

LBJ Aides Move To Nail Down Health Care Win

Limit Placed On Debate For Amendments

By Hale Montgomery
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration forces moved today to nail down a decisive Senate victory for President Johnson's health care for the aged program, already a key issue in the presidential campaign.

The Senate was to act on a number of amendments to a Social Security bill, which was expanded Wednesday to include the health care plan and a 97-a-month hike in cash benefits for Social Security recipients.

Final Senate passage was virtually assured. An agreement was reached to limit debate to two hours on each amendment and two hours on the bill itself. This clinched a final vote on the over-all bill before lawmakers take a three-day Labor Day recess.

Boistered by five Republican votes and the support of freshmen Democrats, the Senate Wednesday approved, 49 to 44, the proposal to provide hospitalization and nursing care benefits for the elderly. It would be financed through higher payroll taxes under the Social Security system and would provide a basic package of health protection for persons aged 65 and over.

President Johnson issued a statement hailing the Senate action as a "victory not only for older Americans but for all Americans."

He said that "in a free and prosperous society there is no need for any person, especially the elderly, to suffer personal economic disaster and become a tragic burden upon loved ones or the state through major illness" when it could be avoided under a pay-as-you-go Social Security system.

His Republican rival, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, voted against the health care amendment. He assailed the plan as a "step toward transforming our Social Security system . . . into public relief or charity program."

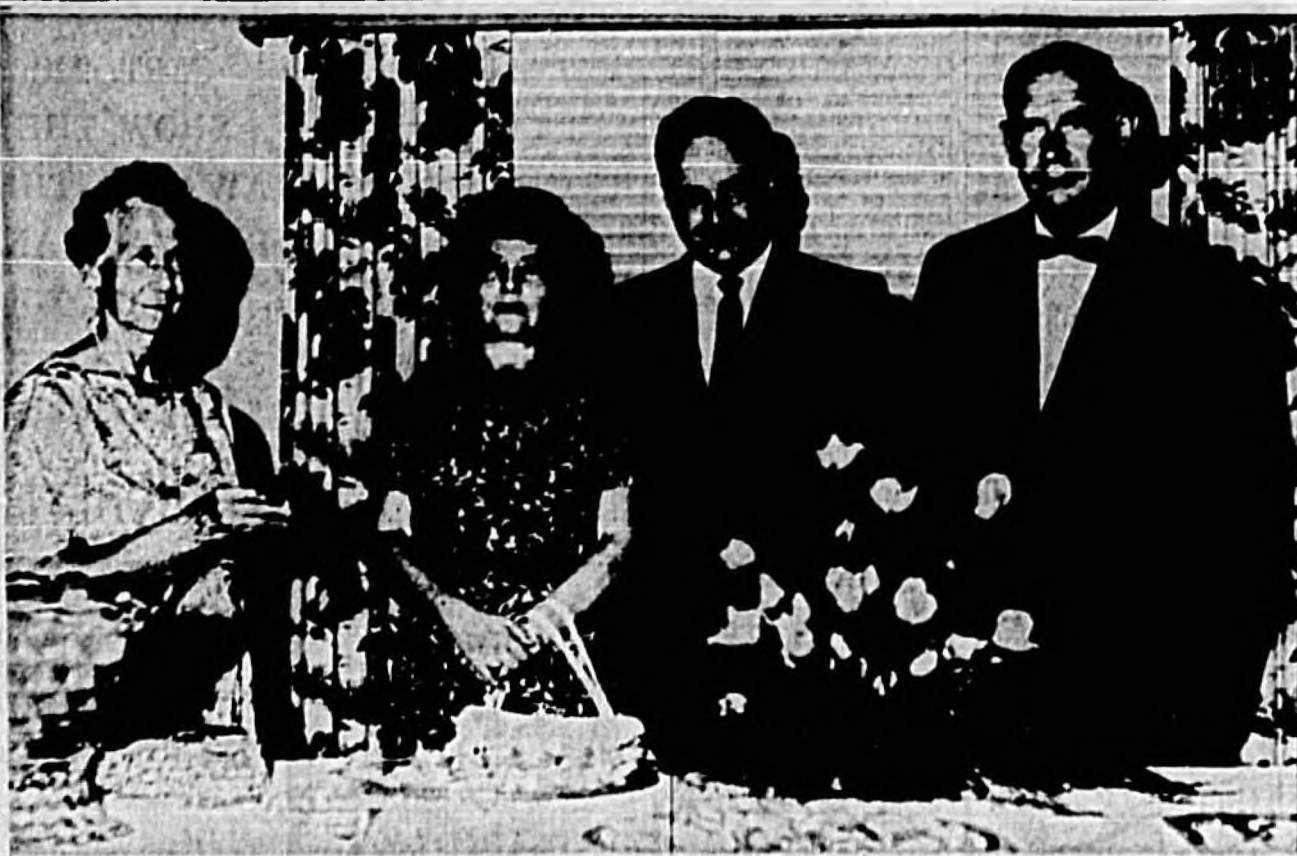

Backers of the health care proposal, despite their election, knew the biggest fight lay ahead-getting it through the House, which never has approved a medicare plan.

Barry Starts Drive; Pledges End For Draft

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (UPI) — Republican presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater accused the Johnson administration today of using the military draft law for social and political "schemes" and pledged that Republicans will end the draft altogether, and as soon as possible.

The Arizona senator made the statements in remarks from the steps of the Yavapai County Courthouse where he launched two victorious Senate campaigns.

He said the Johnson administration had a clear and immediate challenge to restore respect for law and order across the nation "And not just prior to election day either." He also said the administration had "pulled out all stops" to create an "artificial prosperity" in an election year.

President Gets In 'Practice' Politicking

By William J. Eaton
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson is doing a lot of politicking even before the formal kickoff of his election campaign Monday at a Labor Day rally in Detroit.

One forum has been a series of White House ceremonies to sign bills approved by Congress. Today Johnson arranged to sign the wilderness bill and was expected to issue a statement expressing his concern for America's natural resources.

This illustrates how a President can command attention for his views without even leaving the White House. Another example was Wednesday's cabinet room ceremony in which Johnson signed the $1.1 billion housing and urban renewal law.

The President declared the housing measure was a "milestone" on the way to keeping a commitment to assure every American an opportunity to live in a decent home in a safe and decent neighborhood.

He also commended Congress for passing mass transit, hospital, education and other bills that he said represented "the most constructive attack" on the problem of keeping America a fit place to live.

In another appearance in the cabinet room Wednesday, Johnson hailed what he termed "the longest and strongest uninterrupted prosperity in the nation's history."

Revolt Reported In Cuba

Soviet Military Build-Up Seen Against Fidel

MIAMI (UPI)—Reports of a recent rebellion in the ranks of Cuban militiamen, renewed guerrilla activity, and a "heightened Soviet military build-up" in Cuba were heard in Miami Friday.

Men from two militia companies—the exact number was unknown—turned against the Castro regime last month and joined Escambray mountain guerrillas in southern Las Villas Province, according to an authoritative diplomatic source.

The source said the revolt, apparently bloodless, was led by a Castro army captain. "Intervention by political commissars in each company apparently blocked a wholesale defection," the source added.

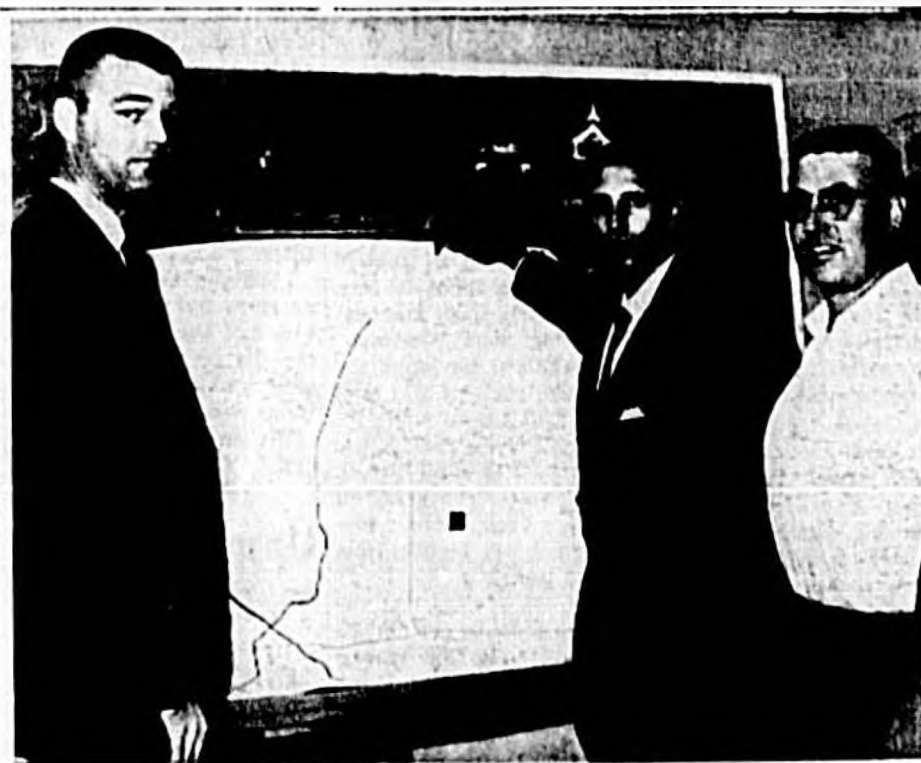

Meanwhile, the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba said that during the past 30-35 days, there has been a big build-up of Soviet bases, arms and naval activity.

This has included an influx of 17 and 18-year-old Soviet army recruits into the island, the committee said.

