

The Chamber Of Commerce Drive

The almost unbelievable success of the Chamber of Commerce annual membership drive is a fine tribute to the officers and directors of that organization and a fitting testimonial to the progressive spirit of co-operation which exists among the people of this county. We say that the success of this drive was almost unbelievable in spite of the fact that the Chamber of Commerce is not in the habit of falling down on anything it undertakes, but because the goal was exceptionally high in the face of present conditions, and was, nevertheless, exceeded.

Seeking again a membership roll of eight hundred, making it the second largest Chamber of Commerce in Florida, the local organization set out to duplicate last year's achievement which then was hailed by the press of the state and the trade bodies of other cities as a most remarkable victory for a city of this size. From the very beginning of the three day campaign workers reported a splendid reception with few turn-downs. But not until the final returns had been announced last evening by the various teams was it thought that the drive could go over the top by more than forty memberships.

Of almost equal significance with the number of memberships actually received was the report that few complaints were voiced by the public against the activities of the Chamber of Commerce or its personnel. In previous years one of the outstanding characteristics of these annual campaigns has been the volubility of the knocks which were returned. Team workers felt rather as if they had been turned into something resembling grievance committees before the drives were over. This year there was a decided contrast in this respect. The public seems to appreciate, at least, that the Chamber of Commerce has been making very gallant efforts against most trying odds.

As the upward trend of national business continues, it will be easier during the next year or two for the Chamber of Commerce to do a great deal more for Seminole County than has been possible while the whole world suffered from a general economic depression. It is extremely fortunate that the organization has been kept intact during these trying times and is now prepared to function smoothly and efficiently to increase the benefits in our behalf with business generally on the upgrade.

So with renewed vigor and fresh confidence that it has the wholehearted support of the entire county, the Chamber of Commerce should look forward hopefully to the accomplishment of even greater things during the coming year.

National Debts

Some interesting figures have been compiled by the Miami Daily News which compare the national debt of the United States with those of France, Italy and Great Britain. Pointing out that the total individual and corporate income of the United States in 1928 was $89,000,000,000, the News says that when all recovery bills have been paid, the national debt will be approximately one-third the total income of the country for one year.

"The national debt of France," the News reveals, "is one and three-fifths times the total annual income of all France in the prosperous year of 1928. The national debt of Great Britain is one and nine-tenths times the total income of all Great Britain in 1928. The national debt of Italy is one and one-fourth times its total income in 1928 of all Italy.

"The national debt of the United States when the recovery program has been paid for, will be one-third the total national income in 1928. In proportion to national income the debt of Italy is four times as great as ours when the recovery program has been paid for. France's debt, in proportion to national income, is nearly five times ours; England's is more than five times ours.

"France's debt per capita is $376. England's is $696. Ours, when the recovery program bills are all in, will be $250. The per capita income of the Frenchmen who pay their $376 is more than twice that of the Englishmen who have $696 to pay. It looks as if America might survive its recovery debt.

"The total income of all America last year was in the neighborhood of $60,000,000,000. This is a shrinkage of $40,000,000,000 from the prosperity year of 1928. If the recovery measures can lead us soon to the income of prosperity times, the gain in income for one year will more than pay the debt incurred to produce that gain."

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Ty Cobb will not become a Federal League. This assurance came today from Royston, Ga. in a personal telegram from the champion batsman to the sporting editor of a Detroit paper. The telegram read: "I will play in Detroit. Am satisfied. Navin and I agreed on terms last Fall. Federal League offered me terms but my Detroit contract suits me. I will gain nothing by change."

It is estimated that $225,000 will easily cover the total loss by fire which swept a portion of the Atlantic Coast Line coast terminal shortly after 1:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Atlantic Coast Line terminal was destroyed by fire which started at 1:10 P. M. and the fire burned a large warehouse and the Atlantic Coast Line terminal.

HULL IS MET AT KEY WEST UPON RETURN TO U.S.

Caffery Joins Superior Office For Talks On New Policies In Cuba

HAVANA, Jan. 15.—(AP)—James Caffery, President Roosevelt's representative in Cuba, boarded a United States destroyer this morning to meet Secretary of State Cordell Hull now at sea on the cruiser Richmond. Caffery's transport is the destroyer Cole, which is expected to go directly to Key West to encounter the Richmond and Hull.

