Texas Toll Is 97 As Weather Gives Respite

Rains, Winds Abate In Storm-Weary State

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Rains and wind slacked off over weather-weary Texas today. The death count from two giant tornados Monday climbed to 97 but possibility of more twisters had "expired." Rain-swollen streams threatened some flooding. Storm parties working through the night by flashlight extricated ten more bodies from rubble heaped in downtown Waco. This brought the toll here to 88. Nine were killed by the Monday tornado at San Angelo 200 miles to the west.

The swollen Brazos River did not reach a predicted record stage Wednesday morning. Down the water - runoff of rain deluges of up to seven inches in two days was rapidly subsiding.

Herbert D. Vogel, southwest district Army engineer, said at Dallas "unless there are additional rains, major floods in Texas do not appear likely at this moment."

The weather bureau said its severe weather warning Tuesday - which said tornados were possible over wide areas of Texas Tuesday night - had "expired."

Snow flurries at Amarillo and Lubbock in the Panhandle early today marked a cold front which chilled most of the state. The temperature dropped to 35 at Amarillo and 33 at Dallas.

Complete Plans Are Announced For Armed Forces Day Parade

ORLANDO POW HONORED

A war prisoner of the North Koreans, who returned to his home in Orlando last weekend, will be guest of honor during Sanford's Armed Forces Day ceremonies on Saturday.

Cpl. John King, still undergoing treatment at the Orlando Air Force Base hospital, will attend this city's celebration, according to John Pierson, chairman of the committee, which met yesterday afternoon at City Hall to make final plans for the day.

Chairman Pierson today asked all citizens of Seminole County to aid in keeping the downtown streets clear of cars Saturday morning.

Chief of Police Roy Williams will start placing the necessary barricades at 7:30 a.m. Saturday. Mr. Pierson requested First Street from Sanford Avenue to Oak Avenue, and Magnolia Avenue from First to Second Street be a closed area for motor vehicles.

During the Christmas parade, Mr. Pierson pointed out, several passenger cars were halted away by police and in order to avoid a repetition of that trouble, urged cooperation by all motorists.

The servicemen will be accompanied to the reviewing stand by two other Orlando men. Guest speaker of the day is Lt. Gen. J. F. Moriarty, retired Marine Corps officer, while Martin Anderson, publisher of the Orlando Sentinel-Star, will also be present. General Moriarty is director of Central Florida Civil Defense.

Other distinguished guests will be Capt. J. I. Chittenden, skipper of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station and co-chairman of the committee; Lt. Col. Forrest Breckenridge, CAP, co-chairman; Lt. Gen. J. C. Hutchinson, retired Army officer; Comdr. G. R. Pearson, Air Station; Col. J. F. Moody, CAP, of Orlando; Comdr. J. R. Parish, Coast Guard; Senator Lloyd F. Boyle; A. B. Peterson, Central Florida Civil Defense officer; and Major Frank T. Conski, U. S. Army.

General Moriarty's speech entitled "On Power for Peace" will be the theme of the day. The parade, which is to move at 10:00 a.m. in its course through the business district of the city, will be followed by a band serenade at Magnolia Avenue and First Street after the speaking program.

Mr. Pierson urged all participants to be present at their assigned positions at 9:30 a.m. and ready to start moving promptly half an hour later.

The first section of the parade will form on East First Street at the Seminole County Motors between Pine and Chapman Streets. George Maybury is chairman of the parade committee and also assistant parade marshal while Moriarty, retired Marine Corps officer, will be parade marshal.

Britain Chided By Senator On Korean Stand

Knowland Hints U. S. Should Go It Alone

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) declared bitterly today that if Great Britain insists on an appeasement settlement with the Communists, the United States must be "prepared to go it alone" in Korea.

Knowland, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said in a prepared speech that it would be a tragic mistake for the United Nations to accept Red proposals to turn over to five "neutral" nations those prisoners of war who don't want to go home.

A familiar attack on the positions taken in the House of Commons by Winston Churchill and Clement Attlee during debate there on Korea, Attlee called yesterday for a United Nations Security Council seat for Red China. "Not while the actual fighting is going on," broke in Churchill, and Attlee agreed. "No, soon after the armistice."

"What in effect Mr. Churchill and Mr. Attlee were saying to us by their speeches in Parliament," Knowland said, "was that we should accept the Communist eight-point proposal and should stop trying to clarify or modify the proposal to maintain the principles for which we have suffered 125,000 casualties in the past two and one-half years."

"In effect, what they have told us is that if we do not accept their advice and the Chinese Communists persist in the war we must be prepared to 'go it alone.' So be it."

Before Knowland could get the floor to make his speech, Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) voiced an appeal in the Senate to the British government to quit making "a last-minute effort to seek security at the expense of liberty" on the Korean prisoner-of-war issue.

