Kissinger To Meet Tho On Dec. 20

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and North Vietnamese special adviser Le Duc Tho will meet in Paris on Dec. 20 to discuss matters of mutual interest in the present situation, the White House announced today.

White House spokesmen would not elaborate on the reason for the first meeting between the two men in six months, but it seemed clear they would take up the problem of continued fighting in Vietnam.

Kissinger is now en route to the Middle East as he continues his efforts to resolve the crisis there. While in London Wednesday, he was presented with the Nobel Peace Prize, which he won jointly with Le Duc Tho for their Vietnam peace negotiations.

The Duc Tho refused to accept the prize, contending that peace had not been restored in Southeast Asia.

Kissinger and the Hon. Pol Pot's member last met in Paris on June 11-13.

Deputy White House Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren, responding to questions, said "I can't spell out at the moment" what was meant when the brief announcement referred to "matters of mutual interest in the present situation."

Warren said the two diplomats would "discuss topics within that general description."

When asked who initiated the session, he said it was "worked out through mutual consultation" and had been "under discussion for a few weeks."

Mr. Nixon received an expense allowance, which as I understand it was not used, and he elected to mix it in with his regular earnings. However, he did not pay any taxes on that amount.

So, if it's O.K. for him, then I would suppose that anyone else who inherits a sum of money need not file any taxes on it, either.

Perhaps, sir, you and I have a clear understanding on this matter. But I'm wondering if the IRS will be tolerant and be willing to accept my sense of reasoning.

What's good for one is supposed to be also acceptable for the "little guys," too, right?

Wrong!

That's just the reason why two years ago this country had over 300 millionaires who didn't pay the first cent of income tax!

One of the readers offers this observation: "Cross-buying in costs hundreds of thousands of dollars for new equipment, not to mention all of the gasoline which is being burned to accommodate this program. If we could get rid of it..."

The motto of the newly formed County Arbor Office, believe it or not, is as follows: "Pollution is no solution. Save our trees — Breathe with ease."

Commissioners listened to the slogan Tuesday, grimaced, and expressed the hope county residents will be suitably inspired.

A reader sent this one in a couple days ago, and each time I re-read it, I have still another interpretation. See how it settles on you...

Trucks Block Sanford Station, Protest Lack Of Diesel Gas

By JEAN PATTERSON
Herald Staff Writer

Truckers stranded without fuel at Sanford's Village Rest truckstop today blockaded the fuel pumps and the entrance to the stop protesting the short supply and high prices which, they say will wipe them out.

At least one of the stranded trucks, according to its driver, contains a $40,000 load of frozen fish in danger of thawing because he is running out of diesel fuel to keep the refrigeration unit running.

Truckstop manager Melvin Payne said he has been out of fuel since late Wednesday, and cannot get more until Jan. 1. He said he used up his 5,000 gallon December allotment by Monday, and was able to borrow an additional 1,200 gallons to see him through Tuesday and Wednesday.

"I used half this month's allotment last month," explained Payne, "but the suppliers won't advance part of my January allotment; they say they don't have it to give."

Payne said he has called everybody he thought might be able to supply him with some fuel, including representatives of Standard Oil, McBean and Texaco. "I even called Washington, D.C., but they referred me to Tallahassee. It hasn't helped any," said Payne.

His 1974 fuel allotment will be 83 per cent of what he sold in 1973, but Payne says his business has almost tripled during this year. "I'm not kidding when I say I have a problem," he commented. "The situation is as bad as it can get; there's no fuel now, so how can it get worse?"

Broker Dave Brinkley who operates All-States Truck Service Inc. from behind the Village Rest truckstop, said he also has called all the oil company representatives in the area, but none could promise him fuel before the first of next month. He estimated there were 15 to 20 trucks stranded at the stop, and more in motels or at their homes if they live locally.

Brinkley said the Texaco station adjacent to the Village Rest had only been able to get a 9,000 gallon per month allotment, so he has closed up. Attempts by Brinkley and Payne to have the Texaco allotment transferred to their stations have failed.

January is the peak time for produce farmers in Seminole County, and Brinkley said if they can get no fuel in early January many farmers will not get their crops to the markets.

Brinkley said the blockade had been orderly and there are no threats of violence in the Sanford area yet. Reports of damage to trucks which have not joined in strikes in other parts of the country are filtering in, he said, and two truckstops in Virginia have been burned down. He said one of these stops had been selling the first 40 gallons of diesel at pump price, and was charging 75 cents a gallon for anything over that. He expects most truckstops across the country will close down to stay out of trouble.

While blockades are occurring across the country, there appears to be no large-scale organization of strikes, and confused truckers say they are waiting to see what the next man does. "We just know there ain't no fuel available, so it don't do us no good to roll," commented one trucker.

Brinkley said if he knew what was going to happen he could close up and go fishing. "But I don't know how long the strikes will last—until there's no fuel I guess. So I've just got to sit by the phone till I find out something definite," he said.

Wholesale-retail grain and produce merchant Dick Wilber commented, "It's so disorganized, and truckers are worse than old women for gossiping. This whole thing could blow up right out of our hand." Wilber has three trucks on the road at the present, and he said he wishes he hadn't loaded any of them. One truck is stranded in Ashland, Va., after a brick was thrown through the window. It is carrying a load of fresh produce to Canada.

The truck loaded with approximately $40,000 worth of frozen fish is stranded, and the trucker has signed the bills for the fuel. He is responsible for it until he reaches his destination, explained Brinkley. "If he loses the load, he loses everything, truck and all," he said.

Brinkley explained a trucker is insured against wreckage, and may also take out negligence insurance.

Energy Czar Announces Fuel-Saving Measures

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's energy czar, William E. Simon, announced today he will order reduced lighting in commercial and industrial buildings as soon as Congress gives him the authority to do so.

Simon also placed petroleum exports under a licensing system and told all federal agencies to get rid of their big limousines by Jan. 1.

The new fuel conservation measures were announced just one day after Simon's new Federal Energy Office proposed regulations to reduce U. S. gasoline production 5 per cent below 1972 levels, a move that would increase the actual anticipated gasoline shortage to about 25 per cent early next year.

The energy office fumbled badly in issuing that proposal, at first reporting it as a cutback seemingly five times as big as really intended.

Simon held a White House news conference this morning to announce a whole series of additional actions and proposals to cope with expected fuel shortages.

He proposed that all commercial and industrial buildings, including stores, factories and offices, be required to reduce their lighting to specific light levels considered "minimum but effective and safe."

The proposed reductions would cut lighting to roughly one-third to one-sixth of customary levels, he said.

Simon said the action, to be made mandatory once pending emergency legislation becomes law, would save some 800,000 barrels of oil daily.

Simon also proposed that major highway and freeway lighting be turned off, except at interchanges and ramps where the lighting would be cut in half.

If imposed after public comment, this action could save the energy equivalent of 15,000 barrels of oil daily, Simon said.

Simon also asked industry to set up energy-saving committees, asked commercial building managers and owners to turn off all but essential lighting during nonworking hours, and asked citizens to cut down voluntarily on their use of electric space heaters.

Simon ordered federal agencies to reduce their driving by 20 per cent in the first quarter of next year and to get rid of limousines and heavy sedans, retaining those which are leased.

Simon told agencies to use compact or subcompact cars unless a larger car was absolutely necessary.

In a move to prevent excessive petroleum exports from the United States during the fuel crisis, Simon placed exports under a licensing system effective immediately.

For the time being, he announced, the system would be used to monitor exports but not to limit them.

If the exports become too large, he said, limiting action would be imposed.

But in explaining the gasoline cutbacks Wednesday, the energy office kept falling over itself.

Fuel Shortage Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fear of political damage to the Nixon administration in an election year was one of several factors which may have contributed to the fuel shortage, Senate investigators have been told.

In a series of interviews conducted under oath, some of the government's most senior oil-policy planners acknowledged that mistakes and miscalculations made over the last three years were partially responsible for the energy crisis.

The officials said warnings that American oil production was peaking and would soon start tapering off were heeded. They said timely steps were not taken to increase imports of foreign crude oil to take up the slack.

"They gambled that there would be no shortages and that the most severe thing that would happen would be the development of a tight supply-demand situation," said LaVerne F. Duffy who headed the oil shortage probe for the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations.

Duffy's testimony was prepared for delivery to the subcommittee headed by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash. Duffy entered into the record sections of the transcripts of several of the interviews.

board hire Florida State to handle the data operation but with the board's decision, he said, only the machines of such a business would be needed.

Layer said the board currently employs two persons in data processing but the operation is on a small scale.

"It will require about $30,000 to hire the director and an additional three persons to make the necessary six man team," he said.

At a Nov. 20 board meeting Layer warned any further delays in implementing the data system could jeopardize the July 1 goal of complete operation. He said Wednesday the data system was proceeding on schedule and the deadline would be met.

Also at the November meeting Layer said, "The state has almost mandated that we have a data processing system with the implementation of cost accounting, the new state funding system and accountability."

The cost of the operation is now expected to run under the projected $12,500 budget.

Girl Dies, Woman Is Charged

An Altamonte Springs woman was arrested and charged Wednesday night with manslaughter and driving while intoxicated in connection with an accident which killed a 12-year-old girl who was also from Altamonte Springs, the Florida Highway Patrol said today.

Gay M. Porter, 313 Teakwood Lane, was pronounced dead at Florida North Hospital at 9 p.m. Wednesday.

"Dorothea Argo, 38, of 216 North St., was released from the Seminole County jail after she posted $15,500 bond.

The Highway Patrol reported Miss Porter was walking on the shoulder of North Street when Mrs. Argo swerved off the road and hit her.

Trooper T. R. McIntyre of the Highway Patrol said the investigation is continuing.

CLUBHOUSE FIRE ... Sanford Police Officer D. L. Anderson reported there was approximately $2,000 damage. The clubhouse is owned by the city and maintained by the Recreation Department. Cause of the fire is undetermined. (Herald Photo by Bill Vincent)

LATE WEDNESDAY afternoon a fire started in the kitchen of the Shuffelboard and Tourist Club House behind the Sanford Civic Center. Firemen arrived in time to put out the blaze and contained it to the kitchen area and attic.

Saxbe Supports Jaworski

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. designate William B. Saxbe says he would do everything in his power to see that the special Watergate prosecutor is not interfered with. Saxbe, at a Senate confirmation hearing, said, "I only reserve the right to complain if I don't think that the Watergate investigation is moving fast enough, which I don't anticipate."

