

Financing Of Mobile Press Was Done By Power Organization

Four-Shift Loan After Circuitous Route Is Finally Handed Over To Newspaper Group

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 20.—(INS)—Fifty thousand dollars used to establish the newly organized Mobile Press came originally from Logan Martin, general counsel of the Alabama Power Company. It was revealed before the federal grand jury yesterday.

Abner Aldridge, Birmingham, president of two coal companies, which he said were subsidiaries of the Alabama Power Company, told the commission of a four-shift loan by which the money reached the hands of R. B. Chandler, publisher of the Press. Aldridge will be borrowed the money from Martin and loaned it to Joseph F. McGowan, Mobile financier, who turned it over to Chandler.

Aldridge, president of the Still Coal Company, the South East Fuel Company and the Union Coal Company, of Birmingham, the latter two of which he said were subsidiaries of the power company, asserted he wanted to help in the establishment of the Press because it was a rival of the papers of FREDRICK L. THOMPSON, southern newspaper publisher.

"A good many years ago," he said, "Fredrick L. Thompson attempted to ruin me. I thought that if I could encourage this paper I would be glad to do it."

Aldridge said he placed his efforts to establish the Press early this year from McGowan, when he was in Mobile on a visit. Later, he said the commission, he received $25,000 from Martin which he took to Mobile and turned over to McGowan. This check, dated in 1929, was placed in the safe along with a second $25,000 check which Aldridge said he got also from Martin and turned over to McGowan April 5.

He gave McGowan a note of authority for the $50,000 loan. Aldridge said, but took two personal checks out of the note from McGowan. Since the trade commission's inquiry has been directed into the Mobile Press, Aldridge said, McGowan has told him, and he is now "Who didn't you give Martin a note for the money?" Judge Robert L. Healy, commission counsel, asked the witness.

"Ma (the one I have some pretty heavy investments together," Aldridge explained.

"Was that a loan, nothing else?" asked Healy.

"Absolutely."

"Was it Alabama Power money, you say?"

"Not in your life," the witness said. "But the money was given to me by McGowan, and I gave it to Aldridge. Aldridge said the money was from the Alabama Power Company."

Aldridge said he had no recollection of that time, but explained that since then he has "heard talk" of this phase of the case for among Alabama Power Company employees, "where it is a regular joke."

Aldridge said he discussed the matter with McGowan prior to its organization. He said he never discussed the Press deal with any Alabama Power officials except Martin and McGowan, told McGowan about putting up any money for the paper.

Lowden Sees Folly In Disarming "Dry" Agents, He States

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(INS)—That is the folly of sending federal men after rum runners, without the proper equipment, Secretary of the Treasury, said here after receiving a report of the shooting of a government craft by alleged rum runners between Detroit and Windsor, Canada.

"These international rump runners are at all times well armed," Lowden continued, "and today's incident amply proves the contention that the liquor smugglers will shoot." Lowden made no statement in regard to the order which went from the treasury abolishing the use of sawed off shotguns and 30-30 rifles by enforcement agents.

Following this order it was reported that White House pressure had been responsible for the edict, after citizens of International Falls, Minn., had complained after the fatal shooting of a citizen by a dry officer. This subsequently was denied both at the White House and at the treasury department.

U. S. EXPENSES OF OPERATION MOUNT HIGHER

Army, Navy Departments Make Heavier Demands On Treasury For Their Upkeep

By Robert S. Thayer
WASHINGTON, June 20.—(INS)—The government's first 11 months of the 1932 fiscal year, $2,056,734,000 represented costs directly attributable to the World War, or expenditures for future wars.

Treasury figures today showed that all but $1,371,247,000 of the total outlay for government in this period was for the war and navy departments, veterans' bureau, and financing of the public debt. These accounts were $1,750,000 heavier than in the same period of last year, despite a $68,000,000 decrease in interest costs.

While there were some civil activities in the war and navy departments, the large portion of the following items of government cost may be charged up to the war or preparedness:

War department, $358,071,000, increase of $27,230,000.
Navy department, $338,072,000, increase of $31,010,000.

Veteran bureau, $382,513,000, increase of $15,911,000.
Interest, $683,241,000, decrease of $58,000,000.

