Governor Collins Okays Two-Year Program

State To Spend Record $427 Million

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—A record $427 million dollar spending program that would almost empty the general revenue till has been approved for Florida's state government the next two years but Gov. Collins says there will be no deficit spending.

Collins said in approving the $427 million dollar general appropriations bill last night without any trimming of funds that there were enough safeguards around the spending that the government would be operated on a sound fiscal basis.

While he voted no money items, he did disapprove four stipulations which the Legislature had written into the big money bill for operating the state government and financing institutional building the next two years.

In addition to the General Appropriations Act there are spending measures which will run the general revenue outlay up to $427,489,057.

If all of the appropriated funds are spent the total would run close to the $428 million dollar figure which Budget Director Harry Smith estimates will be available in the general fund the next two years.

However, Collins pointed out that there were several safeguards which can keep spending from going overboard.

One is that the Budget Commission has authority to review and adjust appropriations in order that the state will have at all times the estimated funds available to pay appropriations.

Another experience has shown that all appropriated funds are not spent, and some funds were bound to revert back to the general fund at the end of the biennium.

Some of the appropriations are for programs which won't get under way until late in the biennium and if funds run short some of the building program can be held in reserve until the situation improves, he said.

Red Theme Is Rapped By Dulles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told Russia in blunt language today that the way to end the cold war is to stop using force against other countries and to stop supporting subversion.

In a stinging attack on communism, Dulles declared: "To bring the cold war to an end, seven points are not needed this one is sufficient."

The secretary spoke at the U. N.'s 10th anniversary meetings, which Wednesday heard Soviet Foreign Minister B. M. Molotov propose a seven-point program to liquidate the cold war.

Dulles spoke with President Eisenhower's "full confidence and concurrence." The President himself said so on Monday when he addressed the opening session. He told the delegates the secretary would speak today "on appropriate elements in the foreign policy of this nation."

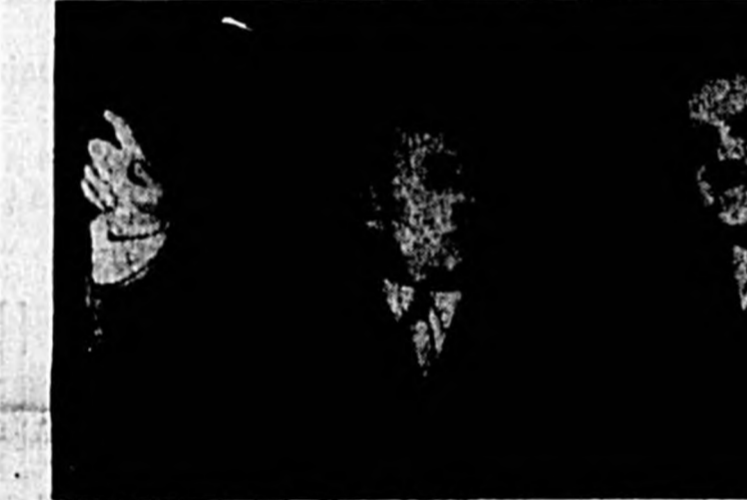

Dulles pulled no punches as he reviewed the role of communism in recent history. He agreed with Molotov that some problems had been settled recently, but he said they would have been settled years earlier except for the Communists.

"We do not forget," he said, "we dare not forget, that some of those who now hail the recent developments are precisely those who for years sought to stop them."

Dulles strongly defended the North Atlantic Treaty Organization which Molotov blamed for much of the trouble today. These organizations were based on the spirit of the U. N. Charter, he said, and it was Western strength, backed by these organizations, which had led to the solution of major problems.

Murder Indictment Returned

FOREIGN MINISTERS FOR THE BIG FOUR powers, attending the United Nations' Tenth anniversary celebration in San Francisco, confer on details of the scheduled Geneva meeting of the heads of their respective governments next month. Attentive as Antoine Pinay of France speaks are (l. or.): V. M. Molotov of Russia; Harold McMillan of Great Britain, and John Foster Dulles of the United States. (International)

Jury men Finish Session

A first degree murder indictment was returned today by the Seminole Circuit Court grand jury against William O. McKendree, Paula carpenter, in the fatal shooting of a Jacksonville man here June 4.

At the same time, in winding up a two-day session, the jury did not return a true bill in the case of a Negro prisoner who died in the county jail.

Ernest Betts was foreman of the jury and B. E. Aiken Jr. was assistant foreman.

Other members of the jury were George H. H. Braddy, H. I. Duhart, C. G. Hart, A. B. Coplin, Richard H. Ivera, Taylor Rountree, Harry H. Bloodworth, Joe T. Baggerly, Anthony P. Marcellino, Roger Crocker, Carl Amoss, Raymond Hillamy and Clarence Henderson.

McKendree declared that his "consciousness was clear" and that the shooting was "accidental" when he was charged with the murder of R. Keith Cochran, 42, district representative of Armour and Co., two weeks ago.

According to witnesses, there had been no quarrel or warning immediately prior to the shooting. Their account was in conflict with the one McKendree gave officers about a running argument between the two men all evening.

Cochran was shot in the base of the neck while he played table shuffleboard in the dining room about 20 feet from where McKendree sat on a bar stool. The victim died the next day at Orange Memorial Hospital, Orlando.

The case in which no indictment was returned involved the death of Negro prisoner John Pittman in the county jail on April 11. Pittman died of a fractured skull and brain hemorrhage, Dr. W. A. Derrick, Orange Memorial Hospital, pathologist, said after an autopsy.

BUDGET OKAYED
JACKSONVILLE (AP)—The State Welfare Board tonight tentatively approved a $64,213,000 budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 with the largest sums going for old age assistance and aid to dependent children.

Jackson Assumes Command At Base

Captain Robert W. Jackson, USN, assumed command today of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station from Commander Frank R. More, USN.

Cmdr. More, who has served as Acting Commanding Officer for the past seven weeks, will resume his duties as Executive Officer.

A veteran of more than 20 years Naval service, Capt. Jackson comes to Sanford from Composite Squadron Eleven, San Diego, Calif., where he served in the capacity of Commanding Officer for over a year.

Graduated from the Naval Academy in June 1935, he was commissioned Ensign and assigned to the battleship USS Pennsylvania. In January 1940, he was detached to undergo flight training at NAS Pensacola.

It was during this phase of his career that Capt. Jackson knew and served with the station's former Commanding Officer, Captain James E. Vase Jr., USN.

After designation as an aviator on Dec. 6, 1940, he joined Fighter Squadron Three, April 1942 saw him transferred to Composite Squadron Twelve as Executive Officer and later as Commanding Officer.

"For meritorious achievement . . . as a member of a Marine Aircraft Group in action against enemy Japanese forces in the Solomon Islands from Feb. 2 to 12, 1943," he was awarded the Air Medal.

Capt. Jackson is married to the former Miss Catherine E. Campbell. They have four children: Elizabeth Lee, Catherine Lynn, Sharon Diane and Robert Woods Jackson, Jr.

Ex-Southern Bell Worker Convicted Of Cable Cutting

ORLANDO (AP)—A former Southern Bell Telephone Co. worker was convicted yesterday of cutting cables during the CIO Communications Worker of America strike.