Douglas also alluded to his remarks at Churchill and Attlee. "We had better all down and work out some understanding with our allies rather than criticize them on the floor of the U. S. Senate," Attlee's speech in Commons also questioned America's general approach to foreign policy.

The former prime minister said "sometimes one wonders who was more powerful, the President or Sen. McCarthy."

McCarthy today accused Attlee of marking "a foul, distasteful lack on our president."

Telephone Office Will Be Moved To Site On Palmetto

The Southern Bell Telephone company will move its Sanford business office to a first floor location at 118 S. Palmetto Avenue, and will be open for business there the morning of June 1.

This was announced today by John P. Evans, district manager from Orlando, who said the move is being made to provide better service, more convenience, and better accommodations for customers.

The present business office is a second floor location on East First Street.

The new office will include a public telephone booth inside and one outside for 24-hour service, and a night deposit where customers can safely deposit pay ments before and after the regular office hours, which are 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Mr. Evans said the move of the office would be made on May 30 and that the office would be open for business on June 1.

Brooks Tells Of Human Values In Talk To Kiwanis

Even in a rapidly changing world, several basic human values remain constant, declared Dr. W. F. Brooks Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church, in an address given before the Kiwanis Club today.

When one compares this country today with 20 years ago, a great difference is noticeable in dollars and cents values, but such values as freedom, character, and kindness continue down through the years without change, the speaker asserted.

What good is it to be surrounded by all types of conveniences if we are unmerciful inside? Dr. Brooks pointed out. "Too many persons today have much to live with, but unfortunately, nothing to live for."

Visitors introduced by Ed Lane included A. B. Cornell of Brunswick, Ga.; Webster Phillips of Orlando; and Mrs. Selwyn Lindemann, district director of the East Florida United Service Organization.

Mrs. Lindemann stated the USO drive here starts Saturday and in pointing out that the service organization was not government sponsored, urged contributions by many rather than large gifts by a few to reach the $100 goal.

The Rev. Frank Storgan, pastor of the Oxford Baptist Church, reported on the inter-church meeting in Orlando last week attended by seven Sanford members.

Mr. Brooks said the move of the office would be made on May 30 and that the office would be open for business on June 1.

McCarthy Says He Will Veto Bigger Stipend

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Senate passed SB731 by Senator Boyle in regard to the pay of supervisor of registration.

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Rep. Williams and Cleveland of Sanford today introduced HB 1183 extending the corporate limits of the City of Sanford, HB 1188 increasing Sanford city commissioners' salaries to $35 a month and the mayor's salary to $15. Rep. Williams also introduced HB 1112 extending Sanford board of health and providing a referendum.

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Gov. Dan McCarty "reluctantly" has agreed to accept a $3,000 salary increase to $15,000 a year but will turn the raise over to charity.

The governor previously said he would not accept more money for himself.

House and Senate conferees on the general appropriations act voted tentatively today to write the $15,000 figure for the governor's salary into the committee bill after Budget Director Harry Smith informed them McCarty would not veto a $3,000 raise.

He did not want to accept anything over $12,000. He opposed a $25,000 figure suggested by the House Appropriations Committee, and it took four or five days to get him to agree to $15,000. Smith said.

"It is more than willing to accept the $15,000 figure, but will keep only $12,000. He will donate the other $3,000 to some charity, perhaps a scholarship. He will veto anything over $15,000," the budget director added.

The Senate would go along with $20,000 for the governor, Sen. Dayton, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said.

Since the House wants to give cabinet officers a raise from $10,000 to $12,500, it is necessary to give the governor a salary boost and "if he will take $15,000, as I understand he will, we'll better put it down," Chairman Moody of the House Committee said.

COLLECTS INDUSTRIAL DATA

Major Caccavajo Is Retained By Industrial Board For Survey

The executive committee of the Sanford Industrial Board has retained the services of Major Joseph Caccavajo, former consulting engineer for New York City now residing near Deland, for the purpose of studying the industrial possibilities of the Sanford area and preparing a survey to be used in the drive to attract new industries to this city, Bralley Odham, chairman of the board, announced today.

Major Caccavajo is well qualified to gather together the facts and figures needed to fully understand and appreciate what Sanford has to offer, and what needs to be done directly and indirectly to promote the best interests of Sanford and Seminole County, Mr. Odham said.

When interviewed today regarding his plans for the study of conditions in and about Sanford, Major Caccavajo said:

"I have been in the Sanford area for some time and have had a chance to observe the industrial possibilities of the area. I am confident that I can provide a comprehensive survey of the area's industrial potential."