'Mad Bomber' Near Freedom

NEW YORK (AP) — After nearly 17 years in mental institutions, the Mad Bomber of a generation ago stands on the threshold of freedom. The last criminal charges remaining against George Metesky for the planting of 32 homemade bombs in such public places as Radio City Music Hall were dismissed Wednesday in a Manhattan court. Full freedom will be his upon his formal discharge from a state hospital in Queens, expected in a matter of days. Metesky, now 70, already has been certified as having regained his sanity.

Gas Stations To Close

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of service stations in many parts of the country are planning to close for three-day periods at Christmas and New Year's, a spot survey indicates. Spokesmen for associations of service station operators in Michigan, Illinois, Louisiana, Florida, Washington D.C., Indiana and Wisconsin said many of their members would close from the Saturday night preceding each holiday until the following Wednesday. Christmas and New Year's fall on Tuesdays. "We estimate that 50 per cent of the nation's service stations will be closed for the three-day periods," said John Hasmarich, executive director of the National Congress of Petroleum Retailers. More than 80 per cent of the country's 220,000 service stations have been closing this month from 9 p.m. Saturday to midnight Sunday at the request of President Nixon, who is seeking authority to make such shutdowns mandatory.

Pros To Explain Missing Tape Gap

JUDGE SIRICA
... 3rd grand jury

WASHINGTON (AP) — Technical experts are ready to tell U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica what he learned about the 18-minute gap in one of the subpoenaed Watergate tapes. Members of the panel of experts who examined the tape during the past two weeks were scheduled to meet today with the judge in his chambers to deliver a preliminary report of their findings.

Lawyers from the White House and the special Watergate prosecutor's office also planned to be there to receive the report. However, the New York Daily News today quoted informed sources as saying the court-appointed electronics experts so far had been unable to determine whether the tape had been tampered with.

The news said the panel was expected to ask Sirica for more time to test the recording. Meanwhile, Sirica signed an order Wednesday authorizing the expanding of a third grand jury to receive evidence from the special prosecutor's staff.

The other four tapes were among the subpoenaed recordings in Sirica's possession. They covered conversations between the President and aides on March 13, two on March 21, and another the next day, all in 1973.

The special prosecutor also said that members of his staff had been at the White House examining documents to determine if they were needed for any of the investigations being conducted by Jaworski's office.

DeBary Council Halts Realtor-Zoning Fight

By H. A. NAPKA
Herald Correspondent

NEW SMYRNA BEACH, Fla. — The DeBary Public Affairs Council against the appointments of realtors to the county zoning board has been temporarily suspended.

William E. Keller, chairman of the council, indicated this week he still is not satisfied with a state ruling inbrennatter, as he feels there could be a conflict of interest involved.

About three years ago Keller and Richmond C. Holcombe, council consulting engineer, questioned the feasibility of permitting realtors on the zoning board. Keller wrote to Let. Gov. Tom Adams, regarding the matter.

His letter, in part, read as follows: "The fact is that I raised this question three years ago in line with our dissatisfaction over the handling of our zoning affairs in New Smyrna Beach. I raised it again in May of 1971, before the council (county) and again in 1972, but received no satisfaction."

Approximately three months ago Keller received an answer. It was written by the state secretary of commerce, stating his problem would be presented to Arthur England, consumer appointed new boards each of which wrongfully (we believe) include an active realtor, who neither has, or who could have, a prudent interest in zoning decisions which invariably affect real property values, and can involve "leverage" difficult to erase." He challenged the statement that realtors belong on such zoning boards.

Keller Tells Council Role

By H. A. NAPKA
Herald Correspondent

DeBARY — In answer to many local residents' questions, William E. Keller, chairman, today explained the purpose of the DeBary Public Affairs Council.

In an exclusive interview Keller said, "The purpose of incorporating our council is to gain stature, so that our body will be recognized as representative of our community even in courts of law." He added, "The incorporation involves only the council and not the entire community as many people believe."

Keller explained that recently the council challenged a decision rendered by the county zoning board. The case was remanded, on an appeal, to the circuit court. The higher court reversed the county board decision and at that time the assistant county attorney suggested the incorporation of the DeBary council to give it more weight in legal matters. Since that time an application of a corporate charter has been filed by Attorney Brinley S. Carter, legal representative for the council.

Although several well-written explanations regarding the functions of the council have been furnished the public, many residents still are literally 'in the dark' regarding its origin and purpose, as it is not an elected body, to represent the community at a county level. Original council members were named by various organizations and clubs which were represented in the association.

Executive council officers now are Keller, chairman; Earl D. Merrill, vice chairman and Mrs. C. T. Ulrich, secretary-treasurer. Richmond C. Holcomb is the consulting engineer. Finances for the expenses are provided by supporting organizations. Members of the council are not paid.

The council's functions are to act as a "watch-dog" pertaining to the community needs, at the county level, where all DeBary public services originate.

The council bears the responsibility of representing each community request or problem to the county. Members are delegated to protect the community's interest at all times.

Keller points out most problems are time-consuming, and many require lengthy study and exploration before final action can be taken.

Members are required to attend bi-monthly regional county council meetings, and most agenda meetings which precede regular county meetings. The DeBary unit attends workshop meetings, monthly zoning meetings, in addition to local meetings.

Blackburn Indictment May Be Dismissed

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer

1971, but with the acquittal of alleged hit-man Sam Cagnina on the charges last week the state's chances of linking the officially unknown gunman to ex-gambling czar Harlan

Blackburn are hanging by a thread. That thread may be broken Friday when attorneys for Blackburn, now serving a 23-year sentence on federal gambling charges, are scheduled to argue for dismissal of charges. Circuit Court Judge Vole Williams, who also presided over the Cagnina trial, will see Blackburn's lawyers contend that since the alleged gunman has been acquitted, Blackburn cannot be tried for conspiring with a person or persons unnamed in the indictment.

The conspiracy laws, they say, require at least two persons to conduct a conspiracy. Further, the defense will argue Blackburn cannot be charged with "aiding and abetting" Cagnina, since Cagnina is now judged innocent of his crime.

If the state's indictment had charged Blackburn with conspiring with unknown persons in addition to Cagnina, the lawyers concede, the indictments might be salvaged.

But, they point out, the two-year statute of limitations on adding more conspirators expired on June 11.

While the Cagnina trial was handled by Seminole-Brevard State Atty. Abbott Herring, in the manhandling trial of the late of former Casselberry city councilman Richard Wirz, Salafi is slated to hear a continuance request by Griffin's attorney, assistant public defender Terry Ackert, who is seeking to delay the trial now scheduled for Monday. While Salafi normally reserves Thursday afternoon's for procedural motions, he occasionally rules on change of venue motions at the same time.

No charges have been filed in the bombing incident, and authorities have refused to link previous union troubles with either the fire or the unexploded bomb, which was discovered by Cousineau's 16-year-old daughter.

Salafi may bear a change of venue motion at 1:30 today in the manhandling trial of the late of former Casselberry city councilman Richard Wirz. ### Seminole-Deland

The regularly scheduled contest between the Deland Bulldogs and the Sanford Seminoles has been changed from Friday night to Friday afternoon.

Head Coach Joe Mills informed us that the basketball matchup between the arch-rival clubs will start at 3 p.m. in the SHS gym instead of the previously scheduled 6:30 tipoff for the JV contest. The varsity game will start at 4:30.

The Tribe is attempting to break a two-game skid which they face DeLand. After winning their first three outings the Seminoles have stubbed their toe over in Longwood against the Hounds by the score of 47-45. They then dropped a 71-68 decision to Metro Conference for Winter Park.

After the DeLand contest on Friday the Seminoles will travel to Orlando Boone for a matchup with the Braves. Game time for the Boone fight is 6:30 p.m. for the JV game and 8:00 p.m. for the varsity encounter.

Oviedo Quint Ranked

Coach Dale Miller's Oviedo basketball team really is beaming this morning with news of their fifth ranking in the state's Triple-A basketball poll. The Lions, who lost out to Ocala Forest in their regional play-offs last season are back this season with much the same kind of club that carried them to their second straight district championship.

However, Forest is tabbed fourth on the list of state Triple-A teams and that should prove interesting — to see which of the highly regarded clubs is on top at the season's end.

Even now, several hardwood watchers are looking over the Lions to see who will be on the prestigious post-season cage lists. As of now, Lake Cobb and Glenn Patterson, the Lions, senior and junior duo look to be the best bets for the Year, last season looks like the early season leader to repeat that honor, but has a lot of competition from Lyman, Lake Brantley and Seminole this year around. Watch out for SNA's Chris Marlette, and Trinity's George Austin, though. They're a pair of unassuming mentors who are expected to bring their teams into contention for local honors.

Crooms Home Opener

Friday afternoon. Mark that down on your calendar of "Must see" dates as Crooms opens its home cage game with a pair of ninth grade games starting at 4 p.m.

The Panthers' "A" team takes on the Bishop Moore junior varsity at 5:15, while the local "B" squad goes against the Orlando school's Freshman team at the starting 4 p.m. time slot.

Crooms is currently 1-1 on the trail, losing to Leesburg Junior Varsity 54-37 in their most recent outing.

As with football, the Panthers are slating a predominantly junior varsity level of competition, including juniors as well as sophomores and freshmen, but it's going to pay big dividends when the young Panthers take the trek to Seminole High. However, don't look to that as an excuse for the Sanford ninth graders. They're winners as evidenced by their remarkable football record and they're a good bet to give just about anyone's team a tough go.

Quiet Raider Stars

Chip Crawford, who languished on the bench for Joe Sterling's Seminole Junior College cage five for much of last season is beginning to come back to his high school "stardom" days, as his presence on the SJC starting five is beginning to show. A leader in the past, Crawford is now teamed with the current Raider crop of players and looks remarkable with the way he sets up the offensive attack.

Along with Gerald Owens, who was well on his way to stardom last season, makes a solid front and backcourt duo with Crawford, but it's the work of an unassuming "walk-on" who has people buzzing. Robert House, who ripped the cords for 24 in the Raiders double-overtime win over Valencia just came out at the start of practice, Coach Sterling reports, and he's been one of the biggest unlooked-for bright spots in the Raider attack.

With a young team (mostly freshmen) the one thing that stands out about the Raiders is the way they don't stand out. They look smooth and well-disciplined most of the time and what mistakes they do commit can usually be attributed to early season mental mistakes. They're fitting together and if they continue to mature on the court as they have been doing, we can expect some pretty exciting contests when they take the court.

Double-Overtime

Raiders Take Valencia Thriller

By DAN GILMARTIN
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole-Deland

The contest between the Valencia Matadors and Seminole JuCo Raiders was a very typical game indeed. Typical only in the sense that both these squads have wound up playing overtime contests last three times they have met. Last night the Raiders took the hosts into two overtime periods before taking a hair-raising 71-47 win back to Seminole County.

