DOLLAR SENT TO LOW LEVEL BY LATE MOVE

Administration Boosts Domestic Price Of Gold To High Mark: Stocks In Response

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—The Administration watched its gold operations club the dollar into a record low level today and then it added another dime to the price it will pay for the metal when it is newly mined in the United States. The new price is $33.15 an ounce.

London dispatches told of an overnight drop of four and three eighths cents in the exchange value of the dollar against the pound.

Meanwhile, the price of gold at London was reduced but a change in the dollar-pound relationship caused an increase in this quotation when it is converted into dollars. Yesterday's domestic figure was 89 cents above the London figure while today's was 82 cents.

Stocks and principal commodities advanced briskly for a time in yesterday's markets, as the dollar dropped to new low levels since abandonment of the gold standard.

Many shares pushed up $1 to more than $5 at vigorous buying suddenly appeared late in the day. Cotton, helped by a government crop estimate little smaller than anticipated, gained $1.00 to $1.80 a bale, and wheat futures at Chicago closed with advances of 1.75 to 2.50 cents a bushel. Despite the inflationary aspects of the declining dollar, the bond market held fairly steady.

The gold currencies sold back a trifle from their top levels of the day, in relation to the dollar, but the pound sterling closed at 84.97 1-2, the day's best and up eight cents from Monday, and nearly 12 cents above its old parity with the dollar.

Formal Opening Of New Piggly-Wiggly Set For Tomorrow

The formal opening of the new Winn-Dixie Piggly-Wiggly store at Magnolia Avenue and First Street in the former Atlantic Bank building is scheduled for tomorrow morning at 7:00 o'clock. It was announced today by store managers who will be in attendance to greet old and new customers all day.

The store, said to be the largest and finest of its kind in Central Florida, is now only in location. Actually it is store No. 55 that has been moved from its old location in the Melch Building just across the street to newly renovated quarters.

Marge Calbraith remains as store manager, with Miss Grace Morgan as cashier, and Roy King, in charge of a modern, enlarged meat department. P. M. Vickery and Ray Harrison are among the hand persons employed at the store.

In announcing the opening day sale, P. H. Tracy, of Orlando, Central Florida, district manager, declared that Piggly Wiggly interests have searched far and wide the stores of special bargains in groceries, fresh fruits and vegetables and meat products which they could offer to the people of Orlando as a mark of appreciation for long and increasingly valuable patronage.

"We want to give our Sanford residents something," Mr. Tracy said. "The very best that there is in service and quality merchandise. Our policy has been, is, and will always be, Quality merchandise at the lowest possible price."

His announcement is another part of the program to soon open a new store at 8:00 a.m. tomorrow, November 10, at 11:00

LAGUARDIA HAS HOPES OF CITY FREE OF GRAFT

Promises To Continue Fight On Tammany; Model Government Will Be Established

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—Major-elect Fiorello H. LaGuardia, riding the crest of a political revolution, last night declared he would continue to battle Tammany Hall's "patronage and plunder."

Thrust into the city hall by an aroused electorate amid rioting and disorder, LaGuardia, fusion's fighting champion, promised an administration for the next four years that he said would set a national model.

"It will be my effort to give to New York City a civic administration so efficient and free from graft, sinecure and wastefulness as to set a new model for every city in the nation," he said.

Smiling, appearing fresh despite the ordeal of election day, LaGuardia asserted there would be no disorder when another election comes around.

"The next election and the election of the next four years are going to be nice, quiet and orderly, so that little children will be able to skip rope outside of polling places," said LaGuardia, pounding his powerful fist on his desk.

Bunch Vegetables May Be Shipped By Freight In Future

Freight shipment of bunch vegetables from this county into an section East of the Mississippi river, long prohibited by railroad tariff rules and regulations, has been made possible through efforts of the Sanford-Oviedo Truck Growers Inc. and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, it was learned here today.

Under the terms of an amendment to Spedien's Citrus, Fruit, Strawberry-Vegetable tariff, ICC Item 216-E, it is now possible to ship bunches of beets, carrots, and turnips when mixed with vegetables and citrus fruits moving into Southeastern territory, or when mixed with vegetables moving into other territory East of the Mississippi. The amendment went into effect on Oct. 23.

Local growers were balked in their attempt to ship bunch vegetables from here last year when carriers refused to handle the vegetables in that manner because there was no ruling allowing such shipments. In some cases last year, cars that had been loaded had to be unloaded at a loss to the shipper.

3rd Lesson In Scouting To Be Offered Tonight

Having successfully passed the same tests which are required of all boys seeking to become Tenderfoot Scouts, a group of over 40 local men and women, anxious to learn what Scouting means, will meet at the Arcada Soc.-T. headquarters tonight at 7:30 o'clock for the third lesson.

Scout Executive H. N. Brown of Orlando and Rev. Martin J. Bram of Sanford are the teachers, and three more meetings will be held after tonight—next Monday night, next Thursday night, and the following Monday night. Parents are urged to attend these meetings especially if their sons are Scouts or hope to be Scouts.

