English Estates Sets Bicycle Safety Check

By Jane Casselberry

A bicycle safety check will be conducted at English Estates Elementary School Wednesday under the sponsorship of the Parent Teacher Association, starting at 9:15 a.m.

Deputies from the Seminole County Sheriff's Department and PTA mothers will check each bike for safety features and the riders for knowledge of safety rules, and riding ability. A sticker for his bike will be given each child passing the test.

Each child will be required to ride his own bike for the test.

Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, school principal, has asked that parents of children living in more distant areas, such as Tangiewood, bring their child's bike to school for the safety check. If they are unable to pick up the bike after school on Wednesday it will be kept in the school building overnight for protection.

David Sawyer is school safety chairman.

Moose Women Enroll Three

Sanford Chapter 1404, Women of the Moose, had an enrollment chapter night meeting, Feb. 13, with the Hospital Committee, Mrs. Louine Sinko, chairman, in charge of the program.

Guest speaker, Cheryl Chandler, R.N., from Seminole Memorial Hospital, discussed the duties of nursing.

New members enrolled were Estelle Snell, for Sanford Chapter, and Marie Ware Flexer and Jean Agoranos for Home Chapter O.

A covered dish Secret Pal Dinner was held Feb. 12 at the Moose Lodge, 2660 S. Palmetto Avenue, with the Homemaking Committee, Mrs. Audery Roberts, chairman, in charge. Decorations were in the Valentine theme. Secret Pals exchanged gifts and names were revealed after those attending enjoyed a social hour.

Regular business meeting of the Chapter will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at the Lodge. Names for new secret pals will be drawn for the coming year. All co-workers are urged to attend.

Development Survey Slated

Community development survey forms will be distributed to area merchants, civic leaders and local government officials according to Sid Vihlen of the Sanford Jaycees. The survey is an important part of the Jaycee program of community development. Opinions expressed in the survey initiate Jaycee projects aimed at eliminating inadequate or unsatisfactory conditions in the community or to bring public attention of such conditions.

Included in the survey are questions concerning utilities, fire and police protection, newspapers, radio and television stations, professional services, emergency medical services, recreation facilities, schools, industries and the general appearance of Sanford and vicinity.

That's Why Attention

BELGRADE (AP)—Parliament has passed a law that only the federal Meteorological Institute is allowed to issue weather forecasts. The law was aimed at a couple of amateur forecasters whose long-range weather predictions, published in some Yugoslav newspapers, have attracted considerable attention. The amateurs often have been right.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By LARRY YERSHEL

Accident on 27th Street and Sanford Avenue yesterday. Don't looked shocked . . . A little girl was hit there two weeks ago . . . Two people were killed there a year ago . . . And so we keep banging our heads against a stone wall . . . Next—27th Street and French Avenue, maybe. Sure, nothing will be done about it . . . one day a kid will get killed and a public official will shutter and say . . . "Isn't that too bad? . . . Maybe we'd better write a memo to the state."

* * *

And that's why I'm angry all the time.

* * *

Not all the sparrows are dead on Fulton Street. One got some bread crumbs at the Lookout Restaurant last night where there was a meeting on downtown beautification of Sanford . . . Me and the sparrow were left out in the cold . . . At least he got some crumbs.

* * *

SECRET MEETING AGENDA — City Commission sometime this weekend . . . County Commission next Tuesday afternoon on road projects . . . Community Action Executive Board before the public meeting next Wednesday . . . The only thing that can save "Action" is if Vince Roberts gets the president's job . . . If he'll take it.

* * *

Don't be surprised if the city looks into appropriations for the Humane Society before they kick-in any more money . . . County already said they would . . . City pays them some $150 per month . . . It probably will stop pending investigation.

* * *

How would you like to be a school lunchroom worker in Seminole County? They'll get their next check on Feb. 28 . . . and then one on March 31 . . . then May 1 . . . No paycheck in April . . . Of course these people don't mind, they make as much as $1 per hour.

* * *

Nobody asked me but I would like to see every civic club in Sanford join forces to pressure the City fathers not to cut any appropriations for the zoo relocation.

* * *

Thus far, 12 absentee ballots were issued from the supervisor of election's office for Tuesday's legislative fiasco . . . Anyone wanna bet less than 16,000 will show up to vote in the county?

* * *

Okay, don't come crying to me when we lose our voice in state affairs . . . Only, I say only, will a strong Seminole vote help Tom McDonald and Tommy Peterson.

* * *

Nobody asked me but how come it's okay to sell booze on special election days and not on the regular ones?

* * *

Don't forget Kiwanis Pancake day tomorrow and Jaycee frankfurter sale . . . Both go to worthy causes . . .

* * *

And Heart Sunday . . .

* * *

Fallout Shelter survey now going on in Seminole County . . . Is it to protect us from nuclear bombs or Orange County domination?

* * *

City work crews did a fine job laying 1,110 feet of cast iron water line yesterday down at the lakefront . . . Next on the agenda are the sewer lines.

* * *

Speaking of the city — They plan to get legislation taking in some 600 feet of Lake Monroe into the city limits . . . We hear the fish will squawk and demand a referendum.

* * *

Chuluota Civic Club sent a representative to Sanford to push for ambulance service in the community.

One Hurt At Sanford And 27th St.

Smash-Up At 'Tragic' Corner

One person was slightly injured and three automobiles were damaged in a collision at 5:30 p.m. Thursday at Sanford Avenue and 27th Street.

Trooper Jerry Hawthorne identified the drivers as Jere McCumber, Sanford police officer, and Elijah Walters, 70, of 2002 French Avenue.

The trooper said both cars were proceeding south on Sanford Avenue when Walters made a right turn in front of the police cruiser, as though to enter 27th Street. McCumber, with emergency light on, was chasing a speeder.

The police cruiser bounced off the Walters' car, entered a yard and hit a parked car, and came to stop against a house at 2703 Sanford Avenue.

A passenger in the Walters' car, Ola Wood, 64, was injured, and reported this morning as in "good" condition at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Hawthorne estimated $1,200 damage to the police cruiser, $400 to the parked car and said Walter's old automobile was demolished. He added no charges have been filed pending further investigation.

This is the same intersection —Sanford and 27th—at which a Sanford Junior High School teacher, Howard P. Gentle, 39, and his son, Russell, 14, were killed March 7 last year in a collision with another police cruiser driven by Officer Thomas A. Deppen, 24.

County Pushes Heavy Legislative Load

Abandon Idea Of Budget Control

A myriad of local legislation will be sought by the County Commission during hearings to be conducted by the Orange-Seminole legislative delegation Saturday.

At least 10 bills are expected to be recommended to the delegation by the County Commission for adoption by the Legislature, but noticeable by its absence will be any bills concerning regulating or changing the present fee office system in the county.

Permission to establish a local government study commission will be requested as well as authority to create a jury commission. Such a study commission would delve into the needs for changes in the county government while the jury commission would be in charge of selecting persons to serve on juries.

Other tentative bills to be presented include setting rules and regulations relative to dredging and land fill; control of water and air pollution; method of obtaining repayment of welfare funds; authority to microfilm and destroy old records and permissive legislation to supply ambulance service if present ambulance services cease operation.

While the County Commission agreed to seek legislation bringing appointments to the port authority and hospital board of trustees under the County Commission rather than the governor's office, it is not known today if the Commission still plans the legislation or has abandoned the idea.

The Port Authority, in connection with the County Commission, is expected to request the present port bill be amended to guarantee race track funds of $60,000 per year be designated to the port.

It is further expected the amendment will include provision that funds allocated to the authority by the county annually will not exceed amount of moneys which would have been derived by .5 mill taxation.

Discussion

Annual fund raising event, the Merry-Go-Round, will be discussed at a meeting of the Seminole Association for Retarded Children at 8 p.m. Monday. Also to be discussed is a proposed change in the corporate name.

Cities Seek New, Strong Charters

Strong mayor type governments for the City of Longwood and the Town of Altamonte Springs are proposed in new charters for the two municipalities to be presented to the legislative delegation tomorrow at the County Commission room at the courthouse.

Both charters, almost identical in content, provide for a strong mayor type government and contain sweeping changes in system of elections to the offices of councilman and mayor.

Candidates to the offices, under the new plan, would have to be freeholders and garner a majority of the vote. Run-off election provision is also included.

The mayor under both plans would serve as mayor-councilman and have a vote.

Oviedo's charter anticipates hiring of a city manager at a later date if council sees fit. Its new plan would strengthen the powers of council while decreasing appointive powers of the mayor.

A referendum is provided in Altamonte's charter and no firm decision has been made by Longwood or Oviedo as to whether a referendum will be required.

Schedule of appearances at the hearings of the delegation Saturday are: Mayors and municipalities, 9:30-10; fire districts, 10:10-10; Justices of the Peace and constables, 10:10-10:30; school board, 10:30-11; County Commission, 11-12, fee offices and supervisor of elections, 1:30-1:45; hospital trustees, 1:45-2.

Annexation Of Navy Base Sought

The City of Sanford will present legislation tomorrow to annex 800 acres of the Sanford Naval Air Station into the city limits.

W. C. Hutchison, city attorney, will present the request to the Orange-Seminole legislative delegation at the courthouse at hearing Saturday morning.

Sanford also will seek to "redefine the city limits" taking in some 500 acres in various other areas with a referendum attached to the legislative proposal.

Areas the city plans to annex are the Greenwold section and Dr. Adams' property near the southwest corner of the city; South of Sanford Avenue from 26th Street to Onora Road; East of Academy Manor near the Crooms school.

Other legislation sought by the city is a charter amendment to provide "open shop;" changing the two-year provision of annexation to a five-year provision regarding signed petitions; several amendments to the Civil Service law and changing from three per cent to five of the salary of police officers under the pension plan.

Pilot Club Starts Drive

Easter Seals In Mail

1967 Easter Seals are in the mails.

Some 1,600 envelopes, stuffed by the members of the Sanford Pilot Club, were turned over to Postmaster Cecile Heard Thursday to be sent in first class mail to Sanford and Seminole County area residents who have supported the Easter Seal Campaign in past years.

Requests by those who wish seals, but do not receive them, will be gratefully acknowledged by Mrs. Harold Appleby at 322-3968. Those wishing to make a contribution may mail a check to Kenneth McIntosh, treasurer of the Sanford unit of Florida Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., P. O. Box 1330. Funds received in the campaign are used to support Camp Challenge, Florida's Easter Seal Camp for crippled children which is located 15 miles west of Sanford on SR 46. Local funds also help support the therapy program for Seminole County children who attend Forest Park School for the physically handicapped in Orlando.

Officers of the local Society, other than McIntosh are S. Joseph Davis Jr., chairman; Miss Lois Messer, secretary and Mr. and Mrs. Appleby, co-ordinators.

One Injured

An Altamonte Springs resident was charged with failure to yield the right of way in a truck-car collision at SR 436 and Robin Rd. this morning, the Sheriff's office reported.

Charged was Willie Gilbert, who according to deputies, hit a truck operated by Harold Hall of Kissimmee. Hall was taken to Florida Sanitorium for treatment of injuries. He was listed in "good" condition today.

Measles Drive

Seminole County Health Department will sponsor a countywide free measles vaccine program from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. Sunday. The vaccine will be available at Midway Elementary School, Jackson Heights School in Oviedo, Altamonte Springs Elementary School and Seminole High School in Sanford. No needles will be used.

Dr. Frank Leone, county health director, urges that all children through eight years of age who have not previously been immunized, receive the vaccine at this time as it will be the only county-wide program offered this year.

Humane Society Records Rapped

Mrs. Ruth Gallagher, former-secretary and treasurer of the Seminole County Humane Society, today urged the society be "put on a basis of good management and all members be given the chance to vote for or against the management."

"I served two years as secretary and treasurer, from the time it (the society) came into being with Mr. E. J. Johnson acting as chairman until the third president was elected — and I use the term 'elected' loosely," Mrs. Gallagher said.

"Up until that time there were minutes of each general meeting and each board meeting, also there was a treasurer's ledger showing all monies paid in as due, donations and monies expended," she declared.

"When I was informed that the new president had decided to act as both president and treasurer — he even went so far as to have the check-signature card at the bank changed without the courtesy of notifying me, I not only handed in my resignation, but also turned over to him all records in my possession.

"These records consisted of all correspondence, minutes of all meetings, the treasurer's ledger and the check book. These minutes were typed and the treasurer's ledger checked to the penny with the bank's records.

"Seminole County needs and should have a humane society, but I will always believe it will require some hard work on the part of the interested members.

"Because I am interested in the welfare of animals, not just for their benefit but because it is a safety measure for the public at large, I would be happy to become a working member again provided the Humane Society is put on a basis of good management and all members are given a chance to vote for or against said management," Mrs. Gallagher concluded.

Authority Files Suit On Acquiring 76 Acres For Port

Suit to acquire an additional 76 acres of property by eminent domain was filed by the Seminole County Port Authority today.

The property to be acquired lies adjacent to the port's 45 acres west of the Atlantic Coastline railroad, and the Lake Monroe I-4 interchange and north of Orange Boulevard.

The action recorded by port attorney, Gordon Frederick, declares the property will be used for the public purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating a harbor, port and shipping facilities.

Present owners of the property are Mr. and Mrs. William D. Cain of Lake Triplet Drive, Casselberry; Mr. and Mrs. Elton M. Cain of Lake Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Woodruff of Englishtown, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Wiggins of Rockledge.

Case has been assigned to Circuit Judge Tom Waddell Jr.

Delay Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Roman L. Hruska sought allies today in his bid to delay Senate action on the administration's proposed U.S.-Soviet consular treaty.

City Warns Owners; Fix The Marquee

Sanford plans a "get tough" policy with property owners of various marquees in the downtown area, Building Inspector Lionel Risner said today.

Risner said that a recent inspection revealed the marquees on several buildings are "in hazardous condition" and constitutes safety hazards.

He urged owners to inspect their marquees and initiate action "as soon as possible."

Pastor's Corner

The Drifter

By REV. ROBERT M. JENKINS
First Methodist Church

Last Sunday I asked our Senior High youth group this question, "What in your opinion, is the greatest problem that faces America today?" I was startled at the depth of understanding their answer revealed. "Indifference," they replied. This parallels another question asked of me recently, "Preacher, what is the greatest heartache you have to face in the ministry." My reply was, "drifting." It literally tears the heart out of me to see people simply drift off and away from the Christian life. Young married people, teenagers and elderly people, who have lost their spiritual glow simply because they are not interested. They believe, they do not deny audibly, that is, the validity of Christ, but they just live as though He didn't matter a whit.

The Christmas program gave us many thrills and many heartaches. The one fear which seemed to pervade the whole program, was, not the obvious fears, the roman-candle takeoff, or the fireball re-entry, but rather a smothering fear that the tether line would break while an astronaut was in EVA and he would simply drift off into infinity.

Of the three great fears of man, fear of death, fear of anxiety, and fear of meaninglessness, I believe the latter is the greatest. We can endure many things even fierce anxiety, but few can endure the loneliness attached with being a nobody. This is why loneliness is a dangerous emotional warning. It is the chief cause of alcoholism and is responsible for 25 per cent of all suicides. The end of loneliness, unless checked, is to become a castaway, a drifter because we have no place to live emotionally and spiritually.

How do people get into this fix? How do we become drifters? Well, we mentioned one reason. We become indifferent. Indifference is a form of self-protection. Its root is selfishness, and its character traits are fence straddling, compromise, and half way decisions. It evolves when we have not made God, or at least morality, the center of our lives. I believe the "Don't bother me about it, let someone else take care of it, I don't want to get involved," attitude is the most serious departure from the American dream, and its most serious cancer, that has ever infected us.

We have become drifters because of our pride, our cynical attitude to moral, religious and patriotic ideals. We heap coals on the fire with our bigotry and our prejudices against fellow Americans who have a different opinion that we do. Someone said that we Americans have indigestion of the intellect, thrombosis of the truth, cancer of character, hernia of the heart and arteriosclerosis of the affection. In God's word "our hearts have become hardened."

It frightens me, and anyone, who has a smattering of knowledge about history, when the historians compare us with the great civilizations of the past. The average age of 18 great civilizations was 200 years. America will be 200 years in 16 years. These civilizations fell not suddenly, but gradually. They fell not from "invidious" human enemy which invaded their privacy, and corrupted their morals. They fell simply because of their own indifference, apathy and immorality. Their journey from the humility to greatness and back to insignificance again is revealingly contemporary. From bondage they went to spiritual faith, from spiritual faith to great courage, from great courage to liberty, from liberty to abundance, from abundance to selfishness, from selfishness to complacency, from complacency to apathy, from apathy to dependence, from dependence back to bondage again.

Paul's words in 2 Corinthians 9:27 scorches our consciences. "Lest when I have preached to others I should myself be a castaway." It would do we proud Americans well if we studied carefully the implications of this verse in our personal and collective lives.

Esther Circle Plans Project For Family

The Esther Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Grace Methodist Church held its February meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Jernigan. Mrs. Harry Eley conducted the business meeting, in the absence of Mrs. Gordon Meyer, circle chairman.

Mrs. Eley reminded members of the Annual District Meeting March 7 at St. James Methodist Church in Palatka. Plans were made for collecting clothing for the family of five children that the Esther Circle has "adopted." Many members volunteered to donate used, clean clothing.

Mrs. George Beckhorn mentioned the Local Mission Group sponsored by the Commission on Christian Social Concerns of Grace Church. This group meets the third Tuesday of each month, under the direction of Mrs. Jack Rossman. The group hopes to encompass other churches in the area in the common interest of local needs.

There will be a sale of new hats at Grace Church, March 17 and 18, sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service. This is open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

The program, entitled "The Christian and World Economy" was presented by Mrs. Berkhorn.

Members attending, other than those mentioned, were Mrs. L. D. Waggoner, Mrs. Charles Clemmer, Mrs. J. F. Smith, Mrs. Paul Markos, Mrs. F. J. Murray, Mrs. J. H. Powell, Mrs. John Loechelt, Mrs. Robert Temple, Mrs. Henry Skinner, Mrs. Andrew Crucker, Mrs. Joe T. Collins, and Mrs. J. B. Crawford.

The next meeting of the Esther Circle will be at 8 p.m., March 14, at the Lake Mary home of Mrs. J. B. Crawford.

Haboush To Be Guest At Ascension

The Gallican sheperd, Stephen Haboush, will give his interpretations of The Twenty-Third Psalm when he speaks Sunday at the 10:30 a.m. service at Ascension Lutheran Church.