The Secretary is returning from the Canal Zone after a good-will tour of South America. Caffery intends to confer with Hull and return to Havana tonight.

Carlos Mendiesta gave Cuba proof today that he is determined to restore peace and order to the strife weary island.

After a day and night of riotous celebration of his inauguration as President, succeeding young Carlos Hevia, the new president called upon soldiers to make a general search of all automobiles for arms. The principal reason for this sudden move was that hoarding bands of oppositionists were reported as firing upon cars occupied by members of the ABC political society which had the city-wide celebration over Mendiesta's inauguration.

Wildly celebrating Carlos Mendiesta's assumption of the presidency, thousands of Cubans turned Havana into an impromptu carnival last night apparently forgetful that they faced the threat of a serious general strike.

The possibility of a general, waterless, railroad and newsless night did not dim the enthusiasm of the crowds who celebrated the elevation of the 60-year-old revolutionary, physician and statesman who entered the presidency upon the ratification of seven revolutionary factions and in succession to the hour-old regime of young Carlos Hevia.

Government leaders worked frantically throughout the afternoon and evening to prevent a general shutdown of commerce, trade and other activities.

Railroad men and linotype operators decided to join the employees of power companies in the strike, an there was a general move to swing others into line.

The confusion of the Mendiesta festivities made it difficult to check the activities of unions and almost all transportation was paralyzed by the crowds, which paraded happily through the streets.

Operators for the Royal Palm Amusement Company, which operated the carnival at the grounds at Lucerne Avenue and J Street, reported to have operated in the negro section of West Palm Beach and at South Bay.

One spectator told a Post reporter he had seen $180 lost by one man at a wheel during the evening. It was the last night of the carnival.

County CWA Make Official Reply To Questions Raised By Local Persons

(Continued From Page One) Court House as CWA or FER workers. This compilation indicates that eight are Methodists, eight are Presbyterians, six are Catholics, four are Episcopalians, four are Baptists, two attend the Church of God, and one attends each the Christian Science, Christian, and Congregational churches.

Q: Who selected all foremen now employed?
A: No one person, but all were approved by the Executive Committee and an 180 recommendation of the city and county engineer and the work committee.

Q: Is it necessary that all persons now employed, or to be employed in the future on CWA work, have been or must be approved by the CWA county council?
A: Yes. They must pass through the CWA office as well as that there is a record made of each person.

Q: If W. E. Williams, James Moughton, or Mrs. Helen T. Morse have no authority to employ or release a man or woman as a CWA employee, how much influence does their recommendation that a certain man or woman be given employment have?
A: They have authority to release workers under certain conditions. Being more directly charged with the work now going on in the city or county, their recommendations would have some weight, particularly the recommendations of Mrs. Morse, whose business consists of knowing the status of every man or woman in the city or county in the matter of whether they need relief or not.

Q: If a member of any local family has a son or father at a Civilian Conservation Corps Camp, is that family considered as "On relief" in Sanford, and is it therefore not eligible for further assistance, either in the matter of work, food, clothing, or medical attention?
A: The family is considered ineligible for relief, except in extraordinary circumstances.

Q: Is it true that a Mrs. Beard, said to be employed at the sewing room, is not eligible for such employment because her husband is now employed?
A: Mrs. Beard resigned of her own accord when Mr. Beard secured employment.

Q: Can a man or woman be employed under the CWA and yet conduct a business or be employed elsewhere outside of CWA work hours?
A: There are no restrictions whatever on what a person does outside of his or her assignment as a CWA worker.

Q: How did P. M. Venable and Fred Awald, local painters, get CWA jobs recently, and why is it that H. M. Rumbley, Noah Jacobs, C. M. Hand, and A. B. Foy, Wallace, whose names were not on relief rolls as of Nov. 16, have been employed as CWA foremen for some time?
A: They were employed through the usual channels.

