Both Bergstrom and the Seminole Memorial Hospital were honored when a color picture photographed for postcards for the Hospital Auxiliary, was chosen as the cover of "Florida State Plan", an annual publication issued by the Hospital Department, Florida Development Commission.

Bergstrom Photo Service has also done the photography for the Seminole High School Year Book.

Florida Delegation Pushes Canal Support

More than a score of witnesses appeared before the Board of Engineers, River and Harbors Board, in Washington this morning to testify that the economic value of the Sanford-Titusville Canal is far above that set by district engineers. Technical and economic figures presented by Col. Herbert Gee, consultant to the St. Johns-River Improvement Association and by Prof. R. W. Brabury, professor of Economics, University of Florida, set the ratio of benefits to cost at 2 to 1. The ratio set by a Congressional committee in 1955 should be 1 to 1. Governor LeRoy Collins, in a strong statement to the board, read by J. Bralley Odham, said "The vast growth and potential of the state of Florida make it more and more imperative that the state develop as rapidly sound inland waterway transportation routes. The proposed Sanford-Titusville Barge Canal would open up Port Canaveral and facilitate the supplying of several national defense installations in the area with petroleum and other necessities. As governor of Florida, I hope this project will be found feasible and consequently its construction expedited."

It would make a corresponding saving in this transportation expense. Under the terms of our charges for service to our customers, such reductions would be passed on directly to our consumers," he said.

City Fathers To Hear Reports, Requests Tonight

The Sanford City Commission will meet tonight at City Hall. Business on the agenda includes a report on the cost of widening Sanford Ave. a request of radio station WTRR to reacquire their lease or to sell them the land upon which the station is located, and consideration of the contract with the Florida Development Commission for the services of a planning consultant.

Other business discussed will be the Sanford Gas Company's petition to grant them a franchise, the transfer of funds necessary to construct a patio at the Civic Center, and a request by James Gut Jr. to put diagonal parking on Magnolia from First to Second St.

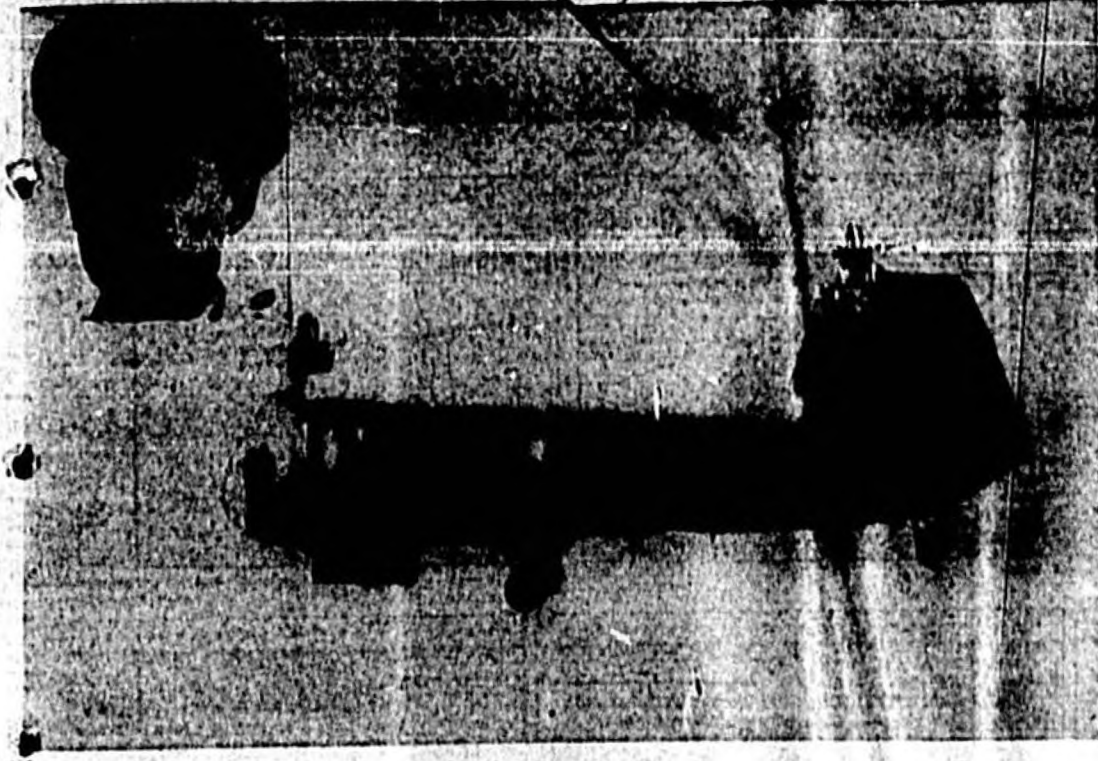

The resolution authorizing the loan application to HIFA for the "Bazaar-Tennis" project, private operation of the municipal cemetery and several ordinances will complete the agenda.

Ordinances include first reading: vacating of an alley-way in Grace line Court sub-division; prohibiting junkyards and trailer parks within the city limits; and destruction of public property.

Second reading: licensing of bookkeeping, tax consultants etc. when not part of other employment; prohibiting signs designating the price of gasoline and other petroleum products within 15 feet of a public right-of-way and in keeping with the state law.

ON THEIR WAY TO Washington to testify in the Sanford-Titusville Canal hearing this morning were Judge Volie A. Williams Jr., J. Mirion Harman Sr., John Krider, Jack Muddock, Orange County Commissioner; and J. Bralley Odham. (Photo by Bergstrom)

NAS 'Copter Takes Part In Search For 3-Year-Old Tot

NAS Sanford's search and rescue helicopter crews were alerted Saturday before dawn on Saturday in response to a call from Brevard County officials to assist in the search for tiny Judy Peterson who disappeared from her home in Rockledge early Friday afternoon.

At first light, the helicopter was launched with Commander Laurence L. Hamrick at the controls and crewmen J. T. Askew Jr., ADJ, and B. J. Bibby Jr., aboard. The NAS Sanford joined in the largest manhunt ever staged in Brevard County.

The manhunt was precipitated when little three-year-old Judy Peterson wandered away from her home shortly after 3 p. m. on Friday and ended 18 hours later when the blonde, blue-eyed tot was found, frightened, but unharmed in a palm tree.

Airman S/O P. N. Thomas of 1st Air Force Base actually found little Judy at 8:30 a. m., thus ending the manhunt in which helicopters from the Civil Air

TALLAHASSEE (UP)—At least three persons were killed in traffic accidents on Florida highways during the weekend, the Highway Patrol said today.

Patricia Landreth, 16, Fort Pierce, was killed Sunday when the motorcycle on which she was riding collided head-on with an automobile at Fort Pierce Beach.

Storage Terminal To Be Located Here

In order to better serve its fertilizer customers in the lower Southeast, Nitrogen Division, Allied Chemical Co. is planning to install a large-volume nitrogen solution storage terminal in Sanford. Work is scheduled for completion in late summer.

The terminal will store Urea and Nitrate solutions and will be located on the St. John's River.

Nitrogen solutions will be shipped to the terminal by barge via the Inland Waterway from the Division's manufacturing plant at Hopewell, Va. Shipment from the terminal to customers will be by rail and tank truck.

Nitrogen Division is the original and largest manufacturer of nitrogen solutions in the United States. Its plants are located in South Point, Ohio, and Omaha, Nebraska, as well as in Hopewell, Virginia. Nitrogen solutions are used in the manufacture of mixed fertilizers and for direct use by farmers as a nitrogen fertilizer.

"Florida has been served by Nitrogen Division's Hopewell plant for many years; and installation of the terminal at Sanford, as well as one going in at Jacksonville, affirms the Division's aim to constantly improve that service," a Division spokesman said.

Russia Urged To Join Arctic Inspection Plan

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP)—President Eisenhower today urged Russia to join in a military control inspection system for the Arctic zone as "a significant first step" to help reduce tensions and the mutual fears of surprise attack.

