Home Buyers Offered Variety Of Styles

New houses galore are springing up in and around Sanford, just waiting to be viewed ... and purchased ... by families desiring more modern homes. These are homes with the latest innovations

A. K. (KAY) Shoemaker Jr. is shown demonstrating the General Electric "Personal Portable" TV set which will be given as a bonus to purchasers of homes in Ravenna Park during the Home Show, now in progress. Shoemaker is president of Shoemaker Construction Company, developers of Ravenna Park and Idyllwilde.

in modern design and architecture, and with the latest conveniences.

Topa in offerings these modern residences are Kingswood Builders and Shoemaker Construction Company.

For example, Kingswood has nearly completed some homes in the $11,000 to $13,000 classification in the 1500 block of South Summerlin Avenue.

These are on large lots, running to 150-foot depths, covered with citrus, palm and pine trees. Services include city water and sewerage.

Kingswood also is starting two new homes, three and four bedrooms, in Grove Manor, at Mellonville Avenue and Washington Drive.

Two four-bedroom homes are well under way at Greenbriar of Loch Arbor, with one overlooking the 18th green of Mayfair Country Club.

Shoemaker's Home Show last weekend proved such a success that it is being carried over through this weekend.

A. K. Shoemaker Jr., president of Shoemaker Construction, estimated well over 2,000 persons inspected the modern residences on display in the new third section of Ravenna Park, on Country Club Road.

Herb Stenstrom, of Stenstrom Realty, sales agents for the Shoemaker firm, also said that many of the visitors also took advantage of the opportunity while visiting the new Ravenna Park third section to visit next door the two new homes at Idyllwilde.

Stenstrom also said that those who failed to visit the Home Show last weekend are invited to do so this weekend ... at Ravenna Park third section.

While you are out driving this week-end, take this page with you. The map above will assist you in locating some of Sanford and Seminole County's outstanding real estate. Take a circle tour and see them all, you may find just what you are looking for in the way of a home.

Holland Qualifies To Run For Fourth Term In U. S. Senate

TALLAHASSEE, (UPI)—Spessard L. Holland qualified at the secretary of state's office today to run for his fourth term in the U.S. Senate.

The 72-year-old Florida Democrat announced his plans Thursday to seek reelection at a "Holland appreciation day" at his hometown of Bartow.

"It's only natural that I return here to the old hometown to tell the best kept secret of the year—," Holland told a crowd of 2,000 friends and supporters.

"I have no political machine," the senator said, "But I do have a lot of friends."

Holland said he expects to wage a vigorous campaign in the state between now and November. To date, he has no announced opponent.

The appreciation day was sponsored by the Bartow Chamber of Commerce.

Gold Spray

SEATTLE (UPI)—A technique for spraying gold—like paint is sprayed—may result in wider use of the precious metal, says a Lockheed Missiles and Space Co., scientist.

The scientist, D. J. Levy, inventor of the technique, says the process has already been used successfully in the design of antennas for space vehicles.

Time To Patch When Cracks Creep On Wall

By MR. FIX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Plaster walls, provided they are dry, may last forever. Yet, they are likely to develop cracks nonetheless.

These are often due to the settling of a house, a process that can go on for a long time. Or damage may result from an accident, such as children playing or someone moving furniture carelessly.

The best time to repair plaster walls is right before painting. Painting will not cover up the cracks. They'll only show through the paint. But painting is necessary after patching, since you will want to cover up the patched area.

Use patching plaster, available at hardware and paint stores. Check the instructions. Some plaster mixes harden more quickly than others. Mix only the amount you can use right away.

Before mixing, prepare the damaged area. Widen the crack enough so that you can get plaster in. Undercut the crack. This will keep the plaster from falling out.

Remove all loose plaster. If it crumbles easily it will not hold the patch.

Wet the surface thoroughly. This prevents the old plaster from drawing all the moisture from the new. Fill the crack with new plaster, but not clear to the surface. Make sure the base of the opening is thoroughly filled — force in the material.

Allow the material to dry. Then apply the rest of the plaster, building up the patch so that it is level with the rest of the surface. Carefully smooth this with a trowel. If you work carefully, you should be able to run your finger over the area when dry without feeling any difference.

While you can sand the surface if it doesn't come out even, this practice will roughen ordinary patching plaster. If you are not sure of your technique use spackling compound which can be sanded easily.