Criminal Court Judge William Murphy sentenced Donald E. Carpenter, 25, to six months but allowed him freedom on $1,000 bond while he appealed.

Ancient Vessel Yields 14 Cannons

FORT PIERCE (AP)—Wreckage of an ancient ship found on a reef 60 yards offshore has yielded 14 cannons to three young treasure hunters.

Roger King, 21-year-old Vero Beach soldier on leave, and his two companions, Jack Carr and Art McKee Jr., brought up the cannon Wednesday night and reported they would try to raise two more cannon and the 11-foot anchor of the unidentified vessel.

Close Attention Focuses On New Hampshire Tour

Ike Drops 2nd Term Teaser

WITH EISENHOWER IN NEW HAMPSHIRE (AP)—President Eisenhower's "teaser" suggestion he might seek a second term focused close attention today on his tour of New Hampshire—first state to support him in the 1952 primaries.

The President has two more speaking engagements in the Granite State—one at Lincoln, the other at Franconia Notch—and there was plenty of advance speculation whether he might deal again with the big question: Will he run again?

He dealt with it in only a teasing way in a speech late yesterday at Concord, N.H., but it completely surprised his police-estimated audience of 15,000 persons in State House Plaza.

There was no shred of certainty afterward whether he was just having a bit of fun—or whether he had meant to put across the idea that he is in the market for another term. Many of his listeners were inclined to the latter idea.

It came about this way: The President had been telling the New Hampshire crowd how Sherman Adams, former governor of the state and now Eisenhower's chief aide, boasts about New Hampshire to the White House staff. Eisenhower said his eagerness to find out for himself was one of "the serious reasons" for his visit to the state.

Then he came out with these remarks: "People often ask me what my ideas are on how long I would like a re-election in 1960 Pennsylvania Ave. (The White House)."

"My own thought is: They should ask how long is it going to take Gov. Adams to finish up his series of lectures on New Hampshire, because he doesn't seem to be a third of the way through them yet."

Mansfield Says Russia Holds Cards At Geneva

By ROWLAND EVANS JR. WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today the Soviet Union "holds all the real cards" in next month's discussions with the West on Germany.

He said administration foreign policy leaders have "overemphasized the tenuous relationship that now exists between West Germany and Western Europe and hypnotized themselves that this relationship will continue indefinitely."

Poland and the Czechoslovakia and Austria, both of which Germany once controlled, and hold out a guarantee of trade concessions.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Mansfield said, served notice in his San Francisco speech two days ago that Russian leaders will demand the United States give up its air base system in Europe and Africa when the Big Four talks begin at Geneva July 18.

Touchton Infant Dies At Hospital

George Quina Touchton, infant, born June 22, died last night in the Fernald Loughton Memorial Hospital. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville W. Touchton of Sanford and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. H. Q. Touchton and the late Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Sinquefeld formerly of Lake Mary.

Other survivors are five sons: Mrs. Leo Watson, Cocoa; Mrs. E. W. Rogers, Sanford; Mrs. Horace M. Cochran, Lake Mary; Mrs. Johanna Harman, Lake Mary; and Mrs. Annie Babers, Annalsville, Ala. Also two uncles: Cecil Sinquefeld, Palham, Ga. and M. H. Sinquefeld, Washington D. C.

Senate Republican Leader Knowledge of California, meanwhile, demanded that the United States refuse to discuss Far East tensions at any international meeting until all Americans held by Communist China are freed.

U.S. Steel Plans Action To Avert Looming Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—U. S. Steel Corp. is offering to boost wages about 10 cents an hour fully retroactive to the CIO United Steel Workers, today studied its next move to head off a threatened strike at midnight next Thursday.

Big steel termed it "substantial" and said it "should produce a prompt settlement."

McDonald declared: "We can see no justification whatsoever to accept a settlement this year—the most profitable in the industry's history—which is approximately one half of the cost of the settlements already made in the automobile industry. We will not accept such discriminatory treatment."

watching a few years after the war," says Mr. Shaffer. "When our nephew stopped here on his way to the Everglades to study them. He was a seminary student and a very ardent bird watcher. He left us a book on birds and we went on from there."

The Shaffers estimate that they can immediately identify over 100 birds on sight. "And if we don't know one, we darn sure go right to the book and look it up, Mr. Shaffer adds. They can also identify most of that number by sound and are usually able to distinguish between a distress call and idle chatter."

As an illustration of their devotion to the birds, they built an 8' x 15' nest addition on their lot

When 20 families nest year, the feathered friends better. More than half of the walls in the addition are made up of windows.

Two or three pairs of Martins came to the Shaffers' the first year and each year a few more have been added to the flock. This year was the biggest yet, with some forty adults and about 70 offspring.

The Shaffers said that each pair rears 3 or 4 young.

The Martins arrived in January this year and have been coming back a few weeks earlier each time. In the fall, when they migrate to South America, as many as 94 have been counted in the Shaffer yard.

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Gov. Collins yesterday signed the road reform bill designed to provide tighter controls over spending of road funds and to take some of the politics out of road building. Road Chairman Wilbur Jones, Sen. Tapper, Port St. Joe and Rep. Boyd of Lake County, who helped steer the bill to passage, watched Collins sign the measure which brings all post laws and regulations up to date.

One of the major objectives of the law is to provide for construction of roads on the basis of need instead of political considerations. The law creates the post of executive director for the road department to serve under the chairman and establishes a merit system for administrative employees. The law was drafted by the Legislative Council after a two year study.

Collins also signed the bill setting up the Jacksonville Expressway Authority to supervise completion of the Duval County multimillion dollar road system.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs remained unchanged in May while worker take-home pay rose sharply to a record high. Secretary of Labor Mitchell in announcing the new figures today said it continues the pattern of over-all national stability in retail prices which has "stopped paycheck-robbing inflation."

"Actually," he said, "the index of retail prices has changed very little since mid-1953 and its steadiness in the past six months has rarely been equaled before." "These two factors, record high take-home pay for factory workers and stable prices for the goods and services the worker and his family buy, along with increasing job opportunities and declining unemployment, are concrete evidences of the strength of our economy and mean continued prosperity for workers and their families."

Mitchell said his dependable earnings were up in May by more than a dollar a week over the April level. The take-home pay of the average family worker rose to $78.13 in May and a single worker's to $62.23. This is about 36 cents a week more than they earned in March of this year, when the previous peak was reached.

Head Of Famous Dramatic School Ready To Retire

LONDON, (AP)—"Really, darling," said a slinky young woman in skin-tight slacks, "I always say that to appreciate Shakespeare truly, you must read him with your shoes off." "How perfectly divine," said another slinky young woman in skin-tight slacks, "of course one must." Sir Kenneth Barnes, the 77-year-old principal of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts (RADA) peered over his glasses at the two lithe figures twinkling down the corridor of what he calls the world's greatest theatrical school. "Ah," he said with a nostalgic sigh, "when I came here 46 years ago, young ladies talked just like that. They didn't wear slacks, but they said the most outrageous things."

