Legal Ruling Sought In Casselberry Move On Status Of Mayor

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

Casselberry City Council Chairman Charles Glascock was to bave met today with Assistant State Attorney Joel Dick to discuss possible violation of city law by the majority of the city council.

Glascock said the council by adopting a resolution Monday night may have violated Chapter 2, Article 2 of the city code which requires the appointment of a city manager. The resolution, to go into effect Friday, calls for Mayor Gerald Christensen to become the full time mayor of the city with the same powers as outlined under the city manager ordinance and with a salary of $17,800 annually. The former city official said that the city manager ordinance or any ordinance can only be amended by a document of equal dignity, another ordinance. In addition, he pointed to the penalty provision of Ordinance 269, which adopted the codification of ordinances in 1974, and which says that violation of the code is punishable by fine not exceeding $300 or 90 days imprisonment or both. "The entire matter must be clarified," Glascock said, adding that the state attorney's office is the branch of government to prosecute for violation of city laws.

Glascock said petitions asking for a referendum to repeal the resolutions are being printed today and should go into circulation later today. He said he is still confident that more than 1,000 signatures will be obtained on the petitions by sometime Thursday

"There are 30-40 persons who have volunteered to circulate petitions," Glascock said, adding that his telephone has been ringing continually. He said and the Sanford Housing homes up to city building and of the homes, Stenstrom said, appliances removed. They are many citizens support the effort he is leading to halt Christensen's becoming full time salaried mayor before a referendum is held on the issue.

He said he has not received a single telephone call criticizing his stand. The city charter permits referendum and petition by the people on petition of 10 per cent of the registered voters. Casselberry has about 5,000 located in slum areas, as housing of this nature. "We've registered voters, Glascock said. City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh agreed today that only an ordinance can amend an ordinance. He added, however, that adoption of the resolution naming Christensen full time mayor with added powers and responsibilities and a salary does not alter the city's form of government, as has been suggested by some residents of the city.

He said the resolution as adopted is temporary in character and an interim provision developed after long-time City Clerk Mary Hawthorne expressed her desire to be relieved of the responsibilities of acting city manager.

CHARLES GLASCOCK ... matter must be clarified.

a void." He added that the ordinance calling for a city manager does not give the council a deadline when one must be appointed. The attorney said that Council Chairman Nathan Van Meter has indicated that none of the applicants for the city manager post are acceptable.

The resolution states, "That the repeal of Chapter 2, Article 2 (of the city code) shall be thoroughly considered by the council and the citizens

And, even though attorney McIntosh said only an ordinance can amend an ordinance, section nine of the resolution states': "All resolutions and ordinances, or parts of resolutions and ordinances or policy directives in conflict herewith are hereby repealed." "

The resolution outlines almost identical powers for the mayor as are listed in the city manager ordinance.

However, the ordinance requires that the city manager be a graduate of an accredited university with a major in city administration and that his training include two years practical administrative experience in the field as a full time employe in city government

The ordinance also specifically excludes the See CASSELBERRY, Page 2A

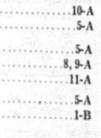

Seminole commissioners feared the amur might harm the game fish population if the wily weed-gobbler made its way into the St. Johns and Wekiva Rivers. But citizens contended the amur was the "one shot" they had to "Either use the fish - or accept the responsibility to do nothing," said Wayne Matthews, a lakeside resident. Bob Gasaway, a spokesman for the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, told citizens the "amur is not the an-

Houston ERA Post Abolished

HOUSTON (AP) - After an uproar that began when Nikki Van Hightower was criticized for backing abortion and the Equal Rights Amendment, the city council has voted to abolish her job as Houston's official women's advocate. But Mrs. Hightower says the action may violate her civil rights. And Mayor Fred Hofheinz, who first persuaded the council to create the position, said there may be legal problems with the council's action.

