General Literature Day

At the Women's Club March 26th, from 3 until 5 the Literature Department will entertain the club members. The committee in charge has arranged an interesting program for the afternoon, consisting of readings and music.

All club members are most cordially invited to be present.

Literature Department

A pleasant feature of the week was the meeting of the Literature Department on Wednesday afternoon, March 18th.

The Department in pursuance of the policy of Women who have influenced American life, had a most interesting story of the life of Mary J. Holmes, told by Mrs. Twichell, who is spending the winter in Sanford, and a near relative, and having spent twenty years or more in the home of Mrs. Holmes was well prepared to give an account of this familiar and well loved author.

Mrs. Twichell first told of Mrs. Holmes having spent two winters in this part of Florida, once at Enterprise, where the beauty and surroundings so appealed to Mrs. Holmes that the scene of one of her books is laid there. Later she visited Orlando, where she met some of our own ladies, and had pleasant remembrances of them. How she had come of a large family and was a very precocious child, teaching at the age of thirteen. A rapid and prolific writer, she published thirty-four books besides writing many serial stories that were never published in book form. Of her great insight into the life and character of people.

In the course of her story Mrs. Twichell told of the many times Mrs. Holmes had made abroad and of the fine collection of paintings and art she had in her home. How she always loved people; her home was open once a week to those who wished to view her treasures. She received once a year in a general reception to the public, even until the last year of her life, having passed away when eighty-three years old. None knew her but to love her.

This was most charmingly told by Mrs. Twichell and the appreciation of the club was extended to her in a rousing vote of thanks.

Weisman has it all over man. She never looks warm in summer and she never looks cold in winter.

Summer Stops the Swing

If you exert a pound of pressure against a man in a swing you'll start him moving slowly "to and fro." If you continue to exert a pound of pressure against him every time the swing makes a trip you'll soon have him going so high that he almost turns the whole circle. If you stop pushing the momentum will die out and the swing comes to rest at "dead center."

Winning trade follows the same natural law.

Advertisements are the force behind the swing of public favor. Each new advertisement increases the momentum. Finally the accumulated force of these numerous impulses swings indifference to the buying point.

If you stop advertising you lose momentum.

The moral of which is: Don't stop the business swing in summer. Keep adding the pounds of advertising pressure.

People Known by Their Homes

Experienced travelers are elated when they come across well-planned and well-cared-for homes tastefully planted. They instinctively feel a desire to know the occupants, feeling sure they will find within people of intelligence, education, nobleness, generosity and affability. All know then, that the cultivation of plants and flowers is indicative of high ideals and character, even though he has never thought closely along these lines. It has truly been said that "the exterior of a home is an index to the character of the inhabitants." How will you be judged?

Bachelor's Savage Comment

A wealthy gentleman, who owns a country seat, on one occasion nearly lost his mother-in-law, who fell into a river which flows through his estate. He announced the narrow escape to his friends, expecting their congratulations. One of them—an old bachelor—wrote as follows: "I always told you that river was too shallow."

When a Public Official Goes Wrong

"When a public servant gets caught doing something he ought not to, he always seems to derive a lot of satisfaction from pretending that his motives are misunderstood," says an Ohio paper. That isn't what this says. He says: "I have no desire to try my luck in the newspaper."

Treating a Cold

We like to think that we are much wiser, much more sensible and much further advanced than our ancestors, and so we are perhaps in many ways. Yet almost a hundred and forty years ago John Adams, who was working for his country like many other men and who had no idea that he would one day be president, and that his sayings would be worth quoting, prescribed the most modern sort of treatment for a cold—plenty of fresh air.

That Lost Balance

A young lady while out boat riding one day in a park, attempted to change seats, and fell overboard. When she was brought up gasping and struggling, the usual crowd gathered around and asked how it happened. "Oh, I just lost my balance," she began, when a little Jewish boy, who had been listening open-mouthed, said: "Youse looses your balance, lad, I will find it for youse."

Policeman in Silk Hat

Savona, Italy, is probably the only town in the world where policemen wear top hats. One cannot help wondering what the policemen's "toppers" look like after the officers have had a rough and tumble with hoodlums. Perhaps, however, Savona lives up to the level of respectability indicated by the silk hats and does not possess hoodlums.—Wide World Magazine.

Eggnog for Invalids

Separate the yolk from the white of an egg, beat the yolk thoroughly and then beat the white to a froth, add a heaping teaspoonful of sugar, a trifle of salt. Stir these into the yolk and then add the white. Add enough milk to fill the glass and stir. Add either one or one-half spoonful of sherry. The salt offsets the flavor of the egg.

TEST PROVES THAT BRICK ON NEW ROADS ARE ALL RIGHT

BRICKS ARE SUBJECTED TO A SEVERE TEST

STATEMENT OF ENGINEER

COMPARISON WITH BRICK USED ON CITY STREETS GIVES PREFERENCE TO NEW BRICKS

In order to make sure that the bricks now being used in the construction of our new brick roads were up to the standard the board of county commissioners caused a very severe test to be made using in this test the bricks which have been in use on the various city streets and those now being used by the contractors on the new roads.

The test used on these bricks is known as the Rattle test, and is the most up to date method of testing. The bricks which are subjected to this test are given what is considered to be as near as possible a duplicate of the actual treatment that will be given to a brick paving after it is put into use.

