WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The political waters of the capital rippled today in the wake of the latest element into their midst — President Coolidge's endorsement of Senator Adam Butler, chairman of the Republican committee, who is in the second elections in Massachusetts by former Sen. J. Walsh.

Trial? Ho, Hum!

Aimee Semple McPherson's long drawn out trial at Los Angeles must have been quite a strain to her. Or maybe she's just naturally lost interest in it. Anyhow, the evangelist went sound asleep during the hearings the other day, and the camera man caught her at it.

SEVEN CONVICTS SHOT TRYING TO ESCAPE PRISON

Three Guards and Negro Trusty are Also Wounded When Attempt is Made to Break Missouri State Pen

JEFFERSON CITY Mo., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Seven convicts, two of whom are believed to be dying, were in the prison hospital here today suffering from gunshot wounds, and three guards and a negro trusty were recovering from minor injuries received when the prisoners attempted to escape from the Missouri state penitentiary yesterday.

Armed with knives, the prisoners attacked and overpowered J. T. Wynes and A. C. Welkenburg, two guards, and after securing a pistol from Wynes leaped through a window to a corridor leading to the tuberculosis hospital. Here they attacked J. L. Freeman, another guard, who was stabbed in the shoulder before the convicts obtained his pistol. A negro trusty who tried to aid Freeman was stabbed after he knocked one of the men down with a chair.

The prisoners then opened fire on other guards and trusties who appeared in the corridor and ran to the south stockade, where two of them were shot down by wall guards using riot guns loaded with buckshot. The rest were sprinkled with shot as they retreated to a shirt factory. The five convicts were taken from the factory building after a two hour siege in which tear gas was used without effect.

Most of the convicts were serving from five to 25 years on robbery or assault charges, the two believed fatally wounded are: James Wadlow, 31, sentenced to six years for grand larceny at St. Louis, and Raymond Crews, 25, serving 15 years for robbery of the American Bank at Densot, Mo.

17 MILLION BALE CROP ESTIMATE OF U. S. COTTON

Department of Agriculture Issues Report of Largest Yield in History of the Growth in This Country

Average May Total 176.6 Pounds to Acre

Predict 25,000 Bales For This State Alone With Texas in Lead With 5 Million Bales

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Predicting the largest cotton crop ever grown the Department of Agriculture today placed the indicated production at 17,151,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

That is 827,000 bales more than indicated on October 1, and exceeds the previous record crop by more than a million and a quarter bales. Reports from all parts of the cotton belt showed that production this year is greater than had been expected and that the field of lint cotton average was approximately 176.6 pounds or 8.3 pounds more than indicated on October 1. The heavy yield combined with the largest acreage ever estimated resulted in the huge production.

Extensive defoliation of the cotton plants by the leaf worm coupled with warm weather have advanced the maturing of the late bolls and permitted rapid picking, the department said. Ginning to October 13 totalled 8,722,066 running bales compared with 9,518,948 bales to that date last year.

The cotton forecast was based upon the data concerning condition, probable yields, ginings and other factors as of October 18, which indicated a yield of approximately 176.7 bales of lint cotton per acre. No condition figure was announced.

The previous report on indicated production based on October 1 placed the crop at 16,627,000 bales and the acre yield at 168.4 pounds. Last year's crop was 16,103,679 bales and the acre yield 167.2 pounds.

The forecast by states included:

Florida	28,000
Georgia	1,470,000
Alabama	1,400,000
Texas	5,400,000

"There is no question now that the largest crop in the history of the country has been grown," said the crop reporting board in commenting on their report. "On the other hand, the low price and scarcity of pickers, especially in the western part of the belt, will probably result in a considerable quantity of the lower grades not being picked."

Virginia Police Nab Man Believed To Be Gold Counterfeiter

PETERSBURG, Va., Oct. 25.—(AP)—On charges of counterfeiting $10 gold pieces, Jack Stone was under arrest here today after a chase in which police fired six shots before he was halted.