Q: Why is a Mr. Thompson allowed to work as a CWA foreman when his son is also said to be driving a truck on a CWA project, and his wife is said to be employed at the canning factory?
A: The local CWA has no jurisdiction over the affairs of Mr. Thompson's family. If his son has a truck that is leased to the CWA at this time and he is now driving it, he is being so under full regulation.

Q: Is it true that Rev. E. D. Brownlee, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, is being paid $125 per month and mileage to serve as Seminole County director of the Federal Re-Employment office?
A: It is not true. Not a single member of the CWA or FER councils receives one cent in salary or for mileage or any other purpose.

Q: Why was Bobby Glenn, son of E. L. Glenn, employed on a CWA crew some time ago?
A: He was one of several members of a crew that was made up in the early days of CWA, before we had orders to employ only those

RESERVE BANKS SHOW NEW YEAR IS AHEAD OF LAST

Business Index Points To Higher Level Than January 1933

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Trade and industry were reported by the federal reserve board yesterday to have begun 1934 "at a considerably higher level of activity" than they started 1933.

Business indexes, the board said, "while still far below their average levels for the years 1922, 1924 and 1925, were materially above the low points of the depression."

Included in these indexes were industrial production, construction, factory employment, factory payrolls, freight carloadings and department store sales. March, 1933, was given as the lowest month of the depression for all these except industrial production, the low for which was July, 1932.

Looking back in 1933, the board's review said: "Income of wage earners in on actual relief. He was cut off with 11 others.

Q: Is it true that Ed Melach, son of the chairman of the board of county commissioners, is employed as a CWA foreman under an assumed name?
A: It is not true, nor has he ever been on the payroll, under his own or any name.

Q: Why is George Steele, son of County Commissioner Booth Steele, employed as a CWA worker?
A: Because he is qualified under Federal regulations.

Q: Is a man who is now receiving a government pension eligible for CWA employment as a census taker or on any similar OWA project?
A: It would depend upon the amount of the pension and the needs of his family.

Because of the necessity for making a check of files, it is not possible to release, in this issue, the answer to a few other questions which were asked this morning.

Mr. Chase indicated that while his organization is willing to answer any question of a reasonable nature, it is not disposed, nor has it the authority, to release information that is of a personal nature, either concerning the council or persons now on relief.

He stated that changes are made almost daily, as fast as corrections are shown as being necessary. New orders are received almost daily, he added, and it is almost impossible to give a definite statement of fact as to a certain CWA operation from one day to the next.

He indicated that the records of the CWA are on file at the Court House and that as public records, they are at the disposal of any person with a legitimate reason for examining these records.

BELL BREAD

the bread with

More Food Value!

It took a real baking achievement—a superior bread, in fact—to be better than our Kew-Bee bread. But we have developed such a bread—and given it a new name—Bell Bread. Now a loaf of Kew-Bee is being baked today. We're kept busy supplying the demand for Bell Bread!

Bell Bread not only tastes better, but it actually has more food value.

Nature created a wonderful vitamin—Vitamin B—which promotes bone growth in children, definitely promotes their growth, and helps them attain normal weight. We put a rich fare amount of this Vitamin B in our Bell Bread. Bell Bread is the only bread giving you this extra supply of Vitamin B.

Don't miss the point out the importance of Vitamin B in building strong bones and sound teeth. Bell Bread has 57% more of these vital minerals than ordinary bread.

In addition we put more milk and whole milk into Bell Bread. And, under a scientific parentage control, we bake Bell Bread to its full golden goodness, so every particle of it is ready for the baby to eat!

Bell Bread makes grand snags. Order a loaf from your grocer today! Enjoy it by yourself!

Is Your Child Underweight?

In a scientific test, 40 school children at Berkeley, California, gained remarkably when bread enriched with Vitamin B was included in their school lunch. Full report on request.

And Personal Activities

Mrs. Stewart Presides At Meeting Of P.T.A.

Mrs. W. H. Stewart presided over the regular meeting of the P.T.A. held yesterday afternoon at the school auditorium with about 50 members in attendance. During the meeting reports were heard from the standing committees.

Mrs. E. D. Brownlee, program chairman, announced that a "Fathers' Night" and "Founders' Day" meeting will be held on Feb. 15, after which Mrs. Pearl H. Babbitt stated that the state physician will be here next week to give inoculations free of charge to all school children. She urged all mothers to take advantage of this opportunity to have medical attention given their children.