Retired Teacher Is Involved In Wreck

A 62-year-old retired woman teacher from DeBary was charged with careless and negligent driving when her car collided with an automobile driven by a Sanford student in the intersection of Thirteenth Street and Park Avenue this morning, it was reported today by Police Chief Roy G. Williams.

Mrs. Lois Ruth Campbell, going east on Thirteenth Street, turned south on Park Avenue, colliding with the car driven by Mrs. Donald Harper, 2101 Sanford Avenue, who was going south on Park.

No one was injured, but Mrs. Harper's car received $105 damage from the collision and $20 damage was inflicted on Mrs. Campbell's vehicle. Patrolman Arnold Williams investigated the charges at 9:00 o'clock this morning.

Evacuation Of British Within Two Or 3 Months Described Imperative

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Lt. Col. Gamel Abdel Nasser, chief of staff to Premier Nasser, said today that unless British evacuate the Suez Canal zone, the Egyptian government would not even allow the existence of the base.

This is the first time Egypt has given any hint of a deadline for evacuation.

Abdel Nasser, who at 35 years of age is a leading figure in Nasser's government, said neither statements by Prime Minister Churchill or the visit here of Secretary of State Dulles would have any effect on the increasingly critical Suez situation so long as British troops remain there.

Advice To Be Given Veterans Thursday

Veterans of Sanford who need assistance in obtaining benefits under the GI Bill may receive guidance from Tom B. Deen, assistant state service officer, who will visit here Thursday for the purpose of holding a public hearing on their dependents in filing claims for compensation benefits or solving their insurance problems.

This free service includes assistance to members of veterans under the GI Bill, Vocational Training, Sub-sistence or other problems.

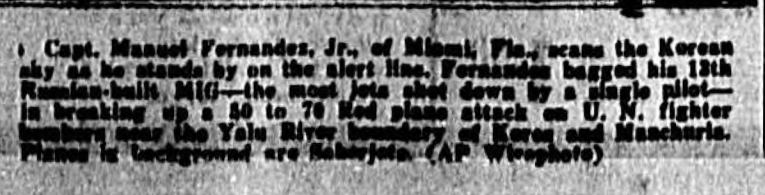

Mr. Deen has been invited to this area by Lloyd F. Boyle, county service officer, as official consultant and may be contacted at the County Service Office from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Damage Suit Filed Over Trailer Park

Paul I. Taylor, operator of the trailer park at DeBary, today brought suit in Seminole Circuit Court against the City of Sanford, seeking damages of $5,000.

Taylor alleges that the city, through its agents, ordered him to expand his trailer park inside the city limits from the border-line location in the highly residential section of DeBary.

He said that a variance was promised him and on the strength of the city's interest in the $1.5 million DeBary project, he expanded his trailer park. Subsequently the city board withdrew the temporary variance and the city refused to grant a permanent one. Taylor is seeking $5,000 in damages and attorney Taylor's costs.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE
Civilization demands just balances. Divine sanction thousands of years ago helped to establish just weights and measures. A just weight and balance are the Lord's. Prov. 16:11.

They take their tax burdens seriously in Accra, Gold Coast, Africa. A mob gathering to protest a new local tax put on such a show that ten persons were killed, including the superintendent of police. But that's nothing. History records a whole revolution was started once in this country because of a tax on tea.

People who enjoy the sea or like to fish, should read "The Old Man and the Sea" by Ernest Hemingway. "That Tense Tale of a Lone Cuban," says Ed Lambright in the Tampa Tribune, "has proved to be a masterpiece. First printed in magazine form, then in book form, with a fortune coming for screen rights, it has now won the Pulitzer fiction prize."

Florida gamblers paid Uncle Sam $24,599 in taxes last month, giving some small indication of the amount of gambling that goes on in Florida. Yet even this sum was the second lowest amount paid for any month since the government imposed its 10 percent levy on wagers. Government, on the local as well as the state and national levels, is making some progress in its war on gambling.

Agricultural revenues may be slightly off in Florida, but the tourist business is still booming. According to the State Chamber of Commerce, 4,950,000 tourists came to Florida in 1952. Last $900 million behind them when they left. Eight percent more came in than in 1951 and spent 7 percent more money. Sanford's interest in the tourist business is increasing, but it could use a lot more of them.

Experiments conducted by the American Chemical Society disclose that Vitamin C deficiencies are connected with hardening of the arteries. So drink more orange juice if you would escape these difficulties of later life. "Florida oranges," according to the Times-Union, "produce as much as a quarter of a glass more vitamin rich liquid than fruit from other citrus bearing sections of the United States."

It is a serious offense in this state to hold anyone up at the point of a gun and rob him. And it should be, for the presence of the gun indicates something worse than robbery is premeditated. So when Billy Williams, 25, Fort Lauderdale bootblack, decided to hold up a bank, he used a toy pistol to frighten the tellers into giving him $7,390. Perhaps what is needed is a law putting a toy pistol theft in the same category as armed robbery.