On announcing the opening day sale, P. H. Tracy, of Orlando, Central Florida, district manager, declared that Piggly Wiggly interests have searched far and wide the stores of special bargains in groceries, fresh fruits and vegetables and meat products which they could offer to the people of Orlando as a mark of appreciation for long and increasingly valuable patronage.

The program for the affair which is to be addressed by Mrs. A. G. Cummer, of Jacksonville, state chairman of the movement, a principal speaker was released today by Mrs. E. A. Smith, president of the Sanford Woman's Club, who will preside during the luncheon meeting.

Her address will be delivered at about 1:15 o'clock, it was announced today, so that those who intend the luncheon, may go home to have the opportunity to listen to the inspirational talk which is to be made by Mrs. E. M. Shearer, prominent Orlando club-woman. Introduction of Mrs. W. L. Morgan and Mrs. Esther Curlett is to follow Mrs. Shearer's response.

When Mrs. Cummer concludes her address, she will introduce the following as brief speakers: Mrs. Willis M. Ball, of Jacksonville, chairman of the Florida State Welfare Board; Mrs. Ruth Alkin, of Tallahassee, Florida Commissioner of Public Welfare, and Walter Wilbur of Washington, member of the Family Welfare Association of America.

After the luncheon, Mrs. Smith will deliver the invocation, after which Mrs. Smith will extend a welcome to the visiting guests. The response is to be made by Mrs. E. M. Shearer, prominent

1st Snow Of Season Blankets New York

BUFFALO, Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—The first general snowfall of the season covered Western New York today. Up to three inches was reported in many places and it still was snowing hard East and Southeast of Buffalo. The storm is general from Lake Ontario to Pennsylvania. Below freezing temperatures reached into some sections of the South last night and today as Dixie's first spell of real cold weather continued with prospects for even chillier weather in some states tonight. Asheville reported a low of 24 Macon and Raleigh, 28. Cold weather brought a frost as far South as Jacksonville where the minimum was 40 while Gainesville, in the South, reported a low of 30. Tampa had a 46 and Pensacola had a 42.

JOHNSON TAKES FIGHT FOR NRA TO FARM BELT

Lone Heckler Silenced By Administrator As He Asks For Better Plan For Recovery

DETROIT, Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—General Hugh S. Johnson, Industrial Recovery administrator, invaded the home of the Midwest farm strike last night to appeal again for support of the NRA and AAA as "the one possible way out of this depression" and to affirm that Recovery program benefits were already on the way to the farmer.

The very general made his address before 4,000 persons in Shrine auditorium. There were bursts of applause as he finished.

For the most part, however, the audience listened without demonstration. One heckler who attempted to interrupt was silenced when the general asked sharply:

ITALY PROPOSES TO GUARANTEE ISSUES OF STOCK

Mussolini Decree Will Transform Entire Capitalizing System

ROME, Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—A decree which financial observers said probably would transform the whole industrial capitalizing system of Italy was presented to the Chamber of Deputies for approval today by Premier Mussolini.

The decree permits the government to guarantee and participate in stock issues of private companies.

That hundreds of residents of the western half of this county have been made well aware that there is to be a special all-day NRA festival in this city next Thursday is an opinion stated this afternoon by one of the members of the party of nearly 60 Sanford merchants who set out early this morning on a good-will motorcade.

Twenty-one automobiles were in line when the city left the City Hall at 9:00 o'clock but the total had approached 50 cars before the noon-day stop at Sand Lake Springs for luncheon.

Stops were made at the school houses in Lake Monroe, Palatka, Lake Mary, and Longwood, and at Engate's Packing House in Forest City. Goodwill talks were made, representing the möchte, on the amount of the loan, which will be made, the administration's statement said.

Persons wishing to make application for loans should contact officers of the Seminole County National Farm Loan Association in the Valdes Hotel building. This organization is authorized to handle all applications.

Warning Is Released Against False Agents

Guard against dealing with unoffical and unauthorized persons seeking to collect so-called commissions for "the sole service" of helping obtain loans from Federal land banks, warned the Farm Credit Administration in a notice received in this city today.

The government will operate through an Industrial Reconstruction Institute similar to the American Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Seminole Tire Shop reported that J. C. Albright, Winn-Lovell Grocery Co., G. E. Holmes, R. E. Monvalvage, Joshua C. Chase, Fred Tresher, L. F. Boyle, and A. J. Petersen, had their car brakes tested, some repaired,

Martin's Garage reports that W. J. Hall, J. T. McLain, and J. B. Crawford have sought data on the condition of the car brakes.

Strickland-Motors Inc. reports that cars owned by the Mountain Lee Co., Sanford Furniture Co., W. E. McPherson, and Covington Smith have been tested for brake trouble.

The order to reduce the relief rolls by one-third went out some days ago when Seminole County Emergency Relief Council members decided that a saving should be effected in the expenditure of Federal funds.

Scores of families have been aided by Federal funds this fall in addition to the work and street relief that has been provided.

