CITY PLANNING BOARD ENGAGES EXPERT ADVICE

IMPORTANT STEPS TAKEN LAST NIGHT ON CITY PLANNING

PFIEFFER TO HELP

Commission Approves Lake Shore Boulevard—Public To Submit Suggestions To Architect

George L. Pfeiffer, noted landscape architect, of Lemon City, Fla., will serve the City of Sanford in developing a city plan, according to an announcement made last night at a meeting of the City Planning Commission.

The commission also went on record as approving the Lake Shore Boulevard, as fostered by the American Legion.

The City Planning Commission held its third weekly meeting last night at 8 o'clock in the offices of the city hall. This commission was created by a special act of legislature, and appointed by the city manager.

At the meeting last night it was announced that the services of George L. Pfeiffer, of Lemon City, Florida, one of the foremost landscape architects in the south, had been secured in developing a city plan. All information concerning the various sections of the city, the city streets, and all roads leading into the city, will be compiled and sent to Mr. Pfeiffer at the earliest possible date to assist him in going the city into business and residential districts.

A resolution was adopted, asking the city commission not to grant permits for garages, the erection of filling stations, or public buildings without the consent and approval of the City Planning Commission. The subdivision of A. P. Connelly was accepted by the commission as an addition to the city, and the properties of J. L. Ingram and the Lake Shore Improvement Company were submitted as proposed additions.

Perhaps the most important action taken last night by the commission was their approval of the plan for a Lake Shore Boulevard, now being fostered by the American Legion. The boulevard, as proposed by the American Legion, will be paved along the lake front between Myrtle and Park avenues, and the plan includes the improvement of adjacent property.

Belgium Ratifies The Agreement Yesterday

BRUSSELS, Nov. 21.—After a meeting of the cabinet this afternoon a telephone message was sent to Baron d'Hestroy, the Belgian ambassador in Paris, saying that the Belgian government ratified the provisional agreement drafted today by the ambassador's council.

The news from Paris that a rupture of the entente had been avoided, brought expressions of the keenest satisfaction in official circles here. These circles ascribed a great share of the credit of this news to the clarifying declaration from Washington recently regarding American opposition to the restoration of the Hohenzollern regime in Germany.

He was sentenced to be hanged, the date for the infliction of the penalty to be fixed by the governor of Florida.

SHOWS SENTIMENT

Of West Although Less Than Three Fourths of Voting Power of State Was Represented

(By The Associated Press) SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 21.—Returns today from yesterday's county proposal conventions and which represented approximately three-fourths of the state's voting power gave the McAdoo forces 80,000 votes in the state convention against less than 10,000 for the Ford men, according to leaders in two campaigns.

Republican and Farmer-Labor sentiment was less clearly indicated. The majority of proposal men in all three parties were uninstructed for state convention, but in several important counties presidential preferences were indicated.

Great interest was shown throughout the state in the voting. The Ford forces still believe that the sentiment for the manufacturer will continue to grow.

CAVALRY OFFICER IN ANNUAL REPORT

Says That There Has Been A Marked Deterioration in Cavalry During Last Few Months

Says That There Has Been A Marked Deterioration in Cavalry During Last Few Months

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Readiness for active service and morale among American cavalry regiments has shown distinct improvement "due to the very devoted efforts of the officers and non-commissioned officers," Major General Willard Holbrook, chief of cavalry, declared in his annual report made public today. General Holbrook added, however, the "regrettable observation" that there has been marked deterioration of cavalry mounts due to the advancing age of troop horses and lack of necessary remounts.

The morale of the cavalry "can be characterized, without qualification, as high," General Holbrook said. There was conspicuous esprit during the year in the first cavalry division posted on the border which had attracted attention of the Inspector General, he said. The Inspector General also noted "visible improvement during the year in all border cavalry."

General Holbrook said the work of the cavalry division had already proved this to be an excellent training school for officers and demonstrated that the division occupied "a conspicuous place in our scheme of preparedness."

Among recommendations to the Secretary of War, General Holbrook included one urging the purchase of sufficient cavalry remounts "to replace the shortage which will exist July 1, '24."

Duff Family Coming To Sanford Tomorrow

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Duff, late of Narragansett Pier and New York, where they are well-known to all the readers of the Metropolitan dailies, will be in Sanford tomorrow for a prolonged sojourn during the winter months.

It was only after considerable expense and correspondence that The Herald was able to induce the Duffs to give up their plan of going to California, as is their custom during the winter months, and come to Sanford instead.

Wherever the Duffs are known they have the reputation of being jolly, fun-loving people, who cause a daily laugh for all who know them.

Watch The Herald tomorrow and get acquainted with the Duffs.

Peanut Lodged In Windpipe Results In Death of Lad

Efforts of the best medical skill of the state failed to save the life of George Horace Hamrick, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hamrick of this city, who died at the Riverside Hospital in Jacksonville at 5 o'clock last night following an operation.

Last Sunday night the little fellow got a peanut in his windpipe. Every effort was made to extract it but without avail so the parents left immediately for Jacksonville where they placed the boy in the Riverside Hospital for attention.

The peanut was abstracted but complications set in and the little fellow passed away at five o'clock last night. Mr. and Mrs. Hamrick left Jacksonville today for operation, Ga., where the burial will take place. A host of friends in Sanford and throughout Seminole county sympathize with them in their great loss.

Mr. Hamrick is manager of the local Piggly Wiggly store.

American Legion Congratulates Committee As Public Sessions Are Brought To A Close

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Starting disclosures, other than what has developed before the open investigation regarding the conduct of the Vets Bureau, have been made and the matters made public are "But-Fragments" of what has been disclosed, according to a statement of John F. O'Ryan, made public here last night.

General O'Ryan listed scores of reports of special inquiries which have been made in all sections of the country and which embrace local bureau officers, hospitals, government vocational schools and the work in universities and colleges where former service men are training. He announced that these will be presented to the committee at the coming business sessions at which all of the matters under investigation will be reviewed and a report to the senate formulated.

James E. Easby-Smith, counsel for Forbes, presented to the committee a memorandum of what witnesses he would have called in defense of his client, had there been time, would have testified to. The committee will examine the memorandum and accompanying exhibits and determine what part of it shall be admitted to the public record. Meantime, the whole is withheld.

