Kidnap Case Protested

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Attorneys for a Winter Park, Fla., man accused in a kidnaping have filed suit seeking to prevent the prosecution from using blood, hair and handwriting samples as evidence.

Clifford J. Kroger, 38, a former Cincinnati, is accused of the Sept. 23 abduction of 4-year-old Allison Mechem, the daughter of Charles Mechem, chairman of the Taft Broadcasting Corp., Sept. 23.

The child was found unharmed the next day in a motel. Police said an attempt was made to pick up the $128,000 ransom.

In the suit filed in U.S. District Court, Kroger claims that his civil rights were violated by a court order forcing him to provide the samples. No date has been set for a hearing.

Meanwhile, the Hamilton County grand jury began hearing the case Tuesday. Kroger, a civil engineer, remains in jail in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Kroger has denied the kidnaping charges and waived extradition from Florida in October.

Oil Independence Impossible

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Administration has sent President Ford a long menu of policy choices for reducing U.S. dependence on foreign oil, but the featured listings are conservation measures like extra gasoline taxes and restrictions on downtown parking.

The report had been ordered by former President Richard M. Nixon, who said it should be a blueprint for the United States to achieve independence from imported oil by 1980. However, the study later was downgraded to an "option paper" and it concludes that complete oil independence by 1980 is neither possible nor desirable.

Ulasewicz And Hush Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former New York police detective Anthony Ulasewicz, next on the witness stand in the Watergate cover-up trial, is expected to describe his role in funneling alleged hush money to the original Watergate defendants.

Ulasewicz has said previously that he acted as conduit between Herbert W. Kalmbach, who acted as the cash, and the defendants and their attorneys. Kalmbach began to cry Tuesday when he testified about his role in the money arrangements, and court was required to allow him to regain his composure.

Rocky Testifies On Book

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller testified today that he asked his brother Laurance to help find investors to finance a book critical of former Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, his 1970 opponent for New York governor. The vice presidential nominee's testimony is believed to be the most central in the publication of the book than he has so far acknowledged.

He said any discrepancies are due to a "sketchy" memory rather than any attempt to cover up the facts.

Richard Nixon

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Former president Richard M. Nixon is experiencing dramatic blood pressure increases, but his doctors do not expect him to be released from the hospital late this week.

The blood pressure jump to an abnormally high of 180 over 95 was noted Monday when Nixon, 61, was talking with a visitor, Dr. John C. Langren, Nixon's personal doctor, said the former president's blood pressure is normally about 120 over 70 or 80.

Halle Selassie

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Deposed Emperor Halle Selassie has been taken back to the Grand Palace, housed under an Army guard in a luxury suite with his daughter, according to reliable sources.

The former monarch had been held in an army headquarters since his removal as head of state on Sept. 12.

Betty Bunnell

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The mother of a Symbionese Liberation Army fugitive, who is wanted for a bank robbery and a sporting goods store shooting incident, says she is proud of her son.

"You are always in my thoughts, and I am proud of you," said Betty Bunnell, of Carmel, Ind., mother of William Harris, in a letter to the Berkeley Barb.

Harris and his wife, Emily, also are being sought by the FBI in connection with the kidnaping of Patricia Hearst. Miss Hearst, who has said she joined the S.L.A., also is the object of the FBI hunt.

Vittorio De Sica

ROME, Italy (AP) — Vittorio De Sica, the leading Italian film actor and director, has died in Paris at the age of 72.

De Sica, whose death was announced by producer Carlo Ponti's office today, was one of the leaders of the group of postwar Italian film-makers who revolutionized the industry with their realistic approach.

Sanford Zoo Receives Ultimatum From State

The Central Florida Zoo has 30 days to either correct overcrowded conditions at the Sanford Zoo or to show significant progress towards the completion of new facilities under construction outside Sanford, according to Zoo Director Jack Hanna.

And if progress isn't demonstrated the zoo could have some of its animals removed by the state.

Hanna said he was informed of the ultimatum by a commissioner from the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission last week.

The inspector informed Hanna of the situation last week, and told him the Zoo would later receive written notice of the directive.

However the inspector's superior, Col. Robert Brantly, said the Game and Fish Commission has the power to remove zoo animals, but only one or two times in the past has it ever confiscated animals. Usually, Brantly said, the commission will go along with the zoo if officials are making an honest effort to work out the problems.

A lack of donations have slowed construction of the new zoo facility, at the 104-acre Central Florida Zoological Park near interstate I-4 and 17-92.

Former Wild Kingdom star Stan Brock raised over $3,000 for the construction during a recent cross-penninsula run over Florida, but $87,000 is still needed.

The Fish and Game investigator reportedly found the zoo animals in good condition but said that the overcrowding can lead to mental stress. The outdated drainage system, he said, can also cause disease among the animals.

Altamonte Tells Sewer Contractor To 'Shape Up'

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The contracting company installing sewer lines on the north side of the city has been given a week to shape up its operation or the bonding company assuming the $1.6 million project will be asked to take over.

Mayor Norman Floyd announced at Tuesday night's city council meeting that he ordered the deadline after numerous problems developed with Associated Building and Contracting Co., an Altamonte Springs firm.

Floyd said in addition to delays in the project, the city has been notified that bills have not been paid by the firm.

Consulting Engineer Bill Palm added that areas where lines were installed have been not been restored to original condition for many weeks. He said the firm has 12 employees working on the pipe-laying crew and another eight on cleanup.

The company has reorganized, Palm said, and a new completion date of Jan. 31, has been set.

Palm said turning the matter over to the bonding company could cause an additional delay of two months before work would be resumed, again, adding this is not the best solution.

Council authorized payment of $58,334.43 to Associated Contracting and $875.77 in engineering fees to Palm's Glace and Radcliffe engineering firm for work done since payment to the company a month ago. Palm said that about $700,000 has been paid for work done so far.

In other business, council scheduled a public hearing for 6:30 p.m., Jan. 7, on the requested annexation and rezoning to commercial of a 2.1

acre tract south of SR 436, across from San Sebastian subdivision, near Orange Avenue.

The Dec. 24 and Dec. 31 council meetings were cancelled.

Holdup Suspects' Trial Set

Trials have been set for Dec. 9, in circuit court at Sanford for two suspects charged in an attempted robbery-shootout at an Altamonte Springs food store in which a third suspect was killed and a policeman wounded.