Mrs. Helen T. Morse, county welfare director, said that in a special fund which has been set aside for the purchase of school books, clothing for pupils, and especially, school supplies, there has been a saving of $1,000,000.00.

Plenty Of Turkeys

Well, we see they're still playing politics in a rough and tumble way down in Cuba. We hope they keep their thumbs at home.

Another thing that's wrong with price fixing is that you never could fix 'em high enough to please some people without fixing 'em too high to please others.

Mr. Wiggin of Chase Bank fame has decided to give up that hundred thousand a year retirement pension, but the people of the country can rejoice that that doesn't necessarily mean he is going back to work.

Net profits of General Motors amounted to nearly eight million dollars for the first nine months of this year. A recent announcement declares that an extra dividend of 25 cents a share on common stock, which together with the regular dividend will distribute some $22,000,000 among the shareholders. Not bad, for a depression, is it?

The Russian Soviet's commissar of foreign affairs, Maxim Litvinoff, has arrived in this country, and calling at the White House pays his respects to President Roosevelt. Political prognosticators appear certain that recognition will follow shortly. Nobody seems to be worried any more about communist propaganda in this country. We have already gone the communists one better.

Paul Mallon, Washington correspondent, says La Guardia's election in New York City means that Oregon Mills, secretary of the treasury, will have the whip hand in city politics there for several years. Mills supported La Guardia, made several speeches for him, in fact, and is known to be ambitious to be the next governor of the state. Folks from out through the country will wonder how such a thing could be possible.

The election of a Republican as mayor of New York comes as a distinct surprise in spite of the Literary Digest's forecast. In view of the splendid record which McKeon made during the short time he was mayor and particularly in view of McKeon's endorsement by Jim Farley, the man who managed Roosevelt's campaign and who was thought to have more political influence in New York than Al Smith, La Guardia might well have been expected to run. McKeon is better than a done deal. As it turned out, however, McKeon barely beat the Tammany candidate.

General Johnson has abandoned code-making temporarily in favor of speech-making in defense of the Blue Eagle, which now is black and blue as well as blue. He speaks directly into the microphone, already paying too much for what they say in proportion to what they get for the things they sell, are beginning to recognize that higher wages means higher prices for the things which wage earners make, which subsequently makes the products of the farm. We don't know Johnson credits the saying many of us say. He will have to explain in his own book.

Pacifists

War talk in Europe has raised the question in many a young man's mind as to whether he would, in the event this country should again be dragged into foreign entanglements, shoulder his gun and march off to the battle front. Most of them think they would not. Most of them say with a degree of definiteness which almost defies contradiction that they would not fight unless they brought the fight over here.

But they'd go all right, just as they went before. The bands would start playing. The flags would begin waving. New terms like "slackers" would be invented and used pointedly in the direction of young men wearing civilian clothes. The publicity would go out through the press of the land. Emotional oratory would fill the pulpits and dominate every stump in the country. And ninety-nine percent of those expected to sign up would sign up.

Recently some two hundred students at Columbia University, with representatives from practically every state in the union, declared that under no circumstances would they forsake their peaceful convictions and take up arms against an enemy of the United States. Their action follows similar action taken by students at Oxford in England, and in a number of other American universities.

Arthur Brisbane, observing this passive attitude on the part of American students, deplores, as follows: "These noble young Americans are willing to profit by fighting done in the past, 1776, 1812, etc., but would not shed their own ruddy drops. Laws against immigration should be changed to admit fathers and mothers able to produce sons with fewer white feathers. These Columbia students will appreciate the wisdom of the old Chinese mother, in Pearl Buck's new book: 'My son, to extricate yourself from difficulty there are 36 ways, but the best of them all is to run away.'

It can be seen from this criticism, given at a time when war to say the least is remote, that few men would have the courage to stand against the ridicule and condemnation which would be directed against them for the utterance of any unwarlike expression, if the God of war again summoned from across the sea. The bravest of men fear battle. They march to the front with quaking knees. But they fear public opinion even more. And the jibes of men too old to go.

Oh, these Columbia students would sign up all-right! What are bullets compared to scorn and ridicule?

Plenty Of Turkeys

There will be no shortage of turkeys this year for those fortunate enough to possess the wherewithal with which to buy them. And fortunately, the prices of poultry in general have not advanced as rapidly as have some other food products. A bumper crop of turkeys, though still a little below last year's record of 19,000,000, is in prospect for the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons.

Thus far 1933 has proved to be a bargin year for poultry of all kinds, points out Roy C. Potts, Chief of the Division of Dairy and Poultry Products of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. It is too early to determine what prices will have to be paid for Thanksgiving and Christmas turkeys, but present quotations are below those of last year.

Turkeys are appearing on the markets earlier than in former years. This is interpreted by Mr. Potts to mean that they are being served to a greater extent on ordinary occasions.

The United States is the premier turkey market as the bird has never been widely raised in any other country. Most of the supply comes from the Middlewest, Northwest, and Texas, which ranks first in turkey production.