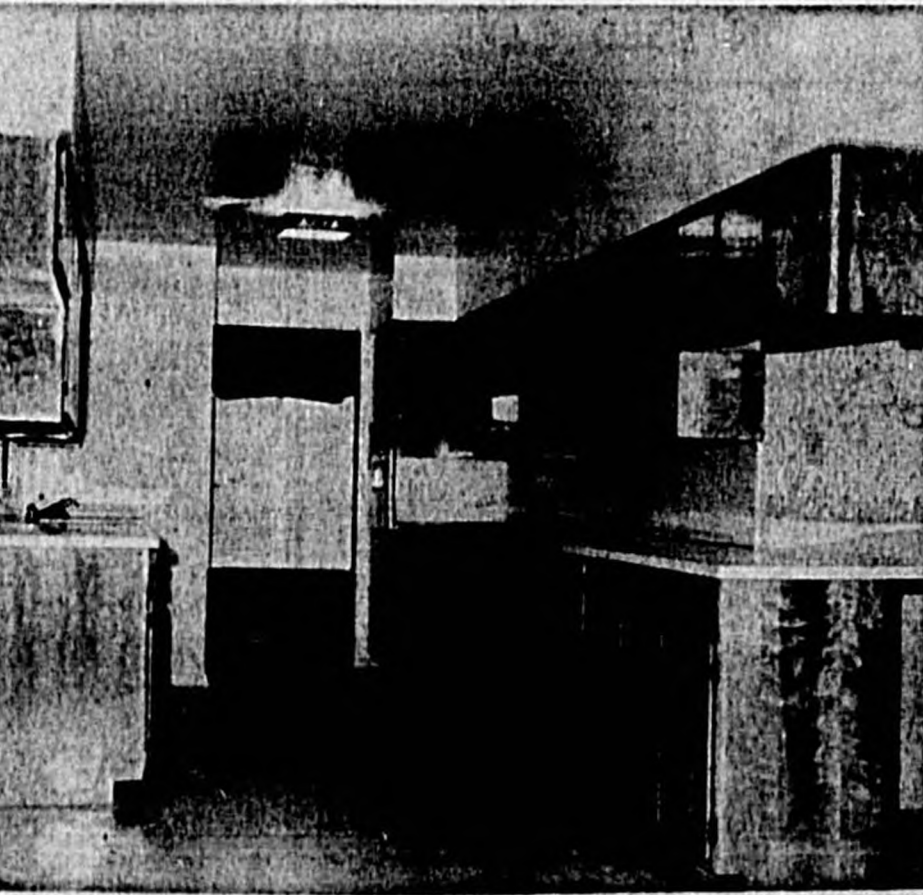

Seal the new surface with shellac. This will prevent dull spots when you paint the wall.

Give the patched area an extra priming coat before painting.

Hairline cracks are often so tiny that they can be patched with a paste of white lead and turpentine. Use a cloth to rub the mixture into the crack. Wipe away the excess while it is still wet. Sand when dry.

Up to 1881, Ocala had to depend on steamers up the St. Johns and Oklawaha Rivers for transportation to Silver Springs, thence four miles by steam train-road to Ocala.

Jury For Ruby Trial May Be Completed In 10 Days

DALLAS (UPI)—The murder — with malice trial of Jack Ruby went into its second week today with two jurors in a state of isolated togetherness and 10 more still to be picked.

State's attorneys predicted a speeding up of jury selection this week. Nevertheless, Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade said it probably would take 10 more days to complete the panel.

night sessions, things might go faster. During the first week, marked by explosively bitter outbursts of attorneys for both sides, the defense had accepted four of the veniremen.

His main theme was that Dallas was a place of such fixed opinion and bias that a fair trial could not be had here because not enough impartial jurors were available.

of questioning of the six-day week (Judge Joe B. Brown is holding Saturday sessions from here out during jury picking). Thirty-seven were excused "for cause"—including one ill and 20 who said they would be unable to return a verdict of death in the electric chair.

President Planning State Visit Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson, back from a four-day visit to California, returned to his White House desk today to catch up on business before setting out on another trip Thursday.

The White House announced no appointments today for the President and Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Johnson would not address a symposium conducted here by the American Bankers Association, as had been expected.

Canal Ceremony Slated Thursday

PALATKA (UPI) - Someone's always promised Florida a canal. The Spaniards wanted one to transport Mexico's gold. Andrew Jackson dreamed of one to aid defense against the Indians and FDR started one to put men back to work.

With great pomp on Thursday, the first spade of dirt will be turned and work will resume on a cross-Florida canal. This little town of 13,200 residents has a severe case of canal fever.

Plans call for President Johnson to attend the groundbreaking ceremony. He will be in Florida for a speech in Miami.

If the canal is actually completed this time, a good part of Florida will become an island and on the northeast corner will be the port of Palatka.

The job will require moving 87.7 million cubic yards of Florida soil, building 11 highway and three railroad bridges and constructing five locks. The 107-mile trench—12 feet deep and 150 feet wide—will cost $157.9 million.

The canal head will be at this river town, about 20 miles inland from the Atlantic and connected to the ocean by the St. Johns River. The river and the intracoastal waterway will give canal boats access to Jacksonville to the north and Cape Kennedy and Miami to the south.

(Eventually, the cross state barge canal also will link with the proposed St. Johns-Indian River Canal, connecting Sanford with the East Coast in the vicinity of Mims.)

Westward, the canal will slice south-southwest to Yanketown, a Gulf town about 75 miles northwest of Tampa. Eventually, it will meet planned waterways on the western shores.

