2 Students Jailed For Bomb Threat

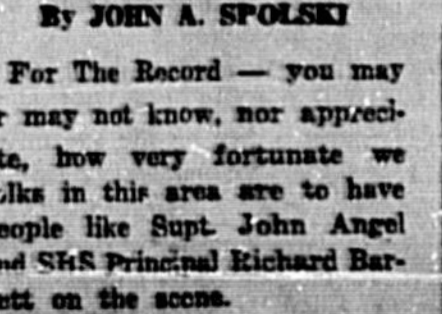

Two of three Oviedo High School students were sentenced to 20-day jail terms yesterday in the Seminole County jail by County Judge Wallace Hall for their part in a bomb threat a week ago at the school.

The pair, both 15, were given a probation period along with the sentence, and warned that if probation is violated, they could be placed in a reformatory.

A third youth, also charged in the same case, was not tried along with his confederates. His hearing has been set for Nov. 18.

The three were arrested by sheriff's deputies after a Nov. 5 bomb threat was telephoned into the high school. Sheriff John Polk said at the time the school was evacuated and no bomb was found.

A subsequent investigation led to the trio's arrest on various charges, including making a bomb threat and accessories to a bomb threat. All charges are felonies, Polk said.

When another year passes and an editor sits back to reflect, how does he evaluate his own newspaper's performance? Editors of the KNIGHT NEWSPAPERS have done that and their reflections are now published in a handsome booklet called, A Matter of Conscience.

One KNIGHT editor wrote: We rest our case on conscience we have made. They include: —The Mayor, who professes to believe we're power-mad. —The Governor, who does not regard us as his favorite paper. —A judge on whom we blew the whistle for collecting unauthorized court revenue. —Taxicab drivers whom we forced to stop charging Negroes 10 cents more than whites for the same ride. —Racists who charge we are communistic and socialistic because we advocate obeying the law in school desegregation decisions. —Editors or journalism educators can obtain copies of the booklet from KNIGHT NEWSPAPERS, INC., One Herald Plaza, Miami, Fla. 33101.

Utilities Violates County Rule

By MARION BETHRA

First Florida Utilities Company has been found still to be in violation of the county's regulations on fencing of polluting ponds. County Solicitor Val Robbins surveyed the property in Country Club Heights on Nov. 9, and said that there has been no attempt at fence construction.

The company had earlier requested a delay from the county, which was subsequently denied. County Attorney Harold Johnson notified the concern that it was in violation of the county water and sewer regulations and stated that the fence must be erected within 30 days. This period expired on Nov. 9.

County Commissioner Greg Drummond maintained that the company has had ample time to comply with the regulations and that the county should so advise the company. Johnson was authorized to notify the company that the fence must be erected seven days from receipt of the letter of notification or legal action will be instituted without delay.

In another matter relating to water and sewage, the situation of the Maitland sewage treatment plant was discussed. The plant, they propose to clean County and has had numerous complaints of unpleasant odors and improper operation. Robbins stated that he met with the Maitland city manager and director of public works.

During this conference, Robbins remarked, it was pointed out that the city had made application to HUD for a $350,000 grant to increase the capacity and efficiency of the plant. A reply is anticipated within 30 days, the officials noted, and they further stated that no problem is foreseen in funding the operation which is expected will take 15-18 months to complete.

In the interim, the officials remarked, steps will be taken in plant modifications to increase the efficiency of the plant. They propose to clean the sludge bed and to pump the digest which will be a step to improving the odor.

Due to the cooperation of Maitland, Robbins said that it was no longer necessary for the board to make such a determination on further connections, and he withdrew his previous recommendations to the board.

AT THIS MORNING'S PRESS CONFERENCE SUPT. OF SCHOOLS John Angel (left) listens while Seminole High School Principal Richard Barnett answers an inquiry. Other than a decline in attendance, the situation is normal at the school, according to Barnett.

County Seeking Clay Pit To Replace Old Landfill

The county is attempting to locate another clay pit to offset the loss of Sanlando landfill when it is phased out on Jan. 1. Road Supt. J. C. Lavender has advised the County Commission that while the garbage will be phased out, he is uncertain of the rubble's closing at the landfill. Lavender maintained that another clay pit should be pursued, and Commissioner Greg Drummond concurred, with the statement that the county should stop compounding the problem at Sanlando.

Lavender explained that $1,500 per acre is as cheap as land can be purchased for a clay pit, and that some land which he had inspected cost as much as $2,500 an acre. He continued that he would purchase the land as soon as possible with the available funds, and that while out-of-county land had been suggested (Lake County) as possibly being less expensive, that the wear and tear on equipment would make the operation prohibitive.

Drummond remarked that the matter he handled expeditiously so that Sanlando can be eliminated as a landfill and the reclamation program can begin.

Chairman John Alexander requested that Lavender arrive at a recommendation for location of a new clay pit so that the board may have the property approved, but explained that some areas may be ruled out even if they have clay deposits due to the lack of proximity to the county.

"UP TO THE RAILROAD" In another matter, Commissioner Sid Vihlen Jr. questioned as to the opening of the Lake Mary Boulevard extension to U.S. County Engineer William Bush stated that the matter is "all up to the railroad." He went on to say that all county work had been completed and that the county is awaiting finalization. He continued that he had attempted to contact the railroad but could not receive a satisfactory answer. Further, Bush said, four sets of lights are "owed" the county, all of which have been funded and approved.

Vihlen said the problem of Lake Mary Boulevard is causing concern to parents of children attending Lake Mary Elementary School, and that at a

The atmosphere at Seminole High School appeared calm this morning after a week of racial tension. Other than a high rate of absenteeism and the number of police plainclothesmen on the campus, things appeared normal.

Principal Richard Barnett described the situation at his rumor-infested school as being almost "normal" except attendance was down to 750 out of an enrollment of 1100.

"Of course, we usually have from five to 10 per cent absentee rate anyway," explained Barnett.

Barnett sat in his office, surrounded by representatives of various news media, and gave the history of what has caused a week of tension at his school. Most of the problems were confined to the morning session of the double session day, which has a higher percentage of black enrollment, he pointed out.

Black students have made requests that the school's colors and mascot be changed since they were under the impression that the Crooms High colors, school song and Black Panther mascot had been changed when that former predominantly black facility was made an all-ninth grade school with a majority white enrollment.

Barnett said he had checked this report with Crooms Principal Edward Brockhaus and had determined nothing had been changed as the students were led to believe.

A bi-racial committee has been formed at Seminole High in an effort to resolve the problems caused by the federal court edict that resulted in

Boy, 12 Found Hanged

A 12-year-old youth reported missing since Monday was found hanged late yesterday afternoon in a wooded area less than a mile from his home.

Sheriff reserve deputy George Beller found the body of Robert Charles Neale hanging from a tree limb at the end of a woodland path near English Estates Elementary School, eliminating a search of the area that started when the youth's bicycle was found.

Chief Deputy Duane Harrell said the youth was accidentally killed while apparently playing with a rope.

Charles H. Neale, the boy's father, listed his son with the missing persons file at the sheriff's office Monday and an investigation started immediately.

Neale's address was listed at 1941 South Boulevard, Maitland.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Passing-End Of Era

Now they are all gone, Roosevelt, Churchill, de Gaulle. These giants of the 40s, whose shadows still stretch across the nuclear 1970s, were world leaders at a time when freedom itself was at stake.

Today the great of the world, indeed of both worlds, gather in Paris to honor the one man who more than any other Frenchman of modern times embodied the glory of his beloved France.

For it was General de Gaulle who stood in lonely exile in London to raise the Cross of Lorraine in 1940, when the might of Nazi Germany had crushed France militarily, split its weak government and sent its hot-headed storm-troopers along the streets of Paris as conquerors.

It was the same tall, unbending and assured military commander who, again in 1956, rallied the strength of France and almost alone brought the debilitating Algerian revolt to a successful conclusion and saved the French empire from civil war.

His passing will revive many stories, for his life was the kind that breeds anecdotes. Read them. Relish them. But when this is all done, leaders who emerge what is so lacking in the world leaders who stepped into the shoes of the Big Four of WW II. This is the strong leadership which arouses the kind of support which endures hardships, cuts sharply through the underbrush of the expanding minor issue and is able to mobilize the moral strength of high purpose and to chart the way in which effective national endeavor can be channeled.

Such arousing is still best brought about by the ability for self-expression which each of the Big Four possessed. There was the friendly and attractive "My Friends" fireside chats of FDR.

Wartime records recall the troubles that both F.D.R. and Winston Churchill had with the Free French leader. His contacts with Stalin were few but effective. Both were sovereign-minded. Each respected the other.

Consumer Help

No system is better than the people who make it a working reality, and this is where the strongest arguments exist in the realm of people — in favor of competitive, free enterprise and the American economic and political system.

For example, the men who head up the nation's largest retailing institutions are forced to keep their eyes on distant horizons in search of ways to make their operations more efficient and more pleasing to customers. Far from being handicapped, they are the moving force behind the constant change that is so much a part of a capitalist society.

