DAVIS ISLANDS

TAMPA IN THE BAY

Makes Profit of $23,500 in a Few Months---Atlanta Man Refuses $30,000 for His Lot---Wants $40,000 and Will Get It!

For several weeks re-sales of Davis Islands lots have been made at a price of $500 per front foot, netting their owners profits of 300 and 400 per cent. But yesterday a new mark was reached when Mrs. Thomas H. Laird, of Savannah, Georgia, sold her Lot 1, Block 1, to a local syndicate represented by the Taber Investment Company for $30,000 or $600 a front foot—a profit of $23,500 on a single lot in less than a year!

Just a few hours later, E. C. Rupley, local representative of G. L. Miller & Company, of Atlanta, refused $600 a front foot for the adjoining lot, declaring that within 30 days his property on Davis Islands would be worth $40,000 or $800 a front foot—almost seven times its original cost a few months ago!

Yesterday's transaction marked the steady rise of values on Davis Islands that has brought virtual fortunes to its lot owners in the past few months. And refusal to sell—even at a profit of $24,000—is indicative of the much greater profits in store during the coming season when the largest investing public Florida has ever known arrives from almost every state in the Union.

RESERVATIONS

Begin on Oct. 1st for Buyers Whose Checks Are in the Hands of Our Salesmen.

FREE TRANSPORTATION and complete information concerning Davis Islands may be obtained from our representatives at the addresses given below:

These rapidly rising prices and handsome profits are not just chance occurrences. They are the certain results of Davis Islands' strategic location in the very heart of Tampa—Florida's largest city. Shrewd investors know that such profits are but natural in the best located property in Florida where $7,000,000 is being spent in building alone this year—more than was spent in the entire city of Tampa in 1924.

That is why buyers stood in line for forty hours to get first choice of lots in the opening sale when $3,000,000 worth of property was sold in the first few hours. And that is why hundreds of investors are depositing checks today for reservations on Davis Islands lots when the last of this magnetic profit-making property goes on sale October 15th.

Davis Islands is the finest home spot in Florida. The beauty of its residences, luxurious clubs and home surroundings has spread throughout the state. This is the type of property that thousands will demand—and literally fight for—in Florida. And those fortunate enough to own here may demand and soon receive their own price!

Insurance License Law In Effect Oct. 1st; State Is Now Distributing Questionnaires

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Affidavits and qualification cards are being mailed out to 5,000 or more agents representing all classes of insurance companies in Florida from the office of State Treasurer J. C. Luning.

The mailing is being done in order to put into effect Chapter 10, 153, Acts of 1925, relating to the qualification and licensing of insurance agents, which becomes effective October 1, when all present licenses expire. Copies of the law are being sent out with each card.

Realizing that he cannot reach all agents direct, the state treasurer is sending a supply of the cards to the various companies and general agencies over the state for distribution. Upon application by the agents who do not receive the cards, Mr. Luning will send a supply from here.

The act referred to requires that each agent shall subscribe to an affidavit that he has not and will not rebate any part of any premium on any policy or contract of insurance, and that he (or she) has not, and will not, directly or indirectly, divide or offer to divide his or her commissions with any individual, co-partnership, association or corporation other than a regularly licensed and authorized resident insurance agent or solicitor of the state, soliciting the same class of business as the applicant, or with a non-resident agent or broker, regularly authorized and licensed in his home state, who has sent or caused to be sent to the Florida resident agent for counter-signature the policy or other contract of insurance, surety or indemnity coverage.

A similar affidavit has been required of agents under the old law, but the laws of 1925 allow wider latitude in the matter of division of commissions between regularly licensed agencies, both within and without the state.

Certificates showing that the applicant has had experience or instruction, or will receive instruction in some special line of insurance, is required, and also that he is of good business reputation. The certificates must be signed by regularly licensed agents of the state, or by a representative of a regularly licensed insurance company, to whom the applicant is personally known.

Sectional of the act defines the exact status of an insurance agent, and makes it unlawful for any insurance agent to represent himself as such unless all provisions of the act are complied with.

Section 6 provides a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $200 for those convicted of violation of any section of the act. The act does not authorize renewal of licenses to agents already licensed until they have qualified under the new law.

In a few instances, it was stated at the insurance department, applicants seem to have confused the qualification cards with the licenses. The applicant must himself sign the required affidavit, and have his certificate of qualification signed by a regularly licensed agent or other representative of an insurance company duly authorized to transact business in Florida.

The applications for licenses for such agents will be made as hereinafter from the home offices or general agencies of the companies represented or desiring to be represented in Florida by such agents, and the license tax will be paid by the company or general agent at the time application for the license is filed.

It will be necessary for the applicant himself to file an affidavit and qualification card under the new law, regardless of the number of companies he may be licensed to represent.

RAIL COMMISSION TELLS ROADS TO INCREASE POWER

Congested Freight Traffic Warrants Immediate Improvement; Embargo Situation Reported Better

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Railroads of Florida should increase their motive and man power and place their most experienced operating officials on the job to help in relieving the congested traffic conditions of the state.

This in part was the gist of a statement given out at the office of the Railroad Commission, in a general discussion of the best plan for the rail lines which now grip the state.

"Consignees must not place orders for material beyond their ability to unload," the statement goes on to say. "Trucking equipment must be increased and operated day and night, and deliveries made direct to customers wherever possible to save warehouse space."

The "progressive spirit," the statement says, "has met every emergency, and will not fail now." This cannot be done, however it continues, except by co-ordination of effort and full co-operation on the part of carriers and public.

"This is not the time for recrimination and shifting of responsibility," it says.

The commissioners, the statement adds, are doing all in their power to help in co-ordinating the activities of the carriers and shippers and urge fullest co-operation to meet the emergency.

"The embargo situation is slowly improving and continued efforts along the lines suggested will keep the rails open for the immense volume of freight coming into the state," the statement concludes.

Record Shows Many Seattle Workers Are Victims Of Usury

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Two thousand of approximately 5,000 municipal employes here are victims of loan agencies commonly called "loan sharks," a recent check of payroll sheets in Comptroller Harry W. Carroll's office disclosed.