The canal's boosters predict that when it is finished in six to eight years, the canal will help industry, provide a cheaper transportation, improve recreation and serve national defense.

Andrew Jackson was Florida's first governor. He felt a canal would enable him to move troops faster while chasing the crafty Seminole Indians. Then the Seminoles drifted further south and Jackson no longer needed a canal.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt, looking for public works projects to put the jobless back to work, proposed a ship canal across Florida. Four concrete bridge supports were built south of Ocala and now are all there is to show for $5 million spent.

The steady stream of big booster rockets coming to Cape Kennedy indicated to officials a need for a better

Bear Lake Rd. Work Started

The County Road Department has begun rebuilding Bear Lake Road from Curtis Drive 1 1/2 miles south to the Orange County line. J. C. Lavender, head of the road department, is in charge of the construction program.

Lavender said today it would require some three to four months to complete the job, depending upon the weather. He added that he hoped the residents of that area would bear with the department during this period of inconvenience. "When we're through," he said, "it will be a big improvement."

State Mediator To Take Over FEC Case

MIAMI (UPI) - State Sen. Harry Stratton, a troubleshooter for the State Labor Mediation Service, has offered to take over the job of ending the 13-month-old Florida East Coast Railway strike.

"I think we can talk the FEC's language a little better than the federal boys can," Stratton said here Sunday.

Stratton, a $500-a-month troubleshooter for the state agency, added that the federal government would have to move out of the picture before he moves in.

He said he and Dick Youngman, head of the service, will ask Gov. Farris Bryant Tuesday to urge Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz "to let us take a whack at it."

Stratton called on the State Public Utilities Commission to "bring pressure to bear" on peppy Edward Ball, 75-year-old FEC board chairman.

He also said the candidates for governor "ought to get after Ball."

Stratton's statements came less than a week after criticism of the Public Utilities Commission and the governor without success to renew by James J. Reynolds, assistant labor secretary, who tried to talk in the bitter strike.

"LET'S TALK DRY CLEANING"

By WOODROW CASH

KNITTED SUITS

We are getting many knitted suits to be cleaned, and we are very proud of our success with them. They require extreme care in handling, and the best of dry cleaning knowledge to achieve satisfactory results. Due to their popularity, the National Institute of Drycleaning has done extensive research on the subject of successful handling, and we have one of their brochures in our office for you to read to aid you in proper buying of your suit.

In brief, they advise that the buyer should be very careful in selecting the suit, particularly being careful that they do not fit too tightly, since there is progressive shrinkage. By this, they mean that the first cleaning may not make much difference in the garment, but after two or three, or more, cleanings, there will be a slight difference. So be sure it fits loosely enough to allow for this small tightening of the weave. Careful handling in our special Sanitone method, by trained cleaners and pressers, will insure the life of the garment and minimize the dangers of shrinkage. The popular Italian knits have a looser weave, thereby greater shrinkage, and should be bought a little larger than the American weave. During the long summer months, they should be carefully cleaned, mothproofed, and stored to protect them. With this kind of care, they will give you good wearability for a long time. Remember, for the best in drycleaning in either knits or any garment, your Sanitone dealer can offer you the best retail call, or drop by, your Downtown Cleaners today for the information on modern and expert drycleaning.

Rocky Road To Wealth

No one thinks of Washington, D.C., as being in a mining area, but the land near the nation's capital holds rich veins of an important resource.

The resource is plain old gravel, which the U.S. Geological Survey reports is in abundant supply near Beltsville, Md., just northeast of Washington.

The resource is important because tremendous amounts of gravel, together with sand, are consumed in the making of concrete throughout the United States. In 1962, about 777 million tons of sand and gravel were produced in the nation. By 1970, annual production is expected to amount to a billion tons.

Beltsville supplies some of the best gravel in the country. It was laid down in channels by a river system believed to have existed 100 million years ago.

Today, parts of the Beltsville lode that have not been prospected or tapped are in danger of being covered over by housing developments.

Galileo: World Architect

February 15 marked the 400th anniversary of the birth of the man who may justly be called the architect of the modern world: Galileo Galilei.

Before him, science was little advanced beyond the stage reached by the Greeks, whose notions about many things were as mistaken as they were revered and unchallengeable. Science was a branch of philosophy and knowledge was gained by "pure" reason, by applying the rules of logic to observed facts.

Galileo added the leavening factors of experimentation and direct investigation to found the modern scientific method. An insatiable curiosity about the world around him inspired all his work. He had to touch, to measure, to see for himself — and he saw things no man before him ever had.

It is almost impossible today to appreciate the shock that Galileo's discoveries caused in the late medieval world. True, Copernicus 20 years before Galileo's birth had taken the earth from the center of the universe and replaced it with the sun, but this theory was given little credence.