Stocks of turkey in cold storage are slightly below those of last year, according to the Agriculture Department. From Feb. 1 to Oct. 1 cold storage stocks decreased from 17,000,000 to 2,700,000 pounds.

Consumption of poultry other than turkeys has been at a high level this year, largely because of the bargain prices. Prices of poultry in September were 83 per cent of the pre-war average as compared with 102 per cent in the same month last year.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. M. Martin, who has been away from Sanford during the past summer, has returned and opened the Comfort Cottage to the satisfaction of many. During the summer months Mrs. Martin was the proprietress of the Davis House in Highland, N. C., and recently has been the guest of friends in Washington, D. C., and New York City.

Mrs. Henry Wright has as her guests, Mrs. Frank Jennings and Mrs. McCullum of Jacksonville. Mrs. Jennings is chairman of the legislative committee of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs and has done brilliant work in that capacity. Mrs. McCullum is the Times-Union correspondent for the Federation and has done valuable service in her line of work.

FREE ROADQUEER PRODUCT RENDERED

PHOENIX, Nov. 9.—It's all right with Yavapai County if Horse Thief Basin is developed to attract the tourists—but if it is, Yavapai County wants a good road to it, says Miss Grace Hartman, secretary of the county's Chamber of Commerce. She led a delegation before the state advisory Board protesting yesterday a $12,000 Federal loan Phoenix seeks to develop the basin, but said her county is "willing to take chances on bumper crop competition if the road is negatived to it." Action was deferred.

"It opens the way to a new in municipal government and shows that powerful big machines in big cities are unbreakable."

He is going to take a long time to plan out the task of outlining plans for this administration which will begin Jan. 1.

The board of aldermen must go, he said. A new city charter will reorganize the city's complicated government, he said, and expenditures will be cut to the bone.

Tammany hall held control of the board of aldermen despite its increase. Fusion elected 12 of the 65 members.

"It is gratifying to have a fusion board of estimates, and although we are disappointed about the result for the Manhattan borough presidency, we have 'fused working majority,'" said LaGuardia.

Fusion captured 13 of the 16 votes in the powerful board of estimates, controlling the city's purse strings. It lost only the presidents of the boroughs of Manhattan (to Tammany) and the Bronx (elected 12 of the 65 members).

Abandoning a personal reserve that he characterized his dominance of Tammany, John E. Curran issued a statement in which he assigned Postmaster General Farley Democratic state and national chairman with Secretaries of State Flynn, Brann, Democratic leader backed McKee.

"The election shows clearly that New York remains a Democratic city," he said. "It took the efforts of the chairman and the state committee of the Democratic party to disrupt democracy, not only by causing the loss of the city-wide ticket, but by taking the control of the assembly over to the Republicans."

"For that action, he and those who acted in concert with him must remain in office. If the party is to look for victory in the state and congressional elections next fall."

Historian Tammany Hall was shamed and almost deserted when Curran broke his silence to add to his remarks on Tammany's predilection that would not last.

"(Tammany) has watched every fusion election and every fusion ticket this one will follow the same path," he said.

3000 Given Jobs In U. S. Bureaus Since March 4

The total number of the 16,000 employees are dealing exclusively with the problems of agriculture.

More than three-fourths of the 16,000 employees of the ten emergency agencies have been hired since the change in Administration. The Agricultural Adjustment Administration with 3,234, the National Recovery Administration with 1,390, the Public Works Administration with 1,390, and the Tennessee Valley Authority, with 842, did not exist prior to last June.

The totalization of employees of the ten agencies by no means tells the whole story of the new personnel engaged in emergency activities. The War, Interior and Agriculture Departments show an aggregate increase of about 10,000 of which only the 3,234 of the A. A. A. are duplicated in the list above.

Latrie and other purple autumn flowers were used to decorate the rooms of the home of Mrs. L. Hawking Connelly yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Connelly entertained the members of the Young Matron's Duplicate Club and a few other guests with a bridge party.

Mrs. B. D. Caswell and Mrs. C. R. Kirtley held bridge scores among the duplicate players and received hors d'oeuvres gratis, while Mrs. John L. Galloway was given high score prize, a vase, among the other players. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. L. F. Boyle and Mrs. Wynn W. Potter.

Those present were: Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mrs. Wynn W. Potter, Mrs. B. D. Caswell, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Jr., Mrs. Wallace W. Wright, Mrs. Wallace W. Bell, Mrs. C. R. Kirtley, Mrs. L. F. Boyle, Mrs. Jos. Gonzales, Mrs. John L. Galloway, Mrs. Roy F. Mann, and Mrs. E. F. Householder.

Mrs. Emmet McCallis Hostess At Party

With members of the Sans Souci Club and the Contract Club as guests, Mrs. G. Emmet McCall entertained with a bridge party yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. G. Fox, 1920 Magnolia Avenue. Red hibiscus and other red flowers were used to beautify the party rooms while the tallies bore Armistice Day designs.

