Truman Calls For Reduction In World Barriers To Trade

President Declares U. S. Can Lead Way To Economic Peace By Decisive Action

WACO, Texas, Mar. 6—President Truman took issue today with those who would have America return to high tariffs and a policy of economic isolation. He called for a reduction of world trade barriers and declared the United States can lead the nations to economic peace or plunge them into economic war.

The President spoke at Baylor University where he received an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. He was on his way home from a three-day goodwill visit to Mexico. His remarks were delivered in his Baylor acceptance speech. Mr. Truman reaffirmed his faith in the Reciprocal Trade Act. He welcomed continuation of bipartisan support for a foreign policy calling for cooperation in the economic as well as the political field. He declared that the alternative to regeneration of world trade is the World Trade Charter which will be taken up by 18 nations at Geneva next month.

The President told his audience that the Geneva negotiations must not fail. He said the future pattern of world economic relations depends on the United States, whether we like it or not. He warned that the world is waiting and watching America and said there must be no question as to our course. He declared we must get through a period like the 1930's again.

Mr. Truman said that the reduction of trade barriers is both a settled policy of the American government and one of the cornerstones of our peace plans. Apparently referring to some Republicans in Congress who oppose the program, he declared there are still a few among us who undermine this policy for partisan advantage. To these opponents he issued this warning: "Take care. Times have changed. Our position in the world has changed. The slogans of 1930 or of 1896 are (Continued on Page Three)

Life Shows Pictures Of Barr School

Mar. 10 Issue Depicts Umpire Training At Sanford Airport; Includes Article

By WILLARD CONNELLY
Under the title "Umpire School", Life Magazine presents on page 57 of its March 10 issue a page of photographs and a description of the George Barr Umpire School which was attended in January and February by 94 men under the personal instruction of George Barr, National League umpire. Two pictures of umpire students are shown on the following page, and on page 61 is an article, "The Umpire's Role" by Noel F. Busch.

The pictures were taken by Life Photographer George Barris at the Sanford Municipal Airport where the students trained. The magazine, published weekly, has a circulation of more than 3,000,000.

Umpire Barr in long underwear is featured in the center of the largest picture, and he is standing between two fully clad umpires. It is stated underneath the picture: "Umpires clothing and equipment is modeled by students and instructor George Barr (center) who wears long underwear to absorb perspiration."

At the bottom of the page Barr is shown, back to the camera, facing his assembled students on the ball field and they are spreading hands, palms down, in the characteristic gesture of umpires that indicates that a runner is safe.

"That umpire students do not always agree on a decision is shown on page 60 where in a base sliding scene at Sanford Municipal Ball Park one neophyte umpire says the runner is out; the other calls him safe. The lower illustration shows Hugh Brown, one of the students, in abbreviated attire, practicing before a mirror in the naval barracks where the students live. He is perfecting his form in "declaring a runner out."

In his article on umpires, Busch stresses the necessity of instilling confidence in umpires and states in his headline, "In a most unmythical he remains an autocrat."

The article devoted to the umpire school mentions Sanford and states that last month 94 men (Continued on Page Three)

Termination Notice Must Be Rescinded; Fine Against Union Is Set At $700,000

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6—The Supreme Court today upheld the contempt convictions of John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers.

The Court approved the $10,000 fine imposed on Lewis, and ordered the $3,500,000 fine assessed against the union reduced to $700,000. There was a specification that the union must pay an additional fine of $2,800,000 unless it complies with a lower court's order within five days.

This means that Lewis must withdraw the contract termination notice sent Secretary of the Interior Julius Krug last November. It was the government's contention that the contract runs through the period of government operation, which must end by law on June 30. The United Mine Workers must recognize that the contract is still in effect or the union will have to pay the full $3,500,000 fine.

The penalties grew out of Lewis' refusal to obey a court order intended to head off the soft coal strike last November.

The long-awaited decision was announced today as the Court met for a regular argument session. Ordinarily, the Supreme Court announces decisions only on Mondays and today's ruling caught all parties by surprise.

Chief Justice Vinson delivered the opinion of the majority. Justice Frankfurter wrote a concurring opinion. Justices Murphy and Rutledge wrote dissenting opinions. Justices Black and Douglas each wrote an opinion in which they concurred in part and dissented in part.

