Opening May Be Delayed Again Zoo Requests Run Into Snag

By MICK LOCHRIDGE
Herald Staff Writer

Opening of the Central Florida Zoo, already postponed once, may be postponed again if the Seminole County Commission doesn't pay $50,000 for finishing a road paving project at the park grounds, an official with the Central Florida Zoological Society said this morning.

Society President Jim Ryan said that the zoo cannot be opened until the paving is complete and that the Commission is the only place Ryan can find which would be able to provide the funds.

But funding requests totaling just under a quarter of a million dollars to pay for preparing the park lands at the Central Florida Zoo received an ice cold reception yesterday from the Seminole County Commission.

The requests, which came to the Commission in a resolution from the Zoological Society, included the County picking up a $100,000 bank note signed by 28 members of the Society.

The resolution, penned by Ryan, also requested the $50,000 for paving projects in the park, $50,000 for fencing the more than 80 acres of the park, $20,000 for maintaining the park lands and the $30,000 purchase of five more acres to be included in the park.

According to Ryan, all the requested monies are to be spent on the county park lands and not for the 21 acres of the zoo.

Commissioners told Society Executive Director Alan E. Rozon the requests would be considered and Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. said he would get in touch with Society officials later this week.

County Attorney Tom Freeman, immediately upon hearing the request for the county to pick up the bank note, told the Board such action would be "illegal."

Opening of the new zoo has been postponed from May 31 until July 4 because of a "snag" in completing the paving of the road system and parking lots, according to Rozon.

Use Of Buildings, Mail, Bulletin Boards Refused SEA, Board Debate 'Paternalism' During Talks Session

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

Talks between the Seminole Education Association (SEA) and the School Board ground down to arguments over paternalism versus non-paternalism during the major part of yesterday's more than four hour bargaining session.

"Are you trying to punish us for exercising our rights to collective bargaining?" SEA chief negotiator Steve Rosenthal asked Harry Pelley, the School Board's main man at the bargaining table.

"Saying SEA wants it 'both ways,'" Pelley told Rosenthal. "You don't like the paternalistic system, but bargaining is give and take. It's a new ball game."

Rosenthal in turn told Pelley that "if you're trying to push us apart, you're doing a good job. I haven't seen 'good faith' bargaining on your part."

The exchange of verbal blows came during a discussion of Association and Teacher Rights in which Pelley refused to allow SEA the use of school buildings for meetings "during reasonable hours."

"We're trying to punish us for exercising our rights to collective bargaining," SEA chief negotiator Steve Rosenthal asked Harry Pelley, the School Board's main man at the bargaining table.

"Saying SEA wants it 'both ways,'" Pelley told Rosenthal. "You don't like the paternalistic system, but bargaining is give and take. It's a new ball game."

Rosenthal, who said Pelley has no right to mention "money," said SEA needed good communication among teachers within the association and that communication ultimately will benefit the educational system.

"Good communication as long as somebody else pays for it," Pelley retorted. "You were hired to teach, and we are not providing a communication system."

"Principals were hired to communicate; you were hired to teach," Pelley added. That comment drew guffaws from SEA negotiators who feel communication is one of the most important aspects of student-teacher relationships.

Rosenthal accused Pelley of trying to put the "onus" on the SEA and told Pelley School Board negotiators "shouldn't be meeting during school hours."

Rosenthal's reasoning was that taxpayers are paying for members of Pelley's team to meet during school hours while team members were hired for purposes other than collective bargaining. For example, one Pelley team member Bob Hughes, is principal at a South Seminole school. That argument stems from the fact that School Supt. Bud Layer has directed Pelley not to approve of any during-school-hour bargaining sessions. Layer's reasoning, like Pelley's, is that teachers were hired to teach and cannot be spared from classroom activities.

Yesterday's meeting became "more pleasant" towards the end, according to SEA team member Bill Moore.

"During the 'more pleasant time,'" the two teams tentatively agreed that the SEA president may go on campuses for purposes of contract maintenance. But that may happen only with prior approval from the principal of the school to be visited. If the principal disagrees, SEA may institute a grievance.

County To Re-Hire 34 School Teachers

Tonight's selection of two new principals will mean jobs for 44 teachers, School Supt. Bud Layer said today.

Layer said 10 teachers will be placed on continuing contract for the two schools and 34 teachers will be rehired. Some 208 teachers await contract approval for next year.

The fact that the U.S. Justice Department, as of this morning, had not come through with a ruling as promised on the closing of Rosenwald Elementary will not affect the hiring of the principals.

"We've got to," Layer said, referring to the upcoming selection at 7 p.m. at Lyman High School.

Other persons scheduled to appear at tonight's meeting will be waiting until this week to formally deliver the ruling.

But then Keeley told The Herald's Washington sources on Monday that the decision hadn't been made. Both Keeley and Doughterty have been working on the case. Doughterty was out of town today, Keeley said.

The Rosenwald issue ties in with tonight's selection of principals because the principal of Rosenwald may be one of the two in contention for one of the two newly created positions.

Rosenwald Principal Jesse Meuse is sure to be under consideration for one of the principal's positions — that is, if Rosenwald is closed. If not, that might significantly change the picture.

Blacks fought the move to close Rosenwald. First they boycotted the all-black school near Allamonte Springs. Then they organized and stirred up a three-day black boycott of all schools in the county.

They contend Rosenwald is a part of their cultural heritage and as such should not be closed. They say white students should be based in — not black students out.

Both Layer and black spokesmen, however, have agreed to abide by whatever decision is reached by the Justice Department.

Harrell Says Jail Needs More Space For Storage

By GLENN MCASLAND AND MICK LOCHRIDGE
Herald Staff Writers

Seminole County sheriff's deputies are dressing for work at home these days because they can't use the showers in their master room at the county jail.

The reason is because stacks and stacks of white sidewall tires are stored inside the shower and restroom facility on the second floor of the sheriff's office and jail.

Deputies bringing a prisoner into the "sally port" (jail drive) at the county jail can't use the escape-proof drive because of some 200-plus bicycles which are stacked inside the parking area.

Jailers needing to move prisoners from the main and second floors of the lock-up in case of fire can't use a stairway for an escape route because of recent files and cartons of other equipment sitting along the steps.

"The need for storage space has reached such a state that it's affecting the morale of our men," Chief Deputy Duane Harrell said today as he toured the sheriff's office with newsmen.

"If we have a fire in the jail and we had to move prisoners out, the only route to the roof and safety is blocked because of storage space problems," he explained. "If we had to take them out the sally port area, we'd have to climb over all those bicycles stacked out there because there is no other place to put them."