Secret Cuba Talks Revealed

wASHINGTON (AP) - A secret round of coffee-shop diplomacy two years ago led the United States and Cuba to ease trade and travel restrictions and prompted Havana to free some imprisoned U.S. citizens. The highlevel talks, initiated several months after Gerald R. Ford became President, were interrupted by Cuba's intervention in Angola's civil war. The talks were revealed by the State Department on Tuesday as new, publicly announced U.S.-Cuba discussions on fishing rights continued in New York.

Labor To Ignore Setback

WASHINGTON (AP) - Despite a firstround loss, the AFL-CIO will press ahead with its biggest legislative drive in decades. Among labor's goals are repeal of state "right-to work" laws, collective bargaining rights for public employes, a $3-per-hour minimum wage and changes in the National Labor Relations Act to make it easier to organize workers and negotiate contracts.

Pills, Cigarettes Dangers

NEW YORK (AP) - Women over 40 who use birth control pills and smoke run a much higher risk of heart attacks than those who use the pills but don't smoke.

Women in their 40s who smoke more than 15 cigarettes a day die of heart attacks or blood clots nearly 12 times more frequently than those who don't smoke at all.

Machete-Wielding Robber Given 15 Years In Prison, Probation

A 25-year-old Sanford man convicted of robbing a neighbor with a machete has been sentenced to 15 years in prison plus 15 years

Circuit Court Judge Robert B. McGregor meted the sentence Tuesday to David Scott, 25, of 700 E. Seventh Street. In a January triai, a jury found Scott guilty of robbing Prevo Clark of his auto, watch and money in an isolated area near the Longwood-Markham Road west of Sanford. The auto was later recovered at Sanford

Joseph Carlos Hersey, 18, of 102 Douglas Street, Lake Monroe, was sentenced to two years in prison plus 28 years probation on his guilty plea to attempted sexual battery upon a four-year-old

When Hersey pleaded guilty in January the state dropped a sexual battery charge as part of the plea negotiations. One condition of Hersey's probation is that he never be alone with a girl under the age of 14, Judge McGregor said.

In other sentencings, Ricky Alan Hutcherson, 18, of Crittenden, Ky., was given a two-year prison term plus three years probation on his guilty plea to auto burglary.

Hutcherson was a juvenile when arrested in November after witnesses caught him during a car burglary in downtown Sanford. His case was transferred from juvenile court for trial as an adult. The youth told Judge McGregor Tuesday that he had been trying to steal a citizens band radio so he could sell it to buy food. David L. Fogel, 22, of Parkersburg, W. Va., was put on three

Charles Edison Baker Sr., 50, of Oviedo, was placed on two years probation on his guilty plea to grand larceny of more than $700 from funds of a bowling league while he was secretarytreasurer. Baker told the court he "borrowed" the money to meet family expenses and then found he couldn't pay it back. As a condition of his probation. Baker is to repay the money. Two Mt. Dora housewives who pleaded guilty to attempted grand larceny in connection with a December shoplifting incident at Burdines, Altamonte Springs, were sentenced to short stays in county jail by Judge McGregor.

Mrs. Faye Smith Merrell, 31, was sentenced to 30 days plus 330 days probation. The court noted that she struck and injured a store security employe when she was detained with clothing taken at the store.

Mrs. Judy Sharp Walker, 30, was sentenced to 10 days in jail plus 350 days probation. Mrs. Walker complained during the sentencing hearing that the woman security guard had grabbed her by the arm "and slammed me into a glass showcase. And I've got a bad back." Judge McGregor thundered in response: "Absolute right.] catch somebody stealing my stuff, I'll slam them down too!" -

> Killings Probe Figure: Was It Suicide? PALM BEACH (AP) - A formal ruling may be made today in the apparent shotgun suicide of a man recently contacted by the House Assassinations Committee in its probe of President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

The victim was George de Mohrenschildt of Dallas, a geologist who taught French at Bishop College and who had been an acquaintance of Lee Harvey Oswald and his wife, Marina.