Circuit Court Judge Volney Davis set the trials Tuesday at Sanford and Parrish in Orange County jail, Orlando, both without bond.

Kitteringham is the object of a search by law enforcement agencies in south Georgia, according to State Atty. Abbott Herring's office. A spokesman for Herring said Tuesday if Kitteringham isn't apprehended within a few days the FBI will be asked to enter the search for the fugitive.

Charles Hobbs, of Atlanta, a former resident of 1009 Park Ave., Sanford, died Tuesday afternoon in DeBary Manor, Born in New York City, she came to Sanford three years ago from Millbrook, N.Y. She was a retired public school teacher and member of Congregational Christian Church of Sanford, Friendship and Ethel Root Circles, and Grand Chapter of the State of New York of the Eastern Star.

What people are saying...

— Journalist Harrison Salisbury on the new role of the fourth estate.

"There has been a great deal of wishful and misinformed thinking about marijuana and those who condone its use had a running start while the scientists were rightly taking care and time to reach their conclusions."

— Columbian Roscoe Drummond in an article on the "myth" of marijuana.

"(Gov. Malcolm) Wilson is sort of the undead and someone should probably put a stake through his heart in Albany. Hugh Carey was on television last week proudly displaying this ghastly family of 14. Can you imagine, in a world overpopulated, being proud of that?"

— Nabeel Shaath, representative of the Palestine Liberation Organization, after the United Nations granted the terrorist group the right to speak for Palestinians.

"Survivors have shown that inner-city minority and female students prefer computer-aided instruction to the traditional human teacher. They feel that they are treated like everyone else when computers are the teacher."

— Ruth Davis, director of the Institute for Computer Sciences and Technology in an editorial.

"Special operations pose dangers not only to the nations against which they are directed but to ourselves. They raise the question of how far a free society, in attempting to preserve itself, can emulate a closed society without becoming indistinguishable from it."

— Excerpt from the book "The Invisible Government" by David Wise and Thomas B. Ross, an expose of the Central Intelligence Agency.

"The basic shame... about the present citizenry that is treated is that people are declared useless long before their time."

— Pollster Louis Harris predicting a militant trend among the over-65 group demanding better care and treatment.

"I don't think the press recognizes its new position of responsibility, the enormous authority it has acquired. It also doesn't yet recognize the natural jealousies that begin to occur when you have a general shift in relative positions of power."

Drivers along SR 436 from Interstate I-4 eastward will finally get some relief this week from the traffic congestion caused by the unsynchronized lights in the area.

Once installed, the timers will synchronize the lights so that a driver operating at a consistent rate of speed will be able to travel through all intersections along SR 436 without stopping.

Anti-Castro Cubans Threaten 'War'

WASHINGTON — The fragmented Cuban organizations in the United States, joining together for the first time in over a decade, have quietly served notice on the State Department that they will wage underground warfare, if necessary, to thwart a detente with Fidel Castro.

The exile groups fear the Castro regime will legitimize itself by the Organization of American States and U.S. diplomatic recognition. Thus, the leaders of the largest anti-Castro organizations met in Washington on November 1 and formed an umbrella group called the "Cubania Beligerante," or Beligerent Cubans.

Their numbers include a past president of Cuba, Dr. Carlos Prío, plus an ex-president of the Cuban congress, businessmen, educators and former Cuban military officers.

Following their Washington meetings, the Cuban leaders solemnly signed a declaration of common purpose. They then delivered a copy of the document to Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs Harry Shlaudeman.

Their covenant states that they "cannot coexist with dictatorship . . . There can be no half a dozen or so, however, are considered by U.S. authorities to be effective. The usual pattern, one government official has told us, "is for the members of the group to fight, fragment and form new splinter groups."

FOOTNOTE: Several weeks ago, we reported that CIA-trained and anti-Castro commandos in Miami have vowed to launch a campaign of terror within the United States if diplomatic recognition is extended to Cuba. Some of these same militants, we have learned, have thrown their support behind Cubania Beligerante. In their Washington meetings, however, the key exile leaders assured officials that they would neither peace nor freedom under the Marxist-Leninist definition of peaceful co-existence." Then, the document concludes enigmatically that "under certain internal and international conditions a new strategy may be adopted to reach the liberation of Cuba regardless of the consequences."

The Cubania Beligerante explained that this means if all else fails, they will become a U.S.-based PLO dedicated to terrorizing Fidel Castro.

They will "campaign against Castro" in league "with elements within Cuba and without CIA help," they advised Washington.

The fact that the anti-Castro organizations have agreed on anything is an extraordinary event in itself. There are an estimated one million Cubans scattered across the United States, and they have formed several dozen exile groups.

Only half a dozen or so, however, are considered by U.S. authorities to be effective. The usual pattern, one government official has told us, "is for the members of the group to fight, fragment and form new splinter groups."

FOOTNOTE: Several weeks ago, we reported that CIA-trained and anti-Castro commandos in Miami have vowed to launch a campaign of terror within the United States if diplomatic recognition is extended to Cuba. Some of these same militants, we have learned, have thrown their support behind Cubania Beligerante. In their Washington meetings, however, the key exile leaders assured officials that they would not turn against the nation "which opened its heart and hands to us." DEATH TRAPS: Here is the second in the two-part report, based on secret Navy documents, on the shocking deterioration of the helicopter carrier fleet.

The Navy's seven helicopter carriers are supposed to deliver Marine assault troops in case they should be needed in an emergency, say, in the Middle East. Although they cost millions and are still comparatively modern, they have been permitted to fall into such disrepair that they no longer are safe.

Secret surveys by the Navy's top inspector, Rear Adm. John Bulkeley, warn that the carriers could become death traps for the Navy crewmen and Marine fighting men who sail in them.

Fire is the terror of the sea, both in war and peace. Yet on board the USS Okinawa, Bulkeley found that "the fire doors between the hangar deck and the vehicle storage area will not close fully."

The pipes carrying highly inflammable fuel are "routed through the ship's incinerator room" and "immediately adjacent to the welder's table." Failure of some conduits "would cause fuel oil to flood the fire room bilges," warns Bulkeley's secret report.

Boiler pipes are "soft patched" or "in an advance state of deterioration." The most hideous danger in the ship is broken doors and missing rungs in an enclosed escape passageway. Supposedly the enclosure would permit the crew to flee a fire. Actually the broken doors and missing rungs not only would impede their escape but would permit the fire to enflame them and bake them alive as if they were in a long metal oven.