Sinking fund to retire public debt, $270,277,000, increase of $15,550,000.

The gross cost of the war to the end of the present fiscal year will be nearly $50,000,000,000. Deductions from that, provided by war debt tax paid, and in closing war supplies sales, and minor items will reduce the net cost by more than $10,000,000,000.

All other government departments, according to the executive establishment proper, showed increased expenditures during the first 11 months of the year, with about the same ratios probable for the 12 months ending June 30.

For 11 months ending the fiscal year, the government's outlay was $110,000,000. Congressional outlay of $10,011,000 were $1,158,000 higher. The heaviest increase was in the navy department, followed by the war department, and then the treasury, operation of which amounted to $180,291,000, a gain of $24,230,000.

The government expended $161,702,000 in the 11 months in the agricultural department. That was an increase of $17,051,000 over the preceding year.

Income tax collections were pouring into the treasury today by the millions. There was a big gain over last year. Particulars in Monday bulletin, of the intervening Sunday following the date upon which the June installment was due.

Figures still indicated a surplus of approximately $200,000,000 unless heavy expenditures are made before June 30 for farm relief or other unusual items.

Winged Foot Golf Course Where National Open Will Be Held Gives Real Test

By Davis J. Walsh

NEW YORK, June 20.—"Poems are made by fools like me; but only God can make a tree," wrote a hillman. He must have forgotten all about A. W. Tilghman, the golf architect.

Yesterday, the writer played the famous and famous golf course at Winged Foot over which the national open golf championship will be conducted, one week hence, and, judging from what he saw and all he heard, this tournament may produce another Oakmont score. Hagen, Farrell and all the big shots went phooey and a couple of kibitzers horned into a play off for the title. Anything is possible and in most cases probable on a course like this.

Trees, standing elbow to elbow, marched the fairways almost from tree to tree, trees that in waiting around every corner; and on three sides of the average green, you will find trees, tall and stately; trees, stunted and pestiferous, and trees that merely are trees. If it never had anything else, Winged Foot would be a spider's web.

CUBS TAKE FIRST PLACE IN LEAGUE AS CARDS WAVER

St. Louis Team Drops Double-header With Bruin Aggregation

NEW YORK, June 20.—The Chicago Cubs, who have been leading St. Louis and Pittsburgh set the pace in the National League scramble, are back in first place today as the culmination of a steady climb since their disastrous series with the Yankees. McCarthy's maulers do on home cooking and have been creeping ahead slowly but surely on their own grounds during the past two weeks.

The Bruins' double triumph over the Cardinals, yesterday, by scores of 7 to 3 and 11 to 3 has revived the pennant hopes of Chicago fans. Pat Malone won his 10th game of the season in the first game, thanks to Willie Smith's homer with two on and four hits by Hornsby. In the night-cap Sylvester Johnson of the Cards couldn't locate the plate and lost his first game of the season.

The Cardinals flopped at the plate to third place below the Pirates, who got off to a six-run lead against Cincinnati but just failed to the wire to win by a score, 6 to 5. Manager Hendricks of the Red hurled 16 players into the breach but unfortunately he was allowed to use only nine at the time.

Hacker Bowl, the cradle of elite cut cloths, whorled eight new models into the world as the Giants debauched the Phillies twice, 15 to 3 and 12 to 0, in more than six hours of pillaged baseball. The opener lasted 11 innings. Roush got eight hits and O'Flaherty, and each player smacked two homers.

With Smith and Selk'ol came the throwing, the Braves splashed Brooklyn twice, 8 to 1 and 9 to 0. Lark and Dooly, the Brooklyn hurlers, were hit harder than Max Schilling's snarling partners.

The embattled Yankees will face the Athletics tomorrow with a 7-1-2 game deficit, but with renewed confidence gained by their 13 to 2 slaughter of the best Sox yesterday. The champions rapped out 20 hits for a total of 31 bases while Dead Pan Edie Weis was pulverized.

The Yanks got so far ahead that Bob Meusel, never noted for his energy, walked under a fly by Alex Gaston, allowing the lucky young man to make a home run. Meusel was a terror at bat, however, walloping four hits. George Ruth, the big crab and fish man of Chesapeake Bay, made one appearance at bat and gracefully out.