Various elements of the consumerist movement have promoted the idea that the nation's retailers are flabby opposed to consumer protection. But, such is not the case. In fact, as the head of J. C. Penney Company, Inc., puts it, "If there were no such movement as Consumerism we would do well to invent it. For it provides unprecedented opportunity for our Company."

The retailing executive then pointed out that today's consumers are younger, shrewder, better informed. Obviously, the retailer who serves them best will enjoy the greatest measure of success. As this retail executive continues, "We are in favor of what is in the best interest of the consumer, but this does not mean that we must favor every piece of legislation offered in her name."

South Viets Set To Hit Foe

By RAY CROMLEY NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The logic of the Southeast Asian war now makes stronger ground against the North Vietnamese in Laos virtually certain.

But not by American troops. Almost inevitably, South Vietnamese ground forces will find it necessary to make repeated incursions into the North.

The Vietnamese actions and the American assistance will be covert. There will be no announcement of these actions.

The actions will center on (1) keeping the North Vietnamese off balance, and (2) reducing their ability to mount a major offensive in the predictable future.

GM Strikers To Decide Today On New Three-Year Contract

By A. F. MAHAN Associated Press Writer DETROIT (AP)—Reverent slaves of 24-to working General Motors workers meet today to decide whether to accept or reject a new three-year contract tentatively agreed on by bargainers for the corporation and the United Auto Workers.

Rejection of the pact for the negotiators back to the bargaining table and would almost certainly push the eight-week-old strike into 1971.

Jack Wagner, president of a giant Buick local in Flint, Mich., and prime author of a union demand for retirement at $10 a month after 20 years of service regardless of age, said he was unhappy that the union had compromised on the pension plan.

Details of the contract have been withheld until after the council's meeting, but bargaining table sources here told the proposed pact contained these items:

• A return to an unlimited cost-of-living allowance which moves wages up or down with quarterly changes in the Consumer Price Index. The union agreed to a ceiling on the allowance in the 1967 Big Three contracts and made a return to the unlimited formula a top demand this year.

• A first-year wage increase ranging from 4 1/2 to 6 1/2 cents an hour depending on the worker's job pay scale. The union had sought a boost starting at 8 1/2 cents and the company's last offer started at 3 1/2 cents. The average hourly wage in the industry under the old contracts was $4.61. Automakers estimate that fringe benefits cost them an additional $1.75 hourly. Retirement for workers with 30 years service on pensions of $500 a month at age 58 in the first year of the contract, age 56 in the second year and possibly age 55 in the third year. Under the current contract a worker retiring at age 55 after 30 years service would get a maximum of $104.22 monthly. GM officials have said that even if ratification a process which can take two weeks—proceeds smoothly, the earliest the company can expect to resume production is Dec. 1 because of the time needed to restart the corporation's far-flung operations after the long shutdown.

In a news conference which followed announcement of the tentative agreement Wednesday, GM Vice President Earl Bramble, the firm's chief negotiator, implied strongly he felt the settlement would be inflationary.

It would say the cost of the settlement is substantially more than the anticipated increase in productivity of the country, Bramble said. "And this, of course, is true of the general level of settlements in recent times."

Spokesmen for General Motors said the firm has been holed out about $90 million a day in sales during the strike, with workers losing $14 million daily in wages and firms which supply GM parts lost about $10 million daily in sales.

The General Motors settlement has implications for far more workers than the UAW-represented GM employees. The pact, if ratified, will be used as a pattern for new contracts at Ford Motor Co., Chrysler Corp. and American Motors Corp. where workers have stayed on the job, and at aerospace industry plants where the UAW represents labor forces.

Despite the tentative settlement, negotiations continued on three fronts Wednesday. Some 32,000 members of the International Union of Electrical Workers at six GM facilities are still without an agreement, which, when settled, can be expected to follow the terms of the UAW pact.

Contracts at Ford and Chrysler expired Sept. 11 at the same time as at GM—and the settlement would be inflationary.

It would say the cost of the settlement is substantially more than the anticipated increase in productivity of the country, Bramble said. "And this, of course, is true of the general level of settlements in recent times."

After-Dinner Coffee Honors Jay Morrison

By DORIS WILLIAMS
Society Editor

The Loch Arbor home of Mrs. Frank Mebane Jr. was the lovely setting Nov. 10, for a pre-nuptial after-dinner coffee honoring Miss Jay Morrison, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Morrison.

On Nov. 20, pretty Jay will become the bride of David Ernest Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ernest Lee.

Mrs. Arthur Nesmith was hostess with Mrs. Mebane. Assisting the two mothers were the charming daughters, Shelley Mebane and Patsy and Susie Nesmith.

The bride-elect greeted the entourage of beautiful (mostly mini-skirted) young guests wearing a yellow jumper dress with a frilly white blouse fashioned along the Victorian silhouette, and accented with lace and ruffles.

The refreshment table, overlaid with an exquisite imported lace Army-Navy Cloth, was centered with a silver footed urn arranged with pink carnations and daisies. Silver candlesticks with glowing silver and white tapers accented the attractive centerpiece.

The Oviedo Garden Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Audrey Myers for their planning meeting of the year.

The lovely Myers home was beautifully decorated with arrangements of Bittersweet and Galaxy Leaves which Mrs. Myers brought home from the mountains.

Mrs. Thomas Moon, president, conducted the meeting and welcomed two new members, Mrs. W. W. McGee and Mrs. Ross Dunn.

Yearbooks were presented to the members by the program chairman; a horticultural report for the fall season was given by Mrs. C. R. Clontz.

It was decided that members would give plants which they had grown for a plant exchange at Christmas. There was also a discussion of the workshop to be conducted at the next meeting and making of gifts for shut-ins. Delicious refreshments of angel food fruit supreme and coffee were served to all present. Mrs. Charles Niblack assisted Mrs. Myers as co-hostess.

War At Slow Pace; No Americans Killed In Two Days

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SATON (AP)—Ground action in South Vietnam has fallen to its lowest level in nine months and for the first time in five years American forces have gone two days in a row without a man killed in action, the U.S. Command reported today.

The U.S. Command's casualty summary for last week also reflected the low level of enemy activity that has prevailed for the past six weeks and the accelerated disengagement of American troops from battle.

Headquarters said 22 Americans were killed in action during the week while 42 died from accidents or illness. It was the second time since 1963 that South Vietnamese headquarters reported 216 government troops killed last week, a drop of 50 from the previous week. It said 480 South Vietnamese soldiers were wounded. The U.S. Command listed 1,584 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops killed during the week.

The only American casualties reported Wednesday were four men wounded aboard one of two helicopters shot down in the Mekong Delta. One South Vietnamese soldier aboard their helicopter was killed and six were wounded. There were no casualties on the second helicopter. American bombers kept up their intensive campaign against North Vietnamese supply routes through Laos and Cambodia today. But only small skirmishes and six enemy troops were reported.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces launched attacks Wednesday on a key road junction 10 miles south of Phnom Penh and on Cambodian forces near Preak Tamaek, northeast of the capital and just outside its defensive ring. No casualty reports were given.

The attack south of the capital, at Kompong Toul, was described as a mortar and ground assault on the city's military airport.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces sought to repair their northern front along a 25-mile stretch of Highway 7 between Kompong Cham and Skoun after three days of heavy North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacks left the defenses in disarray. Stretches of Highway 7 and Highway 6, the only land route between Phnom Penh and Kompong Cham, 47 miles to the northeast, remained closed because of blown bridges.

A spokesman said the Kompong Cham area was attacked for the fourth time this week and that one Cambodian soldier was wounded in a mortar and ground assault on the city's military airport.

S&Ls May Soon Offer Checking Accounts

By LEIF ERICKSON
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Chairman Wright Patman of the House Banking Committee said today he is drafting a bill which would allow savings and loan associations to offer checking account service.

Patman said the bill he will offer in the new Congress will allow savings and loan associations to provide 10 per cent insurance for local government deposits with savings and loan groups and permit the associations to handle federal deposits.

Patman, D-Tex., and longtime banking system critic, reported the main features of his omnibus savings and loan bill to the United States Savings and Loan League convention.

"It is a gross absurdity—and a serious inequity—to give the commercial banks a total monopoly over checking accounts," he said in an address prepared for the convention.

"Many savers would come to the savings and loans if they could obtain basic checking account privileges," he said.

"The savings and loan industry must also be given a better deal—a fair deal—in the deposit of public monies," Patman said.

"This includes the public funds of the federal government as well as those of the local and state governments across the land."

He said the massive federal tax and loan accounts—ranging from $5 billion to $10 billion—now are the sole preserve of commercial banks.

"I also propose that funds deposited by local governments—school districts, county governments, city governments and others—be given 10 per cent insurance by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp."

Cent Gasoline Tax Hike Proposed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Proposals to make motor fuel pay an additional penny per gallon of gasoline to help finance local road needs were submitted to the 1971 Legislature.

Sen. Ralph Poston, D-Miami, and Henry Saylor, R-St. Petersburg, have filed similar bills which would increase the tax from 7 to 8 cents on a gallon, with proceeds returned to local governments.