Each finding of Galileo jolted a hallowed belief: All bodies fell at the same rate of speed; the sun was not a perfect thing but was marred by spots on its face; the moon was covered with mountains and craters; the earth was not the center of all things because Jupiter had at least four moons that revolved about her; the Milky Way contained stars man could not see (thus exploding the ancient belief that the stars existed for the glory of man); finally, the earth turned about its axis.

For such heresies, especially the last, the full weight of orthodoxy was brought to bear upon Galileo. At 69, under threat of torture by the Inquisition, he publicly recanted.

Legend says he muttered under his breath: "Eppur si muove!" — "Nevertheless, it (the earth) moves!" But it was Galileo who had moved the earth out of centuries of dark ignorance into the light of knowledge.

Standing on Galileo's shoulders, Newton later saw more deeply and clearly into the universe, and after Newton, Einstein. All those who have followed Galileo have built upon his work, as will all those to come.

Bruce Bissat -- Ray Cromley Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Lyndon Johnson's way with the printed word is something you still can't find agreement on even after a quarter of a year in office.

There are those among his aides and friends who insist he is more a listener than a reader. Yet some who deal with him most say he prefers to see things in writing, and will plow through an incredible amount of written material.

One who puts the President in the second category nevertheless adds that he has "less idle intellectual curiosity and does less reading for his own sake" than the late John F. Kennedy.

Comments of this order feed the notion that Johnson reads hard and long on those matters of importance which come before him — and stops right there.

This seems to be the way his mind works. Says an associate: "The moment a problem is past, all the President's brain cells zero in on the next one with almost frightening intensity."

This stess on his being an "action reader" annoys one friend, however, who sees in it the converse idea that he is "not an intellectual."

But Johnson himself evidently has fretted at times over where he stands in the scale of things.

"A man who can look back on nearly two decades of association with him says that when he moved from the House to the Senate 15 years ago, he wondered how — with his teacher college background — he would fit in with colleagues who regularly spouted from the classics.

"After about four months," says this man, "the President found that he was just as classical as he needed to be." If he is not full master of the classics, neither — obviously — is he simply a dogged reader of staff memoranda and official documents.

Aide George Reedy says Johnson has read just about every known work that has anything to do with Texas history and politics, including the lives of such heroes as Sam Houston and Stephen Austin, one of the Texas Republic's chief founders.

Other Johnson heroes are Andrew Jackson and Daniel Webster. He enjoys American biography and history, and devours any book he can find on current politics, in the foreign field, a favorite of his is British writer Barbara Ward.

Johnson also consumes newspapers in staggering volume, starting at 6:30 or so in the morning. Those who thought they would never see another fine-tooth-comb newspaper reader like Kennedy have had to think again. One of the White House staff says: "The new President not only reads every newspaper he can get his hands on. He reads every edition!"

Johnson has already demonstrated, too, that he is at least as sensitive as was Kennedy to criticism or erroneous accounts of his activities which he finds in those papers.

A few aides think that, if anything, the President — cramping hard in his new job — reads too much heavy, official stuff. They suggest he palm some of it off on them.

They'd like nothing better than to hear that the improbable Ian Fleming, British spy story writer enjoyed by Kennedy, had been installed again at the presidential bedside as a change of pace.

Captain Bligh, against the crew of the H.M.S. Bounty mutinied, eventually navigated his open boat 4,000 miles before being rescued and returned to England. In 1801, he participated in the battle of Copenhagen and earned the commendation of Nelson. After becoming the governor of New South Wales, Bligh was again the victim of a mutiny.

Letters

To The Editor

The Herald welcomes letters from its readers on public affairs. The writer may use a pen name provided the letter also carries the writer's true name and address. Letters of fewer than 250 words will be given preference. Letters addressed to others are unacceptable provided they do not deal in personalities. Poetry is not published by The Herald.

I appreciate your interest in keeping the public informed of what is going on in and around Sanford.

But I realize you need more help from the people of Sanford. I think our leaders are taking too wild a look at things. Why don't we look at the inside of Sanford? Our streets have not been repaved since they were built. We have lot after lot in the woods because someone bought the lot for taxes and cannot sell. He will have to pay the government more than he paid for it.

Here are a few thoughts. Please urge a city ordinance that an open lot in the city limits must be cleaned when necessary. And if he does not clean it the city will and add it to his tax bill.

Urge railroads to clean rights-of-way and keep crossings in repair.

Look a little closer home. Urge the city keep their yards, as on Sixth Street, in better trim.

We might get a new house once in a while in the city limits.

I have lived at 1012 W. Third Street for eight years. The westside almost is cut off with deadend streets and a railroad crossing.

I could go on with many things that would help Sanford. Will wait and see what happens to these suggestions. If I get any results I will write you again.

Simpson Gallard

Editor's Note: We believe our leadership is trying to take a long range, objective look into the future. As far as streets, The Herald has reported on a number of resurfacing programs just completed by the City. But we will agree that many lots in Sanford could and should be cleaned up by the owners.