New Russian bases—possibly missile silos—are being constructed on the northern coast of Havana Province, the anti-Castro organization reported.

A "new arms shipment" received at the port of Matanzas last August is believed to have included missiles, the committee said.

All indications are that the Soviets have embarked on a heightened military build-up in Cuba which includes oceanographic studies of sea currents in the Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico, the committee report, issued here, said.

Court Battle Eyed On Street Closing

By Donna Estes. The Longwood City Council Thursday night voted unanimously to consult the city attorney about closing that portion of Jessup Avenue that passes through the recreation park and ball diamond.

The action was taken after a letter from L. J. North was read by Chairman R. C. Carlson demanding that the street be opened and the ball diamond abandoned.

Members of the council pointed out that North is the only resident using the road, choosing in many instances to travel across it when ball games are in progress.

Mrs. Geri Hittman, Mark Bullock and Taylor Muir appeared before council to express their appreciation to and commend the police department for patrolling and preventing any damage to their homes and properties while they were vacationing.

Muir also requested that Orange Avenue from Grant Street to SR 427 be paved. Councilman John Reams explained that standard procedure followed by the city concerning paving is to vote favorably on requests after a petition signed by 51 per cent of residents on the street in question is submitted.

In other business the low bid of Fisher and Porter, Inc., for supplying two chlorinating systems for the city's water was accepted as recommended by city engineer A. E. O'Neill and Associates. Work is scheduled to begin on this project within the next two weeks.

It was decided to approve the appointment of a six-man police reserve to assist Chief Claude Lajo and Patrolmen Ken Brabazon and Bud Eaton during times of emergencies. Members of the reserve group are to be paid $1 per month.

Beer license renewal was approved for W. L. Johnson of the C & M Cafe as was a beer and wine license renewal for Don and Geri's Restaurant.

Mayor A. R. Lormann was authorized to process a disclaimer in connection with the transfer of title of the old town hall property to Mrs. Bobbie Jo Hunt.

Council agreed to have additional street lights placed in Longdale as soon as easements can be obtained. Requests for lights on Orange Avenue at the Elementary School and on Pasadena Avenue and for resurfacing Highland Avenue, Evergreen and Marvin Streets were referred to the street committee.

Two school signs were ordered to be placed near the Christ Episcopal Church Kindergarten and audits for the last fiscal year were approved and accepted.

Problems Seen In Seminole's Big Expansion

By Frances Wester. "Seminole County will have a growth rate in the next 10 years second only to Brevard with its Cape Canaveral region," stated Gordon Orr at Thursday night's Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce meeting held in the fire house.

Seminole County's present population will double in five years, according to the study of the Orange-Seminole Joint Planning Commission, of which Orr is planning director.

"This population growth will be due to newcomers to the area, not births," said Orr. "Many of these will live in Seminole County and work in other areas. They will bring many problems; transportation routes, water and sewerage facilities."

The Orange-Seminole Planning Commission is a newly formed advisory and sounding board for proposals. It is now conducting studies of air facilities, economic situation, housing trends, and the industrial situation.

It has studied the ever increasing traffic problem in the two counties and has proposed as a solution, The Orange-Seminole Belt Line, a new highway to move traffic circumferentially around the congested urban area.

A similar proposal was made by the Southeastern Regional Planning Commission and this was explained to the Chamber at its last meeting in May by Robert Doyle. This board has just published a report of its study titled "Preliminary Regional Plan," for the seven county area it represents affected by IMPACT.

In its findings it states that Seminole will be the second most densely populated of the seven counties. Now is the time to plan ahead for this situation.

How Do You Greet God

How often someone has said to me in desperation that they want to have a close walk with God but that they simply do not know how to get started. "How do I approach God?" is the cry of man whether he speaks it or not.

The Bible is not clear on everything for our limited minds and hearts but we find that God speaks in a very hard way on all basic matters. The approach to God is, of course, a basic of basics. We can approach God finally by faith alone. This is not to say that nothing happens to us except an intellectual assent to a creed about God which is sometimes confused with faith. When we have faith in God we believe that He is completely trustworthy for all of life including time before and after death.

The Bible says much on this matter of faith and since it is God speaking to us I shall quote a number of passages. "But as many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His name" (John 1:12). "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16:31). "For he that cometh to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him" (Hebrews 11:6). There are many more references that could be given concerning the approach to God through faith which you can find by referring to your Bible concordance.

Certainly we know that the kind of faith that is real is the kind that results in obedience. A child who has faith in his earthly parents will want to obey. To be sure there are times when obedience is not what we want but it is what we will seek to accomplish if the faith is right.

Each family attending is asked to bring a casserole dish. Table service will be provided.

An organizational meeting for a Ladies Auxiliary has been called for 10 a.m. next Thursday, Sept. 10, at the home of the president, Mrs. Geri Rigby, on Lake Brantley Road in Forest City.

Ladies Discuss Project Plans

Plans were discussed for future fund raising projects at the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the First Pentecostal Church of Longwood held Monday evening at the church.

Projects discussed included sales of baked goods, fruit cakes for Thanksgiving and Christmas and Christmas cards.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. M. L. McDaniel, president, who will serve as hostess at the Oct. 5 regular meeting.

School Prayer Fuss Clouds Real Issue

Religion in America By Louis Cassels United Press International America proudly styles itself "a nation under God." But it is permitting millions of its children to grow up illiterate as far as religion is concerned.

This situation did not result from Supreme Court decisions. And it would not be significantly altered by a constitutional amendment permitting devotional exercises in public schools.

Even if Congress were to approve such an amendment — which now appears highly unlikely — it would simply restore the national illusion that children are receiving a religious education when they are exposed to rote recitation of prayers and random readings from the Bible.

The real problem has been obscured by all the controversy over the peripheral issue of school prayers. It is how to provide coherent, systematic instruction on religion to children who attend public schools.

Some public school officials would like to wash their hands of this difficult problem on the ground the Supreme Court has forbidden them to touch it. But the court did nothing of the kind. It went out of its way to say in the 1963 prayer case that there would be no constitutional objection to "study of the Bible or of religion... presented objectively as part of a secular program of education" in public schools. This dictum was clearly intended as an invitation to public schools to experiment with teaching ABOUT religion in the same spirit that they teach about other things such as politics, on which Americans have widely differing opinions. Available evidence indicates that few public school systems have thus far accepted this challenge.

Before any religious leader shies stones at the public schools for their seeming neglect of the religious education problem, he should examine the churches' record. Among Protestants particularly, it is a record of inadequate measures, half-heartedly pursued.

Twelve years ago, in the Zorach case, the Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of "released time" arrangements under which children are released from public schools at their parents' request for one or two hours a week to attend religious classes conducted by churches on their own property and with their own teachers.

Roman Catholics have taken energetic advantage of this opportunity. More than half of the Catholic children who attend public schools are now enrolled in "released time" religious classes conducted by the confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

Although Protestants pioneered the released-time idea, they have dragged their feet in developing its potential. A few communities, mainly in the Midwest, have excellent released-time programs. But nationally, only about 10 percent of all Protestant children are covered.

Twenty-three charter members were received into the church at the worship service last Sunday evening by transfer of membership and were recognized by the minister.

The congregation extends an invitation to all interested friends to join in their Sunday evening worship hour at 7:30 at the Woman's Club.

Famed Racer Offers Timely Tips To Motorists

EDITOR'S NOTE— The National Safety Council predicts that 400 to 500 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the Labor Day weekend.

In the following dispatch written by national driving sample A. J. Foyt, the two-time winner of the Indianapolis 500-mile Speedway auto race gives some safety tips that may save your life.

By A. J. FOYT
Written for UPI

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — I make the right move at the right time. As a motorist, I am not so fortunate, and neither are you. In many instances, it is necessary to think for the other guy. As a result, I have followed certain rules that I would like to pass along to all of you taking to the highways over the Labor Day weekend.

Be sure to keep a safe distance behind the car in front of you when cruising at highway speeds. A good rule is to figure a car length for every 10 miles. So if you are traveling 60 miles per hour, you should be at least six car lengths behind the car in front of you.

Don't take the skill of other drivers for granted.

Don't look for trouble. Do not retaliate if another driver is discourteous on the road. If a driver is passing cuts in too sharply, don't get even by cutting him off. This driver's name is "Mr. Trouble," and it is best to avoid him on the highways.

If at night a thoughtless driver approaches and does not heed your warning blinks to lower his beams, don't retaliate by blinding him. It is senseless and you could cause a head-on collision.

If you are planning a long distance trip, avoid fatigue. I make it a point to stop at least every three hours for a short walk. I find it keeps me alert.

Do not under any circumstances mix drinking with driving. Even if you just have a few quaffs of beer, your reflexes can be dulled, and in a tight situation you need to have everything going for you.

As many of you start your long trips, I will be preparing my car for a championship race at DuQuoin, Ill. I would not think of starting this race without giving my car a complete safety check. So take a tip from me and have your car carefully inspected by your serviceman before you start out.

And to you young fellows—whether you are planning a long trip or just driving around town over the holiday weekend—forget the drag racing at the stop lights. This is a sign of immaturity, and is the most useless sport in the world. If you think you have a "hot" car, then take it to the nearest supervised drag strip.

Be grateful for the privilege of driving, and take pride in driving safely.

Doctors Speak At Jaycee Meeting

Medicare Bill Hit

By Dotie Austin
City Editor

The unfavorable aspects of the King - Anderson Medicare bill which passed the Senate Wednesday were outlined by Dr. John Johnson and Dr. Charles Park Jr., at the meeting of the Sanford - Seminole Jaycees Thursday.

