Youth Needs To Be NEEDED

According to Miriam and Valerie Rye, owners of the School of Dance Arts in Sanford, "Our dancing school has become more than just a place where children come to learn to dance. Teachers around the country should do more for their students these days than teach them the basics of dancing and performing. We have instilled in our dancers the idea that they are a definite part of the cultural community and not just children who take dancing lessons. We encourage our students to become involved in community activities, and in doing this dance center they share their talent and energy with others."

Valerie and Miriam use the word "community" often because they feel so strongly that young people need to be needed and what better way is there, than to be a part of the community? The accent these days seems to be "live modern," "be where the action is" and "think young." Although the girls center their curriculum around superior dance technique, they put a great deal of emphasis on developing character and personality with a lively sprinkling of enthusiasm and energy which combines the old with the new.

Valerie and Miriam have been teaching dancing for nine years, and are now making preparations to open their school again for its fourth season in Sanford. When complimented on their last three "night of Dance" presentations, they smiled and said, "Thank you, next year will be even better." The girls have put their own meaning to the A.C.C. "A" is for ambition, "B" is for belief in their work, and "C" is for a challenge to be met.

The school of Dance Arts located at 109 West 27th Street, is now accepting registrations for fall classes which will begin Sept. 8. The school is open for registration daily from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and Saturday, Sept. 7, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Miriam and Valerie welcome all those who may have questions, or would like more specific information concerning dancing and their school.

'Snorer' Is Problem

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Dr. Marcus H. Boulware, a professor who admits he was once an "inveterate snorer," but claims to have tapered off to become a "controlled snorer," says the problem is no laughing matter.

A professor of speech pathology at Tennessee A&I State University, Boulware said people who snore tend to be unpopular partners in marriage, unpopular roommates in colleges and unpopular comrades in an Army barracks.

He said that according to experts in the field, about one out of every eight persons snores. He has received grants from the Carnegie Foundation to do research on snore control.

Memo to the Jaycees: Associated Press today carried a story out of Frederick, Md., which could be used as a good gimmick to publicize Sanford and/or Seminole County.

Frederick Jaycees had a picnic last season but, both in the historic town, a night's lodging at a local inn, keys to the city, a tour and numerous gifts at a reception. The couple continued their honeymoon one day later.

Memo to the Elks, to the Moose and to Cook's Corner: Today is H. Linwood Tomney's 77 birthday. Possibly you don't recognize him under that name, but he will point out that Hank Tomney is celebrating his birthday by doing his daily job in The Herald's print shop. Happy birthday you, Hank!

Elsewhere on today's front page Herald sports editor John Spolaki sports the bad news that Sanford has lost — for next year, anyhow — any hope of entertaining the new Montreal baseball nine during spring training. Spolaki had a good idea of how to help boost the economy by having the Montreal team attract tourists, but as in the case so many times, those who must act were dragging their feet.

As The Herald's editorial writer, Staff Derby, points out: That outfit building new nursing home on Melowville Avenue searched all over town for the quietest spot to place its signs reading "Quiet — Hospital Zone" — and decided near the unused stadium would be the most quiet spot in Sanford.

TB Association mobile X-ray unit will give out free chest X-rays next month in Seminole County on this schedule: Sept. 16, Seminole Junior College, 9:30-11:30 a.m., and Deep South Products, Forest City, 2-4 p.m.; Sept. 17, East First Street, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.; Sept. 18, Seminole Plaza at City Public Market, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.; Sept. 19, Fleming Market, Midway, 3-5 p.m.; and Migrant Clinic, Midway, 6-8 p.m.; Sept. 20, Tip Top Supermarket, Sanford and Fourth, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

Georgia Hall, of the Chamber of Commerce, got "hooked." Remember the item here about the young Brazilian writing for literature, information, pen, etc? He sent some Brazilian money to defray expenses. Local banker said it was worth about $125, and would be sent on to Chase National Bank at NYC for exchange. Georgia sent $140 in postage for material the young man wanted. And here today that the Brazilian money she had received is worth less than one cent American.

Montreal 9 Bid Collapses

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI Herald Sports Editor

Montreal's usually associated with the Brooklyn or the now L.A. Dodgers, that same phrase might just as easily be applied to Sanford's current situation in trying to lure the National League's newest entry here, the Montreal club.

In a telephone interview yesterday, General Manager Jim Fanning "hinted" that the club would probably build a new stadium. We unofficially requested that a member of the Montreal franchise visit the city to discuss the plans and review our facilities.

However, I am equally confident that neither of these teams would want to continue for more than one year, for obvious reasons. One thing (including New York) would have trouble supporting both, much less West Palm Beach.

Secondly, they are well aware of the Central Florida growth factor, plus the advent of Disneyworld and the possibility of many clicking turnstiles.

'Stop And Frisk' Law Pondered

Sanford City Commission heard the first reading of a new "stop and frisk" ordinance.

This proposed law would give Sanford police the right to stop anyone in a public place, without cause, address and arrest, if he is in possession of, or is about to commit a felony and may demand of him his name, address and an explanation of his action.

This ordinance was officially adopted by Orlando after a July 15 reading and is being redrafted by William Hutchinson, city attorney, for local adoption some time in September after third reading.

The law further provides that "when a police officer has stopped a person for questioning and in danger of life and limb, he can search that person for a weapon."

Sports Ed Wins Race For Mayor

By DONNA ESTER

Ken Brown, television sports director and South Seminole campaign manager for William Chappell for Congress, swept all opponents and emerged victorious in his first bid for public office yesterday.

In the special election called to fill the unexpired term of the late A. R. Lermann as mayor of the city of Longwood, Brown won the seat by nearly three-to-one over the newly-elected strength of his opposition.

Brown waged one of the most vigorous campaigns Longwood has seen in years, with door-to-door soliciting for voters, mailing of campaign literature to the registered voters, as well as a telephone effort to the electorate.

Having been a registered voter in the city for little more than one month he nevertheless was able to gain the endorsement of Councilmen James Brown, H. A. Scott and Burton Ferrell, former Mayor E. E. Black and City Clerk Orlie R. Shomate.

Results of the election, as certified this morning by the canvassing board, were, Brown, 158; H. D. Shum, 91; James 18; Scott, 19, and Vern Hahn, 18. Some 488 persons, out of an estimated 1,110 registered voters, cast ballots in the election.

It is expected Mayor-elect Brown will assume the duties of his office at the regular council meeting Sept. 5.

Photos Tell Story

Sanford City Manager Warren E. Knowles "entertained" the city commission with a show consisting of photographic shots made by him during the recent western adventure; but the part that really "stopped the show" came at the end, when the city manager revealed photographic evidence that the store alley behind the one-hundred block of East First Street in Sanford, Fla., was a "pothole."

The law further provides that "when a police officer has stopped a person for questioning and in danger of life and limb, he can search that person for a weapon."

Car A Mystery

Florida Highway Patrol's Deland office has a mystery on its hands.

Early today Trooper Paul Hopkins discovered a demolished 1968 Chevrolet automobile with a Volusia County plate just north of Longwood on I-4.

The gold-colored vehicle, with only 87 miles, was reportedly a total loss after the car had previously overturned at least three times when it went out of control.

Cruz of the mystery is what happened to the driver?

The accident had occurred some time in the early morning hours, but there was no sign of the vehicle's operator.

A small-scale search was made of the area, but failed to produce any clues that would lead to the driver.

An investigation in continuation for the highly qualified and capable staff now employed in your tax collector's office.

At this time Volusia faces no Democratic opposition in the special primary. However, if elected, he will face incumbent Candidate Mrs. Evelyn M. Hill of Deland in the November elections.

Occupation License Due

Those persons engaged in or managing any business, profession, or occupation for which a state-issued occupational license is required by Chapter 205, Florida Statutes, are reminded that these licenses are to be renewed on or before the expiration date. Owners of retail stores are reminded that they now purchase their store licenses from the bank collector's office. Bank of these licenses are in effect on Oct. 1; the previous year's license will expire at that date.

Those new business owners (or occupations) not previously licensed in the county are required to complete an occupational license application form to be filed in the tax collector's office.

Bulletin

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia said his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination today and said he would campaign against the Democratic party's nominee in the fall.