Senator Boyle's bill to authorize a County hospital bond issue does not mean that the one approved five to one by the people in last fall's election is inadequate, or that it is invalid. It simply means, as we understand it, that the County will be prepared in the event the Supreme Court does invalidate the present bond issue as there is some likelihood it may. Otherwise, the County would have to wait for another legislative session before going ahead with another bond issue.

It is not merely the growth of Sanford which is creating new water problems; now and previously unsuspected uses of water have a lot to do with it. Electric washing machines, dish washers, disposal units for kitchen sinks, not to mention the increasing installation of bathtubs, showers, and many similar devices are consuming great quantities of water where none was consumed before. With new and unsuspected uses of water developing every year, says the new proposal of Sanford Waterworks, "it is imperative that the County should take immediate steps to provide additional sources of water supply to meet future water needs."

Duel Over The Air

If newspapermen and politicians in this country disagree they are likely to exchange angry remarks in editorials or speeches. In Uruguay, however, the matter is not settled so simply. Last week a newspaperman and a top government official, armed with pistols, resorted to a duel to settle what they considered a matter of honor. Neither of the participants was hurt although they exchanged two shots.

What marked the duel as unusual was the fact that it was broadcast over the radio. The participants, as described by the loading of the pistols and listened to the sharp report of the weapons. Fortunately the aim of the contestants was as bad as their tempers and tragedy was averted.

Duelling was not unknown in the United States in the past but it has been outlawed for many years. Aaron Burr and Alexander Hamilton engaged in a duel which resulted in the death of the latter. This had a great deal to do with arousing public sentiment against the practice.

Today in the United States a man who feels that his honor or reputation has been damaged by another has to resort to a court of law. Loud lawsuits at 30 paces are more apt to satisfy justice than loaded pistols at the same distance. Also they are less dangerous.

Sense Against Communism

Americans today are justifiably concerned about the problem of what to do about Communism. Abroad the Reds are dedicated to a program of cold war; our native Communists labor to cause unrest, to carry out sabotage and subversion. What can loyal Americans do to make themselves safe from the internal and external menace?

The best approach is a positive one. Let us examine the areas where the Communists have made inroads. Let us ask ourselves what we can do to eliminate poverty, slums, ignorance and intolerance, for it is where these things exist that Communism has its best chance of making headway.

The worst thing we can do is to allow ourselves to become frightened by the Communists. We have the means at hand to meet and solve all our problems if we do so with courage and energy. A strong America, willing to admit that there are some things wrong with it and willing to work to correct them, will never be prey to an enemy from without or within.

"You All" In Virginia

Roanoke, Va., says to the departing traveler, "You-All Come Again." The motorist entering Roanoke sees the usual welcome sign, but on the back are the words inviting him and his party to return. Maybe Roanokeans—if that is what they call themselves—in addition to being courteous to the stranger, are also optimistic enough to believe he will not misinterpret the words on the reverse side of their welcome sign.

If the stranger happens to be from the north and has been thoroughly indoctrinated with what passes for southern speech or dialect in northern publications and the movies he probably will not know that when Roanoke says "you all" or "you-all" if the hyphen is preferred, Roanoke means "all of you persons," just as the phrase is used in the Scriptures. However, even unto the end of time "you all" as used by literate southerners will be taken to mean in other parts of the country one person, thus sustaining the smug conclusion of northerners that southerners are a backward people and do not know how to talk.—Beaumont Enterprise.

The Men Of Alger

Hard work
High Principles
Honesty

The ten American men chosen for Honorary Alger awards used that formula lavishly. Let it be noted that men like Herbert Hoover, J. C. Penney, Adolph Zukor and Tom Watson started humbly. They weren't hitchhikers or sit-downers. Even if life owed them a living—which it doesn't—they collected the debt by honest effort.

They were nurtured in an era when schoolboys not only read Alger; they read and memorized such slogans as "Honesty is the best policy." Or "A stitch in time saves nine." Harmless, inoffensive little slogans, of course—now considered out of date in our progressiveness. What we might ask ourselves now is: Will there be as many Watsons and Zukors and Fords, in the future, without the solid formulas of the past?—The Dallas News.

Sanford Forum

Editor Sanford Herald

I am not seeking fame or fortune but after reading your editorial of May 8 I could not resist sending a suggestion which may not reach more than our local readers, however I sincerely feel that lack of method of distribution of our surplus products, which God so generously provides us, could be solved by giving or appointing a committee to handle all the surplus through church agencies.

