Cop jailed for conspiracy

MIAMI - A former Metro-Dade police officer was sentenced to 30 years in federal prison for warning cocaine smugglers their shipment was being watched by drug enforcement

Jose Fernandez, 41, had been convicted Sept. 10 on charges of conspiracy to possess cocaine with intent to distribute and conspiracy to import cocaine.

U.S. District Judge Ursula Ungaro-Benages sentenced Fernandez on Thursday.

Several others who were involved in the conspiracies reached plea agreements with the federal government, and all testified against Fernandez, saying he tried to help them avoid arrest, said Assistant U.S. Attorney Jena King.

As a Mefro-Dade officer, Fernandez made connections with members of the Florida Joint Task Force, a drug-fighting group of U.S. Customs and Drug Enforcement Agency officials, King

Fourth-graders admit to sniffing cocaine

TAMPA - Two of the six fourth-graders arrested on cocaine possession charges at their elementary school last month admitted they used the drug, their principal said.

"They weren't acting funny or anything like that," Dale Mabry Elementary School principal Sandra Thrower said Thursday. "I suspect it was a one-time kind of thing."

Thrower, who was present during the initial questioning by police, said one youngster admitted he sniffed the cocaine at school. Another said he sniffed the drug through a straw, although it wasn't clear whether it was done on campus.

Also, the principal said a student told her he saw three of the fourth-graders in a bathroom stall "sniffing white stuff" through a straw.

Tampa police Lt. Rick Duran, who headed the investigation, confirmed such allegations were made during initial interviews but some of the boys changed their stories later. Regardless, he said, the focus of the probe was not who used the drug, but where the cocaine came from.

Duran noted the source has yet to be found.

Man accused of killing passenger

BRADENTON — A man is accused of kicking a complaining passenger out of his car on a deserted stretch of road, then killing him by running him over.

Clinton Alan Maloy, 28, was held in the Manatee County Jail
Thursday on a second-degree murder charge in the death of Jamal Cherry, 19, of Sarasota.

Maloy and another man picked up Cherry and two others Wednesday at a Sarasota gas station, according to accounts pieced together by the Manatee County Sheriff's Office and the Florida Highway Patrol.

Two passengers said Maloy was driving dangerously and demanded to be let out, authorities said. Maloy let them out and drove on.

Cherry, 19, complained that Maloy could not just leave his friends in the middle of nowhere. Maloy grew angry, stopped, told him to get out and went on his way with his original

But Maloy turned back, went looking for Cherry and ran him down when he spotted him, authorities said. A witness gave police the license tag number.

Pro golfer suing Mlami Heat

MIAMI - Pro golfer Jan Stephenson is suing the Miami Heat over a career-threatening injury suffered in a mugging outside the team's arena in 1880

The team was "careless and negligent" for failing to provide adequate security and proper lighting in nearby parking lots known as "a haven for dangerous and disreputable persons," the lawsuit charges.

Stephenson's ring finger was broken when a strong-arm robber stole her ring and purse containing $1,200 in a parking lot after she left a Phoenix-Miami game Jan. 23, 1990.

She missed 31/2 months of the LPGA season after surgery and played in the fewest tournaments of her 16-year career that year. Her winnings dipped to $31,070 in 1990 but have climbed to $140,027 this year.

Joel Arnold, general counsel for the Heat, on Wednesday denied any team responsible for security, saying the golfer's attorney was looking for deep pockets.

The suit filed last week in Dade Circuit Court seeks unspecified damages, but Stephenson has said the injury cost her about $500,000 in lost earnings and her peace of mind.

St. Lucia Festival

Scandinavian holiday celebration begins this weekend

By ED KORQAN Herald Correspondent

In the Scandinavian countries Christmas season begins on Saint Lucia's Day, the 13th of December, and continues to St. Knut's Day, Jan. 13. While customs vary in the different countries the most common to each of the countries are the festive merrymaking, gift giving, and cooking. The customs have been brought down through the years and remain to this day. Saint Lucia's Day begins the Christmas holiday usually with many festivals throughout the Scandinavian countries. Saint Lucia was a maiden who lived in Syracuse in the country of Sicily. She lived during the time of Emperor Diocletian, approximately 350 A.D. Her belief in Christianity reached the emperor in a time when that belief was a danger to the throne. Because she would not renounce her beliefs the emperor had her executed.

When the story of the execution of the maiden traveled to the north, it was picked up by the bands of Vikings who were already Christianized. They imagined her shining figure, crowned by a halo of light. She became recognized as the "Saint of Light" because her saint day came just about when the days would start getting longer after the dark winter months. Today, Saint Lucia's Day is celebrated in all of the Scandinavian

Mack pushes for end to early prison release

By BILL KACZOR Associated Press Writer

PENSACOLA - U.S. Sen. Connie Mack has concluded some criminals are "downright evil" and he is pushing for a change in Florida's constitution to keep them in prison longer.

The Cape Coral Republican spelse-Thursday about his support for a ballot initiative that would require prisoners to serve at least 85 percent of their sentences. He was in Pensacola to discuss crime issues with local officials.

Many inmates now are being released after serving 30 percent or less of their terms to prevent Florida's prisons from overflow-

There are evil people out there - juveniles and adults who must be removed from our streets and kept off our streets," Mack said. "Families live in fear. It has to stop. Florida should set the example that criminals will be punished for their crimes."

Mack said the kidnapping and murder of a California girl by a paroled kidnapper is another example of why Florida should end early prison releases.

Parolee Richard Allen Davis.

who twice has been convicted of kidnapping, confessed to abducting 12-year-old Polly Klaas from her home in Santa Rosa on Oct. 1 and then killing her.