Recommendations for legislation from the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars were received during the day. Both organizations congratulated the committee on its work. John Thomas Taylor general counsel of the American Legion declaring that the hearings have awakened the country to the seriousness of the situation, not only as it affects the disabled men, but also the government.

Edwin S. Bettleheim, Jr., for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, wrote that his organization feels that the outcome "will be a more careful and efficient management of the Veterans' Bureau and also a lesson and a caution to government officials in charge of other bureaus of the government."

ENTENTE ADMITS FRENCH RIGHTS SINGLE ACTION

PROVIDED GERMANY FAILS TO MEET DEMANDS TO BE MADE

MEETING TODAY

Of Council of Ambassadors—Decision Reached That Ambassadors Will Consult For Further Action

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Nov. 21.—London is now understood to have agreed to the use of a word which is tacit admission of France's right to take single action in the event of Germany's failure to meet demands, in the note to be sent to Germany.

Consultation by the interested powers is delaying final action by the Allies on the note. The ambassadors have reached the decision, however, that the note would tell Germany that if she failed to comply with the Allies demands, they would consult further regarding action. The French objected to this contending that it implies France must consult Allies before taking any action, thus precluding any separate action.

Them British Ambassador received instructions from London this morning regarding the note and it was learned that the Council of Ambassadors would meet this afternoon.

It was accepted as certain in Paris last night that the entente will survive the present crisis, but there is very little enthusiasm for the compromise through which the break was averted.

The provisional character of the accord is one of the reasons for the coolness toward it. The fact that British government was not ready to signify its acceptance after consideration of more than 24 hours, necessitating the postponement of final action by the allied council of ambassadors, is interpreted as evidence that the accord is only moderately pleasing to London.

HEALTH OFFICERS WOULD ERADICATE MOSQUITO IN FLA.

Will Give Authoritative Information About Them At Meeting In Bartow Next Month—Plan Extensive Campaign

The Associated Press) SANFORD, Fla., Nov. 20.—When health officers of Florida, and others interested in ridding the state of the pest, assemble at Bartow on December 6-7 for the second annual Anti-Mosquito Conference, they will give before them information compiled by the federal authorities to the effect that the so-called yellow-fever mosquito, which is said to be perhaps the most common household mosquito in the Gulf States, has been shown to be responsible for the carriage of dengue or "breakbone" fever. The future occurrence of yellow fever in this country is said to be most unlikely, however.

Immediate justification of the statement that this mosquito carries the dengue fever is said to be the fact that during the summer of 1922 it was estimated there were 600,000 cases of this fever in the southern states.

Dengue is seldom fatal, but it is the cause of total incapacity of the patient for a number of days which may extend into weeks. The federal authorities call attention to the economic loss to the South during the summer of 1922 which it is suggested might have been avoided at an abnormally low cost and with comparatively little trouble. With the view of aiding in the control of this pest, special control measures are outlined in a new publication issued by the agricultural department at Washington, Farmers' Bulletin 1354, in which a description is given of the life history, habits, and distribution of the yellow fever mosquito, its relation to dangerous diseases of warm countries, and the best remedies against it. In discussing means to combat this mosquito, the department says: "It was conclusively shown in 1900 by scientific experiments under the direction of Dr. Walter Reed, that this mosquito is solely responsible for the spread of yellow fever, and it has since been demonstrated that the mosquito also carries dengue fever.

"The yellow fever mosquito is essentially a house mosquito and its larvae are found practically exclusively in artificial receptacles in and about houses. Large earthen jars for drinking water are, in the tropics, its unfailing habitat. Rain-water barrels and tanks are common sources of abundant supplies of these mosquitoes. The larvae also occur in sagging gutters containing rain water, tin cans, cesspools, horse troughs, water-closet tanks, drain traps, cemetery urns, holy water fountains in churches, water pans in chicken yards, and water receptacles of grindstones.

"The most important remedy suggested is the abolishing of standing water wherever possible, in order to eliminate breeding places. This includes every imaginable receptacle that may contain even a little water. Where standing water can not be abolished, openings to such receptacles as rain-water barrels, tanks, and cisterns should be screened to prevent mosquitoes from laying their eggs in them.

"Surface water that can not be drained away should be sprinkled at least every two weeks with ordinary low-grade kerosene or fuel oil. This will cover the surface and suffocate immature forms, and also protect the water from egg-laying by mosquitoes. The introduction of fish into fountains and artificial pools is beneficial where such receptacles can not be screened or treated with kerosene.

"The use of wire screens with not less than 20 strands to the inch excludes mosquitoes from houses, and other buildings, rooms and porches. Bed canopies are advisable in unscreened houses. Houses may be cleared of adult mosquitoes by burning in tightly closed rooms one pound of pyrethrum powder or two pounds of sulphur for each 1,000 cubic feet of contained space."

SANFORD WILL RALLY TO SUPPORT OF RED CROSS CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERSHIP

Everyone Asked To Be Ready To Contribute For Membership In The World's Greatest Relief Agency

Aptly entitled the "Greatest Mother in the World," the American Red Cross is again making appeal for support so that in turn the world's afflicted can be provided for.

Unfortunately, the majority of people have been wont to think of the Red Cross as a war organization, which during peace times is called on to relieve the suffering of individuals and communities afflicted by natural catastrophes.

The belief that this class of relief, while handled by the Red Cross, does not properly come under its jurisdiction, but is done as an emergency measure, until such time as some other organization can step in, is erroneous. The truth of the matter is that the Red Cross does more actual work during peace times than ever called on for during war times. While the majority of us are familiar with its work in the Halifax disaster, the pueblo, Colorado floods, and other great natural catastrophes, there are thousands of instances where individual relief has been rendered, where every day commonplace misery has been alleviated.

In Seminole county last year the local chapter handled about fifty cases, among which were three funerals, care and hospital treatment for several, clothing for one dozen or more, fitting out two children so that they could attend school, writing and aid for ex-soldiers. A great deal more work could have been accomplished had the local chapter been the recipient of greater funds. The American Red Cross numbers four million American men and women in its leadership. In addition there is an excellent force of five million junior members active in an incessant battle against disease, disaster, misery and suffering in peace as well as in war, and is still providing comfort and good cheer for the enlisted personnel of the army and navy. For wounded ex-service men who are struggling to readjust their lives to post-war conditions.