The Raiders won the game on the clutch shooting of walkon Robert House and Gerald Owens in the extra periods which saw the visitors come from behind at three crucial junctures in the contest.

Leading the ball game 20-26 at the half Joe Sterling's contingent had trouble holding onto the lead and found themselves down 44-37 with less than four minutes remaining in the regulation play.

Led by the shooting of House and Owens along with the rebounding of Johnny Forte the Raiders bounced back to lead 54-43 with only 10:14 remaining in the contest. Holding the ball in a freeze situation Seminole backcourt man House was fouled purposely by Mike McCants.

House stepped up to the line and sank the first try making it 55-43. The second attempt went in and out and Valencia's Harris grabbed the rebound and smartly called a time out for the Matadors.

The home squad took the ball downtown and McCants hit a ten foot jumper to even the count at 55. The Seminole squad got the ball and couldn't put it in and the teams went into the five minute overtime period.

With the home crowd surging to their feet at almost every movement on the floor Valencia hit three straight buckets to give the Matadors a 61-55 lead with 3:28 still remaining in the overtime frame.

Seminole, appearing to be in their worst fix of the night, worked the ball over to Owens who hit a 15 footer to bring the count to 61-57. He missed both shots with nobody on the floor and Valencia had to face the Seminole squad for another five minutes.

The second overtime saw the Seminole squad take charge and although they never relinquished the lead there were some doubtful moments before the final buzzer.

Gerald Owens was fouled trying to shoot and made both shots to put the Raiders up 68-61. House came into the arena eight seconds left to tick away House was immediately fouled and again the Seminole outfit was faced with an one-and-one situation. House came through to give the Raiders a 71-67 score with 0:01 remaining in the second overtime period and the count proved to be final.

The difference in the contest, as in the final overtime period, was the foul shooting of the Seminole five. The locals hit 27 of 38 attempts from the charity line to go along with 22 of 32 floor shots for a 42 pct. pace for the night.

Sterling mentioned that House has proved himself capable of starting in the recent whopping 45-30 margin which showed in the shots attempted department, as the home squad put the ball up 78 times from the floor. However, the Matadors hit only 29 of the 78 attempts for a not so hot 37 pct. and made enough mistakes to cut their own throat.

In one of the roughest games played so far this year for the Raiders the home outfit fouled the visiting Seminole cagers 35 times while the Joe Sterling crew was in violation on only 15 occasions.

House wound up the leading scorer for the Raiders, dumping in 24 point which included several clutch shots in the two overtime periods.

House was followed by Gerald Owens with 19 and Chip Crawford and Robert McCullum with 12 and 10 respectively.

The high man for the host Matadors, who had four starters foul out of the contest was Harris with 15 along with Mason with 11.

Valencia had a chance to tie the game again when House blocked a shot and retrieved the loose ball.

Given another chance to protect their slim lead, the Raiders froze the ball until Dexter Crosby stepped up to the charity line with no time on the clock and the score tied at 61-61. He missed both shots with nobody on the floor and Valencia had to face the Seminole squad for another five minutes.

Opening Soccer Win

Middies Top Hornets

By VAL SPAKOVSKIY Herald Correspondent

The SNA Soccer team opened its season Wednesday with a striking 2-0 win against the heavily favored 4-A school, Bishop Moore.

Played in Sanford against a background of clear blue skies and an unusually crisp breeze, the game turned initially in favor of the Middies, as they took complete control of the ball...

It was then that the offense, led by Greg Ebel and "Dennis the Menace" Mike Coulbroth, made a pass to the team captain, "Banana Man" Marco Solares, who in turn set up the perfect pass to Carlos Austin in the center, and it was Austin's footwork which put the Middies ahead at the end of the first half, 1-0.

The second half turned out to be a more defensive game for the Middies, as the Bishop Moore Hornets began an intensive bombardment on their opponents' territory, which was staunchly defended by the SNA goal, Doug Kay. As teammate Coulbroth later remarked, "The ball stuck to his hands like glue."

Although Kay had some spectacular saves, one cannot overlook the outstanding job of the defense, consisting of half-backs "Cannonball" Don Dixon, Richard League, Harry Lowman, and full-backs "Titter" Julio Amadeo Gutti, Luis Guevara, and "Cafre" Mark Bachman.

They kept the ball moving at all times, and finally found an opening, with a pass made to Solares, who, once again, passed the ball to his partner, Carlos Austin.

It was a great struggle, it was a close game again which managed to score the second and final goal for the Middies. This victory was especially meaningful to the new Coach, G. Steve Gilmore.

Gilmore, who coaches the blue-jacketed booters, played professional soccer when he was in the Air Force stationed in Europe. The victory was the first in his newly chosen coaching career which started on the right foot with the win.

49ers Holding 'Trump' In Pittsburgh Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers are holding the biggest trump card in the National Football League this weekend.

The 49ers, out of the playoffs for the first time in four years, can take out their frustration on the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday.

They would bring loud cheers from such diverse places as Cleveland and Buffalo, not to mention Cincinnati.

Then the torch would pass to the lowly Houston Oilers for their Sunday game with Cincinnati.

Until the results of the Pittsburgh-San Francisco game are in, there are enough "ifs" in the American Football Conference playoff picture — along with several in the National Conference — to cause a king-sized migraine.

You know, if somebody wins and if somebody loses, then... but if... and if, then... Why don't they try drawing straws next year?

Pittsburgh (9-4) at San Francisco (5-8) — The Steelers can solve a lot of problems for the league by winning this one. A triumph will assure the Steelers of either the AFC wild card spot or the Central Division title, depending on what Cincinnati does Sunday.

They should easily do it against the Oilers and help the Bengals win the AFC Central Crown. Detroit (6-6-1) at Miami (11-2) — The second game of the Saturday menu. The Dolphins may have helped save Howard Schnellenberger's job in Baltimore last week. So how about Don McCafferty's job in Detroit? The Dolphins may just take life easy this week, so let's call this one the upset special and say... LIONS 31, DOLPHINS 24.

Denver (7-4-2) at Oakland (8-4-1) — Shot-out in the AFC East Corral, without Kansas City, for a change. Denver's desire has carried the Broncos a long way, including a tie with Oakland earlier this year. But the Raiders can tie the game and win the title. RAIDERS 20, BRONCOS 20.

Cincinnati (9-4) at Houston (1-12) and Essex Junction, who has 963 yards, and Bobbie Clark, with 931, are aiming to be the mother, Mrs. Orville Suemnick, said. "It was hard on him, but he has that something extra. He told all his friends who came to see him that he'd be back playing, so they all took it for granted that he would. He's really set in his ways but no one really knows what he's been through."

The Steelers are following his accident, Ron took over managerial duties for his football career. The first was in December for a delayed infection, the second, in mid-May, to file down a bone growth on the stub. Two weeks after that, he was fitted with his second artificial leg. Ron Suemnick was out practicing with the football team.

"He's endured a lot of pain," his mother said. "He'd come in limping after practice; his stump would be so sore. But he'd be back at practice the very next day. We've never treated him any different, though. He's done all this on his own."

Any 17-year-old boy who can deny a handicap as obvious as a missing leg certainly deserves the right to compete after he makes the team. The Huron school board, led by Antcliff, was behind Ron all the way.

"I couldn't sit by and see a boy being denied his rights," Antcliff said emotionally, as he recounted hiring a lawyer to lead the Suemnick inelegibility to court that same week.

"The judge (Lawrence O'Quinn) made a beautiful statement. He said, 'This young man has been an inspiration to everybody, demonstrating what you can achieve against great odds. To deny him the right to play due to the enforcement of a rule of dubious legality would not be in the public interest.'"

With the court injunction, Ron Suemnick played in his final high school game. His story made the news wire services; others who were similarly handicapped read of his victory. A young man in Texas phoned Ron from his hospital bed. "I've just lost a leg in an automobile accident," he told Suemnick. "But I'm going to make it now; if you can do it, I can do it too."

But the fight is not over. "According to the attorney, the injunction is a legal first," Antcliff said. "It established the rights of the physically handicapped. It convinced Ron's parents last week and they agreed that the rule should be changed. But I'll take time."

Ron's mother, obviously proud of her son's achievement, was not at all bitter about the archaic rule that kept her son out of the Jefferson game. "We'd do anything to help, and maybe we'd help somebody else someday," she said.

Rule or no rule, Ron Suemnick has already provided inspirational proof that a handicap is only a handicap if it is accepted as such. He is a courageous young man intent on clawing his way to normalcy. "Now that the football season is over, Ron's out for basketball," his mother said with a small sigh. "It's a lot harder on this, that coming down on a leg. But he'll do it. If there's any way, he'll do it. She paused to reflect on her son's unusual determination. "Never fear," she told me. "He'll do it."

Rules Make Grid 'Handicap'

Joan Ryan

It was just another high school football game in the Detroit suburb of New Boston, Mich. Huron, hardly a powerhouse with a 1-8 final record, vs. Jefferson. It was no big deal, except that the referee on the field, just before game time, had some bad news for Huron's starting offensive tackle.

Ron Suemnick, 17 years old and a senior, had suited up for the game and was warming up on the sidelines when the official informed him of his inelegibility. "Illegal equipment," was the terse given reason.

An obscure rule, adopted by the National Football Federation in 1966, classifies artificial hands, arms and legs as illegal weapons on the field, and Ron, who had fought back from a near fatal accident in the summer of 1972, had played six games into the season with an artificial leg. The state of Michigan said a rule is a rule, and so Ron was humbled to the showers.

"I was driving a tractor mower on a sod farm when he ran into a guy wire and was knocked to the ground. The mower blades mangled his right leg, just below the knee, but he managed to drag himself a quarter of a mile, losing blood, to get help for himself."

"He's alive today because of that determination," said Huron school superintendent Eyrion Antcliff, with ill-concealed admiration. And Ron's determination didn't end with hospital treatment. He told his doctor that he meant to keep playing football. "If you've got the guts, you might, and then again, you might not," he was told after his leg had been amputated mid-calf. Ron said it again, louder. He would play.

"He was great all during the time in the hospital," his mother, Mrs. Orville Suemnick, said. "It was hard on him, but he has that something extra. He told all his friends who came to see him that he'd be back playing, so they all took it for granted that he would. He's really set in his ways but no one really knows what he's been through."