He leaves a long and impressive list of former students, which includes Vivien Leigh, Charles Laughton, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Kay Hammond, Dorothy Tutin, Robert Morley and Sir John Gielgud. The profession is already over-crowded. London alone has over 1,000 actors and actresses out of work. Yet year after year, hundreds of recruits come to RADA wanting to act. "It's always been that way," said Sir Kenneth, a large lumbering, kindly man. "I'm sure the profession was overcrowded 3,000 years ago and 3,000 years from now it will be overcrowded." Asked why so many young people want to act, he thought for a moment. "I always ask them that same question," he replied, touching a large leather-bound book, "and I keep their answers in here."

He said some Americans, however, insist that their accents remain unchanged. "When Americans come to us as students," he said, "we ask them if they want British or American accent. Nearly all of them reply—'give me a British accent.'" He said some Americans, however, insist that their accents remain unchanged. Governor Signs Road Reform Bill

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Gov. Collins yesterday signed the road reform bill designed to provide tighter controls over spending of road funds and to take some of the politics out of road building. Road Chairman Wilbur Jones, Sen. Tapper, Port St. Joe and Rep. Boyd of Lake County, who helped steer the bill to passage, watched Collins sign the measure which brings all post laws and regulations up to date. One of the major objectives of the law is to provide for construction of roads on the basis of need instead of political considerations. The law creates the post of executive director for the road department to serve under the chairman and establishes a merit system for administrative employees. The law was drafted by the Legislative Council after a two year study. Collins also signed the bill setting up the Jacksonville Expressway Authority to supervise completion of the Duval County multimillion dollar road system.

Take-Home Pay Shows Big Jump

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs remained unchanged in May while worker take-home pay rose sharply to a record high. Secretary of Labor Mitchell in announcing the new figures today said it continues the pattern of over-all national stability in retail prices which has "stopped paycheck-robbing inflation."

RESOLVE TO MAKE '56 A WHITE COLLAR YEAR
If you think all the fads made about the "little white collar" last year means that it's on the way out by now, you're wrong. It's too good to give up, because it's so flattering, and it peeps up a winter wardrobe so nicely.

Experiment with drying your collars. To see if ironing can be eliminated. Smooth them right side down, making wet, over the rim of the bathtub—and press hard. It's an emergency measure, but if there's just no time for ironing, this isn't too bad a substitute. The main thing is that the white collar be white—soapsuds white. So never skip rinsing it before each wearing.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Prosser and family have moved from their home here to their new home in Orlando this past week.

Brooks Predicts New Reserve Bill Will Pass House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Brooks (D-La.) predicted today a revised version of President Eisenhower's stalemated military reserve program will pass the house next week "with no trouble."

But Rep. Powell (D-NY) declared the new measure is "worse than before" and faces another strong fight over racial segregation issues.

A House Armed Services subcommittee, headed by Brooks, yesterday voted 11-1 to approve a new compromise bill. It is designed to break an impasse created a month ago by Powell's amendment to bar assignment of reservists to segregated National Guard units.

In an effort to avoid this issue, the new measure avoids all mention of the National Guard, although Guard spokesmen objected that they need the additional manpower.

It also contains softer language in authorizing the Pentagon to establish a new six-months' training program for reservists.

The evident purpose is to avoid the parliamentary tangle which House leaders say permitted opponents virtually to kill the bill before by supporting Powell's anti-segregation amendment. This alienated Southerners needed to pass the measure.

In other respects the compromise measure parallels the shelved bill, which Eisenhower has called "fatal" to national security. The measure goes to the full Armed Services Committee Tuesday for expected approval and quick routing to the House.

Powell and he already has prepared an anti-segregation amendment which he declared can be offered to the bill as now written.

The same fight is based upon the expectation the Senate may put back features to which he objects, regardless of the final form of the House bill.

Union Responsibility

By initiating a successful contract with the Ford Motor Company which included what is in effect a guaranteed annual wage, the United Automobile Workers, C. I. O., demonstrated that it is a powerful union. Yet any organization which cannot maintain internal discipline, no matter how powerful it might be, is in danger of serious trouble.

Even after the contract was negotiated with Ford some Ford workers staged wildcat strikes because of some personal dissatisfactions they had with its terms. The General Motors Company, which was granted an extension of contract in the hope that a settlement could be reached without work stoppage, was also faced with wildcat strikes at some of its plants.

Those who stage these unauthorized strikes are a menace to the cause of labor. Employers who deal with union leaders must know that these leaders speak for the workers and if the leaders cannot stop wildcat strikes their bargaining position is weakened.

It is true that the United Automobile Workers officials were prompt in condemning the wildcat strikes. Yet they should have been able to prevent them. The great power that has come to labor unions in recent years carries with it equally great responsibility. Those responsibilities cannot be ignored if labor is to keep the gains it has won.

McCarthy's Loss Is Gain For Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), an increasingly obscure American politician, this week tried to climb out of the political basement where he landed after the Senate condemned some of his actions last Dec. 2.

The reaction he got was worse than in December. The vote for condemnation was 67-22. Yesterday the Senate voted against a resolution he offered 77-4.

McCarthy alone knows whether what happened to him last year took the fight out of him. But, whereas in the past he hit out in all directions and had no trouble finding material for headlines, this year he has been comparatively quiet. He has seldom been in the news.

In climbing back into public view this week, McCarthy repeated what started him toward the basement in the first place: he tried to match strength with President Eisenhower.

Democrats and Republicans alike rallied to Eisenhower and when the showdown came McCarthy didn't have much stomach for it.

In the Eisenhower administration's first two years, while he was still riding high, McCarthy tried to tell it how to handle some of its foreign policy, lambasted some of its officials and attacked unmercifully some of its operations. But when he hit the Army the administration on such a stand, in the Army-McCarthy hearings which followed, the Army couldn't claim victory but neither could McCarthy.

For the first time millions of Americans got a good look at McCarthy and his tactics. He may have won new followers but he lost a lot of people and alienated others.

Almost immediately afterwards he was in the political fight of his life in an attempt to ward off condemnation by the Senate. He lost. He was expelled from the Senate and his name was removed from the roll of its members.

McCarthy's expulsion was a blow to his prestige. But he began to talk in a new way. The week he asked the Senate to adopt a resolution which many senators said would have tied Eisenhower's hands at the Big Four meeting in July or perhaps prevented a meeting.

McCarthy's resolution would have the Senate tell the administration to demand of Russia an agreement before the big meeting that it would discuss the "status" of Communist control in countries in Asia and Europe.

If the Senate went along with him, McCarthy could claim he had dictated to Eisenhower and the Russians what they should talk about. He said he wanted the Senate to act.

has added new locks, the latest having been built in 1943.

The Soo Canal has long carried more shipping than the Panama and Suez Canals combined. During the war it was perhaps the most carefully guarded locality in the nation. Its existence has done much to make Michigan rich.

Paying The Piper

"We treat our politicians as unavowed characters, while at the same time we charge them with preserving our very civilization." This, in the words of Phillip L. Graham, a Washington, D. C., newspaper publisher, is "fantastic." He has in mind the widespread failure of individual citizens to contribute to the campaign funds of the party or candidates they support with their votes. Because good citizens fail to help, members of the underworld, pressure groups and job seekers by their contributions have bought generous slices of politicians' favors. A poll taken last year shows that only one family out of every twenty gave funds for political campaigns.