The champions have been loquacious to shake off the St. Louis Browns, who scored their ninth win in 10 starts against the White Sox, 6 to 2. Addie out-pitched Gray but his wildness was costly.

New City Appears in Heart of New York

Has Full Size Streets, With Homes, Stores, Theatre and School—Also Aviation Field in Operation.

NEW YORK.—A city of light has already appeared in the heart of New York. This city, which is actually known as the Westinghouse Lighting Institute, occupies the entire site north of the Grand Central Palace building at 47th Street and Lexington Avenue. This permanent institute is for the advancement of the art of modern lighting and is contributed to the industry of the Westinghouse Lamp Company.

In this institute, the public will find a full size street, a full size school, a full size theatre, and a full size aviation field. Both of these streets have 11 ft. sidewalks, and are 60 feet wide. The school is a full size school, and the theatre is a full size theatre. The aviation field is a full size aviation field, and is equipped with a full size aviation field.

The institute will be under the direction of Ralph Neumuller, long recognized as one of the leaders in the electrical industry. His wide experience in the Public Utility field will enable him to make the institute of great value to the electrical industry and to the city and country as well.

One of the most interesting sections of the institute is the transportation room in which is located an aviation field. Here can be seen all the activities of an airport in full operation under day and night conditions. Every detail of illumination is shown here, from the

Man Hunt Begins For Drug-Crazed Slayer

CHICAGO, June 21.—(INS)—A man hunt was under way today for "Willie" Doody, described by police as a tiger-hearted drug-crazed madman, who is alleged to have shot two more men within the last 12 hours, probably fatally.

The newest alleged victim, of Doody's guns are police sergt. Clarence Falk of the forest reserve police, shot down as he attempted to arrest Doody for a drug store robbery a few minutes before, and Milton Valasopoulos.

Doody, before these latest shootings, was being sought for the killing of Chief of Police Charles Levy of Berwyn; killing of Leon Raymond, Oak Park druggist; shooting of postal inspector Evan Jackson and at least three robberies.

Ev To Jimmy

It is extremely difficult to imagine New York's Mayor Jimmy Walker having an aversion for seeing his name in print. Indeed, the growth of the dapper mayor's publicity complex during the past few years has assumed interesting proportions. There is, of course, no gainsaying the fact that by virtue of his office, his honor is entitled to a prominent place in the public eye and a proportionate share of public adulation. It has been noticeable, however, that Mayor Jimmy is not content with the attention that is ordinarily given the occupants of his position, and for this reason it was not surprising that, early in his administration, he was detected in the act of departing from orthodox customs in order to increase and extend his reader interest, if we may put it that way.

For instance, Jimmy's well known penchant for being late to all of his engagements has all but made his name a household word in America. And when that custom seemed to have lost some of its appeal, the genial Mr. Walker made the nation fairly gasp by practicing the trick on President Hoover, and making a belated appearance at a White House luncheon. The Mayor's propensity for sartorial perfection has been another factor in his successful crash into all the newspapers of the land, and not a few in other countries. There was Jimmy's trip to Hollywood where he submitted to screen tests, his pilgrimage to the Houston convention as leader of the Brown Derby gang, his Dixie-praising speech in Asheville and scores of other instances in which he has boldly, if not cleverly, made additional bids for the limelight.

Nor has his proclivities in this connection all been confined to acting. The mayoralty tongue also has been active, and Mr. Walker has been guilty of yielding himself at all times of the day and night to the importunities of the press. Interviews on subjects, ranging from farming in the Nile valley to discussions of the fourth dimension, have been given out in increasing number. Strangely enough, his latest utterances, given on the occasion of his birthday anniversary, contain bits of wisdom that are not distinctly Walkeresque. Giving a set of rules for retaining that youthful appearance for which he is noted, the Mayor advises "don't let yourself cultivate the notion that you're a great little fellow."

Far be it from us to accuse New York City's first citizen of falling to practice what he preaches, but then we can't seem to forget the impression which he seeks always to convey—that he is a "great little fellow."