Editor, Herald:

I have been advised by Mrs. Lorraine Graham, executive secretary of the Central Florida TB and RD Association, that the Seminole County unit has attained its goal of $10,000 this year, and I want to extend my thanks and appreciation to The Sanford Herald for its co-operation, the chairman who have contributed so much and every single person who gave so generously of their money and time to this cause. I extend to Mrs. Graham a special thanks.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE R-491: Doris F., aged 14, has a sister Jane, who is 16.

"Dr. Crane," her mother lamented, "the girls are always quarreling about their household chores."

"If they are to do the dinner dishes, then they argue as to who shall wash them versus who shall dry them."

"And this keeps on with reference to almost every task assigned to them."

"So it wears me out just listening to their debates. Is there any psychological strategy by which to stop this feuding?"

"And aren't boys just as much addicted to such quarreling, too?"

Yes, boys as well as girls will feud with their siblings (brothers and sisters) about chores and even the larger piece of cake.

Children also resent having tasks "forced" on them. They don't like to be "ordered" around.

Instead, they prefer to be free agents and do their own choosing.

So you parents can eliminate much of their quarreling, plus resentment toward you, by writing each task on a separate card.

Then dump all the cards into a small cardboard box or round oatmeal carton. Mix them thoroughly.

Then have a "drawing" at the dinner table!

Let each child take its turn at reaching inside the box to pull out a card.

On that card will be his chore, such as washing the dishes.

This strategy reduces the child's hostility to parents, for it seems to make "chance" responsible for his task.

Thus, he tends to blame himself of his own "bad luck" if he gets stuck with the chore of washing dishes instead of drying them.

List other tasks, such as going to the store or washing the car, etc.

For variation, you can also combine family fun with this allotment of chores.

Assemble the family around the table and start some game in which each person gets an individual score. Then the lowest scorer washes the dinner dishes while the one with the next poorest score must dry them. By thus placing a penalty ask their mother to let the unwashed dishes pile up all day to add more zest to our evening game! Try this stunt. It's fun.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Sanford Herald, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago you had a whole column of letters on how to quit smoking. Would you please consider running it again?

DEAR ABBY: In PHILLY DEAR "NEEDS IT": With pleasure!

DEAR ABBY: My man smoked three packs of cigarettes a day and used up a whole box of snuff, too. He said that his mouth felt like the bottom of a bird cage. He got a prescription from his doctor for something that was guaranteed to curb his desire for smoking. I don't know what it was, but I know I saw a miracle happen because my husband hasn't smoked in four years.

OLIE'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: One day, 12 years ago, I decided that smoking was a filthy, stupid and expensive habit, so I made up my mind to quit. This is what I did. The moment I walked into a room I announced, "I'VE QUIT SMOKING." After that I couldn't very well burn a cigarette off anyone, and I didn't carry them myself. I knew that I didn't dare beg a smoke or I'd make myself look like a real jerk. It was a matter of pride.

NO JERK

DEAR ABBY: After having the cigarette habit for 40 years, I took my cigarettes out of my pocket and said, "You have been bossing me around for 40 years, now I am going to boss YOU around." I put away the pack and never smoked again. That was 15 years ago. I'm now 92 and feel fine.

W.H.E. (Ontario)

DEAR ABBY: When I had to have a cigarette before I could open my eyes fully in the morning, I knew I had better quit. I tried to taper off, but that never works. I finally walked into a church one morning (it wasn't even of my own denomination), got down on my knees and prayed to God to deliver me of the habit. And do you know, I haven't smoked or even had the desire to since? When everything else fails, try prayer.

AN ORDINARY GUY

DEAR ABBY: My husband smoked like a chimney. He had a lung X-ray taken at the suggestion of his physician. A dark shadow was discovered on his lung. Fortunately it was NOT cancer, but my husband snipped off that part of the X-ray and taped it to a package of cigarettes. He carries it with him and now every time he is tempted to smoke, he looks at that X-ray and takes a peppermint drop instead.

GRATEFUL

DEAR ABBY: Here is a proven method for overcoming the cigarette habit. If a person smokes 40 cigarettes a day, he should cut down to 39 the first day, 38 the second, 37 the third and so forth. It takes a lot of will-power, but if I could do it (I was a four-pack-a-day smoker for 32 years) anybody can.

WILLPOWER WILL

DEAR ABBY: A psychologist once told me that in order to break a habit, substitute another one. So, instead of reaching for a cigarette, reach for a piece of gum, a carrot stick or a piece of licorice. It really works. When you finally get your sense of taste and smell back again, you will never go back to smoking. It happened to me after 30 years.

SUBSTITUTE

DEAR ABBY: I sat down one day, at the age of 48, and started to add up the amount of money I had spent for cigars since I started to smoke them at the age of 24. When I realized that $5,000 had gone up in smoke, I lost my appetite for smoking.