The schator said the 85-percent amendment would dovetail with his push in Congress to appropriate $3 billion for a federal regional prison system. States could send their most violent inmates to the regional system but would have to meet the 85-percent criterion to participate, Mack said. A group called Stop Turning Out Prisoners plans to begin a petition campaign next week to get the proposal on the November 1994 ballot.

The regional prison system and another $3 billion in grant money for boot camps to house young offenders and other state prison construction are part of a crime bill passed by the Senate two weeks ago.

A joint conference committee will try to resolve differences between House and Senate crime bills.

Mack did not endorse any specific method of paying for increased prison space Florida may need should those two federal programs be insufficient,

Employers will get 10.6 percent average premium decrease

By BILL BERGSTROM Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE - Florida's new workers' compensation law will cut employers' pre- 21 percent and mlums an average of 10.6 percent Jan. 1, Insurance Commissioner Tom Gallagher sald.

The decreases will save อากุสองเราราสภา จอกกากก็เชีย $334 million in 1994, Gallagher estimated in announcing the new rates Thursday.

"Today's numbers are great for the state of Florida," Gov. Lawton Chiles said from California where he is promoting Florida's film in-dustry. "Finally, after a lot of hard work, there will be real relief for businesses that have been struggling under a system that only benefited special interests."

As outlined in the revised law passed in November, employers can add to their savings by sending injured workers to managed health care programs and promoting safe and drug-free workplaces.

Chiles asked lawmakers when he called the November special session to cut employers' costs for the mandatory coverage of on-the-job injuries by at least 20 percent. employers will be able to save Plorida businesses need workers' compensation rate relief," Gullagher said.

But opposents of the revision said they will try in the 1994 Legislature to restore cuts made in injured workers' benefits.

Gallagher approved rate proposals filed Dec. 3 and Dec. 7 by the National Council on Compensation Insurance. The industry group said the new law made the reductions possible.

"The industry is real pleased with that," said Sam Miller, executive director of the Florida Insurance News Service, a trade group.

One insurer, ITT Hartford Insurance Group, which carries 5.6 percent of Florida's workers' compensation insurance, said Thursday it will expand that share because of the new law.

Police in search of gunman in landlord-tenant shooting

By J. MARK BARFIELD Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD - Police are seeking a gunman wanted for firing three gunshots at his landlord Thursday morning, endangering a family of three adults and four children.

The gunshots were fired during a landlord-tenant dispute near a West 14th Street rooming house, said police Cmdr. Dennis Whitmire. No one was injured, but one bullet passed into a home of a family recently arrived from New York in an effort to avoid violence, said Whitmire,

The incident began at about 10:40 a.m. behind the rooming house at 1713 W. 14th St. Whitmire said landlord Samuel Fuller, brother to owner Cassandra Fuller, was speaking with neighbors behind the boarding house when tenants Curtis Campbell and his girlfriend Meg Burke, 40, arrived in a car. Fuller told police other tenants complained the couple were noisy and he was planning to return their three days rent payment and ask them to leave.

An arguement followed and Fuller told police Campbell emerged from the car with a handgun which witnesses said Burke had given him. Fuller said Campbell fired two shots at him, missing him. The rounds have not been recovered, Whitmire

Fuller ran cast on 15th Street. As he jumped a fence, cutting his hand, another shot rang out,

The round missed Fuller, but passed through the living room window at 1705 W. 15th St. and into a room with two adults and four children. The bullet continued through the room, through another wall and into a bed, passing three feet from the person's head. The bullet continued through a closet door and came to rest on a pile of clothes.

Whitmire said after the shooting, Burke took Campbell to another neighborhood and returned to the scene where she was arrested on charges of being a principal to attempted murder and use of a firearm during the commission of a felony. Campbell is wanted on charges of attempted murder, use of a firearm during the commission of a felony and possession of a firearm by a convicted felon.

Gators not chosen

It doesn't take a lot of 'smarts' to figure out why the Citrus Bowl Committee selected Tennessec's Vols over the Florida Gators to play the Big Ten's Penn State New Year's Day.

If the Gators had been chosen it would have assured a standing room only crowd. But most Florida fans would have driven to Orlando on game day and returned home that evening.

On the other hand, since Tennessee is coming the committee might have some difficulty in filling th stadium. But Vol fans will stay at area hotels, dine at local restaurants, celebrate at popular bistros and while they're here take in one or more attractions.

Citrus Bowl committee people might be a little greedy but they know which side of their bread is buttered. The question is now unimportant since the Gators whipped Alabama for the Southeastern Conference title and will be going to the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans.

With apologies to Louis, the efficiently destructive "Brown Bomber," I had dubbed Goode "Brown Bomber II" after he endorsed the May 13, 1985, bombing of a Philadelphia row house of MOVE radicals. # Shoe biz gets no NAFTA kick

WASHINGTON — The North American Free Trade Agreement has now been ratified, and corporate America is beginning to deal with its implications. One unhappy sector is the U.S. shoe industry.

During the debate over NAFTA, shoc workers and workers in the apparel industry were among those most opposed to its passage. Like much of organized labor, they claimed that with cheaper labor available in Mexico. U.S. footwear companies would pack up their manufacturing operations and move them south of the border. But experts in the industry say this is not going to happen.

The foremost men's shoe company in the United States today is the 100-year-old Bostonian Shoe Company. Bob Landerman, veteran shoe and apparel company executive, is now Bostonian's president. He speaks for the men's shoe industry in talking about NAFTA.
"The U.S. is the world's leader in the manufacture of weld-constructed, high-quality men's footwear. We make shoes in a wide range of specific widths from triple-A to triple-E, and our shoes can be exactly fitted to a customer. We are the only country that has the plants with the tooling, and the skilled workers to produce these kinds of shoes.

