

Florida Eleven Will Leave For Boston Tomorrow

Eagles Favored In Gators First Inter- sectional Tilt

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 25.—After three straight night games, the University of Florida Gators will again venture forth in the sun Saturday afternoon, but they will be "way up north," playing Boston College in Boston. It will be the second afternoon contest in six games for the Gators, the last daytime affair was against Mississippi State three weeks ago.

Likewise, it will mark the first of two inter-sectional games which Florida has on its schedule this year. The second will be the season's finale in Gainesville with Temple U. on Dec. 2.

Practice time on their home field will be very limited for the Gators this week, since they begin their northward journey Wednesday night, arriving in Boston about 10:00 P. M. Friday. Enroute they are scheduled to have brief workouts in Raleigh, N. C. and in New York City.

While Boston was getting off to a bad start, losing three of its first four games, Boston was enjoying victories in all three of its opening games, running over Canisius 63 to 0, Northeastern 13 to 0, and Detroit 9 to 6. Consequently, the Eagles will be favored to win from the Gators.

Besides being faced with the task of keeping his boys concentrated on the Boston game and off the Georgia game the following weekend, Coach Josh Cody must give careful consideration to his injured list, which numbers

The Feds will have to work hard this week if they expect to record a victory over the strong Ocala Wildcats which they tackle Friday night in that city. The Cats have run up a large number of points against opponents this season.

The outfit must have something although they have been playing only small schools. They whipped New Smyrna in the only conference tilt of the season Friday night by a score of 59 to 13 and by the way, they may surprise their high scoring opponents.

Warner Has Excellent Percentage In Choices

Ralph Warner, who has been picking the winners of the major football games played throughout the United States each week through his column in the Herald, last week had one of his best records.

Warner made thirty-seven selections of the hardest games over the country in one of the season's hardest weeks. He picked thirty games correctly, missed four and tied three.

Warner missed the Auburn-Georgia Tech tilt, the game between N. Y. U. and Lafayette, Wisconsin and Purdue and Centenary and Mississippi.

Young has been on the squad for three seasons. In 1936 he was a second string guard and played only a few minutes that year. He replaced Buddy Wilkinson in the Leesburg Hill in 1936 and on the first play made hard tackle but injured his neck. This season, Young fought hard for the starters berth at left guard but was beaten out by Sonny Powell. Young, however, has averaged little over half

Dies Attacks Attitude Of FDR Cabinet

Head Of Un-American Probe Group Says Members Attempted To Discredit Move

Accusation Of President Hit

Roosevelt Calls Murphy Attack By Witnesses Un-American

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Chairman Dixie D. (D. Tex.) of the House Committee investigating un-American activities said today the cabinet members had lied in a well-planned campaign of "misrepresentation, ridiculous and sarcasm" which he said was conducted by persons who hoped to discredit the inquiry.

The committee was reprimanded by President Roosevelt yesterday for letting itself be used in "an unfair and un-American attempt to influence an election." Mr. Roosevelt referred to the testimony of Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan.

Dix, at the opening of today's committee hearing, said the criticism against the committee had failed. "Every conceivable pressure" was exerted, he said, to stifle inquiry. "When his like was failed," he said, "the President was induced to permit the prestige of his great office to be used to discredit the investigation."

President Roosevelt sharply accused the house committee investigating un-American activities of permitting itself to be used in a "flagrantly unfair and un-American attempt" by disgruntled Republican office-holders to influence the re-election campaign of his friend, Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan.

Admitting he is disturbed over testimony before the committee last week that Murphy was guilty of "treasonable" conduct during the 1937 automobile sit-down strike, Roosevelt described the recalcitrant governor as a "great American."

The criticism of Murphy was voiced by Circuit Judge Paul V. Gandy, whom the President described as "disgruntled" and by John M. Berringer, of Flint, Mich., tagged as "a disgruntled Republican city manager." Attacking the charges as "furious" and as "undeniably biased," Roosevelt lashed the committee for "making no effort to get at the truth" of the allegations.