On Wednesday, 8 p.m., he will present a program on the Holy Land featuring slides which he and his wife have taken.

He speaks from a background of his youth in Palestine, where he worked as a sheperd, and his experience as tribal chief. He is well known in this country for his many years of presenting this message.

The public is invited.

Missionary To Speak For Presbyterians

An American missionary who was born in Shanghai will be guest speaker at both the 8:30 and 11 a.m. services this Sunday at First Presbyterian Church, Sanford.

Mrs. Kenneth Kepler of Taipei, Taiwan, a Presbyterian U. S. missionary in the United States for a one year furlough, will relate her experiences as a professor at Taiwan Theological Seminary and give first-hand information of work in that country. She will speak Sunday evening for the Youth Fellowship.

In Taiwan since 1956, Mrs. Kepler has taught Christian literature and theological readings in English at the Seminary, a school supported by Presbyterian churches in the United States and by the Presbyterian Church of Taiwan. Besides her responsibilities at the college, she has found time to teach English and Bible at a Christian student center, and has taught women's Bible classes in local churches.

Rev. and Mrs. Kepler went to the Chinese mainland as missionaries for the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. in 1930. After 19 years they returned to this country. But the Orient again became home in 1956 when the Keplers returned, this time to Taiwan, the seat of the nationalists' government since 1947.

Mrs. Kenler the former Miss Kathleen O'Brien Neale, considers Philadelphia her hometown. She attended Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa. Her church membership is at Hebron Presbyterian Church, Staunton, Va.

The Keplers have three children: Jean (Mrs. James E.) Coverdale, Mary Kathleen (Mrs. S. Franklin) Sapp, and Rev. Kenneth McLellan Kepler Jr.

The couple is spending their furlough in Decatur, Ga., and plan to return to Taiwan in August, this year.

Support Of Foreign Missions Held Vital

Mrs. Cutler Hart, president of the Geneva First Baptist Church Woman's Missionary Union, presided at the opening of the Women's Missionary Union Winter Rally which was conducted in the church sanctuary after a word of greeting to the women present. Mrs. Hart turned the meeting over to Mrs. Ivan Farrens, associational WMU president from DeLand.

Mrs. Farrens spoke of the charges and aims of the Womans Missionary Union for the coming year and explained how vital continued support to the foreign missions program of the Baptist Church is. Mrs. Hubert Thomas, WMU association prayer chairman, from DeLand, lead in prayer. Mrs. Herbert Peck from Lake Helen, spoke on stewardship and Mrs. Forrest Breckenridge WMU association-al secretary - treasurer, read minutes of the last meeting, which was held in Oviedo Mrs. A. Hinojosa, WMU association-al missions study director, gave a review of graded mission study books available to all members. Mrs. B. E. Gray, of Longwood, WMU associational community missions director, gave a resume of what is being done in this field. Mrs. Cecil Tucker, WMU associational chorister, led the congregational hymn singing, after which Mrs. J. E. Mathieux, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Maxwell, sang a solo "Why Do II Sing About Jesus?"

Miss Martha Franks, world missionary of the Baptist Church to China and Taiwan for almost 42 years, was the honored guest of the day and spoke about the great need to continue the missionary program, how money is being used to fight Communism and how great the need is for younger and more capable people to continue the worthwhile work now being done by the Baptist Church in foreign missions.

A St. Valentine's Day theme prevailed throughout the church in baskets, bouquets, and centerpieces of white gladioli, red carnations, white pom poms and red velvet hearts.

A point of interest center featured a table artistically draped with green nylon, centered with a spraying water fountain. Flanking the fountain on one side was an antique gold epergne containing tall white tapers surrounded with White Empress camellias and as a special added note, a pair of white alabaster doves.

After the business, consultations and special talks, the meeting was adjourned and a covered dish luncheon was served to the 78 ladies and ministers present.

WOMAN'S Missionary Union Winter Rally, held recently at First Baptist Church of Geneva, was conducted by Mrs. Ivan Farrens (left), WMU associational president, with Mrs. Cadar Hart, president of the Geneva WMU, and her group as hostesses. St. Andrews Youth Plan Supper

The Senior High Youth Fellowship of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Bear Lake, will sponsor a spaghetti dinner from 5 until 7 p.m. Saturday at the church. The public is invited.

This Sunday afternoon, Rev. Fred Guthrie, minister, and George Wehr, elder, will be serving Holy Communion to residents in the infirmary at Winter Park Towers, Presbyterian retirement home.

At 6 p.m., Sunday, Junior and Senior High Youth Fellowships will meet in their respective classrooms.

The Church Choir, under direction of its new leader, Mrs. James Benl, is now meeting at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday following the mid-week prayer service which is now at 7 p.m.

Next Wednesday, Rev. Guthrie will be attending a special workshop at First Presbyterian Church in Orlando for study of a year-round program for youngsters which possibly may replace the summer Bible School sessions.

Bear Lake MYF Changes Meets

Regular weekly meetings of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Bear Lake Methodist Church will be replaced until further notice with a meeting once each month, it has been announced by Rick Teeter, youth division superintendent.

Last Sunday, more than 20 teenagers of the church participated in a benefit sharing party for multiple sclerosis followed by a cookout at the Harry Williamson home.

Members of the church attending the Orlando District Christian Enrichment School this week, along with Rev. and Mrs. Robert Miller, were Glenn Whipple, Lee Salmi, Byron Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. Teeter, Harvey Coulter, Mrs. Barbara Hoover, Mrs. Ann Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowles, Mrs. Florence Winfield and Miss Margie Hall and Miss Pat Congrove.

Communion classes conducted by Rev. Miller will continue on Sundays with six graders meeting at 5 p.m. and seventh graders at 4 p.m.

Barbara Guess Circle Meets

The Barbara Guess Circle of the Woman's Missionary Union of First Baptist Church, Lake Mary, held its February meeting at the church with opening readings by Mrs. Rose Labo.

A program on evangelism was discussed and reports were read and approved.

Refreshments were served to Rose Labo, Carol Stout and Mary Lou Crawford by the hostesses, Stella Shelton and Mary Bryant.

Mrs. Bryant gave the closing prayer.

Spaghetti Supper

St. Ann's Catholic Church of DeBary will sponsor a spaghetti supper from 4:30 until 7 p.m. Monday in the Firemen's Recreation Hall. Members of the Ladies Guild will serve and men from the Holy Name Society will assist in the kitchen. Tickets are available from any member of either organization. Mrs. Leon Lormel is chairman and Mrs. Frank Hewitt is co-chairman.

Woman's Civil Rights Stressed Before Guild

Civil rights of women were discussed by Dr. Maria Peres, president of the Toastmistress Club, for members of the Nativity Parish Women's Guild at their February meeting in the church social hall.

Dr. Peres stressed that more women should try for high positions in government and church and that a woman shouldn't feel she is neglecting her family in order to hold these positions.

She noted that one point of endeavor for a toastmistress is that of speech improvement.

Mrs. Jennie Fox, president of the guild, who conducted the meeting and introduced Dr. Peres, reported during the business session that the Rosary beads made by the Rosary Making Club of the guild were sent to Father K. S. Michael to distribute in India. The next 100 rosaries will go to men serving in Vietnam.

The ways and means chairman, Mrs. Mary Oyler, reported the recent rummage sale a success. There will be a public bake sale Saturday at the Winn-Dixie Store in Longwood. All women of the parish are asked to donate to the project. A fish dinner is being planned for Friday, March 17.

A Spring Deanery meeting was announced for Tuesday, March 14, in Daytona, at which time Monsignor Malloy will celebrate his 50th birthday. Members of the guild wishing to attend this meeting are asked to contact Mrs. Fox or Mrs. Oyler. Transportation arrangements will be available.

There will be nomination of officers at the March business meeting with installations to take place at the April meeting. All members are urged to be present for both sessions.

Mrs. Carl Schmidt was winner of the door prize.

The refreshment committee was made up of Mrs. Estelle Leone, Mrs. Laura Checefsky, Mrs. Terry Fay and Mrs. Joe Stankiewicz. The serving table was centered with a statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary with camellias and fern surrounding the base. An arrangement of pansies was placed on the officers table.

Father Miguel Garcia, pastor, urged all parishioners to attend the Mission to be conducted by Father Edward Gray, a Redemptionist Priest from Tampa. Father Gray will speak at all Masses Sunday and at 10 a.m. Masses Monday through Saturday of next week. The missionary sermon will be repeated at 7:30 p.m. Masses [illegible] Rosaries are available to attend as are members of other churches.

Baptist Revival Is Scheduled In Longwood

First Baptist Church of Longwood will have revival services Monday through Sunday of next week at 7:30 p.m. each day and at 10 a.m. daily Tuesday through Friday, Rev. Jack Lindsay, pastor has announced.

Guest speaker will be Rev. Tom Collins, a Southern Baptist evangelist.

There will be special music each night and song service will be conducted by Rev. B. Hamilton Griffin, pastor of the Elder Springs Baptist Church near Sanford. The public is invited to attend each service.

Rev. Collins has served as State Sunday School secretary for the Florida Baptist Convention and has pastored churches in Florida, Alabama, Georgia, and Texas.

He has served as Florida member of the Education Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention, has served as a member of the State Mission Board, and was program chairman to the Florida Baptist Convention in 1959.

In 1955 he traveled extensively on Southern Baptist mission fields, both in the Holy Land and Europe, and attended the Baptist World Alliance.

In 1960, he visited South American mission fields and attended the Baptist World Alliance in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

WSCS Told Of District Meet

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Grace Methodist Church held their February meeting at the church recently. Hostesses were Mrs. Ina Murray and Mrs. Alvera Kelley. Seventeen members enjoyed the delicious refreshments of Valentine cake and coffee.

Mrs. Henry Skinner presided in the absence of the president. Mrs. Robert Bennett gave the opening thoughts from the book "Leaves of Gold."

Everyone was asked to keep in mind two important dates, March 2, the District WSCS will meet in Palatka at St. James Church. Registration will begin at 9:30 p.m. A nursery will be provided. May 11 is the date for the Leadership Training Course to be held at the First Methodist Church in Sanford.

A hat sale will be held March 17 and 18 at the church. Refreshments will be served and a free nursery will be provided.

Mrs. Robert M. Temple Jr. was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Violet Beckhorn and Mrs. Richard Breese attended the Spiritual Life Retreat in Ocala recently.

WORSHIP KNOWS NO CALENDAR

Some select Sunday as a day of worship. Others prefer Friday or Saturday. But the solace of worship knows no boundaries—temporal or spatial.

Some find their God in church. Others see him in a spring sunrise, or in a fresh-mown meadow at dusk. Children often find peace in an evening prayer.

Each seeks peace in his own way. All place their trust in a Supreme Being and worship as conscience dictates.

Why not join them? You, too, can find solace and guidance in prayer.

$35 Million Deficit

Cabinet, Governor Feud On $$$

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Democratic Cabinet members have called Republican Gov. Claude Kirk the chief architect of the new budget and have said he "is trying to find a way out" by shifting the blame.

"This is Kirk's budget," Secretary of State Tom Adams said Thursday accusing Kirk of "playing a political shell game trying to blame it on the Democrats."

Comptroller Fred Dickinson, in a separate news conference, said the governor's remarks indicated that budget hearings were "spendthrift Democrats against thrifty Republicans" were completely inaccurate and wrong.

Both of the Democratic Cabinet officers pointed out that even though the budget has a deficit of some $35 million without considering teacher salaries, the Kirk administration will be using up an $83 million surplus accumulated through two Democratic administrations.

Neither would flatly predict new taxes to finance the states needs. But Adams said:

"Anticipated revenue from existing taxes will not finance this budget."

Adams said Kirk called three Cabinet meetings to go over the budget—one at the Duval Hotel here Dec. 20-21 and a Sunday session at the Governor's Mansion Jan. 22.

He said former Gov. Haydon Burns did not attend preliminary budget hearings but Kirk presided at each of his three budget sessions, announced his conclusions after the discussions and gave instructions to the budget staff.

"This is probably more Claude Kirk's budget than Haydon's was his," Adams said.

When the $35 million deficit was predicted at the mansion meeting, Adams reported, "the governor said: 'Great. Think how much less that is than $700 million'."

Original requests from various government agencies for the next two years amounted to $1.9 billion—some $700 million more than anticipated revenue for the period.

Adams accused Kirk of "wishful political thinking" in the governor's often repeated pledge of no new taxes.

"Tuesday was the day of reckoning," he said referring to the final budget hearings.

Now Kirk is "between a rock and a hard place," Adams said. The governor must either find new money, he said, or a way to cut the budget.

"If it is taxes, that historically is the governor's responsibility," said Adams. "But if the governor wants to cut, I'm sure we'll sit down with him to cut it some more."

"But I don't see how he can cut it and apparently he didn't," he added, pointing out that Kirk had not proposed any decreases in the record $1.3 billion budget.

Both of the Democrats said they did not think the $2.4 million which was restored to the budget at the hearings warranted the claims that the Cabinet was trying to wreck Kirk's economy program.

Adams said there were few changes made. Actually, he said, there was probably more talking but less disagreement than there was with Haydon—certainly less than there was with Farris," he said mentioning former Gov. Farris Bryant.

At the mansion meeting, in addition to considering the budget deficit, Adams said the governor and the Cabinet members discussed proposed fee increases which would have raised an additional $30 million, construction requests for the budget and a management consultant report on executive salaries.

"The governor asked if we didn't think executive salaries should be higher and we told him no," Adams said.

The original survey report recommended $41,000 for the governor but this was later cut to $40,000, he said.

At the budget hearing, Kirk spoke against the proposed $40,000, saying it was not enough and that, as far as he was concerned, the salary should be made adequate or kept at the present $27,500.

Adams said the Cabinet made some changes in the recommendations of the management experts, putting the presidents of the University of Florida and Florida State University in the same salary bracket and reducing the proposed salary for the Regents chancellor. He said the original recommendations had suggested that the chancellor receive more money than Cabinet members.

The Regents had asked $169 million from general revenue for construction and other building requests totaled more than $190 million.

Adams said in considerations of the capital outlay budget the group determined to maintain the bond program for educational construction and cut the total for buildings of other agencies to $15.7 million.

Arctic Snows Hit North

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A storm that nobody expected blew out to sea off the coast of Newfoundland today after dumping more than a foot of snow over a wide area of New England and New York.

Snow with high winds continued during the morning in northern and central Maine, but ended before midnight in most other areas.

In Troy, N.Y., Jean Wager, 17, took advantage of a five-inch snow fall and a traffic jam to ski down Main Street to her classes at Catholic Center High School.

About 200 youngsters in Bangor, Maine, for the Eastern Maine High School basketball tournament were marooned. Cots were provided in the gymnasium for the night.

An international goodwill hockey tour from Canada's Prince Edward Island was stranded on the Maine Turnpike near Lewiston when its entire 15-car caravan banged together in a chain reaction pileup.

Two members of the group suffered minor injuries and were taken to Lewiston Hospital. The rest spent the night at a turnpike restaurant.

The 106-mile turnpike was closed overnight due to winds and drifting snow.

Five deaths were attributed to the storm, two in traffic accidents and three men who collapsed while shoveling snow.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Boston had said Thursday the storm, moving from the South along the coast, was not expected to produce much snow.

Later, the weatherman said an "explosive deepening" had turned a "series of flurries" into a major storm.

The deepest snow was recorded in Upstate New York, Maine, the Berkshires of western Massachusetts, New Hampshire and southern Vermont, where more than a foot fell.

The mercury dropped to 10 in northern areas and to the low 20s along the southern New England Coast.

The Midwest also caught the wrath of a violent snowstorm with near blizzard conditions. Snow-weary Chicago received five inches of snow, which snarled rush hour traffic.

O'Hare International Airport was closed for a time. Among those circling in a plane overhead was Michigan Gov. George Romney, returning from a swing through the Western states. His plane finally landed after three hours and he later flew on to Detroit.

Blizzard warnings were posted in northern Indiana and driving was hazardous eastward from lower Michigan to Ohio and the eastern Great Lakes region.

Arctic cold followed the snow and sent the mercury skidding to zero and below in many parts of the Midwest, including Minneapolis, Milwaukee and Chicago.

Salt is mined below the marshes and bayous along the coast of Louisiana. Some of the largest of these rock salt mines extend under the sea.

Brevard Educator Indicted For Misuse Of School Properties

TITUSVILLE (AP)—Charges against Brevard County School Supt. Woodrow J. Darden are "ridiculous and unfounded" and stem from "nothing more than a hoax perpetrated by private detective agency out after the scalp of a Democrat under the orders of a Republican," Darden's lawyer said.

Edward Kirkland, attorney for the nationally known educator, apparently referred to the Wackenhut Corp., and to Republican Gov. Claude Kirk. Darden was investigated by a detective employed by George Wackenhut Kirk's $1-a-year chief of the governor's "war on crime."

Darden, head of the $53-million-a-year school system for 14 years, was indicted Thursday on four counts of grand larceny. He was released under $1,000 bond.

Indicted with Darden on six counts of grand larceny was T. A. Altman, who did landscaping work for the school system. He was also free on $1,000 bond.

Darden was charged in the indictments with misuse of school property.

Darden was arrested at a meeting at Brevard Junior College Thursday night and Altman, a contractor, was picked up at his home. After being booked at the Brevard County Jail, each posted bond and was released.

Darden announced last Jan. 10 he was resigning but withdrew the resignation 10 days later with the explanation that "I want no one to be under the impression I quit under fire."

The grand jury called 43 witnesses during its month-long investigation of school affairs. The indictments were given to Circuit Judge Volie Williams, who ordered the names of those indicted to be withheld pending arrests.

He ordered Sheriff Leigh Wilson to make the arrests.

At the time Darden withdrew his resignation, Clark Maxwell, Jr., chairman of the school board, said more than 50 school principals applauded Darden's announcement.

Maxwell said then the board planned no personnel changes "despite rumors to the contrary."

When the 49-year-old Darden announced his resignation, he said he was tired of being school superintendent and again was asked to be "plain Woody Darden." The job paid $24,000 a year.

Attention Singers!

There is still time for ladies with previous singing experience and the ability to read music to apply for membership in the Ladies chorus now being formed in Sanford. Pre-registration by contacting Mrs. Irene Brown at the Florida State Bank is required for all interested ladies prior to the organizational meeting.

A night convenient to the majority of the eligible ladies will be selected at the organizational meeting set for March 23, at the Sanford Woman's Club, 309 Oak Ave., at 7:30 p. m. for future rehearsals.