"Bostonian makes 80 percent of its shoes at three plants - two in West Virginia and one in Pennsylvania. These factories are not going to be reproduced in Mexico. It would be so costly in terms of tooling and worker truining that you would never make up the cost of that investment in lower wage scales.

"In regards to NAFTA, I believe it will not cost U.S. shoe manufacturing jobs, but will very quickly help to create them. There is a very active market for our kind of quality shoes both in Mexico and in Canada. I believe that NAFTA will allow U.S. shoe makers many more export opportunities, which will increase sales and will create jobs."

At the other end of the shoe business from Bostonian, which has captured a major share of the $100 to $125 per pair dress shoe market, are much cheaper "unconstructed" shoes, which usually come in only standard small, medium and wide widths. It does not take as skilled a workforce, nor such complex tooling.

to produce this kind of footwear. 'At one time this low-end manufacturing was a thriving portion of the domestic shoe industry," Landerman explains. "But, over the years, much of the industry has already moved offshore. Most of these kinds of shoes today are being made cheaply in the Orient, and they arrive in this country on ships by the palletfull. What might be interesting to watch is whether. under NAFTA, some of these shoe factories might not move to the Mexican border area from Taiwan and Singapore and places like that. It is certainly cheaper and easier to load your shoes into a truck than onto a ship for a 5,000-mile voyage.

"Here NAFTA could end up helping the Mexican economy, end up helping the U.S. customer for this type of footwear save some money, yet without directly hurting the U.S.

In addition to its manufacturing arm, which makes both dress shoes and several high-quality lines of casual footwear. Bostonian also maintains a growing retail arm with its own shoe stores around the country. It and other shoc retailers are now looking at opening retail outlets in Mexico.

Prior to NAFTA, this was virtually impossible because the stores themselves had to be majority Mexican-owned, and all products being shipped from the United States for sale were subject to high tariffs. Those impedlments are now gone.

retailers like Bostonian.

■ One unhappy sector is the U.S. shoe industry. and with the growing appetite in Mexico for U.S. fashion, there seems to be a significant opportunity for U.S.

During the NAFTA debate questions were raised about whether foreign shoemakers would locate in Mexico and then flood the U.S. market with cheaply made products. This in turn, said NAFTA foes, would either force U.S. shoemakers out of business or south of the Landerman does not see this happening.

"Look at Bostonian as a model. We sell to better-grade department stores and to quality retailers as well as operating our own retail arm. What these retailers expect is service. We have to maintain warehouses full of styles in all sizes and be able to immediately restock any of our customers. Foreign makers moving into Mexico will not be able to provide this kind of service."

JACK ANDERSON Watergate burglar dies in obscurity

WASHINGTON — The death of Watergate burglar Frank Sturgls passed last weekend with barely a whimper in the press. He was one of the four Cubans recruited to do the dirty work, and were all but forgotten in the wreckage of Watergate.

But we can't let this event pass without telling you Frankle's story. Long before he Joined the world's most celebrated burglary crew, he was a close friend of this column.

Frankie was a soldier of fortune, forever chasing adventure but usually finding misadventure. He was also a Don Quixote, square Jaw set against the enemy, drawn irresistibly to such calamities as the Bay of Pigs and Watergate.

in his youth, he confounded the odds and became part of a legend, one of the ragged few who 6 But we can't let persevered in the mountains of Cuba with revolutionary leader Fidel Castro. After their incredible victory, he could be seen on Havana's streets in the regalia of an air marshal. He became Castro's man in charge of "liberated" gambling casinos and luxury hotels.

But on matters of principle having to do with Castro's repression and his turn toward the Soviet Union, Frankie defected from the revolution and became a long-shot gambler against the house. Thereafter, he risked his neck against Castro in the doomed ventures of Cuban "freedom fighters."

He progressed from the Bay of Pigs to the Watergate burglary, in which he believed he was seeking evidence that Castro was contributing to the 1972 Democratic presidential campaign.

By chance, we encountered Frankle and his fellow Cuban burglars at Washington National Airport a few hours before the Watergate break-in. Frankle was asked what he was up to. He fidgeted and mumbled.

"Secret business," he finally blurted out nervously. He left quickly, and it wasn't until the next morning's newspapers that we learned what Frankle's "secret business" really was. Those four Cubans fully deserved their sentences for their role in the break-in, but their plight has always been overshadowed by the political dimensions of the scandal. They thought they were serving their adoptive country, and were motivated by a misguided sense of patriotism. Three of the four, including Frankle, had been trained by the Central Intelligence Agency and had risked their lives on its missions. They wound up behind bars while those who plotted the Watergate crimes remained free. H.R. Haldeman (who dled last month) and John Ehrlichman, even after their dismissal from the White House, were chauffeured to the grand jury in White House limousines. Frankle and his accomplices were brought in manacles by federal marshals.

The White House left the Cubans out in the cold. In contrast, John Wilson, the attorney for Haldeman and Ehrlichman, conferred personally with the president. Haldeman was even permitted to use secret White House tapes to help prepare his defense — the same tapes that had been refused to the Watergate prosecutors and Senate Investigators.

A reported $460,000 was slipped to several Watergate defendants and their lawyers to buy their silence. Yet only a paltry few dollars filtered down to the Cubans — less than $14,000 to help them maintain their families, and $13,000 for their attorney. Frankle's share was just $2,500 in expenses.

Sturgis attributed the death of his mother to the Watergate reaction, and he owed $3,000 in hospital and funeral bills. His wife, Janet, worked furiously to pay the bills while he was in tail.

Calls.

Undersheriff Steve Harriett said the increase in the number of calls is caused by a "myriad of factors.