Whenever a cyclone, fire or flood visits a community the American Red Cross is the first organized relief agency to provide for the victims. Last year it spent more than $900,000 in nineteen states in this work. Through its trained personnel of over 1264 public health nurses it is promoting health conditions throughout the country. Our beaches are patrolled by over 280 life saving corps, while Red Cross nurses, famous in song and story of battle fields, number 38,856 well trained men and women ready for emergency duty with the army or navy. Its work in the stricken section of Europe during the war and up to the present time has been the subject of the highest praise by governments of countries where the American Red Cross has operated.

The Red Cross never ends. Before one task is another awaits. It is a typical American institution, big and broad every sense of the word. It is an institution that America can be proud of, because it is typical of the Nation. It is America's own, and as individual Americans should be considered as their own and supported as such. Be to contribute for your membership and help finance the Red Cross to the extent that it will be ready for greater service to humanity.

THE WEATHER

The weather, as during the previous week, continued cold with frosts on several locally heavy on the 18th. The deficiency in temperature ranged from 6 degrees to 10 degrees above the northern and western divisions, and as much as 8 degrees below the central and southern divisions. The lowest temperature adjacent to the coast was above freezing, but minima approximated that degree below over portions of the western and northern divisions.

The absence of rain of the week was general throughout the section. The third and fourth weeks without rain, over some districts, of which is now becoming a droughty conditions are indicated by comparing the rainfall for the date with the same period last year. Fort Lauderdale and Miami districts have received, to date, 3.30 inches less rain than for same period of 1922; and the same conditions are applicable to Fort Myers on the west coast. The observations noted from stations in the graph reports are Bartow, Kissimmee, where the rainfall to date exceeds that of 1922. The drought seems to be the sequence of west spring.

Northern Division.

The weather was cold, dry, and shiny—ideal for active farmers, which was well advanced in preparing land for spring crops. Oats made slow progress, especially on uplands, and planting was suspended in some localities, owing to the lack of soil moisture, but damaged some seed cane, bean and other tender truck. Celery lettuce made good progress—the berries are in fair to good condition, but need rain; plants are being irrigated and fertilized. Citrus fruits are coloring and maturing rapidly. Shipments continued during the week.

Central Division.

There was much sunshine, and general light frosts, except on the 18th, when it was locally heavy, doing some damage to tender truck. Potato vines were killed, and beans were damaged as much as 10 per cent in some instances. The temperature was unfavorable for truck and strawberries, but it is beneficial to celery and lettuce—however, need rain, as do the vegetable truck crops, especially on uplands. The grinding of cane and harvest of sweet potatoes continued in favorable conditions. The work

HIRAM JOHNSON PLANS CAMPAIGN

HIRAM W. JOHNSON (The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—A "popular choice" by Republican voters of the candidate for president in 1924 was demanded today by Hiram Johnson.

Over a desk piled high with telegrams and letters offering support for his candidacy, Senator Johnson told callers today he would make a fight in every state possible against the "hand picking" of delegates to the national convention. "My plans are crystallizing," he said, "but are not at present entirely definite. For that reason I will not discuss details now. But I believe the rank and file of the Republican party has the right to express their preference for their presidential candidate."

"I am seeking to have that preference expressed. I'll accept the result with equanimity, but I insist that the rank and file shall determine the candidate of that party rather than a few politicians."

After conference here and elsewhere during the next fortnight, Senator Johnson said he hoped to announce the details of his campaign, including the establishment of headquarters and managers.

LOCALS

Fred W. Pledger, president of the Ocala Loan and Savings Bank of Ocala accompanied by Mr. Thomas, cashier of that institution spent Tuesday in Sanford.

James Henry was among the St. Petersburg visitors to Sanford stopping at the Valdez Tuesday, driving in his new Apperson sedan.

E. A. Bachman, of Jacksonville, representative of A. M. Bros. wholesale fruit dealers, is in Sanford today calling on the local trade. He is stopping at the Valdez.

Palmer Walthour of Atlanta, Ga., member of the firm of Walthour & Hood is a business visitor to Sanford, and will be a guest of the Valdez during his stay in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McArthur, of Gainesville, were arrivals at the Valdez Tuesday and will make their home there during their sojourn in Sanford. Mr. McArthur will relieve Mr. Overlin, Sanford manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Co., during his vacation.

preparing land for spring crops made good progress; much seeding was done in the Everglades district, where such work was previously delayed. Shipping of beans, peppers, eggplants and other truck continued from various localities. Citrus fruits are maturing nicely; ranges are poor, owing to dry weather.

Western Division.

The weather was unseasonably cool with frosts on several days, resulting in some damage to truck and seed cane. Fall truck generally needs rain and moderate temperature. Digging sweet potatoes and syrup-making continued. Satsuma oranges are in good condition, and shipping continued with favorable results to the grower. Ranges are getting thin.

Southern Division.

Dry, cool, and shiny—ideal conditions for the shipping of citrus fruits, but unfavorable for the setting of tomatoes and other truck except on low lands. Land is drying rapidly in the Everglades district, and farm work made good progress; in fact, moderate quantities of peppers, eggplants, beans, and other truck were moved during the week from the vicinity of Clewiston; low temperature, however, on the 18th was unfavorable.

Out-of-Door Advantages for Youth In Sanford Unequaled in Florida

Sanford, for its size, has some of the best advantages that a city can have for its youth. Boys and girls of Sanford should never be at loss as to what they can do to keep themselves busy during their spare hours. With the many occupations which are offered to amuse and benefit them, Sanford boys and girls should be proud of their city.