Yanks Shelling North Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. headquarters announced today that American artillerymen have begun shelling North Vietnam with long range artillery based in South Vietnam for the first time in the war.

An American military spokesman said U.S. artillerymen fired into the demilitarized zone and north of it with 175mm guns, the biggest in Vietnam, which have a range of 20 miles.

The announcement came as about 45,000 American troops pushed behind links through jungles of the Communists' war Zone C, 70 miles northwest of Saigon, in the biggest offensive of the war. But they failed to find Communist units of any size.

U.S. troops reported killing 19 Viet Cong so far in the new Operation Junction City, and the Communists responded with at least two mortar shellings of American positions. U.S. headquarters said American casualties were light so far.

Though contact with the enemy troops was light, more than a half dozen tanks and other tracked vehicles struck land mines which tore off their tracks. Five U.S. Army helicopters were shot down by enemy ground fire, but U.S. spokesman said all five were lifted from the battle area and casualties to faled three wounded.

Kirk's Tactics Hit By Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)— A Wisconsin senator has sharply criticized Gov. Claude Kirk of Florida and called for a congressional investigation of "an alarming trend in this country toward the use of police state tactics."

Sen. Gaylor Nelson, a Democrat, said in a Senate speech Thursday that Kirk "has engaged a close personal friend, George H. Wackenhut, and directed him to unleash his detective agency throughout Florida in search of corrupt officials."

Nelson called the Wackenhut Corp., which has 5,000 employes in 28 offices from Puerto Rico To Hawaii, "A Gigantic organization with its tentacles involved in politics," and said its directors include members of the John Birch Society.

Future Farmer Week Observed

FUTURE FARMER WEEK was proclaimed by Sanford Mayor Joe B. Baker. FFA members pictured with the Mayor are Thomas Fowler, Michael Gibson, Baker, David Cook and Mitchell Tindell. (Herald Photo)

Vocational agriculture students in Seminole High School joined Future Farmers of America members throughout the nation this week to focus attention on the importance of agriculture during National FFA Week.

"AGRICULTURE. . .Strength of America" is this year's FFA Week theme. The boys will undertake a campaign to inform the general public about the importance of the agricultural industry to America, the growing need for farming, and of the numerous and wide variety of opportunities that exist in the broad field of agriculture for young men who have a background of farm experience and training.

"We have had such an abundance of food in America that people are taking agriculture for granted," said William B. West, vocational agriculture instructor and FFA Advisor. "Actually, farming is now and always has been our largest and most vital industry, and it is becoming increasingly important with our expanding population. In our area, particularly, most of the businesses, and most of the jobs, are basically dependent upon surrounding farms for their existence. Take away the farms, and for all practical purposes you would destroy the entire community."

"We also want to point out," he added, "the very important part that agricultural knowledge and farm products have in the nation's world commitments."

Locally, members of the Seminole High FFA Chapter display various window cards in the stores of some Sanford merchants, plant several shrubs at the new nursing school, and to sponsor a program on the FFA for the sophomore boys at Seminole High.

Membership in the FFA is made up of students of vocational agriculture in high school and junior high. The organization's activities are designed to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship, and to stimulate the students to better achievement in their study and work toward successful establishment in farming or other agricultural occupations.

The Seminole High FFA Chapter has a membership of 35 members. The chapter officers are Mike Gibson, president; George Carlton, vice president; Don Patchin, secretary; Richard Justice, treasurer; David Cook, reporter; Storm Richards, sentinel; Richard Chellette and Dennis Brown, parliamentarians.

The average farm investment in land and buildings for each farm in Seminole County is $89,149.

'The Farm Front'

By DOYLE CONNER
Commissioner of Agriculture

TALLAHASSEE (Special to The Sanford Herald)—As the doors closed on another annual Florida State Fair earlier this month, it gave me cause to reflect on the value of all our fairs to agriculture and to the youth of our state.

More and more, the state fair is taking on a national, and in some instances, international flavor.

It is essentially our "Show-case" of agribusiness, attracting the leaders of agriculture and related businesses from throughout the nation and many foreign lands.

Not only does it bring together the state's farmers, manufacturers, suppliers and merchandisers, offering them an opportunity to display their wares, but it gives us a chance to acquaint the public with the major industries comprising Florida's economy.

While the other 41 fairs staged throughout the state by the Florida Federation of Fairs and Livestock Shows are equally important, the State Fair might well be termed a composite of these.

Through a program so varied, that non-agricultural people can keep themselves entertained for days, the State Fair affords something for the entire family: wholesome entertainment and the opportunity to share experiences with others with mutual interests.

It touches upon the lives of more people than any other single event held during the year, offering something for everyone: the housewife, the student, doctor and banker.

Each community, no matter how small, has the opportunity to display the best produced by its leading industry, whether it be citrus, beef cattle, dairying or horse breeding.

Officials indicated that this year's quarter horse show—the largest ever held in Florida might well be recognized as the finest pure bred horse show ever held in the state.

A farm news radio program originated from the Sun 'n Soil Building twice each hour during each day of the fair, informing a vast audience of the results of the judging and other agricultural activities.

Through the medium of the fair, members of Future Farmers, Future Homemakers and 4-H clubs throughout the state exhibit the skills they have acquired in producing food and fiber.

As you know, it takes good promotion to make a successful fair. This means hard work, from everybody from the director on down.

I believe this has paid off; for each year the Florida State Fair is a little bigger and a little brighter.

It has come a long way, since a small beginning in 1905 (which, incidentally, was considered a financial flop), to become the largest mid-winter exposition in the world.

And, I can say with all sincerity, that it now ranks among the best in the nation.

Although there may be fewer and larger vegetable farmers today, the total number of farms in Seminole County remains about 800, due to many new small citrus growers and nurseries.

Artesian Well Water Surveyed For Irrigation

(Editor's Note: Central Florida Experimental Station now is distributing a new brochure of its work. The first half of the brochure was published on this page last week. Here is the second half.)

Along with the study of fertilization practices, a survey of the artesian well water used for irrigation was conducted. This showed that the deep well water contained from 500 to 900 parts per million of chlorides. The use of irrigation water containing high soluble salts requires careful consideration of the nutrient ratios and rates of fertilizer materials. These must be adjusted according to the weather conditions to avoid an accumulation of excessive salts in the upper layers of the soil. Over the years, continuing nutrition studies of other vegetable crops—including cabbage, sweet corn, and carrots—have been made.

During recent years, there has been a decline in celery acreage, and a corresponding increase in cabbage production in Seminole County. In many cases where cabbage was planted in field that had grown celery continuously for a number of years, the cabbage became chlorotic and failed to produce marketable heads. Investigation showed that this chlorotic condition was caused by excessive amounts of copper in the soil. The excess copper had accumulated from use of Bordeaux mixture and other copper fungicides for 50 years. To reduce the effect of these high amounts of copper in the old celery fields, applications of chelated iron, use of fungicides that do not contain copper, and maintenance of high soil pH values were recommended.

Carrot production studies were started at the Experiment Station in 1956. Since then, there has been a continuing study of varieties adapted to the soils and climate of the area. Also, information from experiments on nutrition, time of planting, and weed, nematode, and disease control have contributed to the development of carrot production as a new agricultural enterprise of the area. Now, several hundred acres are planted each year on mineral soils for the processing market and on muck soils for fresh market.

The important effect of fungal and bacterial diseases on vegetable crop production was recognized early and resulted in appointment of a plant pathologist to the staff of the Celery Investigations Laboratory in 1927. Experiments at first mainly concerned diseases of celery, both in the seedbed and in the field. These studies contributed to widespread use of methyl bromide gas and several chemical drenches to sterilize celery seedbeds.

In recent years, the manufacture of agricultural chemicals have made a large number of fungicides available. Development of information on the most effective of these chemicals for control of celery, cabbage, carrot, sweet corn, lettuce, and pepper diseases, and proper use of these chemicals have been important factors in successful production in Central Florida.

Discovery that DDT is an effective insecticide for control of corn earworm by a Central Florida Station entomologist contributed to establishment of sweet corn as one of Florida's principle vegetable crops. Moreover, a host of chemical insecticides were tested and many were found to be highly effective for control of insects attacking beans, cabbage, cantaloupes, southernpeas, sweet corn, and other vegetables grown in Central Florida.

The first chemical residue studies on vegetables in Florida were conducted at the Central Florida Experiment Station. The search for more efficient means of insect control is continuing and will be supplemented in the future with studies of insect life habits. This research often leads to new and more effective methods of control and reduction in production costs.

A cantaloupe breeding project was initiated soon after an assistant horticulturist joined the staff in 1945. This has culminated in the release of the Seminole, a muskmelon of superior table quality that is resistant to powdery and downy mildew, two serious diseases of cantaloupes. Also, co-operative work with the Gulf Coast Experiment Station has resulted in release of the Floralon tomato, a high yielding, disease resistant, good quality variety.

Experiments with herbicides for control of weeks in vegetable crops being grown on mineral and muck soils have been in progress at the Central Florida Station since 1950. During this time a large number of chemicals have been screened for their efficiency as herbicides and their effect upon cultivated crops. As a result of these studies, recommendations have been made for use of chemical herbicides for weed control in celery, sweet corn, cabbage, leaf crops, soybeans, caladiums and other crops grown on the sand and peat soils of Central Florida.

Research conducted at the Central Florida Experiment Station by personnel of the Nematology Section, Agricultural Research Service, USDA, conclusively proved that, in addition to the rootknot nematode, there are several other plant parasitic nematode species which are serious vegetable crop pests. These studies, continued by a state-employed nematologist after withdrawal of the USDA workers in 1959, have included research on the biology of nematodes, on control of seed tubers, has greatly increased the yield and quality of the marketable crop.

Recommendations have been made for controlling nematodes which attack several vegetable crops grown on sand and peat soils. Soil fumigation was found necessary for successful production of carrots on both of these soils. The control of nemstodes attacking caladiums, both by soil fumigation in the field and by hot water treatment of nematodes, on nematocides for more effective chemical control, on application equipment for nematocides, and on control of nematodes through use of biological agents and hot water treatments.

Institutional Participation Seen In Market

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The "year of the institutions" in the stock market last year meant more commissions for brokers, but some of it was merely advance pay for a peck of problems in the future.

The ingredients of the problem are these:

—A dramatic rise in the number of small shareholders during the past decade or more in response partly to a New York Stock Exchange program to promote "corporate democracy."

—A dramatic rise in the trading activity and power of the institutional traders —the mutual funds, pension funds, insurance companies, banks and others.

It makes for some peculiar situations.

Taking note of the increase in the institutional share of total market activity, Keith Funston, Big Board president, noted in his annual report that:

"In the marketplace, the number of large blocks of stock — the trademark of the institutional investor — rose at three-times the growth rate of total volume."

This activity had some dramatic effects on the prices of shares.

In one day late last year, for instance, the price of Fairchild Camera dropped $10 as funds sold out suddenly. What happened to small stockholders who read about this decline the next day?

Critics of the institutions argue that the funds and others represent not only increased activity and increased commissions but stand also for a concentration of power. Institutions act fast, with superior knowledge and huge amounts of money.

Liquidity, one of the very reasons for the existence of stock exchanges, may be lessened through this activity. Exchanges bring together buyer and seller to cause a smooth transfer of stock. If stock is concentrated this may not be possible.

Although there are now more than 20 million stockholders in America, an exchange study showed that institutions accounted for 32.5 per cent of total share volume last Oct. 6.

Mutual funds, Funston noted, doubled their buying and selling rate in the past decade and now have a 34 per cent turnover in one year's time. Pension funds and insurance companies also stepped up their trading.

Funston conceded that the trend "is not without its problems."

"No investors," he comments in the report, "least of all an institution investing directly on behalf of large numbers of people, is a law into itself."

Institutions, he said, "probably will want to give more thought to the effect their transactions have on the companies in which they invest, and on the rank and file of stockholders."

This mild cautionary wag of the finger was followed by a reiteration of the exchange's responsibility, "to handle the orders for our customers when and in the amounts our customers wish us to. And this we intend to do."

The outlook is for greater institutional participation and small investor participation also, side by side, but in the view of some critics, in opposition also.

Court Tosses Out Rd. Bond Issue Suit

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—A long standing suit alleging that four state officials used their influence and public funds to promote former Gov. Haydon Burns ill-fated $300 million road bond amendment in 1965 has been thrown out by a circuit court judge.

It was the second setback for the plaintiffs, a group of senators and representatives, who had amended their complaint after Leon County Circuit Court Judge W. May Walker's first dismissal of the suit Oct. 28, 1965.

Time extensions for the filing of briefs and other court procedures had extended the period before the decision, released today.

Foreign Policy Proposals Hit By Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP) — An assault by some Republicans on President Johnson's "bridge building" foreign policy proposals took shape in the Senate today.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., sought to forge GOP backing for his proposal that the Senate refuse to consider separately treaties and bills designed to forge closer economic and diplomatic links with the Communist world.

Retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, an old critic of expanded U.S. troop commitments in Vietnam, is to discuss that conflict once again with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Hruska's immediate target is the proposed consular treaty with the Soviet Union. It is expected to face a vote in the Foreign Relations Committee Feb. 28. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he would put it before the Senate about a week later.

Approval would require assent by a two-thirds vote. Substantial Republican opposition could block early Senate action.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen repeatedly has decided to support the measure. Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., is attempting to round up GOP backing.

But Dirksen also is reported to have told Hruska that the idea of delay and a package approach to debate and action on foreign policy measures has merit and logic.

Hruska said the consular convention is the first in a series of "bridge building proposals . . . to be submitted to the Senate and the House on a piecemeal basis." He said the administration wants them handled that way.

The Nebraska senator said he intends to vote against the consular treaty.

It would set guidelines for the treatment of Americans arrested in the Soviet Union and Soviets detained in the United States. Those provisions would pave the way for the opening of one consulate in each country.

Hruska told the Senate Monday of his package debate plan. He said he will expand on that announcement in a Thursday speech.

Always Blame The Other Guy

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—"Coming home I drove into the wrong house and collided with a tree I didn't have."

That's one man's explanation of a traffic accident. Another: "A pedestrian hit me and went under my car."

Jeff Wooley, 46-year-old Vancouver tow-truck driver, has made a collection of such excuses, culling them from reports of accidents throughout Canada and from interviews with drivers.

Illustrating the view that it's always the other man's fault, he offers this gem:

"I consider neither vehicle to blame, but if either were to blame it was the other one."

Then there's the explanation of why the pedestrian was in the wrong:

"I knocked over a man who admitted it was his fault because he had been run over before."

Or: "The other man altered his mind, so I had to run over him."

Some drivers also blame the car. "I left my car unattended for a minute when, by accident or design, it ran away."

And there are plenty of miscellaneous explanations:

"I ran into a window and suffered injuries to my wife."

"I dodged a lady crossing the street."

"I thought the side window was down but when my head went through it I found it actually was up."

"She suddenly saw me, lost her head, and we met."

Clay Imported Herefords

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Statesman Henry Clay gave an assist to the beef cattle business in Kentucky, which now produces more than one million head a year for the market.

Clay imported the first Herefords into the state and by 1852 Kentucky cattle were rated prize offerings on the New York markets.

'One Man, One Vote'

From Longwood comes a letter written by a longtime Seminole and Florida resident asking what "one man, one vote" means.

The gentleman says he has asked an even dozen of his friends and neighbors, all of them registered voters. None of them, he goes on, can explain the phrase .

The Herald "can do a great many qualified voters a real public service" by a simple explanation, he concludes.

Then let's try.

In a sentence, "one man, one vote" means every qualified voter's ballot will have equal weight in electing the State Legislature.

Under the last reapportionment plan which the U.S. Supreme Court threw out, in some cases a state senator from one district would have represented three voters.

In another district, the senator would have represented four voters.

In some house districts, the ratio was 5¼ to 1; in still others it was 4-1.

One man, one vote means the State Legislature will now be elected as close as is humanly possible, without splitting counties, according to population exactitudes based on the 1960 census.

The Supreme Court insisted legislators represent people. The don't represent trees, cows and the alligators at the Sanford zoo.

Even the chief protagonist of reapportionment agrees the plan which the Miami Federal District Court approved was, in his words, "poorly thought out."

Miami attorney Dan Paul feels the court, or the State Legislature itself, could do a better job than the University of Florida professor who drew the court-approved plan.

To carry through all the way on the one man, one vote:

There are more house members than there are senators.

The district which includes Seminole for the one was not mathematically correct for the other. So it was arranged differently.

In the process of rendering its decision, The Miami court threw out such gimmicks as "weighed" or fractional votes for legislators and abolished residency requirements.

In other words, Seminole County could be represented by Five Orlando senators and eight Orlando Representatives.

It's clumsy, as are many mathematical answers to practical, every day problems.

The Herald still considers the court's decision ill-advised and poorly timed.

But that is the "why" and the "what" of one man, one vote.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Struggling along on a pitifully thin fiscal diet of $7.5 million for the current year, the National Teacher Corps probably will just quietly wither away if it does not get supplemental money in a few months.

President Johnson is asking Congress for $12.5 million to keep the corps alive and growing. A hostile, suspicious Congress seems ill-disposed toward voting anything like that sum.

Without something close to that total, the $35 million the President requested for the corps in his new budget for fiscal 1968 is a meaningless fairy tale figure.

The House is the big stumbling block and, with its 47 new Republican members, it is more conservatively weighted than the body which last October reluctantly accepted $7.5 million for fiscal 1967 appropriation tossed in by the Senate. The House itself had voted no funds at all for the program.

Congressional concern over the Teacher Corps is that it is, or could become, a weapon for the federal extermination of Southerners have seen it as potentially one more lever against racial segregation in their schools.

In its presently rather skeletal condition, the corps consists of something over 1,225 men and women who are willing and eager to undertake the teaching of disadvantaged children across the nation.

The immediate financial objective is to sustain their training program and start another 2,500. The President's call for $36 million beginning July 1 would allow further enlargement to nearly 6,000 corps members.

Among the present enrollees there are 262 veteran, certified teachers who on the average have taught in slum schools five years each. The rest are teacher-interns who serve under guidance of the veteran teachers on teaching teams which range in size from time to 16 but most commonly are around four to six members.

Corps managers describe the undertaking as a work-study program, with members spending part of their time in and around needy schools and the remainder studying at a nearby university. Interns are invariably college graduates who point toward a master's degree and state teacher certification.

Right now they serve in 275 schools with the aid of some 50 university training centers in 29 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. Two-thirds of the corps members are in urban areas, even though more than half of the school systems involved in the program are rural.