The majority of these debt-ridden workers never see their pay checks, which are assigned to the agency when a loan is contracted. After the check is deducted its interest charge the debtor receives what remains.

Though this state has a drastic usury law, making the maximum legal interest rate one percent a month, investigation shows as high as 36 per cent is collected in some instances. To the high interest rates city officials attribute the fact that some borrowers cannot free themselves from debt.

The agencies operate under a pawnbrokers' license law, which permits a greater interest charge, though they are not actual pawnbrokers.

Chief of Police Sweeney estimated amounts owed by his patrolmen ranged from $50 to $500, with $100 the average. He said 120 men owing approximately $12,000 paid $360 monthly interest.

State Would Close Old Case Against Popham Interests

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 30.—(AP)—An echo of the noted case of William Lee Popham, et al, versus the state of Florida has been heard. Attorneys for the state have asked the United States Supreme Court to dismiss for lack of jurisdiction an appeal taken by the Popham interests in the litigation over control of the oyster bottoms of Apalachicola bay.

The case dates back two years. It originated when Popham, known as the "millionaire oyster king," fought a hard battle in seeking an injunction to restrain the state from oyster production in Apalachicola bay.

According to the records of the State Supreme Court, where the lower court's dismissal of the injunction proceedings was affirmed, Popham and a number of associates sought to restrain the state from operations in the bay on the ground that certain territory where the oyster planting was done was theirs by Indian-Spanish grant. An effort was made to prevent the state from leasing or using "certain submerged lands" for planting and cultivating oysters.

The prediction of Clerk G. T. Whitfield, of the State Supreme Court, that there would be little business done by that tribunal for probably two weeks after reconvening is rapidly becoming a certainty. At the end of a little over one week, only two writs of mandamus were given out for publication.

Danes Usurp Irish In British Pork Market

DUBLIN, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The condition of the Irish pig trade is described as the worst for 20 years. The Irish pig is being driven from the British markets, mainly owing to the competition of the Danes. Before the World War Ireland had 976,000 pigs while Denmark had 600,000. Now, Mr. Muekenna, a member of the Dail, estimates Denmark has 1,800,000 pigs and the Irish figures have declined.

Brains and the Brute

We had been under the impression that one of the primary duties of law enforcement officials was the prevention of crime. Of course so little crime is actually prevented that we have almost come to look upon officers of the law as responsible only for the apprehension of criminals after the crime has been committed.

It seems however that the Sheriff of Dade County takes an entirely different viewpoint. This official received some very good advanced information that a jail delivery would be attempted early Sunday morning. He anticipated that the rush would occur during the breakfast hour.

Promptly at the predicted hour eight men broke through the jail door at a run. The deputies opened fire. One man, a negro trusty about the jail, was killed. Six of the prisoners were more or less severely wounded.

The sheriff and his men made no effort to prevent the attempt to escape. They even encouraged the prisoners in it. They permitted the negro trusty to open the jail door and go in with the men's breakfast; this, just after one of the regular guards had announced in an unduly loud voice, so that the prisoners might hear, that he was going.

The Herald believes it was better to shoot the men down than to allow them to escape, but The Herald believes that a man of intelligence in the sheriff's office could have prevented the escape without such a lavish exhibition of gun play.

Vote For The Best Man

The Macon Daily Telegraph repeats a story of Senator Norris of Nebraska about a minister who went fifteen miles to hear him speak and after the speaking said to him, "Mr. Norris, I am so anxious to have you succeed that every night before I retire, on bended knees I ask God to get you are elected to the Senate. Why, sometimes I see that so anxious to see you elected that I almost feel as though I should vote for you myself."

"My friend," said Mr. Norris, "if you feel that that way about it, why don't you vote for me?"

"Oh," he replied, "I couldn't do that. I am a Democrat." We did not know that Northern Democrats carried Democracy to such a fault but it is a well known fact that in the South Democrats place their party invariably above their own common sense.

The time is surely coming when Southerners will have to throw off the shackles of political inheritance and vote for the best man regardless of party, or else hang their heads in shame.

For many years in national elections the vote of the Solid South could be counted months before election day. The South would go Democratic regardless of what that party stood for or who its nominee happened to be. For years the party creeds and principles have been framed in the East and mighty little the Solid South has had to say about the framing.

1924 offers a fair example of the point The Herald is trying to emphasize. The South stood solidly for McAdoo. The East thwarted the desire of the South and then chose a "compromise" candidate from the East, from New York City. On election day the South accepted the "compromise" candidate and voted solidly for him. The East voted quite as solidly for the Republican candidate.

There will be another convention in 1928 when the Democrats must select another presidential nominee. Perhaps again the South will give up the man it wants and swallow another "compromise" offered it by the East. Perhaps again it will vote solidly for the Eastern man while Easterners vote Republican.

But perhaps it will have sense enough to vote for the best man, Democrat or Republican.

I have been teaching in the High School for three years and as one of your public servants I am in position to know some of the needs and desires of the children. We have a wonderful city, but how we neglect our children. The people who layed out our city and set aside so many parks had some wonderful ideas. Shall we let all these parks remain idle? Every few days I hear some of the school children wishing they had somewhere to play. We have been promised tennis courts for several years, and how we appreciate the ONE we have, but we need twenty-five.

$2,000,000 For Fish. For Negro Workers. Business and Religion. Discouraging Pilots. BY ARTHUR BRISBRANE (Copyright 1925)

IN CHICAGO, where this is written, John G. Shedd, Monday signed his name to an agreement under which he will supply $2,000,000 to build the world's largest aquarium in Grant Park.

THE ROCKEFELLERS have given away hundreds of millions, a sum larger than the combined total fortunes of all the richest men in America when John D. Rockefeller was a boy.

MR. SHEDD'S gift of a great aquarium in money well spent. It will increase the supply of public information.