Later in the afternoon Mrs. Babbitt announced that H. H. Pfler, president of the Florida Education Association, will give a talk to the teachers of Seminole County with all P.T.A. members invited. His talk will be based on Florida's League for Better Schools.

It was reported by the welfare committee that daily lunches are to be provided for 23 pupils of the school. Attendance prize for the day was awarded to Miss Maxine Young's room. A report on the January meeting of the Seminole County Council of P.T.A. was made by Mrs. H. J. Thurston.

At the conclusion of all business Mrs. Brownlee introduced Dr. Elizabeth Tracy who gave what was considered an excellent talk on "Atmosphere, or the Value of Intangibles."

Methodist Group Elects New Officers

Officers for the coming year were elected at a called business and social meeting of the Young People's Division of the First Methodist Church held last night at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the Rev. W. A. Cooper on Magnolia Avenue. Miss Ruth Hand and Miss Clifford Shinholser, new counselors, gave short talks on their plans and hopes for the organization this year.

The Rev. Cooper outlined and explained the new organization of young persons after which the following officers were elected: John Alden Brown, Jr., president; Randall Priest, vice-president; Edward Mitchell, secretary; and Miss Julia Belle McClelland, treasurer. Miss Katherine Tillis was appointed program chairman and Miss Ann Jones social chairman by the president.

Later during the meeting plans were discussed for publishing a church bulletin each week and plans were also made to entertain the Central Florida Union here on Feb. 9.

During the social period refreshments were served by Mrs. W. A. Cooper. Those present were: the Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Cooper, the Misses Ruth Hand, Clifford Shinholser, Kathleen Adams, Mary Went, Catherine Tillis, Julia Belle McClelland, Ann Jones, Edna professional-bouncer, by name, Red Branahan. It is he who offers the greater portion of the obstacles which appear to hazard Farrell's climb toward becoming a menacing strong man.

Mrs. Laney And Mrs. Cornell Entertain

Another of the series of "vanishing" parties for the benefit of the building fund of the Woman's Club was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. E. H. Laney and Mrs. R. L. Cornell at the home of the latter in Mayfair. A profusion of nautchisms, calandulas, flame vine, and roses was used to adorn the rooms where the guests were entertained.

After several progressions of bridge high score prize, a bowl of calandulas, was awarded to Mrs. C. E. Rawson while Mrs. Walter L. Morgan, who was lucky in cutting, was the recipient of a set of water glasses.

At the tea hour a salad course was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. H. J. Corbell. Those present were: Mrs. Arthur Branan, Mrs. H. H. Coleman, Mrs. B. D. Caswell, Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mrs. C. E. Rawson, Mrs. T. P. Wallace of Tampa, Mrs. J. Adrian Brown, Mrs. J. W. Worley, Mrs. R. H. Deas, Mrs. F. E. Stein, Mrs. James G. Sharon, Mrs. J. O. Laney, Mrs. Frank D. Scott, Mrs. Walter L. Morgan, Mrs. M. Rupert Strickland, Jr., Mrs. E. I. Hoy, Mrs. H. J. Cornell, Mrs. R. L. Cornell, and Mrs. E. H. Laney.

Personals

Friends of Mrs. Daisy M. Bagwell will regret to learn that she is ill at her home, 418 Magnolia Avenue.

Mrs. S. H. Hairston and S. H. Hairston, Jr. of Meridian, Miss., are the guests for a short time of the former's nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Smith, Park Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Burt of Jacksonville left today for St. Petersburg to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Judge and Mrs. Frank T. Hobson, after spending a week here as the guests of Mrs. J. E. Laing, Oak Avenue.

Mrs. Wiggins Honors Morning Bridge Club

Honoring the members of the Thursday Morning Contract Club, and a few other guests, Mrs. M. S. Wiggins entertained with a bridge party and luncheon yesterday morning at her home on Magnolia Avenue. Vases and bowls of red sweet peas, gladioli, red roses, and antigon accentuated a color scheme of red and white in the rooms where the guests were entertained.