Some may say that larger gifts by disinterested voters would not prevent campaign managers from continuing to accept the support of shady elements. This is perhaps unduly pessimistic. Many campaign directors dislike and even refuse gifts from discredited sources, and would prefer to operate with 100 per cent clean money.

Certainly a total failure of good citizens to contribute would leave candidates no choice but to accept support from the opportunistic.

Everyone's Debt

The total indebtedness of this country, both public and private, reached the sum of $65.5 billion dollars by the end of 1954, and has gone higher since. Private debt has more than doubled since 1948, when it amounted to approximately 175 billion dollars.

Some economists and government observers fear this nation has borrowed too deeply and used credit too liberally. A growing feeling is that precautionary measures are needed to slow down the growth of private debt, which would represent too great a burden in the event of a business recession. At present, the total debt represents $3,700 for each man, woman and child in the nation. The question of how high this indebtedness can go must be considered.

Yet, since business in this country is geared to easy credit, there is reluctance to tamper with the rate of debt. So long as the national income continues to climb, the increasing debt does not seem dangerous. A recent survey showed that in terms of national income, public debt was 69 per cent in 1941, 147 per cent in 1948, and is now 86 per cent. According to these terms, present indebtedness is not too high. Finance officers report that people pay off their old debts as fast as they assume new ones, and that the delinquency rate is low.

If indebtedness ever climbs faster than national income, controls might be applied. Apparently nothing more is needed now than caution by borrowers and lenders. Prosperity is the only guarantee this debt will not become a catastrophe.

Iron Man Puts Miles Behind Him

CHICAGO (AP)—This is the time of year the amateur iron-man type driver loads his family into the car and grimly whistles off toward some far distant vacation spot.

Will he settle for 400, 500 or even 600 miles a day? Not this character. He's a time-tested, 700 plus miles-a-day demon who voraciously gobbles up those tedious distances.

He carts along fruit, sandwiches and a jug full of coffee for the family. The normal road break for lunch is not for the likes of him. He's going places on a tight driving schedule that runs from sun-up to sun-down.

Will he get there in one piece? Mr. Iron-man simply oozes self-confidence on this point. After all, he's a top-notch driver, he hasn't consumed any intoxicating liquor and hard driving doesn't make him feel sleepy or tired.

But safety experts and scientists who have studied the insidious effects of fatigue take a dimmer view of his chances.

If he doesn't doze off momentarily or run headlong into an emergency that calls for a hair-trigger decision and response, the experts concede he'll probably make out all right.

But whether he knows it or not the long grind of steady driving will slow down his reaction mechanism and drop his vision and hearing ability below par.

Knowledge of these slow-down effects is based on actual field and laboratory tests of the primary functions mostly closely related to hours of driving.

One such study was made by the U. S. Public Health Service. Scientists tested truck drivers before and after a long stint at the wheel and after sleeping and resting.

Drivers were given intricate manual tasks and then timed with a stop-watch. They also were tested for simple reaction time, reaction-coordination time, and manual steadiness.

In one of these tests, the drivers grasped an object shaped like a pencil and, as rapidly as possible,

SAM DAWSON

More Factory Construction Seen

NEW YORK (AP)—Labor's gains this year in wages and fringe benefits is a boon to the machinery and toolmakers. The construction industry also looks for a new round of factory building.

The reason is: as labor costs climb, industry seeks ways to cut costs. One way is to seek out present inefficiencies. Another is to build new, more efficient plants or install automatic machinery.

That is why the auto industry one week signs costly agreements with the union and the next week announces a costly construction plan.

There are other reasons, of course. The Big Three auto makers believe the American public is going to buy a lot of cars in coming years.

To cut labor costs is, however, one of the prime reasons. The new plants and the new machines will enable them to turn out more products per man hour. This goes by the term "increased productivity."

Auto companies take it into account in their contracts with the union, where it is called the improvement factor. This provision increases the hourly pay scale by about 6 cents each year.

In announcing its new 500-million-dollar expansion program, General Motors stresses that "the major portion of the expenditures will be for new machine tools, presses and other facilities." This will bring to a total of four billion dollars the amount GM has spent on plant space and new equipment since the end of World War II.

Ford has a similar spending plan. Its postwar total comes to almost 3 1/2 billion dollars. And there are reports that further spending is to be announced shortly.

Chrysler has spent 500 million dollars for modernization and has an additional 130 million dollar program now under way. Executives say, "We are constantly improving plant and equipment."

The impetus which the new round of wage hikes and better fringe benefits is giving to this important trend is a boon to steel companies, dickering with the union now, are planning new, more efficient plants to meet a rising demand for steel they foresee in the next few years and to cut down the rising costs of operating old equipment.

Well, it developed that sticking poles into a vase is virtually a ceremony, a ritual, with Japanese women. Clubwomen who try to stick some peonies prettily among forget-me-nots would be fascinated by the Oriental version. Every arrangement means something.

"To begin with," Kikuko pointed out, "you cannot put an even number of flowers into a vase. It must be one, three, five, seven or so on. Then, there are three focal points in each arrangement—the tallest point representing heaven, the middle-sized one representing man and the lowest point being earth."

The Japanese like to make an arrangement out of, say, three pinetree branches and five roses. "The roses stand for women," Kikuko said, "and the harmony of the display comes when they are mingled with the pine branches—which, because they are firm and strong and tall, are looked on as men."

"Oh," I said, "that makes me a pine branch?"
"Well," Kikuko said, she didn't pursue it any further and there wasn't any reason for me to, either.

Fumiko was wearing a gaudy kimono, which, I think, is something the girls wear when they are serving tea—dry martinis—in the DC-8s that ferry them between Tokyo, Honolulu and San Francisco. Kikuko wore the dark blue stewardess' uniform. Each has been to America 20 times or so.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERY

ADAMS CAME BACK from a weekend at the Hamptons looking completely done in. "What the devil have you been doing with all those society folk down there?" asked an associate. "Fishing through the ice," groaned Adams.

"Fishing through the ice in June? What for?" scoffed the associate. "Cherries," explained Adams.

The his Professor Weaver once conducted an unusual examination near the end of one of his English literature courses at Columbia. He asked his class, "Please write down the name of the book you have read for this course that you liked the least." He waited until the class had complied, then ordered, "Now try to get forth on paper to what defects in yours if you attribute this and lack of appreciation."

Some students insist that their faculty boasts an economics professor who's such a bore that at one of his lectures, two empty seats got up and walked out.

Baby Goes Exploring His Brand-New World

By HERMAN H. JENSEN, M.D.

A CREEPING baby usually is a trying problem for mama. But maybe a more thorough understanding of why your adventure-some tot seems to get into everything and what you can do about it might help matters.

Normal Curiosity

Your crawling youngster can't satisfy his natural curiosity merely by looking. He's had to be content with watching and listening and occasionally trying out a few things in his mouth for some time. By crawling time, usually about 10 months of age, he must touch things to learn that some are rough, some are smooth, some are hard, others are soft; some are rip and tear, while others do not. Only by actually feeling things can he learn.

Don't expect a baby of crawling age to understand readily that he can touch some things and not others. Keep your prized possessions well beyond his reach.