In other words, Sanford is chock full of things that delight and help its younger element. With the high school athletic teams, Brotherhood of St. Andrew, two troops of Boy Scouts, a Girl's Friendly Society and various other clubs, including private societies all offer something in the way of amusement and profitable spending of time.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew, under the excellent leadership of Father Peck is an order for boys which keeps them in a variety of both indoor and outdoor sports. They have the most complete club room of any young men or boys' club in the city, their total collection of rooms including two bowling alleys, a billiard room, a basketball court (inside) in which nearly all sorts of indoor games may be staged. Then, in their club room, they have a Radio Set which keeps the boys employed at night in something which is educational for them instead of prowling the streets to seek whatever mischief they can.

The Boy Scouts have their ways of benefiting the young folks of Sanford. The study of the Boy Scout manual will show anyone what a world of knowledge it contains and when put into actual practice by a group of America's red-blooded lads it furnishes one of the most helpful parts of a boy's life. Sanford has two Boy Scout troops and according to the number of boys in Sanford of going age, there should be at least six or eight more.

There are also quite a number of girl's clubs, such as Friendly Societies, Campfire Girls and Girl Scouts. So it is easily seen that Sanford offers to the girl's as well as boys outdoor life.

Both boys and girls have the use of a fine tennis court which is located on Ninth and Park avenue. And the young people of the city show that they appreciate the court because it is always occupied and most of the occupants make efforts to see that the court is kept in good shape.

Sanford has also both a baseball and football field. While not up to Benj. Kershaw, of Jacksonville, is a visitor to the City Substantial stopping at the Valdez. Mr. Kershaw will be remembered as the special mechanic who completely overhauled the A. C. L. locomotive which made the record run from Tampa to Washington pulling the Shrine's Special last summer.

Coach George McRory who expects to put out a real basket ball team for the Brotherhood of St. Andrew is now working up a hard schedule for the Brotherhood Boys, probably much harder than any they have had before.

SANFORD WILL RALLY TO SUPPORT OF RED CROSS CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERSHIP

Everyone Asked To Be Ready To Contribute For Membership In The World's Greatest Relief Agency

Aptly entitled the "Greatest Mother in the World," the American Red Cross is again making appeal for support so that in turn the world's afflicted can be provided for.

Unfortunately, the majority of people have been wont to think of the Red Cross as a war organization, which during peace times is called on to relieve the suffering of individuals and communities afflicted by natural catastrophes.

The belief that this class of relief, while handled by the Red Cross, does not properly come under its jurisdiction, but is done as an emergency measure, until such time as some other organization can step in, is erroneous. The truth of the matter is that the Red Cross does more actual work during peace times than ever called on for during war times. While the majority of us are familiar with its work in the Halifax disaster, the pueblo, Colorado floods, and other great natural catastrophes, there are thousands of instances where individual relief has been rendered, where every day commonplace misery has been alleviated.

In Seminole county last year the local chapter handled about fifty cases, among which were three funerals, care and hospital treatment for several, clothing for one dozen or more, fitting out two children so that they could attend school, writing and aid for ex-soldiers. A great deal more work could have been accomplished had the local chapter been the recipient of greater funds.

The American Red Cross numbers four million American men and women in its leadership. In addition there is an excellent force of five million junior members active in an incessant battle against disease, disaster, misery and suffering in peace as well as in war, and is still providing comfort and good cheer for the enlisted personnel of the army and navy. For wounded ex-service men who are struggling to readjust their lives to post-war conditions.

Whenever a cyclone, fire or flood visits a community the American Red Cross is the first organized relief agency to provide for the victims. Last year it spent more than $900,000 in nineteen states in this work. Through its trained personnel of over 1,264 public health nurses it is promoting health conditions throughout the country. Our beaches are patrolled by over 280 life saving corps, while Red Cross nurses, famous in song and story of battle fields, number 38,855 well trained men and women ready for emergency duty with the army or navy. Its work in the stricken section of Europe during the war and up to the present time has been the subject of the highest praise by governments of the countries where the American Red Cross has operated.

The Red Cross duty never ends. Before one task is finished another awaits. It is a typical American institution, big and broad in every sense of the word. It is an institution that America can well be proud of, because it is typical of the Nation. It is America's institution, and as individual Americans it should be considered as their institution and supported as such. Be ready to contribute for your membership and help finance the Red Cross to an extent that it will be ready for even greater service to humanity.

THE WEATHER

The weather, as during the previous week, continued dry and cold with frosts on several days—locally heavy on the 18th. The daily deficiency in temperature ranged from 6 degrees to 10 degrees over most of the northern and western divisions, and as much as 8 degrees in the central and southern divisions. The lowest temperature adjacent to the coast was above freezing, but the minima approximated that degree and below over portions of the western and northern divisions.

The absence of rain of moment was general throughout the Section, being the third and fourth weeks without rain, over some districts, the need of which is now becoming acute. The droughty conditions are appreciated by comparing the rainfall to date with the same period last year. The Fort Lauderdale and Miami districts have received, to date, about 30 inches less rain than for the same period of 1922; and the same conditions are applicable to Fort Meyers on the west coast. The only exceptions noted from stations that telegraph reports are Bartow and Thrusville, where the rainfall to date exceeds that of 1922. The dry autumn seems to be the sequence of the west spring.

Northern Division.

The weather was cold, dry, and sunny—ideal for active farm work, which was well advanced in so far as preparing land for spring crops is concerned, but it was unfavorable for fall truck, berries, and ranges. Oats made slow progress, especially on uplands, and planting was suspended in some localities, owing to the lack of soil moisture. Frost damaged some seed cane, beans, and other tender truck. Celery and lettuce made good progress—the latter is being shipped in car lots. Strawberries are in fair to good condition, but need rain; plants are being worked and fertilized. Citrus fruits are coloring and maturing rapidly; large shipments continued during the week.

Central Division.

There was much sunshine, and several light frosts, except on the 18th, when it was locally heavy, doing some damage to tender truck. Sweet potato vines were killed, and fall beans were damaged as much as 50 per cent in some instances. The low temperature was unfavorable for truck and strawberries, but it was beneficial to celery and lettuce—both, however, need rain, as do the various truck crops, especially on uplands. The grinding of cane and harvesting of sweet potatoes continued under favorable conditions. The work of

HIRAM JOHNSON PLANS CAMPAIGN

Candidate Hopes to Assure Popular Choice in 1924 Primary Elections.

