DEMOCRATS TO WIN DECLARES JOHN W. DAVIS

Party's Nominee Maintains That He Has Been Assured That Democrats Will Be Returned to Power Again Will Win Election In Electoral College

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The flat statement that "the democratic party will win the presidential election" was made Friday night by John W. Davis, democratic nominee for president, on his return here from a final campaign tour of middle western states.

Mr. Davis in a formal statement declared further, "the personal contact with the voters has demonstrated that they will not excuse the corruption and maladministration that has prevailed at Washington during the recent years of republican misrule."

It was also positively asserted that, in addition to the victory he claimed for the national ticket, the democrats "will control congress, thus insuring putting into effect our promised reforms just as soon as legislation to that end can be framed and passed."

Among the "reforms" promised by Mr. Davis are revision of the tariff, reduced taxes, international cooperation, improved inland waterways and uniform legislation.

Efforts of his political opponents to bolster up their cause by suggesting danger of the election, going into the house, Mr. Davis said, had been investigated, with the result that "more than the necessary 266 votes to elect me president already are assured."

"The democratic party will win the presidential election," the statement said. "I am fully convinced of this. I make my claim only after a very careful investigation into the situation, a first-hand inquiry which has taken me more than 12,000 miles. My opinion is not based on what politicians have told me. It comes from direct contact with the individual voters themselves."

"When I first started out to carry to the voters of the country the message of the democratic party, the campaign was in its infancy. Even then there were indications that the people were deeply interested. That interest has increased from day to day, until at the present moment the coming election, a week from next Tuesday, is the chief subject of discussion everywhere."

"When I make the statement that the democrats will carry the election and will elect their national ticket and a congress to uphold the new administration I do so because of my knowledge of the exact conditions that prevail in this country. Personal contact with the voters has demonstrated that they will not excuse the corruption and maladministration that has prevailed at Washington during the recent years of republican misrule."

"The people are making ready to order a change. This is indicated probably more than anywhere else in the greatly increased registration reported from one end of the country to the other. It does not take any great familiarity with political affairs to understand that such heavy increases bode ill to the party in power."

Aim and Hope of America To Help Europeans Help Themselves Says Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The "hope and aim of America" is to help Europe to help itself, President Coolidge declared last night in an address devoted to international relations at a Golden Rule dinner of the Near East Relief Association.

Speaking before an audience which included many members of the diplomatic corps, Mr. Coolidge outlined at some length the attitude of the Washington government in foreign affairs which he declared followed the Golden Rule. "Europe does not want your help," he said, "just as you do not want your help and we are ready to give it. America wanted the peace of good will and of the Golden Rule, not the peace of force imposed by those who have power. It wants peace, as the normal, the right, the assured estate in a world from which a wiser generation shall have forever outlawed aggressive war."

Recalling that this country had expended millions in charitable relief, Mr. Coolidge called attention to the fact that it also had extended to other governments loans and "credits," which they are beginning to repay. "There is a 'moral obligation' to make such repayments," he added.

The president took occasion also to restate that while this government had given its "general approval" to numerous loans made by its private citizens in aiding the refinancing of European countries, the loans were made without assumption of any obligation whatsoever by our government.

"American investors receive the assurance that they loans and agreements will be supported by American arms," Mr. Coolidge explained. "It is gratifying that American capital has been able to facilitate the carrying into effect of the Dawes plan with its promise of economic recuperation abroad from which we as well as the peoples abroad will benefit. But loans are made without commitments on the part of this government."

Going in a detailed account of the errands of mercy by this government into Europe and Far East in recent years, and to its accomplishments in stabilizing economic conditions generally, the president referred to those "exceedingly modest roads" which "consistently advocate their own assumption that our country has done nothing for Europe."

AD AGENCY HEAD GIVES BENEFITS "BLOCK SYSTEM"

Charles W. Rosevear, Manager Dorland Advertising Agency, Gives Value of Community Advertising

A unique plan of advertising known as the "Block System," which had its inception some 18 or 20 years ago and was originated by the Dorland Advertising Agency of Atlantic City, N. J., was explained fully to a representative of The Herald Friday by Charles W. Rosevear, manager of the firm, who has been in Sanford during the past few days.

By way of further explanation, Mr. Rosevear declared that the "Block System" is simply a community advertising plan whereby several cities group their advertisements under one general head which sets for the advantages of the state or section of the country in which those cities are located.

For instance as applied to this state, in the campaign of three years ago, said Mr. Rosevear, all of the principal cities of the state including Miami, Jacksonville, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Sanford, Orlando, Lakeland and others, instead of carrying on their individual advertising campaigns in northern papers, joined hands, had their advertisements grouped in one big display which had at the top, "Summertime All The Time In The State of Florida." Following this headline was further general information on what the state had to offer in the way of climate, natural advantages and investment.

The advantages of such a plan are many, declared Mr. Rosevear, who grouped them thus: First, each city pays a small cost in paying for advertising for the whole state; second, each is obtaining as a result of this state advertising, results which it could not have secured if each had carried on its own advertising plan; third, each city gets more results for less money and fourth, the advertisements are carried in larger papers and in more of them.

The idea of observing the advantages of each city and community to those of the entire state, brings more people to Florida and then after they come here, each city secures its proportion of the tourists depending upon what each has to offer, declared Mr. Rosevear.

"Every city has something to offer which appeals to some people," said Mr. Rosevear, and the idea is to get as many people to the state as possible by telling them that you have all these things. This is accomplished by the "Block System" of advertising and the same results cannot be obtained otherwise."

Mr. Rosevear further pointed out that by community advertising, larger ads and better positions can be secured, which will aid materially in attracting the readers' attention. Under the plan, each city pays the same amount for the space taken up by feature line and other general information pertaining to the state and then each city.

President of Central Government Makes Way For New Powers Assuming Reins

Gen. Fen Yu Hsiang Begins Work Welding the Provinces

PEKING, Oct. 25.—Tsao Kun has resigned the presidency of the Central Chinese government. A mandate last night ending the war led to the assumption that Manchurian and Peking military chieftains had reached an agreement.

Failure of President Tsao Kun to fulfill his pre-election promises, coupled with the domineering attitude of General Wu Pei Fu, who controlled actions of the president and used his influence to promote his ambitions at the expense of others, made possible the overthrow of the government by General Feng Yu Siang, "Christian general."

Order Execution of Secretary. Feng Yu-Hsiang ordered the execution of General Li-Cheng, private secretary to President Tsao Kun after General Li had been questioned Friday concerning charges of wholesale financial irregularities.

It was reported Feng and his conferees had drafted a list of officials to be held under surveillance. The list included Wang Ke-Min, financial minister; Kao Lung-Wai, minister of commerce, and Wu Yu-Lin, minister of communications. Premier Yang was reported arrested while hiding under a house.

The remainder of Feng's troops have reached Peking giving him command more than 40,000 men. The present bodyguard has been completely disbanded and the cabinet is being carried on under Premier Yin.