Officials expressed belief that he might be the person for whom Norfolk and federal authorities have been seeking for weeks as the author of spurious $10 gold pieces which have been passed, principally on theatre cashiers and drug stores, from Providence, R. I., to Virginia.

Stono, police said, attempted to purchase a theatre ticket here, proffered a purported gold piece. The ticket seller became suspicious and called the manager. Stono left, they said, and the manager called the police who located him and pursued him.

The police said that during the chase Stono attempted to throw away eight other "gold pieces," which were recovered. They were of lead; the police said.

Despite warning broadcast by the police in Norfolk, four counterfeit gold pieces were taken from a man in Norfolk, the police said.

Labor Union Opponent Of Twenty Years Ago Now Preparing His Last Fight

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—DIETRICH LOEWE, the hatter of Danbury, Conn., who became famous 20 years ago, when he fought in the courts labor unions that boycotted his goods because he would not unionize his shops, is waging his last fight, the New York World says today.

"Old man Loewe," as he is known to his fellow townpeople is 74 years old, nearly blind, and broke. His last battle is to keep from creditors, his factory now bare, but which used to employ 350 men, and his home. Both are mortgaged heavily.

When Mr. Loewe staged his finish fight with the unions more than 20 years ago, he won a $240,000 verdict against the Hatters' Union and the American Federation of Labor, which was upheld by the United States Supreme Court. He collected every penny of it, because of a loophole.

To get his money Mr. Loewe levied attachments against the homes and bank accounts of his former employes. He was much

Ex-Senator of Illinois Was Reported Worrying and Ill Over Threatened Inquiry Into His Conduct of Office

MARION, Ill., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Worry over financial reverses, ill health and the loss of his position as United States district attorney four months ago are ascribed as the reasons for a sudden fit of insanity late Saturday night that drove W. O. Potter, 56, prominent southern Illinois attorney to kill five of his family and then end his own life.

After his victims had retired, Potter crushed the skull of each, one of them a baby three weeks old, with a furnace shaker, and then ended his own life by hurling himself into a cistern at the rear of his home. The bodies were found by a son, Morris Potter, 20, who returned several hours later from a trip to a neighboring town. The victims were the wife, Myrtle, 52, two daughters, Eloise, 16, and Mrs. Lucille White, 28, and the latter's two children, Phyllis, 4, and Cynthia, 3 weeks old. Mrs. White was the wife of Dr. Gilbert White of Miami, Florida. Another of the White children, Gilbert Jr., six, had been visiting at the Potter home but recently had gone to visit a grandmother at Olney, Illinois.

Testimony before a coroner's jury, which yesterday returned a verdict of murder and suicide, bought out that Potter, who served part of his term as United States district attorney at East St. Louis under Federal Judge English, now facing impeachment proceedings, brooded under the belief that his official actions were under investigation as well as those of the judge.

Funeral services probably will be held Wednesday.

Oliver of Sanford, negro, whose automobile struck a car driven by a Palatka man two weeks ago on the Sanford-Orlando highway, pleaded guilty today to a charge of driving a car while under the influence of liquor and was sentenced to serve 60 days on the road and his driving license revoked for six months. Oliver has been in jail since the accident.

Florida Will Not Get Federal Aid Through Democrats, Says Householder

Florida will never receive federal aid in proportion to its impotence as long as it elects minority congressmen and senators who are not in harmony with the ruling forces at Washington.

This summarizes the plea Leroy D. Householder of Melbourne, Republican candidate for congress from the fourth district, made in Sanford Saturday night. Mr. Householder who is running against Congressman Joe Sears of Kissimmee, devoted only a brief part of his speech to his platform. He inveighed against the disadvantages of a state of the union "staying put" politically.

Mr. Householder was followed by Judge John O. Shares, candidate for state senator from this district, and Mrs. Daisy Douglas Barr of Eau Gallie, an evangelist of the Quaker faith. J. P. Hall, postmaster, was on the truck of the platform from which the candidates were being addressed.