We have learned from the past that cows, sheep, chickens and rabbits have been sent to needy communities and were gratefully received. Our missionaries in distant lands would honestly handle to a good advantage anything we could send. These missionaries are connected with all Christian churches and perhaps the churches would be only too glad to help pay the transportation of these commodities. It would suggest the matter be taken under consideration by local agricultural representatives.

These contributions would be delivered in His name and to His honor and glory.

NICHOLSON BUICK CO.
SANFORD, FLORIDA

THE WORLD TODAY
By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—Now you see it, now you don't: the balanced budget. At the moment there's a little confusion. No one has contributed to it more than Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

Around Washington Humphrey is credited with being one of the smartest and smoothest members of President Eisenhower's Cabinet. Last Friday he went before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Later the committee chairman, Sen. Wiley, Wisconsin Republican, told newsmen Humphrey had informed the committee: "Although I am distressed that we cannot balance the budget this year, I do not believe it should be balanced. The risks that would involve our security would simply be too great."

And Wiley quoted Humphrey further: "There is no prospect at all for anything but an increase in the national debt at the present moment. We have not been able to make the reductions I personally hoped to make and the legal limit on the size of the national debt may have to be increased."

The reason for Humphrey's "distress" in giving such views was obvious enough: The entire Eisenhower administration is self-conscious about the problem of balancing the budget, which might mean a tax cut for everyone.

During the campaign the Republican made a main issue of denouncing what they called the Truman administration's wasteful spending. They promised economy if they got into office and talked of balancing the budget.

And they have tried hard, during their almost four months in office, to find ways of reducing government expenditures to the point where they did not exceed government income, thus achieving the budget balance.

The day after Humphrey's statement Sen. Taft, Ohio, the Republican Senate leader, said he was "very much disappointed" with the spending outlook for fiscal 1954, starting July 1.

But if Humphrey was "disappointed" and Taft disappointed by the outlook for fiscal 1954, at least one Republican was made hopping mad by Humphrey's quoted views.

New York Republican and chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles the problems of boosting and cutting taxes.

Four months head has been anxious to cut taxes but the Eisenhower administration tried to hold him back until it had a chance to see how much spending it could cut.

It knew that a tax cut—meaning less government revenue—being spending could be reduced to the point where it would leave the country not only with an unbalanced budget but perhaps an even bigger deficit.

But when the House Ways and Means Committee met up with town they seem to be surrendering to the spenders. They'll never balance the budget until they remove the shackles from business by reducing taxes.

And then yesterday Secretary Humphrey, so gloomy last Friday suddenly became optimistic although nothing has happened publicly to account for the change in mood.

He told reporters the government hopes to get out of red-ink spending by the middle of 1954.

BANKER URGES SAVING
DAYTONA BEACH—A Daytona Beach banker says banks must teach the public, particularly the younger generation, "the advantages of saving money during these inflationary times."

Addressing the State Bank Executive Forum Tuesday, R. F. Livingston said "many people who in the past had the savings habit have had to withdraw their savings in order to pay expenses."

This has in turn caused them to forget the importance of saving.

There are about 800,000 accidents a human even each year in the United States.

Ernest R. Canada In Marine Reserve

Ernest R. Canada, 11th grade student at Seminole High School, has enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve and has been assigned to the Second Shore Party Group Company in Orlando.

Pvt. Canada, son of Mrs. Lulla Stafford, will participate in the regular drills of the unit and will go to Little Creek, Va. in August to train for a period of two weeks. While a member of the Reserve unit he will be eligible for periodic promotions which he will retain if it is necessary for him to go to active duty with the Marine Corps.

Other young men in the Sanford area are invited to visit the Marine Reserve Training Center in Orlando and receive full information on membership in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Methodist Scouts Win At Camporee

Troop 34 of the First Methodist Church came through with two second places and a third in the weekend's Central Florida Council Camporee at Alexander Springs. The Sanford youngsters were competing against 49 other units and 272 other Boy Scouts.

The Sanford troop, under direction of Scoutmaster W. Tyre, placed second in tent pitching, second in stone measuring, and third in knot relays.

Scoutmaster Tyre expressed gratification over the award in local typing since his troop failed to place in that event in the Seminole District Camporee previously. The scouts practiced intensively for a week and came through with flying colors.

Attending from Troop 34 were Elmo Ferris, Bob Reely Jr., Clark Tillis, Harrison Smith, Roger Duany, Alvin Wright, Billy Tarr, and Scoutmaster Tyre.

Casselberry May Buy Water Plant

CASSELBERRY (Special)—City councilmen last night discussed a plan for municipal ownership of the water plant through a bond issue to be retired on utility earnings.

The city can purchase the privately owned works through a bonding company if its earning power is approved in an engineer's survey and if legally of the city action can be established.

Alan Grant, new attorney for the board, was empowered by the council to investigate legal aspects of the move and William Diggie, a Casselberry resident, volunteered to contact New York bonding firms this summer on the proposed such a thing.