One of the main arguments against the bill is the increase in social security taxes which it would require, according to Dr. Johnson, who said that the tax could reach as high as 20 percent of an individual's salary, or in some cases, more than his income tax.

"And the tax will be the same for low income and high income groups, so that a man making $6,000 a year is taxed just as much as a man making $20,000," he explained.

"All this is not necessary because the majority of people over 65 and under do not need this government handout to pay their bills. If the government doesn't interfere, by 1970, insurance companies estimate that 70 percent of people over 65 and 80 percent of people under 65 will have private health insurance. Then we will all be paying tremendous taxes, to pay medical bills for 10 to 15 percent of the population, while we carry our own insurance," Dr. Johnson noted.

Johnson also noted that though the proponents of the bill say there will be no government control, this is not true.

"Hospitals and doctors can have a choice as to whether they wish to participate in the Medicare program. If your hospital or your doctor does not participate, you cannot go to that doctor or that hospital. If you accept the government aid — and you're going to be paying for it, whether you accept it or not," he said.

"There will also be a review board, which is made up of civilians and doctors, not necessarily your doctor. They and not your doctor will have the power to say when you may leave the hospital, or whether you shall stay longer. And if the Medicare secretary is not satisfied with their reasons, they may cut off the federal payment to the hospital and the physician if it does not meet with their approval. If this isn't government control and interference, what is it?" asked Dr. Johnson.

He also refuted the report that the AMA had spent $5 million lobbying against the Medicare bill.

"The AMA spends 98 percent of its money on education. Only two per cent would be left to use for lobbying," he said.

Dr. Charles Park Jr., spoke in favor of the Kerr-Mills medical bill, which has been backed by the AMA. This bill provides for needy persons through matching Federal and State welfare funds.

Dr. Johnson also noted that though the proponents of the bill say there will be no government control, this is not true.

Tough Battle Due In House On Health Bill

Medicare Bill Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backers of a Senate-passed health care-Social Security bill today began to organize a rescue operation for the measure in anticipation of a tough fight in the House.

The Senate approved the bill Thursday by a 69-28 vote. It now goes to a House-Senate conference committee, but negotiations on a compromise bill are not expected to begin until the middle of the month. Once the compromise is worked out, the changes then must be approved by both House and Senate. The original House bill contained no health care provisions.

The Senate measure would expand the Social Security system to provide hospitalization and nursing care benefits for about 18 million elderly persons. In addition it calls for a $7-a-month boost in cash benefits for 20 million Social Security pensioners. All this would be financed through higher payroll taxes.

No health care bill has ever reached the House floor for a vote. Previous measures have been bottled up or killed in the House Ways & Means Committee, due in large part to the opposition of committee chairman Wilbur D. Mills, (D-Ark.).

Rep. Cecil R. King, (D-Calif.), a longtime supporter of health care legislation, indicated in an interview that backers might resort to a rarely used parliamentary maneuver to help rescue the bill.

He said that an attempt probably would be made on the floor to instruct House conferees to insist on a health care program in the final draft of the compromise bill.

John William Bogle, 76, of 717 Park Ave., Sanford, died Wednesday. A native of Dalton, Ga., he had made his home here for the past 15 years. Surviving is one son, John W. Bogle Jr. of Wytheville, Va.

The body was shipped today to Dalton for funeral and burial services.

tion of Harold Robbins' best seller, "A Stone for Danny Fisher." The co-stars are Carolyn Jones, Walter Matthau and Debralee Hart.

Wednesday and Thursday brings "Raw Wind in Eden" in color starring Esther Williams and Jeff Chandler, and "5 Miles to Midnight" starring Sophia Loren.

Friday and Saturday bring a triple feature: "Vera Cruz," in color starring Gary Cooper and Burt Lancaster; "633 Squadron," in color starring Cliff Robertson; and "The Best Man" starring Henry Fonda.

LABOR DAY is one holiday which has mixed observations. Some people have to labor on Labor Day and some get a day off. For some, the coming Monday will mean a three-day weekend, and for others, it will be back to the salt mines on Monday.

If you are one of the lucky ones who has a nice long weekend off there are quite a few nice spots in which to enjoy the happy hours, dinner out, or a little celebration all your own.

IF YOU are planning a Labor Day outing, George's Tavern invites you to stock up on your favorite beverages, all brands, at the prices you like to pay. If you're not planning an outing, but want to escape the heat in pleasant surroundings, then visit the bar and lounge at George's. You'll have plenty of company.

SPENCER'S Restaurant will be closed Sunday and Monday, but you have all weekend to enjoy those delicious steaks, seafood, your favorite drinks and meet your friends in their lounge or dining room. Tempting snacks under the umbrella, and hot and cold hors d'oeuvres in the lounge, during the happy hours.

BE SURE to read the ad on this page for Jean's Spaghetti House in Orange City. The featured special this week is tasty Lasagna in form or Ravioli with cheese and meat. Prepared the way Jean and Horro prepare it, it is a treat at any price, but it's on special through Thursday. Sorry, they will be closed on Monday, as they are regularly, each week.

FREDDIE'S Steak House says the only day they close is Christmas, so if you're down that way this weekend, or Labor Day and are pining for some really first rate cuisine, Freddie's will welcome you, in their Lamplighter Lounge or the Gaslight Room.

HOLIDAY weekends are a good time for the whole family to get together and enjoy a delicious meal without any one having to stand over a hot stove. Try taking the whole family out to the Tradewinds Cafeteria in Seminole Plaza at Casselberry. You'll see a marvelous array of tempting foods spread out before you, to titillate your plate, and it's so easy on the wallet, too.

DAVE REMLEY is the new party host at the Capri Restaurant, who will help you make arrangements for all kinds of get-togethers including banquets, luncheons, teas, coffee, brunches and dinners, planned down to the last detail to make your party a success. Of course, there is warm hospitality in the cool air—conditioned atmosphere all the time, and fine service to make your dinner or luncheon a distinct pleasure.

delivering a group of selections in her own rather unique style. The songs include "Fascination," which she has made her own, plus such others as "Love Makes The World Go 'Round" and "Without You." Pleasant show for lovers of good pop music.

10-11 p. m. (CBS) The Alfred Hitchcock Hour, "Ten Minutes From Now." (Hearst). Prolid suspense comes to a disappointing climax rather early but there's another surprise in this seemingly hackneyed plot. A frustrated artist (Donnelly Rhodes) threatens to blow up an art museum for not accepting his work. When he finally appears to carry out his threat, the police are waiting and confiscate his home-made bomb, which turns out to be a shoe box containing an alarm clock.

'Marnie' Stars At The Ritz

Only someone with the imaginative genius of Alfred Hitchcock can enjoy looking at movies in the highly unique manner he chooses.

Whenever possible he catches only the endings of pictures, but starting Sunday through Wednesday everyone can see the latest creation of Hitchcock, "Marnie," starring "Tippi" Hedren and Sean Connery.

Sean Connery is such a dyed-in-the-tartan nonconformist he had all Hollywood talking from the moment he arrived to star with "Tippi" Hedren in Alfred Hitchcock's sex mystery.

On the set of "Marnie," a suspenseful sex - mystery, he portrays a Philadelphia publisher who falls in love with a woman he knows to be a compulsive thief.

week's entertainment at the Ritz, is the widely known Beatles in their usual manner "A Hard Days Night."

"TIPPI HEDREN, a compulsive thief, is caught by Sean Connery as she attempts to rifle the safe in Connery's publishing firm, in Alfred Hitchcock's suspenseful sex-mystery, "Marnie," in Technicolor for Universal release. This starts the chain of strange events involving the two co-stars.

Mad, Mad Etc. Held Over

How does a picture get a title?

Better still, how did a picture like Stanley Kramer's hilarious "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," in Ultra Panavision and Technicolor, which is being held over for another week at the Seminole Plaza Cinema come by its title?

Well, it all began around two years ago when a script writer named William Rose wrote a comedy sketched "to end all comedies." He called it "Something a Little Less Serious."

It was wild-eyed, fast-moving, full of excitement, had a crazy plot and a chase if ever there was one. It called for a cast which included "everybody who's ever been funny."

Rose sent his idea to Kramer who had just finished the dramatic "Judgment at Nuremberg" and who, according to a rumor that had been current in Hollywood for some time, was looking for something lighter than had made him famous.

Kramer looked at Rose's dream and liked it. The cast of "everybody who's ever been funny" was rounded up and it included some of the biggest names of screen, TV and radio. The picture went into production with Kramer as director and producer. Everything was a fine except the title. Kramer didn't like "Something a Little Less Serious."

Heads were put together, and out of the huddle came a new title. It was "One Damn Thing After Another." But after a while that wore thin and heads went together again.

Out of this session came "It's a Mad World" from Kramer. Rose bid two mads and Kramer doubled. Final outcome? "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World." A suggestion for a fifth Mad was voted down as redundant.

"It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World" will be seen exactly as it was shown at advanced prices at reserved seats showing. Its music is by Ernest Gold.

Among the funmakers in its cast are Spencer Tracy, Milton Berle, Sid Caesar, Buddy Hackett, Ethel Merman, Mickey Rooney, Dick Shawn, Phil Silvers, Terry Thomas, Jonathan Winters, Edie Adams, Dorothy Provine, Peter Falk and Jimmy Durante.

ANY LIST of the world's great comedies must include Jimmy Durante, and that's what the cast of 30 assembled for Stanley Kramer's "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World" does, too. The UA release is being held over for another week at the Seminole Plaza Cinema on a continuous performance, popular price basis.

