

HUMAN NATURE

Being a Treatise on the Follies and Foibles of Mankind in Sanford

BY R. J. HOLLY

Sitting at a table at one of the restaurants the other day ruminating upon the honesty of mankind in general a man at the table next and to whom my back was turned, wearing his neat hat and taking a hat from the rack placed the same upon his head and walked out. Finishing my own meal and getting down to the toothpick part of the menu I leisurely strolled over to lift my lid and found to my great amazement that I had been touched in Sanford. The gentleman ahead of me had taken my hat and left his in its place and as his was very much soiled and very much older than mine and having my own ideas about wearing other people's hats I left his hanging on the rack at the restaurant and it is there yet. Of course this gentleman had discovered by this time that he had my hat, for my name is written there in large letters. My hat was a Knox hat bought at Yowell's sale and was marked down from $4 to $1.50.

Regardless of the price, however, I still think that the man who picked up a perfectly good hat in place of his soiled one knew perfectly well what he was doing and deliberately stole mine. He is still wearing it so the proprietor informs me and that they expect to pinch him when he shows up at the café again.

Thus my belief in mankind receives a rude jolt again, and just as I was beginning to congratulate myself that the world was getting better a perfectly sober, honest and industrious son of a gun walks off with my best hat in broad daylight.

Can you beat it?

While my near automobile is running smoothly down the road and I am at peace with the world I love to think about the good that is in every one and I stop the car every few feet to allow some weary pedestrian to get in and ride. The old car creaks and groans at every fresh insult offered in the way of sudden stops but I have made up my mind to be kind and gentle to my fellow man (and women) and regardless of the protestations of the near car continue to pick up the travelling public every two feet from here to Sanford Heights.

The car is at the command of my friends and enemies and I am perfectly willing to get out of bed at any time of the night to go to the movies or down to the moving pictures or to make a quick run for soothing syrup for a sick baby. It gives me greater pleasure to serve my friends and enemies than to be serving myself or my family. It gives me such a satisfied feeling to be taking in the wayside travelers for I know that some day it shall be returned to me a hundred fold. Consequently the other day when the rocky road to Sanford Heights broke one of my springs I did not fear the result because I knew that other owners would recognize my plight and all my friends from town would take pleasure in coming out after me and driving me home.

Well, they didn't. They don't seem to know me now and I am like a cowboy who has been dismounted and none of the cattle recognize his superiority. J. N. Whitner is the only man so far who has taken pity on me and given me a lift.

My ideals about the good fellowship existing between auto owners has received a severe shock and my shock absorbers are not working. Or I may have broken a rule by riding everybody in my car and thus lost caste with the other owners of cars who never take anybody in their cars except owners of cars.

Speaking to Bob Holland about the auto owners having been stated that there is a lot of feeling between owners of automobiles and that they would always help each other out.

"Then, why, don't I get a ride this week?" I asked.

"Well, I said automobiles," he replied.

Now what did he mean by that?

It is wonderful what a "strong personality" an editor will have with his readers. A lady reader in New York state writes to sympathize with me in the serious operation of the removal of two ingrown toenails. With a full appreciation of her solicitude and with no undue levity it would not be unbecomingly to remark that an editor is as strong with the feet as with his hands and unlike Samson our strength is not in the hair. We may think our time is taken up with sympathy for the other fellow but many there are who think the editor is really human and eats with a knife and fork.

period which would have been payable to the county clerk or county tax collector of Seminole county had offices been in operation during said period, provided, however, that this applies only to the net amounts received by the county after deduction of all fees of officers, amounts paid to the state, etc.

(11) The county of Orange shall pay over to the county of Seminole from time to time Seminole's pro rata part of any moneys received from state for lands of convicts. This applies only to convicts sent up from Orange county before the division.

(12) For the purpose of making clear the foregoing paragraphs, it is agreed that Seminole county is entitled to receive her pro rata part of all moneys which may be collected and which were owing to the county of Orange at the time of division.