The Steelers are following his accident, Ron took over managerial duties for his football career. The first was in December for a delayed infection, the second, in mid-May, to file down a bone growth on the stub. Two weeks after that, he was fitted with his second artificial leg. RON SUEMNICK 'Handicap' in Rules

Simas picked up the 5-47. The 5-7 fell for Bobbie Retic, Sandy Russell, Norma Sharp, Carolyn Street and Jo Watson.

Dot Button, Eddie Mylott, Bobbie Retic, Carolyn Street, and Jo Watson all topped the list.

Doris Osteen spared the 4-5 and Anna Coleman the 5-6.

Alice Hendricks, Dora Lepore, Eve Rogero and Carolyn Street all chalked in turkeys.

Betty Norwood rolled 30 pins over her average and will represent the league in the 'Bowler of the Month' roll off.

That's the day he will attempt to break two National Football League records, both held by Jim Brown, former Cleveland Browns' running back.

'Impossible' Club Hound Mentor Sets Goals

By JOHN CHERWA Herald Correspondent

When Rick Steinko came to Lyman from Evans he brought with him more than solid ideas about basketball. He also brought an enthusiasm for the roundball sport that the Longwood school had never seen.

One of his programs to promote interest in basketball is called the "Lyman Cager Club."

The Cager Club is a very exclusive club that is open only to varsity basketball players. To make the society you have to play a super game of basketball that even Bill Walton would envy. An easy way to sum up the chances of making the club is impossible for the mediocre player to attain," Steinko's requirement sheet reads.

To make the situation fair he divided the requirements up into two classes, one for guards and one for centers and forwards.

Guards have to get four of six goals in any one game while the "big men" need four of seven in any contest.

Just four you say? Sounds easy. It does sound easy until you make a close examination of the requirements.

A guard has to shoot 50 per cent or more from the field with a minimum of 10 field goals attempted. He has to get at least eight assists.

Working on a minimum of five free throws attempted the guard has to get 80 per cent or more. He also must steal the ball six times. He must play at least three quarters and commit no more than three turnovers. Finally a guard has to get no less than five rebounds.

Possibly most players could reach this plateau if they had to make four requirements in one season but make them in one game is extremely difficult for the "superstar."

To date this year no one has made the cager club but that doesn't keep the 12 varsity members from trying. Despite the difficulty of the task the players are still vying for the honor of being the initial member.

Steinko realizes that possibly no one will make the club but that just reinforces his idea that making the club is indeed a true honor.

Lanier's 33 Sparks Piston Cage Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You'd think the loss of injured starters Stu Lantz and John Mengelt would hurt the Detroit Pistons. Not so, they still had Bob Lanier.

Lanier scored 33 points and helped the Pistons register their seventh consecutive National Basketball Association victory with a 114-96 romp over the Los Angeles Lakers Wednesday night.

The Pistons raced to an 18-2 lead, fought off a Los Angeles charge that narrowed the gap to only two points in the third period and then broke the game open behind a charge led by George Trapp and Chris Ford in the final quarter.

In other NBA contests, Boston defeated Buffalo 125-119 and Seattle downed Philadelphia 104-93.

The defeat was the fifth in a row for the injury-riddled Lakers, who played without Jerry West and Bill Bridges, and marked the longest losing streak for the Lakers since Bill Sharman became head coach three seasons ago.

Lanier also collected 20 rebounds, five steals and three blocked shots as Detroit placed seven men in double figures. Gail Goodrich led Los Angeles with 31 points.

'Bash In Kisser' Best Way To Stop 'Tricks' Nastase

NEW YORK (AP) — The best way to cure Lie Nastase of his tennis "dirty tricks" may be not to fine or banish him, a former Wimbledon champion says — but give him a good bash in the kisser.

"I know if I were playing today and he pulled some of the stuff I see him pull on others, I'd be jumping the net and getting into — fight with him," added C. McKinley, U. S. Davis Cup champion of the mid-1960's.

"It's a shame the staff he gets away with. He can throw the whole match into confusion," Stan Smith of Sea Pines, S. C., America's No. 1 player for the last three years, merely smiled.

If agreed, serene Stan wasn't going to announce it from the roof tops. Stan still has to deal with the frisky Romanian in the battle for world honors.

"I try not to let him bug me," the phlegmatic, soft-spoken Smith said. "When he starts giving me the business, I turn my back and look into the stands."

"But Nastase can be very distracting. The players have been wondering what they can do about some of his tactics," Smith and McKinley were two of the special guests Wednesday at an exhibition of platform tennis, one of America's fastest growing winter sports, at the Town Tennis Club.

Cedeno Remains In Jail SANTO DOMINGO (AP) — Cesar Cedeno, the Houston Astros' star outfielder, remained in jail today while a judge decided whether to charge him with voluntary homicide in the shooting death of Altagracia de la Cruz.

Cedeno was questioned for over two hours by a judge Wednesday, but was returned to his cell despite efforts of his attorney to get him released on bail.

A justice department spokesman said the 25-year-old baseball player would be jailed until the judge decides whether to remand the case to a court where, if charges are levied, bail could be set.

Cedeno said the woman accidentally shot herself in the head while handling a .38-caliber pistol he had been carrying.

Gamecocks' Overkill Gets DePauw

By KEN RAPPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer

Alexander English did most of the damage, but Nate Davis did more than expected.

As a result, South Carolina overkilled DePauw 104-55 in college basketball Wednesday night.

"We got a chance to look at a lot of our players tonight," said Frank McGuire, coach of the 18th-ranked Gamecocks.

He liked what he saw — English scoring 28 points in his starting role before giving way to a rambunctious Davis. The 6-foot-4 freshman blocked three shots, scored four points and picked up three rebounds in his walk-on role.

"We need more than just five or six players against some of the teams we're going to meet and we've got to play them to find them."

In other games, 18th-ranked Syracuse whipped LaSalle 75-66; Army topped Rochester 56-56; St. Bonaventure turned back St. Francis (N.Y.) 95-84; Seton Hall tripped California Poly 69-62; American University (Washington) beat Delaware 75-65; Rice topped Tarkenton State 72-71; Mississippi ripped Southern Mississippi 73-75; Niagara trimmed St. Peter's (N.J.) 85-78; Arizona State ripped Idaho 67-71; Brown bounded Yale 63-55; Georgia defeated Alabama in Action 87-83 and Cincinnati cut down Wright State 74-42.

Syracuse dominated the offensive boards and got clutch shooting and rebounding from Rudy Hackett to beat LaSalle. The Orangemen gained the lead for good on Chris Seace's layup and we've got to play them to find them."

Lamar scored 30 points, including two quick baskets with less than two minutes left, and Jackson added 29 points as San Diego defeated the Indiana Pacers 118-113 in the American Basketball Association Wednesday night.

The Pacers had rallied from a 13-point deficit late in the game for a 107-106 lead before Lamar added his final pair of baskets that gave the Conquistadores the lead for good.

In other ABA games, New York beat Carolina 107-97, Utah dumped Denver 123-112, Kentucky defeated San Antonio 95-84 and Virginia edged Memphis 85-87.

Quarry Picking Fight? NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Quarry thinks heavyweight champion George Foreman is hurting boxing, and that he can do something about it.

"The longer he stays champion, the farther downhill boxing is going to go," Quarry said, criticizing Foreman for his ineactivity. The champion has had only one fight since beating Joe Frazier for the title last January.

Of course, before Quarry can do anything about Foreman, he must do something about power-punching Earnie Shavers in a scheduled 12-round fight Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

Dolphins Lose Dunaway MIAMI (AP) — The Miami Dolphins, who have apparently lost standout defensive tackle Manny Fernandez for their first playoff game here Dec. 23, have now also lost tackle Jim Dunaway.

Coach Don Shula tried to move Dunaway through waivers Wednesday in order to activate him. But the Houston Oilers claimed the 11-year National Football League veteran and league rules don't allow Shula to recall him.

Dunaway, a starter for Buffalo for nine years, was traded to Miami before the 1972 season and started the first half of the year for the Dolphins. He suffered a back injury in preseason workouts and had been on the injured list all of this season.

Conquistadores Focus Just as the San Diego Conquistadores began to fade, Dwight Lamar and Steve Johnson turned them back into focus.

Wanted: 61 Yards For O. J. Simpson

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — O.J. Simpson plans to take it easy for a while, perhaps beginning Monday, but he has no such ideas of resting Sunday.

That's the day he will attempt to break two National Football League records, both held by Jim Brown, former Cleveland Browns' running back.

Simpson has raced for 1,803 yards on 288 carries in the Buffalo Bills' 13 games this season. He needs 61 yards and eight carries to eclipse both of Brown's marks.

He gets his chance against the New York Jets, against whom he gained 23 yards earlier this season.

Simpson is more concerned over the Bills, now 8-5, winning a wild card berth in the American Football Conference playoffs. They have a chance, but the odds are slim.

System Purchase Draws Council Ire

DEBARY — Three members of the DeBary Public Affairs Council have gone on record against the proposed purchases by Volusia County, of the Deltona Sewage Treatment System.

They are Chairman William E. Keller, Vice-Chairman Earl D. Merrill, and Consulting Engineer Richmond C. Holcombe.

In a letter to County Manager Thomas C. Kelley, the DeBary chairman stated, "I am deeply disturbed by recent reports which indicate you seem to regard as a matter of urgent necessity, the hasty purchase of the Deltona system."

He pointed out, "The trouble with this arrangement, is that when you do so, you hand over a big check, supported by our tax dollars, and you drag Volusia's taxpayers into Deltona's water and sewer problems from which the original developer would like to be extricated; and you saddle all of us with the ultimate money obligations involved."

He went on with, "Certainly DeBary wants no part of such an arrangement. We suggest you slow down, take another look at this situation, and consider the consequences of such action, from the point of view of those who might be 'stuck with the tab.'"

The county chairman answered on Dec. 6. He wrote, in part, "In accordance with the principle of the water and sewer reports of Clark, Dietz and Associates, Inc., adopted by the Volusia County Council, May 2, 1973, the county is investigating the purchase of the entire Deltona water-sewer system, and the connection to the Swallows Development (at DeBary)."

Candidates Face Issues

LAKE MARY — Runoff candidates for mayor and one council seat will hold a "question and answer" session at the city's elementary school Dec. 17 at 8 p.m., sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

In the Dec. 18 election, Margie Hess will be facing Don Jackson for the mayoralty and Lou Blankenship will be running against Ursula West for the unfilled group four council seat. All candidates have indicated they will attend.

The meeting will start with questions posed by a League of Women Voters' moderator and later be turned over to the general public.

Key issues such as the city's growth and planning are expected to receive much attention.

