SANFORD - Ann McGee went dunking for dollars on Wednesday.

What this woman won't do for the sake of Seminole Community College, where she has contributed so much or her time, talent and ener-As school president, Dr. McGee has a myriad of administrative duties and requests for speaking. Being dunked into tank of chilly water is beyond the usual call. Yet into the tank went Ann McGee several times

Wednesday at the SCC Club Rush 2000 Carnival on the Sanford-Lake Mary campus. The big party provided a good time and helped raise scholarship funds from dunk tank

'Hit me with your best shot," McGee called out seconds before finding herself immediately immersed in the tank of water. In shorts, a tank top and handsome cap, McGee enthusiastically toweled herself and prepared for another dunking.

"After you've been dunked five or six times it doesn't matter," McGee said. "The first guy to try to dunk me was in a Harley Davidson outfit. He was a Marine Mechanical student. I knew where I was going."

To make the outing more interesting, one of the professors offered his students extra credit to attend the party and to dunk president McGee.

"My own staff members were rooting for me to be dunked even after I reminded them who cuts their checks," McGee said.

Auxiliary donates to Safehouse

By Michelle Jerla Managing Editor

SANFORD —The Central Florida Regional Hospital Auxiliary is reaching out to the community.

As part of its Community Outreach program, the organization recently donated $3,000 to Safehouse of Seminole County. The funds will be used toward helping victims of domestic violence.

"It's like pennies from heaven because there is so many places it can be used," Shelter Coordinator Ann Barrell said. "We will put it in a place where it can be maximized for women and children." The Auxiliary began its Community Outreach program in June after several members attended a Affiliated Florida Hospital Association meeting in St. Pierce, Community Outreach Chairman Thelma Smith said. Through various seminars, the group gathered information about how to help the commu-

"We knew we could start the program, but we didn't know if the Board would want to do it," Smith said. "We just really wanted to help the community and also get our name out."

The Board liked the idea of a community program and approved it. A committee was formed, and fund-raising activities were planned.

"We worked hard," Smith said. "We had book fairs, jewelry and Tupperware sales, and we are going to have a country store Oct. 27."

The group also raised money through its primary revenue source — the hospital's gift shop, which sells candy, maga-zines, cards and other gift items.

The Central Florida Regional Hospital Auxiliary is in its 25th year of serving Seminole and southwestern Volusia counties. Currently there are about 125 Auxilians volunteering their time at the hospital.

Auxilians' duties include working at the information desk, in the gift shop, the trolley, the emergency room and the recovery room. Programs include monthly health screenings, providing blankets for

There are many kinds of smiles, of course. Tom enjoys photographing smiles that announce goodness and sweetness. Children have these kinds of smiles; politicians do not. Art likes smiles that are brightened by spiritual vivacity. If Art sees someone - say a politician — with a sarcastic or bitter smile he refuses to take any pictures.

Seminole County is the natural choice for smiling. Everyone who lives here should be smiling. There's nolaw against it. A proposal to ban smiling in Longwood failed, 3-2

Some Seminole County residents are known nationwide for their smiles. One is our friend, Lee Corso of Lake Mary, I've known Lee for 42 years. Smiles don't come much richer than those of Lee Corso.

Society wants to associate intensity with strength and humor with weakness," Lee-Corso told me. "It's quite the opposite. I truly believe a person's smile is a freedom of expression within.

Corso, you may know, is a former football coach who now works for ESPN. At 63, he is inperpetual motion. He gives motivational talks to college students and to salesmen. "I can't tell anyone how to sell," he said. "But I can tell them how not to sell - a sour puss will lose every time."

As our county's population swells, you see more "Smiling Faces Wanted" signs as companies seek employees who are willing to work at being pleasant. Applicants aren't only sized up for job skills, but also for being nice under pressure. There are jobs to be done.

rift between us and this disturbs me. My son (age 30) and my daughter-in-law (24) have invited me to live with them until I complete my schooling, and I have accepted their invitation. This eases my financial burden (tuition, books, bills, life) greatly. They both have good jobs, no children yet, and are solid and easygoing. My girlfriends are appalled that I could live with my children who have been married only two years! They feel I would be invading their privacy. and giving up mine, along with my independence. I assured them that this is only a temporary arrangement, since I have only a year and a half to finish school. I told them the most important factor is that it is OK with my children and OK with

My children and I really do feel comfortable with the whole thing. Should I tell my friends it's time to "let me go" and lead my own life now? My friends also disagree with the friendship my ex-husband, his wife and I have. My ex and I both sought counseling during and after our divorce which uncovered a lot of hurt and allowed a lot of healing for both of us.

Help! These two are driving me crazy!

JANE IN YAKIMA, WASH.