In a letter to Russian Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, the President also renewed his appeal that Russia agree to East-West technical studies on control or suspension of nuclear tests and general disarmament.

Eisenhower noted that the United States had proposed in the United Nations Security Council that there be set up an international inspection system for the Arctic zone.

"Your support of this proposal and subsequent cooperation would help to remove a significant first step," the President said.

Reduce Tensions

"It would help reduce tensions, it would contribute to an increase of confidence among states, and help to reduce the mutual fears of surprise attack."

Declaring that the United States "is determined that we will ultimately reach an agreement on disarmament," the President noted that he had proposed the technical studies, in an April 8 letter to Khrushchev.

"You say that we must first reach a final political agreement before it is worthwhile even to initiate the technical studies," Eisenhower said. "But such studies would, in fact, facilitate the reaching of the final agreement you state you desire."

The President said solution of the technical problems necessarily would take time. He bluntly added that he was "unhappy that valuable time is now being wasted" by the Kremlin's refusal to agree to such studies.

The technical studies, the President said, "would include the practical problem of supervision and control which, you and I agree in any event indispensable to dependable disarmament agreements."

They were "necessary preliminaries to putting political decisions actually into effect," the President said. Completion of these in advance of political agreement "would obviate a considerable period of delay and uncertainty."

Conferred With Dallas

The President's 750-word letter was made public here shortly after it was delivered to the Soviet foreign office in Moscow by U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson.

The President was winding up a long weekend of golf and work at the Augusta National Golf Club. He put the final touches on the letter during a two-hour session at his desk Sunday in the vacation White House on the club grounds.

2 Young Children Found Living Alone On Houseboat

CHICAGO (UP)—Authorities today sought the father of two children found living alone on a disreputable houseboat in the Chicago Sanitary and Ship Canal.

Lt. Nathan Klein of the sheriff's Police Youth Bureau said he found John Kelly, 9, and his brother, Eager, 8, sleeping on the houseboat Saturday. He said they had been there since a week ago. "I wouldn't have a dog like this," Klein said.

He said the boys told him their father, Howard, had left with a friend to visit his wife Ruth, who lives with six of their nine children on a farm near Bristol, Va.

The boys were taken to the Arthur J. Judy Home for Children.

Klein said the boys' sister, Carol, 20, worked as a waitress in a restaurant near Midway Airport. He said Carol told him she did not know her father had gone to Virginia.

Chief Cleveland stated today that few fires are caused by children attending school, since the fire prevention program has become prevalent. During Fire Prevention Week, children are given forms and check out safety factors in their homes.

Firemen reporting to the scene were Chief Cleveland, Assistant Chief Thomas, Lt. Crow, J. T. Bennett, B. L. Beckley, J. B. Holloway and B. L. Gilbert. The report was made at 9:30 a. m. Firemen were back at their posts at 9:30 a. m.

Storms, Tornadoes Rip South

By UNITED PRESS

Flooding rains, damaging hail storms and tornadoes ripped the South in the heart of a widespread storm system ranging from the Gulf Coast northeastward to New England.

Texas, hardest hit by the week-end storm, counted at least three dead in accidents blamed on the weather.

More than 35 Texas families were forced to flee their flood-washed or threatened homes.

Rain Sunday and early today extended from southern New England into South Carolina, west into the Ohio Valley and southwest through Tennessee, northern Georgia and Alabama and through Mississippi, Louisiana and eastern Texas.

Apparent tornadoes flicked from black clouds in Texas, Mississippi and Kansas.

Tornado winds ripped the roof from a school near McKinney, Tex., Sunday, accompanied by a hail storm that damaged homes in the area. Officials estimated storm damage at McKinney and nearby Frisco at $175,000.

A twister also damaged several homes near Vicksburg, Miss., Sunday, and others struck near McDonald and Colby in northwestern Kansas, causing minor damage.

Dead in the Texas storm were a Negro couple, who drowned Saturday when their car was washed into a creek near Dallas, and a woman killed in a traffic crash during a driving rain near Fort Worth.

The rain was heaviest in the South where College Station, Tex., recorded 1.34 inches in six hours Sunday, and Lake Charles, La., was soaked with a 1.69-inch rain.

New Post Office Facilities Could Be Paid For With Savings

Who would attempt to cook dinner three days on an old-fashioned stove? And would a modern businessman send his salesman out on the road in a 1918 model automobile? Or would you attempt to fly from Sanford to San Francisco in a 1918 model airplane used during World War I?

There are very simple questions to answer and each one of them would come up with a resounding "No!"

In the first place, housewives don't have the time to cook on an old-fashioned wood stove. Neither does the man-of-the-house have the time to get up at 8 a. m. to start the fire going, get the water hot, and start an old-fashioned coffee pot to simmering for the usual morning cup before taking off for the business or office.

And as far as the other questions are concerned—it would cost too much money in the first place, and secondly, the prestige of using such outmoded, outdated, old-fashioned equipment just wouldn't do.

That's just the way we think about the Post Office in Sanford!

It's old-fashioned, outdated, out-of-style and outmoded. In the days of the horse and buggy, when the watering trough was located at the intersection of First Street and Palmette Avenue, the Sanford Post Office was the most modern structure one could want.

Today, the outmoded structure, 40 years old, is attempting to serve five times the number originally designed for the facilities. It is out of repair, there are no modern conveniences, and parking space is practically nil.

Frankly, in this age, when emphasis is on economy, there is no doubt that a modern building, in an area to which many more people could be attracted, the savings in the cost of operation alone would perhaps construct the new facility that would better represent the Post Office Department of the United States of America.

The local delegation visiting Washington some time ago requesting that action be taken by the General Services Administration to furnish Sanford with a new Post Office, the efforts of Senator George Smathers, and perhaps the efforts of many more, will have effect on those responsible for a new Post Office for this area.

This is the time for new construction, a post office that would service, not the present population, but many times more than the present figure.

Perhaps those most interested—those who are cognizant of the huge growth expected in the Sanford area—would like to express their thoughts to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield.

That's one way to get your message across. Make more business for the post office and write!

A Little Mistake? Tragedy!

The catalogue of mistakes a driver can make on the open road is long. Some are so plain, only the wisest ever make them; some are so casual that few realize the trouble they can cause.

One of the most dangerous in the casual category is swinging onto a main highway from a side road or a roadside stop at an ill-fated moment.

In Raytown, Texas, that happened the other day, with terrible results. The driver of an automobile whipped onto a main artery, right smack in front of a big gasoline truck.

Cut off, the truck driver jammed on his brakes, causing his tank-trailer to jack-knife and skid sideways across the road. Behind the truck drove a woman with her four children. She, too, hit the brake pedal hard. But she couldn't stop. Her car plowed broadside into the truck.

The gasoline exploded; the truck awayed and toppled onto the woman's car. The woman, her four children and the truck driver died in that inferno of flames.

Possibly unaware of what happened, the operator of the first car drove off, down the road and on his way. But on him—or her—rests the responsibility for this terrible tragedy. Five lives sacrificed!

It occurred because that driver—the driver of the first automobile—like countless others, was too thoughtless and impatient to observe the rules, or never even learned how to enter a main highway.

The rules are simple, rooted in sound common sense. You never pull out directly in front of an oncoming car. You wait for a space big enough for you to slip into, without forcing the next car on the road to reduce its speed sharply.

Admittedly, these judgments can sometimes call for delicate calculation of speed and distance. But such measurements are the very heart of good driving. And if you can't make them, any highway is a death trap for you and all the others you might involve.

None of us should ever drive onto a main road or highway as if other drivers either could or should stop for us. To assume that is to invite disaster like that which struck near Raytown.

Even closer home is the accident in Slavia, Easter Sunday night. Two cars smashed headon injuring all five occupants of the automobiles. One car attempted to pass another—and not watching—pulled directly into the path of the oncoming car.

