Lawyer Objects Serving With Special Board

Committee Will Investigate
Charges Of Court Contempt
Involving Loose Talking Of
Kidwell Made During Trial

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Federal Attorney Peyton Gordon today declined to serve on a select committee of three which had been appointed by Justice Frederick L. Siddons to determine whether any persons should be held for contempt of court as a result of the mistrial of the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy case.
Four affidavits involving charges that juror Edward Kidwell dealt in loose talk in violation of his oath and that Harry F. Sinclair had engaged Burns detectives to keep a surveillance over the jury were to have been the basis of the special investigation.
Gordon said in a letter to Justice Siddons that he would be placed "in an anomalous and inconsistent position" by serving on the committee inasmuch as he was and is actively associated with special government counsel in prosecuting the oil conspiracy case, and had filed the four affidavits on which a new trial was demanded.
"I was then and am now convinced there was cause for the institution of criminal contempt proceedings," wrote Gordon. Gordon further stated that on the day of the mistrial he had been "ready and willing to prosecute" contempt proceedings. Since then, he declared, he had presented evidence to the grand jury on every phase of the alleged illegal activities which forced the court to discharge the Fall-Sinclair jury.
"I have quite positive views to whom should be prosecuted," he said.
Justice Siddons, in reply, stated that he would have to respect Gordon's wishes, but he added that he regretted "that a member of the bar believed contempt had been committed, yet seeks to be relieved of airing such an infringement on the dignity of the court. The judge added that he regarded contempt proceedings as "collateral and superior" to the Teapot Dome case.

Seminole Teachers Club Is Addressed By Dr. O.I. Woodley

The Seminole Teachers' Club met Thursday afternoon in the auditorium of the Oviedo School with more than 100 members present. H. J. Laney, principal of the Oviedo school and president of the club, presided over the session which was pronounced one of the most interesting held this year.
Featuring the gathering was an address by Dr. O. I. Woodley of Clermont, who spoke on the subject of "Ideals, the Elements of a Good Character." Dr. Woodley, an educator of long experience, is a former college president and the first editor of the Florida Education Journal, the official magazine of the public schools of Florida.
During the short business session the club voted to dispense with the December meeting, adjourning to meet again on June 3. The place of the next meeting is to be selected by the president of the club who will receive invitations from any school wishing to entertain. It has been the policy of the club to meet at different schools each month in order that the teachers may become acquainted with all of the schools in the county system.
Following the session members of the Oviedo parent-teachers association served refreshments in the gymnasium of the school.

AIR SERVICE TO SOUTH AMERICA IS NOW CERTAIN

Plan To Be Realized Through
Co-operation Of Cuban Government Which Amounts To
Subsidy Of Mail Contracts

Service Is Already Maintained To Cuba

This Is First Step In The
Plan To Connect North And
South America By Airways

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Regular commercial airplane service linking the continents of North and South America will begin operation within three to four months. This prediction was made today at the Cuban Embassy here. It will be realized, according to embassy officials, largely through the co-operation of the Cuban Government. This cooperation in effect will amount to a government subsidy in the form of air mail contracts.
A month ago the Pan American Airways, Inc., financed by New York capital, inaugurated air mail service between Key West, Florida, and Havana, Cuba, a 90-mile water hop across the Florida Straits. This, the first international air mail service on the Western Hemisphere, is being operated under annual contracts made jointly with the post office departments of the United States and Cuban Governments.
The Key West-Havana service is but the first step in the Pan American Airways' plan to connect North and South America by air. With Havana as the point of radiation, and with the Cuban Government giving the enterprise its fullest cooperation, this organization, according to embassy officials, early next year will have four additional air lines in operation.
The first route is planned from Havana to Port Au Prince, Haiti an airline distance of about 700 miles. This route ultimately is to be extended east across Santo Domingo to Porto Rico and perhaps others of the West Indian Isles. From Port Au Prince to San Juan, Porto Rico is approximately 300 miles.
Arrangements have practically been perfected, it is said for the use of an established government landing field at Port Au Prince. The next step is to be inauguration of a service between Port Au Prince and Caracas, Venezuela, a water hop across the Caribbean of approximately 700 miles. Negotiations with the Venezuelan Government and Venezuelan business interests have progressed to the point, it is declared, that this service is virtually assured for next year.
The third project calls for a service between Port Au Prince and Cristobal, Panama Canal zone, a distance of approximately 800 miles. There will be an additional direct service between Havana and Panama. The airline distance between those points is approximately 1,000 miles. The more indirect route by way of Port Au Prince has been determined on for the initial service because it affords a 200-mile shorter hop across the Caribbean, though it means a 500-mile greater flying distance.
The fourth project and probably the last to be put into operation is for a service between Havana and Progresso, Yucatan, about 400 miles across the yucatan channel and the Gulf of Mexico. This, however is to be the nucleus of a service extending south to Panama through the Central American states, and west to Vera Cruz and Tampico, the principal ports of Mexico. From Progresso to Vera Cruz is about 400 miles and from Vera Cruz to Tampico approximately 200 making the flying distance from Havana to Tampico approximately 1,000 miles.