He cited the increase in population in the county and the Increased cooperation between the community and law enforcement.

'Our community-based policing program encourages citizens to call the sheriff's office with information or situations," Harriett said. "I believe that may contribute to the number of calls that have been received."

Though the department encourages residents to call on the sheriff's department for the services they can provide, Harriett said, the number of false alarms they receive is discouraging.

So far this year, deputies have responded to 5,110 business alarms and 8,517 home alarms.

Unfortunately, only 58 (.01 percent) of the calls to businesses and 27 (.003 percent) of the calls to homes were legiti-

"But we have to respond to each cell as if it were the rent thing," Harriett said. "That is not an efficient use of our manpower or our equipment."

He added that even if there had been an alarm at a particular location five minutes before, deputies must respond as if the call were real.

"You don't know," he said. Harriett said that though alarm companies try to cut down on the number of calls to law enforcement agencies by calling the homeowner to confirm the need for the service at the same time as they call the appropriate agency, the deputies respond to the emergency call.

"Because the answering services for these companies are in Texas or the midwest somewhere, they are not close enough to what is happening here," he said.

Harriett said the sheriff's department legal counsel is presently working on a proposed alarm ordinance that would be similar to the one already in use in some local municipalities and with the county fire department.

"Basically, there would be a penalty for each false alarm after a certain grace period over a specified amount of time," he explained.

There would be some grace period to allow for people to learn to use their systems, but after a certain period of time, penalties would be assessed," he said. While the sheriff's legal advisor, Mariann Klein, would not comment on the specifics of the proposed ordinance, she said she hopes to have a rough draft ready for the sheriff's review after the new year.

"I can't discuss the details at this time," she said. "I believe it would need to be reviewed first."

Harriett said the sheriff's office hopes the ordinance does not encourage residents from installing electronic alarms in their homes.

"We always want to encourage people to install the electronic alarm systems in their homes as a deterent (to crime)." he said. 'We want to work on a way to let the sheriffs office use our resources more efficiently."

Proposal requires teen moms to live at home to get welfare

By JENNIFER DIXON Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Teen-age mothers would be barred from the welfare rolls if they move out of their parents' home, according to a draft White House proposal to revamp the nation's welfare system and discourage soaring out-of-wedlock

The plan to keep pregnant teens and young mothers at home with their parents is one of the options under consideration by President Clinton's welfare reform task force.

The measure could eliminate a possible incentive for teen-agers to get pregnant and move out of their parents' home by depriving them of the resources to establish their own households.

Low-income single mothers not only receive a monthly cash benefit under Aid to Families with Dependent Children, the state-federal welfare program now serving 5 million families, but generally qualify for food stamps and Medicaid as well.

Under current law, teen mothers can collect AFDC if they are living with a parent. Their parents' income, however, is counted in de-termining eligibility for welfare, and that could disqualify some teens from the program, Once they move out, however, they could become Clinton administration official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said the task force believes teen mothers should live at home because "we want to send the signal that they should stay in school, get ready to work and delay. childbearing.'

"We also believe that when a very young woman becomes pregnant, the best place for her, in most cases, is to live with an adult," the official

In the draft, the task force calls teen pregnancy "an enduring tragedy" and notes that the country is approaching the point when one out of every three babies will be born to an unwed

The costs are enormous, according to the Center for Population Options, an advocacy and research organization that estimates the federal government spent $29 billion in 1991 to support families begun by teen-agers, up from $25 billion in 1990.

A significant reason for the increase, the center said in a paper prepared for the task force, is the growing percentage of teen births are out of wedlock. And single-parent families are more likely to end up on welfare than two-parent

Another idea under consideration would make it easier for two-parent families to collect cash assistance. Currently, single-parent families often have access to cash and services that are unavailable to equally poor two-parent families, the task force says in its draft report.

The task force also calls for demonstration projects offering support for two-parent families - with access to food stamps, child care, earned income tax credits and employment counseling

The task force also is considering a change in current law to make it easier for states to deny additional welfare benefits to mothers who have more children while on the rolls. New Jersey has such a policy, but it is now the subject of a lawsuit and the task force could decide to scrap Conservative welfare analyst Robert Rector of the Heritage Foundation called the panel's ideas 'pathetic and inadequate."

'They are just fiddling while Rome burns," said Rector, who lavors enting cash welfare to unwed teen parents. "Ultimately, the federal government must get out of the business of subsidizing illegitimacy, divorce and non-work, which is what the welfare state is all about."

But Mark Greenberg, a senior staff attorney with the liberal Center for Law and Social Policy, says the requirement that teen parents live at home could hurt some teen-agers.

Financial guru Givens sued for fraud, deceptive practices

From Staff and Wire Reports

TALLAHASSEE - Financial guru Charles J. Givens Jr., best-selling author whose business is headquartered in Seminole County, has been sued by the Florida attorney general for fraud and deceptive trade practices.

Givens misrepresented the likelihood of financial success using his techniques and made it virtually impossible for dissatisfied customers to get refunds, Attorney General Bob Butterworth charged Thursday. Butterworth said his office has received about 150 complaints about Givens' programs, and he expected the number to increase sharply after customers learned about the state's suit.

'When someone goes to him for financial advice and help and then they end up losing money, that's not really the whole idea," Butterworth said. "The whole idea was to help people."

The attorney general is seek-ing refunds for customers and penalties up to $10,000 each time Givens violated a state law on marketing practices. The civil suit was filed in Seminole County where the Charles J. Givens Organization Inc. is based.

Givens, author of "Wealth Without Risk," said in a statement Thursday evening that he was "amazed" the suit "makes so much news" because his business is regulated by 300 different agencies nationwide.