CAMPAIGN FOR N. Y. GOVERNOR GROWS BITTER

Smith and Mills Continue to Hurl "Stink Bombs" Into Race as Election Date Rapidly Approaches in North

Smith Shouts That Hearst Backs Mills

Impure Milk for City of New York Caused by Governor, His Opponent is Charging

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The chief candidates in New York state's hot campaign are concentrating on the final days of the campaign. Indications are that the fireworks will continue.

William Randolph Hearst, publisher, has given Ogden L. Mills "The Kiss of Death" by supporting the Republican candidate for Governor, in the opinion of Governor Alfred E. Smith, Mills' Democratic opponent.

To this the Mills campaign committee retorts that Smith expressed much gratitude for the support of the Hearst papers two years ago and that "he must be greatly peeved" because he does not offer his support this year.

Governor Smith said: "I record he is not on the level, referring to a charge by Mr. Mills that he vetoed a bill to install voting machines in New York. The Governor said:

"That's cold blooded wicked deliberate misstatement, the bill was signed by Governor Miller and not vetoed by me."

In a letter to the president of the United German Societies of New York City, the Governor denounced the "fanatical drays who see in a harmless glass of beer the sum total of iniquity."

"The German people," he added, "have demonstrated how families can enjoy life with music, songs and a little beer."

The Mills campaign reverted to its charges that adulterated milk is sold in New York, the candidate himself writing a letter to Governor Smith reminding him of the great charges and the need of a state wide inquiry to ensure a pure milk supply to six million persons in greater New York.

Senator Wadsworth, in urging the maintenance of a Republican majority in Congress to support the Coolidge program, favors the continuance of the Republican tariff and a change in the prohibition laws.

Robert F. Wagner, the Democratic candidate Senator, accuses his opponent of "double dealing tactics," in that he waited until he got into wet territory before he said he would vote on the state dry referendum. Wagner declared himself strongly for modification of the Volstead act.

WILHELM INVITES OLD FRIENDS TO ATTEND HUNTING

Estate in Germany to be the Scene of Old Time Meet Staged by Hohenzollern's for Prominent Personages

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Wilhelm Hohenzollern has invited various personages to attend a hunt on his favorite preserve in the health and forest country of East Prussia. But he will not be there as in olden days, standing behind a blind as the game is driven past as a target for the huntsman.

The newspaper Montag Morgen says the invitations have been signed "in the name of His Majesty, the Kaiser." Fifty persons, among them Prince Henry, consort of Queen Wilhelma, of Holland, for diplomatic officials and military officers have been asked to attend next month.

The newspaper says the former emperor will not be present and no decision has been arrived as to whether former Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm will go. It expresses the belief, however, that the hunt forshadows a return to former day customs.

The law exiling the Hohenzollerns goes out of effect after July, but Dr. Paul Loebe, president of the Reichstag, is quoted by the Boersen Courier as saying that the social democrats propose to take steps in the Reichstag to prevent the return of the former ruler even when his term of exile ends. They are said to be convinced that the coming home of William would result in violent internal disturbances, as well as international complications.

Two New Witnesses Called For Defense In McPherson Case

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The two new defense witnesses were to attempt to identify tracks in a northern Mexico desert as those of Aimee Semple McPherson as the evangelist's preliminary hearing on conspiracy charges entered its fifth week.

The witness, who arrived here yesterday from Douglas, Ariz., are O. W. Ash, constable, and M. E. Irwin, photographer. Defense attorney W. I. Gilbert indicated that the testimony of Ash and Irwin would lay the foundation for evidence tending to definitely locate the shack from which Mrs. McPherson says she escaped after being kidnaped at Ocean Park, Calif., last May.

Superior Judge Carlos Hardy also was to continue his testimony relative to the dealings with the late R. A. McKinley, blind attorney of Longbeach with whom the state charges Mrs. McPherson and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, conspired to produce mythical kidnapers to support the evangelist's abduction story.