Federal Agents Seize Arms About To Be Smuggled Into Mexico Through California

OAKLAND Cal., Nov. 18.—(INS) In their possession, federal authorities today launched a search for J. B. Mannerham, already under indictment for attempting to smuggle arms into Mexico.
The huge stock of arms, consisting of sub-machine guns, rifles, ammunition, trench knives and pneumatic rifles, was seized at Albany, a suburb, yesterday, in a house said to be owned by Mannerham, president of the Pacific Arms Company of San Francisco.
Meanwhile authorities were carefully scanning correspondence found at the same place. A copy of a letter, unsigned, but believed to have been written by Mannerham, was found addressed to G. Rosas, Jr., New Orleans, indicating a gun-running plot. Rosas is believed by police to be Guillermo

COURT RULING IS SOUGHT ON CLUB'S NEW WAGER PLAN

Group Believes Injunction Is Fictitious And Represents
Collusion To Obtain Decree
Allowing Club To Operate

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 18.—(INS)—A brokerage system as a substitute for the pari-mutuels planned by the Miami Jockey Club for its contemplated 42-day racing program in the face of a supreme court ruling against race track betting, today sought a court injunction against Judge Paul D. Burns of the Circuit Court.
A motion to dismiss the suit for injunction against the Miami Jockey Club, brought by W. J. Downing, a majority stockholder in the track, was taken under advisement yesterday after attorneys appearing as amici curiae filed the motion charging that the suit was fictitious and represented collusion of the Jockey Club and Mr. Downing to get a decision allowing them to operate. The bill of complaint of the "friends of the court" alleged that there was no real controversy between Downing and the club as their interests were the same and that it would not be fought "too hard" and a friendly decision obtained.
Those who opposed the suit which they alleged to be a "fake," were headed by W. H. Beckham, chairman of the "committee of one thousand" organized to oppose Florida racing; Lillburn R. Bailey, A. Grover Morrow, and O. K. Clement, Bailey and Beckham, attorneys appearing with Judge Burns with evidence which they alleged to show collusion and fraud in the suit and that the Miami Jockey Club was attempting to operate contrary to state statutes.

Obnoxious Feature Of Petroleum Law Removed By Court

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Decision of the Mexican Supreme Court knocking out the allegedly confiscatory features of the Mexican Petroleum Law with respect to one American Oil Company "opens the way to an immediate temporary adjustment and possibly to ultimate solution of our controversy with Mexico" over its petroleum law," Secretary Kallagie indicated today in commenting on the court ruling.
While the decision applied only to the Mexican Petroleum Company, an American firm, the State Department is confident that the principle laid down will eventually be extended to all American oil firms with holdings in Mexico. Some disappointment was expressed by officials here, however, that the court did not dispose of the entire dispute in a single sweeping decision declaring the retroactive articles of the oil law unconstitutional.
"General tariff reduction in our general tariff rates would ultimately result in drastic deflation of agricultural and industrial values, in the rates of wages, and in standards of living. Under our present system our foreign commerce has reached the highest point in our history and our national income has steadily increased to the enormous proportions of $90,000,000,000 for the last calendar year. This represents a volume of production and trade far in excess of that which any other country ever reached. It is the zenith of our prosperity. All this should be considered in any appraisal of the worth of our long established policy."
One other warning Mr. Coolidge delivered emphatically. It was against the government "getting into business." He declared "We have placed the enterprise of the country unreservedly in private hands" with reasonable regulation to prevent abuses.
"It is the very antithesis of communism," he said, "that it has raised the general welfare of the people to a position beyond even the promises of the extremists." So far as the national defense is concerned, Mr. Coolidge pledged that "We will round out our Army, Navy and Air Service" with such additions as will insure armament equally with the rest of the world.

Those Who Wish To Learn
Presidents Position On Campaign For Coming Election

Politicians Differ As To Its Meaning

Speech, In Brief, Is Resume
Of His Administration With Some Advice About Future

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—President Coolidge's speech before the Union League Club in Philadelphia today was subjected to minute scrutiny by Capitol politicians today. They had been tipped—and they had hoped—that Mr. Coolidge would take advantage of the occasion to clarify his position toward the 1928 campaign.
There was but little if any satisfaction to be gained from the scrutiny, however. Mr. Coolidge delivered the briefest address he has made since his "I-do-not-choose-to-run" bombshell, but the most powerful microscope could detect no clarification or amplification of that famous statement in his speech of last night. The politicians were left just where they were, most of them believing he is "out of it," and a highly vocal minority still convinced that he will run if drafted.
To those who prefer to believe he is "out of it," the speech had the sound of a valedictory. To those who are still vociferously proclaiming that he will run if nominated, it sounded like a platform. The speech changed no opinions, and each side found in it something of what it looked for.
Mr. Coolidge delivered, in brief, a resume of his administration and existing conditions, with a few bits of advice as to the future.
The country, he said, is more prosperous today than it has ever been. Business is good, wages are high, taxes have been reduced still further, the public debt has been cut one-third, government expenditures have been conducted economically, and at home and abroad "the people have pressed steadily forward with their faces toward the dawn. It was a very satisfactory and glowing picture that Mr. Coolidge painted for his audience of Republican stalwarts.
To the successive years of Republican administration he, of course, gave major credit. He praised the tariff, warned against any tinkering with it, advised against any drastic tax cutting, and in short recommended that the national government be continued along the lines of present policy. His warning against any tinkering with the tariff was pointed, and it was directed squarely at the mercantile insurers who have been filling the air in Washington with muttered threats of sabotage in the opening session of Congress.
"Without the influence of a protective tariff," he declared, "it would never have been possible for our country to reach its present stage of diversified development with its liberal rate of wages, its unprecedented distribution of wealth, and its high standards of living."
"Any material reduction in our general tariff rates would ultimately result in drastic deflation of agricultural and industrial values, in the rates of wages, and in standards of living. Under our present system our foreign commerce has reached the highest point in our history and our national income has steadily increased to the enormous proportions of $90,000,000,000 for the last calendar year. This represents a volume of production and trade far in excess of that which any other country ever reached. It is the zenith of our prosperity. All this should be considered in any appraisal of the worth of our long established policy."
One other warning Mr. Coolidge delivered emphatically. It was against the government "getting into business." He declared "We have placed the enterprise of the country unreservedly in private hands" with reasonable regulation to prevent abuses.
"It is the very antithesis of communism," he said, "that it has raised the general welfare of the people to a position beyond even the promises of the extremists." ## Dodge Hides Out Afraid Of Gunmen