WEDDING BELLS will ring out and echo this weekend at the First Methodist Church of Sanford. Two of Sanford's brides-elect will make the traditional march Saturday, September 5.

Miss Deanna Nichols and Lt. Norman Frucci will be married Saturday afternoon at 4 p.m. Deanna and Norman met at Biloxi, Miss., when she was visiting with friends, so the rest is obvious.

The bride-elect was born at Huntington, W. Va., but moved to Sanford at a age three. She was graduated from Seminole High School with the class of '61. Deanna, who is most attractive, was very popular in high school, and confessed she was into everything except trouble. Following her graduation, she attended Jones Business College in Orlando, and later attended Huntingdon College at Montgomery, Ala., where she was an elementary education major.

Lt. Frucci is a native of Niles, Mich., and was graduated from Hillsdale College in Hillsdale, Mich., with a degree in Public Relations. Prior to entering the Air Force, he was affiliated with Proctor and Gamble in Detroit, and presently has a leave of absence.

Deanna likes all sports, and enjoys good music and literature. She is possessed with an abundance of talent, having an excellent singing voice, and she also plays the piano. She confided she has always stayed in the background in domesticity, but now is eagerly awaiting the opportunity to explore these challenges.

The young couple will live in Grand Forks, N. D., where Lt. Frucci has already been transferred. Deanna plans to further her education at the university there. A house is not important to Deanna. She stated with genuine sincerity that she wanted her home to be comfortable, warm and friendly, which are requisites essential to the happiness of her tall, dark 'n handsome husband and their three kids.

FOLLOWING THE Nichols-Frucci wedding, at 7:30 the same evening, Miss Tracy Hegg and Wayne Albert will march down the same aisle.

Tracy is a newcomer to Sanford, and is a Records Librarian at Seminole Memorial Hospital. She hails from Mankato, Minn., having graduated from Mankato State College and the Medical Records Library Science School at La-Crosse, Wis.

TRACY HEGG

Wayne is also from Mankato and graduated from Mankato State College with degrees in economics and business administration. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Albert, moved to Sanford about five years ago while Wayne was still in college. He was so impressed with our fair city, that he returned upon his graduation. The next item on his agenda was to import his future bride here. It actually wasn't too difficult to convince Tracy that Sanford was the place for her, and now with a few grains of sand in her shoes, is in complete agreement with her fiancé.

Tracy is a dedicated National Registered Records Librarian, and is devoted to her work at the hospital. Her family is here for the big event and they think our area is the greatest. Tracy likes fancy sewing and enjoys reading and playing tennis. Cooking? Oh e'mon, give her time.

The young couple will live in an apartment at first while both are working. Wayne is with the Florida State Bank in the Commercial Loan Department. Tracy likes colonial architecture, but prefers sleek modern interior furnishings.

At least Wayne shows originality. So many of our grooms wish the little bride away to a new geographic location. Since Tracy is so adjusted to our habitat, we feel she will be an asset in the circle of the young moderns around town.

WE GOT OUR WIRES all crossed up and were unable to engage in an informal telephone with Mary Helene Washburn, as has been the custom with Sanford's brides. She has already made the grand march and is featured elsewhere on the page. Congratulations and good luck to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Brumbaugh.

BONNY WILSON is one of our local girls entering into a challenging and stimulating field. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John W. Wilson, Golden Lake, and will depart soon for Bob Jones University in Greenville, S. C., to complete her senior year. Upon her graduation, her ambition is to engage in missionary work in foreign fields.

At Bob Jones, Bonny is a member of Chi Kappa Delta, social society and is soloist with the Orotario Society, a choral group of talented singers. She was graduated from Seminole High School with the class of '61 and was actively engaged in all school activities.

For the past three months, Bonny and ten other students have been in Scotland and England on an evangelical mission. They flew over "on their own" with donations and contributions from generous philanthropists. Upon their arrival, two kind English ladies donated a six bedroom house for their dwelling at Brewick-upon-Tweed, England. Here they did all their own cooking, housework, etc. in teams, and had a ball.

They traveled in teams along the Scotland border, where only 3 per cent of the population are church going. Their evangelistic work included visitations, acquainting the children with Sunday School, and providing the teenagers with entertainment. They formed a "Mission Prayer Band", in which cards were drawn containing a name. They exchanged prayers and gifts to the party whose name appeared on the card. They also staged a "New Life Campaign", with the primary purpose to acquaint the people with Christianity.

For diversion, the group engaged in tennis, ping pong, chess and other sports and games. They were particularly interested in providing clean and wholesome entertainment for the young people and to maintain better relations toward a serene way of life.

It is gratifying to know that our youth of America is inspired by the need for greater Christian relations throughout the world, and these young people are to be highly commended for availing their services in this monumental field of endeavor.

Marriage, Bonny? She couldn't think of anything nicer than having a missionary husband to travel along with her. A.L.Y. prospects, Bonny? Answer—a broad smile.

BOSTON ((UPI))—Many years ago a bunch of trench coats in a cloak room meant the place was loaded with foreign correspondents or a delegation from Interpol—all very masculine types.

But spying trench coats in the cloak room in contemporary times can't lead to such a clear-cut surmise.

Women, you see, number the trench coat among items they have taken over from the man's world.

So many of the things once thought of as exclusively male, in fact, have been preempted by the distaff side that it's getting pretty difficult to tell who had first claim.

A male executive, in an interview, cited trench coats as one example of the feminine "take-over." Meyer Schnitzler, vice president of research for a razor company (Gillette) said some of the take-overs are old hat.

Miss Mary Helene Washburn, R. L. Brumbaugh Repeat Vows In Impressive Church Ceremony

Miss Mary Helene Washburn, daughter of Mrs. Mary Washburn of Sanford and Ronald Lee Brumbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Richard Brumbaugh, also of this city, were united in holy matrimony on Thursday, September 3, 1964 at 11 a. m. at All Souls Catholic Church.

The Reverend Richard Lyons officiated at the impressive candlelight, double ring ceremony and nuptial mass before the altar flanked on either side by standing spiral five branched candelabra. The background was a profusion of palms and tropical greenery, accented with magnificent arrangements of glads, mums, roses, orange blossoms and Lilly of the Valley in tall pedestal baskets. The pews were marked with white satin bows and orange blossoms and the white satin kneeling pillows were hand made.

Mrs. F. E. Roumillat Sr., organist, provided the nuptial selections, "O Perfect Love," "Whither Thou Goest," and "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Henry Tamm Sr., the bride was lovely in a formal gown of silk organza over peau de soie. The long fitted bodice was cut along princess lines, featuring traditional pointed sleeves. Clusters of seed pearls and iridescent stones adorned the scalloped neckline and bodice front. The voluminous skirt featured a large satin bow, centered with a white satin rose, at the back from which the sweeping chapel train was attached. Her imported veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of hand cut crystals and seed pearls and she carried a crescent bridal bouquet of white roses, showered with white satin streamers.

Miss Ann Schumacher attended the bride as maid of honor and was gowned in mint green peau de soie featuring a scooped neckline, a mint green detachable jacket and overskirt of silk organza. Her headpiece was matching and she carried a nosegay of matching tulle pom poms.

Attending the bride as bridesmaids were the Misses Dora Horner, Norma Whittier and Linda Brothers of Gainesville. Miss Barbara Tamm, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid, and Miss Leslie Whittier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Whittier, was flower girl. The attendants were gowned identically to the maid of honor and the flower girl carried a basket of rose petals decorated with white satin ribbon and Lilly of the Valley.

Charles Oravetz served the groom as best man and usher were James Gracey, Dickie Schrum, Henry Tamm, III, cousin of the bride, and Pat Tatum of Tallahassee.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding, an elegant petal pink sheath of tiered Alencon lace over matching taffeta with matching pink accessories. Her hat was of pink silk organza and she wore a corsage of miniature white orchids.

The groom's mother was attired in a stunning ice blue sheath of silk eyelet over matching taffeta with matching accessories and her corsage was of white miniature orchids.

Following the ceremony, a receiving line was formed under a canopy at the church. Steven Steinhart distributed missals at the church entrance and Jessie Steinhart distributed miniature white net rice bags tied with white satin ribbons. The bride's book was kept at the church entrance by Mrs. Ashby Jones on a table covered in white satin centered with an arrangement of white roses.

A wedding breakfast followed at the Capri Restaurant. The U-shaped table featured arrangements of glads, chrysanthemums and orange blossoms with fern runners interspersed with tube roses. The cake table, covered in green satin and overlaid with green tulle, held the three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom and adorned with white doves, roses and wedding bells. Mrs. Harold Whittier cut the cake.

Another table overlaid with green satin and tulle held a silver punch bowl filled with sparkling pink champagne punch, which was served over by Harold Whittier.

For her going away outfit the bride wore a smart blue and white striped suit with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Following a wedding trip to Nassau, Mr. and Mrs. Brumbaugh will be at home at 808 West Concord in Orlando.

Among the out-of-town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Steinhart, Miss Jessica Steinhart and Steven Steinhart, all of Palo Alto, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Brothers, Gainesville; Pat Tatum, Tallahassee; Mrs. Ralph King, Oviedo; Mrs. Lucia Washburn and Miss Jennie Toole, Orlando; Mr. and Mrs. John L. Diehl Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. William Earl Brumbaugh, DeBary, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fertsch and Miss Sandra Fertsch, Orange City.

NEW LIPS FOR '64

Have you considered that the lips you were born with are out of style? Lip shapes change with fashion trends.

Most women dress fashionably, but often overlook the beauty changes that complete the new image. Lips now veer to the straight lines and sharp cupid's bow rather than a round, curvy-bowed look.