Lindy And His Troubles

Lindbergh's honeymoon is over and although he has been accorded the courtesy of comparative immunity from intrusions by the press during his wedding cruise, he will now be subjected to the necessary annoyance of being interviewed by reporters. The public demands to know what its illustrious "Lone Eagle" is doing and what he is thinking. It is therefore unfortunate that he dislikes publicity so much and that he must nevertheless put up with it. The Tampa Tribune writes further:

"The Lindbergh honeymoon is over. The secretive Montette has been abandoned. The Colonel and his charming lady are again visible. For the period of voluntary confinement, the press has respected the wishes of the "happy couple" and reporters and camera men have refrained from persistent pursuit. Now it's a different matter. Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh cannot longer escape the spotlight. So the Colonel, who grew irritable and almost bitter under the pre-marital prominence given the movements of himself and his intended, may become again peeved—but there appears no help for it. The public wants to know about them—and it is the function of the press to supply the desired information.

"One editorial adviser makes a 'friendly suggestion' to Lindbergh. He says, inasmuch as there are two ways to avoid publicity, one to refuse it steadfastly, the other to seek it persistently, and the Colonel having tried the first and failed, it might be found effective to try the latter. Let him 'talk a leg off every reporter who gets within hailing distance, pose for every camera aimed at him, conduct himself generally like a press agent for a circus'—then, after a little, 'everybody would let him alone.'"

HOW THEY HAPPEN TAMPA TIMES

More grade crossing accidents until November, with a marked peak on Saturday than any other day of the week, but more people are killed and injured on Sundays. The greatest number of accidents occur on clear days, and at crossings where the view of the railroads is unobstructed.

These are some of the results of a study made by the bureau of roads, of the United States department of agriculture, of about 5,800 grade crossing accidents in 1925.

The bureau found that about as many accidents took place at rural crossings in or near towns and cities of 2,500 or more population. Rural accidents, however, caused about 76 per cent more fatalities than urban accidents, and are estimated to have been responsible for 16 per cent of all rural highway fatalities.

Passenger automobiles were involved in almost 70 per cent of all the accidents. The number killed and injured was likewise greatest in accidents of this sort. Motor trucks ranked a poor second. The fact that there were 515 accidents in which pedestrians were struck by trains at grade crossings, illustrate the extreme carelessness which "people" display at such places.

Of the 5,808 accidents studied, 2,010 occurred at crossings where there was protection in the form of gates, watchmen, or some type of audible and visible signals. There were 74 cases, for example, where automobiles crashed through lowered gates. In 504 cases the signals of the watchmen were disregarded. In a number of cases watchmen were run down by automobiles, or had their lanterns knocked out of their hands. One watchman threw his lantern at an approaching car in a last futile effort to bring it to a safe stop.

Grade crossing accidents were found by the bureau to vary materially with the different seasons of the year. While previous studies have shown that August is the month of maximum traffic, rural accidents do not reach their peak until October, and urban accidents

This Afternoon by JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES II

'And ne'er did Grecian chisel trace A Nymph, a Naiad or a Grace Of finer form or lovelier face.'

Bathing beauty contests in Italy have been frowned on by Mussolini as tending to over-emphasize that particular sort of beauty and to rob it of its dignity. While it is true that the Madman of the Mediterranean has his moments of sanity.

This writer was one of the judges in such a contest last year at the baseball park in Jacksonville before the opening game of the season. Extraordinarily stimulating as was the spectacle of some sixty young women in one-piece bathing suits against the strange background of a band all dressed in a grand and of yelling baseball fans, it seemed all wrong to hear ourselves and our fellow judges exchanging such remarks as "this one has too much hip," "that one is too brief-breasted," for the heavy undercarriage, "a slight spavin of the knee here," "the chest measure too big for the neck there," "the one on the end has everything but legs," "the one in the middle has too much middle," etc., etc.

Not that we didn't enjoy it. But we felt that we were treating human beings like horses or something. And that we were giving an unfairly exclusive emphasis to assets which were considerably less than the total of what makes a woman attractive. The last thought particularly impressed us when we noticed that at least one of the six prize-winners had no slightest charm of manner, no hint of intelligence or sweetness in her face, no spark of personality—nothing, in fact, but a perfect pair of legs—and an unimpeachable bosom.