Dodge Is Counted Upon
As The Prosecution's Star Witness

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 18 (INS)—This is Franklin L. Dodge Jr.'s own story, revealed exclusively today for the first time, of his relations with Mrs. Imogene Remus, who was shot and killed by her husband, George Remus, former "king of the bootleggers" in Eden Park, Cincinnati on the morning of Oct. 6 last.
In it, Dodge, the "man in the case," makes these significant statements:
"I was never intimate with Mrs. Remus. She never called me dear, nor used any such endearing terms, and I most certainly never called her sugar. I never conspired to keep Remus in prison, nor plotted with Mrs. Remus to keep possession of his property."
Dodge's story is of vital importance in the Remus murder trial now in progress here. He is expected to be the state's star witness.
He is in seclusion in a Cincinnati Hotel and for days has successfully evaded a score or more reporters who have been trailing him to get his version of the Remus case. It is said that his reason for keeping "under cover" is that he fears one of Remus' friends or associates will bump him off.
"Dodge was the former 'Ace' of the Department of Justice's enforcement army and his path crossed that of the spectacular Remus, building genius of a $1,000,000 liquor business many times."
"I have not been intimate with Mrs. Remus at any time nor at any place," said Dodge. "My relations with her have always been of the most proper character."
"I only met her in connection with the government service while I was in the service of the government and upon leaving the government I only met her for the purpose of discussing her private business affairs."
"She has never given me any money except what was necessary to pay expenses that were incurred by me while in her employment. At no time have I squandered or dissipated any of the funds or property of Mr. and Mrs. Remus. I have no interest whatever in the property of either of them."
Remus has charged that Dodge and Mrs. Remus mulcted him out of his valuable holdings he was behind prison walls following his conviction for violating the prohibition act.
Dodge says he is 35 years old, born in Lansing, Mich. He is now in the real estate business with his father. In 1919 he was appointed a special agent of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice. He held the job until Aug. 11, 1925, and his task was "the detection and prosecution of crime." His territory was the entire country.
He first met Remus in March, 1922, when he was investigating liquor violations in Cincinnati and vicinity. He dug up evidence against Remus. He was interviewed "two dozen times or more."
"I first met Mrs. Remus on Jan. 18, 1925, in the Clark County Jail at Athens, Georgia," said Dodge. "She was engaged in filing a flood delinquency for her husband who was a prisoner in the jail. I saw her get down on her knees and scrub the floor of his cell."
Dodge denied that when Remus was in jail at Atlanta and Dodge was in that city he had ever visited Mrs. Remus in her apartment in the Atlanta, Baltimore Hotel, when she was alone. He did deal with her in the presence of her husband and others.

FREAKISH STORM STRIKES SUBURBS OF CAPITAL CITY

Heaviest Damage Is Wrought
To Government Property At
Navy Yard And Air Station
Where Hangar Is Wrecked

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (INS)—The freakish storm—described by weather bureau as a "baby tornado"—which struck the eastern fringes and suburbs of Washington yesterday wrought a property damage that will amount to $1,500,000, according to estimates made today after a thorough survey of the time affected areas.
The total casualties were one dead, a negro struck by lightning, and two score persons with minor injuries, principally cuts and bruises. The heaviest damage was wrought to government property. The Washington Navy Yard and the naval air station at Anacostia were directly in the path of the little twister, and suffered accordingly. At the air station one hangar was wrecked and nine planes more or less demolished.
Nearby Alexandria, across the Potomac in Virginia, also was hard hit, suffering a property damage estimated at $500,000. The twister originated a short distance southeast of Alexandria, swept through the city and leaped across the river to strike the eastern fringe of the Capital. It finally spent itself in the Maryland suburbs, leaving behind a swath half a mile wide and some ten miles long filled with unroofed houses, uprooted trees and streets filled with debris of all description.
Approximately 200 houses in and around Washington were damaged to greater or less degree. Some of these were so knocked about that they could not be occupied during the night, and the occupants were given "refuge treatment." Police, aided by soldiers, patrolled the affected area throughout the night to prevent stealing. A steady all night rain and a sharp drop in temperature added to the discomfort of many residents.
Less than a score of people remained in hospitals today. There were several broken arms and legs, but most of the injuries were from flying glass. Window panes were knocked out like so much paper when the wind struck, and the air was filled with glass. In several groceries in northeast Washington not only were the windows blown in, but the show cases as well.
The twister itself lasted but a few minutes, according to first hand observers. It seemed to skip along the roofs of the houses, only dipping down to the ground at intervals. The weather bureau described it as "freakish," a description that was bore out today by some of the freakish evidences left behind.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. Nov. 18 (INS)—Federal Officers were today investigating the operations of what is believed to be an internationally organized rum-running ring after the capture here late yesterday of a freight car load of alcohol at a siding near Baldwin.
Labels on the alcohol showed that it was made at Puerto, Mexico, then shipped to Cuba and smuggled into the United States, presumably on the Suwannee River to Bell, where it was loaded as lumber and consigned to Kauzisa City consignee was a firm of contractors, whom Federal officers are investigating.