To create this new lip look, draw a deep "V" between your natural cupid's bow. Apply straight lines from the tops of the "V" to the outer corners. Give the pattern a slight upturn at each end. On the bottom lip, draw straight lines from the lower center of the lip to the outer corners. Fill in.

After a long, hot afternoon of tooting favors, blowing balloons, wild splashing, and perpetual swinging, the party was concluded due to exhaustion.

For even more definition, outline your lips with a darker shade of lipstick first, then fill in with a lighter color.

Debra Swede's Birthday Party Splashing Success

By Margaret Cosby
Debra Swede, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Swede, 41 South Cortez Avenue, North Orlando, recently celebrated her third birthday with a splash party. Debra and her younger brother, Eddie, share their own diminutive pool—replica of a pool like grown-ups have.

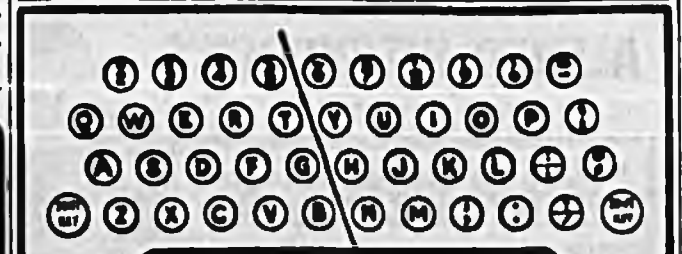

Blue-eyed, blonde-haired Debra was fetching in her coral bikini as she puffed out the candles on her delicious, tremendous "chocolate" cake which was baked and decorated by her teen-age cousin, Hermine Harich (a diligent Girl Scout).

Enjoying the vigorous outdoor activities, and the appropriately cooling refreshments on the Swede patio, was Michael, Jeffrey and Keith Russe, and Bruce Rhodes (all avid splashers); Deanna and Alan Carlyle (champion gym set swingers); and Michael Cosby (assistant candle blower).

Also joining in the festivities were Debbie's Aunt Elizabeth (Mrs. Jacob Harich), and cousins, Wilma and Hermine Harich; Mrs. R. D. Carlyle; and Mrs. Michael Cosby, all of North Orlando.

After a long, hot afternoon of tooting favors, blowing balloons, wild splashing, and perpetual swinging, the party was concluded due to exhaustion.

Easy On Washing A Sweater

WOOLEN sweater-vests are big on campus (and on the town) this fall. They can be worn solo or with jacket. Colors range from cranberry to plain old black.

By Jerry Sheehan
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — A good sweater is like a fine car; if you treat it well, it will keep its appearance and give dependable service.

It's easy — or so say the authorities — sponsoring all-American wool sweaters around the country. Just wash out for the hot water and high-speed laundry machines.

Researchers have found, surprisingly, it's not so much the hot water that ruins a good sweater, but the water in combination with washing friction. So the best thing is to have a sweater dry-cleaned or wash it yourself in cool suds.

So, gents, follow the easy directions and save yourself some movie money:

- In the sink, melt some soap or detergent in warm water. Then add cool. It doesn't have to be so cold your fingers turn blue.
- Wash the sweater around and watch the water turn BLACK.
- Same thing again. By the time the dirt is out you'll wonder how you ever wore it.
- Rise in cool water a couple of times if necessary.
- Wring out the garment. Be careful not to leave it knotted up on the edge of the sink — especially if it is a multicolored sweater.

— No need to block a wool sweater. Place a towel inside of it, line up the seams and lay it quietly on a piece of plain paper out of the way, like on the floor underneath the bed.

That's it. In the amount of time occupied by commercials on an hour-long television show, you can get your sweater in presentable condition.

An extra hint from the experts: when washing put a couple of drops of oil (bath oil or even salad oil) into the water. It will give the garment added resiliency after it dries.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This will kill you. We have nothing but money around our house, but I can't spend any of it. You see, my husband is a NUMISMATIST (coin collector) who puts everything he has into his hobby. I wanted to spend $22.50 for a new Easter hat, and he raised the roof. Yet he just paid $75 for a HALF-DOLLAR. He said it was worth $100 because it was made in 1779 and had seven stars on one side and six on the other. This makes no sense to me at all. He gets piles of coin collectors' magazines, which also run into money. Now I think every man should have a hobby, but I would like to see a little money around here that I can spend.

NUMISMATIST'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Bone up on your hubby's hobby. It's fascinating as well as profitable. One day you might come across a 1901 "S" quarter, which is worth $900.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young matron who has been happily married many years. We have a lovely family. I thought I was satisfied until I had seen my doctor a few times. I can't explain it, but I have fallen madly in love with my doctor. This makes no sense at all as he is happily married, and I know it is all one-sided and he hasn't the slightest interest in me. But this feeling has me obsessed. It's like a high school romance. I am so self-conscious around him, trying to make a good impression. I feel like a fool. Any suggestions to help straighten me out? I'm in the middle of a series of treatments.

IN LOVE
DEAR IN: Your "romance" is neither serious nor lasting. At least you have no illusions about whether it is mutual. You'll get over it. Just keep telling yourself it doesn't make any sense at all. Because—although it's not uncommon—it doesn't.

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that you believe in spiritualism and card reading? There are some who say that is how you get the answers to the questions that people send in. I would like an honest answer as this is very important to me. Thank you.

INQUIRITIVE IN REDMOND, ORE.
DEAR INQUIRITIVE: Naigh! I use "horse sense."

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from READY TO BURST, the woman whose mother-in-law was in the habit of calling everything her son's, as though he had no wife. It was "Bob's car, Bob's children," etc. My mother-in-law has the same habit. Nothing is ever mine. It's always "Michael's." When I first became pregnant she went all over town announcing, "Michael is going to have a baby!"

Tire Buying Is Tricky

Pardon the pun. But our changing attitudes toward male-female duties brings the gals into an area where only a man once dared to tread. Quite simply, the purchase of tires.

A check of auto store salesmen in the suburbs reveals that 9 out of 10 tire purchases filter through the wife's hands.

"Although the husband is the ultimate purchaser," one salesman explained, "often the call comes from the wife and I can hear the husband coaching in the background."

In many instances, the more than 33 million women drivers shop for tires alone.

This is a confusing field and bargain basement buying is hazardous. For example, you can buy a $3.99 slip for 98 cents, off the table. If the strap breaks, all you lose is your composure. Buy a tire for a similar markdown and you can lose your life. The reason? The tire markdown really isn't a true markdown and you probably are buying a poor quality tire.

Keep in mind that the size of your car and how you use it regulates the size and quality of tires you should buy. Shop around before your tire loses its trade-in value or before you have a blowout on the road, forcing you to make an emergency purchase.

When buying a tire, remember there are four grades: Premium, first line, second line and third line.

But these grades vary among manufacturers and what is first line with one may be top quality or premium for another. Your word buy, though, for wear and safety is the third line tire, which also is the lowest priced. Also, you can consider either nylon or rayon cord tires, depending upon the performance you want.

If you are a suburban housewife, you will cover 4,000 to 5,000 miles a year. For the average driver (8,000 to 10,000 miles a year), a first line or premium tire gives you the best mileage per dollar. A second line tire suits in-town, family chauffeur.

You will notice more tire ads before heavy-driving holidays. When pricing ads, remember a low price may indicate an odd-size tire.

Again your best criteria, get to know your dealer and ask him to explain what service and safety the tire you buy will give you for your

A Real 'Stocking Cap'

By Polly Cramer
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY: A nice hat can be crocheted from old nylon stockings. For mine, I used all out the feet of 28 stockings. Start at the top of a stocking and cut around and around in strips about one-inch wide. You get more stretch when they are cut this way. My hat is a pillbox made with a single crochet stitch. I left the hose in its natural color. Crochet around and around, dolly style, for the flat top. I made mine about 8 inches wide across the top of the crown, the sides drop 3 1/2 inches with a turn-up of 1 1/2 inches. This is very pretty with a veil.—MRS. E. H.

DEAR POLLY: I thought some of your coupon clippers might enjoy using my "urse helper." I do not like having a purse full of clipped coupons to be redeemed at the grocery, so I use a hair clip to hold makes a wonderful third hand at the checkout counter.—MRS. H. W.

DEAR POLLY: Wool material will often shrink a little when dry cleaned. Therefore, I send all of my wool materials to the cleaners before cutting and making. This costs only a few cents a yard, so I feel the small expense is well worth it for a better fitting garment.—Mrs. C.E.K.

DEAR POLLY: Another use for discarded nylons is to draw them over your fancy shoes while you drive to a party. You leave them in the car and quickly pull them on again for the drive home.—J.H.W.

GIRLS—These nylons could be cut out to about the height of boots so they are easier to get off and on.—POLLY frosting" is in your regular cleaning schedule, it is so easy for the homemaker with an automatic defrosting refrigerator to let this job slide by. To remind myself of this unpleasant task, I put a strip of adhesive tape where it is noticeable when I open the door. On the tape, I mark the date it was cleaned last like they do on the car lubrication stickers. It certainly keeps me from forgetting.—MRS. F. G.

DEAR POLLY: Unless "de-

DEAR POLLY: After washing cotton knit "footies," stretch them over the bottom of your shoes to dry. They will fit more comfortably.—MRS. D.D.C.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The duplicate game was over and "Hard Luck Joe" had finished in his customary spot somewhere near the bottom.

An usual he was complaining about his bad luck and as usual he did not know that he had helped his bad luck materially.

Joe complained, "Most North players simply raised their partner to game in no-trump, but against me North chose to use Stayman to find out about a major suit fit and after South showed hearts North raised him to four."