Mr. Fred Williams, the engineer in charge of the work and who is employed by the county commissioners, stated yesterday that after seeing this test there was no doubt as to the quality of the brick now being used.

Augusta, Ga., Mar. 11 and 12, 14. Results of various Rattle Tests made at plant of Hankinson & Hagler for committee of the Seminole county commissioners, of Seminole county, Fla., in presence of A. T. Rossetter, J. T. McLain, H. S. Jaudon, Hankinson & Hagler, Brown and F. T. Williams:

Southern Clay 10 Brick:

Table with 2 columns: Test item, Value. Original weight 88.5, Weight after rattle 61.5, Lbs. loss 27, Per cent loss 30.51.

Southern Clay 9 Brick:

Table with 2 columns: Test item, Value. Original weight 78.2, Weight after rattle 55.5, Lbs. loss 22.7, Per cent loss 29.

Rockmart Vit 10 Brick:

Table with 2 columns: Test item, Value. Original weight 71.5, Weight after rattle 50, Lbs. loss 21.5, Per cent loss 30.1, 1 brick broken.

Rockmart Vit 10 Brick:

Table with 2 columns: Test item, Value. Original weight 71.5, Weight after rattle 56, Lbs. loss 15.5, Per cent loss 21.8.

Augusta Block 10 Brick:

Table with 2 columns: Test item, Value. Original weight 82, Weight after rattle 60, Lbs. loss 22, Per cent loss 27.

Augusta Block 9 Brick:

Table with 2 columns: Test item, Value. Original weight 75.1, Weight after rattle 52, Lbs. loss 23.1, Per cent loss 30.75, 2 Brick Broken.

Hankinson & Hagler Brick:

Table with 2 columns: Test item, Value. Dark red, halfway down in kiln, Original weight 84, Weight after rattle 70.5, Lbs. loss 13.5, Per cent loss 16.07.

Dark red, 3rd and 4th row from bottom:

Table with 2 columns: Test item, Value. Original weight 81, Weight after rattle 62.2, Lbs. loss 18.8, Per cent loss 23.2.

Light red, 20th and 21st row from top, in centre kiln:

Table with 2 columns: Test item, Value. Original weight 78.5, Weight after rattle 61.25, Lbs. loss 17.25, Per cent loss 22.1.

Med. dark red, 5th row down, about half way between center and south door:

Table with 2 columns: Test item, Value. Original weight 82, Weight after rattle 61.25, Lbs. loss 20.75, Per cent loss 25.3, 2 Brick broken.

Dark red, 21st and 22nd row down on south side near wall:

Table with 2 columns: Test item, Value. Original weight 82.5, Weight after rattle 67, Lbs. loss 15.5, Per cent loss 18.8, 2 Brick broken.

These tests where two bricks were broken would probably have run ten per cent higher. These broken bricks would have been crushed by the roller and have been thrown out of pavement, therefore a fair comparison would be to assume these percentages of loss at least two per cent less than shown.

Southern Clay Brick selected by Fred T. Williams on 9th street, Sanford, Fla. One sample, Rockmart, selected by Messrs. Rossetter, McLain and Hankinson; the other by H. S. Jaudon and F. T. Williams. Both samples secured on streets of Augusta.

Augusta block selected by H. S. Jaudon and Fred T. Williams and secured where they were used for paving in Augusta.

Hankinson & Hagler brick were selected by Mr. Brown and Fred T. Williams, except last test which was selected by Mr. Hagler.

In selecting these samples for tests a general average was taken in discarding any brick which would be thrown out on a visual inspection.

FRED T. WILLIAMS.

SATURDAY NIGHT CLOSING

Sanford Merchants Will Listen to Call of Overworked Clerks.

There is no more reason for the stores remaining open after ten o'clock Saturday nights than there is for them to remain open all day Sunday. If it was understood by the buying public that the stores would be closed at ten o'clock then the public would be found making their purchases before that time, and when ten o'clock came the people would all be ready to pass out and the stores could close just as easily as they do now at twelve or after.

This business of keeping the stores open just to please the late shoppers on Saturday night can easily be obviated by all the merchants agreeing to close their stores at ten o'clock Saturday nights and a petition to do this is being circulated today and is being signed by the principal merchants.

The ladies who have been making a habit of shopping later than ten o'clock Saturday nights especially in the summer time have never stopped to consider the clerks or the idea that many times they are really buying goods on Sunday morning for the stores here are often kept open until 12 o'clock Saturday nights and sometimes after that hour.

All of this buying could be finished before ten o'clock if it was known that the stores would close before this hour and the early closing scheme will be laid out here and it is to be hoped that all the principal merchants will fall in line and sign the petition and close at ten o'clock.

Billy Russell on Young Tom

The Palmetto News of March 20th of which Hon. W. A. Russell, President of the Florida Press Association, is editor, has this to say of the candidacy of young Tom Appleyard, the son of the veteran Florida editor:

"That bright, hustling, young man, T. J. Appleyard, Jr., of Tallahassee, who is making a campaign for commissioner of agriculture, and winning strong friends in every part of the state every day of his life, has struck the keynote to success by his promise to make his office and department a real help to the agricultural interests of the state; and not, as it is now strongly suspected to be, a centre of political activity. The one great criticism of the present commissioner, McRae, is that he is politician—yesterday, today and forever—and that he has as his main purpose the building up of a McRae machine to continue himself in power. The chances are that Appleyard will do as he deserves to do."