Ohio State - Illinois Play Crucial Game On Saturday To Decide Big Ten Winner

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 18.—Some heretic once said that history either seldom or never repeats and really makes very little difference what he said because in both cases he is all wrong about the Ohio State-Illinois football series. If history repeats as it has in the past, then an inferior Ohio State team will win from a superior Illinois outfit on Saturday and prevent the latter from taking due title to the Big Ten championship.

It has been done before by supposedly weaker buckeye or Illini teams in time to cheat the supposedly stronger team out of the title. In fact, this game somehow has served as the crux of the western conference race as surprising number of times and has witnessed a series of surprising form handspins, as is proved by the following statistics:

1915—Ohio State, supposed to lose, got a 3 to 3 tie, forcing Illinois to accept a deadlock with Min.nesota for the Big Ten title.

1916—Chick Harley's glory first saw the light of the day as he scored to touchdown, tying Illinois then changed his shoes to kick the goal, beating the Illini and winning the title.

1919—Ohio State favored to win but Illini came through, 9 to 7, scoring Harley's only defeat of his conference career. The victory gave Illinois the Big Ten title.

1920—Ohio State beat Illinois with a forward pass. Workman to Myers, for the only touchdown of his game with the time keeper's gun sounding the final signal as the ball was in the air. The victory staked the Buckeyes to the title.

1921—Ohio State was supposed to have the championship at its mercy since Illinois had won no conference games, but it won this one, 7 to 0, and Iowa took tie title.

1922—Ohio State had had a disastrous season, losing to Michigan, Minnesota, Chicago and Iowa, but the Buckeyes stepped out to win from Illinois, 6 to 3.

1924—Illinois scores its first victory over Ohio State at Urbana since 1918, winning 7 to 0.

1926—Ohio State had one of the leading middle western teams and Illinois was merely ordinary but it carried the Buckeyes to a 7 to 0 score before it succumbed.

And there one is, as we say at the abattoir. Except for the first game of the series in 1914, which Illinois won by 37 to 0, no game between Ohio State and Illinois has been decided by a margin greater than nine points, regardless of what may have been thought of the teams in the pre-game calculations. And of the nine games played, five of them either have had an indirect or an

YOUNG WALLACE LOSES TO LOCAL BOY LAST NIGHT

Carson Cook Gets Decision In Ten Rounds But Shows Poor Form By Missing Many Blows Wallace Is Not Aggressive

Carson Cook, of Sanford, won the decision in the 10 round final on the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps boxing cards at Municipal Athletic Field last night from Kid Wallace, of Tampa.

Cook's victory was far from decisive. He pushed the fight from the first round to the finish, but missed dozens of blows which would have done plenty of damage if they had landed. Wallace lacked aggressiveness but showed of speed in getting under Cook with right handers.

Cook didn't look so good. He lefts landed once in every dozen times and he only occasionally put over a right that didn't get muffed in Wallace's gloves.

Inky Williams, with 19 more pounds of solid muscle behind his gloves than Kid Jerry could master won by a knockout in the fifth round of the eight round semi-final. The crowd was all for Jerry, who looked pretty small against Williams' bulk. Jerry, seemed to be leading by a small margin on points but he got messes up with a right to the jaw then when out for the count with a right to the stomach.

The preliminaries were all good for their age. Kid Allen, a Sanford youngster, showed plenty of extremely direct bearing on the disposal of the Big Ten championship.

So it will be on Saturday. If Illinois can win, it will have a clean conference record and cannot be deprived of the title, regardless of what Minnesota does to Michigan or vice versa, mostly versa.

Speed and punch which promises something good within a few years if he develops as he should. Shag Dunn got a fast count knockout from Young Harris in the third round of their four prelin. The referee counted like lightning but Harris would have gone out anyway.

'TIGER' FLOWERS, NEGRO PUGILIST, DIES IN GOTHAM

Former Welterweight Champ Passes Away Suddenly Following Operation; Fighter Was Popular With Public

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (INS)—The Georgia Tiger is no more. Almost on the eve of what the great negro was fond to regard as his "big chance to come back"—his return crack at the middleweight title—Theodore "Tiger" Flowers lay dead today.

His death, one of the most surprising in ring history, came last night when he suffered a sudden relapse after undergoing a minor operation on his nose earlier in the day.

The sinking spell was unexpected, Dr. Wilfred Fralck said. He attributed the death to a condition of status lymphaticus, evident in the operated region above the right eye.