"My partner's queen of clubs held the first trick and he continued the suit. Declarer won the second club, drew trumps, ruffed the last club, played out all his diamonds winding up in dummy. Then he led the ten of spades. My partner was in with the Jack and had to give him either a ruff and discard or lead back a spade. South made four hearts for a top score while other South players made either three no-trump or found a way to go down at four hearts."

Do you see why other players went down at four hearts?

Joe didn't, but Joe could have beaten the hand. He should have played his king of clubs on his partner's queen. If declarer ducked, Joe could have led back a spade and West would have had several safe escape or out cards. If declarer won the trick it would have been up to Joe to rise with the ten of clubs the next time the suit was played and lead the spade as before. Again West would have an out card and South would have been set.

You're Not My Real Parent

By Mrs. Marjorie Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My husband's 12-year-old girl by his ex-wife spends part of her school vacations with us. Frankly, I dread these visits. Another is due this June and I would appreciate any advice you can offer that will get us through it without any real trouble. She can't stand my asking her to do things. But I have to ask her to do something occasionally like taking her laundry out of the bathroom basket. Then what I get is, "You're not my real mother. Why should I . . ."

ANSWER: Of course you're not her real mother. But what has that got to do with your right to ask her to consider your wishes?

Children are obliged to consider the wishes of many adults who are not their "real" mothers — teachers, policemen, camp counselors, the parents of friends. So your stepdaughter's excuse for refusing to consider your wishes makes no sense in terms of reasonable protest.

But it seems to carry great weight with you.

Why? Why are you compelled to retreat from a position by this child's reminder that you are not her "real" mother? Is the fact that she has a real mother, one whom you want to forget? In fact that your husband has loved another woman still so painful to you that you can't stand being reminded of her realness by their child?

Perhaps it is not the discipline of this challenging child which has been making the trouble.

Perhaps the actual troublemaker has been your own refusal to come to terms with your husband's previous marriage — your resistance to the "realness" of the sexual relationship that once existed between him and his ex-wife.

Had you accepted her past realness to him, their child's reminder of it would present you with no problem. Instead of letting it hurt you so that it drives you into retreat, you would turn on her challenging reminder and say:

"Of course I'm not your real mother! Let's get this straight between us once and for all. I am your stepmother. How could I possibly be your real mother when you already have one? What kind of nonsense talk is this — and what's it got to do with taking your laundry out of this bathroom basin? Please take it out and I'll get you a pan if you want to soak it some more before rinsing it . . ."

I think that you, somehow feel you should have been able to possess all your husband's past love as well as all his present love. You could not, so it would be something of a relief, I think, to face this limit to your powers.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

"When my husband and I and assert your own personality. You say your husband is active in community and church affairs while your only interests for years have been your home and family. Well, find out about the work your husband is doing. You won't feel so left out if you know what he is trying to accomplish and can give him some encouragement.

With as many opportunities as there are for women to do worth-while community work no wife has to sit back and envy her husband because he is a real part of the community. She can contribute just as much, if she is willing to work.

You say your husband is much more at ease socially than you are. That is probably because he is out meeting people every day—while you are sitting at home. Get out on your own a little, even if it is an effort at first.

And last, but not least, quit low-rating yourself. You aren't alone in your situation. Lots of women fail to keep up with their husbands throughout the years. But most of those who lag behind never face the fact. You have faced it—and are ready to do something about it. That's a good start already.

So start catching up with him today. Not only will you feel a better person for it, but your husband will find you infinitely more interesting.

Ring In The New Year

By Susan Light
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

September is here—and the peal of the school bell is heard throughout the land. The start of a new school year is always exciting and stimulating for teachers, students and, indirectly, parents. It's a time to turn over a new page and leave last year's mistakes and problems behind.

Of course, there will still be school worries. There always are. But at least this year's worries may be different and perhaps not quite so serious as last year's. Your second-grader who couldn't learn to write legibly has developed the necessary co-ordination over the summer. After a few weeks or rigorous camp training, your fifth-grade son has learned how to behave and will no longer be a discipline problem (you hope). Your high school sophomore has decided to buckle down and bring up his grades so he can get into college.

Perhaps you won't have to cope with printing practice, discouraging notes from the teacher and undone homework any more. But don't expect your youngsters to wear Seven Leagues boots. Be thankful for small steps in the right direction.

If you have a child who was unhappy with last year's teacher or dissatisfied with his grades, now is the time to convince him that he has a brand-new chance to start over. Don't let him dwell on past failures.

The teachers in your school have had a long and much-needed rest. They've been reviewing their aims, goals and methods and have been making some resolutions of their own. They've had an opportunity to analyze their efforts calmly and objectively, far from the tumult of the classroom. Like your children, they hope to do better this year.

Whatever your children's problems may be in the coming term remember that their teachers are as interested in solving them as you are. If you approach teachers in a spirit of helpfulness and cooperation, only good can result. Being human, teachers sometimes make mistakes — but most of them are deeply and sincerely concerned about the welfare of their students.

Whether you're a parent, teacher, or student, I wish you all an especially happy and successful school year. May 1964-65 bring everything you hope for—and more!

Please send your school problems to Susan Light in care of The San Francisco Herald. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Who Wears The Pants?

By Heira Hennessy
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Women's Editor

News from Red China rarely concerns fashion. But since the closing of the Paris collections, everyone seems to have a word to say on the subject of pants for women—even Peking's official newspaper.

The editors upheld the decision of a dressmaking shop whose personnel refused the request of a customer to make the legs of her slacks narrower. They called tight pants "bizarre."

If the customer in question was a buxom lass, the decision was wise enough to have come from Confucius.

There are women who will wear anything as long as it is ballyhooed as the latest fashion. They must pop on round-tinted specs before they look into a mirror.

This year, pants of all types and lengths will be seen everywhere except in church. And that will be too bad unless the wearers are under size 12. Pants of any type just aren't chic on heavy women.

Slim, young actress Diane Baker just returned from the Paris collections and she made a point worth noting.

"I was surprised at how small the models were," she said. "The clothes looked like doll clothes—little high collars, tiny waists, no bosoms, narrow hips. I couldn't wear clothes designed for that type of figure." And Diane, remember, is slim.

It's a pity the ladies who will try to squeeze into size 18 pants were unable to see the original Paris model and the kind of figure those designers create for.

If American manufacturers copy Jacques Heim's suits with the fur-cuffed knee breeches, I shudder to think of how many fat, dimpled knees will peep out between a band of fake chinchilla and sturdy boki textured socks. Ugh!

When Chanel's gold and silver jumpuits for at-home are copied, down to the last detail of their fly-away sheer coats, many a hostess of Wagnerian proportions will float forward to greet her guests like a ship sailing proudly into battle.

The skinniest pants in Paris designed by Courrèges, fit the legs like a second skin and probably won't be cut bars for anyone with legs thicker than pipe stems. And that's fortunate for the viewers. At least around the supermarkets the only thing resembling plump sausages will be the real McCoy on the meat shelves.

Chic Chat

Q: "My young niece who lives with me just bought two dresses that end at least an inch above her knees. I told her they were too short but she insists they are in style. Is this true? I'm too old at 70 to pay attention to fashion, but I don't think these dresses are modest."—Mrs. J. T.

Dear Mrs. J. T.—Your niece is right. All the new fashions for both young people and adults are short. Most have full skirts though, and don't hike up too far for modesty when one sits. No one is too old to be interested in fashion. If you can't get out to the stores, you should look through the fashion news in newspapers and magazines.

Please send your fashion problems to Heira Hennessy in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Record Shop The House That Patti Built

By Joan Crosby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Patti Page sank into a deep armchair, drew up her legs, listened as her 18-month-old girl, Kathleen Patricia O'Curran, gurgled over the intercom which allowed Patti to baby-sit long-distance, and talked about the 22-year-old English nurse, Jackie Smith, who watches over the baby when Patti is singing in night clubs, making records and doing television shows.

"Jackie came to work for me after working for a very fine family. She has traveled around with us, lived in fine hotels, used room service to the point where she figured we were the average American family. This is how we all lived.

"So I took her home with me to Oklahoma where my brothers and sisters are the average American family: 14 people share one bathroom. Jackie was accustomed to her own bathroom. She would go in the one at home and invariably lie in the tub for a half hour.

"I explained that in our family people didn't stay long in the bathrooms, they put the lights when they left a room, and they try to save on gas by not hopping into the car every time they want to run off to the corner grocery. 'I thought everyone in America was rich,' she said, as the light dawned."

Album of the week—Rodgers and Hammerstein's magnificent "The King and I" (RCA Victor) is the record-breaking music theater of Lincoln Center original cast album. There is some lovely singing from Lee Vena, Frank Porretta and Patricia Neway in the supporting roles. Rise Stevens, as Anna, contributes a moving "Hello, Young Lovers," and Darren McGavin is a robust King. "The Small House of Uncle Thomas," the music backing the show's whimsical ballet, has been recorded for the first time here.

Vocal-essays—"60 French Girls Can't Be Wrong. Vol. II" (ABC-Paramount) is a delightful concert by the utterly beguiling Les Dinnes Singers of Paris. A fine folk group, 10 girls who are students at New York's New Rochelle College, is introduced in "The Sawbuck Singers" (Colpix).

The Doctor Says: If You Itch Then Scratch

By Wayne G. Grandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Itching is a type of pain that afflicts everyone at times and some people a great deal of the time. It is said that Napoleon itched so much that at a critical moment of one battle he turned over the command to a subordinate, withdrew from the scene, took off all his clothes and rolled on a straw-covered floor while orderlies scratched his skin until it bled. Even then he kept shouting at them to scratch harder.