Veino Runs For Tax Collector

Volusia County District 1 Candidate Irving Veino Jr. of Osteen today announced his candidacy in the Sept. 17 special election to name a tax collector to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Cornelia S. Paul, whose death occurred two weeks ago as result of an automobile accident.

Veino, whose term as constable expires in January, 1969, has served in this office for more than 12 years. The 39-year-old candidate is a cattle rancher, is married, and is the father of three sons.

Veino is past president of the Volusia Cattlemen's Association, past president of the Volusia Justice of Peace and Constables' Association, a past director of the Florida Cattleman's Association and a past director of the State Justice of Peace and Constables' Association. He also received the award of "Outstanding Conservatism in Volusia County" in 1964. He is a native of Volusia County and is a member of a pioneer family in that area.

In his announcement, he said, "I shall seek the Democratic nomination in the special primary, Sept. 17, to run for Volusia County Tax collector."

"My platform is simple and contains only three basic points: . . . to operate the tax collector's offices with courtesy, integrity and efficiency; to take every conceivable step to add a modern system of expediting service to Volusia County's taxpayers and citizens; and, to provide honest and detached leadership and administrative direction for the highly qualified and capable staff now employed in your tax collector's office."

At this time Volusia faces no Democratic opposition in the special primary. However, if elected, he will face incumbent Candidate Mrs. Evelyn M. Hill of Deland in the November elections.

County, City Tax Near Comparable

By BILL SCOTT

The much discussed "difference" between county and city property taxes finally reached the comparison stage when figures from both tax rolls were compared in a memo to the City Commission by Howard Wheelchel, city finance director.

Comparison showed that city figures were not too much out of line with county tax assessed on city properties.

"In addition, the sheriff's department last year was directed to purchase savings and the board suggested we also consider a budget for this year. If that was the type gas required. These matters were determined by the county commission at budget hearings and apparently some were set out in the sheriff's appeals board's order because the sheriff's appeal petition alleged the county had not provided for these items.

"The sheriff obviously is having a hard time of it with his budget requests to the tax payers," Alexander noted in conclusion.

Sheriff Peter Miller said that Gov. Claude Kirk took no part in the rejection of his budget submitted to State Appeals Board for decision. Miller added, "I firmly believe that Kirk did everything possible to give me the money required to adequately enforce the law in Seminole County." He continued, "Partisan politics played a role in the decision that led to the rejection, when the reported Cabinet battle was extended into this appeal."

State Upholds County

By JUDY WEISS

County Commission Chairman John Alexander, commenting to The Sanford Herald today on denial of the State Budget Appeals Board, to appoint Sheriff Miller's budget request, said he was "pleased the appeals board concurred entirely with the County Commission that sufficient funds were appropriated to operate the sheriff's department in Seminole County and additional funds were unjustified."

"Continuing, Alexander said, 'I'm sorry the sheriff chooses to yell 'politics' and ignore the facts. A number of incorrect statements have been made concerning the sheriff's budget, including one stating that the county commission refused to raise the sheriff's salary. We provided the proper number of personnel at proper salaries, which was a five per cent increase above the sheriff's approved last year. Any salary juggling is the sheriff's doing and without the commission's approval.'

"The sheriff also indicated at budget hearings he would no longer provide deputies as county guards on the board included money for this purpose. I get some type cooperation from the school officials."

"In answer to another of his (Miller's) statements, I would like to inform the public that we provide for medical treatment of prisoners through the physician and county clinic.

"These matters were determined by the county commission at budget hearings and apparently some were set out in the sheriff's appeals board's order because the sheriff's appeal petition alleged the county had not provided for these items.

Lion Life Probed By Researcher

MUGWONGO, Kenya (AP) — The first thing George Adamson does each morning upon entering his split bamboo and thatched hut is rescue a brace of frogs from an old helmet which serves as a bird bath at his camp.

Then, about sunrise, he begins another long day of listening to the frogs and listening to his diary the activities of his pride of lions.

The frogs, along with a multitude of lizards and birds, have found refuge and food beneath the shade of a giant acacia tree under which Adamson set up his camp three years ago.

Two of the lions, rescued from pending imprisonment in a zoo after filming the story of "Elsa," came with Adamson to Mugwongo. A third later joined them after making an 11-hour trip from the Nairobi Game Park Orphanage with Adamson in his Landrover.

Four cubs were later given him and bottle fed by Adamson before they learned how to kill game.

In keeping with his original goal of turning the pride back to nature, Adamson avoided giving much protection to the first cubs born at Mugwongo. The first disappeared, perhaps into the stomach of a leopard, the second was killed by a lion from another pride.

Two cubs born 14 months ago were never touched by Adamson. "We didn't try to tame them at all. Now you can come quite close but they won't allow themselves to be handled, which is of course what we wanted," Adamson said.

Before the year is out, as three young lions become adults, Adamson hopes to have more cubs added to the pride, and a chance to broaden his study of lion in the wildlands.

But Adamson, who gained fame in East Africa for his hunting expertise, and a 11½-acre tract in the Nairobi Game Park Frontier District of the 1930s, wants some professional scientific help to catalog the life of his lions.

He feels the pride offers a unique opportunity for research into lion life.

Francis Minot, Kenya representative of the African Wildlife Leadership Foundation, headquartered in Washington, said he feels Mugwongo offers a scientist "a unique opportunity to study the surrounding flora and fauna," making full use of Adamson's experiences.

With Adamson's patient coaching the lions have learned to be self-reliant. He recently filmed five of them stalking and killing a topi. While otherwise wild, the pride accepts Adamson as part of the group. The lioness "Elsa," of "Born Free," written by George's wife, Joy, was born and died within 20 miles of his camp. Joy Adamson maintains her own camp within the same radius.

"The Elsa Foundation," founded by Joy from the proceeds of her books and the movie, helps finance conservation measures in the area, which recently became Meru National Park.

"My own ambition now is to do all I can to help wild animals. I'd like to set up a foundation to further lion research," Adamson said.

Adamson, in his 60s, has a first, and according to him probably his last, book. It tells of his experiences as a hunter, er, milk vendor, gold prospector, animal plantation hand, locust control officer, game warden, and film maker.

"Elsa" and his efforts to return lions to nature.

Entitled "Bwana Game," as he was known by many Africans during his 33 years as a game warden, the book, which came out a few weeks ago, was sold out of at least one local book store and has prompted letters from Australia and Britain.

John Haxtondale, whose father crossed Lake Rudolph with Adamson in 1914 during the search for gold and the fabled "Queen of Sheba Mines," joined Adamson's camp in February and helps him keep a daily written and photographic record of the pride.

With proceeds from the book and a possible movie based on it, together with revenue from a recently finished television documentary about the pride of Mugwongo, entitled "The Lions Are Free," Adamson hopes to set up his foundation to continue

Biggest Securities Firm Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has leveled fraud charges against Wall Street's biggest securities firm on grounds that it leaked a big money secret only to certain major investors.

LBJ To Endorse HHH?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, while declining a hands-off attitude toward the work of the Democratic National Convention, has edged close to endorsing Hubert H. Humphrey.

Meeting with newsmen at an informal dinner party here Tuesday night, Johnson said he hoped the views of the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates will not be too divergent so the world won't have to wait until the November election to assess the nation's future course.

With Vietnam and foreign policy obviously uppermost in his mind, Johnson's statement was widely interpreted as meaning he would prefer a Humphrey nomination—though he carefully had some kind words to say for the vice president's principal rival, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and George McGovern.

The President passed up a chance to fly to Chicago for a birthday salute at the convention. But he said he might go later—after candidates have been nominated.

The presidential nominating is set for Wednesday, the vice presidential selecting for Thursday.

For his birthday, Johnson and wife Lady Bird joined their daughter Luci Nugent and grandson Patrick Nugent to cut a small cake and open gifts at the Nugent home here. That's where newsmen saw him.

Then the First Family flew to the LBJ Ranch, 48 miles west, where they were joined by their other daughter, Lynda Robb, for a country-style birthday dinner topped off by homemade peach ice cream and angel food cake.

Both Johnson sons-in-law are active duty in Vietnam and the President, after being asked to state one birthday wish, said: "I guess I'd like for all of our boys to be able to lay down their arms and come home and live in dignity without fear."