A PLAN to get rid of sharks that destroy billions of valuable fish every year and the small savage whale that prey upon the great schools of salmon in the northwest, would be worth millions in increased food value.

COMMUNIST LEADERS are said to be active in a Negro labor movement, seeking to establish a Communist Negro labor organization.

Intelligent colored men can guess what that would lead to, and where the white men would land them in a "communist drive."

HOWEVER, THE intelligent colored man will realize that property is too hard to get and keep as to make communism, the idea of dividing up what you have, distinctly repulsive.

JUDGE HOLDOM, of Chicago, talking of business combined with religion, says, "Silas L. Bryan, father of William Jennings Bryan, was an Illinois judge and opened his court with prayer. His decisions were uniformly reversed by the Supreme Court."

THAT, HOWEVER, doesn't show that it is a bad thing to mix business and religion. It only shows that business can go to the bad, even with religion added.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE learns, by testimony given before his aircraft committee yesterday, that the War department has thoroughly discouraged American pilots.

ONCE MORE, how will the opponents of a separate air force answer these questions? Why have we separate army and navy departments? Isn't it because the army and navy are different, and require special knowledge and ability?

A YOUNG Chicago bootlegger answering in court the question, "What is your business?" replies calmly, "I am a bootlegger," then tells how, with thousands and tens of thousands, he bribed the authorities after he landed in jail. He stayed in jail as much or as little as he pleased. The young bootlegger, who had made over a million, protested that they "tapped him" rather severely.

WHEN IT was suggested that an official higher up might go to jail for bribetaking, that official asked, "What jail do you think you could send me to that's on the level?" He intimated plainly that bootlegging business had corrupted officials wholesale, and that with money you buy what you wanted.

There is no doubt that the "easy money" of bootlegging, hijacking and drug dealing has seriously damaged public morals and weakened the value of officials.

JOHN HULBERT, official executioner at Sing Sing prison, quits his job after killing 140 in the electric chair. For this he has been paid $21,000—$150 for each killing.

Not bad pay for merely throwing a switch and seeing that the current is O. E. But it must be disagreeable work, and it must be ever more so, on the other shore, the 140 that he sent on ahead? If so, what will they say to each other? Thank him, very likely.

It is difficult to find another executioner, because he must be a trained electrician, willing to kill for a living. It should be not difficult but IMPOSSIBLE to find such a man in a civilized state.

COMES A TIME IN THE LIVES OF ALL PARENTS

NO SUCH A THING ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

There is no such thing as a safe railway grade crossing in the nature of things there cannot be.

The grade crossing must go, unless we take the mercenary and merciless view that economy should be practiced in the saving of human life.

The grade crossing must go, say Governor Smith and the Legislature of New York State—it must go even though its elimination costs the State $300,000,000.

A constitutional amendment soon to be voted on permits the issuance of bonds to such an amount as the State's part of the cost of killing the wild beast of the rail junction.

No such sum would be required to eliminate practically all the grade crossings in North Carolina. In Buncombe County, for example, there are but few of these highly dangerous ones, and yet the cost of doing away with them would not be large.

Day after day we read of terrible accidents at watchmen-guarded junctions of rail and road, of misfortune following failure of bells to ring, of locomotive engineers and motor drivers misunderstanding each other's intentions. We do not need to look further than Baltimore to see that watchmen do not, cannot, make a grade crossing safe.

THE CONSTITUTION COLLIER'S WEEKLY

Most of us speak highly of the constitution. Few of us ever read it. A year ago the national election turned largely on the fear of changes in it. It is safe to say that 99 out of every 100 voters did not know what they were voting about.

Many of us do not know what our scheme of government actually is. Too many of our legislators, busily turning the handles of the lawmaking machines, do not know and do not care whether their brain children have a legitimate place in the American scheme.

The chief purpose of the constitution originally was the protection of human rights and individual freedom.

Today the federal government is chiefly busy with doing things for us and doing things to us. It is a great and costly agency engaged in about twenty-five thousand separate and distinct occupations. It spends every year billions of dollars, and it has to spread them pretty thin to cover all the tasks that enthusiasts, cranks and selffish interests discover for it. And while trying to help us with one hand, the government is spanking us with the other. Congress has passed about fifty thousand laws. No one could enforce them all. The desk of every federal attorney is jammed with cases which he could not prepare and bring to trial if he held office for fifty years. And the citizen goes his way daily wondering what laws he is breaking.

The debate over states' rights is livelier than ever. The dread of centralized power stalks abroad. One group cries out that we are suffering from "government by courts." Another replies that the courts are our only bulwarks of Americanism.

There should be no rush and sudden changes in our system, but we know that changes must and will be made. Unless a majority of the people know what it is all about we shall go on prescribing cures which are worse than the diseases to be remedied.

Every officeholder takes an oath to "defend the constitution." Citizenship carries the same obligation. How can we defend it if we don't know what it is? Read your constitution.

CLEAN PLAYS MIAMI TRIBUNE

The musical play, "Rose Marie," which is just completing its first year at the Imperial theater, New York City, is considered to have broken the world stage record, playing to 3,500,000 people in a single year. This play, opening in Atlantic City in August, 1924, has now four companies on the road, with another soon to start.

Profits from this production have made fortunes for several people and the credit for judgment and foresight in the selection of this play is due to the late Oscar Hammerstein, the father of the producer. He maintained that clean and wholesome plays, especially when accompanied by beautiful musical and artistic settings with a certain romantic appeal, were the most profitable theatricals that could be placed upon the American stage today.

The great success of "Rose Marie" gives promise of the return of that type of better musical plays such as "Robin Hood," which were so successful in this country about 15 years ago. The last decade has been given so largely to the vogue of jazz that it is only recently that producers have realized that the public demands and will support the entertainment of the more wholesome and artistic sort, such as this charming musical play, "Rose Marie" represents. The tuneful music of this play has swept across the entire country and it is more or less a common remark for visitors in New York, wishing to get the best "theater," to say, "Have you seen 'Rose Marie'?"