Prior to Mrs. McPherson's return to Los Angeles after 25 days absence from Angelus Temple, McKinley had been approached by two men who offered to produce the evangelist for $25,000 ransom. Judge Hardy learned. Later, the men offered to furnish the details of the kidnaping. McKinley was killed in an automobile accident and the plan failed. Judge Hardy explained that his negotiations with McKinley were in good faith and as a friend to Mrs. McPherson and her mother.

Secretary of Treasury Believes All Nations Of Europe Profit By It's

U. S. To Make Change In Tar

Pact Will Allow More Trade in States Foreign Countries

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Application to the United States of the proposed pact contained in the economic manifesto signed by some American and European bankers for a lowering of tariffs in the interests of trade would rather than increase American purchases abroad, is the opinion of Secretary Mellon, of the Treasury.

Serving formal notice on the administration that the manifesto would bring about no change in the present tariff policy, approved its application to European states on the ground that it would effect there a condition similar to that existing here, free trade along states of the union.

Any reduction in the American tariff rates would act as a stimulus but as a boomerang. European export trade to the United States, he contended, because it would "occasion unemployment and reduce our purchasing power will diminish the country's consumption of commodities and large surpluses of the world's principal products," and would "help certain foreign nations to cover from losses occasioned by the war, but would retard such recovery."

The trend of trade during the past few years," he continued, "convincingly confirm the notion that the volume of trade is controlled by the purchasing power of the nations, rather than the rate of imports duties assessed."

Europe, he declared, is selling increasingly large quantities of products to the United States, mostly of the non-durable class of commodities not produced in the United States. During 1925, it added, 65.2 per cent of the imports to the United States were free of duty, these non-durable commodities exceeding the value both dutiable and non-dutiable, the year 1914 by more than 50 per cent.

Reducing the American tariff rates, he argued, would deprive the United States of a large share of manufacturing products "where the costs are less." "The United States is the largest customer in the world today," Secretary asserted. "If we are not prosperous and able to buy Europe would suffer. It is conceivable to me that American policy will never consent to the abolition of protection which is bringing the American standard of living down to the level of the European, or that the American farmer could survive if the enormous consuming power of the people in this country was cut off and his market at home destroyed."

Florida Alligator Mixes With Kentucky Wildcat In First Football Clash

MUNICIPAL STADIUM, FAIRFIELD PARK, JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Florida Alligator and the Kentucky Wildcat met here today in the first football struggle ever staged between the University of Florida and the University of Kentucky.

The game deposeders favored the Kentucky clan, for Florida, much as it was for wear after a dismal Mississippi-Mercer outlook, went into the struggle handicapped with injuries to star players, including "Tiger" Sarr, the fighting captain-center, who was not allowed to start.

The Floridians, light and inexperienced, had seen much buffeting in the Chicago, Mississippi and Mercer contests, all of which found them, although fighting to the last minute, on the losing side.

Arriving yesterday the Kentuckians pranced through a short workout on the stadium grid iron, while down at Gainesville the Gators went through a brief session. Coach H. L. "Tom" Sebring's prognosis rolled into the city during the early forenoon today.

Inaugurating Jacksonville's variety football team season, a huge crowd was the forecast with cool, clear and almost football weather, greeting the players and fans.

A play by play description of the game was broadcast by WJAX, the municipal radio broadcasting station of the city of Jacksonville.

Lasses White All Star Minstrels is Lauded In Newspaper Review

This year's Lassies White All Star Minstrels, which shows here at the Milano Theatre, Oct. 27, is the best edition the famous minstrel man ever put on the road, according to the review appearing in the Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser. The reviewer said in part: "Somebody said last night after seeing the performance of the Lassies White All Star Minstrels, at the Grand theater, that 'Lasses' must be getting ready to retire and devote the future years to being a champion golfer, or a bond broker, or something like that, and has produced a show this season that will make lovers of minstrelry remember his name and fame.