After several progressions of bridge, high score prize, a framed picture, was awarded to Mrs. R. G. Fox. Refreshments were served at a late hour by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. B. McCall, Jr., Mrs. Edward S. McCall, and Mrs. B. B. Baggett.

Those present were: Mrs. Linton E. Allen, Mrs. Edward S. McCall, Mrs. J. O. Laney, Mrs. A. W. Lee, Jr., Mrs. B. B. Baggett, Mrs. Charles L. Park, Mrs. W. J. Rhodes, Mrs. Edmund Meisch, Mrs. H. B. McCall, Jr., and Mrs. Parks Hunter.

Rose Circle Members Hear Talks On Flower

Talks on roses were made by Mrs. John G. Leonardy and Mrs. Linton E. Allen at the regular meeting of Rose Circle of the Garden Club held Friday morning at the home of Mrs. J. C. Ellsworth, Jr., Beardall Avenue. Mrs. Fred R. Wilson presided.

Mrs. Leonardy's talk was based on the history and literature of roses. The culture and feeding of roses in Florida was explained by Mrs. Allen in her talk.

Mrs. A. C. Fort read a chapter from the book, "How Plants Get don, Mrs. O. E. White, Mrs. Collier Brown, Mrs. J. L. Clark, Mrs. Frances A. Hickson, Miss Leah Evans, and Miss Pauline Moran.

Cohn To Continue Writing

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Nov. 9.—

New duties as collector of customs for Los Angeles harbor will not stop the flow of novels and scenarios from the typewriter of Alfred A. Cohn. He said he would take over the post as soon as his commission arrived from Washington, but will continue his writing.

JOHNSON TAKES FIGHT FOR NRA TO FARM BELT

But, he countered, "NRA had to move fast or not move at all. The problem of AAA was altogether different. NRA could move on any day; AAA had to deal with annual crops. It could not have moved faster."

"Remember that the machine was only authorized by Congress less than six months ago. In that time it has lifted this country about a quarter of the way out of the depth of the March depression."

"Instead of complaining of slowness, we should recognize this as the swiftest, broadest and most effective action ever taken by a government in the whole history of the world."

Cheers greeted the general's appeal to "get behind the Blue Eagle" symbol of NRA and his assertion that "nobody ever built more steadily in the history of the world than Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Justice department officials said that whether an enforcing law would be written around the latter section depended upon congress but that three old laws covering the question still were on the statute books.

They are the Wilson-Packard law, regulating the interstate movement of parcels; the Webb-Kenyon law, forbidding transportation of liquor into dry state;

Four members of the Wickett sham commission that studied prohibition several years ago joined yesterday in urging the conference after repeal and that the old saloon be barred.

The latter supplements the Webb-Kenyon law, but primarily covers mails and advertising, packing liquor advertisements. True publications entering dry state.

ORLANDO TIGERS DECLARE SELVES SURE WINNERS

Local Gridders Have Other Plans To Win Tilt Here Saturday

Up from Orlando today came the news that Seminole High School will be handed a one touch-down defeat at the hands of the Orlando Tigers at Municipal Park Saturday afternoon when the two teams meet in the annual football classic of the season.

At the same time, news from the training field here is that the three-year feud between Coach Harry Greene and Coaches Leonard McLucas, standing today at two victories for McLucas out of three played, will be in McLucas' favor again.

Yesterday's workouts were spirited. Those former first team players who have seen their places taken by younger and more aggressive players, were said to have really "put out" yesterday, seeking to establish themselves again the favor of Coach McLucas. George McClelland, fullback who was expected to prove one of the team's outstanding players, is working like a trojan trying to

HINES - GUARD WAGNER - CENTER WASHINGTON - BACK

WINTER PARK, Fla., Nov. 9—The undefeated Tars of Rollins College, who have been unscathed on this season, and have not lost a game since the middle of the 1931 season, run the risk of having their record marred Friday night, November 10, when a strong team from Erskine College, Due West, S. C., comes to town. The game will be played at Tinker Field in Orlando as a feature of the Fall Homecoming festivities for the Rollins alumni.

Friday's game will be the second and S. I. A. A. encounter of the season for Rollins and the fourth for Erskine. Although the South Carolina eleven has not had a howling success of this season, their feat in holding the powerfull Oglethorpe team to a 10 to 6 score two weeks ago stamps Erskine as one worthy of giving Rollins all the competition the Tars can stand. The visitors will bring a squad of 27 men including fourteen seniors. Outstanding members of the Erskine team are Rogers, a 205 pound veteran tackle, Patrick, a veteran center, Bussey and Tony Leonard, back field men, and Holtman, a husky Veteran end.

The fast-stepping Tars have got the first string fullback born away from Leslie Hargrave, surprisingly powerful Lake Monroe youth who, unless McClelland shows a reversal of form, will get the starting assignment Saturday.

Another fight for position is in progress between Bobbie Knight and Bobbie Hughes for the all-important quarterback post. Knight was the choice of all fans and players as number one quarterback this year, but so far as Hughes has turned in the better performance. There is a possibility that Knight may be on the sideline again as the Saturday tilt gets under way.