The operation was intended to clear the scar tissue, the result of many years of fighting.

The fact that Flowers was under observation at the Fralck Hospital for three months dispelled the general opinion that the operation was an emergency one.

Following his return from a southern jaunt Flowers engaged in his first northern fight in Harlem last Saturday when he knocked out Leo Gates in four rounds. A lull in ring engagements allowed him to spend a month in the hospital.

Practically unconscious from the time of operation, Flowers had his best hour immediately preceding his death. But he began to sink fast, and Dr. Fralck was summoned to his bedside by an assistant.

The "Tiger" otherwise known as the "Georgia Deacon" was born in Camille, Ga., on Aug. 5, and took up boxing while employed in the ship yards during the World War. He was discovered by his present manager Walk Miller.

Miller brought him along at a fast pace which culminated in winning his way to championship.

Flowers' good nature, his perpetual smile, his almost obsequious sportsmanship in the ring, and his many quaint little oddities of conduct had endeared him to the hearts of ring followers. The deacon never began a fight without first kneeling for a moment in prayer.

MIDDLEKAUFF ON INJURED LIST AS BIG GAME NEARS

Gator Captain Crippled In Alabama Game Falls To Take Part In Practice; Crabtree Shows Form In Piloting Team

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, Gainesville, Nov. 18. (Athletic News Bureau)—Florida's gridiron warriors—conquerors of Alabama in the South's most amazing upset last Saturday, were back at work Tuesday and Wednesday preparing for their ninth contest of the season with Washington and Lee in Jacksonville on Thanksgiving. Captain Bill Middlekauff was on the field, but did not don a uniform as he was cuffed about badly in the tilt with the Crimson Tide. "Cannonball Clyde" Crabtree, Florida's crafty field general, and newest backfield star by virtue of Saturday's clash, was at his post directing the first string eleven through signal drill. The two teams were jumbled about considerably by Coach Sebring, with Bono running center in Kirschner's place, and Bryan in at tackle. Bryan's work in the latter part of the Alabama game when he relieved Donald DeHoff was colorful.

Washington and Lee formations were being taught to the "Omlet" squad by coach Nash Higgins. The Generals will shoot a baffling and varied offense at the Gators, scouts reports, employing double and triple passes, forward passes and trick plays galore. The "Omlets" are having no easy time mastering the W. and L. style of attack to assist in schooling Sebring's cast this week, as Coach Higgins says it is the most difficult offense to "cut across" that he has encountered this year.

An abundance of pep was in evidence on Fleming Field as Boss Sebring sent his cohorts through their varied program of activity. Everything in the way of preparation for W. and L. offensively and defensively, is being done this week, as Florida realizes the Heron machine from Lexington is strong and dangerous, and will be out to avenge the losses of '24 and

Injuries Take Toll On Rockne's Eleven

SOUTHBEND, Ind., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Six of Knute Rockne's Notre Dame regulars are definitely out of the lineup for Saturday's game against Drake, it was announced today. Seven first string men were put on the injured list as a result of being kicked by the Army mule. Christy Flanagan, star back, is the only one of the injured who will be able to gallop Saturday if his services are needed. The others, Walsh, Wynne, and the tie game of last Thanksgiving.

Tommy Ownes, fleet Gator half, who has missed three consecutive games because of a broken wrist is raring for next week's classic, as the injury has almost completely healed.

Dr. Murphree's Good Work

Signal honors have been conferred upon Dr. Albert A. Murphree, president of the University of Florida, who has just been elected president of the National Association of State Universities.

Dr. Murphree's election as head of the educational association is in recognition of his efforts in making the University of Florida the outstanding achievement of State universities in this country during the past decade.

Dr. Murphree assumed the presidency of the school in 1905 when the institution was first moved to Gainesville. Handcapped by small appropriations and lack of support from the state as a whole, he guided the university through some trying times during those earlier years.

Some sage has remarked that one never appreciates what he has until he is about to lose it and the truth of that statement was forcefully demonstrated last year when Dr. Murphree was tendered the presidency of a North Carolina institution which offered him flattering inducements.

Improving Their Marksmanship

The Herald was much interested in an account published recently in the Tampa Times in which a thrilling chase of an automobile speeder by a motorcycle cop was depicted.

The same article went on to say that this policeman had been one of a gallant corps of cops who fired more than thirty bullets at a woman speeder a week or two ago.

We had scarcely received this startling bit of information when we noticed an Associated Press dispatch in the Tampa Tribune which told of a somewhat similar episode in Miami.

The impression seems to prevail among certain misguided laymen that policemen carry guns simply for the purpose of personal protection or to prevent a felony, or to apprehend murderers or other desperate characters.

HELPING THE FARMERS EXCHANGE

The utility companies of Florida are always on the lookout for the best interests of the farmers as well as other lines of business.

Half a million dollars in improvements and additions to the property of the Florida Power and Light Company, have given to this city one of the most modern ice plants in the South.

It is up to the farmers of Escambia County to do the producing, said S. T. McAdam, local manager of the Florida Power and Light Company.

DO CONVENTIONS PAY

A keen demand for Florida fruit with an almost total absence of California competition has boosted the price until very satisfactory returns are being received.

Yet it is questionable whether they will profit any if all rush their fruit to market from groves where there is any question of freezing.