Palm Beach County Sheriff's Lt. Richard Sheets said there was "no reason to suspect anything other than suicide but the investigation is continuing." He said a formal ruling will be made after an autopsy set for today. An assassination committee source in Washington said investigators for the panel had been trying to find de Mohrenschildt, 65, to interview him and only recently had ocated him in Florida

The body of de Mohrenschildt was found by his daughter dexandra, 33, in the guest room of a palatial oceanside home in exclusive Palm Beach. He and his daughter had arrived there from Brussels for a visit with relatives, sheets said

"At the time of the shooting, he was alone in the house except for two maids who said they did not hear the shot," Sheets said. He said the preliminary investigation showed the victim died of a head wound. A 20-gauge shotgun was found near the body.

Sheets said no suicide note was found. Willem Oltmans, a Dutch journalist who has been interviewed by assassination committee investigators, has said publicly that the Russian-born de Mohrenschildt told him in an interview he felt some responsibility for Kennedy's slayings.

It was not clear from the journalist's account whether de Mohrenschildt said anything other than that as an acquaintance of Oswald he felt he might have been able to stop the assassination in some way. The Warren Commission concluded that Oswald assassinated Kennedy, acting alone and not as part of any conspiracy. De Morenschildt had testified before the Warren Commission that he had a close friendship with Oswald. but knew nothing of Oswald's plans or his reasons for shooting Kennedy. Sheets said that "just before de Mohrenschildt's death, he met with an author on contract from Reader's Digest for an exclusive interview." Sheets identified the author as Ed Epstein of New York City. "We have interviewed Epstein, but I prefer not to comment on the interview." Sheets said.

Miami Hotel Arsonist

Pleads Guilty 10 Times MIAMI (AP) - David DeBernardis, charged with setting a hotel fire that claimed 10 lives, has pleaded quilty to 10 counts of second-degree murder.

Debernardis was sentenced to 20 years in prison Tuesday. He had been facing trial on a dozen counts of first-degree murder, arson and conspiracy. A conviction on those counts could have meant a death penalty

DeBernardis,, 26, and Dan Turner Jr., were charged with setting fire to the Avondale Ho tel last April. Turner is scheduled to go on trial within a week, and prosecutors said De-Bernardis has agreed to testify against him

Carter Nominates Melton

ST. AUGUSTINE (AP) - The nomination of Circuit Judge Howell Melton to a federal district judgeship signals the end of a political deadlock that left two posts vacant in Jacksonville.

Melton was nominated Tuesday by President Jimmy Carter to one of the Jacksonville judgeships.

One of the Jacksonville posts has been vacant since December 1975 and the other since last November.

Clemency Hearings End

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - The fates of six Death Row inmates are now in the hands of Gov. Reubin Askew and six members of the Florida Cabinet.

Askew and the Cabinet, sitting as the Executive Clemency Board, ended two days of mercy-plea hearings Tuesday to complete the last major stop in the criminal justice system. Askew can either sign death warrants in each individual case or, if three Cabinet members agree, can commute a death sentence to life in prison. He has no set time in which to make up his mind.

State Jobless Fund Broke

TALLAHASSEE (AP(- Florida's unemployment compensation fund will be broke by Friday for the first time in state history but the 120,000 people getting the checks won't miss a payment, state officials

Andrew McMullian, director of the state Division of Employment Security, said that Florida had anticipated the problem and had already secured a $32.million federal loan to tide the fund over. He said that the last $3.1 million in the fund would be spent by Friday and that federal funds would then be used.

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - A secondterm representative is sticking by his story that House Transportation Chairman Fred Jones told him Senate President Lew Brantley strongly favored a bill regulating wheelchair ambulance services.

But Jones said he doesn't recall such a conversation. An Ethics Commission staff report showed that Jones was one of five lawmakers who had difficulty recalling details and debate over the controversial bill. The commission on Thursday will hold a meeting requested by Brantley, who said he wants to clear his name of allegations that he pushed legislation last session to benefit a wheelchair ambulance firm he owned.

Pastor Changes Sex Denials

SEBRING (AP) - A Baptist pastor asked for his congregation's prayers after pleading guilty to three sex-related charges and resigning his church post.

Police arrested Earnest earlier this month after parents of three young girls complained that the minister made improper advances to their children at youth meetings in the First Baptist Church last fall.