Tom was raised in Sanford and went to school in this city. He is one of Florida's best boosters.

Girls Camp Confere nee

Miss Ethel McCoy of Jacksonville was in the city yesterday looking after the details for the Girls' Camp Conference to be held at Enterprise some time in July. The conference will embrace the Camp Fire Girls and kindred organizations and will be held under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. The meeting will be most beneficial, not only from a health standpoint but also from the instruction that will be given to the girls by the teachers. The Epworth League has been most generously offered the girls by the owners, and Enterprise will be the home of about one hundred girls for a week, the girls coming from all over the south.

NO POSTMASTER AS YET FOR BUSY CITY OF JACKSONVILLE

SENATORS CANNOT AGREE ON THE MAN

GEROW KEEPS POSITION

OTHER NEWS AND VIEWS OF THE FAIR STATE OF FLORIDA FOR BUSY READERS

Washington, Mar. 23.—It is now understood at the postoffice department that a postmaster at Jacksonville probably will not be appointed until after the Florida senatorial primaries.

Senator Fletcher is in Florida busily engaged in his pre-primary fighting. Nothing is being done toward making the appointment, and the department is devoting its attention to other cases.

Senator Bryn's office gives out the statement that National Committeeman Crawford was not in Washington on postoffice matters. He simply stopped off here for a friendly chat en route to New York. He has left the city. Crawford, it is said, favors Dignan for the place.

Letters and telegrams commending dark horse candidates continue to pour into the department. F. O. Miller's and Julian Spears' friends are most active.

As a result of a gunshot wound between the eyes, William F. White, 34 years of age, cashier of the Clyde St. Johns river line, met death Saturday afternoon. The shooting is said to have been entirely accidental. Mr. White was sitting at his desk in the offices of the company located on the Clyde line docks yesterday afternoon, and while examining his gun, it is stated that it was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering his head almost directly between the eyes and ranging upwards. Mr. White died in the office of Dr. Ralph E. Smith, 261 West Forsyth street, where he was rushed for medical attention. Times-Union.

AS Cloud will have the honor of entertaining the state encampment of the Grand Army of the Encampment, WWV Grand Army of the Republic on the 14th and 15th of April. Great preparations are being made for this occasion and fully 5,000 visitors are expected.

Nomination of a candidate for the circuit bench in the eleventh circuit, to succeed Judge L. W. Bothel, incapacitated through illness, is not favored by a majority of the lawyers of Miami, principally for the reason that Key West would probably get enough votes to insure to that city the judicial seat, while attorneys in this part of the state rather have the judicial seat in a more accessible city, viz, Miami.

Pensacola wants a channel from the sea to the city docks that will accommodate the biggest vessels afloat. They are now asking for an appropriation to secure thirty-five feet and very likely the government will accede to their demands. Pensacola is one of the most important ports of the country and her commerce is growing daily. The United States is also building battleships and there must be places for the super-dreadnaughts to enter adjacent southern territory. Time-Union. Short Talks.

Deep water is the need of Miami, and the bickering over where the docks shall be is only a tempest in a teapot compared to the great question of making Miami a port, in the opinion of Chas.

A. Bookwalter, for ten years mayor of Indianapolis, authority on municipal affairs, keen observer, public speaker, and now urged as a candidate for the United States senate, who is so impressed with the city on this, his first visit, that he hopes to make it his winter.

The Board of Trade will show that Franklin County soil produces profitable and abundant crops if given proper cultivation. The experimental farm is now underway and it gives promise of being well worth going a long way to see. However, vegetable growing for profit is not new in Franklin county, as our readers are well aware. Some very wonderful results have been obtained in the past. In fact, so wonderful were the results that our up-country friends have doubted the credibility of the stories. Apalachicola Times.

Rev. Waldron's New Position. The Congregational church of Tampa last week invited Rev. George B. Waldron to become "Consulting Pastor," and Mr. Waldron has accepted this invitation. This means that he will have close supervision of the church, which is to be under the immediate charge of Rev. Arthur D. Anderson, who has been Mr. Waldron's assistant in Tampa for several months, and will continue to aid in the general mission work.

As soon as school is out in May Mr. Waldron expects to move with his family to Tampa. They will reside in the West Tampa Mission for the summer, thus giving Rev. and Mrs. F. P. Eslinger opportunity to take a much needed vacation. Both the American and Cuban churches in West Tampa have resident pastors, but there is need of a head for the entire work. In addition to these new duties Mr. Waldron will continue to have charge of the Congregational activities of the state as superintendent of mission work. It is proposed to make Tampa hereafter the center for this state work. Tampa church has had a checkered history, but is taking on new life and usefulness under the ministrations of these men.

Reception to Woman's Club

The Literature Department of the Woman's Club has enjoyed a most delightful season of study in American literature and the program to be given at the open meeting on Wednesday afternoon will be made up from the work of the past season. It is hoped that every member of the club will be present to enjoy the hospitality of the department. There will be an informal reception after the program which is as follows:

- Selected Violin Solo, Mrs. F. P. Powell. Reading, King Robert of Sicily, Longfellow. Vocal Duet, Miss Olive Hill, Miss Aspinwall. Reading, "The Great," Has there, Beware! Longfellow. Miss Gertrude Green. Vocal Solo, Sunbeams, Ronald. Miss Aspinwall. Reading, "The Courtin'," Lovell. Mrs. L. R. Philips.

