Misses Nell Whitner, Mabel Bowler, and Fern Ward, Miss J. C. Hutchings, Mrs. H. H. McCaslin, Mrs. Brian Higgins, Mrs. M. S. Wiggins, Mrs. Braxton Perkins, Mrs. Archie Betts, Mrs. S. M. Lloyd.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Lingle and young people left on Tuesday for their summer home in Coliden, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nickle and little daughter, Louise, and their mother, Mrs. J. C. Entzinger left the early part of the week for Vermont where the summer will be spent with the latter's brother. They were accompanied by their nieces, Misses Florence and Helen Witte who will visit relatives in New York.

Farewell Dinner

Miss Sarah Wheelers was the gracious young hostess at a farewell dinner party on Monday evening in honor of several girl friends who are leaving Sanford this week for summer homes in Virginia and the North. The affair was attractive with yellow decorations and its pretty appointments. After dinner Miss Wheelers and the girls enjoyed the play at the star Theatre. Enjoying the evening were Misses May Hill, Vera and Kitty DuBoise and their aunt, Mary Cooper from Centerville, Ala., Naomia Scoggin, Emily Dingle, Gladys Wilson and Louise Schroder.

The dinner was assisted by her mother in looking after the pleasure of her guests.

Attractive Home Wedding

Revered by many charming pre-nuptial arrangements the wedding of Miss Annie Mae Cameron and Mr. Robert Merriwether, is surrounded with the most cordial interest here and in Virginia where both are well-known. The wedding which took place at the parental home of the bride's parents on Tuesday evening was one of the most of the season, surrounded with the charm of spring time and the beauty of glowing colors. A novel introduction of the pink and blue carrying out the initial tones of pink and green was a pleasing innovation. The ceremony was performed beneath an arch which had been erected in the dining room. Enclosed with asparagus fern, studded with a variety of pink flowers, above which was a large white lace-hoop, it was a pretty setting for the wedding party. Doubled as it, Dr. George Hyman officiated using the impressive ring ceremony.

Blossoms and the flowers interspersed with ferns were used in profusion throughout the rooms of the house, with miniature pink parasols, connecting the decorative scheme available.

Miss Wheelers played the wedding march from Lohengrin for the entrance of the bridal party.

The bride was very lovely in her wedding gown of Adriatic blue with a white lace-trimmed skirt. Her hair was styled in a soft and simple manner with a crown of white roses and tied with tulle. Her only ornament was a diamond pin, the gift of her groom.

Miss Louise Melton, the bride's only attendant, was prettily gowned in a gown of green organdie with white lace-trimmed skirt. Her dress was accented with pink trimmings. Her bouquet was pink, white and red roses.

Mr. Robert Merriwether was his bride's best man.

Mr. Merriwether is the attractive young son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cameron who is a Sanford High School graduate and for two years a teacher in the grammar school.

Mr. Merriwether is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Merriwether of Lynchburg, Va. but has spent his last two years in Sanford where both young people have hosts of friends interested in their happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Merriwether will spend their honeymoon in Virginia the guests of Mr. Merriwether's relatives. Upon their return they will go to house-keeping in the Cameron home on Seventh St. and Oak Avenue the gift of the bride's parents.

For the wedding trip Mrs. Merriwether wore a stylish coat suit of blue serge with a modish hat of green and blue, trimmed with grapes and ribbon.

For Miss Nettie Maines

With careful attention to detail the miscellaneous shower given in honor of Miss Nettie Maines, last Thursday afternoon by Mrs. A. M. Phillips, nursed it as one of the most charming pre-nuptial events of the week. A color motif of pink and white was used effectively in a decorative scheme very lovely in its artistic arrangement. Roses and ferns were used in vases about the rooms and huge bowl of magnolia centered the table while baskets of pink vine were suspended overhead.

The porch had been transformed into a cozy corner of attractive beauty with potted ferns and hanging baskets of pink vines and here punch was dispensed by Miss Clara Millen.

"Advice to the bride" was contained in a little booklet, ornamented with snap-shot pictures of the bride and groom to be, surrounded with hand-painted will roses in pink and white. It contained advice from each guest and read aloud created much merriment. Pink hearts cut in halves and tied with ribbon, were inscribed with humorous verses and "matched" by the guests. A pleasing program of music was rendered by Miss Mabel Bowler who sang "Only You" and a violin selection "Love's Old Sweet Song" was given by Mrs. C. J. Marshall. Both were accompanied by Mrs. Schelle Maines.