Issues Proclamation. In a proclamation which included a warning that "rumor mongers will be executed," General Feng said:

"The republic has been at war for 13 years. As a result commerce is impossible and the nation has been subjected to great loss in a war which nobody understands.

"This year was marked by drought and flood. Nine houses out of ten are empty. Truly, we are wretched. I desire to stop this war and to make peace. Therefore I have returned to Peking," the proclamation continues.

"Foreign lives and property will be protected. All should heed my words," the proclamation concluded. The gates of the city were closed Friday and motor cars entering the location quarters were scrutinized for alleged misgovernment, to prevent them from moving into the location quarter under cover.

A military representative of the new regime called upon the foreign diplomats at the location quarter Friday and assured them that every effort would be made to open communications at the earliest possible moment. The diplomats went into conference immediately.

MUKDEN, Oct. 25.—Ending of the war with the Chinese central government was officially announced in a communique issued at the headquarters of Chang Tso-Lin here at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. The communique stated that Feng Yu Hsiang was in possession.

LETTUCE CROP IN CALIFORNIA BIG, SAYS F. F. DUTTON

Local Marketing Agent Says That Strong Competition May Also Be Expected From New Jersey Lettuce Lands

In discussing the general belief current among growers of this community in regard to the degree of competition that may be expected from other producing centers, F. F. Dutton, head of the F. F. Dutton marketing agency here, stated yesterday that information received by him from reliable sources indicated that the celery and lettuce crops of Southern California and other points of competition this year would show an increase of approximately 20 per cent over that of last year.

Mr. Dutton stated that he was supplying The Herald with the following information for the benefit of the planters of this section, who have, he declared, an erroneous impression regarding the amount of competition that may be expected this season, particularly in regard to lettuce.

He is in receipt of numerous telegrams and letters, some of which are reproduced in this article. One letter from Los Angeles dated Oct. 18, reads:

"The celery acreage in northern California shows an increase this season of approximately three or four hundred acres over last year, and to date the crop as a whole is in normal condition with a possible exception of being 10 days to two weeks later than last year."

"In Southern California the acreage of banked celery at Elmonte and Orange County has been somewhat reduced but is in exceptionally good condition.

There has also been a heavy planting of celery in the Venice district which is grown after a fashion very similar to Florida, and this crop gives every promise of turning out a very heavy supply of exceptionally fine celery for October and November shipment, and as we see it now, the supply of December celery from Northern California is going to be much heavier than we have had for the past two or three seasons.

It is too early to tell what spring conditions will be but we can see nothing to indicate a shortage of celery last year, as the Chula Vista district in San Diego County has a normal acreage and there is some likelihood of Northern California carrying over a part of their crop through the frost period, and if this occurs it will result in landing a heavy shipment of March and April seed stalk from Northern California during these two months."

Wallace Has But Fighting Chance In Battle Of Life

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Physicians attending Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture, who is lying between life and death of toxemia poisoning, which set in yesterday after an operation last week in removal of the appendix and gall bladder, said shortly before noon today that condition "could hardly be more unfavorable" for recovery. There is still slight hope.

It was added that a definite change one way or another in the patient's condition was expected at any time now. Mrs. Wallace is at the bedside.

Coming from the sick room at the naval hospital where the secretary is suffering from complications resulting from an operation performed last week for the removal of his appendix and gall bladder, Dr. Joel T. Boons, one of the White House physicians in attendance, in making this announcement, said he believed there were "certain reasons for encouragement."

Dr. Boons arranged to remain at the hospital throughout the night. Toxemia resulting from an infection of the intestines has set in and Dr. M. T. Finney, of Johns Hopkins University, was called today for consultation.

LOCAL BAPTISTS ELECT OFFICERS AT ANNUAL MEET

Members of Board of Trustees Named and Body Elects Schelle Maines Chairman; Committees Are Appointed

At the annual meeting of the First Baptist Church held recently the following named persons were elected to serve as trustees for the ensuing year: A. J. Lossing, J. G. Sharon, F. E. Gatchell, W. M. Scott, W. E. Soggan, Madison Wade, J. G. Michol, Dr. Thomas Moore and Schelle Maines.

The trustees organized the board by electing Schelle Maines chairman and J. G. Michol secretary. Mr. Maines succeeds John D. Jinkins, who resigned the chairmanship of the board after serving eight years in that capacity in order that he may devote more time to the Baptist Sunday School, of which he is superintendent.

Three committees provided for in the charter and by laws to be known as the executive or emergency committee, the finance committee and the building and auditing committee were also appointed.

During the fiscal year ending August 31, 1924, the board of trustees handled approximately $9,000, all of which was expended in current or general expenses of the church.

During the same period the Board of Deacons, which has in charge the custody of the Benevolent Funds, administered the expenditure of approximately $2,500 and other organizations of the church handled another $2,500.

The Sunday School raised and expended more than $1,000 a year for the last four years, most of this sum going toward defraying the expenses of literature and publications, according to the report of H. Sands Sellick, secretary.

The church is reported to be in an excellent condition, both financially and spiritually, and during the 28 months that Dr. F. D. King has been with the church more than 400 additional memberships have been secured, according to a statement issued by officials of the church.

A series of special evangelistic services held at the First Baptist Church recently met with unhoped for success, according to Dr. King's report, and resulted in the conversion of many citizens.

CAUSEWAY OVER FLOODED AREA IS FINISHED FRIDAY

Traffic Over Sanford-Deland Road Resumed Under Almost Normal Conditions; Other Roads Impassable

The causeway from the north end of the Seminole-Volusia bridge over the St. Johns River on the Sanford-Deland road across the flooded area of the highway at that place was completed shortly after noon Friday and traffic at that point has resumed under almost normal conditions, according to telephone communications received by the local Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon.

It was originally expected by Volusia officials that the causeway would be completed late Thursday afternoon, but work on it was not finished until Friday afternoon.

According to reports of local engineers, the causeway will have to be used for at least a month because the water in the St. Johns River will recede very slowly.

Conditions of the east coast roads, it is stated, are virtually the same as reported Friday, and much work is being done by the East Coast to get the roads in the Daytona area back to normal.

Water at Same Level. When questioned this morning in regard to the receding of the water in Lake Monroe and the St. Johns River, City Engineer Fred T. Williams stated that the water is still 10 inches above the top of the retaining wall of the bulkhead as it has been for two days previous.

It is the opinion of Mr. Williams that it may take even longer than that it was first expected for the water to recede appreciably. It will probably remain at the same level for several weeks.

Roads Still Blocked. "It will probably be the first of February before the Geneva road may again be opened to traffic," Mr. Williams said. "The Osteen road also is under water in the vicinity of the bridge and it, too, may be closed until that time."

Mr. Williams stated, however, that the water will do practically no damage to the Seminole county roads. The flow of water over them is very slow. The greatest damage, it was learned, is in having to keep these roads closed to the public for so long a period.

Ulster Officials Order Arrest Of Eamon De Valera

NEWRY, COUNTY DOWN, Ireland, Oct. 25.—Eamon de Valera, Republican leader, was arrested here Friday by the Ulster authorities.