A building permit has been issued for the erection of a $10,000.00 plant in Jacksonville. This new plant is to be a two story brick structure and will be one of the most modern of its kind in Jacksonville.

UNITED STATES TAKES HAND IN REDUCING LIVING COST

WILL ESTABLISH FARM TO CONSUMER PRICES

THROUGH PARCEL POST

AND FLORIDA FARMERS CAN THEN SEND PRODUCTS DIRECT TO BUYER FROM THE FIELD

Washington, March 23.—Preliminary steps were taken by the Postoffice Department today to forward its plan for reducing the cost of living by having the parcel post carry farm products direct to the door of the consumer. Ten cities in the country have been asked to investigate conditions, an order having been made by Postmaster Burleson, with a view to permitting the use of crates and boxes for butter, eggs, poultry, vegetables and fruit shipped by parcel post.

Orders to be sent to the postmasters at Boston, Atlanta, St. Louis, San Francisco, Baltimore, Detroit, La Crosse Wis., Lynn, Mass., Rock Island, Ill., and Washington, directing them to receive the names of persons who are willing to supply farm produce in retail quantities in parcel post. The printed list of these names will be distributed among town and city patrons.

"By the use of the lists," said First Assistant Postmaster General Roper today, "the city consumer can get in touch with a farmer who will fill his orders weekly for farm produce. The consumer will receive the produce from the country and the personal relationship established no doubt will tend to improve the quality. The farmer will be relieved of carrying his produce to market, as the rural carriers will make daily collections at the farmers' own door of the retail shipments to city consumers.

"The point has been raised that difficulty will be experienced in the return hamper and other containers. This problem does not appear to be difficult as the farmers will use inexpensive hampers whose value would not warrant their return, or they may use the higher grade hampers for which they may include an additional charge to be credited to the consumer on the return of the hamper by parcel post.

"The Postmaster General is convinced that this plan is the one thing necessary to enable the people of this country to enjoy the potential benefits of the parcel post. No one ever has questioned the possibility of reducing the cost of living by establishing direct relations between the ultimate consumer and the original producer. A complete means for such direct transportation was proposed for the first time by the establishment of the domestic parcel post, but there has been lacking an agency by means of which the individual producer could get in touch with the individual consumer. "The Postmaster General's plan designed to provide this agency for the most economical distribution of those products which are consumed in the form of condition in which they are produced."

War on Mendicants

Tampa, Fla., Mar. 20.—A campaign to rid Tampa of the numerous beggars who have put in a bad appearance on the streets of late asking alms of the citizens and tourists was started yesterday by Chief of Police S. T. Woodward. Orders were issued to the men to bring in every man found on the streets asking for money.

All of those arrested will be given an opportunity to get the first train out of town in any direction they desire to go and if they refuse to leave will be arrested and tried before Judge Cohen. Any cases taken in court will be vigorously prosecuted, according to the chief.

In the last week a brigade of legless and armless beggars have taken prominent positions in the city's streets soliciting alms. Others who are able bodied young men have also been seen. Beggars give any city a black eye, declared Chief Woodward yesterday, after Secretary Jackson had written the order to hfl j all of this men in

OLD DeBARRY SOLD

Famous River Steamer Will Be Sent To Baltimore

The Frederick de Bary of the Clyde St. Johns river line has been sold to the Potomac and Chesapeake Steamboat Company and Capt. B. F. McHorney and Chief Engineer E. Fitzgerald of the Potomac and Chesapeake Company are in the city today from Washington to take the familiar old river steamer north.

For thirty years the Frederick deBary has been one of the landmarks of river navigation and in that time has taken many thousands of people from this city to the upper river points comfortably and safely.

The steamer is known as one of the staunchest that ever plied these waters and has made several voyages outside to Boston, where it was in the summer excursion business.

On its return from one of these voyages, in the fall, it was caught in an equinoctial storm and beached on the Carolina coast. It was thought at the time that the steamer would be a total wreck but an examination showed little damage done and the vessel was brought to Jacksonville, overhauled and repaired, practically rebuilt, and at once resumed her accustomed trips on the upper river from this city.

Thousands in this city had along the St. Johns river will miss the Frederick deBary and will be sorry to learn that it has been sold and will be no more in their waters.

The steamer was launched yesterday from the Merrill-Stevens floating dry dock, which work was done on her hull, and is now moored at the shipyard undergoing some changes before the sailing.

The DeBary will be used in the passenger and freight service on the Potomac and its tributaries and will doubtless become as popular there as it has been in the St. Johns river.

Capt. McHorney, who is on his first visit to Jacksonville, is much pleased with this city. He reports freight and passenger business with the steamer of the company he represents as being very heavy. Times-Union.

G. B. Trammell's Invitation

With a progressive, industrious, intelligent, hospitable and high type of citizenry, with a rapidly increasing population, increased activities in the farm and fruit industries, a conspicuous enlargement of manufacturing enterprises and a very marked expansion of business operations, Florida is rapidly becoming the front as one of the greatest of the American states. For those who wish to find greater happiness and prosperity we bid you come to our state. No state offers greater opportunities to those who desire to engage in fruit growing, truck farming, general farming, cattle raising, or in manufacturing enterprises.

We offer you the finest fruit real estate on the globe, and our land and real estate generally can be purchased at prices that are reasonable. To you of the frozen north we say:

Come to the land of the palm and the land of the fruit and this fine, the land where the sun shines the brightest, the land where the skies are the clearest, the land of all lands the dearest.