HIRAM W. JOHNSON
(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—A "popular choice" by Republican voters of the candidate for president in 1924 was demanded today by Hiram Johnson.

Over a desk piled high with telegrams and letters offering support for his candidacy, Senator Johnson told callers today he would make a fight in every state possible against the "hand picking" of delegates to the national convention.

"My plans are crystallizing," he said, "but are not at present entirely definite. For that reason I will not discuss details now. But I believe the rank and file of the Republican party has the right to express their preference for their presidential candidate."

"I am seeking to have that preference expressed. I'll accept the result with equanimity, but I insist that the rank and file shall determine the candidate of that party rather than a few politicians."

After conference here and elsewhere during the next fortnight, Senator Johnson said he hoped to announce the details of his campaign, including the establishment of headquarters and managers.

LOCALS

Fred W. Pledger, president of the Ocala Loan and Savings Bank of Ocala accompanied by Mr. Thomas, cashier of that institution spent Tuesday in Sanford.

Innes Henry was among the St. Petersburg visitors to Sanford stopping at the Valdez Tuesday, driving up in his new Apperson sedan.

E. A. Bachman, of Jacksonville, representative of a Mrs. Bros. wholesale fruit dealers, is in Sanford today calling on the local trade. He is stopping at the Valdez.

Palmer Walthour, of Atlanta, Ga., member of the firm of Walthour & Hood is a business visitor to Sanford, and will be a guest of the Valdez during his stay in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McArthur, of Gainesville, were arrivals at the Valdez Tuesday and will make their home there during their sojourn in Sanford. Mr. McArthur will relieve Mr. Overlin, Sanford manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Co., during his vacation.

preparing land for spring crops made good progress; much seeding was done in the Everglades district, where such work was previously delayed. Shipping of beans, peppers, eggplants and other truck continued from various localities. Citrus fruits are maturing nicely; ranges are poor, owing to dry weather.

Western Division.
The weather was unseasonably cool with frosts on several days, resulting in some damage to truck and seed cane. Fall truck generally needs rain and moderate temperature. Digging sweet potatoes and syrup-making continued. Satsuma oranges are in good condition, and shipping continued with favorable results to the grower. Ranges are getting thin.

Southern Division.
Dry, cool, and sunny—ideal conditions for the shipping of citrus fruits, but unfavorable for the setting of tomatoes and other truck except on low lands. Land is drying rapidly in the Everglades district, and farm work made good progress; in fact, moderate quantities of peppers, eggplants, beans, and other truck were moved during the week from the vicinity of Clewiston; low temperature, however, on the 18th was unfavorable.

Out-of-Door Advantages for Youth In Sanford Unequaled in Florida

Sanford, for its size, has some of the best advantages that a city can have for its youth. Boys and girls of Sanford should never be at loss as to what they can do to keep themselves busy during their spare hours. With the many occupations which are offered to amuse and benefit them, Sanford boys and girls should be proud of their city.

In other words, Sanford is chock full of things that delight and help its younger element. With the High school athletic teams, Brotherhood of St. Andrew, two troops of Boy Scouts, a Girl's Friendly Society and various other clubs, including private societies all offer something in the way of amusement and profitable spending at time.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew, under the excellent leadership of Father Peck is an order for boys which keeps them in a variety of both indoor and outdoor sports. They have the most complete club room of any young men or boys' club in the city, their total collection of rooms including two bowling alleys, a billiard room, a basketball court (indoor) in which nearly all sorts of indoor games may be staged. Then, in their club room, they have a Radio Set which keeps the boys employed at night in something which is educational for them instead of prowling the streets to seek whatever mischief they can.

The Boy Scouts have their ways of benefiting the young folks of Sanford. The study of the Boy Scout manual will show anyone what a world of knowledge it contains and when put into actual practice by a group of America's red-blooded lads it furnishes one of the most helpful parts of a boy's life. Sanford has two Boy Scout troops and according to the number of boys in Sanford of scouting age, there should be at least six or eight more.

There are also quite a number of girl's clubs, such as Friendly Societies, Campfire Girls and Girl Scouts. So it is easily seen that Sanford offers to the girl's as well as boys outdoor life.

Both boys and girls have the use of a fine tennis court which is located on Ninth and Park avenue. And the young people of the city show that they appreciate the court because it is always occupied and most of the occupants make efforts to see that the court is kept in good shape.

Sanford has also both a baseball and football field. While not up to the standard, by this time next year they will be far past the standard as the city already has passed a bond issue to build a municipal athletic field.

Plans are also under view for establishing "High Y" society here which would add to the benefit of the young men of the city considerably, and combined with all of the above Sanford has opportunities for her younger world that can hardly be excelled by any other city her size anywhere.

TODAY'S BIBLE THOUGHT

The Precious Jewel:—There is gold and a multitude of rubies; but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.—Proverbs 20:15.

Prosperous Sanford!

All roads lead to Sanford.

Wise buyers are already shopping for Christmas.

Visitors are prospective citizens—treat them well.

Winter Park has just passed another bond issue for improvements.

Willis Powell says that most girls' idea of being smart is to look chic.

Know Florida. Visit the state fair and get acquainted with what other sections are producing.

Tampa will be known as the New Orleans of Florida in ten years, according to the Tampa Tribune.

Hunters should remember that it is unlawful to kill a wild turkey until 1927.

Secretary Mellon says that to save a part of what one earns is a vital element in successful life.

Gov. Walton found out that the state constitution was far more important than he first estimated.

Germany must be good if financial aid is forthcoming, according to a decision made by American and British financiers.

Experience is a valuable by-product of every undertaking in which we engage, remarks the Leesburg Commercial.

List your vacant room with the Chamber of Commerce, make it produce a revenue and help Sanford entertain her visitors.

State Health Officers are compiling statistics preparatory to waging a campaign to eradicate the mosquito.

If the Orlando detour continues to deteriorate at its present rate, it won't be long before it will be unpassable for all save whippet tanks and tractors.

Press reports indicate that Uncle Sam expects to wage a strong campaign to enforce the prohibition laws. More than ten million dollars, according to recent estimates, will be provided for this purpose.