And if the patrol deputies want a quick shower when they come off duty, they have to wait until they reach home because of the tires stacked up to the ceiling inside the shower area.

The issue of storage space came to a head yesterday when Seminole County Commissioners were asked by Corrections Division Chief George Proudfoot for some 2,500 square feet of storage space at a new county-owned building at the Five Points area.

The request was the second such proposal from Sheriff John Polk since January 15, when Polk addressed a two page letter to the commissioners citing the need for more storage space.

Proudfoot told the Board of the storage problems with the bicycles and other "associated items."

Proudfoot's suggestion that more space be provided for storage was met with inquiries from commissioners concerning public sales of the property.

Commissioner Mike Hattaway told Proudfoot that the Orange County Sheriff's Department holds frequent sales of property and Hattaway asked Proudfoot why Polk hasn't held a sale.

Proudfoot, who said there hasn't been a public sale of property in more than a year, said the Sheriff is "now in the process to get court's permission to sell the property."

County Attorney Tom Freeman told commissioners there is a procedure to follow for establishing a sale, but "the sheriff hasn't started."

Freeman was instructed by commission to inquire into the procedure for holding a sale and report to the Board.

Meanwhile, Commissioner Dick Williams is preparing a list of criteria to determine which county departments will be allotted space in a storage building.

Priorities which Williams cited yesterday include state requirements for providing storage space, access needed to the storage building, and the length of time the stored item would be expected to remain in the storage building.

Hattaway and Williams expressed concern to Proudfoot that the public constantly would be entering the storage building looking for their property.

"It's either the new building or not at all," Harrell said in explanation. "None of the material, equipment or property which is stored in our offices and jail is evidence that must go to court," Harrell said. "We have a stalled area for that. But these bicycles — found during patrol or recovered in bike thefts — have to stay some place until the court issues an order allowing us to sell them at auction."

"We can't just put $5,000 of new tires anywhere and expect they'll stay there. So we have to store them where they're safe. Only place is inside the patrol division master room — it's the only spot large enough for that many tires."

"The equipment and all of the records stored in the jail stairway area can't be disposed of as yet or must be kept for office needs."

WORLD IN BRIEF

Two U.S. Officers Killed By Iranian Terrorists

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Three terrorists shot and killed two U.S. Air Force officers... One of the officers was killed on the spot, while the other was killed later in a hospital.

Saigon Has New Face

SAIGON (AP) — There are strange sights and sounds in Saigon today for someone who knew the South Vietnamese capital before the Communists took it over.

A blue-gray helicopter of Air America, the airline financed by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, whirred overhead... It was piloted by a young man who appeared to be a Communist.

At Tan Son Nhut air base the Pentagon East, the headquarters of the U.S. Military Assistance Command Vietnam (MACV) and later the U.S. Defense Attache's Office, lies in ruins.

The Americans apparently destroyed it with thermite grenades, TNT and gasoline during their hasty pullout to keep documents and equipment from falling into Communist hands.

Kissinger In West Berlin

BONN, West Germany (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger flew to West Berlin today to make a speech giving the Communists another warning not to drag the wrong conclusion about the United States from their conquest of South Vietnam.

Anarchists' Trial Starts

STUTTGART, West Germany (AP) — Andreas Beader and Ulrike Meinhof, West Germany's Bonnie and Clyde, go on trial today in a special courthouse built in a maximum-security prison at a cost of $5 million.

Altamonte Revokes Billboard Permit

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — City Commissioners last night revoked a billboard construction permit issued to Florida Media Inc. and authorized Mayor Norman Floyd to negotiate a settlement with the company to avert a lawsuit.

Harrell Says Jail Needs More Space For Storage

Jail stairwell is fire hazard because of equipment storage. "We appreciate the fact that a cruiser can't be driven into the area and the gate dropped, thus preventing a possible escape of a prisoner, and secondly, while walking a prisoner into the jail, the deputy must pass 'at least 10 items that could be used as weapons' before reaching the jail door."

2nd Man Convicted In Grocery Holdup

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

A Circuit court jury has found a second suspect guilty in the Jan. 7 robbery of a Winn-Dixie store at Altamonte Springs. The jury returned a guilty verdict yesterday for Richard Lamar Skates, 29, of Orlando, after a one-day trial before Circuit Court Judge David U. Strawn.

Flow Meter Must Be Installed At Sewer Package Plant Longwood Water Rates To Remain At Current Level

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — The good and the bad news at this week's City Council meeting were Council's agreement to retain water rates at current level and the notification from the State Department of Pollution Control (DPC) that a $3,500 flow meter must be installed at the Skylark sewer package plant.

Councilmen were also unanimous in their indignation that Langley Adair, county pollution control officer, has declared the city, to continue receiving a permit for plant operation, must install a flow meter estimated to cost between $3,000 and $4,000.

The city recently requested the county allocate the city Class C operator out of CETA funds.

Public Works Director Ralph Fisher said the city relied upon DPC's acceptance of the sewer plant without a flow meter when the city waived this requirement to the developers of Skylark.

Fisher said the DPC can determine usage of the plant by a gauge on the lift station. Councilman Gerald Connell led the move to keep water rates at their current level, presenting statistics showing Longwood's rates are not particularly low.

June Is National Rose Month: Time To Plant Fragrant Gardens

As the month of May draws to a close, gardeners are reminded that June is National Rose Month, and besides the beauty, color and aroma of the rose, it is one of the best flower bargains you can grow. It will produce hundreds of blooms over the years with little or no effort on the part of the gardener.

Roses are sturdy souls, and thrive in most parts of the U.S., from the coldest to the warmest climates. It's best to pay a little extra and get a better grade of plant, and the next important factor, is how the rose bush is planted.

Be sure to make a large hole — one that is deep and wide enough to easily accommodate those all-important roots. If you're planting during National Rose Month, incorporate some peat moss or compost into the soil at the bottom of the hole. Peat moss is preferable because it decays more slowly and will be beneficial to soil and plants for several years. Keep plants watered and use a mulch over the soil.

Roses will get insects and diseases from time to time, but there are many effective sprays and dusting powders on sale at local garden centers which control insect and curb diseases.

Roses grown today are superior to those of generations ago, one particularly satisfying improvement being their ever-blooming quality of the modern rose. Old roses such as the original American Beauty bloomed only once during the spring and produced only an occasional bloom or two during the summer.