The dumping lasted half a week until June 24, when Douglas Aircraft from Merrill Lynch which was not available to us from other sources.

According to the SEC, Merrill Lynch was helping Douglas Aircraft Co. prepare a bond issue when it learned the big plane-maker's earnings, contrary to earlier optimistic reports, were in bad shape.

The SEC version of what happened is that this word passed through the Merrill Lynch channel to a chosen few investors and that immediately thereafter these began to sell off their holdings in Douglas in the expectation that its value was about to drop.

John Haire, chairman of the anchor Corp., into which Investors Management Co., one of the cited firms, was consolidated recently, said:

"To the best of our knowledge, we did not receive any confidential information regarding Douglas Aircraft from Merrill Lynch which was not available to us from other sources."

But those guys who pinch hit for another pinch hitter and slam a game winning home run in the last of the ninth—that's a pinch hitter's pinch hitter. That's Merv Rettenmund.

The rookie outfielder, who has made most of his frequent appearances for the Baltimore Orioles by coming off the bench, won the label Tuesday night.

Rettenmund, recently recalled from the minor leagues, assumed his first major league home run with one on and one out and lifted the Orioles to a 3-1 victory over Oakland in the eighth inning of a two-night doubleheader.

When the Orioles won the Chicago White Sox 2-1, Baltimore found itself only four games behind the American League leading Tigers.

The Orioles haven't been that good since June 10 when Detroit led Cleveland by only three games.

The Tigers helped along the comeback by giving the White Sox the winning run in the ninth inning on second baseman Tom Match's throwing error.

Off in the distance Boston stomped Cleveland 7-1 and the New York Yankees stopped California 2-0 before losing 2-0 in afternoon games.

At night, Minnesota blasted Washington 1-3 after losing 2-0 in a twilight game.

Curt Blefary had given the Orioles a 3-0 lead with his 11th home run in the fourth inning but the Orioles found themselves deadlocked 3-3 after Reggie Jackson, Rick Monday and Sal Bando unloaded solo homers in the seventh for the A's.

Blefary singled with one out in the ninth off losing right-hander Jack Aker, 3-3, and when left-handed Erol Hrdlicka was sent up to pitch for Larry Haney, Oakland switched to left-hander Warren Bogle.

Continuing the game of pin-pointing, Baltimore manager Earl Weaver called on Hendricks.

The 25-year-old right-handed hitter, making his ninth appearance at the plate this season, responded by hitting the first pitch over the left field fence. He now has a single, two doubles and a homer for a 444 total.

Computer Series A Dream

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Last year, over one million were cast by the public in answer to every fan's secret wish for definitive competition among the outstanding players of different generations.

The Dream World Series, they called it, and it has settled a few arguments but provoked many more.

Each station had carried the broadcast as if it were a regular game. The National League took the "series" in six games. This year, over 100 stations have already signed up for the two-hour broadcast.

Listeners across the nation determine who will compete in the annual baseball classic. Bidding, conducted in each market by the station which will carry the game, is under way and the "series" opens September 25.

Relief pitchers have been added this year, plus some "new" names at other positions. All nominations were chosen by a canvass of 500 sports editors. After the public has picked the AL and NL teams, lifetime records of the players will be fed by IBM into a data-processing system.

The games will be "played" by using a program of instructions for the computer. The resulting information is then translated into play-by-play coverage.

Players will arrive in baseball who have been nominated include Brooks Robinson, Yogi Berra, Mickey Mantle, Joe DiMaggio, Gil Hodges, Eddie Mathews, Eric Banks, Stan Musial, Willie Mays, Hank Aaron and Erny Face.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Last year, over one million were cast by the public in answer to every fan's secret wish for definitive competition among the outstanding players of different generations.

The Dream World Series, they called it, and it has settled a few arguments but provoked many more.

Each station had carried the broadcast as if it were a regular game. The National League took the "series" in six games. This year, over 100 stations have already signed up for the two-hour broadcast.

Listeners across the nation determine who will compete in the annual baseball classic. Bidding, conducted in each market by the station which will carry the game, is under way and the "series" opens September 25.

Relief pitchers have been added this year, plus some "new" names at other positions. All nominations were chosen by a canvass of 500 sports editors. After the public has picked the AL and NL teams, lifetime records of the players will be fed by IBM into a data-processing system.

The games will be "played" by using a program of instructions for the computer. The resulting information is then translated into play-by-play coverage.

Players will arrive in baseball who have been nominated include Brooks Robinson, Yogi Berra, Mickey Mantle, Joe DiMaggio, Gil Hodges, Eddie Mathews, Eric Banks, Stan Musial, Willie Mays, Hank Aaron and Er

Strikes And Spares

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

Although there are some of our bowling leagues which concluded last week, some are finishing up this week, and a rare few terminate next week.

However, by the same token, an equal number of daytime and evening groups have held or will hold their organizational meetings this week. And in just a moment or two, I'll try to cover off some of their activities for you.

In the meantime, let's give a final summer league salute to some of our own local pros who've been hammering the pins with more than a little regularity.

Lightning struck twice for Gus Henke, what with rolling the explosive ball in both the final night of the Thursday Evening Mixed League.

Gus collected the high game award on his last night of league bowling with his 257 game, plus gigantic 600 series. Also bowing well from this same group was Ken Wilkins with a 215-536.

But getting back to Gusie-boy... earlier in the week, in the Tuesday evening Unprofessional's League, Gus slumped a 237-601 set.

New while we're at this point of league reporting, let's not overlook the Lido Ole Shocker John Fischer of the Wits Amoco squad hitting for a 218-572. Odeba polling well were Jerry Farrell (All Souls) with a 201, 206-500 and Father Keane stroked two goodies, in a 176 and 177.

Gus Henke wasn't the only one affected by the last night's competition. Talk to Gordon Senart and you'll get a mighty and tall.

Ever since the Monday evening Singles Classic "B" League started this summer, Gordon has been in the top spot or just a shade away.

All he needed was one win, out of a possible four games, and the crown would have been his. Unfortunately, this past Monday, he ran into the number two man on the totem pole, Bob May, who wouldn't have any part of those plans.

May started strong with a 215 and finished with a respectable 137... taking all four points... and the top slot, too.

Over 500 swimmers representing 17 swim groups from all over Central Florida will hit the water during the Sanford Swim Association's two day meet which is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. Friday and Saturday at the Sanford Naval Academy Pool.

Sanford Captures Third Slot

The third place trophy at the Robinson Invitational Swim Meet came home with the Sanford Swim Association. Outdistanced for first and second by the two Central Florida giants, Winter Park "Y" and Orange County "Y", Sanford swimmers fought for the third place berth with the Iteco team from Rockledge.

They won by a narrow two and a half points on the very last event late Saturday night.

With competitors breaking national and state records, it was only Sanford's top swimmer who were able to invade the winner's circle. Points from the top scorers, Walt Morgan, Kathy Reagan and Bill Peck along with those of the rising teams boosted the team to the third place niche.

Big For His Business Jockey Tells A 'Tall' Story

By TOMMY THOMAS

NEA Sports Writer

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Robert Wholey Jr., says no one has ever suggested he try out for the Celtics or the Lakers, despite the fact he's a big man for his business.

Wholey is an 18-year-old jockey, son of the late rider who died in 1960.

He is five feet, eight inches tall.

Despite his height, he can ride comfortably at 100 pounds. However, his clothes have to be made to order.

"Since I have longer legs, I live with longer irons and have to adjust them to fit the different mounts. I look pretty silly standing up in the arena on a little two-year-old. But long legs are an advantage in that you can 'boot-and-boost'—get into the horse with your feet—better than a guy with short legs."

Wholey's story is typical of most jockeys. He started working summers at the track when he was 14. He lived in the Queens section of New York and during school, he worked as a stablehand in the mornings and after a hour.

"Two years ago," he says, "I was an exercise boy in Florida, all alone. I lived in a tack room at Hialeah. It was tough but I survived and signed an apprentice rider's contract."

His first mount was at Aqueduct a little over a year ago—a 20-1 shot.

Wholey says he just couldn't get started at Aqueduct so he went to the track in the Finger Lakes region of New York.

At Athens, Georgia, Coach V. Dooley, who has ruled for four seasons on a string running game, began laying plans to utilize a number of position receivers with his trio of strong-arm quarterbacks.