A. W. Brown has had men grubbing and cleaning up some lots on Court street for Miss Harriett Stanton of Lawrenceville, Ill. The lots will be set to orange trees.

Mrs. Wilcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Palmer, who has been visiting here for some time, left last Monday for her home in Chicago, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. James Walters, who have been spending the winter here left Friday for their home in Illinois.

Misses Hattie and Henrietta Dickins have been confined to the house for some time by illness.

Henry Murray, son Fred, and wife and daughter Katie, left Friday on the boat Oceola for their home in Franklin, Ind., much to the regret of their many friends here.

Last Sunday while A. F. Quackenbos was out to his grove three miles from here he fell from an orange tree and sustained a painful injury to his right foot. Dr. Puleston of Sanford was called and found the ankle sprained and a fracture of a bone. The patient is resting comfortably at the present time.

Mrs. Foster and daughter, Edna of Brooklyn, N. Y., are visiting here sister, Mrs. James L. Pratt.

Mrs. Louise Vorhees of Patterson, N. J., died at the home of Mrs. Sarah Davis of a complication of diseases. Mrs. Vorhees has been coming to Enterprise winters for the past three years and dedicated herself to all with whom she came in contact and will be sadly missed by her friends here. She leaves to mourn her loss several brothers and sisters in the north. One brother, James L. Pratt resides here. Impressive funeral services were conducted at the home of Mrs. Davis last Sunday, Rev. J. Bartlett officiating. Mr. Jesse L. Pratt, a nephew of the deceased accompanied the remains to Patterson, N. Jack Peters Talks Cows

Deep fall plowing with the land well filled with humus decayed vegetable matter, and repeated use of the harrow through the winter to bring the seedbed into a good state of tilth is a primary requisite to increase corn production. But these preparations of the seedbed is not all. Good strong seed is another prime necessity that the successful farmer will not overlook. Every farmer should grow his own seed on a separate acre, looking closely after the matter of breeding and selection. As this is not done, the best thing is to select or buy the best corn obtainable and test its germinating power before planting. Of the various methods of testing I regard the following as the most satisfactory: Fill an ordinary box of soil earth to a depth of three or four inches, lay strips across the top of the box leaving the surface in small rectangles about one by four inches, numbering them one, two, three, and so on until all the rectangles are numbered. Then, number the ears of corn and take three grains from ear number one, observing care to take the first grain about an inch from the butt, the second from the middle, a third around the cob and the third grain about an inch and a half from the tip, another third around the cob. These three kernels planted in rectangle No. 1 will give the record of ear No. 1, and so on till a sufficient quantity of seed is tested.

The man testing the seed will observe that the kernels from some ears will terminate readily and put up strong plants, while others will be debilitated and the plant feeble, while possibly others that look like good seed will not come up at all. Thus, with a little precaution, if other conditions are favorable, a regular stand of good, healthy plants is obtainable. Time and land are becoming too valuable to devote them to poor thrifless "hills" and vacant spaces.

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS

March 21.—Messrs. A. L. Weatherbee, W. D. Rogers and L. B. Fort have demonstrated that Sanford in Seminole county is the ideal distributing point in South Florida, in connection with the Clyde Line steamers which operate between Jacksonville and Sanford on the St. Johns river. The transportation trucks are patronized to their capacity from Sanford to Orlando and way stations and new trucks must soon be added to supply the demand, and the high cost of living on the line will soon be reduced. The foresighted and progressive gentlemen are born leaders and they are not men that will lie down when they have demonstrated what an opposition transportation line means to them. The proposed interurban traction or electric railroad between Sanford and Kissimmee, which has failed to materialize and which has become a "chestnut" and which died in its infancy for the lack of enthusiastic leaders is about to be born again in the very near future. It is true that large armies move slowly and great enterprises require much agitation to accomplish the required results. This is a progressive age and there is no terminal, and there will always be men and brains brought to the front to produce the required result, as has been demonstrated by the O. & S. transportation company. Unfortunately, we have not our "Uncle Sam" to finance us, as Alaska has to finance their 35,000,000 dollar railroad in that rugged country, so we must do it individually and can do it. We have the most productive soil and the most delightful climate that the sun shines on; a prerequisite that no other part of main possessions and these perquisites are contained in Seminole county, and particularly at Altamonte Springs, Florida. N. H. FOGG.

GREAT FUTURE FOR FLORIDA

Munsey on Tour of State Tells Tampa Tribune Interesting Things

"Florida has a tremendous future." This was the prediction of Frank A. Munsey, writer, magazine publisher, owner of four newspapers and one of the best known men in the United States, in an interview last night. Mr. Munsey arrived in Tampa late yesterday from Sarasota and is stopping at the Tampa Bay hotel, says the Tampa Tribune.

"No state in the Union in my opinion is making the speedy headway that Florida is making," continued Mr. Munsey. "Florida is coming to the front at a terrific pace and has a better future than any state that I know of. With the opportunities for increasing the early production of vegetables, oranges and other fruit, the opportunities for cattle raising, phosphate mining and so on, there is a great deal of money to be made here."

Then, too, there is the climate. Its fame throughout the country attracts hundreds of tourists who spend thousands of dollars in the country. In fact, there is no other state to which contributions come in so many ways.