Encourage roses to bloom by cutting the blooms in the right place — always just above a five-leaflet leaf. A new stem will start to grow and produce blooms in about six weeks.

Hybrid roses are budded on a wild rose understock or root system. The root portion of the rose doesn't grow as robustly as the top portion. Consequently, if rootstock is not good when planted, it won't increase too much in size, which will inhibit good results on top.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Karns were hosts at a reception held in their 2103 Oak Ave., Sanford home, Saturday night, to introduce Miss Darla Ann Mengel, bride-elect of David Lanier to friends in her future home town. The couple is pictured (at left) with (from center) mother of the bride Mrs. Eleanor Mengel, mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Wynelle Lanier and father of the bride, Wilmer Mengel.

Club Notes

Zoo Glue

Woman's Club of Sanford congratulates Idylwilde Elementary school for collecting the most trading stamps in the club's 'Glue for the Zoo' contest. Students won the honor of naming the three baboons at the zoo, and chose Idylwilde Ida, Idylwilde Bill and Ferdinand. The club has collected a total of $2,600 for the zoo through redemption of trading stamps, money from schools and individuals, sale of planks for Preservation Trail and yearly memberships.

The 'two-dimensional' arts, such as painting and drawing, but there will also be a limited selection of crafts. A highlight of the evening will be the crowning of Miss DeBary in a contest sponsored by the DeBary Chamber of Commerce, which is working extensively with the Federation in formulating plans for the upcoming Bicentennial Year.

The show is free to the public, and displays will be in place by 10 a.m. each day, with the festivities lasting into the evening.

FTU Women

Woman's Club

The Social Department of Sanford Women's Club met for the final session of the club year and started with the Annual Branch served to all members at 11 a.m. under the direction of Mrs. Donald King and her committee.

Mrs. R. M. Herridon won the high score award and Mrs. Stanley Pierce won second high. Screen winners were Mrs. Adrian Hall and Mrs. S. G. Harriman. Mrs. E. C. Harper and Mrs. Al F. Hunt were in charge of the seven tables of bridge.

Florida Technological University Women's Club held its annual Spring Luncheon in the Fireside Room of the Langford Hotel recently. Outgoing Club President Mrs. Robert (Cheryl) Bledsoe installed new officers for the coming year. Mrs. Waldon (Dol) Berry will serve as president. Other officers are Mrs. Jack (Judith) Stout, vice-president; Mrs. Robert (Ann) Flick, secretary; and Mrs. Lynn (Joyce) Walker, treasurer.

C.F. Chairman

Mrs. Kay Sassman has been named chairman for the Lake Mary Breath of Life fund drive sponsored by the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. Kick-off date for the drive is September 8.

Lung-damaging disease in children is a problem of major significance in Lake Mary and all across the U. S., according to Mrs. Sassman. There are millions of American children fighting lung-damaging diseases. Changing those odds is what the Breath of Life fund drive is all about. Anyone interested in helping as a volunteer in the September drive, should contact Mrs. Sassman at her Lake Mary home.

Plus Four

Centennial Plus Four, an exhibition of art by Florida artists, will be sponsored by the Florida Federation of Art at their headquarters in DeBary Hall, DeBary, this Saturday and Sunday.

Music World Holds Auditions, Contests

Auditions for the Bicentennial Chorus will be held in the Altamonte Springs Civic Center, June 2-3 p.m. The program is designed for teenagers, but all ages are welcome to audition. Under the direction of June Carvin, the chorus will represent Altamonte Springs in many Bicentennial activities and offers city residents an opportunity to become involved in the biggest birthday party in history.

Auditions will be held at 2:30 p.m. May 24, in Hooker Hall of the First Congregational Church in Winter Park for Florida Symphony Opera Gala Guild's fall presentation of Madame Butterfly. Roles being cast are: Prince Yamadori (high baritone or tenor); The Bronx (bass); the Imperial Commissioner (bass) and Kate (mezzo-soprano or soprano). Those wishing to audition should be prepared to sing from the role for which they are auditioning, as well as something they have already prepared. Accompanists will be provided.

Soprano Doris Batash, an instructor in FTU's Music Department, will present a concert May 23 at 8:30 p.m. in the FTU Music Rehearsal Hall. She will be accompanied by Dr. Gary Wolf, pianist and chairman of FTU Music Dept., as well as by her son, Scott, who is majoring in classical guitar at FTU. The concert is free to the public.

Outstanding piano students who are preparing for professional careers will vie for $1,750 in prize money in an annual competition sponsored by the Florida Atlantic Music Guild on Dec. 11 and 12 at Florida Atlantic University Theatre. Applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 27 years of age on the date of the auditions and must be either legal residents of Florida or students enrolled at any Florida educational institution. Deadline for application is Nov. 1 for application forms and additional information, contact Mrs. John D. Wise, 817 S.W. 7th St., Boca Raton, Fla. 33432.

Comic Card Draws Blank From Sweetheart

DEAR ABBY: It's been 50 years since I've even thought of my childhood sweetheart. Then I read in the obituary column that her father had died, and she was still a "Miss."

I have been a widower for 18 months, so I sent this childhood sweetheart a Mass card. She promptly wrote to thank me for it. Then I sent a comic card that read, "Are you free Saturday night? I have $2.50 to spend." (I wrote on the bottom, "On the serious side, I'd like to take you out for dinner if you aren't too upset about the loss of your father.")

DEAR YANK: Your comic card may not have been so comical since the lady was still in mourning. Wait a while, then telephone her. If you get a chilly reception, you'll know you blew it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 23-year-old, college-educated, unmarried woman. I have definitely made up my mind that I do not want to bear any children. If I marry and want a child, I will adopt a homeless child since I think there are already too many children in the world.

Also, I would like to be able to have sex without worrying about getting pregnant, and no matter what anybody says, there is absolutely NO method of contraception that is 100 per cent foolproof. I have asked every doctor I know to perform an operation on me to prevent pregnancy, but so far, I have found no one who will. They all say: "Oh, you'll change your mind one day and then will be sorry." Or: "Have a few kids first—then I'll do it for you." They act like they'd be committing some kind of crime.

Abby, why shouldn't I be able to have that kind of operation if that is what I want? And where can I find a doctor who will do it?

IDAHO READER DEAR READER: I personally feel that if you do not want children, it's your right. Keep shopping around for a doctor. If you can't find one, inquire at your nearest Planned Parenthood office for information. Their motto is: "Every child should be a wanted child." And I couldn't agree more.

DEAR ABBY: My husband committed suicide and left me with a tiny baby.