In other action the council promoted town policeman Sgt. Richard Pike to temporary town marshal, pending action by Mayor Joseph Laid who was out of town.

Only the male citizens can make bonds.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY
By RUSSELL MAY

Sebastian isn't a very big town and the Indian River News is not a very big newspaper. Last week national renown came to both by community and the paper, thanks to the unusual ability of one man—Dale Wimbrow.

To Dale Wimbrow, editor and publisher of the Indian River News at Sebastian, Fla., went the coveted Herriek Editorial Award, a nationwide contest sponsored by the National Editorial Association. The award was made last week in New Orleans at the annual meeting of the NEA.

Commenting on their decision the judges said: "For his coverage of the subject, expression of thoughts, style of writing, which is not only persuasive but convincing, down-to-earth and representative of the man on the street," the judges have selected this newspaper for first place."

In the summer of 1950 a new paper was born at Sebastian, the Indian River News, published by one Dale Wimbrow. Like children of the poor, newspapers are born almost every day in Florida and a good percentage of them die before they ever get out of their swaddling clothes.

There was no reason or excuse for a newspaper at Sebastian. No experienced newspaperman would have ever considered starting one there, he was too small to support a paper. The field was already covered by one of the most outstanding newspapers in the State—the Vero Beach Press-Journal. The big dailies of Ocala, Sebring, Palm Beach, Ft. Pierce and Miami were working the territory with a fine tooth comb.

But Dale Wimbrow wasn't a newspaper man. He knew nothing about the publishing business. Most of his life had been spent in the entertainment field where there he was going strong and making a name for himself. He plunked mean ukulele in the early days of radio, sang and played with big name orchestras, recorded for Columbia, Edison and Victor. He wrote the first singing commercial ever employed on a radio program and was probably the first radio entertainer to ever experience the wrath of a network boss.

Shortly after Bill Paley became head of the Columbia Broadcasting Company, Dale was scheduled to sing one of his own songs, "When Old Pete Daley Plays His Ukulele Down in Whaleyville." He felt a bit kitchen and substituted Bill Paley for Pete Daley.

His apartment telephone burst into flames the next morning CBS's vice-president Bill Ewing, blessed him out in all the languages, including the obscene, demanding to know how Dale dared do such a thing.

Dale replied that in this country we kid anybody including the President of the United States, and asked how come the president of a broadcasting company was so sacred. "Yes," agreed Ewing, "but they don't stand on the White House steps and do it." How times something to do, something to occupy his mind and time. Mrs. Wimbrow encouraged the idea. As a result, the Indian River News came into existence. The paper is an unorthodox and as individual as a publication can get. It is a reflection of its editor. Not only Sebastian but the state of Florida has benefited by the editorial influence of this unusual weekly. Twice, the publication has won the editorial "Oscar" in Florida Press Association contests and now steps beyond the state's borders to win national honors. We congratulate Dale Wimbrow, the Indian River News, Sebastian and Indian River County.

Dale Wimbrow wasn't the retiring rocking-chair type. Mentally and physically he re-seated being shelved. He wanted some means of expressing himself. Friends suggested that he start a newspaper. Realizing that what Dale needed more than anything else was

Oviedo High School Junior And Senior Banquet Held On Friday

OVIDEO (Special)—Each year the juniors and seniors look forward to their junior-senior banquet with eagerness. This year this most important event in the lives of these young people was held on Friday night, beginning with a headlined Flight Time for Hawaii at 7:30 p.m. from the airport of the Dubairad Country Club, their destination being a Tuxedo Time.

The hosts, hostesses and guests, all attired in formal dress, the girls' gowns, reminding one of a lovely rainbow—as they represented every color, with corsages to match their attire.

The spacious room was beautiful in its decorations depicting a scene in Hawaii, even to the menu. This consisted of Tropical Dreams, fruit cocktail; Game of the Jungle; turkey; Chopped Hamlet, green beans; Tomatoes and Onions, tossed salad; Red Peaches, cherry pie; Taro Cake, bread and Seafoam, ice tea.

The welcome address was given by Miss Ann Leinhardt, a member of the junior class, with the response from the seniors being given by their class president, Walter Duda. This was followed by a toast to the faculty by Miss Shirley Jones, also a junior, and the faculty response given by the principal of the school, Professor Walter A. Teague. A special tribute was paid to Mrs. J. N. (Annie C.) Thompson by Bobby Shaffer, a junior, for her untiring efforts on behalf of her students for the past 34 years she has taught in the Oviedo School. Mrs. Thompson was unable to be present because of illness, but she retired from her school work at the end of this school term to the great sorrow of many.