Among other tax bills already filed for next year is one by Saylor to repeal the required distribution of a set minimum of race track taxes

Nixon Quoted: War's End Seen In 1972

By WALTER R. MEARS, AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top White House aide says President Nixon has declared that the Vietnam war will be ended by 1972.

The statements in a memorandum by presidential Counselor Robert F. Finch, in which he summed up Nixon's post-election comments last week at a meeting of Cabinet and staff members.

In reporting an optimistic Nixon outlook for the next election two years hence, Finch's notes contained the passage that the war which is being wound down will have been ended.

Finch sent copies of the memo to newsmen Tuesday.

His account of the President's analysis included:

"In 1970, the high hopes of the national Democrats blinged on a single issue—the dislocations of an economy moving from inflation to scarcity, from war to peace.

"By 1972, this issue will be gone. As a result of doing what was right, 1971 will be a good year economically and 1972 will be a boom year.

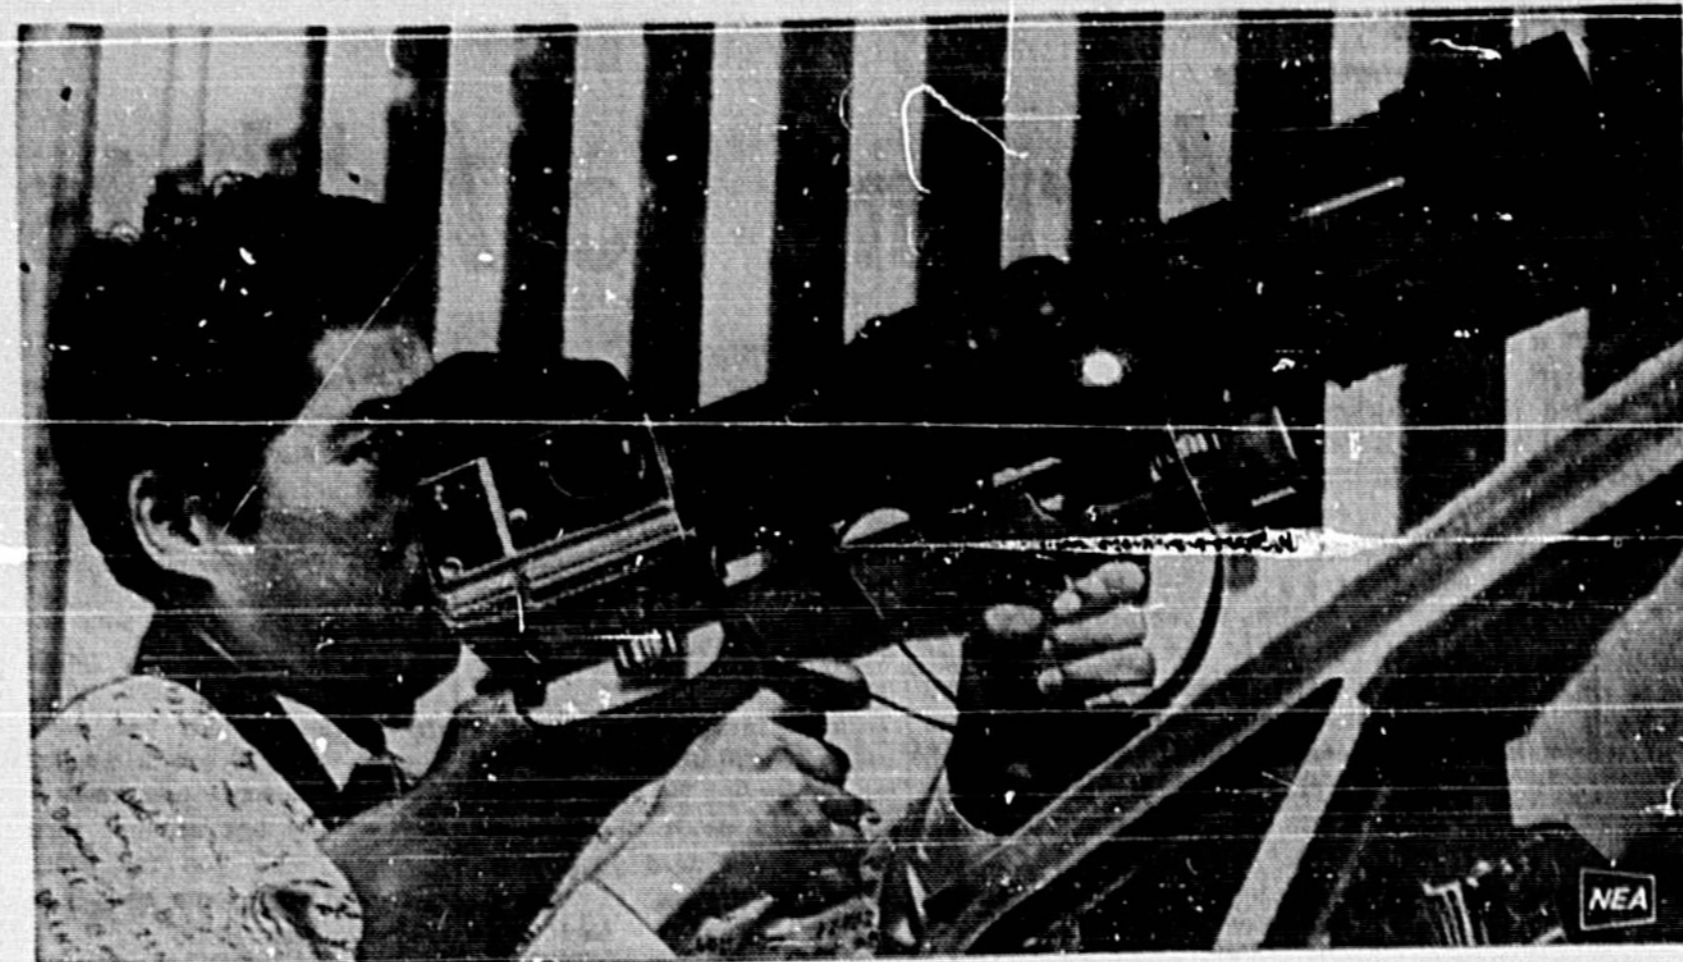

"By 1972, the inflation that is being cut back will have been controlled; the war which is being wound down will have been ended.

"The Republican party will run on the peace and prosperity issues—which no Democratic administration has been able to do since the start of World War II.

"In 1972, we will have in office a President who did something about the crime crisis the way he felt that by 1972, the situation in Southeast Asia will be under control and will not pose the problem it has for the past six years.

The account sent out over Finch's signature was the latest in a series of administrative and Republican party assessments and claiming victory in the off-year elections.

Week's Exhibit At Florida Tech U

Hungary's St. Stephen Honored

Central Floridians are in for a treat with the exhibiting of a colorful display celebrating the millennium of the birth of Saint Stephen, King of Hungary.

The exhibit will be in the lobby of the Library of Florida Technological University, 1400 University Blvd., from Sunday, 2:10 p.m. weekdays, 7:45 a.m.-10 p.m., and Saturday, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

The historical Hungarian exhibit, which will be manned by representatives of the library staff at FTU and members of the Central Florida American Hungarian Society will depict the reign and era of Saint Stephen, a great hero who was born 1,000 years ago, but still remains a beloved national figure to Hungarians through the world.

Included in the Hungarian exhibit will be rare books, pictures and manuscripts telling the story of the first King of Hungary.

The display appearing at Florida Tech is being coordinated by Norbert St. Clair, an associate librarian at FTU and himself a native son of Hungary. St. Clair pointed out that the Central Florida American Hungarians will add some "local color" to the exhibit with folk art, silverware, porcelain, ceramics and other historical artifacts from their homeland.

One of the highlights of the Royal Hungarian display will be a gold replica of the famous royal crown of Hungary. Also in the exhibit will be a Hungarian flag from the 14th century, presented to Hungary against the Hapsburgs. In addition, there will be artifacts from a frontier fort.

Social Security Hints For Seminole Workers

Do you know how much work you have done under social security coverage? Your Sanford social security office has an easy-to-complete post card that you can mail off to get a list of the earnings posted to your record. It's a good idea to check up on your earnings under social security every three years to be sure that they are being properly reported.

Please make sure your employer has your correct social security number if you are doing. Don't trust your memory — always show your boss your social security card.

While we're talking of social security numbers, did you know that the number issued to you is yours for the rest of your life? If you've lost your original card you can apply for a duplicate at your local social security office.

You will have to fill out an application for a duplicate card unless you still have the bottom stub from your original card, in which case we can give you a duplicate with no delay.

Now a special word for the women! Did you know you should have your name changed on your social security record when you get married? You'll always keep your name number, but your record will be changed to show your correct name. So remember to fill out a request for a change of name. You can pick up the form at the Seminole County Courthouse when you get your marriage license, or if you'd rather, you can contact your Sanford social security office at 1309 East Second Street.