When people learn that I am a widow, they ask, "What happened to your husband? Cancer? Heart? Or did he die in an accident?"

Abby, I just can't bring myself to tell them that he committed suicide, so I say, "He was sick and died." "He had been under the care of a psychiatrist, so that could be called an illness, couldn't it?" What should I tell my child when he is old enough to understand? Please help me, Abby. I have no one else to ask.

YOUNG WIDOW DEAR WIDOW: The truth is this: Best. Simply say that your husband was ill (it's true, he was), and he took his own life.

In 1934, we had the money to help.

We do now, too.

During the thirties, it was hard to find anyone who didn't have problems. And regardless of what they were, the cause always seemed the same: Money. Few people had any. And few could borrow any. It wasn't that banks weren't lending. No, most banks were. But they were making term loans, payable in full on a specific date. For working people who lived from day to day, that lump sum made it almost impossible to get financial help. So they tried to manage without—until 1934.

In December of that year, the Atlantic Bank started lending money that people could pay back month to month. The Atlantic even set up a new Installment Loan Department to channel the money to worthy individuals. It didn't matter that no other bank in Florida was doing it. What mattered was only that people here needed it. So the Atlantic Bank did it.

Sooner or later, most banks started making them. And when times are good, when money abounds, most banks still make them. But if the times are rough, if money is tight, installment loans suddenly become almost as hard to find as they were in 1934.

However, it wasn't that way at the Atlantic Bank in 1934, and it's not that way at our bank today, either. We have the money to lend. Now. So ask us for it. Tell us what you need. We'll sure try to help. We've got the money to do it. And for a lot of people, we've already done it.

Old Men... Kid's Sport

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — They're old men in what is essentially a kid's sport. If they'd been around 20 or 30 years ago, doing what they're doing now, they probably wouldn't have gotten the chance to become old men.

While the average guy closing in on the age of 40 might be thinking about slowing down a bit, these guys are going faster than ever. And in the Indianapolis 500, that's quite a feat.

Just making the field of 33 cars, packed with rookies, hard-chargers and the like, is a victory of sorts. But making the front row — well, that's really exceptional.

Yet that's just what A.J. Foyt, Gordon Johncock and Bobby Unser have done. When the 33 sleek machines shriek into the first turn on Sunday on the first of 200 laps around the 2½-mile track, these three old men will be showing the rest of the guys their talpupes.

"What the hell's age got to do with it?" the crusty Foyt said when somebody wondered why, at the age of 40, he wasn't thinking of maybe shifting into a more sedentary existence and leaving this hectic, dangerous life to others.

Age, it seems, has very little to do with it. According to Dr. Steve Olvey, the assistant medical director at the speedway's hospital, the average driver here (the average age is 35) has the eyesight, reflexes and the rest of a man in his low 20s.

And Dr. John Hanna, who directs the entire medical operation, adds: "Anything they might lose in one area, they seem to pick up in another. It's almost amazing sometimes to see these drivers, like Lloyd Ruby (at 47, the oldest one in the field, starting in the second row). He's got tremendously quick reflexes and excellent depth perception. He's as sound as someone maybe 15 or 20 years younger. He's as good as he ever was."

Like the sometimes frangible Foyt, who is gunning for an unprecedented fourth Indy victory, Unser doesn't understand what all the fuss over the age is all about.

"So I'm 41. So what?" said the 1968 winner here and last year's runner-up. "Age really means nothing. As far as I'm concerned, I'm gonna keep racing as long as it's fun."

Johncock is the kid in the front-row trio. On race day he'll be three months away from his 39th birthday.

And he doesn't view the younger drivers as a bunch of punks, trying to muscle in on his shot at glory. In fact, he'd like to see a lot more of them around.

"We need more rookies, ones who can run fast," says Johncock, the winner of the 1973 race. "We're not going to be around forever. It's time for some younger drivers to come around and make names for themselves. We need rookies to fill the holes."

"The car owners prefer to stay with the proven driver, Johncock said. "It used to be that a driver who made 40 was a rarity. He was a real oddball. Things are much safer now."

60 Runs, 10 Hits

The Sanford Pee Wee Baseball League played its first complete night's schedule Tuesday night. Rain washed out the first three scheduled games last Tuesday, and only one game out of three slated contests was played Thursday.

But Tuesday, the sun shone on the Pee Wees.

In the three games, there were 60 runs and 10 hits.

The Tigers rocked the Cards 19-4 (Scott Kriger and John Holt of the Tigers combined for a no-hitter), the Yanks belted the Twins 10-5 (both teams managed one hit) and the Panthers edged the Cards 11-10 (Leroy Hickman of the Panthers pitched a one-hitter).

The Tigers scored in every inning in the win over the Cards. Jeff Richardson's double was one of three Tiger hits.

Kruger and Holt, who pitched two innings a piece, did not give up a hit. Kriger struck out six and walked one; Holt struck out one and walked 11.

The Yanks also scored in every inning.

Kevin Smith of the Yanks hurled four innings of one-hit ball, striking out six and walking four. Dennis Adams took over in the fifth and pitched one inning, striking out three and walking four.

Tim Fall and Steve Barns also teamed to allow one hit.

Tigers	19	4	3	0

Baptist Still On Top

First Baptist of Sanford remained the team to catch, and Pinecrest Baptist remained in pursuit Sunday in the Sanford Church Softball League.

Sanford's First Baptist ripped First Presbyterian 19-4 to remain on top of the eight-team league with a 6-1 record.

Pinecrest Baptist edged Church of God 11-8 to boost its slate to 5-2.

In other league games Sunday, First Baptist of Longwood downed First Methodist 9-3 and Church of the Nazarene stopped First Assembly of God 11-8.

First Baptist of Sanford exploded for 12 runs in the fourth inning in its win over First Presbyterian.

Vic Richburg and Don Regan each slammed three singles and double to pace the victors. Otto Thomas added two doubles and a single.

Bruce Burger, Jim Smith and Kevin Crocker collected two hits apiece for First Presbyterian.

Dwight Street ripped a triple and single, Bill Bagley smashed a double and single, and John Blaylock stroked two singles for Pinecrest Baptist.

Don Causseau of Church of God slugged a home run, triple and single, and teammate David Henderson rapped two singles and scored four runs.

Bill Bryant smashed a home run and single, Rick Mossman cracked a double and single, and Tim Franklin slammed two singles for First Baptist of Longwood.

Dean Smith of First Methodist connected for a double and single.