The corps gets around 60 new applications from interested people every day, but these will come to naught without new training funds.

To avoid the death of the program by April or May, the President and others plainly must persuade skeptical lawmakers that the corps is not a device for federal control. The The White House recently has been the scene of urgent talks.

Corps leaders insist that, in practice, the program has been strictly the creature of state and local authorities — that there is no sort of floating squad of teachers who can be assigned anywhere in the country or who would in any way disrupt the working of local school programs.

Federal administrators have had not trouble collecting more than 50 endorsements of the program from school superintendents, principals and state education officials in places where the Teacher Corps is functioning.

The need for help, properly managed under watchful state eyes, is evidently immense. Last fall, Los Angeles school authorities looking at the troubled Watts and other areas said they had 600 classrooms where teachers had not been assigned by opening day. Untold thousands of teachers want no part of the hazards and frustrations of teaching in disadvantaged areas.

The local and state endorsements, which include a few from the deep South, have the ring of truth in them. The only question now appears to be whether doubtful congressmen and senators will bear the sound in time.

Quick Quiz

Q—When did the United States discontinue the minting of all domestic gold coins?

A.—Stored in the form of bullion, gold has not circulated as money in our country since 1933. It continues, however, to serve as a standard of money value, 15.71 grains of pure gold corresponding to one dollar.

Q—What was the first American citizen to be declared a saint by the Roman Catholic Church?

A.—Frances Xavier Cabrini. Her canonization took place in 1946.

Q—Which planet has the greatest number of moons?

A.—Jupiter with 12.

Q—Which is the oldest organized college sports?

A.—Rowing. Since 1841 Oxford and Cambridge Universities have competed in annual contests over a 4¼-mile course.

Q—Which make of violin, the Guarnerius or the Stradivarius, is the rarer?

A.—Guarneris are rarer than Stradivaris. There were only about 155 of the Guarneris compared with more than 1,000 Stradivaris.

Analysis Of The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Talk without evidence is all so far from the efforts of New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison to prove a plot in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

But there are some bizarre twists.

The Warren Commission concluded Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the killing in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. There have been doubts about this ever since. Up until now Garrison has simply added to them.

He says he has no reason to believe Oswald killed anybody in Dallas that day. Last Saturday, giving no details, he promised five arrests and convictions, though the arrests were "most certainly months away."

Then Wednesday, after David Ferrie, a plane pilot of about 45, had been found dead in his bed in New Orleans, Garrison said he had planned to arrest Ferrie next week.

"Apparently we waited too long," Garrison said, although he called Ferrie "one of history's most important individuals." Ferrie's death was one of the bizarre twists. The other, in Florida, was the start of an investigation into the 2-year-old death of another man.

Garrison referred to Ferrie's death as an "apparent suicide." Coroner Nicholas Chetta said Ferrie died of a ruptured blood vessel in the brain but added that further tests were being made.

A note, found in Ferrie's dining room, said: "To leave this life is, for me, a sweet prospect. I find nothing in it that is desirable and on the other hand everything that is loathsome."

But — and this is written after consultation here in Washington with a physician who is an internist — it would have seemed impossible for Ferrie to write the note at all and then walk back to his bedroom after the blood vessel burst.

Yet, if Ferrie wrote the note, intending it as a farewell, how could he have possibly known that as soon as he got back to bed the blood vessel in his brain would burst? Blood vessels are not that obligingly timed.

Ferrie, no stranger to the Kennedy case, was questioned in 1963 shortly after the President's death by both the FBI and Garrison's office and was questioned again in Garrison's office last November.

Each time he was released. He said the FBI first became interested in him when a New Orleans man reported he had served with Oswald in a Civil Air Patrol unit under Ferrie. Oswald lived in New Orleans in the summer of 1963. Ferrie had lived there 15 years.

He repeatedly denied he ever knew Oswald and complained that Garrison had him "pegged as the get-away pilot in an elaborate plot to kill Kennedy." He called this a "big joke."

Pensacola authorities Wednesday began investigating the 1964 death of Thomas Henry Killam a sometime house painter, who died beside a broken store window with a slashed throat. The police at the time called it a suicide; the coroner called it an accidental death.

But now his brother, Earl Killam, asking that the body be exhumed for further examination, says the dead man feared he was being pursued by "agents" connected with the Kennedy assassination and fled Dallas in December, 1963, saying he knew he would be killed by "agents" he didn't name.

The dead man's wife, Wanda Killam, had been employed several years in a nightclub run by Jack Ruby, who killed Oswald and died last Jan. 3. She said her husband had been employed as a painter by a man who once roomed in a Dallas boarding house with Oswald.

Unless Garrison has a lot more that he hasn't revealed, none of this so far shows any conspiracy.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Freddy's father needs help, for he is dealing with a typical 2-legged dynamo. So learn the scientific strategy of wearing 'em out while you let them think they are having a wonderful time. With a little headwork in advance, you can tire them before they exhaust their daddy or grandfather! So use the booklet below to help do this.

CASE B-570: Freddy B., aged 12, worries his daddy.

"Dr. Crane, I like to fish," his father began.

"And Freddy wants to go along. So I generally include him on such an outing.

"But I am old-fashioned and use a bamboo pole with worms.

"Freddy gets bored within half an hour and then begins to make a noise or threw pebbles in the water, which scare my fish.

"So what can I do to solve my problem?"

CAMARADERIE IS FINE

Freddy's father deserves a gold star for trying to promote camaraderie with his boy.

But he fails to realize that children are so full of excess energy that they simply can't sit still very long.

They feel as if they will explode if they don't indulge in muscular action, which also explains their fondness for barbaric musical rhythms that permit a lot of calisthenic "Beatle" gyrations.

Freddy should be given a rod and reel, so he can keep casting while his daddy is pole fishing.

Also, let him row the boat, which usually delights such youngsters.

If the weather is warm enough, suggest that he swim at one corner of the farm pond or stream.

For I have observed fish closely and find that loud noises as well as diving and swimming at a distance of 150 feet, don't seem to disturb fish.

But any quick movement near them will make them dart away.

Thus, if Freddy stays in the boat and suddenly waves his hand, that quick movement of a white object will frighten the fish from his daddy's hook, dangling at the end of a 18-foot bamboo pole.

Whenever possible, parents should also "lean" on their youngsters for physical assistance and also for advice.

Instead of being the fountain of wisdom and always "bossing" your youngsters, profess doubt, uncertainty and then ask for suggestions.

Tell the children they may gather wood for the fire and under your careful tutelage, permit them to strike the match to start the flames.

When the picnic is over, let them carry water or sand to put the fire out before you depart.

Send them out to dig your bait or to collect catalpa worms and crickets or grasshoppers, rewarding them possibly with a penny apiece.

If you need to seine for minnows, let them handle the seine and sort out the minnows you plan to use on your hook.

Suggest that they catch frogs along the bank.

Let them run behind your car for a few hundred yards as you measure their speed, for this running wears them out much faster than merely sitting in the car or in your boat.

And, in Tom Sawyer fashion, make it seem an honor to carry the oars or other equipment. Wear 'em out and thus save your own limited adult energy!

I should know, for with 8 children and a flock of grandchildren to entertain, I have made a science of how to wear 'em out before they exhaust me!

So send for my list of "Outdoor Games for Children," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c.

Be foxy! Wear 'em out while letting them think they are having great fun!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Birds Consume Grain

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian Food Ministry did some birdwatching to estimate the loss of foodgrains caused by birds, then announced a crow takes 30 grams (1 ounce) per day, a pigeon 25 grams and a sparrow 8 grams.

The rat remains the worst villian in food-short India however, with an intake of 50 grams per day.

High Interest Bonds Will Not Disrupt Banks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department says its new high interest bonds won't disrupt banks or savings and loan associations and shouldn't block any possible lowering of private interest rates.

"Freedom Shares" at 4.74 per cent interest, go on sale May 1.

Banks and savings and loan associations late last year protested the new Treasury issue when the department contemplated a possible a per cent interest rate. They feared this rate would draw savings from them.

But the financial community Tuesday wished the Treasury well in its new venture with the note, to be sold only in combination with Series E savings bonds through the payroll savings or bond-a-month plan.

One savings and loan executive said the new note won't be a significant competitive factor for his industry because of built-in restrictions.

Treasury officials agreed that sufficient restrictions have been placed on the notes to prevent disruption of the private economy.

"It is expected that the dollars invested in Freedom Shares will be dollars that would not otherwise have entered the savings market," said Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler. Officials hope to borrow $1 billion in the next year with the bonds.

The administration tied sales of the new note directly to the Vietnam War. It will remain on sale for two years or until the war ends, whichever is longer.

Treasury officials said the interest rate itself is one restricting feature. The full 4.74 per cent won't be paid unless the note is held to full maturity of 4½ years. Lesser interest rates would be paid if the bond is redeemed early.

S & Ls already can pay up to 4.75 per cent on regular savings accounts and up to 5.25 per cent on savings certificates which mature in six months. Banks can pay only 4 per cent on regular passbook savings but up to 5 per cent on certificates of less than $100,000 and up to 5.5 per cent on certificates of more than $100,000.

Certificates of deposit are receipts for money left in a bank for a specific time.

Treasury officials said the new note is comparable to the certificate, although the interest rate is lower.

They note that the new bond must be held for at least a year before it can be redeemed. It doesn't begin to draw 4.5 per cent interest until its third year.

DeBary Church Has Ceremony

By MRS. JOHN LEONE

DeBary Community Methodist Church conducted cornerstone laying ceremonies for the new $70,000 educational wing and chapel in the presence of an overflow congregation, with Rev. Cecil N. Ogg, minister, and Samuel Paron, contractor, in charge.

Charter members of the church and church officials acted as guides to show the public through the various new rooms.

The new library is partly stocked and many have expressed the intent to donate books in the future. The new choir room has a music library, spacious closets for choir robes of both the senior and junior choirs, and adjoins the chapel. The chapel is decorated in lime green and contains comfortable chairs, tables and lamps, and a baby grand piano. A large fireplace, complete with hanging mirror, centers the room.

Eight Sunday School rooms, including the nursery, can be reached from outside so no class is interrupted during teaching period. An overhang is above rear doors to provide protection from rain.

At the present time, there are 150 registered in the Sunday School department. Edward Perry is Sunday School Superintendent and Edgar E. Corson is secretary-treasurer.

Candidate Quits Demo Primary

DELAND (AP) — A candidate for the state Senate withdrew because, he said, he discovered he inadvertently violated the Democratic Party loyalty voting oath.

The oath requires a candidate for nomination to state he voted for 90 per cent of the opposed Democratic candidates in the last general election.

Leslie Ferrell, who qualified as "poor ole Les" Ferrell as a contender for the Democratic nomination in Senate district 15, said he voted against Miami Mayor Robert King High in the Nov. 8 gubernatorial election. Ferrell said he thought the oath provided for voting for per cent among all the Democratic candidates, opposed or not. High was the only opposed Democrat on the Volusia County ballot.

Ferrell said he contacted Secretary of State Tom Adams' office and was advised to send a letter and telegram withdrawing from the forthcoming primary.

Bookie Deals Probe Resumed

MIAMI (AP) — Two prosecutors planned to resume today their New York-to-Florida pipers movement on bookie operations said to handle $110 million a year on sports wagers.

Nassau County (N.Y.) Dist. Atty. William Cahn and State Atty. Richard E. Gerstein, of Miami have been pooling information since the raid of a northeast Miami house Tuesday night, and arrest of the luxury home's owner, Martin Kane, on bookmaking charges.

Gerstein's office was closed yesterday but Cahn traveled on to Pompano Beach in quest of information.

This time, he said, he was gathering facts for an entirely different project — the Nassau County grand jury's probe of possible race-fixing and other irregularities at Roosevelt Raceway in Westbury, N. Y.

Cahn said he interviewed several harness racing drivers who live and work in Florida for the trotting and pacing races at Pompano Park. He declined to say whom he questioned and what he asked them.

A New Orleans fact-finding expedition also is on Cahn's itinerary, but he said he was unable to say exactly when he'd leave for the Louisiana city.

Bounty History Told By Adventist

By Maryann Miles

A program, including talk and film, on the famed "Bounty," which was donated to the Seventh-Day Adventists for use as a missionary boat, and its replica, located at St. Petersburg, was given by Mrs. Ruth D. Carnes at Vester Service last week of the Forest Lake Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

Mrs. Carnes served as public relations secretary for the church, both in Buffalo, N. Y. and in St. Petersburg, before moving to Florida Living Retirement, the Seventh-Day Adventist center in Forest City.

It was while living in St. Petersburg and after announcement of arrival date for the replica "Bounty," that she learned of the original ship's connection with the Seventh-Day Adventist religion. She spent some 200 hours researching the ship's history and wrote a manuscript which was published in the local newspaper's Saturday Religious Supplement in June, 1965, the day the replica was scheduled to arrive in that city. It now is anchored in Vinoy Basin in St. Petersburg and is visited by an average 500 persons each day.

The original "Bounty" is lying in waters off Pitcairn Island in the mid-South Pacific between Panama and New Zealand. The island, founded in 1790 by mutineers from the ship, has only four public buildings, a Seventh-Day Adventist Church, a government building, a post office, and a school. The present day islanders are descendents of the mutineers who followed Fletcher Christian in his mutiny against Captain Bligh nearly 200 years ago. In 1964, 95 of the 100 residents were Seventh-Day Adventists. The five others were a teacher and his family who had been appointed by the British government.

The Adventist religion was brought to the island in 1886 by John I. Tay, a seaman and missionary member of the church in Oakland, Calif. Tay was on the island only five weeks and by the time he left, all the islanders had accepted the religion.

Title of the film was "The Building of the Bounty Replica at Lunenburg, Nova Scotia." It was the second in a series Mrs. Carnes has shown locally and she is scheduled to speak and show the film again March 1 at Orlando Central Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

Mrs. Carnes is a retired elementary school teacher. She taught more than 37 years in New York City and Buffalo before coming to Florida Retirement Living, March 15, 1966.

She is now writing essays and adult and children's poems and stories, some of which have been published.

COPY of front page article on the "Bounty" and its replica, telling of the ship's importance to Seventh-Day Adventists, is displayed by Mrs. Ruth D. Carnes, author of the story. Mrs. Carnes was speaker for Vesper Services at Forest Lake Seventh-Day Adventist Church in Forest City. (Herald Photo)

THERE ARE SEVERAL KINDS OF SAVINGS ACCOUNTS. PICK THE ONES THAT MATCH YOUR NEEDS.

how to make your money work harder and go farther

Banks and savings institutions offer a number of different types of savings accounts. Any of them might be just what you need.

For simplicity, we'll put them in these categories: (1) Regular Savings Accounts — designed to motivate you to save by offering compound interest on the money you deposit. Such accounts are frequently used to accumulate funds to be used in the not too distant future. (2) Savings Certificates — designed to prompt you to put money into them and keep it there for a longer period of time without withdrawing it. They earn simple interest at a higher rate than regular savings accounts. (3) Special Savings Accounts — such as the popular Christmas Clubs. These are convenience accounts for those who need to save small amounts on a regular basis for specific short-term needs.

The interest you earn from these various types of savings accounts varies greatly. For this reason it'll pay you to know something about them, their uses, and how they work.

Regular Savings Accounts — Walk into any banking institution, ask to open a savings account, and this is the type you'll get. It will pay you a percentage of interest that is about equal to that paid by most other lending institutions in your area.

The interest you receive may change from time to time. But, it will remain competitive (or about equal) with interest offered by other institutions. Such changes in interest are usually caused by a shortage or abundance of money available for lending.

For instance, during "tight money" times when banks need more money to lend to ready borrowers, they'll offer higher interest rates to entice you to save. They'll pay you more for the use of your money, and they'll charge those who borrow it a higher interest rate.

Before you open a regular savings account check these things: (1) The interest rate — how much you'll be paid by the institution for the use of your money. (2) How the interest your money earns is computed — there are many different methods. Find out how frequently it is computed and paid. (3) Determine exactly when interest is computed and paid. This can caution you against making untimely withdrawals. For instance, if interest is computed and paid quarterly, any monies you withdraw from your account the day before the end of the quarter will not earn interest. If you must make a withdrawal before interest is paid, investigate the possibility of a short term loan. You may find that the cost of the loan is far less than the interest you'd lose by an untimely withdrawal.

A regular savings account can be a valuable asset. You can use it to build emergency funds. It may be the safest and most convenient way for you to assure a college education for your children. It's a natural for building ready cash for major purchases — a down payment on a home, a car, or a trip around the world.

In our Part II we'll discuss Savings Certificates and Special Savings Accounts.

* * * — Bill Allen

Regular savings accounts at the Florida State Bank of Sanford will earn you 4% per annum, compounded and paid quarterly. Savings Certificates under $1000 earn 4½% per annum. Savings Certificates in multiples of $1000 earn 5% per annum. Interest on Certificates is paid quarterly, semi-annually or annually as you specify. Any member of our staff will be happy to discuss our savings accounts, certificates and special savings plans with you. Dial 322-1611 in Sanford or 647-4293 in Orlando and vicinity.

J. RICHARDS ON DUFFERS AND DIVOTS

A golfer's delight to me would be to see my drive go down the middle of the fairway and be somewhere within shouting distance of my partners who hit much, much farther. Well, anyway not so these two golfers.

TWO HOLE IN ONES . . . ONE BY A GIRL YET!!!! EDNEA SEAY of Deltona banged-out her first are recently at the Deltona Golf and Country Club's par number three hole using a (what else?) three wood. Her hubbie, Charles, and two other ladies were on hand to witness the "tour de force," which covered 156 yards. (Charlie's gonna have something to brag about around the clubhouse for quite some time.)

Ednea is a member of the Deltona Women's golf association.

LAWRENCE E. ABBOTT of Miami, playing a round out at Mid Florida Golf and Country Club banged out his hole-in-one on the par three number 12, covering 186 yards.

Charles Treend of Miami, Stanley Larson of Plantation, and Dale Bare of Maitland were on hand to witness the triumphant moment. (Two in one column . . . my first hole's in one . . . boy . . . where's those 300 games, John?)

The unusual factor in Lawrence's shot was that it was made during this past week's rainy spell on Tuesday.

The names of our golfing hero and heroine will be sent in to "Golf Digest" for publication along with the circumstances surrounding their feats. At the end of the year there will be a contest for the most spectacular shot of the season. Good luck and see you in print, you elite duffers.

* * * *

Boy, that was exciting. Coach Joe Sterling of Seminole Junior College basketball fame teaches two classes of golf at Mayfair Country Club. He has 21 beginners and 11 advanced duffers in his sessions, from which some of the college's golf team will emerge.