After several progressions of bridge high score prize for the club members, Madeira naphkis was presented to Mrs. Walter S. Coleman while high score prize for the other guests, also Madeira naphkis, was given to Mrs. H. B. Lewis.

At the noon hour a buffet luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. A. Bartholdi Peterson and Mrs. Ralph B. Wight. Those present were: Mrs. C. H. Riley, Mrs. Ralph B. Wight, Mrs. Walter S. Coleman, Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mrs. E. F. Housholder, Mrs. S. R. Dighton, Mrs. A. Bartholdi Peterson, Mrs. H. B. Lewis, Mrs. John Eick, Mrs. Earle T. Loucks, Mrs. W. A. Leffer, and Mrs. Hal Wight.

WORLD DOES NOT NEED WAR CLAIMS WOMAN LEADER

Jane Addams, Peace Advocate, In Doubt Over New Conflicts

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—(AP)—There doesn't have to be a "next war," Miss Jane Addams, veteran peace leader, told members of the Chicago Woman's Club when the phrase crept into a query put to her on the international situation, recently.

"When it comes right up to the 'next war,'" she said, "I wonder if it will take place. There is not quite a new generation since the last war; many people remember the lessons of the last conflict too vividly to be willing to allow another. A peaceful solution for international problems may be found."

Excise nationalism is causing much of the world's trouble at the present moment, Miss Addams declared, but she quickly disagreed with a member of her audience who advanced the thought that, since nationalism appeared to be stifling trade, a return to individualism might be a solution. No, the peace advocate said, a return to old positions was not an answer; the way out was through.

"We want nations," she declared, "but we don't want selfish nations any more than we want selfish individuals. We are finding that when each nation looks to the advancement of its trade, at the expense of other nations ships of all countries are tied up in their harbors. The immediate effect of a selfish national policy may be stimulating, but it is the long-run effect that is important." For long-time prosperity, Miss Addams is convinced, it will be necessary for nations to co-operate in the economic field.

Another root of present problems, she thought, was that "regulation has not been applied to methods of distribution." She commended the trend which has in recent times led "one nation after another to study the utility of its government with relation to human needs." This kind of nationalism she thought all to the good.

GENE TALMADGE GIVES VIEWS ON CWA PROCEDURE

Deposed Georgia Relief Head Visions Entire State On Payrolls

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 19.—Gov. Eugene Talmadge, who recently criticized wages paid workers as being too high in this section, has said it would "be nice to put everybody in Georgia on the CWA payroll" at $3.20 per day.

"And that includes you newspaper boys, too," he told newspapermen who asked him his opinion of the effort of Georgia congressmen to have additional Georgians put on the CWA payroll.

The Georgia delegation has asked President Roosevelt to put 50,000 more Georgians on federal jobs, and Congressman Carl Vinson later suggested an additional 200,000 Georgians be given CWA jobs at the $3.20 minimum salary per day.

Governor Talmadge recently drew a sharp rebuff from Harry Hopkins, national CWA administrator, when Talmadge said the high wages of the CWA were taking labor away from Georgia farms and industries. Hopkins referred to Talmadge as a headline hunter.

Last week, Hopkins dismissed the CWA and relief boards of Georgia appointed by Talmadge and named Miss Gay Shepperson as state administrator. The governor would not comment on reports from Mason that Mrs. W. D. Lamar, a member of the dismissed CWA advisory board, criticized the action of four members of the board for "open rebellion" against orders from Washington authorities. She upheld Hopkins in the controversy. Reports around the capitol indicated that she would be reinstated.

In his address, considered one of the epicest of his recent career, H. Duce, admitted a lively interest in President Roosevelt's economic program.

"I am following the American experiment with close attention," he said to the black-shirted senators, among whom only a small band of ten represented the opposition. "We note that even in America direct state intervention has taken place in the national economic life."

"Sometimes it assumes a peremptory form. These collective codes are but contracts which the President obliges one and all to accept."

MUSSOLINI HAS INTERESTED EYE ON U. S. PROGRESS

Il Duce Speculates On Policy of Direct State Intervention

ROME, Jan. 19.—(AP)—After a speech by Premier Mussolini, in which he spoke of Americanism and Communism and called American industrial codes "only collective contracts imposed by the president," the Italian Senate Saturday evening overwhelmingly approved his revolutionary corporate law.