"Personally we hope 'Lasses' don't retire for many a long year, and then only when old age overtakes him, if it ever does—for 'Lasses' has always been this writer's favorite minstrel man and black-face comedian, and it wouldn't seem like old times not to see his look and a lot of laughs at his heart once a season.

"It's the best show the All Stars have ever brought here, in the opinion of the aforesaid—a minstrel performance that has seldom been equaled and certainly not surpassed in material, appointment, and all round excellence."

DECISIVE VICTORY FORECAST IN 12 EASTERN GAMES

Major Interests of Gridiron Centers on Harvard and Yale Conflicts This Afternoon Against Lesser Foes

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Decisive victories were forecasted by critics of pigskin in eastern football games today. Yale, Dartmouth, Yale, Columbia, Princeton, Army, New York University, Washington and Jefferson, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, among others were favorites.

Major interests was in the Harvard attempt to recover from the most disastrous start in its gridiron history. But Harvard's supporters held only dim hope of stopping Dartmouth, beaten by Yale.

Yale's confidence of subduing Brown was slightly shaken by the loss of Fishwick, brilliant end, Lee Mallory, of Memphis, brother of a former Yale champion, was given Fishwick's assignment.

Captain Davis, of Princeton, was in the line-up for the first time this season, but Jake Shagle, triple threat backfield star, was ordered not to play against Lehigh.

Pennsylvania and Army, powerful and unbeaten candidates for titular honors, expected no difficulties in disposing of Williams and Boston University, respectively, but a close struggle between two crippled teams loomed in the meeting of Penn. State and Syracuse. Navy, pointing for revenge next week against Michigan, for the overwhelming defeat of 1925, apparently held a distinct edge over Colgate.

Duke made its initial invasion of New York to oppose Columbia. Fordham was host to Washington and Jefferson. Other evening games were West Virginia vs. West Virginia Wesleyan, Pittsburgh vs. Carnegie Tech, and Holy Cross vs. Western Maryland.

Robinson's Circus Advertising Car Is In Sanford Today

Colorful posters, depicting the many wonders of the John Robinson Circus have been posted on the bill boards of the city and countryside, while lithographs, highly colored, hang from the store windows, all proclaiming the appearance here soon of "America's Oldest and Best Circus."

This is the 103rd tour of the John Robinson Circus and the long trains, loaded to the guards with elephants, wild and savage animals, horses, ponies, tents, show equipment, as well as the showmen, are the summer homes of the hundreds of performers and workmen who will roll into town on the morning of Thursday, November 4.

John Robinson's Circus comes this year with its rings, arenas, and hippodrome track filled with the best in the world of the big tops. More trained animal numbers are offered by John Robinson's Circus, than any other circus on tour. Five hundred people, horses and animals participate in the gorgeous and unique spectacle, which opens the performances at 2 p. m. and also at 8 p. m.

There are over 1,000 people with the big show. The equine department numbers over five hundred head, while scores of wild and domestic animals are featured in the show proper and also in the menagerie. John's Robinson's tent will seat nearly 100,000 people, and the city of canvas will actually cover nine acres.

For the convenience of the women and children, a downtown ticket sale will be conducted on circus day at Roumillat & Anderson Drug store. General Admission and reserved tickets will be sold at exactly the same price as on the show grounds.

Eastern Grid Teams Having Success With Place Kicks After Touchdowns

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Eastern grid iron warriors are more than measuring up this year to the increased demand for speed and skill imposed by the rule requiring points after touchdowns to be made from scrimmage.

A review of the college games played thus far shows that approximately four out of every five chances to add the extra point are being accepted. Eighty-five out of 108 possible points in major contests of the East were scored last Saturday.

The placement kick has been almost unanimously retained as the surest point making medium after touchdown, records revealing that only a handful of eastern elevens are willing to risk the attempt to dropkick, running with or passing of the ball. The chief exceptions are Navy, Fordham which have been placing dependence for their points from touchdown in Hamilton and Graham, respectively, both dropkickers.

