Opposition Builds To Expressway Slice Through Sanford

By Kathy Tyrity
Herald Staff Writer

Opinion is starting to build among Sanford city leaders — and even Seminole County Expressway Authority members — that an expressway dividing the city of Sanford would be ill advised and would disrupt neighborhoods essential to keeping the population center in Sanford.

Six of the seven members of the Expressway Authority were polled and three gave definite answers that they have serious reservations about dividing Sanford with a super-highway.

"We should not put this road through Sanford. I would be in favor of most any other alternative," said Sanford's Mayor Bettye Smith, who sits on the Expressway Authority.

When told of County Commissioner Bob Sturm's idea of drawing the route so as to connect with Interstate 4 south of State Road 46 and north of Lake Mary Boulevard, touching only a small portion of Sanford in the extreme southwest corner, she said, "I would favor that very much." But to put the road through Sanford, she said, would be "devastating" to the neighborhoods Sanford depends on for a population center.

Former Sanford Mayor Lee Moore agreed with Smith for many of the same reasons. "I don't want to see the road go anywhere north of Lake Mary Boulevard," he said.

Some time ago, Sturm, a member of the Expressway Authority, drew a route of what he considered the best alternate for the expressway, missing established neighborhoods as much as possible. He got it out and dusted it off Monday after a commission workshop.

Basically, Sturm's route would start at the south end of the county near Oviedo and travel north across the wide part of Lake Jesup. It would skirt or cross Lake Minnie and continue northwest through Grove View subdivision and on to I-4 south of S.R. 46 and north of Lake Mary Boulevard. The expressway would skirt "old Lake Mary" and go through an area that is partly in south Sanford and partly in Lake Mary.

But an additional feature of his plan is that the highway would have a long spur for cars coming from the south to get off and go to the Sanford

Regional Airport. The spur would go from South Sanford Avenue around to the airport area, touching the east boundary of the airport with an access to the airport, and then continuing to the Douglas Stenstrom Bridge into Osteen. "That would take a lot of the beach traffic off I-4, too," Sturm said.

Expressway Authority member Bill Kirchhoff, who also sits on the county commission, said he, too, can see the rationale of not going through Sanford with the expressway. He said he can also see the rationale of building just a segment of the highway now and waiting until later to see where the road would be financially feasible to continue.

"If you don't want the road to go through

Soccer Players Stranded

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Hundreds of kids on several soccer teams from across the state did not compete in a weekend tournament at Indialantic. The competition was cancelled when the eligibility of one player on Seminole County's team was questioned by the Florida Youth Soccer Association and declared eligible by a circuit judge.

Since the player was declared eligible Friday by Seminole-Brevard Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr., the attorney for the player is seeking a contempt of court order against the association.

The question over player eligibility apparently is the second one in two months involving the association and its rules regarding what teams kids can play on and in what divisions.

In the latest incident, Mize ruled Friday that Seye "Mo" Moghaddam, a 19-year-old graduate of Lake Brantley High School, could play with the Seminole County team in the Florida Cup Competition Tournament, court records show.

Mize decided that the organization's rules allow the 19-year-old to play, said Joe Rosler, Moghaddam's attorney from Lake Mary. Moghaddam has played on "senior" teams, for 19-year-old and up, and the tournament was to be comprised of "youth" teams, for players under 19, depending on their birth date. Rosler said though Moghaddam is 19, his birthdate makes him eligible to play on a youth team if he has not played seniors and that was not a point of contention. The issue was whether the eligibility rules allow him to play on both levels in the same season.

Seniors play on youth teams often and the association was trying to prevent Moghaddam from playing by quoting a "non-existent rule," Rosler said. He said the issue may be fueled

Sanford Airport Should Expand: Jeno Paulucci

'Commercial Airlines Interested'

Developer and frozen food-pizza entrepreneur Jeno Paulucci this morning evoked the interest of the Sanford Regional Airport Authority in expanding the existing charter-flight airport into an international airport within two years, and he said he already has two commercial airlines interested in coming to Sanford.

After Paulucci's brief presentation at 8:30 a.m., the chairman of the airport authority, A. K. Shoemaker, thanked him and said, "We are looking forward to working with you on this."

Paulucci, in an interview after the meeting, gave his views on Seminole County's proposed expressway. "The expressway needs to be built, and the closer to the airport the better, as long as it does not interfere totally with the city of Sanford," he said.

During the airport authority meeting he told authority members that the airport, with a few improvements, will attract major U.S. and Canadian carriers.

"We are very interested in becoming the Sanford International Airport, and we believe based on the contacts I have made already the chances are good that if you get the new terminal and tower so that safety concerns are met and you can provide 24-hour service, we can get at least one major airline and one smaller one," Paulucci said. He said the interest of commercial airlines had to be confirmed before a case could be made for a new tower, however.

"Without naming the airlines, I would like to say that I do believe we can get at least one if not two. I've had two positive responses of major airlines," he said.

Asking for a commitment on the part of the airport authority, he continued, saying, "If this airport board and others in power would recommend it (the

City Turns Thumbs Down On House

A builder's appeal to a planning and zoning decision was unanimously struck down at last night's Sanford City Commission meeting largely due to strong vocal opposition by neighboring property holders. Discussion of a municipal swimming pool was postponed until a later date.

Commissioner A.A. McClanahan made the motion that Planning and Zoning's recommendation be upheld, and he was seconded by Whitey Eckstein.

"Living in that area I've probably gotten more calls on the subject than any other commissioner," he said. "Based on the fact that so many people in the area are against it I think we should back the board's (Planning and Zoning) decision."

Whitey Eckstein felt much the same way, adding that a petition, previously presented to the commission, had 20 signatures opposing the construction of a 1,100 sq. ft. home on a lot designated such that 1,300 sq. ft. is the minimum.

"Why did so many people sign the petition?" Eckstein asked. "That's what bothers me."

His comments were directed at Herb Stenstrom, who spoke along with Frank Stump for the Stenstrom-Stump Construction & Development Company.

Stenstrom couldn't answer, but said that when he first encountered so much opposition he was amazed. He said he wrote a letter to some of those who signed the petition, and received some apologetic responses saying that they did not know the true nature of the development.

"These people were told that we were building rentals," Stenstrom said. "But this is not a spec home. We have a buyer who simply has chosen to spend his money on amenities like a fire place and jacuzzi instead of 200 extra sq. ft."

David Stump, Stenstrom's partner, after presenting a slide presentation on the neighborhood and the controversial proposed development site, said that there is no way to tell the difference between a 1,200 sq. ft. home and a 1,100 sq. ft. home unless one counts the blocks.

"I want to reiterate," he said. "That 1,100 sq. ft. is 1 1/2 times larger than the average home in the area. The issue is that we

Train Victim Tentatively Identified

A man who police say apparently was killed by an Amtrak train in Sanford Saturday has been tentatively identified.

The dead man is believed to be Dwayne Lee Edwards, 24, of 2004 Southwest Road, Sanford, a lifelong resident of the city and a graduate of Seminole High School.

Several witnesses said Edwards ran onto the tracks near the Deluxe Bar and Southwest Road as the 60-mph train approached at 3:13 p.m. Reginald Edwards, 28, Edward's brother, told investigators after the event that the victim may have been his brother, Dwayne. Identification was difficult because of the extensive trauma involved.

The train's engineer, fireman and two men near the site said

Edwards jumped in front of the northbound train as it neared the area of the bar. The man had been standing in a wooded area just south of the bar, and as the train came closer he leaped onto the middle of the tracks holding his arms straight up.

Survivors include his mother, father, several brothers and a sister.

Fire Razes Lake Mary House

By Genie Lindberg
Herald Staff Writer

Flames burst from all the windows of a one-story vacant wooden house in Lake Mary early today as firefighters from the city's volunteer fire department arrived at the scene. The Lake Mary fire followed one in Casselberry Monday that damaged a nursery.

Nineteen Lake Mary firefighters responded to the 1:05 a.m. blaze at the house on the southwest corner of Lakeview Avenue and Fifth Street. Fire Chief Bob Stoddard said. It took firefighters about 30 minutes to put the blaze out from the time they arrived, Stoddard said. "Once we got our attack lines in operation, we got it knocked down real quick."

Stoddard said he requested back up from Seminole County firefighters in case the flames started spreading to the woods west of the house. Seminole County's engine 361 with two firefighters responded and helped at the scene, but the flames did not spread to the woods, Stoddard said.

The house was about three-quarters destroyed, Stoddard said, and looked like it started near the front of the house. He would not comment on whether arson is suspected because he said he did not want to hamper the fire marshal's investigation.

The personal representative for the estate listed on the tax rolls at city hall is Clara Thompson of Vista, California.

The Casselberry fire broke out around noon at Vaughn Nursery

Senate Set For Tax Bill Vote Wednesday

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The largest tax increase in Florida history has cleared both Senate committee tests and was scheduled for debate by the full Senate Wednesday, with opponents pledging a heated floor fight.

The Appropriations Committee gave the $900 million plan its unanimous approval Monday, but several committee members expressed strong reservations about the wisdom of the plan and the haste with which it was being considered. The measure (CSSB 777) is being rushed through the Legislature at an unprecedented pace.

The bill would preserve selected services exemptions from automatic repeal July 1. In a move to force itself to consider the exemptions this year, the Legislature agreed last year to repeal some $3 billion dollars in exemptions on that date barring a specific vote to save them.

Sen. Dexter Lehtinen, R-Miami, a bill opponent, said he was voting for the measure because it at least reinstated some exemptions.

"It was pretty much cut and dried by the time it got here," said Sen. Dick Langley, R-Clermont, a leading opponent of the plan. "There will still be a floor fight."

But Finance and Tax Committee Chairman Tim Deratany, R-Indialantic, appointed to the Appropriations panel to help ensure passage, said opponents would ultimately be forced to accept the measure, just as they were forced to accept it in committee.

"We'll hear a lot of the same speeches and see a lot of the same amendments," Deratany said. "What we are doing is an improvement on what we did last year. After all the jumping up and down, it's a good bill and it addresses the state's needs."

Gov. Bob Martinez, House Speaker Jon Mills and Senate President John Vogt have agreed upon many specifics of the bill, saying broad tax reform is needed to make up an estimated $53

POLICE IN BRIEF

Two Suspects Sought In Home Roofing Repair Scam

Sheriff's deputies are investigating a possible fraud involving two men and an elderly Midway woman. Two men told Mary Brown, 73, of 2270 Water St., that they were from an insurance company and that her home needed roofing repairs. The incident occurred Saturday around 3 p.m. The men reportedly told the woman they could do the roof work cheaper than other companies and she subsequently paid them $170. The men then spray painted a portion of the roof and told her they would return Monday for more money. They then left in a late model Ford pickup. Investigators have a description of the suspects.

Driving Under Influence Arrests

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence: —Donald Theodore Metz, 62, of 1780 Lake Markham Road, Sanford, arrested at 25th St. and U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford at 3:31 a.m. Sunday after his vehicle was involved in an accident. —Ronald Forbels, 30, of Harrisburg, Mo., arrested at county roads 426 and 419 after his vehicle was involved in an accident around 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Shop Lifting Charges Filed

An Apopka woman was arrested after a struggle with a store manager and a security officer at a west Seminole County store. Two women and a man were stopped by employees at a Ross Dress For Less store at 474 Hunt Club Boulevard. A struggle apparently broke out with one female suspect and the male suspect breaking free and fleeing. The male suspect was reportedly arrested in Apopka after a chase but there was no detailed report of that incident available. The trio was stopped after being suspected of not paying for $380 worth of concealed clothes. When the employees attempted to take the trio into custody a scuffle occurred. The incident happened Sunday at 1:30 p.m. The female suspect arrested, Angela Patrick, 24, of 17 W. Highland, Apopka, was charged with grand theft and robbery. Bond was set at $8,000.

Charged With Shotgun Assault

A Sanford man was charged with aggravated assault and battery after reportedly aiming a shotgun at a man, then clubbing him in the mouth with the weapon. The victim, Eddie Keith Jr., age and address not reported, said he feared for his safety when a man with a shotgun aimed it at him and threatened him. The man then struck Keith across the mouth with the weapon. Arrested and charged with aggravated assault and battery was Willie Calvin McCray, 37, of 84 Lake Monroe Terrace. The incident occurred around 8 p.m. Saturday at 905 Bay Ave., Sanford.

Woman Arrested For Marijuana

A Sanford woman was arrested on a marijuana charge after an officer investigated a stolen car report in Sanford. The officer spotted a gold-colored Chevrolet about 500 yards east of U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford on Fairway Drive. Behind the car was a green Valiant. The incident occurred 2:30 a.m. Sunday. The passenger in the Valiant, Bambly Kynn Geotz, 25, of 1525 Pine Ridge Cir., Sanford, told the officer she was the owner of the Chevrolet. When the officer asked the woman to get out of the car, he reportedly saw a plastic bag of marijuana on her side of the car. Ms. Geotz was arrested and charged with possession of marijuana. Bond was set at $500. The driver of the Valiant was not charged.

Burglaries And Thefts Reported

Sammy Nelson, of 1503 Lincoln St., Sanford, reported to sheriff's deputies that a .22-caliber revolver of undetermined value was stolen from his home April 5 or 6. A burglar who broke a glass door with a cement block, entered the Circle K convenience store, 83 Spartan Drive, Fern Park, early Thursday and stole 82 cartons of cigarettes and 24 beers with a total value of $1,378, a sheriff's report said. A $500 diamond brooch, two wedding bands and a dress were among a total of $728 in items stolen from the home of Rose Shackley of 2500 Howell Branch Road, Casselberry, between April 2 and Tuesday, a sheriff's report said.