SMART TOO LATE

DEAR ABBY: I was a chain smoker for over 40 years. I started to get pains in my chest and I had a dry cough that came and went, but I didn't worry about it too much. I went to the doctor and he examined me thoroughly. He shook his head and said, "Either give up smoking—or else I will not be responsible for your condition." I took the cigarettes out of my shirt pocket, tossed them in his waste basket and made up my mind that I had had my last one. And I have. I am 77 years old and no amount of money could make me smoke another cigarette. The answer: WILLPOWER. NO GIMMICKS.

We The Women:

In the future American home, design will emphasize "apartness" rather than "togetherness," says the editor-in-chief of a home decorating magazine.

And it's about time, too. Members of a family seem to live more happily together when a house has some hide-aways where one member of the family can find peace and quiet when he wants it. Ideally, the head of the family should have a small room of his own—used to be called a den—where he can have a desk to work on, a couch for a nap, shelves for his books and a filing cabinet for important papers.

His wife needs her own office cubbyhole (perhaps, in the kitchen) with a telephone ing alcove open to the living room, or a dining area in the play room open to the kitchen.

Every room ought to have a real door. Not a screen or a folding plastic door nor a room divider or any of the other modern excuses for a door, but a real door. Something that when closed requires a polite knock by any member of the family wanting to enter.

Of course, this is the ideal set-up and requires more space than many families can afford. Still, there are plenty of families today living in homes large enough to provide such privacy but don't slum because they were built in the era of togetherness when the ideal was open space instead of privacy.

Cats Ready To Wrap Up 21st Cage Title

By United Press International
The high-scoring Kentucky Wildcats can wrap up their 21st Southeastern Conference basketball championship this week and then go after an unprecedented fifth national title.

The nationally third-ranked Wildcats, who have already won twice as many NCAA crowns as any other team, moved out in front in the SEC race Saturday night and can assure themselves of no worse than a playoff with a victory in tonight's visit to Alabama.

Kentucky, nicknamed the "Century Express" for ten 100 points or better performances this season, missed No. 11 by a single point Saturday night in a 99-79 victory over Auburn. The Wildcats' chief competitor, Georgia Tech, dropped a game off the pace with an 81-62 upset at the hands of Georgia.

As the almost-over race now stands, Kentucky has a 10-2 SEC record; Georgia Tech is 9-3; and Tennessee, which Kentucky meets next Saturday, is a distant third at 7-4. Tennessee was upset by Alabama, 67-64.

Two wins this week by Kentucky and it's all over. Georgia Tech, in its last season of SEC play before turning independent, needs victories over Florida and Vanderbilt and a Kentucky loss to force a playoff.

Tennessee's position appears hopeless. Kentucky would have to lose both of its games for the Vols to return to contention—a highly unlikely happening.

Georgia Tech goes to Florida tonight while Tennessee will be at Auburn. The only other SEC action finds ninth-ranked Vanderbilt at Georgia.

Isabel Goshorn In 200 Class

Isabel Goshorn couldn't have picked a better time to bowl her first 200 game according to the girls on Karn's Insurance team. Why so? Karn's and Badcock Furniture were tied for first place going into last week's action in the Bowlerettes League and while Karn's was grabbing a three-point win over Mary Carter Faints the up and coming Isabel personally took charge of the match between her mates the Mary Esthers' squad and Badcock Furniture by virtue of a tremendous 210 game and a 508 series as she led them to a four-point sweep.

Seminole County Motors took three wins from Sanford Sewing Center to cling to their third place spot in league standings. Nancy Conway rolled a turkey enroute to a fine 182 game as she led Seminole County Motors in the second game.

Shirley Martin tore them up for Karns with a 172/494. Jane Spolaki rolled 186/483 to help the 'Lil Buggers gain a split with Cut 'N Curl. Gert Bridges paced Cut 'N Curl with 192/486. Marlene Reynolds bowled a 171 for high game in the second game of the Mary Esthers-Badcock Furniture match.

Three girls came through with turkeys this week, namely Isabel Goshorn, Jane Spolaki and Nancy Conway. Spitta were plentiful but the girls were equal to the occasion as Marlene Reynolds converted the difficult 3-9-10, Susie Long and Nancy Conway made the 4-5-7, Louise Grayson the 4-5-7, Isabel Goshorn the 4-5-7, Alice Hall the 5-10 and Cacky Meredith the 5-6.

Finley Pulls A Reversal

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Charles O. Finley, embattled owner of the Kansas City Athletics, jumped from the clutches of the American League back into the collective lap of the city council today.

The unpredictable owner pulled the unexpected again Sunday night by accepting the city's demand for a four-year lease on Municipal Stadium, a lease he repeatedly had vowed never to sign.

But the city was in no hurry to put its signature on the dotted lines. Finley, who has threatened to sue the American League, made it clear he was accepting the lease in the face of a league threat to kick him out of baseball.

Mayor Ross W. Davis, to whom Finley addressed his telegram of acquiescence, said he was happy that the owner had accepted the city's proposal.

