

Pruitt Was A Painter

By MAX BIKELAYIAN
 Herald Staff Writer

There was the night he and John F. Kennedy met in the Oval Office. There was the call made at the residence of Lyndon Baines Johnson that stirred him at 4 a.m. to come to the White House. There are the memories of Roland Pruitt, 58 Pine Woody Drive, Sanford, of his career in Washington. He was never elected to high public office, yet Pruitt worked in some of the most important places in the nation's capital. Pruitt was never privy to classified information, yet he held a special government clearance that granted him access to the seat of national power. Pruitt was a painter. He worked 25 years for one of the largest painting contractors in the nation's capital and handled jobs that included painting the White House. That took 25 men, 1,000 gallons of paint, and three months to complete, according to Pruitt. The first time Pruitt and his crew painted the White House was in late 1959 in preparation for the Kennedy Administration.

"The White House is painted every four years, just before a new president comes in or before the beginning of a president's second term," said Pruitt. About three years after his first work assignment at the White House, Pruitt and a crew of painters were giving the Oval Office a fresh coat of paint in anticipation of a state visit. "We started on a Friday and (Richard's) Hallie's Salame was due in on the following Tuesday. We had to work straight through the weekend and we finished on Sunday," recalled Pruitt. It was on that job that Pruitt saw President Kennedy walking from the mansion through the garden. "Most presidents work late, I don't know why," commented Pruitt. "I was working on this door that led to the Rose Garden and I could see President Kennedy walking from the mansion through the garden. "He looked immaculate in his tan suit and dark tie. He must have forgotten we were working there, because he came up to the Oval Office and the only thing separating me and him was that door. He looked at me and smiled and waved." November 22, 1963 Pruitt was painting a bank in downtown Washington. See SANFORDITE, Page 2A

Cheshire: Changes Coming In County Election Processes

By DENNIS FIDOLA
 Herald Staff Writer

State Attorney Douglas Cheshire said Saturday changes are needed in the election process in Seminole County. Cheshire was commenting on a report issued by the Seminole County Grand Jury following three days of investigating voting machine malfunctions during the Sept. 12 primary. "I think I can guarantee you will see some changes in the election process in Seminole County," he said. "If not, the public will be screaming for some heads." The grand jury ended its Friday at 10:15 p.m. Friday by ordering the report to Circuit Court Judge Robert McGregor. There were no indictments. McGregor ordered the report made for 15 days to give those named in the report time to answer allegations contained in the document. McGregor warned participants in preparing the report to refrain from discussing its contents; however, Cheshire Saturday finally answered the question of why the matter went to the grand jury.

"The election had an appearance that has never before been seen in Seminole County," he said. "It was not conceivable that the machines were tampered with." "The public had a right to know the answers to these questions and the report will address itself to those answers. It will tell you why it happened," Cheshire said.

"The much was at stake for the public not to have the answers. We (the state attorney's office) could have done it ourselves, but the grand jury has a reputation for being unbiased," Cheshire said.

Foul Play In Death Of Pope? Group Claims 'Evidence'

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The cardinals of the Roman Catholic church suspended their formal deliberations and retired to villas outside Rome today for a weekend of meditation and prayer to help them choose a successor to Pope John Paul I.

The cardinals turned their attention to the death of Pope John Paul I after only 33 days on the throne of St. Peter. The traditionalist Ottaviano Del Rio, which claims 2,000 members in 41 countries, said Friday it has "concrete evidence" to back its demands for an investigation of possible foul play in Pope John Paul's death.

"We have concrete evidence to back our demands for an investigation but we can't release it at this time," said Franco Antonicelli, the group's secretary general. "We must to observe the legal services and work through channels."

Antonicelli said the group had decided to work through the Vatican prosecutor to "avoid a scandal." Antonicelli said the Vatican's version of the pontiff's death "is full of holes."

The controversy over who actually found John Paul's body erupted Friday when the Italian news agency ANSA questioned the official Vatican version that the late pontiff's body was found by his secretary, Father John Magno, an Irish priest.

In a story it said was partly confirmed by the pope's valet, Edoardo Luchini, ANSA said John Paul was discovered dead in his bedroom by a nun — Sister Vincenza, who was bringing him his morning coffee.

ANSA said Sister Vincenza left the coffee in the small bathroom of the pope's bedroom at 4:20 a.m. and when she returned a few minutes later was surprised to find it untouched.

She knocked loudly on the door, ANSA said, and receiving no answer, opened it to find the pontiff dead in his bed, with a few sheets of paper in his hand.

Monday: It's 'T' Day For Seminole Students

By LEONARD KRANDORF
 Herald Staff Writer

Monday marks the day that nearly 12,700 Seminole County students will be among 670,000 throughout the state who will be taking the State Student Assessment Test, formerly called the Functional Literacy Test.

The test, divided into two parts, will be taken by third, fifth, eighth, 11th and 12th graders. The children in the lower three grades will be taking only the basic skills test.

There are about 1,100 third graders, 1,600 fifth graders and 1,900 eighth graders who will be taking that first part, according to Robert King, testing coordinator for the school board.

County 11th graders, who total about 3,100 will be taking two parts of the test: basic skills and a life skills test. The basic skills deals with mathematics and communication in the classroom. The life skills test deals with such matters as comparing prices while shopping.

Also taking the test will be new 12th graders and those who as Juniors last year did not meet the standards. This group totals 600, according to King.

If the 12th graders taking the test fails to meet the standards this time he will be given the opportunity to get remediation and then take the test again next April.

If after that second attempt the standards are still not met a

The SSDC Mission: Industry, And Jobs For Sanford

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Sanford Seminole Development Co., Inc. is scheduled at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday in the conference room of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce. What is the SSDC? Herald News Editor Tom Chisholm explains.

By TOM CHISHOLM
 Herald News Editor

If anyone asked an average Sanford resident what the Sanford Seminole Development (SSDC) Co. is, chances are better than even money the guess would be it's a city or county governmental agency.

industries which provide more than 2,000 jobs. And it boasts today of assets totaling some $71.1 million, having started in 1951 with $25,000.

shareholders averaging 50 cents a share since 1965, to an unprecedented 80 cents in 1975. At that rate, the original stockholders already has gotten the initial $25 investment returned, Krider said. Today, the stock still sells for $50 a share.

SSDC, in 1951, the group, all volunteer and no paid members, had some difficulty the first year.

What the SSDC is, in fact, is an organization made up of private citizens in Sanford who covered years ago joined arms determined to improve the city's economy by encouraging industry to locate in Sanford.

Although armed with the original $25,000 working capital, the Commission of 1951 used most of its energies and part of its capital in advertising and promotional campaigns to attract new industry to Sanford.

That wasn't nearly good enough. The major problem still was capitalizing new industry, and venture capital still was not easy to come by.

Then, the group heard about a relatively new program created by the Small Business Administration (SBA) — program — which was to be the catalyst that got the SSDC on the road to achieving its goal.

In the early stages of SSDC's development, a Commission of 1951 was formed among those citizens with a common goal and each put up $25 to become a shareholder.

Today, there are about 200 shareholders, and, as Krider points out with pride, a dividend has been paid to Krider explained how the SBA program works: "Say, for example, there's an industry that wants to locate in Sanford and it will take about $50,000 to buy the

Mom Shoots 3 Kids, Self; 'Pitiful,' Says Policeman

JACINTO CITY, Texas (UPI) — Police in the heavily industrial Houston suburb of Jacinto City reported the shooting deaths Friday of Mrs. Lucy West and her three children were murder-suicide. "It was pitiful, just pitiful," said one police officer. Authorities said they knew of no reason why Mrs. West shot her children, Howard Scott, 11, James Troy, 9, and Kelly, an 8-year-old girl who was mentally retarded, then turned the gun on herself. The woman's husband, Howard F. West, found the bodies when he returned home from work Friday afternoon, they said. West was reported in shock and spent a short time at a hospital.