Obviously, this is not the best way to treat an itching skin. Dr. Samuel Ayres Jr. of Los Angeles says that scratching is an art, and he recommends that everyone learn the proper technique. You must first learn to differentiate between the point of maximum itching and the itchy skin that surrounds it.

The point of maximum intensity may be caused by an insect bite, an allergy (hives) or some other irritant.

If you scratch yourself at this point you release certain chemicals in the tissues that aggravate your problem, so you must learn to leave the central point alone and rub the surrounding area gently with your hand. Even better results can be achieved by brushing this area with a medium-hard brush. I save my discarded toothbrushes for this and other purposes.

Scratching even with the best of techniques, however, gives only temporary relief. A great variety of preparations are now available to soothe itching that threatens to drive you crazy. Some of these (water-dispersible bath oil and guanethidine) I have mentioned in the past. One of the newer preparations is betamethasone, a powerful steroid to find new products, however, we often neglect such tried-and-true standbys as calamine lotion with phenol which is obtainable at your nearest pharmacy without a doctor's prescription.

I get a rash every time I eat tomatoes. Is there anything I can take to prevent this?

A—If you are allergic to tomatoes the best treatment is to eliminate them from your diet. This means pizza, vegetable soup, ketchup and all other items that contain tomatoes in any form. After you get the hives, an antihistamine tablet or an injection of epinephrine should give you prompt relief. An allergist might be found who would give you a series of desensitizing injections but this form of treatment is not as successful against food allergies as it is against those caused by inhaling pollen.

Navy Silent On Tests Of Pilot

Scribes Foiled For Details Of Heroic Escapee

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — The Navy remained silent today on what type of tests were being given to hero pilot Lt. Charles F. Kusmann who escaped from his Communist captors in Laos.

The Navy would say only that Kusmann, 30, San Diego, was in the hospital and undergoing tests.

Efforts Thursday night to reach the pilot's wife, Sara, 30, at their home also proved fruitless. Newsmen were told she was out.

Details of Kusmann's escape from a Red prison camp were not disclosed officially by the Navy, and Kusmann declined to answer newsmen's questions when he touched down briefly at Honolulu, Travis Air Force Base, Calif., and San Diego Wednesday night. He merely would say it was good to be home and he was feeling good.

After fleeing from the Communists, Kusmann made his way to Thailand, ostensibly with the help of friendly Mao Gribesmen in Laos.

Secrecy surrounded Kusmann's departure from Thailand to Honolulu.

The pilot's wife flew to Travis Air Force Base Wednesday to meet him, then flew here with him, where he was reunited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kusmann of Arcadia, Calif., and his brother, John, 21.

Kusmann and his wife slipped into a waiting limousine and sped off to an undisclosed destination.

Thursday night, the Navy reported that Kusmann was in the hospital Thursday, had undergone tests and was due for additional testing.

ATAN Harville Spends Leave In North Orlando

By Margaret Conby

Michael Harville, ATAN, USN, spent two weeks' leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ewrightson Harville of 81 North Third Street, North Orlando. Harville was stationed at Memphis, Tenn., where he recently completed a course in electronics.

Since the Harvilles are avid boaters, Michael spent many pleasant hours of his leave with his sister Patty and his parents on the St. John's River aboard the family outboard cruiser.

He left last weekend for six weeks' studies in Oceanic, Va., and then will be stationed at Cecil Field, Jacksonville, much to the delight of his family.

Airman Harville is a 1963 graduate of Lyman High School where he played on the football team. He enlisted in the Navy before he was 18, following in the footsteps of his dad who had made the U. S. Navy his career.

Meany Urges Johnson Support

WASHINGTON (UPI) — AFL-CIO President George Meany said today that voters will face "one of the rare pivotal elections in American history" in November. He urged that they support President Johnson.

In a Labor Day message the leader of the 13-million member union group urged all Americans to register and vote. He said that "this election, to a greater degree than any since before World War II, will decide what kind of a country you and I, and our children and grandchildren, are going to live in."

Meany's organization endorsed Johnson's candidacy earlier this week. The labor leader mentioned neither the President nor GOP presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater by name in his statement, but he made it clear he was attacking Goldwater's political philosophy. "It is difficult to imagine how anyone who does understand the issues now facing the nation can neglect to register and vote," said Meany. "For the issues in this election are extremely grave for the labor movement, for the nation and for the world."

North Orlando Boy To Study Engineering

By Margaret Conby

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Connelly, 131 North Cortez Avenue, North Orlando, drove their son, Eddie Jr., up to Gainesville last weekend where he registered as a freshman at the University of Florida.

Eddie has entered the Engineering School and although he expects to be very busy in the coming months, he'll be looking forward to hearing from his old friends. His mail should be directed to Hume Hall, University of Florida, Gainesville. Eddie said he hopes his mail box will be full.

Thomas Lavin, Eddie's maternal grandfather, of Andover, Mass., was here for four months in the spring but made a special trip down again to wish his grandson good luck and good marks!

Eddie was graduated from Bishop Moore in Orlando this past June and was awarded a letter for baseball.

The Connelly twins, Mary and Peter, are now seniors at Bishop Moore and also are looking forward to becoming University of Florida Gators.

Clouds, Storm Cover Much Of Northern Area

United Press International

Thunderstorms dotted the Midwest today and gray, rainy skies darkened New England. Clear weather prevailed across the rest of the nation.

The thundershowers hit parts of the Midwest with locally heavy amounts of rainfall. Lamoni in southwestern Iowa reported 1.48 inches in six hours and Forbes Air Force Base near Topeka, Kan., had 1.12 inches.

Drenching rains and high winds swept across Wisconsin late Thursday night and a reported tornado demolished a barn in the southern part of the state which reported four inches of rain.

A freak wind storm spawned gusts of 70 miles an hour over Cadillac, Mich., toppling some power lines and destroying a building. Heavy rains followed the storm.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the upper 30s in Montana to the mid 80s in the desert southwest.

Come to Church Every Week

New Faces

They're newcomers. They moved into the neighborhood just last week, and this is their first Sunday in our church.

Very soon they'll be making friends, and joining in many worship, or fund-raising, or youth leadership. He will find her place in one of the many organizations for women, or discover that she loves to teach. The children will settle happily into Sunday School classes suited to their age group.

Above all, this young family will share in the same feeling of Christian fellowship and spiritual well-being that comes from serving God and His Church. They will be better people, better neighbors and better citizens because of their decision to put God's work first. THE CHURCH FOR ALL.

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Airport Group Pushes County Site

Chamber Officials File Data With U. S. Aviation Authority

By Julian Stenstrom
Remember the Clock item last week about the alligators?

Well, courtesy of Game Warden Bob Johnson of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission we went gator hunting with him the other night on Lake Kathryn.

We spotted five alligators. Of this number we — let's make that Johnson — captured two of them, between two and three feet long. Two larger ones evaded Johnson's powerful helmet light by going under the surface.

A third one, about five feet long, also evaded Johnson before he could get within rifle range.

Johnson set a gator hook for this one. First he inspected the shores of the lake until he spotted an area where, because of the weeds, the gator — in his opinion — was nesting. Next he tied a stout line to a large bush and attached it to a cane pole stuck in the lake bottom at an angle.

Then he lowered the rest of the line and attached the gator hook baited with the head of a large mullet.

"By tomorrow night," said Johnson, "we'll probably have our gator."

What amazes us is how this fellow Johnson operates. With his powerful spotlight mounted on his helmet he scans the lake until he spots the amber-red reflection from the eyes of the reptile.

He will then cut his motor, move to the bow of his boat and paddle straight for the gator, keeping him centered in the light's beam. When near enough, Bob's right arm moves like lightning, grasping the gator's head and sweeping him from the water.

Johnson, one might say, is 'gator. As for us, well — we're still chicken. We'll stick to the newspaper and let Johnson handle the alligators.

North Orlando Village Council will resume its regular meeting schedule with the September session set for Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Recreation Area Civic Building. No meeting took place in August due to lack of a quorum.

Cigarette tax collections, which mean so much to the budgets of Florida municipalities, amounted to slightly more than $4.9 million for the month of July.

Of this amount a little more than $1.6 million went to the state general revenue fund and the remaining $3.3 million was distributed to qualified cities and towns.

Of the $3.3 million, Altamonte Springs got $1,709, Casselberry $3,016, Longwood $2,590, North Orlando $196, Oviedo $1,278 and Sanford $15,876.

Tom McDonald, vice president of the Abstract Corp., and a former Sanford mayor, will be attending the annual convention of the American Land Title Association, Sept. 20-23, at the Bellevue - Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia. The organization, comprised of more than 2,300 abstractors and title insurance companies located in each of the 50 states, will hear discussions on land title problems, real estate, economics, law and finance.

Years of effort by the Airport Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce in bringing a general aviation facility to Seminole County moved a little nearer fruition in the past few days. Chairman Gordon Frederick and members of the airport committee left Friday for meetings in Washington, D.C., and Atlanta, Ga. Meeting with the local group and the Federal Aviation Authority in Atlanta will be Air Traffic Control Officer, Lt. Larry D. White of the Sanford Naval Air Station.

At the Washington meeting Saturday, airport officials were to talk with C. C. Thompson, airport consultant for the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Assn., specialist in planning and specifications for airport facilities.

In Atlanta, the group is scheduled to meet at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday with the Southern Region of the FAA, to discuss site approval.

As recommended by the airport committee, the site of the proposed airport is near Longwood, about three miles southeast of the intersection of Lake Mary Boulevard and Interstate 4.