READ THIS! JUST AS A FAVOR PLEASE, LEESBURG COMMERCIAL.

We clipped this out of the Arkansas Argonaut and we haven't added or subtracted a word, so it is one of those things which exactly fit in one of the headings we run on this page, frequently "Not Our Words But We Acquire."

Recently a newspaper trade journal carried an inquiry from a correspondent who wanted to know when a weekly paper was justified in changing into a daily.

There is no other progressive daily within at least 50 miles. A daily newspaper can eat money faster than a hippopotamus can eat hay.

To get out a first-class eight-page daily will require at least four pages of "honest to God" paid advertising to sustain it.

The editor or owner has a cash surplus of $100,000. There is no other progressive daily within at least 50 miles.

It will cost at least 50 per cent more to get out a daily of eight pages six days in a week than it will to get out a 48-page weekly.

In a weekly most of the copy is time copy, can be set up almost any day of the week and most of it comes at little reportorial expense.

In a weekly the advertising copy can be lined up during the whole week, but a daily requires lining up the advertisements, getting the copy, composing and proofing within a few hours each day.

The man who has a well paying weekly should think a long time before going into a daily.

Popular Comedian Plays Stellar Role In Milane Picture

Earle Foxe, popular comedian, has the leading masculine role in "Upstream," of John Ford production for Fox Films, coming to the Milane Theatre today. Nancy Nash, who had a featured role in "The City," plays opposite Foxe in this comedy-drama of American theatrical life.

The story, a screen version of "The Snake's Wife," written by Wallace Smith, was adapted by Randall H. Faye. The scene is laid in New York and London. The plot centers about the activities of a presumptuous young actor who achieves greatness as a Shakespearean tragedian by virtue of some timely advice given by an older star. Comedy and tragedy are blended in the lives of a group of typical theatrical boarding-house "professionals" who live in a typical theatrical boarding-house in Forty-sixth Street.

In addition to Foxe and Miss Nash, the cast includes many well-known names.

The list includes Raymond Hitchcock, Emile Chautard, Grant Withers, Judy King, Jane Winton, Lillian Worth, Harry Bailey, Francis Ford, Ted McNamara, Sammy Cohen, Lydia Yeamans, Titus and others.

Two Conference Titles At Stake Saturday When Teams Meet In Big Games

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor
CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Business as usual, a chamber of commerce slogan, is the best that can be said for collegiate football tomorrow, in spite of the fact that at least two conference championships will be decided before it is all over but the shouting, the latter being optional.

As to that I suspect that the usual four out of five will fail to exercise the option but not the larry, the fifth probably being a guy with a sidekick at an Harvard.

Anyhow, the day will put the finishing touch on the Big Ten race with the games between Illinois and Ohio State at Columbus and Michigan and Minnesota at Ann Arbor and may even go so far as to scramble or definitely unscramble the Missouri Valley Conference scramble, if you don't object to me putting all my grammatical eggs in one basket.

It can be some strange things, too, to the Pacific Coast Conference championship, provided California wins from Stanford and Southern California blows one to Washington State.

What would happen is a convention and who's orthodox victory for both Stanford and U. S. C. settling the final answer on the coast race over to December 3 when the Trojans must meet and beat Washington to take the championship.

The two good ones, Missouri and Nebraska, will deploy into action tomorrow. The former taking on Kansas and the latter meeting Kansas Aggies.

Both of the leaders should win with something to spare, which as I figure it, will shift the final showdown to Thanksgiving Day when Missouri will play Oklahoma.

The remainder of the schedule for the day means not so much, unless Harvard beats Yale, Drake beats Notre Dame and Mercer beats Georgia. A parlay on that one would get you a hundred for every dollar you care to lay on the line, which I hope would not be very many.

Yale hasn't scored a touchdown in the Harvard stadium since Hafflinger lost his toe, if he ever had it, but if they don't start tomorrow they never will and, as to that, what if it is they don't. Anyhow, these important guys are going to play their important game on Saturday whether you like it or not.

Ohio State and Illinois have played many games that have been decided by psychology or the stars 10 cent word meaning a plain ordinary upset. The fact is that past performance means nothing to these teams, both having spent half their lives in beating the other out of the Big Ten championship. The Buckeyes can do it tomorrow by beating Illinois but I don't think they will and neither do you, unless you come from Columbus, Ohio.

Minnesota can win the championship by beating Michigan but they provided the Illinois team lost to Ohio State. The statisticians who ramble untrammelled here with the freedom that is granted them in New York which is untrammelled, have figured a triangular tie between Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota. This can be accomplished by Ohio State and Michigan meeting at one and the same time.

Body Of Flowers Is Taken To Atlanta; Left $100,000 Estate

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (INS).—Accompanied by Walk Miller, the man who brought him into state prominence, the body of "Tiger" Flowers was being taken back to Georgia home for burial today.

While messages of condolence from many parts of the world poured in last night, Flowers' body, in a silver casket, was shipped to Atlanta.

Those friends of the fighter told that of the half million dollars which he earned in the ring, Flowers had saved more than $100,000. His estate was left to his wife and six-year-old daughter.

Thousands of persons passed in review of the body at the undertaking parlors where it lay yesterday.