It was announced by Irish headquarters in Dublin Tuesday that Eamon De Valera intended to go to Newry, in the Ulster area, to address a political meeting there. Mr. De Valera was elected a member of the Ulster parliament for County Down in 1921 but did not take his seat, and the Ulster government sometime ago forbade him from entering certain of the Ulster areas, one of them being County Down.

It was forecast in Dublin early in the week that if the Republican leader appeared in County Down he immediately would be given notice to leave and if he ignored such notice, would be arrested and in addressing a meeting in Dublin Wednesday night Mr. De Valera answered the challenge of the northern government to arrest him if he crossed the border, recalling that he had been elected a representative for County Down and declaring no man worthy of the people could ignore that challenge.

Mr. De Valera was arrested in the vestibule of the Town Hall before he entered the meeting which had been announced he would address.

Material For Construction of City Hall Fast Arriving In Car Load Lots

Material for the construction of Sanford's new municipal hall is fast arriving in car load lots and local officials in expressing their opinions state that it will only be a short time before the building will be well under construction.

Lime is being slacked, lumber is being unloaded and several cars of brick and other materials have already been unloaded and are at the site of the future structure and are ready for use.

Excavations for the foundations are being made and it is expected that within a few days this part of the work will have been completed. A number of workmen may be seen on the city's property on Park Avenue each day in spite of the extended rainy weather and from all accounts much is being accomplished.

It is expected that since bonds have been sold to provide funds for a new municipal hall that the City Commission will soon award a contract, together with the council commissioners, for the erection of the structure. The building will cost approximately $75,000 and will provide jails for both the city and the county. It will also contain a municipal court room.

It is further noted that in spite of existing weather conditions, construction on various other buildings is being rushed throughout the city. Additional building material is being hauled daily to the site and the water under the Episcopal Church property and excavation for the foundation is being made at that place.

The new addition to the Clyde Line dock at this point is nearly completed and it is expected that it will soon be ready for use by the company.

Due to the high water no concrete piles, are being driven at present in the construction of the municipal pier but the dredge is still at work filling in the low places. City Manager W. B. Williams states that when that part of the dredging is finished, the space between the two rows of piles for the pier will be filled in.

Attention is also called by city officials to the fact that rapid progress is being made in the laying of mains for the extensions of the water system and improvements are being made in both the water and gas service.

MISS SHIPP AGAIN LEADS IN HERALD SALES CAMPAIGN

Miss Nell Williams Goes Back Into Second Place With Miss Woodcock Third; Much Interest Is Being Shown

As the fourth period of The Herald's big subscription campaign comes to an end Miss Velma Shipp, once again takes the lead polling 576,995 votes today. Miss Nell Williams dropped to second place with 567,998 votes leading Miss Versa Woodcock by only 2,868.

Standings of other contestants remain about the same, except for the fact that nearly all of them have increased their votes since the last list was published.

Miss Naomi Fellows is continually turning in subscriptions and votes and is not in the least discouraged over her fourth position in the race. She is of the opinion that some great changes may take place in the four weeks which remain before the prizes are awarded and is perfecting her plans for a vigorous campaign during the remainder of the contest.

Ballot day votes are placed in the ballot box by friends interested in the candidacy of the various young ladies. But as the vote schedule is reduced and as the ballot published in The Herald each day is continually getting lower, votes are hard to get and greater efforts are needed to make big gains.

Fourth Period Ends Tonight. To receive the greatest possible credit on subscriptions contestants will do well to see that all orders they have are turned in at The Herald office before 10 o'clock tonight, at which time the fourth period of the contest will end.

Promptly at 10 o'clock this office will close and the vote sheet will again be cut down. In all probability these two last periods will be exciting ones with workers making every possible effort to get the greatest number of votes and win.

Extra Vote Offer Also Ends. When The Herald office closes tonight the opportunity to win 20,000 extra votes by turning in $100 or more subscriptions during the week will also end. 20,000 votes may be the margin on which the first prize is won. Who can tell? It is good business to take any chances.

Stetson Players Are Ready For Piedmont Game

JOHN "Red" Davis, sporting editor of the DeLand News, and former sports writer on the Lakeland Star-Telegram, in a long distance communication this morning advised The Herald that the Stetson University gridders were in the proverbial pink of condition on the eve of their scheduled game with the strong Piedmont College eleven at Cummings Field tomorrow, and that Coach H. R. McQuillan was confident that victory would perch upon his banners and remain there throughout the struggle.

Mr. Davis goes on to say: "Two hours were spent in timing plays and signal practice Thursday afternoon at Stetson University as Coach McQuillan prepared to close his week of hard practice in preparation for the Piedmont game Saturday on Cummings Field. All of the plays tried were working with clocklike precision.

"McQuillan seems well pleased with the actions of his players on the field. The various press correspondents who followed the players around the field were delighted at the results of these final workouts. "Curiosity to see the team in action has been rapidly mounting this week since Coach McQuillan closed the gates of the playing field to the general public. Present indications are that Stetson students will have a target representation on the field than at any other previous game in the history of the school. Some of the girls in the student body were so anxious to see the boys in action that they climbed upon the gymnasium steps and watched them over the fence. Tickets for the game are rapidly being sold to both the students and the townspeople in DeLand. Preparations are being made to handle large numbers of visitors from the neighboring sections.

"Two full teams have been in action on the practice field this week with a number of reserves waiting to take the regular's places. The coach would not intimate Thursday afternoon which men would start the game and has announced he would give a tentative lineup for publication Friday night. The boys have a stiff skull practice each night for one hour.

DAVIS BACK FROM MIDDLE WEST TO CLOSE CAMPAIGN

ed from the subject he had been discussing to add:
"I stand for the fundamental guarantees in favor of religious faith and practices in the United States and against any threat to diminish the right of any man because of his choice to adopt the religion he learned at his mother's knee."

If ever the time came when he would not be willing to speak in defense of these principles, Mr. Davis said:
"I hope my arm will fall pained to my side and my tongue will cleave to the roof of my mouth."

The candidate said he was a member of two secret organizations, the Elks and Masons, and asserted "if they should ever come that they should seek to enter the political field, I would feel it my duty as a man and a citizen to sever my connection with them instantly."

Replying further to the questioner, Mr. Davis added: "I do not believe, and in my judgment history will bear me out, that any lasting good ever can be accomplished by the inclusion into politics of any secret order whatsoever."

Walter A. Riggs, in charge of the government vocational training in Florida, was in Sanford Thursday, on his return trip to Jacksonville, his headquarters, after having made a tour of inspection in the southern part of the state, reaching as far as Key West. Mr. Riggs was a pleasant caller at the Herald office.

Why not try being 10 years younger again—why not grow stronger in body, in mind, in vitality? Why not take McQuillan's Cod Liver Oil Tablets and drop 10 years from your age in 30 days? We mean this literally, of course. We believe that a 30 days treatment will make you feel 10 years younger—but at any rate try them for 30 days and if you are not satisfied get your money back—60 tablets—60 cents at Union Pharmacy or any progressive druggist. Be sure and get McQuillan's—the original and genuine. —Adv.