While scores of plays filled with brainless piffle come and go on Broadway, now and then a playwright or a producer has courage and artistic sense enough to realize that attractive music, a decent plot and a real heart interest are, after all, the abiding and popular drawing cards of the theaters.

It is much to be hoped that the great success of "Rose Marie" in the country is an indication of the turn of the tide away from the mediocre and unwholesome musical shows of that type of production carrying with it wholesome entertainment and the joyous, tuneful notes of life.

SEMI-ANNUAL FASHION SHOW WILL BE HELD ON THURSDAY EVENING

Much interest is being shown in the announcement of the semi-annual Fashion Show which The Baumel's Specialty Shop will give at the Milane Theater Thursday evening. For several years these fashion shows have proven both interesting and entertaining, and are always anticipated with a great deal of pleasure by Sanford people.

The models this season, as in former seasons, will be several of the most attractive members of the Sanford society. They are Mrs. A. K. Powers, Miss Lillian Shinholser, Miss Margaret Cowan, Mrs. A. W. Epps, Mrs. B. J. Coleman, Miss Cora Hill and Miss Nancy Bishop. Each will model a number of beautiful gowns and wraps showing the latest trend of the Fall and Winter fashions.

A new feature of the fashion show will be a showing of children's frocks for which the attractive small models will be: Marie Ann Powers, Ann Robson, Maxine Brockhahn, and Dorris Hobart.

New Smyrna Beach Development Has Many Attractions

New Smyrna Beach, townsite development of the H. B. Schulte Realty Company, Inc., of Daytona has been called the Atlantic City of the south by authorities who have seen the similarity in the two locations.

Lying between the Atlantic Ocean and the Indian River for a distance of two and a half miles, its advantages and attraction as a resort are declared to be unequalled in the state. Handled by men of wide knowledge in the development field, it is predicted that the future of the New Smyrna Beach project is assured.

Development by the owners, it is pointed out, will include wide paved boulevards and streets, arrangements for installing water, power, gas and sewerage; donation of school, church, post office, playground, park and golf course sites; concrete sidewalks, and advisable building restrictions.

Among the natural advantages embraced in the location in addition to the year round climate, are the proximity to the well known East Coast beach, conveniently situated along the Florida East Coast Railroad, and the principal highways through the district. The situation is far enough removed, it is shown, from the congested traffic centers to insure the safety of growing children.

National Exhibits For Poultry Show At The Volusia Fair

DELAND, Sept. 30.—(P)—The gold medal poultry show for Florida under the auspices of the American Poultry Association, has awarded to the Volusia county fair which will be held in this city from January 26 to 30. This announcement was made the national organization through the Florida division executive.

The holding of this official poultry show here means that breeders from all over the United States will have exhibits at the fair here this year, according to state association officials. The award made by the American Poultry Association are considered the highest in the country. A corps of judges from throughout the Union will make the decisions.

Prizes offered by the parent organizations are gold and silver medals for the best cockerel of each variety of poultry including chickens, duck, geese, other waterfowl and bantams. It was announced that the American Poultry Association recognizes the fact that the male makes up 50 per cent of flock value and gives its awards on that basis.

Officials of the Volusia county fair association state that this will be the largest poultry show in the history of the county. They have ordered the poultry building at the fair grounds enlarged and special pens for waterfowl, pheasants and other fancy stock constructed.

Ten silver loving cups and $6,925 in cash will be awarded in the poultry division by the Volusia county fair association.

All timber lands in Florida reserved for the use of the United States Navy have been turned over to the Secretary of the Interior for restoration to the public domain.

Japanese Nobility Claim Sea Turtle Is Good Luck Omen

TOKYO, Sept. 29.—(P)—The turtle is an omen of good luck in Japan. Recently a giant sea specimen clamped waddled out of the ocean at Imperial Villa at Hayama where the Prince Regent and the Crown Princess were staying, and brought happiness to the royal household.

The big turtle, is said to have weighed several hundreds pounds, appeared on the beach in the early hours of the morning. The police guards immediately informed the Imperial couple of the visitor and both the Regent and his young wife came out to observe the stranger. The turtle was then treated to a bowl of sake, the Japanese national drink, which is always used to welcome a guest. After a somewhat hesitant sip or two, the cumbersome reptile shuffled out to sea and disappeared. The Prince Regent obtained several photographs before his visitor departed.

As the Crown Princess is expected to become a mother some time this Fall, the advent of the turtle was viewed as an exceedingly fortunate omen.

HARRIS TOUTED AS PREMIER OF PLAYING CHIEFS

Performance Of Past Two Seasons Show Colorful Bucky to Be Better Than Flash in Pan, Experts Say

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Stanley Raymond (Bucky) Harris, 28 years old, leads his Washington Senators into their second World's Series on Oct. 7, in Pittsburgh—a tribute to youth and playing managers.

When Bucky captured the American League flag in 1924 many close followers of the game were of the opinion that either the team carried Harris through or that he was "lucky." But when the series for the world title came, the youth matched wits with one of the game's oldest and most renowned managers, John J. McGraw of the New York Giants, and the youth won.

Harris never has been a remarkable player but there is something about his leadership that attracts veteran and recruit as well and at all times he is prepared to receive and consider the advice of those who comprise the backbone of his club—Johnson, Peckinpah, Rice and Goslin. Washington, however, may expect a well turned afternoon always from its second baseman. He is an expert fielder and a dangerous batsman, and has developed into one of the best pivot men of baseball.

The Senator leader's career began in Pittston, Pa., in 1911, at the age of 18. He is a native of Port Jervis, N. Y. In 1916 Hughie Jennings of Detroit gave the youngster a trial at Detroit. Within a month he went to Scranton of the New York State League, and thence to Muskegon, Mich., where he played third base and had a batting record of .166.

Norfolk, Va., had him in 1917, but on May 30 he became a member of the Reading club in the International League. He played 70 games and hit for .250. The following year found him with Buffalo, playing short stop and second base in 85 contests and batting for .241. In 1919 with Buffalo he became one of the International's best infielders and increased his hitting figures to .282. It was on Aug. 5 of that year that the Senators obtained him.