Explors and Learn
Clapping his hands and repeatedly telling him not to touch certain things won't solve the problem. It may keep him away from these objects when you are with him, but once he's alone he'll probably be unable to resist the desire to touch what is forbidden.

Then again, punishing him might curb his natural tendency to explore and to learn. You don't want to destroy this desire. Just remember, it's your job as parents to see that your baby doesn't get into trouble, not to punish him after he does get into it.

His Shell

Teach your baby which things he can have and which he can't. For instance, he'll probably grab magazines off a low shelf or table and promptly rip them apart. Place some old newspapers on this low shelf for him to play with or to be as pleased. Little by little he will learn that this shell and the things on it are his. He will know the other shelves belong to mama and daddy. And he will leave them alone.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
Q: What precautions could be taken to prolong the life of a 68-year-old woman who has an enlarged heart?

ANSWER: The main thing in prolonging the life of a person afflicted with heart disease is the avoidance of mental and physical strain at all times. It is important for the patient to get plenty of rest and sleep and to avoid overeating and, of course, to be under the care of a physician.

Miss B. Brisson Feted At Shower In Grieme Home

A miscellaneous bridal shower was given recently for popular June bride-elect, Miss Betty Brisson, at the home of Mrs. R. D. Grieme by Mrs. R. S. Bates, Mrs. Grieme and Mrs. T. B. Middleton.

Pink hibiscus were used throughout the rooms and around the punch bowl. Refreshments of nuts, cake and punch were served. Games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Harry Watt, Mrs. Bill Bates, and Mrs. Alma Nease.

Those invited to be with the honoree were Mrs. Roy Schmidt, Mrs. W. H. Trapp, Mrs. Alma Nease, Mrs. Bill Vincent, Mrs. Bill Bell, Mrs. E. Seibert, Mrs. Eddie Colburn, Mrs. Henry Brown, Mrs. Jay Shaeffer, Mrs. H. V. Buckner, Mrs. Bill Buckner, Mrs. H. H. Hawkins, Mrs. W. J. Ostman, Mrs. H. A. Watt, Mrs. W. J. Watt, Mrs. E. Mielke, Mrs. E. P. Williams.

Mrs. L. Baldrin, Mrs. Carl Douglas, Mrs. Audrey Werita, Mrs. L. R. Shepard, Mrs. W. R. Reame, Mrs. W. Parish, Mrs. E. G. Brisson, Miss Mamie Mattoon, Mrs. Bill Bates, Mrs. R. S. Bates, Mrs. T. Middleton, Mrs. R. D. Grieme, Mrs. B. Hill, Mrs. C. Grieme, Miss Patty Bell, Miss Carol Buckner and Mrs. Audrey Patterson.

Many Parties Given Bride, Mrs. W. Meek

Many pre-nuptial parties were given for Mrs. William Meek, recent bride, just prior to her marriage. Mrs. Ruby Combs, of Geneva, entertained with a shower at her home, the guests being from the Church of Christ members. Mrs. Tommy McLain, Jr., also of Geneva, entertained with a shower, guests being taken from fellow co-workers. Mrs. Arthur Reynolds, of Oviedo, gave a neighborhood shower.

Mrs. Charles T. Niblack, Mrs. James Partin, Mrs. James Wilson and Miss Kathryn Lawton co-hosted a crystal shower at the home of the former. Guests were given a beautiful pastel colored ambrosia, filled with nuts and favors. Gifts were presented to the guest of honor by the hostesses attired in raincoats and bearing umbrellas. Thirty-five guests were invited to enjoy this festivity with the guest of honor.

Mrs. Walter A. Teague and Mrs. Merritt Staley entertained with a cake party at the home of Mrs. Teague. Guests were given a school chum of the popular bride. Mrs. J. B. Jones, Jr., and Miss Esther Beitel entertained at the home of Mrs. Jones with a kitchen gadget shower. Guests were greeted by Mrs. Jones and Miss Beitel at the door. They were aprons and chef's caps.

Corsets, formed of plastic knives, forks and spoons, tied with white satin bows and miniature aprons were presented each guest. Interesting games appropriate for the occasion were enjoyed and prizes awarded to Miss Shirley Jones and Miss Shirley Partin.

Mrs. Jones and Miss Beitel presented the gifts in an unusual manner. They prepared a cake using all the wrong ingredients. Finally prevailing, the guests were given to the guest of honor. The hostesses returned to the kitchen for more ingredients to help her solve the problem and returned with a delicious lemon with gifts for the honoree.

About thirty - five teen - agers were invited to enjoy the occasion with the guest of honor.

Mrs. Mae Leisner, Mrs. Dan Ulrey, Mrs. J. W. Hays, Mrs. John Harrison, Mrs. J. E. Broekelink and Mrs. A. B. Jones entertained with a miscellaneous shower at the city hall memorial building.

Miss Joan Smithson and Miss Ann Leinhardt assisted with the gifts. The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, was adorned with a basket of mixed flowers artistically arranged. Pink hibiscus were used as strategic points throughout the room.

Approximately 125 guests were invited to this affair.

NEVER TOO YOUNG TO LEARN COOKING Teach your little girl cooking and cleanliness at the same time. If she shows an interest in the kitchen, let her help you to plan the week's menu in advance. Then select one item a day that she is able to do—like ready - mix biscuits or a salad—and let her do it "all by herself."

But be sure to stipulate that it's her responsibility to wash the bowls, pots, pans, and utensils she uses. Whether she washes them with a brush, sponge on a stick, or dishcloth, the soaping and rinsing must be thorough.

Mary E. Smithson, William Meek Have Lovely Wedding In Oviedo

OVIEDO—The Foster Memorial Methodist Church was the scene of the beautiful double-ring wedding Sunday, June 26 at 6 p. m. when Miss Mary Elizabeth Smithson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pleaz M. Smithson, and William Rader Meek Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rader Meek were united in holy matrimony with Emerson J. Estes officiating.

The bride and groom stood beneath an arch formed of fern and interlaced with white gladioli and palms to exchange their vows. Princess baskets of white gladioli and mums, palms and candles were artistically arranged at points of interest. Mrs. Ruby Combs, of Geneva, was pianist for the occasion and played the traditional wedding marches and songs. Merritt Staley rendered the musical numbers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a traditional white wedding gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over taffeta. The basque bodice had a wing neckline and long molded sleeves which ended in points over the hands. The voluminous skirt with a handkerchief petticoat of lace, attached to several layers of tulle ended in a Chapel train. Her finger tip veil of imported illusion fell from a clip pinned of lace and tulle edged with pearls. She carried a heart shaped bouquet of California roses and Stephanotis with a removable corsage of tiny white roses.

Miss Jean Smithson, sister of the bride, and maid of honor, was gowned in an orchid net over taffeta ballerina length frock. It was basque along princess lines and featured an off the shoulder neckline. She carried a cascade bouquet of carnations and roses.

Miss Thelma Jean Rambo, Miss Shirley Ann Jones and Miss Leona Hart acted as bridesmaids, each being gowned in dresses of green, blue and yellow respectively and fashioned like that of the maid of honor. Her finger tip veil of imported illusion fell from a clip pinned of lace and tulle edged with pearls. She carried a heart shaped bouquet of California roses and Stephanotis with a removable corsage of tiny white roses.