Farber: Back In Jail

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court has refused to block any longer New York Times reporter Myron Farber's return to jail for refusing to let a judge inspect his files on a murder case. The high court decision clears the way for the reporter to go back to jail, and restores daily fines imposed against the New York Times.

Rowe: Awaits Extradition

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UPI) — Gary Thomas Rowe, accused of the 1965 slaying of a civil rights worker in Alabama, was free on $5,000 bond today awaiting an Oct. 30 extradition hearing. The former informant who spied on the Ku Klux Klan for the FBI was arrested Friday on an extradition order signed by Gov. George B. Busbee. Rowe, now a Savannah resident, said he planned to fight extradition to Lowndes County, Ala., where he was indicted for the murder of Viola Liuzzo.

Shevin: I Feared Win By Graham

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Nearly everyone thought Robert Graham was the underdog in his runoff campaign for governor with Attorney General Robert Shevin — everyone, that is, except Graham and Shevin. "I knew on Sept. 13 that I was going to win," Graham told reporters during an informal post-mortem session around the breakfast table of Miami Lakes on the day after his stunning upset victory.

Sept. 12 was the date of the first primary — when Shevin piled up a 183,000 vote lead over second place Graham. No Florida candidate in history had ever overcome a deficit of that size to win the runoff. Shevin had the same feeling, which explains why he launched an attack on Graham that very night, calling him a "big-spending liberal from Miami."

For the first time, Shevin confided to reporters that "the best advice I could get" was to attack Graham's legislative record in a desperate effort to blunt the momentum that had carried the once obscure millionaire farmer-developer to within sight of the state's highest office in a few short months. "I wouldn't admit it before," he added, "but I always felt that Graham would be the toughest of all the candidates."

The runoff was a name-calling attack, including derogatory comments and some outright "lies" by Shevin. The campaign, that Democrats feared would help Republican nominee Jack Eckerd against them in November. Graham exudes an air of trustworthiness and integrity, the shy, clean-cut All-American-born son of a doctor, with short hair and a cherubic expression. But more than that, he says, is that he is liberal or progressive or whatever the label, on the right issues.

Haggard's Wife-To-Be Liked Him At The Start

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

There is a side to Merle Haggard that Leona Williams detected the first time they met that she really liked. "I could see there is a part of him that is pure and good," said country and western singer Leona Williams of the man she is to marry in a not-so-ecumenical ceremony in Gardnerville, Nev., Saturday. "He's as nice, as can be."

Her wedding was only a day or two away. She was on the road for the last few days before the marriage fulfilling a commitment to sing at the Rainbow Ranch near Sanford for his new owner, Jerry Siciliano. During her few days in Seminole County, she didn't have time to see Disney World or the other tourist attractions—or even go shopping. Her one outing was to ride an airboat with her companion on the road, Susie Lerner, a disc jockey and writer for a country magazine in Denver. Two times a night for three nights she performed 30 minute shows for her audience at the Rainbow Ranch. She was the only woman in the band of the greatest Siciliano "he had received while working for him beginning with the transportation he had provided from the airport, an ultra fashionable foreign car complete with driver and telephone. And, she liked the Quality Inn in Longwood where Siciliano provided rooms for Miss Lerner and her where she spent her hours between shows.

Miss Williams and Miss Lerner were to leave Seminole County today by plane for Nashville where they were to pick up Miss Williams' three children, her mother and one of Haggard's sons. They were to fly to Chicago for a brief stop and on to Nevada and Gardnerville. Gardnerville is a little place between Lake Tahoe and Reno. The site of her wedding to country music's "Oke from Muscle Shoals" is the ranch of friends.

Her 18-year-old son from her first marriage to Ron Williams, also a singer, will walk her down the aisle and give her away. Her four-year-old son, Brad will be the ring bearer and her 18-year-old daughter, Cathy, will be a bridesmaid. Two of Haggard's daughters from a previous marriage will also be bridesmaids and Billie Owens, formerly married to Haggard, and Leona's very "good friend" and "a Leona's lady" has also been asked to be a bridesmaid. Haggard's two sons, will be best men.

The wedding will be held outdoors. Fresh flowers are to be furnished for the ceremony and a reception is to be held at Harrah's afterwards. "Merle and I were aware of each other's talent a long time before we met. When his ex-wife, Ronnie, left his show, he hired another lady to sing in her place. But, Merle was interested in someone who could sing harmony. Merle asked his sidekick, Ronnie Reno, to get in touch with me and invite me to the over-dubbing session of his train album. I wasn't home when Ronnie tried to call. But Merle called later himself and invited me. He asked if I would like to join his show I told him that I've done so much and didn't want to be just a back up girl. He said I could do my own show and a week later I told him I would.

"We got acquainted and started going together—it will be four years in January. We've been engaged 1 1/2 years now. The night before he gave me my engagement ring, he called on the telephone and then got a Lear jet from Michigan and came to Nashville. He asked me what kind of a ring I wanted and then gave me the prettiest Marquis-shaped huge diamond ring and the matching wedding band," said Miss Williams.

"I've been wearing the rings for a year and a half and Merle sent them to a jeweler to be cleaned before I left Reno last Sunday. "Merle and I were aware of each other's talent a long time before we met. When his ex-wife, Ronnie, left his show, he hired another lady to sing in her place. But, Merle was interested in someone who could sing harmony. Merle asked his sidekick, Ronnie Reno, to get in touch with me and invite me to the over-dubbing session of his train album. I wasn't home when Ronnie tried to call. But Merle called later himself and invited me. He asked if I would like to join his show I told him that I've done so much and didn't want to be just a back up girl. He said I could do my own show and a week later I told him I would.

LEONA WILLIAMS ... to wed Haggard

Leona's mother is her housekeeper at home in Nashville, taking care of her home and children while she is on the road. "I can't wait to get to Reno. My mother has never been to any of the casinos. My mother is a precious, pure, pure lady. When we get to Reno, I'm going to give her a roll of quarters to play the slot machines," she said. "I started to get a little nervous today. I know Merle is a lonely person. You can talk to him and he won't be hearing a word you say. We decided to get married a week and a half ago. I bought the prettiest honey bear dress, my favorite color to wear, but I really like blue better. There wasn't time to have one made. He called me the other night and said he bought his suit for the wedding and you know he bought a beige suit, the same color as my dress," she said. "It was just about eight months after her divorce that she began to work for Haggard. "Merle and I have a new duet record to be released next week on the MCA label. It's called the Bull and the Beaver, a CD song. "My favorite records of his are "Farmer's Daughter" and "Holding Things Together."

"A minister is going to conduct the wedding ceremony. I don't know what his name is. Merle got the marriage license and everything without me being there," said Miss Williams.

'I Love You, Too,' Hurt Tammy Tells Yelling Fan

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI) — After her first three-week stay before a modest crowd of 2,000 to 3,000 persons Friday night, a fan yelled "We love ya, baby," Tammy Wynette said she was going to be killed. "I was afraid I was going to be killed," she said. "I love you, too," the 38-year-old country music singer replied and light security was stepped up. Her first show since being abducted from a Nashville, Tenn., shopping center Wednesday. She made an effort to hide an ugly black bruise on her right cheek sustained during the two-hour ordeal, and she told reporters before the show she feared for her life when the kidnapper yanked her out of the car near the Alabama border before a crowd of 2,000 to 3,000 persons Friday night, a fan yelled "We love ya, baby."