As a result—two are dead.

Tragedies such as these can be avoided. But it is up to every automobile driver to observe caution—not just one or two,

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay

My friend Joe Sutherland, public relations consultant of Ft. Lauderdale, is viewing the so-called recession with genuine alarm. He thinks it is a phony and will get out of hand and develop into a boom if we don't mend our ways.

He got that way by watching a gang of workmen busy as beavers building a brand new luxury apartment on the $100,000,000 Galt Ocean Mile on the Atlantic Ocean, the Edgewater Arms, being built by the Radice Construction Corporation.

This 16 story structure will be one of the tallest and most imposing on the fabulous Gold Coast with 88 cooperative luxury apartments and swank penthouses, one of which has already been sold for $125,000.

Joe sees the situation like this. He is convinced that 172,500,000 Americans, wary from losing their $200,000,000,000 in savings to and from the nation's breadlines, need a better place from which to view the recession and the new Edgewater Arms affords them this opportunity.

He says that long lines of people drive by every day, bumper to bumper and double park in the Lincolns and Cadillacs to gaze on the construction work, which is evidence of how tough things are. Truly he sighs, "Hard times stalk this land of silk and money."

Similar depression and despair is visible at many other points in the state where huge factories and industrial plants are under construction, new homes are built, retail sales continue to climb and now that the weather is getting straightened out the tourist tide is coming in again with out-of-state cars flooding our highways, tourist camps and motels filling up and help wanted signs increasing in our metropolitan newspapers.

If the politicians would quit howling and helping "recession" and "depression" we could soon get this bug-a-boo off our mind and get back to work. Of course, the boys need something to blame on somebody and scare the voters with so they have hooked on to this recession gag with joyful glee.

A nation can think and talk itself into a slump just as an individual can think and talk himself into a hospital. You can yell "fire" in a crowded theatre and start a panic so let's quit telling Uncle Sam how sick he looks and start slapping him on the back and complimenting him on his vim, vigor and vitality.

Compared to John Bull, Laballe France, Mother India and a lot of other international characters, our boy is in pretty good shape. He has a trim waist line, a jaunty step and can take care of himself if we'll just maintain our confidence in the old boy and give him a helping hand instead of nagging him about his health.

I'm proud of the fact that Florida hasn't been doing too much whimpering about hard times. We have had a few set backs but they haven't got us down by a long shot, not when we can lead the nation in sales, build million dollar plants, skyscraper hotels and apartments and kick up our heels like we're doing.

Citrus Mutual

BY JOHN BIESS
Florida Citrus Mutual
LAKELAND—Editor Harris Sims of the Lakeland Ledger editorially brings up a most point that has been a conversational topic in citrus groves and packing houses ever since last winter's freeze.

The Federal estimate for the orange crop this season originally was 100,000,000 boxes," he writes. "Suppose there had been no succession of freezes and the crop had been that large. Would the return in dollars have been as great?" (As it's turning out to be.)

"Hardly," Sims decides.

"Suppose the crop had been even larger than the original estimate by the U. S. Department of Agriculture," he continues. "It could have been 150,000,000 boxes. Suppose there had been a crop of 12,000,000 boxes (of oranges). It is easy to imagine what the market situation would be."

Editor Sims dropped in this iffy thought in an editorial titled "The Survival of Citrus". In it he emphasizes the buoyancy by which the citrus industry has bounced back from the succession of last winter's freezes.

Recalling the gloom of the chilly days, he puts the question that was being asked, anxiously, at the time.

"Would the citrus industry be able to survive a blow of such terrific severity? Had Florida's most important agricultural asset been reduced to a status of minor economic significance?"

He remembers "there were some pessimists who thought at that time that the disastrous condition of the moment was one from which the industry would be long in recovering."

"But the doleful predictions that citrus had been knocked out for a long time soon proved to be grossly inaccurate, it is good to note," he writes. "Despite the reduction of the crop volume by the freezing weather—or because of—the total of money which the current crop will bring will be the largest ever, just as current prices are at a record high."

"The industry not only survived, therefore, but soared quickly to a new level of prosperity. There were individual instances of heavy loss, of course, but the total picture is one that would have been most difficult to imagine on the morning when juice on the trees was turned to ice."

He concludes: "Perhaps the freezing weather was good for the industry, but it obviously wasn't bad—not when oranges are bringing $4.00 a box and the total return is greater than ever."

IN QUOTES: "There is no reason for Florida citrus growers to be concerned over the small amounts of Cuban and Mexican oranges reported being imported into the state."—Bob Rutledge.

PEELING: Marty Hearn, Mutual Export Coordinator, in a Jacksonville speech told the Railway Development Ass'n. that Uncle Sam collected some $100,000,000 in taxes on citrus industry salaries, transportation and individual income during the past year.

Next to paprika (can you imagine!) oranges are the best source of Vitamin C. This according to Dr. Morris Fishbein, famed medical writer who's been visiting hereabouts. He says everybody should drink orange juice every day just as everybody's supposed to drink milk. As a reward for carrying more papers (and not showing them behind bushes and into mud puddles) 25 newboys of Wilmington (N. C.) Star-News Newspapers are touring Florida. Tour top spot will be when the newbies get themselves pixed picking oranges so the folks back home'll know they did.

Veterans Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to questions of interest from former servicemen and their families:

Q. My doctor tells me my service-connected disability is getting worse because of the trouble I am having with my teeth. Would I be eligible for VA dental care even though my tooth trouble is not service-connected?

A. If the VA finds that your dental condition is aggravating your service-connected disability, you would be.

Q. If I take farm training under the Korean GI Bill, will I receive the same allowance rate throughout my training?

A. No. You will receive the maximum rate during your first year. After that, the rate will be reduced at four-month intervals.

Q. I am planning to get a VA-insured GI business loan. Will the interest rate be 4% percent, as it is for GI loans guaranteed by VA?

A. No. In the case of non-realty GI farm and business loans insured by VA, the interest may not exceed a three percent discount rate or an equivalent simple interest rate of 8.7 per cent a year.

Q. A WW I veteran died, leaving a son age 21. The son is eligible for War Orphanas education. Would his benefits end at age 23?

A. No. Since the veteran-parent died after his son had passed age 18, the young man will have five years to complete his schooling.

Veterans living in or near Central Florida who wish further information about their various benefits, should write or visit the VA office at 42 East Central Ave. in Orlando.

U.S. Minister Shortage Told

By LOUIS CASSELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
American churches are appraising their own shortage of qualified clergymen by making a fetish of youth.

Denominational leaders report a growing tendency among local congregations to set arbitrary age limits in hiring new pastors.

Many pulpits committee refuse to consider any applicant over 40. Surveys show that ministers over 50 often have great difficulty in finding employment.

This discrimination against older ministers is hurting the churches, as well as the clergymen who are consigned to the scrap heap in the prime of their professional careers.

The National Council of Churches reported recently that major U. S. Protestant bodies now have a shortage of at least 25,000 ministers. Church membership has been growing much more rapidly than the older men develop disciplined work habits and an ability to concentrate which more than offsets any slowing down of their reflexes. They also tend to be more conscientious about the performance of their duties, and less distracted by outside interests.

The third fallacy is the belief that a youthful minister is the only kind who can "capture the imagination and win the hearts of the young people of the church."

Dr. Aule L. Carr, assistant dean of Yale Divinity School, writing in the current Christian Century magazine, lists three "popular fallacies" that cause churches to shy away from ministers over 50.

Fallacy number one is that the older minister is "a poor health risk." Carr rebuts this notion by pointing to studies of the U. S. Public Health Service, which show that the average incidence of illness is actually higher at age 50 than at age 30.

A second fallacy is that "older men are less efficient and less effective in their work." Carr says this generalization about older persons "has been widely accepted in industry and is often carried over into the thinking of churchmen who are charged with the selection of new ministers."