"Most fair-minded Americans hope that the committee will abandon the practice of merely providing a forum to those who for political purposes or otherwise seek headlines which they could not otherwise obtain," the President said. "Mere opinion evidence has been barred in court since the American system of legislative and judicial procedure was started."

The attack on the committee came a few hours after it heard charges by Harper Knowles, an American Legion official of California, that Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins is "coddling" alien criminals, and is guilty of "gross malfeasance" of office and "dereliction of duty" in administration of immigration laws.

SEEKS CLEARANCE Liner Heads For New York After Fire

Deutschland Blaze Is Extinguished Without Injury To Any Of 961 On Board

HAMBURG, Germany, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The Hamburg American line announced today that the captain of its liner Deutschland had extinguished the fire aboard extinguishing and that the ship was proceeding at normal speed toward New York.

Yesterday Captain Steneker, the captain of the liner, reported that more than 800 passengers and crew suffered from smoke and the liner would go to New York Friday or Saturday.

Last night Captain Steneker announced that the liner would arrive in New York on Saturday.

The Captain later radioed the crew was able to extinguish the fire caused by an explosion with fire fighting apparatus on board and did not incur any damage to the ship's equipment or fixtures.

Although the big ship was 900 seas and about 100 crew injured, including among the passengers, American and foreign, there was no serious injury.

There are two schools of Another group believes similar

In the new Czechoslovak both groups see distinct improvement;

THE VICTOR RETURNS

(From Spain)
No song can make a wreath for the dark brother Who spent his strength upon an unseen thrust Who spread his nets for the tide to smother Rather than put to sea with the unjust.

There was no war, no wound in sight of goal, No bomb nor shell, no falling plane above, Save in those inmost places of the soul Where the grim siege can be prolonged for days.

Without a mortal witness, Earth makes little Of battles fought for strange democracies,
When her towers and her own homes are brittle.

She was enough within her boundaries,

So homeward turns this victor, his war ended Down a dull road with weary steps and slow
He struggles on, unwilling and unattended.

And it is fitting that this should be so.

A Narrow Escape

We are fond of saying that this is an age of machinery, and that the individual man doesn't count for a much now as he used to. But every once in a while something happens to prove that when the machinery goes wrong, as it inevitably does, sooner or later—we are right back in the old spot and have nothing to rely on but the courage and resourcefulness of one man.

An example is that recent week of an air liner near Montgomery, Ala. This liner, bound from Houston to New York, left the Montgomery airport with 11 people aboard shortly after midnight. It reached an altitude of some 1400 feet. In its cabin the lights were dimmed and the passengers were settling back in their seats for an uneventful, drowsy trip. And then came trouble.

The right-hand motor began to vibrate violently.
Something went wrong with the propeller, maybe, or a bolt was sheared off, anyway, the sudden vibration broke the motor loose from its fastenings and it fell to the earth.
A gas line was severed and the plane took fire, and what had been a routine flight abruptly became an emergency weighted with dire peril of death.

The emergency was met and passed, and nobody was killed. And why? Because the plane's chief pilot, Dave Hissong, was a cool and capable chap who knew exactly what to do, and was able to keep his head while he did it.

Hissong managed to keep the left wing up while he brought the ship down. With only his landing lights, he sought out an open space on the ground and negotiated a landing. His co-pilot, C. R. Russell, gave him the minutes he needed to do this by cutting the gas line and holding the flames back with an extinguisher. Steward Frank Gibbs saw that the safety belts of the passengers were properly fastened, and stood by to open the cabin door and help him out the moment the plane had stopped.

Nobody got hurt. It was a close call, of course; the occupants had got perhaps 20 yards from the grounded plane before it exploded in a vast puff of flames. All in all, they had had about a minute to spare in their escape.
But the point is that they did have that minute, and it was enough.

In South America

Uncle Sam is losing no time in building up his war defenses since Adolf Hitler made Chamberlain and Daladier crawl at Munich. Bernard Baruch reports that one of the ultimate objectives of the European dictators is the domination of South American markets, and Warren Pierson, president of the Export-Import Bank in Washington, is quoted in the Miami Herald as saying that the South Americans prefer the United States.

