STRIBLING IS MASTER IN FIGHT WITH M'TIGUE

Macon School Boy Decisively Beats Titleholder in Bout Last Night at Newark But His Eagerness to Put Over Knockout Cost Him the Title in the Tenth Round When He Missed Wildly After Having Battered His Opponent To All Parts of Ring.

By The Associated Press. COLUMBUS, Ga., April 1.—McTigue was offered $15,000 for a 15-round decision bout with Stribling in Columbus last night. In any other time, Major John Paul Jones, Jones declared Stribling's victory last night vindicated the popular belief that he should have received the title after the fight here last November.

NEWARK, N. J., April 1.—William L. "Young" Stribling, Georgian school boy, ringman, victory last night over Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, but his youthful eagerness cost him a golden chance to lift the coveted crown with his triumph. A record crowd of nearly 15,000 in the First Regiment armory saw the strapping Georgian youngster decisively outpoint his veteran rival from start to finish and have the champion on the verge of a knockout in the tenth round. But McTigue weathered the storm and snatched back the title laurels that Stribling had within his grasp. Under the New Jersey no-decision laws, a championship cannot change hands except by a knockout or foul and when McTigue was on his feet at the end of the twelfth and final round, his crown, though at a disjointed angle, remained on his head.

Won Every Round. Stribling, fighting the most sensational and determined battle of his meteoric career, won every one of the twelve rounds. In the opinion of a majority of newspaper men, with his slashing, whirlwind attack. The 19-year-old youngster made a gallant bid for world title laurels, but his over-anxiety at the crucial moment cost him the chance to gain that goal. The fierce attack in the tenth round almost beat McTigue into submission followed a whirlwind ninth round in which two sharp rights to the head jarred the champion to his heels and had him visibly groggy. Near the close of the tenth, Stribling suddenly lashed with his right as they were battling at close quarters. It landed flush on McTigue's forehead and he was wobbled partly through the ropes and to one knee. He was badly hurt, but rose before the referee had counted three and rushed into a clinch.

Desperately, Stribling swung with right and left, but the champion hung on, blocked most of the blows aimed at his head and backed ground while he tried to rally. Tried for Knockout. Stribling, sensing that he had the championship within reach, tried repeatedly to break through McTigue's guard, but the veteran's resourcefulness and shifty defense saved him from further damaging punishment until the bell. Throughout the closing two rounds, Stribling carried the attack in an effort to finish the titleholder but McTigue, having tasted of the youngster's heavy artillery, kept out of range, blocked the Georgian's rushes and stayed completely on the defensive.

Stribling, setting a dazzling pace, was the aggressor from the opening bell in a bout that was repeatedly marked by rough tactics, frequent clinching and holding. The rangy Southern youth convincingly demonstrated his superiority over McTigue, thus settling a dispute that has existed since the pair, in their first meeting, staged a riotous draw at Columbus, Ga., last October, but, at the same time he also demonstrated that he lacks, now, at least, a punch decisive enough to land him in the championship class. Stribling, whose victory was a distinct upset, set the "dope" that had established McTigue a 2 to 1 favorite in pre-battle wagering, outpointed the champion at the latter's own game. The youngster, speedy as foot and displaying a clever defense outboxed as well as outpointed his rival, to whom he conceded ten years in age and six years in fighting experience.

Throughout the first part of the fight, Stribling led in with a lightning left jab, pounded McTigue's head and ribs at close quarters and drove the champion about the ring under the fury of his attacks. But though the youngster steadily gained up points with his ever-aggressive onslaughts, he did not seem to damage the champion much. McTigue, dancing in and out of reach, blocking many attacks and clinching as the other threatened, proved a difficult target. Reached the Titleholder. Once in the third and again in the sixth round Stribling rocked McTigue with rights to the head. The champion's first real blow, a left cross checked one of Stribling's rushes in the sixth, and in the seventh the Irishman opened with a "brill" drive, but his attack was short-lived. Stribling who seemed to grow as the bout progressed, McTigue obviously grew weaker during the battling at the close of the last four rounds

Fight Results Round by Round

Preliminaries. NEWARK, N. J., Apr. 1.—Two Newark lightweights staged a lively battle in the opening preliminary of four rounds, Fred Needham gained the popular verdict over Harry Prahl, who took counts in the third and fourth rounds. Needham weighed 128 and Prahl 130. In the third preliminary, a six N. J. decisively outpointed Jack rounder, Joe Buron, of Paterson, Ritchie of Newark, according to the ring side verdict. Ritchie weighed 141 and Buron 143. In the third preliminary, Lew Chester, of Brooklyn, knocked out Happy Bankart of Newark, after only a minute and 14 seconds of the first round. A short right uppercut sent Bankart down for the final count. Chester weighed 164 and his opponent 161 1/2.