Evangelistic Meet For Railroad Men Starts On Monday

A railroad evangelistic conference, which many railroad people are expected to attend, and out of which may come the decision to establish in Sanford a permanent home for retired railroad men and their families will be started by the Railroad Evangelistic Association next Monday evening at the Fellowship College at the Sanford Municipal Airport, it was announced today by Luther S. Harkey, retired Sanford Railroad Engineer and editor of The Railroad Evangelist.

"I will encourage much to the city of Sanford if such a home for retired railroad men is established," said Mr. Harkey. "This work is inter-denominational and is a national movement and has the backing of ministers, and railroad officials."

"We earnestly appeal to the ministers and citizens of Sanford to attend these meetings and help us in this work that we have been carrying on for several years," said Mr. Harkey. "Also we want to prove to the officers of the Railroad Evangelistic Association and visitors that Sanford wants to keep the headquarters here and to establish an outstanding railroad colony and retired home."

"The attitude that you as citizens of Sanford take," he declared, "will decide the future of this work here in Sanford. This may mean the bringing of hundreds of retired railroaders here, also their loved ones and friends, and this will be a big advantage to our city."

Four outstanding evangelists speakers will be heard at the conference. Among these is Edward P. Perry of Joliet, Ill. chairman of the advisory board of the Railroad Evangelistic Association Inc. who on Wednesday evening started a four day revival at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Tabernacle on the Orlando Road.

FIREMEN ARE SHOWN hunting through the debris for victims of the blast in the Chicago Loop area which demolished a 3-story building and badly damaged nearby elevated tracks and buildings. At least three were known to be dead and 46 injured. The terrific explosion was near the La Salle Street railroad station in the heart of the heavily populated wholesale district. Had it occurred on a week-day the life toll would have been terrific, say officials. (International)

Bad as the United States government needs money, the Treasury Department makes a $47,000,000 tax refund to the Aluminum Company of America, biggest single monopoly in the United States. We don't doubt that the Aluminum company overpaid its taxes, but what a howl would be raised by the Communists if a Republican administration made such a refund.

We may be wrong; but Judge fact, he was almost a candidate been for sickness in his family. If he does run next year, he will make a strong contender and a very likely successor for Joe Hendricks who has announced he will not seek re-election.

The British and French signed a 30-year defense treaty at Dun-writing something former Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin said some years before the war, "Britain's

Britain's frontier is on the Rhine, American's may well wonder where our frontier is, especially since we are being asked to take over in Greece. May be our frontier is on the Aegean, or could it be the Dardanelles?

The Post Office Department has

Stomach Aches

We like to boast in the United States about our medical sciences, about our wonderful hospitals, and health clinics, about our skilled surgeons and doctors, about the miraculous curative powers of our marvelous drugs, sulfanilamide, penicillin, and what have you. In all probability they are the best in the world.

And yet more people in the United States die every year from appendicitis than in any other country in the world. We may feel sorry for the war-stricken people of China, the poverty ridden Hindus of India, the Italians, the Poles and the Greeks, but they don't know anything when it comes to appendicitis.

According to Dr. J. A. Foltz in the "Journal of the Arkansas Medical Society," the mortality rate for appendicitis is 60 percent higher in the United States than it is in Mexico. It is 70 percent higher than it is in Germany. It is twice as high as it is in England. And it is three times as high as it is in Italy. Strangely enough, the farther down the scale you go in the standard of living the less appendicitis you find.

And the worst thing about it is, the mortality rate from appendicitis in the United States is getting worse, in spite of all the recently discovered drugs for combatting infection and inflammation. It now has an annual death rate equal to that from automobile accidents.

The reason for this upward trend as well as for the prevalence of the disease in this country is the tendency of the American people to take a drastic laxative every time they have a stomach ache, according to Dr. Joseph Franklin Montague, formerly of Bellevue Hospital and now head of the New York Intestinal Sanitarium, who has just written a book on the subject.

He says that laxatives not only help to cause appendicitis, but that in the event of an acute attack, where severe abdominal pains are apt to be present, they are definitely likely to rupture the appendix and make death, if not inevitable, at least dangerously probable.

Under no circumstances, he insists, should a laxative be taken when there is a pain in the stomach.

Furthermore, he says that any stomach pain which persists more than four or five hours is likely to be caused by appendicitis and should be diagnosed and treated by a competent physician. Self-administered drugs under such circumstances, he insists, are suicidal.

The reason people in other countries are not troubled so much with appendicitis is because they do not eat so much rich food, they do not have laxatives so readily available, and they would not have the money with which to buy them if they were available.