What she had, emphasized what she didn't have. In ancient Greece the human form was sung but to a better tone. Bodily perfection went hand in hand with perfection of mind and heart in the fine civilization of Greece. As the Greek lady and loved it, was a blend of body, mind and spirit. The body was a beautiful thing and it was a cement for beauty of character and fineness of intellect.

Appearing on a well-dressed and in the figure it is a great but comes sooner or later unsatisfying. It experience fails to uncover a personality of similar dimensions. A woman who depends altogether on her face or figure may expect to be admired and desired as long as they last. But she can hardly expect to be loved.

In Florida where there is exposed more physical beauty of female form and also of tree and sky and sand and water than in almost any other land, it is worth while to remember that these things will be capitalized to their full only if they are supplemented with culture of the spirit and contentment of the mind. The quintessence of physical beauty depends upon the fineness of the eye that beholds it, the caliber of the heart that longs to it, the expanse of the mind that contemplates it.

Hemlock Hill, for example, took Florida far more beautiful than Jack Dempsey ever could.

Amen! We lie ourselves now to the beach where the practice of what we have preached will not be too strict to stop us from keeping both eyes open.

TELLS INCIDENT OF 50 YEARS AGO

Texas's Story of How He Came To Adopt Black-Draught As Remedy for Indigestion.

Anna, Texas.—Mr. J. C. McNally who lives near here, says: "In 1877 and 1878, I had typhoid and after this I was in an awful bad fix; not able to work. I would eat and eat so much, then would have no indigestion. My system was clogged and I would feel just awful bad."

"My brother-in-law came to see me, and I told him what a miserable fix I was in, and he told me of Black-Draught."

"I believe this was the first time I used it. I remember the date, because it was the winter before I came to Texas, in February, 1878 and Black-Draught has been my medicine ever since. It is a good purgative. It gives relief."

"If I have smothering after meals Black-Draught relieves this. I don't suppose my house has been without it more than a month since I began its use. I carry it in a little box in my pocket, and take a little pinch during the day, if I have the least disagreeable feeling, and it does me good."

"Twenty-five doses, 25 cents. Insist on the genuine."

SAID THE PRUDENT LOVER There is a land wherein the expectant seed Nourishes a harvest for that yellow time. Muted and fused and ripened and sublime. That glorifies the flower and the weed, Three ladders climb into the fruit-ed trees. Sun-ripped apples plip upon the ground. The days are murmurous with brooding sound. Where beat the gold waves of those wheaten seas, Oh, let us hasten, dear, beyond the spring. We would find a love beyond desire. Let us erect, for our remembering, A truly sonnet which to us shall be A monument to mellowed blood and fire— A marker for the grave of ecstasy. By Robert Brooker Hunt

Headline says "Dempsey Will Work." Interesting, if true. Being big gun in Italy, naturally, Mussolini feels that he can hoof off his lip anytime the notion strikes him.

Decision to call a mass meeting for the purpose of organizing Seminole County citizens into a working group to co-operate with state and federal authorities in cleaning up the County is important to the future welfare of the district. The movement deserves the people's heartiest support.

Praising the state prison at Raiford as one of the best in the country, the Tampa Tribune adds: "The construction foreman, by the way, was none other than John J. Medenhall, under life sentence, who found men to fit the jobs, who organized and directed them in the work, who, by his faithful application to the task and his ability as a construction executive, gave the state a million-dollar building for $400,000." Even so, we do not feel that this outdoes him to a degree.

Madames Papworth, Langley Give Party

Mrs. W. T. Langley and Mrs. H. M. Papworth entertained with a bridge party on Thursday afternoon at the home of the former, 185 Elliott Avenue, complimenting Mrs. W. M. Scott and Mrs. Roland Dean who expect to leave soon for Europe. Sharing honors with Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Dean were Mrs. D. P. Drummond and Mrs. LeRoy Childers who will leave shortly to make their home elsewhere, and Mrs. Henry Wight and Mrs. M. S. Wiggins who will spend the summer at points in the north.