Sterling has six matches for the team scheduled and try-outs, which will be open to all full-time students, will be held next week.

Coach Joe also has a tip he found to be most helpful in teaching his charges the correct way to golf. KEEPING THE HEAD DOWN. . . . "In teaching our beginners in the golf classes, one of the biggest faults is found in the student's not keeping the head static.

"The head is not static just to watch the ball, its primary purpose is to maintain body balance. We sometimes suggest that the students swing and count to five before they raise their heads."

* * * *

Have any of you duffers out there read the articles in "Sports Illustrated" about Desmond Muirhead's new concepts in golf course designing? It's really a fascinating subject.

Muirhead, instead of using conventions in designing his course, will go almost "far out" in some of his designs, such as the curved tee. (300 yards of tee winding its way around a pond to give a hole anything from a 210 yard drive over water to a 110 yard shorty.) It's definitely controversial, if anything.

* * * *

Art Kelley Jr., the teaching pro at Mid-Florida, will be going back on tour soon with his jumping off point to be the Orlando Citrus Open. From there he will compete in Pensacola, Jacksonville, Greensboro, North Carolina and Wilmington, North Carolina.

In his fifth year as a pro, Al has seen 41 states, England, Canada and Mexico while on tour. (Naturally, his hobby—besides more golf—is photography.) His wife, Norma and their daughter, Melissa see plenty of the country when hubbie is on tour.

* * * *

A big congrats go to Coach Buck Mette' Seminole High duffers for winning their inaugural match of the new season. Seminole defeated the Bishop Moore limksters at Dubsdread Golf and Country Club 192-204. Mike Utz's 41 was the top Sanford score. Keep 'em winning, coach.

Tuesday, Feb. 28, Seminole will travel to Rolling Hills for a match with intra-county rival Lyman. The Hounds have won every athletic encounter this year to date and the SHS limksters are going to try to reverse that trend. Look for some good golfin'.

The Sanford Women's Golf Association was "rained-out" with only a limited sampling of the "brave ones" in the Class C Division showing up. Myrtle Adams was the winner when she shot a birdie on the tough number 12 hole. This is definitely the roughest hole on the course for the gals (and lots of guys, too I might add.)

* * * *

Fay Reieford, of Deltona's Women's Association was the top duffer for the past three weeks and now it seems that those honors have been bestowed upon Minoka Midkiff.

Last week Minoka won in the weekly nine hole play and this week she repeated with a 46 to take the top low gross score. Blanche Nerely was the first low net and three gals came in second place—Ednea Seay, Pauline Rose, and Hazel McFadden.

The Deltona gals have been invited to a nine hole invitational tournament at DeLand Golf and Country Club Thursday, Mar. 2. Good luck and bring back the trophies.

* * * *

ROLLING HILLS NEWS . . . Saturday, Feb. 11, the men held a par battle tourney with Jim Woodward taking the top spot with 70 points. Dave Sefton was second with 68 points, Den Marrell and H. D. Rucker came in third with plus 55's.

Sunday, Feb. 12, Ken Burkhart's 41 won the nine hole low gross Sweetheart Mixer for the men and Wanda Chiles took the top honors in the fair sex division with a 55. Frank Hatcher and Mildred Beuthel won the low net divisions. Cliff Right's 18 putts were the best in the fewest putts category.

Saturday, Feb. 18, Al Vagles and Paul Gartside's 70 took the shot draw in the Blind Bogey. Ed Kulbaka and Dave Sefton's 80 was good enough for second. Jack Gaipa, Dave Jackhillish, Lew Munger, Ced Elsey, George Heunisch and Bill Bowers took the third spot with 77's.

. . . see you all on the course soon, I hope. And go out and get me some more hole's-in-one. I like to write "hout "my kind" of a good shot. Next Friday we will begin our features on the high school teams of Lyman and Seminole. . . .

SHS Track Team Hit By Injuries

Seminole High's State Championship track squad, although hampered by the loss of lettermen and State Meet veterans Al Peeples and Ken Martin, will be favored to win their opening cinder meet of the year.

The Seminoles will host Bishop Moore today at the Edgewater track in Orlando at 2:30.

Peeples and Martin's absence will hurt the relay's, taking away valuable experience and permit the Hornets a little better chance to score some points. Bruce McKibbin will probably take over one of the injured boys slots.

Many of the boys will have to serve double-duty in the events, and even more so to cover the loss of the two Seminole lettermen.

The weight and field events are starting to come around with Jay Stokes, Stan Hemphill and Barney Beadrick all throwing the shot well. Stokes is considered the best man in the discuss with Benny Bishop and Mason Wharton coming up fast.

Paul Hess is the high jumper, Sammy Parrish and Bob Repp do the vaulting and Darrell Vodopitch is the team's board jumper.

Next Friday, the Seminoles will host a four-way meet featuring Lyman, Oak Ridge, and Evans.

Senior Bill Frisby and Junior Howard Hunt will run in three events each and it is hoped that their performances will offset the loss of splinters Peeples and Martin.

High Hurdles 100—(Due to strained knee, Vodopitch will not run) Frisby, McKibbin, Bracken; Mile—Gibson, Hallback; 880 Relay—Hunt, McKibbin, Vodopitch, Frisby; 440—Griggs, Gardner; 880—Neiman, Gibson, Hallback; Low Hurdles—Vodopitch, Leggore; Sprint Medley Relay—Hunt-110, Leggore-220, McKibbin-330, Frisby-440, Neiman-220, Bracken, Griggs; Mile Relay—Hunt, Gardner, Gibson and Vodopitch.

NFL Ready For 'Draft'

HONOLULU (AP) — The National Football League was expected to set the date and format of the first common draft today, but the mechanics of the selection process remain an open question.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said the owners were "closer to internal agreement" after Thursday's prolonged meeting that ended with a long executive session. Rozelle said he expected the meetings to end today.

Oviedo Ready To Tourney Play

The Oviedo Lions begin tournament action tonight against Florida Military at Bunnell at 7 p.m. Saturday night the Lions hope to clash with the winner of the Bunnell-Father Lopez game to become the group champs.

The Lions have compiled a 17-7 win-loss record in regular season play. Of the 10 Class A teams the Lions played, they won six. Three of the victories were over OBC teams.

Simon Harper, who has led the Lions all season in individual scoring with a 28-point average, will lead the Oviedo quint from the pivot position. Harper has never hit below 50 per cent of his shots and has let fly for 66 per cent of his shots over the season.

In one of the forward slots for Oviedo will be Wally Jarnagan, the Lions' number two man in scoring and rebounding. Jarnagan is an outside shooter with a 15-point average and rebounds an even dozen per game. Opposite Jarnagan as the other starting forward will be Ted Jansen, who also is an excellent outside shooter.

Joe McClellan and Phillip Walker will fill out the quint in the guard positions. Both McClellan and Walker are lettermen in the effectiveness of Oviedo's defensive mainstay, the man-to-man full court press.

The seventh and eighth men for the Lions will be Roy Johnson and Rex Clonts. The remaining two reserves will be Tom Hurt and Hal Layman.

If the Lions can win the group championship, they probably will run up against Macclenny who beat the Lions last year in the region finals and went on to become the Class B state champions.

Strong Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., is making a strong bid for world honors in his rookie season as a professional tennis player.

"Dennis is terrific — his play in Australia has been outstanding," Wally Dill, director of the Professional Tennis Players Association, said today announcing the draw for the $15,000 pro tournament at the 71st Regiment Armory, starting March 2.

Oviedo JCs To Hear GM Of Minnesota

Bob Willis, the general manager of the Orlando Twins, and a surprise friend will be the guests of the Greater Oviedo JCs on Monday evening at 7:30.

Although the name of the visitor was not released, there is a strong possibility that it will be one of the members from the parent Minnesota Twins baseball team.

The meeting is scheduled to be held at the Town House Restaurant in Oviedo.

Clay Okays Title Bout

TOKYO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay has agreed to a title fight in Tokyo May 27 against an unspecified non-Japanese opponent providing "a lot of ifs" are worked out, his manager announced here Friday. The Japan Boxing Commission promptly poured cold water on the idea.

The biggest "if" is whether the commission will relax its rule barring title bouts between non-Japanese. The Japanese promoter indicated he was prepared to move the bout to some other Asian city, possibly Hong Kong, if the commission refuses to modify its rule.

Daytona Speed Weeks Come To $$ Climax

Turner, Petty Lead Field Of 70 In Stock Car Show

READY FOR DAYTONA 500 SUNDAY . . . Two of the top drivers in the upcoming Daytona 500 NASCAR Grand National circuit stock car race Sunday at the Daytona International Speedway will include (l to r) A. J. Foyt of Houston, Texas and Cale Yarborough of Timmonsville, S. C. The 200-lapper over the Speedway's 2.5-mile high banked trieval is worth nearly $200,000 in prize money.

DAYTONA BEACH (AP)—Curtis Turner and Richard Petty, assured of starting the $200,000 Daytona 500 in the front row Sunday were set to lead a field of 70 eager stock car drivers into a pair of 100-mile races today.

The races determine the rest of the lineup for the big money stock event of all time.

The only thing at stake today for Turner and Petty was the $1,100 in purses. Turner is a 41-year-old veteran from Charlotte, N. C., who set a qualifying record of 180.831 miles per hour in a 1967 Chevelle. Petty the 28-year-old Daytona 500 defending champion from Randleman, N. C., is driving a 1967 Plymouth.

The incentive was higher for Lee Roy Yarbrough of Columbia, S. C., Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., A. J. Foyt of Houston, David Pearson of Spartanburg, S. C., and the many other outstanding drivers who were to battle for the 56 starting places in Sunday's chase for the $55,000 first prize.

Andretti made an unofficial 162.8 mph on one practice lap around the high banked 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway Thursday in his 1967 Ford. Yarbrough hit 161.8 in a Dodge Charger and said he is having more of the ignition trouble that plagued him when he qualified at 178.276 on Feb. 12. Many of the top drivers will double in modified and sportsman type cars for the $20,000 Permatex 300 Saturday.

Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala., scored a double victory as all qualifying ended Thursday. He was fastest of the Grand National drivers at 175.080 in a 1967 Mercury Cyclone. Then he won a 25-mile sprint for the final six places in the modified-sportsman starting field of 50.

Message From Rocky: I'm Unhappy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rocky Colavito has a message for Gabe Paul:

Don't write or wire — phone.

The Rock sits at home in Temple, Pa., unhappy and unsigned as the Cleveland Indians begin spring training in Tucson, Ariz. A telegram from General Manager Paul remains unanswered. Reportedly, Paul wants Colavito to take a 25 per cent pay cut.

"The least he could have done," Rocky grumbled, "was to give me the courtesy of calling me on the phone as he promised last week. But, no. I figure he's just giving me the old business about this is it, take it or leave it.

"I'm not buying. I'm still here and I plan to be here for a while."

The veteran slugger hit only .238 last season, but had 30 home runs. He drove in 72 runs in 151 games.

There were those who did come to terms with their clubs Thursday.

Billy McCool, Tommy Harper, Tommy Helms, Chico Ruiz and Don Pavletich of the Cincinnati Reds signed as did Pittsburgh Pirate infielders Bob Robertson and Luther Quinn.

Steve Whitaker, rightfielder for the Yankees, returned his signed contract, leaving Elston Howard as the lone New York holdout.

Two Lead Panama Open

PANAMA (AP) — A pair of Americans took a two-stroke lead into today's second round of the Panama Open Golf Championship.

Labrie Harris, Jr., a former U.S. Amateur champion, and Richard Whetzle, a young professional from Baltimore, each shot five-under-par 67s in Thursday's opening round.

Texas Western Ready To Defend NCAA Crown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas Western, the forgotten team in college basketball, is back to defend its national championship in the NCAA postseason tournament and the Miners from El Paso aren't conceding anything to any team.

"The boys have been pointing for this all year," Don Haskins, the Miners' coach, said today after the NCAA had filled its 23-team field for the championship tourney opening March 11.

Starting one hour after the NCAA issued its at-large invitations thursday, the selection committee of the National Invitation tournament, the other major postseason tourney, landed seven teams, the 14-team NIT opens March 9 in New York.

Named to the NCAA, along with Texas Western, were Boston College, St. John's of New York, Virginia Tech, Houston, Davidson, Seattle, New Mexico State and the champion of the Ivy League, either Princeton or Cornell.

Syracuse, Providence and Utah State, three of the country's top independents, were tapped for the NIT along with Marquette, Memphis State, Rutgers and St. Peter's of New Jersey.

Louisville, Western Kentucky and Connecticut qualified automatically for the NCAA as conference champions. Eleven other conference champions complete the NCAA field, at present they shape up as Tennessee, North Carolina, West Virginia, Indiana, Kansas, U. of Pacific, Brigham Young, Southern Methodist, Toledo, Temple and unbeaten UCLA, the country's No. 1 team.

Haskins didn't mention the Bruins,' but he obviously had UCLA in mind when he said "the boys have been pointing for this all year, a chance to go back." Hardly anyone expected the Miners to upset Kentucky for the 1966 national championship, but they did. Haskins hopes his boys can go all the way again although UCLA, with its super-sophomore, Lew Alcindor, is favored.

A Saturday afternoon doubleheader at Blacksburg, Va., opens the NCAA tourney March 11. That night the first round will be completed with a single game at Kingston, R.I., and doubleheaders at Lexington, Ky., and Fort Collins, Colo.

Albert E. Davis of Los Angeles, national collegiate foils champion, captains the NYU fencing team.

Firings 'Stuns' Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Petitions urging the University of Illinois to fight for retention of three coaches, or withdraw from the Big Ten if their dismissals swept the state Friday.

The petitions rode the wake of University President Dirrer Henry's declaration Thursday that Illinois will appeal to conference faculty representatives in Chicago next week as edict of Big Ten athletic directors.

The directors ordered Illinois to fire football coach Pete Elliott, basketball coach Harry Combes and his assistant, Howard Braun, or else show cause why the university's membership in the conference should not be suspended or terminated.

Dr. Henry said that he considered this too harsh and will urge the perogative of appeal.

The university penalized itself by placing Elliott and Combes on probation and declaring 12 athletes ineligible in football and basketball after disclosure in December of irregular financial assistance from a $21,000 slush funds.

The entire Illinois football squad of 82 players signed a petition Thursday urging Dr. Henry's full support behind retention of Elliott.

The squad meeting was called by co-captains Ken Kmiec of Chicago and Ron Bess of Bloomington, Ill. The petition read:

"We, the undersigned of the University of Illinois football team, request that President Henry and faculty athletic representative Less Bryan, in the face of the statement of Mr. William Reed, commissioner of the Big Ten, vigorously support the retention of Pete Elliott as head football coach.

"While we are aware that a violation of the athletic code has occured, we feel strongly that the dismissal of Coach Elliott is an unrealistically and unreasonably severe penalty, reflecting undeserved discredit not only upon Coach Elliott but also upon the University of Illinois."

Kmiec and Bess said they have an appointment with Dr. Henry Friday to present the petition.

Ryun Sets Indoor Record

Pre-Meet Meal For Track Stars?

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Jim Ryun of Kansas ate sauerkraut, wieners and onion soup at his dormitory before setting an indoor world record of 1:49.3 in the half-mile Thursday night.

Maybe that ought to be a prescribed pre-meet meal for middle distance runners.

The 19-year-old Jayhawk sophomore was pointing for the race, the only one he ran in a dual meet with Oklahoma State.

"I cut down in my training a little this week," Ryun said. "This was the last meet for a long time that I'll have only one race. Next week I'll be working hard right up to the Big Eight meet."

Ryun, the world record holder in the mile at 3:51.3, has a pending world mark of 1:44.9 in the outdoor half-mile. All indoor marks are unofficial because of widely varying conditions.

He broke the indoor mark of 1:49 set last Saturday by ex-Oklahoma State star Tom Von Ruden of the Long Beach Oilers in the Mason-Dixon games at Louisville, Ky., on an eight-lap board track, considered possibly the best in the nation.

JIM RYUN

Ryun's race was on the dirt, unbanked Allen Fieldhouse lap out, also eight laps to the mile. His 220 times were 26.9, 27.0, 27.5 and 27.8. Before the race, Ryun told teammate Mike Sheahon:

"I want to run a real, real fast first quarter, then see what happens."

Sheahon asked Ryun how fast he wanted to run the first quarter.

"About 53 54 seconds," Ryun replied. Sheahon couldn't believe his ears.

"No I mean the first quarter, not the last," Sheaon said.

Pre-Meet Meal For Track Stars?

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Jim Ryun of Kansas ate sauerkraut, wieners and onion soup at his dormitory before setting an indoor world record of 1:49.3 in the half-mile Thursday night.

Maybe that ought to be a prescribed pre-meet meal for middle distance runners.

The 19-year-old Jayhawk sophomore was pointing for the race, the only one he ran in a dual meet with Oklahoma State.

"I cut down in my training a little this week," Ryun said. "This was the last meet for a long time that I'll have only one race. Next week I'll be working hard right up to the Big Eight meet."

Not Retiring,

HOLTSVILLE, Calif. (AP) — Jim Piersall, a 17-year old outfielder making a bid for his 20th season in organized baseball, just isn't the retiring sort.

So it wasn't surprising Thursday when the California Angels' controversial veteran enlisted former teammate Dean Chance and called the trade that sent Chance to Minnesota "the best thing that ever happened to the Angels."

Geneva Church Schedules Conference

By MRS. JOS. E. MATHIEUX

The Fourth Quarterly Conference will be conducted at the First Methodist Church of Geneva Monday at 7:30 p.m. The Conference will be directed by Dr. Joe Tolle of DeLand, district superintendent. Reports of various commissions and officers of the Church School will be presented. Preceding the Conference a covered dish supper will be enjoyed by those in attendance with serving to begin promptly at 6 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

A class in church membership training for young children was organized recently at the church with an enrollment of 12. The class will meet each Thursday at 4:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall and will receive further training as a Junior Choir, which will be allowed to participate once a month in the regular 11 a.m. worship service.

UPW Hears Talk By Retired Missionary

By Jane Casselberry

Mrs. Earl Harris, retired missionary, spoke on her 33 years experience serving in the Cameroons in Africa at a monthly meeting of the United Presbyterian Women of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Casselberry, Wednesday night.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Claude Dean and Mrs. Fred Fruehan, president, conducted the business meeting.

Refreshments of cherry pie a la mode, coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Lucas Grile and Mrs. Carl Shepherd.