"I know he's out there," she said. "I'm worried about going on stage now — not just here but any stage."

Team player James Hollie, the leader of her band, said the group is "holding an eye on her all the time now. We'll definitely be watching the substance."

"She's more calm than I would be," said Hollie, who has been with Wynette 18 of the 12 years she has performed. "I really adore her."

Miss Wynette said she kept her promise to appear at Columbia because "I felt better today and I didn't want to disappoint the fans or the promoter."

the nationally televised Country Music Association Awards in Nashville Monday. Miss Wynette said she was sure from being forced to remain on the floorboard of her car during the kidnapping. Her neck still hurts from a stocking that was tightly tied around it, she said. Tennessee authorities have vowed to solve the case but say it will be difficult because of Miss Wynette's frequent out-of-town appearances. Producer George Richey, Miss Wynette's fifth husband, said he thinks the kidnapping is connected to previous trouble she has had. "Too many things are the same," he said. Nashville Police Lt. Sherman Williams said the case is puzzling because she was not assaulted or robbed. "We have no motive, no nothing," he said.

Forecast: Light Vote

A record 154 million Americans will have reached voting age by the time of the November 7 mid-term elections. But less than half that number will take part in the balloting for 36 senators, 36 governors, 65 members of the House of Representatives and thousands of state and local officials. Voter turnout is traditionally lower in non-presidential years. About 49 percent of the voting-age population cast ballots for U.S. representatives in the presidential election year of 1976. But only about 38 percent voted for representative in the 1974 mid-term elections. In addition, turnout in both presidential and mid-term elections has been falling since the early 1960s. As a result, many political observers predict this year's turnout will again sink below 40 percent and may reach a post-World War II low.

Possibly counteracting the downward trend will be the presence of tax cut measures on many states' ballots. Nearly 60 percent of California's registered voters turned out for that state's June primary, which featured the since widely copied Proposition 13. That compared with a 54-percent turnout of registered voters in California's 1974 primary. Voter participation also depends on such diverse factors as election day weather and the excitement generated by candidates in the pre-election weeks. Most campaign organizations have been at work at least since Labor Day identifying and registering likely supporters. Their efforts will culminate in election day "get out the vote" drives. Which Americans are most — and least — likely to vote? According to the Census Bureau, voting participation generally increases with age, education and income. The only exception is among people age 65 and above, though many citizens still voted in larger percentages two years ago than did people under 35. In keeping with the above, voters are more likely to vote than are blacks and members of other minority groups. Republicans are more frequent voters than are Democrats; however, there are more than twice as many Democrats as there are Republicans.

Nearly equal percentages of men and women vote. Lack of interest, lack of proficiency or general dislike of politics have been cited as reasons for not voting in 1974 by about 30 percent of registered voters who did not go to the polls and by nearly half of those who had failed to register. Together, these groups added up to about 20 million potential voters. Other leading explanations given the Census Bureau for not registering included: recent household moves, unfamiliarity with registration procedures and failure to meet residency requirements. Additional reasons frequently cited by registered voters for failing to vote included illness, family emergency, out-of-town travel and inability to get off work to go to the polls.

certificates of completion will be awarded instead of a diploma. King notes that even after the student graduates an attempt can still be made to earn the diploma.

He said discussions are underway to have the students get recognition at high school at Seminole Community College which is now under construction.

Since the test was last given those students who did not meet the standards have been receiving various types of remediation, according to King.

The school district students prepare for the next round of testing, the state has sent out 165,000 copies of a study booklet on the mathematics test. The students had for second place in the state on communication skills and third in the state on mathematics skills, according to Ralph Jay, public information officer for the school system.

All the other three grade levels Seminole County students also had a higher percentage of students passing than the state average, King said.

A new element in this year's testing program is an evaluation of the writing skills of some 1,300 students in 100 schools. Young students will be asked to demonstrate their handwriting while older pupils will be measured on how well they form sentences and paragraphs. The results will be used to gather statewide data to determine student writing strengths and weaknesses.

The grand jury heard from the witness during its investigation, including Supervisor of Elections Camilla Bruce and Gordon Letrell, county maintenance supervisor, who testified they saw the machine in a warehouse in International Elections Services, makers of the machine.

Ron Hansen, Republican candidate for the Seminole County Commission, has filed suit against the commission on the machine to prevent its use in the entire election.

Cheshire, who personally presented the case to the grand jury, conceded he had worked especially hard on this matter.

"I know what it's like to provide the protection of your flock for votes," he said. "It doesn't take much for voters to get turned off and not vote and all the votes are important."

Cheshire said the 13-day delay in revealing the contents of the report will have an effect on the report.

Off Spray, On Stick?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Consumer watchdogs said off-spray and on-the-stick repellents are dangerous.

The researchers said Friday the Food and Drug Administration should investigate several repellents because they don't know about the possible harmful effects on the lungs of breathing in the spray.

"These have shown that it may take years to clear the lungs of harmful particles inhaled when using several repellents," the FDA said in a report.

"Some repellents are harmful or irritant to the lungs, however, get a clean bill of health from the research," it said.

Edgewater Frustrates Seminole, 26-13

Too Many Fumbles, Penalties For SHS

POTENTIAL TD PASS TRICKLES AWAY FROM JOE BAKER

Gainesville Roars Past Lake Howell

GAINESVILLE — Johnell Brown proved the biggest threat in Lake Howell's side in a 66-4 high school football game Friday night which found Gainesville showing the South Seminole outfit why it is ranked No. 1 in the state.

Brown, who has now scored 16 touchdowns in Gainesville's four impressive victories, had two against Lake Howell. He passed for two TDs and rushed for a pair.

Lake Howell actually held its own well in check with 88 yards rushing, marking the first time this season he hasn't hit the century mark. But the time he got loose hurt the Hawks severely.

Football, they say, is a game of X's and O's.

If so, Seminole High's team used only the X's Friday night against Edgewater in a 26-13 rout which was nowhere near as close a contest as the final score indicates.

The Seminole offense, or "O" if you please, left its fine edge in the locker room, leaving it to the defense to make a close game of it until Edgewater finally wiggled out of its own offensive slump and broke it open early in the third quarter.

It was a timeout as to which was the biggest deterrent to Seminole — penalties or fumbles. There were plenty of both. Seminole fumbled nine times in all, losing four of them. Edgewater also had trouble hanging onto the ball, losing three fumbles.

It was the penalty department which likely frustrated fans and coaches most. Seminole committed 16 penalties and was set back 163 yards. Edgewater committed 13 penalties for 173.

Edgewater did not play like the No. 6 team in the state, and Seminole hardly played like an underdog team with a strong chance of achieving post-season heights.

"We were stale," said Seminole coach Jerry Posey. "Just plain stale. If we are this way next week it will be worse."

Seminole had a meeting against district co-leader Gainesville in Sanford. The winner will be favored to make the state playoffs.

3,000 Miles Later ...

SEATTLE (UPI) — Steve Fife doesn't have a ticket to Saturday's sellout game between Washington and Alabama, but he figures that's a small hurdle to overcome after hitchhiking nearly 3,000 miles to see the intercollegiate football clash.

It will be the last game in a row for the 18-year-old youth, who says he has hitchhiked to all road games, qualifying as one of the Crimson Tide's most ardent followers. "I've gotten a lot of letters," he said confidently. "I always get a ticket."

Reporters Barred From Locker Room

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — All reporters will be barred from locker rooms of the Women's Pro Basketball League after games this season, a league spokesman said Friday.