Miss Maines was then conducted to a seat of honor in the center of the room and while the "Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin" was played by Mrs. Ryan, a shower of pink rose petals fell upon the bride-elect and Lester Phillips a gracious manly little figure in white headed the caravan from the Burning Sands of India leading an elephant by white ribbons, upon whose back was strapped a big box of pink and white with cover fastened down with a large bow. The original lines composed by Mrs. E. E. Cox was handed the guest of honor and read by Mrs. Geo. Hyman, follows:

Summoned by music's magic spell I come to you today: I've traversed India's burning sands and many strange and foreign lands, listening for a wedding bell.

Ringing in Florida, I'm bringing to this bride of June Treasures from near and far: With all the Orient's mystic I'd fain make sure her happy heart Will ever beat in time to love's sweet tune.

And o'er her shine Love's star, The box contained many beautiful gifts.

An elaborate refreshment course was served consisting of frozen pineapple and peaches served with whipped cream and cherries, hot cheese dainty and nut bread sandwiches. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Fred Williams and Mrs. S. O. Shinholser.

Entertained with Banquet

On Monday evening, Mrs. Charles Merriwether and Mrs. Ben Monroe entertained with a banquet in honor of Miss Annie Cameron and Mr. Robert Merriwether at the lovely little bungalow home of Mr. and Mrs. Merriwether.

The lower floor, which was in suite, was attractively decorated, a color scheme of yellow prevailing in the dining room, with the wedding colors of pink and green in the living room. The yellow shades lights cast a golden glow of beauty over the pretty scene. Draperies were festooned with graceful sprays of the plumosa spengeri and vases upon tables, mantels and cabinets, held a variety of roses and other garden flowers in shades of pink, tinted from soft sea shell pink to the deeper shade of carmine. Small potted palms completed the charm of the decorations.

The table was centered in a large white basket, whose tall lattice was ornamented with a big bow of yellow, and filled with yellow dahlias, asparagus fern and honeysuckle. The pretty crocheted napkins, rings were faced with yellow ribbon and from the various colleges and schools that claimed them for the 1919-20 season, some of them having attained high honors and several graduating.

With The College Set

A large contingent of Sanford's young people are daily returning

Among these, Miss Mildred Houston was the first to return, graduating from the Cathedral school at Orlando with the highest honors of her class and having won a gold medal for the best essay. Miss Houston was class Valedictorian.

Miss Mary Zachary graduated this week from the Domestic Science department also with distinction. Miss Zachary will teach Domestic Science at Perry next year.

Earle Paxton, who has made a splendid record for himself at the University of Florida, graduated this week with high honors from the electrical engineering department.

Max was unfortunately having had his arm broken two weeks previous to exams, but even so handicapped he has won the goal. He will not return home this summer but will leave immediately for Highlands, N. C. where he has accepted a position of trust in the student's band.

Among the girls returning from the Woman's College are Misses Helen Lewis, Edna Chattenien, Gladys Green, Dorothy Rumpf and Izetta Stone.

Miss Palmer Resigns from Hospital Staff

Many regrets are being expressed over the resignation of Miss Myrtice Palmer as Supt. of the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital and her departure from Sanford. Miss Palmer has been actively identified with the hospital since the opening and has been loyal and efficient, rendering the most capable service under the greatest difficulties. Under her management the house-keeping and finances have been conducted along economical lines consistent with efficiency. Her resignation went into effect June 1st and Miss Palmer left Saturday for her home in Rock Hill S. C.

The many friends she has made here by her pleasing personality and charm of manner, will be interested in the news of her approaching marriage to Mr. J. J. Stevens of Chicago, the wedding to occur very soon.

Miss Mary M. Hennes, succeeds Miss Palmer as superintendent and associated with her on the nurses staff are Miss Antoinette Tarbell and Miss Mary Cadrington. Miss Fingean who has been for sometime with the hospital has also resigned and leaves about the 10th to answer the call of Cupid at Hymen's altar.

Miss Cadrington comes from Deland with excellent credentials and is the sister of Chris O. Cadrington, editor and proprietor of the Deland Weekly News.

VANISHING OF WOOD.

Gifford Pinchot, who probably knows more about forest and lumber conditions than any man in the country, says the cutting of timber now going on is reckless destruction. It is being cut three times as fast as we are growing it and we are using nine times as much timber as we are growing, he declares, adding that no such destruction has been done before since the world began. This being the case, it follows that building materials, so far as they include wood, are not likely to decrease in price, though they are now very high. Also furniture prices will not be lower, says Indianapolis Star. Other materials—brick, iron, stone, tile, concrete—are now being utilized more than ever before by builders, and most business blocks and the more elaborate and substantial apartment houses have no wood in their construction except what is visible in floors, door casings and other interior finishings. This method was introduced originally in the interest of fire prevention, but it may become a matter of economy to find a substitute for even this limited usage of wood.