In the arrest affidavits, Earnest was charged with luring the young girls, ages 7, 11, and 12 into his office with candy and bubblegum, and then kissing and fondling them.

Malpractice Bills Okayed

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - The House Commerce Committee has approved a package of medical malpractice insurance bills designed to take the place of a measure struck down by the courts as unconstitutional. The new package would reenact most of the malpractice provisions adopted last year.

Circuit Judge Donald Hartwell of Tallahassee struck down the state's malpractice statute earlier this year, saying it violated the constitutional ban on a statute addressing more than one subject.

"I've really taken a leave of absence from an active 13-year period in politics and civic work to devote 100 per cent of my time to my growing company operations and to my family and it has been a very rewarding ex-

Defeated in the Democratic primary in September in his campaign to become a member of Congress, Vihlen said he hopes to have time to get involved politically and in civic affairs later this summer, adding he has been "approached from the Tallahassee level to consider a couple alternatives involving some major appointments of regional r state significance."

While on the county commission, Vihlen was elected by his colleagues to two-one year terms as its chairman. Vihlen said his business is booming in commercial-type electric construction out of the Greater Orlando area with jobs in eight different cities stretching from Tallahassee to as far south as Lake Placid. - DONNA ESTES

Serious Crimes Decrease

TALLAHASSEE (AP) Serious crime in Florida dropped by 8.6 per cent in 1976 for the first decline in several years, the Florida Department of Criminal Law Enforcement eports.

Violent crimes of murder, rape, robbery and assault were down 5.4 per cent while non-violent crimes dropped an even greater 8.9 per cent.

It was the first decline in the crime rate since the FDCLE began* preparing its comprehensive report in 1972. The report, issued Tuesday, showed a 7 per cent increase in violent crime in nonurban areas of the state but said the overall increase was 2.6 per cent because of an offsetting 3.4 per cent decline in non-violent crimes such as breaking and entering, thefts and auto theft.

The crime decrease in the 24 larger Florida counties classified as metropolitan was a sharp 9.2 per cent, with violent crime down 6.6 per cent and non-violent crime down 9.5 per

Overall crime increased by 8 per cent in 1975 after shooting up by 47.8 per cent in 1973 and 1974.

FDCLE Director William Troelstrup cautioned that it was too early to tell if the 1976 drop was a trend. "It should be recognized that there are no clear-cut indicators which allow law enforcement to conclude that crime will continue to decrease," he said.

The report showed 590,104 major crimes reported in 1976. one every 54 seconds. Murders were down 20 per cent, to 902, while forcible rape was up by 2.2 per cent to 3,051.

Aggravated assaults were also up, by 4.2 per cent, but the number of robberies dropped 21.7 per cent.

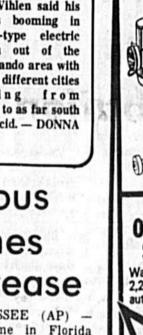

Breaking-and-entering dropped 16.3 per cent, car theft dropped 22.7 per cent and other thefts were down 3.3 per cent.

Big-Gun Assault On Free Trade

The big guns of American protectionism are being lined up by officials of business and organized labor to lay down a rolling barrage on foreign trade.

The purpose is to shoot down "cheap" imports and protect the American market for higher priced American products.

Sugar, color television sets, shoes, steel these are the imports the protectionists would like to shut off. They want the American consumer to pay the price of protecting the American producer, in each case, from competition.

The problem is that in each case the protectionist moves could provoke retaliation abroad. There are protectionists in every country where our exports under-sell the local competition. We dominate world markets in jetliners, computers, construction machinery, mineral mining machinery, communications equipment, medical instruments and many other products. We cannot build a tariff wall around this country that will not impede trade both ways. It must eventually . restrict our exports just as much as it restricts our imports.

President Carter is going to come under great pressure from industry, from labor and from the Congress to come to the rescue of ailing industries. The political heat will become intense.

Many people are firm believers in the virtures of the free market and free trade but when it comes to their own industry, they want order and stability and protection against predatory competition. Our own horse is always a horse of a different color.