Berlenbach Keyes Krohn. NEWARK, Apr. 1.—Paul Berlenbach, New York middleweight sensation, whose streak was stopped recently by Jack Delaney, staged a comeback when he knocked out Harry Krohn of Akron, O., in the fourth round of a 10-round pitch, semi-final to the Stribling-McTigue title contest. Berlenbach weighed 165 and Krohn 171.

First Round: They are called to the center of the ring for instructions.

Stribling led twice with his left but missed. He landed two lefts to the head at close quarters and McTigue shot over his right. Stribling shot in a right to the jaw and McTigue was wild in a counter attack. The youngster lunged with his left, landing lightly, but McTigue came back with a right to the ribs. The youngster took a hard right to the head as one of his lungs was blocked. They were sparring at long range at the bell.

Round two: McTigue landed a right and left to the body and they clinched the youngster drove in a left to the stomach and followed with a battery of lefts to the jaw that drove the champion to the ropes. Stribling blocked a right to the head and they both protested to the referee after a clinch, each claiming the other was hitting unfairly. Stribling landed a left to the jaw and they battled furiously in close range. McTigue clipped Stribling on the head with right but took several stiff lefts to the body and head. The bell rang as they were sparring.

Round three: Stribling rushed McTigue but missed, the champion landing his right. Stribling snapped McTigue's head back with a left and easily dodged the champion's counter as they came to grips the youngster pouncing McTigue's head. McTigue took the aggressive but was set back with a stiff right to the head that put the crowd in an uproar. The champion was missing repeatedly as they came to close quarters. They were in a clinch at the bell.

Round four: Stribling stung McTigue with a left jab and pounded the champion fiercely as they came to close quarters. McTigue gave ground freely under the Georgian's slashing attack but did not seem badly hurt. Stribling missed a right swing, and took a left hook to the ribs. McTigue took two lefts to the head and failed to land a counter-blow. Stribling forced the champion to the ropes with a wild rush, landing his left several times. McTigue was jabbing the youngster back when the gong rang.

Round five: They sparred at long range and the champion blocked two of his rival's rushes. They clinched repeatedly amidst the boos of the crowd. McTigue landed a light right and they clinched again. The challenger easily ducked a right and dug his left into the champion's ribs and chin. They were in a clinch at the end of the round.

Round six: Stribling rushed in and landed his left to the jaw. They wrestled in a clinch and the Georgian pounded the back of McTigue's head. Stribling landed a hard right hook to the champion's head. McTigue showed little aggressiveness and seemed content but his best was just short of the heights he sought.

10,000 Turned Away. While a capacity crowd, which paid $2,500 to witness the match, packed the big drill hall, police estimated that more than 10,000 more were turned away amid scenes that at times threatened a riot. A section of the mob that got beyond control tore down a door and grating to a window in its efforts to gain entrance. Inside the smoke-filled arena the crowd was whipped to a high pitch of excitement by Stribling's battle for victory. Not the least of the Georgian's supporters were "Pa" and "Ma" and "Hal" Stribling, in the corner of the Georgian and "Ma" Stribling, fashionably attired and seated at the ring side, within a few feet of her son.

"Referee Lewis saved McTigue from a knockout by separating the fighters in that tenth round," was "Ma's" crisp comment after the fight. "William L. would be the champion but for that." "Pa" declared his son's triumph proved conclusively that he was entitled to the verdict in the previous match in Georgia, while "Faddy" Mullins, manager of the champion, admitting defeat, asserted McTigue "had no excuses to offer."

Large Crowd Local Fans Hear Returns From Ring Battle

Has Sanford some real dyed-in-the-wool boxing fans?