"What we plan to do is provide a separate room adjacent to the locker room for immediate interviews, not necessarily 20 minutes after a game," said WPL spokesman "Tim" Keeble. He said the ban on reporters in the women's locker rooms includes "even women reporters."

Yankees Go With 'Sunday' Pitcher

NEW YORK (UPI) — The best pitcher in baseball, a quiet and confident Stan Gundy, says tonight's fourth game of the best-of-five American League playoff is just like any other. If that's the case, the Kansas City Royals have an 82 per cent chance of washing the World Series on television.

Gundy, 24, guided a record-breaking winning percentage of .888 during the regular season and will oppose 21-game winner Dennis Leonard when New York hosts for its third straight American League pennant outing, a 2-1 lead in its series with Kansas City.

"You really never know what will happen until you're out there," Gundy said following the Yankees' dramatic 6-5 victory over the Royals in Friday's third game. "You just go out there and try everything you've got and either you win or you lose."

Leaving is something that Gundy can't tell you much about, but Leonard has gone through it in this playoff and didn't particularly like the feeling.

"The only thing different I'd try to do is win," said Leonard, who pitched only four innings in the first game of the playoff, won by the Yankees, 7-4.

REGINALD BRANCH HEADING FOR THE HILLS AS EDGEWATER CLOSES IN

McClenon Shines As Oviedo Breezes

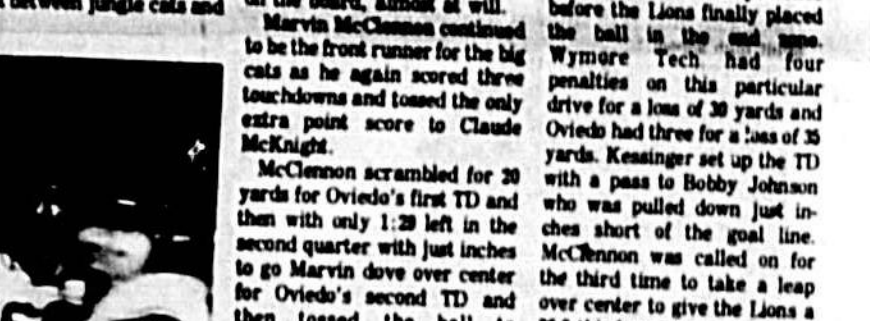

OVIEDO — Marvin Runnels Jr. had a night to remember as Oviedo's quarterback in the second round of the state football playoffs. He was the first player to score three touchdowns and to lead his team to a 36-0 victory over Lake Howell in a game that was over by the fourth quarter.

McClenon scrambled for 30 yards for Oviedo's first TD and then with only 1:30 left in the second quarter with just inches to go Marvin dove over center for Oviedo's second TD and then tossed the ball to McKnight for the two point extra pass.

Kevin Klinehammer smothered a Bobcats fumble of the kick off on the Bobcats 20 to set up the Lions final score of the first half with Troy Kensingr drilling a 35-yard pass to Al Vinson for a 24-0 lead with 1:01 left in the first half.

Not to go to the locker room empty-handed, Wynore Tech Bobcats quarterback Lorenzo Haynes returned kickoff 70 yards for a touchdown, his team's only score of the night.

Opening the third quarter by running in place, the Bobcats punted and McClenon moved the ball from his 30 to the Bobcats 20 to set up the McKnight punt on the 23 where McClenon lost the handle on the ball, ending Oviedo's first drive of the second half.

Rau Vs. Lerch As LA Seeks Wrapper

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — After Philadelphia's two opening defeats in the National League championship series to the Los Angeles Dodgers, Philadelphia Manager Danny Ozark said he couldn't put a finger on what was wrong with his club.

But, as it turned out, nothing was wrong with the Philadelphia ball club that showed up at Dodger Stadium Friday.

The Phillies did just about everything right — especially two-time Cy Young Award winner Steve Carlton — while the Dodgers did just about everything wrong in the 3-4 Philadelphia rout.

"Everybody was just loose tonight," smiled Greg Loureks, who accounted for the Phils' last run with a homer in the sixth inning. "This club was looser than it has been since I've been here."

Carlton, who struggled to a 10-13 record and had a sore shoulder this season after winning 23 in 1977, pitched an eight-inning and struck out eight. He also drove in four runs with a three-run homer in the second inning off Don Sutton and an RBI single in the ninth.

It was the 37-year-old left-hander's first win over in a post-season championship game.

He became the third pitcher in playoff history to batter Mike Cuellar honored for Baltimore in 1970 and Don Garlits honored for Cincinnati in 1975.

Of his hitting, Carlton said, "I was just fortunate to get a couple of hits tonight. But I feel I'm a competent hitter. I've got a certain degree of confidence in my hitting."

Sutton, who took a 17-4 career record against the Phils into the game, was bombed for seven runs and seven hits in 5 2/3 innings.

"I thought I had pretty good stuff," Sutton stated. "I'll have another shot in the World Series."

Today's fourth game at Dodger Stadium will match 26-year-old Randy Lerch, another Phil pitcher, against Dodger left-hander Doug Rau. Rau was 15-8 this season while Lerch was 11-4.

"I don't want to talk too much tonight about tomorrow," said Lerch. "I'll do my talking after tomorrow's game."

"Philadelphia looked like the Phillies tonight," Rau remarked. "They can jump on me and hit me because they have an outstanding ball club."

Lake Brantley Explodes For 49-8 Victory

Lyons Air Attack Sinks B. Moore

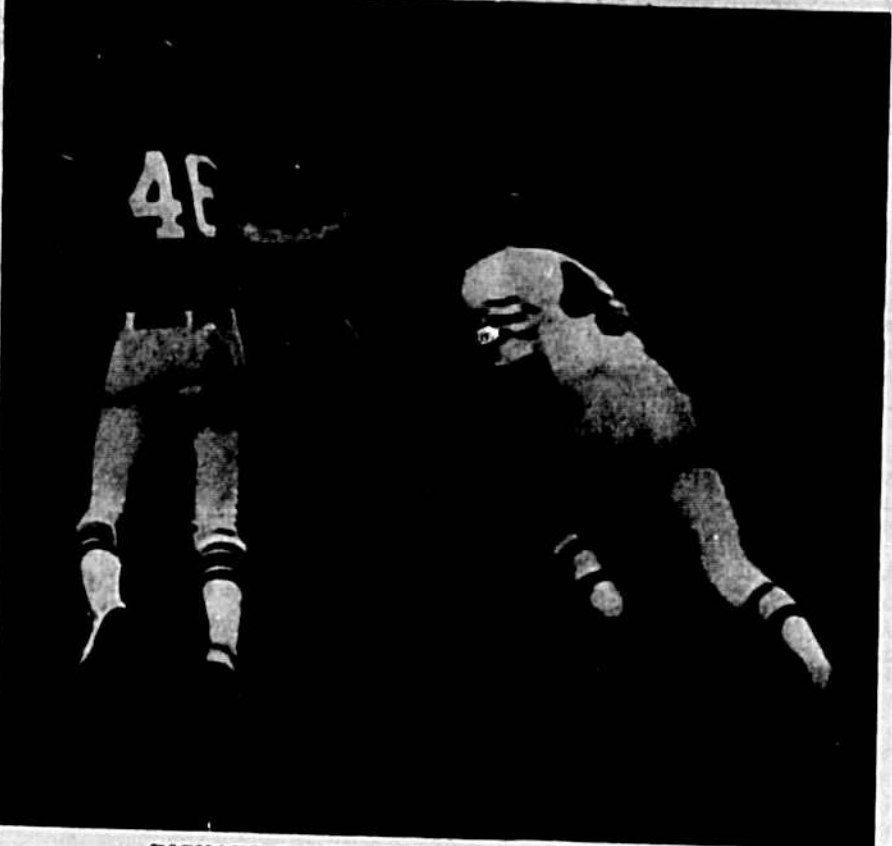

By MAX ERKLETTIAN
Herald Staff Writer

For the second time in as many weeks Lake Brantley coach Jim Haley had played the entire team before the end of the first half.