Only the President can stand up against selfish pressures of this type, and speak for the good of the entire nation.

Pariff barriers and import quotas are designed escalate consumer prices. They increase inflation. We don't need them.

Callaghan's Image

Those who know him well call British Prime Minister James Callaghan "the closest thing to an American politician on the

Mr. Callaghan undoubtedly exerted his political charms extensively during his recently concluded two-day visit with President Carter. But there is no doubt that the visit was more than a routine "cementing of ties" with a new American president.

As with American politicians, Mr. Callaghan's first instinct is for political survival. He would like to avoid a general election until 1979. However, he presides over a country that is ravaged by unemployment and inflation. There is little hope that conditions will improve. That's not a stable platform for political

Mr. Callaghan, who has been predicting a very gloomy economic year for the industrial world in 1978, would like the United States to stimulate its economy as much as possible. Presumably the ripples would spread to Japan and the Common Market. We wouldn't advise Mr. Callaghan to hold his breath until help arrives from the United States. President Carter's 31.8 billion economic stimulus package already is threatening to increase inflation. Any deficit spending beyond that sum assuredly would. The ripple that would reach Britain wouldn't be exactly the one Mr. Callaghan bargained for. The irony of Mr. Callaghan's economic proposals is that they seek to pull the United States down the same path that Britain took after her empire collapse

Coming Aboard

Changing the law that now virtually rules out sea duty for women in the Navy looks like an idea whose time has come. The support of Navy Secretary W. Graham Claytor - plus a lawsuit raising the discrimination issue — should be enough for the Navy to batten down for a buffeting from the winds of change.

Needless to say, this will be a trying time for old Navy hands whose ships have been an exclusive male domain. Some Navy women are not enthused about the idea even if they can't argue with the principle behind it. And Navy wives are not exactly cheering.

Phasing women into ships' crews is going to be a challenge, especially if the idea prevails that women should not serve on combat missions. However, the rule limiting women to the crews of hospital ships and transports is clearly a vestige of the past. We'd hesitate to say in what capacities or in what numbers Navy women will be going to sea, but go they will.

Governor Reubin Askew's 1977-78 education budget recommendations have prompted faint praise from several Florida teacher unions. The Florida Education Association-United (FEA) charges that the state legislature has failed to reform "an outmoded tax structure" and is making a below-average tax effort in support of education

"Florida has become a tax haven for the rich." the union contends. "Residents are bearing a belowaverage tax burden in contributing to state and local tax revenues.

"While the governor has finally recognized the need for increased taxes to meet the state's responsibility to provide a quality education system, his proposals fall short of what is needed," stated Richard Batchelder, FEA president.

from four to five per cent and hiking taxes on beer, wine, liquor, cigars and pipe tobacco to raise the bulk of $416 million in new taxes. The proposal for public schools is $68.6 million below Department of Education recommendations, the FEA said. Additionally, the union contends that there is a direct connection between overcrowded classrooms and the increase in discipline problems. Bill Moore, president of the Seminole Education Association, agrees with the FEA's contentions. "I definitely feel the state should assume more of the education burden," he said. "Serious consideration should be given to a 1 cent sales tax." Moore added that Floridians pay less sales tax than most other states. Moore, a teacher at Lyman High School, said

ANGLE-WALTERS That Sealed Decision In Glomar Case

WASHINGTON - Wending its way through the federal courts here is one of the most bizarre lawsuits in the history of American jurisprudence - a case in which the trial court judge has, in effect, put a "top secret" security classification on his final decision in a civil suit. The case begain in a quite routine fashion in December 1975, when the Military Audit Project (MAP), a Washington-based citizens' group which seeks to monitor defense and national security activities, filed suit in U.S. District Court against the Defense Department and Central Intelligence Agency. Citing the Freedom of Information Act, MAP asked the court to order the federal agencies to make public details of the financing of the "Glomar Explorer," the specially designed ship which the CIA reportedly used in an effort to raise the hull of a sunken Soviet submarine from the Pacific Ocean floor several years ago. The government immediately responded with a proposal to seal all the legal papers it filed in MARYLIN K. TIPTON proceedings in the case in camera - in secret sessions in the judge's chambers - and grant the government an ex parte hearing, one at which only federal officials would be allowed to meet with the judge.