William Rader Meek, father of the bridegroom, served as best man for his son while other groomsmen were Johnny Jones and Ray Beasley, of Oviedo, and Melvin Reed, of Sanford.

Lybb Thomas, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a dress of white lace and tulle over taffeta, fashioned like that of the bride, and carried a basket lined with satin and filled with pink rose petals.

Ring bearer was Stephen Clouta. He, too, wore white and carried the rings on a heart shaped satin pillow.

Mrs. Smithson chose for her daughter's wedding a ballerina length dress of mulberry Crystaline sprinkled with rhinestones and matching white accessories. She wore pinned on her left shoulder a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. William Rader Meek, mother of the bridegroom was gowned in a dress of mauve lace over taffeta and matching accessories. She also wore a white carnation corsage on her left shoulder.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding at the city hall memorial building. Decorations included princess baskets and mums placed at appropriate spots about the room. Mrs. Don N. Ulrey and Mrs. J. E. Brookshire received at the door. Miss Alice Lee Combs of Geneva, attended the Bride's Book, and the Misses Lois Rambo, Betty Beasley, Helen Hampton, Velora Moon, Shirley Malcolm, Ann Pearson, Georgene Parker, Ann Leinhardt, Cornelia Welton, Martha Jean Hardy, Dorothy Simmons Pat Walker, Ruth Cullum, and Joan Brown acted as floating hostesses under the direction of Mrs. James Partin.

Cutting cake at the Bride's table were Mrs. A. M. Jones and Mrs. R. W. Estes while Mrs. Mae Leinhardt, Mrs. A. J. Meade, Mrs. Merritt Staley and Mrs. Walter Teague presided over the punch bowl. Others assisting with the serving were Mrs. E. M. Olliff, Mrs. Joseph Leinhardt and Mrs. George C. Means alternated at the piano during the evening.

Out of town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Emerson J. Estes and daughters, Sylvia and Wanda, of Memphis, Tenn.; Donald Smithson of Birmingham, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thomas and daughter, Lynn; Mr. and Mrs. John E. Goss; Mr. and Mrs. Evelyn Wiggins; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Vines; Robert Vines, all of Lakeland; Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Vines; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Vines and Miss Annie Vivian, all of Oviedo.

Mr. and Mrs. James French, Gainesville; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. White; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brannan; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Wright; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Colwell; Miss Harriett Hill; Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Kimble; Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Barnea; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Miller; Elvin Kimble; and Jerry Barnes all of Daytona Beach.

The bride wore a dress of aqua fashioned on princess lines for traveling. She wore the removable corsage of tiny white roses from her bride's bouquet pinned on her left shoulder.

The bride is a native of Birmingham, Ala. but has made her home in Oviedo for the past several years. She is a graduate in the 1954 class from the Oviedo High School. During her high school career she was active in many school activities. Since her graduation she has been employed in Sanford.

Mr. Meek received his education in the Oviedo elementary and high school being a graduate of the latter in the class of 1951. During his school career he was associated with many school activities especially athletics. Since his graduation he has been employed by the Foodmart, of Sanford where he is assistant manager of the meat department.

Upon their return from a two weeks honeymoon the couple plan on making their home in Sanford.

DRAMA STAY George Jean Nathan, 74, and actress Julie Hayden, 41, are shown aboard the Santa Rosa with ship's captain, Frank Sivik, who married them after the boat sailed from New York. The couple will honeymoon in Curacao, West Indies. (International)

WELCOME NEWS

Women who make their own clothes will welcome a new Dacron-and-cotton blend that is supposed to be the answer to a lot of requests. The 65% Dacron content is supposed to make the fabric hold little if any ironing, as well as making it crease- and soil resistant—and the cotton content adds comfortable absorbency. Both fibers, of course, wash beautifully in soap and water.

BEHAVE, COOKIES
Ingredients: 1 cup sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 16 large marshmallow cherries, 16 blanched toasted whole almonds, 1/4 to 1/2 cup shredded coconut (chopped in very short lengths before measuring).

Method: Sift together flour and salt. Cream butter, sugar and vanilla. Add flour and mix with spoon until blended. Make a small slit in each cherry opposite slit in stem end; insert an almond in each cherry. Mold 1 level tablespoon of dough around each cherry to form a ball; roll in coconut. Place on ungreased cookie sheet a couple of inches apart; do not press down.

Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven about 25 minutes or until coconut is lightly browned and cookies are baked through. Remove to cake rack to cool. When cold store in tightly covered container.

LIGHT SWITCHES
Washable light - switch plates made of glass or ceramic tile can be cleaned by soaking with a cloth or sponge. If they are made of metal, follow this washing with a brick polishing.

Shoplifting Game To Become Harder

ORLANDO (AP)—Shoplifters, who have been costing Florida merchants more than 4½ million dollars a year, will find their game harder after July 1.

On that date a new state law, seriously cramping their varied styles of operation, becomes effective.

Apprehension, detention and arrest will be easier under the new law, sponsored in the recent Legislature by the Florida State Retailers Assn. Penalties will apply, maximums being imprisonment for five years and fines of $1,000.

The very existence of the new law will cut Florida's losses in half, the association says.

It explained "most shoplifters, especially professionals, will think twice before risking the new handicaps. And amateurs soon will learn their pilfering suddenly has become much more hazardous."

The new law permits a peace officer, merchant or merchant's employe to take a suspected shoplifter into custody in a reasonable manner for a reasonable time and, if necessary, to cause arrest, without being civilly or criminally liable for false arrest, false imprisonment or unlawful detention.

Heretofore, the retailers group says, shoplifters thrived on the willingness of retailers to accept the loss of their merchandise through theft rather than risk a detention or arrest. At best, the merchant would attempt recovery of his goods only after the shoplifter had left the store.

Small stores in small towns have been highly vulnerable to the shoplifting evil. Dallas L. Hostetter, executive director of the association, said.

AMOS ALONZO STAGG, 92, arrives in Chicago from California for the 90th anniversary celebration of his 1905 championship football and track teams at the University of Chicago. The "grand old man of football" is accompanied by his wife, Stella, to the scene of his former triumphs. Stagg coached at the university from 1893 to 1932.

Three Southeast Conference schools — Alabama, Georgia Tech and Tennessee — have played twice in the annual Cotton Bowl football game. Each has won and lost.

