City picks westside sites for adult business

By RUSS WHITE
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - The two sites on the westside can stay, the airport area should be scratched. That's the decision the Sanford City Commission reached Monday concerning rezoning for adult entertainment establishments.

Faced with an "either/or" decision, the city is gambling that the two sites composing 19 acres very close to County Road 46 are less likely to ever be chosen by the adult entertainment industry than 150 acres near the Orlando Sanford Airport.

Murder suspects arrested

From Staff Reports

SANFORD - Investigators from the Sheriff's Office Major Crimes Section have arrested a man and a woman for allegedly selling a fatal dose of heroin to a Longwood man last year.

Pamela Sawyer, 51, of 2739 Keystone Dr., Orlando, was arrested Friday at the Sheriff's Office in Sanford. John Towers, 38, of 1401 Tony Circle, St. Cloud, was taken into custody Saturday following a traffic stop in St. Cloud.

Sheriff's Office Public Information Officer Ed McDonough said that on July 20, 1996, Towers and Sawyer sold a half-gram of heroin to David Zarek, 41, of 548 Sabal Lake Drive, Longwood. The next day, Zarek was found dead on the floor of his apartment. The cause of death was respiratory depression brought on by toxic levels of heroin in the body.

The heroin that Towers and Sawyer allegedly sold to Zarek was 87% pure. The average dose of heroin sold on the street is 3% pure. This particular strain of heroin is nicknamed "Red Rum", which is the word murder spelled backwards.

An autopsy conducted by the Seminole County Medical Examiner showed Zarek had twice the amount of heroin in his body needed to cause death. Zarek had paid $100

Cop chief whittles list of services that sheriff could provide

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - A list of eight possible police services that could be contracted out has been whittled down to four based on recommendations by Sanford Police Chief Joe Dillard presented to the city commission on Monday. Commissioners, however, want to make their own decisions.

"I'm gonna listen but I'm going to do my own homework," said Commissioner Whitely Eckstein. "There's jobs at stake. There's a lot at stake now. Each of us should review this carefully."

An independent consultant hired by the city to evaluate the SPD recommended major changes for the police department, which he found to be operating below average. A citizen committee recommended the SPD keep its chief and make changes with the assistance of the Seminole County Sheriff's Office.

Based on that recommendation, the SPD is currently undergoing a reorganization with a focus on community policing. In a memorandum dated Dec. 8, Dillard and Mayor Larry Dale, acting on behalf of the commission, developed a list of eight services that could be contracted out to the sheriff.

Of those eight services, Dillard recommended contracting out communications services and information technology support/computer data processing. Although the ideal situation would be to keep communications within the department to facilitate the community policing effort, Dillard cited excerpts from the independent survey which said "while the communications and dispatch function performed satisfactorily, the department did not have the in-house communication information technology support capability to recognize the applications/systems needed to produce information reports to improve deployment and other reports necessary to manage the police department."

Dillard said crime scene technical services could be contracted to the sheriff because this highly technical field requires specially trained and skilled personnel. Another service that could go is drug and vice investigation through CCIII. The SPD is already in the process of disbanding the Special Investigation Unit with two officers already assigned to

Police officers bring a little Christmas magic to children

By DAVID FRAZIER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - Some Seminole County police officers played Santa recently, keeping the magic of Christmas alive for some area children.

"It went over really well," said Sanford Police Sgt. Darrell Brewer. "They [the kids] all seemed to be real happy."

Members of the Fraternal Order of Police, Sanford Lodge No. 140, conducted their third "Shop with a Cop" program on Saturday, Dec. 20. This program is a community service activity in which the principals of elementary schools in the Sanford/North Seminole County area are contacted, and requested to provide the names of two or three children at those schools whose families are in a financial situation which prevents them from giving their child a Christmas with presents. The Order then contacts the parents to get their permission and co-operation in doing this for their child.

The day started off with parents bringing their children to McDonald's around 8 a.m. All who showed up were treated to breakfast and Santa Claus made an appearance driven up by a patrol car. Kids got their chance to speak with Santa and have their photos taken with him. The officers then took the children to Wal-Mart on Orlando Drive, where they would have their own police officer to shop with. Each child is given $100 to spend on anything they want. After the shopping spree, the children are taken to the lodge where the police officers help them wrap their gifts.

"Shop with a Cop" started in 1995, and it is an activity participated in by Fraternal Order Police lodges across the nation. In the first year, the Sanford lodge could afford helping nine children. The following year it doubled to 18 children. This year, there are 32 children.

The program is funded by the lodge hosting a golf tournament in the spring. This year's tournament was held at the Timacuan Golf and Country Club with a barbecue afterwards at "Cheers" in Lake Mary. Funds are also raised by a yard sale held each year by the associate lodge members and from donations from citizens in the community.

In addition to support by McDonald's and Wal-Mart, Auto Nation volunteered their support by donating money to help the lodge take more children.

The Sanford Lodge is comprised of approximately 85 police officers and deputies from the cities of Sanford, Lake Mary, Winter Springs and the Seminole County Sheriff's Department.

Ho, ho, ho

The City of Sanford this past week hosted its annual Christmas party complete with Santa Claus, who moonlights as the mayor, Larry Dale. Employees drew names of local children who are less fortunate, and Santa passed out the gifts employees purchased for them. Wayne Densch Charities Inc. sponsored the event.

Top school counselor and the philosophy of the dove

By KELLIE WERNER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - One middle school guidance counselor is chosen as the best in the state every year by the Florida School Counselor Association's Professional Recognition Committee.

This year's recipient of the coveted title is Lakeview Middle School's Dr. Teresita Leeson.

"This is such a big honor," Leeson said. "I am very proud and very humbled. When I think that there are so many other counselors out there doing a good job, it's just very humbling."