Four members of the city council were elected Dec. 4 in the municipal election. They are Virginia Mercer, Harry Terry, DeLores Lash and John Norden.

Santa Has Problems Aplenty!

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Being a rent-a-Santa can be tough.

There are the kids who get excited and wet their pants while sitting on Santa's knee. And there are the ones who try to pull off Santa's beard.

Glen R. Welker of Bountiful, Utah, who says he has about 200 bookings for the season as a rent-a-Santa, recalls his reaction when a 6-year-old became excited while sitting on his knee and Welker suddenly found himself the possessor of a wet spot.

"I just casually shifted my leg and asked the next child to climb onto my other knee," he said.

What about the children who want to pull off Santa's hair and beard?

"It takes a lot of glue, and bands, and pins and wig nets," says Welker.

Welker says he makes $1,500 to $2,000 a year as a rent-a-Santa, asking $22 for house calls, $30 for Christmas Eve and $75 for four hours minimum at retail stores and shopping centers.

Welker and two other Salt Lake City area rent-a-Santas, Tony Zucca and Quid Jant, see their work as such a big business they're trying to form a central booking agency.

"We want to standardize looks, maintain ideals," says Welker. "We don't want to have people on drugs or alcohol; we want good, clean living standards." Zucca, a janitorial contractor, says, "There are so many cut-throats out in inexpensive suits who try to make a quick buck, and they ruin it for the kids."

Gulf Mortgage Dividends

Gulf Mortgage and Realty Investments, a real estate investment trust, has announced distribution of 47 cents has been declared on the Trust's shares of beneficial interest payable on Nov. 30, 1973, to shareholders of record at the close of business on Nov. 16, 1973.

The distribution represents a 19 per cent increase from the 39 1/2 cents distributions made during the corresponding quarter of last year, the fiscal quarter ended Nov. 30, 1972. Total distributions of the Trust for the first nine months of its fiscal year are $1.1 compared to $1.21 for the corresponding period of last year. (The period ending Nov. 30, 1972, includes final distributions of an additional 14 cents per share made out of income for the preceding year's period ended Nov. 30, 1972, included 10 cents per share of preceding year's income.)

United First Florida Earnings Rise

United First Florida Banks, Inc. has announced a 31 per cent increase in nine months earnings over the corresponding period in 1972 for its 32 member banks. This is the first quarter reporting period for the new one and one-half billion dollar bank holding company.

Income before securities transactions was $9,944,000, or $1.58 per share for the nine month period ended September 30. This represents an increase of 30.8 percent in earnings and 2.9 percent in earnings per share over the corresponding 1972 period.

Net income for the nine months was $9,526,000, or a 27 percent increase over the corresponding 1972 period. On a per share basis, this amounted to $1.52.

Southeast Acquiring Banks

Southeast Banking Corporation has announced that agreements in principle have been reached concerning the proposed acquisition of the outstanding shares of Pinellas Central Bank & Trust Co., Largo, Florida; and the Security Bank, Pinellas Park, Florida.

In a joint statement, Harry Hood Bassett, Southeast chairman, and John Jenkins, chairman of both the Pinellas Central Bank & Trust Co. and the Security Bank said that Southeast would propose to offer 7.275 shares of Southeast common stock for each of the outstanding shares of Pinellas Central Bank & Trust Co. and 1.22 shares of Southeast common stock for each of the outstanding shares of the Security Bank.

According to Bassett, Southeast would anticipate issuing an aggregate of approximately 402,373 shares of Southeast common stock in acquiring all of the outstanding shares of both banks.

The acquisitions are subject to the approval of state and federal regulatory agencies and certain other conditions.

Record Bacardi Sales

NEW YORK — Sales of Bacardi Corporation in nine months of 1973 reached record levels that were 21 per cent higher than comparable figures for nine months of the previous year.

Sales, including excise taxes, were $85,397,855 for nine months of 1973 as compared with $70,506,265 for nine months of 1972. Excise taxes were $57,629,720 for 1973 and $47,162,872 for 1972.

Net profits for nine months for 1973 were $6,340,109 or $3.12 per share as compared with $5,498,593 or $2.75 per share in the comparable period of 1972. The net profit figures for 1973 continue to reflect the effect of a special tax imposed on all Corporate profits by the Government of Puerto Rico. Levied as a one year non-recurring tax based upon a surcharge of 7 per cent on the 1972 corporate income taxes.

Businessman, Homemaker Note: There Is A Shortage Of Paper

NEW YORK (AP) — If you are a businessman with a room full of files or a homemaker with a house to keep in order you might find it hard to believe but, yes, there is a paper shortage.

This one isn't so much the result of inadequate production—although there is that aspect to the shortage—but of the seemingly insatiable appetite of the economic system for newsprint and printing paper and paperboard and paperbags and tissue.

Last year that hunger resulted in between 63 million and 64 million tons being consumed. This year's consumption has been at the rate of between 67 million and 68 million tons, or about 640 pounds per person.

Looking into the immediate future, analysts foresee little or no letup in demand. In fact, some industry officials believe that by 1975 the country will need eight million tons or more but that capacity will grow by only half that.

One of the ironies of the problem is that this demand grows in spite of dedicated efforts to reduce man's reliance on paper. In some industries the battle may be considered critical.

The banking system, for example, feels as if it sits beneath a constant shower of confetti in the form of 23 billion checks a year that depend upon its clearing facilities. Bankers everywhere agree that it can't keep up.

Now being developed are systems to record transactions through the use of electronic systems that add to or deduct from your account without the medium of the check.

In the securities industry, to cite another example, the inadequacies of paper stock certificates, beautiful as they are, was made obvious by the big increase in transactions during the 1960s.

Unable to transfer certificates quickly, some brokers merely let them pile up in back offices, almost bringing down the entire industry. The confusion hardly can be exaggerated.

But try as he does, man has been unable to dig out from under the pile.

The electronic computer was supposed to help, but few businessmen or academicians or customers are willing to take the computer's word that it has all the information tucked away in its memory. No, they want a printout.

Hostels, built on a dream of brotherhood, offer more than a cheap place to crash

PARIS — (NEA) — Young wanderlust is having a record year. Some 20 million young Europeans are "on the road."

In France alone, one out of every two students has crossed the frontier, answering what the French know as "the call of the wild," seeking new pastures, new scenes, new customs.

It is a fact that youngsters are more eager to travel far, to explore, to see the world. Thirty years ago such travel was beyond their reach. The common modes of locomotion then were bicycling and walking. But educators tell us that the relaxing of family ties and parental authority, as well as better economic conditions, has led to the upsurge in travel.

The inevitable question for the young travelers is where to stay?

A favorite spot is the youth hostel — of which there are some 3,000 in Europe, 250 in France alone.

The grandfather of French youth hostels was Marc Sangnier, a prominent industrialist who, in 1891, donated a large plot of land 40 miles from Paris to build a center where young travelers could gather.

As Sangnier saw it, a youth hostel should be more than just a place to sleep and eat. He dreamed of bringing together adolescents of all nationalities and races, of all philosophies and political opinions, providing them all with a rich basis for understanding their fellow men.

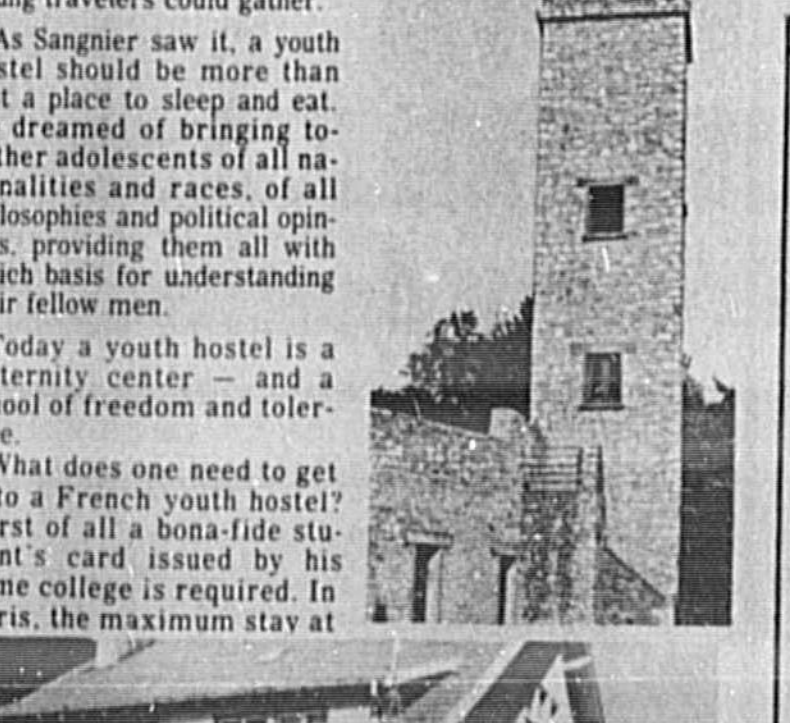

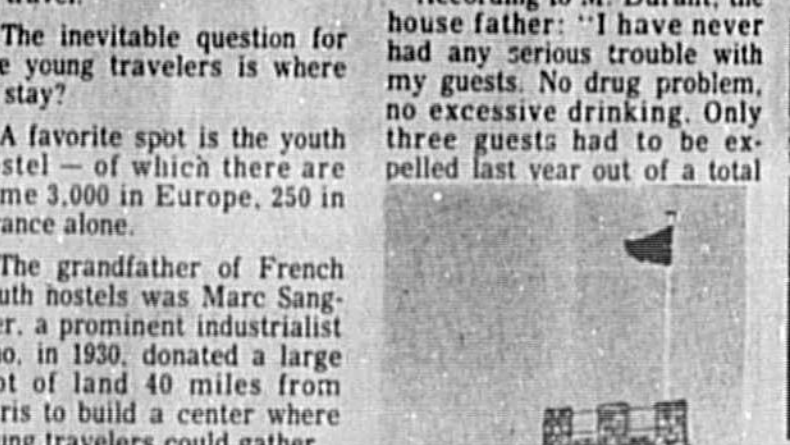

Today a youth hostel is a fraternity center — and a school of freedom and tolerance.

What does one need to get into a French youth hostel? First of all a bona-fide student's card issued by his home college is required. In Paris, the maximum stay at of 9,000. By and large they might be considered more apathetic than turbulent.

According to Durant, the German and Dutch students are the unluckiest Americans, especially the girls, are usually the first to ask about laundry facilities. The ratio in the Paris hostel is 90 per cent foreigners to 10 per cent French. This year, of course, there are fewer Americans because of the dollar situation.