Jews Begin Passover Celebration

Staff and wire reports
Congregation Beth Am, Seminole County's only Jewish congregation, will observe Passover, the weeklong Jewish holiday which began at sundown Monday, with a community seder at 6:30 p.m. today at Slovak Gardens on Howell Branch Road. Rabbi Merrill Shapiro said Congregation Beth Am held services this morning at Fellowship Church, 5340 Red Bug Lake Road, Casselberry. Beth Am is temporarily meeting at Fellowship Church each Friday at 8 p.m. and Saturday at 10 a.m. until the new synagogue is built on property on Sand Lake Road in southwest Seminole County. Passover commemorates the exodus of Moses and the Jews from their slavery in Egypt, began at sundown Monday. Traditionally, on the first night of the holiday, Jewish families have a "seder" — a festive meal during which they read aloud from the Hagaddah — the book that tells the story of the Jews' flight from Egypt. It tells of the successive plagues God imposed on Egypt to force Pharaoh to free the Jews. It also tells of the angel of death, which killed the first-born male of all species, human and animal, but passed over the homes of Jews who marked their doorposts with the blood of a lamb. After the angel of death struck, Pharaoh ordered the Jews to depart, and the Egyptians gave them valuables — silver and jewels — to aid them in their trip. Then the Jews set off in haste — so quickly they had no time to bake bread for the trip. So they took with them unleavened loaves, or matzo. Today, Jews who observe religious dietary laws, or "keep kosher," eat matzo rather than leavened bread during Passover week and make sure their homes are free of any trace of leavened food. Anything with yeast is strictly forbidden. Beer and most alcohol also are banned, but sweet, kosher wines are allowed. Four glasses of wine are prescribed to be consumed during the seder. In Israel, where civil and religious law are intertwined, fines can be imposed for the sale of leavened bread and other products made with yeast during Passover. But few lawbreakers are ever fined, said Chaim Chofetz, a spokesman for the Ministry of Religious Affairs. In MaChaneh Yehuda, Jerusalem's largest Jewish open-air market, stalls selling matzo were mobbed. People trying to get rid of their leavened bread gave loaves to the beggars squatting at the entrance.

Sanford Police, Fire Mull Underwater Rescue Team

By Brian Sullivan
Herald Staff Writer

As a result of recent drownings the Sanford police and fire departments are looking closely at the possibility of organizing their own conjunctive, in-house, scuba underwater rescue team. Fire Chief Tom Hickson says that the project could be put together on a shoestring budget. "Right now, between the police department and us, there are about seven guys with scuba diving credentials. We have three with International Scuba Credentials and they've got their own equipment." Hickson also said that the Coast Guard has been contacted and information on specialized training is on the way. Once they get the city manager's support of the idea they can put together a proposal to send to the commission.

Police Chief Steve Harlett doesn't foresee any insurmountable problems. "It's not that big of a deal," he said. "In our (police) department we've got four former military divers who came to me on a volunteer basis and asked if they could help. I think there's an intermittent need for a unit like this. Granted, most out work in this area would be recovery oriented, but sometimes it could make a difference of life or death." At this stage Harlett and Hickson are exploring the possibilities and ramifications of the plan. Although the divers will be able to supply most of their own gear, there is some question as to whether or not their current insurance plans would cover such a venture.

Robbery Of Woman Charged

A Bradenton man was arrested after he reportedly took $50 from a woman who accepted a ride from him. Minnie Mae Gamble, 32, of 319 Magnolia Ave., Altamonte Springs, told police she was walking to the Club 436 in Altamonte Springs when a man stopped and offered her a ride. The report did not say when the incident occurred but a suspect was arrested a 1:48 a.m. Sunday. Once inside the car, the man locked the doors and Ms. Gamble reportedly agreed to go with him to his motel room for a couple of drinks. At the motel, the man ordered her to remove her clothes, which she said she did not do. The man then opened a brown brief case, said he had a gun, and told her to give him her money. She gave him $50. Ms. Gamble then either fled the room or was told to go, according to the report. She told the clerk at the motel's front desk what happened then went to the parking lot and copied the license plate number on the man's car. Police later saw a vehicle in the area matching the number and stopped it. The driver gave police permission to search his room but no money or gun was found. Charged with strongarm robbery was Michael Demps, 20. Bond was set at $8,000.

IN BRIEF

Marchers Demand Justice For Judge Alcee Hastings

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — A black coalition that led 300 people in a peaceful march and rally for Alcee Hastings has petitioned Congress to quash an attempt to impeach the beleaguered federal judge.

Hastings, 50, a U.S. District judge in Miami, is facing impeachment proceedings in the U.S. House of Representatives because of a bribery case brought against him six years ago.

"We want the system to work equally for all. Judge Hastings is being denied that. If they can do him like that, they can do it to you," said Dr. Gordon Merritt, a dentist and the president of the Afro American Legal Defense Fund.

The coalition organized a short march Monday from a church to the downtown federal courthouse, where a rally was staged on the building's outside steps. The marchers — most of them black — sang, "We Shall Overcome," as they walked under police escort.

Gilbert Ponders Next Appeal

MIAMI (UPI) — A federal magistrate has rejected an appeal to reduce the life sentence being served by admitted killer Roswell Gilbert, who said he shot his terminally ill wife after she begged him to end her suffering.

Gilbert claimed the 25-year mandatory provision of the state's murder statute is unconstitutional. U.S. Magistrate William Turnoff dismissed Gilbert's appeal Monday, ruling he did not raise the issue in state court.

"Clearly, petitioner has not exhausted appeals in state courts," said Turnoff's written ruling.

Floridians For Death Penalty

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida has carried out executions the public would not have supported if they were fully informed of the facts, Amnesty International spokesmen say.

Amnesty International pollster Pat Caddell said Monday a poll he did for the group showed a majority of Floridians do not think minors or the mentally ill should be executed. Both can be executed under Florida law.

The poll found 84 percent of Floridians support capital punishment. But 74 percent said the penalty is arbitrary, 47 percent said it discriminates on racial and economic grounds and 49 percent said they would accept alternative punishment, such as life without parole with the prisoner's earnings going to the family of his victim.

Kemp Eyes Florida Win With Mack

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Promising to carry the Reagan revolution into a new administration, presidential candidate Rep. Jack Kemp Monday named Congressman Connie Mack as his Florida campaign director.

Kemp said Mack shared his conservative vision and would be a key to capturing Florida's Republican primary.

"We expect to be in Florida a lot," Kemp said at a brief airport news conference. "I expect to campaign with Connie Mack all over the state, and we expect to be competitive in Florida."

"It is the most encouraging thing that is happening to my campaign around the country, to have the men and women who have been responsible for the Reagan revolution, who have been responsible for changing the course of human history, who have been responsible for identifying the Republican party as a party of opportunity, of hope and growth, come on board."

Kemp conceded that Vice President George Bush is currently the frontrunner for the GOP nomination, but predicted his grass roots campaign would eventually give him that lead.

"The leadership position of the vice president is pretty well demonstrated, but it is wide open, not only in the country but in Florida," Kemp said. "I am convinced that at the grass roots level, their minds are open, the race is open."

"In 1988 the race will not be decided on who is the frontrunner in 1987, it will be decided on who has the best vision of America and who can best broaden the base of the Republican party."

Mack, R-Fort Myers, announced last week he would not try to unseat incumbent Democrat Sen. Lawton Chiles, who is up for re-election this year. Mack said he wants to concentrate solely on Kemp's campaign.

Zoologist: Gator Love Is Tender

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — A zoologist who waded into a shoulder-deep alligator pond to study the animals' mating habits described gator courtship Monday as a surprisingly tender ritual of bellowing and snout-muzzling.

The Florida alligator courting season normally runs from the second week of April through the first week of June. But this year it started early — in late March — because of a mild winter and early spring, said University of Florida zoologist Kent Vliet.

Vliet has been studying alligator courtship since 1981, and has been featured in a National Geographic TV special on alligators. To get a gator's eye view, he waded into a shoulder-deep artificial lake filled with alligators in a St. Augustine tourist attraction.

He observed that female alligators are initially shy and uninterested and frequently spurn the male gators that attract them. They later take the lead.

"The females spend a lot of the early part of gator courting season sitting back, volking up their eggs and getting hormonally prepared for courtship," Vliet said.

"The males are prepared for courtship much longer than the females, about 45 days on the average," Vliet said. "While females are active for courtship for an average of 25 days."

"When the females are ready, they go out and initiate courtship and stimulate the males into mating between 60 to 70 percent of the time."

Welfare Reform: Another Stab

If poverty could be legislated away, our welfare system would have withered into obsolescence long ago. Few political concepts have the broad bipartisan appeal on Capitol Hill as the need to overhaul welfare, to get the poor off the dole and into jobs that will make them productive, self-sufficient individuals. Yet the goal of federal welfare reform remains as elusive today as it was in the late 1960s when Sen. Daniel Moynihan, D-N.Y., launched the crusade.

Elusive, but no less alluring. Congress is ready to try again. Earlier in March, Rep. Harold E. Ford, D-Tenn., unveiled a sweeping proposal that would replace Aid for Families with Dependent Children with a combination of job training, employment counseling and work-for-welfare programs. A proposal on the Senate side would give states bonuses for moving welfare recipients into the private job market.

The motives may be laudable. But assuming that congressional liberals and conservatives can forge a consensus, the measures need to be weighed carefully.

Cost is one factor. Federal legislators should look carefully at the welfare reform efforts in Massachusetts, California and other states. They must ask whether the benefits from the programs justify their enormous price tag — especially when the federal government is confronted with staggering budget deficits.

In one state, where the GAIN welfare reform program is just getting underway, many counties are finding they're going to spend more money on remedial education than previously estimated. That could drive up the cost of this attempt to get people off welfare, which already is expected to run the state $266 million next year.

Most welfare overhaul schemes fail because they're too ambitious. By requiring all welfare recipients to participate, they waste money on people who are going to find work, remarry or leave the rolls for some other reason.

Why not concentrate our resources on the welfare receivers who need the most help? And why not relieve some of the conditions that cause people to drop into welfare in the first place? Boosting the minimum wage, extending public health insurance to the working poor and expanding child care automatically will help move poor families off the welfare rolls.

These more basic measures, not grandiose expensive federal schemes feeding an already bloated welfare bureaucracy, would be welfare reform in the truest sense of the word.

Phone Welfare

By most accounts the Federal Communications Commission will accept the recommendations of state and federal regulatory advisers to increase the federal charges on telephone bills by $1.50.

The surcharge would be levied in three stages, with the final step up due in April 1989.

The increase supposedly will reduce the subsidization of local service by long-distance users. Consumers, it is said, will benefit in lower charges for interstate long-distance calls.

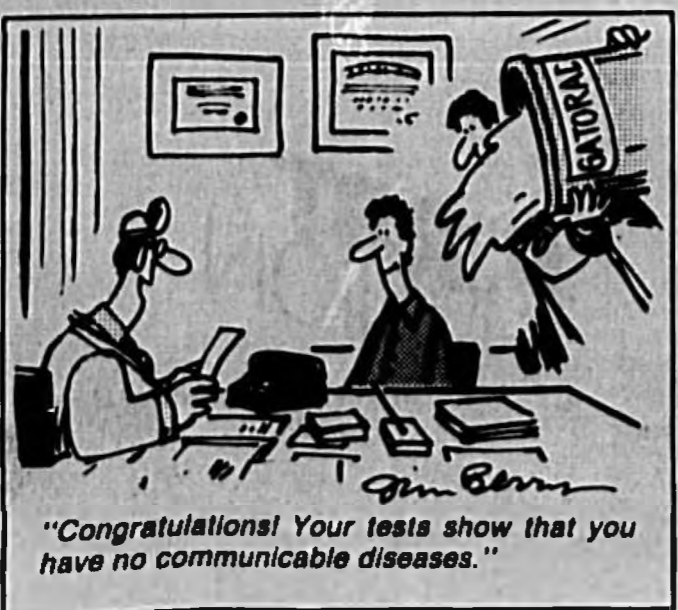

At least one member of Congress challenges that assumption. Rep. James Juntz, D-Ind., claims the telephone companies, not consumers, will benefit most. He said he will try to block the increase.

One aspect of the recommendation, however, seems to have aroused little attention. The regulatory advisory panel urged that part of the new revenue be used to help pay telephone installation costs for low-income families.

Installation costs have zoomed in recent years. Paying them may indeed be burdensome for the poor. Still, that doesn't make it right or reasonable to force every telephone subscriber — whatever her or his income — to contribute to some kind of telephone welfare system.

If regulators think poor people should get free or subsidized telephone access, let them put that proposition before Congress in the form of legislation. Slipping it into the monthly phone bill is sneaky business.

Let TV Cover A More Diverse Set Of Ideas

You're reading this column and you don't even know that you're already on the losing side.

No warning. Just a silent takeover that crept over all our minds like Carl Sandburg's fog on "little cat feet."

The next step is for a modern-day Edward Gibbon to start chronicling "The Decline and Fall of the American Empire."

Our decline was announced with the recent revelation that 50 percent of Americans say they use television as their only source of news and information.

The horrifying word is "only."

According to a poll released by — who else — the National Association of Broadcasters, a majority of Americans don't use newspapers or any other media as a secondary source of news. Those who dispute the claim, however, say that may be true for national and international news, but for local news it's a different story.

The coloring book industry is ecstatic.

School systems are gloomy. We're in a cultural Armageddon when a nation's majority believes it can best formulate critical opinions and decisions from a screen's flickering images, described in fleeting seconds by flawlessly coiled Barbie dolls covered in pancake makeup.

But this "vidiocy" gets worse. In a recent poll, 1,000 high school students responded that they admired television and movie stars more than their parents and relatives.

Ignorance takes no prisoners. For today's students, Vanna White is more important than the White House.

Yet, there's an outside chance that we can keep America bustling in the marketplace of ideas.

Emancipate television from the slavery of the so-called "fairness doctrine."

I confess that was a sneaky way to back into this controversial issue. But if a majority of Americans are dead set on electronic genocide, they should at least enjoy the widest diversity of thought-provoking options.

The fairness doctrine, a government-mandated right of reply, discourages options by making broadcasters afraid of airing the broadest range of opinions. That's why a column like this could never be aired on television.

Decades ago, when the federal government was struggling with a regulatory policy for television and radio, the fairness doctrine may have had some merit as a transitory phase.

But read the landmark 1969 decision reaffirming the fairness doctrine — Red Lion Broadcasting vs. the FCC — and see how out of touch it is with today's world.

Government regulation of TV and radio has no more to do with right of reply than government regulation of joint operating agreements between newspapers has to do with limiting their First Amendment right to deny a reply.

VIEWPOINT

The Arms Offer To The West

By Ronald de Valderano

Mikhail Gorbachev's offer to eliminate all medium-range nuclear missiles in Europe over the next five years has been greeted with enthusiasm by Europeans. The idea of incineration in a nuclear war lacks any sort of popular appeal.

But doubt remains as to the Soviet motives. Some believe Gorbachev's promises at the recent "peace forum" in Moscow that there has been a radical change in Soviet objectives. Secretary Gorbachev has assured us that Soviet "international policy is more than ever determined by domestic policy, by concentrating on constructive endeavors to improve our country. This is why we need lasting peace, predictability and constructiveness in international relations."