DEAR JANE: You appear to have your life on track after many unhappy years. Your friends may be well-meaning. but threatening not to visit as long as you live with your son and his wife is blackmail. Don't submit to it. Your relationships with your son, his wife your former husband are admirable. Unless your friends are willing to stop dictating how you should live your life, now may be the time to start broadening your circle of friends.

DEAR ABBY: I dated "Howard" for eight months. He gave me a beautiful diamond tennis bracelet for my birthday. I broke up with him a month later. Now he's asking for the bracelet back! I don't want to return it. Do you think I have to?

DIAMONDS ARE NOT FOREVER?

DEAR DIAMONDS: A diamond bracelet is a very expensive gift. Since you had it only a month before breaking up with Howard, the honorable thing would be to return it. Perhaps he'll be lucky enough to find another young woman who'll realize that as precious as the bracelet may be, he's the real "jewel."

Husband's fetish is hurtful

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have had one breast removed because of cancer. Now I believe that my husband is experiencing some type of mid-life crisis. He has pictures of large-busted women placed strategically around our house and is very eager to hire a 35-year-old housekeeper with a 40-D bust. I'm at a loss to put this all together.

DEAR READER: Putting it all together, I conclude that your husband has a problem with female

tude is both maladaptive and hurtful; I wonder if he realizes how much emotional pain you are experiencing as a result of his thoughtlessness.

This unfortunate atti-

From your brief description, I'd worry that your husband. wants more from the prospective housekeeper than someone to dust and to do the dishes. Although, at this point, the pictures and his fantasy are relatively innocuous, his preoccupation with breasts could lead to behavior that would undermine your marriage. I believe that most responsible adult males in his position would thank God that you are a breast-cancer survivor, would accept the necessity of your surgery, and would choose to move on with life perhaps even to redefine the strength of your marital relationship by being more sensitive and supporting.

Alas, people don't always behave in a rational manner in such circumstances; such a bad choice almost invariably leads to pain and suffering. Therefore, I think that you both could benefit from some counseling: your husband, to discover the reasons for his fetish and to find more appropriate ways of dealing with it; and you, to learn how best to handle a difficult situation. Ask your doctor to refer you to a psychologist or a marriage counselor. To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Breast Cancer and Disorders." Other readers who would like a copy should send 52 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 5-

year-old daughter was born with Mobius syndrome. She lacks pectoral muscle or a breast on the left side; on that side, her face is sunken in. Her left eye closes only when she is asleep. Her doctor offers no chance for cure. Can you?

DEAR READER: Mobius syndrome is an exceedingly rare hereditary disorder in which, during fetal development, certain key nerves in the brain (cranial nerve nuclei) fail to develop. Without these nerves to stimulate them, certain muscles cannot grow. Thus, the syndrome is marked by absence or weakness of many facial muscles (facial palsies), including the muscles of one or both eyes, as well as the muscles of the upper extremities and chest.

There is variation in what parts of the body are affected: the face, almost always; one or both arms, commonly; the chest, occasionally. There is no cure for the syndrome. Nonetheless, children with the affliction can often be helped by a combined therapeutic approach that includes physicians, speech therapists and physical therapists. Although I doubt that anyone can explain why your daughter suffered Mobius syndrome, much can be done to assist her in coping with it.

"What better way for Dr. McGee to demonstrate her commitment to student success than by taking her turn in the dunk tank," said SCC student activities specialist Mauricio

"The whole idea is to make learning an enjoyable process," Garcia said. "The festive atmosphere for the carnival is a great way to bring everyone. on campus. It's a time of meeting new friends, learning about student clubs and organizations. It also allows the students to see their instructors outside the classroom."

The carnival is part of a series of entertainment each Wednesday at the SCC Student Center. The W.O.W. (Wind down On Wednesdays) is popular with students who will be entertained by comedians, a ventriloquist and a hypnotist.

Garcia said each show will start at 12:05 on Wednesdays, allowing students a chance to relax and take a break from classes.

Dr. McGee will not be available for dunking until next year, however.

Don't be a Labor Day statistic: follow these safe boating tips from BoatU.S.

Special to the Herald

At least 40 people may die in boating and personal watercraft (PWC) accidents in the U.S. over the Labor Day weekend, according to BoatU.S., the nation's largest association of recreational boaters.

Many fatalities could be avoided if more boaters and PWC riders followed Just five easy rules:

#1. Wear your life jack-

Nine out of 10 drowning victims did not. Be sure that children 12 and under wear lifejackets any time they are not in the boat's cabin.

#2. Don't drink and Almost half of all fatal boating accidents involve alcohol abuse by the operator or passengers.

The boat's movement. vibration, noise and the sun, glare and wind often produce "boater's hypnosis," so alcohol can affect people much more rapidly

#3. Don't overload your boat with people or equipment.