The hope of the future lies in the boys and young men. We of the older generation will not be able to set the Red River on fire—we didn't start soon enough. The boys several times say they might as well not go to school if they must go home and start in farming with their fathers. Father often forgets that the son has outgrown the small boy stage, and there fore father feels that his judgment is much superior. Perhaps it is, but often it isn't. We are all human, even in the boys, and we enjoy carrying out plans which we helped to make. Not only this, but the boy can often make very helpful suggestions as to how best to get large accomplishments, says Farm Life. Many fathers never really find out the merit which lies in their own sons until the sons are given some really responsible share in the business of the farm. Boys are quick to sense work that carries with it no responsibility and they call such work a task, and there is much difference between a job and a task.

With anarchists and agitators being sent to prison and being deported, the business of ridding the country of a dangerous class is beginning in earnest. If such drastic steps had been taken when these activities began to show themselves, much trouble, peril and loss would have been saved. As it is, these plotters against law and order have simply been encouraged by an easy tolerance which refused to recognize their immense capability for mischief.

The college professors are going to organize a union, but will have only an academic interest in strikes. We fancy that a college professors' strike would pester nobody but the professors themselves. A strike rarely gets on the country's nerves until it begins to touch the appetite or the pocket.

EXAMINE RECORDS OF OFFICE

The duties of the office have been such that it has taken my entire time making it impossible for me to see the voters personally without neglecting the office to which you elected me four years ago. ring and the thimble became the possession of Miss Marlon Phillips. The note of humor, skillfully carried out in the arrangements was a novelty in entertainment much enjoyed.

Others invited to meet the young bride-elect were Misses Eleanor and Ruth Roberts, Ruth Steinmyer, Katherine Aycocke, Ruth Hand, Ruth Kanner, Gladys and Lather Wilson, Minnie Allen, Mamie Steele; Mrs. Chas. Merriwether, Mrs. L. M. Stringfellow and Mrs. Wilson.

Beautiful Church Wedding

Perfect in every charming detail, the wedding of Miss Nettie Malnes to Mr. Thomas J. Moore was solemnized at the Baptist Temple, Thursday evening at nine o'clock. Dr. Geo Hyman officiating using the ring ceremony.

The church was elaborately decorated from the lower entrance throughout the auditorium. Bamboo, palms and Southern smilax screened the walls and entwined the columns, forming a cool, green background for the pink oleander blossoms, verbenas and crepe myrtle arranged in graceful profusion in fern dishes and vases placed upon the window ledges and platform across the front of which there was a charming arrangement of small palm leaves. Wall vases filled with pink flowers and ferns hung upon the columns. Potted ferns and other plants on standards completed the decoration of the platform. A lovely wedding bell, beneath which the young couple stood to be married was ornamented with graceful sprays of ferns and delicately tinted clusters of larkspur, the clapper was of white larkspur. Clusters of crepe myrtle decorated the pews and the places reserved for the family were designated with white ribbons.

A pleasing program of music was rendered before the entrance of the bridal party, which included a group of songs by Mrs. A. M. Phillip accompanied by Mrs. George Hyman pianist and Mrs. C. J. Marshall on the violin. Mrs. Phillips songs were, "I Love You Truly", "Dear" and "The Proposal"

To the music of Lohengrins "Bridal Chorus" the wedding party entered the church presided by the ribbon bearers, Dorothy Haynes and Margery Hoskins, wearing dainty little frocks of pink organdie, ruffled and ornamented with ribbon rosettes, untieing the ribbons and taking their stand upon the platform. They were followed by Dr. Hyman after whom entered from opposite doors of the church the ushers, Messrs Leslie Hill and J. J. Michael, Tom Brotherson and Ellsworth Harper. The matron of honor, Mrs. Schelle Maines and the best man, Mr. Ernest Murnly preceded the little flower girl, Mary Connelly, who wore a pretty dress of white organdie and carried a white basket of lovely pink roses, tied with a big maline bow. She walked before the bride scattering rose petals in her path. The bride and groom followed, passing down the opposite aisles of the church and meeting beneath the wedding bell. Amid the beautiful surroundings, the bridal party grouped about the young couple, forming a pretty picture.

The bride was sweet and winsome in her lovely wedding gown of white satin and her tulle veil edged with lace was caught with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of white ophelia roses.

The matron of honor was very attractive in a dress of white net over pink silk and her flowers were pink rose-buds and fern.

Mrs. Hyman wore a charming frock of white lingerie, with narrow pink ribbons and a corsage bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. Marshall was gowned in white silk and wore a pink rose-bud corsage.

Mrs. Phillips wore a dress of white organdie and white ribbons and her flowers were a pink corsage of roses.

Immediately after the church ceremony, an informal reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Schelle Maines for the relatives and close friends of the family.

Here a pretty decorative scheme was tastefully carried out with quantities of pink roses and southern smilax, in living-room and dining-room.