Only an injury will keep Claude Kelly, sensational halfback who earned a place on the first team by his remarkable play of last Friday, out of the Orlando contest. Kelly has been developing himself every hour this week, planning to show the coach and his teammates that his work of Friday wasn't a flash in the pan. He will be the center of attention in the Armistice Day tilt, along with Hargrave, and Hughes.

All indications point to Oliver Miller as the other starting halfback, Quillian Jordan, slender but aggressive Georgian, will be kept in reserve. That he will come in handy when a burst of speed and a show of strength is vital near the middle of the game, is a certainty, for he has plenty of both. Miller however, can take more pounding punishment, and he takes it, too. As a defensive half, Miller is progressing rapidly. Most of Kelly's gain on last Friday was made by Miller and Hargrave, incidentally.

Who will start on the line is still a doubtful problem. Play to date has indicated that the most progress is being made by Deas, Slaughter, Odham and Foster.

Branman, Pearson, Govocok, Boyd, and Harrigan have flashed gallantly at intervals, but their positions have been attacked successfully on important occasions.

Orlando is planning an end-run attack mixed with plenty of passes. Two powerful tackles promise to give Seminole High ends and backs plenty of trouble. Deas has shown that he can take it, as has Miller, Harrigan, Odham, Slaughter and Kelly. Other stars can demonstrate their ability here Saturday in what promises to be another torrid battle.

CUBAN REBELS SURRENDER TO LOYAL TROOPS

Intense Bombardment Ends With Over 200 Killed Before White Flag Is Hauled Up

HAVANA, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—After hours of intense bombardment from land and sea, rebels late yesterday relinquished the last main stronghold of their bloody two-day rebellion, and bowed in defeat to loyal government troops.

The forces of Col. Fulgencio Batista, spurred by a steady stream of steel and lead in the form of three-inch shells and machine gun and rifle bullets into the strong hold, ancient Alcazar castle, before the rebels ran up the white flag. Their capitulation apparently broke the backbone of a revolution which brought death, destruction and terror to the capital.

On the blood-splattered floors inside the fortress lay approximately 18 dead and 40 wounded, including one woman.

After the fall of the castle it was announced at the presidential offices that Juan Diaz Hernandez. (Continued On Page Three)

JOHNSON TALK CONFUSES NRA AND INDUSTRY

Many Groups Seek To Withdraw Proposed Codes. Basing Move On Chief's Remark

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Efforts were under way yesterday to dislodge a number of industries which, on the strength of a line spoken by Hugh S. Johnson at Chicago last Monday, had sought to withdraw their proposed codes.

"No industry has to submit to a code unless it is abusing labor," said Johnson in his speech. "It simply is not true that any industry has been coerced into a code."

A handful of industrial or trade groups were deputies here suggesting that on the strength of that utterance they wished to withdraw. The NRA men, unphased at first, finally got in touch with Johnson by telephone, and learned from him that he intended no change in policy and that those who have submitted codes should be advised to go through with them.

This reply was being given yesterday, together with a sales talk on the benefits to be obtained by industry from obeying under codes. (Continued On Page Two)

DRAMATIC STORY OF SURRENDER OF REBELS TOLD

Eyewitness Describes Scenes In Fortress Overlooking Havana

By HILL B. CANELL

HAVANA, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Enterprising the ancient and battered Alcazar fortress with the first ambulance sent in after the surrender of rebel forces yesterday, I hurriedly counted 15 dead and 40 wounded.

There was no opportunity for accurate checking, however, and although the casualties may have been greater, apparently the fortresses suffered less damage than would be expected after six hours of heavy bombardment.

Firing continued from houses in the vicinity of the fortress and shells spattered into the enclosure, endangering the lives of the other occupants from a similar fate. The pilot and three passengers are dead and the co-pilot and four passengers are injured. The stewardess escaped unharmed.

Miss Libby Wurgafit, and co-pilot, H. B. Woodworth, the latter with a broken nose, made top aft or trip to the burning wreckage braving the danger of the explosion of the fuel tank in dragging out the injured.

Young Californian Is Kidnapped While Leaving His Store

SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Brooks Hart, 22, 3½ years old, son of N. J. Hart, San Jose department store proprietor, is reported by police to have been kidnapped as he left the store late yesterday afternoon.

Young Hart's car was found early today ten miles northwest of San Jose, and officers are seeking to trace the kidnappers from there. The car was reported to the sheriff's office by a rancher named Belcher, its number and description positively identifying it.

Hart, who last September became a member of the firm of L. Hart and Son, owned by his father, was unusually punctual in his habits. When he failed to appear at his home and he was not heard from for hours an intensive search started.

Officers told of what they believed was a previous attempt to kidnap the boy when three men in a large car tried to crowd his automobile to the curb but were unsuccessful. They followed him several blocks until he outdistanced them.