Florida probably has no greater booster than Mr. Munsey and unconfirmed rumors are that the famous newspaper man will build a winter home somewhere in the state.

But being a booster, Mr. Munsey isn't the kind of a man who keeps still about the things that need improvement, and in fact, he took time to say a few things about railway connections in the state.

"Florida must have better railway service if the cities in the southern part of the state expect to continue growing at a rapid pace. Good railway service is a boon to any community and better service would mean a great deal to Tampa and the cities on the East Coast. In the present day the mode of travel necessarily must be very rapid."

For instance, he took us somewhere between three and four hours to travel the distance of sixty miles between Sarasota and Tampa, but then I had an opportunity to read your paper, the Tribune, and I went through its pages with great interest."

Mr. Munsey knows what he is talking about when he speaks of railway service in some parts of the state for he has traveled in Florida many times and traveled over the most of the state. Tomorrow he will go to Jacksonville and then to Miami, where he has several friends who are spending the winter there.

Being an old experienced newspaper man himself, Mr. Munsey is a hard nut to interview on subjects of national and international questions and queries on the Mexican policy, the present administration, and other subjects were evaded in a manner that leaves no loophole. Aside from being one of the best known men in the United States, Mr. Munsey is one of the richest men in this country and has an income which has to be written in seven figures.

SANDY ROADS

They Doubt Will Try Them Through-out That Section

There has a piece of "sand-oil" road built about one year ago, which has been visited by Good Roads leaders all over the state, that for cheapness and durability has stood the test of time and travel. Bartow, Fla., sent delegates to inspect this road, and they returned so well pleased with the result that they will put a trial track down on their own streets. Of this road and how it is built, the Lakeland Telegram has the following to say:

No repairs have been made to this piece of road, though it has received more travel than any road in the county for the reason that so many have been anxious to travel over it. The hot sun of last summer made no impression on it. The road resembles an asphalt road and rides fully as easy, does not rut or break. It was built of common Florida sand heated to a temperature of 250 degrees and mixed with "B" binder oil heated at the same temperature. The mixture consists of 16 gallons of oil to one cubic yard of sand. This is spread on the road and rolled with a light roller first and then with a ten-ton roller, making the road three and one half inches thick. After this a lighter oil is used, about one third gallon per square yard and sprinkled with sand. This is called the wearing surface of the road and should be renewed every four or five years. The cost of this material is very small. The road should not cost over 40 cents per square yard if built by the county and not more than 60, perhaps 50 cents if built by contract. There are many miles of this kind of road in various parts of the country, particularly in California and those who have seen them give good reports of their cheapness and durability.

WATER TRANSPORTATION

St. Johns River Should Have Connection With East Coast

The question of transportation rates and lines is an ever present and increasingly important one. The Florida trucker can by his own efforts protect himself from loss by the few frosts which get after him, and has a fighting chance against great losses in his northern confederates' plant districts and meadows, but when it comes to transportation problems he is sadly deficient in urging his best interests.

The action of Senator Fletcher in asking for a commission of congress to investigate the question of the taking over by the government of the East Coast inland waterways is a move in the right direction.

In this connection the suggestion of the opening of a waterway from Sanford to Fellsmere via the St. Johns river, and from Fellsmere into the Indian river through Fellsmere's great drainage ditch is worthy of serious consideration. The fact that there is an engineering problem involved in this enterprise no deterrant. The solution of such problems is what the engineer is for.

One thing which has indirectly delayed the development of Florida's waterways is the failure of her citizens to utilize these avenues of communication to an extent which would make the demand for an enlargement insistent. Along the East Coast, by numerous cities and towns which might utilize such waterways as the rivers and canals up to Jacksonville afford to great advantage. A large proportion of the goods bought here could be brought to their harbors at a greatly reduced cost, which should mean a reduction to the consumer. There is a channel shown on this route to permit of the operating of a large number of shallow draft boats in this trade.

Meanwhile the present railroad and express rates are rapidly making converts of the vast majority of Florida's voters to the idea of government ownership of railroads. Fellsmere Tribune.

TRACTION LINE AGAIN

Sanford Kissimmee Line Bobs Up In New Direction

The Sanford Kissimmee Electric Railway proposition has bobbed up again, and from an entirely different source. It has just come to light that not more than two weeks ago the vice president of one of the largest electric traction companies operating in the Dominion of Canada, visited Orlando, and to a friend who resides here, commented upon the growth of the city and its possibilities. He remarked: "The city will never be much larger, will it, located here in the center of the state?" "Oh, yes," said the friend, "it is not only growing rapidly now, but when the proposed Sanford Orlando Kissimmee electric railway is built, it will grow much faster."

The mention of the electric line put the ball in motion, and the Canadian at once showed renewed interest, for it later developed that he was out on a mission of looking for new electrical developments, the company he represents having a large surplus to be invested in new lines. New interest was shown in the town, and the gentleman began at once to make investigations. He hired an automobile, made a trip to Sanford, and then to Kissimmee, going over the entire territory covered by the proposed line. He stated that as a money proposition, there was not much in it at this time, but greater possibilities in the future.

Since returning to Canada he has written his friend here, asking him to get all the information possible as to right of way, where it would pass through Orlando, and what terms the old organization would make to a company who would build the line. The information is wanted by the first of April, at which time the electric company holds its annual meeting.

The Orlando gentleman is working upon the proposition, the best he can, but is handicapped as to who holds the key to the situation.