Movable Easter

Easter, celebrated this year on April 6, may fall anywhere between March 22 and April 25. This wide fluctuation of 35 days is the result of a decision in the year 325 by the Council of Christian Churches meeting in Ni-cea, present-day Nice, or Iank in Asiatic Turkey. Easter was set to be the first Sunday following the first full moon after the Vernal Equinox, which comes on March 21. The full moon was important because it helped pilgrims on their way to the great Easter festivals.

The changing date has been a problem through the years, and a subject of much lay and ecclesiastical debate. The discussion culminated in Britain in 1928 when Parliament passed a statute designed to make Easter the first Sunday after the second Saturday in April. This cuts the variation to less than a week. But the bill had to await international approval. So far this has not been forthcoming.

Desirable as such a fixed time for Easter would be on many counts, a change of this sort touches a great heritage of religious feeling and tradition. It would be a most difficult reform to achieve. Doubtless for a long while to come the Christian world will wrestle with the present movable arrangement.

Nothing To Be Done?

"What laws are you going to recommend?" was the question asked of Lord Palmerston, the 19th century Englishman who wound up an almost uninterrupted half century of office-holding by ten years as prime minister.

"Oh," said Palmerston blandly, "there is really nothing to be done. We cannot go on legislating forever." How the world has changed since then! Statesmen may disagree on every other topic, but they all know that perfection in lawmaking has not been reached, and that it will take all possible ingenuity in new laws to keep the ship of state afloat.

Prelude To Moscow Meeting

Foreign ministers of the great powers have been meeting intermittently since Sept. 11, 1945, in a continuing effort to hammer out a peace program and heal the wounds of World War II. When they meet again March 10 in Moscow they will have behind them five formally called meetings in addition to a sixth opportunity to discuss world problems face to face when they met during the advisory peace conference of 21 nations in Paris between July 29 and Oct. 15, 1946.

"THE TIE THAT BINDS"

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

With another legislative session in the offing, any information that gives some idea of the kind of men who will serve us in the House and Senate is of genuine interest.

Secretary of State Bob Gray has been studying the list of members and in a press release this week gives us some interesting facts about the backgrounds, personalities, vocations and religious affiliations of the 134 men who will occupy legislative seats at the coming session.

While Secretary Gray doesn't tell us how far they would reach if laid end to end, he does reveal that of the 134 men only 65 are native born Floridians.

He further reveals that 87 have had the benefit of college training, that 39 have experienced military service, 19 in World War I and 20 in World War II.

The average age for members of the House is 45 and for members of the Senate it is 48.

Turning to vocations, his study of the record shows that as usual, lawyers are far in the lead with 78 or more than half, giving their occupation as "Attorney-at-Law." Since they play the roll of lawmakers this is a normal and natural situation.

The balance of the members represent varied occupations, four are in the livestock business, four lay claim to the title Realtors, four are contractors. Three give their vocation as automobile dealers, three as editors, two are druggists, two are citrus growers while one minister, one saw-mill operator, one dairyman, one accountant, one turpentine operator and one fisherman are listed.

Surprising is the fact that out of the 134 members only 66 or less than half, profess to be church members. Sixty-eight claim no church affiliation. These, the Tampa Tribune opines will be termed "atheists." At least they are honest and make no effort to wrap the cloak of religion about themselves and that to my mind is commendable.

While the Baptists usually have the edge, it is not so with this legislature for among the 66 who claim to be church members, the Methodists claim a total of 25 against the runner-up Baptists who have only 19.

Others represent a scattering of denominations.

While these statistics are interesting, they don't really tell us much about these men. The fact that a man has been to college, has seen service in the Army or Navy, belongs to a church and during his life has engaged in this or that business, doesn't necessarily indicate his qualifications as a law-maker.

It will probably develop that among the members who claim none of these advantages, a number will be found who will prove themselves splendid legislators because of their honesty, courage and good judgment.

At best the job of a legislator is most trying for those who sincerely accept its responsibilities and tackle the work seriously. It requires a keen mind and an understanding heart to analyze each problem, withstand the pressure and arrive at an intelligent decision.

The coming session promises to be plenty tough for law-makers will find themselves besieged with demands for increased appropriations on the one hand and opposition on the part of business and industry and the public to more taxes.

It will not be easy to look ahead for the next two years and determine how much money a state department or bureau should have to operate efficiently. Indications are that some of the present source of revenue will be cut off within the next 24 months as the wild spending and gambling slacks up and folks begin to get their feet back on the ground.