Others believe that the Soviet system is by its very nature aggressive, and that it is unalterably committed to imposing communism on the whole world, using propaganda and political activity, and ultimately force.

As pointed out in Military Objectives in Soviet Foreign Policy, written by Michael McGuire for The Brookings Institution, evidence suggests that the Soviets made a fundamental doctrinal decision in 1986 to give maximum priority to avoiding an intercontinental war. It would then be necessary to remove medium-range missiles in Europe aimed at the Soviet heartland.

To achieve this, the Soviet Union would first require only enough missiles to deter the use of American strategic missiles. Second, the Soviet Union has a clear interest in negotiating an arms control treaty to eliminate medium-range weapons that could be fired from Europe and strike the Soviet heartland. Third, the Soviets would have considerable interest in building up their conventional forces, to be able rapidly to overrun the Western European countries.

The Soviets have built up a stockpile of strategic intercontinental nuclear weapons which greatly deters the United States from using its intercontinental missiles. The Soviets have built up their conventional forces to a point which, in the opinion of many experts, would permit them to overrun Western Europe fairly quickly in a war using only conventional weapons. They have been violently opposed to the placing in Western Europe of medium-range weapons such as cruise and Pershing II. They orchestrated a vast campaign throughout Europe to protest these medium-range weapons. Such places as Greenham Common in Britain are still under siege by various antinuclear protesters. However, the effort failed, and the missiles that can strike the Soviet heartland are now in place.

Grants Go To 'Right' Minority

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — The federal agency set up to help minority businesses is using its grant money to recruit Hispanics and blacks into the Republican Party, according to an agency official's affidavit.

Charges of political favoritism and other improprieties have swirled about the Minority Business Development Agency ever since its creation by President Nixon in 1969. Now Xavier Mena, the agency's regional director in San Francisco, has put explicit accusations in writing — and under oath — in an affidavit filed last year with federal investigators.

Mena accuses the minority business agency's director, James Richardson Gonzales, of misusing for political purposes some of the $4 million the director can use at his discretion out of the agency's annual $39 million budget. In particular, Mena pinpoints awards made in the

Fumes From Swamp

Supporters of President Reagan who fondly imagine that "the worst is over" as far as the Iran/contrabank affair is concerned are in for a rough spring. The Democratic impresarios of the forthcoming congressional investigation are keeping their mouths shut these days, but privately they are satisfied that the testimony of Admiral John Poindexter, Col. Oliver North and others will rock the country and seriously damage President Reagan.

Have you noticed the almost total absence of leaks from the special House and Senate committees investigating this subject? These are legislators and staff members with long histories of running off at the mouth ("not for attribution") to their pals in the media, and their recent silence should not be understood as evidence that they have decided to reform. Nor would it be wise to conclude that the media, in their turn, are simply being thwarted by the politicians in their diligent attempts to telegraph the investigative committees' punches.

On the contrary, the polls and the media have tacitly agreed not to jump the gun with revelations that might well lessen the impact of the investigations when they finally go public. To put it another way, the Democratic masters of these revels and their media flacks are setting up the American public for the maximum possible shock effect.

Still, despite the best efforts of these past masters at stage-managing the news, an occasional fume escapes from the swamp. Here, then, is a highly unauthorized preview of what you can expect when the curtain goes up in a few weeks on the Washington Follies of 1987.

Poindexter and North, as you know, are to be granted limited immunity from prosecution for their testimony, after special prosecutor Lawrence Walsh has been given several more weeks to try to amass enough evidence to jail them without the help of that testimony.

SCIENCE WORLD

'We Are Killing Our World'

By Larry Doyle
UPI Science Writer

CHICAGO (UPI) — Many people have heard it before, but a renowned biologist charges the message does not appear to be sinking in.

The message: We are killing our world, destroying rain forests the size of Kansas every year and driving an average of 100 species into extinction every day.

A burgeoning tropical population and foolish exploitation of resources continue to eat away at the global ecosystem, at a rate that will see the virtual elimination of forests in the next 60 years and the extinctions of 1.1 million species by the year 2020.

"Scientifically, we are losing the opportunity to understand the nature of much of the diversity of life on Earth," said Peter H. Raven, director of the Missouri Botanical Garden and professor of botany at Washington University in St. Louis.

"Aesthetically, we are losing the chance to appreciate fully the results of the process of evolution over the billions of years since life appeared on our planet," he said. "Economically, we are denying to ourselves, our children and our grandchildren the opportunity to utilize many of the plants, animals and microorganisms that exist now for their benefit."

Raven gave the keynote address on this topic at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science recently.

"I know people are getting awfully tired of hearing about this," Raven said in an interview. "Unfortunately, the problem hasn't gone away."

Raven, a 1985 recipient of a no-strings-attached genius grant given by the MacArthur Foundation, cited several factors contributing to the mass extinction:

— A tropical population explosion continues to outpace population growth elsewhere on the planet, and within 40 years nearly two-thirds of the 8 billion people on the planet will live in the tropics. In 1950, there were only 2.5 billion people, 45 percent of whom were tropical inhabitants.

— The immensity of the burgeoning tropical population has only been matched by its lack of resources, with 1 billion of the 2.7 billion people now living there in abject poverty. The per capita income in Africa and Latin America — now about a tenth of that found in industrialized countries — is steadily declining.

Raven said while his predictions may not come true, "this is not a worst-case scenario and is likely to happen if the appropriate steps aren't taken."

The foundation official, Tony Valencia, said his party switch had nothing to do with the federal grant. Rather, he said, it came at the urging of his representative, Duncan Hunter, R-Calif. As for his admitted involvement in the Bush campaign, Valencia told us: "I have not contributed a single dollar."

Another $200,000 grant for minority development went to the Golden State Business League of Oakland, Calif. — because, according to Mena, the league's chairman, C.J. Patterson, is prominent in the California Black Republican Committee. Mena further alleges that an additional $75,000 was given to Patterson's group even though federal auditors were questioning the expenditure of $60,000 from the original grant.

Richardson Gonzales told us the additional money was awarded only after the league had satisfied the auditors' questions. His spokesman later told us the group agreed to repay $42,680 in 43 payments. So far, the government has received $11,000. Patterson said the grant went through proper channels and confirmed that he has held high positions within the California Republican Party.

Richardson Gonzales in 1985 targeted the California Hispanic Chamber of Commerce in Sacramento for $199,996 in special grant money before the group even submitted a proposal, according to Mena's affidavit. The director was close friends with Sergio Manuells, the president of the organization at the time, according to the current vice president, Armando Morlos. The Commerce Department inspector general criticized the special project as "subterfuge for the institutional support needed to keep the chamber" aloft and Richardson Gonzales withdrew it. Since then, the organization got a new president who is not as friendly with Richardson Gonzales and the director will not approve another proposal, Morlos told us.

Baker Sees Reagan, Gorbachev Summit Commitment Near

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI) — White House chief of staff Howard Baker says he "would not be surprised" to see Secretary of State George Shultz wind up his talks in Moscow with a commitment to another superpower summit.

Insisting the atmosphere and issues also are right for an arms agreement, Baker said Monday. "Barring unforeseen difficulties, there is a better than even chance that we can get some sort of progress in this field."

In an appearance before reporters, Baker described Reagan as "more interested ... than anybody" in an arms agreement, but added, "the president is not going to give away the store."

Four Die In Plane Crash

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Aviation investigators early today were unsure if rain and fog caused a Boeing 707 cargo carrier to crash and burn, killing all four people aboard, during a nighttime landing in a hopscootch delivery trip.

The plane carrying three crew members and one passenger apparently had reported no trouble when it went down about 10 p.m. Monday in a farm field some 2 miles south Kansas City International Airport, officials said.

FAA and National Transportation Safety Board investigators today began inspecting the plane, which was carrying cargo for Burlington Air Express when it crashed and caught fire under skies that were rainy and foggy but calm, he said.

Marine Guards Coming Home

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The return to the United States of the 28 Marine guards at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow as part of the sex-for-secrets investigation should be completed by next week, the Marine Corps says.

In a brief statement Monday, the Corps said five Marine replacements arrived in Moscow Sunday. Another 12 were scheduled to arrive Monday, with the remainder due by the end of the week, the statement said.

"Marines will depart Moscow as an orderly transition permits, but the rotation should be completed by next week," it said.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Shultz, Ryzhkov Discuss Soviet Economic Reform, Arms Control

MOSCOW (UPI) — Secretary of State George Shultz conferred with Prime Minister Nikolai Ryzhkov today while experts from the two sides broke into seven groups to negotiate the range of superpower concerns.

The Kremlin meeting, in advance of a key session with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev, lasted about an hour and was focused on the Communist Party's plans for economic reform.

Shultz and Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze met for nearly eight hours Monday — the first of three days of talks that center on arms control but have been overshadowed by the sex-for-secrets scandal involving Marine guards at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

Shultz, as planned, lodged a protest with Shevardnadze complaining of the "hostile environment" caused by relentless Soviet snooping on U.S. diplomats in Moscow. But he and Shevardnadze quickly got down to other important business, holding a third unscheduled meeting with top arms control advisers that stretched into the night.

Irish In Passport Scandal

Charity Reportedly Spends Millions Raising Funds, But Only Thousands Fighting Cancer

By Gayle Young

NEW YORK (UPI) — One of the nation's largest cancer charities spent 97 percent of its $5.1 million budget on fund raising and only $15,000 to fight the disease in 1985, according to a report from a consumer watchdog group.

The National Charities Information Bureau found the United Cancer Council, Inc. of Carmel, Ind., had been transformed in one year from a small, unknown charity with an annual budget of $50,000 to a multi-million dollar entity when it signed up with a for-profit direct mail fund-raising firm in 1984 and began soliciting donations through the mail.

The report also said the mailings, sent to 15 million households, violated the bureau's guidelines because some offered prizes and sweepstakes while others contained misleading information about how much the charity spends on cancer research.

The bureau director Kenneth Albrecht said the United Cancer Council had not violated federal laws, which require charities only to file an accurate financial statement of record.

"The lion's share of the money is going to their direct mail fund raising," Albrecht said after the report was obtained by United Press International.

Randall B. Grove, executive director of the United Cancer Council, confirmed in a telephone interview the charity spent only 3 percent of the money it raised on programs and administration costs in 1985.

He said recent figures indicate in 1986 the charity raised about $7 million through direct mail fund raising and spent $100,000 on patient programs and another $25,000 on a single research grant.

In all, the charity last year spent about $480,000 of the $7 million on programs and on the cost of operating its five-person office in Indiana, he said.

The remainder went to a for-profit fund-raising company based in Alexandria, Va., which mailed out bundles of solicitations in the not-for-profit charity's name, he said.

The solicitations urged potential donors to "fight cancer through UCC."

One solicitation, a letter from Grove, said in part: "I have on my desk many requests for funds for research and educational projects — projects which have the potential to save tens of thousands of lives ... Unfortunately, we simply don't have the funds to carry out these projects."

Grove said the charity is making an effort to come into compliance with voluntary guidelines set up by the National Charities Information Bureau and the Council of Better Business Bureaus.

"They do a great job," Grove said of the private watchdog groups. "I know it's difficult to understand, but we're making every effort to change the ratio."

The United Cancer Council is now roughly the fourth largest of 10 national cancer charities monitored by the National Charities Information Bureau, which has monitored charities since 1918.

The largest, the American Cancer Society, raised $271 million in 1986 and spent about 15 percent of that on fund raising and operating costs, according to a spokesman there. The ACS relies on volunteer fund-raisers and private and corporate donations.

Albrecht said the United Cancer Council went from a small charity to one of the nation's leading cancer fund raisers within a year because it decided to forgo volunteers for the high stakes of direct mail fund raising.

He said direct mail costs are high initially and he expects the amount the charity spends on fund raising to shrink over time. But Albrecht said a 97 percent fund-raising ratio is "very unusual" and the highest of any charity he can remember.

Grove said the charity, founded in 1963, had a staff of two and an annual budget of $50,000 before it signed on with the direct mail fund-raising firm Watson & Hughey Co. of Alexandria, Va., in 1984.

The attorneys general of California, New York and Maine investigated Watson & Hughey in 1984 because a charity it founded, the American Institute for Cancer Research, had high fund-raising costs. The probes were later dropped.

Since then, the American Institute for Cancer Research has lowered the amount it spends on fund raising to 56 percent, according to Albrecht. The National Charities Information Bureau guidelines recommend only 30 percent of a charity's budget go to fund raising.

A spokesman for the Council of Better Business Bureaus said the United Cancer Council also did not meet the BBB's voluntary standards, which require no more than 50 percent of funds raised go back into fund raising.

There are no federal laws regulating fund raising, but spokesmen for the two watchdog agencies said the majority of charities adhere to their voluntary guidelines.

Grove said the United Cancer Council's board of directors decided several years ago to increase their meager budget through direct mail solicitations. He said they chose Watson & Hughey because the firm was willing to pay the massive initial start-up costs of direct mailings in anticipation of the profits that could be made.

Grove also said the charity last year took a monthly stipend of $40,000 and spent it on its five-person office in Carmel, a suburb of Indianapolis, and on programs and grants. The fund-raising firm used the rest of the $7 million to offset the cost of printing and mailing the solicitations, he said.

Jerry Watson, partner of the fund-raising firm with Byron Chatworth Hughey, said in a telephone interview that his company had made a profit from its contract with the United Cancer Council but would not say how much.

"We've got to be making a profit or we wouldn't be in the business very long," he said.

Watson criticized the National Charities Information Bureau report, saying $2.3 million was actually spent on behalf of UCC on public education in 1985.

He said some of the direct mailings included a list of nine warning signs of cancer alongside solicitations for donations. Albrecht said the bureau considered that fund raising an educational service.

"I always felt they were unfair ... direct mail is not treated kindly," Watson said of the bureau.

Grove said the primary aim of the United Cancer Council is to help patients with cancer — not find a cure for the dreaded disease, although many of the mailings sent out in the charity's name indicated donations would go to cancer research.

"We don't see ourselves as duplicating other cancer charities," he said. "We saw a need we want to fill."

He said the $100,000 spent on programs last year was used to help cancer patients buy clothes and hospital beds and to pay their transportation costs to treatment centers.

Grove said his "No. 1 priority" is to improve the quality of the fund-raising mailings.

He said, in the future, they will contain more information and educational materials on cancer. He also said the mailings will clearly state that the United Cancer Council is a private charity and not a government agency.