Leeson was treated to a dinner at the Adam's Mark Hotel on International drive and after many nice things were said about her and her accomplishments, she was presented with a plaque. That plaque now hangs on her office wall along with many of her other accomplishments.

While she likes to recognize all of the others in her field, Leeson still stands slightly above the rest, as the State of Florida recognized.

Born in the United States, Leeson was raised in a multicultural environment. Her father, a United States Navy veteran of World War II, was Philippine and her mother, a concert pianist, was from France. Because of his military ties, Leeson's father moved his family to Havana, Cuba, where she was raised.

When Castro took over Cuba, Leeson's father moved his family back to America to ensure that they would be afforded the privilege of living in a democratic society.

"I have always been very proud of my family's decision to leave their material possessions behind so that we could keep our ideals of living in democracy," Leeson said.

Her family settled in Miami and when she graduated from high school, Leeson attended her first year of college in Michigan. She transferred to the University of Miami in her sophomore year and there Leeson earned both her bachelor's and master's de-

Correction

In a story that appeared in the weekend edition of the Sanford Herald, comments from Sanford resident James Spears inadvertently accompanied a photo of former mayoral candidate Vernon Spears. Vernon Spears did not participate in the grading of the mayor's freshman year. James Spears was never a mayoral candidate. The Herald regrets the error.

IN BRIEF

Help for seniors this holiday season

LAKE MARY - The National Meals on Wheels Foundation and Kraft Foods, the nation's largest food company, recently announced a partnership to benefit our nation's at-risk elderly this holiday season. The goal of "Share the Holidays" is to focus both national and local attention on the vital work done daily by meals on wheels programs throughout the United States. A special "share the holidays" grant fund has been created and will be supplemented through consumer purchases. $25 from each special coupon redeemed by consumers at their local grocery or retail store will be donated by Kraft to the national meals on wheels foundation.

Better Living for Seniors provides Meals on Wheels, Congregate Meals, Transportation, Chore and Home Repairs, Homemaking, Legal services and Volunteers. Donations can be directly made to Better Living for Seniors 1097 Sand Pond Road, Lake Mary, Fla. 32746.

Community music programs

The Community Music Program of Seminole Community College announces preschool classes for January. Adventures in Music will be offered on Thursdays beginning January 15 and continuing through February 26. Classes for students ages 18 months-3 years will be held at 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. A new class for children ages 3 1/2 - 5 years old will be held on Thursdays at 1:30 p.m. All classes are $39. The teacher is Kathy Evans.

Kindermusik classes will be offered on Saturdays beginning Jan. 10 and continuing through April 25. Beginning classes for students 18 months - 4 years will be held at 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. Young Child class for students ages 4 1/2 - 7 years old will be held on Saturdays at 11 a.m. All classes are $78. A take home music and activity kit is available for an additional cost. The instructor is Amy Gonzalez. For registration information, please call Robin Parker (407) 328-4722, ext. 3414.

Preservation

LONGWOOD - The concern for the preservation of the Jewish way of life has motivated Congregation Beth Am to create a new Bingo Game on Sunday evenings. Beth Am is located at 3899 Sand Lake Rd. at Linc Drive, three miles west of Lake Brantley High School in Longwood.

The game will be on Sunday evenings with doors opening at 5 p.m. and games starting at 7 p.m. Proceeds from the bingo will be used to enhance the education of young and old alike in the customs, traditions and ceremonies of their ancestors.

Bingo workers recognize well that the survival of American Jewry through the next century is highly questionable and without extreme efforts, a way of life first brought to North American shores in the 1650's will disappear.

The bingo volunteers themselves provide for a friendly, social atmosphere during the games. In the past, bingo volunteers have come forward not only to benefit Jewish learning but also out of a simple desire for fun and good times.

Congregation Beth Am Bingo has been cited repeatedly by players as being the most friendly and comfortable game in town. Players have come from all walks of life and from diverse communities throughout the area to support the noble goals of the group. Even the food served is better than ever to guarantee enjoyment for one and all.

For more information call Congregation Beth Am at 862-3505.

Intern brings Orient to classroom

West meets East at Wilson, other area elementary schools

By COURTNEY LEPPER
Herald Correspondent

SANFORD - Wilson Elementary is getting a little taste of Japanese culture.

Kayo Ogo, is from Osaka, Japan and through the International Intern Program, Ogo has spent the last two months in Florida. She is being hosted by the Paul family. Cookie Paul is a teacher at Wilson and met Ogo on the Internet and through E-mails.

After being pen pals for about two months, Paul found a way to get Ogo into the Intern Program. Before long, Ogo was on her way to Florida for a three month stay with a family she had only seen in photos.

The Paul family waited at the airport with a Japanese sign that said, "Welcome Kayo Ogo," while anticipating the arrival of the new addition to their family. They knew only that she would be wearing a pink sweater. However, for the Pauls this was not a new experience, Ogo would be their eighth Japanese student.

"Kayo is more than I ever could have imagined. She fits in so well with our family," said Paul.

Back home, Ogo is a senior at Kinki University, where she is receiving her degree in Law. College is much different in Japan though. The students take a test and those scores determine exactly what college they will be attending. The students do not get to choose a university of their liking. Also, Ogo may be going to school for law but she plans on teaching the Japanese culture. Therefore, after she graduates in March, Ogo will be going to about one more year of school to get some required education courses then become a teacher. In Japan, it doesn't matter what your degree is in to get a job in a particular field.

Ogo has two brothers, one 25 and the other 23. Ogo is the youngest at 22. "We fought all the time when I was younger, but now they are very protective over me," said Ogo.

Ogo's father owns a small factory where her two brothers and mother work.

The first impression Ogo remembers of Florida is the sky being very big. In Japan, she says, that the mountains cover the sky.