(13) It is further agreed, in accordance with the general provisions of said agreement, that Orange county shall retain and Seminole county shall have no interest in the court house, jail, county home, or any other real estate located in present Orange county. It is further, agreed, however, that Seminole county shall take and retain any county real estate located in Seminole county. This includes all clay pits and also a small piece of ground on which is located a ferry house at Osteen Ferry, and Orange county will execute deeds conveying this property if required.

(14) As to the division of county convicts on hand as of May 1st, and for an equitable adjustment for the use of stock and teams since said period until the date of this agreement, it is agreed as follows: That from the number of county convicts on hand as of May 1st, a deduction therefrom shall be made of three convicts who have been ill and unable to work. The county of Orange agrees to pay Seminole county for the use of the remaining convicts the sum of $5 per head until such time as Seminole county's pro rata share of said convicts are delivered to the proper authorities of Seminole county, and for the use and hire of said stock and teams Orange county agrees to pay to Seminole county the sum of one dollar per day, for all working days, up to the signing of this agreement. Seminole county to pay for said teams and stock that have been used in that portion of Orange county now constituting Seminole county upon the same basis. It is further agreed that the convicts shall be divided between the counties of Orange and Seminole as to the number on hand May 1st, upon an equitable basis, at such time as may be hereafter determined.

(15) It is agreed that each of said boards shall employ a competent accountant to aid the auditor of Orange county in making computations necessary to carry out the foregoing agreement. It is further agreed that said work shall be done under the general supervision of Honorable B. M. Robinson, auditor for Orange county and that a full detailed report of all matters, embracing as far as possible exact figures in each case, shall be made by the said accountants under the supervision of said auditor at as early date as practicable, copies of said report to be submitted to each of said boards. It is further agreed that the said reports shall be construed as final and binding, except as to errors and omissions.

CHULUOTA LOT SALE

Thriving City in Seminole Will Have Big Land Boom

Chuluota is to be placed on the market on September 1st. This is to be one of the most substantial and one of the prettiest cities in Central Florida. It is located on the Okeechobee branch of the F. E. C. Railway and is in the heart of the Kissimmee valley, a section noted for its fertility and other natural advantages.

Beautiful, wide boulevards will be laid out in the proposed city and lots fronting on these avenues will be placed on sale on the first of next month. All of the streets and boulevards will be hard surfaced and other public improvements will be made before any of the lots are disposed of.

A very handsome office building has been erected by the land department of the Florida East Coast Railway, in the future city, but no other structures as yet adorn the streets.

Chuluota has every advantage to assure a rapid growth. The surrounding country is very fertile and adapted to citrus fruit growing and agriculture. There are many splendid orange and grapefruit groves there at present. On the town site there are five beautiful lakes, with clean sand bottom, which are teeming with fish.

The new branch of the Florida East Coast Railway, running to Okeechobee, is well advanced and passes through Chuluota. It now extends to Kenansville, 58 miles beyond, or south of Chuluota and it is expected will be extended to Okeechobee by the first of January.

Eager to secure property in this favored town many people have vainly endeavored to buy lots in advance of the opening day, but they have been forced to wait and they will no doubt hail with joy the announcement that the day is not far distant when they will be permitted to enter this beautiful place. —St. Augustine Record.

CHANGES IN THEATRES

Star Theatre and Imperial Combine to Better Serve the Public

That Sanford will not at the present time support two moving picture shows has long been apparent to the public and possibly to the proprietors of the same. Sanford has an amusement loving population but there is such a thing as overdoing the proposition and about all the people wanted in the summer time was one good movie show. Consequently ere long the proprietors seeing that further competition would be ruinous very wisely came together and have arranged a summer schedule that will not only please the public but will give the proprietors of the show a chance, to cop off a living. Karnatz & Herndon will be the style of the new combination and only the Star Theatre will be operated during the first five days of the week. On Saturday nights, when the crowd is usually too large to be accommodated by one theatre both the Star and Imperial will be open for the movies and sometimes for vaudeville. The Imperial will be given over to the legitimate drama when there is any, and by thus combining the expenses of operating will be cut enough to make a small profit.

The new arrangement should be perfectly satisfactory to the public, as both places have been putting up good entertainments and the people appreciate their efforts enough to wish both young men well. Karnatz & Herndon are young men well and favorably known and they have the best wishes of the Sanford people for their full measure of success.