Golden Circle Class Meets

The Golden Circle Class of the First Baptist Church, Sanford, met Monday evening at the home of Eva Mosteller for the regular monthly business meeting.

Mrs. Mary Rogers led the ladies in an opening prayer, followed by a devotional by Mrs. Carlton Henley.

Several items of business was brought before the class along with reports and future plans.

At the close of the session, the women were served delicious Valentine refreshments displayed on a red linen table cloth with white tapers in the center.

Members present were Mrs. Henley, Mrs. Linda Bose, Mrs. Dot Johns, Mrs. Fred Wilson, Mrs. Joe Douthitt, Mrs. Pat Miller, Mrs. Rogers, and the hostess, Mrs. Hostetler.

Space Age, Old West

WINSLOW, Ariz. (AP)—The Old West and the Space Age were only yards apart as Navajos watched demonstrations of a rocket belt designed to carry astronauts while on the moon.

The demonstration, on the Navajo Reservation northwest of Winslow, was performed by Textron-Bell Aerosystems.

One of the test employes was carried 115 yards by the belt and another flew up and over a butte.

Carolyn Smith Circle Meets

The Carolyn Smith Circle of Lake Mary Baptist Church met at the home of the chairman, Mrs. T. M. Whigham, who presided over a short business meeting. Mrs. Robert Wilkinson opened the meeting with the Call to Prayer, and prayer for missionaries.

It was decided to send washcloths to the Florida Baptist Children's Home at Lakeland. The Community Missions project for February was announced as visiting for the purpose of enlisting those not attending either Women's Missionary Union or circle meetings and names were also given out to contact.

Mrs. J. A. Varn closed the meeting with prayer and the hostess served refreshments to those named and Mrs. Harley Wilhelm and Mrs. Robert Scallorn.

Shepherd To Be Guest At Redeemer

Stephen A. Haboush, former Shepherd from Galilee, will bring his 500,000 Holy Land lecture at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, W. 25th Place, this Sunday at 7 p.m. Highly acclaimed, the Holy Travelogue in living color includes 150 of the choicest color transparencies. Everyone is welcome.

Mrs. Haboush will assist by presenting various Holy Land costumes and other items.

In the Sunday School session at 9:15 a.m. Haboush will give his message on the 23rd Psalm with his intimate and detailed knowledge of the shepherd life, as he himself experienced as a shepherd on the shores of the Sea of Galilee.

Free-will offerings will be accepted to help defray expenses.

Something In The Air At Pottstown

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Maybe it's something in the air, but there's some funny things, electrically speaking, going on in upper Montgomery County, Pa.

Robert Gruber, 70, of nearby Spring City, has a typewriter he says turns on his television set. After reporters confirmed it was so, Gruber said whenever the carriage of his typewriter is returned, the sound apparently activates a remote control device, and on goes the set.

[illegible] told several months ago every time the telephone rang, the set switched on. But the telephone company fixed that by changing the bell's tone.

And firemen in nearby Sanatoga learned why the remote controlled siren on the fire house has sounded several false alarms since Christmas.

The signal used to set off the Sanatoga siren is the same as one used for a siren in San Pedro, Calif. So, whenever there's a fire in San Pedro, 2,300 miles away, and weather conditions are right—there's a false alarm in Sanatoga, Pa.

To cure the problem, Sanatoga firemen are planning to install a special two-tone signal. But a reporter on the Pottstown Mercury called the San Pedro fire department and learned it also is considering installing a two-tone system for its siren.

ED GURNEY, U. S. Representative from Winter Park, will be the speaker at a Republican rally for legislative candidates [illegible] es March 1 at the Sanford Civic Center. Reception for the candidates will be at 6 p.m. and a buffet supper at 7:30.

Hour Of Sharing

U. S. Protestant churches have set a goal of $18,420,000 for the 18th annual One Great Hour of Sharing appeal for funds to support their programs of aid to the needy overseas. Observed annually on the fourth Sunday of Lent, One Great Hour of Sharing will be marked by more than 94,000 individual congregations throughout the nation March 5.

Ice Cream Social

The Youth Fellowship of Westminster Presbyterian Church of Casselberry will sponsor an ice cream social from 7 until 9 p.m. today to benefit its mission project. Sundae toppings, pie and cake will be served with the ice cream. The public is invited and the church is located on SE 430 in Howell Park.

Guild To Hear Discussion Of Health Course

By Julia Bartos

Siegfried Hildebrant, Orange County health mobilization coordinator will speak on medical self-help training at Monday's 8 p.m. meeting of the Woman's Guild of St. Mary-Magdalen Catholic Church, Altamonte Springs, in the First National Bank in Maitland. The public is invited to hear discussion on this program which has been endorsed by Civil Defense. Refreshments will be served.

It is planned by the Guild at a later date to sponsor a medical self-help 16-hour training course. Sessions of two hours each would be held once a week.

Jaycees Run For Offices

The club also has endorsed Gary Sowers for state president and Hattaway has been named his visitation chairman to visit clubs throughout the state in his behalf.

Plans for a bigger and better Fourth of July Festival already are underway with Tom Pratt and Hattaway named co-chairmen. It will be held at the same site on SE 436 in Altamonte Springs with daytime as well as night fireworks planned.

7 Objectives Aim Of Candidate

Seven candidates for the state Legislature who will be on the ballot for the first special primary on Feb. 28th have given three-minute talks to Sanfordites who will be casting votes in this first newly-redistricted election in the Orange-Seminole counties history.

While most of these aspiring politicians were from Orange county, this meeting of the Seminole-Sanford Jaycees in the Civic Center Thursday did hear from two Sanfordites. One was A. B. (Tommy) Peterson, running for a seat from the 43rd House district, who presented a concise statement of objectives, and Tom McDonald, presently state representative, who was absent because of a prior speaking commitment and was represented by [illegible] rien, an associate.

Mack N. Cleveland Jr., not seeking re-election, was chairman. The ground rules were simple: Three minutes for each candidate with a 30-second warning card to conserve time. Representatives from all the Sanford service clubs were in the audience as well as officers of civic organizations.

Peterson listed seven objectives to guide him, if elected. These are citrus marketing—"ship more fresh fruit"; industrial development—"let's make known what we have to offer" — increased tourism through improved transportation, conservation of natural resources and improved recreational opportunities.

Berrien called attention to the rather complete campaign circular issued by McDonald as the candidate's platform. This cited his record of office-holding in Sanford; city commissioner 1960-63 and mayor in 1963; awards—one of Florida's five outstanding young men in 1963; and with logical political weight his membership on five of the 1967 Legislature's committees—ad valorem taxation, banks and loans, judiciary D, local government and public school education.

Opposing Peterson, Tom Mooney, Orlando, cited his personal record—"I am anxious to work for and aggressively serve you. I believe in good, honest, quality government." Another seeking the 43rd House seat was Hoyt Webb, of Apopka. He opposes a state income tax, favors retention of the homestead exemption and is inclined to feel that this should be increased for those over 65.

Marty Sullivan, opposing McDonald, candidly recognized that in Sanford he is running against a "favorite son." Realistically, however, he pointed out the large percentage of the vote for that office will be cast in Orange county and implied he could snare a large portion of those ballots. He would ask Cleveland to give him advice and even "if it takes the fact of being a Seminole county resident to be elected, I'm not opposed to becoming one."

The 45th district contestants on hand were a Republican William L. Gibson, who argued that Governor Kirk needed Republicans in the Legislature to implement the Kirk programs and presented himself as a man who would do just that. Another was Democrat Mrs. Margaret C. Murray, Orlando-Winter Park realtor and active in PTA affairs. She asked for support on the basis of her intimate knowledge of school problems and the obvious need to better educational opportunities in Florida.

Another Democrat aspiring to the 45th district seat was John A. Baker, who introduced some smiles when he said that "I do not belong to an organized political party — I'm a Democrat!" but went on to seriously point out that with the new legally approved Legislature that body could start taking on the responsibilities of state government. In this he would like to have a hand.

At the end of the talks there was a question-and-answer period during which none of the listeners were spurred to ask a single question.

Club Celebrates Birthdays

By MRS. JOHN LEONE

The DeBary Garden Club held its annual Birthday Coffee recently at the DeBary Community Center. The Valentine theme was carried out in the decorations in the auditorium.

The February and March table was centered with a floral arrangement of red and white carnations flanked by tall white tapers in silver candelabra, silver tea and coffee service and trays of tea sandwiches and cakes. Mrs. E. B. Haigh, Mrs. J. Del Castillo, Mrs. Charles Billhardt, Mrs. William Ferguson and Mrs. Alta Clark presided.

April and May table was centered with a low bowl of Orange Trumpet Vine with twin silver service, trays of cakes and cookies. Mrs. James Askew, Mrs. Clyde Harris, Mrs. Kaufman, Mrs. Walter Vincent and Mrs. Harry Raup presided.

June and July table was centered with a tall floral piece accented with silver service and trays of cakes and sandwiches. Mrs. Gregory Kessenich, Mrs. T. Vassor Morton, Mrs. William Clark, Mrs. Bertram Strohmier, Mrs. Phillip Lounsbery and Mrs. John Byrn presided.

August and September table was decked in the picnic theme with red and white checked cloth and napkins and laden with hot mince meat pies, small crescent sandwiches, baskets of assorted sandwiches, relishes and deviled eggs. Mrs. Frank Swallow, Mrs. Stephen Paine, Mrs. Henry Lasher, Mrs. Charles Cottrell, Miss Agnes Crowley, Mrs. David Goeser and Mrs. John Park presided.

October and November table, in the fall theme, was covered with a dark green cloth and centered with a floral arrangement of fall flowers. A fruit compote was flanked by twin candelabra with each holding three tall orange tapers. Cream puffs, Boston brown bread, tea sandwiches, nuts and coffee cake were served. Mrs. Norman Miller, Mrs. James L. Wallin, Mrs. T. Leonard and Mrs. Donald Middleton presided.

December and January table was centered with a miniature Christmas tree. Tiny figurines and elfs were placed amid sprays of holly. Tall frosted candles flanked the centerpiece. Trays of coffee cakes, fruit and banana bread and sandwiches completed the table. Mrs. Charles Braun, Mrs. Claude Trussell, Miss Margaret White, Miss Agnes Caldwell and Mrs. William Lakeman presided.

OXJOINT OR OXTAIL STEW TIPS

What do you put in a stew made with oxjoints? Any of the seasonings and vegetables used for beef stew work well with this cut which may be new. Canned tomatoes, carrots, peas, beans, onions, potatoes and celery are some which might appeal.

What are good seasonings for this stew? Bay leaves are excellent with oxjoints; so are whole cloves, garlic clove and celery salt.

Mrs. Bert C. Moore asked that plants be selected now for exhibiting. They must be in the owners possession three months prior to the show.

Mary Ann Graham will present a program, "Flower Show Know-How" at the March meeting.

Mrs. Brisson presented the history of Begonias and her enlightening talk was enthusiastically received by the members.

Others attending the meeting were the Mmes. E. R. Wood, Cecil Davis, W. T. Cavanaugh, Norris Plank, E. J. Peeples, R. T. Thomas, Clarence Jessup, James Thompson, R. E. True, Frank Evans, Ira Southward, Joe Daniel and R. T. Hunt.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: After 15 years of marriage I am on the verge of creeking up. My husband is a good provider, BUT he believes that he is free to golf, night club with his friends, go out when he pleases, come home when he pleases, with no questions asked. And the wife is supposed to stay home, raise the children and keep her mouth shut.

For years I have put up with this for the children's saka, but last night he went too far. He stayed out all night! He claims he was playing poker, and didn't want to call me because he was afraid he'd wake me up. WAKE ME UP? I DIDN'T CLOSE MY EYES ALL NIGHT!

I am not old, fat, ugly or cold. I am thinking of leaving him. Can I put him out of the house, or must I be the one to leave? Doesn't a wife have any legal rights at all? I am sick of being treated like a doormat.

DEAR SICK: SICK OF IT We've gone together three whole flock of lovely legal rights with which an attorney would be glad to acquaint you. If you were to recite them to Rover Boy, I can promise you (a) a more considerate mate, (b) home at all.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Is there anything wrong with a girl making out just a little to keep a fellow interested in dating her? I don't mean a great big love scene or anything like that, just a little light necking and a couple of kisses during the evening, and maybe one extra special good night kiss?

STARTING TO DATE

DEAR STARTING: That's a dangerous game. The kind of "interest" you could arouse might cost you much more than you planned to pay.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have a very serious problem. I keep changing my mind about, so maybe you can help me decide.

My fiance lives about 600 miles from here, and we plan to be married this summer. We've gone together three years and we are really crazy about each other, but here's the problem:

Recently he sent me an engagement ring, and in plain words, I just don't like it. To tell you the truth, it looks awfully cheap, and I am ashamed to wear it. I love this fellow very much and don't want to hurt him, but what can I do?

ENGAGED

DEAR ENGAGED: Keep it and wear it. Perhaps it's the best he could afford at the moment. You need not be "ashamed" to wear the ring of a fellow of whom you're proud.

• • •

CONFIDENTIAL TO BETTE AND BUDDY: I would say that the best time for divorce is during the courtship.

• • •

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069.

The gray wool will make a more flattering and smarter dress; no trimming is necessary. But if you wish use gray sequins at the neck, sleeves and at the bottom. If used at the bottom, however, I don't think it advisable to use them on the sleeves. Have gray sandals to match the dress. If it is impossible to find gray sequins, try silver. Then you could wear silver shoes.

"Do you think a woman of 67 could fill the duties of a dinner hostess in a large restaurant? The hours are from 5:30 to 10:30 p.m. If I take the job, how should I dress?"—MRS. G. O'B.

I'll enjoy it. Just be gracious and helpful to the guests. I would think that a simple black dress with a string of costume pearls would be most suitable. And always have your hair beautifully done. Best wishes for a new career. (There are many jobs for mature women; just look around. When doing something for fun or financial gain, and they are sometimes the same, you feel younger.

Jacoby On Bridge

Jacoby and Son

The term "single suit play" applies when you must concentrate on one suit only. Your correct single suit play depends on the exact cards you hold and on the number of tricks in the suit you need.

South looked over dummy carefully and decided that he had very little chance to get more than four tricks out of spades, hearts and diamonds. Therefore it was up to him to try for five tricks in the club suit.

He won the first spade in his own hand and led a club toward dummy. West played the six and South played dummy's ten. When this held and both opponents followed to the ace, South had his five club tricks.

This play would not have been the best way to go after five club tricks if South had held the ten of clubs. In that case the normal play of ace-king-queen would have been correct. The reason the play was correct in this case is because South gets no value out of the ten of clubs in dummy unless he takes that first-round finesse. The play of the ace-king-queen produces five tricks only if clubs break 3-3. They break this way only 35.5 per cent of the time. The ten spot finesse produces five tricks any time West starts with Jx; Jxx or Jxxx in clubs. This happens 42 per cent of the time and a 42 per cent chance is a good deal better than a 35.5 per cent chance.

Suppose that South needs only four club tricks. How should he play? He should play exactly the same way. He can't win four tricks against five or six to the jack in the East hand. The first round finesse guards against five or six to the jack in the West hand and only costs that fourth trick against a singleton jack held by East.

We The Women:

Ruth Millett

"I've looked and looked and I simply can't find anything to wear," the middle-aged woman said sadly to the sales girl.

She didn't find anything at that shop, either, though she confessed she needed some new clothes badly and was willing to splurge if she could only find a few things she didn't look or feel absurd in.

There must be millions of women from age 50 on who are in the same maddening situation —needing clothes and having the money to pay for them—who are roaming from store to store trying to find something that doesn't call rude attention to their years.

In today's fashion picture they are the "left-outs," the ignored, the forgotten age group.

Children's clothes have never been more attractive. Teen-agers are offered so many "fun fashions" they would wreck the family budget if allowed to have all the clothes they covet.

Women young enough to look good even in outlandish, high-style, essentially ugly tent dresses made of op art prints in clashing colors can console themselves that even though today's fashions don't make them look pretty they don't need much help for that.

But for the woman who is no longer young—there's almost nothing. If she wants a skirt to nearly cover her knees she is told that length is "dowdy." If she wants colors that are muted and subtle enough to soften an aging face she can't find them. If she has the good taste and the good sense to realize that she has reached an age where she can't do much for clothes, but needs clothes to do a lot for her, she comes home from shopping trip after shopping trip empty-handed.

Why have designers decided that any woman 50 or over isn't worth designing clothes for?

Polly's Pointers

By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY—Some years ago I read that when or if a person's car was stolen there was often a delay in locating the vehicle if the owner could not supply the authorities with the motor number or at least, the lincense number. This item also stated that few people actually had this information handy. That made me realize I did not even know our license number. I wrote this and the motor number, as well as my husband's driver's license number, his social security number and insurance policy number in the back of my address book. On several occasions the information has come in handy.—MRS. R. S.

DEAR POLLY—I am 12 years old, and since I do not get an allowance to spend on such things, I have to make all the clothes for my Barbie doll. I have learned several tricks, such as gluing downy feathers on bottle caps to make hats and that when there are to be darts on the clothes the material must be cut a bit longer at the ends of the darts. I do not put a waistband on an A-line skirt but hem the top and sew on a ribbon belt for a hip-hugger skirt. When two shoes do not match, simply put white or colored tape on the toes.—NANCY

DEAR NANCY—The day will come when you will realize what valuable experience you are getting by having to make your doll clothes now. Before you know it, you will be "graduating" to clothes for yourself and will finding the sewing easy.—POLLY

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY—I want to know how to make an old, wrinkled face out of an apple. I once read such directions but do not remember how it was done and these make very cute doll heads.—MRS. B. R.

DEAR MRS. B. R.—This is a new one to me and I will be anxious to see if anyone knows how it is done. What happens when the apple spoils?—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I bought a printed plastic tablecloth (without a foam back) only to find it was much too large for my kitchen table. This gave me a terrific idea. I cut the tablecloth to fit the table and then made a window shade with the remaining plastic. I used a stapler to attact the plastic to the shade roller. My cafe curtains are a plain color and this little change at the window gave my kitchen a sort of custom-made look that is adorable.—SLICK CHICK

Youths' Power In Future Told

More than half of the population of the United States will be under 25 years of age within a few years, former Sen. Douglas Shenstrom told the Oviedo High School chapter of the National Beta Club at an assembly.

"More and more," the former county judge said, "we will find industry and advertising catering to the younger generation. And even politicians will be turning to the vote of the young people." He predicted that soon 18-year-olds will be given the right to vote.