Chamber Commerce Hears Speeches On Tax, Amendments

co-operate with the Sanford chamber in the building of the proposed canal from some point in the upper St. Johns River to the Indian River and that the east coast city wants the canal to be dug to New Smyrna instead of over the route at present being considered by the cities and organizations of Central Florida which are interested in the work. The matter was deferred for the present because no survey had been made to New Smyrna while the survey over the other route has been made several times and is entirely feasible.

In a brief report on the recent meeting of the East Coast Chambers of Commerce A. P. Connolly stated that although he thought the idea of the east coast counties bonding to build a canal from Mayport to Biscayne Bay was rather far fetched because of the great cost involved, while if the same idea could be taken up by the Central Florida counties, say Seminole, Orange, Volusia, Brevard and Putnam, the desired canal with a clearance of 10 feet could be obtained from the St. Johns River to the Indian River for a comparatively small sum. The cost would be about $1,400,000 while the east coast portion would cost about $12,000,000, he said.

Such a canal would be profitable to the growers of these sections, he declared, because it would mean proper drainage during seasons such as the one just past when much damage is done to roads and crops by excessive rains and high water.

COOLIDGE GIVES OPINION ON MANY NATIONAL ISSUES

Makes Last Extended Address Before Election; Is Most Comprehensive of Talks; Reviews Party Record

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—President Coolidge set forth last night his policies of administration under which he proposes that the government will "maintain peace, promote economy, provide a protective tariff, assist the farmers, leave the people in possession of their property and maintain the integrity of the courts."

In the last extended address he expects to make before election and the most comprehensive he has delivered since his speech of acceptance of the Republican nomination, the President declared his stand on practically every phase of government affairs. He discussed campaign issues, in some instances, for the first time.

Mr. Coolidge spoke before the Eastern Division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States meeting here in the chamber's new building, and the address was carried by radio to almost every section of the country.

Summarizing the administration's program which he said had "brought an era of more than average prosperity" the President called attention to the fact that "well-wisher of the country would be anxious to maintain the present established order of things," there now are proposed "at least two of the most revolutionary changes—government ownership of transportation and limitation of the powers of the supreme court."

Public ownership, he described as a "most serious undertaking both to the welfare of business and the independence of the people." If powers of the supreme court were limited as proposed, he said, the historian would close the chapter with the comment that the people had shown they were incapable of self-government and the American Republic had proved a failure.

Fill Seemingly Sound Teeth To Correct Nature's Defects

So Advises Dentist Who Has Dental Supervision of 9,000 — Stresses Influence of the Teeth on Health

New York, N. Y.—Would you allow a dentist to grind the surface of a tooth without any sign of decay, either in your own mouth or in the mouth of your child, and put in a filling?

That seems like a foolish question but according to Dr. Thaddeus P. Hyatt, dental director of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, this will be the accepted practice among the best dentists in the next decade or two.

"This recommendation is not as new as it sounds," said Dr. Hyatt, who knows something about teeth, having supervision over those of the more than nine thousand persons in the company's home office. "An American dentist made this recommendation in the year eighteen-thirty-six but he gave no figures to support it.

"The best dental practice shows that if this were followed much of the dental infection prevalent would be eliminated. Statistics prove that practically eighty-five per cent of the cavities treated are on the grinding surface of the teeth. These cavities come, in most instances, from imperfect junction of the enamel covering the teeth.

One Cause of Cavities
This enamel builds out from each side of the tooth and meets about the middle of the surface. But nature does not always do a perfect job in joining the two sections. When there is a fault, even though it is not visible to the naked eye, the acids that form in the mouth will seep through and their action causes the decay of the dentine under the enamel.

A thorough dental cleansing, twice yearly, will reveal cavities before they become troublesome and will help tone up the system

"Time after time a tooth, seemingly sound on the surface, has been infected through this seepage. All we can do then is to cut out the infected part and fill it. If the tooth had been examined in childhood and had had its surface filled, when its liability to infection had been discovered, it would hardly ever be necessary to kill nerves or to put on gold crowns.

"We have found there is a direct connection between the condition of the teeth and bodily health. In fact, good healthy teeth make for good bodily health. They do not always attend one on the other but the chances are three or four to one that the person, whose teeth have no infection, will have better health than the one with infected teeth.

In 1923, according to statistics compiled by the company's dental division, there were 18,479 dental cleanings given to 9,000 employes and 11,511 fillings were inserted on advice of the dental examiners.

CRUISER'S DEATH LIST FROM BLAST IS NOW FOURTEEN

Commander of Trenton Declares All Precautions Were Taken on Board His Ship To Avoid Any Accidents

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Oct. 25.—An explosion in the mine of the Hart Coal Corporation near here early last night entombed nine men, four of whom escaped through an abandoned shaft and five reported that they were all here, according to officials of the company.

The explosion occurred in shaft number nine, 220 feet underground, shortly after the day force of 250 men had left the workings. The cage was jammed in the shaft and the tippie blown partly over.

Crowds began to gather and for several hours it was believed that the nine men known to be in the pits had perished. Four of them, who had been working in number 11 shaft, 90 feet below number 9 shaft, escaped through an abandoned shaft uninjured.

Shortly before 9 o'clock last night those gathered around the partly wrecked tippie heard a voice from below shouting "hey there". Harvey Nesbit, a negro miner, was talking. He told those on the surface in reply to questions, that "we are all here." None was injured, he said.

The rescue crews were attempting to enter the workings last night in search of two other men who were said to be still in the mine. Company officials, however, said that there were only nine men underground when the explosion occurred.

No estimate of the damage could be obtained last night, nor would any of the rescue workers predict how long it would be before the entombed men could be reached.

Three of the imprisoned men are white and two are negroes.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 25.—With the deaths Wednesday and last night of six of the wounded at the naval hospital here, the total number of dead from the powder explosion aboard the cruiser Trenton Monday, was brought to 14 and at least one more of the six remaining wounded is not expected to recover. Four of the disaster victims met death when the explosion occurred and ten have died since they were brought to the hospital.

OWNERS OF CARS WASTE MILLIONS IN YEAR'S TIME

Harrison Boyce Declared Carbon Destroys Power and Motor Efficiency; Loss in Each Year is $399,900,000

American automobile owners are wasting $399,900,000 annually according to Harrison Boyce, nationally known automotive engineer, who is now making a special study of motor maintenance in his Long Island laboratory.

"From figures which I have compiled in co-operation with the Automobile Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Boyce states, "I am convinced that through one item alone in automobile maintenance, motor owners throughout the United States are literally throwing away millions of dollars each year. That one item has to do with the common enemy of all motors, whether they operate on hand, in the air, or on the water. It is carbon."