Dooley has juniors Paul Gilbert and Donnie Hamilton and sophomore Mike Cavan battling for the quarterback job. All have displayed potential as passers and, though he gives Gilbert a slight edge at the moment, the coach says the position won't be settled until after two or three games.

"First of all, we have Dennis Hughes at one end who is a good receiver but an even better runner once he catches the pass," Dooley said. He said end Charles Whittemore has "a great pair of hands," and he rates back Jim Pittman, Steve Farwath and Kent Lawrence, the track sprinter, as able receivers.

Coaching Coach Charlie Bradshaw sent his Wildcats to practice in pads for the first time Tuesday.

Bradshaw said his team is "pretty far along," for this early in the season.

Tulane held tight workouts with Coach Jim Pittman strengthening conditioning.

Junior quarterback Hank Stafford and sophomore cornerback Jack Lovelock announced they were giving up football and five other Tulane players withdrew for medical reasons. They were Steve Presley, Bill Frey, Steve Shaw, Jeff Miles and Steve Tilley.

Women's League

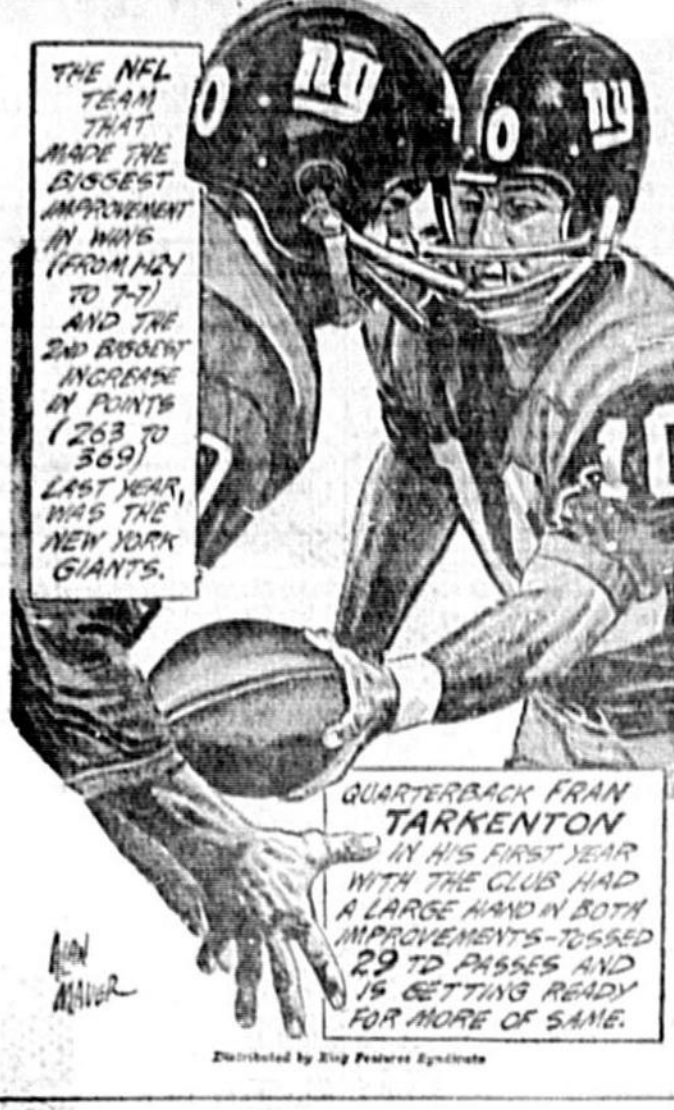

The very first get-together of the former Sandspur league was held at Jet Lane last Friday at 7 p.m. For most of the girls it was their first game of bowling since last May when their Fall League ended.

The former members who have indicated their willingness to bowl in the new league since it has been renamed the Women's City League are Betty Hunt, Miriam Buttsche, Dorothy Keifer, Juanita Blair, Tex Powell, Elizabeth Kelly, Betty Lee, Marilyn Morrison, Ann Schneider, Marge Jackson, Dorothy Bretts, Molly Hall, Gert Tennell, Elaine Miller, Ruth Rankin, Penny Peterson, Carol Landen, Nancy Zaidinski, Sandy Wiggins and Virginia Lundermilk.

All others who are interested should be at the Jet Lane this Friday, at 7 p.m. at which time a complete new set of rules and regulations will be voted upon by those in attendance. The league will officially start on Friday, Sept. 6 at p.m.

GIVES, GETS THE BIG HAND

By MAYER

Vince Lombardi has become a movie star in a film called "Seconds" about the life of the Green Bay Packers before stepping down after last season to concentrate on his duties as general manager.

The movie, previewed Tuesday in Green Bay before an audience of executives from 16 Midwestern companies, involves a salesman in need of a victory who turns to Lombardi for advice.

The salesman is played by an actor. Lombardi is cast as Lombardi, a role in which he became stereotyped during nine seasons as Packers field boss.

"It was very convincing," said Lee Hemmel, a Green Bay sports writer turned critic for the occasion.

Jerry Kramer, a guard for the Packers, has a role in the film and gets off one of the better lines. The salesman asks Kramer a look at coach Lombardi and Kramer replies: "He doesn't have ulcers, but he's a carrier."

On the field, the Packers took a look at coach Lombardi's data for the job offered by the Packers. Don Chandler, Fullback Chuck Merwin and defensive end Frank Walker are other possibilities.

Gridiron Questions At FSU

TALLAHASSEE — Coach Bill Peterson, starting his first season at Florida State, will welcome 25 lettersman among a variety squad of 85 tomorrow when the Seminoles return to the campus for their pre-season physical examination.

Friday, the Seminoles don new uniforms for their annual picture day which gets underway say at 10 a.m. in Campbell stadium.

The Seminoles will also work in a couple of practice sessions Friday. Under new NCAA rules, players are now allowed to put on practice clothes for the first three days. Therefore, Friday, Saturday and Monday workouts will be held in shorts.

Practices are scheduled for 8:45 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. daily for at least two weeks. The Seminoles open their season Sept. 21 in College Park against the University of Maryland.

Peterson and his staff will be looking for talent to fill 10 vacancies left by graduation.

Too Few Signal Callers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While Georgia coaches pondered what to do with three quarterbacks, Tennessee mentors found themselves with their signal calling ranks significantly thinned by injuries and scholastic ineptitude.

Tennessee, which meets Georgia Sept. 11, has lost four quarterbacks who were in the running for backup jobs behind starter Bubba Wehr and two other quarterbacks.

Wholey says he just couldn't get started at Aqueduct so he went to the track in the Finger Lakes region of New York.

Alcindor Skips Olympics For Ghetto Youngsters

By TED SMITH

Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor, who could now be getting ready to lead the U.S. basketball team in the Olympics, is working instead with the underprivileged youngsters of New York.

"I don't know of anything I've done that's been more rewarding," he says. "We know the Olympic team is going to be made up of the best players in the world. I'm not part of that team. I'm part of Operation Sports Rescue along with other famous athletes. Teams each headed by an athlete talk to youngsters in small groups."

"Young people admire athletes," says LeRoy Wilkins, director of the project. "If you can get athletes to say the name of that religious leader and educators are saying, 'let's live.'" The objectives of Operation Sports Rescue are to help underprivileged youngsters of the ghetto to impress on them the value of remaining in school, to help them realize the value of independence by acquiring marketable skills, and to encourage youngsters to take an active part in community affairs.

Among the athletes working on the project in addition to Alcindor are Emmet Bell, Tom Hooper, and the Harlem Globetrotters.

Alcindor has worked almost as much as all the rest put together, said one of the project officers.

Operation Sports Rescue is sponsored by the Mayor's Urban Action Team. Ford and Hiram Bingham of the Bristol Myers Co.

AFL WEST: Kansas City

PROSPECTS—Last year was less matter of Chiefs' collapse than Raiders taking over domination of West. Yet Hank Stram's preparing to overhaul full one-third of lineup, both offense and defense, as retirements, expansion and just plain tiredness have made inroads into the old gang.

"There'll be a realignment of seven positions," predicts Hank. "We have people with ability to fill them, but how fast they develop is the question." PREDICTION—Third in West.