But the mayor and other city officials declined further comment.

Spring Work Set By Canes

CORAL GABLES (UPI)—The Miami Hurricanes will go into spring training beginning on March 24, University of Miami head coach Charlie Tate said Saturday.

Tate said the annual night intrasquad game is set for April 25 in the Orange Bowl. Tate said he plans four workouts a week during the spring sessions.

The Hurricanes will have 18 lettermen from the 1963 team for this year's squad. Among the 18 stars lost were All-America quarterback George Mira and tackle Don Connors, Tate said.

Auxiliary Sets Card Party

By Mrs. Adam Muller
Plans for a card party to be sponsored by the Auxiliary to DeBary's World War I Veterans, Barracks 1197, were made at the February meeting of the group.

The party will be held at the Community Center on March 31 beginning at 7 p. m.

President Margaretta Holmes installed Ruth LaChat as color guard and four new members, Mrs. H. A. Bourdeau, Mrs. W. A. Shambley, Mrs. A. Bisnet and Mrs. Bertram Collard, were welcomed.

A Valentine luncheon was served and a farewell was extended Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Kahoe who are leaving DeBary for Pittsburg. Mrs. Kahoe is a past president of the auxiliary.

Barracks 1197 Gets Award

By Mrs. Adam Muller
A commendation for having 100 per cent paid membership as of June 1, 1964, was presented World War I Veterans, Barracks 1197 of DeBary, at this month's meeting of the group held in the Community Center.

Reports were heard on the State District meeting in Tampa and on progress made on veterans legislation at the national level.

A committee was appointed to meet with other organizations in the community to urge that the Community Center be installed with a rolling center wall in order that the building may be used for two meetings at the same time. It was pointed out that the installation also would increase revenue for the center.

New members joining the barracks at this time were Walter A. Shambley, Ted R. Leigh, Bertram Collard and Homer A. Borbeau.

Select Vegetables According To Vitamins

Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent, says to get the most vitamins for your vegetable dollar, remember these tips.

You can get several times as much vitamin A from bright orange, mature carrots as from pale-colored, young ones. Even so, young carrots are a good source of vitamin A.

Choose deep-orange varieties of sweet potatoes for highest vitamin A value.

The dark-green leaves of leafy vegetables are richer in nutrients, particularly vitamins A and C, than light-green leaves. Peppers are high in vitamin A and C.

Vegetables are a primary source of vitamins A and C.

Meat Tips Used For Protein Value Conservation

By Myrtle Wilson

Meats shrink in weight and volume as they cook. Much of the total loss is water, which evaporates or goes into the drippings. Some fat also is in the drippings.

The protein value of meat is not destroyed by cooking and only small amounts of it go into the drippings. Even when meats and poultry are stewed in large amounts of water, not more than ten percent of the protein passes from meat to broth.

Some thiamine and vitamin B are lost in cooking, but ribo-flavin and niacin are less susceptible to loss in cooking. Roasting meat to the rare stage conserves more thiamine than cooking it to the well-done stage.

Visit our Cooking School on March 10 and learn the latest in cooking protein best.

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson
Mrs. H. L. Yates of Sanford has come to the rescue of Harriett Nixon. She says that she puts vinegar into her steam iron and lets it boil in the iron. Then she puts clean water in it to wash it out. If the holes are stopped up she uses a needle to open them up. Mrs. Yates also tells us that she uses vinegar and a toothbrush to clean the bathroom fixtures. Thank you very much for sharing this with us.

Rachael Donelson gives us her favorite pound cake recipe.
6 eggs, separated
3 cups granulated sugar
1 cup sour cream
2 sticks margarine
3 cups flour
1/2 tsp. soda
2 tps. vanilla
1 tsp. lemon extract
pinch of salt
Cream sugar and butter. Sift salt, soda and flour together, add to first mixture with egg yolks. Beat egg whites and fold in last. Grease and flour a tube pan or loaf pan, pour in mixture. Bake in 300 degree oven for 1 hour or longer.
If you do not happen to have any sour cream on hand Mrs. Donelson says she uses 1 cup of undiluted evaporated milk and 1 tsp. vinegar. Let it stand a few minutes.

Have had a lot of requests for the Vanilla Cake recipe. I tried this one and it is wonderful and easy to make. Instead of the tube pan, though, I used a large loaf pan.
2 sticks margarine
2 cups sugar
6 whole eggs
1/2 cup milk
1 12-oz. box vanilla wafers
1 7-oz. pkg. flaked coconut
1 cup chopped pecans
Cream margarine and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat after each. Crush the vanilla wafers and add alternately with the milk. Add coconut and pecans. Bake in greased pan at 325 degrees for 1 hour and 15 minutes. You will notice that it does not call for any flour. The wafers are the reason for that.