The Orlando citizen is thoroughly convinced that his Capitanian friends mean business and are thoroughly able to build an electric railway system for this territory if so desired. In giving out the information he asked that the names of the parties connected with it be suppressed. Reporter-Star.

BETTER WEATHER COMING

Next Few Days Will See a Gradual Rise in Temperature

"There will probably be from all over the northern part of the state tonight or early tomorrow morning, and in some places pretty heavy frost," said Weather Director Mitchell last night, after the sun had cleared and the rain was gone to good, at least for a few days.

It was cold Saturday night and Sunday morning, all over the southern states as far down as Jacksonville and Gainesville, though no frost formed in this state. Atlanta was the coldest with a temperature of 32 degrees and Augusta had an official 32 degrees to its dismay, while Charleston and Savannah showed and looked at 34.

It was 30 degrees in Jacksonville and 31 in Gainesville. The state is in the clouds and rain.

In the farther part of the southern states, snow preceded the clear weather, and fell lightly in Atlanta, and the upper part of South Carolina and well down into the state. Macon, Ga., had a temperature of 34, Montgomery, Ala., 30, and Mobile 38.

The temperature will begin to rise in the morning before noon, said Prof. Mitchell, "and this will be followed by pleasant weather for the next few days, provided some other unlooked for disturbance does not get in the game and break up the plan."

Prof. Mitchell predicted the mercury to fall as low as 30 to 32 to 34 to 36 this morning, and stated: "During the temperature of the official instruments sixty feet above the ground, it will probably be a few degrees colder on the ground, especially if there is no wind stirring during the night and early morning hours."

When asked if this is the last cold spell Florida is to have this winter, he shook his head and said: "This has been an unusual season for the state and the south, and there is no way of telling what may come at any time. It ought to be warmer now, for this is officially spring, and it is time for real Florida weather." Times-Union.

It is a Powerful Preventive, as Well as a Speedy Cure

Rub it in on the parts affected, whenever the conditions seem to indicate a spell of this painful ailment; it will warm the joints and ward off the trouble. If the disorder has already commenced, the treatment is the same, the rubbing helps the liniment to penetrate to the seat of pain. The relief is prompt and very satisfying; the aching joints are relieved, the muscles relaxed so that the sufferer feels again the strength and suppleness of youth.

For flesh wounds of all kinds, it is a wonderful remedy. Try it for cuts, burns, bruises, sores, galls, chafed spots, barbed wire cuts, sprains, swellings, frost bites. It cures quickly and completely.

Since then, he has gone from home every morning with his box of school books, and each evening at the appointed hour he has returned. If all the boys are agreed on the date the Lake Region Press Club will meet in Kissimmee on Wednesday, April 8th and Bro. Triplett shall let each brother in distress know of the meeting and give the menu and the number of soft drinks that he will furnish.

Bob Holly, the versatile editor of the Sanford Herald, is endeavoring to organize a lake region press association. Too bad all the editors of the state could not have attended the meeting of the DeSoto County Press Association, held at Punta Gorda Saturday, March 6. They would have realized the benefits to be derived from such associations and new district associations would at once have begun formation. Our county association is doing much for the financial benefit of the publishers and the social features of these meetings are binding them together with tethers that will be hard to sunder.—Zolfo Truth.

The test applied to the bricks now being laid on our roads appears in another part of The Herald and every one interested should read the facts and figures. There has been much talk and speculation about the quality of the bricks being shipped here and this test was undertaken to settle the question of quality. The opinion of experts should go ahead of any given by the average citizen who has seen nothing of the manufacture of vitrified bricks and knows nothing about them and saw that the quality of the standard has been reached the adverse criticism should cease. The roads in the Sanford district when finished will be the best that can be obtained and the tax payers will get their money's worth. It is hardly fair to criticize a job until it is finished.

HARRY BROWN AVIATOR

Harry Brown, editor of the St. Augustine Record has been making flights in the hydro-aeroplane that is giving exhibition stunts in the Ancient City and the other day the machine flipped over and landed in the water. We would advise Harry to stop that air stuff until after the press association meeting at Ft. Myers as we cannot afford to lose him just now. And if he must fly over the water until April 23 and fly over the gulf at Ft. Myers where we can see his finish.

A POORLY PAID OFFICIAL

Of all our county officers the poorest paid for the amount of work he is called upon to do is the county commissioner. The office of county commissioner is one of the most important offices in the county, as this board handles all the business of the county, with the exception of disbursing the school fund, and for doing this work they receive the enormous sum of $400 each per year. It is true we have had good service in the past, but is it fair to ask men to attend to the business of the county for such a small remuneration.—Mulberry Herald.

GOOD THINGS TO PUSH ALONG

The newspaper friends of Seminole, Lake, Orange, Ocala and Volusia counties are discussing the possibility of forming a dinky press association something after the plan of the DeSoto county organization. It is the proper thing to do, brethren. The DeSoto association has already paid many times over for the time and trouble put into it. Indeed, there has been no time or trouble to it. We just meet once a month and have a good time together for a day, and that day has proven the most profitable from a financial standpoint of any day's work in the month. If any of the boys from adjoining counties would like to unite with us, our county association would gladly welcome them.—Arcadia Enterprise.

LETTUCE IN PENSACOLA

A Pensacola, recently returned from South Florida, reported seeing one hundred acres planted in lettuce, near Sanford—splendid lettuce, grown for northern shipment.