One of the major solicitations sent out last year was on stationery that resembled that of the federal government with a return address that read: "Treasurers Office, 665 Fifteenth St. NW, Washington, D.C."

Grove said the address was a dummy mail drop.

Another mailing offered potential donors a "free mystery gift" and the chance to win a Chrysler LeBaron, whether they sent money to the charity or not. The drawing for the car is scheduled for this month.

"What can I say except people are more likely to give when there is a prize involved," Grove said. "They're more likely to open the envelope if it looks important. I know I do."

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT PROGRAM SEMINOLE COUNTY, FLORIDA

Prior to September 1, 1987, Seminole County will submit its statement of objectives and projected use of funds for its Community Development Block Grant Program for 1987-88. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has set aside approximately $1,438,000 to use for activities in lower-income neighborhoods throughout Seminole County and the cities of Altamonte Springs, Casselberry, Lake Mary, Longwood, Oviedo, Sanford, and Winter Springs.

The grant funds may be used for a variety of activities, but each activity must predominantly benefit low and moderate income persons. Eligible activities include, but are not limited to, capital improvements such as street paving, water and sewer lines, real property acquisition, relocation, rehabilitation of buildings, economic development, public facilities, and public services.

A public hearing will be held on April 15, 1987 in order to provide information about the program and to obtain the views of citizens on Seminole County's housing and community development needs. The hearing will be held at 7:00 P.M. in room W-120 of the Seminole County Services Building located at 1101 East First Street in Sanford, Florida.

All Seminole County residents are encouraged to attend and participate in this public hearing. For more information call the Seminole County Planning Department at 321-1130 extension 384.

Hinckley Vacation Derailed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John Hinckley Jr.'s bid for an Easter Sunday visit with his parents was temporarily derailed Monday when a psychiatrist revealed the presidential assailant had considered writing to convicted murderer Charles Manson and did write to Florida death row inmate Theodore Bundy.

The revelations from Dr. Glen Miller, a psychiatrist and consultant to St. Elizabeths Hospital where Hinckley has been confined for five years since shooting President Reagan in 1981, prompted U.S. District Judge Barrington Parker to halt the hearing until Wednesday and issue a court subpoena for all information relating to the correspondence. The dates of the letters were not revealed.

Parker said the delay of the hearing on Hinckley's request for a one-day unescorted visit with his parents would allow prosecutors, who are opposing the visit, to prepare.

Miller said Hinckley had received a letter from Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme, a former Manson follower who tried to shoot President Gerald Ford in 1975.

To help you look your best for Easter, for two weeks Hairbiz is offering a special on perms for only $30. Your hair is an even more important part of your outfit, now that in most cases it is no longer hidden by an "Easter bonnet."

Hairbiz, located at 2640 Hiawatha Ave. (off Highway 17-92 north of 27th Street and south of the curve), is a family hair care salon for men, women and children.

Hairbiz is now under new ownership of Bonna Fitzgerald, who completely redecorated the shop with a smart, fresh new look before opening in January.

Bonna, who has been in the beauty business in Sanford for five years, is enthusiastic about her work. Her competitive spirit and hairstyling skill have won her many awards in various competitions and shows around the state. On May 17, Bonna will be competing for a chance to go on to the national level.

Also on the staff is hairdresser Debi Peck, who attended schools in Sanford.

They offer good quality work at reasonable prices and all the latest styles. Hairbiz uses Redken products for permanent waving and coloring hair. They have many techniques for highlighting and frosting.

They also specialize in haircuts, shampoos and sets and blow dries. Bonna believes strongly in conditioning hair to maintain a strong healthy condition.

In the fall Bonna plans to add complete makeovers and Halloween makeup, as she continues to expand the range of services offered. She also plans on doing the hair design for a lot of fashion shows.

With Mother's Day coming up May 10, why not give Mom a gift certificate from Hairbiz to get a new hair-do. Mother's Day certificates are now available.

Bonna has an opening on her staff and invites well-qualified hairdressers interested in working in a great atmosphere to come in and see her.

Bargain Barn Of Seminole Has New & Used Furniture

The Bargain Barn of Seminole, located at 1219 S. French Ave., Sanford, would like to thank all their customers who have made their business a success. The owners, Edward and Barbara Hunter, have made many changes in the almost four years at this location. Formerly a thrift store, which sold everything from clothes to bikes, Bargain Barn is now a quality furniture store, providing both new and used furniture at affordable prices.

They presently have enlarged their selling floor to take in the upper level with a wide variety of desks, end and coffee tables, dinette sets, baby furniture, couches, chairs, bedroom furnishings and home appliances.

Looking for antiques? The Bargain Barn has them, such as the marble topped Italian Provincial dining set with table, six chairs, buffet, mirror and china cabinet (see photo).

With summer approaching, you will want to keep cool. The Bargain Barn will have air conditioners and fans to help you beat the heat.

For that fast growing grass, see Bargain Barn about a lawn mower or other yard care items. Throughout the year, the Bargain Barn has special sales on their already low prices. The special for the month of April is glass top tables with four chairs for only $149 (in the box, $138).

Furnishing a home or apartment can come within your budget when you shop at the Bargain Barn.

Aside from their large selection of quality furniture, they also have a very good selection of resale uniform work clothes in a variety of sizes and colors at the unbeatable price of $2.50 each. Be sure to stop in soon and browse.

Lyman's Upset
Flusters Tuttle

A week ago, it appeared as though the Lake Mary Rams were well on their way toward the Seminole Athletic Conference baseball championship. But an unexpected loss to Lyman Friday has made Lake Mary Allen Tuttle a little nervous.

"You never know what will happen," Tuttle said as all of the SAC teams prepare for the final week of competition before the districts. "The only thing that I'm worried about right now is winning this conference."

Lake Mary's loss to Lyman makes the conference picture more interesting. The Rams lead the SAC with a 6-1 record. Lake Howell and Oviedo both lurking behind with 5-3 records. Lake Mary will be taking on Howell and Oviedo this week, making the last week of the season, fittingly, the most critical.

The week will be an extremely busy one for the Rams, who are 18-3 overall, as they will be playing four games. After beating Orlando Bishop Moore Monday, the Rams will journey to Lake Brantley Tuesday night to take on the Patriots in a game that has been rescheduled after it was rained out two weeks ago. In their first meeting of the season, the Rams came from behind to beat the Patriots, 7-6, in nine innings. On Thursday, the Rams will travel to the University of Central Florida to take on rival Oviedo. The Rams will play host to Lake Howell on Friday night in their first-ever night game.

Lake Howell's 4-3 loss to Seminole last Wednesday proved to be very costly as the Silver Hawks could have pulled within a game of Lake Mary. Lake Howell came back strong as the Martinez twins, Ernest and Eric, led them to an 11-6 triumph over Lake Brantley.

Lake Howell (12-9) will have a pair of crucial games as the Hawks will host Lyman on Wednesday, and travel to Lake Mary on Friday. "We have to get a little more consistent," Lake Howell coach Birt Benjamin said. "If we play good defense, we can win any game. Our hits are always there."

Oviedo is streaking as the Lions are 15-5 overall, and have won their last five games. Oviedo coach Howard Mable said that he looking forward to Thursday's meeting with Lake Mary. "It's not going to be like the first two times," Mable, whose team has been shut out by Lake Mary twice this season, said. "We are a much better baseball team now that when we played them those two times."

Oviedo will host Lake Mary on Thursday at the University of Central Florida complex, and host Lake Brantley on Friday. Lyman is an improving team as the Greyhounds looked tough in their upset over Lake Mary. Lyman is hitting the ball well and is getting quality pitching.

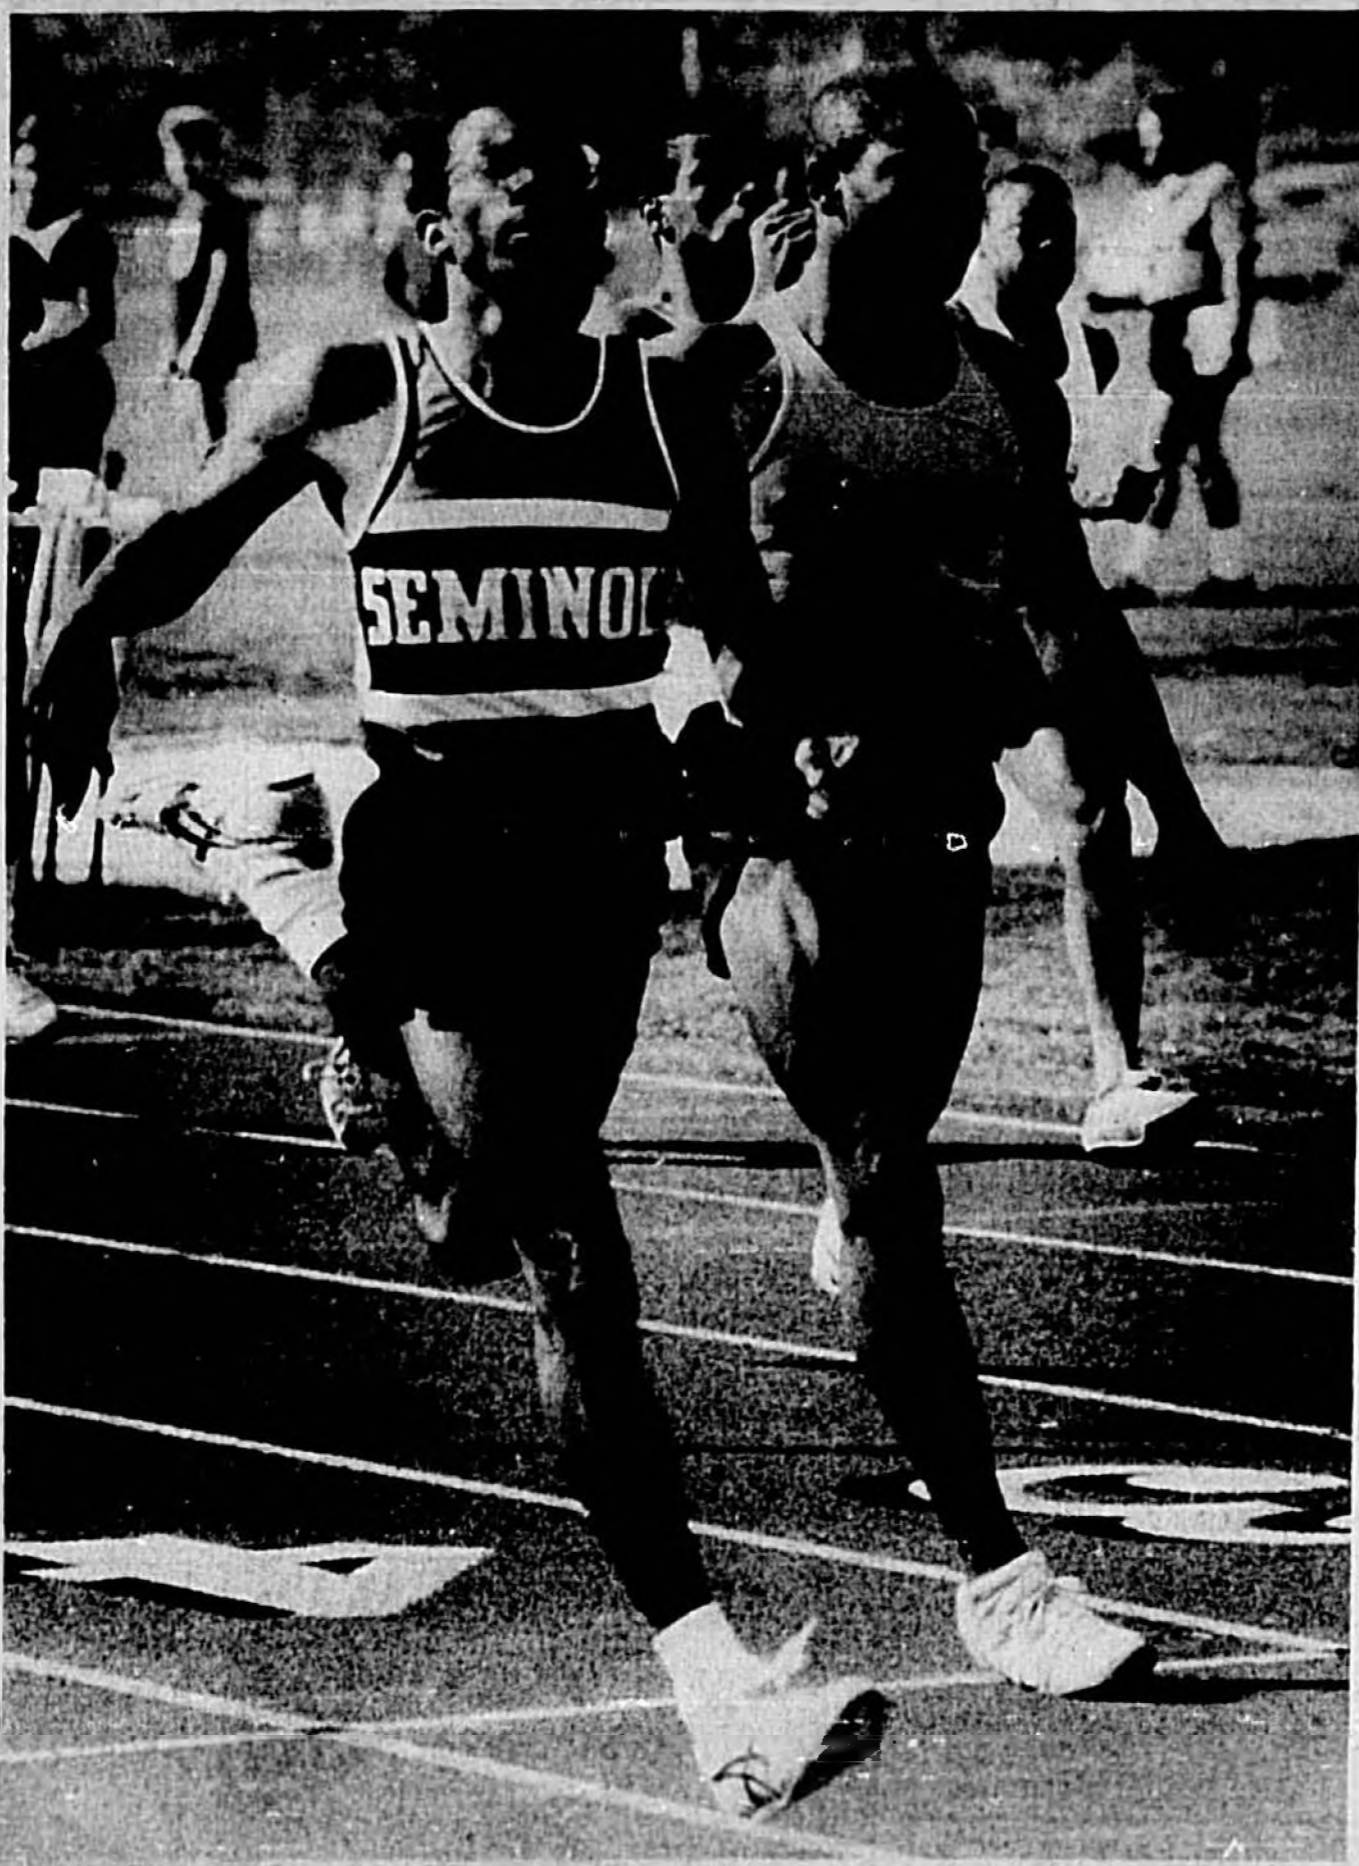

Dale Stevens has turned into a key performer at the plate and on the mound. He saved the victory over Lake Mary for lefty Kenny Oswald.