In February of this year, application was submitted to the FAA seeking approval of this site. After working out some points of conflict between the proposed airport and the Sanford Naval Air Station, the application was scheduled for hearing before the Regional Air Space Committee, Tuesday.

In discussing the project, Frederick, present chairman of the committee pointed out that approval of the site by FAA is prerequisite to further action.

Frederick commended the Navy's cooperation in the site study.

"The Navy has been most cooperative in assisting the committee to move forward to ultimate site approval," he stated.

"The importance of transportation, especially air transportation becomes more obvious with each passing year. If Seminole County is to keep its place in the progressive movement of Central Florida, we must utilize advance planning to help us meet present needs and keep us abreast of future needs as the area grows," Frederick added.

As proposed, the airport would have one soil cement runway, 5,000 feet long and 200 feet wide. It is estimated that 20 single engine and five multi-engine aircraft could be based there initially, increasing to 45 single engine and 20 multi-engine aircraft within five years.

The purpose of the airport facility will be as a general aviation facility for business and private aircraft and servicing operations, and for public use.

Frederick pointed out that the proposed site, with its access to the Seminole County area via the Lake Mary Boulevard, and to surrounding Central Florida areas, via Interstate 4, will facilitate faster access to business firms in the area, who would be the primary users of the airport.

Deaths Mount In Singapore Street Fight

SINGAPORE, Malaysia (UPI) — Chinese and Malays killed each other in the streets of Singapore today. In another area Malaysian security forces hunted Indonesian raiders.

It was one of Malaysia's darkest hours since it was created one year ago out of Malaya, Singapore and British Borneo.

Malaysia enjoys parliamentary democracy and the highest standard of living in Asia after Japan. It also is fighting a growing guerrilla war with Indonesia and trying to contend with hostility among its own Malay, Chinese and Indian populations.

Malays and Chinese fought in Singapore today for the sixth straight day of race rioting. Police reports said one person was killed, bringing the death toll since the rioting started to 12. Eighty-five persons have been injured and 23 hospitalized.

Malaysian Prime Minister Tengku Abdul Rahman has blamed the riots on agitators from Indonesia, which has vowed to crush Malaysia as an instrument of British colonial policy.

A Malaysian delegation was en route to New York today to present its charges of Indonesian aggression before the United Nations Security Council.

On the Malay peninsula north of Singapore, security forces skirmished for 20 minutes in a mangrove swamp Sunday night with Indonesian paratroopers, wounding and capturing two of them.

About 45 paratroopers were airdropped last Wednesday near Labis, 100 miles north of Singapore. The Malaysians slain four invaders dead and nine captured.

The aptitude test for the IBM machine classes at the Seminole County Business School will be given one time only, at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the school, Mrs. Penrose Love, principal, reminded prospective pupils today.

Only six students can be chosen for the course, on the basis of the aptitude tests.

Mrs. Love announced that shorthand classes will also close at the end of this week. Registration will continue until Friday. Other classes may be entered at any time during the school year.

Business Joins Johnson's Band
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Walter F. Carey, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, says that more businessmen are plunging into politics — many of them in support of President Johnson.

Carey said Sunday in a television interview that businessmen had found to their surprise it didn't hurt them to get involved in politics, but enhanced their prestige and business.

Change Urged
NEW YORK (UPI) — Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., urged Sunday night a "complete overhaul" of the U. S. immigration system with a person's potential to contribute to the country, not his national origin, the yardstick of admission.

Georgia, Carolinas Told To Prep For Sting From Hurricane Dora

Town Rallies To Assistance Of Unemployed

EDMORE, Mich. (UPI) — This town of 1,300 persons rallied today to aid 200 Puerto Rican and 200 Mexican migrant workers who became stranded when a pickle factory that hired them closed down.

Most of the Puerto Ricans were without funds, although officials said the Mexicans apparently were not so badly off.

Mayor Charles Mox said "we can't let them down. It's our responsibility as human beings to help." Many residents especially members of St. Margaret Mary Roman Catholic Church, gave food to the migrants.

Father Leo Rosloniec, Spanish speaking assistant pastor, said many of them would not have had anything to eat without the help of townspeople.

The plight of the migrants developed when the Little Pickle Co. plant was shut down Saturday. A possible riot was prevented by law enforcement authorities and Roman Catholic priests.

The Puerto Ricans and Mexicans had been brought here under 13-week contracts. Under the contract, they were to receive $1 an hour for working 12 hours a day, six days a week. Provisions for their return trip home were that the company would pay half and the workers half.

Dedication Set At 'Deltona U'
Dedication exercises for "Deltona U," a replica of the Little Red School House, originally slated to be held Aug. 27 and postponed because of Hurricane Cleo, have been rescheduled for this Thursday.

Ceremonies will be held at 10:30 a.m. at the Deltona Community Center and will feature an address by Elliott Mackie, executive vice president of the Deltona Corp.

There will be special floral arrangements, refreshments and numerous guests, including many educators from De Land, Daytona Beach and other surrounding communities.

The public is invited to attend.

FIVE PERSONS WERE INJURED in a two-car accident in the Death Valley area of Hwy. 17-92 late Saturday when William Bagley, Sanford Negro minister attempted to enter the highway into northbound traffic. Bagley apparently drove directly into the path of a car driven by Edwin Youman of Orlando. Five men and one woman were treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital for various minor injuries, with one admitted with facial lacerations. FHP Trooper Dan Onks charged Bagley with failing to yield right of way. ((Herald Photo))

Police Calm Hoodlum Rioting At New England Seaside Site

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H. (UPI) — A swiftly mobilized force of several hundred police and National Guardsmen routed "an army of hoodlums" from this seaside resort early today after a night of rioting and destruction.

The "hoodlums," estimated variously at 2,000 to 10,000 ravaged the oceanfront in a frenzied reign of terror that left dozens injured, untold property damage and more than 100 rioters under arrest.

The rioting started Sunday night. It ended in the early morning hours after law enforcement officers bashed heads and fired tear gas to quell resistance.

Under the personal supervision of Gov. John W. King, who arrived shortly before midnight still dressed in the tuxedo he was wearing at a Manchester dinner party, police quashed the rioters out of parked cars, back yards and the beach and literally ran them out of town.

The officers, more than 100 strong at the end, chased the youths down Route 1A leading into Massachusetts, clubbing laguardis on the backside and arresting any who offered resistance.

None were allowed to drive away. Those in cars were forced to abandon their vehicles and trot out of town on foot with the others.

Hundreds of state and local police were augmented by 50 Maine state troopers, sent here at King's request, and a large force of National Guardsmen ordered into action by Maj. Gen. Francis H. McSwiney, state adjutant general, at King's command.

Massachusetts state police swarmed the routed rioters at the state line.

Storm Luring Ethel To Join Mighty Swing

MIAMI (UPI) — Giant and dangerous hurricane Dora churned the Atlantic on a threatening course with 130 miles an hour winds today. Weathermen warned Georgia and the Carolinas to watch all advisories.

Rough swells from Dora began licking exposed points of the South Atlantic seaboard late Sunday night as the storm took a more westward turn from its west-northwest course at 10 m.p.h.

"Fringe effects of the hurricane could reach the coast by late Tuesday," the Miami Weather Bureau warned. But it added that there was no immediate danger to the mainland.

At 5 a.m. "the large and dangerous hurricane" was located 700 miles east of the nation's space center at Cape Kennedy, Fla., near latitude 27.8, longitude 68.4.

"Seas are already rough over most of the southwest North Atlantic and will be gradually increasing along the southeast Atlantic coast during the next two days. Small craft along the south Atlantic coast should not venture far from port and batters in this area should exercise caution."

"The present and predicted movement of this hurricane increases the threat to the southeast coastal sections of the United States, but since it is moving slowly there will be little effect other than increasing areas through Tuesday," the Miami Weather Bureau said.

The storm was so big and sucking up so much heat from the warm Atlantic waters to generate power, that weathermen said tropical storm Ethel to the southeast would probably be absorbed by Dora today.

Red Tide Seen
NAPLES (UPI) — A state marine biologist said last night that two "massive" formations of "red tide" are lurking off the Northwest Florida coast in the Gulf of Mexico.

Special Election Called By Bryant

7 Counties To Vote Tuesday
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Voters in seven Florida counties go to the polls Tuesday to nominate candidates for posts ranging from constable to circuit judge.

The special elections were called by Gov. Ferris Bryant to replace candidates who died since the May primary or who have withdrawn their names from the November general election ballot.

A second primary has been scheduled in the counties — Clay, Levy, Volusia and Lee — in case one is needed to decide a close race.

There will be four races for the house of representatives: Three men have qualified for the House seat to which the late Bernie Papy, "king of the keys," had been nominated. Papy, a Democrat, had been unopposed by a GOP candidate for the Monroe seat. Qualifying for the post were Bernie Papy Jr., Fred Pribyl and former Rep. Jack A. Saunders, all of Key West.

Three qualified for the Levy County House seat vacated by the death of veteran lawmaker Frank Marshburn of Bronson. They are Ford Lincoln, Williston; John C. Partin III, Chiefland and Joe Wilder, Cedar Keys.

In Pinellas County, four Republicans qualified for a race to replace Rep. Douglas Loeffler, who resigned to run for a circuit judgeship. They are Robert A. Halvorsen, Richard B. Jones, Ray C. Osborne, all of St. Petersburg, and Kenneth C. Kepler of Clearwater. The winner will face Democrat Arch Craigie, St. Petersburg, in November.

In Clay County, only one man, Harold Hill of Doctors Inlet, qualified for the GOP nomination left vacant by the resignation of E. F. Clausen. Hill will oppose the Democrat