Ogo found many differences in the two countries including the school system.

"The children eat more here. In Japan, there is no snack time. The majority of Japanese schools wear uniforms and are very strict. The instructors check the children's finger nails everyday to see if they're clean. Also, the children here are so friendly, loving, and cheerful. They give me hugs and are happy to see me each day. In Japan it is disrespectful to hug your teacher," said Ogo.

In Japan, there are two religions Buddhism and Shintoism therefore, Ogo does not celebrate Christmas and Santa Claus.

"New Years is very big over in Japan. The whole family and grandparents come together to celebrate. We have special food and wear traditional clothes. Christmas is just a time we are supposed to enjoy not celebrate," said Ogo. "I still have a Christmas tree at home though."

Paul says, that Ogo is their first Japanese student that has a tree at home. In the Paul house, Ogo has a stocking like the other children and prepare under the tree.

For the Pauls it will be a plentiful Christmas. Another Japanese student is coming down from Tennessee to see Ogo for the holidays. Paul says, "I'll just have to buy another stocking."

Ogo has found the children to be very interested in learning the Japanese culture and when, they caught on quickly. Ogo has five classes everyday with every age group. Ogo teaches the kindergartners easy phrases and songs while the fifth graders learn calligraphy and origami. The Japanese language has over 3,000 characters and Ogo states that she doesn't even know them all. Therefore, the classes learned simple words like mountain and rain.

Ogo has also gotten the chance to go to other elementary schools including Heathrow, Longwood, Lakeview, and will be visiting Indian Trails after Christmas. She has tried to teach a variety of different things at each school. For example, the Japanese Tea Ceremony was performed for Longwood Elementary.

"The ceremony is only for special occasions in Japan. I showed the children all the in-redients and how each item was used. The tea is green and the children said it tastes bitter but I think it's good," said Ogo.

While in Florida, Ogo is going to Disney, Epcot, and MGM. Ogo has only been to Disney once and that was in Tokyo which is eight hours away from her hometown. She says Disney is very popular in Japan.

Ogo's best memory of Florida was meeting her pen pal and going to an NBA game which she says was "very exciting." She has also hit the malls and the theaters. In Japan, there are many American theaters but the movies are about three or four months old.

When asked about how crowded it is here Ogo replied, "This is not crowded. In Japan, I will be walking on the streets bumping into people."

This is Ogo's third trip to the United States but she says Florida is her favorite so far.

At Wilson, Ogo will be surely missed and she hopes the children will remember what she has taught them. As for the Pauls, Ogo will always be welcome and considered part of their family.

the CCIB. Services that could stay, according to Dillard, include K-9, the four school resource officers and a DARE officer, background investigations and testing of police applicants, and major criminal investigations. City commissioners will hold a special work session to further discuss Dillard's recommendations. As the managing body of the SPD, the commission has the final say in what stays and what goes. Eckstein encouraged the SPD to continue its efforts despite those who are trying to undermine the police department. "We need people to buy into this," Eckstein said. "I don't want people in the SPD that have not bought into this. They are the ones pushing us into Option C. "We have people undermining this commission and the chief. If people can't buy into this then get rid of them." Dale agreed saying, "get on the team and quit sabotaging the effort." In addition, Dale mentioned a petition which is circulating among SPD staff. He said the petition is designed to fool people and that when he received it he would throw it in the trash can. Commissioner Velma Williams said the chief needs to send the message that this won't be tolerated and that an attitude and philosophy change was in order. Sgt. Darrell Presley said those undermining the efforts were in the minority and "would weed themselves out." Commissioner Brady Leonard said at one point the commission needed to get past all the petty things and let the SPD "run with the ball." "I'm pretty excited about the changes I'm seeing already." Dillard, who also distributed an SPD master plan and policy book, told commissioners the majority of command personnel is working hard and diligently at the task at hand. "This commission will see positive results."

One of the sites is directly behind the Wayne Denach distribution center the other off Jewett Lane and County Club Road. Both are within a loud Amen of Central Baptist Church, Page School and a number of homes.

"The airport acreage is 'valuable and viable' Mayor Larry Dale said, "and conceivably could become an adult entertainment war zone. We don't see this sort of thing happening at the westside sites.

"What we're doing is trying to pick the best of the worst," Dale emphasized. "In this case, doing the right thing still makes you look bad."

A final decision will be made in January by the Seminole County Commissioners, who delayed their pick until receiving input from Sanford.

The westside sites were two of three proposed recently by County Commissioner Daryl McLain after he had consulted with Sanford City Manager Bill Simmons and Dale. One of the three was dropped at a five-hour county commissioners public meeting last week.

Dale attended the meeting, finally speaking well after 11 p.m. The county and the city, he said, are working together to satisfy court orders that alternative sites be identified for adult entertainment establishments and sexually-oriented businesses.

At present there are eight legally operated adult businesses all located in the Casselberry/Fern Park area. If the county commissioners do not "grandfather" these establishments in January, they would be bound by the county's new adult ordinance to relocate by late 1999.

Thus, there's a scramble to identify the appropriate alternative sites. Unless the county and each of the cities do so, there is a chance an entrepreneur would try to open a club or business wherever he choose.

"It's been politically expedient of the other cities to close their eyes and let Sanford be a dump-all," Dale said Monday. "We're trying to cooperate, and expect the other cities will do the same. They could get caught. Everyone should share equally. The county was kind enough to ask for our input. The decision will be theirs. But we will have input."

Dale said he will address the county commissioners at their next public meeting on Jan. 13.

Pastor Jimmy Dale Patterson of the Central Baptist Church, his church members and residents of the westside are very concerned about the possibility the area near the church will become sin city of the county.

"We're between a rock and a hard place," said Commissioner Whitley Eckstein on Monday. "I don't like selling out the people on the westside."