Ramon Gonzalez belted a triple and single, Allen Dorn poked a double and single, and Bob Shaw and Don Henderson added two singles apiece for Church of the Nazarene.

Charlie's, Ritz Win

Charlie's and Ritz Theatre recorded victories Tuesday in the Sanford Recreation Department Women's Softball League.

Charlie's knocked off Shoemaker Construction Company 6-2 and Ritz Theatre trounced Atlantic National Bank 21-6.

The win for Charlie's, which won the first half, upped its record to 2-0 in the second half. Ritz is 1-1 and Shoemaker and Atlantic National are 0-1.

Charlie's scored two runs in the third inning and four in the fourth, then relied on Joan Turner's pitching and defense to stop Shoemaker.

Turner did not walk a batter in seven innings. She allowed five hits and struck out two. There were 10 hits by 10 different players in the game—two by each team.

Ritz Theatre erupted for 12 runs in the first inning against Atlantic National Bank and was not headed.

Dot Bryant ripped two singles and Jo Sanders belted a double for Ritz.

Bryant also pitched the first two innings for Ritz, allowing no hits, no walks and no runs.

Kelly Carmichael tossed a slow pitch no-hitter Tuesday, leading Civilian to a 9-0 victory over Art Brown Post Control in the Sanford Recreation Department Ladies Softball League.

In the other game, Bowl America bombed Sanford Police 20-2 to stretch its lead to two games in the four-team league.

Carmichael walked only two over the two-inning span. Liz Galm added her at the plate with a triple.

Bowl America coupled 11 hits, 11 Police errors and 12 second-inning runs for the overwhelming victory.

Robin Riggins laced a triple and single, Doreen Hogan slammed two singles, Susy Carlson ripped a triple and Tracey Dixon poked a double for Bowl America.

Unbelievable! Warriors Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Golden State Warriors did it again the hard way.

"I'd hate to go through a full season of games like this," Coach Al Attles said Tuesday night after his team survived the frantic final seconds of a 93-91 victory over Washington and took a 2-0 lead in the National Basketball Association championship series.

The Warriors, who won the series opener after trailing once by 16 points, came from 13 points behind in game No. 2.

"We try to hulk them to sleep," Attles joked, trying to laugh off the tension of a fourth quarter in which his team blew an eight-point lead and finally won on Rick Barry's two free throws with 23 seconds remaining.

Golden State's latest improbable victory came in the Cow Palace, an arena the team hasn't used since 1971. Game No. 4 is scheduled on the same court Friday night.

"I never felt we were in the clear. They're too good a team," said the Warriors' Mike Riordan who gave Washington a 91-90 lead with a three-point 1:01 from the end, then fouled Barry.

The Bullets, who went into this best-of-seven series as heavy favorites, called a time out after Barry's free throws and Coach K.C. Jones planned a play to get the ball to Phil Chenier, who had 30 points already.

"We played great defense in those 23 seconds. We didn't let them do what they wanted to do," said Barry, who finished the game with 36 points.

Chenier, hemmed-in by Keith Wilkes and Charles Johnson, passed off to Riordan who tried a 15-foot shot from the right side over Barry with about five seconds to go.

"I just blew the shot, that's all," said Riordan.

Elvin Hayes took the rebound after Riordan's missed shot and hurried up another shot which fell short.

The Warriors' George Johnson grabbed Hayes' missed shot just before the final buzzer sounded.

Then the 13,256 Warriors' fans who filled the Cow Palace sent up the loudest noise heard in the cavernous building since Republicans at the 1964 GOP Convention cheered Barry Goldwater into the path of a Democratic landslide.

Colonels March Into Game No. 5

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Kentucky's Dan Issel, with a quiet confidence, said, "We didn't figure to win in four games and they aren't going to give up, but we'd sure like to take it all at once."

The scene of the American Basketball Association championship series between the Colonels and the Indiana Pacers shifts to Louisville Thursday night for game No. 5, with Kentucky leading 3-1.

But that one victory by the three-time ABA champion Pacers didn't come until Monday night when they appeared all but dead. Somehow they survived for at least another day, and as the veteran Kentucky forward said, they aren't giving up.

"We were in the same situation, down three games to none, last year and I know how we felt," Issel said. "We didn't play well and they came out clawing and hustling."

No team in the history of professional basketball has come back from a 3-0 deficit to win a best-of-seven series. But Indiana has come the closest, losing to Utah 4-3 last year after dropping the first three games in the ABA Western Division finals.

It seems an almost impossible task again this year, since Kentucky is 4-3 on its home court and would play two more games in Freedom Hall if the series went the full route.

One thing that Indiana had going for it in its 94-86 victory Monday was the resurgence of veteran George McGinnis and Billy Keller.

McGinnis was suffering from an ankle injury that team trainer David Craig said would have kept him on the bench anytime but in the playoffs. He scored 21 points and grabbed 21 rebounds, showing little effect from the injury.

Keller had hit only six of 24 shots in the first three games, but came up with eight of 20 Monday, including a three-point goal that ignited Indiana's fourth-period charge.

Neither coach was happy with the way his team played Monday and the sloppiness of the game was reflected in the shooting statistics. Indiana won with a 46 per cent shooting average and Kentucky hit only 25 per cent.

If Indiana gets by the Colonels Thursday, game No. 6 is scheduled here Saturday night. Game No. 7, if necessary, is back in Louisville.

Sabres' Drought Ends; Flyers Fall

BUFFALO (AP) — It had been a long day, hot and humid — definitely not hockey weather. But long after midnight, some 12 hours after their light game state Tuesday, the Buffalo Sabres didn't seem to mind.

They had beaten the Philadelphia Flyers for the first time in 15 games, dating back to March 28, 1973. They had beaten Flyers goalie Bernie Parent for the first time in their five-year history. They had come from behind three times to do it.

Defenseman Jerry Korab said he was too tired to take a shower. "If I had a beer right now, I'd pass out," he said.

But there was a smile on his face; the effort had been worth it. The 4-3 overtime triumph over the Flyers had cut Philadelphia's lead to 2-1 in the best-of-seven game National Hockey League championship series and had given the Sabres some breathing room in the heavy Buffalo air.

"We had to win this one. Your body is tired, but your mind keeps you going," said Sabres' forward Jim Lorent.

"We had to give 110 per cent and we did," Korab said.

It wasn't easy. The heat and humidity had made playing conditions unbearable. A fog descended on the Memorial Auditorium surface and frequently forced play to halt. Beyond that, the teams were tied 4-4 after the regulation three periods and had to work overtime until Rene Robert's 20-foot slap shot ended the action at 18:29 of overtime.