Refuted by Research
But here, as in the case of the health question, research has refuted the popular idea. Several studies in recent years have shown that older men develop disciplined work habits and an ability to concentrate which more than offsets any slowing down of their reflexes. They also tend to be more conscientious about the performance of their duties, and less distracted by outside interests.

The third fallacy is the belief that a youthful minister is the only kind who can "capture the imagination and win the hearts of the young people of the church."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERP
CONNIE SIMMONS writes that she stood in line to see a Broadway movie for forty minutes, finally reached the box-office, and asked for two logs seats. "That'll be forty-fifty," announced the bored lady in the booth. "You advertise 'popular price,'" complained Miss Simmons. "You call $2.50 a popular price!" The ticket seller answered with a smile, "We like it!"

Couple of sweet girl graduates were displaying their future careers. "My mother," declared one of an airline hostess, "carried one. That's the way to meet a well-heeled man-of-the-world." "There must be a less wearing way of meeting men," pondered the other. "Could be," said the first, "but you won't meet them strapped in!"

Awful back in 1908 "A Manual of Politeness" dished out this fascinating bit of advice: "When dinner is announced, the host should rise, invite his guests to follow him to the dining room, and set the example by passing out first."

Conning The News

This was a grand weekend for swimming, fishing and sunbathing in our neighborhood, several of us gathered on the beach before John and Harriet William's house. The children had a wonderful time trying to prove who had remembered the most about last year's swimming lessons.

This was also the week-end for Kinky and Charlie Park's annual "Banana Lake Open." Guests play golf before adjourning to said lake for food and fun.

The after taxes party revealed that most of us can still keep body and soul together. All wore clothes and certainly looked well fed. Legitimate conclusion is that while taxes pinch, things could be worse (so they got worse). Anyway, Roy and Joe Symes must have come out ahead. They went home with almost as many pencils as they came with, and had quite a bit of change in the tin cups. Billy and Bill Hutchinson were the charming hosts. Mac McRoberts won first prize for his costume, featuring an air conditioned shirt.

Maxine and Tommy Thompson recently entertained their son and his wife and baby boy, born while they were stationed in England. The new grandson is the topic of conversation with proud grandpop.

The family is now in Otis, Mass., where Young Thompson is flying consultations for the Air Force.

Ruby and Roy Williams plan to leave June first for a month's trip to San Francisco. Frank Mebane has gone to New York for a meeting, and will return in several days.

Sunday night Helen Andrew and Mabel Mahr gave their annual party at Helen's Lake Mary home. This always signifies the end of the season at the Mayfair Inn—and the Monday closing of the Country Club. The girls will beach it every Monday during the summer.

About 70 attended the party. Helen's unusual colored lanterns lit the garden. The dinner was delicious, as ever. Everyone sang and laughed. Jack Rosman supplied accordion music. 'Twas truly fun. A recent evening party was given by Toni Waters for the VAI-9 ladies. The girls were shown movies of some of the husbands by Marion Hunt (the more photogenic, or the biggest ham?) Toni served a delicious punch and fancy hors d'oeuvres. A hump party was planned for the middle of the deployment marking half time to go, or half time gone.

Benefit Card Party Considered Success

"A tremendous success," claimed a spokesman today when speaking of the benefit card party given last week by the Officers' Wives Club of the Sanford Naval Air Station. The affair was held at the N.A.S. ballroom. Proceeds will go to the Frimrose School.

Tables were set for bridge and canasta. Guests were served lemon chiffon pie and coffee during the afternoon.

In the center of each table flower pots held orange blossoms, white roses, lilies, and carnation corsages for each player. The center aisle in the ballroom was banked with gladioli.

Attendance prizes and individual table prizes were awarded at the conclusion of the afternoon. Mrs. Stanley Piskorski spoke to the group about the Mental Health Forum Monday night at the Pinecrest School.

Mrs. Jane Paire was chairman of the party, assisted by Mrs. Jack Stribling.

Nurse Choice For Service Award

A board of judges will select a Florida nurse as a recipient of the Community Service Award for outstanding service to her profession and her state.

The award will be made during the Florida Nurses Association Convention October 14-17. Judges are Clay Cudington, president, Florida Press Association, Claude J. Yates, president, Florida State Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. C. L. Mense, first vice-president, Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, Judge James B. Moody, Plant City, Sister Mary Edmund, O. P., executive vice-president, Barry College, Miami.

Joy Ruth Class Meets Tonight

The Joy Ruth Class of the First Baptist Church will meet tonight at 8:00 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Richmond Griner.

The regular monthly social and business meeting will be held. All members are urged to attend.

SQUARE DANCING will be one of the many spectacles offered at the Friday night dedication ceremonies at the Seminole High School. The new recreation court will be formally turned over to the school by the P.T.A. (Photo by Bergstrom)

Recreation Court Dedication To Feature Entertainment

A carnival spirit will prevail at Seminole High School Friday night when the new recreation court is dedicated.

Four County Girls To Attend Camp

Four 4-H girls from Seminole County will attend the leadership camp at Camp McQuarrie, Ocala State National Park April 23-27. The camp is limited to four girls or boys from each county.

Representing Seminole County will be Bybil Grant and Amy Pipkin of Lyman School, Longwood, and Jo Ann Oliver and Margaret Fortson of Ovidio.

The leadership camp is so desirable by the girls and boys, that it has been necessary to schedule two this year. Special training in leadership for the purpose of improving the 4-H club camping program will be emphasized. Miss Emily King, state girls 4-H leader, will be in charge of the girls.

Mrs. Stephen Miller, county 4-H leader from Ovidio, and Miss Myrtle Wilson, County Home Demonstration agent, will accompany the quartette.

Your Girl Scouts

The Singing Wheels Roller Rink was the meeting place Thursday when Brownie Troop 187 enjoyed an skating party. Games were played and refreshments served.

Mrs. Ellen Gonzalez, Mrs. Laura Fretias, and Mrs. Mary Campen supervised the party.

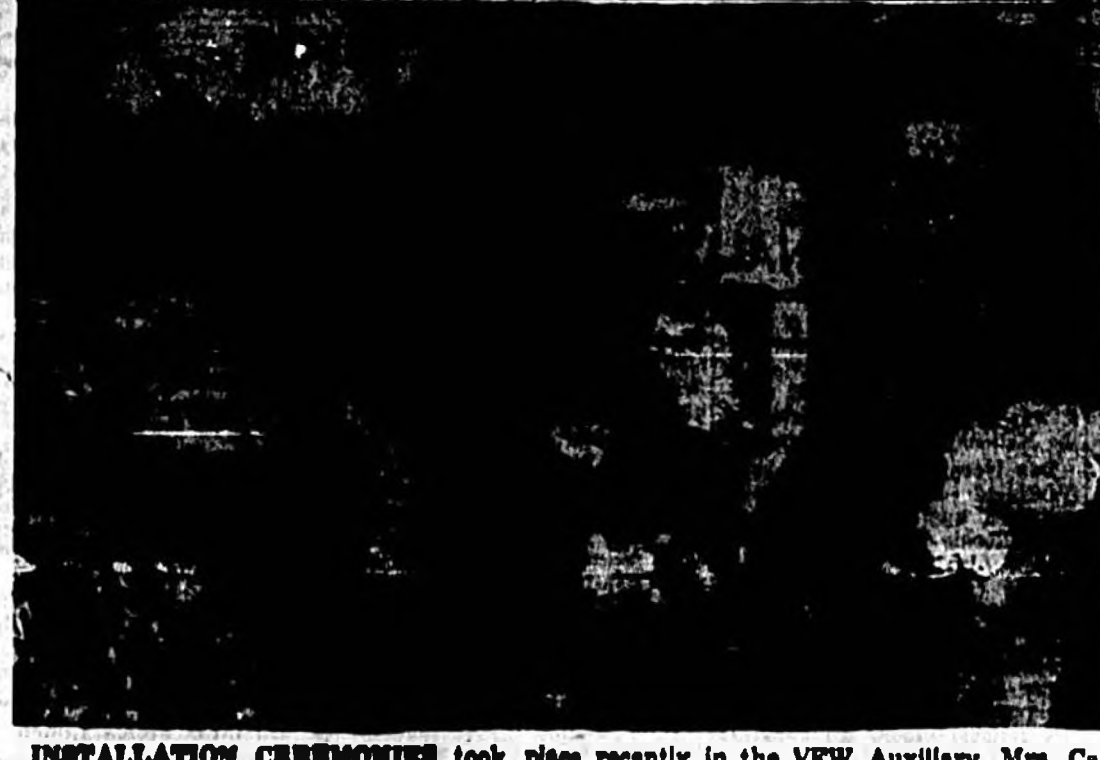

Attending were Elizabeth Bass, Becky Cameron, Evelyn Cameron, Nancy Fretias, Ramona Gonzalez, Irene Harris, Theresa Head, Polly Pedrick, Linda Holoff, Donna Roy, Stephany Westgate, Vicki Wilson and Sherry Wright.