Japan Rejects U. S. Textile Proposal

TOKYO (UPI)—The Japanese textile industry today dismissed the latest United States proposal to solve the textile dispute as "not even worthy of consideration."

The U.S. proposal offered earlier this week reportedly reduced the number of items which would come under voluntary export quotas from five to three. The U.S. proposal would also shorten the length of time the Japanese would impose their voluntary quotas from five years to 31 months.

In Kyoto News Agency quoted leaders of the textile industry after they met today as calling the plan "a clever trick (to) look like a compromise" and "no different" from earlier proposals.

In fact, the textile leaders said, the new U.S. proposal was even more severe than earlier proposals. They said the "situation" clause would leave Japanese manufacturers at the mercy of the United States, Kyoto said.

Because the proposal was even more severe, "It was not even worthy of consideration," the textile leaders said.

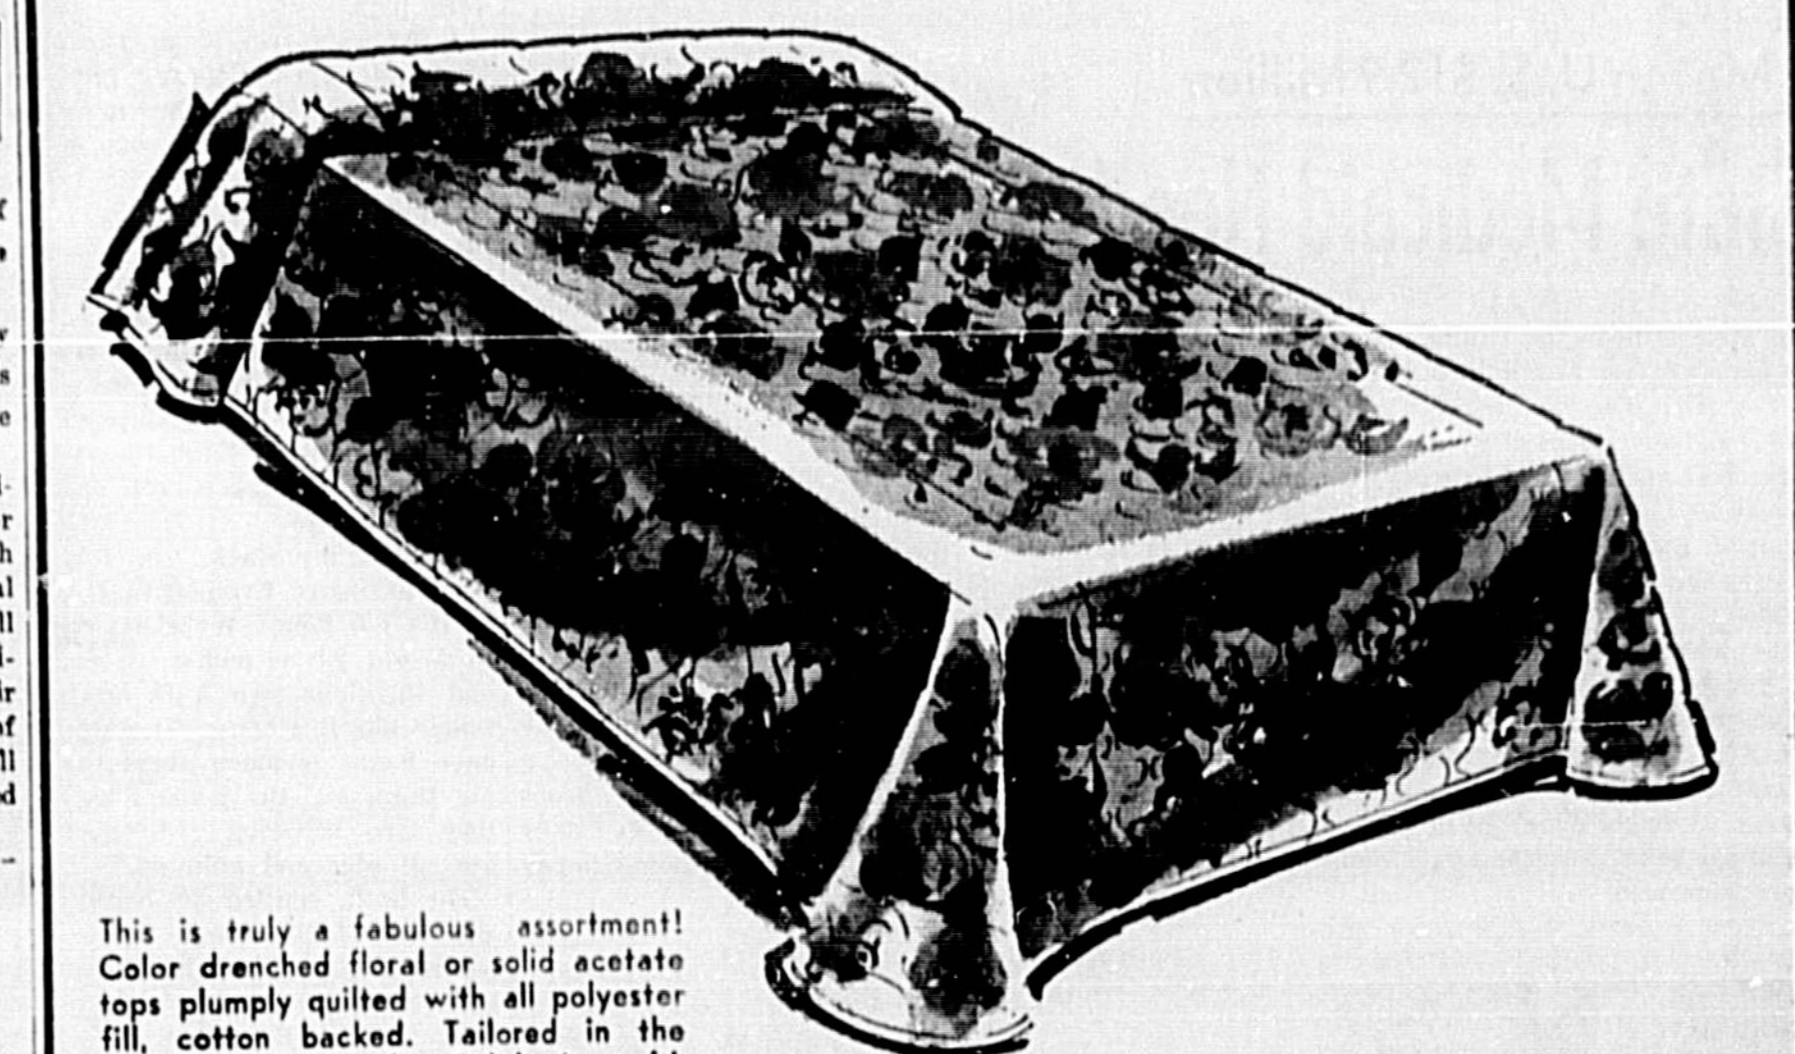

Reducing the self-restraint period from five years to 31 months is indicative of ulterior motives of the United States, they said. The reduced period of time would mean that the voluntary controls would expire about September, 1971, 2522.

The textile leaders said the agreement on export control of cotton goods expires. The United States could thus turn voluntary synthetic textile export controls into a long term agreement when new negotiations are conducted.

The textile leaders also said that six items removed from earlier proposals had little effect on the dispute because they are not on a competitive market in the United States.

To Match U. S. $12.9 Million

State Medicaid Needs $7.2 Million

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Unless state officials are willing to commit another $7.2 million, Florida's poor will have to get by with reduced medical services the rest of this fiscal year. The State Medicaid Advisory Committee recommended Tuesday that the Cabinet continue spending. If they commit $7.2 million in state money, the federal government will provide $12.9 million and the Medicaid program will cost $83.4 million this fiscal year through June 30. Instead of the $62 million the Legislature approved.

'Save Peanut Island', Court Asked

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Port of Palm Beach should not be allowed to speculate in ocean development by turning Peanut Island into an oceanographic center, an attorney told the Supreme Court Tuesday. Attorney Ben Wilkinson of Tallahassee, representing Save Peanut Island Inc., argued as a friend of the court that a 60-year lease between the port and commercial interests be forbidden. "I say the Legislature didn't intend for a port authority to be engaged in the speculative development of the ocean," he said. Wilkinson contended that no public purpose would be served in allowing the port to develop the small beach island between Palm Beach and Riviera Beach. Port attorney James Weber and West Palm Beach attorney Marshall Criser, representing Peanut Island Properties Inc., contended the $20 million lease was within the scope of laws governing port activities. They said both the oceanographic center and a 10-acre park planned for the 76-acre island would serve public purposes. "I submit the port is not in the position of providing recreation, either," Wilkinson countered. Criser said the island serves the interest of only that portion of the public fortunate enough to have boats.