In case of combat, every man aboard would be in danger from the wretched maintenance. "The storage of whole blood for the treatment of casualties," states the report, "is severely limited due to vibrations."

The racks for jetting bombs are so poorly designed that there is nothing "to prevent personnel from accidentally sliding overboard."

The communications antennae are "unsatisfactory." The navigation warning lights are so poorly arranged that a 60 degree "blind spot" exists on the ship's port side for ships approaching the Okinawa at night.

Finally, if the carrier should start sinking, the sailors and Marines would have no means to save themselves. "All the ship's lifelines, ladders and ladders," the report charges, "are considered safety hazards."

What is true of the Okinawa, according to High Navy sources, is also largely true of the other six helicopter carriers.

FOOTNOTE: Adm. L.C. Kidd, the bluff head of Navy Materiel, told us the Okinawa is not the only ship in need of fixing. He pointed to his brutally blunt statements to Congress about the need for swift action throughout the Navy. "When they break," he said, "I fix 'em. But the entire fleet needs maintenance." As to the Okinawa, Kidd said it is undergoing rapid and comprehensive repairs.

Death Row Haunting Top Court
In 1972, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled 5 to 4 that the death penalty is unconstitutional—and it has been a knotty "if" ever since then—it is applied in such a way that some persons are sentenced to death and others to imprisonment for committing the same offenses.

Although most of the 50 states that have capital punishment have revised their statutes in an attempt to conform to the court's guidelines, no one has been executed since 1972—or had been for five years before the court took up the issue.

Today, 149 felons sit on the death rows of 17 states. In hopes of having capital punishment outlawed absolutely for all time, the Legal Defense Fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has brought nine cases to the Supreme Court, seven from North Carolina and two from Georgia. The court has agreed to hear the appeal of one of them.

It is not at all certain, however, that the court will address the issue of capital punishment itself. It could avoid it by ruling on the much narrower questions involved in the one case alone.

Not Everyone Can Handle Competition

Americans have always taken a great deal of pride in our love of competition. To be competitive is to be a factor, a force, a presence whether it be on the athletic field, or the classroom, business or politics.

In short it is the difference between being "somebody" and "nobody." It is the difference, we like to think, between the United States and the rest of the world.

Sometimes, though, we wonder if our preoccupation with being competitive isn't being carried to extremes; in fact, we aren't doing grave damage to many young people who simply can't handle the peer pressure that accompanies being competitive.

And the emphasis on being competitive too often exposes young people to the likes of Woody Hayes, the Ohio State football coach, who annually throws a public temper tantrum when his team loses a game.

Nor shall we dwell too long on the "adults" who run the Little League baseball program and who, after seeing the Little League World Series won four years in a row by teams from Taiwan, decided to rectify that situation by limiting the competition to teams from the United States.

The news item that does disturb us, though, concerned a young man from Brooklyn, an 18-year-old Boy Scout explorer who is accused of setting fire to a convent and then reporting the blaze to get credit for helping to save lives.

Now obviously this isn't the sort of competition encouraged or even tolerated by the Boy Scouts of America. Still, the youngster must have felt himself under some sort of pressure to excel — to be competitive, if you wish — within his peer group.

It is not necessary that we all enter the competition. In fact, it is probably healthy for society that some of those among us are happier and more productive studying the stars, or writing poetry, or composing music, or simply standing off to the side and studying what makes the competitors tick.

WILLIAM A. RUSHER
Maybe GOP Should Give Up Its Seat

A careful look at last week's election returns suggests that the time may have come for the Republican party to rise and offer somebody else its seat.

The fact that the Democrats won heavily is almost beside the point. If they couldn't win heavily after a Republican Vice President had pleaded nolo contendere to tax evasion and a Republican President had resigned to avoid impeachment for obstructing justice, how could they?

As a matter of fact, given the traditional off-year swing against the party in the White House and the unique disadvantages the GOP was laboring under this year, its showing wasn't even all that bad. There will be 38 Republican Senators and 143 Republican Representatives on hand when the new Congress convenes in January, as well as 13 Republican governors.

Yet some of us can still remember the holocaust of 1938, which left only 88 Republicans hanging on in the House of Representatives and a bare 16 in the Senate — plus just seven Republican governors out of 48. Boy, what a field day the pundits and the editorial writers had with that one!

Swings as big as this year's (or bigger) are nothing new in American political history. Just two years ago, in the presidential contest, the Democrats found themselves unable to carry a single state in the Union save Massachusetts — yet look at them now. All things being equal, you could expect the Republicans to come back with a rush — probably as early as 1976.

But all things are not equal. To put it simply, the Republican party is badly out of skew with political reality in this country. It has managed to convince a lot of people that it is essentially an front for Big Business — which is certainly an oversimplification, but bears roughly the same relation to the facts that smoke bears to fire.

The Republican party is so equivocal in its approach to social problems that it can't even bring itself to come out squarely for a constitutional amendment against busing. And its notion of inspired leadership may be inferred from the fact that when the incumbent Republican President, himself the product of appointment and resignation, came to designate a Vice President, the man he chose was a super-millionaire in his late 60's who has been identified for at least 20 years with the liberal wing of the party.

Letter To The Editor

Editor: With my regrets that I find it necessary to write this letter. On Friday, Oct. 25, Seminole Memorial Hospital was filled with a husband sadness as the news quickly spread that our beloved Dr. Gordon Stanley had passed away. Although his death was anticipated, many of the personnel openly wept as their hearts were heavy with grief for a fellow worker.

Dr. Stanley loved his children and they reciprocated with love, respect, and admiration. Dr. Stanley could always be reached, seven days a week and 24 hours of the day. When seriously ill children were hospitalized it wasn't necessary for the nurses to call him, Dr. Stanley was either at the hospital or calling the nurses.

Therefore, I fully expected the Evening Herald to have a front page write up of Dr. Stanley's death. When this did not happen I thought you would oblige with an editorial. Isn't this the least you could have done for such an outstanding citizen?

Dr. Stanley will be missed by many, and as for myself I feel fortunate to have known such a dedicated individual. The criminal statutes in the 50 states, in all categories of offenses, are far from uniform and far from equally applied. It might be better just to do away with capital punishment — period — simply as something no longer useful or tolerable in a civilized society.

