). But the book is particularly strange in one aspect. The rest of most of the stories is Wright Cardinal, who describes the exploits of an eccentric genius by the name of Professor David Silver.

Cardinal can also play, as highlighted by this deal. When North-South staggered into three no-trump, Cardinal (East) doubled. This solved for a lead in dummy's first bid suit, diamonds. West duly obliged. And after winning the first trick with his queen, Cardinal found the lethal switch to the club jack. This gave the defenders the first six tricks for plus 500.

At the other table, Professor Silver was in three no-trump undoubled. (Perhaps North had the sense to go straight to game, not making that pusillanimous invitational raise.) Unaided by his partner, West led a club. Silver won with the king, played a heart to dummy's king, fanned the spade queen, and cashed the spade ace. When East's king came tumbling down, Silver could claim nine tricks: three spades, four hearts, one diamond and one club.

The book is available for $11.95 ($14.95) postpaid from Master Point Press, 22 Lower Village Gate, Toronto, Ontario, M5P 3L7, Canada.

Clear Birthday

Friday, May 15, 1988

Your chart indicates improvements are likely both materially and socially in the year ahead. New relationships with several groups of friends, as well as new sources of earnings, are possible.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your best allies today are your common sense and practicality. However, you might not use these assets as you should. It's important that you strive to be a realist instead of a rationalizer. Get a jump on life by understanding the influence that will govern you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions by mailing $2 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to state your Zodiac sign.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) There is a possibility that a material consideration might come between you and a close friend today and generate a disagreement. This can be avoided if you guard against it.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today it may be easier for you to make promises or commitments than it will be for you to keep them later. Sincerity is essential.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you have doubts today about a subordinate's ability to perform, it's best not to assign him/her a task that requires special skills. Give this person a minor role instead.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A social situation might not live up to your expectations today if the gathering includes one or two people who make you feel uncomfortable.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) You may have to deal with a person today who is extremely difficult to please. Do the best you can, but if it doesn't jell, don't feel guilty.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) People you'll be involved with today will intuitively perceive whether or not your statements are sincere. Don't attempt to embellish any of your stories.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) This is not a good day for you to go window-shopping at expensive stores in the mall. You might be tempted to buy something costly that you know isn't a good deal.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're going to be closely observed by others today, so be mindful of your behavior and presentation. If you do something unattractive, you could get stuck with an unflattering label.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) It's important today that you don't evaluate problems or challenges from an emotional perspective. If negative feelings dominate your attitude, you may not be successful.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Don't move too fast to try to develop a relationship with someone you've recently met. Proceed slowly, so that you'll be able to determine how much you really have in common.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It's going to take a concerted effort today to achieve your vital objectives at this time. If you fail to push yourself up properly, you may miss the boat.