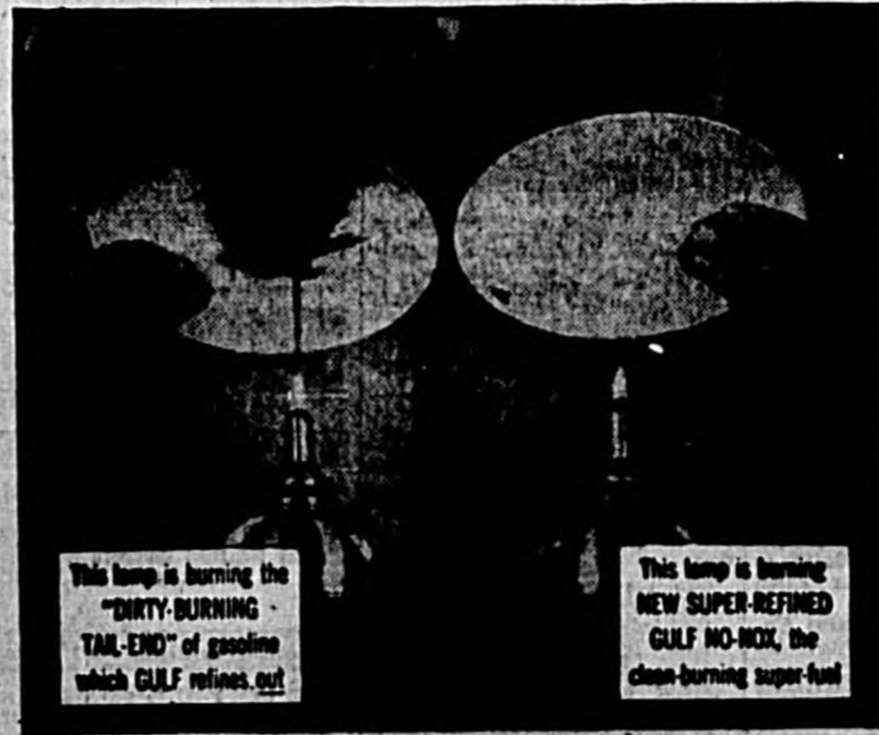

Jockey Sammy Boulmetis will be trying for his third Capitol Handicap victory on April 19, opening day at Laurel race track. Boulmetis won on Suleiman in 1951 and Algaair in 1952.

New Gulf No-Nox gives you not just the highest octane but... full working octane because its super-refined to burn clean

No gasoline, no matter how high the octane, can keep on giving you full power from your engine unless it burns clean.

That's why New Gulf NO-NOX is your best gasoline buy. In making new NO-NOX, Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline, the No. 1 troublemaker in today's high-compression engines.

As a result, you get a clean-burning gasoline that gives you:

- More complete engine protection than you get with so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines
- Extra gasoline mileage in the kind of short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most
- Freedom from vapor lock, stalling and stumbling in hot-weather driving
- No knock, no surface pre-ignition — even in today's high-compression engines

Remember this picture? This is Gulf's famous burner demonstration—proof of what a difference Gulf super-refining makes. Notice that Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline... instead of lighting it, inside your engine, with so-called "miracle additives." That's why new, clean-burning Gulf NO-NOX can promise you not just highest octane, but full working octane.

Now! For the ultimate in working octane performance, always use Gulf's super-refined gas-oil team... New Gulf No-Nox Gasoline and New Gulfgrade H.D. Select Motor Oil

The only motor oil in the world that's super-refined by the Alkylate Process for modern high-compression engines.

- Controls carbon—cuts of knock, pre-ignition, valve failure.
- Combats corrosive acids, rust and deposits on engine parts.
- Assures lower oil consumption than "oil-soak" oils.
- Provides the toughest protective film ever developed.

Available in 5 grades—SAE 10W, SAE 20, SAE 30, SAE 40, SAE 50—for each season.

At least 10 persons met death in Florida accidentally and violently during the weekend a survey early today showed.

Maine Governor Due To Welcome Eisenhower Today

PARMACHENESE LAKE, Maine (AP)—President Eisenhower, happy over a successful weekend of fishing, gets an official welcome late today to traditionally Republican Maine from Democratic Gov. Edmund S. Muskie.

The governor, the first Democrat to be elected the state's chief executive in 20 years, will greet the President at Skowhegan, home of Republican Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine. Muskie and Eisenhower will attend a clam bake at Mrs. Smith's home.

A few hours later Eisenhower will fly back to Washington, ending a six-day tour of northern New England, and go to a late evening White House conference with Secretary of State Dulles on the shooting down of a U. S. Navy patrol plane by Soviet aircraft.

After Dulles had reached Eisenhower by telephone here Saturday night, the State Department said the secretary had "accepted with satisfaction the Soviet government's expressions of regret," but felt Russia's offer "fell short of what he had requested."

Eisenhower fished for about six hours yesterday and caught two salmon and a mess of trout in the Magalloway River at Little Bay Falls. One of the salmon was an 18-inch weighing about two pounds. The other was under the legal "keeping" size of 14 inches and the President threw it back.

Sunken Treasure Makes Men Dream

By CLAUDE ROSE Sunken treasure has started men dreaming for centuries and in recent years a lot of those dreams have come true off Florida coast.

Apparently he intends to discuss with President Eisenhower whether and how to press a demand for total compensation.

Twenty-one-year old Roger King of Vero Beach, on leave from the U. S. Army in Alaska, called on veteran treasure hunter Art McKee Jr., to help him bring up the remains of what is believed to be a Spanish vessel which was wrecked around 1658.

No treasure has been found so far but 15 cannons, each weighing 2000-3000 pounds, have been brought up. They hoped to find the brass bow and stern chasers over the weekend. If they were successful, it was believed they would establish the name of the ship and substantiate their claims concerning the date of the wreck.

Believed to have washed up on a reef during a hurricane the remains are in about 20 feet of water a mile off shore. Nothing is left of the wooden hull of the vessel; only the cannons and the anchor remain.

McKee, who is a professional treasure hunter, will go after even bigger game in mid-July when he starts work off Plantation Key on the first of eight "plate" ships which went down in the year 1783 with thousands of dollars worth of silver aboard.

A fleet of 21 ships left Vera Cruz early in 1783 bound for Spain. In July they replenished in Havana and after leaving there they ran into a hurricane which claimed eight of them.

Two Persons Die In Desert Ordeal

TWENTYNINE PALMS, Calif. (AP)—Murderous heat, walking sands and shivering nights were a grim memory today for a survivor of a desert jeep ride that claimed two lives.

Local Man Is Shot At Tavern

A Sanford man was shot at a tavern here early Saturday and another Sanford man was later arrested in DeLand in connection with the shooting, Constable J. Q. (Slim) Galloway reported.

Galloway, who investigated the case, said Mose Holts, about 30, was picked up by police at the DeLand bus station following the shooting of Woodrow Simpson, 29. DeLand police had been alerted by Galloway.

Galloway said Simpson was shot in the right side with a .32-caliber pistol during an argument at Orell Vickers' tavern on West 18th St. Holts shot Simpson as Simpson argued with Willie B. Holts, Mose's brother, the officer said. The shooting occurred about 1:30 a. m. Saturday.

Mose Holts fled the scene, Galloway said, and was taken to the DeLand bus station by another brother, Albert Holts, who was later arrested on a charge of escape. When arrested, Mose had a ticket to Fitzgerald, Ga., in his possession, Galloway said.

Mose is being held in the Volusia County Jail at DeLand on a concealed weapons charge, the officer said, pending the outcome of Simpson's condition. Albert Holts is being held in jail here under $500 bond, Galloway continued.

Flood Control Experts Seeking Trouble Spots

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Representatives of the Jacksonville District Corps of Engineers and the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District today began an inspection to find trouble spots that could develop during the coming hurricane season.

Edwin W. Eden Jr., Anthony Ward and Charles Wiesenfeld represent the engineers. They are accompanied by B. Arnold and other operating personnel of the flood control district.

The field party will inspect flood-control works in the Lake Okeechobee - Everglades - Lower East Coast area for possible danger if unusual rainfall conditions should arise.