Humor has its place — many times conveying a thought or phrase which probably wouldn't have come through as effectively in the "straight-laced" way. Like the one credited to comedian Danny Thomas who said it was his mother who taught him to never carry yesterday's sin on his back. It didn't matter what had happened — yesterday was dead. He remembers her saying, "There's nothing you can do about it now. If you get in the habit of carrying yesterday around on your back, you'll be dead double by the time you're 21."

One of our readers asks, "Isn't it true that the prime reason in disaffiliating from the Florida Education Association (FEA) by the Seminole Education Association (SEA) was to hold back some $26,000 in teacher paid dues which was owed to FEA?" We're told that an FEA spokesman indicated they in turn have passed that debt on to the National Education Assoc. (NEA) to collect from the SEA.

Free Farm Land Offered

MIMS, Fla. (AP) — George Burnett says he has a lot of excess farm land. So, in the spirit of President Ford's WIN program, he's offering it — free — to anyone who wants to plant on it.

"We had no particular use for all that land, so we decided we should help people who live in apartments, condominiums and trailer courts and have a yard too small to grow things in," Burnett said Tuesday.

Burnett, who moved with his wife, Patty, to this community north of the Kennedy Space Center last year, says he has received many replies since he offered about eight of his 10 acres in a letter last month to the TODAY newspaper in nearby Cocoa.

"About 50 people came out and said they'd be back in the spring, but about 12 folks said they'd want to wait until then," said Burnett. "Right now, they're planting corn and tomatoes, cabbage and squash and beans."

Judge Mulls Gurney Motions

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A federal judge has taken under advisement defense motions in a bribery conspiracy, bribery and perjury charges against Sen. Edward Gurney, R-Fla., accused of collecting kickbacks from builders.

U.S. District Judge Ben Krentzman also set a tentative trial date of Jan. 20, contingent on the decision on the dismissal motion.

Krentzman is expected to rule within a week on a trial date. At the close of a five-hour pretrial hearing Tuesday, Krentzman took under advisement motions for a change of venue, severance of other defendants in the case and a motion to throw out the charges.

Jax Firm Must Pay For Fill

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Despite objections by Gov. Reubin Askew, Florida's Cabinet says a Jacksonville firm must pay the state for all dredged silt and muck dumped on land it is preparing as a site to build floating near power plants.

On a 4 1/2 acre Tuesday, the Cabinet said the state should collect $1 for each cubic yard of material dredged from Jacksonville Harbor and dumped on the proposed plant site for Offshore Power Systems.

The Cabinet's action could cost OPS, a joint venture of Westinghouse Electric Co. and Tenneco, $14 million. The plant would build nuclear power plants which could be floated to offshore sites to supply electricity to coastal areas.

Askew Considers Special Session

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew considered today whether to call a special legislative session to correct problems revealed by an appeal court order dismissing indictments against former Education Commissioner Floyd Christian.

Askew said Tuesday, it would also consider a recommendation that the Interam Authority be abolished, with the state taking over the land unless Dade County picks up the project.

Askew met late Tuesday with Senate President-designate Dempsey Barron, D-Panama City, and House Speaker-designate Donald Tucker, D-Tallahassee, to hear their recommendations on the special session.

Askew was due to fly to Atlanta today for a meeting of the Southern Growth Policies Board. He said he decided to announce a decision Thursday afternoon when he returns to Tallahassee.

But he said a state law governing the appointment of state attorneys as special prosecutors should be clarified and revised to eliminate objections raised by the 1st District Court of Appeals in the Christian order.

The proposed legislation probably could be passed in a one-day special session while lawmakers are in Tallahassee for organization of the 1975 sessions next week, Askew said.

The appeal court said last week that Christian's indictments by the Leon County grand jury on bribery, perjury and conspiracy charges should be dismissed because Askew's appointment of State Atty. Ed-ward Austin of Jacksonville was improper.

The ruling is being appealed to the state Supreme Court. The decision also endangers the indictments of Treasurer Thomas O'Malley and former state Sen. George Hollahan, D-Miami, by the Leon County grand jury under Austin's guidance.

Askew said he should be changed to allow a governor to appoint a special prosecutor to examine a specific subject without removing the resident state attorney.

Sarasota Building Ban Upheld

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Sarasota County's attempt to preserve an area near Sarasota as a "green belt" by refusing to allow it to be developed has been upheld by the Florida Cabinet.

The Cabinet said Tuesday in a 4-2 vote that the developer should be required to show significant benefit or detriment to an area's environment.

The low-rent proposal fell under Cabinet control as a developer of regional impact because of its size and effect on more than one county.

A state hearing examiner, Phillip S. Parsons, recommended against the project on grounds that the developer should be required to show significant benefit or detriment to an area's environment.

Shavin said this would endanger Cabinet authority. Instead, he called for a finding that the county's decision to preserve the undeveloped area complied with the state Land and Water Management Act.

Shavin said requiring a developer to show significant benefit or detriment to change a local government decision went beyond the law and could endanger Cabinet's power to protect the environment.

O'Malley said such a requirement should be part of the law because it would require the Cabinet to use greater care in deciding whether or not to reverse a local decision.

Askew said he should be changed to allow a governor to appoint a special prosecutor to examine a specific subject without removing the resident state attorney.

Retiree Opposes FPL Rate Hike

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Arguing against a Florida Power & Light Co. request for a $143 million rate hike, a retiree complained the utility was demanding a guarantee of survival not provided to consumers.

Gal Says 'No' And Wins Her Husband

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph.D., M.D.
CASE B-485: Lena R., aged 20, is a college coed.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "your 'Worry Clinic' is winning me a wedding ring next month!"

"For I was being dated by a very popular boy on campus. "He had had dates with several coeds before we met, though now he wanted to focus on me."

"But he soon wanted me to give in to him and have an illicit affair. "He asked me to go to a motel one weekend and stay with him, as man and wife, for he said all the girls did such things nowadays."

"Well, I was shocked and brokenhearted, for I really loved him truly. "But I told him I was then the exception to his rule."

"And I said I was disappointed in him for I had thought he wasn't like the usual man in being interested only in sex. "Well, I was in tears at that point, so I left him and ran into the dormitory."

"And I felt that all my idealistic dreams had crashed around my head, so I cried myself to sleep. "He didn't come back for more dates until several weeks later, when he telephoned, asking me out for dinner."