Guests were Debbie Fretias, Susan Fretias, and Ramon Gonzalez. Mrs. and Mrs. Ventry were thanked by the group for making the afternoon such fun.

New non-fiction: "Battle of Cowpens" by Kenneth Roberts, published posthumously. Is an account of a decisive Revolutionary War battle in which 800 ill-fed, ill-clothed sharpshooters, led by young Daniel Morgan, routed British Tarleton's well equipped Redcoats and set the stage for the final cornering of Cornwallis at Yorktown.

KEITH TENNANT

Keith Tennant "Most Courteous" Student At Lyman

Keith Tennant, president of the sophomore class, Lyman High School, has been declared the most courteous student in high school.

Selected by a secret committee, comprised of members of the student council and faculty, Keith was chosen because of his outstanding thoughtfulness and consideration for others. The courteous manner in which he speaks to members of the faculty, his respect for rules and regulations, and his willingness to "go beyond the call of duty" to help those in need of assistance, contributed strongly to the choice.

The Courtesy Campaign was launched and sponsored by the Student Council, in an effort to make the entire school "courtesy conscious."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Tennant, Keith is active in sports. He is a member of the football, basketball and baseball teams. Keith is also a member of Lyman Glee Club.

He was awarded a gold engraved pin, bearing the name of the school, the word courtesy, and Keith's initials.

Whatever Happened To Joe Judge

By JIM JUDGE
By UNITED PRESS

Joe Judge was the "old reliable" at first base for the Washington Senators for 18 seasons. Joe starred both at bat and in the field, topping 300 in 10 different seasons and leading the league's fielding first baseman eight different times. Joe was a member of Washington's first two pennant winners in 1924-25, hitting .305 in the 1924 Series against the Giants to lead all hitters in the seven games that year as Washington won. He moved to the Dodgers in 1929 and to the Red Sox in 1934 for his final season.

Whatever happened to Joe Judge? Now 62, he still lives in Washington where he is in public relations work for a national brewer and, in the spring, coaches Georgetown University baseball.

REDKINS SIGN TWO WASHINGTON (UP)— Halfbacks Charles E. Sanders and Jimmie Sanders of West Texas State, recommended by former Washington star quarterback Sammy Baugh, have signed professional football contracts with the Redskins.

FINAL RING ... By Alan Mayer

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)— Juan Fangio, the greatest road racing driver in the world but he doesn't have a chance of winning the Indianapolis 500 in his May 30 debut over the classic bricks, former champion Lee Wallard predicted today.

Wallard, the 1961 winner, has no doubt but what Fangio can pass his driver's test and even qualify among the 28 cars which will start the grind on Memorial Day. But he figures the Argentine master is a long way from being as good as Jimmy Bryan, Pat O'Connor, Roger Ward and Jimmy Reece.

"No rookie has even won this in his first Indianapolis start and I don't see even the great Fangio doing it the first time around," Wallard insists. "He'll find sitting that dish a lot different than riding the roads."

Must Pass Test
Fangio, although he is a five-time world champion of the road racers, must pass a driver's test just like any other Indianapolis rookie. This means completing 10 laps at 115 miles per hour, and 10 laps each at 120, 125 and 130 miles per hour in which his speed cannot vary more than one mile per hour either way. Without a speedometer, this means learning to drive by the gauges.

Then, on his last time out, eight veterans of two or more years experience at Indianapolis check his driving tactics in "traffic" from the observation tower. They compose the final jury on whether he can compete. Some of racing's best drivers, both American and foreign have been told to come back next year.

"I don't imagine that Fangio would fail his driver's test because he is the greatest race driver in the world when it comes to road racing," Wallard lauds. "But the varying conditions, winds and other factors on the speedway require more than one year to learn."

He was driving down the stretch in a race at Reading, Pa., when his machine burst into flames. Lee could have jumped but the car would have plowed into the crowded grandstand or swerved into the pits. Lee stayed with the blazing car until he passed completely through the stretch and could wheel it safely into the infield.

Career Ended
The burns he suffered ended his racing career. But today he is teaching that same sportsmanship as the senior member of the champion highway safety program team which includes Ward, Reece, Johnny Parsons, Fred Agabashian, Jimmy Daywalt and Bob Veith.

Another factor, he hints, which probably will weigh against Fangio is the unwillingness of the foreign driver to believe the sportsmanship of the American race driver.

FANGIO LEAVES FOR RACE BUENOS AIRES (UP)— World auto racing champion Juan Fangio left for Indianapolis to begin getting ready for the Memorial Day 500-mile speed classic. Fangio said he will have a medical checkup and then seek a car he likes before entering the race officially.

Over 500 Baseball Circuits Will Be Franchised in NAL

WICHITA, Kan.— More than 500 baseball circuits consisting of sandlot teams will be franchised into the 1962 National Association of Leagues within the next 30 days. It was announced here today by the National Baseball Congress.

Two types of leagues are being franchised — one for players of unlimited age; the other—known as the Rookie division—for younger players. In the Rookie division players can establish their age limit any year from 16 to 21. Congress president Ray Dument said.

Although each league operates under its own constitution and by-laws without interference from the national group, the Congress offers many services in creating more interest. Each league receives an elaborate first place trophy and leading players are presented individual awards by the N.B.C.

The National Baseball Congress also sponsors Associations of Umpires and Scorers. It also features a nationwide player contract system for the protection of sandlot teams from having their personnel raided during the entire season without a release.

This organization also sponsors a state-wide tournament program, culminating annually in late August in the National championship baseball playoffs in Wichita. The national tourney has attracted approximately 100,000 fans each year for the past quarter-century.

Individuals or teams interested in any phase of the program should contact National Baseball Congress, Wichita (1) Kan. Complete details are in the 1962 Official Baseball Annual, yearbook of the Congress, at news stands and athletic goods stores.

HUNGRY GOAT

DARLINGTON, S. C.— With three Roberts, already in the field and seven out of the first ten in NASCAR convertible point standings signed, Raceway manager Bob Colvin predicted a full starting field and another record-breaking performance for May 19. Roberts took the lead on the third lap, last year, and set seventeen new records including the world's fastest major stock car mark for championship distance when he averaged 107.9 mph for the 500.158 miles.

Ford boss Curtis Turner and Joe Weatherly are expected to give Roberts his closest competition with Chevrolet driver Lee Petty carrying dirt horse ratings. Tim Flock, in Mercury, and the late Bobby Myers, also in a Mercury, followed Roberts in the field line. The first ten cars to finish all averaged over 100 miles an hour.

THE CARD OF THANKS
Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.
Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily Post, the noted authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.
There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.

THE "IN MEMORIUM" NOTICE
It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memorium" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation of selection of a suitable verse brings back to them tender, pleasant recollections. An Eliza Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:
"How cruelly sweet are the echoes that start
What memory plays an old tune
Most frequently an In Memorium is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.
If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the heart-strings. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.