"The policy of the Givens Corp. is and always has been to grant a refund in every case where the customer has complied with the written conditional guarantee," Givens said. The company paid more than $5 million in refunds this year, representing 9 percent of total sales, he said.

Givens said his organization has more than 600,000 members and "every year positively affects the lives of millions. Refund requests are minute in comparison.'

Over the past decade, Givens has become a multimillionaire by persuading people to spend several hundred to several thousand dollars on his financial

He sells himself as a sample of the potential for do-it-yourself success and markets his advice and strategies athrough hi profile television commercials and talk shows, seminars, lectures, cassette tapes, books and other products.

Givens has estimated his net worth at $232 million and earned $3 million last year as the chief executive of the Givens Organization in Altamonte Springs.

The suit charges Givens promised consumers his financial strategies were "guaranteed to work for EVERYBODY, every single time." but many customers lacked experience with financial advice and were unable.

to capitalize on his advice. Givens misrepresented refund policies when he and his sales force solicited customers and failed to disclose all the limits and conditions for obtaining refunds, the suit alleges.

Florida is the first state to take Givens to court to challenge his business practices and financial advice. It is the latest action in an increasing number of government probes and growing criticism and complaints about

Reduced sunlight depresses 35 million Americans

By PAUL RECER AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON - When the nights grow long and the sun shines weakly from a bleary sky, it's the SAD time of year for the 35 million Americans who suffer from Seasonal Affective Disorder, the "winter blues," experts say.

The reduced sunlight of winter may trigger a change in brain chemistry that brings on a vicious cycle of depression, said Dr. Norman E. Rosenthal, a psychiatrist with the National Institute of Mental Health.

That condition is now formally recognized in medical literature as Seasonal Affective Disorder, he told a news conference Thurs-

"Winter after winter, these people experience lethargy and fatigue, sadness and despair," Rosenthal said. The illness disrupts personal relationships and causes victims to overeat, to gain weight and to become indifferent toward their jobs.

SAD cases for years have been considered "psychiatric curiosities." but the publication this week in the Journal of the American Medical Association of case studies represents "an acknowledgement by illness," Rosenthal said.

In the journal report, Rosenthal describes how people suffering from SAD have been successfully treated by systematic exposure to high levels of artificial light. Somehow, he said, this added light absorbed by the eyes restores the balance of brain chemicals.

Some 10 million Americans suffer severe forms of SAD, while 25 million have a milder form, he said.

Women, by a margin of three or four to one, are more often affected by SAD than men, and the disorder in women usually starts after puberty and diminishes after menopause.

"We speculate that female reproductive hormones somehow sensitize the brain to the effects of light deprivation," said Rosenthal.

Incidence of SAD is directly related to where people live, he said, with those farthest from the equator most often affected. Studies have shown SAD symptoms in about 10 percent of people in New Hampshire, which has long winter nights, while only about 1.5 percent are affected in Florida, where the southern winter days are longer, Rosenthal said.

SAD also is common in the upper cloudy weather causes a reduction in sunlight. M. Lawrence Nicodemus, a meteorologist with the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, said that in the Great Lakes area there is an average of about 220 hours of sunlight a month in the summer, but only 80 to 120 hours a month during the winter.

Studies have suggested that the dim winter light somehow signals the body to reduce levels of two brain chemicals, a neurotransmitter called serotonin and a hormone called melatonin. Rosenthal said some people seem to be more sensitive than others to these changes.

Exposure to light about 20 times brighter than ordinary indoor lighting has been shown to control SAD, said Rosenthal. Industry has developed special light boxes, costing $400 to $500, that successfully control the disorder, but the psychiatrist warned that these light treatments should be taken under the guldance of a physician.

The light therapy does not require special light radiation, such as ultraviolet rays, Rosenthal said. Bright illumination from fluorescent tubes seems to do the trick when patients are exposed in a systematic manner at some point during each winter day, he

LAKE MARY - Lyman's Greyhounds rebounded from a poor shooting performance earlier in the week and extended the Lake Mary Rams' slump with a 67-59 victory in a Seminole Athletic Conference girls' basketball contest at Lake Mary High School Thursday night.

Kate Brown had a monster game for the Greyhounds, scoring 30 points on 11-for-15 shooting from the floor and 7-of-12 from the free throw line. She also grabbed 10 rebounds, handed out seven assists, and came away with five steals.

"Kate Brown had a very good ball game," said Lyman head coach Steve Carmichael, "She pumped her teammates up and got them Involved. It was a good team effort and a big win for us at Lake Mary.

"We shot the ball a lot better tonight, making almost 60 percent after hitting just 13-of-73 against Lake Howell. We were also able to get to the free throw line, making 17 of 32 tries."

In addition to Brown, Carolyn Crager also hit for double figures for 15 points as the Greyhounds improved to 5-4 overall and 2-1 in the conference.

Despite the loss, Lake Mary coach Anna Vanlandingham was encouraged by her team's performance.

" We played better tonight," said Vanlandingham, "We're starting to come together as a team and we're working harder in practice. That's what it's going to take for us to get over the mountain."

Laura Ragueet led the Rams (2-6. 0.4) with 22 points. Jennifer Greissing contributed 10 points, 10 assists, nine rebounds and four blocked shots. Diane Duber had

Ten minutes later, Branding beat Lake Howell goalkeeper Jacob Zosky to a long throw in from Lake Brantley teammate Trevor Smith and flicked the ball into the net for the game-winner. "We played a great last 20 minutes of the game, when we were down a player," said Lake Brantley coach Jim Brody. "We have little lapses. We still have players coming in and out from injuries. The players filling in are doing well, but the consistency is lacking. Kevin Yearlek gave Lake Howell a 1-0 lead with a goal midway through first half. Ken Villet knotted the score at 1-1 when he scored on an assist from Williamson at 47:28. Lke Howell went back on top with a goal in the 54th minute. Lake Howell outshot Lake Brantley 17-13 but the Patriots had a 3-2 edge in corner kicks. Patriot goalle Sean Seaver made seven saves while Zosky finished with five.