In 1921 and 1922 Harris participated in every game with the Senators, hitting for .289 and 2.69. In 1923 he had an average of .282 and in 1924 his mark was .268.

Rear Admiral Robison Takes Rank Of Captain

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Rear Admiral J. K. Robison, a storm center in the senate oil investigation, concluded his four year term as chief of the navy bureau of engineering today and reverted to his regular rank as captain. He had requested permission to retire before relinquishing his bureau post but this was refused by President Coolidge. What assignment he will be given has not been determined nor has a successor yet been selected to head the bureau.

Babe Adams, Pirate Hurler, Sole Survivor Of Winners In 1909 Series With Tigers

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Sixteen years ago, on a cold October day, there came into everlasting baseball fame a bulky Missouri ploverman, for the moment one of the great moundmen of the day—Charles (Babe) Adams. Detroit had won the American League pennant that year, 1909, and Pittsburgh the National, but the Pirates' pitching staff had crumpled at the last—with one exception. Adams, a first year man, had won two games and stood on the mound at Detroit in the final struggle, facing another famous right-hander of that day—the late "Wild Bill" Donovan, who was killed in the Twentieth Century Limited wreck while on his way to attend the baseball league meetings in 1923.

With Detroit was the great Tyrus Raymond Cobb of Georgia, still great after 20 years; the powerful Sam Crawford and a string of other dangerous batsmen. But Adams carried the series and the world's championship to Pittsburgh by permitting only six hits, materially aided by bow-legged, fighting Hans Wagner who seemed to be everywhere at once. Pittsburgh scored eight runs for a decisive conquest in this seventh and final game.

Today Babe Adams, now 43 years old, stands ready to pitch his heart out for another Pittsburgh triumph in world's series combat and the sentiment of the Pirate fans very likely will draw him into action in at least one of the games. His arm has not the stamina of old but his courage and skill remain.

Babe has had a notable career. Born in Tipton, Ind., in 1882, he went with his father to Mt. Morris, Mo., in early life. His father was a tiller of the soil and so was Babe until his work as pitcher for his home town Haymakers came to notice. The Parsons team of the Missouri Valley League picked him up in 1905 and he won 30 out of 40 games, enough to attract the attention of the St. Louis Cardinals. After spending half of the season on a St. Louis bench he was sent to Louisville and thence to Denver. In the Colorado enterprise he became a hero, with 38 victories out of 50 games, and Pittsburgh snatched him away for a short trial in 1908. Then again he went to Louisville and pitched so well that he came back to the Pirates to stay.

After his remarkable work in the world's series of 1909, Adams remained for a long time in Pittsburgh, but finally failed in 1917 and departed for the lower leagues. But he pitched remarkable ball for Hutchinson of the Western and Kansas City offered him an opportunity. It was the road back to fame, a road few major leaguers have traveled. The veteran conquered Columbus twice in the season of 1918, allowing one hit each time, to show he was back in form.

The latter part of the season saw him return to the Pirate fold and remain there. In his career in the majors he has pitched in 2,476 innings, equal to 272 full games. This season he has participated in the credit for a dozen contests, winning as many as he has lost.

STATE PUBLICITY FOR 66 COUNTIES NOW UNDER WAY

Agriculture Department Behind Move For Placing Various Resources Before World; Will Feature Farms

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 30.—(AP)—A systematic plan of publicity for each of the sixty-six counties of Florida has already begun by the Department of Immigration, of the State Department of Agriculture, according to an announcement made by C. J. King, the advertising editor.

The publicity will be for the purpose of placing the resources of the counties before the world at large. It will consist of the general character of the soil, crop production, crops that could be made productive, fruits and stories generally of success and other interesting information. The railroad mileage, systems of which they are a part, highways and particularly the number of miles of road roads, exceptional points of interest and manufacturers will also be covered.

The write-ups, which will be available for all newspapers desiring them, will be issued at a rate of about two counties each week. They may be obtained upon request, it was stated. Other features to be incorporated in the publicity will include the names of all new settlers, the kind of farming, class of farming contemplated, and whether or not the farmer owns his own land.

T. J. Brooks, head of the immigration department, will assist King in this work. Mr. Brooks recently began the publicity move by visiting Jefferson county where he gathered considerable data for the first issue of the series.

Locomotives On P.R.R. Making Long Non Stop Hauls Between Cities

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Thirty-two fast passenger trains on the Pennsylvania railroad between New York and Pittsburgh are now being operated without a change of locomotives. The road experimented with this innovation first by trying the plan on two fast passenger trains between the Smoky City and the metropolis. For thirty days the lone locomotives making the entire haul, pulled the flyers in on time.

The plan was extended to take in two trains between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, as well as two trains carrying the mail and express between this city and Chicago. Again the big locomotives proved their endurance qualities, and the Pennsylvania engineers have decided to extend the no-change system to include the 32 fast trains between Pittsburgh and the East. Later, they said, it would take in the lines west of Pittsburgh. To insure the no-change plan, the road replaced the lighter type passenger locomotives with heavier ones, thus increasing the speed on the level ground and making possible the long mountain hauls.

Memory Of Hopper Plague 50 Years Ago Arouses Kansas Ire

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Kansas folks are exercised over the fact that the old time grasshopper plagues remain in the memory to plague the state while more serious visitations in other states and other lands are forgotten.

In 1874 a horde of grasshoppers that darkened the skies invaded Kansas, leveling fields and denuding trees and vegetation of all foliage, poisoning wells and rivers that were choked with their bodies, and literally blocking roads. The plague seriously checked the settling of Kansas, still an infant state.

Now, "to judge from recent reports from Argentina," remarked former Gov. Henry Allen recently, "the Kansas grasshopper visitation was as mild as a cloud of gnats in comparison."