Well it certainly has. Last night approximately 100,000 fans gathered in front of The Herald office to hear the returns from the McTigue - Stribling fight. Despite the threatening weather, supporters of the ring sport assembled to the invitation of this paper to hear all about the match that had been the talk of the east and south since the match was assured.

Not only were there many fans out to hear the returns but there were others, who though not able to be here, evidenced their interest in the scrap by keeping the telephone in this office ringing almost constantly asking for information on the bout.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the first message announcing the results of the preliminaries was received and at 10:15 o'clock the bulletin on the McTigue-Stribling bout reached The Herald office.

Judging by the applause that was given when it was apparent that Stribling was having the best of the affair, the Georgian schoolboy was easily the favorite among local fans. When it was announced that the challenger had knocked the titleholder down in the 10th round, the crowd roared with yell and applause, indicating the Georgian's popularity.

Despite the frequent reports said to have come over radio that the fight had ended in the third and fifth rounds with a knockout by Stribling, the spectators remained in front of the newspaper office to learn the exact details and get the authentic dope on the big mill.

Through the splendid co-operation of Manager Scott, of the local office of the Western Union, the reports were received and sent to this office with a rapidity that was pleasing.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETING. The regular meeting of the American Legion will be held tomorrow (Wednesday) night Apr. 2, at the Legion Club House.

his seeming over anxiety to land a KO. McTigue jabbed lightly with his left to the jaw. The champion forced frequent clinches and stayed on the defensive. The bell rang as they were broken apart.

Round twelve: Stribling drove the champion to the ropes and landed with his right in the clinch. McTigue blocked another right and boxed cautiously. The Georgian was short with his left and missed a left swing to the head. McTigue danced out of reach of another wild right. The Georgian tried hard to land but the champion's shiftness kept him out of the reach of most of the youngster's lunges. The crowd shouted for Stribling to score a KO.

Stribling wins newspaper decision.

FORD FORESAW FUTURE OF AUTO IN EARLY DAYS

All Former Records Are Smashed When 2,000 Cars Were Shipped From Factory In Three Months.

How clearly Henry Ford saw the future of the automobile and how well he prophesied it, is shown in an article written by him in February, 1919, and published in a Detroit newspaper.

In 1909, as the article states, 2,000,000 horse-drawn vehicles were sold as against 30,000 automobiles. How he prophesied reversal came appears in figure for last year which show the sale of approximately 4,000,000 motor cars during 1923 as compared with 100,000 horse-drawn vehicles.

The automobile of the past attained success in spite of its price, because there were more than enough purchasers to be found to take the limited output of the new industry. Proportionately few could buy, but those few could keep all the manufacturers busy, and prices therefore had no bearing on sales.

The automobile of the present is making good because the price has been reduced just enough to add sufficient new purchasers to take care of the increased output. Supply and demand, not cost, has regulated the selling price of automobiles. The car of today is better by far than the car of a few years ago—the natural result of experience. The price is lower just enough lower to add sufficient purchasers to buy the increased output.

The automobile of the future must be enough better than the present car to begot confidence in the man of limited means and enough lower in price to insure sales for the enormously increased output. The car of the future must be the car for the people, the car that any man can own, who can afford a horse and carriage and mark my words, that car is coming sooner than most people expect.

President Coolidge conferred with Senator Pepper, Republican, Pennsylvania, and others on the question of a successor to Harry M. Daugherty as attorney general.

After two hours debate, in which the Republican organization rallied to his support, the senate laid aside the resolution to investigate Secretary Mellon.

Failure of subpoena servers to locate William Boyce Thompson, former chairman of the Republican national committee's finance committee, was reported to the senate oil committee.

STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX TOURING CAR

Mark This Example of what Studebaker alone can do

STUDEBAKER is the world's largest maker of quality cars. Our assets are $90,000,000. We have $50,000,000 in model plants. Our sales have almost tripled in three years, because of our matchless values. Last year, 145,167 people paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

Come and learn why

Come and see, before you buy a car, the reasons for this success. See this Light-Six Touring Car, for instance.

Built of the finest steels. Of the very same steels we use in the costliest of our cars. On some we pay makers 15% premium to get just the quality specified.