HHH Faces Revolt Over War Policy

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey faced a Democratic convention revolt on Tuesday when large numbers of delegates started shouting and handclapping when reading started of the proposed platform plank recommending continuing support of President Johnson and Humphrey.

McCarthy started some of his followers Tuesday when he told editors of the Knight newspaper group that he thought Humphrey had wrapped up the nomination. Later, a McCarthy spokesman denied that the Minnesota senator had conceded and said he intended to continue fighting.

As all this went on, talk of a draft of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy filled the floor and corridors of Chicago's International Amphitheatre, site of the convention.

Humphrey forces maintained their march of convention victory in seating contests over the Southern delegations, and the vice president picked up a parade of endorsements from favorite son candidates in Texas, Tennessee and South Carolina in push him very close to the 1,111 votes needed for the nomination tonight.

But the convention pace was impeded when efforts to reach the critical test vote of Humphrey McCarthy strength on the Vietnam issue were forestalled by the shouting demonstration.

The Latest Associated Press count of publicly committed and pledged delegates:

- Humphrey 1,064
- McCarthy 694
- McGovern 52
- Favorited 216
- Uncommitted 716
- McCarthy was quoted in a copyright interview by Knight.

In the interview, McCarthy stated it was too late for even the younger Kennedy, last of the brothers, to stop Humphrey. Fresh talks of a draft effort swelled Tuesday after a meeting by California Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh with McCarthy and McGovern.

An Unruh aide said the session was arranged to "see what some common front can be put together in favor of some peace candidate."

It was reported Unruh suggested the two contenders drop out and throw their votes to Kennedy. There was no indication that they agreed. Nevertheless, California renewed in advance the right to place a name in nomination on tonight's roll call.

President Johnson, who has stayed away from his party's convention, gave Humphrey an informal boost while celebrating his 60th birthday Tuesday.

McGovern and McGovern forces hailed the adjournment as a victory. McGovern aide Frank Markiewicz, press secretary to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, shouted jubilantly. "We have 11 hours to get 900 votes," said the lieutenant who had been close to winning the platform battle.

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, the convention host, shouted threats to clear the galleries. He roared that he would not stand for "the bores trying to take over this meeting." At Albert's invitation, Daley made the motion to adjourn.

McGovern and McGovern forces hailed the adjournment as a victory. McGovern aide Frank Markiewicz, press secretary to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, shouted jubilantly. "We have 11 hours to get 900 votes," said the lieutenant who had been close to winning the platform battle.

Curious Coalition

Hubert In Driver's Seat

By SAUL PITT and JULES LOH

Associated Press Writers

CHICAGO (AP) — With all its floor fights and intense debate, how open is this year's Democratic National Convention? The public argument might suggest it is wide open, especially as contrasted with the decorous parley in Miami Beach two weeks ago which handed Richard Nixon the Republican presidential nomination.

But votes taken in the first two days of the Democratic convention, despite all the hot oratory, clearly show Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey consistently in the driver's seat, riding an unusual coalition of bellwether-conservative delegates from the South along with many of the big, presumably liberal delegations from the industrial North and Midwest.

Humphrey agents have been all over the hall, according to his opponents. In addition to pressure applied directly by the vice president, his opponents in the Platform Committee's majority recommendation on the Vietnam plank goes to the Johnson administration.

The Florida delegation candidate list was the Johnson administration.

But Humphrey survives the all-out assault planned by the doves, he should have clear sailing then to the floor for a vote. If Humphrey survives the all-out assault planned by the doves, he should have clear sailing then to the floor for a vote. Smathers 'Out' As Favorite Son

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. George Smathers resigned Florida's Democratic convention delegates from their favorite son pledge today and said he estimated 50 of the delegates would vote for Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

CHICAGO (AP) — Formal release of Florida's Democratic National Convention delegates from a commitment to favor George Smathers took shape today when Smathers said he wouldn't vote any longer.

Earlier in the week Smathers said a move would be delayed until the delegates heard from all presidential candidates but Sen. Eugene McCarthy had apparently not asked for a hearing by early today.

And Smathers, an avowed supporter of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, also called on other favorite sons to abandon their favorite candidates.

Early today Smathers said he would formally release the Florida delegates at 10 a.m. EDT, adding that he hoped to tell Humphrey there are 57 votes for him from the Sunshine State.

An Associated Press survey showed the other 57 delegates committed to McCarthy.

In his announcement, broadcast nationally on NBC and CBS television, the veteran senator added, "I think all favorite sons should now withdraw."

The favorite sons may hold the balance of power that could grant or withhold the party's presidential nomination. As each favorite son abandoned his moment in the spotlight, Humphrey moved closer to the big prize — a work toward.

The Florida delegation chairman, Sen. Seward L. Holland, suggested Tuesday that Humphrey couldn't do better in his search for a running mate than to tap Smathers.

Although Smathers announced Monday his intentions to deliver the bulk of Florida's votes to the vice president, he had withheld final action so each of the presidential candidates could speak to the state caucus.

Humphrey, Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota and Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia are the three delegates expected to return the favor nomination night.

But in both votes, there was another consideration involved — challenging delegations were thick with McCarthy supporters. Seating them would not only replace Humphrey but also might have precipitated defections from the vice president in other states.

Another way, Humphrey forces in the North scratched the South's back. The South, it is assumed, will vote for Hubert Humphrey and Larry O'Brien.

Ike Enjoys Music

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors, maintaining their cautiously optimistic tone, reported today that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower had shown "some further decrease" in heart irritability since Tuesday.

The afternoon and evening bulletins Tuesday said there was no change from the day's first checkup.

"So far as is possible in the setting of Gen. Eisenhower's still critical condition, his physicians have expressed a note of cautious optimism."

7 Wounded In Affray

MIAMI (AP) — A truck driver interrupted four youths looting his truck and fired a 12-gauge shotgun into a crowd Tuesday night, wounding four persons, police said.

A brother of one of the wounded then charged from a nearby apartment carrying a rifle, tripped and accidentally triggered his weapon hitting three more persons, officers said.

None of the wounded was seriously hurt, according to Miami Police Capt. Robert K. Adair. Those hit by the shotgun blast were a 12-year-old boy, a girl 13, a girl 20 and a 23-year-old man.

A pickup order was teleyped by police ordering the arrest of the trucker, Leal Powell, 35, of Miami, believed to be the driver for Columbus, Ga., with his truck. Adair said Powell was charged with aggravated assault.

"There was a large group of them there and he just fired the shotgun at the large group," Adair said. Officers said all persons involved were Negroes. Adair said 10 police cars responded to the alarm in Miami's Liberty City area, scene of Negro disturbances Aug. 7 and 8.

Primaries Roundup

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALASKA Sen. Ernest Gruening, an outspoken Vietnam war critic, trailed in his bid for reelection Friday, the day before the most recent onslaught of serious heart fluttering.

The doctors said Tuesday's irregular heartbeats were occurring at a varying degree.

"Doctors said in answer to reporters' questions that it is impossible to tell when Eisenhower will cease to be considered critical."

He has suffered four heart attacks in less than four months, the first coming during a vacation in Palm Springs, Calif., April 29.

Eisenhower has had seven heart attacks, the first in 1958. Statistics show few men survive three, although Eisenhower doctor says new techniques are changing this.

The medical reports say Eisenhower is taking meals in his bed.

"Despite his long period of confinement in bed, the general's spirits remain remarkably good," said a bulletin Tuesday.

Doctors have made little attempt to prod Eisenhower's heart with an electronic pacemaker but have been more successful controlling the heart's electric shocks applied to his chest exterior and with drugs.

'Catch-Me' Victim Is Recovering

FORT LAUDERDALE (AP) — A 42-year-old Atlanta woman who was five times in the head by the "catch-me" killer who murdered her daughter, has recovered from a coma and is recovering from her apparent temporary amnesia, doctors said Tuesday.

Dorothy Clark is answering questions about everything but the Aug. 12 shooting, hospital officials said.

Before the victims were found three miles apart, police said, a young sounding man telephoned and claimed he killed three women, pleading with officers to arrest him.

The girl, Marilyn, 11, was found dead. A medical examiner said an attempt had been made to sexually assault the child.

Both the child and mother had been shot five times.