Herbert Felkel in his "Sunshine" urges all loyal Floridians to spell out the word Florida. "Florida is a trademark that business men of the state cannot over-use. It is our best advertising slogan," he advises.

Know the South—and let the South know you. The Manufacturers' Record believes that the South does not adequately know itself and that Southern people should spend more time finding out about their vast natural resources.

The proposal to issue fifty million dollars in road bonds is gaining support every day. Florida will, no doubt, follow the lead of North Carolina and will profit thereby even to a greater extent than the old North State.

Florida is enjoying the greatest prosperity in the history of the state. With everybody busy and prospective residents arriving every day from northern states, no part of the state will have cause for complaint this season.

Growers are expressing great satisfaction over the plan for government inspection of all perishables shipped from this section. It is believed this plan will raise the standard of local products and will mean more money to the growers.

Three Wishes For Sanford.

The Herald would be pleased to receive communications for publication on the subject, "What I should like to see in Sanford." The articles must be brief. Not exceeding, let us say, five hundred words, and must be signed by the name of the writer for publication.

Desiring to be frank with its readers, the managers of The Herald will openly confess here that their main idea in asking for these communications is to "get a line" on what the people of Sanford want for their city.

It would be ever so helpful to The Herald's new pilots if they could receive letters from many of The Herald readers, either for publication or for their personal reading.

If you could make three wishes for Sanford, what would they be?

This Day in "Education Week."

"School and Teachers' Day." Slogans: "Better trained and better paid teachers." "More adequate buildings and equipment."

That is the outline for today's program in "Education Week." It offers a theme for volumes of earnest writing and for oratory that should go straight to the heart of the nation.

We all have had acquaintance with incompetent teachers. We all have known of shabby work in the schools. We have all seen children's minds warped and their characters ruined by the sorry training they have received in the "cheap" class room.

And we have used that word "cheap" advisedly. Under our strange conception of the value of our children's teachers, we have been perfectly willing to pay them less than we pay our washwomen and our street-cleaners. A man will cheerfully pay thirty dollars a month for the care of his automobile, but would be overwhelmed with indignation if asked to join nineteen other men to pay his children's teacher six hundred dollars a month.

That does sound extravagant, doesn't it? But why not? Why not six hundred dollars a month for the teacher who handles the training of twenty children in expert fashion?

We have maintained the custom of underpaying teachers because it has happened that there are fine teachers, wonderful women and men, who sacrifice their material interests and accept the teacher's pittance as pay for work too valuable for any money to recompense.

We all have had acquaintance with great teachers. We all have known of superior work in the schools. We all have seen children's minds developed in almost miraculous fashion and their characters made sturdy and beautiful by the influence of the fine class room.

And so we have been willing to accept the sacrifice. So we have been blind to the fact that it is only the rare person willing to forego the material comforts of life who will continue to teach for a livelihood. The inferior teacher is paid as much as the expert because there are not enough of the expert teachers to fill the demand. And this will become more and more the case unless the people awaken to what a good school and a good teacher is worth to them in actual dollars.

Pay well and demand good service. Pay well and command good service. Brilliant men and women would gladly spend years of training for the teaching profession, if that profession were given the financial attractiveness it should justly possess.

Today's program in "Education Week" is the sort of program that should make business for every civic organization in the country. The school training of America's boys and girls is just about the most important matter that concerns the American people.

THE COST OF FEAR.

Fear costs too much. As courage is the greatest asset, so fear is the greatest liability. There have been many failures in business on account of rashness; but there have been many more on account of timidity.

Fear is expensive for the body. It is courage that makes effort and drives one to adventure, and activity and health follow these things.

The slothful man, according to the proverb, says: "There is a lion in the street." Fat, liver complaint and forty other diseases all enter by the door of fear. Fear is an enemy to the mind, for it is the father of delusion.

Fear is expensive for the soul, for it drowns its victim in the well of superstition.

It is hard for the soul that always wants to be safe to be always just and honest. For righteousness is a tremendous adventure.

To "let not your heart be troubled" is good business.—Exchange.

THE KINDLY WARRIOR IN FLORIDA.

By James Ba'ar in "Sunshine."

Florida was honored in entertaining another in the long line of her famous guests when on Armistice Day this year Admiral William Sowden Sims, of world-wide fame as war-time commander of the American Naval Forces operating in European waters, came to this state expressly to dedicate the new Legion Home of the Edward C. DeSarsure Post No. 9 of Jacksonville. The entire state may well be proud of the new Legion headquarters, which will be the handsome home of the late Joseph R. Parrott, former President of the Florida East Coast Railway. Through the generosity of Mrs. Parrott, his widow, this property was acquired upon terms most favorable to the Legionnaires.

"I have always wanted to come to Florida," says the great naval chief, writing to Lieut. Gilchrist B. Stockton, a Florida man who served as an aide to Admiral Sims in London, and through whom the invitation to Florida was extended. Stockton was with the admiral from the time his staff consisted of only one regular officer until after the armistice was signed.

Newsreader readers have a mental picture of Admiral Sims as "six-foot two," of aggressiveness and fighting spirit; but Lieut. Stockton, speaking from a more intimate association, relates interesting anecdotes of the admiral's kindly and lovable personality. One of these incidents concerns the American Commander and the "Commander's Commander" as he was known, the latter being young "Reg" Gilmar, the little son of Lieut. R. E. Gilmar. The admiral is himself the father of six children, and during the week-ends which he spent with the Gilmars at their country place at Cobham, near London, he and little "Reg" became devoted "shipmates." Little "Reg" was constantly at his side. This alliance between the "Little Admiral" and "Big Admiral" lasted until Lieut. Gilmar returned to America assigned to duty requiring his special technical qualifications.

The Gilmars were living in New York and little "Reg" often asked about his hero. The six million other people living in Gotham did not seem to count. One day he spied the characteristic gray beard on a tall figure clad in an immaculate gold-braided blue uniform. Breaking away from his mother "Reg" rushed up to the man and Mrs. Gilmar was astonished to see little "Reg" frantically embracing the knees of an embarrassed doorman at a Fifth Avenue hotel, shouting, "Hey, Am'ral!"