LOCAL GRIDDERS PLAY KISSIMMEE HIGH TOMORROW

FLORIDA FROSH PLAYS CAROLINA RATS SATURDAY

Coach Soney And Star Squad Reach Gainesville Today In Trim Condition For Battle At Gainesville On Saturday

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, Gainesville, Nov. 18, (Athletic News Bureau).—Former high and prep school stars of several states will clash here Saturday afternoon when the freshman football teams of the University of Florida and South Carolina tangle on Fleming Field in the final frosh grid battle of the present season in this state.

Coach Burnett Soney and 22 "Chicks" from the South Carolina institution arrived Friday afternoon in good physical condition and excellent spirits, with determination written in every eye. A light workout was held, with the Florida fans also indulging in a brief session.

Columbia High of Columbia, S. C., which has been reeling off state football titles with much regularity in recent years, dispatched many of their stars of South Carolina "11" in September, and Coach Soney Saturday will unfold a continent of potential gridiron greats. Their record for the season has been impressive, though close battles were lost to Clemson and Furman.

Brady Cowell after putting his "Baby Gators" through a week of hard practice, pronounced the youthful Floridian in excellent shape. Armistice Day found the rats bowling over Orlethorpe 37 to 0, but no such contest is expected here Saturday.

Carlisle Beall, captain and field general of the Bidders, is a triple man and outstanding player of the South Carolina eleven, though in Matheny and "Happy" Edens, of prep school fame, two powerful ball carriers are seen. The two B. O. Wingmen, Bolneau and Shad were with last year's championship Columbia crew, and both were placed on the All-Southern prep eleven at the close of the 1926 season.

Several ex-New Jersey all-state athletes are performing with the young Gamecocks, Leardo, Weinstein, Zimmerman and Leschinsky being the most notable of the group.

With the exception of Clark, who will start at right guard, and Hicks, who will open at right tackle, Coach Cowell's starting lineup is first whistle last week, against to be the same as answered the young Petrels.

A large crowd is expected to view the game.

The probable starting lineup here Saturday follows:

Florida	Position	So. Carolina
Waters	Center	Yarboro
Clemens	Left Guard	Leardo
Hick	Right Guard	Zimmerman
Hicks	Right Tackle	Moore
Nolan	Right End	Shand
Betha	Quarterback	Beall
Ferguson	Right Halfback	Matheny
Sauls	Fullback	Epps

PREPARES LONG HOP

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18 (INS).—Captain Frederick A. Giles, British war ace, announced upon his arrival at the airport here today that he would probably take off for Honolulu on the first leg of his flight to Australia at 9:30 A. M., provided some soft spots in the runway were dried out by that time.

HIALEAH—Water mains in East Hialeah nearly completed and will furnish water for large area in this section of city.

LOCAL GRIDDERS PLAY KISSIMMEE HIGH TOMORROW

Squad Enjoys Good Workouts This Week In Preparation For Contest In Kissimmee; Hagan Only Casualty Listed

Sanford's golden jerseys will go through their last practice session this afternoon before leaving for Kissimmee tomorrow to meet Kissimmee High School's grid team in next to the last game of the state conference season.

"Shook-it" Stoinoff's sore ankle, which took much of the punch out of his line-driving and cut some of the speed off his end runs against Orlando Military Institute Armistice Day, is sound again. The only casualty in the Sanford squad is L. P. Hagan whose ankle was broken in an inter-class tilt last Monday.

Last night the same line-up which has won all but one game this season went through a long signal practice and then a light scrimmage before Coach Hugh Wheelchell charged them up and down the field in short spurts until men were weary.

American Business In China Drops Off Since Consuls Left

PEKING, Nov. 18. (INS).—The American Legation has just been apprised of the sorry state in which American business is left with the withdrawal of American consuls from interior points of China. At Chungking on the Upper Yangtze River an American shipping concern, the Yangtze Rapids Shipping Company, was the victim.

A demand was made on the company for a loan of $5,000 by the local Chinese military commander. It was refused when suddenly a party of armed troops entered the company office and refused to leave until the money had been handed over.

A Chinese employee of the American firm slipped away and succeeded in securing an intermediation of the Chungking Chinese Chamber of Commerce. The armed troops were withdrawn when the American company paid over $100,000 agreed to confer with the military leaders over the balance. While it was politely turned down, the money demanded and partially paid over is nothing but an extortion which will never be repaid.

Daytona Beach To Open Auto Racing Season Next Week

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Nov. 18 (INS).—Racing on the local beach for the 1927-1928 season will start here on Thanksgiving Day when Sig Haugdahl, speedster driver who recently returned from a tour of northern racetracks, takes the field against any and all comers in a feature event to be staged by the local chamber of commerce. The Thanksgiving Day races are to be put on as a prelude to the February speed carnival in which Frank Loekhart, Malcolm Campbell and other national racing stars will compete for honors.

Sig Haugdahl has entered an agreement with the Auto Dealers' Association here to meet all comers in the Thanksgiving Day race. Arrangements now are being made for cars, and if plans of the auto dealers materialize Haugdahl and his opponent will have machines evenly alike.

Haugdahl will face new competition, according to a report here. A driver from the Indianapolis Speedway who defeated Haugdahl there last summer, is planning to repeat his victory on the local beach, it is said, Haugdahl, until Major H. O. D. Segrave's phenomenal record of 203.79 miles an hour was made here, held the record for speed on the local sand-paved, making a speed of 173 miles an hour unofficially two years ago.