Frost Covers South As Winter Finally Enters

Leonard McLucas has been named chairman, and S. A. B. Wilkinsen, E. F. Housholder, G. W. McRory, J. G. Sharon, Jr., and J. A. Wright have been named as members of a committee which is to arrange for a representative gathering of Sanford persons at the University of Florida for the week-end of Nov. 25, designated as Homecoming.

Generally, temperatures were several degrees lower in Dixie yesterday than they were in October, when scudding winds brought out snowflakes from the Carolinas to Texas.

The frost line dropped 100 miles or so further South with last night's cold blast drifting down from the Northwest through the other high state and national highways; and the probable attendance as far south as Pensacola, some of 20,000 persons.

STEADY RELIEF WORK TO START BY NEXT WEEK

Fagg Tells Details Of Program Which To Bring $4,000,000 Into State Monthly

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Plans for a huge civil works program in Florida, with thousands of men regularly employed, were announced last night by Marcus Fagg, state civil works administrator, under authority of the newly broadened scope of the federal relief administration.

Approximately 60,000 men—selected from the 100,000 families now on the state's emergency relief rolls will be employed by Nov. 10 on public work such as parks, roads, mosquito control, water supply improvements and similar projects, he said.

Additional federal allotments probably reaching $4,000,000 monthly, he said, are expected to be made to Florida from the $40,000,000 fund set up for the national civil works administration to put 4,000,000 men in work. Florida now is receiving $1,250,000 monthly for emergency relief.

Family bread winners who do not obtain immediate regular employment under the new schedule will continue to receive relief funds to tide them over the winter. However, Fagg said the plan was to put at least 50 percent of the persons now on relief rolls on steady employment at regular wages immediately, with the other 50 percent to be put to work as rapidly as possible. Projects will continue at least until Feb. 15, and longer if Congress approves, he added.

Fagg, who was made civil works director for Florida in addition to his duties as emergency relief director, pointed out that cities and communities which have undertaken projects may have them completed "through to completion entirely with federal funds. The civil works administration will furnish to total 1,640,000 bushels East Coast. Four million bushels of grain will be put into storage for future use.

In other words," Fagg explained, "if a project costing $10,000 is approved, and $10,000 of it represents labor, and $30,000 represents materials, the civil works administration will shoulder the entire cost.

"It is the opportunity of a lifetime for cities, counties and even the smallest communities to get their long-desired public improvements."

Editor Challenges Johnson To Settle Free Press Dispute

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—E. H. Harris, of Richmond, Ind., publisher and secretary of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, said recently that if General Hugh Johnson, National Recovery Administrator, "is sincere in his desire to preserve a free press," he will permit inclusion in the newspaper code of the section "preserving the freedom of the press."

Mr. Harris, a member of the A. N. P. A. committee drafting the code, added that "such action would clarify a point which has been in controversy between the administration and the newspaper code committee for several months."

He addressed a meeting of the Indiana Associated Press here, asserting that "when a government begins to fail in the execution of its policies, it normally fails that an attempt will be made to stop any criticism of that policy." Mr. Harris said: "The only way to stop criticism is to control or to censor the medium of the free expression of thought."

This, he said, is now being attempted by the United States government. He described the situation as a "crisis which will determine whether the Constitution still lives and whether we are to continue to enjoy the right of free speech and a free press."

"The people must be awakened to the peril which is confronting them today," Mr. Harris told the editors, "or we shall find the United States in the same position as the European countries."

DeLand Boosters Will Offer Program Friday

Announcement was made today that a large delegation of DeLand persons, headed by Eddie Gilliland, secretary of the DeLand Chamber of Commerce, will come to Sanford next Friday night for the purpose of presenting an entertainment program on behalf of the Stetson Booster Club.

An interesting musical and speaking program will be presented from the platform at the rear of the Court House at 8:00 o'clock. It was reported, after which Mr. Gilliland and other persons will explain the purpose of this courtesy visit.

JUNK DEALER CONVICTED

GALVA, Nov. 10.—Joseph H. Spero, local junk dealer, was found guilty last night of second degree murder of Joe Henderson, negro, killed July 21 during an argument over a 25-cent tire. The jury reserved its verdict after being out an hour. A. G. Hartridge, Jacksonville, defense counsel, said he will file a motion for a new trial.

SEBRING CUTS TAX LEVY

SEBRING, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—The city council, on petition of a group of taxpayers, yesterday reduced the recently adopted $100 mill levy to 150 mills.

Episcopal Group To Local Observance Hold Day Of Prayer Honoring War Dead Is To Be Limited

Women members of Holy Cross Episcopal Church will hold a Day of Prayer tomorrow in co-operation with the call made by the Woman's Auxiliary of the National Council, it was announced today by R. V. Martin J. Bram.

The day is to be observed around the world as a Day of Prayer, he said. The local church will be open from 8:00 o'clock in the morning until 6:00 o'clock in the evening. Small meditation cells will be distributed.