"By this time, I had been able to pick up the pieces of my shattered dreams, so I could smile and affect a gay mood I didn't feel. "During the meal, he was more quiet than usual. I tried to keep conversation flowing."

"And as we strolled across the campus on the way to my dormitory, he suggested we sit down and watch the moon out over Lake Michigan. "Then he suddenly blurted out an apology, saying he was

BERRY'S WORLD
Is it any wonder that while 59 percent of the American people tell pollsters that they think of themselves as "conservative," only 25 percent will identify themselves as Republicans? Can you blame them? It is high time the serious conservative politicians in this country — and I am not talking about some crabbled clique, but about the substantial majority of men and women in public life who still believe in patriotism, compassion and common sense — stopped trying to pretend that the present party labels have any meaning at all.

DR. L. E. LAMB Cause Unknown For Ear Buzzing

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have what my doctor describes as Meniere's disease. It is located in my right ear where I have little or no hearing and I'm always dizzy. There is also a constant buzzing.

DEAR READER — It's a fairly common problem. Typically it is characterized by buzzing or ringing in the ear or ears, which doctors call tinnitus, with loss of hearing and dizziness.

A group of patients have similar complaints without the hearing loss, and they are called "pseudo-Meniére's disease" meaning "false Meniere's disease. Many of these develop the hearing loss later and are then properly classified as Meniere's disease. Some patients have nausea, vomiting and sensations of fainting with the attacks. The disease causes sudden attacks, then symptoms subside. The severe attacks may last a few minutes or several hours. During the severe attack the illusion of movement that the patient calls dizziness may be so bad that the patient cannot walk.

Either one or both ears can be involved. The hearing loss may

'Springs Deficiencies Cited By Commission

Disappointed with 10 minor planning deficiencies at the Springs development near Longwood, county commissioners Tuesday agreed that county planner Roger Neiswender should make on-site inspections of the problems.

Neiswender wrote a letter to Springs representative Earl Downs Nov. 11, informing him of the deficiencies and suggesting "resolutions" for their correction.

But commissioner chairman John Kimbrough asked "If we solve these problems, how are we to know there won't be any

WORLD IN BRIEF

White Minority Barred

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly has spurred the South African government's appeals for time to change its racial policies and to bar the white-minority regime from further participation in its proceedings. The vote Tuesday night was 91-22, with 19 abstentions. It did not cancel South Africa's membership in the United Nations but denied it the right to speak or vote in the assembly and its committees. The United States and several West European countries contended the assembly's action was illegal. It was the first time the assembly had ever evicted a member country.

Arafat Addresses UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Breaking precedent right and left, Yasser Arafat was scheduled to open the United Nations General Assembly's historic debate on Palestine today with an appeal for help in establishing a new nation in the Middle East. Only once before — when Pope Paul VI visited in 1965 — had the General Assembly invited someone not representing a member country to speak to the assembly. For the first time, the assembly is debating "the question of Palestine" and not the problem of the Palestinian refugees driven from their homes by the creation of Israel in 1948.

Cuba Sanctions Remain

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Haiti and Guatemala were the key to the failure of the drive to lift the Organization of American States' diplomatic and economic sanctions against Cuba. Sponsors of the resolution to end the 10-year-old quarantine against the Fidel Castro government counted Haiti and Guatemala among the 14 votes they needed. But after four days of negotiations at the foreign ministers' conference that ended Tuesday, Haiti and Guatemala joined the United States, Bolivia, Brazil and Nicaragua in abstaining. The vote was 123, two short of the two-thirds majority needed for adoption.

Irish Killings Continue

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Gunmen have killed four more in Belfast and Londonderry, raising the confirmed death toll in Northern Ireland's civil war to 1,015 in nearly four and a half years. Police said two men fired into a Roman Catholic youth club at a Belfast convent, killing a 26-year-old teacher and critically wounding a 16-year-old boy. A 17-year-old employee at a Belfast filling station was killed while the terrorists held a gun on his girlfriend. And two youths were found dead in Londonderry.

Storm Batters Alaska

NOME, Alaska (AP) — Communities along the storm-battered northwest Alaska coast braced for a second powerful storm today as flood waters began to recede. No casualties were reported after Bering Sea waves whipped inland by strong winds flooded sections of Nome and surrounding villages in what Gov. William A. Egan called a "full scale disaster."

British 'Gassing-Up'

LONDON (AP) — Britons rushed to gas stations today to stock up before a 15 per cent price increase ordered by the government takes effect.

The increase in gas tax was part of the Labor government's new budget aimed at reviving a faltering industry and meeting the energy crisis. It was announced Tuesday by Chancellor of the Exchequer Denis Healey.

The price of an American gallon of gasoline goes up 17 cents Monday, to $1.26, and other increases already planned will push it up to $1.43, industrial sources said.

City Approves Funds For Bicentennial Event

By DONNA ESTES

LONGWOOD — City council has endorsed a request from the Central Florida Society for Historic Preservation to the state Bicentennial Committee for funding for the planned walking tour and celebration in the city's historic district April 5 and 6.

Restoration of the late 1800's Longwood Hotel, now owned by the old Bradlee-McIntyre House, moved into the city from Altamonte Springs last year, will be sufficiently restored for public showing in addition to six or seven other buildings already restored.

Miss McLeod said the requested grant from the Bicentennial Committee would be $2,500 for "seed money."

Other buildings on the historic tour in the downtown section will include the "inside-outside" house, believed to be the first nineteenth century prefabricated house in Central Florida, now being furnished in

Big Ten Slaps Woody With Reprimand

Hayes, whose Buckeyes dropped to fourth place in The Associated Press poll, sends his club against Iowa next Saturday at Iowa City, and then against arch-rival Michigan at Columbus, Ohio, for a Nov. 23 regular season finale.

The outpoken Hayes was short and sassy in his first public comment after being notified by Duke of his censure. In a telephone report to Iowa coach Bob Commings' weekly press luncheon, Hayes announced: "This is Coach Hayes and I have a statement: We'll be there Saturday." Then he hung up.

Williams and Shawn Leftwich, stars of Jacksonville University's basketball team, are ineligible for the season which begins Nov. 29.