9 Teams Entered in Cross Country Meet

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 18 (INS).—Nine of the strongest teams of the south are expected to enter the fifth annual Southern Conference cross-country championship meet over the five mile University of North Carolina course here tomorrow morning. Seven teams already have entered, while Auburn and Maryland were expected to enter today.

Institutions that have already entered teams are Georgia, Georgia Tech, North Carolina State, Kentucky and North Carolina, all of which have piled up impressive records in dual meets this fall. The University of North Carolina outfit won the title last year at Athens, Ga.

BROOKSVILLE.—Local cyanide plant erected for testing gold in Hernando County resumes operation.

TO FIGHT AT RALEIGH

RALEIGH, N.C., Nov. 18 (INS).—Willie Ptooney, of Washington, claimant to the title of middleweight champion of Uncle Sam's military forces, is scheduled to go 10 rounds in the city auditorium here tonight with Al McTate, the southern thunderbolt, of Savannah, Ga.

Centre "Praying Colonels" Are To Meet Stetson Eleven November 26

DE LAND, Florida, Nov. 18.—De Land and Florida's most interesting gridiron game will be played here on November 26 when the "Praying Colonels" from Danville, Kentucky, send the highly advertised Centre college eleven to this city to meet the equally as well known Stetson Hatters.

Centre college by name is so well known there is no need for further introduction, unless it should be stated for the benefit of those not as well posted on what took place in this country some six years ago, that this is the same team Harvard lost to when "Bo" McMillan was Danville's most favorite and famous son.

Coach McQuinn at this time is more vitally interested in the game scheduled for Saturday with the Miami Hurricane eleven than what Centre was or is to be on the following Saturday when the "Praying Colonels" invade this city.

While the outcome of the Stetson-Miami game will have no effect on the Hatters standing in the S. I. A. A. there is a keen desire on McQuinn's part to keep his record clear from defeat. For this reason the Miami game is worrying Stetson's coach more than the Centre battle.

Mail D. Smith, general chairman for the Centre-Stetson game, stated that advance reports indicate the big battle set for Comings field Saturday week is going to be a great day in DeLand and Stetson's history for the grid fans to remember. Chairman Smith not only expects a record crowd on this date—but looks forward to a complete sell-out long before the game starts.

RECORD CROWD IS TO SEE TROJANS AND NOTRE DAME

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (INS).—On the afternoon of November 26 football warriors of the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, tangle at Soldier's Field with those traveling knights of the gridiron from Notre Dame.

The Indiana Irish have a great team this season and experts figure the Pacific coast invaders will have to bring to Chicago one of the most powerful elevens in the history of the game to triumph. Because both fast teams and slow, powerful lines, fleet backfields, elevens with triple-threat stars and generally excellent squads, such as that at the University of Minnesota have failed to down the Harps the Westerners will have to boast team superb in every department to win.

The Four Horsemen—Coach Knute Rockne will use his 1927 "Four Horsemen," Nieme, Flanagan, Chevigny and Collins in the backfield.

Both Nieme and Chevigny are fast and sure ground gatherers and rated the equal of the dashing halfback, Christy Flanagan, who perhaps is better known in the football world than his two teammates. Collins will be alternated at fullback with Wynne, a faithful and fast back and kicker as well, a consistent performer. Dahman, a still another reserve Horseman of the Irish, he performed with great credit in the Minnesota-Notre Dame game, which ended in a 7-7 tie.

Weather may play an extremely important part in the Chicago game. None of the Californians

Weather Bureau For Moscow To End Jobs For Prophets

MOSCOW, Nov. 18 (INS).—Many of Russia's 5,000 weather prophets will soon be looking for other jobs if the Commissariat of Workers and Peasants Inspection carries out its plan to establish a central meteorological bureau. According to the Inspection Commission, daily weather predictions cost the Soviet Government four million rubles a year, and these predictions are usually wrong.

Nearly every branch of the government has its own weather bureau. The Commissariat of Agriculture employs 1,911 persons in its meteorological department. The 1,256 stations costing nearly a million rubles per year; the Department of Education's weather budget amounts to 850,000 rubles. Moreover, the textile trust he to have trust, the state electrical department and various other state on the published weather reports owned institutions, refusing to rely have their own staffs of expert sky gazers whose duty it is to guess whether tomorrow will be fair and warmer, or whether it looks like snow.

The Commission hasn't been able to discover why the Department of Education and a lot of other government owned business enterprises need weather bureaus. For economy's sake the Commission urges the establishment of a modern, reliable weather bureau, and the elimination of duplication.

Rockefeller Visit To Florida Begins Earlier This Year

ORMOND, Fla., Nov. 18. (INS).—John D. Rockefeller, standard oil magnate, is expected to arrive here next week to spend the season at his winter home, "The Casements." Servants have arrived to open his home and to place his winter estate in condition.

George H. Rigby, mayor of Ormond, said that caretakers are now at work reconditioning the grounds and that the balance of the retinue of servants will arrive here tomorrow, according to information sent him. Rockefeller usually arrives within one week after the household force puts in their appearance.

This will make the tenth successive winter that Rockefeller will have spent at his home here. Last year he arrived on Dec. 7. The oil magnate spends his morning hours playing golf on the Ormond Course, not far from "The Casements."