The bride's table, which was centered by the beautiful wedding-cake, was lovely with its handsome lace cover over pink and adorned with graceful sprays of pink vine and asparagus fern.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Maines of Lake Dulter. For the last three years she has taught school in the Primary schools of Sanford and is a very popular girl.

The groom is a prominent young business man of Marlana.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore left on the midnight train for Jacksonville en route to visit the groom's parents at Milton, after which they will make their home in Marianna.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. Moore wore a dress of dark blue crepe de chine embroidered with gold and a stylish hat of black and gold and blue and old rose trimmings.

GROWERS AWARDED DAMAGES

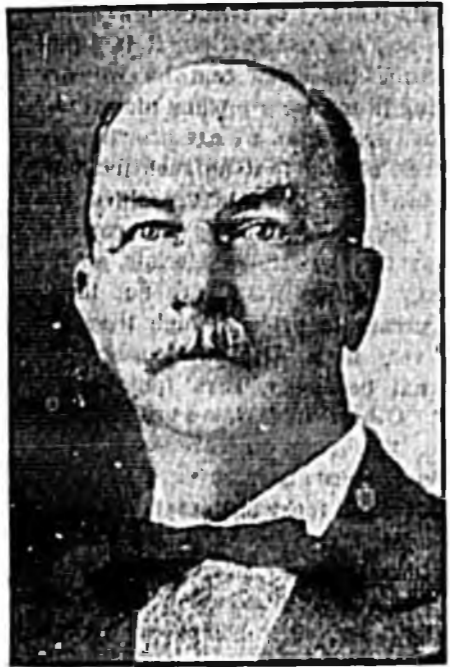

SUSTAINED BY PERISHABLES BEING DELAYED IN TRANSIT BY STRIKES.

The growers who during the past season lost their shipments of fruits and vegetables on account of the slow movement of cars of perishable products can take heart in the recent ruling of a court in California guaranteeing the American Fruit Co. damages for fruit that had been damaged in transit on account of a railroad strike.

There were many growers in the Sanford section who had heavy losses from this source last season and the season before and now that a precedent has been established it is more than probable that the growers of the entire country will have a clear case against the railroad companies for damages sustained by slow movement regardless of whether it be a strike or mismanagement or pure shiftlessness and carelessness. The following is the article that appeared in the New York Produce News:

Los Angeles, May 21.—California shippers and growers are deeply interested in the verdict for $4,767 awarded to the American Fruit Distributors against the Federal Railroad Administration and the Southern Pacific. The suit was based on the loss when 11 cars of cantaloup rotted in the railroad yards last August during the strike.

Judge Wood ruled that the responsibility of the carrier was not removed because employees were on strike. He fixed the damages at the minimum market value of the cantaloupes that rotted. This decision will probably have important bearing on the losses suffered during the switchmen's strike as well as possible losses that may follow the expected shortage of refrigerator cars.

On Sunday Closing

Editor of Sanford Herald:

There is an ordinance against the drug stores and cold drink stands staying open on Sundays. Drug stores are supposed to open Sunday morning for a few hours and in afternoon for an hour but cold drinks stands at all. A few years ago the good people of Sanford made a fight against the opening of cold drink stands on Sunday. I made them close up. Now they seem to have been granted an inch and taken a mile and remain open all day undisturbed of all law and decency. The church people are forced to go by these places and see them open in direct violation of the law and we wonder why this is allowed to be so. Surely our mayor and city Commissioners are aware of this violation and a shutting their eyes to it. If these places are not willing to obey the law and keep open a short time before church they should be closed all day Sunday as the law says they should.

Pup Delays Tube Train; Theater Patrons Storm

New York.—Theater-going passengers on an express bound uptown in the Seventh Avenue subway, fumed and frotted while the train ran at quarter-speed with frequent jerky stops. As the hour for curtains to rise on matinees came perilously near, a self-constituted committee called on the motorman for an explanation. He was peering anxiously out of his cab window at a bewildered brown-and-white terrier running between the rails.

"The pup can't run any faster," the motorman explained, "and I ain't going to run over him. That stands if we don't get to Times square till night."

At Times square the terrier still was ahead of the train but going at a greatly reduced pace.

"I hope he'll fall out when he sees daylight at One Hundred and Twenty-eighth street," sighed the motorman.

BRITISH ARMY GROWING FAST

200 Recruits Daily—Scarlet Coats and Bearskin Buzbles Replace Khaki Uniforms.

London.—Recruits are joining the British army at the rate of 200 per day and many of the men whose period of service was about to expire have re-enlisted.

The crack guards regiments have blossomed out again in their pre-war scarlet coats and bearskin buzbles, instead of khaki.

According to the Morning Post, the regular army is to have its pre-war establishment increased by about 100,000 men, with the ultimate object of getting another 500,000 men voluntarily to undertake liability for general service when the army reserve is needed.