"Gil (Perreault) passed the puck into the corner and it bounced just right," said Robert, who picked up the goal and blasted before Parent could get set. The carem didn't see the puck until it was too late.

SOUTHERN SALAD
Calorie-watchers can omit the dressing.
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 cups orange juice
1/2 cup finely diced celery
1-3/4 cup finely grated carrot

scallion
Membrane-free sections from 2 medium oranges
Salt to taste
Lettuce
1 cup commercial sour cream
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1/4 teaspoon curry powder
Soften the gelatin in 1 cup of the orange juice; heat remaining orange juice to boiling point; add to softened gelatin and stir to dissolve. Add the celery, carrot, scallion, orange sections and salt; stir to distribute evenly. Turn into 1/2 cup molds or 8-ounce custard cups. Chill to set. Unmold at serving time and garnish generously with lettuce. Mix the remaining ingredients and serve as a dressing with salad. Makes 6 servings.

ORANGE CUPS
Inspired by a dessert served at La Petite Ferme, one of New York's distinguished French restaurants.
Medium-size thick-skin, seedless (navel) oranges
Orange-flavor liqueur
Vanilla ice cream, slightly softened
Wash and dry oranges; cut a generous slice from the top of each so the opening will be wide. With a serrated grapefruit knife, cut out the flesh in as large a cone shape as possible. Swish 1/2 tablespoon liqueur over the inside of each orange cup. Dice the cones and put them into a bowl with their juice; add liqueur — 1/2 tablespoon for each orange used; spoon into orange cups. Chill until serving time, then top with a little ice cream. We like to serve these with grapefruit spoons.

SPANISH HASH
We've revived an old recipe from Spanish cuisine because it calls for little meat.
3 large pork chops
4 tablespoons olive oil
3 medium onions, cut in thin strips
1 pound zucchini, sliced thin
4-ounce can pimientos, drained and diced
8-ounce can tomato sauce
Salt and pepper
Cut away fat and bone from chops and dice meat fine. In a large skillet cook pork lightly in 2 tablespoons of the oil; push to one side. Add remaining oil and the onion; cook gently until onion is wilted but not brown. With a slotted spoon remove pork and onion. Add zucchini to skillet; cook until tender-crisp. Return pork and onion to skillet; add remaining ingredients. Simmer 15 to 20 minutes. Serve with rice. Makes 4 servings.

KEDGEREE
American version of a meatless dish from India, repeated by request.
2 cups flaked cooked fish, firm white-flesh variety
2 cups hot cooked converted-rice
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 Taw egg
1/4 cup light cream
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Salt and pepper to taste
3 1/2-cup can French-fried onions, heated
Mango chutney
Toss together the fish, rice and hard-cooked eggs. Beat the raw egg with the cream to blend. In a 1 1/2-inch skillet, melt butter; add fish mixture; heat, stirring. Add cream mixture and salt and pepper and reheat. Garnish with some of the onions and pass the rest with the chutney. Makes 4 servings.

CHILI BISQUE
A reader who liked the way we seasoned lobster bisque in a previous recipe, asked us for another idea and here it is.
2 tablespoons dry vermouth
2 tablespoons catchup
1/4 teaspoon chili powder
15-ounce can lobster bisque
In a small saucepan whisk together the vermouth, catchup and chili powder; gradually whisk in bisque. Bring just to boiling, stirring often. Makes 2 servings.

SNACKTIME FARE
Peanut Butter Crackers
Grape Fizz

GRAPE FIZZ
When you read in the New Yorker that guitarist Jim Hall, who is on the wagon, refreshes himself with this drink, we tried it. And we recommend it!

2 1/2-cup unsweetened grape juice, from a 24-ounce bottle
10-ounce bottle (1 and 1/3rd cups) lemon-lime soda
Divide the grape juice between 2 tall glasses; add ice cubes; fill with lemon-lime soda; stir. Serve at once. Makes 2 servings.

SPOON BREAD
A little meat goes a long way.
1 cup white or yellow cornmeal
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup cold milk
1 1/2 cups scalded milk
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup finely diced cooked ham
2 eggs, separated
Stir together the cornmeal, salt and cold milk; gradually stir into scalded milk. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, just until thickened. Off heat stir in baking powder, butter and ham. Whisk in the egg yolks one at a time. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold in. Pour into a buttered 1 1/2-quart casserole. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven for 15 minutes; reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 30 to 35 minutes longer. Serve at once, with butter or margarine. Makes 6 servings.

HEARTY BEET SOUP
Adapted from Jewish cuisine.
1-pound (about 1 1/2) lean, narrow beef short ribs (4 pieces)
1-pound can diced beets
2 cups shredded cabbage, packed down
Medium onion, cut in thin strips
3 beef bouillon cubes
Bay Leaf
Lemon juice
Dark brown sugar
Salt and pepper to taste
In a large saucetop bring the short ribs and 1 quart water to a boil; skim off scum. Simmer, covered, for 1 hour. Add juice drained from beets (reserve beets), cabbage, onion, bay leaf; continue to simmer, covered, for 1 hour longer. Remove ribs, cut meat from bones and dice; discard bones and return meat to soup with beets. Add enough lemon juice and sugar to give real sweet-sour flavor — we like 3 to 4 tablespoons of each — and at the same time add the salt and pepper. Mix well and reheat. Makes 6 servings.

POLENTA CASSEROLE
A six-serving version of a popular main dish.
1 cup yellow cornmeal
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup cold water
2 1/2 cups boiling water
1 cup grated cheddar cheese
Meat Sauce, see below
Mix cornmeal, salt and cold water; gradually stir in boiling water; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened; cover and over low heat cook, stirring a few times, until very thick — about 5 minutes more. Off heat, stir in 1/4 cup of the cheese. Turn into shallow 8-quart baking dish; cover and chill until firm. Top with Meat Sauce. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven about 25 minutes; top with remaining cheese; bake 5 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

NEW YORK SLAW
The peanut oil called for is polyunsaturated.
1 1/2 of a 1 1/2-pound head of green cabbage, thinly shredded
1/4 cup grated (medium-fine) pared carrot
1 cup sliced green pepper
1 teaspoon finely grated onion, pulp and juice
1/2 teaspoon sugar
3 tablespoons peanut oil
1 tablespoon cider vinegar
Salt and pepper to taste
Thoroughly mix together all the ingredients; cover and chill. Keeps well. Makes about 5 cups — six 1 1/2-cup servings.