Built under an engineering department which costs us $500,000 yearly.

Each car subjected in the building to 32,000 separate inspections. Same steels, same workmanship as in the costliest Studebaker models.

Two great features

There are many features in this Light-Six found in no rival car. But we want to mention two in particular.

The motor is perfectly balanced. That means long life and freedom from vibration.

The reason is this: We machine all surfaces of our crankshafts and connecting rods by 61 operations. Just as was done in Liberty Airplane Motors. This is done in no other car at our price. Then we use more Timken bearings in this car than are used in any competitive car within $1,500 of our price. And Timken bearings take up wear as no other bearings do.

Why this price?

This Light-Six Touring Car is priced at $1,045. Built under ordinary conditions such a car would cost you from $200 to $400 more.

But we build 150,000 cars per year. We make our own parts. We build our own bodies in $10,000,000 body plants. We have 12,500 up-to-date machines. Our major costs are divided by enormous output.

The result is a value no other maker even tries to match in a fine car of this size. Come see what it means to you.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

RULES FOR RIGHT LIVING:
He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? Micah 6:8.

THE RECKONING

It's time to have a blow-out in a fancy restaurant.
With terrapin and canvas-back and all the wine you want;
To enjoy the flowers and music, watch the pretty women pass,
Smoke a choice cigar, and sip the wealthy water in your glass;
Bully in a high-toned joint to eat and drink your fill,
But it's quite another matter when you come to pay the bill!

It's great to go out at night on fun and pleasure bent,
To wear your glad rags always, and to never have a cent,
To drift along regardless, have a good time every trip,
Hit the high spots sometimes, and to let the chances slip,
To know you're acting foolish, yet go on fooling still,
Till nature calls the show-down, and you pay the bill!

Time has got a little bill! Get wise while yet you may,
For the debit-side's increasing in a most alarming way;
The things you had no right to do - the things you should have done -
They're all put down, it's up to you to pay for every one,
So eat, drink and be merry! Have a good time if you will,
But God help you when the time comes, and you pay the bill!
-Robert W. Service.

They are inclined to believe that de la Huerta is fleeing from Mexico. Hope he isn't coming this way.

It will be impossible to nominate a dark horse this year as everyone has already been suggested as a presidential possibility.

Congress may not think much of Mr. Mellon's tax reduction plan, but that move to force his resignation from the cabinet did not vary far.

During 1922 there were 38,100 commercial failures in the United States. So you see how much better off we are here in Sanford than in other parts of the country.

An experiment is being made to see if thoughts can be transmitted without mechanical assistance from Cambridge, Mass., to Paris, France. If successful they will later be directed from all parts of the country to Washington, D. C.

As prophesies some of the candidates for county offices, are fine hot carriers. Practically everyone of them predicted their own election at the political meeting last Friday, and since only one man can secure each office, then somebody must be wrong.

According to one of the candidates for a county office, there are four types of man, vegetative, muscular, emotional and intellectual, all of which are represented in the four candidates for the office of county judge. Variety, someone has said, is the spice of life.

McTigue is said to be an Irishman, but no real Irishman will ever get a look at a person and tell you he is a Jew or a Negro. He is a Jew or a Negro and you belong to a different race than he.

It's got to be the place now that you want to kill a person and you don't want to be in the insane asylum for only a few years, that you belong to a different race than he. It's got to be the place now that you want to kill a person and you don't want to be in the insane asylum for only a few years, that you belong to a different race than he.

Mr. Ford tried bridges and plates and crowns and pivots, but none of these devices proved comfortable. Either he didn't fit his artificial teeth or they didn't fit him.

So he practically gave up and went to the dentist. The dentist, after a long time, told Mr. Ford that the best way to make a man at Tallahassee stand for law enforcement is to take the right kind of a head that you belong to.

About Mr. Combs.

On the front page of this issue there appears an announcement signed by P. Reese Combs stating that he has disposed of his stock in The Sanford Herald and has severed all connections with this paper. In this announcement Mr. Combs explains that increased duties in connection with his camp in North Carolina make it imperative that he take this step.