"I keep getting asked, 'What's wrong with you all?'" Commissioner Velma Williams said. "None of us likes this," Dale said.

Leeson

Before attending graduate school, Leeson taught foreign language. It was then that she began to realize the need for cross-cultural education and sensitivity.

After she returned to college and earned her master's degree, Leeson married and began her family.

While she was raising her young children, Leeson went back to school, this time at the University of Florida, where she earned her Ph.D. in Counselor Education with an emphasis on cross-cultural counseling.

Since she has been at Lakeview, Leeson has been responsible for implementing many innovative programs.

Included on that list are a perfect attendance program, parenting classes, a positive influence rap group, career education programs, a classroom guidance program and take stock in children, which Leeson is the liaison person for at the school.

In addition to these programs, Leeson also founded the La Paloma club which is dedicated to teach students the art of giving. Through activities such as cleaning the premises, giving a teacher a rose and donating money to schools in need, the La Paloma club, which is Spanish for dove, teaches children to be good examples to others and recognizes the positive rather emphasizing the negative.

Perhaps one of Leeson's finest accomplishments is the Multicultural Club.

This adds another perspective to guidance at the middle school level, the cross-cultural dimension. The philosophy of the club is that by recognizing students with different backgrounds, pride in a student's heritage is emphasized and there is an increase in tolerance in others.

"Through my background and working with children, I realized how important it is to respect and love the differences among people," Leeson explained.

Leeson is the chairman of the guidance department at Lakeview and is very involved with all factions of school life and important issues that arise.

Last year she was named Guidance Counselor of the Year for Seminole County. It's evident, through her dedication to and love for the children in her care, Leeson was a very good choice for the state.

Naughty or nice?

Have the elected officials and paid staff of the city of Lake Mary been good boys and girls? Santa let them know at the Dec. 18 commission meeting. The jolly old elf made his annual trip to the city commission chambers to deliver gifts that reflected on the events of the year. For newly re-elected commissioner George Duryea, it was a copy of his campaign promises, printed out on note paper. For newly-elected Commissioner Al Crump, it was also a copy of his campaign promises, printed out on computer paper. Crump also got a document certifying him as a "qualified and professional leader." Commissioner Gary Brender, who has a penchant for golf and lives in Timacuan, got a special set of golf clubs. Commissioner Thom Greene, who worked diligently to settle the dispute between Lake Mary and the city of Sanford, got a Christmas card from Sanford commissioners and a short form application for the position of city attorney. And what do you give a mayor who has everything? David Meador got complimentary tickets to the Taste of Altamonte Springs. For City Manager John Litton, a microscope, so he can more closely examine the budget. Finally, Santa gave Deputy City Clerk Mary Campbell, who tirelessly records the minutes of every city commission meeting, no matter how long or short, and has been heard to mutter under her breath, "put a sock in it" when discussion on an issue becomes long-winded, a pair of socks.

Choristers enjoy making a joyful noise

BY SUSAN WENNER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - On an "almost daily" basis in the month of December, the Golden Tones choristers have performed to present and will continue this schedule until the beginning of the year. Performing in nursing homes and wherever and whenever needed, the members' mission is to put a smile on everyone and lighten the burden of life.

According to director, Anita Fuller, the group began on Feb. 20, 1986 with only five women, two men and a piano player and has blossomed now to over 38. She added that anyone can join and the only requirement is that "they make a joyful noise and can relate to people."

She continued by saying, "Each program is different. We have a Jewish program that we sing and a gospel one. We go by whatever the people want. When we began there were some that were with another group. They didn't do gospel, country or skits. We wanted to have a wide variety."

The group has also grown in the musical department. Seven piano players are available, a stand-up bass, a drummer and "horns come when they can."

The group rehearses once a week and performs regularly once a week. Fuller added that to her and most others the performances are "therapy."

Traveling all over Central Florida from Orlando, Sanford and neighboring cities in between, the Golden Tones range in age from 60 and up. With the purchase of new equipment such as a mixer, two speakers and posts for the speakers, to keep them high and separated for little feedback, they bring smiles and tears to the faces of many a senior citizen.

Nursing homes, senior affairs, American Legion gatherings and churches all book this tour. They also recently performed at a Fort Christmas celebration and a Founders Day event in Ocoee. Dan Kaplan of Geneva has assisted as Santa in most of the December presentations.

For more information about their schedule or booking call Anita Fuller at 888-8874, 338-6318 or 887-6178.

Protect ornamentals from the cold

Many different tropical and subtropical plants are found in a typical Florida landscape. While tropical plants need to be protected from temperatures below 50 degrees F, subtropical plants can harden to withstand freezing temperatures. The ability of plants to tolerate freezing temperatures is influenced by temperature changes prior to a freeze. A gradual decrease in temperature over a relative long period of time prepares the plants to withstand cold temperatures. Plants normally tolerant to low temperatures may be injured if a sudden decrease in temperature occurs. Cold injury can occur to the entire plant or to plant parts such as buds, flowers, fruits, trunks, stems or roots. Many plant parts can adapt to tolerate cold, but fruits and roots have little ability to develop cold tolerance.

Containers: Plant roots in small containers can be frozen by low temperatures, but under the same conditions, roots of plants in the landscape will escape cold injury. Roots of plants in exposed containers can be injured by low temperatures and show no apparent damage until the plants are stressed at higher temperatures.

Soil heat: Radiating heat from soil warms the air above ground and low-growing plants will greatly benefit from this source of heat. Soil heat is best preserved by mulches placed around plants to protect the roots. Organic mulches such as pine bark are recommended.

Fertilization: Most landscape plants are fertilized two or three times a year, in Central Florida, usually one application is scheduled in March and another in September. Late fall applications should be avoided as it can promote untimely late flush of new growth. Fertilizer rates should be reduced in the fall because plant nutrient consumption declines during the colder months. Plants should receive in the fall about one third to one-half the normal fertilizer rate.