Lake Brantley (6.4-1 overall, 3-0-1 in the SAC) plays again Tuesday at home against Bishop Moore, Lake Howell (3-4 overall, 1-3 in the SAC) plays at Titusville-Astronaut Saturday.

Trevor Wilson (No. 13) created the opportunity for Chris Branding to score the winning goal for Lake Brantley Thursday night with a long throw-in loward the Lake Howell goal. Branding got to the ball before the Lake Howell 'keeper and was able to knock it home for the game-winner.

Diamond sextet to wrap up Sanford softball year

By DEAN SMITH

Herald Sports Writer

SANFORD - Sanford's 1993 slowpitch softball year will come to an end this weekend with the playing of the Sanford Officials Association annual softball tournament Saturday at Chase and Pinchurst parks.

The tournament, being run by Sanford Officials Association booking agent and director Duane LaFollette, is to raise money to help defray the cost of local umpires wishing to attend national ASA umptre clinics. Money realized from the tournament two years ago allowed a group of 10 officials to go to a clinic in Georgia.

The field will consist of six registered ASA (Amateur Softball Association) Class C teams. The double-elimination event will play by ASA Class C rules (only one home run per team per game with all others being outs).

Two of the teams come from the Sanford Recreation Thursday league at Pinchurst Park. two come from the Sanford Church Softball League, and one is out of the Thursday league at Chase Park.

The only non-Sanford team comes from the Thursday night league at the new Seminole Softball Complex in Altamonte Springs.

Play will begin with a pair of 8 a.m. games. At Chase Park, the Sanford First United Methodist Flames will take on the M.A. Erectors, while at Pinchurst Park, Beer: 30 will challenge Florida Sport Wear. The Flames went 10-0 in winning the Fellowship Division (Competitive) of the Sanford Church League Fall Season that concluded last Saturday.

The M.A. Erectors finished tied for third in the Thursday night league at Pinehurst with a 6-4 record. But M.A. played two strong games with champion Sanford First Baptist Church and had a three game winning streak snapped by First Baptist, 3-2, in the final game of the season.

Beer:30 is a hard-hitting, high-scoring club that went 8-2 in finishing second in the Thursday Pinchurst league. It won its last three games to come up just short of catching First Baptist.

Florida Sport Wear is one of the strongest teams in Sanford and went 6-4 in finishing third in the Thursday night league at Chase Park. FSW came on strong at the end of the season, winning four of its five games to get into the title picture in the league.

The Flames-M.A. Erectors winner will meet Lake Mary Nativity Catholic Church at 9:10 a.m. at Chase Park, with the Beer:30-Florida Sport

Wear winner taking on Pretzels-Mac from Altamonte Springs at 9:10 a.m. at Pinehurst Park.

Nativity wound up in third place in the Fellowship Division of the Sanford Church Softball League Fall Season with a 5-5 record. This was the first year for the team in the highest bracket of the church league and has shown its ability to be able to hit and play with the clite of the league.

The Flames-M.A. Erectors loser will play the loser of the 9:10 Pinchurst game at Pinchurst at 10:20 a.m. while the Beer:30-Florida Sport Wear loser will play the 9:10 Chase loser at 10:20 a.m. at Chase.

The winners of the 9:10 games will play at Chase at 11:30 a.m. with the winners of the 10:20 games meeting in a losers' bracket game at Chase at 12:40 p.m. The losers' bracket final will be at 1:50 p.m. at Chase, with the championship game scheduled for 3 p.m. at Chase.

If the loser of the 3 p.m. game is that team's first loss, the winner-take-all game will be at Chase at 4:10 p.m.

Among the awards the teams will be shooting for are individual awards for the winning team and sponsorship trophics for the top two teams. A Most Valuable Player award will also be given.

FSU's Ward favored to add Heisman to trophy collection

By BRENT KALLESTAD Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE - On the dals Saturday night at the Downton Athletic Club in New York, a member of the Heisman Trophy selection committee will do something no defense has done all year: corral Charlie Ward.

The Florida State quarterback is expected to win the trophy symbolic of the nation's best football player. He would be the first player from Florida State and the Atlantic Coast Conference to win the award.

Ward, 23, didn't have a bad game all season.

He was nearly flawless completing almost 70 percent of his passes for 3,032 yards and 27 touchdowns with just four interceptions. "He's just like a vapor," chuckled Florida State coach Bobby Bowden. "Just when you think you see him, at I can reach out and grab him, he's gone." Alabama's versatile David Palmer and Tennessee quarterback Heath Shuler both juniors - were invited to the Helaman ceremony along with Ward, who is the heavy

Holidays can be hard for depressed people

DEARY MARY: It seems like everyone in the world is excited and happy about the upcoming holidays. For me, the hardest thing I do all year is just get through them. My husband died five years ago and since then I just wish I could go to sleep on Halloween and wake up on New Year's Day. My kids are grown, have families of their own, and live all over the country. They always tolerate me being with them on holidays, but I really feel like a fifth wheel. I know no one can really help me, but I feel better just being honest about how I raily feel about this time of

LONELY AND DEPRESSED

DEAR LONELY: If the holiday scason makes you feel isolated and depressed, why not give yourself the best gift of all by helping yourself to help. Regardless of the problem a person is facing, there are others who are going or have gone through it and will support you in your struggle. The gifts of caring. sharing, and support are walting for you, but it's a gift only you can provide for yourself.