About 30 percent of those who die in boating accidents were on overloaded boats.

#4. Know before you

Get a weather forecast. While underway, observe current conditions and keep a sharp eye out for changing weather patterns.

#5. Brush up on your boating safety knowledge.

Join the over 80,000 people who have taken the BoatU.S. online safety course www.BoatUS.com/onlinec PWC (personal water craft) users face special problems. While they comprise just 11 percent of all registered boats, PWCs now account for more than 35 percent of all boating accidents. BoatU.S. has some additional Labor Day weekend advice for PWC owners and users: Watch your speed and don't jump wakes. Keep a sharp lookout and make sure you stay well clear of other craft.

* Know your state's age requirement for PWC operation (available at www.BoatUS.com/onlinec oursel and don't lend your PWC to anyone underage.

 Make sure everyone who operates your PWC is aware of safe boating rules. As the owner' you could be held responsible.

Time to hike it for real

The 'real' high school football season has finally arrived. Local fans scrimmages and short "Classics" have been enough as Friday night will get the opportunity to see if the last three weeks of practice, all seven Seminole Athletic Conference squads will be in action.

Knights end hard work for G-Tech

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - After an Intense two-hour work out in full pads on Tuesday, the University of Central Florida football team held its last two-hour work out in full pads Wednesday afternoon at the UCF practice fields.

The Golden Knights will now hold shell drills (Thursday from 2:45 p.m.-to-4:55 p.m.) and a walk-through (Friday in Atlanta) before kicking off the 2000 season Saturday night in Atlanta against Georgia Tech.

The Yellow Jackets handily defeated UCF last season, and UCF head coach Mike Kruczek knows that in order for the Golden Knights to pull off the upset, they must win the war in the trenches.

"It's critical that both sides of the line of scrimmage, in the interior, do a good job in order for us to have any success offensively or defensively," said Kruczek. The people that win the games are the offensive and defensive lines.

"We didn't do a good Job of that against them last year. We were young up front and couldn't stop the run. This year most of our kids are back and have developed greater strength and more quickness. It should be interesting. We will see how we match up when we line up on Saturday.*

UCF's improved defense has been the talk of fall camp this season, but Tech's offense ran up almost 500 yards in total offense its 41-10 victory over the Golden Knighta a year ago. UCF defensive coordinator Gene Chizik says that his unit will have to step it up if the Golden

Knights are to pull off the upset. They have a great offense and It doesn't really matter who is See UCF, Page 2B

The other three games are filled with natural rivals.

The top game on the schedule features a pair of teams that made the playoffs last season as Lake Mary travels to Sanford to take on Seminole at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium.

In addition to the obvious neighborhood rivalry, last year the Fighting Seminoles handed the Rams their only regular season loss at home.

At Lyman High School's Carlton Henley Sports Complex. Oviedo, which advanced all the way to the third round of the playoffs last year and returns a good nucleus, will take on a Greyhound team that improved as the season went on last year under first year head coach Bill Caughell and has high expectations for this season.

The final game finds Winter Springs, which was playing about as well as anyone late last season, traveling to Altamonte Springs to face a Lake Brantley team that is trying to replace its starting quarterback and two of its top running backs, but is still considered a good bet to return to the playoffs again.

All of the games are set to begin the court at 7 p.m. at 7:30 p.m.

AFC West: Raiders plan a revival

By Howard Siner NEA SPORTS

The Oakland Raiders are finally back after winning six AFC West titles in the 1970s, three in the 1980s, and just one in the 1990s. Denver revamped much quicker after its bid for a Super three-peat failed.

Going into the 2000 season, here's a look at the division (with the teams listed in their approximate order of strength):

1. OAKLAND RAIDERS: They drafted star placekicker Sebastian Janikowski first. Why? The Raiders lost eight games by an average of just over four points. Since 1997, Oakland has been 30th, 29th and 28th in field-goal accuracy.

Coach Jon Gruden's club tied for eighth in the NFL in scoring last season. Quarterback Rich Gannon (3,840 yards passing, 24 touchdowns), running back Tyrone Wheatley (8 touchdowns rushing, 3 touchdowns receiving) and wide receiver Tim Brown (90 catches) excelled.

On defense, the Raiders were 16th in points allowed. All-NFL defensive tackle Darrell Russel and All-NFL cornerback Charles Woodson are the

2. DENVER BRONCOS: The post-John Elway era opened with the Broncos going 0-4 and losing star running back Terrell Davis to injury for the rest of Coach Mike Shanahan turned to quarterback Brian Griese (3,032 yards, 14 touchdowns) and running back Olandis Gary (1,159 yards). Wide receivers Rod Smith and Ed McCaffrey helped.