Costs Six Dollars. Mr. Boyce points out that official figures show that the average cost per year of cleaning out carbon-clogged valves is $6 per car. According to statistics of the Automobile Chamber of Commerce, there were in the United States last year approximately 15,500,000 cars. This means that the total valve grinding bill of the whole country was a bit more than $93,000,000.

The sum total of wastage is further augmented, according to Mr. Boyce, by the fact that carbon-clogged cars require at least 20 per cent more gasoline than cars with clean valves. Carrying the dollars and cents estimate a bit further, therefore, it becomes plain that if, according to certified figures, the average consumption of gasoline is 450 gallons per year for each car and the average price is 23 cents a gallon, the total bill of the country is $1,534,500,000. Chemical tests show that a motor free from carbon runs on 20 per cent less gasoline than one which is not. The total gas bill, therefore, is approximately $306,900,000 more than it should be, bringing the total wastage up to $399,900,000.

Conservative Estimate. "But these are very conservative figures," Mr. Boyce points out. "And they are all the more appalling because they are totally unnecessary. Carbon as a motor menace has been eliminated, thanks to some of our leading chemists. "Think what this means. No more exasperating waits at the garage while you are having your valves ground out. No more skyrocketing garage bills."

A seaplane stayed up in the air 20 hours, but this record doesn't even approach that of clothes prices.

Organization Issuing Fake Passports Found

Help Of Churches Sought to Better Lives of Prisoners

ALBANY, Oct. 25.—Appending to the churches of the United States to exercise a greater and more constant influence upon the moral and religious work of penal institutions, Frank Moore, of Rahway, N. J., president of the American Prison Association, today sent out a request that every minister in the land have prison work as a subject of at least one service on Sunday, Oct. 26.

The action of the association's president, made public here, was in accord with the resolution passed at the 54th annual meeting of the organization which reaffirmed previous action in designating the fourth Sunday of October of each year as Prison Sunday.

In his message President Moore quoted statistics to show that crime in this country is increasing to an alarming degree. He pointed out that the census shows that from 1904 to 1922 the increase was at the rate of 50 per cent, and that every year approximately one out of every 666 citizens of the country greets the New Year in prison.

"If men in prisons are going to be free from sin and from the fetters that bind them," Mr. Moore said, "the churches must take an interest in the prison problems of the country. It is not a question of punishment but of reformation that must be worked out in the prisons."

Body Of Young Miner Recovered After Blast

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Oct. 23.—The body of Paul Wheeler, 19-year-old miner, was recovered from the Hart Coal Company's mine today where a gas and dust explosion last night entombed at least 15 miners. Two more men are missing and are believed buried under the fall of slate. Fourteen entombed men escaped during the night.

Regularity

The secret of successful saving is regularity.

Any person who will adopt a method of saving a regular sum at regular intervals if only a dollar a week, will create the habit of saving.

To save, when the habit is once acquired is as natural as breathing and the final reward is financial independence.

Faith—What Else Matters?

What is this incomprehensible thing that long after the midnight hour creeps mysteriously upon us, startling us out of the depths of sound sleep and leaving us worried and wondering what it is all about? What is this thing, Life, and where is it leading us? What is Death and where will it take us?

"A little while and my eyes, too," wrote Anatole France, "will close forever, and I shall have learnt but little more than thou"—his little brown dog, Mitzi—"concerning the mystery of Life and Death. As for that Unknown World which I was seeking, rightly did I think when I was a little child that it was close at hand. The Unknown World is all about us; it is everything that is outside us. And since we can never escape from ourselves, we shall discover it never."

Remember those words of Anatole France and when you, too, are awakened in the loneliness of early morning hours and a thousand clattering questions becloud your mind driving sleep away, you will have an answer—perhaps an unsatisfactory answer; yet, an answer. "We shall discover it never!"

And yet, there is one question we can answer. One question which puts all others to naught. Death is but a portal through which all must pass. On the other side is God. Whether or not you shall find Him, whether or not you can see Him depends upon your faith. Faith in the omnipotence of the Supreme Being; and what else matters?

Ask someone and he will say, "God is love." Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy said, "God is divine Principle, supreme incorporeal Being, Mind, Spirit, Soul, Life, Truth, Love." Plato said, "God is truth and light, His shadow." All these are true, but whatever God may be, whatever may be His home, Faith in Him is paramount. "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth His Handiwork."

Wordsworth, it was, who wrote that the task of the poet is to add sunshine to daylight. Faith in the Creator produces similar results to those of the poet. It is Faith that restores sleep to the man aroused in his slumbers to troubled doubt and worry. It is Faith that brings light into souls that are clothed in doubt and darkness, and carries gladness and brightness into the hearts of those who are happy.

The planet Neptune was first detected by Sir William Percival in 1781. He believed a definite force existed which deflected the planet from its regular course. He did not know, but he believed. After carefully plotting the course of the star, subsequent observations proved his calculations wrong. He continued, however, to believe in the existence of the definite force; he continued to believe that his figures were sound. He did not know, but he believed. Years later radical changes were made in telescopes, making them many times as effective, and his belief was then proved to be true.

Believe in God and you may yet know Him. Say to yourself, "I believe in God" and day by day manifestations of His power will be made to you, until finally when you pass through the portal of Death, you can safely say, "Behold, at first I only believed, but now I see."

Another Fine Gift For Florida

Florida should make much of that bird reservation, when it gets it. We are referring to the magnificent tract of land Edward Bok is arranging to buy near Lake Wales for the establishing of a great sanctuary where countless birds are to find homes and shelter.

The land, a 2,700-acre tract, lies north and west of Lake Walk-in-the-Water, on Tiger Creek, and is said to be as much in its virgin state as in the days when General Taylor marched his troops over it from Fort Rosalie, northeast of Lake Wales, to do battle with the Seminole Indians at Istokpogan. And in its jungles and wilds, the birds will find a retreat as safe as in the days when only the Seminole Indians, few and far between, were out to kill.

Presumably Mr. Bok will have sense enough not to "improve" this land with anything more modern than a good road on which friends of the birds will be permitted to travel through the reservation for a glimpse at the masters of the domain. And as the years go by, and the sojourners there learn to feel safe, it will be possible to get close to the songsters, and the plumage birds and learn their ways of life.

On account of the illness of one of the county commissioners in the district in which the land is found, negotiations for completing the deal for the land have dragged through the summer. But word from Lake Wales says that the business is to be finished soon. And then Florida, through the generosity and good judgment of another wealthy man, will have another fine possession. A bird reservation of 2,700 acres of virgin woods and jungles is not found in every state in the Union.

ANOTHER CABINET CRISIS

LOUISVILLE COURIER JOURNAL.

Mark has gone the way of Mr. Donald. The coalition Government of Germany could not stand the pressure from within and that from without. It could not hold together as its integral parts and add others to the conglomerate. After weeks of dissension it has gone to pieces.

The outstanding factor in the disintegration is Foreign Minister Stresemann. Since the Dawes plan was agreed to, Stresemann has hammered away at one point. Through his newspaper and through his followers in the People's Party he has demanded that the Government keep its promise to the Nationalists for withholding opposition to the economic scheme by giving them representation in the Cabinet.