Miss Georgene Parker, another junior, gave the prophecy, followed by group singing. Little Clady May, of Sanford, a talented singer and dancer, demonstrated some of her remarkable talents for the benefit of the guests gathered together for this occasion. Following the delicious banquet dinner and program the students enjoyed dancing on the patio.

Members of the junior and senior classes and their escorts present for this delightful affair included Warren McCall and Nancy Myers; Walter Duda and Mickey Fleming; Emmett Tanner and Martha Jean Hardy; John Fleming and Bob Ward; Jim Wheaton and Dorothy Miller; Norman Fore and Harriet Geiger; Bob Shaffer and Ann Plesant; Johnnie Jones and Louise Hart; Roy Bellet and Kay Estes; Harvey Joe Slayton and Nancy Miller; John Dolan and Ann Leinhardt; Don Hardy and Shirley Jones; Ivan Jakubcin and Georgene Parker; Bryant Hickson and Thelma Hambo; Billy Meek and Mary Smithson; Andrew Aulin and Ruth Cullum; Richard Wrye and Milene Gudwin; Kenneth Macdonald and Elvora Johnson and Richard Llewellyn.

Members of the faculty present included Professor and Mrs. Walter A. Teague; Professor Paul Miller; Mr. and Mrs. Land; Mr. and Mrs. Windham; Mrs. Naomi Simpson; Miss Lois Ruddlell; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Aulin, Jr.; and Mr. and Mrs. James Pearson.

Unwanted will be given careful and polite consideration. It is quite evident from conversations I have had with very important people that there is a wide difference of opinion as to what should be done about it, in approaching the local problems.

"All I can say is that we will do our best to eliminate the danger of delay. Lines and wait facilities, and get right down to brass tacks, pronto. We may not be able to develop a cure-all, but we sincerely hope to find the ways and means of eliminating this kind of medicine to bring about the desired results.

"This is not a one man job as I am looking forward to enlisting the aid and assistance of the best minds in the community, in an all for one and one for all effort to promote the best interests of Sanford.

Major J. M. Gault was born in South Carolina, raised and educated in the north, where he has gained experience as an engineer and a number of other jobs, both military and civilian.

Mr. Gault said there are many outstanding accomplishments of his long and distinguished career which he has investigated and reports on local problems will be complete and authoritative.

Former consulting engineer of the City of New York, Major Gault is the author of the "Guide to the Municipal Government of the City of New York" used as a text book in the high school, Mr. Gault also served in the World War with distinction overseas with the Army Engineers and was decorated France, Belgium, England and the U.S. He also won the Conspicuous Service Cross, Purple Heart and other decorations.

In 1938 he was consultant to the President of New York World's Fair and when war was imminent went back into uniform. When the U.S. entered the war he was appointed consulting engineer to the Civilian Defense Chief in Washington, D. C. and won praise for his efficient organization of the Rescue Squads in the District of Columbia.

Then being overseas for active military service he was appointed to the staff of the Army Chief of Engineers where he was cited for distinguished service and awarded the silver wreath decoration by the Secretary of War. Later he was Chief of Technical Information of the Engineer Board at Fort Belvoir, Va.

While consulting engineer of the City of New York, Mr. Gault while he was in charge of development of the municipal terminal markets. As consulting engineer during the construction of the first subway he prepared the first comprehensive New York City extensions which won his general recognition, and later resulted in his being retained by the City of Philadelphia, and other cities.

In 1948 he took leave of absence from Washington to aid the Mayor's Committee for the Commemoration of the Centennial Anniversary of the City of New York, Philadelphia, and other cities.

In 1949 in 34 front page articles on the slum clearance problems in a favorable region throughout the city. Editorially the Brooklyn Eagle said: "Certainly all of Brooklyn must now know the exact nature of the 'Blight Disease' that is ravaging the very heart of the borough." The newspaper gave credit to Major Caccavajo for the manner in which he analyzed the situation and statily the rightly called a spade a spade.

From Brooklyn Major Caccavajo returned to Washington and was retained as consultant by the National City and Developmental Commission, remaining until after

Building Permits In Sanford Total $47,524 In April

There were 48 building permits issued during April totaling $47,524, according to City Clerk H. N. Sayer. During April 1935 permits amounted to $47,524.00.

Twenty-seven plumbing permits were issued for $483.00 in fees while on during April 14 electric permits were issued amounting to $627.00.

The water department set 18 meters, removed 31 transferred and changed 15, re-roofed 10, and repaired 10. Nine leaks were repaired, 18 services installed, 20 meters shut off, and 21 turned on.

At the present time there are 273 fire hydrants in service, 4,900 homes are receiving metered service and one gets a flat rate for a total service of 3,491. Dead services amount to 195.