Salem. The Patriots followed with another scoring drive that culminated with another Lyons pass for points, this time to end Dean Fritch.

From that point on, it was just a scrimmage for Lake Brantley's second and third strings.

On a controversial call of officials later admitted was a mistake on their part, a Baird Lyons scoring run from two yards out was called back.

RICHARD SALEM LATCHES ONTO PATS PASS

At that point there was 5:37 remaining in the half and Lake Brantley had rolled up a 21-0 advantage.

Bishop Moore's squad never quit and on its next series from quarterback Ed Culberhouse passed the Hornets to Lake Brantley's six, Culberhouse, without a receiver in the open, had to scramble to get back to the right on the next play.

Rolling left on third and goal, Culberhouse threw off balance into the waiting arms of Lake Brantley safety Jon Fuller who ran unhindered 97 yards for the final score of the half.

Feeling a 20-0 score at the end of the second half, Bishop Moore attempted an on-side kick. However, Lake Brantley covered the squibbed pignin on its 44.

One play later things looked as if they might be turning Bishop Moore's way as senior defensive guard Tony Rayhill came up with a loose ball on the Hornets' 44.

Lake Brantley's defense refused to yield and Bishop Moore was forced to punt after gaining only two yards in three plays.

Late Mainland Rally Shocks Lyman, 21-13

Fricke, Cleveland Star For 'Hounds'

By LEONARD KRANSDORF
Herald Staff Writer

Two of the best 1-4 teams in the area met Friday night and despite an abundance of penalties Daytona Beach Mainland pulled out a thrilling 21-13 win over a scrappy Lyman Greyhound team.

Both teams displayed a good running attack as the Buccaneers were propelled by senior tailback Albert Worthen's 100 yards and the Greyhounds' Audie Cleveland utilized good blocking on the offensive line to have an outstanding night with 139 yards.

Lyman's got a good team and what the fans saw tonight were the two best 1-4 teams in the area," said winning Mainland coach Tony Melachroin, as the estimated crowd of 1,000 were leaving the stadium.

The first quarter was scoreless as the Mainland offense was stymied by penalties and the Greyhound offense was stumped by the Mainland defense.

KAREN AULT UP IN AIR OVER GREYHOUNDS

Mistakes hurt both teams in the second half.

On the kickoff an attempted lateral from Anthony Brooks to Cleveland's Audie Cleveland from Fricke and swept around the left side for a touchdown.

On two quick plays the Buccaneers scored. The attempt for two points failed.

Montgomery says that he has the total support of a fine staff and feels that this is the reason that the Lions are doing well this year and he aims the reason that he is making the statements about a 1979 winning season, the first since 1966.

Principal Charles Webb and Dean David Miller have backed the program enthusiastically, along with Athletic Director Dale Phillips. I want to give them a winner," said Montgomery in the locker room after his Lions had totally destroyed Wynore Tech.

Montgomery went on to explain, "I have four coaches who are doing an excellent job for us. I could not ask for better coaches than Lyons Tech, John Thomson, Ed Brown and Jim Cain who give me the best coaching reports ever."

"I came to Orinda seven years ago and right now the assistant coaches are the best group that Orinda has had. John Geisler has done a job outstanding job as Defensive

"It takes more than just good football players to have a winning team and season. Without the support from the administrative staff and fine assistants in the coaching staff 22 outstanding football players would not make for a winning team. I thank those people who have made it possible for me to be able to mold these young men into a winning team," commented Montgomery as he closed the locker room until Friday when he will again start preparing — for his next victory, naturally.

Can't Really Save On Commission

Did you ever think, "I can sell my house myself and save the commission?" Let us give you the Realtor answer to that. Realtors try to sell homes for their market value, which includes a sales commission. The average buyer desiring a house with an owner expects the commission to be deducted from the price for his benefit, so the owner "saves it" anyway. If you sell your house with a Realtor, you will receive a commission and the average buyer desiring a house with an owner expects the commission to be deducted from the price for his benefit, so the owner "saves it" anyway.

But the lowest commission paid is not necessarily the best. A Realtor can help you avoid a poor deal by pointing out the pros and cons of various offers and counteroffers. You could save on the commission by selling and buying. A Realtor can help you with your real estate needs.

Kissinger: U.S. Must Be Able To Threaten

HENRY KISSINGER

LAKE BUENA VISTA (UPI) — Dr. Henry Kissinger warned Friday that world order is in danger unless U.S. military resources are strengthened considerably. In a speech that closed a week-long convention of the International Chamber of Commerce, the former secretary of state said the Soviet Union's expansion would increase the risk of a strategic arms limitation talks. "We are living in a world of extraordinary turbulence and great danger," Kissinger said. "The United States must become a device for more aggressive nations to expand."

Inflation Rises, But Market Rallies

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market ignored two traditional depressants this week — rising inflation and interest rates — and embarked on a rally that spread over three sessions. Trading was light. The Federal Reserve System's apparent intervention in the money market on Wednesday triggered speculation the United States had adopted stronger measures to defend the greenback and keep money buyers back into the stock market.

The market simply doesn't seem to be frightened by higher interest rates and possible double-digit inflation, said William Le Ferrre, vice president of Granger & Co. "We are in the midst of a rally that could carry the Dow Jones industrial average toward 1,000 in the final quarter of this year."

The Dow gained 14.28 points to 888.02 for the week, compared with a bounce of only 3.26 points the week before. The New York Stock Exchange index climbed 8.56 to 89.34 and Standard & Poor's 500 stock index rose 6.98 to 103.52. Advances outnumbered declines, 1,086 to 794, among the 1,199 issues crossing the NYSE composite tape.

The stock market mirrored the dollar's fortunes abroad this week, rising on any improvement in the U.S. currency and retreating when the greenback sank to new lows in Frankfurt and Brussels Tuesday. By week's end the dollar had firmness against most major currencies.

Wholesale prices, paced by food costs, jumped 0.9 percent in September on the heels of a 0.1 percent dip in August. Wall Street analysts said most investors had been braced for a 0.8 percent price surge, however.

The Council on Wage & Price Stability reported consumer prices climbed at an "annualized" 8.1 percent in the first 9 months of this year, up sharply from the 6.8 percent advance last year. The council said "substantial acceleration is still likely" in the price spiral. But the lowest rate of increase was by a long way by the services index, which rose 4.9 percent in the year. The services index is the only one that has not risen in the year.

FTU's First Lady Likes Seminole

Warm, pleasant and nice to know. It's really been a delight. That's how the First Lady of Florida Technological University (FTU), Mrs. Trevor (Beryl) Colbourn feels about the people she has met since her husband became FTU's president (only the second) in August. And that's how people who have met Mrs. Colbourn feel about her.

The warm gracious lady who speaks with an accent (she was born and raised in Wales) has already met and enjoyed getting acquainted with many members of the community and the school. She has adjusted to the move from busy big city San Diego to small town Orlando very easily. "We have always lived in small towns. San Diego is the only large city we have ever lived in. I'm happier living in a small town," says the new president's wife, adding that it's nice for children. The Colbourns have two daughters, K.R., 19, and Ellen, 16.