Several of the leading placement kickers have only one miss to their credit. Wilson, of Army; Carr of Syracuse, Strong of New York University; Madden of Columbia; Wascelonis, of Pennsylvania; Shaughnessy, of Colgate; and Carr, of Cornell, top the field for accuracy.

Carr has sent the ball across the bar in eleven out of twelve chances, while Wascelonis, Wilson and Madden all have ten to their credit.

The march for touchdowns has been so uniformly successful as to bring very few points from field goals thus far.

Of 27 leading eastern elevens, only seven have scored by this method. Hamilton, of the Navy, leads the East with four successful dropkicks to his credit.

Northwestern-Notre Dame Meeting Today Ranks With Michigan-Illinois

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The battling of sixteen teams in the conference races, Drake's inter-sectional with Mississippi and Notre Dame's sortie into the Big Ten topped the crowded program of mid-Western football that today marked the halfway point in the 1926 season.

Michigan's big stadium was sold out long before the kickoff with Illinois, Northwestern, new stands turned away hundreds, it appeared that the count of the crowd at the Iowa Ohio game would pass 50,000, and that the throngs throughout the mid-West would approximate half a million.

The Wolverines were favorites over Illinois in the main Western conference game. Purdue was at Chicago, Iowa at Ohio State and Indiana at Wisconsin in engagements also hearing on the Big Ten championship, still far from decided. The Boiler-makers were given odds over Chicago for the first time in years, Iowa was expected to go down gallantly before the Ohio team that crushed Columbia a week ago, and Wisconsin was rated a better team than Indiana.

Sharing attention with the Michigan-Illinois game was the invasion of Northwestern on Knute Rockne's team. Minnesota was at home to Washish in the other non-conference tilt of the day.

Mississippi's game with Drake drew a major share of interest to Des Moines, in one of the Missouri Valley's two inter-sectionals. Drake was regarded as a favorite. The Oklahoma Aggies were far from home for their encounter with Texas Christian University at Fort Worth.

In the quartet of valley conference games, Nebraska was a favorite over Kansas, Missouri over Iowa State at Ames and the Kansas Aggies over Oklahoma, and Washington of St. Louis, and Grinnell were given an even ranking.

SPORT BRIEFS

By The Associated Press
Nick Altrock and Al Schacht, baseball comedy team of Washington, have shifted their antics to other sports. They put on a comedy professional debut and Sunday appeared in outlandish football outfits to entertain the crowd at a professional game in New York.

Navy's victory over Princeton Saturday was the first Michigan conquest from home since 1881 when the Army was defeated 7-0. It was Navy's first victory over Princeton.

Fight Results

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK—Monte Munn, Nebraska, won from Carl Carter, Cuba, when Carter disqualified, 7. Jim Maloney, Boston, scored a technical knockout over Arthur Dekun, New York, 2. Yals Okim, New York, beat Bob Lawson, Alabama 10. Jack Demave, Hoboken, and Sandy Seifer, Philadelphia, draw, 10.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—Pinkey George, Chicago, beat Harry Soe Jung Bill, 10. Lefty Louis Mays, Des Moines, knocked out Dan Lang, San Antonio, Texas, 2.

MILWAUKEE—Bennie Valkar, Chicago outpointed Joe Azzarelli, Milwaukee, 10.

CHICAGO—Jack Snyder, New York, won on a foul from Ray Miller, Chicago, 2. Alvan Ryan, St. Paul, beat Jimmy Finley, Louisville, 10. Clyde Hull, Texas, knocked out Bobby Cox Chicago 2.

ST. PAUL—Bud Taylor Terre Haute, handaweight champion, outpointed Vic Burrone, New York 10.

TAMPA, Fla.—Julian Moran, Spain, outpointed Jack Rapport, Newark 10.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Mushy Callahan scored a technical knockout over Charley Pitts, Chicago, 2.