Here's another quickie.
SAILBOATS
1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
8 hard rolls
1/4 cup chopped pepper (green)
1 tps. margarine
1/2 cup condensed tomato soup
1 egg, beaten
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. garlic salt
Cut slices from top of rolls and hollow out center of each. Save tops for croissants and use center portion for bread crumbs. Cook onion and green pepper in butter or margarine until tender. Combine bread crumbs, tomato soup and egg. Add ground beef, onion, green pepper, salt, pepper and garlic salt and mix well. Fill hollowed rolls with meat mixture. Place in a shallow pan and bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees 30 to 40 minutes or until meat is browned. Serves 6 to 8.

NOTICE . . . Watch for a cooking school coming here shortly for Mr. and Mrs. Sara Hodge has a request for Calamondin Preserves. Here is the recipe from the Home Demonstration office.
Select 4 cups firm fruit, free of blemishes. Wash. Cut in halves. Remove seeds. Slice thinly or put through food chopper. Measure fruit. Place in saucepan. For each cup of fruit add 3 cups water. Bring to boil. Cook 15 minutes. May let stand overnight or cook into marmalade immediately.

ELEPHANT EARS
1 cup coarsely chopped canned apple slices
1 cup canned apple sauce
1/2 cup light brown sugar
1/4 tsp. cornstarch
1/4 tsp. cinnamon
2 tps. butter
1/2 cup milk
Combine apple slices, apple sauce, sugar, cornstarch, cinnamon and butter. Simmer until thickened, stirring constantly. Cool.
Prepare biscuit mix according to directions on pkg. using 1/2 cup milk. Divide dough

DRIED BEEF FILLING
4 ozs. dried beef
1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese
1/2 cup half and half cream
1 tps. mayonnaise
1/2 cup finely chopped chutney
12 slices bread
Soften cheese with cream and mayonnaise. Add the dried beef and chutney and mix well. Roll each slice of bread to 1/4 inch thickness. Spread filling on each slice. Roll and chill with seam down for 2 hours. Slice 1/4 inch thick for pinwheel sandwiches.

into two portions. Roll out each portion into a piece 13 1/2" long by 8 1/2" wide. Spread the apple mixture down center of dough. Fold over sides about 2" toward center, fold over again to meet in center. Moisten edges, fold over pressing edges lightly together. Cut each roll in six equal portions. Place cut side down on greased baking pan. Bake at 400 degrees, 18 to 20 minutes. Makes 12.

If Marriage Is On Rocks?

By Charis W. Schoeneman
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
(Fifth of 10 Articles)

Along with the husband's wreckage, a marriage broken by divorce or separation leaves a host of tax problems and confusion. This article will tell how to handle alimony and support payments on 1963 tax returns.

A man who itemizes deductions may deduct alimony or separate maintenance payments as they are defined in the tax law.

He may not deduct payments which have been specifically designated as support for minor children.

Whatever money is deducted by the man as alimony or separate maintenance is, however, taxable income for the woman who receives it.

Child support payments, since they are not deductible for the man, are not considered taxable income for the woman.

To be deductible, alimony and separate maintenance payments must satisfy each of the following tests:

—They must be required under or incident to a court decree of either divorce or separate maintenance or under a written separation agreement or a support decree.

—They must have been either paid in discharge of a legal obligation based upon the marriage or family relationship, or required by the support decree, or made under the separation agreement and because of the marriage or family relationship.

—They must have been paid after the decree of divorce or separation, or after the separation agreement.

—They must generally have been what the law calls "periodic payments."

(It is true that certain installment payments of a total fixed amount of alimony may be deductible, even though they do not technically qualify as "periodic payments." But you must check carefully to see whether such installment payments of a specific total sum are in this category.)

What is meant by "periodic payments?" They may be either payment of fixed amounts for an indefinite period of time or payments of an indefinite amount (like a percentage of salary) for a fixed or indefinite period. They need not be made at regular intervals.

Generally, fixed payments for a fixed period of less than 10 years are not periodic payments and are not deductible.

Carolyn King Melon Queen

CYPRESS GARDENS (UPI) —Carolyn King, a slender blonde from Bartow, will be Florida's entry in the National Watermelon Queen contest at Jacksonville next month.

Miss King won the Florida watermelon queen title at Cypress Gardens Sunday, July 1, Lynn Prince 21, Land O'Lakes was runner up. Both girls are students at the University of Florida.

Scientists tell us that the camel family had its start in North America and not in Asia as we might suppose.

The only exception to this is where a contingency, such as death or remarriage, can terminate the less-than-10-year obligation. Then the payments will qualify as deductible "periodic payments."

Are a divorce lawyer's fee deductible? No. Ordinarily not, unless the fee can qualify as payments in connection with tax advice.

Sometimes a divorced husband is required by a court to pay the insurance, mortgage, interest, taxes and utilities for a house he and his ex-wife still own jointly (with rights of survivorship). Are these expenses deductible as alimony? No. The IRS says he cannot deduct as alimony any of these expenses, except the utilities. However, he can deduct the interest and taxes to the extent these items ordinarily are deductible by any homeowner.