Grill Your Favorite Meats With Fruit Barbecue Sauce

The next time family or friends drop in for a cookout, surprise them with your own homemade barbecue sauce. They're an imaginative blend of orange seasonings... and full of the fruity goodness of Florida orange juice. Each enhances the savory flavors of barbecued chicken, ham or ribs in its own unique way.

Let's an oriental atmosphere to your next barbecue with Orange Mustard Barbecue Sauce. It's a good idea to keep plenty of versatile Florida orange juice on hand during the summer months. Plain or mixed with other foods, it's a popular ingredient in summer eating.

ORANGE TOMATO BARBECUE SAUCE
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 teaspoons chili powder

ORANGE SOY BARBECUE SAUCE
 2 cups Florida orange juice
 1/2 cup chopped scallions
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon ginger

In medium bowl combine all ingredients. Use as a marinade for chicken, spareribs or ham. To grill, remove meat from marinade, and occasionally brush marinade on meat during grilling.
 Yield: 2 1/2 cups.

ORANGE MUSTARD BARBECUE SAUCE
 2 cups Florida orange juice
 1 cup packed brown sugar
 1/2 cup cider vinegar
 2 tablespoons prepared mustard

In medium saucepan combine all ingredients. Stir over medium heat until sauce comes to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 20 to 30 minutes, or until reduced to 1 1/2 cups. Use as barbecue sauce for chicken, spareribs or ham.
 Yield: 1 1/2 cups.

Worcestershire sauce
 1/4 cup catchup
 2 tablespoons salad oil
 can (6 ounces)
 Florida frozen concentrated orange juice reconstituted (3 cups)
 Combine all ingredients in large saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Reduce heat and simmer 45 minutes or until reduced to 2 cups. Use as a sauce for chicken, spareribs, or ham.
 Yield: 2 cups.

Homemade barbecue sauces will delight family and friends alike.

It's Time For Main Dish Salad

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

Warm weather calls for main-dish salads. So here's a hearty one designed for a company lunch or for one of the help-yourself main dishes at a buffet supper.

Freshly cooked rice makes the base, large pimientos, stuffed green olives add elegance and the other ingredients are happily chosen.

The rice is tossed with half the oil-vinegar dressing while it is still warm (but not hot). This procedure keeps the rice grains from sticking together; also, warm rice picks up seasonings better than cold rice does.

MAIN-DISH RICE SALAD
 2 1/2 cups salad oil
 1/2 cup cider vinegar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 teaspoon sugar
 2 tablespoons minced parsley
 1 teaspoon dried oregano leaves
 3 cups freshly cooked warm rice

(but not hot) rice
 1 cup diced celery
 1/2 cup sliced large pimiento stuffed olives
 1/2 cups cubed cooked ham (about 1/2 pound)
 1/2 pound snap beans (tipped, cut and cooked until tender crisp), chilled
 4 hard-cooked eggs, halved
 medium tomatoes, cut in wedges

In a 2-cup measure beat together the oil, vinegar, salt, pepper, sugar, parsley and oregano. Turn rice, celery, olives and ham into a large mixing bowl; add 1/2 of the oil-vinegar mixture and toss well; cover and chill for several hours. At serving time, turn rice mixture onto the center of a platter; surround with beans; alternate eggs and tomatoes around outer edge; drizzle remaining oil-vinegar mixture over them.

Makes 4 hearty main-dish luncheon servings, more if used as one of the dishes on a buffet supper table.

These Doughnuts Are From Poland

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

DEAR CECILY: Some time ago I cut out a column you wrote about the Italian doughnuts called Zeppole. I wonder whether you or any of your readers know how to make the jam-filled Polish doughnuts called Paczki? I have looked for such a recipe but as yet have not found one. — CURIOSUS COOK.

DEAR CURIOSUS COOK: The jam in Polish doughnuts is enclosed before frying rather than after. But it is feasible to enclose an extremely small amount of jam in each doughnut; on account of this our recipe calls for grape jam, because it has strong flavor, and suggests passing extra jam when the Paczki are served. One caution. The first time my recipe tester, Mary Greene, made these doughnuts in my test kitchen the jam leaked out of all of them because they needed super-sealing and no directions hinted at how to do this. After a few more tests, we evolved the method for which I have tried to give detailed directions. Using this method, on the third try the jam leaked out of only two of the doughnuts of the dozen Mary made. Another experienced cook who tried the recipe had about the same result. If anyone has a foolproof way of sealing, I'd be grateful if he or she would pass it along. — C. B.

POLISH DOUGHNUTS (Paczki)
 1/2 cup milk
 1/4 cup unsalted butter
 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
 1 package active dry yeast
 2 1/2 cups (about) flour
 4 egg yolks, from large eggs
 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 3 tablespoons orange juice
 1/2 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
 Grape jam
 Oil for deep frying

Extra confectioners' sugar
 In a small saucepan heat the milk until tiny bubbles appear

Justice Department Okays School Conversion Blacks Set Strategy Meeting On Rosenwald Decision

By ED PRICKETT
 Herald Staff Writer

"We believe the proposed reassignment of students presently at Rosenwald places an unnecessary and undue burden on those students. The board should consider reassigning those students to one of the more than three closer schools," Justice officials said.

That decision prompted School Board Chairman Bud Layer to call a special 4 p.m. meeting on Monday in the board's conference room in Sanford. The final decision is scheduled for Wednesday at a 7 p.m. board meeting at the Altamonte Springs City Hall.

The reason it's not a total loss is officials in Washington have recommended black students now be bused to either Altamonte, English Estates or Lake Orienta and not Casselberry, which would have meant trading an old school for an old school.

ALTAMONTE SETS PLANS TO WORK

Ground was broken yesterday for expansion of the city's 1.2 million gallon sewer plant off Keller Road into a multi-million dollar 7.5 million gallon daily capacity regional facility. Participating in the ceremonies were (left to right) Bill Paine, vice president Glace and Radcliffe, the city's consulting engineers; City Commissioners Sandra Glenn and Helen Keyser; Harold Radcliffe, president Glace and Radcliffe; Mayor Norman Floyd, D. Callahan, of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency; Alex Senkevich, regional administrator, state Department of Pollution Control and T.C. Brown of Lee Construction and Ben R. Hynes of Tuttle White Constructors Inc., contractors for the project. (Herald Photo by Bill Vincent)

Harrell Calls Assault Report 'Outright Lies'

By BOB LLOYD
 Herald Staff Writer

Seminole Chief Deputy Sheriff Duane Harrell today called reported allegations that he physically assaulted a Herndon Ambulance Co. driver "outright lies" and told The Herald that he believes "someone is trying to stir-up something to embarrass Sheriff John Polk."