Mrs. Heyward Walker, vice-president of Holy Cross Service League with the assistance of Mrs. A. P. Connelly as president of the Woman's Guild, has arranged the following schedule of events during the day:

8:00 to 9:00 o'clock, Mrs. Walker; 9:00 o'clock to 10:00 o'clock, Mrs. W. W. Warner; 10:00 o'clock to 11:00 o'clock, Mrs. R. A. Newman; 11:00 to 12:00 o'clock, Mrs. J. M. Gilligan; 12:00 to 1:00 o'clock, Mrs. B. F. Whitner; 1:00 to 2:00 o'clock, Mrs. G. C. Cochran; 2:00 to 3:00 o'clock, Mrs. Joe Gonzales; 3:00 to 4:00 o'clock, Mrs. M. Minarik; 4:00 to 5:00 o'clock, Mrs. A. B. Noble; 5:00 to 6:00 o'clock, Mrs. F. C. MacMahon.

There also will be a celebration of Holy Communion at 10:00 o'clock in commemoration of the war dead, Rev. Bram stated.

SELLS MANATEE TRACT

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—George O. Lee, former member of the state legislature, yesterday bought 100 acres of cut-over lands in Manatee county from the trustees of the state internal improvement fund for $2,000 in cash.

Lee said he wanted to tract as an addition to his 100 miles of land, made by the governor, is honorary. No salary is paid.

OLD TIME SALOON IS RULED OUT IN NEW YORK STATE

Liquor Control Board Adopts Temporary Sale, Service Plan

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—The old-time saloon and its bar were ruled out in New York state under an experimental liquor control announced by the state's A. L. board last night.

Hundreds of telegrams of congratulations from various cities in the United States and Canada, her birthplace, were banked high on the speaker's table.

At a signal within the hall all lights were extinguished and out of the darkness powerful spotlights stalked at the center of the dinner floor, where the giant chocolate cake had been hauled on a decorated electric truck, driven by white-garbed chefs.

Governor James Rolph Jr., Will Rogers, Lionel Barrymore, May Robson and Polly Moran

were among the speakers. Among

TREASURY ACTS TO STOP FALL OF U. S. DOLLAR

Domestic Gold Prices Set At Point Below World Quotations: Stocks Show Rally

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—The Administration fixed its price of newly minted gold at a point below the world dollar quotation for the first time today, an action interpreted in some quarters as indicating an effort to check the rapid decline of the dollar which just previously had struck a new low level.

The officials set the price of new minted gold at five cents over the price yesterday, sending it to $3.20.

The American dollar, responding to President Roosevelt's currency policy, plunged to new low levels in London Thursday, as evidences of the plan were seen on other markets.

The dollar opened at $4.08 1-16, closed officially at $4.02 3-8, to the pound, and in after hours trading skidded to $3.97 1-4 on the London exchange.

So fast was the descent that the House of Commons, assured by Chancellor of the Exchequer Chamberlain that the independence of the British sterling would not be impeded, could not keep up with it.

Rising gold prices and a declining international dollar rate raised a rally in stocks in New York, checked somewhat by late profit-taking. Inflationary sentiments predominated and the close was irregular.

Gold-flooded bonyant at Chicago, $3.64 6-4 cents above Wednesday's high record, was advanced $3.64 6-4 cents, and provisions rose $0.01 to 22 cents.

Bar Silver pushed up a full cent in New York to 42 7-8 cents an ounce, the highest in three years. This rate compares with 24 1-4 cents a year ago, but was still less than the figure silver producers regard as satisfactory.

Gold continued to flow out of the Bank of France, because of public discussions of the franc's dangers. The gold hoard is less by 1,500,000,000 francs since the Sept. 1 high of 32,277,000 francs and is the lowest since last April.

Good-Will Party Is Restaurant Group Threatens To Quit Working With NRA

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—Wholesale abandonment of the N. R. A. by the 1,275 members of the Indiana Restaurant Operators Association was threatened recently. The association's executive committee drew up a resolution proposing this action, which will be submitted to county vice-presidents this afternoon.

The executive committee urged withdrawal because of alleged failure of the N. R. A. adequately to combat chiseling, inability of restaurant operators to compete with chiselers while food and labor costs were rising, and failure of the N. R. A. officials to permit restaurateurs to operate temporarily under the proposed national restaurant code.

Emergency steps to forestall such action were taken by Francis Wells, regional recovery director. He called for immediate reports from local boards on the extent of chiseling and authorized localities to make exceptions to the code in cases where restaurateurs were unable to meet the added costs of N. R. A. operation. Wells telephoned to Washington for advice on how to meet the situation.

Progress Reported In Negotiations On Russian Question

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—The 10th edition of Chicago's Social Register was issued Tuesday and omitted for the first time in many years any listing of Samuel J. Insull, fallen utility leader. Both are in foreign countries, in refuge from indictment growing out of collapse of the utility empire. Samuel Insull, Jr., and his wife were still listed. Their membership in twenty-five clubs was mentioned last year, but only one was named in the 1934 edition.

Others unlisted included Harold F. McCormick, his son and two daughters, and Mrs. Irene Cannon McLaughlin.