Ike's Regime Set To Go Along With Security Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration reportedly has decided to go along with a Democratic-sponsored proposal for a bipartisan commission to study the controversial federal employee security program.

The measure, sponsored by Senators Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Stennis (D-Miss.), was scheduled for Senate debate today with all signs pointing to overwhelming passage.

Up to now, President Eisenhower and Atty. Gen. Brownell have indicated they felt there was no need for such a study.

The proposed 12-member commission would make recommendations to improve the functioning of the security program.

A House committee already has approved a companion measure sponsored by Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.), who withheld his vote on the proposal when the Government Operations Committee approved it 10-0 last week, said in an interview he now knows of no opposition.

"I'm going to support it on the basis that we can never be too cautious or careful in making certain that the federal security machinery is functioning effectively," he said.

Sights Of Vienna Viewed By Nehru

VIENNA (AP)—Indian Prime Minister Nehru saw the sights of Vienna today as he continued his European tour.

Thousands of Austrians lined the road to cheer the Asian leader on his arrival yesterday from Warsaw aboard a special Soviet plane.

Nehru leaves the Austrian capital late tonight for Salzburg to preside at a conference there of Indian diplomatic envoys in Europe.

Argentina Frees 19 Party Members

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina today released 19 leaders of the Radical party who had been detained since the June 16 revolt against President Juan D. Peron's regime. Four other party members were still held.

Simultaneously, police at Eva Peron in Buenos Aires province in eastern Argentina, announced the arrest of two persons identified as Communists and two Radical party members on charges of spreading rumors. The nature of the rumors was not disclosed.

Balms, after his arrest, said the charges were "lies."

Meeting Planned Tuesday

A last-ditch effort to keep the baseball club in Sanford will be made at a meeting at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at City Hall.

Members of a local group which is interested in taking over the franchise from the present organization will be on hand and the situation will be fully discussed.

If enough public enthusiasm is shown, there is a possibility the Cardinals will continue to play here after June 30, the deadline set by the present baseball organization headed by R. J. Bauman.

Florida State League president John Kridler exhibited optimism and pointed out that other cities in the league have been confronted with similar difficulties and have in most cases worked them out satisfactorily.

Sanford has played in the league every year since 1936 with the exception of 1954 Kridler said. "We have never failed to finish a season," he added.

If the other local group takes over the franchise and continues playing for the remainder of the season, Sanford can probably get back in the league next year, Kridler emphasized. If Sanford does not finish the season, he said, professional baseball is doomed here.

Bauman and other members of the present organization have expressed their willingness to turn over the franchise to another group and to lend their help in carrying out the baseball program.

United Nations Session Hailed As Big Success

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Russia and the Western Powers were agreed today that the U.N.'s 10th anniversary session had been well worthwhile.

Both acknowledged that the week-long meetings had provided an excellent opportunity for diplomatic contact and that the big power speeches had given each side a better understanding of what to expect at the summit talks in Geneva next month.

The anniversary session ended yesterday—just 10 years after the signing of the U.N. Charter—with a declaration by its president, Dr. Eleanore N. Van Kiefen, reaffirming the determination of the 60 nations "to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war."

The declaration also pledged the U.N. to press forward with disarmament efforts which have just recently begun to make progress.

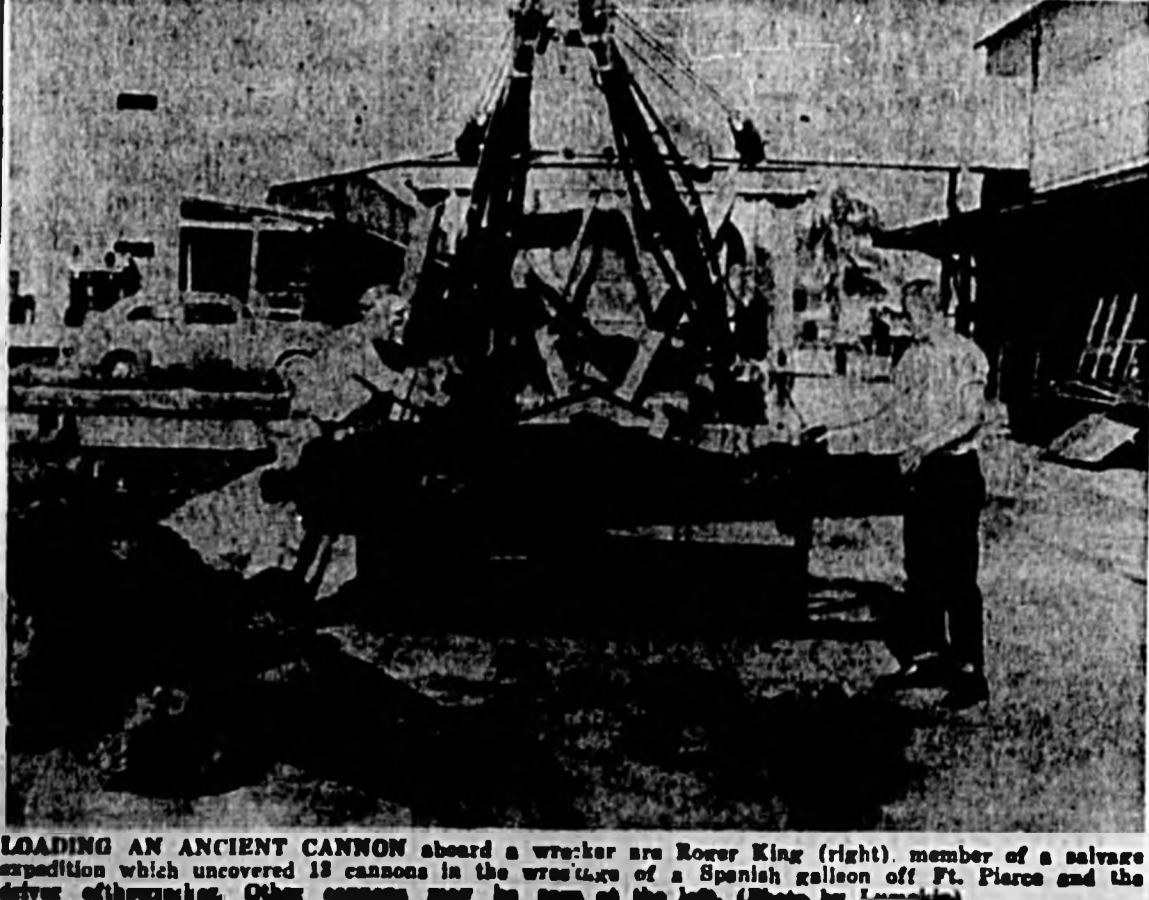

Meeting Slated On Right-Of-Way For U.S. 17-92

A proposed resolution to prevent any new construction along the proposed right-of-way for improvement of Highway 17-92 will be discussed Thursday night at a meeting at the American Legion hut at Prairie Lake. The meeting will begin at 7 o'clock.

John Fox, county right-of-way agent, said interested persons will be given an opportunity to speak their minds on the issue.

Fox pointed out that additional right-of-way for four-laning of 17-92 will not be needed in the thickly-built up commercial area south of Casselberry through Casselberry, or from Onora St. north to French Ave. here.