It is with a feeling of deep regret that we are publishing this notice. It is regretted that Mr. Combs finds it necessary to devote his entire time to his other interests, causing him to give up his labors with The Herald where his association with us has ever been pleasant and harmonious. His decision to leave Sanford will be felt keenly not only in The Herald office where his thorough knowledge of the newspaper game made him a reliable and dependable person in every department, but also among his many business and social friends who have grown to love the fineness of his excellent character.

One of the purchasers of this newspaper from R. J. Holly and H. A. Neal in November of last year, Mr. Combs has played an important part in the conduct of Sanford's newspaper. He entered into the work of bringing The Herald to its present status with a vim and boundless energy that made him greatly admired by all who knew him. His hard work and abilities will be greatly missed in the future.

Mr. Combs is owner and director of the Chimney Rock Camp for boys, located in North Carolina. Establishing his camp with a few small tents and a handful of boys, he has by his clever ideas and persistency succeeded in building up one of the finest and greatest institutions of this kind in the south, enjoying a reputation of being a most desirable place to which fond parents may safely send their boys.

While working with The Herald he found it necessary to neglect this more profitable business. While putting in long hours for the paper he saw his camp affairs go unattended to. He realized this could not continue for a great length of time without disastrous results. So about three weeks ago he left Sanford to see if it would not be possible for him to work out some scheme which would enable him to continue his labors with this newspaper and also to look after his camp business.

After spending much time on the proposition he has come to the decision that the best thing for him to do is to devote his entire time and energies to his Chimney Rock Camp and to sell his interests in The Herald. He feels in taking this step that he does so to protect his heavy financial investment in North Carolina as well as to be able to give his big institution the personal direction it must have.

Mr. Combs is a born leader of boys. His talents along these lines are greater than the average leader of young life. His life constructed upon a foundation of spotless character has made him known throughout the entire south as being ideally qualified for work of this kind having to do with the training and development of boys.

In purchasing the stock from Mr. Combs we do so with great faith in the future of Sanford and Seminole county. We can see bright days ahead when a great city will rise where Sanford now stands. In making this additional investment in this city it is in the belief that Sanford is destined to be one of the greatest cities in the state.

There will be no change in the policy of The Herald. It will continue giving its readers all the news all the time regardless of the likes or dislikes of any individuals. It will continue to be Sanford's champion looking after the interests of the public and telling the world about the opportunities to be found here.

Register and Pay Your Poll Tax.

The person interested in seeing good men put in political office should see to it that he is qualified to vote. Good citizens do not fail to have their names on the registration books, to pay their poll tax and then on election day to cast their ballots. And good citizens don't wait until the day before the books close to register.

To be eligible to vote in the primary on June 3, when county and state candidates are nominated, it is necessary to be registered. The books will remain open until May 1 and the person who desires to register can do so by calling at the office of H. C. DuBose on Park Avenue between nine and twelve o'clock in the morning and two and five o'clock in the afternoon any day except Sunday. Any person over twenty-one years of age, who shall have lived in the state one year, or in the county six months between the date of the closing of the registration books and the holding of the general primary election may register. In Seminole county it is not necessary for people who voted here in the last election to re-register. Only new voters must do so.

After registering the next step is to see that your poll tax is paid. To vote it will be necessary to hold the receipts covering the 1922 and 1923 poll taxes. Simply registering does not qualify a voter. He must pay his poll tax of one dollar per year.

Supervisor of Registration DuBose states that if everyone in the county who is entitled to do so registers there will be about three thousand five hundred voters in the primary from this county. Up to the present time only about two thousand three hundred have done so.

If you haven't enough interest in your state and county to register, pay your poll tax and participate in the June primary and November election, it will be poor policy for you to criticize any of the actions of those officials who are put in office. If you fail to do your duty in electing real men to office, keep your mouth shut when conditions are not what you would like them to be. You won't be able to blame anyone else for your own failure to have a part in this important work.

THEIR HEADS sometimes so little, that there is no more room for wit; sometimes so long, that there is no wit for so much room.—Thomas Fuller.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

Slimson Ford, the famous New York wag, used to be nationally known as an after-dinner speaker. But a specialist recommended that he have most of his teeth drawn. To Mr. Ford the teeth had been giving satisfaction for a long, long time and they were reasonably sound, but the physician argued that they were responsible for certain ailments, and the patient balked at him and went to the dentist. Then a difficulty ensued.