Lyman will travel to Lake Howell on Wednesday and travel to Seminole on Friday. "I think that if we keep on playing good ball we can do well in the districts," Lyman coach Bob McCullough said. "We have got the talent, it's just a question of using it."

McCullough has really pulled his team together despite losing pitcher Sandy Hovis (broken wrists) and leading hitter Chris Radcliff (academic casualty).

Seminole is a very tired team as the "Noles" are recovering from a four-game week. Seminole is 8-9 overall and 3-4 in the SAC.

"We are better than most people give us credit for," Seminole coach Mike Ferrell said. "If we get good pitching, we are competitive with everybody."

Martin Passes
Glover, Sets
Aim On Kemp

By Chris Flater
Herald Sports Writer

Before he heads for Alabama's Auburn University, Eric Martin has a score to settle in Florida.

The Seminole High senior is out to prove that he is one of the best — if not the best — quarter miler in the state.

"Eric (Martin) was upset about the article in the (Orlando) Sentinel that had the top three quarter milers in the state and he was ranked behind (Richard) Glover of Oak Ridge," Seminole coach Ken Brauman said. "He wants to show everyone that he is one of the best."

Martin, who signed a grant-in-aid to attend Auburn University on a track scholarship, proved his worth at Friday night's Mike Roberson Invitational at Showalter Field in Winter Park by breaking the meet record with a winning time of 48.4. In taking the blue ribbon, Martin also outran Oak Ridge's Richard Glover, who Martin said was incorrectly ranked ahead of him in the Sentinel article.

"I haven't even run Glover in the quarter until tonight, but he's been telling people I was scared of him," Martin said. "I wanted to go out and run my race and prove I could beat him and that's what I did."

Tyrone Kemp of Gainesville Buchholz is currently the state's top-ranked quarter miler with a time of 47.0 while Martin's best is 48.0. Kemp is the two-time defending state champion in the quarter and one of the best nationally.

Martin's determination to prove he is one of the top quarter milers is driving him toward a fourth consecutive Class 4A State Championship. Martin was a key part of the Seminole High State Championship teams of the past two years. This year, he hopes to not only go to state in his specialty, the 440 dash, but also in the 100 meters.

In Friday's Roberson meet, Martin tied the meet record in the 100 meters in the prelims with a 10.6 and ran the same time in the finals in finishing fourth.

"I didn't feel like I was running full speed in the final," Martin said. "I hope to get it right by state."

Brauman said Martin is starting to round into form after the Seminole team has been slowed the past few weeks because of bad weather.

"He's just now coming on and working hard," Brauman said. "He's starting to do the workouts that he needs to get ready and run well the rest of the year."

Brauman said he thinks Martin has a shot at qualifying for state and placing in the 100 meters while he will shoot for the blue ribbon in the quarter mile and will anchor the mile relay team.

As a freshman in 1984, Martin's best time in the quarter was 50.5 which was third in Seminole County. Teammate Clifton Campbell, now a sophomore star at Auburn, led the way at 47.5 and he went on to finish second in the state. Martin ran a leg on the mile relay that took fourth in the state meet at 3:18.9.

In 1985 as a sophomore, Martin's best quarter time was 48.3, second in the county to Campbell's 47.6. Campbell went on to the state meet and had the

Reichle (.452),
Merchant (.444)
Swing For Crow

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

With just five days remaining in the county baseball season, some interesting battles are forming for statistical bragging rights.

Here's a look at the showdowns:

Batting Average: Oviedo's Glenn Reichle and Mark Merchant are running 1-2. Reichle, who lost 29 points from last week, is 28 for 62 for a .452 average. Merchant, who picked up 12 points last week, is 24 for 54 for a .444 average.

Home runs: Lake Mary's Ryan Lisle and Shane Letterio along with Oviedo's Merchant and Alan Greene each have four later. Lake Mary's Eric Birle, Lyman's Gib Lundquist and John Burton along with Lake Howell's Corey Coljeski and Lake Brantley's Jimmy "Mongo" Morse have three apiece.

Runs batted in: Oviedo's Reichle and Lake Brantley's Morse are tied for the top spot with 27 each. Lyman's Chris Brock is next with 24. Lisle and Greene have 22 each.

Triples: Merchant and teammate Tony Belflower have two each. Sixteen others have one apiece.

Doubles: Brantley's Morse leads the way with nine. Belflower and Lake Howell's Eric Martinez are next with eight each. Lyman's Kenny Jackson has seven and Letterio has six.

Scoring: Merchant is the runaway leader with 42 runs in 21 games. Letterio's 29 and Belflower's 25 are next in line.

Stolen bases: Again, Merchant has a leg up on everybody with 38 steals in 39 attempts. The Oviedo superstar was 3 for 3 Monday to break Edwin Wiggins' 1983 career mark of 35 steals. Letterio is 21 for 22 and Reichle is 20 for 21.

Turning to the pitchers, the competition has really picked up in victories and earned run average, but Stetson-bound Steve Shakar of Lake Mary has a comfortable lead in strikeouts.

Strikeouts: Left-handed Shakar, who blends a dandy curveball with a sneaky fastball, has 77 strikeouts in 513 innings. Teammate Anthony

Livernois' Sparkling Debut Leads 'County 7' Toward Dream

While Tim Raines bides his time waiting for a May 1 date with the Montreal Expos and David Martinez splits his time with Bob Dernier as the Chicago Cubs' center fielder, several other Seminole County products are working their way toward the major leagues.

Seminole County has become quite a hotbed for professional baseball talent. No less than seven countians are currently working out at extended spring training or with their minor league affiliation.

Three Lake Brantley High graduates head the list while Lyman High contributes two along with one each from Oviedo High and Lake Howell High.

Here's a look at the list:

- Derek Livernois, another Lyman product with the Boston Red Sox, turned in an impressive first outing Sunday night with the Winter Haven Red Sox. The hard-throwing right-hander hurled five scoreless innings to pick up his first Florida State League victory in a 12-1 decision over Lakeland.

Livernois allowed just four hits. Just one ball was hit hard, that off a change-up.

Livernois is coming off a superb '86 season with Greensboro (Class A) of the South Atlantic League. He was 12-7 with the second-best earned run average and fourth-best strikeout totals in the league.

Livernois played Pony Baseball and for the Altamonte Little League.

- Bobby Parker, a Lyman product with the Houston Astros, is headed for another stint with Columbus, Ga. (Columbus AA). Parker hopes to move up to Tucson, Ariz. (AAA).

Parker, a middle infielder beginning his fourth season, was a low draft pick and has had to battle his way past some of the higher-priced signees.

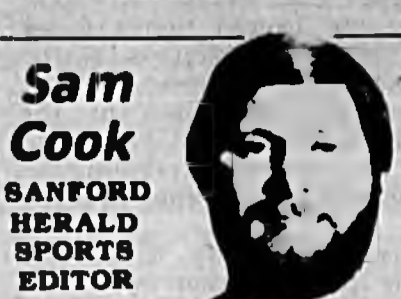

A Seminole Pony Baseball product, Parker is a slash-hitting left-handed batter with good speed. He was an All-Conference performer at Seminole Community College and Mississippi

State.

- Tommy Novak, who is beginning his first full season with the Cincinnati Reds, played his prep ball at Lake Brantley, moved to Valencia Community College and finished up last year at Central Florida under Jay Bergman.

Novak worked diligently during the off-season and it paid off with a promotion to Tampa of the Florida State League. The stylish right-hander hurler will be used in middle and short relief.

Novak, who played in the Seminole Pony program, has developed a split-fingered fastball to go with his excellent control. Novak did a short tour of duty at Billings, Mont. in the Pioneer League last summer.

- Mike Beams, who possesses a fine combination of power and speed at third base, is beginning his first full year with the Houston Astros after graduating from Lake Brantley last year.

The 19-year-old Beams, the youngest third baseman in the organization, was bumped down a notch when Houston's AAA third sacker of last year, Chuck Jackson, was demoted to AA.

Beams is currently at extended spring training in Sarasota and will probably be shipped to Auburn, N.Y. in the New York-Pennsylvania League in June.

- Mike Davis, Beams' power-hitting teammate at Lake Brantley last year, is in a similar situation with the Kansas Royals. Davis is also at Sarasota for extended spring training.

Davis, the second of coach Mike Smith's PatriotsThe game-smart catcher-designated hitter will probably be sent to Eugene, Ore. in the Northwest League in June.

- Jeff Greene, an Oviedo graduate who strengthened his hitting ability under Jack Pantellas at SCC, was signed by the Chicago White Sox in the winter phase of the draft last year.

The smooth-fielding left-handed hitting first baseman played at the Sarasota Rookie League this past summer. He is currently playing for Peninsula Pilots in Newport News, Va. (Class A) in the Carolina League.

- Eddie Taubensee, a 1986 Lake Howell product, signed last year with the Cincinnati Reds and spent the summer in the Sarasota Rookie League. The still-growing 6-4 catcher has yet to turn 19 and is one of the up-and-coming prospects for the Reds.

Along with his youthfulness and good attitude, Taubensee is a left-handed hitting catcher with a rifle arm. He is currently at extended spring training in St. Petersburg and will probably go to Billings, Mont. in the Pioneer League in June.

Samuel's Single In 9th Destroys Moyer No-Hitter

Left-hander Jamie Moyer of the Chicago Cubs pitched 27 straight innings of no-hit ball in high school. As a professional, he has found pitching nine straight innings more difficult than throwing no-hit ball.

Moyer, who has completed only one game in his major-league career, took a no-hitter into the ninth inning Monday night, but failed to go the distance in the Cubs 5-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Moyer, 1-0, had a perfect game for 6 1-3 innings at Montreal last Aug. 16 before Jim Wohlford singled. He settled for a two-hit shutout, the only complete game of his career.

"He threw about 150 pitches going into the ninth," Cubs manager Gene Michael said. "He was tired and he tried to be a little too fine. But he had great stuff. When he mixes his pitches he can be very tough."

In the ninth Moyer gave up a leadoff single to Juan Samuel and then walked Von Hayes and gave up an RBI single to Mike Schmidt before being relieved by Lee Smith.

"I started thinking about a no-hitter in the seventh or eighth inning but I wasn't worried about one," said Moyer, who pitched three straight no-hitters at high school in nearby Souderton, Pa. "I wanted to win. I felt good and I felt strong. It would have been great to accomplish it but the win is more important."

Moyer struck out the side in the first and fifth and gave up six walks.

The Cubs took a 1-0 lead in the first on Andre Dawson's second homer of the season and made it 2-0 in the second when Jody Davis walked, moved to third on a double by Brian Dayett and scored on a passed ball by catcher Lance Parrish.

Bob Dernier made it 3-0 in the fifth with a homer off Don Carman, 0-1.

Cardinals 6, Pirates 4
At Pittsburgh, Jack Clark smashed a two-run homer, Jim Lindeman had a solo shot and Willie McGee added a three-run triple to power St. Louis. Danny Cox, 2-0, earned the victory and Rick Horton went three innings for his first save. Doug Drabek, who took a two-hit shutout into the sixth inning, fell to 0-1.

Reds 7, Braves 2
At Atlanta, Bill Guleklickson and Rob Murphy combined on a seven-hitter and Eric Davis went 3 for 5 to lead Cincinnati. Guleklickson, 2-0, gave up six hits over seven innings. Loser Zane Smith, 0-1, allowed 13 hits in eight innings. Ken Griffey hit his second homer of the year for the Braves.

Dodgers 4, Astros 2
At Los Angeles, Tracy Woodson hit his first major-league homer and rookie Brian Holton pitched five innings of one-run relief to hand Houston its first loss. Holton, 1-0, came on in the fifth in relief of Rick Honeycutt. Nolan Ryan, 1-1, took the loss as the Dodgers won their third straight game.

Giants 13, Padres 6
At San Diego, Robby Thompson hit a grand slam and Bob Melvin went 4 for 5 to power San Francisco. Jeff Leonard, Will Clark, and Bob Melvin also homered for the Giants. The Padres first three hitters — Marvell Wynne, Tony Gwynn, and John Kruk — hit successive homers to set a major-league record. Jim Gotti, 1-0, earned the victory and Dave Dravecky fell to 0-3.

Hudson, Randolph Pace Yanks' Ramp

Charles Hudson, who failed to finish a game in 23 starts with the Philadelphia Phillies last year, Monday night hurled the New York Yankees' first complete game of the season.

Hudson was given less than a day's notice that he would replace Tommy John and tossed a career-high 10 strikeouts in first American League start. The performance helped the Yankees to an 11-3 victory in their home opener over the Cleveland Indians.

Hudson was to work out of the bullpen as the Yankees acquired Rick Rhoden, a 15-game winner with the Pittsburgh Pirates, to bolster their starting rotation. In Rhoden's only start, April 10 against the Kansas City Royals, he lasted less than four innings in a 13-1 loss.

Hudson replaced John when the sinkerball pitcher was sidelined with an intestinal virus. He improved to 2-0 and allowed three hits — solo homers by Mel Hall, Brook Jacoby and Joe Carter.

"I told him, 'Charles, you're it,'" said Yankees Manager Lou Piniella. "He said, 'You got the right guy.' It gave us a big lift. We needed a good game from a starter. He threw a complete game and it rested the staff."