According to Pierre Malet, general delegate at the French youth hostel headquarters, many youths are inclined to consider a hostel as simply a cheap accommodation where they behave more like "clients" than members of an international club. "They are something of freeloaders, believing that everything should be handed to them, forgetting that the real spirit of a hostel should follow the precept of the Spanish inn — that is, to give something of oneself if one wants to receive anything."

FRENCH YOUTH hostels offer traveling students an adventure in old and new forms of architecture as well as an international mix of traveling companions. These three hostels are all within a few miles of Paris.

Pensions And Who Gets Them

By GERARD M. BRANNON (Dr. Brannon is director of research for Tax Analysts and Advocates, a Washington, D.C., organization which provides research services for the news media and engages in a public interest tax law practice. He also is research professor at Georgetown University and formerly was director of the Office of Tax Analysis in the Treasury Department.)

up funds later probably doesn't cut much ice with workers and full funding is too expensive.

Another circumstance is that in industries with a lot of low-income workers, their workers are not so interested in savings (and pensions are really savings). They want their wages pretty much in cash to meet current expenses and to educate kids. Retirement will have to wait.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — We have seen that pension plans are not the safest things in the world, but probably nearly 60 per cent of workers will in the future retire with some kind of employer pension plan to bolster up their social security.

WHY WILL ONLY SOME WORKERS GET PENSION BENEFITS?

Apart from the problems of vesting that we have talked about, the big problem is that at any one time only a little over 50 per cent of the workers are covered by pension plans. If a fellow loses his job before he gets a vested claim to a pension, there is a pretty good chance that there won't be a pension plan in his next job.

A lot of the lack of coverage occurs in small firms with an uncertain future. As we saw, the big companies don't pay up (and their pension costs immediately but the promise of a big company to put up the money later is pretty good) (not perfect, but pretty good). For most small companies, the promise to put extension of the pension benefit under a law that lets a self-employed person set up a pension plan which covered himself. The Congress put a few extra limits on these plans because it was expected that they would be used mostly by professional people who didn't have many employees. In lots of these cases, it is practically a matter of a few dollars to get a deduction for as much as he wanted to save.

Since then, the professionals have outfoxed the Congress by devising ways to form "professional" corporations so they can have pension plans without the special limits.

Civic Auxiliary
Plans Party

DELTONA—The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Deltona Civic Association will hold its Christmas party luncheon in conjunction with the regular meeting, Dec. 20, at 1 p.m. in the Community Center.

Members are requested to bring a wrapped Christmas gift, with name of member enclosed, not to exceed one dollar. Cards and bingo will be played.

Mrs. Charles Maglione chairman of the luncheon. Mrs. Hugh Lynch and Mrs. Karl Schaller will be greeters at the door.

On Dec. 22, the club's Holiday Dance will be held in the Community Center. Those who have not secured their tickets may obtain them from Mrs. Margaret Morrissey, phone 374-1388. Mrs. Lydia Schmidt and Mrs. Charles Weydig are co-chairman of the affair.

Artist Has
One Man Show

DELTONA—Deltona Art Club announces a "one man" art show by Mrs. Barbara Dunstan, in the Deltona Woman's Club building on Normandy Boulevard for the month of December.

Barbara Dunstan is formerly from Weston, Conn. She began studying with the Boston Museum at the age of 18, then continued her studies in Chestnut Hill, P., Newport, R.I., Brookfield, Conn. and Hawaii, where she and her husband, Commander Thomas Dunstan lived for several years.

Mrs. Dunstan has participated in group shows in Deland, New Smyrna Beach, Sanford and Deltona. Her first "one man" show was at the Deland State Bank shortly after her arrival in Deltona.

In addition to the Deltona Art Club, she is a member of the West Volusia Artists Inc., Sanford-Seminole Art Association and the Florida Federation of Art. She is a member of Deltona Woman's Club.

Council Drafts
Charter

DEBARY — DeBary Public Affairs Council, at its December meeting, reviewed a draft of a charter by the Council attorney, Zrinley Carter for incorporating this Civic Council. The draft, with minor changes, was adopted for signature of Council members. Council incorporation was found necessary to strengthen the organization's legal position in representing the community.

A report of the completion by the Volusia County Department of Public Works, of the recommended program of street paving and repair in DeBary was accepted with a decision to recommend County Officials for an excellent follow-through on the PAC's proposals.

It was decided to give priority to recommending repaving of the four remaining streets in the category of previously named streets that had been allowed to deteriorate.

Should County funds be available for paving any unpaved residential streets in the County, an effort will be made to include those on the priority basis of number of homes to be served.

A resolution was voted to ask the Volusia County Manager Tom Kelly, to delay decision on a proposal to purchase the Deltona Water and Sewage System as a part of a plan to serve Southwest Volusia until the merits and costs of a sewer system to serve developing areas, west of Interstate 4, can be determined, to provide an option of an alternate plan.

A preliminary plan under discussion earlier this year, by the LTP, the Wilson Knott Developers and the County, called for a sewage plant to be located on West Highbanks Road near the Coastline and Seaboard Coast Line Railroad Line, to serve these two projects; DeBary's future needs and other developments west of Interstate 4. Council decided that time should be taken for a careful study of the two approaches.

Opposition was registered to the West Volusia Land Use Plan proposal by the County planners, to expand northward, the area on both sides of Benson Junction Road, now zoned M1 for light industrial uses.

The PAC asked that the land use recommendation, for this area remain within the limits of the present industrial zoning to protect the Southward expansion of DeBary residential development on both sides of Shell Road, presently zoned single family residential.

Quartet
Entertains Association

DEBARY—The annual Christmas meeting of the DeBary Civic Association was held on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Center on Shell Road. Special entertainment was featured by The Florida Peacemakers of Sanford under the supervision of Mrs. Guy Bishop and directed by H.E. McSwain.

This quartet sang several Christmas selections. The group is well known through its TV and radio presentations. A short business meeting followed after which refreshments were served.

ATTENDING TRIBUTE TO LATE PAUL CASKEY

Concert Tribute Is Well Attended

By FANNETTE EDWARDS
Herald Correspondent

DELTONA — A record crowd of more than 300 attended the concert sponsored by the Deltona Presidents' Council on Sunday afternoon, in the DeBary Fire Hall for the benefit of the Paul Caskey Memorial Scholarship Fund. The concert, originally scheduled to be held in the Deltona Plaza, had to be shifted to the DeBary Fire Hall at the last minute.

Entertainment was furnished by the DeLand High School Modernaires, a group of 16 students, who sang several medleys ranging from semi-classical to modern, then closed their part of the program with a medley of Christmas Carols.

At present the Modernaires are directed by James Murphy, who will be leaving the group on Jan. 15, to continue his studies at a university.

Murphy replaced the late Paul Caskey, for whom this memorial concert was given. Caskey directed the group for 10 years and was the founder and originator of the "Modernaires."

Mrs. Paul Caskey sat in the audience and listened to Dwight Hawkins, recreational director of Deltona, eulogize Mr. Caskey for the wonderful man and citizen he was. She too, praised the Presidents' Council, for having the foresight to devise the music scholarship and to promote it by holding this public concert and tribute to the man.

The scholarship will be awarded to a graduating Senior student, who plans to major in music. It is to be a scholarship in the amount of $1,000.

Other entertainment in Sunday's concert included, a school sextette, which sang several numbers including Christmas songs.

They were followed by the Avant Garde Modern Dancers, also students of the high school, directed by Mrs. Virginia Sharpe, who is choreographer.

Processed Fruits And Vegetables Dwindle To Few

By Eliza Paul
WASHINGTON, D.C. — (NEA) — Bargain-hungry shoppers are gobbling the nation into a processed foods shortage that could cause such staples as canned apples, peaches, peaches, cherries and canned and frozen corn.

perilously short supply. The Administration's price controls program, responsible for shortages in many other sectors of the economy, is only partly to blame for this one, according to processors and retailers. Indeed, the controls seem only to have aggravated an already tight situation caused by a general trend toward convenience foods and a poor crop year.

The real pinch began last year when floods in the eastern part of the nation wiped out a substantial part of the fruit and vegetable crop and production dropped sharply.

During last summer's Freeze II, processed food prices were held down while those for fresh fruits and vegetables were allowed to fluctuate wildly. The uncertainty of fresh produce prices and a general desire to hoard food drove many consumers from the vegetable bins to the canned and frozen food sections of their grocery stores.

packed only once a year and products that run out won't appear in the supermarket again until the fall. The past summer's heavy buying left canners and freezers with record low carryover supplies, meaning there is almost no reserve to draw on in a production year one canner describes as a "general disaster."

The New York state and West Virginia apple crops were hit by a freeze at blossom time that also took a toll of the cherry crops in those areas. The Midwest apple crop was also cut by bad weather and growers estimate the canning crop will be only half of last year's.

Similar natural disasters befell the pea, sweet corn and tomato crops — all of which were already in short supply.

Edward Brown, chairman of the board of Michigan

Fruit Canners, states flatly, "We won't be able to meet demand this year. By late spring or early summer there will be quite a pinch in apple products."

Michigan Fruit, which makes Rustic and Dolley Madison brand products, also anticipates shortages in its supplies of cherries, green beans and peas.

When shoppers see canned food stocks dwindling, they traditionally turn to frozen foods and this is expected to wipe out the supply of frozen peas well before next year's packing season.

Frozen pea supplies dropped to near zero this year, and processors, faced with another poor crop, are pessimistic. "There is a shortage and it's critical," says an official of a major frozen foods distributor.

Population Is Getting Bit Older

Demographic statistics indicate that the "baby bust" is continuing strong. Live births in this country have been running about 3 per cent below those for the like period last year. Moreover, the fertility rate—the number of births per 1,000 women of child-bearing age—is dropping this year below last year's rate, which was under the rate necessary for zero population growth.

Interest Rates May Soon Dip

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fuel shortage, which is already causing higher unemployment and prices, may have one positive economic effect next year: lower interest rates.

That's the way a number of economists see the interest-rate picture developing. Among them is Herbert Stein, chairman of President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers, and Arthur M. Okun, who headed the council under President Lyndon B. Johnson.

They reason that as the fuel shortage causes the economy to slow down dramatically early next year, both corporate and consumer demand for loans will soften, leaving more money to lend and thus, by supply and demand, bringing down short-term rates.

This could happen even if the Federal Reserve Board, in an effort to keep the rate of inflation under rein, maintains a fairly tight monetary policy, economists say.

Okun said that if, as is now felt, a decline in economic output occurs in the first three months of 1974, "then there's not much question" that short-term interest rates should fall.