The desire to get the utmost seating capacity has done away with the thought of regulation fields.

That is all wet from the standpoint of fairness.

What is a home run on one ball park, should be a home run on any other field in the circuit.

This would make for equality and would give no home team a certain advantage because of freak features of its park. It would make every home run a real one, decidedly official.

Major league managers must give this thought much consideration if they have the welfare of the game at heart. The public is going to tire of these cheap home runs and there will be a decided reaction to the detriment of baseball when it does.

catcher of the New York Yankees, who was unable to take his place behind the plate in the World series, because of a broken arm, has entered the political lists at Niagara Falls, where he lives when away from the Yankee fold. He is a Democratic candidate for the assembly.

The approach of chilly weather means little to the huddling babe of baseball. In an exhibition game at Montreal yesterday, Ruth not only hammered out two home runs, but broke up the game in the ninth inning when the last of the 36 balls he hit out of the park during the afternoon exhausted the supply. All but two were foul. Babe showed the Canadians considerable baseball-pitching for a while, then playing shortstop and first base. He also umpired for an inning.

Patrolman Francis E. O'Rourke, of New York, believes football is a rough pastime. He was keeping spectators back in a semi-professional game when one of the backs dashed down the sideline. Three opponents drove the runner off-side in a maze of flying arms and legs. When the pile was untangled O'Rourke was on the bottom with a fractured leg.

Probably the most peculiar play in all Saturday's spectacular football was the scoring of a touchdown by a Princeton player who had seemingly been eliminated from the play. Barch threw a pass that Schuber, Navy back, batted down only to see it fall into the arms of Stinson, Tiger halfback who was sitting over the goal line having been knocked out by Hamilton (another Michigan player).

Practically Every Team In Southern Conference Remains In Title Fight

The fifth week of the fall gridiron season today saw all but four of the 22 Southern conference football elevens in a hard scramble to advance their 1926 standings. Two others played Thursday, while one was in the mid-West for an inter-sectional encounter and one met a non-conference opponent.

In the van of the 18 aggregations who centered their hopes on the outcome of today's contests, was Alabama's Crimson Tide, which went against the strong Sewanee forward wall at Birmingham in an endeavor to increase its victories to four and maintain its conference leadership percentage at 1.000.

While the Crimson confronted Sewanee with a complete first string lineup, with the exception of Holmes, center, whose cold has kept him on the bench, Sewanee has put in a strenuous week at breaking up the aerial game at which Coach Wade's men star.

Kentucky was in Jacksonville to test Coach Sebring's theory that boating and swimming is the proper wind-up for a week of football scrimmage, and Florida's hopes for winning combination are based on a lifted lineup.

North Carolina State was at Richmond for a clash with Virginia Military Institute and the University of Virginia and Virginia Polytechnic met at Blacksburg. Maryland was host to North Carolina at College Park, and Tulane entertained Auburn at New Orleans.

The Mississippi Aggies and Louisiana State, came together in their annual clash, the contest this year being played at Jacksonville. The University of Georgia invaded the Commodore stronghold at Nashville for a contest with Vanderbilt and Washington and Lee's Generals were on the way to Atlanta with a game with Georgia Tech's battered Golden Tornado.

The University of Mississippi is in Des Moines for an encounter with Drake, a strong contender for North Central conference.

The University of Tennessee, with no conference game scheduled for outside the circuit for a game with Centre's Colonels at Knoxville.

GOVERNOR CALLS FOR MEETING ON DRAINAGE WORK

Problems Will Be Taken Up At West Palm Beach Meeting Later Part of This Month; Many Are Invited

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Oct. 23.—(AP)—In an effort to arrive at some understanding and system concerning the drainage of the Everglades and control of its flood waters, all interested residents of the drainage district have been asked to meet in this city late this month by Governor Martin who will preside over the sessions.