Mrs. Clark had been in critical condition and doctors term her recovery fantastic. "She responds quite intelligently to questions—very intelligently right up to the actual incident," one spokesman said.

A doctor said Mrs. Clark apparently was suffering amnesia about the crime caused by her head injuries. But he predicted the memory block would eventually fade.

Wallace Boasts Of Candidacy

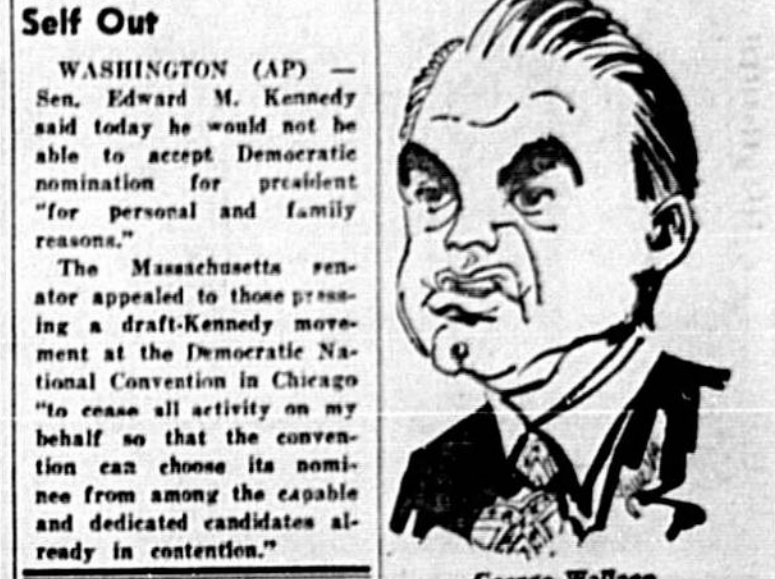

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — George C. Wallace says his presidential candidacy has both major parties "sweating."

The American Independent party candidate talked of winning the presidency in speeches at Window Rock and Phoenix Tuesday. He returns home today after a week's swing through the West.

Wallace spoke to about 6,000 at a rally, 300 at the $25-a-plate dinner here, and about 200, including some Indians, on the Navajo reservation at Window Rock.

Four bright scuffles broke out over pro- and anti-Wallace signs at the rally, and a few young people walked out.

"If there are any more of you marchers here, get out now," Wallace told them, "because it's going to be different after I'm president."

New Approach To Teaching Studied By Education Dept.

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — A "differentiated staffing plan" for Florida schools is one new approach to teacher staff organization being studied by the State Department of Education. State School Supt. Floyd Christian said Monday the plan bases teacher salaries and positions on varying degrees of responsibility. "Differentiated staffing may offer a solution," he said. "But first we must find a way that these things can be done." Christian said the department's studies on teacher staffing should help identify the problems before the next session of the legislature. He also said they would provide "good, solid data to use in implementing pilot projects aimed at solving these problems."

Those who also helped were James Neims, Mrs. Fessie Campbell, Mrs. Ola Bell Nims and daughter, Linda, the Misses Cherry Lee Holte, Uta Mae Holte, Pearl Holte, Edna Mae Holte and Norma Jean Peck. All of these women have other obligations and are handicapped to various degrees and yet out of the goodness of their heart they worked extremely hard for someone less fortunate. Even the children (some only about seven years old) helped as much as they could.

Homemaker's Hints

If you rub peanut butter in a child's hair, it will remove the hair and rub gently between your fingers. The peanut butter will loosen the gum. Pick this up with a cleaning tissue or toilet tissue. It's far better than cutting a child's hair and having a chunk missing. Small children often lose their place in library books or other reading material. Cut the corners from old envelopes and slip these corners over the pages to be marked. It eliminates lost pages and does no harm to the book. While in the Tampa St. Petersburg area we took the boys aboard the "Bounty" — Shiver me timbers, Matey, you could almost hear the mutineers (as a matter of fact, if you press the button near the hold of the ship you can hear a recording of the late Clark Gable as "Fletcher Christian giving orders to the crew of the Bounty." All told we have had a delightful summer, real peaceful and lazy. Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Harper were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Collins of Jacksonville, N. C. Mr. and Mrs. Willie Lee Sieg graciously shared a letter from their friends, the C. W. Winchells with me. They were in Rhodesia from where they took slide trips throughout Africa, first stop Uganda, where they entered the Murchison Falls National Park. They spoke of staying at a hotel where elephants "come to visit" and of gold mines still in operation, "right in the city." They seemed especially delighted to fly directly over Victoria Falls in a small Cessna for what is called the "Angels Flight." What a wonderful time these delightful people must be having. I can hardly wait for their return to Lake Harney this winter! Tomatoes are usually red or yellow but different varieties range from almost white to pink and purple.

Doctors Recommend Cycling For Physical Fitness, Fun

Americans seeking physical fitness and open air fun might consider brushing the cobwebs from that long-neglected bicycle in the garage. A record 60 million people of all ages are now pedaling bikes down the path to better health. And women intent on controlling weight and keeping a trim figure outnumber men on the cycling paths.

A recent U.S. Air Force study of 15,000 people concluded that cycling, running and swimming are by far the best conditioners for the heart and lungs.

Many doctors are recommending cycling to their patients. "Pedaling a bicycle exercises virtually every muscle in the body, and yet it is not exhausting," says the noted heart specialist Dr. Paul Dudley White, himself a bicycle enthusiast. "If we make a bicycle ride a routine part of our everyday life, it would be a vital step toward restoring our health and vigor."

To help accommodate this well of two-wheeled traffic, there are over 6,000 miles of marked bike routes, trails, paths and bikeways in this country, according to the Bicycle Institute of America.

And the Department of Interior promises 1,000 miles of bike paths in national parks during the next decade.

Grownups are finding, too, that pedal pushing is a good way to bridge the generation gap because it is an experience they can share with their children.

Just in case you've forgotten, here are a few helpful hints for more enjoyable bicycling.

Your bicycle should be lightweight and in top condition with suitable gears for easy pedaling.

You can avoid some of the muscle strain and fatigue if you have the correct riding position on your bike. This is controlled by the placement of seat and handlebars. Here's how to check it. When sitting on the saddle with legs fully extended your feet should rest on the pedal. If this is done your leg will have a slight bend when the ball of the foot is placed on the pedal, as it should be when riding.

Your handlebars should be approximately even with the seat of the saddle. Adjust them so that you lean forward slightly. You place un-

McCrory's Schedules Grand Opening Thursday

An old friend in downtown Sanford has a new look. Thursday will be the grand opening for the completely remodeled McCrory-McLellan-Green Store on First Street and a ribbon cutting ceremony is set for 9 a. m. Regional vice president of the company, N. P. McLackie, will be on hand for the formalities as well as many local dignitaries. Grady R. Caughman is store manager. In the renovating process, which began May 1, the two buildings being used were consolidated with the removal of a dividing wall and colorfully decorated. The sales floor now has approximately 10,000 square feet, and new counters, fixtures, and more modern displays. The women's style wear department has been enlarged. The store is also getting a face lifting and a complete new front and electric sign are in the process of being added.

Arab Motels 'Out Of Past'

SANAA, Yemen (AP) — Motels in this Arab country look like they came straight out of a 12th century engraving. They are dotted all over this wild country—near highways, roads and remote mountain trails hidden in the clouds most of the year. A typical motel, called "asmarah" in Arabic, looks something like this: It's a three-story building made of stone, brick or mud, usually with the walls plastered or daubed with clay. Most motels double as trading posts, so the forecourt is usually piled with sacks of grain, earthenware jars of oil and stacks of wood for the motel's oven. You can't miss the oven that's where all the thick black smoke is coming from. The plainest hotel in the city is the two-story Moka Hotel, named after Yemen's most famous product, Moka Coffee. The Moka Hotel is neat and clean; there is a phone in every room, and it has electric blankets to ward off the night chill. It even serves French and other European dishes, but this has provided problems. An East German customer and an Arab waiter recently spent 10 minutes trying to explain to each other the French and Italian words on the menu. Their only common language was pidgin English.

MISS TAMPA, Joan Gellman, is concerned about safety when she mounts a motorcycle... her safety and other people's. The American Automobile Association hopes motorcyclists and four-wheeled motorists will join together in making the slogan on Joan's helmet a reality throughout the Labor Day weekend.