Youth Writes Note, Ends Life

Posthumous Warning To Addicts

JOILET, Ill. (UPI) — A father whose son committed suicide because drugs had made his life "hell" today released the youth's posthumous warning to fellow teenagers. The note was written by Percy Patrick "Pat" Pilon before he ran a 410-page obituary in his heart, pulled the trigger and ended his life at the age of 18 Saturday. In it he urged users to get help to kick the habit. "I have used all types of drugs from hash, pot, acid to hard stuff. It's all a bad scene — for your sake — get off it. If you can't fight it by yourself, then get help from someone. It may be tough trying to straighten yourself out, but it's never too late. Man, at least try... you don't know me, but I want to help because I needed help and someone helped me." The letter included a warning to teenagers thinking of trying drugs for the first time. "If someone offers drugs, be very, very careful," he said and say no. Learn from my mistakes. I don't want anyone to go through the hell I went through and am still going through." Pat's father said it had been difficult to make the letter public but he and his wife decided to do it "because today's kids need so much help." Pat came back to Joilet after being expelled from Central Texas College last month for taking narcotics, but his parents were trying to get him back into college. "I want to help him realize his dream of becoming a commercial pilot. In a portion of the note addressed to his parents, young Pilon said, "I really must thank you for all you have put up with. It was a wonder you did. Perhaps you knew I needed help but couldn't turn me in. Thank you for being the greatest parents ever. You never let me down."

School Library Book Arouses Dad's Ire

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When Sylvester the donkey turned into a stone to avoid being eaten by a lion, his parents went to a police station for help. Both the officers on duty were pigs. A deputy sheriff in suburban Prince Georges County, Md., thinks that story line—in a school library book—is out of line. Deputy Donald Belcher said his 8-year-old daughter Julia brought the book home Monday night and said with a giggle, "Look at the pigs, daddy." He said it made him so angry he is going to sue the Prince Georges County Board of Education to get the book taken off the library shelves. "I hate my stack," he told the Washington Evening Star. "It's not funny. We're trying to do our job as police officers and then our own kids bring things like this home. The kids have heard so much about the pig thing and the police, but they are believing policemen are all pigs and animals." The book, entitled "Sylvester and the Magic Pebble," was published by Windmill Books and Simon and Schuster of New York. It tells the story of a young donkey who finds a small stone that will grant his every wish. At one point, he wishes, in a rock because a lion is about to eat him. Since he is a rock, his

AT WHAT AGE is a woman in her prime? By prime, I mean most confident, most capable, most attractive. Surveyors who put this inquiry to numerous ladies enthusiastically said the majority by far stipulated age 38. A man's own opinion of his prime depends on what he does for a living. Executives say age 30, salesmen age 43, laborers age 32.

IF YOUR GRANDMOTHER was average when in her twenties, she weighed 116 pounds. If you're average in that age bracket, young lady, you weigh 138 pounds. MEDICAL MEN say the blondes who get skin cancer outnumber the brunettes who do so by about nine to one. THE FOCUSING RANGE of your eyes at the age of 40 is only about one-fourth of what it was when you were 10 years old.

HISTORY—Was proposed in Congress once that there ought to be three U.S. Presidents. One each for the East, the Midwest and the Far West. It was also proposed once that inasmuch as the presidency is a 24-hour-a-day job, there ought to be three men to handle it. One on days, one on swing and one on the graveyard shift. What's your stand on this matter? Do you have a nominee for the graveyard shift at the other end of the country? Nevermind, this is not a political pillar, and I ought not.

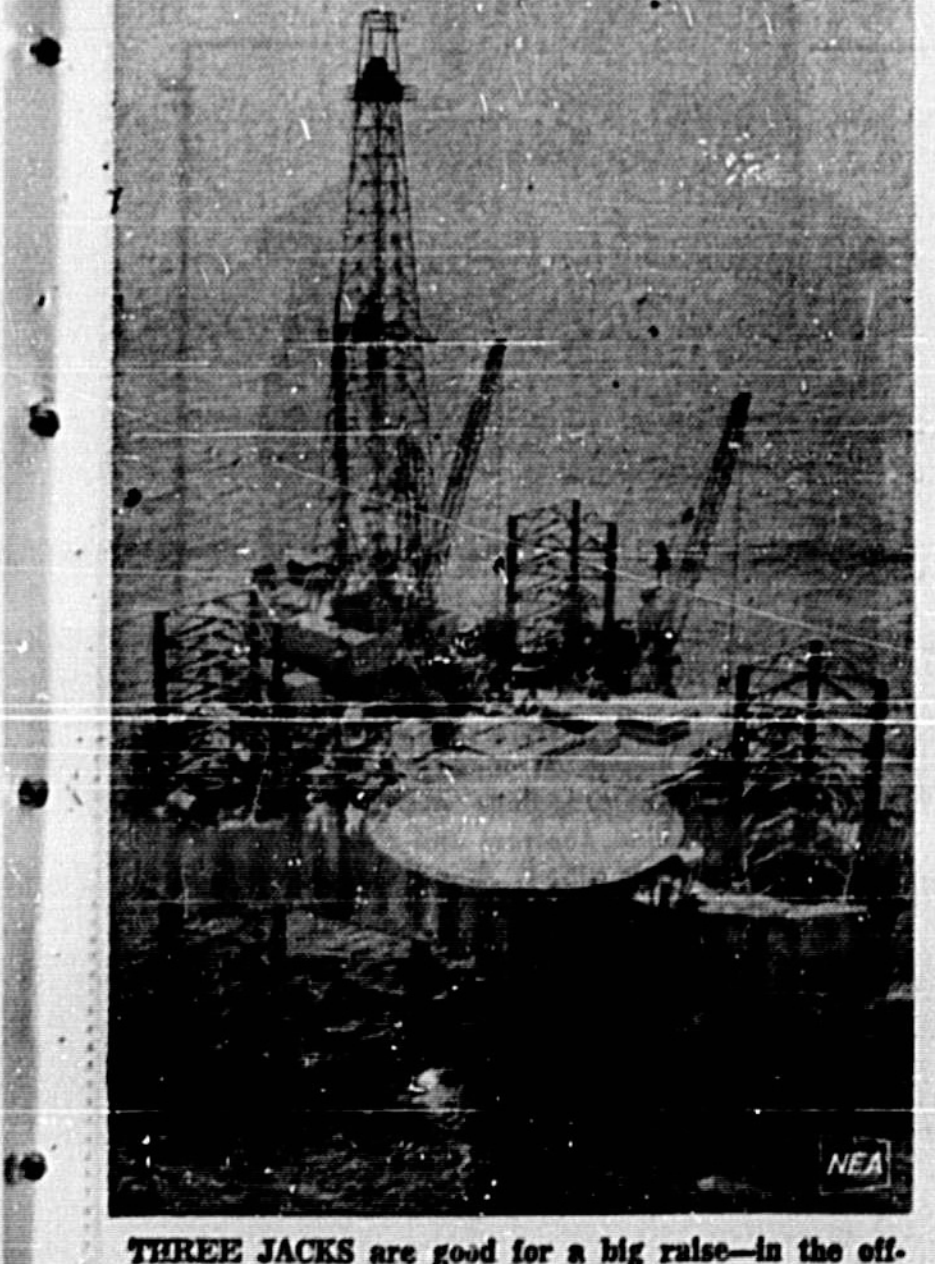

OPEN QUESTIONS—1. Why are strangers referred to as perfect? 2. What's the origin of the peace symbol known by some now as the track of the chicken? 3. What do you call a lady chef?

NAMES of four state capitals include the word city. What, you can't identify them in a trice? All right, Salt Lake, Carson, Jefferson and Oklahoma. AS TO THAT MATTER of which tree is first in the season to shed its leaves, a New Englander says the walnut, a Carolinian says the aspen. LONGEST MANE of a horse was about 12 feet, longest tail about 10 feet. A schoolteacher told me that, so I know it's true.

CUSTOMER SERVICE—Q. "Do you carry a briefcase, old boy?" A. Not anymore. Used to. But I've given up packing my lunch except on fishing trips. Q. Quick, what five states have more Senators than representatives in Congress? A. Alaska, Delaware, Nevada, Vermont and Wyoming. Q. "Are cats color blind?" A. So it's said.

LOVE AND WAR—He married 400 girls. And never once saw the face of any bride before the wedding. That's the story of old King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia. Sounds like something out of the Arabian Nights, doesn't it? But it wasn't so long ago, at that. He has only been dead 17 years. Just imagine, 400 wives, and pollock every time. Romantic roulette, what? Our Love and War man is studying the case, intensely.