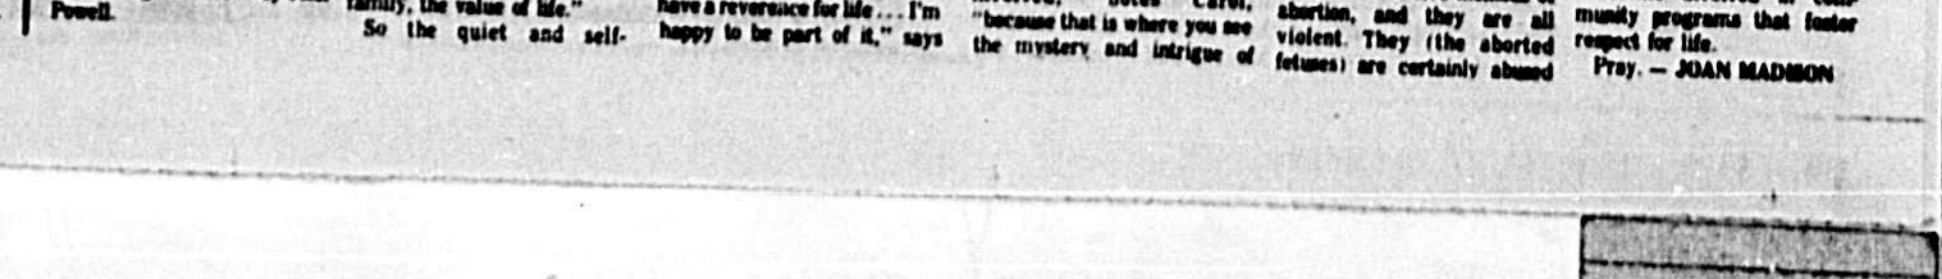

MRS. COLBOURN DOING NEEDLEWORK

Injury Inspires Woman To Lead 'Life' Project

Imagine the "indignity" of falling on a manhole. "That's what happened to Betty Maddux of Altamonte Springs four years ago while she was working at Sunland Hospital. In her fall down the manhole, Betty broke her back and several vertebrae. But she's a fighter — "bull-headed" she calls herself. In her lengthy stay at the hospital waiting for her bones to fuse together, the spunky individual chose not to dwell on her problems.

'I've always been sensitive to human life and people in need.'

Despite her interim pain, she thought about every "indignity" happening all around her — abortions, euthanasia, the general irreverence for life. A biochemist, Betty spent years of research on human errors of metabolism for newborns. She developed a profound respect for life, at all stages of development. While in the hospital, as fate would have it, she found herself under the care of Dr. Robert Metzger, a nephrologist (kidney doctor). During Betty's long period of recuperation, Dr. Metzger learned that his patient had a special sense of caring, a special commitment to life, and one he happened to share. He noticed her reading, "Who has the Right to Life?" by John Powell. And one day he said to her, "Why don't you get together with Carol?" Carol is Dr. Metzger's wife. ... (Text continues with details of the project)

'MARK TWAIN TONIGHT' ... FEBRUARY

After three hours of painstaking make-up work, John Chappell becomes Mark Twain. Using a turn-of-the-century set, Chappell will delight the audience with his witty quips and amusing stories straight from Mark Twain's writings. The performer is the only person Hal Holbrook has ever allowed to use his multi-award winning format and claims Chappell looks more like Mark Twain than he does.

FLORIDA SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA ... NOVEMBER

The Florida Symphony will open the 1978-79 season with a variety filled Pops concert. Handsome, new assistant conductor Alfred Savia will lead the full orchestra in an evening of music that will run the musical gamut. The Junior Woman's Club of Sanford will host a complimentary reception at intermission.

Concert Season Opens

Seminole Mutual Concert Association is announcing the opening of the 1978-79 season. A gala pre-season reception will be given by the SMCA Board of Director's Friday between 7:10 p.m. at the Mayfair Country. The board warmly invites all persons interested in the cultural development of the community to come help celebrate the opening of the season... and bring your friends. There is no admission charge to the reception.

THE NEW CHRISTY MINSTRELS... MARCH

Formed in 1961, The New Christy Minstrels have entertained audiences throughout the world as one of the most exciting and versatile groups performing today. Karen Black, Kenny Rogers and John Denver are but a few of the talented entertainers whose careers have begun with this dynamic young group.

THE PRESERVATION HALL JAZZ BAND... JANUARY

Traditional New Orleans Jazz — together with marches, spirituals, blues and ragtime — is incorporated by these rare musicians, who are mostly over 60 and who keep Southern music heritage alive. The band members improvise as they perform to guarantee an original concert every time.

Seniors Tour Takes On 'Mystery' Angle

The Longwood Tourist Club will be traveling to Sanibel Island, Oct. 29 and 30. There will be a sightseeing tour, a picnic, and a "mystery" stop on the return trip. As seats on the bus are limited, please make your reservations now. Call Mrs. Ruth Lays at 338-4829 for further information and details. The trip to Sanibel Island is open to any senior citizen. Call now. It promises to be a great trip.

Attend, you have to be a senior citizen, bring your "potluck" to share with others, your own place setting and utensils, and a willingness to share a good time and make new friends. The luncheon will be held at Sunny-shade Park pavilion across from the Longwood Fire Department. Plans for the trip to the Christmas House in Brooksville, will be discussed. The Longwood Civic League Women's Club "kicked" off the new calendar year with a Halloween costume party. Eighteen members and two guests attended what proved to be a "mash" of a party. "All of the women, except two, dressed in costumes. The two ladies not in costume came from their jobs," said League President Marlene McGrath. Ruth Knafl, in charge of activities, kept the guests busy playing various games. Hazel Smith was first prize in the game of "Concentration"; and, Mary Monas won the ping pong game. Prizes were, however, won by all the ladies present. As I mentioned, this first meeting was a costume party. Evelyn Kent, bedecked as a witch, took grand prize for best costume. Following the festivity, a business meeting was held. Plans were discussed for the trip to the Christmas House in Brooksville, on Oct. 21. Members, if you want to go, contact Mrs. McGrath at 338-4778.

DEAR ABBY: I am desperate and in tears. I can't take it anymore! I have a 7-year-old son who still wets his bed. I have taken him to our pediatrician who sent us to a urologist. They both said there was nothing physically wrong with the boy. I have spanked him, taken away his favorite TV shows, and even told him he couldn't play outdoors or go any place special if he wet the bed the night before. I even tried making him wash his own pajamas and the bedsheet, but that didn't help. To top it all off, my 4-year-old who stopped wetting his bed two years ago has now started in again. I guess he thinks if his big brother does it, it's okay for him, too! My 7-year-old quit for five days straight before his birthday because he thought he'd get more presents, so I know he can quit. I'm expecting another baby in four months. Then I'll have THREE kids wetting the bed. I am ready to give up. Please help me, Abby. Melanie Webre, Randall S. Brown Exchange Vows

Melanie Ann Webre and Randall Stephen Brown were married Sept. 30 at All Souls Catholic Church, Sanford. Father William Ennis performed the 8:30 p.m. candlelight and double ring rite. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Webre, 2414 S. Orange Ave., Sanford. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Willie Brown, 1088 Grove Manor Drive, Sanford. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal gown of satin glow glam. The lace bodice was fashioned with a keyhole neckline. The skirt terminated in lace-trimmed scallops which swept into a chapel train. A lace headpiece accented her full length veil of illusion. Denise Danglieman attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Madeleine Gormly, Angela Webre, Laurie Brown and Donna Premley. Each wore a pale blue glaze gown fashioned with a chiffon blouson bodice and carried a lighted candle in a large goblet adorned with petals of the gown fabric to form a flower. Gary Brown served the bridegroom as best man. Usher-groomsmen were Donald Brown, Kenny Brown, Chip Webre and Tim Cooper. Kimberly Gormly and Devere Danglieman were the flower girls. David Brown was the ring bearer. The reception was held at the Garden Club of Sanford. The bride is employed in the bookkeeping department of Flagship Bank. The bridegroom is a pitcher for the New York Mets.