"Banker Pierson returned here from more than two months spent in the southern hemisphere," the Miami paper says. "He found Germans very active commercially, but he could not see that the Nazis, as political groups, were causing too much anxiety."

"Financier Baruch made his analysis after several months spent in Europe as the confidential agent of the President. Both observers are right. The one foresees the ultimate plans of the dictator from what has taken place and what is developing in Europe. The other bears witness to the effect thus far of German propaganda in South America. He notes little progress."

"Baruch's report calls for preparation to avert any possibility of the Nazi ideology taking foothold in the New World. Pierson emphasizes that we should seize the present activity of Germany to extend itself commercially in Latin America to spur ourselves to greater activity."

"The Washington banker emphasizes a salient fact—the good neighbor policy has won the sympathetic understanding of South America and that the recent war scare has convinced the republics that the United States is their permanent market."

If Pierson's estimate of the temper of Latin America is well founded—without exception I found a most friendly feeling with the United States—then it is our own fault should we fail to respond and permit Germany or any other foreign power to displace us in the esteem of our neighbors."

"I WILL NOT permit 30 men to travel 400 miles merely to agitate a bag of wind," said President White of Cornell University, in 1873, when the University of Michigan challenged Cornell to a football game to be played at Cleveland, with 30 men on a side.—John McCarthy in The Commentator.

ever, we have discovered, is not to carry an umbrella.

prices which the poor as well as pork and bacon would be higher, and who used good taxpayers' money to pay farmers first to plow under their crops, then not even to plant at all, has finally come around to our way of thinking that it would be better to give the surplus food to the poor than to throw it away. However, the Secretary, who knows about as much about business as Brenda Fricker, this season's New York glamor girl, wouldn't quite give the surplus food away; he would have the merchants sell it to the poor at a little lower price than the merchants would sell to those not quite so poor. Keeping two sets of books, one for the poor and one for the semi-poor, and being responsible for the decision as to which class every customer belongs in, merchants would soon find they had been made the lem, and the whole thing

Shrunken Czech
Nation May Not Fare So Badly

When one considers the reduced number of persons to be supported and the fact that the new national grouping to be more logical.

Industrialy, there is no blinking the fact that the new Czechoslovakia will have given a major operation.

At first glance it appears that the peripheral upland districts in which most of the industries are located, because their power and materials derive from the hills, will be wrested away, leaving only the flat agricultural lands of inner Bohemia and Moravia.

What is more, it is almost certain that industrial confusion must follow drawing the red line of new boundaries between hop fields and breweries, coal supplies and factories, clay beds and potteries.

But the question is not how great is the loss nor what immediate economic collapse may develop; it is whether a nation can survive on what remains.

The prospective boundaries of the new Czechoslovakia will not take away all the brown coal of the nation, nor all its iron ore, nor all its forests. Czechoslovakia will not have the great mills and factories of the upland, but it will have around Plzeň and Prague and elsewhere less important mills and factories which can be the nucleus of a new industrial growth.

There are chemical, wood and paper manufacturing plants, plus mines, which will be available to the new nation.

Commercially, the new nation will be handicapped by the loss of its chief port, Ostrava, and by the loss of its chief railway, the Prague-Ostrava line.

Politically, the new nation will be handicapped by the loss
of its chief port, Ostrava, and by

Feds Practice Plays For Tilt With Ocala Eleven

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Herald Sports Editor

The Seminole High School Celery Feds underwent a tough workout yesterday afternoon in preparation for their toughest contest of the season Friday night when the locals travel to Ocala for a tilt with the high scoring Wildcats in a regular Northeast Florida conference tilt.

The first string backfield was composed of Pete Tills, Buck Ferguson, Darrell Fugan and Fred Gaines. The boys were run through the different plays the Feds will use in Ocala and the session ended up with the dummy running with the Ocala offensive plays running against the regular eleven.