There is no public record of what transpired on those occasions. MAP and its impractical. attorney, William A. Dobrovir, were barred from the room.

Two days after the secret hearing, Gesell summarily terminated the case, issuing a oneline order in favor of the government: "The complaint is dismissed for reasons stated" in his chambers. The judge also wrote a longer opinion, explaining the basis for his ruling and his sudden change of attitude. But, in an apparently unprecedented action, he ordered it sealed by the court clerk. MAP appealed to the U.S. Court of Appeals here, where the case is awaiting a hearing.

Dutch Plane Not Cleared For Takeoff In Disaster

SANTA CRUZ DE TENERIFE, Canary Islands (AP) - Two survivors of the jumbo jetliner collision died during the night, raising the death toll in aviation's worst disaster to 577. There were 323 Americans among the dead, according to airline sources. Meanwhile, a Dutch investigator admitted that the KLM 747 airliner that collided with a Pan American jet as the Dutch plane was trying to take off at Tenerife airport in the Canary Islands had not been cleared for takeoff. But he claimed the American 747 should not have been on the runway where it was hit, a claim Pan Am disputed.

We Need More McGuires

NEW YORK (AP) - There's nothing wrong with college sports it a few more Al McGuires wouldn't cure. Gusts of fresh air swept through the TV tubes Monday night when Al McGuire's Marquette team beat the University of North Carolina for the NCAA basketball championship. It wasn't that North Carolina or its highly-respected coach -Dean Smith, who brought back the Olympic gold medal from Montreal - was cast in a villainous role.

It was only that McGuire - volatile, emotional, earthy and without an ounce of pretentiousness - offered such a contrast to the normal highpressure and disciplined mold that it was difficult for the unbiased observer not to stand up on the living room chair and cheer

All of us have been over-exposed to the martinet, the Marine syndrome - barking orders, cracking the whip and treating the game as if it were a war. The late Vince Lombardi became the revered symbol of this approach when, in the midst of winning two Super Bowl titles with his Green Bay Packers, he said, "Winning isn't everything - it is the only thing." His words have been carved in stone. But some of the men who played for him idolized him. Others called him a heartless, uncelling brute. It depended on who measured up to his lofty stanards. He had no sympathy for the weak.

Ohio State's legendary Woody Hayes can be a warm, pleasant human being at a cocktail party or in the living room. Put him on the football field in a critical game and he often reverts to a madman - tearing his shirt, smashing his wrist watch and belting photographers. "Win, win, win!"

"Kill, kill, kill!"

These are cries heard often on our playing fields. Among the pros, who have made it their business, it perhaps can be tolerated. Among fuzz-faced college kids, it is inexcusable. McGuire, 48, one of the street-fighting McGuire brothers of New York's Far Rockaway Beach, puts the sport into proper per-

"Winning is only important," he says, "in war and surgery." The millions of fans who watched the Marquette coach's sideline histrionics on television could not help being intrigued by the informality of it all. McGuire paced in front of the bench, yelling and making hand signals. In huddles, players were seen arguing with their coach in seemingly heated tones. One wondered: Would Indiana's stern Bobby Knight have stood for that?

"They argue when we are 15 points ahead," McGuire explains. "When the score is close, they listen with their mouths shut." The youngish-looking Irishman, quick with the quip, disdains his own importance as head coach. "I have people with me who do the coaching. I attend the ocktail parties," he says. "Each game is like pick up sticks. You pick 'em up, hold 'em and drop 'em."

Marquette picked up more sticks than it dropped Monday night.