Tips and topics for holiday magic

The holidays are a time of year when old. familiar decorations are retrieved from the attic, and smudged and tattered cookie recipes are pulled from the recipe files. With increased cooking, you might need additional information to make your food preparation easier. I get calls every year on the following questions.

How do you make chocolate leaves to be used in decorating holiday desserts? Melt a 8-ounce package of chocolate chips with 1 tablespoon shortening in a non-stick pan. Using the back of a spoon, coat the under side of clean, dry nontoxic leaves (such as citrus, holly, oak or gardenia leaves) with chocolate. Refrigerate until firm. Carefully peel leaf from chocolate. Refrigerate until

How do you substitute whipped butter for regular butter in recipes?

Whipped butter is regular butter whipped for easier spreading. Whipping increases the volume of butter by increasing the amount of air it contains. When using whipped butter in place of regular butter in recipes, use 14 to 14 more than the recipe calls for is the measurement is by volume. If the measurement is by weight, use the specified difference in the two?

Yams and sweet potatoes come from two different plants. Their flavor and appearance are similar. Both have a moist orange flesh with a darker skin, but their nutritional content is quite different. Sweet potatoes are considered an excellent source of Viramin A, yams are not.

When selecting either, look for firm roots that are small to medium in size. Large roots are woody and take longer to cook. Misshapen roots indicate poor quality. They will store best if unwashed until ready for use and kept in a cool dark dry place.

How can I make certain nuts such as Brazil and Macadamia easier to shell? Freeze them for about six hours before

How do you substitute cake flour in a recipe calling for all purpose flour? Cake flour is different from all-purpose floud in that it is milled from soft wheat and the protein content is low. If a recipe calls for cake flour and all you have is all-purpose floud, simply substitute one cup minus two tablespoons sifted all-purpose flour. The reverse, however will not work. You cannot successfully substitute cake flour in a recipe calling for all-purpose flour without adjusting other ingredients. For best results using cake flour, use recipes specifically designed for cake flour. If a recipe conversion is needed. It is best to contact the company directly. The product has been on the market for many years and they have had so many requests of this nature that they probably have a converted recipe on hand.

is it necessary to sift all flour before using it in baked products? Only sift flour when the recipe specifies "sifted flour." Allpurpose and whole grain d flours are sifted many times during processing, therefore, it is not necessary to sife before measuring unless specified in the recipe, Just spoon the flour into measuring cup (don't pack it) and level with the straight edge of a spatula. If the recipe calls for sifted flour but you have lost your sifter, simply take out two tablespoons of flour from each cup you measure. The remaining flour equals one cup of sifted flour.

Stepmom climbing walls over decorating

end. My nerves are all to pieces.

Four years ago, after being widowed, I married a minister who is the father of three adult children. All live out of state. The youngest daughter is 48 off she didn't want to be referred to as my stepdaughter. She goes out of her way to be rude and does things out of pure spite. For her dad's sake, I have ignored them as much as possible, as he is 83 years old and in poor health.

It all came to a head while I was in the hospital in July for galibladder surgery. This daughter came to visit her dad, and instead of fixing him nourishing meals, she took it upon herself to scrape all the wallpaper off my living room walls and paint them an ugly green - convincing her dad it would be a "surprise" for me. It certainly was!

My own daughter happened by the hospital and told me about it. I was so upset I had a severe setback. My "stepdaughter" fled into the night. She didn't wait until I was out of the hospital.

My husband can't see what's wrong with a person entering another person's home and doing this without the owner's permission. Not only that, he mailed her a large sum of money as a reimbursement. What an unbecoming way for a minister of the Gospel to act. Am I wront to thik a wife's needs and wishes come before those of a 48-yearold woman who acts like a 7-year-old?

I desperately need someone to talk this over with. As of right now. I don't want to disgrace my husband before the church, but I can't take any more from this daughter. I have thought of pressing charges.

Feel free to publish this letter If you wish - but don't use my name. God bless.

A 78-YEAR-OLD READER SOMEWHERE IN TENNESSEE DEAR READER: It was inconsiderate of your stepdaughter to do the painting without consulting you, at least on the color. She was wrong. However, give her the benefit of the doubt and assume that she was honestly trying to help you.

It seems to me that your choice is clear. Since the "daniage" is already been done, either hire a professional painter to remedy the situation, or cover the wall with pictures and joke about the situation to your friends. (I'd do the former.)

Happy Channukah

Over 100 menorahs lit in mass ceremony at Beth Am

LONGWOOD - More than 100 Chanmiktyot Channukah Menoras were ignited. togehter in a mass ceremony at Congregation Beth Am, 3899 Sand Lake Rd., during an extravaganza Thursday evening, according to Rabbi Merrill Shaptro.

Traditional Channukah foods. Dreidel games and entertainment filled the largest synagogue in Seminole County.