TRIUMPH FOR AMERICAN SKILL

Successful Method Evolved by Which Dressed Sealskins May Be Made Thoroughly Pliable.

American workmen have been successful, after workmen of several other nations failed, in evolving a system of treating sealskins to make them more valuable.

For many years furriers had dressed a black dye with which to treat sealskins successfully. The mode had always been a brownish luster. First, the French announced a black dye, but this dye rotted the fur by causing it to rapidly disintegrate.

The British then worked out a system of dyeing the sealskins black, but they could not make the skin pliable and garments made from them were awkward. The lack of soft tanning and the thick leather made it impossible to get the flares and degrees of drapes desired in garments.

Today the Alaskan seal, under the American method, is as supple and may be as easily manipulated as the kid of a lady's glove or a fine piece of chiffon velvet. It is not an exaggeration to say that an entire dressed skin can be drawn through a small napkin ring. The credit for the flexibility is due to the machinery and process installed in St. Louis and known as the Funsten St. Louis method.—St. Louis Times.

Care of Toys.

Always examine your children's toys before allowing them to play with them. The paint may come off with sucking, or there may be rusty projecting nails in them.

Shah Believes in Mascots.

Probably no monarch is a more firm believer in the power of the mascot than the young shah of Persia. He has nearly 200 mascots, most of them bedouins, which have played some part in the history of his predecessors. Chief among these is a cube of amber which, according to eastern lore, fell from heaven in Mahomet's time. It is supposed to ward off danger, and the shah usually wears it round his neck.

Think Before You Adventure.
It is said that the most beautiful women in the world are the women of the Tehuantepec tribe of Mexican Indians. In addition to this fact we might say that these women are carefully guarded by the men of the tribe, that the journey is a long one, and traveling, especially in winter, is precarious.

Old Friend Returns.
Our old celluloid collar friend has been exhumed again, this time by Raphael. "He wears sleeve garters; uses a mustache coffee cup, a cigar cutter and a change purse; his name, in gold letters, is old Englished on his shaving mug; and he carries his watch in a chainis bagz."—New York Tribune.

The Wind Decides.
In Sumatra the wind decides the length of time a widow shall remain single. Just after her husband's death she plants a flagstaff at her door, upon which a flag is raised. While the flag remains untop by the wind the etiquette of Sumatra forbids her to marry; but at the first rent, however small, she can lay aside her mourning, assume her most bewitching smile and accept the first man who presents himself.

A Ventilation Test.
Mrs. Newlywed was speaking proudly to her caller of their new house, and told of its having hollow block construction, thus insuring plenty of ventilation. "I don't think your modern dwelling has anything on our old-fashioned frame house in that respect," returned her caller. "Every night we lock the cat in the cellar and let her out of the attic in the morning."—Boston Transcript.

But One Way to Acquire Wealth.
Wealth is not acquired, as many persons suppose, by fortunate speculations and splendid enterprises, but by the daily practice of industry, frugality and economy. He who relies upon these means will rarely be found destitute, and he who relies upon any other will generally become bankrupt.—Francis Wayland.

Ravens of Tower of London.
The ravens are an institution in the Tower of London, although there is no record that they are one of its historic features. One of the yeoman warders has charge of the ravens, giving each a particular name, such as "James Crow, thief," if it suits the character of the bird.

Uplift Through Science.
It is the application of science to the work that helps the worker. The social reformer cheers but does not instigate. As Prof. Milliken well said not long ago: "One little new advance like the discovery of ductile tungsten which makes electric light one-third as expensive as it was before, is a larger contribution to human well being than all kinds of changes in the social order."—Samuel Croxther in the World's Work.

PLAN HAVRE-PARIS OIL TUBES

French Government to Construct Pipe Lines to Solve Coal Shortage Problem.

London.—The French government has sanctioned the construction of a double pipe line for oil between Havre and Paris, a distance of about 450 miles. It is stated by the American Chamber of Commerce in London.

One of the pipe lines, with an internal diameter of ten inches, is to be used for heavy fuel oils, and above it will be a smaller pipe line of four inches, for petroleum and motor spirit. It is anticipated that 4,500 tons of heavy and 1,000 tons of light oils and spirit can be pumped through these lines daily, thus materially lightening the difficulty of supplying Paris with coal by facilitating the use of heavy oils in its place. It is hoped to complete the lines in time for next winter.

GERMAN LIVING COST IS HIGH

Food Necessaries Show Advances Up to 4,000 Per Cent Since 1914.

CLOTHING AND SHOES UP

Official Report From Berlin Declares That Middle-Class Struggle for Existence is Hopeless—Sugar is Least Affected.

Washington.—A report received here through official channels from Berlin outlines by comparative tables of prices of essential commodities in 1914 and 1920 the advance in the cost of living in Germany since the outbreak of the European war.