12A-Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Wednesday, March 30, 197

By JANE CASSELBERRY Herald Staff Writer

Elimination of Saturday mail delivery, increased tax subsidies for the Postal Service and 22-cent postage on first-class mail will be recommended to Congress on April 18 by a federal commission studying the future of the financially troubled Postal Service. This is the grim picture painted by the panel for the mail service by 1985. Although chances of congressional approval appear slim, without these measures it is predicted the first-class rate will increase to 28 cents by that time to cover rising cost of mail

Ending Saturday delivery would save $400 million annually, the commission concludes. Back in 1970 as the floundering 181-year-old U.S. Post Office was about to be replaced by a corporation-style federal agency the U.S. Postal Service authorities were predicting once the department was taken "out of politics" and free from congressional control, better service would follow. Independent management, the Zip code, mechanization and the 'mail factory" concept were to help speed mail on its way. At that time the cost to mail a first-class letter was only six cents, but soon went up to eight cents.

Seven years and several service cutbacks and raises in the postal rates later, the stamp costs 13 cents and the post office is still losing money.

These latest threats are just one more blow to local business men still struggling to cope with past curtailments of services. While Sanford Postmaster James Covington explains that it has all been in the interest of economy and efficiency, local residents are shaking their heads over the fact that mail is only dispatched twice a day, the first at 3:30 p.m. and the second two and a half hours later.

While Covington points with pride to next-day delivery by air to Los Angeles, Sanfordites bewail the fact that letters mailed here with local addresses go by way of Orlando and often take 3-5 days to reach their destination. Dr. Richard Dougherty, local optometrist, has three complaints. He says the pick-up times are too close together and "many professional offices can't get the mail in before the 5:30 deadline: 9 p.m. or even 8 p.m. would be better." Dougherty says Sanford Post Office is too slow in boxing the mail in the morning delaying the start of the business day for many offices. "The mail comes in at 6, why can't it be put up before 9?" he asks. "Each time I've sent off complaints to the postmaster, I get results for a short time and then it goes back like it what Insuranceman Bob Crumley complains, too. "They are putting it up later and later," he says. Crumley and Dougherty, like many others in the business community, complain it often takes five days for letters mailed locally to get delivered because of its Orlando route. Another frequent complaint is that the stamp machine in the post office is often out of stamps when the office is closed. Postmaster Covington says there has been no morning dispatch for the past two or three years.

"When we had several trains coming through each day, it made

Cake batter; 8 eggs, separated

- 1½ cups sugar 2-3rd cups orange juice
- 1 tsp grated orange rind
- 34 cup Passover cake meal
- 1/2 cup potato starch h tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- 1-3rd cup finely chopped nuts
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped Strawberry Ambrosia
- Topping
- carton strawberries, washed, hulled and sliced
- 2 cups Florida orange sections
- 2 medium baranas, sliced 1-3rd cup flaked
- coconut 'i cup sugar

cup heavy cream tsp vanilla

ths sugar

For shortcake, beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually add sugar, beating after each addition until mixture is light but very thick. Add orange juice and beat well (about 3 minutes on electric mixer). Stir in orange rind. Sift together cake meal, potato starch, salt and cinnamon. Add nuts and mix lightly. Fold dry plate. Spread with one-third of whipped cream and top with two-thirds of ambrosia. Pour juices (from sugared fruit) over the ambrosia and top with another one-third of whipped cream. Center second cake layer over filling, spread with remaining whipped cream and top with remaining abrosia. Makes 8 servings.

To section oranges, cut slice from top, then cut off peal in strips from top to bottom, cutting deep enough to remove white membrane. Or cut off peal round and round spiral fashion. Go over fruit again to remove any remaining white membrane. Cut along side of each dividing membrane from outside to middle of core. Remove section by section. (NOTE: Shortcake may be prepared with bakery Passover sponge cake layers.)

Bakers 'Discovered' At Area Cannery

There's more going on at the Seminole Community Action Cannery than just canning. At a recent free demonstration, Ruthe Runge, Longwood, led her audience through the step-by-step process of bread and cookie baking. Those attending had an opportunity to knead and roll the doughs themselves, and to follow the process from start to

While bread making is a simple process, said Mrs. Runge, it is also a precise process which requires careful watching during every step. Some of her recipes follow. The Seminole Community Action Cannery is located at 504