Inducted into the club were Wally Jarnagin, Tom Hurt, Susan Jepson, Steve Lucas, Linda Lucas, Janet Clontz, Susan Janson, Polly Podmore, Ruth Bellhorn, Judy Genton and Penny Porter.

Basement Too

STUART, Fla. (AP)—The joy with which officials broke ground for a $48,000 Martin County Courthouse addition turned to chagrin recently when they found the county did not own the land.

"This," said County Engineer Fred L. Ball in a masterpiece of understatement, "sabotages the whole project from the ground floor up."

Beauty after Forty

by Edyth Thornton McLeod

"Dear Edyth Thornton McLeod: My neck ruins my appearance. I don't look my calender age in figure or face, but my neck! What can I do about it? Wear high-neck dresses all of the time?"—Disgusted.

Stop being disgusted and get to work on improving that neck. Send for my leaflet with its detailed instructions; follow the plan and, I think you'll be very pleased. To obtain a copy of "How to Youthify Your Neck," send me a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin. The high necks are good now; a high "turtle neck" rolled collar would be flattering while you are "repairing."

"What is smarter for a dinner dress for an after-40 woman—gray wool or gray crepe? And what for trimming? I'm tall and slender, and have gray hair."—Nina.

The gray wool will make a more flattering and smarter dress; no trimming is necessary. But if you wish use gray sequins at the neck, sleeves and at the bottom. If used at the bottom, however, I don't think it advisable to use them on the sleeves. Have gray sandals to match the dress. If it is impossible to find gray sequins, try silver. Then you could wear silver shoes.

TV Time Previews

Friday Night Movies. "Breakfast at Tiffany's." (1961) (Color) (rerun) Audrey Hepburn stars in the movie adaptation of Truman Capote's best-selling novel. It can't compare with the original, but Miss Hepburn does nicely as Holly Golightly, a somewhat nutty young lady trying to take New York by storm and keeping her spirits up by having breakfast at Tiffany's with or without the company of Patricia Neal, George Peppard, Mickey Rooney (as a Japanese) and Martin Balsam. Funny, gay and an Academy Award winner for "Moon River," the Henry Mancini song debuted in this film.

10-11 p.m. ABC. Special. "The Songmakers." (color) Produced by Stephen Fleischman, who last year presented "Anatomy of Pop," this is a study of the various kinds of strictly contemporary music— folk-rock, rock-'n'-roll, blues and classic folk—and the people who construct the songs. Composers, performers, singers are all represented, ranging from the great old traditionalists such as Johnny Mercer, Henry Mancini, and Sammy Fain through such groups as The Mamas and The Papas, Simon and Garfunkel, Burt Bacharach and Hal David and such performers as Judy Collins, Donnie Warwick, and Tom Paxton. The whole Chicago blues revival is captured with Smokey Robinson and The Miracles, Paul Butterfield, The Birds and the Blues Project. It is the intimancy and the immediacy of the film, including totally informal shots of a song in its birth throes, that makes this a good, concise and well explained documentary. Teenagers should flip.

7:30-8:30 p.m. CBS. The Wild Wild West. (color) West and Gordon are summoned by Professor McClennon, an oceanologist who is studying the rapidly increasing instance of tidal waves. Before they can get anywhere, the professor is murdered and they join forces with Avigail Pringle (Judy Lang), the professor's assistant. Alfred Ryder does his usually perfectly sinister job as Philo, a lover of sea life who seems to know a great deal about McClennon's work. Usual good passing scenes add to the suspense.

8:30-9 p.m. CBS. Hogan's Heroes. (color) Domestic strife ruins all of Hogan's plans in tonight's episode. He had counted on using Shultz as an unwitting courier to Heidelberg during the sergeant's furlough, but when Schultz brings his good friend (Barbara Morrison) to the compound they get embroiled in a spat and Klink restricts Schultz to the Stalag and cancels his leave. Pretty funny show.

8:30-9:30 p.m. NBC. The Man From U.N.C.L.E. "The Price of Fate Affair." (color) Sharon Farrell guest stars as Little Jacqueline Midcult, a nice girl from Ohio who has written a best-selling novel based on secret Thrush diaries. The poor dear gets caught in a scrap between our boys and the Thrush agents, in the course of which she is hit on the head by a stray bullet and suffers partial amnesia. In desperation Sole and Illya take her back to Ohio to restore her memory, but Thrush is always with them in the persons of Zarko and Judith Merle, (Theo Marcuse and Grayson Hall).

THE BIBLE,' five years in the making will open March 15 at Park East

'The Bible' Coming Soon

Sanford will have its first opportunity to see the long awaited film, "The Bible" beginning March 15, at the Park East Theatre, where it will be shown on a reserved seat basis. There will be two performances a day, at 2 p.m. and 8:15 p.m.

A 20th Century-Fox presentation, filmed in Deluxe Color, the Dino De Laurentiis production of "The Bible" tells the stories of the Creation; Adam and Eve; Cain and Abel; Noah's Ark and the Flood; the Tower of Babel; the Destruction of Sodom; and the Saga of Abraham.

Five years in the making, "The Bible" was directed by John Huston, one of the world's most distinguished film-makers. The screenplay was written by the celebrated playwright, Christopher Fry.

Dino De Laurentiis, who conceived and produced the film, has said that it was the goal or every one involved to depict the Bible with fidelity and respect. As a result, this marks the first time the Bible has been brought to the screen in continuity, rather than as an enlargement of a single story.

In the selection of a cast, De Laurentiis and Huston were careful to select the most suitable performers for each role. The cast includes two young newcomers Michael Parks and Ulla Bergryd in the roles of Adam and Eve; Richard Harris as Cain; Stephen Boyd as Nimrod, King of Babel; Peter O'Toole as the Three Angles of the Lord; George C. Scott as Abraham; and Ava Gardner, as his wife, Sarah. In addition to his responsibilities as director, John Huston plays Noah.

The talents of many renowned artists and craftsmen were also enlisted for the film. The noted Japenese composer, Toshiro Mayuzumi, worte the musical score. Katherine Dunham designed the dances to depict the ill-fated city of Sodom. Famed photographer Ernest Haas traveled around the world filming natural phenomena to portray the Creation of the World. One of Europe's finest film art directors, architect Mario Chiari designed and recreated the Garden of Eden, Noah's massive Ark, the Tower of Babel, and the ruins of Sodom.

In writing the screenplay, Christopher Fry conferred with representatives of the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths who advised the author on theological interpretations. This resulted in the fidelity to the text and universality of meaning which the producer was seeking in his film.

MICHAEL CAINE stars in "Funeral in Berlin," opening Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre.

Caine Returns

Caine stars in "Funeral in Berlin," while Hope and Avalon are starred in "I'll Take Sweden."

Double feature starting Thursday will be "Kiss the Girls and Make Them Die," with Michael Connors and Dorothy Provine, and "Out of Sight," starring Gary Lewis and the Playboys.

All these films are in color and are having their first Sanford showing.

Michael Caine doesn't care how many times he has to play Harry Palmer, the spy character he introduced in "The Ipcress File" and which he repeats in "Funeral In Berlin."

"I love the character," Caine noted. "And no matter how many times I play Harry Palmer, he's my safety valve. He's the chap who keeps me from being typecast.

"It's just the opposite of what happened to Sean Connery. He played James Bond in his regular style, without any special makeup or costume and that's who he is off screen, too. He had to grow a Clark Gable moustache and do a picture like 'The Hill' to get away from the Bond image.

"But, it's different with me," Caine explained. "I put on eyeglasses and a rumpled suit and I'm Harry Palmer. However, unless I put on those glasses and that suit, I'm Michael Caine. I don't have Sean's problems. My big star character doesn't look like me, he only resembles me. Sean's big star character is Sean. He's stuck with it."

Caine laughed.

"There are times when I feel like Superman," he chuckled, "only in reverse."

TABLE HOPPING

With JAN McCLUNG And DORIS WILLIAMS

So everybody agree that the "7 Seas Buffet" at TROPHY LOUNGE is out of this world! We told you so! For the benefit of those not "in," seven varieties of seafood (hot and cold) are served buffet style daily, from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the smoke lounge.

Also featured in the buffet are turkey and dressing, Swiss steak, Salisbury steak, cold cuts, a variety of sumptious salads, hot rolls and tea or coffee. Of course you can go back for seconds.

Attractive Charlotte is behind the bar during the day to mix your favorite cocktail, and genial ED and TONY sharing nighttime bar duties. Whatever your choice in beverage demands, the master mixologists will mix it.

LEON WALKER, food service manager, also caters to private parties, regardless of size, and serves a delicious dinner nightly.

FOR FAMILY DINING, you can't beat the TRADE WINDS CAFETERIA at Seminole Plaza. They enjoy having families and children and offer such a wide selection of good things to eat — even your "picky ones" will be intrigued.

Tonight is fish night at PINECREST INN — all you can eat for an unbelievably low price and bring the kiddies, at an even lower cost for them. With the fish feast, you'll be served crisp cole slaw, French fries, baked beans, grits, hush puppies, relish tray and tea or coffee. For the best buy of the century, try it for yourselves!

Monday's special includes platters of old-fashioned southern fried chicken with all the fixin's.

Homemade desserts at Pinecrest and the walk-up take-out window is open at all times. Thick, juicy steaks are a house specialty and the businessman's luncheon menu is changed daily. For fast, courteous service and excellent food in a relaxing atmosphere, Pinecrest Inn is the spot.

You never had it so good, even in the celebrated restaurants of historical old New Orleans! AL PHELPS is whipping up the eminent cuisine dish, "Chicken Country Captain," for his weekend specialty at PHELPS RESTAURANT. The French will hang their heads—and not to pray either!

The most discriminating gourmet will have a field day every day at PHELPS where the culinary arts are administered with gobs of TLC. Whether your taste buds crave American or foreign foods, Phelps Restaurant bears the hallmark of genuine authenticity. WE KNOW!

Hostess POLLY PHELPS (also general girl Friday) makes a carrot cake so heavenly that even the gods are envious. In fact, all of Polly's desserts are out of this world!

For rare and extraordinary dining, Phelps Restaurant takes great pride in preparing and serving deluxe dishes created by a master artist for "yours exclusively."

It's fiesta time anytime and all the time at the FIESTA RESTAURANT AND COCKTAIL LOUNGE, which is hostin' at the seams with exceptional foods, top-quality beverages and a charming atmosphere.

Hostess NINA, graciously welcomes one and all to the completely different restaurant and lounge with two pretty girls, EVELYN (days) and LUCY (nights) on hand to mix your favorite beverage with a touch of glamor.

Served on a sizzling platter, the house specialty, KC STEAK, is still raging like wild fire. The prime steak is as delectable to the palate as the price is to the pocket book.

For a different luncheon treat, try the business lunch and you'll definitely place your bid there for luncheon headquarters.

Don't call your travel agent to recommend a fiesta spot. Within a few minutes of home you'll be lounging with the food, drinks and atmosphere at the ever-popular Fiesta Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge.

The sensational entertainment at FREDDIE'S is attracting patrons from all over Central Florida to the plush STEAK HOUSE. Versatile and talented IDRIS EVANS, musician and entertainer, appears nightly in the Lamplighter Lounge in a medley of musical interpretations unknown previously in the area. He's terrific!

BILL ADLER, currently starring in the Gas Light Room, literally makes his violin talk and is a wizard with the musical strings.

We hope that host, STEVE LARSSON, is up to par again following his recent illness and is soon back on the post with lovely FRAN to greet the night-clubbers.

Everybody — yes, everybody is aware that Freddie's is Central Florida's oldest Steak House which prepares heavy beef only, charcoaled to absolute perfection.

So who could ask for more? Of course it's Freddie's for the ultimate in dining, sparkling beverages and fabulous entertainment.

The burger family at A & W ROOT BEER Drive-In continues to be the favorite of all ages and sizes. Whether you're a mama, papa, teen or baby, there's a juicy burger designed especially for you and prepared according to your specifications.

If you're not in the mood for a burger, MR. AND MRS. PLACKER, owners - operators, suggest that you try any of the tempting short orders on the interesting menu. They're all positively yummy!

Refreshing root beer is available to go in gallon containers with all the true flavor of the sparkling beverage sealed in for your drinking pleasure.

High School Held In Tent

CALIPATRIA, Calif. (AP) — What's it like to go to high school in a tent?

On the California desert, it's breezy.

Winter winds are obviously going to be a problem for the 325 students of the Calipatria Unified High School District — or "Caliput" as it's called.

Come late May, desert heat will take over. The canvas classrooms will become portable steam baths.

How did the youngsters of this Imperial Valley farming community get into such a predicament?

It began when the high school's main building — a two-story frame and stucco structure — was ruled unsafe in the event of an earthquake. Then, Feb. 14 a $1.3 million bond issue to rectify the situation failed by 27 votes.

District trustees — advised they would be personally liable for damages if an earthquake should hit — ordered the building evacuated.

State aid may produce portable classroom buildings eventually, but right now tents are the answer. Ten of them were leased from a Los Angeles firm for $5,300. These were set up Monday. The first classes moved in Tuesday.

"I don't like it too much," said Derla Wallis, 17, a senior studying journalism. "You don't know whether to take off your coat or not. The tents are drafty at the bottom and hot at the top."

A carnival atmosphere prevailed outside the classes. But not so inside the tents.

Mary Sherry, an English teacher, said of the students:

"At first they were so intense that we thought their feelings were hurt about moving out of the main building. But it was just that they were trying hard not to goof off."

"We think it is something we are going to have to put up with and we are going to do the best we can," said Judy Hillock.

Miss Hillock, a 15-year old sophomore, was apprehensive about the approach of summer, however.

"The sun beat down on the tents yesterday until they got very warm," she said.

Otto's Hof Brauhaus Grand Opening Set

The grand opening of Otto's Hof Brauhaus has finally arrived. Sanford's newest and finest restaurant (formerly the Capri) is rolling out the red carpet this weekend with festivities beginning tonight.

During the cocktail hour from 4-7 p.m. daily, tempting German hors d'oeuvres will be served absolutely free in the plush cocktail lounge. Otto's caters to you a complete line of German and American beers, your favorite domestic or imported wines and of course the mixologist will blend your favorite cocktail.

Owners - operators Otto and Hilde Kukowski have introduced authentic German foods to the area and distinctive diners will also find a wide variety of famed American specialties, prepared to perfection.

Entertainment is superb! America's foremost organist and pianist, Bob Lehmann, will greet first-nighters with the ultimate in musical versatility. The talented Mr. Lehmann is renowned for his big band impressions and house-rocking arrangements featuring unique sounds. His musical personality came to true light in his interpretations in TV's Route 66 and he has done extensive recording with Capitol.

For exceptional entertainment, elegant dining and plush atmosphere, Otto's Hof Brauhaus is tops in the area and is on the same par with the most fashionable of metropolitan night clubs.

Air Service Seen For Area

NEW SMYRNA BEACH (AP) — A master plan designed to expand and coordinate air service in east-central Florida has won approval of the Regional Planning Council, an advisory body.

The council took its action Wednesday. The plan envisions full-service airfields at Orlando, Daytona Beach and Melbourne and fields to accommodate short-run and short-takeoff aircraft at Orlando, Vero Beach, Kissimmee, Leesburg and Titusville-Cocoa.

They're Not Well

NEW DELHI (AP)—A student welfare seminar at Delhi university was told 25 per cent of India's college students suffer from some organic or functional disease and that one per cent have tuberculosis.

Horoscope Forecast

SATURDAY, FEB. 25, 1967

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until midafternoon no details seem to work out rightly. If they do, later events can change them unsatisfactorily, so use the daytime to plan for the future. You then find the evening is unusually good for anything concerning health, apparel, furnishings and the little things of daily living.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A co-worker can be very annoying with chatter about this and that during A.M., but you have ideas as well. Await the evening to discuss them. Keep busy at work until quitting time, otherwise you get restless.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) [illegible] arguments, do so in a cheerful and constructive way. Evening is apt to be very calm and smooth, though. Get your work perfected during day hours. Off to recreation in the evening.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) Although day may be replete with all kinds of frustrations, you rise above them with equanimity, but tonight can be fine with kin at home. Show tact in dealing with a bore. This can be a very good social evening.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) Making sure to go over all statements, accounts, is wise early, then you are able to enjoy the company of some good friend, neighbor, etc. Long talks can prove very profitable then, but not during day. Get house in order.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) Morning appointments with bankers, business persons, etc., seem endless, but later you feel satisfied and happy. Keep busy, show that you have abilityy. Intuition is best followed in the evening.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have some dull work to do in A.M., so get it done without fussing. Evening augurs well for having a truly happy time. Showing higher-ups that you are very charming improves your position with them.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can easily rid yourself of tensions by being conscientious in all you do. A romantic evening is then in the offing. Make certain to handle both personal and business problems.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Forgetting the social and concentrating on getting personal duties handled is your best bet in A.M., Some friend could disappoint you during day, also. Then tonight, all changes.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't jump into activities in the business world pell-mell, and don't be critical of others. Some civic duty is good, though. Evening is best time for the social, showing others that you are a wise, clever person.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Go after data you need during A.M., and tonight you can make big strides in whatever direction is most important to you. Change your attitude and show ingenuity in making new plans. Be more friendly.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't follow that erroneous intuition, which could lead you in wrong direction, but carry through with whatever obligations you have. Show that you are a sensible person. You then come to a fine understanding with mate or sweetheart in P.M.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Associates in every sphere of your endeavor seem very preoccupied during day, so await the evening before consulting with them. Then they cooperate easily. Get your work done well, be efficient, interested.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those fascinating young ones who is a stickler for neatness and orderliness, so be sure to encourage this quality and permit to keep room and wardrobe as neat as a pin. Laboratory work, the field of research, dentistry are all fine here, be your progeny male or female. Dietetics is also an excellent field. A serious, fine person is in this chart.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

SUNDAY, FEB. 26, 1967

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful day and evening for you to get together with those important to you. Make sure they realize you are willing to cooperate and coordinate your efforts with theirs in anything requiring joint participation — especially where neat touch or fine finish is required.