Open House For Art Buffs

Art buffs will be treated to a preview all week of the Oct. 14 and 15 "Fall For Art" show at Gifts by Nan in Downtown Sanford, according to the store's owner, Mrs. Boyd (Nellie) Coleman. Mrs. Coleman invited all who are artists to bring in their works for a standing exhibit during October. The fall art show, under the chairmanship of Ginger Bennett, is attracting over 100 artists from various parts of the country to come together in Downtown Sanford under the auspices of the Sanford Business Association and the Sanford-Seminole Art Association. On Oct. 14, from 11:30 to 4:30 p.m., Gifts by Nan will be the site of open house for artists and spectators attending "Fall For Art." The Herald will publish a special section Thursday on the weekend art show.

Fall Blows In A Whirlwind Of Action

Oh, there are many irresistible happenings coming up in the community. Fall has fallen into a whirlwind of action with Sanford and Seminole as the "eye." Next weekend will spotlight the "Fall For Art" show in Downtown Sanford. Not only is this a terrific venture for art buffs, but the two-day fest is being put together with all the flair of an old-fashioned fall festival for all. According to the "Downtown" PR gal, vivacious Jan Freeman, there will be something for everyone. A variety of professional entertainment will be featured and concession stands will serve food, among the other events being planned. The event will take place on the downtown streets to usher in the season with splashes of color — and fun. Art is the word — and toward culture. Mrs. Alan (Laurie) Dickey, president of Seminole Mutual Concert Association (SMCA) is excited over the opening of the concert season Friday night with a reception for interested persons at Mayfair Country Club. Laurie extends an invitation to newcomers to the area to attend the reception. She said this year's series offers top-notch entertainment geared for the entire family. See you there! Karraker, 1226 Randolph St., have returned from a two-month vacation to the Northeastern United States and on to Canada, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Cape Breton and Prince Edward Island. The couple traveled in their motor home and had to have heat at night — even in August. They returned home via Nashville and Oryland and went to the Grand Old Opry. The trip came to a close at Fitzgerald, Ga., where they visited with their son, Bob, and his wife in their new home. The Karrakers observed nature at work during their trek and said "It's shame more people don't travel and see what beauty God put on earth for us to see." Mrs. V.C. She was accompanied to the conference by her cousin, Mrs. L. Keith Quin of Lake Wales, who is regent of the Lake Wales Chapter. According to Lourine, 28 DAR members and 55 regents were in attendance. There was home to respect bags, and Louisa and Mary George headed for Outer Banks, N.C. to observe the autumn leaves come tumbling down before the area is blanketed with snow. The Florida Federation of Women's Clubs annual Fall Board meeting, a three-day event, was held at Lakeland, headquarters for FFWC, at the civic center. The board members attending from Sanford were President Mrs. Walter A. (Bill) Gielow, Mrs. William (Pat) Foster, Mrs. William (Jerry) Kirk, Here's a fun idea for those special festivities.

My sister's bridal shower was a big success because of this little touch.

We made punch bowl ice cubes by freezing lemonade in the plastic eggs that make party hats are packaged in.

We taped the egg around the outside, drilled a hole in the top, used a funnel to pour in the lemonade (pink lemonade makes it extra pretty) and froze them.

When time comes for serving, untape the egg, pop it open and you have a big ice cube that melts slowly.

DEAR HELOISE:

We have a great way of preserving memories. The first of every year we buy a new scrapbook and on the inside front cover write down the year. Throughout the year we paste in wedding invitations, graduation and baby announcements, newspaper articles about friends, relatives and historical events we want to remember.

Also, we paste in all photographs taken or received during the year. We save all birthday and anniversary cards too.

I have "mementos" of memories packed away that I never enjoy because it is too much trouble to pull out the items to browse through.

You're a clever girl for coming up with this genius. Thanks for sharing it with us.

Clean-Up Underway Rats! Cry Residents

By MAX ERKLETTIAN
Herald Staff Writer

As the result of efforts by residents of Country Club Manor subdivision, located between 30th and 25th Streets, county health officials and Sanford city officials have begun cracking down on junk cars and a trash and rat problem in that area.

Some neighbors have complained that people in the area leave their trash out several days in advance of garbage pickup. They contend that allows time for animals to spread the garbage over lawns.

Valda Robbins, director of the county health department's sanitation division, said his division will begin making more frequent inspections of the Country Club Manor area.

A group of about six Country Club Manor residents took their complaints to Sanford City Manager Warren E. Knowles about a week ago. Knowles and police officials have begun efforts to have junk cars removed from several houses in the area. Six citations ordering junk cars to be removed have been issued, according to Knowles.

If a car has not been properly registered and inspected, it is considered a junk car, according to city officials.

Knowles commented the garbage and rat problem is a public health concern and therefore the responsibility of the county health department.

Some people in the area tell horror stories about the local rat population. They feel if the garbage is not picked up the rats would not be attracted to the area.

"I have seen rats come out in broad daylight and eat the garbage," said Mrs. Andry Corso, 127 Gerrit Drive.

According to Mrs. Corso and Mrs. Dorothy Mayo, 138 Rays Drive, the problem has improved since city and county health officials took action.

"In the last three weeks we have seen a great deal of improvement," said Mrs. Mayo.

However, that public officials have been contacted and that the trash is causing a problem has helped correct the situation, according to Mrs. Mayo.

Both Mrs. Mayo and Mrs. Corso relate the story of a child who brought a rat home as a pet. He thought the rat was a hamster, according to the women.

"There are people here who are afraid to let their children out to play," said Mrs. Corso, "because of the rats."

Winter Springs: Pellerin Recall May Be Voided

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The petitions signed originally by 222 persons seeking a recall election to oust Winter Springs Councilman Laurent Pellerin from office may have died over the weekend.

According to City Clerk Mary Norton, Pellerin brought to her office this morning notarized statements from signers of the petition making removal of their names. The total number of statements were 25.

In addition, Pellerin earlier cited three duplicate signatures, and one signature from a person who is not a U.S. citizen.

The state law on recall requires a minimum of 300 signatures in Winter Springs come before the chief judge of the 13th judicial circuit (Seminole and Brevard counties) Robert McGrew can be requested to call a special recall election.

If the 300 signatures are deemed the petition will be valid.

fewer than needed for the recall election.

The petition against Pellerin and another against Councilman John Daniels were delivered to Seminole Election Supervisor Camilla Bruce Friday, said City Clerk Mary Norton. When they are returned to the city, she said, those names in the notarized statements will be removed before the results of the petition are certified to the city council.

Mrs. Norton said she shelved the petition, her opinion that many entire pages of the petition should be disallowed because some signatures were apparently affixed to the sheets after they were notarized.

"I don't know when we'll get to the petitions," said Mrs. Bruce today, noting that considerable work has to be done preparing for the general election.

Meanwhile, Police Chief John Govortz said that Winter Springs said today the investigation into several aspects of the recall petition drive are continuing. He declined to say how he is handling the investigation, called for by a sworn complaint signed by council candidate, John Van Espool.