Niether Stein nor Okun would predict by how much. Okun said he expected a "significant weakening of loan demand by the end of the winter."

Interest rates are now at their highest levels in history. Seven large banks recently increased their prime lending rate, that charged to their biggest and best customers, to 10 per cent. Consumers have to pay more.

The Nixon administration's Committee on Interest and Dividends Monday sent telegrams to the seven banks directing them to justify the higher rates. The prime rate has been at 9.5 per cent.

Economists expect that a generally softer demand for loans is expected to be more effective in bringing down interest rates than any government moves.

Stein said that consumers will play a big part in how interest rates fare next year. As they spend less on gasoline-related products, he said, they are expected to deposit more money into savings. This also would tend to push down interest costs.

Utilities Say Save On Power

By FRANK T. MARTIN
Copley News Service

As the energy crunch overtakes the nation, utility companies which once found ways for the homeowner to conserve power now are suggesting that he button down his home to keep out the winter cold as a major fuel-saver.

Utilities are distributing pamphlets proposing that householders follow these tips to hold down heating costs and save fuel at the same time:

1—Keep all exterior doors, and those to garage, attic and basement, tightly closed. Lost heat is a waste of energy and money, so keep it indoors where you can feel it. You can't heat the patio.

—Insulation and weather stripping can cut heating costs and fuel consumption up to 45 per cent.

Older homes especially often need new or additional insulation, so have an expert check your house.

3—Examine and clean your heating system each fall. Clean or replace dirty filters that make the furnace work harder and hence use more fuel. A dirty furnace or flue also is a fire menace.

4—Stop constantly changing your thermostat settings. They boost your heating costs and fuel consumption. So set room thermostats to an agreed temperature and leave them alone. Typically, living rooms are comfortable at 70 degrees and bedrooms at 65—though not everybody will agree with those figures.

5—Turn your heating system off lower temperature at night. Set it so low that your furnace has to work overtime to reheat the house in the morning.

6—On sunny days, open the drapes and let the solar heat in to warm you naturally.

Is Your Insurance Man Sharp Or Flat?

By Carlton Smith

It's true, as Commissioner Herbert S. Denenberg says, that "a good agent can be worth his weight in gold; a bad one can be a disaster."

So we'll pass along a condensed version of his checklist, hoping it will enable you to find one of those nuggets of gold.

Zero in first on the general professional qualifications of an agent or broker. As a very minimum, he should make it his full-time business. "Avoid part-timers and the incompetent brothers-in-law."

Most of the checklist questions apply equally to either kind of agent. And certainly agent, or with a well-established agency? Does he have at least four years' experience in the insurance business? And finally, if he's a thorough professional, he'll have done the course work and passed the exams for a CLU designation (Chartered Life Underwriter) or CPCU (Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriter).

The agent or broker with such professional qualifications will in all likelihood meet the pragmatic tests of a good insurance man.

Can you reach him when you need him — or do you get just an answering service, or a phone that rings without answer? Does he return calls or answer correspondence promptly?

Does he do more than just send you bills every so often? Does he touch base, at least once a year, to see whether you need changes in your insurance program, changes of beneficiaries, etc.?

Does he explain your policies in such a way that you really understand them? Explain cost and coverage differences between companies. Does he compare the cost of life policies in terms of interest-adjusted cost? Does he explain the use of deductibles, in property and auto policies, to reduce premium costs?

Has he ever made any suggestions that reduced the amount of your premiums?

Does he compare the cost of

Bridal Party Entertained

Following the rehearsal for the RICHARDE-EATON wedding, the groom's father, Gregory Eaton and his family, entertained with a dinner at the Cavalier Motor Inn for the bridal couple, Debbie RICHARDE and Richard Eaton, members of the bridal party and families.

Centering the bridal couple's table was a low arrangement of white mums, blue carnations, white baby's breath and greenery. Guests enjoyed a dinner of sirloin tip roast, baked potatoes, broccoli with cheese sauce, salad, hot rolls and coconut cake.

A champagne toast was given by the groom's father before the serving of dessert. Miss RICHARDE presented her bridesmaids with pearl earrings and Richard gave his attendants travel kits.

Those attending in addition to the bridal couple and hosts were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. RICHARDE, parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. RICHARDE, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edgar, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. RICHARDE, David and Preston RICHARDE.

Miss Brenda Tierce, bride-elect of Stephen Frano, was complimented with a recent miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Belinda Burgess, 2408 Grandview Ave.

Co-hostesses with Belinda were Miss Lou Ann Wade, Mrs. Glen Burgess, and junior hostess, Little Miss Sherry Michelle Burgess.

The party area was decorated with arrangements of red roses in a white container and red poinsettias. Miss Tierce was presented with a pink carnation corsage to complement her ensemble and her mother, Mrs. George Tierce and Mrs. Frank Frano, grandmother of the future bridegroom, received white carnation corsages. Each of the hostesses also wore small white carnation corsages.

The refreshment table was overlaid with a white linen cloth and highlighted with a large elaborately decorated cake, featuring pink and white frosting, roses with silver leaves and beads and topped with an ornament depicting the bridal couple and their attendants.

Served with the cake were lime sherbet punch, chocolate nut squares, rainbow mints and nuts. Bridal games were enjoyed during the evening.

Daughter's family's loss Salvation Army's gain

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last year my husband and I had seven carefully selected Christmas gifts beautifully and individually wrapped, placed in one large box, and shipped to our daughter's home (out of state) to be placed under their tree. They were for our daughter, her husband, their four children, and my son in law's mother who lives with them.

We received one thank you note from our daughter saying: "We ALL thank you for the lovely gifts."

Abby, all her children can write, and so can her husband and his mother. Just one short line scribbled at the bottom of her letter ("Thanks for the camera," or "The perfume was nice.") would have sufficed.

We have had it with ingrates who don't even bother to say thank you. This Christmas Eve we shall place ONE long, distance phone call to their home and wish them all a merry Christmas. Then my husband and I shall drive downtown and drop $100 in the Salvation Army pot for people who need and appreciate a little remembrance at Christmas time.

DEAR TIRRED: Too had you had to have had experience with the greedy to motivate your giving to the needy.

DEAR ABBY: Is there any rule about how long a person is supposed to keep his wedding picture out on display?

My husband and I have been married for two years, and I have a picture of us cutting our wedding cake sitting on the mantle. It's a beautiful colored photograph in a lovely frame, and I enjoy looking at it.

A guest in our home noticed it the other day, and said in a rather ridiculing tone: "Don't tell me you still have your wedding picture out!"

I felt a little hurt and somewhat embarrassed. Please tell me honestly if you think it's bad taste.

STILL A BRIDE IN NASHVILLE
DEAR STILL: The only "bad taste" I see in this situation is on the part of your guest who made the comment. Keep the picture out as long as you enjoy looking at it. And may it sit there for another 50 years.

DEAR ABBY: Please help me before I go completely out of my mind. I work for this doctor. He's a good one and I love my work, but I never have any time to myself.

The doctor and his wife are friendly with my husband and me, but they are too friendly. We live in a small town, and his car is parked in front of my house at lunch hour and my days off, too, and I just don't like the way it looks.

If the doctor isn't here, he has me tied up on the phone for long periods talking about this or that at the clinic or hospital.

I have my own work to do at home, and I'm always behind with it. My husband and I have other friends, but we can't plan anything without this doctor and his wife, as they pop in without even calling.

I'm afraid to relax in anything but my uniform at home because he even comes in without knocking. What can I do? My husband says he is just being friendly. I like friends, too, but I'd also like to forget about sick people, pregnant women, etc., when I have some time off. I've even considered quitting, but I do like my job.

TIRED OF PRETENDING
DEAR TIRRED: If you do not tell the doctor that you can no longer be available after working hours because you have other responsibilities, you may have to quit your job. Your pretended 24-hour-availability has put you in a bind.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 123 Lesty Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212.

Worry Clinic

George W. Crans, Ph.D., M.D.

Note my brother John's comment about the value of "Horse Sense" in our defeat of the British Redcoats in the Revolutionary War. Alas, gunpoint and bayonets seldom are taught to the "drawing board dreamers" in colleges even today!

CASE Y-94: My brother, Dr. John B. Crans, had dinner with us recently.

He formerly taught economic history at Northwestern, Harvard, Barham College and Iowa Wesleyan.

"Apropos of your constant stress on 'Horse Sense' in practical psychology," he volunteered, "that was also a main reason why we defeated the British in the Revolutionary War."

"For the Redcoats marched shoulder to shoulder into battle. Which made them easier targets for our pioneer riflemen."

"Better yet, those stubborn British Generals refused to O.K. the use of rifles so their first Rifle Corps was 'created' till the year 1800."

"So in 1776, the Redcoats still employed antiquated muskets. But the lethal range of such guns was only about one-third the distance of our American long rifles."

"Consequently, our soldiers could keep 50 yards out of range of the British muskets, yet still shoot back and decimate their ranks!"

"As the British kept advancing, our men would then retreat till they could reload their long rifles, then stand pat for a few minutes and fire back at the Redcoats."

"This strategy helped us offset the far greater numbers of British soldiers."

"George Washington and other American Generals also used additional resourcefulness (as when crossing the ice floes of the Delaware) so their greater 'Horse Sense' really gave us our American Republic."

HORSE SENSE

U.S. Bankers Like Foreign Bankers To Invest Here

NEW YORK (AP) — When foreign companies buy into their American counterparts it seems that almost everyone benefits. That, at least, is the way advocates of more such investments see it.

Among the more important defenders of that position are American investment bankers who increasingly sell their services to European and Japanese firms seeking a secure foothold in the big U.S. market.

Making possible the foreign trust are a number of factors, including massive holdings abroad of U.S. dollars, depressed American stock prices, and dollar devaluations that increase the buying power of foreign currencies.

While arguing that their point of view could be prejudiced, this is the rosy view held by many of the parties involved.

The foreign company benefits from gaining a position in the biggest single market in the world. The U.S. company receives cash and support for the price of its stock, which likely is depressed these days.

The customer who tenders his stock in response to an advertisement by the foreign company generally obtains a premium over the current market which might amount to 50 percent or more.

Trust Houses Forte Ltd. of Britain, for example, offered $11.50 a share to holders of stock in Travelodge International Inc., a California-based motel builder and operator, when the market price was around $7.50.

The broker for a customer who tenders his shares obtains a solicitation fee which may be higher than he would have obtained for handling a conventional sale of the shares on the New York Stock Exchange.