CAPTURED ESCAPED CONVICT

Seminole Sheriff and City Policeman Get Usual Reward

Sheriff Hand and City Policeman Victor are $100 to the good today, as the result of their vigilance having captured an escaped convict yesterday. The convict was a negro woman named Frances Towers and she was sentenced from Dade county for highway robbery, getting two years. She worked in the camps of the Southern Pine Co., and has served only one month when she escaped. A description was mailed over the state and the officers here located the woman in Sanford last week. After being certain they had the right party the arrest was made and the negro confessed to being the one wanted.

Deputy Sheriff J. T. Lee carried her to Ocala yesterday, where she will be turned over to the leases and Sheriff Hand and Policeman Victor will divide the reward of $100.

County Court Tomorrow

Sheriff Hand leaves for Orlando today and will bring back seven prisoners that belong in Seminole county and they will be tried tomorrow before Judge Whitner of the county court. This will be the first court held in Seminole county.

Big Sales in Sanford

Sanford merchants as usual are offering big bargains in summer stocks and this city will be the trading center for miles around during the give away sale that will soon take place. Chas. Kaner has a big sale starting on the 15th.

J. K. Mettinger will have one on the 16th. The Sanford Shoe & Clothing Co. will start one on the 18th and the people who come to Sanford to trade will be able to purchase cheaper than ever before. Watch The Herald for advertisements.

MORE CANALS IN THIS SECTION

Kissimmee Anxious to Have Deep Water With St. Johns River

Isaac S. Hall, secretary of St. Cloud Water Association was in Sanford Monday enroute to Jacksonville, where he will appear before the Board of Trade, with reference to the proposed canal connecting the St. Johns and Kissimmee rivers. He says considerable interest is taken in the proposed route and much may result from the start already begun. Ft. Myers, St. Cloud, Kissimmee and Sanford have expressed themselves highly favoring such a canal, as it will mean much to all cities over the water route between Jacksonville and Ft. Myers. Six more turpentine stills will be put into operation between Lake Harney and Narcoossee, if transportation of some kind was provided besides much of the country south of Sanford would be opened up to settlement.

Many pleasure crafts of the Southern waters would be seen on the St. Johns river if the canal is constructed.

Fifteen years ago steamboats received merchandise between Narcoossee and Kissimmee.

With very little expense to the government this connecting link between the two waterways could be made passable and be a benefit to the entire state.

Mr. Hall expressed himself that there is nothing that would benefit so many people at so little expense as the connecting of these two waterways.

Williams-Furen

At the Furen home on Laurel avenue this morning at eight o'clock Miss Nellie Furen and Mr. W. W. Williams were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. Strong of the Congregational church officiating. The wedding was a quiet home affair, only the relatives and friends being present.

Miss Furen is well known to a large circle of friends in this city and the county, having been a teacher in the Sanford schools for many years. She had been appointed to teach this term and the news of her marriage will come as a great surprise to the patrons of the school. They will make their home here.

Notice

Teachers' Examination in and for Seminole county will be held at Sanford, Tuesday, Sept. 2nd.

For white teachers, in the High School; and for colored teachers in Hoppers' Academy.

An examination fee of one dollar each will be required.

WOODLAND PARK NOTES

Rain or cloudy weather does not seem to interfere much with the regular Woodlanders, judging from last Sunday's attendance at Woodland Park. The Nettie and Mami each brought a good load and a private launch came also. The opportunity of a nice launch ride to and from the park for a small sum is taken advantage of by many. The boats are sometimes unable to carry the crowd, as many as forty-five being left behind one day, and these, rather than wait on the unsheltered city dock for the boats to return had to give up their outing. Some of these, when able to procure a wagon or other conveyance came anyway. The city should put up some kind of shelter on the city dock, to protect people from sun and rain. Such little things help build up a town more than hot air about big doings. Among those that came in vehicles were the Runge and Wolf families, who all enjoyed their cold plunge. Improvements are going on all the time at Woodland Park. The coaster car has been fitted with better wheels and people are being hoisted by horse power. When the car reaches the top, it releases from cable automatically and the impetus carries the car high enough at further end to return it to starting point, doing away with the laborious job of pushing the car up by hand. The pool and all tin roofs have been repainted and other improvements made. The location and natural beauty of Woodland Park is being appreciated more every day. It makes business for the launches and brings more people to appreciate the advantages of living on big Lake Monroe, where such pleasures are possible. For people who have no horse it is easy to chip in with some one who supplies that in exchange for lunch or admission fee, and in that way two medium families can come at very little expense.