There will probably be some good laws passed at the coming session and by the same token there will be some bad and foolish ones. All we can do is wait and see what happens. At it looks from here, the men who serve us in the 1947 legislature appear to be a good average group than can be depended upon to do an average legislative job.

They are entitled to our confidence and our support.

WASHINGTON

Champagne toasts were slipped to the "One Who Carefully Distinguishes Between Right and Wrong" on the occasion of that discerning dignitary's 27th birthday recently.

His is King Farouk I, 20th Century successor of the pharaohs of Egypt. The celebration of the Egyptian Emperor was quite something special. The Egyptian cook concocted all kinds of exotic delicacies.

King Farouk has traveled extensively in his part of the world.
He flies his own plane and has his own yacht. People at the party expressed the hope he will soon make a visit to this country.

The only son of King Fuad, Farouk succeeded to the throne on his father's death, April 28, 1936. He was carefully educated, mostly in England, for his role.

and gave her a birthday check for $50,000. They have three daughters.

His father left him $20,000,000 and his annual income is about $500,000. At one time he owned 25 automobiles. He has two palaces in Cairo and two in Alexandria.

In the main palace, where he does most of his lavish entertaining, he has a private theater and an elaborate banquet hall of Italian marble and gold.

He has a far-famed staff of chefs and accomplished waiters, and his dinners are really something to write home about. Guests always gather at the theater first for a program of French ballet, singing, acrobatic acts and dances.

After Farouk joins his guests, they all move into the banquet hall where an unobscure number of different foods are served from long suffit tables. There is no drinking while Farouk is present, but it is understood that after he leaves guests may partake of any liquid refreshment they desire.

The Nubians, whom he frequently takes with him on his travels, are progressively getting in criminal costumes richly embroidered in gold.
They wear crimson tunics of their beards. Their faces are absolutely expressionless, and they have never been seen to speak while "on duty."

While he was a young man the king never allowed himself to be called Prince, though the British press called him Prince, Friday,

Retirement Plan Is Offered By F. P. & L.

Nearly 100 employees of the Florida Power and Light Company in the Sanford area will be among the 2,000 company employees who will benefit from a plan recently announced by McGregg Smith, company president, whereby employees are retired at the age of 65 and provided a monthly income without work, according to H. H. Coleman local manager.

The full cost of the retirement program will be borne by the Florida Power & Light Company, Mr. Coleman quoted Mr. Smith as saying. Designed to provide leisure and freedom from money worries at an age when most Florida men and women are still active, the retirement plan affects Florida Power & Light Company employees now over 30 years of age and under 65.

The amount of the income to be paid monthly when the employee retires at the age of 65 will be based upon his salary and length of service with the company. The retirement plan affects Florida Power & Light Company employees now over 30 years of age and under 65.

Hollywood

By GENE HANSACKER HOLLYWOOD—It happened on 5th Avenue—that's the picture's title—and what happened is nearly all fun.

Pudgy Victor Moore is a hum who takes refuge for the winter in the heart of Fifth Avenue mansion of the second richest man in the world (Charlie Ruggles).

What happens when an ex-soldier (Don DeFore) moves in too, when the rich man's daughter (Gladys Stogram) returns for her first job when the G.I.'s pals move in with their wives, babies, and in-door laundry—well, those are the ingredients of the merriment.

Some of it is slapstick, and cutting its 114 minute length would remove some tedious sequences. But if you need some chuckles, you'll find them in "The Big Store" and "Edward G. Robinson" in the cast.

CALIFORNIA—the state that deserves a better tribute than Paramount's color film of the same name. Barbara Stanwick is literally tossed out of a midwestern town and when she returns, she's a bad woman. She talks her way into the Millard's covered wagon train to California; and why Ray eventually should fall for this woman of grinding harness is anybody's guess.

HARRY PITTSBURGH, who sticks to grape-growing when all the emigrant farmers about him are seized with gold fever, takes tirelessly of the Golden State's destiny. George Coulouris and his cronies plot to set up an empire. A rip-roaring battle finally ensues the proceedings.

CALIFORNIA's claim these days: Miss Stanwick's first color movie. Millard's first ride on horseback. First use of walkie talkies. "Dead Reckoning" traces Humphrey Bogart's efforts to clear the name of a murdered body in the paratrooper. Killing, poison, blackmail and general rough stuff can't do much for an involved and improbable story. Elizabeth Scott, as Bogart's leading lady, is lily unwinning.