Il Duce criticized inflation as "a road leading to catastrophe" and declared the American Recovery program "interests me particularly because it involves the direct intervention of the state in the nation's economic life."

Under the corporative project, lawmaking, price-fixing and competition-regulating powers are to be given thirteen corporations or guilds, working through a national council and Premier Mussolini.

It now goes to the chamber of deputies and will be rushed through in time so the new system can begin functioning late this month.

Small Fortune Found in Negro Landlord's Safe

MIAMI, Jan. 19.—(AP)—W. D. Davis, negro landlord for about 150 families, had always been considered fairly well-to-do by white persons who knew him through business dealings, despite his protestations that taxes took all his money.

Davis died Monday. Probate officials and Davis' heirs, seeking a safety deposit box key, opened an old safe in the negro's residence yesterday. Out spilled $73,576.24 in currency and Liberty bonds.

It was reported that the shakeup occurred after 14 of 15 district purchasing agents nominated by Miss Shepperson had been disapproved by the CWA board. A question of patronage was said to have caused a split.

RKO Radio Pictures has secured what they believe to be an ideal comedy cast for "Aggie Appleby, Maker of Men," the big names including Charles Farrell, Wynne Gibson, Zasu Pitta, and William Gargan, playing at the Milane tonight.

This production marks the reappearance of Charles Farrell in humorous portrayal, his last work in this vein having been "Gone with the Wind" at the Mack Sennett studios when the star was first making his Hollywood bid for success.

Zasu Pitta, injects her wacky personality into the often violent drama, and scores heavily with the clever lines provided her. William Gargan, renowned as an exponent of stunts and combat, is cast as an amateur fighter and

TRAY EXPECTS GIANTS TO NAB 1934 FLAG RACE

Young Pilot Declares Cardinals, Pirates, Cubs Will Be Tough

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 19.—(AP) Bill Terry expects his New York Giants to meet a tough opposition this year from Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh, but he let it be known yesterday that he isn't afraid of any one of them.

Barring accidents or other unforeseen developments, Terry believes the Giants are headed for another National League pennant, and possibly, another world's championship.

"Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh look mighty strong to me," he said. "A contest with any one of the three should be a battle. However, I can see no reason why we should fear them.

"The Giants should be stronger than last year. Our reserves are stronger. The players are all young, and Critz and I, while no longer youngsters, will be in shape. We have tried 11 pitchers, and Clark will be in better condition than last year."

Terry said he planned to play first base regularly, but that he was satisfied that George Grantham will prove acceptable as a substitute.

Terry feels as hopeful for baseball as a whole as he does for his Giants.

10 OUTSTANDING BOXING EVENTS OF 1933 LISTED

Schmeling's Knockout By Baer Leads All Of Year's Features

By EDWARD J. NEIL

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(AP) The year 1934 still is so young that some of us have even been able to stick to our resolutions so far. Since it's only that old, there's still time for one more peek backward.

What, may I ask, were the 10 outstanding accomplishments in the world of boxing—supposing for the sake of evading arguments, that there still is a world of boxing?

I'll just answer that immediately to avoid delay. Here's a list.

1. Max Baer's 10-round knockout of Max Schmeling June 8.
2. Tommy Loughran's rejuvenation through defeat of King Levinsky, Steve Hamas, Jack Sharkey and Ray Impellitteri to the point where he is challenging Primo Carnera for the heavyweight title in Miami, Fla., Feb. 22.
3. Barney Ross' winning of the lightweight title from Tony Canzoneri, and his retaining it against Canzoneri over 15 rounds, two beautiful battles.
4. Jack Dempsey's success as a promoter of the Baer-Schmeling fight when men all about him were losing everything but their lives.
5. Primo Carnera's victory over Jack Sharkey for the heavyweight title.
6. Vince Dundee's defeat of Lou Brouillard for the middleweight title after twice losing to Teddy Yarosz, of Pittsburgh.
7. Jimmy McLarnin's knockout of Young Corbett for the welterweight title, though it stowed the division away in both balls for the remainder of the year.
8. The continual flowing along of Old Man River Rosenbloom, the light heavyweight titleholder, who trains on a dance floor, lives like the stories of traveling salesmen, and still wins all his title matches. Maxie would rate higher but for two unfortunate over-weight experiences with the negro fighter, John Henry Lewis, of Phoenix, Ariz.
9. The success of amateur boxing particularly inter-city tournaments such as the Golden Gloves in New York, Chicago and Cleveland.
10. Tommy Loughran knocking down Sharkey.