One Man Guarded 3,300

Capt. Smith of 7th Florida Took Two Train Loads of Union Prisoners Unaided to Richmond

The following war story related by Capt. R. B. Smith, who is now residing near Monroe will be of interest not only to the survivors of the Civil War, but to the present generation.

I have told the following story many times since the war and have even tried to have it printed, but the manuscript was returned with this comment: "This is too unlikely a story." Yet there were many thousands who knew of it, and I now appeal to some one of the more than 3,000 Federal prisoners to verify it. Here is the story.

In the winter of 1863, after the battle of Stone River (as the Federals call it, or Murfreesboro, as we Confederates call it), all the non-commissioned officers and privates who were captured at that time were sent to Richmond, Va. There were 3,300 of them.

At Knoxville, Tenn., our regiment, the 7th Fla., was detailed to guard them as far as Bristol on the line of Virginia and Tennessee. Nothing of any particular interest happened until we reached the Watauga River. There was a very high bridge over that river, and a raiding party of Federals from Cumberland Gap had burned the bridge, and the cars could proceed no further.

We had to march from there to Bristol, a distance of 12 or 14 miles. It was on that march that I met up with Josiah Copley, a cousin of mine. I think he belonged to an Illinois regiment. When I had last seen him it was at his father's home at Manorsville, just two miles down the river from Kittanning, Pa., where I had spent a good many happy days in 1854. I now had a chance to return some of those kindnesses, and I was not slow in doing it.

When we reached Bristol I went to the commandant, Maj. Kays, and roused him out of bed and told him who I was and what I had for him. He was taken completely by surprise and did not know what to do with the prisoners. Some one, however, must have notified the railroad authorities, for there were two trains of box cars with engines ready to take us on to Lynchburg.

Major Kays had no one to send along as a guard, for his men were off on a scout and would not be back for two days or more. He wanted me to go on with my regiment, but I could not, for my orders were to carry the prisoners to Bristol and return.

I told Maj. Kays I did not think a guard was necessary—that he could take them himself. He asked me if I would be willing to go with them without a guard. I told him I would be glad to go.

Arrangements were soon made. The 7th Fla. was sent back under command of a subordinate officer, and the 3,300 Federal prisoners and I boarded the train and were soon "on to Richmond."

At Wytheville, Va., the train stopped a long time, and the men, being very hungry, swarmed off on the cars to beg or buy something to eat. I could not blame them. The Mayor or Marshal wanted to know why I didn't keep them on the cars.

I could not help but laugh at the ridiculousness of the situation—one man guarding 3,300! However, I did him "All right," and went the entire length of the two trains and gave orders that "no one was to leave the cars." Strange as it may seem, that order was obeyed just as if it had been my own wish.

(One man died on the way and was moved off at a station and the train moved on. I never knew what was the cause of his death.) When we got to Lynchburg it was early morning of the second day from Bristol. There I reported to Col. Lyons, the commandant. He wanted me to go right on to the Richmond, but I said: "No, I cannot, for some of those men have been without food for three days and are suffering."

He said: "They have no formation, and you cannot give them rations. It will be a 'grab game,' just as it was at Knoxville, Tenn., where you last rationed them."

That seemed very reasonable, but a happy inspiration came to me at that moment, and I told him I could issue the rations to every man, and would assume the whole responsibility. All I asked was two hours' time. He agreed to my proposition and issued orders for 3,300 rations. The railroad yard, where the cars for the prisoners were, was an ideal place for my experiment. Very many citizens were attracted there, curious to see and hear.

I mounted a box car and announced that I was going to give them rations and I wanted their help. They assured me most heartily that I should have it. Joy beamed in their faces and added speed to their feet and sharpness to their wits. I told them in a few words what I wanted done and began calling them by states.