"Tens of thousands of tons of locusts have been trapped. Barriers of steel sheets many miles in length are set up to stop the pests. The government has a special bureau to cope with them. They have come, not only one year, but a number of years in succession. "But for some unexplainable reason the Kansas grasshopper which showed up serious proportions; only once, will always be more famous than the Argentine variety, just as the Kansas 'cyclone' is more notorious than the more numerous ones of Illinois."

E. B. Mann, member of the annual staff of the University of Florida, was a visitor at the state capitol here. Mr. Mann was engaged in gathering data of a more or less historical character, to be used in a forthcoming issue of the University Annual.

STELLAR BODIES CHANGE POSITION DURING OCTOBER

Seasonal Change in Constellations to Take Place Next Month; Venus Said to Be New Evening Star Now

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(P)—Just as with lot of folks, October is moving time with the stars. The eastern horizon soon will appear the brilliant stars of winter. The fall trek is in progress.

On October 7, Jupiter will be in conjunction with the sun, that is, degrees east of the sun and on meridian due south at sunset. Mars has left the evening sky and is on the far side of its orbit from the earth, 250,000,000 miles away. The big dipper will be far to the northwest.

The milky way may be traced clearly, dark evenings in October normally across the heavens from north-east to the western horizon.

Far over in the southeast appear the brilliant Fornalhaut constellation Pegasus. Also the Southern Fish, which is visible in American latitudes only a brief period in the fall and winter. Fornalhaut is one of the 20 brightest stars in the heavens.

October star gazers, says a bulletin of the American Nature Association, will find that the constellation of Capricornus, the sea-goat, and Aquarius, the water-carrier, two constellations of the line that contain no stars brighter than the third magnitude, have the places of the brilliant zodiacal groups of Scorpio and Taurus that were conspicuous in the southern sky during the summer. Venus, which has been visible in the western sky, after sunset since late in June, will be as the evening star in the northwest for about two hours at sunset.

Return will be seen for a short time after sunset a little to the west of Venus, but before October has passed it will be too close to the sun to be seen in the light. Jupiter still is directly north of the little inverted milk-pail, and it will be next to Venus, the most brilliant object in view in the southwestern heavens in the early evening.

October star gazers, says a bulletin of the American Nature Association, will find that the constellation of Capricornus, the sea-goat, and Aquarius, the water-carrier, two constellations of the line that contain no stars brighter than the third magnitude, have the places of the brilliant zodiacal groups of Scorpio and Taurus that were conspicuous in the southern sky during the summer. Venus, which has been visible in the western sky, after sunset since late in June, will be as the evening star in the northwest for about two hours at sunset.

WILL SEEK AGENTS

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 30.—(P)—The several hundred insurance agents who were not reached by mail in the distribution of qualification cards from the insurance commissioner's office here, will be reached through the general agents, it was stated. A number of letters containing the cards were returned from Jacksonville and Tampa because of inability to locate the agents. The report that 50 letters had been returned in error, however.

COULD ELIMINATE CAPITALS

MOSCOW, Sept. 30.—(P)—The commissariat of education has been considering a proposal to eliminate capital letters from the Russian script. In favor of the proposition it is argued that the original nations incorporated in the Soviet Federation are not accustomed to employ capital letters and that it would be easier for them to learn Russian if capital letters were excluded.

Given Silver Trophy

Frank Lockhart, 22 American dirt track driving champion, was recently awarded a silver trophy for setting a new record on the one-mile Taylor oval in San Francisco. His time was 46 seconds. Here he is shown being presented the cup by Miss Agnes Pottage, Diamond Jubilee queen.

Mayo Gives Advice For Handling Citrus In Recent Bulletin

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 30.—(P)—Three essentials are necessary under the laws of Florida in the handling of the citrus crop, according to a notice issued to packers and shippers by Nathan Mayo, commissioner of agriculture. They follow:

- 1.—The packing house should be registered.
- 2.—Seven days' notice should be given the Commissioner of Agriculture of the date of packing or in preparing for sale or transportation.
- 3.—A supply of the citrus fruit tax stamps should be kept on hand. The stamps, which are used in testing, are sold at the agricultural department offices in classes of $5.40, $4.50, fifteen cents and one and one-half cents. The $5.40 and $4.50 denominations are for paying taxes on car load shipments, either in bulk or in boxes. The fifteen cent stamps are for increasing the cartload ten boxes for each stamp. The one and a half cent stamps are for use on single boxes.

The packers and shippers are also requested by the commissioner to obtain a copy of the Citrus Fruit Law and read it carefully.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The Coolidges, you might say, must be incorrigible jay-walkers, considering all the stories the papers tell of their narrow escapes from being hit by automobiles.

Twice, just before he left Washington for Swampscott, the president had to jump like a kangaroo to dodge speeding cars.

Mrs. Coolidge barely missed being run down by one during the family's stay at the summer capital, and since their return here one of the presidential calls was so close that the driver responsible for it actually was arrested, which means there was no joke or exaggeration about it—the authorities were genuinely and thoroughly scared, and maybe the president was too.

The truth is the Coolidges are no more reckless than any other pedestrians, but whereas the ordinary individual is endangered right along without attracting the least attention, when it happens to the president or his wife it creates a sensation.

They have a bodyguard with them also, to make an effective

For "cutting corners and failing to give way to a pedestrian," even when an arrest is made, the average bond required in Washington is about $50, but when Nathan D. Smith did it, to the jeopardy of President's Coolidge's life, he had to put up $3500.

Probably Nathan will be more careful after this. He may never cross the presidential trail again, but he always will be afraid he will.

Some authorities say these walks President Coolidge takes around the capital are a restraining influence on all the drivers in Washington. They never know what minute he'll loom up dead ahead.

If there's anything in this theory it might be a good plan to keep him traveling from city to city turning up each week or two unannounced, in a new place, to put the fear of God in local drivers' hearts by a series of rambles in the worst of their auto-infested streets.

But perhaps it would be better to see how Nathan D. Smith's experience works on him first.