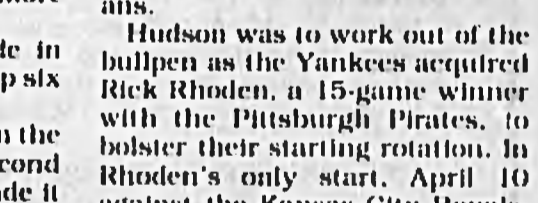

Willie Randolph went 4 for 5 with five RBIs to highlight a 15-hit attack before a crowd announced at 55,612 — the largest for an Opening Day game at the new Yankee Stadium.

Elsewhere Boston and Texas were rained out.

Brewers 6, Orioles 3
At Baltimore, Cecil Cooper scored Paul Molitor with a sacrifice fly in the eighth inning help lift Milwaukee to its seventh consecutive victory. Milwaukee is the only undefeated team left in the majors. Chris Bosto went 3 2-3 innings to improve to 2-0. Scott McGregor dropped to 0-1.

Angels 5, Mariners 3
At Seattle, Devon White slammed a two-run home run in the 10th inning to lift California. Mark McLemore opened the 10th with a single to left off loser Edwin Nunez, 1-1 before White homered. Donnie Moore, 1-0, worked the final two innings to pick up the victory.

Athletics 6, Twins 3
At Oakland, Calif., Carney Lansford keyed a three-run rally in the eighth inning with a two-run single. Oakland's Jay Howell went the last two innings to even his record at 1-1. George Frazier, 1-1, was the loser. Kirby Puckett hit his fifth home run of the season and fourth in four days for Minnesota.

Juan Samuel, left, broke up Jamie Moyer's no-hitter in the ninth while Charles Hudson hurled a three-hitter in the Yankees' home opener victory.

Mantle Rests, But Can't Field Incoming Calls

IRVING, Texas (UPI) — A hospital where Mickey Mantle underwent testing for chest pains fielded so many telephone calls from concerned fans, it had to disconnect incoming calls to his unit.

Mantle, 55, was in fair condition Monday night at Irving Community Hospital and "resting comfortably" in the hospital's telemetry unit, a nursing supervisor said.

He was taken to the hospital after complaining of chest pains and shortness of breath Sunday night during an airline flight from New York to his home in Dallas.

The Hall of Famer was to undergo a cardiac catheterization — a procedure enabling doctors to see inside the heart — this morning, the nursing supervisor said.

Levi Raines Sparks TRC Past Roofing

Levi Raines slugged a two-run homer in the first inning and added a run-scoring triple during an eight-run second frame to power Tim Raines Connection past Elk's Roofing, 19-8, in Sanford Men's Softball League play Monday night at Pinehurst Field.

In other action, Green Produce drilled Deltona Sod, 18-4, and Six Flags Nursery hammered Kitner Surveying, 15-0.

TRC, the defending champion, passed its first early-season test with 22 hits to improve to 3-0. Elk's lost for the first time to fall to 2-1. Six Flags moved into second place with a 2-0 mark.

Bob Jacobs and Charlie Parks also slugged round-trippers for TRC. Ernest Shuler drove in three runs with three hits. Lloyd Wall, Ned Raines, Bill Griffith and Parks each collected three hits. Sam Raines chipped in two.

Nick Brady clobbered a three-run homer for Elk's. Chuck McMullan ripped a homer and two singles. Tom Gracey and Mike Horne added doubles.

Cardinal Pounds Cove

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Defending Sanford Little American League champion Cardinal Industries pounded out 20 hits and got a combined one-hit pitching effort from Terry Williams and Jamie King in a 19-10 victory over Carriage Cove Monday night at Fort Mellon Park.

Leroy Kett and Adaryl Jones led the Cardinal offensive attack with four hits apiece with Jones drivin in five runs and Kett three-run homer for Cardinal while Williams jacked a three-run shot and Alton Jenkins unloaded a two-run homer. Craig "Merk" Merkerson had two hits and scored four runs.

The only hit of the game for Carriage Cove came in the second inning, a single by Nathan Morgan.

Carriage Cove took advantage of Cardinal's pitching wildness to score four runs on no hits in the top of the first. Seven walks in the inning enabled the runs to score with Kevin Pederson, Tereon Foster and Richard Doss all picking up RBIs for walking with the bases full.

Baseball

Cardinal tied it in the bottom of the first with a two-run double by Jones leading the way. Carriage Cove came back with four runs in the second for an 8-4 lead but Cardinal again answered with four runs to tie it. Kett and Quentin Hunt had RBI doubles in the second for Cardinal.

FULLER LEADS FIRST UNION
In Monday's second game at Fort Mellon Park, Narvell Fuller tossed a four-hitter as First Union downed Sun Bank, 14-4.

In five innings of work, Fuller, one of the top returning hurlers in the league, struck out 10 and walked only two. Jermain Hartsfield had two of the four hits for Sun Bank.

First Union also only had four hits in the game but took advantage of 14 walks. Fuller had two of the hits for First Union including a two-run double in the fifth. Jimmie L. Bailey had a two-run triple and the only other hit for First Union was James Salmon's RBI single.

IN BRIEF

Gretzky's 'Scary' Performance Inspires Play Of Linemate Kurri

United Press International

Edmonton's Wayne Gretzky, who scored two goals and assisted on 13 others in four games during the series between the Oilers and Los Angeles Kings, has impressed linemate Jarl Kurri.

"Fifteen points in four games, that is scary," Kurri said about his centerman's playoff prowess. "But that's Wayne. He's playing the best hockey I've seen him play." Kurri has played beside Gretzky in more than 500 games.

Gretzky's performance has also energized Kurri, who has scored seven goals against the Kings in the past four games. Entering Game 5 Tuesday night in Edmonton's Northlands Coliseum, the Oilers own a 3-1 lead in the Smythe Division semifinals, and Gretzky has been a big factor.

He has scored two goals and 13 assists on his way to smashing Montreal Canadien Jean Beliveau's all-time playoff scoring record of 79 goals and 97 assists for 176 points. Gretzky has 66 goals and 124 assists for 190.

Gretzky's play has also made an impression on Kings' forward Bob Bourne.

"Sometimes I just like to sit and watch him," said Bourne, who played on four Stanley Cup winners during his 12 years with the New York Islanders. "I'd pay 50 bucks a ticket to see him play in the playoffs."

Elsewhere in the NHL playoffs, the Washington Capitals, who once lost to the New York Islanders three straight playoff years, Tuesday night can oust their old tormentors for the second consecutive year. The Caps lead the Patrick Division semifinal series 3-1 with Game 5 scheduled for the Capital Centre in Landover, Md.

Morro Continues To Overpower

Mike Morro has been an overpowering presence on the Dodgers of the Altamonte Little League Junior Division this season. In his last outing on the mound, Morro tossed a two-hitter, struck out 16 and walked three in a 5-1 victory over the Braves.

Kevin O'Neill's two-run double led the way for the offense while Shane Odom and Jeremy Ludwig drove in one run apiece in the fifth consecutive victory for the Dodgers.

In an 8-3 victory over the Oviedo Cardinals, the Dodgers came back from a 2-1 deficit with a six-run, fifth-inning outburst. Odom's double and Mike Black's two-run single were the big hits in the inning. Black had three ribbies for the game.

Morro and Oviedo's David Blanton locked up in a heated pitcher's duel for the first four innings as both fired one-hitters. Odom eventually came on in relief and was the winning pitcher. In five innings, Blanton allowed seven hits, struck out 10 and walked five.

Brick Makes Soccer's Select 11

Oviedo High senior Greg Brick, Seminole County's leading goal scorer this past season, was selected to the Florida Athletic Coaches Association (FACA) Super Select 11 team which represents the top 11 players in the state as selected by the coaches.

Brick and senior goalkeeper Gordon King were also selected to the Class 3A All-State team.

Louganis Dives For Indoor Title

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Five-time world champion Greg Louganis will seek his sixth national springboard title during five days of competition in the U.S. Diving Indoor Championships which begin today at Louisiana State University.

Louganis, 27, of Malibu, Calif., who won Olympic gold medals for springboard and platform diving in 1984, will compete against other Olympic champions in an effort to improve his U.S. record of 41 national titles during the event.

He is defending champion in all three men's events.

Rams To Offer Wrestling Club

The sixth annual Lake Mary Wrestling Club will begin this Wednesday and run every Wednesday night from 6-8 p.m. at Lake Mary High School.

Anyone age 18 and under can wrestle in the club which is part of U.S.A. Wrestling, the national governing body for wrestling. Registration fee is $35 which includes U.S.A. Wrestling card and insurance.

For more information, contact Doug Peters at Lake Mary High, 323-2110 (ext. 221).

Nichols Holds 20-Pin Advantage

MENTOR, OHIO (UPI) — Lorrie Nichols of Algonquin, Ill., held a 20-pin lead over Lisa Wagner of Palmetto among the early first-round finishers Monday in the $200,000 U.S. Open, the richest tournament in women's bowling history.

Nichols, the 1972 Open champion and twice a runnerup, averaged 220 for an eight-game total of 1,763 pins to take the early lead over Wagner, the 1986 Woman Bowler of the Year.

Chamber To Hold Co-Ed Softball

The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Sports Committee is sponsoring a Co-ed Softball Weekend on May 16-17. Anyone 15 and over is eligible and teams may enter by contacting the Chamber of Commerce at 322-2212 or Garold Page at 321-2052 or 323-5770.

Be Prepared For Board, Search

TV and newspaper coverage of recent drug busts by the United States Coast Guard patrols, including pictures of the patrol boats and other facilities, make us more and more aware of the part that the Coast Guard is playing in an attempt to decrease the amount of smuggling — whether it be contraband materials or aliens.

With this increased activity, it becomes more and more probable that one of us could be boarded and searched.

Remember, the original mission of the Coast Guard, as authorized by Congress in 1790, was maritime law enforcement on the high seas in an effort to counteract smuggling which was rampant at that time. These laws also include those dealing with the 200-mile fishery conservation zone, safety and water pollution.

To enforce these laws on the water, the Coast Guard is empowered to board and inspect vessels. Many of the laws can only be successfully enforced by boarding a vessel while it is under way. About 70,000 boardings are conducted annually. Nearly half of all boardings indicate some form of non-compliance with regulations. It is not unusual for the Coast Guard to discover tons of marijuana and cocaine in anything from a small freighter or a sleek yacht to a fishing vessel of almost every description.

Boardings are not necessarily based on suspicion that a violation already exists aboard the vessel. The purpose is to prevent and suppress violations. All Coast Guard officers and petty officers are federal law enforcement officers and they may board any United States vessel anywhere.

Carl Carlson
HERALD BOATING WRITER

The Coast Guard team is armed. Although most mariners who are boarded are engaged in legitimate recreational or commercial pursuits, even a seemingly innocent pleasure boat boarding sometimes turns into a dangerous confrontation.

The Coast Guard, as one of the five armed services, trains its personnel to understand the risks of their mission and to protect themselves.

The Coast Guard follows a standard procedure before boarding. The boarding team contacts the vessel and provides an explanation of what is about to happen.

Coast Guard personnel will always identify themselves, will always be in uniform coveralls, or survival suit displaying Coast Guard insignia and will always be in a marked Coast Guard or Navy vessel flying the Coast Guard ensign.

Once aboard the vessel, examination is usually limited to determining the vessel's status and checking for compliance with the law. If during the inspection, a reasonable suspicion develops that the vessel has been engaged in criminal activity, the boarding officer may investigate further.

If the vessel is subject to a customs inspection, the boarding officer may conduct a thorough search of the entire vessel.

Coast Guard vessels may have their running lights out at night while searching for criminals. Running lights, if off, will be turned on prior to boarding, and a light will usually be directed at the Coast Guard ensign flying from the mast so that the vessel is easily recognized. If possible, the red racing stripe on the bow will be illuminated. Usually the examination is of short duration.

BOATING TIP — If you are asked to heave ho, do so at once and at all times be courteous. These men have a job to do and will always reciprocate the attitude you present.

Rams' Bats Hand Tuttle 100th Win

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer

LAKE MARY — The Lake Mary Rams are a team that usually relies on its pitching. Monday afternoon, however, the Rams stole the show against hapless Orlando Bishop Moore. Lake Mary pounded out 18 hits en route to a 21-4 thrashing of the Hornets in five innings of nonconference baseball at Lake Mary High.

The victory, the Rams' 19th in 22 games, was a milestone for Lake Mary coach Allen Tuttle. It was the 100th win in the four years that Tuttle has coached the Rams. "This was probably the easiest of the 100," Tuttle said. "It was good to give everyone a chance to play, and it was nice to see us hit the ball."

The third-ranked (4A) Rams will return to action tonight at 7 in a Seminole Athletic Conference contest at Lake Brantley. Tuttle said that southpaw Steve Shakar (6-1), who will sign a grant-in-aid to play at Stetson Thursday, will be on the mound for the Rams.

The game is important for Lake Mary. The Rams are 6-1 in the SAC. Oviedo and Lake Howell are tied for second with 5-3 marks. Mary will take on Oviedo on Thursday at UCF, and Lake Howell at home on Friday.

The setback dropped the Hornets to 5-14. Bishop Moore pitcher Carlos Abreu, who is a product of the Altamonte Little League, took the loss in three innings of work.

Lake Mary pitcher Eric Birle (1-0) went the distance for the Rams as the junior allowed only four hits. Birle, who is normally the designated hitter for Lake Mary, helped himself from the plate as well as he went 3 for 3, driving in four runs.

Lake Mary will be without the services of second baseman Wed Weger for an unknown length of time. Weger strained his back in last Saturday's victory against Apopka. Weger said that he hopes to back in the lineup soon. "I am going to the chiropractor today," the smooth-fielding Weger said. "We'll just have to see what he says. I'm hoping to be ready for the districts."

Mike Smith had a fine day from the plate as the left fielder went 3 for 3 with two ribbies. Shane Letterio, and Rick Stiekiewicz also had three hits for the Rams.

The big blast of the day came when catcher Ryan Lisle drilled a two-run homer to left. The four-bagger was Lisle's fourth of the season. "I hit it off the end of the bat," Lisle said. "It hit the top of the fence, and luckily it bounced over."

COX HURLS LIONS PAST CORCORAN

After spotting Corcoran (N.Y.) four first-inning runs, the Oviedo went on to score 10 unanswered runs as the Lions topped Corcoran, 10-4, in nonconference baseball action on Monday afternoon at Oviedo High.