"Maine troops fall in on the extreme right; New Hampshire troops fall in next," and so on until I had named every eastern, western and northern state. After naming every state from Maine to California, there were several hundred men left. I called out to them, "Where do you belong?"

Some one yelled out, "Call the southern states."

I had not thought of that, so I called, "North Carolina troops, fall in!" Quite a good many moved to the right, and then, "South Carolina troops, fall in!" and sure enough there were some from South Carolina. The citizens began to gush them unmercifully, and when I gave the command, "Tennessee troops, fall in!" it seemed that there were a hundred or more. The citizens did not gush them so much. But when I called Virginia I thought the citizens would come over the fence after them.

Soon all were in two ranks, and I had the Orderlies to step two paces to the front. Out of these Orderly Sergeants I selected 66 companies of 50 men each, and instructed them to write down the names of their men and then go with a detail of four men to draw rations.

They were warned that if any man of their company was cheated out of his rations the Captain and his four men would have to supply them with a ration; even if they went without.

There was no complaint. That evening we loaded cars quickly, using our same formations, and proceeded on to Richmond, where we arrived at 7 o'clock the next morning. The railroad authorities were afraid to take us over the James River on their bridge, neither would they permit us all to cross at the same time. We still had our company formation and could easily manage that order by sending a few companies at a time.

Soon we were over in the city. Many people were in evidence as spectators, but they were civil and good natured. Just to have a little amusement, as we were marching in the middle of the street towards Libbey prison I gave the order, "By companies, right wheel into line, march!" This order was promptly obeyed and we marched by company front until we reached Libbey Prison, when I took my leave of these jolly prisoners.

I would be delighted to see or hear from any or all who may still be alive. I am getting along in years myself, being in my 80th year. I am always glad that I had that chance to show kindness to my northern friends and kindred. I am going to sign my name and rank and regiment, also my present address, so that some one may vouch for the truthfulness of this story.—R. B. Smith, Captain, Co. K, 7th Fla., Route 2, Sanford, Fla.

Split Skirt Was Here

The first split skirt of the season was on the streets here on Tuesday afternoon, being worn by a very attractive girl who was a stranger even to W. J. Thigpen. There were two of the young ladies and one of them in particular attracted the attention of the rubber necks as her gown was cut from the foot to the knee, exposing a very beautiful array of silk hosiery and not one man on First street looked the other way. There is no ordinance against the split skirt in Sanford.

SANFORD DEFEATS DeLAND

Celeryites Won Good Game From Locals by Close Score

Thursday the DeLand base ball team invaded Sanford and although they were whipped and sent home they are going to try the same treatment on those celery growers when they play the return game here. It was a pitchers' royal battle. Grodes for the home team having a shade on W. J. Wallace.

The former allowed but three hits and struck out fifteen men while Wallace whiffed thirteen and allowed four hits.

Neither team scored until the fifth inning when Sanford made one run DeLand following up in the sixth, getting one and tying the score. In the seventh DeLand "went up" and two hits coupled with several errors totalled in all four runs and put the game on ice for Sanford. The locals made a brave but unsuccessful attempt in the eighth to forge ahead, but after getting three hits for a total of two runs they were retired.—DeLand News.

Summary Of The Floating Small Talks Succinctly Arranged For Horried Herald Readers

Mrs. D. M. Hopson, who has been the guest of her son, Morton Hopson and family for the past two or three weeks left Wednesday for Orlando, where she will visit relatives before returning to her home in Jacksonville.

Sanford Coolest. The Weather Bureau man, H. C. DuBose reports that Sanford is the coolest place in this part of the state. His observations show this. The rainfall has been much less than at this time last year, but has caused no inconvenience to the growers. The corn crop was the best ever known in this section.

One Limit He Is Afraid to Pass. "As a general proposition, I care little for the plaudits of critics of my fellow men," stated Pip Maudlin, the blue young clubman of Skeddoe.

PURE WOOL. Every one of the 500 fabrics we show for this season's wear, we guarantee to be PURE WOOL—just as pure as Nature grows it on the sheep's back—not one thread of cotton or shoddy in any of them.