Congressional Work Is 'Stultifying' College Girls Find Washington, D. C. Most 'Unglamorous'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Julie graduated from a prestigious woman's college last year and set out for Washington to work for a well-known congressman. "Valuable experience," she thought. Now, with a year of answering mail and cranking a mimeograph machine for $10 a week behind her, Julie is quitting. "This work is neither creative nor challenging," says the 22-year-old secretary. "It's stultifying." Every year Julie by the hundred flock to Washington—bright, serious young girls with new college degrees in hand and dreams of glamor and excitement in their eyes. But like Julie, many find themselves working at dull tasks in drab, crowded offices for very little money—frustrating and discouraging. "These girls come to me with political science degrees and they think they have the world by the tail," says Mrs. Hazel Bergstrom, chief of the Capitol Hill Employment Center. "But the colleges don't prepare them here thinking they're going to change policy decisions and find Prince Charming. Soon they're disenchanting and discouraged." The problem, says Mrs. Bergstrom, is that congressmen and senators need foot soldiers, not staff officers. Not even Hazel Bergstrom, who's job is finding work for these eager young women, thinks the possible rewards are worth the chance. "Definitely not," she snapped when asked if she would recommend a Washington job to her daughter. "Working here on the Hill is a hard job," she went on. "There's no standardization of jobs, hours or salaries. The girls often work Saturdays and Sundays. They have an annual leave and sick benefit. It's not glamorous by any stretch of the imagination." "I'm here for the fun, time-type experience you could never find in another city," says a secretary to a State Department official. Often barely climb above $5,000 a year, apartments are hard to find and are costly and, as in major cities everywhere, crime is of concern. "They why do so many of the girls quit?" "I don't find their work and life distasteful. I'm here for the fun, time-type experience you could never find in another city," says a secretary to a State Department official.

Lobbyist Criticizes Legislative Report

Auto Insurance Rates Are Up Under California Plan

Tallahassee, Fla. (AP) — Automobile insurance rates have increased annually by 15 to 20 percent during the three years of the 1967 state rating law or California plan, and now some have risen as much as 30 percent, a select committee was told today.

The report, submitted to the House-Senate Committee on Insurance, immediately prompted the committee to hold a public hearing on the insurance industry before the Legislature.

Martin and other industry spokesmen in Florida today attended today's second session of the special insurance committee.

There was a theme running through the report and possible legislative action that would stand up to the "continuous increase in the number of motor vehicles that are placed on our highways."

The insurance industry has had a tremendously difficult problem to come up with solutions for. The automobile is the biggest problem of all. Time is cost on gas to operate a full-size car, there are cases in which the auto owner has had to pay three or four times as much for his auto insurance as he actually paid for his automobile," the report said.

It added that, even though the 1967 Legislature passed every major traffic safety bill before it, "still the number of accidents and deaths has increased," and this puts cost pressures on insurance firms.

Jockey Nets $10,000

Needs Taxi To Win Race

By ED SCHUYLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — The key ride in the United States' story in the 19th running of the Washington, D.C. International horse race was the one jockey Jorge Velazquez took in a taxi.

"Jorge has confidence in the horse and the horse feels it," Elliott Burch, trainer of winner Fort Marcy had said before the $150,000 race at Laurel Tuesday. But, for a cabbie, Velazquez would not have a chance to dismount until he had won the race.

Fort Marcy, a six-year-old gelding owned by Paul Mellon, won the 1 1/2 mile International race in 1:46.40, a record over a soft turf course in the rain by a length over Miss Dan II, a three-year filly from France.

The winner giving the United States its ninth International victory and first since he won in 1967, took the lead on the final turn and without Miss Dan II by a length in the slow time in 2:42.45.

Baccho of Italy was third, an other five lengths back and a nose in front of the other U.S. representative, Howard B. Keck's Fiddle Isle.

If the race was slow, the Velazquez cab ride from Baltimore's Friendship International Airport to Laurel wasn't as long as it might seem. It was only a few minutes in a taxi, but it was a relief for the jockey, Burch and Mellon, who were waiting for him at the airport.

The crucial cab ride for Velazquez, Burch and Mellon resulted from a delayed plane ride from New York.

Velazquez and Ron Turcott, who rode Francisco de Canada, sat at New York's LaGuardia Airport for an hour and 15 minutes before weather permitted their plane to take off.

Seminole Little League Sets Meet

A general meeting of the Seminole Little League will be held at Milwee Middle School on Tuesday, Nov. 24 at 7:30 p.m. All interested people are urged to attend, be they parents, managers, or coaches. This meeting is extremely important to the league.

The meeting has been called to inform the general membership of the condition of the league and to lay plans for the coming season. As complete a financial report as possible will be given.

C. L. Cooper has resigned as president for personal reasons. Earl Irtwich has assumed the office of president until the election of a new Board of Directors on Dec. 1.

A nominating committee has been appointed with Jim Withrow as chairman. This committee will report its slate at the Nov. 24 meeting. Nominations will also be accepted from the floor. Anyone wishing to suggest a nominee is urged to contact Withrow immediately.

The League is selling Christmas trees this year. The lot will be located adjacent to the Super-Valu store on State Road 456 in Cassberry. The owner of this store has donated his property to the league. We urge all league parents to purchase a tree at this lot.

Season To Open Saturday; SJC Facing North Florida

By JIM HICKERBAKER

Herald Sports Staff

Junior College basketball is back and so are the Seminole Junior College Raiders. The Raiders will open their season Saturday night against a surprising North Florida Junior College team.

Although the Raiders will be playing at home, they will be doing anything but taking North Florida lightly. The awe some quietest from Madison, Fla., pulled a mild upset last Saturday night as they dented Georgia's third ranked Junior College power, Abraham Baldwin, 65-61.

Standouts for North Florida were Ernest Dix, a 6-foot-1 forward from Alabama as well as Larry Cone, Eddie Haris, and Robert Thomas. Coach Joe Sterling, who's coached last Saturday night's contest, had a great deal of praise for the Floridians.

"They are a team that likes to shoot and run. All of the starters and even the bench can hit with deadly accuracy. I guess the team's main strength, however, was their ability to get to the boards and get that second shot," noted Sterling.

Not to be overlooked and certainly not out jumped in James Gilchrist, a 6-4 forward who can leap with anyone. The Raider five will be provided by Larry Ward, Greg Robinson, Harry Lee and Dale Lambert. Lambert has looked very strong in pre-season action and is a vital asset to the Raider attack.

The Raiders do have one element working for them other than the home court advantage — that is bench strength. Ken Bryant has proven to be a very tough coming off the bench. Bryant is a very handy ball player and uses this to his advantage.

Other players who have looked strong in pre-season activity are Greg Hunter, Larry Ward, Greg Robinson, Harry Lee and Dale Lambert. Lambert has looked very strong in pre-season action and is a vital asset to the Raider attack.

The game is shaping up to be quite a contest and will answer many questions. Do the Raiders have more depth than last year's Can Run Nickelson and Jim Gilchrist keep North Florida's big man away from the boards? Can SJC stop the visitors' shoot and run tactics? Saturday night will answer these questions and many more.

Rain, Wind, Cold, Strike Face World Cup Players

By R. GREGORY NOKES

Buenos Aires, (AP) — Rain, wind, cold and an Argentine general strike faced the 43 national teams playing in today's opening of the World Cup Golf Tournament.

As if that weren't enough, the players also were complaining about the greens on the 4,000-yard Jockey Club Course for the fourth day, 72 hole tourney.

"It would be easier to putt on a concrete floor," joked Lee Trevino of the United States after shooting a respectable 69 in Wednesday's Pro-Am preliminary.

A cold rain, lashed by gusty winds, started shortly after the wind up of the Pro-Am tournament. Today's forecast was for rain and temperatures in the 50s.

Officials, however, said it would be a lot worse before the tournament would be cancelled.

"They've played in rain before," said Fred Corcoran, of New York, executive director of the International Golf Association.

for the Gator's SEC contest Kentucky in Tampa.

Offensive tackle David Peek, out the past three games with a knee injury, participated in Wednesday's workout, as did Doug Sorenson and tackle Bill Dowdy. Dickey said all would be fit for action Saturday.

UM Coach Walter Kichefski studied his backup squad Wednesday after X-rays revealed right cornerback Jerry Maynard had developed a blood clot in his sprained ankle.

Maynard, whose ankle was put in a cast, had been slated to start for Miami against Alabama in the Orange Bowl contest Saturday night.

He will be replaced by Chuck Foreman and Jim Haviland with specialized drills in preparation to be held in reserve.

Florida Football Teams Play In State Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Florida State Seminoles polished their kicking game, the Florida Gators toughened up their goal line defense, and the University of Miami Hurricanes jiggled their lineup because of injuries Wednesday as the three squads prepared for Saturday in-state football encounters.

The Seminoles will face Virginia Tech's kicking ace Jack Simcak in Tallahassee and "we have to be ready," said coach Bill Peterson.

Peterson said Tech last its first five games when Simcak was injured, but have won four straight since the ace punter placekicker returned.

At Gainesville, coach Doug Dickey ran his squad through specialized drills in preparation for the Gator's SEC contest Kentucky in Tampa.

Prep Predictions Trinity Prep won their second straight ball game last week to ruin my chances at a perfect week of prediction. I got the big one right, calling the Seminoles win over Lyman. I was handed a little ribbing from the Seminoles squad over the score I picked, but as they ought to know by now, I haven't come close on the score yet. But as long as I'm picking the winners, I'm currently 18-11 on the season, for my predictions.