Coach Leonard L. McLean, head mentor of the Celery Feds delegation, stated this morning

IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

The high school football delegation apparently is a first half ball team since to date they have scored but one touch down and an extra point during a final half. The boys have tallied all 10 points they have made this year in the first half save seven points scored in the second half of the Deland tilt.

We certainly hope Joe Engel can make arrangements with Charlie Bradshaw to have the Chattanooga Lookouts make this city their home for Spring training activities. Engel is ranked as one of the smartest men in baseball along with Larry McPhail of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Engel, however, still has the honor of being called the Barnum and Bailey of the national pastime.

According to an announcement made several days ago, Bradshaw has already made a number of arrangements for a definite story about the affair.

Bradshaw likes the game and although this is his first entrance in the game, he is quite familiar with the important facts. He was offered the largest amount for a player ever offered before in the history of the Florida State League, $3000 for Eddie Hudson, lanky right-hander who was converted into a hurler

Valuable Spy Trial Letters Are Missing

Photographic Copies Were Introduced By Government As Evidence In Case

Reference Made To "Von Papen"

Miss De Wanger Implicates Voss As One Of Spy Ring

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP)—A book containing photographic copies of eight letters introduced into the evidence by the government at the German spy trial was missing today when the trial was resumed.

The photographic copies, made at the direction of the British Intelligence Service, were of letters sent by Gustav Rumrich, former U. S. Army sergeant who pleaded guilty and turned state's evidence at the trial, to a German agent named Sanders in care of Mrs. Jessie Jordan at Dundee, Scotland.

The staff of U. S. Attorney Lamar Hardy's office, it was disclosed, made a prolonged but vain search for the missing documents before today's session started.

Earlier a U. S. Customs agent identified blueprint negatives, photographs and other documents which German agents nearly smuggled to Berlin aboard a German trans-Atlantic liner three years ago.

One of the confiscated letters contained a startling reference to a "von Papen," which led courtroom observers to recall the name of Col. Franz von Papen, former German chancellor and one-time Nazi ambassador to Austria, who was cited for espionage activities in this country where he was a pre-war military attaché at Washington.

The customs officer said the bearer of the intercepted documents had variously described "von Papen" as a U. S. Army infantry captain stationed at Montevideo, N. Y., and as a person "now in Austria."

Like his two co-defendants, Joanna ("Jenni") Hoffmann, 26, and Erich Glaser, 28, Voss listened

HOW JAPANESE MADE RECORD MARCH

Hospital Need Is Stressed By Advocates

Dubose Says New Institution Should Be As Self-Sustaining As The Present

H. C. Dubose, of the Hospital Executives Committee, Dr. C. E. Park of the Seminole County Medical Society and County Attorney C. F. Hagan, holding a meeting before the Woman's Club Wednesday afternoon, discussed the need for a new county-owned hospital and declared that the present one is not up-to-date.

A resolution for the present hospital, Mr. Dubose quoted figures which showed that despite the activity of the Bernard Laddie Hospital to meet the hospitalization demands of the people, it has never been forced to apply for a loan in order to carry on and on no longer report has there ever been an unpaid bill. He stated in closing that he believes a new and larger hospital can be run more profitably due to the increased patronage that will be possible, plus the funds obtained from the new tax.

So rough and difficult is the South China country traversed by the Japanese in the speedy conquest of Canton that pirates long have used it as a favorite hide-out. And yet Japanese soldiers averaged 15 miles a day in their march on Canton. The above picture is a striking example of how they combined manpower with horsepower to get equipment and supplies over the mountainous region in their notable 10-day march.

Speaking both in observance of Navy Day and on the requirements for a career in aviation, Lieut. Michellet, from the Naval Air Station in Pensacola, spoke at the Seminole High School this morning. Lieut. Michellet pointed out that for a career in the Naval aviation the students to fully assimilate the ground work for education which is given in the high schools.

The naval flier also outlined the curriculum at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, pointing out that courses in regular college work as well as the essential maritime subjects are required.

He further pointed out that it is possible for a youth with some college credits to enter the Naval air school in Pensacola if he is able to pass the required physical examinations. After a