Jewish families from throughout the county brought a dessert to share, soda and a wrapped gift for the needy, which will be distributed through Jewish Family Services of Central Florida

The great Channukah event celebrates the victory of Jewish forces under the leadership of Judah the Maccabbee against the superior armies of Antiochus, the Emperorof Assyria. The victory by the small and untrained band of Jews over a great military machine has been seen, since the second century B.C., as a true miracle wrought by the Almighty. That great miracle was advanced by the story of the rekindling of the eternal lamp in the sanctuary of the Temple Mount in the Capitol City of Jerusalem. Only one day's supply of oil was discovered in the Temple and eight days were necessary to prepare adequate new oil. The one day supply was lit and miraculously burned for the full eight days until the replacement was ready. Since that time to commemorate the Miracle of the Oil Jews, the world over leat foods cooked in oil Jews whose roots go back to European communities eat potato pancakes called Latkes cooked in oil while dews from the communities of Spain and North Africa eat doughnuts cooked in oil.

dews throughout the worked play a game called Dreidel. In this game a top with lour sides (each containing the words that in Hebrew mean, "A Great Miracle Happened There's is spun Each letter, in turn, represents the instructions for some action to be taken by the player who then spins the

The reason for the season

The windows of Lake Mary Community Church, located in the Shoppes of Lake Mary on Lake Mary Boulevard, remind people as they pass of the reason for the season. The Rev. Jerry Peterman, pastor of the church, invites the community to come by and partake in the window paintings of the birth of Jesus, done by Shirle Bedient, Sandi Hayman and Margie Peterman

Counseling may help nightmares

suffers from nightmares. She's in her 70s, in unusually good health, has no money problems, or any other problems we are aware of, as we still get along after 50 years of marriage. Your comments?

DEAR READER: Nightmares are merely unpleasant or frightening thoughts that we have while asleep. Although they are troublesome, they don't generally affect health or reflect underlying emotional problems. Still, your wife might be helped by counseling.

Some nightmares may be caused by unresolved psychological conflicts and fears. During the counseling process. your wife may be able to identify such factors and deal with them more successfully.

In many cases, recurring nightmares may be the mind's way of calling for assistance in coping with unpleasant issues that are buried deep in the unconscious. In your wife's case. I believe that counseling is the place to start. Psychologists. psychiatrists or social workers are appropriate resources.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm interested in information on Alzheimer's disease. I'm not completely sure just what symptoms to look for, yet I strongly suspect this condition in a family member.

DEAR READER: Alzheimer's disease, a common and devastating neurological disorder, causes progressive dementia: depression, anxiety, disintegration of personality, loss of judgment and the ability to reason, impaired intellect and insight, speech disturbances, and spatial disorientation, often progressing to complete dependence. The cause is unknown and there is no cure, although some patients appear to improve when given a new drug (Cognex)

DEAR DR. GOTT: My wife that was just approved for this purpose. Alzheimer's disease is diagnosed by how the patient looks and behaves, in conjunction with an MRI scan that shows shriveling of the brain. In its early stages. Alzheimer's

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Phillip Alder

What does "at" mean to you? If you are a crossword addict. you will know that an at is a three-toed sloth. If you are into marine life, you will be aware that the al is a small edible Japanese fish. And if you are a computer buff. you will think "artificial intelligence."

telligence means robots. But really it is programming a computer to learn from its own mistakes. And now there is a computer package, called Positronic Bridge, that does just that (800-565-4005). You tell the computer to use your favorite bidding system. And whenever it makes a mistake, you "teach" it so that it doesn't repeat that

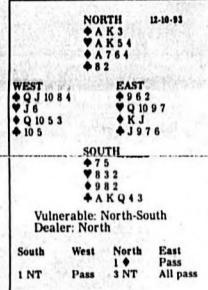

You may also play hands dealt by you or the computer. But as with all computer programs, its card-playing skills are rudimen-

A computer should be able to play today's deal correctly. because it involves odds.

After West has led the spade queen against three no-trump. South has two options. He can play off his three top clubs. If they break 3-3, he is home. Otherwise, he ducks a heart, To most people, artificial in- making if that suit is 3-3. Alternatively, he can duck the first round of clubs, making whenever the suit breaks 3.3 or 4-2. Which is better?

The chance of a 3-3 break is 35,5 percent: the probability of a 4-2 split is 48.5 percent. So, by ducking the first round of clubs, South makes the contract 84 percent of the time (35.5 plus 48.5). The alternative line works only 58.4 percent of the time (35.5 plus 35.5 percent of the other 64.5 percent). Clearly the club-duck line is much better.

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bede Osol YOUR BIRTHDAY Dec. 11, 1993

In the year ahead it might not be as important to you to have a large number of friends as it will be to have a few close, loyal pals. However, if you do intend to trim your social circle, keep on being nice to everyone.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Today you might be inclined to talk to persons you shouldn't about things you ought to keep confidential. There's a chance what you say will be taken out of context and misquoted. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 and a long, self-addressed stamped. envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, N.Y. 10163.

CAPRICORN (Dec., 22-Jan. 19) Before launching any new endeavor at this time, make sure an old one is finalized to your satisfaction. If they are allowed to overlap in some manner, both could go don't the pipe.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)

Your possibilities for achieving crifical objectives are only nominal today, because after you gain what you go after, you might not know how to hold onto it. Proceed cautiously. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Strive to control impulsive inclinations today and do everything at a moderate pace. If you're undisciplined, you might repeat a mistake you've previously

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Joint ventures might not work out too well for you today, owing to a lack of harmony regarding objectives and purposes. Be sure there is accord before making

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You might have an opportunity today to establish a relationship with someone who frequently opposes you. If you miss this second chance, you may not get a third one. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) In order to be effective and succeed today you must use your resources wisely, be they people or things. If you don't, your efforts might all be in vain.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Socially speaking things could be a bit awkward today when a friend of yours includes one of his/her pals who you dislike. Don't do or say anything you'll later regret.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be sure you have approval of everyone concerned today if you're contemplating making a change that will affect your family. Dissenters could create a lingering problem.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be very careful if you're in an authority position today where it is up to you to approve plans and procedures. Don't pretend you know what you're doing if you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your financial probabilities look good today, but your spending habits don't. If you're extravagant or wasteful, what you gain you could readily dissipate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be wary of involvements today that could impede your independence. If you're free to operate as . you choose, success is likely. If you feel hampered, it's another