HOME FOR RUSS ACTORS

MOSCOW, Sept. 30.—(P)—A group of Moscow actors, including K. Stanislavsky, W. Danchenko, W. Kachalov and others belonging to the Moscow Art Theater have formed a special building society for the erection in Moscow of a special home for actors and painters. Besides living quarters the new house will contain a theatre and a roof garden. Local authorities have promised to assist them in their venture.

Orlando—Building permits for month of August exceeds million dollars.

MIAMI SHORES

AMERICA'S MEDITERRANEAN

Just as this has been Miami's Greatest Summer so will this be Miami's Greatest Winter---

in other words

Miami's Greatest Year!

FOR Miami is no longer merely a winter resort city. Miami is the world's greatest all-year-round home of health, wealth and happiness.

WHEN you stop to consider that Miami "grew up" to about 100,000 with—until last October—a single track railroad and one boat line, whereas today the transportation facilities both rail and steamship—are becoming such as to assure a great metropolitan city, you have definite assurance therein that your investment is safe.

THOSE who—as pioneers in the early history of Miami—bought before there was any assurance of such advantageous transportation facilities, or such a tremendous asset as the amendment to the Florida Laws removing Inheritance Tax forever—which has already proven its wisdom—bought because of a faith and confidence and vision as pioneers always do, through loyalty to their city and belief that their united efforts must bring about a bigger and better city.

AND you know how well repaid they have been. And some folks even suggest that the good opportunities are gone. Not so, however. These same investors who risked chance and really accepted chance in the early days have been among the first and heaviest investors in MIAMI SHORES. They see the same opportunities with the element of chance eliminated.

WHY not follow their lead? They did not invest just for fun. They invested for profit and invested in Miami Shores because the same fundamental causes that inevitably create profit exist in MIAMI SHORES as they did in Miami—Location—Line of Travel—Miami Thoroughfares—and Right Prices.

and MIAMI SHORES has above all these---

Democracy In Sunshine State Reflected Through Lives Of Its Governors

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Florida is truly a democratic subject, particularly as far as state government rulers are concerned. Unlike the kingdoms of the world, those in power do not have to die or be overthrown before a change in the executive office takes place. The Flower state—or Sunshine, as some prefer to call the commonwealth—has four living examples of that fact, all of whom formerly occupied the governor's chair.

Florida's ex-governors are Albert Ledyard Gilchrist, Park Trammell, Rev. S. J. Catts and Cary A. Hardee.

Governor Gilchrist was elected to office in 1908 and inaugurated in 1909. Governor Trammell served a term, beginning with 1912. Rev. Catts took office after his election in 1916, and Governor Hardee was the incumbent when John W. Martin was swept into power upon a high tide.

General Gilchrist was born in South Carolina. He was a major general in the State Militia, and was always glad to refer to himself as the "only major general serving as a private in the Spanish-American war."

General Gilchrist, who is the oldest of the former governors, served as speaker of the lower branch of the state legislature, and was a member of that august body for a number of terms. He ran for the United States Senate twice, but was defeated.

General Gilchrist has been in ill health for some time. He recently underwent a serious operation in a South Carolina hospital.

Senator Trammell was elected to the office of attorney general in the cabinet of Governor Gilchrist.

MANY CLAIMANTS FOR 1ST. LICENSE ISSUED BY BOARD

Resident Card No. 1 of Game Commission to Go to Panama City Nimrod Who Beats Governor Martin For Honor

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Resident State License No. 1, issued by the fish and game commissioner of Florida, seems to be a rather popular document. One hundred and fifty-six letters, with the $10.25 fee enclosed, were all on the desk of Commissioner J. B. Royall recently, each requesting the license.

Governor John Martin was among the first applicants. C. E. Mathis of Panama City, however, according to Commissioner Royall, beat the chief executive to the license "by a hair." Unless Mr. Mathis is willing to step aside for Governor Martin, Mr. Royall said, the Panama Citian will get the first license.

The licenses, giving the recipients hunting and fishing privileges of the state, are in the hands of the printer now, and are expected shortly.

The fees sent directly to Mr. Royall must be returned to the senders, it was pointed out. The law, it was explained, gives only county judges the authority to issue the licenses and collect the fees.

The commissioner is planning to appeal to the sportsmen to take out the licenses as soon as possible, as the operating revenue of the state department is derived from that source, and the treasury is now said to be somewhat low. Until the coffers are replenished, Mr. Royall pointed out, organization of the department will be impossible. The law giving the county judges sole power to collect this revenue, the commissioner said, works a hardship on the game and fish department, and an amendment will probably be asked which will permit the state office to issue them.

Tuberculosis Test Shows Disease Not Prevalent In State

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Florida tested 2,085 head of cattle for tuberculosis, during the month of August, with a reaction of eleven, according to a summary of eradication work, announced by the Bureau of Animal Industry, of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Three "modified accredited" counties are accounted for in the bureau's report. Five thousand, eight hundred and eighty-five herds, or 46,628 heads of cattle, are shown in the "once-tested free" column.

Of the total accredited of the country 379 herds, or 14,962 heads, were of Florida, with 6,597 herds, or 53,271 heads on the list of those under supervision, herds, 1,191,874, cattle, 12,868,513; total waiting list, herds, 398,812, cattle 3,474,811.

Boy's Life Saved by Stitches in His Heart

Although his heart was pierced by the point of a pair of scissors, Melvin Jones, 5 of Washington, D. C., soon will be romping with his playmates again. The boy fell on the scissors while at play but a remarkable operation by Dr Herbert H. Schoenfeld saved his life. Three ribs were sawed off and pressed out of the way, the pericardium or envelope of the heart was opened and spread apart and two stitches taken in the heart wound.

3,000,000 Cheers

When Congress reduces federal taxes it should exempt from the income tax law all married men making less than $5000 and all single men whose incomes do not exceed $4000, says Rep John N. Garner, leading Democrat on the House Ways and Means Committee. This would exempt 3,000,000 people now paying income taxes.

Linen For Bandages Woman Appeals Aid

FRANKLIN, PA., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Using her entire supply of bed sheets and pillow cases to dress the injuries of scores of motorists who met with accident at the "death trap" on the Pittsburgh highway, near Pecan, this summer, Mrs. Edward Holtzman, keeper of the village boarding house, was forced to appeal to the American Red Cross for aid, which was promptly given.