During April, 3,049 gallons of fuel oil were consumed by the city, in addition to 100 pounds of chlorine, and 87 gallons of lubricating oil.

Electricity consumed by the city amounted to 8,400 kilowatt hours, and by the Power Co., 22,640 kilowatt hours.

Mr. Brockbridge was reported to have consumed 26,370,000 gallons of water were drawn from the wells and 29,429,000 from the reservoir.

(Continued From Page One) Mr. Brockbridge also reported on the committee, the U. S. Florida Chamber of Commerce Executives which he attended in Miami beach early this week. The meeting was presided over by Mr. J. H. Gault, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, and was addressed by Dwight Havens of Washington, D. C., manager of the service department of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Brockbridge was elected a director of the group for the coming year. Officers elected included Harold Laubacher of Key West, president; J. Peter Knowles of Coral Gables, vice president; John Bryant of Lakeland, secretary and treasurer.

Other directors elected included William Davidson of Tallahassee, Richard Deegenhart of St. Augustine, Richard Ward of Ft. Lauderdale and Scott Christopher of Tampa.

"Well, if we give the Cabinet more than $12,500 we can readjust the governor's salary," Moody said.

"I personally think the governor ought to get more money than the presidents of the universities and the University of Florida football coach," Moody said.

The president of the two universities draw $15,000 a year and the Florida football coach $17,500.

TALLAHASSEE (P)—The Florida Senate waged a fervent debate today over whether to authorize a toll turnpike for the entire length of the state or just a 10-mile strip northward from Miami.

Before it was the bill drawn by the State Road Department in set up an authority, vice president of the Senate, Mr. Gault, said he would build the short strip from Miami to Stuart.

But debate had no more than begun before Sen. Lewis, Marietta, of the state, introduced a floor bill of the legislative session by offering an amendment to let the proposed turnpike authority extend the road to the vicinity of Jacksonville, it was reported.

There was an element of the family fight in it.

Sen. R. B. Gaultier, Miami, where he long has been the strongest, immediately arose to champion the Lewis amendments.

One of his hottest make opponents was his cousin, Sen. E. Williams, of New Smyrna Beach, which is in the stronghold of opposition to any east coast turnpike.

Gaultier of Miami said he believed an authority to build a toll road would do more for Florida economy than any other single thing, that truckers and tourists would pay most of the cost in tolls and that there would be enough tax money to build the kind of roads the state needs.

Gaultier of New Smyrna Beach, which fears loss of tourist business through by passing of coastal towns, said the proposal was "one of the most far reaching and vicious" pieces of legislation before the Senate.

Before the proposed Miami to Stuart turnpike would be financed with a $5 million dollar 30-year bond issue to be retired out of toll revenue. Examiners for the cost of the toll turnpike are as high as $50 millions.

Before the Lewis amendment was offered, the Senate by voice vote adopted one by Sen. Pope St. Augustine to prohibit state construction without specific legislative approval of any toll road project other than the one authorized in the bill.

TALLAHASSEE (P)—Rep. Land of Orange County offered a bill today which would have the state assume control of the roads of the Republican State Executive Committee in the hands of members from the larger counties.

OVIEDO NEWS

OVIDEO (Special)—One of the outstanding social events ever to be held in Oviedo will be held on Thursday evening of this week from 8:00 to 9:30 p.m. at the City Hall Memorial Building when the executive board of the Oviedo PTA are hosts for an all important event—a reception honoring Mrs. J. N. (Annie C.) Thompson, who is retiring at the end of this school year after serving 34 years in the local school.

Mrs. Thompson came to Oviedo with her husband, the Rev. J. N. Thompson when he came to fulfill his obligations as the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Oviedo. She had labored before coming to Oviedo.

The Rev. and Mrs. Thompson had one son, James Allen Thompson, who is now Superintendent of Public Instruction at Vero Beach. The latter received his diploma from Mercer University, Macon, Ga., where he met and married Miss Mary Biving of that city. Their son is now a junior at Mercer and an outstanding student—a fact the grandparents are so proud of.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Thompson have participated in church, civic and social affairs in Oviedo during their 34 years here. Mrs. Thompson being a past president of the W.M.U. and is also proud of the fact that she is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma Teachers' Society at Vero Beach. She has many of the citizens of Oviedo and their children, or their children—both being true. She is loved by all.

Any of her friends anywhere, including her former pupils, including whom reside in nearby cities including Orlando and Sanford, are cordially invited to this event and are urged to come.

The Oviedo PTA will meet Tuesday afternoon, May 12 at 3:30 p.m. at the Home Economics Building. Election and installation of officers is on the program for the afternoon as well as singing by the Glee Club.

The summer round-up will be conducted on Wednesday, May 13, according to announcement by Professor Walter A. Teague. All children expecting to enter school next year are urged to respond.