THE RATE
Cards of Thanks and In Memorium notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

The hearing this morning, called directly to the ground of Florida's waterways, was the 15th largest in the state and the largest in the 4th or 5th largest state, as he noted the board of engineers to consider the immediate construction of the proposed canal.

Dr. Bradley pointed out that the engineers had failed to give full value to the recreational benefits by utilizing any benefits of the canal to outdoor boats and in estimating benefits of fisheries they had failed to protect them in the future. "We are claiming $200,000 annual benefits over the next 20 years against $200,000 the engineers had allowed," he said. "If we had a canal, we could have a recreational area which would be a valuable asset to the state."

John Krider presented the resolution of the Chamber of Commerce with a "unanimous endorsement of the Sanford-Titusville Canal." He also brought letters into the evidence from F.P.A. Co., Florida Power Corp., and Indian River City.

George King, manager of the Fort Canaveral Authority, stated that "the Sanford-Titusville Canal is an integral part of the Waterways System of Florida, as proposed by the Florida Waterways Commission." He pointed especially to the fact that "the canal is a very vital connection to insure completion of the Port of Canaveral project with its large canal from the intercoastal waterway to the port and the lock to allow passage of vessels to the large canal into the jetty protected harbor." Witnesses were introduced to the Board of Engineers this morning by Senator Spearhead Hol-

Mental Hospital Rolls Decreasing For First Time

The tragedy of mental illness, which strikes more American homes than any other affliction, will be confronted next month (May) by the largest force of mental health volunteers ever assembled.

They've been enlisted in the annual Mental Health Campaign for funds to support the program of the National Association for Mental Health — a national, wide-spread research and rehabilitation and more clinics for early treatment when it is most effective.

300,000 Women to March

The campaign will be concentrated on Mental Health Week, April 27-May 3 and will continue during the month of May. This year's effort will emphasize more strongly than ever the annual slogan, "Bell-Ringers March for Mental Health" on Monday, May 3, in which some 300,000 women will solicit funds from door to door or seek pledges via telephone. The "march" which started as a local project in Minnesota on two years ago, already has become a national institution.

No national quota has been set, but the association estimates at least $200,000,000 a year is needed to carry on a nominally effective program against mental illness. While noting "small but real" advances in mental health, the association reports growing demands on its resources as mental illness becomes more universally accepted as "a disease to be healed and not a disgrace to be concealed."

In the last two years, the population of U. S. mental hospitals decreased for the first time in recent medical history, due largely to increased public financial support for hospitals, treatment, clinics, research and rehabilitation. During the same period, more Americans than ever before applied for treatment for mental disturbances.

Need Treatment

The NAMH points out in its plea for funds that thousands of other in urgent need of care are unable to get adequate treatment, including a large segment of the 750,000 patients in U. S. public mental hospitals, many of whom might be discharged given adequate treatment.

Medical statistics indicate there are 17,000,000 men, women and children in the U. S. who need treatment for some type of mental or emotional disturbance, or one out of ten of the national population.

Since the National Association for Mental Health was organized nine years ago with a handful of state and local affiliates, it has seen greater advances in the conquest of mental illness than in all the previous years of medical history. The association now extends its work into every state with a total of 700 affiliates. They will carry the 1936 Mental Health Campaign into thousands of communities with bell-ringing campaigns and other forms of solicitation.

Some Gift an Investment

"We must drive home the fact that to contribute to the campaign is an investment which pays off immeasurably in terms of reduced hospital rolls, reclaimed lives and restored earning power," said Judge Luther Alverson, of Georgia, president of the NAMH. "Every citizen who is aware of the terrible tragedy of mental illness is a potential contributor. Now that we've proved beyond question that mental illness can be cured we have an incentive to fight on until mental illness is no longer America's No. 1 health problem."

Special Citrus Committee Meets This Morning

LAKELAND — J. Dan Wright of Sanford, a member of the Florida Citrus Commission and chairman of a special committee to reappraise fresh fruit grades, recently appointed additional members of his committee and summoned its first meeting for this morning, April 28, at 10:30 A. M.

The original committee was appointed April 16 by Commission Chairman Key Selles, Jr., and included Wright as chairman, J. H. Graves of Vero Beach and J. R. Bynum of Titusville. Expansion of the group to include fresh fruit industry representatives was authorized.

Wright named an additional seven members and requested two experts to serve in an advisory capacity. Appointed were Jules W. Braglia of David Bilgore and Company, Clearwater; R. V. Phillips of Haines City Citrus Growers Association, Haines City; John G. Arlio of Minute Maid Groves Corporation, Orlando; Buford Gum of Lake Wales Citrus Growers Association, Lake Wales; John T. Lesley of Florida Citrus Exchange, Tampa; Francis V. Heinrich of H. J. Heidrich and Sons, Orlando; and Edgar S. Bealand of Clearwater Growers Association, Clearwater. George S. Conlans, head of the State Inspection Service, and Herbert S. Riley of the U. S. Inspection Service were asked to serve the committee as advisors.

Reappraisal of fresh fruit grades was requested by the Florida Citrus Packing House Manager's Association in a letter to the Commission on April 11. R. V. Phillips, secretary-treasurer of the Association, said, "We are especially interested in some consideration of more freeze damage tolerance. There are other phases of the grade which should be considered."

The meeting was held in the Commission headquarters here.

No Major Mishaps Reported Here Over Weekend

The Sanford Police Department enjoyed a relatively quiet weekend, with no major mishaps.

An unapprehended driver ran over a fireplug at 20th and Grandview Sunday afternoon. The accident was investigated by Sgt. Leo Rock and Ben Butler. The driver left the scene before their arrival, and has not as yet been identified.

In another Sunday afternoon traffic accident, Leroy Dixon, Sanford Negro, hit a parked 1937 Ford sedan when he turned east on Fifth St. off Pecan. Damage was estimated at $250 to the parked car, and $30 to Dixon's 1936 Ford sedan, according to investigating officer Leo Rock.

Dixon was charged with driving while intoxicated and improper brakes.

14 Building Permits Issued Here Last Week

The week ending April 23 showed 14 building permits issued from the Sanford Building Inspector's office, totaling $30,357.00. Fees charged were $177.00.

The County Zoning Office reported that 34 building permits were issued in Seminole County during the same period. Fees collected for the permits were $241.00, $1 electric and $1 plumbing permits at $118, and $138, collected in fees, brought the weeks collection to an estimated $167,957.

Slum Housing Church Women's Latest Target

United Church Women's Convention since the days of Carrie Nation, public officials have had a healthy respect for the organized wrath of American womanhood.

It has become one of the axioms of U. S. politics that the surest way to get action on a social reform is to get the women — and especially the church women — aroused about it.

Fair warning is hereby served on civic functionaries that this potent force is again being mobilized in communities across the nation. Its target this time is slum housing.

The mobilizing is being done by United Church Women, a department of the National Council of Churches, which represents some 10 million women in 24 major Protestant denominations.

Local Activity

United Church Women has called on all of its local affiliates — the Ladies Aid Societies and Women's Auxiliaries of 200,000 congregations — to take on the job of "alerting their communities to the urgent need" for slum clearance, low-cost housing, and neighborhood rehabilitation projects.

Next Friday May 3 church women's organizations in scores of cities will sponsor "come and see tours" of the slums. This idea was originated by the church women of Annapolis, Md., several years ago.

Church women have learned that the actual sights and smells of the slums are the most eloquent arguments that can be made for community improvement programs.

If any civic leader remains unconvinced after a first-hand inspection of the blighted areas of his city, the ladies are armed with facts and figures. These show how the slums serve as breeding grounds for crime, juvenile delinquency, narcotics addiction and disease. They document the incredible overcrowding, the lack of privacy and subhuman living conditions that prevail in rundown sections.