Pumpkin Bisque

Mashed Potatoes GreenPeas
Currant Tarts Beverage
PUMPKIN BISQUE
Good and easily made.
16-ounce can solid-pack pumpkin
10 1/4-ounce can condensed cream of celery soup, undiluted
10 1/2-ounce can condensed chicken broth, undiluted
2 cups milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
Minced scallion tops
In a large saucepan stir together the pumpkin and celery soup; gradually stir in the chicken broth; heat to boiling, stirring often. Just before serving, add the milk and salt and pepper; reheat but do not boil. Sprinkle servings with the scallions. Makes 6 generous cups.

BUDGET SUPPER
Baked Butter Beans
Crackers ColeSlaw Fruit Beverage
BAKED BUTTER BEANS
The sauce adds zest.
Two 1-pound cans butter beans (dry limas), drained
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 tablespoons minced onion
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon dark brown sugar
1 tablespoon cider vinegar
10 1/2-ounce can condensed tomato soup, undiluted
Drain beans; let bean liquid settle and then measure 1/4 cup of the clear liquid and reserve. In a medium skillet melt the butter; add onion and green pepper and cook until wilted. Stir in mustard, sugar and vinegar; then tomato soup and reserved 1/4 cup bean liquid; heat. Turn beans into 1-quart casserole; pour the tomato sauce over them. Bake, uncovered, in a preheated 375-degree oven for 45 minutes. Serve in wide shallow soup bowls — there's lots of sauce. Makes 4 main-dish servings.

PLAN-AHEAD REFRESHER
Assorted Nuts
Cranberry Liqueur
CRANBERRY LIQUEUR
Prepare now and it will be ready to serve at Christmas.
16-ounce can cranberry sauce
16-ounce package fresh cranberries
2 cups sugar
1/2 cup vodka
Rinse cranberries. Chop in electric blender, about 1 cup at a time, and turn into a large mixing bowl. Stir in sugar. Spoon into a large jar. Cover and store in refrigerator or other cool place, stirring occasionally, for 6 to 8 weeks. At end of storage — it can be as long as 3 months — sugar should be dissolved. Line a large strainer with a double layer of damp cheesecloth and place over large mixing bowl. Pour mixture into strainer. Cover with plastic film and let mixture drip through for at least 8 hours. Do not press mixture — liquid will be cloudy. Stir in vodka. Store in bottles — use ones saved from soy and Worcester-shire sauce with plastic screw-style tops. Makes 2 to 2 1/2 cups.

HOLIDAY BRUNCH
Tomato Juice Cocktail
Eggs Canadian Bacon
Pineapple Muffins Coffee
PINEAPPLE MUFFINS
Made with honey and the unsweetened fruit.
2 cups sifted cake flour
3 tablespoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup butter or margarine, softened
1/4 cup honey
1 large egg
8-ounce can unsweetened crushed pineapple
Sift together the cake flour, baking powder and salt. Beat together the butter, honey and egg until blended. Add flour mixture and undrained pineapple. Stir only enough to moisten dry ingredients — batter will be thick. Fill greased medium muffin-pan cups (each 2 1/2 by 1 inch) 3/4 full. Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — 15 to 20 minutes. Remove at once from muffin pans and serve hot with butter. Makes 12.

1/4 cup quick-cooking oats
1 egg, slightly beaten
1-3rd cup butter or margarine, melted
Drain cherries, reserving 1 cup liquid. Stir together granulated sugar and cornstarch; gradually stir in reserved cherry liquid, keeping smooth. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thickened, clear and boiling. Stir in cherries. Pour into a 9-inch square cake pan. Stir together the flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon; stir to loosen sugar and oats. Add egg and with a fork stir until crumbly. Sprinkle evenly over cherry mixture; drizzle with butter. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven 25 to 30 minutes. Serve warm. Makes 8 servings.

THE FAMILY LAWYER
Fred was haled into court on a charge of drunk driving, after a blood test showed an alcoholic content of more than .15 per cent. According to local law, this created a presumption that he was "under the influence."
But in his defense, Fred argued that such a presumption was unconstitutional.
"No two individuals are alike in their ability to tolerate alcohol," he said. "It happens to be able to hold my liquor better than most people."

However, the court upheld the presumption and found Fred guilty as charged.
"Medical science," said the court, "has established a rational relationship between the percentage of alcohol in the blood and (the) condition of being under the influence of alcohol. Sobriety decreases as the percentage increases."
The idea of a presumption of intoxication, at a certain alcoholic level in the blood, has spread nationwide. Almost invariably, it has been held to be constitutional.
Nor can a motorist avoid taking a sobriety test on grounds of self-incrimination. Traffic laws usually provide that a motorist consents in advance, when he takes out his driving license, to submit to testing or lose the license.
Of course, the test must still be administered properly to stand up in court. Suppose that the equipment was inadequate. Or that too much time elapsed between the arrest and the test. Either circumstance could invalidate the results.
In one case, the officer who had administered a sobriety test acknowledged at the trial that he was not well trained in operating the device.
Result: the defendant motorist was set free. The court said the law would not automatically accept test results as valid merely because they happened to come out of a machine.

Sweets Are Royal Treat For Queen's Taster

By ALLEEN CLAIRE
The Herald Staff

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The English sweet tooth is world famous and a Britisher can meet any challenger for the "fastest sugar spoon" title when it comes to total consumption. The Queen's Taster is no exception.

When dapper Col. A.J.B. Rutherford, C.B.E., visited this city recently, he saw several tempting desserts on a table and with a glint in his eye asked, "Who's going to attack the trifle?"

"He was pleased to have the honor."

"I love good solid English desserts," Col. Rutherford explained when asked about his favorite foods. Ice creams and roly-poly, a steamed dessert, also rated high on his list of what makes for a pleasant eating experience.

His mentioning of such sweets reflects on the eating habits of those who cling to the traditional in foods in Great Britain.

Col. Rutherford proved a good source of information on the eating patterns, except for the sweets, in his homeland since he lives by his taste buds!

preference for mutton, kidneys and sweets, he follows the old tradition of topping off his dinner with a glass of Porto. There are some things that even supermarkets will not change in Great Britain.

ICE CREAM CAKE
LISBOA
16 small macarons
1/2 cup Lays Potato
1 3-inch sponge cake
1 layer
2 quarts vanilla ice cream, softened
1 pint heavy cream
3 tablespoons sugar

Arrange the macarons in a single layer in a shallow pan. Four one-quarter cup Porto over them. Let stand until wine is completely absorbed. Place pan in a 350-degree oven and toast macarons lightly for about seven to eight minutes. Cool.