The victory, which is the sixth in succession for Oviedo, ups its 16-5. The Lions, who jumped to Oviedo's Jon Cox follows through against Corcoran, N.Y. Cox overcame the Lions' fielding lapses in the first inning to post a 10-4 victory in his first start.

No. 6 in the 3A poll, will return to Seminole Athletic Conference action on Thursday when they will host Lake Mary at the University of Central Florida. Oviedo coach Howard Mable said that either Jody Spelman (6-1) or Scott Bowers (4-3) will be on the hill for the Lions.

The setback dropped Corcoran to 5-1. Junior Jon Cox, who has been used only in relief appearances so far this season, made his first start and gave up seven hits. All of Corcoran's runs were unearned. Cox fanned six while walking five.

"Jon has got a wicked curve," Mable said. "He struggled at first today, but he rebounded nicely and pitched a good game."

Oviedo could only manage seven hits, but the Lions made the most of them. Cox helped himself at the plate as he went 3 for 3. Tony Belflower had an RBI double for Oviedo. Randy Ferguson and Steve Hofmann each had doubles for the Lions while Mark Merchant contributed a sacrifice fly.

Handyman Stevens Bails Out 'Hounds

Baseball

Dale Stevens, a young man Lyman has called upon to play many roles this year, turned in his best handyman effort of the season Monday night in a 6-4, eight-inning nonconference baseball victory over Orlando Lake Highland at Lyman High School.

Stevens, a senior, drove in three runs with a two-run homer and a triple and turned in an inning and one-third of solid relief to pick up the victory as Lyman won its third consecutive game. The Greyhounds, 14-10, return to action Wednesday at Lake Howell in Seminole Athletic Conference play.

Lundquist produced the game-winner with a sacrifice fly and Marty Martin's RBI groundout added an insurance tally.

Stevens opened the Lyman scoring when he tripled home Kenny Jackson in the third. In the fifth, he walloped a two-run homer over the left-field fence for a 4-1 lead.

Lake Highland, however, knocked out starter Zac Maddox in the seventh when it tied the score. Reliever Jimbo Lucas walked the only batter he faced before Stevens escaped further damage after a run-scoring single and a walk. He hurled a perfect seventh. — Sam Cook

Ho Hum, Jordan Hits 50

United Press International
Ho hum. Michael Jordan scored 50 points again.
The NBA's leading scorer struck for 50 Monday night — the seventh time this season he has scored at least 50 points in a game — to lead the Chicago Bulls to a 114-107 victory over the Milwaukee Bucks.

"We've seen him exceptional before, but this is the first time we've seen the total dominance at every phase of the game," Milwaukee Coach Don Nelson said. "It's one of those games that was so magnificent. If it wasn't against us, I would have really enjoyed the performance. But it wasn't very enjoyable from where I was sitting."

Chicago won four of the six games between the teams this year, the first time Chicago has won a season series with the Bucks in a decade.

"If you took Michael Jordan off this team, and said 'I'm going to put anybody in the NBA in his spot,' this team would not be sitting 40-40," Chicago Coach Doug Collins said. "That's how valuable he is."

Milwaukee closed to one point with 5:16 remaining before Jordan, who scored 16 points in the fourth quarter, scored 62 points during an 8-0 run that gave Chicago a 102-93 lead with 2:45 left.

Milwaukee pulled within 110-107 with 15 seconds left on a drive by Terry Cummings, but Jordan hit 4 free throws to seal the victory.

Cummings led the Bucks with 24 points and Ricky Pierce added 20. Charles Oakley had 20 points for the Bulls and Elston Turner and Brad Sellers each added 14.

Elsewhere, Detroit ripped New York 120-100. Philadelphia defeated Washington 113-105. Atlanta edged Indiana 102-101 and Sacramento held off San Antonio 123-118.

Pistons 120, Knicks 100
At New York, Adrian Dantley scored 30 points, Isiah Thomas added 21 and Vinnie Johnson finished with 20 to lead Detroit to its 50th win of the season. The Pistons broke a three-game losing streak while sending the Knicks to their third consecutive defeat.

Gerald Wilkins led the Knicks with 27 points and Bernard King added 19.
Sixers 114, Bullets 107
At Philadelphia, Cliff Robinson scored 22 points and David Wingate added 18 to spark Philadelphia past Washington as the 76ers clinched second place in the Atlantic Division. Robinson started in place of the injured Charles Barkley, who could miss the rest of the regular season with a sprained left ankle.

Hawks 102, Pacers 101
At Indianapolis, Dominique Wilkins scored 14 of his 34 points in the fourth quarter and Antoine Carr hit a jump shot with 14 seconds left to carry Atlanta past Indiana. The win enabled the Hawks, who have already clinched the Central Division crown, to remain a game behind the Boston Celtics in the race for the best record in the Eastern Conference.

Kings 123, Spurs 118
At Sacramento, Calif., Reggie Theus scored a game-high 28 points and Sacramento withstood a furious San Antonio rally as the Spurs lost their club-record 10th straight game. The Spurs were down by 21 points with three minutes to go in the third quarter before rallying behind rookie Anthony Jones.

BEDFORD AGENT CHARGES SMEAR
PHOENIX (UPI) — The agent for Phoenix Suns center William Bedford charged Monday that police and a Maricopa County grand jury are trying to "smear the Suns" by linking them to drug use.

"If they don't want the Suns to play basketball in Phoenix, why don't they just say so?" William Merriweather told The Phoenix Gazette.

"Some people are going out to smear the Suns," Merriweather said. "I haven't heard about the feds being involved in this (investigation). Do some local people have it in for someone?"

Merriweather said he thought the grand jury investigation may have been blown out of proportion.

"All you need to get a grand jury going is a prosecutor," Merriweather said. "They're putting a lot of people through unnecessary things."

Merriweather confirmed published reports that Bedford will testify before the grand jury investigating possible drug use by current and former Suns players. No date has been set for that testimony, although Merriweather said Bedford and a local attorney met with officials from the Maricopa County Attorney's Office last week to discuss the upcoming appearance.

lead in the quarter when he pulled up with an injury and Buchholz Kemp won in 47.0. Martin also won on the second-place mile relay team which capped off the State Championship with a time of 3:17.5.

Last season, Martin finished third in the quarter-mile state with a time of 48.5. Kemp won in 47.6. Martin's best time during the season was a 47.8. He also ran on the mile relay team last year that claimed first place at 3:16.6. Again, Seminole won the state team title last season.

In 1987, Martin ranks high on the state honor roll with Kemp his main competition. The two seniors have met only once this season, that at the Florida Relays where Kemp took first and Martin was a distant second.

"Earle went out way to first in the first 220 at the Florida Relays," Brauman said. "I know he's capable of running with Kemp, though."

After the 1987 prep season comes to a close, Martin will set his sights on collegiate track and Auburn University, where he will join former Seminole High great Campbell.

Martin has received a one-year scholarship that is renewable at the beginning of each succeeding year. He will also receive a Pell Grant to cover any expenses the scholarship does not. Martin said Auburn was not his top college choice but he is happy to be signed.

"Florida State was my first choice," Martin said. "But nobody from FSU called me this week. I wanted to get it over with this week, and Auburn said they were interested so I signed. I really liked Auburn when I went for my visit because it's the most like Sanford of any of the schools I was looking at."

Owen, Sewell Lift Dan's Restaurant To Victories

By Chris Flater
Herald Sports Writer

Dustin Owen and Adam Sewell led a strong offensive attack as Dan's Restaurant picked up a pair of victories in the Seminole Pony Baseball Pinto League.

In a 21-12 victory over Teer Lab, Owen clubbed an inside-the-park grand slam homer while Sewell cracked a single, double and triple and drove in three runs. Jeremy Parker added an over-the-fence solo home run while Patrick Reynolds drove in three runs with three singles. Chip Vorndran also had three hits for Dan's while Brian Miller added three RBIs. Owen also had a solid defensive game at shortstop including one inning where he made three unassisted outs.

In an 18-7 rout of Dittmer American Aluminum, Sewell belted a triple and two singles and drove in four runs while Reynolds again had three singles and three RBIs. Kevin Bishop added an inside-the-park homer. Barry Sommer had three hits and Ryan Donoghue had two doubles and two RBIs.

In other Pinto League play, South Seminole Hospital claimed a 14-13 victory over Eric Nelson Contractors despite a grand slam homer by Eric's John McFarland.

In Bronco League play, Paul Giambalvo tossed a two-hitter as

Bears Pound Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened lower today in heavy trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which fell 51.71 Monday, was down 14.49 to 2272.58 shortly after the market opened.

Declines led advances 980-135 among the 1,381 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 22,270,000 shares.

Stock prices followed Texaco and Pennzoil into a tailspin Monday in the wake of Texaco's bankruptcy filing after the two companies' failure to resolve their dispute over Getty Oil.

Analysts said the market took a nosedive in the last half-hour of trading when widening spreads between futures contracts and the underlying stock prices triggered arbitrage sell programs.

"The specialists got out of the way and let the sell programs run," said Martin Krouner, manager of listed trading at Jefferies & Co. "It was very sloppy and very disorganized, and when it hit 2300 (on the Dow) that created more selling pressure."

Through late afternoon the market held up reasonably well in spite of bad news about two important stocks, with market leader IBM buoying stock prices in the face of the Texaco bankruptcy filing.

Gold Strengthens; Dollar Declines

By United Press International

The U.S. dollar opened lower on major European money markets Tuesday after plunging to a new post-World War II low in Tokyo. Gold strengthened.

The Bank of Japan said the dollar closed at 141.35 yen, down 1.15 from Monday's previous record low closing rate of 142.50.

After opening lower at 142.05 yen, the dollar sank to hit a record low of 141.15 yen momentarily.

Dealers said the Bank of Japan carried out active intervention to shore up the faltering dollar, but the effort was overwhelmed by the strength of selling.

"The market seemed to be waiting for the announcement of the U.S. trade balance for February," one dealer said.

The U.S. Commerce Department Tuesday reported February's merchandise trade deficit reached $15.06 billion, the third-highest monthly deficit in U.S. history.

The dollar also slipped in Frankfurt, opening at 1.8025 marks, against Monday's closing 1.8088, in Zurich at 1.4925 Swiss francs, against 1.4955 and in Paris at 5.9980 francs, against 6.0150.

The dollar started lower in Brussels at 37.50 Belgian francs against Monday's finishing 37.5650. In Amsterdam at 2.0340 Dutch guilders against 2.0395 and in Milan at 1.285.75 lire against 1.289.55.

In London, the pound sterling gained to open at $1.6275, against Monday's closing $1.6245.

Gold scored gains in both Zurich, opening at $441.50 per ounce, against Monday's closing $436, and London at $439.75 per ounce, against $437.25.

Trade Deficit Tops $15 Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's merchandise trade deficit soared in February to a surprisingly high $15.06 billion, the third-highest monthly deficit in history, the Commerce Department said today.

The government also said it now has determined January's trade deficit totaled $12.3 billion — not $14.8 billion as originally reported.

America imported $33.72 billion worth of goods during February while exporting $18.66 billion, the Commerce Department said. None of those numbers was adjusted to reflect seasonal factors.

The $15.06 billion deficit is the third biggest on record, trailing only last July's $16.05 billion and November's $15.44 billion.

It also was far higher than some economic forecasters predicted. If past trends hold true this time, the report could hurt the dollar's standing against other currencies.

Imports rose $5 billion during February, partly because oil imports went up by 31 million barrels to total 197 million barrels. The price of that crude averaged $17.02 per barrel, up from January's $15.27 average.

billion in state services by the year 2000.

But many details — including the final amount the bill would raise — remain to be worked out. When the measure came before his tax committee last week, Deratany blocked amendments he said might interfere with negotiations with the House. He did so with the help of five Appropriations Committee leaders Vogt appointed to the tax panel at the last minute.

Deratany, who is shepherding the bill, permitted a series of amendments Monday that would top at least $30 million from the tax. The final tab was unknown, and committee staff were to figure it out Tuesday.

The amendments included breaks for industry research and development, bank checking accounts, tax cabs, franchise fees, education and job training, water transportation, food brokers and membership fees for agricultural cooperatives.

Amendments to exempt legal fees of less than $500, advertising and home loans were defeated or withdrawn by their sponsors in the face of certain defeat. Deratany said compromises to permit some tax breaks for real estate transactions and necessary legal services — such as divorce, child support or criminal cases — were possible.

The committee voted to retain tax exemptions for trucking companies, but to impose a tax of at least 3 cents on diesel fuel. Sen. Bob Crawford, D-Winter Haven, another sponsor, said the full amount of the tax would be figured to replace the revenue the state would have gained through the exemption.

The first year, $300 million would be pledged to a trust fund for capital projects like roads, bridges, prisons and schools. The fund would receive $800 million the second year.

A parade of witnesses spoke in favor of the tax bill, including representatives of developers, environmentalists, the Florida Home Builders Association, Associated Industries of Florida, teachers unions and local governments.

Arm twisting by Senate leaders continued, senators said.

"You (Senate leaders) don't have to say anything," said Sen. Pat Frank, D-Tampa, an opponent. "You don't have to be that obvious. Everybody knows your bills get railroaded. It's a way of life."

Opponents warned the services tax might force businesses out of Florida, or have other unintended results that might force a special session to repair the damage.

Frank said the ruling Republican-conservative Democrat coalition in the Senate might be another casualty. Conservatives are among the bill's leading detractors.

"There are some people in the coalition who have been totally ignored," Frank said. "If they don't have the input, what's the point of hanging around?"

have a contracted buyer who wants this specific house and wants to live in this neighborhood."

Leading the opposition to the construction was Gary Taylor, 304 W. 24th St., who, picking up the implication that he told area residents the home was really going to be duplex or a rental, said that he never said any such thing. Taylor said that the community is against the idea and that Stenstrom-Stump is just using the letter of the law to get what they want.

"If he'd come to build a 1,300 sq. ft. home in the middle of the lot we'd have had no problem," he said.

When it was all over the commission sided with the vehement tide of public opinion and Stump said that in a way he's glad it happened.

"I don't think I would want to sell this house to the people I had intended to," he said. "I don't think the neighborhood's very friendly to someone who had expressly shown a desire to live there. Now I'll probably just build a 1,300 sq. ft. house like they want; but maybe this time I really will make it a rental property."

on U.S. Highway 17-92, according to the city's chief fire inspector Dennis Anderson.