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) You need to come to a better understanding with partners and this is a good day to do so in a social way. Discuss vital matters. Also look into reasons behind the attitude of close ties toward you lately.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You have to be quite artistic in order to show others that you truly appreciate them. Make sure your surroundings are charming, and discuss [illegible] ideas with co-workers pleasantly at home. They concur.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are thinking so creatively now that you can make the right plans for the future, which bring you real success. Show affection for family. Tonight can be most delightful in a social way. Be gracious.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Doing whatever will lessen the stress under which you have been living at home is wise. Some thoughtful gift for a close tie brings gratitude unbounded. You are devoted but sometimes fail to show this quality tangibly.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Out to places where you can feed your spirit and then join with people you like, admire, enjoy. Be sure to call on that person you desire to have better social relations with. Show that you are a sincere, good person.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Follow through on what good advisor has to suggest and you succeed, besides gaining good will. Right analysis of duties to be performed in the coming week makes your planning much easier. You can then carry through with energy and enthusiasm.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have some personal aim—this is a good day to go after it. Express your desires — people are not mind-readers. The social is vital to you now, so be out and add to prestige, standing, in the community.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Use your intellect and you know how to solve problematical affairs of a spiritual nature. Mate wants to show affection. Don't be so preoccupied with other things. Happiness is very important right now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't jump into activities in the business world pell-mell, and don't be critical of others. Some civic duty is good, though. Evening is best time for the social, showing others that you are a wise, clever person.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Go after data you need during A.M., and tonight you can make big strides in whatever direction is most important to you. Change your attitude and show ingenuity in making new plans. Be more friendly.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't follow that erroneous intuition, which could lead you in wrong direction, but carry through with whatever obligations you have. Show that you are a sensible person. You then come to a fine understanding with mate or sweetheart in P.M.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Associates in every sphere of your endeavor seem very preoccupied during day, so await the evening before consulting with them. Then they cooperate easily. Get your work done well, be efficient, interested.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those fascinating young ones who is a stickler for neatness and orderliness, so be sure to encourage this quality and permit to keep room and wardrobe as neat as a pin. Laboratory work, the field of research, dentistry are all fine here, be your progeny male or female. Dietetics is also an excellent field. A serious, fine person is in this chart.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1967

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when you just can't seem to get others to do what you want them to. It's best not to force issues or to work all kinds of obtuse angles, although you are strongly tempted to do so. Concentrate on getting every thing about you in fine fettle and charm others with a smile.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) —Associates can go against you now if you are irritating in any way, so be sure to have a compromising attitude. Many things occur that help you to know how to relieve loved one who is upset. Show loyalty.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) —Co-workers do not cooperate very well now so don't be forceful, but a compliment well aimed clears everything up. You have boring work to do, but you can make it interesting easily. This could also be lucrative.

GEMINI: May 21 to June 21) —You are feeling restless and want to rush off to some new interest, but this would only jeopardize your present security. Be careful where recreation is concerned, also. Get into whatever is wholesome and inexpensive—sports are wonderful.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21)— Show that you have conscience where kin's interests are concerned, and be careful you don't think into arguments. Get rid of whatever is keeping you from adding to present security. Be smart.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) —You have to make very sure to walk and drive very carefully or you could easily get into trouble right now. Think before you speak, also, otherwise big arguments could ensue. These are best avoided if you want to maintain equilibrium.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) —Although you may feel you cannot enjoy the recreation you desire because of lack of funds, you find that you can easily if you study your position well. Get your surroundings improved, also. Be alert to what is current.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) First analyze what your true aims are and then take the right steps to achieve them, without disturbing others, in any way. Avoid the social for now. You need to be better prepared for such.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)— Although you like to do investigative work, make sure you don't stir up the resentment of others, especially one who does not want affairs pried into. Help one who is having the blues. Be understanding kind.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)— Don't make the mistake of needling others into carrying through with social plans you may have, which are not quite right just now. Some personal aim in all you do very good right now, either. Stick to business.

CAPRICORN: Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)— Be very careful not to upset a higher-up who has it in his, or her, power to take away support you need very much. Taking any chances with business or reputation is unwise. Show that you have tact.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)— Although anxious to get out to new places and situations, this is not the right time to do so. Stick to what is tried and true. Avoid that greedy person who tries to get unlegitimate but are best for recreation tonight.

PISCES: Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Although you have many duties to perform that are not just to your cup of tea, they can be the right steppingstones to greater success. Showing others you evaluate them properly gets their good will. Be very fair.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she, will be one of those charming youngsters who is desirous of keeping his, or her, life on a very high level of consciousness, and should continue in this ideal even when great difficulties arise during the lifetime. Tecting neatness and precision is very important during childhood, particularly where professions of a social nature are concerned.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Barred Sunday Drinking

First efforts to close drinking places on Sunday were made in the 15th century, during the reign of Henry VI of England.

B.C. Coins Found

JAIPUR, India (AP)—A shepherd boy found an earthen pot containing 50 silver coins which archeologists say may have been issued in the third or fourth century B. C., and which may be the oldest silver coins yet found in India. Jaipur district is in northwestern India, bordering the Great Indian Desert.

Meyerheer's last opera, "L'Africaine," has for its central figure the famous Portuguese explorer, Vasco da Gama.

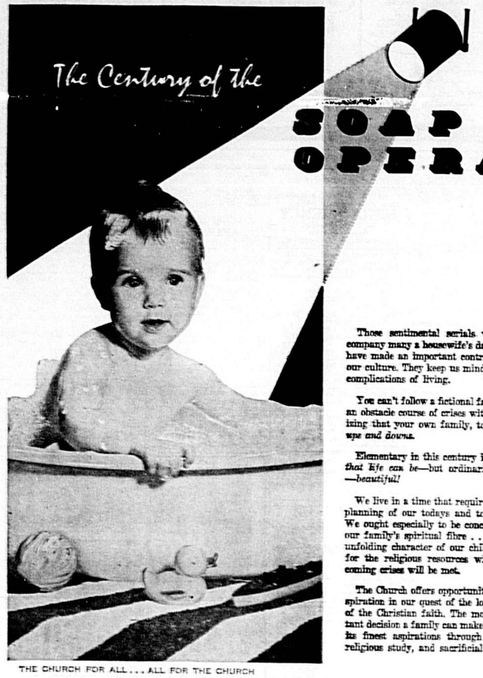
Come to Church Every Week



THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday

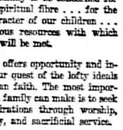
Copyright 1967, Leisure Advertising Service, Inc., Rossburg, O.



Those sentimental serials which accompany many a housewife's daily chores have made an important contribution to our culture. They keep us mindful of the complications of living.

You can't follow a fictional family over an obstacle course of crises without realizing that your own family, too, has its ups and downs.

We live in a time that requires serious planning of our todays and tomorrows. We ought especially to be concerned for our family's spiritual fibre . . . for the unfolding character of our children . . . for the religious resources with which coming crises will be met.

The Church offers opportunity and inspiration in our quest of the lofty ideals of the Christian faith. The most important decision a family can make is to seek its finest aspirations through worship, religious study, and sacrificial service.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By LARRY YERSHEL

I took my daughter to the legislative hearings Saturday but she wanted to go back to the zoo . . . We sat in the back as the candidates outnumbered the citizens . . . Don't understand why the hearings were held in advance of the election . . . I wonder how many of those who made decisions Saturday will be there after March 28 . . . At least the same number of alligators will be at the zoo April 1.

* * *

A good attorney and friend (so we thought) called the local paper a scandal sheet at the hearings . . . Okay, if sticking your neck out to keep the people informed makes you a scandal sheet then we admit to it.

* * *

If letting the people know about secret meetings . . . (there was a City Commission session Friday night at 6:30 . . . One member forgot about it and had to be called . . . (see if it had been in the paper he would have remembered)) then we are a scandal sheet.

* * *

This paper is not for the guys in city hall . . . or the courthouse or at the school offices . . . It's for the small few who are vitally interested in what's going on in their county . . . Ah, enough of all this.

* * *

Shake up in one of the city departments. Probably will break within the next 24 hours. Could break it now but out of courtesy for the department head we'll wait one more day . . . and probably get scooped . . . Scandal sheet . . . (Ha).

* * *

Has anyone seen Pepe? Black French poodle lost in the Idlywilde, Ravenna Park area . . . Gotta get him before the Humane Society does.

* * *

The Orlando Sentinel editorial page Sunday already is talking up a move to join Seminole and Orange Counties . . . Remember this when you go to the polls tomorrow . . . And heaven help us if every registered voter doesn't go . . .

* * *

The County Commission won't ask for a pay raise this legislative session but that sparsity on Fulton Street hinted they may push for an auto expense hike.

* * *

A pair of thieves broke into the audio visual school building on Pine Street over the weekend and carried off some five TV sets and other equipment . . . Community Action uses part of the facility but the thieves knew better than to enter those offices.

* * *

The county is trying to abolish the office of the JP and constable and, lo and behold, Peace Justice Hugh Duncan asks for a raise . . . Says he's the only fulltime peace justice here . . . How about the afternoons he spends at the Jai-Alai fronton as judge.

* * *

Remember my telling you all about that dope ring ready to be smashed here a few weeks ago . . . Well, the first step—Arrest of two peddling "benneys" at a truck stop on Orlando Drive. Both men were out-of-towners and 2,000 stimulant pills were seized.

* * *

A letter was mailed from the Florida State Bank to the Sanford Herald on Feb. 21. It got to us on Feb. 25. You figure it out.

* * *

Now I know why the Seminole Timing Association is in bad trouble. An ex-officer took off with about $4,000.

* * *

Two dance bands and Melodee Skating Rink are sponsoring a dance from 7 to 9 tonight for the benefit of the Heart Fund. All proceeds go to the drive. Bands are "The Tentacles of Time" and "The Goree De Tales."

* * *

An assistant coach had to be escorted off the court at the basketball tourney here the other night . . . That's the way to teach the kids sportsmanship!

* * *

Al Lee who has been on the zoning board since 1952, will turn in his resignation to the City Commission tonight.

Duncan Asks Pay Hike

HUGH DUNCAN

tive delegation to pass a bill raising the salary of "full time" JP's to $8,000 per year. They presently receive a maximum of $7,500 a year.

Duncan also requested the jurisdiction of his office be expanded to "criminally" has the power to try cases calling for maximum fines of $100 and 90 days imprisonment.

In answer to questions from the delegation he declared he "would prefer to be off the fee system."

Charles Davis Walker of the Lake Mary Fire Control District appeared to request authorization be given the directors of the district to obtain life insurance on the members of the volunteer department and on the equipment of the department.

The delegation indicated the request would be given favorable consideration and instructed Walker to have the county attorney draw the bill for their perusal.

The reported possibility of the county seeking legislation to appoint members to the port authority and hospital board of trustees brought a negative response from former County Commissioner James Avery.

Avery praised the local hospital board as being "conservative and wealthy and influential men."

"I would hate to see appointments to this board taken out of the hands of the governor and placed in the board of County Commissioners," he said.

J. E. Grant of Longwood took exception to Avery's remarks and declared, "While I am neither wealthy nor influential, I am a large taxpayer and would prefer the board to be appointed locally. The people in the south end of the county have no representation on the hospital board."

The County Commission is reported to be seeking an attorney general opinion before introducing legislation to have these positions appointed locally.

Port Funds Jeopardized?

The current movement afoot statewide to earmark race-track funds for education may bring failure to the Port Authority's proposed legislation to guarantee $60,000 annually out of racetrack funds to the port, the legislative delegation told Gordon Frederick, port attorney.

Under the original port bill passed by the Legislature in 1965, .5 mill of taxation is permitted for the Port Authority. However, the addition legislation is needed to "back up the port's financing program."

The delegation, in looking for an alternative plan in the event racetrack funds are not available, asked if ad valorem tax moneys can not be guaranteed.

Frederick explained a referendum would be required to make such guarantees and declared, "We could not pass such a measure through referendum until Hell freezes over because of the lack of progressive thinking in this county."

The delegation assured Frederick it would make every effort to pass the legislation to guarantee the racetrack funds.

Legislation was also requested permitting the authority to return moneys "it deems surplus" to the county general fund.

Threat Of Complacency

There is little doubt that the overwhelming majority of residents and voters in Seminole County favor the election of Tom McDonald and A. B. Peterson Jr. for two legislative seats for the Orange-Seminole delegation.

Both men find themselves in a completely different political battleground. They must battle Democratic candidates tomorrow from a county that has five times as many voters as Seminole.

As McDonald offer themselves for public office in this special election, it is important that each voter in Seminole County reject all overtones of complacency.

There are some 22,000 registered voters in this county. Our only chance to get a voice in Tallahassee is a mass vote at the polls . . .

In addition to voting, local supporters should make contacts with friends in Orange County seeking support for both Peterson and McDonald.

These two men are capable and well versed in government. We fully endorse their candidacy for election to Florida House of Representatives.

Light Turnout Expected In Legislative Election

Five party contests will be decided by Seminole and Orange County voters Tuesday in the first party primaries in the special legislative election ordered on reapportionment by the U.S. court at Miami.

Leading the ticket will be two Seminole residents, A. B. Peterson Jr. running for the 43rd district and Tom McDonald seeking a seat in the 8th district.

Only a light turnout of electors is expected in both counties. Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Associated Press reported from Tallahassee that bars and package stores may remain open for business.

Democrats will decide four races:

Senate 18th District—Bill Gunter (D) and Bill Wieland.

House 43rd District— Peterson Jr., Don Asher, Tom Mooney and Hoyt Wells.

House 44th District—McDonald (D) and Marty Sullivan.

House 6th District— John A. Baker and Marjorie Murray.

Republicans have only one contest to decide, William L. Gibson or Robert M. Sheckler for the House 44th District seat.

Unopposed candidates in the party primaries do not appear on this ballot. Run-off vote, if necessary, in the Democratic race for the House 43rd seat will be held March 14.

General election for the three Senate seats and eight House seats will be held March 28.

New Cool Air Mass Coming Here

A. R. LORMANN

Area residents should not be lulled by a warm trend moving in this afternoon and Tuesday . . . a new influx of cool air is expected to spread southward over the state Wednesday and Thursday. This will be followed by another warming trend Friday and Saturday.

Some damage was caused to crops in the area this morning when the mercury dipped to an official 29.5 degrees just before dawn. There were reports of 25-28 temperatures east of Sanford and 22-24 recordings West of the city.

Young eggplant and pepper will have to be replanted. Some lettuce was damaged while some still is marketable. There were reports that there was ice in the cabbage.

There were reports of new citrus growth being nipped but nothing serious. Tomatoes were hurt but it is the tail end of the crop.

Sanford Public Hearing Due
Redefining City

Public hearings of all the freeholders to be affected will be required before Sanford will be permitted to "redefine its city limits" Sanford City Attorney William C. Hutchison was reminded by the Orange-Seminole legislative delegation.

The remarks were made by the delegation in answer to local legislation proposed by Hutchison to permit the city to square up the present "hodge podge" of the city limits.

Hutchison explained a number of areas are completely surrounded by the city while others proposed to be annexed by the bill are receiving city services already.

Rep. Henry Land stated, however, "The only fair and just action that can be taken is for all the freeholders affected to be notified and heard in public hearing."

Favorable reaction was given on the city's proposal to annex the Naval Air Station reservation through a bill. Hutchison explained, "The city dotated the property originally for the military reservation and 500 acres of the 1600 acre reservation is already within the city limits."

Charge NAS Man After Road Mishap

A navy man has been charged with failure to obey a stop sign in an accident which took place Sunday evening at Old Lake Mary Road and 25th Street and resulted in $1,400 property damage.

According to FHP Trooper Jerry Hawthorne, Sheridan D. Steeps attached to RVAH-3, Sanford Naval Air Station ran a stop sign at the intersection of Old Lake Mary Road and 25th Street and struck a car driven by John W. Wilkins of 109 Idlewilde Drive.

Damage to both vehicles has been estimated at $1,400.

In the city, a Merritt Island woman was charged with careless driving Friday after she slammed into a parked car on Sanford Ave. and Eighth St.

The driver was identified as Jessie B. Hastings. Damage to both cars was estimated at $700.

Sanforde Faces Charges

A 79 year-old Sanford resident was charged with improper right turn in the aftermath of a three car smash-up on Sanford Ave. and 25th St. last Thursday.

Charged was Elijah Walters of 2002 French Ave.

Trooper Jerry Hawthorne said today the investigation, which also involved a police car, has been closed. One person was slightly injured in the crash.

Longwood Told Referendum A 'Must'

No referendum—no charter, legislators told Longwood Mayor A. R. Lormann Saturday at public hearings held in the courthouse to hear requests for local legislation.

Longwood's plan to adopt a new charter for the city without referendum bit a roadblock when incumbent legislators as well as candidates in the audience unanimously agreed Longwood would have no new charter unless provisions for a referendum is included.

Lormann requested permissive legislation be passed so "we can adopt the charter if the people want the charter."

Rep. Henry Land reported a petition containing 214 names requesting a referendum on the charter had been received from the Longwood Citizens for Progress Association.

The new charter for Altamonte Springs was presented by S. J. Davis Jr., which calls for public hearings and referendum. The delegation indicated the charter would be approved.

Indication of approval for Oviedo's new charter was also given to Council chairman W. H. Martin. Referendum will be included.

Heart Sunday Nets $1,500

Heart Sunday funds totaled approximately $1,500 this morning with roughly 50 per cent of the areas still to turn in collections, Eoghan N. Kelley, president of the Seminole-DeBary Heart Association, reported.

Areas still to be turned in, as listed by Mrs. Linda McKee, chairman of Sunday's drive, include those in west south Seminole County, the Mayfair section in Sanford, and Geneva and Osteen.

County Housing Code 'Frightening'

Wording in the requested legislation of the County Commission for a minimum housing code was termed a "bit frightening" by Rep. Bob Attwood of the Orange-Seminole legislative delegation Saturday.

The bill, giving the county the right to condemn and destroy houses deemed to be health and safety hazards, met with opposition from the delegation. In addition Mrs. Robert Bradford, of Altamonte Springs, who stated she was appearing on behalf of the "colored people," stated the proposed law is "dangerous and putting the colored people in fear for their homes."

Commission Chairman John Alexander reported the intent of the bill is to protect the health and safety of the county and is only intended as a "minimum housing code" and would be modified.

Rep. Bill Pollard intisted while he is "in agreement with the intent of the bill, I want a public hearing on the entire bill before it is considered."

Other legislation requested by the County Commission were:

Raising maximum charge from $10 to $15 for journeyman electrician and plumbers tests;

Michofilming and destruction of old records;

Creation of a jury commission and local government study commission;

Air and water pollution controls, in the event no state-wide legislation is adopted;

Dredging and water controls providing adequate regulations for altering shorelines;

Emergency ambulance service to be provided by the county if private ambulance services go out of business;

Authority to create special improvement districts;

Creation of office of medical examiners.