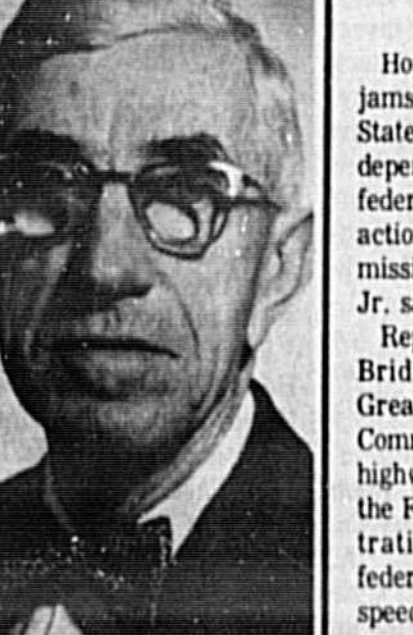

Harrell said he was not physically contacted and used no profanity. Harrell said he was accused of using profanity and physically assaulting Manning in a small room off the Seminole Memorial Hospital emergency room nurse's station on April 17.

Three Principals Named; Teachers' Rehiring Set

The appointment of principals for two new schools last night paves the way for rehiring of 34 teachers probably by tomorrow, School Supt. Bud Layer said today.

Former County Tax Collector Dies

By RICK PANTRIDGE
 Herald Staff Writer

John L. Galloway, 86, former Seminole County tax collector, died Wednesday afternoon (May 21, 1975) in Orlando.

Galloway was appointed to office in February, 1967 shortly after the death of John Jenkins and served from that time until retirement in 1965, covering a span of 18 years. A native of Brunswick County, N.C., Galloway was a World War I veteran and a member of the Sanford National Guard unit.

Inside Today

- Eliminate Monday Blues
 Want to eliminate those Monday morning blues? Officials in Cimarron, N.M., have come up with a four-day school week they say has all but eliminated that "draggy" feeling on the first day of the week. Story on Page 8-A.
- Two Receive Appointments
 Appointments to a U.S. military academy aren't too unusual, but when two students from the same high school are appointed to the same academy, it is a rarity. See photo, Page 5-A.

The School Board last night approved Layer's recommendation to appoint Jesse Meuse principal at Sterling Park, Mrs. Ruby Hendrix principal at Rosenwald and Mrs. Morgan as principal at Geneva Elementary.

Layer told the board that a principal appointment committee "unanimously" selected appointments he recommended. Board Member Davie Sims moved to accept Layer's recommendations and that motion was seconded by Allan Keith.

Officials had held off on selection of principals until a ruling was handed down on the Rosenwald situation. Though that decision came last night, principal selection was made before the board was officially notified of the Justice Department ruling.

Layer said this morning he's meeting with the school system's personnel officer and that teachers could be notified as early as tomorrow. About 200 teachers have yet to be approved for rehiring next year.

Appointment of the new principals opened up jobs for 14 teachers, but Layer says 10 of those positions will be filled by teachers going on continuing contract.

Teachers have been in an uproar over the manner in which school officials notified them they wouldn't be rehired next year.

Jury Refuses Damages To Wounded Youth

A circuit court jury has refused to award damages to an Orange County man and his son in connection with the teenager's death last year by a Seminole County deputy who chased a car, which had been reported stolen, into an orange grove near Forest City.

Clarence Rhodes had sought an award for payment of nearly $5,000 in hospital bills and his son, 16-year-old David Rhodes $150,000 in damages for pain and suffering, according to their attorney, Albert Yurko.

The lawsuit against Sheriff John Polk, his insurance company and Deputy L. M. "Rocky" Ford alleged that Ford used excessive force when he fired four times at a Volkswagen in the orange grove.

The jury returned a verdict yesterday in the court of Circuit Judge William Akridge in favor of the defendants following a two-day trial.

Vihlen Wants Confrontation With Senators On Overpass

Reporting to the Roads and Bridges Committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, Vihlen said federal highway officials have told him the Federal Highway Administration will oppose use of federal funds for an overpass to speed traffic through the dangerous bottleneck.

"The federal highway people are against projects of this kind because they think it's discriminatory to single out a community for special attention," Vihlen said. "I totally disagree with this."

The committee also heard that Seminole County is in for a $300,000 rebate of funds expended when planners moved the site of the Sand Lake Road Interstate 4 interchange. It also agreed to make plans for ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Osteen Bridge in July.

Vihlen told the committee that he has discussed the railroad overpass project with U.S. Sens. Lawton Chiles and Richard Stone and both have agreed to a meeting "somewhere in the state" in the near future to listen to local pleas for federal aid for the project.

"I've been working on this and I'm not going to quit until we have a personal eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation with the senators," Vihlen said.

Committee member S. O. Chase Jr. reviewed the traffic problem, which occurs when Seaboard Coast Line and Auto Trains cross SR 46 near Rand Yard, sometimes backing up traffic in both directions from Sanford to Interstate 4.

"Both Seaboard and Auto Trains are sympathetic," Chase said. "They are willing to help us solve this problem in any way they can — provided it doesn't cost them any money."

Vihlen said some innovative funding ideas are needed, "since the county and the state just can't afford it." He added that there is a possibility that Congress may award a special demonstration grant to build an overpass for safety reasons, if there is enough support shown locally to Chiles, Stone and area representatives in the House.

Sanford City Commissioner Julian Stenstrom, co-chairman of the committee, twitted neighboring city officials a little, remarking "the ironic thing about this is that Altamonte Springs and Longwood are trying to slow the trains down while we're trying to speed them up."

Officials in Longwood and Altamonte Springs have been complaining that the trains are speeding dangerously through their cities, but the problem for Sanford's point of view is that once the trains get here, they block SR 46 for 15 to 20 minutes or more at a time, while switching back and forth, adding and dropping cars destined for different areas.

Vihlen also told the committee that the county will be in for a $300,000 refund from the Department of Transportation (DOT).

The Seminole money was spent unexpectedly to acquire rights-of-way for construction of the Interstate 4 Sand Lake interchange when the plans for the interchange were amended, moving it to the Orange-Seminole County line, thus saving some $500,000 of Orange County funds and dipping into Seminole's coffers.

The interchange is expected to lower the traffic volume at