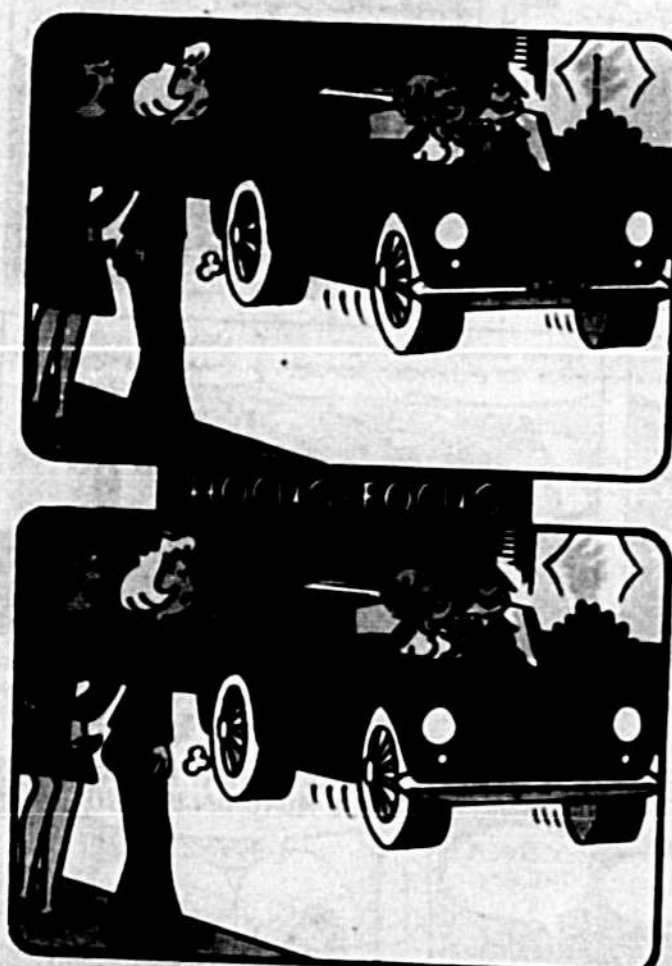

Van Espool, who said he is a personal friend of both Daniels and Pellerin, after a visit to State Attorney Douglas Cheshire's courthouse office filed a sworn complaint with Govortz claiming fraud was practiced in gaining signatures on the petitions. It is a misdemeanor effort to deceive the people of Winter Springs.

Van Espool said persons in Cheshire's office advised him to file his complaint with the city police department, which would forward it and other information gained in its investigation to the state attorney's office for action.

INVITE a friend to compete in a countdown race. You begin by jotting down a number between 1 and 10. Your friend adds a number from 1 to 10 to that, and you add another, and so on. Object is to be the one whose final score is exactly 100.

There is a secret way to win every time for the person who begins the game. That is to make sure that the sum achieved in each of his or her turns comes to exactly 12, 23, 34, 45, 56, 67, 78, 89. Once the count reaches 89, it is impossible for an opponent to win, since 10 is the most he or she can add before the race is over.

Mrs. Griffin: Didn't Mean It As Slur

Lillian Griffin feels a comment she made about black people possibly moving into a neighborhood in Lake Mary has been misinterpreted.

Mrs. Griffin made the remark while supporting a site between Poynt and Frederick avenues on Country Club Road for a new city hall. She asked a group of citizens opposing the site: "If a colored family moved in, then where would you people live?"

Several citizens expressed shock at Mrs. Griffin's remark. City Councilman Cliff Mason said he had pulled the comment out of its context. He said the same view as Mrs. Griffin.

Mrs. Griffin said she was trying to warn residents of the Country Club Road area that if housing developments there took root, they could not come to city hall to stop the project.

Mrs. Griffin said she did not mean her remark as a racist slur.

"It was not meant for that kind of remark. It was referring to a housing project," said Mrs. Griffin.

Asked if she felt people living in that area would oppose a public housing development, Mrs. Griffin replied: "well, they've opposed to everything for a new city hall."

Mrs. Griffin further said she is not "against any race."

"I've been around coloreds all my life," she said. "I'm not against coloreds. My father had a market over on Sanford Avenue in Sanford in the heart of the colored section. He had a wonderful colored trade."

Mrs. Griffin also added she would not oppose blacks moving to Lake Mary. She also noted she trades trucks with a black salesman and has a black maid.

"I'm not prejudiced. If I was prejudiced, I would not be that much involved with coloreds," said Mrs. Griffin.

Forgotten Baby Dies In Incubator

SÃO PAULO, Brazil (UPI) — Hospital obstetrics staff say they put a premature baby boy in an incubator and the child died because a Garmentini malfunctioned, police said.

Hospital officials in Santos, 50 miles east of São Paulo, reportedly tried to cover up the death by concealing the infant's body.

A police spokesman said the baby, 28-day-old Nelson Innocencio, failed to breath Thursday night in an incubator at Hospital Santa Margareta Hospital. The incubator's Garmentini apparently failed while the boy was left unattended.

When the baby's parents came to visit Friday, hospital officials told them the child died of natural causes during the night and refused to let them see the body, police said.

Investigative efforts around the parents to sign a release form stating they knew from the time of the baby's birth that he was in poor health.

The parents refused to seeing their son and finally head the buried body in the hospital morgue.

Art Program Pushed For County Schools

By LEONARD ERANDORF
Herald Staff Writer

More and more Seminole County elementary school children will within the next month be receiving an art education if Fran Kemp has his way.

Armed with a new book, "Art in Elementary," Mrs. Kemp, art consultant for the school system, is making the rounds to all elementary school faculty encouraging them to order the book and then to begin a detailed art program in the schools.

Currently, there are four art teachers, one each in four schools. In the other schools, art is now done in the regular curriculum.

"There is really no art curriculum at these schools without art teachers," Mrs. Kemp said. "The teachers are using some type of art hobby book or referring to magazines such as Home and Garden to get their lesson and as there is really no sequential program to build on," she added.

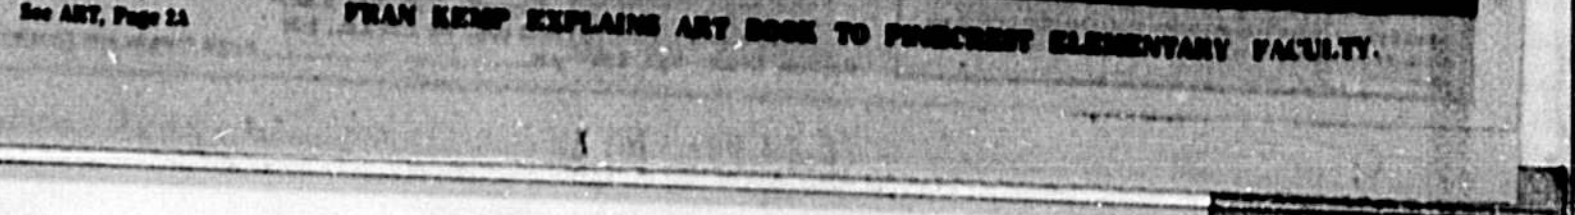

The new book, authored by two Club educators gives a detailed program that teachers could follow in teaching art to their students.

The book is made up of different lesson levels which range from pre-kindergarten to the fifth grade, according to Mrs. Kemp. Each level has an average of 10 specific activities.

As an example, Mrs. Kemp noted that in the pre-kindergarten level there are various activities dealing with developing hand-eye coordination, developing vocabulary, matching and identifying objects and simple problem solving.

Ordering the $25.00 book is required for the teacher. Thus far, Mrs. Kemp has spoken to the faculty of eight schools and has received 20 orders.