The meeting will also be attended by the governor's cabinet, consisting of the comptroller, state treasurer, commissioner of agriculture and attorney-general, the Everglades drainage engineer, by the sub-drainage boards, by representatives of the counties and cities in the affected area, and by newspaper publishers and editors.

Among the problems to be discussed for a possible solution will be the need for more and larger outlets, especially the outlet to the southwest through the Shark River district; the lowering of the surface of the lake, and the government (Okeechobee navigation) regulations; the alleged need for a new control board, "whose residents live in the Everglades area and are more familiar with drainage problems;" the financing of the work by changing the drainage tax districts to include the entire lands which are benefited by their drainage, and the urgent need of immediate and temporary relief measures in the storm stricken sections of the Everglades. These plans have been announced by local interested parties.

By an act of congress in 1845 more than 1,225,000 acres of partly submerged lands in the Everglades were ceded to Florida, the sale of which land was to be used in the drainage plans. Taxes from Everglades drainage district and the sale of partially submerged land and sale of the development bonds create the funds now being used for this work, it is charged. Approximately $12,000,000 has been expended in drainage work, it is said. The meeting is expected to be held on Oct. 28, but the exact date has not been decided by Governor Martin. Platinum has been sold to Gold Coast of Africa. Michigan has the largest extent of water boundary in proportion to its area of the Union.

Officers of County Federation

Among the many delightful social affairs of the past week was that of Saturday when the members of the 1922-24 club of the charter officers of Seminole County Federation of Women's clubs were entertained with an old-fashioned chicken dinner at the home of Mrs. O. G. Walcott at Oviedo with Mrs. Walcott, Mrs. E. G. Smith and Mrs. A. D. Sauer as hostesses.

The spacious Colonial home was abloom with quantities of Cosmos zinnias and other cut flowers in the varying shades of yellow combined with greenery. Potted plants and ferns were also used to advantage.

Centering the long dining table was a crystal basket filled with cosmos and maiden hair ferns.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. John Leonard on Armistice Day and will be in the form of a luncheon.

Those invited were Mrs. W. B. Ballard of Altamonte Springs, Mrs. E. E. Hardy of Longwood, Mrs. Porter Wakefield of Geneva, Mrs. Endor Curlett of Geneva, Mrs. W. E. Watson, Mrs. Jack Scott, Miss Mell Whitner, Mrs. R. C.

Resolved that as we do not need to work and have plenty of time to sit on the benches and

Whereas we have paid for the said benches in bond issues from time to time and are guaranteed "situation without representation" and

Whereas we have a perfect right to sit down from time to time as we can find the opportunity to discuss affairs of state

Be It Therefore Resolved that it is just as right and proper for us to sit on the park benches without pay as it is for Sheriff Hand to sit on the bench in front of his office with pay.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL ACTIVITIES

Be Yourself

The person who said "Be yourself" said a mouthful, as the Duchess of York used to say. If you are "yourself," you are not a hypocrite, but a person who has lived so long in a world of make-believe that he does not realize that the world is not being natural. He has been fooling others so long that it seems the normal thing for him to do. He is kidding himself. And that is about the worst and most dangerous disease that a man can have.

When you look at his assets, he lists his stock in this corporation or that, and at what he could sell it for, or what he would pay for it, but at what he really wishes it was worth. When he strips for his bath, he looks in the mirror and draws up the muscles of his arms. They look pretty strong and he glories in the power that lies therein. He imagines he can just about tick anybody in the world. But he is just "kidding himself."

Our country is made up of a whole nation of "kidders." Girls put rouge on their cheeks to make them seem like what they are not. Boys swallow quantities of mints and gummy licerine in order to seem as if they haven't been drinking. Politicians in order to appear erudite when they are not. Women admire hats and gowns when they really think the things are terrible, just to get the compliments they want. They go to bridge parties, teas, and club meetings playing as if they were having a good time. They sponsor movements of one kind or another, just to get their names in the paper. So do the men. And they pretend they do it altruistically for the good of the cause, but it is all kidding themselves.