According to the figures, the cost of living for an unmarried clerk living away from home has risen from 177 marks a month in 1914 to 700 marks this year.

The actual cost of the essential articles of food for a family of four at present is estimated at 650 marks a month.

Clothing Out of Question. Clothing, the report says, is impossible to purchase at present prices. A suit which in 1914 cost 80 marks is now reported to sell for 1,000 marks, a price increase of 1,150 per cent. The cost of shoes has increased over 1,500 per cent. Shoes which in 1914 sold at 15 marks a pair are now bringing 175 marks. Men's shirts which could formerly be bought for 7 1/2 marks each are now being sold for 85 marks, a rise of 1,100 per cent.

Similar price increases prevail for all essential commodities, the increases ranging from 225 per cent for electric current to 1,750 per cent for soap, a piece of soap which before the war cost 20 pfennigs now selling for 35 marks.

The increase in the cost of food essentials, according to the figures given in the report, is even more startling. The cost of eggs has risen 4,000 per cent, one egg now costing 2 1/2 marks. Lard comes next, with a percentage increase of 3,723. Rice, cereals, butter and bacon have increased in price more than 2,000 per cent.

Sugar Increases Least. The article of food which has increased least in price since 1914 is sugar, which has gone up the comparatively small amount of 316 per cent. Before the war sugar sold in Germany for 25 pfennigs a pound. It now brings, the report says, 103 marks. Milk also has retained a low cost in comparison with the tremendous increases prevailing in most commodities. Its cost has risen 320 per cent.

According to the report, the average monthly earnings of the German middle classes are only from 200 to 300 marks. Taking the needs as outlined for existence, the report says, examination of the tables gives some conception of the present hopeless struggle of the middle classes for existence on the meager return of their work.

TIPSY CAT LEADS TO LIQUOR

New York Revenue Officers Trail Inebriated "Tom" to the Source of Supply.

New York.—Confounding those who say cats will not drink hard liquor, Harold B. Dobbs, internal revenue agent, avers that a tipsy "Tom" leading along the street led him and brother officers to a cache of 50 gallons of alcohol and other intoxicating beverages in the cellar of a saloon at Sixth avenue and Forty-fourth street.

In the place, according to Dobbs, were several more cats, and all ill-favored. Moreover, there was a determined effort made by each cat to obtain a share of a dark brown liquid that had leaked from an overturned demijohn on the floor.

Thomas Fitzgerald, proprietor of the saloon, and his bartender, Hugh Lee-Loy, were arrested by Dobbs and charged with violating the prohibition amendment.

Girl Sneezed So Hard Eye Popped From Head

Sneezing with such violence as to cause her eye to fall out was the experience of Miss Marjorie Prover of Chester, Pa. The eye was replaced.

According to the hospital authorities, it is not unusual for the eye to be removed for some operations, but to have it forced out by coughing or sneezing is unique in medical annals. Miss Prover has left the hospital, suffering no serious effects from the peculiar experience.

ERIN SENDS LIONS TO AFRICA

Dublin Zoo Exports Irish-Born Beasts to Dark Continent—First Time on Record.

Dublin, Ireland.—Dublin is now exporting lions to South Africa. The Dublin Zoo has a famous lion house, where the animals have been successfully bred. It has been able to supply lions on demand to other zoos in the United Kingdom, but this is the first time an order has been received from Africa.

COST IS BASED ON ACCENT

Berlin Shops Charge Exchange When Buyers Have Not Mastered German.

Berlin.—Foreign guests at the Hotel Adlon have been notified of a 100 per cent increase in their lodging rate. A movement is beginning in various hostels, watering places and health resorts to assess foreigners heavily so as to offset the discrepancy in exchange.

Big shops generally have introduced a system of charging foreigners an exchange assessment. Shoppers who have mastered the Teutonic enunciation, however, escape this added tax.

The correspondent, who speaks German, priced a trunk and the cost was given him at 4,000 marks. A colleague, whose German enunciation is not quite what it should be, was asked 12,000 marks for the same trunk.

Thought Husband Slain; Married Again; Divorced

Durham, N. C.—Mrs. Ida Page Griffin, the central figure in Durham's modern Enoch Arden case, was granted a divorce from Walter Griffin, the husband with whom she was living when T. O. Page, her first husband, believed dead, returned from army service.

Mrs. Page was officially notified by army officials of her first husband's death. Some time later she married Griffin. Only a few months ago the first husband returned to Durham. Recently Mrs. Griffin announced her intention of divorcing both husbands.

TO RETRIEVE FLAG OF 1812

James Buchanan, Louisville, to Bring Back Emblem Lost in Battle of the Thames.