The guests were met at the door and ushered to the receiving line by Mrs. Papworth while Mrs. A. W. Lee and Little Miss Margaret Langley distributed the tallies which were of rainbow colors. The rooms where the guests were entertained were adorned with a profusion of radiance roses in shades of red and pink, zinnias, nasturtiums and other spring flowers which developed a color scheme of rainbow shades. The refreshments which were served late in the afternoon consisted of sandwiches, salad and ice which further emphasized the color motif.

At the conclusion of the bridge games, high score prize, a bottle of Houbigant's toilet water, was awarded to Mrs. W. J. Thigpen while Mrs. Roy Symes who had low score was given bath salts. Mrs. George A. McCotter cut high score was the recipient of pink fruited crystal powder set.

Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Dean received as gifts from the hostesses, waterproof toilet cases for traveling, while Mrs. Drummond, Mrs. Childers, Mrs. Wiggins and Mrs. Wight were given bottles of Houbigant's perfume.

At the tea hour a salad and ice course was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. A. W. Lee and Mrs. Calvin Teague. Those present, in addition to the guests named, were Mrs. A. G. Fort, Mrs. John Speed, Mrs. Clyde Derby of Winter Park, Mrs. George Knight, Mrs. E. E. Tolar, Mrs. E. D. Mobley, Mrs. S. O. Chase, Mrs. Roland Read, Mrs. George A. DeCotter, Mrs. J. J. ## Barbara Bennett Is Star Of "Syncopation"

Barbara Bennett, featured player of RKO's talking and music production, "Syncopation," a "Radio" picture which comes today to the Milane theatre has abandoned a promising dancing career to cast her fortune with the "talkies."

Miss Bennett daughter of the famed Richard Bennett has full opportunity to demonstrate her dancing ability in the lavish ballet scenes of "Syncopation," done completely in sound with music by Waring's Pennsylvanians.

Wights Entertain On Yacht For Visitor

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wight entertained with a yachting party on Thursday evening, honoring Mrs. Mary Murphy of Victoria, Texas who is visiting here. The guests enjoyed a cruise up the river until late in the evening when supper was served by the hostess.

Those invited to be with Miss Murphy were the Misses Glyce Newman, Camilla Paleston, Rose LaVerne Hurt, Margaret Peters and Robert Dodson, Frank L. Woodruff Jr., Hutton Mabry, Alcegon Speer and Harry Woodruff.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES NAMED

Voters of special school district number six last week elected John E. Fox, M. Hanson and G. H. McKenny trustees for two-year terms. At its organization meeting the board named Mr. Fox as chairman. The district is composed of Lake Monroe, Sylvan Lake, Paola and Markham.

Miss Lenabelle Hagan left Thursday night for Jacksonville where she will meet her father, L. P. Hagan, and return home with him Friday night.

Mrs. Monroe B. Hutton and son, Monroe J., returned Thursday from points in Western Florida where they have been spending the past ten days with Mr. Hutton.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schmidt expect to leave Saturday for Daytona Beach where they will spend two weeks at the Finn Apartments.

Word has been received here that Miss Margaret Cox is registered at the Roosevelt Hotel in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. William Leavitt of Tampa arrived here Thursday night where they were called by the death of the former's mother, Mrs. W. F. Leavitt.

A SERVICE To The Public

The Seminole Creamery Company buys more than $1000.00 worth of milk and cream locally each month. This company takes the output of two local dairies that are especially equipped to produce clean milk of high quality. We do not buy milk from "Tom, Dick and Harry,"—but from dairies that come up to the requirements of the State and City Boards of Health, and from which we can get a dependable supply the year round.

This, together with the close inspection and tests to which each can of milk is subjected as it arrives at our plant insures our customers of the purest and richest milk and milk products possible.

We say
There never was a better gas...

 a better oil...*

"Super-this", "anti-that" — "special-this",
 "premium-that", compare the performance of any gasoline with that of the new and better
 Texaco. Then you will understand why Texaco is so popular not only right here but all over the U. S. A., from Coast to Coast, from the Border to the Gulf!

The new and better Texaco Gasoline is specially refined to form a full-powered vaporized mixture of gasoline and air, a dry gas, which ignites instantly and burns completely.

Texaco Golden Motor Oil is refined from carefully selected crudes only. It is full bodied as it feels, pure as it looks, free from gritty-carbon-forming elements which cause an engine to falter and lose power.