"Pursued" explains—but not too clearly—why one-armed badman Dean Jagger goes through life taking gun shots at rancher Robert Mitchell. It asks you to believe that sweet Teresa Wright actually would marry a man in order to kill him on their wedding night.

Problems Confront VA In Philippines

By VERN HAUGLAND WASHINGTON—A million headaches, more or less, confront the Veterans Administration (VA) in the Philippines.

What is a guerrilla? Who were the Philippine Scouts and who were the members of the Commonwealth Army? What is the position of the VA with relation to the new Republic of the Philippines?

Philippine defenses before Pearl Harbor included the Commonwealth Army of the Philippines, composed of some 90,000 Filipinos, and 12,000 Philippine Scouts. Filipinos who had enlisted in the regular U. S. Army in July, 1911, President Roosevelt ordered the Commonwealth Army into the U. S. armed forces. It suffered heavy casualties, and most of its records were lost.

After the surrender of Batavia, guerrilla warfare continued on many of the islands. Much of it was organized and unorganized, and some of it of doubtful value. Certain guerrilla units, however, were under the direct command through secret channels of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Now the VA Philippines staff of 50 is engaged in the mammoth task of helping to determine which Filipinos are entitled to what benefits. The U. S. Congress has ruled that the 12,000 Scouts are entitled to all benefits available to other American veterans residing permanently in foreign countries. There are service-connected death and disability compensation, national service life insurance and the education and job-training benefits of the G. I. Bill.

As with all veterans residing permanently in foreign countries, they are not eligible for loan guarantees, readjustment (unemployment) allowances or medical or hospital treatment privileges.

Veterans of the Commonwealth Army are entitled only to national service life insurance under contracts entered into before Feb. 1, 1946, and service-connected disability compensation.

More than 1,000,000 Filipinos have applied to the War Department for recognition as guerrillas, but the whole question of guerrilla qualification for VA benefits remains confused. Guerrillas who also served in the Commonwealth Army qualify without question for specific benefits.

VA officials say thousands of Filipinos now are seeking records, affidavits from

U. Of F. Increases Housing Facilities By 175 Percent

GAINESVILLE, Mar. 6.—(Special) Increasing its housing facilities by 175 per cent in the past year to meet the needs of increasing veteran enrollment, the University of Florida housing administration today is a far cry from the minor department existing in the recollection of alumni of the Buckman and Thomas Dormitory era.

Faced with the building of the state's population in the past 15 years and the tripling of University enrollment, the housing administration has met the situation with temporary dorms for more than 2,000 single students and three village and two trailer communities for the ever-growing number of married students.

Where seven years ago the University housed only 400 students, today some 1,070 students are housed on the campus property and exclusive fraternity buildings which house 1,000. Other off-campus houses and apartments accommodate more than 2,000.

By the fall of 1947 it is expected that almost 5,000 students will be housed under the University system, a gain of 1,000 units in two years.

Handling the complex job of housing an unprecedented enrollment and solving individual problems of a multitude of students, as well as directing the continuing expansion of the housing system, is a staff of 15 headed by Harold C. Riker, director of housing.

The housing office began its rapid growth from a minor department in the office of the business manager with the opening of Fletcher and Woodruff buildings and the creation of the Office Director of Residence in September, 1939.

Except for the war period when University enrollment fell off sharply, the expansion of the housing of five has been pushed at a rate faster than ever anticipated.

Most of the available insurance bonds of Filipino veterans were transmitted by radio from Batavia and Cebu after the loss of Manila. Since the transmissions included only the names of the insured and their designated beneficiaries, without serial number or date of attachment, VA now is having trouble identifying insurance beneficiaries.

In recognition of the service of Commonwealth Army units cut off from headquarters during the Batavia campaign and their designated beneficiaries, VA has extended its insurance benefits to dependents of those killed in duty before April 20, 1942.

5 Million U. S. Gifts Received by Germans

FRANKFURT, Mar. 6.—More than 5,000,000 gift parcels from the U. S. have been received by German civilians. U. S. Army headquarters reported.

Residents in the American zone received 2,981,000 parcels, 1,922,000 went to the British zone and 340,000 to the French zone. The Russian zone, which only recently began accepting such parcels, has received 8,000.

Forms Sent To Kin Of American Dead

ATLANTA, Ga.—Mar. 6.—(Special) Letters will be sent this week to more than 20,000 next of kin of American dead who now rest in 15 of the 200 temporary military cemeteries overseas as the first step in determining the final resting places of those who died outside the continental limits of the United States during World War II, the War Department announced today through the Atlanta General Depot, U. S. Army.