This was agreed to in principle by the Chancellor, but in the distribution of portfolios he felt he could not afford to grant the Nationalists only in the event that the Socialists were taken care of, and the already unwieldy coalition would not stand the further complication.

Another minority Government, or rather a coalition of minorities, has fallen and the election to be held in December will determine what the complexion of the next Reichstag will be. Will the Dawes plan suffer as a result; will the international loan be jeopardized; are national questions whose answers can only be indicated by the last expression of the people. And that election there was no doubt that the German people favored the scheme as the only practicable solution to Germany's economic muddle. The extreme Right and Left, the

California for Coolidge? The Fearless Colored Man. War Hatred Dies. Our Liquor War. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1924)

RELIABLE information indicates California will go for Coolidge. There was at one time a good chance for La Follette carrying the State. And even now the Republicans, of whom certain very prominent individuals have been working for themselves, rather than for President Coolidge, are not entirely out of the woods.

However, California may probably be counted now as safe in the Republican column. Such is the opinion of those best informed, including Republicans, that don't like Coolidge.

IN INDIANA, according to Louis Seibold, old parties are forgotten; the Ku Klux Klan is the issue. One story, guaranteed by its narrator, but not by this writer, describes the scheme of an Indiana Democrat. Working for the Democratic State ticket, this statesman secured the services of a colored man whose two ears were cut off with razors in a "crap" game.

The talk assigned to this careless colored worker for democracy is as follows:

He walks about the streets of Indianapolis, and to sympathizing colored brethren, asking how he lost his ears, he replies as mysteriously as possible, "Shhh! I come from Alabama. The Ku Klux did that to me. And they will do it to you up here if they get control. Better vote for the Democratic party. They are against the Klan."

WAR HATREDS die rapidly. The other day American patriots wanted to lynch musicians for playing Wagner's music—not knowing, presumably, that Wagner had to leave Germany because of his opposition to the Kaiser.

Last Monday night, in the big gas theatre in New York, a crowd of six thousand, gathered to honor Captain Ekenker, of the ZR-3, case to applaud "Deutschland Uber Alles."

SOME OF La Follette's admirers not only deny that Germany caused the war but insist that the war was made by J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. That's going too far.

J. Pierpont Morgan did not make the war, but he certainly did make J. Pierpont Morgan.

WE HAVE a little war in America, born of prohibition. In that war bootleggers have been killed by United States Government agents, and 18 more by coast guards. In addition, hundreds have been killed in bootleggers' quarrels, and in fights between bootleggers, and handlers that prey on bootleggers.

It costs the Government more than ten millions a year to carry on the, thus far, unsuccessful fight against whiskey.

Possibly, light beer, which might prove a successful competition with bootleg whiskey, and would certainly yield the Government a revenue of five hundred millions a year, may eventually be tried.

DEFENSIVE HOPE of a passenger flying across the ocean comes from Akron.

The American Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation, now owning Zeppelin patents, will build in Ohio, especially for transatlantic passenger service an airship of 5,000,000 cubic feet, twice the size of the ZR-3.

Before many years you will go to Europe, swiftly, comfortably through the air, without sea-sickness. Business men in a hurry will leave for London or Paris on Monday, transit business in both cities and be back in America for the following week-end. And that is no dream. You will live to see it a matter of course, and will answer the question, "Papa, when are you going to fly to Europe again?"

THE RUSSIAN Government announces a budget, balanced with out issuing any paper money, for the first time since the revolution. The total budget is only one billion gold dollars, pitifully small compared with ours.

WHOEVER questions the ability of Russians to perform miracles knows little about Russian history.

The country that Peter the Great could change from a stagnant, Oriental despotism to a great western power in one lifetime, can adapt itself to difficult conditions.

JACOB FRANKS, father of the boy murdered by Lech and Leopold establishments a fund to be used, after his death, to prevent release by pardon, parole or otherwise of the two young murderers condemned to life imprisonment.

Frank's money may balk some good-natured or corrupt official willing to release the young murderers hereafter. It is likely, however, that the parents of those two boys will do more than any fund to keep their sons in prison. There they are safe against themselves.

OFFICIAL betting odds in Wall Street yesterday were 4 to 1 on Coolidge; 5 to 1 against Davis; unofficial bets of 5 to 1 have been made on Coolidge, and they are not easy to get.

JUST IN PASSING

It is nothing short of ridiculous to read about the hue and cry made about contributions to any of the parties. To my mind it is much better to have big business men make contributions than to have to beg for a few lousy nickels as the Democratic party is forced to do every four years in Florida. If you do not want big business to contribute, why don't you give something yourself?

Last now, on the eve of election, it is good for the Democrats of Florida to take stock of themselves, and see if they have done and are doing all they can for their city, county, state and country. Otherwise there will soon be a strong Republican party in Florida that will soon day sweep the state. It is coming and you might just as well face the music and get ready for it by clearing house and throwing away all the "dead timber" and putting in a new huddled stock that will really bear fruit.

Local and mercantile are inaugurating a movement to close the stores at ten o'clock Saturday nights. This is a step in the right direction. Everyone who buys goods can buy them between the hours of eight in the morning and ten at night. Some people would wait until Sunday morning to buy if the stores would remain open that long.

Sanford has one of the best golf courses in the state of Florida and the fine Club-house in the State of Florida. You can say anything about this every time you write a letter to some of your friends. It means much to this city.

The Bulletin of the late rains have not killed any crops in the Sanford section with the exception of some lettuce already planted in the field. Some there will be plenty of lettuce from New York state and from the west in the only markets on our coast. Lettuce would not have brought much anyway, therefore, it is an all right deal that wets nobody, if you know what I mean.

In so far as good gets a community as Crescent City, time should not pass so slowly as was indicated by the last issue of the local weekly paper in that place, which bore the date of "Friday, October 21." Palatka News, taking Crescent City, reads as an example maybe the above date is correct.

All the good talk against the amendment barring income tax and abolition of tax in Florida comes from folks who have nothing and never expect to have anything and are sore at anyone who has something. We cannot afford to allow such people to knock a measure that means so much to the rest of us who want real capital to come to Florida.

Man in Jacksonville will start a dairy and deliver milk by airplane route. If he should have a few accidents over some of the water routes, there would probably be a new "Milky Way" in the heavens.

John "Red" Davis, one of the best sporting writers in the state, has recently secured his connection with the Lakeland Star Telegraph and will write the Lakeland sport news for the DeLand News. We are glad to have "Red" closer to Sanford for he is a former Sanford man and writes some good dope for the Sanford Herald in the days gone by when the Sandspur League was the highest thing in the state.

The Sanford Chamber of Commerce will go after tourists this season with the idea that there are thousands of good folks in the north who want a nice room in a private home in Sanford who want to enjoy the hunting and fishing and yachting in God's great out of doors and be in a strictly "Friendly City" where they can enjoy life to the fullest. Sanford can take care of a thousand visitors of this sort and next season that new tourist hotel will be built by one of these same visitors.