Big Business People keep telling me that sports is "big business" — and in some respects, I guess it is. But to those of us who are so intimately associated with it, "sports" (and you can have "FTU" choices of which one is your favorite) is still "a game played by enthusiasts, trained athletes who want to win."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There is this wonderful man, 29 years old, who is begging to marry me. He is in a position to give me just about everything a girl could want and he says he's in love with me. My problem is that I'm not in love with him. You see, I am still in love with my high school pal. I haven't seen him in 12 years and he never did know I was in love with him. I hear he is happily married now and has three children.

I've talked to several psychologists, but they haven't helped. This algebra teacher is still the first thing I think of in the morning, and the last thing I think of at night.

Here I am 30 years old, have a swell guy begging to marry me and I keep turning him down. Should I marry him anyway? I'm afraid if I do, I'll be frigid because I'm still in love with somebody else. What do you advise?

CANT FORGET DEAR ABBY: You should talk to some more psychologists. You are not "in love" with a person, you're "in love" with an "image." It's all right to build dream castles, but when you try to "live" in them, you're in trouble.

To "love" someone who is not available is useless, painful and unrealistic. Don't torture yourself any longer. You are wasting good years.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who, after four years of marriage, still taunts his wife by saying she was too "easy"? Abby, that man chased me, courted me, sent me poetry, flowers and wouldn't give me a moment's rest until I promised to marry him. Now he's taunting me. I haven't seen him in 12 years and he never did know I was in love with him. I hear he is happily married now and has three children.

Horoscope Forecast

FRIDAY, NOV. 13, 1970

GENERAL TRENDS:

So many new arrangements seem to be necessary where all kinds of obligations are concerned that you would be wise to study them carefully. Get the advice of experienced bankers or businessmen and only with their approval proceed to any "binding" contracts specifically to your security.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Tax matters, the expenditure or collection of money, careful analysis of finances all are fine today. See what can be added to add value to property.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Making demands of a personal nature on others could get you into real trouble today. Get out to the beauty or barber shop early. Then handle those business affairs with great efficiency.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Take action to clear up worries early, but show that you are conscientious with others or you get bad results. Be more cooperative with creditors. It is important. Avoid extravagance.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Show more understanding for friends in need. Standing for friends in need.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): You must associate at least halfway if you don't come to the good judgment of standing instead of continuing to argue. Keep poised, though the situation may be rather uncomfortable. Have much fun with mate in P.M. at some social affair.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Doing your work in wise and efficient manner and listening to suggestions of willing co-workers brings fine results now. Not a good day for shopping for clothing. Wait till tomorrow.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): If you show those you like that you do not get them for granted and are most polite, you make the future more harmonious. Get into recreation that is not competitive. Keep mate in fine humor by gentle manner with him or her.

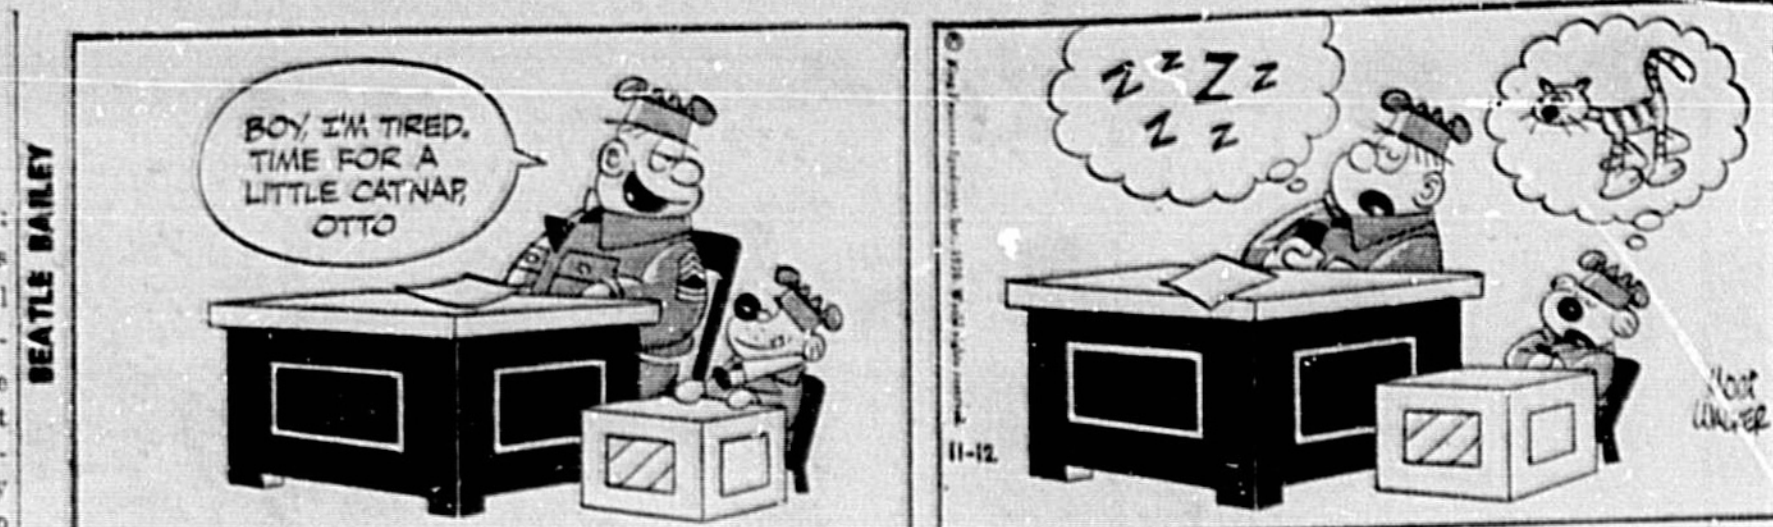

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 18): Enjoy home delights without annoying anyone who dwells under your roof. Stop criticizing so much. Do something to make your own career at the abode more charming and in keeping with your taste.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): Showing good friends that you understand their needs and wants and will help them in some way is good now. Working along with others is best today. Being the lone wolf, as it were, yields very little, especially in T.M.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those young people who are very stubborn, so teach early that it's pretty much a give-and-take world and the sooner this is done, the sooner you will become more rounded and careful. Also teach to give more than received to be on the safe side. The fields of banking, real estate, accounting, and similar occupations are fine. There is much love of the Desigops here, so get the career started early and teach to be more moderate.

The Stars impel, they do not compel! What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Preliminary plans for the annual Christmas Party sponsored by the Longwood Volunteer Fire Department were laid Tuesday night and the date set for Saturday, Dec. 12, at Shady Side Park, 2-5 p.m. The party is for all the children in Longwood and features Santa with his bag of treats.

Attending Tuesday night's meeting were Carl Lommier, chairman, representing the Volunteer Fire Department; Vol-unteer Fire Department; Gene Chase, Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. E. B. Gray, First Baptist Church; Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Williams, Tourist Club; and Mrs. Carol James, Church of the Nazarene.

The next planning meeting will be held at 7 p.m., Nov. 24, at home committees and make final plans. Anyone interested in helping with the fête is asked to attend. Donations to help with expenses for the party may be sent in care of the fire department.

Jacoby and Son

This Thursday finds the famous auctioneer against each other in their best Hearts game. As usual Z is South with A and B holding the East-West cards.

"The old auctioneer puts out a pretty good show of contract bidding today with Z winding up as declarer at four spades."

A made the normal opening lead of the king of hearts and B signaled with the nine. Z's long experience at dummy play made it easy for him to play the five spot without any indication that he was ducking. But the play didn't fool A in the slightest.

A could tell that Z needed the ace of hearts in order to have an opening bid so that Z's nine-spot play almost surely indicated the start of an

A was able to reconstruct Z's hand in its entirety. He had to hold six spades. With a seven-card suit he would have jumped when he rebid. With a five-card suit he wouldn't have made any immediate rebid. He had to be void of clubs as the ace of clubs would give him a place to park his third heart at some stage or other in the play. This left him with four diamonds.

Therefore, A continued with the queen of heart. Z won and led his 10 of spades but A kept up with the ace and led a third heart for B to ruff. A still had to make his king of diamonds and Z was one down.

Note that if A had led a low heart dummy would win the trick with the jack and Z would then discard his ace of hearts on the club ace and make his contract.

Worry Clinic

By Dr. Crane

many children in grammar school who think they are the only folks with secret phobias. So it is well for school teachers in the early grades to schedule a "Fear Party" each year.

The teacher announces such an event in advance, such as the curiosity of the public.

Then she can start this "talk club" by casually mentioning how terrified she was at her age, because of her dread of bugs or lightning or whatever was her own pet phobia.

"To hear their teacher confess to having been the slave of a childhood fear, will be very reassuring to the class.

Then the teacher may ask if anybody else in the class has been afraid of bugs or lightning or snakes, etc.

Usually, a little girl will timidly put up her hand and then make her public confession about some phobia that another little girl will usually follow.

Then a little boy may raise his hand and offer his dread of ghosts or lightning.

Since it has now become "fashionable" to ventilate their secret terrors, everybody in the class may frankly acknowledge some formerly repressed dread.