M. FRANK. Clothier and Men's Furnisher. SANFORD FLORIDA. $10.00 Down And $5.00 Per Month. NO INTEREST OR TAXES FOR TWO YEARS RIVERVIEW LOTS.

Something To Consider. Riverview today has over five hundred property owners all boosting for the great future of Riverview. We have 40 homes, some costing three to four thousand dollars.

Dr. E. H. ARMSTRONG. OWNER. 111-112-113 Heard National Bank Bldg. JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA.

Notice To The Public. I wish to announce that I have bought the drug business known as Lawson's Pharmacy and hereafter will be Seminole Pharmacy.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst."

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. I did not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite; tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

Write for Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions on your case and 64-page book, "How to Treat Women," sent in plain wrapper. J-63

WHY TYPHOID FEVER EXISTS

Screens and Absolute Cleanliness of Premises Only Preventative

BY STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Curious, isn't it how time-honored beliefs, handed down from generations of wise ancestors are preserved with all the reverence that attaches to religion. They hold their own against the established discoveries of progressive today. Because their grandfathers placed blind confidence in general blood letting as a sort of cure all, would be ample justification for a considerable share of twentieth century sufferers submitting to the same rather disgusting operation, if they could use a physician foolish enough to use the knife. Because the people of a generation or two ago ascribed all cases of typhoid fever to a polluted water supply, is sufficient reason for its persistent survival of the idea today.

The scientific and medical profession are quite abroad of their brethren in other lines of research. Since 1880 or thereabouts, the doctors of the world have been searching more diligently than ever before for the causes of disease, quite as earnestly as for their remedies, and because they have been successful in discovering the former, the other element in the problem has become vastly more simple.

They have discovered the bacillus of typhoid fever. They have classified it, measured it, photographed it, they know its likes and dislikes, how it brings suffering and trouble to human beings. In fact, they have gained an intimate acquaintance with it and have found it a formidable but not an unconquerable enemy. They have come to respect its fighting abilities and they earnestly recommend their lay brethren to shun it by every means possible.

More than this, their acquaintance with it has become so close that they point out with entire confidence the straight and narrow way by which it may be avoided. Eternal vigilance is the price of freedom from it, but the freedom is worth the price.

The life story of this parasite has been told often, but its interest to human beings in every country and climate must gain in the repetition.

Typoid germs exist in some individual or individual what are called "carriers"—and if we could imagine for only a complete freedom from the disease in all the human race, we should be picturing a future from which it would be banished for all time. But it exists and that it may be transmitted to other individuals requires that the bacillus must be transmitted.

This germ finds its home in the digestive system. It leaves the body in the excreta from which it is carried by the common, every-day fly to the food that is consumed by other human beings and in this way it finds its way into other digestive systems and spreads disease and death. And medical scientists declare that this is the only way by which typhoid is spread. This fact, for it is not a theory, rejects the once accepted belief that water or milk is the usual carrier of this disease. While the germ of typhoid fever will scarcely live over a week in potable water, it does live for a long time in milk as the latter is a good culture media.

The remedy of this condition of affairs is to prevent the fly from alighting on the food supply, and it is entirely within the belief of scientists that if the fly could be exterminated, typhoid would soon be a thing of the past. Obviously it is a thing impossible that the fly race shall be wiped out. But several things are possible. One is to limit his propagation in any given locality by cleanliness about the stable, a favorite breeding place, by using screened manure bins. A liberal and frequent scattering of lime over the manure and other powerful enem, to the increasing generations of the insect. Let the garbage can be always covered tight and close. That helps too.

Then the screen is a life saver. A close-fitting, carefully put up and kept up screen about the earth closet, one shall keep the fly from the excreta. Flies can get through small openings, but no opening should be left large enough for a fly to pass through.

From the time that edibles, whether they be fruit, meats or cereals, come from the place of their production, they should be kept absolutely inaccessible to the fly.

All foods that are not consumed raw should be cooked thoroughly, and raw foods, such as fruits, should be washed just as thoroughly. After they are prepared—cooked or washed—and until they are eaten they should be as carefully protected from that monster—the fly.