There could be no question of Baer's right to head the list. His knockout of Schmeling was the most spectacular boxing of the year. It made him overnight the most colorful, the biggest drawing card of a draw era. It wasn't his fault that promoters failed to take advantage of the situation by pulling out of the red.

Carnera's knockout of Sharkey would rate higher but for the fact that the suspicion steadily grew that the old mauler, in the best of bellow's weaknesses more than did Carnera's strength. The depths of Sharkey's unconsciousness during that 10 count will always be a question for argument. Before the summer was out, Levinsky also had felled him, and Tommy Loughran satisfied the yearning of years by dropping him with a right hand punch.

Loughran's comeback was unusual, but Dempsey's first major league venture as a promoter was

PRESS AROUSED BY JAIL FOR LIBEL BILL IN FRANCE

Chauteemps Plan To Silence Critics Would End Press Freedom

PARIS, Jan. 19.—A call to defend freedom of the press was sounded recently in numerous French newspapers, which charged that increasing press restrictions were embodied in censorship measures of Premier Camille Chauteemps, following upon the Stavisky affair and the $31,000,000 collapse of the Bayonne municipal pawnshop. The conservative "Le Temps" warned against using the scandal as an instrument in limiting freedom of the press, insisting the whole affair might have been hushed if newspapers had not exposed it.

Mme. Alexandre Sacha Stavisky, widow of the financial adventurer who died after fleeing the public through stations of pawnshop funds, said recently she doubted that her husband had committed suicide.

Originally she was convinced he had killed himself when police closed in on him at an Alpine resort last week, but now, she asserts, the undated letters he left, indicating suicide, might have been written weeks before. There were indications, she added, that he had been shot more than once. There have been rumors that the police killed Stavisky to prevent him from implicating high officials.

Mrs. Stavisky said her husband had no insurance.

Premier Chauteemps, who won a vote of confidence in Parliament after his cabinet had been threatened with overthrow as a consequence of the scandal, held long conferences with colleagues recently in an effort to push investigation of the affair. Eugene Raynaldy, Minister of Justice, announced the appointment of a committee of three high-ranking judges to investigate the case and ascertain whether Stavisky had profited by official laxity. Theodore Lescouve, president of the Court of Appeals, heads the committee.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—The Chauteemps Cabinet recently submitted to Parliament two bills drafted by the Ministry of Justice resulting from the Stavisky scandal. The first seeks to curb newspaper attacks by making libel punishable for one month to one year in prison. Cases of libel would be heard in a correctional court by a single judge, instead of by a jury in the Assize Court.

The other bill provides for sentences of one to five years in prison and fines of 1,000 to 10,000 francs (currently, about $63 to $663) for government employees guilty of selling their influence in obtaining decorations, jobs or contracts.

The tremendous significance of these bills, the old mauler argued, could help bring the customers in. In advance Baer scarcely rated consideration in the same ring with Schmeling. Yet the match drew as much as did the heavyweight title affair of Carnera and Sharkey.

Dempsey had an opportunity there to step firmly in and have boxing out of the ditch. Unfortunately he was in love, his patience slight. He let a tremendous opportunity to establish himself as Tex Rickard's successor flit away.

The White House of Health at Warm Springs

THE GIFT OF THE PEOPLE OF GEORGIA TO WARM SPRINGS

With its imposing white pillars reflecting the bright sunlight of a perfect day, Georgia Hall, one of the main units of the Warm Springs Foundation for Infirmitate Paralysis, reflects the cheerfulness always apparent at this great health-restoring center in Georgia. It is the invaluable assistance which the Foundation has rendered to President Roosevelt in his fight for health, a national committee of prominent leaders, headed by Colonel Henry L. Doherty, is staging on January 20, Mr. Roosevelt's fifty-second birthday, 6,000 Presidential birthday balls in honor of the Chief Executive and as a means of raising a permanent endowment fund for the Foundation to carry on and expand its work.

been started to office as a member of the City Commission, and Randall Chase was named to succeed Mr. Shinnholser.