Freeze for four to five hours. Loosen and remove sides of springform pan. Whip cream with confectioners' sugar until it will hold soft peaks. Cover cake with whipped cream. Sprinkle with remaining crumbled macarons. Store in freezer until ready to serve.

Put the sponge cake into three cross-wise layers. Place one layer on bottom of a nine-inch spring-form pan. Sprinkle with one-third of remaining Porto.

Cover the layer with cream, add the second cake layer. Sprinkle another third wine over cake. Cover the second cake layer with half the remaining ice cream and sprinkle generously with crumbled macarons.

Add the remaining cake layer and spread with remaining ice cream. Pour remaining Porto over the cake.

PORTO SAUCE
3 egg yolks
1/2 ounce sugar
1 1/2 ounces Porto wine

Put all ingredients into fire-proof mixing bowl on top of double boiler. Beat with wire whip until firm. Cool.

RUBY TRIFLE
1 pound sponge cake, sliced
1 cup ruby Porto
1 package cherry or raspberry flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 pint heavy cream
1 cup vanilla pudding, cooked and cooled
Whipped cream, maraschino cherries, angelica

Line shallow pan with slices of cake. Pour wine evenly over cake. Dissolve gelatin in the boiling water; cool until it becomes slightly thickened.

Makes six to eight servings.

Four gelatine over cake. Refrigerate until gelatine begins to set. Whip cream until it begins to thicken. Add vanilla pudding a little at a time, continuing whipping until the mixture stands in soft mounds. Carefully spread over the whipped mixture over the gelatine layer. Refrigerate for at least four hours or overnight. Serve topped with whipped cream, maraschino cherries and bits of angelica. Makes eight to ten servings.

FILLETS OF SOLE
VALE DO DOURO
4 tablespoons sweet butter
3 fillets of Dover or lemon sole
1/2 cup diced raw mushrooms
1/2 cup diced cooked artichoke bottoms
2 tablespoons chopped shallots
1 cup white Porto

Use a shallow skillet or pan large enough to hold fillets. Melt two tablespoons butter in pan. Arrange fillets in pan and sprinkle with mushrooms, artichoke bottoms and shallots. Pour Porto and stock or water over fish. Cover and cook over low moderate heat for about 10 minutes or until fillets flake easily with a fork. Remove fillets to a hot serving platter. Keep warm. Bring ingredients remaining in pan to a quick boil. Reduce to half. Add cream and stir in lemon juice, a little at a time. Stir in remaining butter. Do not boil. Pour sauce over fish. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Makes four servings.

Her System Is Worth Stealing

Pam Sherman spoons her seafood bake into individual shells

By SHIRLEY GALLINA
Herald News Services

Organization is Pam Sherman's middle name. Although it permeates all phases of her life, it shows up graphically in her kitchen.

Her recipe system beats a computer all hollow. "I'm an organized person," Mrs. Sherman says. "And it's easier for me to work from a plan."

She plans her menus a week at a time, and the list is handy, attached to the side of her refrigerator with a magnetized clip.

"With the cost of food today, I try to work around the specials, and always use whatever vegetables are in season."

"I find having an electric cooking pot that cooks a main dish all day long is helpful."

"When I get home from work, all I have to do is cook a vegetable and make a salad."

Mrs. Sherman has a master file which is all cross-referenced. In this file, only names of recipes are included. For example, if she wants to make a seafood casserole dish, she looks under casseroles. The same recipe also is listed under seafood. The recipe card gives the name of the cookbook containing the recipe and the page number.

Recipes she clips from newspapers and magazines are pasted on cards, then they are slipped into plastic "recipe saver" covers.

"In the master file I also keep special occasion menus, and that includes any party dinner that the guests raved over."

Mrs. Sherman shops only once a week, and keeps a shopping list handy to add items as she needs to.

Plan now, party later... that's the philosophy of Mrs. Sherman.

"When I'm giving a party, I like to make as many of the dishes ahead as I can."

"I plan main dishes, such as my seafood bake, that can be made the day before the party. In fact, it's much better, as the flavors blend."

"My chocolate velvet cream pie also can be made days or even weeks in advance. You need only to remove it from the freezer just before dinner.

"Before serving, decorate it with whipped cream."

"I make a large green salad with an assortment of accompaniments so each guest may assemble his own salad."

"I include cauliflower flowers, sliced purple onions, avocado slices, cherry tomatoes, chopped hard-boiled eggs and cucumber slices."

"With the seafood, I like herb rice — or you could serve wild rice or a noodle dish and a vegetable."

Of course, for a luscious dessert, the chocolate pie.

SEAFOOD BAKE
1 cup fresh cooked crab lobster or shrimp
1 (7.5 oz.) can water-packed tuna
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup sour cream
4 hard-boiled eggs, finely chopped
2 tbsps. grated onion
1/2 cup celery,

finely chopped
1/2 cup sliced, stuffed green olives
1/4 tsp. salt
Dash pepper
1/2 cup soft buttered bread crumbs
Cut seafood and tuna into bite-size pieces. Mix with remaining ingredients, except bread crumbs.

Spoon mixture into one-quart casserole or into six individual ramekins or shells. Top with buttered crumbs.

Bake the casserole 25 to 30 minutes in a 350-degree oven.

Make individual servings in 350-degree oven 20 to 30 minutes, or until mixture bubbles.

Garnish with additional olive slices, if desired. Serves six.

CHOCOLATE VELVET CREAM PIE
1 1/2 cups finely crushed chocolate wafers
One-third cup melted butter

Combine and press into bottom and up sides of nine-inch pie pan. Bake in 225-degree oven for 10 minutes.

FILLING
1 (8 oz.) package cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup butter, divided
1 tsp. vanilla
2 egg yolks
1 (6 oz.) package semisweet chocolate pieces, melted
2 egg whites
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
3/4 cup chopped pecans
Whipped cream, for garnish

Combine the cream cheese with one-fourth cup sugar and vanilla, mixing until well blended.

Melt chocolate pieces in top of double boiler over hot water. Stir melted chocolate and beaten yolks into cheese-sugar mixture.

Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Gradually beat in one-fourth cup sugar and fold into chocolate mixture.

Fold in whipped cream and pecans. Pour into baked crumb crust.