Forms on which next of kin will be asked to indicate where they wish final burial to be made will be included in the letters, according to Major General F. B. Larkin, Chief of the American Graves Registration Service. Similar letters and forms will be sent over a period of 18 months to all next of kin of World War II dead whose remains have been recovered and positively identified.

The first letters to be dispatched will go to next of kin of American dead who are now interred in cemeteries at St. Laurent, France; Henri Chapelle, Belgium; Cambridge, England; Nettuno, Italy; Gela, Sicily; Casablanca, French Morocco; Gafsa, Tunisia; Tunis, Tunisia; Schofield Barracks, Hawaii; Hanalei Naval Cemetery, Hawaii; Kaneohe Naval Air Station, Hawaii; Niihau Cemetery, Hawaii; Honolulu, Hawaii; Makalei, Hawaii; Makalei, Hawaii.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
A Definition of Our Town

Somebody defined our town just the other day as "a place where the people talk about you behind your back, and come to wait on you when you're sick."

I've got to admit they're something to it. A lot of our folks are inclined to be pretty outspoken and quick to criticize... even about little things like a woman's hat, or a man's preference for a glass of beer, or the color of Cy Hartman's new barn.

But when anyone's in trouble, these differences and points of criticism are forgotten... and folks become neighborly and helpful, like they really are.

From where I sit, criticism never did much harm to anybody, so long as folks don't let it guide their actions... so long as they respect our individual preferences, whether they apply to hate or beer. That's the way it is in our town, anyway, and I hope that it's the same in yours.

this Mistle is an Easter seal

It's only a small piece of crinkly edged paper with a back that's mighty sticky when it gets wet. Maybe it doesn't look like much, but I know a lot of kids who see plenty in this little Easter seal. They see wheelchairs and crutches to help them get out and do things. They see a school, and others see a ride to school. Lots of them see camp in the summer, good hot sunshine, leaf trees, acres of sweet-smelling green grass, and swimming, playing like other kids. But don't get me wrong, mister—they don't really see all this. These kids just dream it, because that's what they can have with the dollars you spend for Easter seals. Gosh, mister, it's wonderful of you to give us a chance to be like other kids!

INSIDE SPORTS REPORT

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.

There is quite a story behind George Barr's bringing his school for umpires to Sanford.

It all began at a dinner party in which Mr. and Mrs. Joel Field and Mr. and Mrs. L. V. McLaulin honored the National League umpire and his wife over a year ago.

Field invited Barr to bring his school to Sanford.

As the summer progressed, Barr maintained constant communication with McLaulin.

Missions And Mud Hens Begin First Workouts Today

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR. Herald Sports Editor

Nearly 75 athletes reported to the Toledo Mud Hens and San Antonio Mission Spring training camp at the Municipal Park this morning.

The Missions made the first appearance according to schedule at 9 o'clock followed by the Mud Hens at 11 o'clock.

Manager Frank Snyder of the Toledo team and Jimmie Adair of the Missions sent their squads through light calisthenics, wind sprints and other conditioning exercises.

The short session held yesterday by the two teams was devoted to passing equipment and setting up dressing room facilities for the men.

President Lee Kjeer of the Mud Hens and President Bill Osley of the Missions arrived the first of the week and have made complete arrangements for the teams at the Mayfair Inn.

Many highly rated players were on hand for the opening session, among whom were Al Milner, formerly with the Cleveland Indians, Dan Baich, Bill Scott, Earl Jones, Andy Gilbert, Frank Sacks, Maurice Newlin, Babe Martin, Frankie Croucher, Paul Cook and others.

Of much local interest will be the arrival of Ellis Clary who will perform with the Mud Hens again this year. Clary will be remembered as the fiery short stop who played with the Sanford Celery Feds in 1939 and 1940.

Football Recruiting Rule Hit By Malott

LAWRENCE, Kan.—The new football recruiting rule recommended by the NCAA was assailed today by the chancellor of the University of Kansas, Dean E. W. Malott.

The rule provides that no coach or athletic manager can approach a prospective athlete off the campus.

Malott vigorously opposed adoption of the rule by the mid-west conference, formerly the Big Six. Today, he elaborated by contending that such a rule would enable alumni with no direct responsibility to the university to recruit athletes by their own methods.