Frankfort, Ky.—James Buchanan, a descendant of Col. William Whitley, commander of the Kentucky volunteers in the battle of the Thames in 1812, will go to England as commissioner of the state of Kentucky to bring back the Kentucky battle flag which was lost at that battle.

The upper house of the general assembly recently appropriated expenses for Mr. Buchanan's trip.

The battle is commonly called by historians "the massacre of the River Raisin," because a majority of the Kentuckians were killed and scalped by the Indians after they had surrendered to the British officers under an unfulfilled promise of protection from the Indians.

Why Make a Change?

From all indications Hon. David Sholtz will be nominated on June 8th for State Attorney. He will carry Volusia county by a handsome majority, have a big lead in Brevard and about split even with Seminole county's candidate in that county.

This is as it should be. David Sholtz has made good as State Attorney. He has been commended at every term of court in which he has acted in an official capacity. He has been commended by grand juries and the press for the efficiency and ability he has shown, as well as the saving he has effected the tax payers by the prompt disposal of business.

With Dave Sholtz as State Attorney there have been no long-drawn out terms of court with grand juries in session for weeks. This means a tremendous saving to the people in witness and jury fees. That he has shown excellent qualifications for State Attorney and ability to represent the state satisfactorily none can deny.

It would certainly be unwise for the voters to discharge a capable official and employ one whose qualifications are unknown, and the voters of the Seventh Judicial Circuit will not do it. (The Daytona Morning Journal, May 20, 1920.)

Seminole County, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held June 8th, 1920.

E. A. DOUGLASS.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Seminole County, Florida, subject to the decision of the Democratic Primary to be held June 8th, 1920.

Respectfully,
W. E. MOHRAN.

HIGH PRICES FALLING NOT SPASMODIC AFFAIR BUT SYSTEMATIC DECLINE

People Refused To Stand For High Prices In U. S.

DUNN'S REVIEW SAYS

THAT MANUFACTURERS ARE FURLING THEIR SALES CURTAILING SALES.

It is evident from a study of a late number of Dun's Review that the liquidating process which began some weeks ago, is something more than a mere spasmodic affair, or even a seasonal reduction of stocks. It indicates that the "peak" of high prices has been passed and that we may expect a declining tendency hereafter. It may not be radical, nor immediate but it will be certain it is claimed. The goose which laid the golden egg has been killed by greed. Manufacturers everywhere are curtailing their output, reducing their time and ridding themselves of surplus labor. They are furling their sales in preparation for the coming storm, and evidence is not lacking that wise retailers throughout the country are doing the same. Some of the large shoe factories in New England are reported as working only two or three days per week, owing to the reduction of orders, and the general curtailment of buying. We quote from Dun's Review of May 29:

The liquidating process that began sometime ago in certain branches of business, but which has only lately occasioned general comment, has continued, and is welling in its influence. It is not necessary where apparent, the movement toward readjustment is plainly discernible in various quarters, as in textiles and hides and leather and footwear, and is manifested both in current price tendencies and in the conditions affecting future operations. With an unusually backward season, and a congestion in transportation that has seriously disorganized commerce, some shrinkage of transactions was to be expected; but these restrictive elements do not fully explain the prevailing disposition of most dealers to confine commitments within the closest possible limits, and the increasing cancellations and revisions of orders. The fundamental reasons for the recent abatement of activities, in fact, have appeared in the diminished consumption of merchandise, due largely to the prolonged era of extreme prices, and hastened by the reduction of purchasing power through decreased employment from one cause or another, and in the tightening of money rates and the efforts to bring about credit contraction. The results of financial pressure have been seen in enforced offerings of some goods at appreciable price concessions, not only in retail lines, but also in wholesale circles, and buyers' growing conviction that the present price reaction marks something more than a temporary flurry chiefly accounts for the existing hesitation in entering upon forward engagements. While inability to accept additional contracts, owing to impediments in manufacturing, prevents some business that might otherwise be consummated, demands for next fall and winter requirements have slackened perceptibly, pending a clear insight into the price situation, and curtailment of output has developed in the textile industry and elsewhere because of lack of new orders. With shortages in supplies of some commodities, and production costs remaining at high levels, price readjustments may be further delayed in certain channels; but the main trend now seems to be definitely downward, and Dun's list of wholesale quotations this week, for the second consecutive week, discloses more recessions than advances.

FOUND CARDS WERE MARKED

Revelations That Came as a Shock to Wounded Soldiers in Hospital at Washington.

Here is a melancholy story about "markers."

"Markers are marked playing cards so that he who plays may read the backs of the cards. Wounded soldiers under treatment in the Walter Reed hospital in Washington play cards continually. They use decks which are given to the hospital, not new decks, but those which have been used once by Washington clubs, especially bridge whist clubs of women in society.

Keen-eyed soldiers, as the story now goes, were surprised to discover one day that some of the cards were marked by small knife point indentations on the border of the back. The marking was not accidental.