To illustrate, a predominantly Canadian group offered brokers and commercial bankers 45 cents for each share of the Signal Companies tendered by their customers, or 45 a hundred. The conventional commission for the stock, then selling at $20, would have been $41.80.

The investment banker who puts the deal together obtains a fee for his efforts, which might include proposing the deal, working out the technicalities, writing the tender offer and finding the sellers.

The United States benefits as a nation, the advocates maintain, because the inflow of money helps to bring the country's international payments toward balance, and sponges up the pool of overseas dollars that leads to periodic speculative assaults on U.S. currency values.

"And local communities benefit from an infusion of financial energy that could spark corporate expansion and lead to more jobs and probably better paychecks.

Some critics, however, have a remarkably different attitude. To many of them, the investment bankers are a fifth column seeking to sell the country to the highest bidder. To others, the danger isn't so much actual as potential.

Isn't it possible, they ask, that some foreign investors do not have this country's best interests in mind? Couldn't some of the nation's vital industries, even communications media, be taken over?

Those who hold this viewpoint see the trend as colonialism, a belief that foreigners used to apply to American corporations, which have a much larger stake in Europe than European companies have here.

Might not some foreigners, the old-rich Middle East nations, for example, wage economic warfare in order to impress their national goals on the diplomacy of the United States?

Altamonte Reverses Stand On New Jobs

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS—Faced by nearly 200 angry citizens jamming city council chambers, council members Thursday night unanimously reversed earlier actions which would have created a city manager and personnel director.

Even though forces of Mayor Lawrence Swafford won a circuit court battle earlier in the day against attempts by attorneys for Mayor-elect Norman Floyd to gain an injunction stopping the new posts, council instead opted for bringing harmony to city government. The council indicated it wished to delay making the moves until after Floyd and councilman-elect Cal DeVoy take office Jan. 1. Floyd's lieutenants earlier said they are in favor of creating the posts, but did not want a lame duck council to make the decision.

Councilman Dan Dorfman, who made the controversial motions Tuesday night instructing City Atty. Joe Davis to prepare resolutions creating the positions, also made the motions Thursday night to rescind the action.

And the third issue—a policy reserving the powers of hiring and firing to the entire council—is not necessary to ensure city employees job security, Councilman Don Myers said.

Myers said Davis advised that the council under city charter powers can rehire any employee who might be terminated.

Circuit Judge Tom Waddell Thursday in a nontime hearing denied Floyd's petition for a temporary injunction against the city council to stop any move to name Mayor Lawrence Swafford or Dorfman city manager.

Although rumors have persisted since last week's election when Swafford was defeated that the council would name him or Dorfman to the position, the council has attempted neither action.

Swafford in his office prior to the meeting with members of the press and councilmen standing by, said he does not want the city manager job. He reaffirmed this statement at the special meeting he called.

Dorfman's motion Thursday night to exclude all city councilmen including Swafford, Floyd and DeVoy from the city manager's post, booed by the crowd, died for lack of a second.

Swafford recommended the council delay the controversial action. "No one has a greater love for Altamonte than I do," Swafford said, urging that cooler heads prevail. Dorfman admitted his Tuesday motions were less than ideal in their timeliness.

"The future of your city, the value of your property is at stake tonight," Swafford told the audience.

Oviedo Voters May Double City's Size

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

OVIEDO—Voters are expected to stamp their approval Tuesday to an annexation which will double the city's size overnight and quadruple its population within 12-18 months.

The annexation involves 782 acres south of town on the east side of SR 520 where a $176 million planned unit development is to be built by Striton Properties of Atlanta. The annexation also will see Oviedo's sewer system begin construction.

The special election will be held at city hall with polls open as usual from 7 to 7.

The city's charter, while allowing property owners to petition for annexation, also requires voter approval.

Philip Browning, Striton Properties president, developer of the property, said the PUD will be served with city water and his company will be putting up $700,000 toward construction costs of a city-wide sewer system.

He said the project, to be built over 12-18 months, will have single family homes, patio homes, apartments, condominiums and commercial ventures.

"The single family homes, the first phase of the development, are to begin construction in late 1974. Final plans have not been prepared and the density per acre being determined, Phillips said.

Price range of the homes will be $50,000 and up with condominiums $38,000 and up.

An 18-hole championship golf course also is planned.

Browning said architectural styles selected for the PUD include rustic or California contemporary and traditional styles.

For the past two years I have been a constant occupant in the press box of the Tangerine Bowl while doing the "color" for Metro Conference Football (via Orange-Seminole Cablevision).

I would normally leave my home in Lake Mary around 6:30 p.m. and get to the stadium before 7, leaving me ample opportunity to prepare for the telecast.

However, on the night of the Edgewater-Winter Park confrontation, I anticipated a big crowd so I left home at 6:15 p.m. However, I didn't get into the Tangerine Bowl until 7:20, a mere 40 minutes prior to kickoff.

And this leads me to why I'm sorry for Orlando's taxpayers. That Edgewater-Winter Park game filled the Bowl with almost 16,000 fans.

The present talk is to expand the seating capacity of the stadium to at least 50,000 (an NFL requisite prior to gaining franchise approval).

All of the main road arteries leading to the stadium were absolutely clogged and yet only 16,000 spectators were trying to get in... for a high school game!

Many did NOT get into the stadium until after the game was underway.

Can you imagine the crush with three times that number?

It's a physical impossibility. The streets are too narrow... there aren't nearly enough of them leading to the site of the football contests, and even the East-West Expressway couldn't accommodate the flow of cars.

Trash Mess Solution Due, Vihlen Says

Seminole County's chaotic garbage collection system will be put in order by February or March by adopting an ordinance setting up exclusive collection areas, Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen said today.

Vihlen, reporting on a Thursday night meeting with the Seminole Refuse Collector's Association, said the group will meet again next week with formal reaction to a draft garbage collection ordinance drawn up by Assistant County Atty. Howard Marasee.

The ordinance, providing for exclusive franchise areas and a general "tightening up," Vihlen said, will be coupled with an anticipated Dec. 28 report by Act Systems Inc., a national environmental study firm specializing in refuse collection problems.

A Jan. 7, 7 p.m. meeting has been set for final commission run-through of the ordinance and Act's report, which is expected to draw up recommended exclusive franchise areas.

"We're shooting for a Feb. 1 or March 1 starting date, at the latest," Vihlen said. "Garbage service will be pulled up by the bootstraps in Seminole County."

Vihlen admitted some of the county's 40 franchise firms may be put out of business due to the reorganization, since exclusive franchises will most likely be awarded to, in his words, "the more substantial garbage firms."

Shops and offices may stay open five days a week but on two "nonpower" days must use no electricity for lighting or heating.

Television programs will stop at 10:30 p.m. Food stores and such essential public services as water and sewage disposal are exempt from the cuts. So are newspapers, restaurants, theaters and sports centers may stay open as long as they use no electrical heating on nonpower days.

Cuts in household heating are expected to be made in the next school year, but an attempt to reverse it was expected today. And, it was doubtful whether the action, if upheld in the House, would pass the Senate.

The energy crisis continued to boil elsewhere in the country and overseas.

The head of the Federal Energy Office, William E. Simon, said he would order reduced lighting in commercial and industrial buildings as soon as he receives congressional authority to do so. Simon, unveiling new mandatory energy conservation steps, said no decision had been made on whether to ration gasoline.

In Great Britain, the government cut the nation's 40-hour work week in half to avert what Prime Minister Edward Heath said could be a major power breakdown. Heath, who acknowledged his order, which becomes effective Monday, probably would lead to heavy unemployment.

House Votes Busing Halt; Gas Lack Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a move sponsors call energy-saving and opponents term racist, the House has voted to ban all locations of scarce fuel for busing children past neighborhood schools.

If approved, the ban would begin in the next school year, but an attempt to reverse it was expected today. And, it was doubtful whether the action, if upheld in the House, would pass the Senate.

Power Cuts Slam Britain's Economy

LONDON (AP) — Millions of British workers are threatened with slashed paychecks or unemployment as the result of a government austerity program to conserve fuel and electric power.

And the hard-hit country braced for more tough news. On Monday, Chancellor of the Exchequer Anthony Barber announced the rest of Britain's energy-saving program. It is expected to include stiff new taxes, import controls and perhaps even food rationing.

"We shall have a harder Christmas than we have known since the war," Prime Minister Edward Heath told the House of Commons Thursday.

Workers face a 24-hour work week beginning Monday and a three-day week beginning Jan. 1 — if they keep their jobs. The Times of London predicted 10 million unemployed eventually, or more than 40 per cent of the total work force of 24 million.

Starting in the New Year, factories will work either Monday through Wednesday or Thursday through Saturday to spread the load on the electric power system.

Exclusive Ambulance Pact Due

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County ambulance situation became a bit clearer today as County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen predicted board action on a possible $50,000 subsidy and exclusive franchise by February, and promised a "fair hearing" to founders of Seminole Ambulance Co., cleared Thursday of extortion charges.

Circuit Court Judge Tom Waddell Thursday threw out extortion charges against Scott Kenneth and Orville Anderson, principals in an as-yet non-operating firm seeking an exclusive franchise with the county.

Today, Vihlen told The Herald he expects the commission will approve "within 30 to 60 days" a plan of action on ambulance service, indicating the board is likely to go for an ambulance service, including Emergency Medical Services.

Council report urging an exclusive, subsidized franchise, as recommended by the state. The board has slated $50,000 in federal revenue sharing funds for ambulance service.

Vihlen said the medical council will officially report to the commission Tuesday, but he feels the board will not act before making a full study of ambulance service in "other counties and cities similar to Seminole and build on this information."

"We want to move out on the subject, but not without all the details and facts," Vihlen said.

adding the county is adequately served for the present by Herndon Ambulance and Physicians and Surgeons Ambulance companies.

The county has been operating since the end of October with no official service, with P&S and Herndon competing for business after the lapse of Herndon's exclusive $20,000 annual subsidy and franchise.

Seeking to gain a franchise, and renewal of the franchise, and possible state and federal grants, then — Winter Springs politician Scott Kenneth and Winter Park fireman Orville Anderson, formed Seminole Ambulance Co.

After listening Thursday to an hour's argument by defense attorneys Ned Julian and Gary Uday, Waddell dismissed the charges against the men, ruling, in effect, that the state was subjecting them to double jeopardy.

Trial had been set for Monday. Anderson, suspended from his fireman's position when the state was re-filed by the state, was immediately reinstated Thursday.

Anderson and Kenneth, who previously weathered conspiracy charges alleging they threatened the life and property of P&S owner Robert Turner, said they plan to push an exclusive, subsidized contract with the county.

The men were granted an occupational license, in