Mr. Ford tried bridges and plates and crowns and pivots, but none of these devices proved comfortable. Either he didn't fit his artificial teeth or they didn't fit him. So he practically gave up and went to the dentist. The dentist, after a long time, told Mr. Ford that the best way to make a man at Tallahassee stand for law enforcement is to take the right kind of a head that you belong to.

But a few months ago he consented to attend a function given in honor of a close friend and set the head table with the other notable guests. Toward the shank of the evening the toastmaster called upon Mr. Ford for a few words.

The Lanky Slimson got slowly up on his feet.

"Some of you know why I have given up speaking," he said. "I don't talk in public any more. But I have not altogether wasted the time I have lately spent in a state of semi-retirement from the gay life of this great city. I have been composing a suitable epitaph for my own use. When I pass on I desire that these words may be inscribed upon my tombstone:

As Brisbane Sees It

Money Conscribed, Not Yet. One Dead, Five Prisoners. When Is It War? Clerk's Man Leaves a Million. Copyright, 1924

MR. BARUCH says that, in the next war, money as well as men must be conscripted. When young men are marched away to be shot or gassed, the money of rich men must be taken away to be spent for their war and not returned to the owners.

That has been suggested very often between wars, but it does not mean anything. It will not mean anything while money remains, as it is the greatest force in government.

YOU MAY write this down on your tablets of prophecy. If there were any real possibility of Capital being conscripted, along with men, for government use in the next war, that war would be postponed indefinitely.

The real bosses would see to that. The war in which little fellows lose their lives, at $20 a month, and big fellows double their profits, is the war that will last.

INTELLIGENCE RULES. Modern intelligence, 90 per cent of it, is devoted to accumulating money. Where money is, intelligence and power are also.

When war comes, little men will be conscripted, and smashed away while Capital assures them that they are heroes and nothing is too good for them. The Capital will proceed to make as much as possible out of the war, and the government will beg the bourgeois to buy bonds at good interest. That's our war system, and it will last as long as the rest of the system—a good many years.

A FOREIGNER in New York, by accident of wit with wicked intent, used a worthless foreign coin instead of an honest American nickel, to pass through the turnstile that opens the way to the subway jam.

Justice seized him, dragged him to court, the judge delivered a solemn lecture on the shortcomings of foreigners and the beauty of honesty, that would have done your heart good.

IT IS all wound up with the earnest suggestion that the judicial foreigner be deported. The judicial lecture in made more impressive by the fact that subway management has stolen streets from the public and tens of millions from its confiding stockholders, with never a judge interfering.

But then the street car judges are noble Americans, not base born foreigners trying to steal a ride from a corporation.

"WHEN IS a man or a woman an old man? How would you answer it? Gray hair, wrinkles, stooping shoulders, slow steps, feeble and dim eyes do not make old age.

You are old, in the unpleasant sense of the word, whenever you see a man automatically reject a new idea with "I don't believe it."

You are old when the happiness of others no longer gives you pleasure; when life looks gray; when you lose confidence in human nature and in humanity's progress.

CONCRETE IS old when its hard and set" and it's the same with the brain of man or woman. There are men and women of eighty much younger in reality than many of twenty-eight. There are women at eighty, younger mentally than they were at eighteen.

Intelligence and kindliness increase and old age goes further back.

REV. DR. D. S. DODGE died, and his fortune, $1,136,819, goes to his relatives, except two public bequests totaling $30,000. This makes the ignorant wonder whether the dead man took seriously the text about taking all you have and giving it to the poor.

Did Mr. Dodge conclude that that was not said seriously, or that it was only temporary advice?

THERE WAS no problem involved at all. The human mind adjusts itself admirably to conditions, theories and religious teachings.

Nine hundred and ninety-nine out of 1,000 can say, "That's an excellent canon," quite undisturbed by the fact that thousands are starving not far from that canon.

That's part of the kindness of Providence. Were it otherwise, life would be impossible and progress would stop, for it is built on the achievements of intense selfishness.

DISCOVERY OF fossilized human skeletons near Los Angeles prove that natives wandered around there 25,000 years ago. This explains the high civilization achieved by ancient American races, their great temples, etc. They had time to develop all that gradually.