It must not be forgotten that even even if our own premises, our own earth closets, are screened thoroughly, the possibility of danger is not eliminated. Our neighbors may be more careless than we. Flies may be contaminated blocks away and may bring danger to us, and this emphasizes the necessity of house, kitchen and pantry screening for our own safety. Flies are cosmopolitan travelers. By their own private aeroplane power they traverse from six to eight city blocks. Aided by a favoring breeze they may go twice as far. They travel hundreds of miles by railroad trains, and snugly hidden in carriages and automobiles they may cover seemingly incredible distances. Once infected they carry contagion with them.

Whence they come, we do not know. Whether they be infected with the poison of typhoid, we cannot tell, but there is always the possibility that they may bring death, and, therefore, avoid them, fight them away as earnestly as if they were monsters as huge and ugly and slimy and repulsive as the creatures that Dante imagined to inspire in mankind a dread of a horrible future.

WILL CAUSE AWFUL HOLLER

New Revenue Law Taken in New Counties, Very Drastic

For the first time in twenty-five years doctors will have to pay state license, newspapers will have to pay $100 for the privilege of conducting contests, and theaters will have to pay in cities of the size of Sanford for showing movies or vaudeville, according to the new revenue laws of the state, a copy of which has just been received by County Tax Collector Jno. D. Jenkins from State Comptroller W. V. Knott. Drastic changes in the existing laws are made by the new statutes, and license taxes on the whole are greatly increased.

There is a question in the minds of county officials as to whether or not those who have not been paying licenses, such as doctors, will be required to pay half a year's license now, and then a full year's license, on October 1, when the year's licenses are due. The provisions of the state law are to go into effect on August 6, but to many it seems unfair that a half year's license should be paid for such a short time.

Under the new laws, contest companies, firms or corporations engaged in the business of conducting contests by offering premiums or other inducements for the purpose of securing subscriptions to any newspaper, magazine or other periodical published in this state, shall pay a license tax of $100 in each county in which they operate, or in which subscriptions are sought.

Trading stamp firms must pay a state tax of $1,000, and moving picture men will have to contribute $200 yearly to the state.

All these fees moreover are just the beginning of the taxing, for the law allows the several counties to assess taxes 50 per cent of the amount advised as a state tax. The cities also have authority to do their own taxing, so the prospects are that it will be costly to do business in Florida in the future.

Taking newspaper contests as a basis, some idea may be gained of the cost of taxes for various lines of business. As there are forty-nine counties in the state, any newspaper putting on a state-wide contest will be obliged to pay $4,900 into the treasury at Tallahassee. One-half of this amount additional, or $2,450, will be owing to the county. After both of these taxes are paid the city will be empowered to come in and ask for an additional tribute, provided the matter of contests shall be covered in the city ordinances. This law is a new one.

Trading stamp firms will be assessed $1,000 for state and county licenses and will also be obliged to settle with the city, and the moving picture men, after coming across to the state for $200, will be compelled to pay an additional $100 on the county and a city license as well.

Florida's tax laws are comprehensive and practically every conceivable business and occupation is included in the taxable list. Under the laws of 1913, automobile agencies, or persons, firms or corporations, engaged in the sale of automobiles, shall pay for each place of business, in cities of 20,000 or more, $40. The additional 50 per cent for county tax brings the amount to $60 yearly.

Automobiles or other motor driven vehicles using the public roads or highways in the state of Florida, either for hire or otherwise, will be taxed under the act approved June 4, 1911.

This act provides for a sliding scale of taxation, from $5 to $100, according to the horse-power.

How to Keep Cooler This Hot Weather

- Don't eat rich, heavy food.
 - Don't try to "do it all" in a day or an hour.
 - Don't allow yourself to nag anybody. As surely as you do, the heat will begin to nag you.
 - Be sure to take enough of Our Ice to last until the next call of the wagon, even if it should be late.
 - Let the wagon get away from your door as soon as possible. This helping hand to somebody down the street will also help to smooth your troubles.
 - Try to feel kindly to all creation. Hot weather is normal and essential at this season.
 - And use Our Coupon Book. It minimizes exertion.