DOUBLE-DUTY SALAD—Made with crabmeat, grapefruit sections and artichoke hearts and served with help-yourself dressing, it can be enjoyed by guests who watch their weight.

Feed Girls A Luncheon Salad

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor
 One of the most delightful salads we've tried recently is great to serve "the girls"—whatever their age—when you are entertaining at noontime. It's an interesting combination of crabmeat, artichoke hearts and grapefruit sections served on salad greens with an Orange Dressing. These days everyone is interested in figure-control recipes so you'll be glad to know that this salad will suit diet-conscious guests as well as those who don't need to count calories. The Orange Dressing that accompanies the artichoke hearts and grapefruit sections, and the mayonnaise for the crabmeat, are not added to the salad—they're passed. Figure-controlling can take as little as they like of the Orange Dressing (low in oil) and omit the mayonnaise.

- LUNCHEON SALAD
 2 packages (each 9 ounces) frozen artichoke hearts
 2 cans (each about 7 ounces) king crabmeat, drained or 1 pound fresh crabmeat
 2 cans (each 1 pound) grapefruit sections, drained or 3 cups drained fresh grapefruit sections
 Homemade mayonnaise
 Cook artichokes according to package directions; drain; if whole, halve. Pour 1/2 cup of the Orange Dressing over them; cover and chill.
 At serving time, arrange salad greens on a platter or on individual plates; add artichokes, crabmeat and grapefruit. Serve, passing remaining Orange Dressing and homemade mayonnaise.
 Makes six servings.

ZABAGLIONE—A famous dessert from Italian cuisine is especially delightful when served with fresh strawberries.

Team Zabaglione With Strawberries

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor
 Spell it zabaglione or zabaglione. Either way is correct. But no matter how it's spelled, it's one of the most fascinating desserts in Italian cuisine. You may have tasted zabaglione served in sherry glasses or big wine glasses "as is." For a delightful variation, couple it with fresh strawberries.

Zabaglione is on the temperamental side. Restaurant chefs, undaunted, whip it up with nonchalance. But home cooks need explicit directions. We hope the following recipe will help you connect it successfully.

STRAWBERRIES WITH ZABAGLIONE
 1 pint fresh strawberries
 2 tablespoons SUGAR
 Zabaglione—See recipe below
 About an hour before serving time, turn strawberries into a strainer; wash under cold running water. Drain and hull. Slice berries into individual serving dishes. Sprinkle with sugar. Refrigerate until serving time.
 Just before serving, make Zabaglione; spoon over strawberries. Serve at once.
 Makes four servings.

ZABAGLIONE
 3 egg yolks from large eggs
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 cup dry Marsala

Pool your resources
 NEW YORK (AP) — That status symbol of Hollywood's golden era, the swimming pool, is now no longer a luxury of the rich.
 There are now about a million privately owned pools, estimates the Title Council of America, Inc., or one for approximately every 20 people in the U.S. This is about four times the number there were in 1962.

Broiled Fish With Nectarines

By Cecily Brownstone
 AP Food Editor
COMPANY LUNCHEON
 This lovely fish dish features fresh nectarines.
 Broiled fish with Nectarines
 Almond Rice Green Salad
 Chocolate Mousse Beverage
BROILED FISH WITH NECTARINES
 1 or 2 fresh nectarines
 2 (7½ pound) thin skinless fish fillets such as sole
 ¼ cup butter
 ¼ teaspoon mixed dried salad herbs
 1 teaspoon dried basil
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 cup minced parsley, if available
 Thinly slice nectarines to make 14 cups. Do not peel the nectarines. Place fillets in bottom of buttered broiler pan (without rack).
 In a small saucepan melt butter; stir in salad herbs, basil and salt. Spread fillets with a little of the butter mixture; broil two to three inches from high heat for four or five minutes, or until fish flakes easily and is opaque throughout when tested with a fork.
 Overlap nectarine slices on fillets; carefully spreading with remaining butter sauce. Place under broiler again just long enough to heat nectarines a minute or so. If desired, sprinkle with parsley. Use two wide spatulas or pancake turners to remove nectarine-laden fillets intact. Makes four servings.

AFTERNOON REFRESHER

 Tea with Lemon or Milk
 Brownstone Cookies
BROWNSTONE COOKIES
 2½ cups sifted flour
 ¾ teaspoon baking powder
 2 sticks (¼ pound) butter
 ¼ cup sugar
 2 egg yolks
 Crated rind of 1 large lemon
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1 egg white
 ¼ cup very finely chopped walnuts
 On wax paper sift together flour and baking powder. In large bowl cream butter and sugar; add egg yolks, 1 teaspoon of the grated lemon rind and the lemon juice; beat thoroughly. Gradually stir in sifted ingredients. Chill, covered, if necessary to make dough firm enough for rolling.
 On floured pastry cloth with floured stockinet-covered rolling pin roll out dough, one-quarter at a time, about ¼ inch thick. Use two-inch round cookie cutter to cut out. Place about one inch apart on buttered cookie sheets. Beat egg white until frothy; brush over cookies. Mix walnuts and remaining lemon rind; sprinkle over egg white. Bake in preheated 350-degree oven until lightly browned—16 to 22 minutes. Remove to wire rack to cool. Store in tightly covered box. Makes about six dozen.

 Bake in preheated 400-degree oven for 30 minutes.
 Mix together the butter, brown sugar, peanuts and cinnamon. Turn squash cut sides up; spread butter mixture in cavities and on cut surfaces of squash. Bake 15 minutes longer or until squash is tender. Makes four servings.

Wrong Game
 LOUISVILLE (AP) — George Mikal, commissioner of the American Basketball Association, recalls the time he was addressing a Boy Scout rally and answering questions afterwards.
 "How many points did you score in your pro career?" one kid asked.
 "I suppose about 20,000," replied Mikal.
 "Gee," the kid gasped.
 "Didn't you ever pass the ball?"

This Rice Pudding Is Good

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

This rice pudding is so creamy and good that after it was chilled we kept ambulating over to the refrigerator and sneaking tastes of it. If you're a rice pudding buff, you may find yourself doing the same thing.

Just to glorify things, the pudding is served with a delightful sauce made with maple syrup and fresh Bartlett pears. After the sauce is cooked, the sliced pears are added. No further cooking necessary. This way the fruit adds its own delectable flavor.

The combination should make all fanciers of rice pudding extremely happy.

One caution about the making of the pudding: Keep the water boiling just under the top of the double boiler. If the water gets very low—as it is bound to do if a glass double boiler is used—replenish it.

RICED PUDDING WITH MAPLE PEAR SAUCE

2 cups milk
1 1/2 cup regular long-grain rice (not parboiled or converted)
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 stick (2 inch) cinnamon
1/2 cup heavy (whipping) cream
Maple Pear Sauce

In the top of a double boiler, scald milk, rice, sugar, salt and cinnamon.

Cover and cook over gently boiling water, stirring occasionally, until milk is almost all absorbed 1 to 1 1/2 hours.

Stir in cream. Continue cooking over gentle boiling water, stirring a few times, until most of the cream has been absorbed—about 30 minutes. Remember that pudding will thicken slightly during chilling, so do not cook until absolutely all cream is absorbed. Cool, cover and chill.

Serve chilled pudding with warm Maple Pear Sauce.

Makes four servings.

MAPLE PEAR SAUCE

1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons light brown sugar, packed
1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup maple syrup
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter
2 fresh Bartlett pears

In a one-quart saucepan thoroughly stir together the cornstarch and sugar. Gradually stir in water, keeping smooth. Stir in maple syrup.

Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and boiling. Remove from heat. Add lemon juice and butter; stir until butter melts.

Peare, halve and core pears; slice them into the hot sauce. Pears are not cooked; they give delicious fresh flavor added in this fashion.

"TIRED DOUGHBOY" is typified by Woody Hawkins of Kenosha, Wis., who has donned a World War I uniform and marched in parades for the last 17 years. Hawkins, a World War II veteran, said the "Tired Doughboy" character was originated by a Kenosha World War I veteran, and he took it over in 1951. He wears size 22 shoes over his regular shoes and carries a fresh loaf of French bread on his back. When he's not parading, Hawkins keeps it shape by carrying the mail.