IT WILL be shown that men's existence and development on the earth are much more ancient than has been supposed. To suggest that the stone age existed anywhere 12,000 years ago and that all progress beyond the stone age was achieved in 12,000 years is preposterous.

IN THE SPRING A YOUNG MAN'S FANCY

SINCLAIR DEFIANT

MIAMI NEWS METROPOLIS

The defiant attitude of Harry F. Sinclair, the multi-millionaire oil magnate as regards the senate committee investigating the oil scandal, has resulted in his facing a federal grand jury on contempt charges. If an indictment is forthcoming speedily the matter will get into the courts, Sinclair will be released on habeas corpus proceedings and then will follow a long drawn out struggle to determine the authority of the senate committee to command testimony. It is quite within the realm of reason to suppose that Sinclair's action will afford a precedent for anyone else who may be summoned before the country. There will be no law and order in the matter until a decision is made by the Supreme Court for a decision and admittedly this will consume weeks, if not months and perhaps a year. The refusal of the oil magnate to testify has presented a federal grand jury on contempt charges. The refusal of the oil magnate to testify has presented a federal grand jury on contempt charges. If an indictment is forthcoming speedily the matter will get into the courts, Sinclair will be released on habeas corpus proceedings and then will follow a long drawn out struggle to determine the authority of the senate committee to command testimony. It is quite within the realm of reason to suppose that Sinclair's action will afford a precedent for anyone else who may be summoned before the country. There will be no law and order in the matter until a decision is made by the Supreme Court for a decision and admittedly this will consume weeks, if not months and perhaps a year. Like Rubbing Aladdin's Lamp— 70,000 Farmers Are Serving You!

IT IS often very difficult for one to realize the importance of mere figures. Therefore, imagine a town of 70,000 people—Portland, Me.—for instance.

Then imagine a herd of 1,000,000 cows—filling to capacity a city the size of Boston.

On top of that, imagine these 70,000 farmers and these million cows, together with over 160 plants all working for you.

HERE imagination stops! It now becomes a fact. These figures give you an idea of the famous Dairy-men's League Co-operative Association—the farmer organization that sends their DAIRYLEA Brand Evaporated Milk direct from their farms to you.

Because this immense business is owned and operated by farmers themselves, your DAIRYLEA will always remain these 70,000 farmers' own product, from cows they themselves own.

These farmers want you to have a richer—a creamier evaporated milk, with a flavor like cream. That is why DAIRYLEA contains more nutritious milk fats and solids.

DAIRYLEA Evaporated Milk is the concentrated wholesomeness of the purest fresh bottle milk, and is produced in New York State where milk laws are most stringent. It is exactly the same milk which U. S. Senator Copeland, when Health Commissioner of New York City, called "the best in the world."

DAIRYLEA is now sold by all Grocers!

PINEHURST, N. C., April 2.—Walter Hagen, Westchester Biltmore, Tuesday won the North and South open golf championship, finishing the 72 holes with a score of 283.

Hagen was two strokes ahead of Cyril Walker, Englewood, N. J., who finished with 285, while McDonald Smith, of San Francisco, who gave indications soon after the start of the final round of giving the veteran Hagen a strong contest, finishing with a score of 286.

Alpha Tau Omega Wins Second Game Fraternity Meet

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, GAINESVILLE, Apr. 2.—The Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at the University of Florida today won the "April Fool's" day in a great fashion here Tuesday afternoon when they jumped on Pledge Homer in the 10th inning of their championship game with the Kappa Sigma entry, routing three safeties with a base on ball, a hit batsman, and an error for three tallies, ending them a brilliant 3 to 0 victory in the hotly contested 1924 interfraternity baseball series. The losers took second place in the series, with the Geta Pi entry, positioners of Phi Delta Theta grabbing off third place honors, losing in the semi-finals 3 to 2 to the winners in Tuesday's thriller.

Ray Brockman, West Palm Beach lad, who has done considerable batting with the Gator variety, triumphed that afternoon, the eloquent boxer turning his opponents down with but a brace of safe blows. His fielding of six hard chances was also one of the contest's bright lights.