Before serving, decorate top of pie with whipped cream. Makes eight to 10 servings.

HOROSCOPE For Thursday, November 14, 1974 By CARROLL RUGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning is fine for delving into whatever you don't understand and getting a better picture of the problems which are confronting you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Gain from the viewpoints of others who do not think as you do. Alter your plans if you are undecided about making a trip.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Come to a better understanding with allies and then carry through with any work connected with joint enterprises. Be alert.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan your schedule so that your work will be like clockwork. Take health treatments and improve your appearance. Be calm.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If your creativity needs improving, now is the time to do it. Handle routine duties and then engage in favorite hobby.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make sure you handle important home matters before you step out into the business or social world. Then strive for more success.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Concentrate upon improving your personal well-being during the morning. Plan what you want to do of a social nature tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make sure that a trip you are thinking about is worthwhile. If your child is born today... be or she will be interested in many activities and will want to know scientifically why things operate.

BOOK REVIEWS

MARATHON MAN. By William Goldman. Delacorte. 309 Pages. $7.50. "Marathon Man" seems to be two separate novels enclosed in one jacket.

While doing a little time, Kep comes across a novel in the jail that details the mechanics of conducting a successful kidnaping. So impressed is he by that when he gets out of jail he books foots it back to New York and enlists those old reliables—Dortmund, May, Murch and his last-dying moan—into reading the book and then staging a kidnaping.

Naturally, the gang's kidnaping doesn't come off at all the way it is outlined in the novel which they use as a text. Everything, of course, that can go wrong does go wrong. Including the kidnap victim, a 12-year-old genius named Jimmy, who is in psychoanalysis, wants to make movies and balls the gang out of one pitfall after another because he thinks they're "prettie nice people."

There's a lot of funny stuff in this book, especially when Westlake shows in parallel chapters how smoothly the kidnaping comes off in the novel and how fouled up it gets when Dortmund and company try to bring it off.

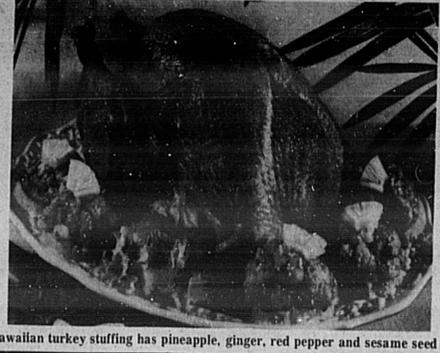

Underlying it all—and torturing it slowly down—is the quiet theme of guilt. On its simplest level it is the guilt an individual carries with him through the years, in Levy's case the death of his father. On a more complex level it is the guilt borne by people as a mass, the kidnaped boy's father, a rather stuffy financial type.

THEATRE: CHARLES BRONSON "DEATH WISH", BURT REYNOLDS "THE LONGEST YARD", JIMMYE THE KID, MY BABY IS BLACK.

Pep Up Thanksgiving Tradition!

By AILEEN CLAIRE
The Herald Services
center ring of the Thanksgiving feasting circus with those who are tradition-oriented. However, there is nothing traditional or old-fashioned about savory stuffings for the holiday bird. A new approach to pepping up the dressing includes pineapple, water chestnuts, ginger, red pepper and sesame seed among the ingredients for a truly different turkey stuffing. Remember to add to the cooking time when roasting a stuffed turkey and to remove the leftover stuffing from the turkey's cavity and store it separately in the refrigerator to preserve it safely.

- 1 cup water
- 1 cup butter or margarine, divided
- 1 can (5 ounces) water chestnuts, drained and finely chopped
- 3 tablespoons soy sauce
- 3 tablespoons sesame seed, divided
- 2 teaspoons ground ginger
- 1 teaspoon ground red pepper
- 2 cups dried bread cubes
- 1 cup hot chicken or turkey broth
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 can (8 to 8 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1 can (2 pound 4 ounces) pineapple slices

Hawaiian turkey stuffing has pineapple, ginger, red pepper and sesame seed

German Eating Habits Go Modern

By AILEEN CLAIRE
The Herald Services
Everyone is giving some form of lip service to eating fewer fattening foods and more lighter meals. A classic example of a change in eating habits comes from Germany. The report is that Germans generally are abandoning the old habit of sitting down to meals where once platters groined with wienerwurst, bratwurst, schnitzel, or kaiserschmarren (sweet pancake), topped off with schnapps and beer. These foods still are part of the German diet but the modern German cook also is creating more light dinners of herating salads with crisp apples, eggs and cucumbers and pickled beets. Seafood and vegetable salads such as shrimp and asparagus always have been part of the total meal as have cucumbers and pickled beets. However, the shift to eating such salads as entrees more often with a cutback in heavy meat and potato dishes and the rich, creamy desserts. Many of the German delicacies such as pepper mushrooms, baby carrots and white asparagus are available in the United States now along with Westphalian ham and smoked salmon.

- 12 spears white German asparagus, quartered
- 1 cup vegetable oil
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 2 tablespoons German wine vinegar
- 1 tablespoon medium hot German mustard
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 2 tablespoons parsley, finely chopped
- Divide mushrooms, carrots and asparagus evenly and arrange on six individual salad plates. Chill. Put the vegetable oil, olive oil, wine vinegar, mustard and sugar into blender. Blend until smooth (about 30 seconds). Pour over salad plates, garnish with chopped parsley and salad.

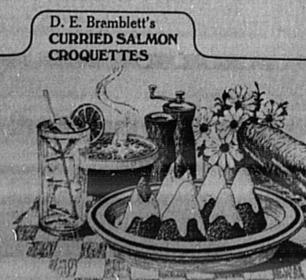

Shrimp and asparagus-carrot salads are lighter German dishes

Tart Pastry Is Appreciated

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Around holiday time — Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year — I'm always grateful for tart pastry that doesn't need to be rolled out and cut — a time-consuming process. You may feel the same way, so here's:

- No-roll tart pastry is of two kinds. One is unsweetened and may be used for savory or sweet fillings. The other has a little sugar in it and thus is suitable for sweet fillings. With holiday desserts in mind, here is a recipe for Noroll Currant Tarts using a sweet dough. I chose the filling for these tarts not only because it is delicious, but because at this time of year dried currants — so good in fruit cake — may be had in abundance.

No-roll Currant Tarts are easy to bake because their pastry doesn't have to be rolled out and cut