This is superb group psychology and relaxes the kiddies tremendously.

For they now realize that everybody has some phobia or terror.

Thus, their previous belief that they alone were the only "children" in the class is demolished, so they feel more confident.

And they often can offer practical suggestions during this "Fear Party" as to how they helped overcome their own specific dread.

Many nervous kiddies, often headed for visits to a child psychiatrist, may now become calmer and less likely to be nervous or problem pronouncers.

CASE 6-582: Greg T., aged 20, soon will graduate from college.

"But, Dr. Crane," he protested miserably, "I am afraid of everything!"

"My self-confidence is zero," he wailed, "I'm worried about anything before I do it, though I have made a 'B' average this year."

"But I just wish all fears could be abolished from the human race!"

"Then I might become confident enough to get a job and even think about dating girls."

Actually, fear is one of the greatest gifts to human accomplishment.

So be grateful that you have fears!

But learn how to capitalize on them successfully.

It was fear of starvation that made Adam and Eve develop agriculture and cattle raising.

It was fear of rain and cold weather that caused us to build warm homes.

Fear of illegal intruders led to the invention of locks and keys.

No fear is the beneficial goal that has spurred on toward our present high level of civilization.

And we should even encourage certain fears in our youth, such as dread of the damage to the brain by use of LSD and other drugs.

And we need far more fear of insanity, heart attacks, sterility and many other medical ailments that result from the recessed disease of apathy and grouchiness.

For a recent printed report said 1,000,000 venereal disease cases are spreading infection rampantly throughout our teenage population partly because they haven't been taught a wholesome terror of actual infection!

FTU's Expansion In 70s Pictured

A peek at how Florida Technology University's campus will appear by the end of the present decade shows a network of four-lane roads winding through and around five Village Center areas, a 27-acre recreation lake, separate complexes for each college in the university, and parking areas to serve more than 20,000 commuting students.

Campus Planner James Schroeder, who previewed the changes for FTU administrators and faculty, noted that the plans hinge upon the availability of funds, a condition that already has slowed down projected construction on campus.

Hopefully, said Schroeder, work can be started early next year on the third construction phase. Estimated cost of that phase is $6.8 million. Included in the third phase package are a humanities building, a biological sciences building, an addition to the present Village Center that would double its size, six new parking lots for 1,100 autos, two four-lane roads into campus from FTU Boulevard and Alafaya Trail, and initial work to transform Lake Clair into a recreational site.

Schroeder noted that some funds have been recently released for architectural planning prior to letting bids to mark the beginning of third phase construction.

The first two phases of construction at FTU account for an investment of approximately $18 million.

The Raiders kick-off their season TOMORROW at 8 p. m. at the Seminole High School gym. See today's sports page.

And while we're on the bouncing ball... all of Florida Tech's hoop games will be played at the Oviedo High School gymnasium.

For what it's worth... one of Sanford's better known and frequented eating places will have a change of name soon.

How do you figure it? A month ago, Eastern Airlines fired a pilot who refused to dump excess fat fuel in the air. Now, a federal pollution agency is stop jettisoning the fuel. Wonder if he'll be rehired now?

You have any idea of how many gallons of fuel are dumped in this manner? Two Million Gallons... and then they complain about the gunk that's dumped into the stream... how about the atmosphere?

Many thanks to Bill Bauman of WTRB for accepting the joint responsibility to handle the deluge of calls. We called it the "Rumor Control Center" and you just can't possibly imagine some of the utterly fantastic statements many of these callers made this week.

I'm hoping that it never presents its ugly face again, but... if it should—please don't repeat some of those stories. Our line is always open... for the facts.

On Sunday, Nov. 15, Seminole Junior College will be the featured participant, with Dr. Earl Weiden, president of the college as a special guest on WEEB's "On Campus" seen on Channel 2 at 11:30 a.m.

An auction will be held tonight at 8:30 at the Sanford Civic Center to benefit the half-way house in Sanford now known as "The Gas House." Proceeds will go to better equip the center to be used for the rehabilitation of drug users.

Local merchants and residents have donated merchandise to be auctioned. Others with items they would like to contribute may contact Dr. Louis Perez, Everett Trepanier, or Frank Phillips.

In the long run, we shape our lives, and we shape our selves. The process never ends until we die. And the choices we make are ultimately our own responsibility.

Rathel asked for the time extension at an earlier meeting with Page representatives indicated the city would expect the operator to provide all fixed base services in accordance with the contract signed with the city, either leased structures and this received unanimous endorsement from the five board members present at the session.

The City Commission cannot take action on approving the lease extension until its next meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday.

The consultant said he could not disclose his reasons for but it would mean jobs in an air-oriented facility.

Rathel commented that Page had just about completed work on providing all air services at an earlier meeting with Page representatives indicated the city would expect the operator to provide all fixed base services in accordance with the contract signed with the city, either leased structures and this received unanimous endorsement from the five board members present at the session.

Commission turned down both requests and stated its intention to prevent any other fixed base operators from moving onto the airport at the present time.

PURPOSE REVEALED
This morning's convalescence around the breakfast table was called by the City Commission with the industrialists view concerning the establishment of an airport authority with revenue bonding provisions at the airport.

Mayor Lee P. Moore explained to the group that it had been determined by the commission that the best approach to an authority would be by a legislative act, and a Nov. 24 breakfast session has been scheduled with the newly elected legislative delegation to discuss the objectives of the proposal.

City Attorney W. C. Hutchison said a charter amended method to create an authority would impose limitations on (Cont. on Page 1B, Col. 6)

Hattaway Inspection Ordered

By MARION BETHEA

Road Supt. J. C. Lavender has been requested by the County Commission to inspect conditions on Hattaway Drive in Altamonte Springs, relative to giving a report at next Tuesday's commission meeting.

The contractor had agreed to lay sewer lines on the street. The contractor had agreed to mulch and seed the street as part of the restoration, and Lavender is to not whether this seeding has been accomplished.

Lavender has advised the commission that when the work was completed, the contractor was supposed to call him, but this was not done.

Commission Chairman John Alexander said that resolution of the continuing matter may necessitate the action of the commission in calling the bond, since the use permit calls for the restoration of the right of way.

In another matter, the consolidation study proposed by the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce was postponed until a later date, pending contract with this board. It is a $20,500 budget allowance for out-of-county traveling.

On a motion by A. F. Keith, board member, the educators unanimously accepted the proposal, which allows $2,000 for the board and superintendent; $4,000 for the instructional supervisory staff; $4,000 for principal; $2,000 for instructional personnel and $1,500 for trips to be made by the personnel director to other states in a teacher recruiting campaign.

Under the approved expenditures for this year, all out-of-county and out-of-state requests for travel allowances must be recommended by the department head to the superintendent for approval.

Out-of-state trips requests must be recommended by the department head to the superintendent and submitted to the Board member A. F. Keith, in moving to allow one campaign specified this was for middle school band funds only and not for the school theme.

Area School Plans Win High Honors

By LARRY NEELY

The architectural design of the proposed Walter Teague Middle School and the existing Idylwild Elementary School have been selected by the American Association of School Administrators to be exhibited at its week-long convalescence in February in Atlantic City, N. J.

The two Seminole County schools were designed by Eoghan Kelley, of Sanford, and were among some 400 schools considered for the honor. The State Department of Education recently selected three of Kelley's school designs, including those of Teague Middle School and Idylwild Elementary, to be sent to school systems contemplating construction of new facilities.

The designs were selected by a panel consisting of four educators and four architects. The panel studied the entries Monday and Tuesday of this week. The entries were judged on how well they responded to educational needs and cost restrictions as well as on esthetics.

Longwood OKs Road Paving

By ANN RILEY

LONGWOOD - It came to light at Thursday night's meeting of the City Council that City Supt. Ralph Fisher had overhauled funds approved for paving and resurfacing by $1,046. He stated several "little" items came up raising the cost to $5,625. Council approved payment.

Fire Chief Carl Lommeler appeared before council with two requests. He asked for donations for Longwood's annual Christmas party for the children. Council allotted $50 for this purpose. He also asked permission to purchase a radio-cable TV system for the fire department and council instructed him to ask for sealed bids.

Jack Bradshaw from Seminole Cable TV appeared to present his program, but the new council takes over in January. Wilson Knotts requested annexation into the city for 57-acre first addition to Steeple Hollow subdivision. "I am unfortunately caught in the middle of the Seminole County ordinance change. I am proud of what I've done in Steeple Hollow and I want to continue the progress. If I'm forced to comply with county regulations I will have to cut down the size of my lots." He now has three quarter and one-acre lots. Knotts claimed to have the best type of arterial system of septic tanks allowing 20,000 square feet for each tank, a recharge system and cul de sac.

Councilman Sandra Thompson said, "I'd rather see us get a subdivision ordinance before we get into anything like this," and made a motion it be tabled for further study. The zoning board is presently working on a subdivision ordinance for Longwood.

George Wilmer, attorney for B. J. Connor, requested B.J. Connor in order for his clients to build a professional building on SR 434 and it was tabled.