Irrigation: Watering plants several hours before a freeze will protect plants because a wet soil will absorb more solar radiation than a dry soil. This heat will be released during the night thus helping to protect the roots of the plants. After a freeze, plants should be watered to provide water to the plants which may be losing water through transpiration and the water in the soil may not be available because it is frozen, this is especially true in container plants.

Coverings: Materials such as cloth sheets, quilts and plastics can be placed over plants to protect them from frost damage. Covers that extend to the ground and do not touch the plant tissues, will protect plants by reducing radiant heat loss from the plants and the ground. A light bulb can be placed under the covers to provide heat to the plants when very low temperatures are expected. The covers must be removed as temperatures rise during a sunny day. Contact between the plant tissues and the coverings, may result in cold injury.

Pruning after a freeze: Pruning should be delayed until new growth is visible. Dead leaves may be removed as soon as they have turned brown. Cold damaged or woody tissues can be best determined by examining the food conducting tissues under the bark. If scratching into the bark reveals black or brown tissues, continue the search until you find green tissues when scratched. Prune back to the live wood to promote healthy growth of the branches.

Cold injury to palms: Remove damaged portions of leaves by keep the green, not injured portions of the leaves to maintain a high level of photosynthetic area. Spray palms with a copper containing fungicide at the recommended rate. Repeat the spray 10 days after the first treatment with the copper fungicide or another broad spectrum fungicide. Palms growing in containers should receive a fungicide soil drench to suppress possible root infecting fungi from causing root rot. A monthly soluble nutrient solution containing minor elements can be applied to help palms recover from light freeze injuries.

Check home water valve today

DEAR ABBY: This is good advice any time of the year, but especially now that the weather is cold. Please tell your readers to locate the main water shut-off valve in the house and make sure it's in good working order now, before they have an internal water leak.

I work as a dispatcher, and you would be surprised at the number of people who call and don't know where the water meter and shut-off valves are located. They become frantic when a pipe breaks and causes damage, and demand that a water company representative respond immediately to turn off the water.

Most water companies are not responsible for internal leaks, but that's hard to explain to a panicked customer.

While they are at it, they should also locate and inspect the shut-offs for sinks, toilets, washing machines, etc.

WATER COMPANY DISPATCHER
DEAR DISPATCHER: Good advice. People should also make sure the wrench they may need is handy and that they know how to use it.

DEAR ABBY: I'll get straight to the point. I lie too much. Sometimes I lie about little things, but other times I lie about big things.

Last week, I woke up and realized that my habit of lying was wrong, and one day I'll have to pay for it.

I've tried to stop, but over and over I catch myself doing it again. I want to talk to my mom about this, but when I get ready to ask her for help, I feel embarrassed and scared. Abby, I desperately need your advice.

NEEDS ADVICE IN VIRGINIA

DEAR NEEDS ADVICE: You're right - someday you will have to pay for your lies if you continue.

When you find yourself lying, confess immediately that you stretched the truth or embroidered it - then apologize. Most people will be forgiving when you immediately admit a wrong.

Not only will you feel better about yourself, you won't have to keep track of all the lies so you can cover for them.

Don't hesitate to ask your mother to assist you in breaking this habit. She loves you and wants the best for you, so go ahead and talk to her about it while you have the desire to quit.

DEAR ABBY: My husband passed away many years ago when our children were very young. I have remained close to his family and they are a big part of my children's lives.

I am planning to remarry and don't know if I should stop referring to them as my in-laws. We will always be close, but I don't want to hurt them or offend my new in-laws.

Abby, how should I refer to "old" in-laws?

IN-LAW RICH

IN NEW YORK STATE

DEAR IN-LAW RICH: Your in-laws are now your former in-laws, except in some cases in which the IRS states that they are in-laws "til death do ye part. However, since you are on such friendly terms with them, continue to call them "Mom," "Dad," "sister-in-law," etc. In view of the emotional attachment, it's justified.

A Christmas gift guide for fishermen

SANFORD Christmas is right around the corner, and fishermen can be a hard group to shop for. Some gifts, however, are appreciated by most anglers. A quality fillet knife is guaranteed to produce a happy face. Be sure to get a knife with at least a 7 or 8 inch blade. Better fillet knives will cost from $10.00 - $20.00.

A good pair of polarized sunglasses is also a well appreciated gift. Make sure to look at sunglasses that are specifically designed for fisherman. Expect to pay from $30.00 - $75.00 for sunglasses that are durable, polarized, and functional.

If the angler in your family does not have a subscription to "Florida Sportman" magazine, I recommend it highly. This magazine is very comprehensive, and covers angling across the entire state very thoroughly. It is also very informative, and includes many "how to" sections.

If none of these gifts will work in your particular case, you might consider angling attire. Typically fishermen would rather spend their money on equipment and supplies rather than on clothing. Outlets such as the Sports Authority have sections of clothing dedicated for anglers, so shoppers do not have to browse through the entire store.

SHUPE'S SCOOP

IF YOU REALLY WANT TO GIVE A SPECIAL GIFT, CONSIDER A GUIDED FISHING TRIP. LISTS OF GUIDES CAN BE FOUND AT TACKLE SHOPS AND MARINAS.

FISHING FORECAST

The river is high, but bass action will be good where bass are contained. Fish sloughs and other areas with distinct boundaries. Big shiners are hard to beat this time of year for big bass. The section of river from Lake Pointsett to Lake Winder has a lot of bass over 8 pounds. Lake Monticello has fair speckled perch action. Just head for the nearest crowd of boats and start drifting with Missouri minnows.