Armistice Day is not far away and it should be one of the biggest days in our history. Campbell-Lewis Post will have their new building all ready and we should all turn in and help the boys put over something fine on the 11th of November. You promised them much when they left home to do your fighting for you, now come across and make good some of your promises.

Glad to see the American Legion putting the flag decoration across. I suppose about this new system of decoration some time ago and advocated it for Sanford. It is the best ever and will decorate the streets in a fitting manner at a very small cost to the business houses.

With the idea of boosting poultry in Seminole county and especially the Seminole County Poultry Association the Florida Trucker has instituted a Poultry Department with W. S. With the excellent officers of this association, with Benjamin Whitner, the efficient County Agent, and with the Florida Trucker as the mouthpiece the Poultry Association should make a crackle that will be heard round the world.

If there are any conscientious objectors to the street paving in Sanford who might think that paving does not pay, let them try to buy some property on the newly-paved streets or find out the price of this property a year ago when this same property was off the pain lines and in the woods.

SATURDAY EVENING SERMON

(By William Jennings Bryan)

We have a comforting lesson today, the very title is soothing, "The Stilling of the Storm" is an explanation as "the angle of repose" a parable that I learned at Panama some years ago.

I asked when the stiles would come and an engineer replied, "When the tide's reach their angle of repose."

That is not only a smooth sounding phrase, but it is what mankind is seeking, "the angle of repose" a condition of security when fears will no longer disturb. So "the Stilling of the Storm" embodies a promise in words that are unspoken to the ear.

After "The Parables of the Sea" Jesus sought to escape for a while from the throng that His fame attracted.

While His spirit was unweakened, His body needed rest, the human side of Him had the weakness of the flesh. Let us pass over into the other side. There was quiet there.

The "Stilling of the Storm" is a parable of the calm that comes when the winds of the storm are lulled to rest.

And there are a great storm of wind and the waves beat into the ship so that it was now full.

William M. Thayer gives the following explanation of the sudden winds that are characteristic of this small body of water—some time called a sea, sometimes a lake.

To understand the causes of these tempests, we must remember that the lake has but six hundred feet lower than the ocean; that the west and north gales of the January and upward to snowy January, that the water courses have cut out profound ravines and wild gorges, conveying to the head of the lake, and that these are all pneumatic funnels to draw down the cold winds from the mountains.

My former Bible talk I referred to my own experience on the sea of Galilee, when it was necessary to lower the sails because of the sudden gusts of wind.

And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow; and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?"

A Deserved Rebuke. It would seem that the disciples ought to have had confidence enough to feel that nothing could harm them while the Saviour was on board, but at this time even His most intimate companions could hardly realize how precious a possession the little boat was carrying as it buffeted the waves.

It was a deserved rebuke that He gave them when He said, "Why are ye so fearful? How is it that ye have no faith?"

It will be noticed that He saved them first and upbraided them afterward—and that, too, in the kindly spirit with which He treated the doubts and fears of His followers.

Here again we have evidence that the very weaknesses of Christ's companions gave opportunity for manifestations of His majesty.

Even at this far distant day we are gathering some advantage from the fact that Christ's disciples but partially comprehended the supernatural character of the Great Teacher. Had they, relying upon His ability to save Himself and them, been undisturbed by the storm, we would not have had this proof of the fact that He shared with our Heavenly Father complete power over the elements as over all other things.

And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

Harold rendered two quartette selections, "How Can I Leave Thee," "Folk Song," and "Somebody Knows." They were both greatly appreciated. Fred R. SENIOR EPWORTH LEAGUE PLAY IS DECIDED SUCCESS

A play that proved ability and talent on the part of the players and the work of an almost professional director was produced at the high school auditorium Friday evening by the Senior Epworth League of the Methodist Church of this city.
To the directors, Mrs. R. C. Maxwell and Miss Carolyn Spencer, a just portion of the praise is due as well as the true style in which the players acted throughout the play.
The story of the play combined the two plots—that of the eternal love triangle and the fickleness of man and his just rewards. The complications arising during the unraveling of the plot kept the audience in a fever of excitement.
Morris Moye as the hired help proved a scream to the spectators and a torment to the landlady, who was portrayed as a true character found in nature by Miss Maude Caraway.
The "Bashful Mr. Bobbs", otherwise Frederick Rines, was a delight to his audience in every act.
The play was staged by the League to secure money for the church and the success of the play from all standpoints reflects only credit and praise.

First Meeting West Side Parent-Teachers' Association Is Held

The first meeting of west side Parent Teachers' Association was held on Thursday afternoon at the West Side School building.
During the business session, the election of officers for the coming year took place. Mrs. E. N. Haysell was re-elected chairman; Mrs. F. C. White, was elected vice chairman; Mrs. Wolfe, secretary and chairman.
The following grade mothers were appointed:
First grade—Mrs. Tomlin, Mrs. Strohoff.
Second grade—Mrs. Harsches, Mrs. Young.
Third grade—Mrs. Dorsey, Mrs. Gilbert.
The meetings will be held every fourth Thursday at 2 o'clock. Various committees were appointed to carry on the work of the year.
Mrs. Arrington gave a most interesting talk, touching the possibilities for the coming year.
After the business was dismissed of the hostesses, Mrs. White and Mrs. Gilbert, served refreshing tea with sandwiches.
A large number were present and it is believed that each meeting the members will see the number increased.

It is by no mere coincidence that all of our descriptive phrases for the garments devoted to our leisure hours, are derived from the French—"Robes intimes," "Manteaux de maison," "Mishables," "negligees," all prove that the French woman has devoted to this particularly feminine field of sartorial endeavor a far greater amount of time than her American cousins. And to good effect, for our hours of relaxation become increasingly more important in the tense life of modern civilization, and the psychological effect of harmonious and lovely house and boudoir garments are an important factor to this end.
An exceptionally lovely and dignified example of leisure hour costume is "Manteaux de maison" which has been selected for us by the Cheney Style Service. Its lines are classically simple, yet retain enough formality to make it suitable for many occasions. It is made of lustrous Mikrokrepe used on both sides, thus containing its own trimming. The front is cut in coat style, fastening at the side, and opening low over a lace piece of lingerie. The material is tucked over the shoulder, fitting trimly.
It is the back, however, which is at once the surprise and the triumph of designing in this model. This, as shown in the small picture, is made of a square piece of material, the fourth angle being cut off, and disposed "en pointe." These points falling over the arms in front, with all the simple, but perfect grace of a classic Greek robe.

GRID CLASSICS FEATURE DIXIE FOOTBALL BILL

Eight Conference Elevens Who Have Not Tasted Cup Of Defeat This Season Will Face Worthy Foes

Florida "Gators" Clash With Texas

Georgia Tech Meets Crim-son Tide While Georgia Will Clash With Vandy

ATLANTA, Oct. 25.—A family fight of wide possibilities is the football order of the day for the Southern conference today. Sixteen of the 22 members are engaged in sanguinary contests, one with the other. In this assembly of decisive battles some undefeated teams will fall from their high estate. Eight elevens who have not yet been forced to drink from the bitter cup of reverses at the hands of a fellow conference team are locked in embraces that will not leave them looking the same. Four conference outfits are playing non-conference teams and two are idle in contemplation of work done Thursday.