The Kappa Sigma machine in three former games had won by shut-out scores of 10 to 0 and 12 to 0. They were heralded as strong, with the all-state high school battery of Smith and Busbee slated to handle the slants in the firing line.

Four frames, both clubs rocked along on a neck and neck basis, each faction garnering a couple of runs.

With one out in the fifth, Graham was caved in the slats. Overstreet fanned, but Brockman received a base on balls. Pete Harris responded with a crashing single to center, according to Graham. Brockman called on Hank Ryan's one-base clout, Harris crossing the rubber when the throw from center field to the plate went over the catcher's head.

Outside of the fifth, Smith was in meltdowns, turning in a card of eleven strikeouts. Brockman batted seven. The game was a top notcher and a huge gallery viewed the clash. A. T. O., 3 runs, 6 hits, 2 errors. Kappa Sigma, no runs, 3 hits, 1 error. Umpires White and Rogers.

An hour later the hardest battle of the day resulted from the clash of Superior, Wisconsin and Madison, S. D., the South Dakota team finally winning, 25 to 21. Jack Dempsey Is Making Plans For His Screen Debut

LOS ANGELES, Apr. 2.—Champion Jack Dempsey Tuesday was preparing for a busy season regarding whether he fights. He has started to move headquarters and training camp to "lot" at Universal City, following announcement that he had signed a contract boxing for $1,000,000 salary for 10 motion pictures to be completed within two years.

Many rumors of possible matches were put to rest after a conference at Tia Juana Tuesday between Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns, and James Coffroth, race promoter. Kearns said he believed it impossible Dempsey will fight at Tia Juana as Coffroth does not want to stage a fight there until November or December. "Dempsey," added Kearns, "will fight in September, if we have to promote the bout ourselves."

Kearns yesterday accused Tex Rickard, promoter of "stalling" Dempsey and refusing to let him fight in New York.

AT THE MILANE
Movie lovers at Stadium will learn with pleasure that the Milane Theater has booked for Apr. 7-8 "The Wonderful Film" masterpiece "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" adapted from that famous classic written by Victor Hugo.

The fame of the Victor Hugo classic in its celluloid form has been so generally known that it is hardly necessary to dwell upon its greatness. During the first six months following its premiere at the Astor Theater in New York City it was shown only in the largest legitimate theaters of the United States. It established a record at the Astor by running for more than six months to capacity crowds.

Lon Chaney heads the notable cast of 3001 players which includes such brilliant artists as Fatsy Ruth Miller, Ernest Torrence, Brandon Hurst, Tully Marshall, Nigel de Brielle and Winnifred Bryson. The majority of the 75 principals are as well known on the stage as they are on the screen. The production in its film form has been endorsed by the clergy of all denominations.

The senate Daugherty committee decided to continue its inquiry despite My. Daugherty's retirement from the cabinet.

PRIMARY STORIES

The Smallest Child
South Side.
There was a king who lived on top of a mountain. The people said it looks as if the king's castle was in the blue sky.
One day the king's herald came down the mountain side blowing his bugle and said the king wished all the children to visit his castle. The children said, "We must each bring the king a gift." Each child wondered what would be the best.
One child brought fruit and started for the castle, as he was climbing the mountain side his fruit began to spill out of the basket and he said, "It seems as if I would never reach the mountain side." Now the smallest child of them all saw the fruit falling and he said, "I will pick up the fruit, because I love the king and he likes fruit." Another child came with some flowers, and as the sun kept growing hotter and hotter the flowers began to wilt and the child began to cry he felt so sad but the smallest child dried the tears of the child who carried the flowers and said, "I will carry them quickly because the king loves flowers and I love the king."

Soon the smallest child was left on the hillside alone and there was just a minute left before the palace gates should be closed. The child thought a minute and stooped down on the mountain side and gathered a handful of blue heather.

Now all the children stood with their gifts before the king. The king took all the baskets, for he was glad and happy and loved all the children. But when the smallest child of all brought his basket to the king, though it was light with a handful of blossoms, the king gathered the boy in his arms and kissed him. Then he said, "This little one's basket is the dearest and the best. It is weighted down with the help he gave to others and with the love he has for the king he kept the smallest child of all to live with him in the castle."