Huge winter flounder top the bill at Sebastian Inlet. Bounce finger mullet slowly across the bottom for fair action with flatfish to 12 pounds, redfish, bluefish and snook will be scattered.

Captain Jack at Fort Canaveral has no offshore reports due to high seas and dirty water. Inside the Port, flounder and sheepshead are providing fair action. Redfish and trout are hard to pin down this time of year due to passing cold fronts. Several days of cold weather will put them in the holes, while warmer weather will find them cruising the flats in the afternoons.

Bluefish and sheepshead dominate the action at Ponce Inlet. Redfish, drum, and jack crevalle are also present. Live or dead shrimp are the top baits. Redfish and trout are scattered in Mosquito Lagoon.

SAC soccer teams claim weekend victories

From Staff Reports

ORLANDO - Justin Cook scored three goals and Dan Dyke added a pair as No. 8 state ranked Oviedo whipped home-standing and previously undefeated Dr. Phillips, 5-1, in a boys' soccer match Monday afternoon.

Cook (who now has 13 goals on the season in just six games) and Dyke also added assists, as did fellow Lions, Sergei Kokomets, Mike Zigler and Ben Luker.

Nick Ascenzo had a big game in goal for Oviedo, turning away eight shots, including stopping a penalty kick with the Lions up just 2-1.

Ascenzo also had a big game on Saturday, stopping another penalty kick as Oviedo tied No. 8 ranked Melbourne 2-2. Melbourne scored the tying goal with just 10 seconds left in the game on a penalty kick.

The Lions (4-1-1) will open play in the Florida Hospital Invitational this Friday at 3 p.m. against No. 2 ranked (in Class 5A) Kissimmee.

Patriots reach finals

Lake Brantley to face Spanish River for Target title

By TONY DEBORNIER
Herald correspondent

LAKE MARY - Granted, the girls' soccer state tournament is still some two months away, but if past history is any indication, the Lake Brantley Patriots and Boca Raton-Spanish River Sharks should be among the contenders.

Why? Because they've qualified for tonight's championship game of the Target Soccer Class girls' soccer tournament at Lake Mary High School.

Lake Brantley knocked off the Daytona Beach-Seabreeze Sanders 3-1 before the two-time defending Class 6A state champion Spanish River blanked the host Lake Mary Rams 2-0.

"There has been a correlation of teams that do well in this tournament generally do well in the state tournament," said Lake Mary coach and tournament director Bill Eiseler. "There have been several years where the Target tournament champion went on to win the state title."

Lake Brantley assistant coach Tim Harper, sibling in for head coach John Schaefer who was home sick, would rather not look that far ahead.

"I'm happy with the game that the girls played tonight," said Harper. "It was a great team effort."

"We've had several games rained out so far this season, so we're still watching to see what style of soccer we're going to play. We're very pleased with that we've seen so far, but it's still too early to tell as far as making a run at the state title."

Ginger Sellick and Megan McMillan combined on all three of the Lake Brantley's goals against Seabreeze. Sellick scored first on an assist from McMillan with just 3:34 expired.

McMillan took a pass from Sellick and made it 2-0 at 19:52. Becky Williams scored for Seabreeze at 28:04 to cut the lead in half, but McMillan scored again on another assist from Sellick with less than four minutes remaining in the half. Patriot goalie Sabrina Bonaparte had to make just three saves on the seven shots on goal attempted by Seabreeze.

In the nightcap, senior keeper Rachel Elaby had to make four saves on Lake Mary's nine shots to shut out the Rams.

Renee Phillips and Amber Tollefson provided the offense for the Sharks, Phillips converting a feed from Laurie Menkhous into a goal at 7:34 while Tollefson found the net at 55:27.

"We've got to learn what it takes to step up to the next level," said Eiseler. "I told the girls before the game that I wanted to see what they were made of."

"Tonight, we learned what it was going to take, mentally and physically, to step up to the next level. Now the girls have to decide if they are willing to make the sacrifices to get to that next level."

Earlier in the day, in consolation round play, the Lake Howell Silver Hawks eliminated the Lyman Greyhounds, 4-1.

Lake Howell outshot Lyman 23-7 and had an 8-1 advantage in corner kicks.

In other consolation games played Monday, Clearwater Central Catholic ousted Clearwater-Countryside, 3-1; Winter Park needed penalty kicks to bounce Blahop Moore, 3-2; and Melbourne blanked Valrico-Bloomingdale, 2-0.

Five games are on tap for today at Lake Mary High School's Don T. Reynolds Stadium.

Lake Howell and Clearwater Central Catholic are scheduled to play at 9 a.m. with Winter Park taking on Melbourne at 11 a.m. The winners of those two games will play in the fifth-place game at 3 p.m.

At 5 p.m., Lake Mary takes on Daytona Beach-Seabreeze in the third-place game before the Lake Brantley-Spanish River championship contest at 7 p.m.

Basketball teams shine on road

From Staff Reports

ORLANDO - The Lake Mary girls continued to show that it is intent on returning to the state tournament, rolling past a strong Boone team in Orlando on Friday night and Lemon Bay in the opening round of the Lady Holiday Classic in Sarasota on Saturday.

The Rams (16-0) held just a 27-23 lead after three quarters against Boone, then outscored the host Braves (11-3) 17-0 in the fourth quarter to win 44-24. Lauren Bradley (16 points), Ashlee Ballance (12 points) and Mary Leah Sutton (10 points) led Lake Mary.

On Saturday, Bradley scored 12 points and the No. 2 state-ranked Rams' defense held Lemon Bay to less than 10 points in all four quarters in routing Lemon Bay (11-5), 48-22.

LIONS CLAW GRENADIERS

ORLANDO - Mary Lou Johnston scored 25 points and Oviedo erased a first quarter deficit with a 13-4 second quarter scoring advantage and went on to humble home-standing Colonial, 49-39, Friday night.