THE LONE DEPUTY

CHAPTER 5
Curly's failure to close with Price gouged him into a state of intense frenzy, and it was this frenzy which gave Price a chance to make a move. He missed one of the great swinging uppercuts, turning partly around and off balance. Price moved in swiftly and smoothly. "Care," he said, other deputies here, but I'm about done waiting. What are you going to do with Cronin and his woman?"

"Nothing," Price answered. "Always before Ralph let you pick your man, but some of the folks hereabouts thought it would be a good idea to have a deputy who wasn't your man."

Price saw interest sharpen in the cattlemen's expression. He asked, "Who?"
"Ralph didn't tell me."
"You handle yourself pretty well, Regan."
"I've been here a year," Price said. "You should have known that before." Price looked at Price and said, "I've been here a year, but I'm about done waiting. What are you going to do with Cronin and his woman?"

Russia Renews Call For Bomb Flight Halt

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — Russia today renewed its call for the United Nations to end United States atomic bomber alert missions and urged that the projected summit conference take up the question of safeguards against surprise attack.

Shortly before the Security Council was convened to discuss a U. S. proposal to start immediate discussions in the face of a certain 5-1 defeat — just before it was due to be voted on.

At the outset of the meeting, Soviet Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev suggested that U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge step down from the presidency during the discussion of the Arctic proposal. Sobolev, who accused Lodge of "gagging" the council as its president when it debated the Kremlin's H-bomb charge last week, said it was difficult to understand when Lodge's statements as president ended and his statements as U. S. representative began.

Britain, France and Panama immediately objected to Sobolev's suggestion and Lodge declined to give up the chair. He said a president should do so when the question before the council involved a "selfish national interest of his government."

"That is not the case today," he said. "It involves immediately all the countries in the Arctic zone and involves only a little bit less the whole world because it is a matter of world peace."

To forestall a Security Council government debate, which the Kremlin opposed in conformity with its opposition to further action in the U. N., the Soviet resolution stated:

"Mindful of the necessity for taking steps as soon as possible to avert the threat of atomic warfare and ease international tension, the Security Council notes with satisfaction that preliminary talks are in progress between the interested states with a view to the convening of a summit conference to discuss a number of urgent problems, including the question of drawing up measures to preclude the danger of surprise attack, and expresses the hope that the summit conference will be held at the earliest possible date."

Opposing Testimony To Canal Non-Resistant

Witnesses appearing before the Board of Engineers, Rivers and Harbors returned to Florida last night after presenting what was termed "an astounding volume of testimony in behalf of the construction of the Sanford-Titusville Canal."

Technical support of the canal which would open the St. Johns River on to the coast at the Port of Canaveral was given by Col. Herbert Gee, of Gee and Jenson, West Palm Beach and Dr. R. W. Bradbury, Professor of Economics, University of Florida.

More than 24 witnesses appeared before the Board of Engineers headed by Major General Chas. G. Halle. Other members hearing the testimony were Major General

Louis J. Rumaggi, Brig. General F. Cassidy, Brig. General Alden K. Sibley, Col. Rudolph E. Smyser Jr., Col. Clarence Renshaw, and Col. Gunnard W. Carlson.

Senator Spessard Holland introduced members of the Florida delegation testifying for the construction of the Sanford-Titusville Canal.

Senator Smathers told the Board of Engineers "I think you will be convinced at the conclusion of this hearing that the project is economically feasible."

"I request that you give earnest consideration of the testimony of these witnesses," he said.

Senator Holland stated emphatically "We are convinced that consideration will be justified."

Congressman Syd Herlong stated to the Board of Engineers "I am strongly in favor of it."

Congressman Charles Bennett of Jacksonville explained "I am interested in having the canal built and, the St. Johns River changed from a dead-end street."

Testimony from opponents of the canal's construction was pleaded and non-resistant. Witnesses dwindled at the afternoon session set aside for them. The opposition to the construction of the Sanford-Titusville Canal was led by an attorney for Florida railroads, David E. Wells.

J. G. Middleton, Asst. Freight Traffic Manager for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, attempted to oppose testimony available for the large operations.

Dr. H. R. Wilber of DeLand, who stated that he represented 14 Florida organizations exhibited letters from the various groups including a letter from Chase and Co. and Sidney Chase of Sanford.

Col. Dowell Guillart referred to 1955 tonnage on the St. Johns River by barge and stated "There is no reason to believe that the Sanford-Titusville Canal would change this."

No indication was given as to when a decision of the Board of Engineers would be reached. General Halle stated that all members would study testimony closely and thoroughly before attending the next meeting of the Board.

Big Three Plans Speedy Rejection Of Russian Demand

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Western Big Three plan speedy rejection of Russia's demand that Poland and Czechoslovakia be included in all pre-summit negotiations in Moscow, diplomatic sources said today.

But there were reports from London that the United States, Britain and France might temper their rejection by agreeing to let the two Soviet satellites join in the discussions if subjects affecting their interests arise.

Consultations on the Western reply were being held here by the British and French embassies with the State Department. A reply is expected to be dispatched to Moscow in a few days.

Russia suggested Saturday that Poland and Czechoslovakia be included in pre-summit discussions. The suggestion was part of an answer to a Western note calling on the Soviet Union to meet immediately and jointly with the U. S., British and French ambassadors to determine whether a summit meeting would be worthwhile. Russia had been talking with the three envoys in separate meetings only.

CoFC Banquet Will Be Held Tonight

W. Thomas Rice, president of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, will arrive in Sanford late today to speak at tonight's Seminole County Chamber of Commerce annual banquet.

Rice, known throughout the country as an able leader and railroad executive, is expected to speak on "The Future of Railroads in 1958."

The railroad executive will be accompanied by members of his staff in this area at tonight's affair to be the largest banquet in local chamber of commerce history.

Already the reservation quota has been exceeded and more than 300 are expected to attend tonight's banquet and meeting.

George Touhy will serve as master of ceremonies for the dinner meeting with Mervin Crandall as chairman of the annual event.

Tonight's Chamber of Commerce Annual Dinner and Banquet will be the first affair to be staged in the brand new Sanford Civic Center.

Although the center has not been completely finished, the meeting will be held there.

Facilities, say local officials, are nearing completion and in a position where the banquet can be held.

Avenue Improvement Assn. Organized

A Sanford Ave. Improvement Association has been organized to "assist merchants in the planning of commercial improvement of Sanford Ave." It was revealed last night at the meeting of city commissioners.

E. J. "Bud" Moughton Jr. is president of the group with Melvin Siskin the secretary-treasurer. City Manager Warren E. Knowles reported on the cost of widening Sanford Ave. He gave paying and street construction as $9,675 with street lighting improvements set at $5,000.

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners approved the plan for street construction on Sanford Avenue from First Street to 5th with funds for both paving and street lighting to be included in the 1958-59 budget.

The street, according to plans proposed last night, would widen the avenue eight feet on the west side. The City Manager was authorized to discuss off-street parking with the new association set up.

In a lengthy 90-minute discussion last night, the Board of Sanford City Commissioners killed a resolution supporting the Atlantic Coast Line in taking off trains 50 and 52.

Representing the ACL at the commission were LeRoy Anderson, superintendent and Jim Shippman.

The unions were represented by Rudy Sloan and Mr. Meeks. Ed Kirchhoff spoke in behalf of shippers of perishable goods.

The commissioners denied a request to waive the Percentage Lease on property occupied by Radio Station WTRR but expressed interest in a proposed purchase of the land at appraised value.

Commissioners authorized the Mayor, Merle Warner, to execute a contract with the Florida Development Commission for the services of a planning consultant, George Simons of Jacksonville. The Development Commission will in turn contract with the consultant. Federal funds are expected sometime after July.

A franchise to be sent to the Sanford Gas Company was authorized to waive the percentage of city commissioners.

Also under consideration and approved was the transferring of funds to construct a dance and skating patio at the Sanford Civic Center at the Youth Wing.