Mrs. Holtzman's house is located in the immediate vicinity of a section of the road known as the "death trap." During two days of September of scores of motorists came to grief at that point, and the boarding house mistress, ready and willing to assist in the emergency, had the injured carried to her place, where she ripped up sheets and pillow cases for bandages.

When do the Merchants get Paid Of..?

You have a regular pay day or you get your income at certain stated intervals.

With some of you the "ghost walks" on the first of the months. Sometimes he walks around twice a month and hands you your pay check or pay envelope—without any long waits or delays.

Did you ever stop to think what might happen if you failed to receive your pay promptly? Why, man alive, there have been times when you went "straight up and down" when that pay check of yours didn't show up on the appointed day.

You know how you felt. Quite often it caused you embarrassment. Perhaps the children had to wait on those brand new shoes you were going to buy. But as a usual thing you haven't had to wait. That employer of yours—maybe had to do a little financing to make "both ends meet" this month, but you get yours promptly. Simply because he was thinking of you and yours, and of the service you had rendered him.

When do the merchants get paid off? Sometimes they don't. Too often it is a lack of appreciation on your part of the courtesy of the MONTHLY CREDIT they have extended to you.

Certainly it is a COURTESY. This thing of giving CREDIT for thirty days in which to pay for something that, perhaps, you have already consumed or are wearing now to be paid for later.

Just put yourself in the "merchant's shoes" and try to appreciate just how he feels when you fail to give him "his monthly pay check." He serves you faithfully, just as you faithfully serve your employer, and has the same right to demand that he be paid just as promptly as you are paid. So the first of the month.

"Pork'n Gravy and Taters" and many more, without any dreadful extra bills. Use Borden's Evaporated Milk. You see half the water's removed so it's richer than ordinary milk.

Dilute Borden's with an equal part of water and you still have fine rich milk. It makes the best creamed soups (the vegetable kinds which are a meal in themselves) and creamed fish or chicken for dinner or Sunday night. And desserts, the custards, blanc manges, etc., that the youngsters like, and need, too—cakes, cookies, everything made with milk.

Do you ever envy another woman's cooking? Perhaps you drop in for luncheon or dinner with a neighbor and everything tastes so good.

Such creamed chicken—or maybe it's just old-fashioned "pork'n gravy and taters", but exactly the right texture, smooth and rich.

And chocolate cream pie that makes you want to close your eyes and keep on dreaming. Or a caramel layer cake, the kind that suggests lots of cream, butter, and eggs—and bills you'd have to hide from your husband.

Here's the secret of making those "yummy" things,

Borden's comes in two sizes; tall (16 oz.) and small (6 oz.). Order from your grocer by the half-dozen or more cans.

With D. P. Davis in Miami

—before he started Davis Islands

THIS was back in 1919 even before Coral Gables was known and long before Miami Shores and other leading developments on Florida's east coast were even thought of, D. P. Davis was engaged in the vigorous development of the Buena Vista section of Miami. He was helping materially to build Miami and meeting with unbounded success as one after another of his developments was created with the customary rapidity which characterizes all of his undertakings.

BEAUTIFUL residential areas planned by competent engineers and embracing city streets, improvements and attractive landscaping, following every offering of this originator of the higher type of land development when suburban Miami was first awakened. Results from this early practice of giving the people their money's worth, not only brought a fortune to this square dealer but a great following as well and fortune to the followers.

People who bought lots of D.P. Davis in Miami have made 1000% PROFIT!

HERE is a photograph of a section of Commercial Biltmore, the first big project among Mr. Davis' Miami developments. In 1922, Mr. Davis erected at his own expense the post office building on the corner and leased it to the government at the insignificant rental of $100 a month in order that business people and residents in this section would have a complete mail service. Next he induced the Moore Furniture Company—large Miami furniture dealers—to build in the same block one of the handsomest furniture stores in Florida. Other business houses followed and in a short time Commercial Biltmore—an integral part of Buena Vista today—was a thriving business section. Property then priced at $100 the front foot is today valued at $1,000—an enhancement of ten times!

Scores of Miami Investors Have Followed Mr. Davis

The last of Davis Islands Goes on Sale October 15

Checks accepted now for reservations, beginning October 1st.

Subsequent to this development Mr. Davis subdivided several beautiful residential areas in the Buena Vista section, his first project after Commercial Biltmore being Biltmore. Then in rapid order there followed Shadowlawn, Shadowlawn Extension, Bellaire and Alta Vista. Lots which Mr. Davis sold for $2,500 to $3,500 here are today bringing $25,000 to $35,000—ten times their original cost!

And the secret of such value increases is due to the fact that Mr. Davis always selects the most strategically located property in big and growing population centers and then contributes to that property every possible improvement and building activity that money can engineer.

This, too, is exactly what he is doing at Davis Islands in Tampa where $7,000,000 will be spent this year alone in building, to say nothing of the tremendous cost of his vast program of development which embraces 27 miles of paved streets, double the amount of curbs and sidewalks, eleven and one-half miles of sea wall, $750,000 in landscaping, the largest street lighting contract ever let and scores of other generous improvements necessary to Florida's first residential spot and playgrounds

AND here on the highest class development in all Florida, current events indicate a repetition of history. Many owners of Davis Islands lots have already doubled their money in a few weeks, tripled it in a few months and in less than a year have quadrupled their investment. Just think of it—selling prices at four times the buying price! But this is Florida and Davis Islands is in the very heart of Florida's biggest city—Tampa—just one-half mile from the City Hall. And only 1,500 feet across the beautiful waters of Tampa Bay is the fashionable Bayshore Boulevard section where $1,000 to $1,500 a front foot obtains as a comparison with the ORIGINAL DEVELOPMENT PRICES of Davis Islands which will be in force when the LAST of this famous property goes on sale next month. No wonder the brokers say, "It won't last a day!"