BOYS OVIEDO, LAKE HOWELL ALIVE

KISSIMMEE - Oviedo won its first two games to advance to the semifinals, while Lake Howell split a pair of games in the prestigious Great Florida Shootout in Kissimmee.

The No. 4 state-ranked Lions (12-0) jumped out to a big lead and dumped Tallahassee-Leon, 74-62, Friday night, then came back from a 34-28 halftime deficit to beat the No. 3 ranked team in Georgia, Mitchell Baker High School from Camilla (5-2), 69-64.

Brad Combes (20 points), Seth Fowler (12 points), Brian Register (12 points) and Josh Cullen (10 points) led the way Friday night, while Register (19 points), Scott Moore (19 points) and Fowler (10 points) did the damage Saturday.

Lake Howell (10-2) fell way behind, 27-15, host Osceola, but almost pulled off the upset before falling 80-77 to the Cowboys Friday night. Reggie Kohn scored 18 of his 20 points in the second half and Ryan Smith also tallied 20 points. Robert Jordan chipped in with 18 points for the Silver Hawks.

On Saturday Lake Howell came out smoking and built a 45-20 halftime lead and ousted defending champion Cardinal Gibbons from Ft. Lauderdale, 84-53.

Kohn and Shawn Braddy led the way with 17

Cassell, Nets hold off Magic

By JEFF BERLINER
Herald Staff Writer

ORLANDO - The Price was right for the Orlando Magic last night but that was about it.

Mark Price had a team-high 23 points but it wasn't enough as the Magic dropped its third straight at home and fourth overall, 99-88 to the resurgent New Jersey Nets.

In the final game before Christmas, Orlando actually came out smoking but New Jersey guard and former Florida State Seminole Sam Cassell was ablaze. He had a game-high 28 points on a 12-for-17 shooting night and put most of those right in the face of the smaller Magic defenders.

The loss dropped the Magic to two games behind the Miami Heat in the Eastern Division playoff race and continued a disturbing trend of not beating the middle to lower echelon teams at the Orlando Arena. Once the O-rena was perhaps the league's toughest place to play but this season, Orlando is only 7-6 at home. The Magic is the only NBA team with a better road record than home.

What is the reason? No body on the Magic wanted to take a guess, but the fans are noticing. For the fourth time this season, the Magic failed to sell out.

The fans that did attend saw a back and forth game with lead changes throughout the first half. Horace Grant (18 points) scored on a layup with 3 seconds remaining in the half, but Cassell nailed a three to put New Jersey back up, 55-54 at the half.

After several more lead changes, New Jersey went up for good, 61-60 on a Sherman Douglas lay up and Kendall Gill followed with a long jumper.

After that, the Nets continued to extend their lead, capitalizing on the size advantage they had over Orlando. For most of the night, the Magic employed at least two of their three point guards - Price, Darrell Armstrong and Derek Harper - and the much taller Nets either drove past them or dominated inside.

Kerry Kittles took exceptional advantage, pulling in a career-high 11 boards while the Magic, missing Nick Anderson, Derek Strong and Penny Hardaway, had to stick with its front line of Gerald Wilkins, Grant and Bo Outlaw.

points each, while Jordan added 12 points for the winner's.

LYMAN, WINTER SPRINGS WIN; LAKE BRANTLEY, CROOMS FALLS

ORLANDO Titus Waldo scored 11 points and Tim McCleod added 10 points, but it was not enough as Crooms fell 50-35 to Sheldon Clark from South Carolina in the Consolation Game of the Highlander Classic at Lake Highland Preparatory School Saturday.

Winston James scored 29 points as Winter Springs (1-6) won its first game of the season, 59-54, over Trinity Prep on Saturday.

Matt Pierson scored 20 points and Alfred Cleveland added 10 points as Lyman (5-4) got over the .500 mark on the season with a 58-50 victory over Colonial Friday night.

The Lake Brantley offense was anemic for three quarters as the Patriots (9-2) trailed Apopka 34-19 and despite a 20-12 fourth quarter advantage could not catch the Blue Darters (7-5) in suffering a 46-39 loss.

Drew Morgan (11 points) and Frank Pirillo (10 points) led the scoring for Lake Brantley.

Deltona at Bishop Moore High School.

PATRIOTS DOUBLE UP PALM BAY

PALM BAY Lake Brantley rallied for four second half goals to overcome a 1-0 halftime deficit and defeated home-standing Palm Bay 4-2 Friday night.

Marcello Cerminato scored two goals, while Andrew Muirraigo added one goal each as the Patriots raised their record to 3-1.

The Lake Brantley junior varsity also won by the score of 1-0.

Phil Kopman stopped three shots in goal to record the win.

The Patriots will play in the Florida Hospital Invitational starting this Friday.

LADY NOLES WIN 5A-5 OPENER

ORLANDO The Seminole High School girls' soccer team started the district schedule off in fine fashion Thursday night, crushing Oak Ridge 10-0 in Orlando.

The Fighting Seminoles got off to a quick start as Courtney Newman scored on an assist from Angie Sasso just four minutes into the game.

Seminole was in complete control, building a 5-0 lead at halftime as it improved to 3-1-1 on the season.

"We started fast, then played a little sloppy," said Seminole head coach Tony Arena. "But we woke up and played excellent team soccer in the second half, scoring five goals in 18 minutes."

Beth Gagnon recorded the shutout in goal for the Tribe, while CC Guilan (two goals, two assists), Niki Snell (two goals, one assist), A. Kennedy (one goal, two assists), Newman, Sasso and E. Cepuran (one goal and one assist each) and N. Jaques and P. Guilan (one goal each) provided the offense.

Seminole will return to action on January 2nd and 3rd at the Hickory Point Tournament in Leesburg.