Admiral Sims' characteristic kindness was never reserved for his intimates alone, but was felt by all in his command, down to the land lubber apprentice seaman who still talked about a ship's "floor" when he meant its "deck."

Many years before the war when Sims took command of the U. S. S. Nevada, he found the "brig" filled with "gobs" locked up for trivial breaches of navy discipline. Within a few weeks he had cleared the ship's jail and had it repainted for the use of the men as a handball court.

Aggressiveness in a good cause had made his reputation, Sims becoming known as the "Father of American Gunnery." Always devoting his fighting spirit to needed naval reforms but maintaining a lovable human disposition, endearing him to childhood as well as to his military associates—this is the man Florida delights to welcome on the Fifth Anniversary of the Peace he helped to hasten.

FLORIDA OPPORTUNITIES.

By Roger W. Babson.

I WANT to say that there is no state in the Union that has such opportunities, and such a bright future as Florida.

You have the sunshine, the water and the phosphate, the three basic fundamentals of agriculture. New Mexico and Arizona have the sunshine, but not the moisture; California and certain other sections have the sunshine and moisture without the phosphate.

You have got here those three fundamentals, the only state in the Union which has the three fundamentals of agriculture.

Secondly, you have the strategic location, you are near the great markets, only 24 hours, more or less, to Washington, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, the great markets.

There is a third factor which is very important. The farmer in the Central West is up against this proposition: As the people become more prosperous, they eat less wheat, rye, corn and other cereals, which are the great basic crops of the Central West, but the reverse is true of fruit. As people become more prosperous, they consume more fruit.

STATE PRESS COMMENT

Fort Myers Press: Plasterers in Chicago are receiving $25 a day. We think this is laying it on pretty thick.

Orlando Sentinel: Somebody issues a dietetic tract on "The Crime of Coffee Drinking." But isn't it the coffee making that's criminal?

Miami Herald: Billy Sunday called on the president the other day and it is a safe bet that Mr. Coolidge did not get in a word edgewise.

Tampa Tribune: Some unknown philanthropist has supplied every paper in Florida with a cut of Nathan Mayo.

Palm Beach Times: Nobody is concerned about "the full dinner pail" nowadays. What everybody demands is the groning mahogany table.

Miami News-Metropolis: At twenty you blush when a man praises you; at thirty you think him a clever fellow, and at forty you wonder what he wants.

Florida Chief: They fined Harry Blank, of Philadelphia, $13.00 for

A thousand dollars makes a fine gift, but is rather expensive.

The time has come to shop early and avoid avoiding the shoppers.

Get something for the home this Christmas. A hammer for cracking nuts, burglars and collectors is fine.

When selecting children's Christmas toys get them two of each. One is for father to play with.

A nice little booklet containing a dozen silver-plated wrong numbers is a swell telephone girl gift.

Professor says we will all live underground in 2,000 years, but the wets still have hopes.

Evansville (Ind.) bricklayer caught stealing chickens, perhaps intending teaching them to lay bricks.

Very few people do as well as they expect while a great many do better than their friends expect.

The greatest man in the world is the man you would be if it didn't take so darn much energy.

If a peach is not a lemon she usually gets the apple of her eye, which, of course, makes a pair.

The world gets faster. A man can get married in one minute or drink himself to death in half a minute.

There's the plumber. Buy the plumber a Christmas present. What about a million memorandum books?

Remember the barber this Christmas. Give him some liniment for rubbing his tired jaw muscles.

And the butcher, get him a Christmas gift. A few extra bones to put in the steak would tickle him.

Even the goldfish should have their Christmas. Read them all about what a hard time other fish have.

Do you know a man who smokes a pipe? A million dollars worth of matches for Christmas would suit him.

Florida should rejoice over the fact that the state now has more than five thousand miles of paved roads.

An Infallible Guard

Advertising, if you use it properly, is an infallible sentinel for you. It guards you against fraud and inferiority. It protects you against making unwise and unsatisfactory purchases.

Merchants and manufacturers who advertise must give full value because they have good names to protect. The makers of well known products often value names at millions of dollars. They cannot afford to jeopardise the worth of these names by selling any but good goods of full measure and fair price.

So, you can bank on this. ADVERTISED GOODS MUST be as ADVERTISED. That is why it pays to deal with advertisers and to buy advertised products.

MOODS.

Where do they go, those little moods of mine?

Shed, one by one, like garments used no more;

Each leaves behind a haunting loneliness,

Until I lose the semblance that it wore.

The golden softness of the pensive mood

Wraps me around like opiates that blind.

Then, passing, leaves a cool, indifferent mind.

The tender moods and those of deep despair

Are all of such an inner part of me, I wonder, can they be old, memories?

Or are they thoughts from other worlds set free?

The red, defiant mood sets me athrill,

Until there comes such shadowy regret

I press my throbbing heart to keep it still.

They are my children of a fleeting hour,

Born of my soul and fashioned after me;

When they depart, oh, do they not return

Are they, perhaps, those little wandering winds

I feel, but can not see?

INCOME TAXES BE REDUCED IS PLAN

Reduction Will Include All Branches If Plans Carry When Congress Meets

ANDREW W. MELLON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Income taxes from the highest to the lowest will be materially reduced by the congress that meets two weeks from today, but not at the expense of the soldier's bonus.

This apparently was the consensus of opinion among leaders of both house and senate today after a week's conference inaugurated by the announcement of the Mellon reduction program. The secretary of the treasury, an implacable foe of the bonus, made his recommendation contingent upon congress not passing the bonus bill.

Members of congress, however, plan to do both—reduce taxes and pass the bonus. Most of them are committed to both actions and they promised the veterans adjusted compensation in their campaigns, and they promised lower taxes generally to their constituents when seeking re-election.

Secretary Mellon proposed that income taxes be reduced generally from 30 to 40 per cent, which reduced from 30 to 40 per cent, which reduced to dollars means more than $300,000,000.

Bonus advocates believe it will be possible to work out an adjusted compensation bill that will cost the government only about $100,000,000 in cash annually. They further believe such a bill will be acceptable to the veterans, and at the same time permit a tax cut so substantial as to make it felt in the pocket of every taxpayer in the country, whether he earns $2,000 a year or $100,000.

the tea service. Favors of cunning baskets resembling turkeys filled with yellow grains of corn were given.