Teams with a clean slate in the conference playing tomorrow include Georgia Tech vs. Alabama; V. P. I. vs. Washington and Lee; Auburn vs. Louisiana State, and Tennessee vs. Mississippi A. & M. Georgia, in meeting Vanderbilt, goes into the game with a clean Southern record, while the Commodores fell a victim to Tulane's recuperative prowess last Saturday.

North Carolina, meeting Maryland, has won its only conference game, while Maryland has lost two. V. M. I. and North Carolina State have both been defeated and the same goes for Kentucky and Sewanee.

Virginia represents the South in the noteworthy inter-sectional clash of the day, playing the University of Pennsylvania. Notre's Cavaliers are said to have developed with a rush in recent days and will probably force Penn to extend itself.

Another conflict between the South and a foreign foe is offered by Maryland playing St. Xavier at Cincinnati.

Intense interest follows the Florida Alligators in their long trip to Austin for a game with the University of Texas. Florida is regarded as one of the best teams in the Southern conference. Texas will be somewhat peeved over a defeat last Saturday at the hands of Southern Methodist and will be in a fighting mood.

Tulane will play Spring Hill, practically assured of victory, while Mississippi goes to Little Rock for a game with Arkansas.

South Carolina and Clemson are willing to call it a week following the sensational 3 to 0 triumph of Gamecock over Tiger Thursday.

Oglethorpe is at New Orleans to try conclusions with Loyola and two old rivals meet when Mississippi College plays Birmingham Southern at Clinton.

Furman's game with Citadel in Charleston is the subject of more than ordinary interest by reason of the fact that it will be the third game in eight days for Furman.

Fort Benning's snappy team after a series of successes at home, goes into the territory of the enemy for a game against the Third Army Corps at Baltimore.

The Tennessee Meds have performed a number of successful operations but the patients were not very sick. At Shreveport today for a consultation with Centenary, the diagnosis is expected to be more difficult.

King's opponent is Milligan. Carson Newman plays before the Parsons home folk, Cumberland representing the opposition. Emory and Henry will play Bluff.

A game at Norfolk likely to develop some exciting play is that between William and Mary and Trinity.

National Guardsmen Will Organize an All Star Football Team

Plans are on foot for the local units of the National Guard to put forth a strong independent football club and negotiations are under way to open the season here with Rollins or Stetson Freshmen on next Friday.

The local guardsmen have many stars on their grid team including M. Moye who played halfback with the Baby "Gators" last season. Back an all-state quarterback from New York, "Puss" Wheelchel, three years all-Southern from the University of Georgia, M. Moye and Cecil Flowers two of the outstanding tackles in Florida scholastic circles of last year, "Dick" McLaurin who played on the Florida Freshmen team and several others of equal worth.

In the opening scrimmage Wednesday with only a temporary line-up, the Army boys let the local High School down to the tune of seven to six, the school's only touchdown being scored on a lucky kick at no other time did the

Sanford Gridders Ready For Contest With New Smyrna

Sanford High School gridders, in excellent condition for their fourth contest of the season which will be played with the New Smyrna High School team at the local municipal athletic field this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

With a light workout on Friday afternoon coaches are confident that the locals have an edge on the lads from the east coast.

It is understood that the team is in better condition, physically, than it has been since the game by Bartow two weeks ago. All of the regulars are expected to appear in the initial lineup for this afternoon's game and will give those witnessing the game an interesting exhibition.

This is the first game to be played on the home field and it is believed that the Sanford people will turn out in masses. The team has played three games already and has won one of these, taking the first from Palatka and losing the second and third to Bartow and Plant City.

Fire Causes $50,000 Damage in Asheville

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 24. Damage is estimated between $40,000 and $50,000 from a fire originating in the furnace room in the interior of Rulandberg Women's Ready to Wear store early today.

Shenandoah Nearing Texas, On Return East

EL PASO, Oct. 23. The navy dirigible Shenandoah early today was approaching Texas on her return voyage to Lakehurst, N. J., from the Pacific coast. She is expected to arrive at Fort Worth about 4 o'clock this afternoon. The ship will take on 200,000 cubic feet of helium there tonight, according to its schedule and probably will depart eastward again Friday morning.

OSWALD TOOK A GOOD DEAL FOR GRANTED

SIX UNBEATEN GRID TEAMS OF EAST TO CLASH

Harvard Clashes With The Undefeated Dartmouth Eleven; Lafayette Meets Washington and Jefferson

Rutgers Favored In Battle With Lehigh

Notre Dame Meets Princeton Tiger In What Will Be One of Feature Contests

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Most of the contenders for Eastern football laurels of 1924 reach the cross roads today. The path that leads to title glory will be trod by a diminished band of warriors by the time the shadows have fallen across the fields of battle that promise stirring fights for supremacy in many sectors.

Six of 11 more important teams on the Atlantic seaboard that have not yet tasted defeat will meet in three of the day's outstanding engagements. Harvard clashes with Dartmouth at Cambridge and Lafayette lines up against its old rival, Washington and Jefferson, at Yankee Stadium in two contests that promise to be among the most closely fought of any. Rutgers, closely unbeaten array.

St. of Cornell, meets Lehigh which held Princeton to a scoreless tie, in the third struggle of the season. Harvard, Lafayette, Rutgers, on their season's records, loom as the most likely to emerge triumphant from these early fray, but they are not conceded decisive margins.

The five remaining undefeated elevens also have formidable opposition. Princeton faces a difficult task in trying to check the outburst of an unbeaten team from the West, Notre Dame, but Yale is expected to show Brown in their annual game at New Haven. Clark Moulton's Syracuse out fit, invading the Saturday Lion stronghold, is favored to conquer a Penn State eleven which apparently is not as strong as in the past few seasons.

Four schools leading the eastern contingent with five straight victories, Princeton, Virginia and two past performers, should win, while the remaining unbeaten team, Williams, which broke Cornell's long winning streak, battles Percy Houghton's improved Col umbia aggregation.

Williams' home the stronger but Columbia has made steady progress and bowed to Penn State only the margin of a field goal a week ago.

Notre Dame's invasion of the Upper Empire in the most important contest in the east clash of tomorrow schedule has attracted unusual interest. The Hawks' trash from their triumph a week ago over the Army, will match with machine-like attack of their brilliant back field against an aggressive, fighting Princeton eleven. Rock's record will be favored to win, but the Tigers, with a superior line enforced by the return of Captain "Buzzy" Stout at end, will not go down without a real battle.

So far this season the East has fared badly in important inter-sectional play with the Middle West. Notre Dame will be seeking a second inter-sectional victory, while Colgate has been beaten by Nebraska, Navy by Marquette and Brown by Chicago.