A request to change parallel parking of Magnolia Ave. to angle parking by James Gut Jr. was denied. However, a vote of the decision was tabled until Gut could attend the meeting.

The resolution authorizing the loan application to IHFA in regard to planning funds for the proposed Docks and Terminals project was tabled until results of the Washington hearing on the Sanford-Titusville Canal are made known.

Mental Health Forum Has Positive Response

Approximately 60 attended the mental health forum last night at the Pinerest School. The forum was sponsored by the Seminole County Mental Health Association.

After an hour and a half of questions and speedy answers, audience reaction to the information furnished in a victory for the Association.

Senator Douglas Stenstrom posed the question to the audience, at the conclusion of the forum. "If South Seminole County should be awarded the fifth mental hospital in the state, would you support the decision?"

The response was almost unanimous in the affirmative. Senator Stenstrom explained that South Seminole County is the most central location for surrounding counties, and the logical spot for the institution. He also stated that Florida leads the nation in the use of tranquilizing drugs for mental patients. The drugs have been highly successful in returning the patient to a normal state.

The forum was moderated by Mrs. Stanley Piskoraki, secretary of the S.C.M.H.A. Other members were Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, representing schools, George Touhy, past president of the Association, talking of accomplishments and hopes, Mrs. Vernon Hardin, public opinion and retarded children, the Rev. A. G. McInnis, the clergy, and Mrs. Robert Conn, press and Navy. Chaplain Nihilus Hubble joined the group from the audience to further explain the Navy situation. He also stated that Mrs. Reynolds announced that two Seminole County Schools had been selected as "Pilot Schools". Next year both gifted and retarded children will be taught in special instruction. If the plan works satisfactorily, all schools will accept the program.

Questions from the audience were brought to the platform by members of the Pilot Club, official hostess for the evening. As the evening grew on there was more and more audience participation. Two representatives from each club in town attended to ask questions.

Mrs. E. E. Chapman, president of the local association, introduced the panel and closed the evening with the hope that "the public would accept their responsibility—that of receiving those who had been cured of mental illness, and helping them to become part of the community once more."

Four local organizations have taken Mental Health as projects: The Seminole Medical Society, the Pilot Club, Xi Beta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, and the Sanford Woman's Club.

New Road To Better Altamonte Springs Traffic Conditions

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS—Altamonte Springs is looking forward to an improved traffic condition in the early days of 1959. An appraiser's survey has been made in regard to Milland Ave. (State Road 487) from Rt. 486 south to the Orange County northern boundary.

By the first of next year work on this thoroughfare will be well on its way to becoming much less an accident hazard. The plans call for a new road to be built with an eighty foot clearance and it will be a substantially-based black top of twenty-four feet.

The Board of County Commissioners has arranged to borrow the money needed for this project from the State Highway Department. The money will be paid back to the state with gasoline tax money. The estimated cost of this type of paving is $60,000 to $80,000 per mile.

"This has been a long dreamed of and needed improvement," said County Commissioner Lawrence S. Wolford when interviewed. "There will be those who will be unhappy that progress means sacrificing some of the beauty of this road, but the lives of the people certainly are more important than anything else. In the light of increased traffic, and the growing population in this area, we have to sacrifice some things so that we can grow with and keep in step with the times. We cannot live as in the past, and we cannot plan only for the present, he continued. "We have to try to gear our thinking and our actions with our sights on the future. From every indication this district has a full calendar of steady growth," he concluded.

Vanguard Crashes Into Ocean

CAPE CANAVERAL (UP)—The Navy flung its Vanguard into space Monday night, but the rocket's third stage failed to ignite and crashed back into the ocean still clasp the hoped-for fourth U. S. satellite.

The Navy is now pushing plans for launching another Vanguard in less than a month carrying a similar 20-inch artificial moon.

"We will go right at it," said John P. Hagen, Vanguard Project director for the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington. He admitted, however, that the unsuccessful flight "was a great disappointment."

Spokesmen said preliminary data received during the Vanguard's flight indicated all went well for about 10 minutes—until the crucial instant some 300 miles above the ground when the solid fuel third stage was scheduled to ignite and kick free of the second stage.

What went amiss would not be known until data received here and at the Air Force's downrange tracking stations was sorted through by technicians of the Naval Research Lab and the Martin Company, prime contractor for the Vanguard.

The third stage evidently never separated from the second stage and plunged like a ballistic missile into the Atlantic some 1,500 miles southeast of the launching site, dooming the "chirping" sound of the satellite's radio voice to the silence of the sea.

The second stage was scheduled to land about where it did, but not with the third stage still attached.

The Defense Department said there was no chance of recovering the rocket's remains.

The instrument-bearing artificial moon was attached to the third stage of the rocket and would have been sprung free traveling at 18,000 miles an hour, had all gone as it should have.

The 11-ton Vanguard surged with a fiery splash from its launching pad at 10:33 p. m. e. s. t. and sped straight up for about 10 seconds before arcing over toward the southeast.

The second stage, containing the rocket, burned out in view of observers on beaches near the Cape about four and one-half minutes after blastoff, then coasted on for another five minutes to orbital altitude to keep the rocket on course. There the third stage should have blasted free.

3 Members Of Family Killed With Pickax; Father Is Charged

ROANOKE, Va. (UP)—Police kept a close guard today over a 40-year-old auto mechanic charged with killing his wife and two children with a pickax, critically injuring a third child and remaining with their bodies for more than 24 hours.

Officers had to wrest Grover Lucas from the hands of two men who joined an angry crowd of neighbors Monday night minutes after police broke into Lucas' apartment here and made the grim find.

Scattered through the second-floor apartment were the bodies of Lucas' wife Connie, 48, his 11-year-old daughter, Mildred Joyce, and 9-year-old son, Dennis.

Miss Dorothy Smith, 25, Mrs. Lucas' daughter by a previous marriage, was found critically injured in the apartment. She underwent surgery during the night, but doctors said the were not sure whether she would live.

A bloody pickax was found in the apartment's bath room.

Police said Lucas had clubbed his victims to death with a pickax Sunday morning and evidently had lived in the apartment with the bodies and his injured stepdaughter until police broke into the home and made the grim find Monday night.

The bodies were discovered when Mrs. Fred Williams, sister of Mrs. Lucas, called police and reported Lucas had told a local laundryman that his wife had been killed in an auto accident.

Mrs. Williams said the laundryman, Mrs. Lucas' employer, told her Lucas had asked for his wife's paycheck, saying she had been killed in an auto wreck in West Virginia.

The laundryman called Mrs. Williams to confirm the death, and she went to the Lucas home to check on her sister.

She was unable to get into the apartment and called police, who broke into the home and found the bodies.

Group Suggests Orange, Grapefruit Standard Changes

LAKELAND—A special committee appointed by the Florida Citrus Commission to appraise fresh fruit prices today recommended two changes in orange and grapefruit standards and called for a market opinion survey to determine whether discoloration on the outside of the fruit makes any difference to the housewife.

The recommendations will be presented to the Commission at its next regular meeting in May. J. Dan Wright of Sanford, a member of the Commission and chairman of the 11-man special committee, appointed two sub-committees to study internal and external grades of oranges, grapefruit, tangerines and Temples on a continuing basis. R. V. Phillips of Haines City heads the sub-committee studying oranges and grapefruit while John Arko of Orlando is chairman of a group looking into tangerines and Temple oranges.

At the request of John T. Lesley of Tampa, the Committee went on record as favoring research on susceptibility of fruit to skin breakdown. In the past, fruit that was perfect in appearance when it left Florida arrived in the Northern markets with bad defects in the external appearance. Lesley pointed out that the U. S. Department of Agriculture had over come similar difficulties and devised a test for predetermining breakdown in the skin of potatoes.

The Committee recommended changes in the U. S. grades for both oranges and grapefruit. Under the proposal, the U. S. Number 1 grade would be amended. (Continued On Page Seven)