Politics A-Plenty

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Voters in New Mexico in the 1968 general election may have a choice of seven presidential candidates on the Democratic and Republican parties candidates and those of five minor parties.

In New Mexico, a minor party is one whose candidate for governor received less than 13 per cent of the total vote cast in the preceding general election.

The Prohibition and Socialist Labor parties have had candidates in New Mexico's general election since for many years. Other minor parties whose presidential candidates may appear on the ballot include American Independent, Universal Peace and Freedom.

New Recipe For Corn Pudding

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you're interested in a new pudding recipe from around New Orleans, here it is.

This is corn pudding with a difference, in order to make it a real main course, instead of just a side dish, shrimp is added to the handy canned shrimp from the pantry shelf.

A friend of mine who lives in Louisiana dreamed up the dish and very good it is. When we tested it at our house it came for sometime lunch as opposed to with a crisp, breaded salad, a fresh berry pudding made the desert. This means you can use it as good for supper as it is for lunch.

One note about preparing the corn for the pudding and the shrimp you can expect.

Don't worry, the corn kernels will be easy to cook just use the shell side of a table knife and press out the milky juice without removing any of the husk. Measure the corn kernels and milky juice together to yield two cups.

As in the kind of pudding this is, corn kernels and shrimp are themselves at the bottom of the casserole leaving a smooth, creamy custard top.

LOUISIANA CORN PUDDING

1 large egg
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup

2 cups uncooked corn kernels, cut from fresh ears (about 1 medium size ears will be needed)
1/4 cup finely grated (1 small onion, goup and juice)
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
Cayenne pepper to taste
1 can (1 1/2 ounces) deviled shrimp, rinsed with cold water and drained

In a medium-size metal bowl beat eggs enough to blend yolks and whites; add flour and milk; beat to blend.

Add butter; place over low heat until butter melts. Remove from heat. Stir in corn, onion, salt, sugar, nutmeg, cayenne and shrimp.

Turn into a well buttered 1 1/2 quart baking dish; mound glass casserole that is 7 1/2 inches in diameter and 2 1/2 inches deep in flow.

Set casserole in a shallow pan of hot water; have water come at least half way up casserole. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a knife inserted in center of pudding comes out free of custard—about one hour.

Let stand at room temperature about five minutes before serving.

Makes six servings.

Note: Louisiana cooks are likely to give this pudding a spicy flavor by adding as much as 1/4 teaspoon cayenne.

HHH Veep Choice: Muskie, Shriver?

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was the Democratic presidential nomination Wednesday night in a violence-thrilled party convention deeply divided on Vietnam war policy and uncertain of his ticket's fate in November. In command all the way, Humphrey trampled the challenges of peace candidates Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and George S. McGovern to become the election opponent of Republican Richard M. Nixon. The vice president's methodically obtained victory was greeted with muted enthusiasm and apprehension by security-harassed delegates to this most guarded and restricted of all national conventions. The selection of Humphrey promised to lay before the nation's voters a choice between

Sargent Shriver

Edmund Muskie

either Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine or Sargent Shriver, ambassador to France. The vice presidential choice is to be ratified at the convention's final session tonight, when President Johnson is expected to make his only appearance. Johnson's prompt response to Humphrey's victory, in a statement released at his Texas ranch, was that the party had nominated "an excellent and an especially well-qualified candidate." He expressed hope that all Democrats would "unite behind him and move forward to victory in the election." But the degree of unity remained in question. Although the nomination was made unanimous by motion of Illinois State Chairman James R.onan, neither McCarthy nor McGovern came before the convention in

'Error' Costs Youth 5 Months In Jail

Officials Shift The Blame

By BILL SCOTT

Sheriff Peter Milliet today blamed a clerical error in the office of Peace Justice Al Davis as the explanation for the five-month incarceration of a 16-year-old Sanford youth who was held for five months in the county jail, after he had been ordered freed.

Milliet said his office never received a release order from Davis after the youth (John Burgess Jr., 421 East Fourth St.) appeared before the peace justice in a March 29 preliminary hearing into a March 6 burglary. Burgess was arrested March 6 by Sanford Patrolman John Noel and held in city jail until Constable Robert Carro took the youth to the county jail, where he was held for hearing.

Burgess was charged with larceny of an auto in a warrant taken by Lucene Curry, 1202 West Eighth Street, but the case and ordered Burgess released when the woman failed to appear at hearing to judge. Davis dismissed the case and Burgess was still in jail.

Sheriff Milliet said there was no effort made by him to keep anyone unlawfully incarcerated, but he would not re-evaluate any until an appropriate judicial source was received by his department. The incident came to light when a representative from "After Care" was in a series of three orientation sessions planned by the board of education in the state and will reveal plans for the future.

The FSU does not deal with the subjects that Seminole County has chosen to stress this year, instructional improvement and staff development. At the first meeting last week, Phillips introduced the county staff and department heads, who, in turn, explored departmental aims and their duties.

'We Care' Ponders Yule Plans

Downtown Sanford "We Care" Merchants Association has set other Tuesday or Wednesday after Thanksgiving as the date for the annual Christmas Parade.

Meeting in regular session at Seminole County Chamber of Commerce conference room yesterday the association voted to allow Sanford Jaycees to operate the parade, which will get underway at 7 p.m.

Approximately 200 invitations will be sent out to groups interested in participating in the event. President Sidney Vihlen Jr. said the cost of the parade would amount to $1,500.

Among other holiday subjects discussed at the convocation was a Christmas lighting project. Vihlen revealed that the city would install a new sample decoration downtown on Sept. 9.

Teachers Oriented

Dr. Stanley Marshall, dean of education at Florida State University, was the keynote speaker today at the Civic Center for the second in a series of three orientation sessions planned by the board of education in the state and will reveal plans for the future.

Hippies, Yuppies Need Not Apply

All students who will be attending Sanford Junior High School will be expected to follow the regulations adopted by county school authorities regarding the dress and appearance of students.

Along with parents, churches and various community organizations, schools share the responsibility for assisting teenage boys and girls in becoming mature adults.

The majority of young adults accept these tenets with little or no prompting. There remains, however, a small number of teenagers who by their refusal to adhere to acceptable standards, adversely reflect upon the image of the school and community.

In an effort to further clarify secondary school policy in the area of appropriate student dress and grooming, the following standards will be in effect at the beginning of this school year:

Boys will be expected to wear socks, keep their faces clean, shaven and wear their hair neatly, in a conservative style, excluding excessively long or short skirts and low-cut blouses.

Extreme hair styles worn by either boys or girls will be considered unacceptable. Adult standards should be used.

In the judgment of county school authorities appropriate dress and grooming influence the actions and attitudes of students who are preparing to take their places as acceptable members in adult society. It is for this reason that the above standards will be in effect at all students in the secondary schools of Seminole County.

Virgil Niedens, in charge, reminds that the auto inspection stations will be closed Sunday, Monday and Tuesday because of Labor Day. The stations normally are closed Sunday and Monday. Stetting Wednesday, license numbers ending in 0 and 1 will commence their inspection while those ending in 2 and 9 have been granted an extension through September.

Church of Nativity will have a picnic at 3 p.m. Sunday at the church... a farewell for Rev. Cyril Kennedy and a welcome for Rev. William Neidert. Father Kennedy will take Father Neidert's place at Orlando, and vice versa.

Another nude man story? This report from Altamonte Springs tells of a "character" who enjoys sunning himself in the heat of the afternoon while reclined in the "rue" along various roads. He has been sighted in at least two incidents by motorists.

They just look out across the road and—there he is, in an unclad condition. (Must be the weather—or perhaps a full moon?)

From the mailbag: "The Ambassador ought to be ashamed of their selves. Of what's happening inside the building and out. All the rioting, fighting, and beating of people. The band playing — to lead to drown out the yelling and screaming by the crowd. What is our country coming to? You can't have a convention with out having police and national guard."

Another interesting part of the incident was the confinement, record which contained was in the moment of getting Burgess released. Spear, in a statement that conflicted with Milliet's, said he has been controlled by the "After Care" people and had obtained the youth's release.

He admitted "talking with" Burgess Aug. 11 days before the youth's release, and was "in a proximate state of investigation" when the error was found.