The flame from a workman's torch which was cutting a pipe near the ceiling ignited cardboard boxes near a metal plate on the floor above. Workers hosed the fire with an in-house line until fire fighters arrived. The fire was contained and there was no damage estimate on the portion of building burned. About $800 worth of plants were damaged, said Anderson.

Sanford, you'll have to talk to your state legislators — unless the Seminole County Expressway Authority is allowed to continue to exist," Kirchhoff said. He was hopeful the bill disbanding the local expressway authorities in Central Florida would not pass because he said it would take away some of the protections that Seminole County and Orange County now have.

For one, he said, it would take away Seminole County residents' right to say anything — through their elected officials — about where the road goes. The bill, introduced by Rep. Richard Croty, R-Orlando, would create a nine-member superagency with perhaps only one member from Seminole County.

Another protection to be lost, Kirchhoff said, is in Orange County where at the present time that county's Expressway Authority can't build a highway through a city (such as Apopka and Ocoee) without permission of the city. If the superagency gets control, as the bill states, Kirchhoff said, the road could go wherever it wants within the four-county area (Orange, Seminole, Lake and Osceola).

"Our protection will be taken away and they can put the expressway anywhere they want. And our residents will have virtually no say in what it does to their community," Kirchhoff said.

Besides those reasons, he said the superagency would need to duplicate studies that have already been made and delay the road a couple more years (even though superagency supporters say their bill would speed up the process by a year.) He said the Seminole County financial feasibility study hadn't been completed yet to see where the road would likely pay for itself now and in the future, and he said the superagency people are supposing it is already feasible.

"How can anybody say it's financially feasible here or there, and further that this agency would speed it up?" he asked. "So far, we don't have any facts and figures before us, and we're awaiting the feasibility study."

One study done a few years back did indicate a southerly portion of the expressway would be financially feasible. And Kirchhoff still feels the northernmost sweep of the expressway, proposed in several of the routes going through Sanford, might not pay its way. "Nobody's ever going to use that portion," he said.

Chairman of the Expressway Authority and the Seminole County Commission, Fred Streetman, went along with Expressway Authority member Sandra Glenn, in saying the authority is still gathering input and can't make any decisions yet.

But Barbara Christensen, who sits on the county commission and the Expressway Authority, stands alone in her total support for a complete expressway through Seminole County, connecting to I-4 at some point north and combining in a giant loop around both sides of I-4 down to the Polk-Osceola county line.

She also favors elimination of the Expressway Authority on which she sits in order to create the four-county superagency, because she felt there would be broader funding and the expressway would be built sooner.

"I supported the initial project. I think there would be broader funding and it would help overall (to have the superagency)," she said. "We have to act as quickly as possible. The quicker we can get it done the better for everybody."

Asked if she supports the loop, she said, "Yeah, we all know it needs to be built. Unfortunately, that's a tough decision that needs to be made (where to put the road.) You have to put it where it's economically feasible."

She refused to sign a letter signed by all four of the other Seminole County commissioners to the seven members of the Seminole County Legislative Delegation. That letter asked that the superagency not be created for at least a year.

by possible personality conflicts within the soccer association.

At one point prior to Saturday, questions were raised as to the eligibility of 10 of 17 players on the Seminole team, Rosier said.

In March, Mize also ruled three Volusia County soccer players could play on the Seminole Florida Cup team because there was no similar fielded team in their district. Rosier said the boys were allowed to play on the Seminole team because there were no rules preventing it. He said the association has not properly followed its own procedures to challenge player eligibility.

Although Mize ruled Friday Moghaddam could play, that the Seminole team could compete and its coach instruct the team during Saturday's scheduled Florida Cup play, the tournament was postponed, minutes before play was to start.

Saturday, at the tournament site in Indiantic, Bob Kemp, the tournament host, called the coaches and referees together and announced the tournament postponed until an unset date, according to court records.

Kemp told the coaches by hand-delivered letters that:

"... The Seminole team apparently had among its members a player who had been a senior division player (Moghaddam) in the Florida State Soccer Association. (The parent organization of Florida Youth Soccer Association.) This player had signed his senior division player pass during January and had signed his application to play on the Seminole team in youth competition in February. The rules apparently provide that a player who registers with a senior team is ineligible to register with a youth team for the remainder of the current season.

"Because the player in question participated in three victories of the Seminole Under 19 team in earlier qualifying rounds, the FSUSA ordered that those three Seminole victories be forfeited by reason of the apparently ineligible player... In a ruling made during the late afternoon of April 10, the circuit judge (Mize) held that the player was eligible and ordered the FSYA to allow the Seminole Team to play in the tournament. However, the USSF (United States Soccer Federation) national organization believes that the player is ineligible and that the Seminole team could not advance to regional and national competition if it won the state tournament..."

The tournament has been postponed until Mize's ruling can be appealed, the letter said.

Rosier filed the contempt of court order Monday saying the association should be held in contempt because they prevented — by postponement — Moghaddam from playing, a violation of Mize's ruling even if the game was just postponed.

"The acts of the association, its officers, directors and representatives and the Florida Cup Committee in denying over 300 players the right to play in the weekend games, the coaches from coaching and the parents from participating in their son's sports activities is an affront to youth soccer and especially to this court," said Rosier.

According to an affidavit also filed Monday by John Sheffield, coach of the Seminole team, Kemp said the decision to halt the tournament was made Friday at 9 p.m. and that he (Kemp) had notified a number of teams of the postponement. Sheffield states, however, that "ther teams from throughout Florida had driven to Indiantic without any notice that the tourney was called off. These included but were not limited to: Tampa, Miami, Dunnellon, Ft. Lauderdale and Seminole County... Some of the teams expended sums of money for lodging and transportation.

"On information and belief, no officers, directors or representatives of the association were in attendance at the cancellation announcement on Saturday morning, except for Bob Kemp," said Sheffield.

The association's attorney could not be reached and association officials would not comment on the case.

Another hearing in the case is scheduled before Mize Thursday at 4 p.m.

international airport) and work toward it, I will work in Washington to get some sort of funds for at least part of the cost." He said he had looked into urban development funds and found those would be available.

He also mentioned Joe Sheppard of the Federal Aviation Authority, whom he referred to as a friend and who, he said, was at a party given last week by developer E. Everett Huskey at Heathrow Country Club to celebrate approval of the Interstate 4 interchange at State Road 46-A. He said Sheppard could help with the mechanics of developing an international airport.

He said the Centerra Group of major developers in the Lake Mary interchange area would also work toward establishing an international airport.

"Basically, I think we have got to start from here and we want to see flights coming in," Paulucci continued. "Myself, I would like to see airplanes flying over us like in the days of the old Naval Air Station," he said, adding he lives on Mellonville Avenue, just a few blocks from the airport.

Orlando International Airport, which he said was a good 30 miles away like the distance between other international airports in Florida, could not expand much more for "safety reasons in the sky." "It faces the law of diminishing returns," Paulucci said.

"Everybody's looking to our operation at Sanford Airport as coming into its being now. It will take a couple of years, but it can be done," he concluded.

Son's Daily Visits Are Driving Mom Out Of Home And Mind

DEAR ABBY: Our son, 26 years old, married three years, is attending college full time. The college is located near our home. He and his wife live in a small but very nice mobile home. She works. Now the problem: Our son comes to our house every day for lunch, which I have to make. Then he goes back to school for classes, and returns here to lift weights and exercise in our basement. (He hasn't space for his exercise gear in his mobile home.) He plays loud rock music (nerve-wracking to me) while exercising.

He is a sensitive and well-meaning person, and he would be hurt if he knew how much I resent this daily intrusion on my privacy.

Abby, each day I fix his lunch, give him a hug, then go "somewhere" just to get away from all that racket. I feel as though I'm being driven out of my own home. My husband says that if we say anything to him, he'll be hurt, but close friends say I'm foolish for putting up with it. What do you say?

IMPOSED UPON

DEAR IMPOSED: I say tell your son you love him, but his daily routine — lunching and exercising to loud music in your home — is more than you can handle. The alternative is to keep quiet and let your resentment grow and fester, which in my view would be a sorry choice.

DEAR ABBY: While standing on a corner in downtown St. Paul one afternoon, I saw a man in a brown car. He was the best-looking man I have ever seen. I don't know what came over me, but I smiled at him, and when he smiled back at me, I thought I was going to faint! I got on the bus thinking I would never see this man again, but I was wrong. I saw him five days later in a shopping mall. This time he was not alone and neither was I. We looked at each other. He didn't smile this time, but I know he remembered me.

I cannot get this man's face out of my mind. He is the image of the man I have always dreamed I would marry.

Abby, do you believe in love at first sight?

HAUNTED IN MINNESOTA

DEAR HAUNTED: No. But I believe in physical attraction at first sight. You were bowled over by the appearance of this man because he fit the physical description of your preconceived dream man. If to mean "physical attraction" means "falling in love," then you have indeed fallen in love.

DEAR ABBY: My lady and I were introduced last year by mutual friends, and our relationship has grown to where we are seriously discussing marriage.

While we both appear to be in above-average physical condition, due to our respective ages, plus the fact that both of us have lost our spouses to cancer, the suggestion that we have complete physicals appeared to be in order. Both her doctor and mine concluded that we would probably be around for some time to come.

I am in my 60s, she is in her 70s, and that is her only concern impeding a total commitment on her part. My view is that even if we were to receive a revelation that one of us would be gone in five years, I would rather spend those years with her in loving marriage than to remain apart. Neither of us would consider a "live-in" arrangement.

Your views would be appreciated.

YOUNG AT HEART IN PASADENA

DEAR YOUNG: If you need someone to say "Go for it," you've written to the right person. All good wishes, and do not waste another precious day.

Hooks Celebrates 93rd Birthday

Henry Hooks, holding his great great granddaughters, Labrenda and Ebony Vallot, and flanked by his son, Jafus, celebrated his 93rd birthday April 1. There are 40 grandchildren, 50 great grandchildren, and nine great great grandchildren. He still attends his church, the Providence Missionary Baptist Church, Lake Monroe.

May 4-9 Proclaimed Florida Nurses Week

"Florida Nurses: Health, Well and Wise Professionals" is the theme for Florida Nurse Week May 4-9. The Florida Nurses Association (FNA), the largest nursing organization in the state, joins Florida's 100,000 professional registered nurses in marking the event.

Nurses, nursing students, hospitals and other health care agencies throughout Florida will be celebrating Nurse Week with a variety of activities and events designed to promote wellness, educate the public about the integral and expanding role nurses play in health care, and encourage healthy lifestyles among Floridians.

In proclaiming May 4-9 as Nurses Week in Florida, Gov. Bob Martinez said, "Florida is fortunate to have devoted nurses utilizing their vast knowledge and skills, energy and compassion to improve the quality and accessibility of health care services for all our citizens."

FNA President Bobbie Hughes said that Nurse Week is "an opportunity for the public to become aware of the diversity of nursing practice and understand the wide range of services nurses provide."

"The entrepreneurial spirit is alive in nursing. The pioneers of the '60s and '70s have been joined by increasing numbers of registered nurses who are offering their services in such areas as nurse-managed clinics, adult and child day care centers and in private practice," said Hughes, a Miami Shores nurse practitioner.

FNA Executive Director Paula Massey said, "by choosing to utilize the services of nurse practitioners, nurse midwives and nurses in other specialized roles, consumers can receive exceptional quality health care at affordable prices."

"Health care consumers are becoming increasingly aware of the range of services nurses can and do provide. As such, Nurse Week will focus on the implications of this diversity for the future of health care in Florida and the nation," Massey said.

Massey noted that the American public favors increased responsibility for nurses as a way to hold health care costs down, citing a recent public opinion poll which showed that 92 percent of those surveyed believe that nurses should be allowed to increase their areas of responsibility. Eighty percent of the respondents believe that costs could be lowered if more services were performed by nurses.

The Florida Nurses Association, the professional organization of registered nurses in Florida, works in various ways to address the interests and needs of nurses and health care consumers, and serves as an advocate of quality health care in Florida.

FNA is the largest nursing organization in Florida. Conducting statewide and local educational programs, establishing standards, promoting nursing research and education, and encouraging interorganizational cooperation with other nursing groups and health care-related organizations are among FNA's principle activities.

Search Is On For Outstanding Mom

Mother's Day is May 10. Again this year, we at The Herald are searching for our Outstanding Mom. But we need the help of our readers to find this special woman who will be selected by a panel of judges.

Write us a letter and let us know in your own words who your nomination for outstanding mom is and why she is so special. We are asking for local, living women. Nominees need not be famous — just moms. Please follow these instructions: Write the mom's full name, street address, city and day phone number where she can be reached at the top of the page. Then, write her qualifications. Sign your name, address and telephone number at the end of the letter. Mail to the PEOPLE Editor, The Sanford Herald, P.O. Box 1657, Sanford 32771, or deliver to 300 N. French Ave. Deadline for submitting entries is noon, Thursday, April 23.

The three top winners will be featured in The Herald on Mother's Day. All letters remain the property of The Herald.

PUBLIC NOTICE FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL REGULATION

TWIN TOWERS OFFICE BUILDING 3408 Blair Stone Road Tallahassee, FL 32301-4241 Public Notice No. 64 April 2, 1987 NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF AN EMERGENCY PERMIT UNDER THE RESOURCE CONSERVATION AND RECOVERY ACT AND THE FLORIDA RESOURCE RECOVERY AND MANAGEMENT ACT. The Department of Environmental Regulation (D.E.R.) has issued an Emergency Permit to Seminole County Sheriff's Department and Hazardous Waste Consultants, Inc. The treatment site is located at Seminole County Landfill, Ocoola Road, Geneva, Florida. The permit authorized detonation of unstable, reactive, shock sensitive, or explosive materials. An emergency permit pursuant to Sections 403.74(3)(f) and 120.59(3), F.S., and 17-30.320, F.A.C., was warranted because there was an imminent and substantial endangerment to human health and the environment. This issuance of this permit resulted in environmental benefits as compared with the previous storage conditions of the waste. The permit was drafted in accordance with the provisions of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act and the Florida Resource Recovery and Management Act and were designed to protect human health and the environment. Persons wishing to comment upon the permit issuance or to the permit conditions are invited to submit same in writing within forty-five (45) days of the date of this notice to the Florida Department of Environmental Regulation, Twin Towers Office Building, 3408 Blair Stone Road, Tallahassee, Florida 32301. ATTENTION: Raoul Clark. The public notice number should be included in the first page of comments. All comments received within the 45-day period will be considered in the formulation of future emergency permits. Publish April 14, 1987 DEN-145