About thirty members of the class enjoyed this pleasant evening and all voted this one of the most delightful affairs given the members in some time.

Joe Tinker To Assist Park Commission In Selecting Athletic Field in Sanford

Joe Tinker, manager of the Orlando baseball team, has consented to come to Sanford and assist the Park Commission in the selection and building of the new athletic park. Mr. Tinker has had considerable experience in this line of work, having built the Orlando ball park. He was also for some time a stellar shortstop on the Chicago White Sox.

Mr. Tinker has also promised that when he goes to the national conference of the owners and managers of professional baseball teams in Chicago on December 6, he will bring back to Sanford for training purposes a Class A team. He also expressed the desire that Sanford would soon see fit to return to the folds of the State League.

The statement of Mr. Tinker's that within a year or two all big league teams will be training in Florida is substantiated to a certain extent by a letter received yesterday by the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. According to C. A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago White Sox, arrangements have been made to bring the White Sox to Florida next spring, and rumor has it that they will locate in Winter Park.

YALE READY FOR HARVARD

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21.—Dick Luman, the regular right-end on the Yale Varsity football team, returned to the eleven yesterday, making it possible for the team to go through signals with the same line-up with which they started the game against Princeton. All the members of the squad, except Hulman, who is still in the infirmary with a twisted knee, were on the field.

The line-up for Saturday's game with Harvard probably will be the same as last week. Along dummy scrimmage will be held tomorrow and will constitute the last hard work previous to meeting the Crimson.

Slow Motion Pictures Show In Memoriam Won

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Slow motion pictures of the Zev-In Memoriam match race Saturday at Churchill Downs, Louisville, exhibited today for the first time by the Pathe Company, show in Memoriam an apparent victor by half head, although part, at least of the margin was due to the location of the camera, six feet beyond the finish line. The judges in one of the most thrilling thoroughbred races in history. Calculation of the camera's location to the wire and distance from the horses at the finish gives in Memoriam an advantage of about four inches in the pictures, according to an explanation of Emanuel Cohen, Pathe editor, to newspapermen who witnessed a special showing of the films. Discounting this, however, it was pointed out, in Memoriam apparently had a lead of approximately eight inches, inasmuch as the margin actually apparent in the picture is about twelve inches.

Mr. Cohen emphasized that his explanation was purely from a technical viewpoint, based upon the "revelation of the camera's eye." He refused to commit himself one way or the other regarding the outcome of the race.

Jockey Earle Sande, upon the conqueror of Papyrus and Mack Garner who piloted in Memoriam, both whipped their mounts frantically in a driving finish.

Double Christening In Ford Car Family Bring 2 New Names

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 21.—There's been a double christening in the Ford car family.

When the newest member, a smart sedan with two doors, arrived on the scene, announcement of which is just made, there came with it the question of a name.

For several days the folks just couldn't decide what to call the baby of the family until, from quite an unexpected source, there came the happy suggestion:

"Let's call it Tudor."

And Tudor it was christened, a name quite in keeping with the aristocratic appearance of the new car.

"How about re-naming the other sedan?" some one asked and then came this reply:

"We might call it the four-door Ford or—Ah, that's it! Ford—or, Fordor. Simple and expressive, isn't it?"

So we have two Ford cars with brand new names, the Tudor and the Fordor.

"A man ought to come home in the evening smiling and with a good appetite."

"Yes," replied young Mrs. Torkins, "he ought to. But the home team can't win all the time."—Washington Star.

Celery Seed

Well, we're back again after an absence of a few days, during which time we were trying to understand what the St. Augustine sport writer meant by his assertion "that the Saints taught the Sanford boys how to play football last Saturday." This bird must have been cross-eyed or a color blind both!

Seems to us like the teaching that was done, was under the supervision of the Sanford squad, with Quarterback Bach as principal and the rest of "the gang" as his corps of teachers. The only slip in this fine trained corps of teachers was when a couple of them went to sleep trying to drum some real football into heads of the Saints, who with their yellow jackets seemed stupid as to everything—excepting, perhaps the fact that there was water in the lake and that it was dangerous to venture near!

The yellow uniforms of the Saint players ought to have been enough for anyone to distinguish the difference between them and the Sanford boys who had black uniforms. But as we have said above—someone was evidently color blind!

For the simple reason that the local boys just "matchily and testotally" outplayed the Ancient City boys without any doubt whatever.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew put the Men's Club on the retired list last night by beating them to the tune of a 134 pin margin. We are surprised at the Men's Club for bowling such a low score. And—according to several of the Men's Club—they are surprised too!

Mutt Moye cannot understand yet how he bowled high score for the evening—but it isn't anything that puzzles us. Mutt can do anything in the athletic line and can do it well, too. We are not surprised at anything in the sporting world that he does, great or small.

The alleys must have been oiled up last night—which, accounts—or would account for the low scores made by both teams. The Men's Club usually rolls a much higher score than they did last night—so in our opinion, something was radically wrong with the alleys.

Belding rolled a score of 16 for Monday night's game with the Truckers which is high-water mark for this season. It will also be a hard mark to beat at any time this year. There have been three to cross the two hundred mark for one game this year. Stevenson, Congregational bowler was the first to cross it with a total of 335 pins for one game. The next day Britt made a better record, getting 210 pins. The last Monday night Bill Belding, captain of the Congregationals, beating 'em all, got 216 pins for one game.

But as the season is very early we are expecting to see some one break this mark—though it will be hard to better.

Sanford is very lucky in securing the services of Joe Tinker, veteran at the baseball game to assist in the selection of a suitable field to make a municipal athletic field. We welcome this assistance by Mr. Tinker, who certainly is well up on these things and trust that he will help Sanford to have an athletic field as good as Orlando has in another year.

Coach Wilkinson is hard at work getting his Celery Feds in shape for the game with Orlando Saturday. The locals will meet the Memorial Tigers in Orlando this year.

The Tigers have a much stronger team this year than they did last, when the Sanford High boys walked away with them so easily. The Celery Feds will no doubt find a much harder team to beat this year than last.