Scrutiny showed that the high cards—eight spot up to ace—were carefully marked. The marks were so faint as to be almost imperceptible, but a person familiar with them could read the backs.

Immediately there was a search for the card marker, for the soldiers may gamble a bit now and then—officially they don't, but actually they—well, it's nobody's business if one wounded buck private wishes to wager another wounded buck private that his five cards beat 'other chap's five cards.

Anyhow, if somebody was marking cards in the hospital the boys wished to talk to him. But investigation revealed—and this is where the hospital soldiers were shocked—that whatever marking was done took place before the cards arrived at the hospital. Not all decks were marked, only a deck now and then.

The inference seems to be that somebody in Washington club life, woman's club life at that, is graciously giving the wounded soldiers once-used card decks which have somehow been knife-pointed. The war veterans say that they have been shell shocked and otherwise startled, but they are vastly amused at a phase of society life in Washington.

Probably First Moving Pictures. America is not the original home of the moving picture. This assumption is disproved by an apparatus of ancient Siamese civilization recently rediscovered. The apparatus consists of a number of ancient movie machines unearthed at the National museum in New York, where they had been hidden away in boxes since their presentation to this country by the king of Siam in 1875.

The cinematic art as practiced hundreds of years ago in Siam was carried on as follows: The proper number of figures, designed from leather by hand, were mounted on rods and projected on the screen by the hand of the operator. The screen was a white cloth hung between the audience and the light. The shadows were manipulated by the operator's pushing the tinulkins along in a trough. As action advanced through climax and anticlimax, the operator recited in a singsong voice five-foot dramas of the love and wrongs of the kings and queens represented.

Sports Among Citizen Soldiers.

Australia's militia, the citizen soldiers who are trained under her compulsory home defense system, have a warm-hearted friend in Brigadier General Brand, state commandant and one of the most distinguished Australian leaders in the late war. General Brand recognizes that routine is tiresome and he is popularizing senior cadet work by combining with it sports programs whereby the keenest rivalry in athletics will be encouraged throughout Victoria. General Brand's scheme has been enthusiastically welcomed by the boys and by citizens' committees, who have joined heartily in the sporting competitions between battalions, brigades and training areas. This new way of making soldiers means the introduction of a common interest among the units, skill, discipline and clean rivalry.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

"Is that dog of yours vicious?" asked the timorous person.

"Oh, no," replied the owner of a ferocious looking brute that was doing his best to break the leash attached to his collar. "Why, this dog was named after a friend of mine, one of the gentlest men who ever lived."

"That doesn't mean anything to me. Nearly every day George Washington is haled to court charged with violating the prohibition law, petty larceny or some other offense. Just looking at your pet, I don't believe he lives up to his name, either."

HORSE AND HORSE.

"I bunkered one of them smart confidence men up in Kay See, good and proper!" boasted Gabe Gosnell of Grudge, who was just back from the Big Burg. "Bought the Union station from him, by cracky!"

"Thunder!" ejaculated the acquaintance to whom the incident was being related. "What's the matter with you? You didn't bunker him; he bunkered you!"

"Not by a fightin' sight, he didn't! I gave him that 'ere stock I got stuck with last year for it!"

Which Have Characterized the Private and Public Record of

JOHN C. LUNING

Candidate for Renomination as State Treasurer in the Democratic Primary June 8, 1920.

However humble the office, or however important, John C. Luning has applied to them the principles set forth above.

In his home county, Lake, he served ten years as a County Commissioner. The people of his home city, Leesburg, chose him for their postmaster, their city treasurer, and twice for their Mayor.

Ask any of his home people if he ever betrayed their confidence or disappointed their hopes.

In 1912 he was appointed by Gov. Gilchrist Commissioner of Agriculture and a few weeks later State treasurer, to which he was elected by the people over two opponents the same year, and in 1916 was renominated by more than ten thousand majority.

In a recent letter to Mr. Luning, ex-Gov. Gilchrist says:

"I never hesitate to say that in my opinion you are one of the best men in the cabinet. With your knowledge of the state's business, honesty of purpose and capacity, it would be a calamity to the state for you to be beaten."

U. S. Senator Park Trammell says: "During the eight years of my daily and intimate association with you while I was Attorney General and Governor of Florida, I found you to be a man of the highest character, of exalted ideals and purposes, and a public official of ability of a marked degree, the most scrupulous honesty, and always faithful, capable and efficient in the performance of every public duty incumbent upon you. I have often remarked that no state has had a better official and that Florida was indeed fortunate to have such a man as you for one of the state's officials."

As, any man who has had business with John C. Luning, as a state official or state employe, if the suspicion of dishonor ever rested upon him, or if he ever sacrificed to any expediency the interests of the state and its people