"During the latter part of September of 1933, the FERA was supplying the needs of 1299 families in this city and county. Under authority from Washington, sent through Tallahassee heads of the FERA, this list was ordered reduced at once so that state funds would not be over expended.

"At our October 1, 1933 FERA meeting, we were instructed by the local council to reduce the list by as much as one-third, and by Nov. 1, we had only 850 families on the FERA rolls, and by Nov. 16 the rolls had been reduced to 745 families, primarily because many persons had found employment on farms and in other industries.

"On Nov. 20, 1933 we were requested to furnish the Tallahassee office with a report as to our relief load on Nov. 16, 1933. We had in the meantime agreed to function as a Civil Works Administration which at that time was being considered.

"The relief load as of Nov. 16, 1933 was 745 families. Our next advice came about Nov. 25, to the effect that our quota of families to be given employment under the CWA was 1080 families. However, before we had begun to increase our list of 745 families to 1080 families, we were advised that only 20 percent of the relief load as of Nov. 16 could be put to work under the CWA.

"However, on Nov. 27, the state CWA gave us permission to switch all of the 745 families over on the CWA payroll, and we began working out projects at once on that basis.

"On Dec. 10, Mr. Chase and Mr. DuBois made a special trip to Tallahassee to ask that our quota of 745 families be increased because we could not get enough skilled workers for special detail tasks unless we could take them from the Federal Re-Employment Office roll, and we had no authority to do that. At our request, our quota was raised to 800 families.

"We continued carrying out our projects on a basis of 800 families until Jan. 9 when we received an order to cut our list down to 766 families. A cut was ordered throughout the state, and we immediately reduced the list. Of this number, 719 families are on the CWA payroll, and 47 families are on the Civil Works Service Administration payroll.

"Since Nov. 27, a total of 59 projects have been approved for this county, and of that number, about 25 have either been completed, are in process of completion, or have been worked on. The principal project now being given attention is the work on city sewers, and the repair work being done at schools.

we cleaned out the entire list of families furnishing two CWA employees, except in one instance, where we had a man on special work for a few days. There were only three families effected by the order, incidentally.

"From Nov. 27 until about Dec. 15 we operated under the impression of a family on a projection that we could put more than 800 on about Dec. 15, we received word that two members of one family could not work on a CWA project, except where one was on the administrative personnel, and the other was on a work project.

"In order to have no conflict,

(Continued From Page One) as the local disbursing agent for the new FERA in this county. The work was immediately expanded, and work relief projects such as road building and ditching, and beautification, was entered into at once.

"Mrs. Shinnholser resigned as head of the FERA on Jan. 1, 1933 because of the fact that she had no authority to expel poisonous chinery that can expel poisonous gases, and are equipped with operating rooms, wells, and rest rooms so deeply dug the vibrations of shell fire can not reach them. It is said.

South of these fortifications on the French side of the Rhine concrete fortifications have been constructed at points considered most vulnerable.

A more perplexing problem is presented on the Belgian frontier. To date that line has been protected mainly by "flying fortresses," train loads of trench digging machines that can be moved so rapidly that in a week they are supposed to be able to dig a continuous system of trenches from the Saar basin territory to the North Sea.

To date she has concentrated most of her efforts on the center section, where she has spent $40,000,000 francs ($163,600,000 at par) for iron and steel fortifications.

During the last three years in the two regions of Metz and the Lauter River, which flows into the Rhine, workers have been forging the links of a 125-mile defense chain.

At some places great concrete structures have been built with a series of casemates—shell-proof vaults from which machine guns may be fired linked by underground passages. They are from six to 18 miles apart. At distances of about every half-mile are concrete shelters built to withstand heavy bombardment and to house machine guns.

The shelters are wired electrically for heating, lighting, and cooking, are ventilated by ma-