Is balance problem related to MS?

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 77-year-old husband has had a balance problem for several years. It's getting worse. When he walks, he is stiff and his torso tends to get ahead of his feet, leading to unsteadiness and frequent falls.

Parkinson's disease and strokes have been ruled out by the many neurologists who have seen him. However, our daughter has multiple sclerosis. Could this be the diagnosis?

DEAR READER: Your brief description certainly suggests Parkinson's disease, but as you have said, this diagnosis has been discarded by the neurologists.

Multiple sclerosis, a brain disorder of unknown cause, is marked by progressive deterioration in most motor acts, such as walking and talking. In its initial stages, it may be difficult to diagnose and can mimic many other neurological disorders. Parkinson's disease included. Thus, my answer to your question is a qualified "yes"; your husband's symptoms would be an unusual manifestation of MS — but this remains a possibility.

I suspect that your husband may need really sophisticated testing, such as a PET scan, that is available only in a large medical center. In my view, he should be referred to such a center. Ask his doctors to get help from super-specialists.

DEAR DR. GOTT: About every three months, I get a urinary infection and have to take antibiotics. I'm a healthy 23-year-old nondiabetic woman. What can I do to prevent these infections?

DEAR READER: Urinary infections are common in sexually active women, because during relations, bacteria can be introduced into the urethra and work their way up into the bladder. Many such cases can be prevented by two simple methods: (1) After a bowel movement, be careful to wipe away from the vaginal area, and (2) always empty your bladder after having sex.

Women who are not helped by these hygienic measures should be examined by a urologist to check for kidney disease, such as a chronic infection, or a physical abnormality in the kidneys and bladder.

A small percentage of women with repeated urinary infections may simply have to consider long-term low-dose antibiotic therapy.

As a first step, your doctor should order a urine culture when you next have symptoms of burning and frequency. Perhaps your symptoms are not caused by infection at all. If so, the culture will be sterile. In this instance, your symptoms will disappear in a day or two and need no antibiotics.

On the other hand, if repeated urine cultures show bacteria, a urological consultation is in order.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm an active 75-year-old male in good health. About two months ago, while taking a course of tetracycline, my bowel movements suddenly changed and have remained abnormal. My stools are no longer formed.

I brought this to my doctor's attention, and he performed a colonoscopy, which was completely normal. He said not to worry, but I am an engineer and my suspicions are aroused.

DEAR READER: You are absolutely correct in being concerned about a sudden, persistent change in your bowel pattern. Such a change could indicate a colon growth or infection. Fortunately, your doctor was on the ball and investigated these possibilities with a full colon exam. I am glad that he found you to be fit.

At this point, I agree that a wait-and-see approach is in order. Your bowel change was probably caused by the antibiotic you took, which modified the bacterial population in your intestinal tract, leading to soft stools.

WIN A SUIT

Is it late or early?

By Phillip Alder

On July 23, I received a letter post-marked August 21 that contained a notice for a meeting on July 18! How do these things happen?

Some bridge players are ahead of their time. One was Londoner Norman Squire, who died in 1991. Many of his bidding theories had scorn poured upon them at first, but have now moved into the mainstream. In particular, there is fourth-suit forcing. Look at the North hand in the diagram. Partner opens one diamond, you respond one spade, and he rebids two clubs. What would you do now?

You cannot bid no-trump, because you don't have a heart stopper. You cannot rebid in spades, because you don't have six. You cannot support either minor, because you are shy a card in each. What can you do?

Here's where fourth-suit forcing rides to the rescue. You rebid two hearts. It is an artificial bid saying that you have game-forcing values and asking partner for more information. He will bid no-trump with a stopper in the fourth suit. Or he will support your suit with secondary help there. Or, as here, he will show his 3-3.

Against five clubs, West began with three rounds of hearts. Declarer ruffed, then drew two rounds of trumps, leaving an honor in the fourth suit. Next, South led a spade to dummy's ace, cashed the diamond king, played a diamond to his ace, and ruffed a diamond in the dummy. Finally, declarer ruffed a spade in hand, drew East's last trump, and ran the diamonds for his contract.

Discuss fourth-suit forcing with your partner. It's very useful.

Your Birthday
 Wednesday, Dec. 24, 1997

In the year ahead, you could enjoy exciting opportunities that will introduce significant changes into your lifestyle. The results should be pleasing if taken one at a time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you go shopping today, leave your credit cards at home. It is OK to spend time window-watching, provided you don't make compulsive purchases. Capricorn, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $2 and SASE to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10158. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You could create dissension in the ranks today if you champion an unpopular cause and try to impose it upon others in a forceful fashion.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Today, you might have to pick up the loose threads others have unraveled and try to piece them together in a way that will bring order out of chaos.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you fail to screen your social commitments carefully today, you might find yourself immersed in a complicated agenda designed by others.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Take into consideration the feelings and needs of your companions today. Try to see things from their point of view. Set an example for yourself and others.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You might be saddling yourself with unwelcome concepts that need to be modified. Do not let your stubbornness impede your progress.

CANCER (June 21-July 23) Before involving yourself in a joint endeavor today, carefully analyze all its ramifications so you'll know exactly what you're getting into.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Brace yourself for turbulence if you're disinterested or not supportive of your mate's ideas and desires. Thoughtfulness has a bigger sting than usual today.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Assignments done in haste today may have to be repeated. Analyze each task properly before beginning it and pace yourself so what you do, you'll do well.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Usually you're conservative in managing your resources. Today, however, the spurger in you may emerge and cause you to indulge when you shouldn't.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today, you might be restless and this could induce you to start a number of things you won't finish. Set your mind on a specific course and adhere to it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) This might be one of those days when you're not too good at keeping secrets. Your chatty nature could reveal something and spoil a surprise.