Denver was 18th in the league in scoring, 11th in

All-NFL defensive tackle Trevor Pryce, from Lake Howell, (13 sacks) is supported by defensive tackle Keith Traylor, linebacker Bill Romanowski and injury-plagued linebacker John Mobley, Rookie cornerback Deltha O'Neal has to fill in for Dale Carter (one-year drug suspension). 3. SEATTLE SEAHAWKS: Coach Mike Holmgren is trying to upgrade Scattle. The Scahawks were 12th in the NFL in points scored last season and eighth in points given up. But they collapsed, losing five of their last six games.

Quarterback John Kitna (3,346 yards, 23 touchdowns) slumped late in 1999. Running back Ricky Watters (1,210 yards) had four of Scattle's leaguelow five rushing touchdowns. He also caught 40 passes, Blockers Pete Kendall and Walter Jones thrived.

Defensive linemen Cortez Kennedy and Michael Sinclair, linebacker Chad Brown and defensive back Shawn Springs are good. Charlie Rogers is an All-NFL punt returner.

4. KANSAS CITY CHIEFS: K.C. had the best home record in the NFL in the 1990s. It had the thirdbest regular-season mark. But the Chiefs haven't won a playoff game in six seasons.

Coach Gunther Cunningham knows that. Plus he knows close doesn't count. In 1999, Kansas City lost the division title by dropping its season-ending game to Oakland in overtime. Quarterback Elvis Grbac (3,389 yards, 22 touchdowns) and tight end Tony Gonzalez (76 catches. 11 touchdowns) pace an offense that tied for eighth in scoring.

The off-season auto death of linebacker Derrick Thomas stunned the team. 5. SAN DIEGO CHARGERS: They opened the season by winning four out of five games and ended that way. The six-game losing streak in between Even so, San Diego could have won the AFC West with a few breaks.

Led by linebacker Junior Seau, the Chargers were 10th in the league in points allowed. But San Diego was just 28th in scoring.

Quarterback Jim Harbaugh (10 touchdown passes) and wide receivers Jeff Graham and Curtis Conway need help. Jermaine Fazande (365 yards, 2 touchdowns) comes back as the top running field-goal kickers ever. AFC WEST in 1999: SEATTLE, 9-7 (champion); KANSAS CITY, 9-7; SAN DIEGO, 8-8; OAKLAND, 8-8: DENVER, 6-10.

John Karney is one of the NFL's most accurate

outrun smoke, rain

By Dave Westerman Special to the Herald

BITHLO - Where There's Smoke...There's RAC-

With a huge brush fire burning to the East and a huge thunderstorm looming to the West. Orlando Speedworld still got last Friday (August 25th) evening's show in the record books...and in record time. All heats and features were completed in one hour and twenty minutes. Helping the situation was unusually low car count as many competitors stayed away fearing that major roads in the area would again be closed like they were earlier in the day due to heavy smoke.

Those who did show up put on quite a show. Justin Drawdy outgunned the combined Super Late Model/Late Model field for his second win of the season.

Drawdy started his Drawdy Brothers Construction/R&J Crane Chevy on the outside pole and jumped to a commanding lead that he never relinquished. Sid Stites put his recent spate of bad luck behind him with a strong run to second over Rusty Ebersole, Marc Kinley and Travia

Jon Compagnone, Jr. won his first race here in several years taking a green to checker win in the Modifieds. Compagnone had to hold off a late challenge from Jim "Hoot" Flynn to get the victory with Hank Sanders, Frank Polly and Sam Seay, Jr. rounding out the top five.

A wild finish in the Sportsman feature saw Larry Osteen go from third to first in the final turn as leaders Jeff Wright and Doug Samion tangled. Osteen took his first win in the class in a car recently purchased from Jon Harney while Richard Hight zipped by for second. Wright crossed the line going backwards to get third with fourth and fifth going to Matt Griffin and Ed

Marty Pierce outfoxed a small field of Mini-Stocks who still put on a great race. Early leader Kelly Jarrett was second ahead of Kenny Hankins and Geoff Williams.

Duane Freed let all the way to win the Super Stock race, his third of the year. Apparent second place finisher John Smith was disqualified for being too light over the scales giving the runnerup spot to Carl Peters. Bob Wines, Rob Watford and Leonard Story rounded out the top five.

Russ Rinaldi outlasted a wild group of Strickly Stock cars taking the measure of Allen Prater, Kevin Reese, Russ Noyes and James "Freightrain" McConnell.

This Friday (September 1) the TBARA (Tampa Bay Auto Racing Association) Open Wheel Sprints and Mini Cup Cars will make a special visit to Orlando Speed World and share the card with features in the regular FASCAR Divisions of Late Model, Mini Stock, Modified, Sportsman and Strickly Stock.