The finest kind of lettuce can be grown right here in Pensacola. Recently the writer has eaten lettuce of the finest flavor and the crispest, whitest head, grown in a family garden, by an old colored woman. The pupils of school No. 35 have exhibited during the past few days, beautiful specimens of lettuce, grown in their school garden. In both instances the lettuce was grown out of doors, not under glass, and was of the finest, showing what may be done right here in Pensacola, with this crop, not only for shipment for the northern market, but for home consumption.

Day after day, in Pensacola, housewives purchase lettuce, tomatoes and other garden stuff that is shipped from South Florida and which might just as well be raised in Pensacola. This climate is particularly well adapted to the raising of lettuce, and much farther north than Pensacola, lettuce is largely grown for the northern market.

In Fayetteville, N. C., lettuce growing is one of the paying industries. There it is necessary to raise winter lettuce in hot beds, but even with this expense, lettuce is one of the most valuable products grown in the eastern section of the Tar Heel state.

The children's school gardens in Pensacola are well worth encouraging, if in these little plots of land such fine lettuce as has been recently exhibited, by school 35, may be grown.—Pensacola Journal.

PREPARE FOR GREAT THINGS
 A great cry went up once upon a time announcing that "The Campbells are Coming!" and which struck terror to the hearts of the heathen. Now there is an even greater cry, though fortunately there is nothing of terror to be found therein. This great cry is that "The Marshalls are Coming," together with that great body of newspaper men—and right here it might be said that already a murmur has been heard against the exclusion from the list of the many excellent newspaper women of the state; who will be in attendance at the press convention in Fort Myers, and these will be welcomed just as cheerfully—and here just a little more so than the men, and they are assured that the word men was used in its broadest scope, and with no intention of leaving them out of consideration. Incidentally, something special is being planned for the ladies. There will be a huge welcome for all at this greatest meeting ever held by the Florida Press Association. Let all come prepared for great things, and let none go away disappointed.—Ft. Myers Press.

THE PANAMA EXPOSITION
 The Lakeland Telegram says the Florida papers should begin to agitate the question of a Florida exhibit at the Panama Pacific exposition to be held at San Francisco in 1915. The Sentinel is of like opinion, and has done the only agitating on the subject appearing heretofore. We are glad to see the Telegram chime in, and hope other papers will also get busy. It would be preferable to have an exhibit representative of the entire state, but if the western counties fail to come in then the southern counties can raise money enough to make a creditable display. An appropriation of a thousand dollars from each of the peninsular counties would give ample funds for a good display, but no county should give less than that amount. Money expended in this wise would be a good investment, and the Sentinel is heartily in favor of it. There should be a voluntary movement in each county for the attainment of this object. Capt. French of Sanford, is the commissioner appointed by the governor to collect an exhibit, but his appointment carried no appropriation with it, and as we understand it he will have to do his own financing. This is no fair way to go about the matter. A number of the counties ought to come together, advance the funds necessary and let Capt. French go about his task in collecting the exhibit with his mind free of financial worry.—Orlando Sentinel.

ANOTHER PRESS GANG

Newspaper men of five counties—Ocala, Orange, Seminole, Lake and Volusia—are actively moving toward the organization of a press association. The idea was advanced by Editor Bob Holly of the Sanford Herald and has been warmly seconded by Editor Triplett of the Kissimmee Gazette, and others. Kissimmee probably will be the place for the meeting of organization and we may anticipate a notable assemblage of journalistic lights on that occasion. County and district press associations have been advocated in Florida for some time. They can but be beneficial to the profession and to the business relations of the newspapers.

Megintime, every editor in Florida ought to be making arrangements now to attend the State Press Association convention at Fort Myers next month. This is to be the best meeting in the history of the association, with the exception, of course, of the one held at Tampa last year. It should be largely attended and the distinguished visitor of the occasion, Vice President Marshall, should be greeted by at least one representative of every publication in the state.—Tampa Tribune.

L'ENGLE HAS THE GOODS

Representative L'Engle has introduced a bill to equalize freight rates over transportation lines engaged in interstate commerce.

ARCADIA HAS DAILY

The Arcadia Daily News is the baby in the field. Beginning Tuesday.

That Arcadia, Fort Myers' near neighbor in DeSoto county, is believed to be a good field, and has a promising future, is shown by the confidence reposed in that future by the publishers of the DeSoto County News, who have begun the publication of a daily paper, bearing the name "The Arcadia Daily News," six column folio. That they realize that success is due to proper appreciation and commonwealth none more than ourselves will more gladly lead them down with decorations and commendations.

Claude L'Engle has hit the bull's eye. The idea of those in authority permitting our transportation companies to make flesh of one section and fowl of another is stupendously wrong.

The idea of a transportation company sending a car load of stuff from Chicago to Jacksonville for fifty dollars and charging more than two hundred dollars for its return, loaded with the same character of stuff and going over the same route is out of all reason and should be corrected.

We hope that Congressman L'Engle will push his bill to a successful issue. If there is any likelihood of his doing it he should be returned to congress hands down.—Ocala Banner.

JUST A WORD TO THE WISE

The Florida Times-Union says: "Our winter visitors should not imagine that the kind of weather we are enjoying prevails at their homes and act on their imaginations."

And yet many do, strange as that may seem. It appears that residence beneath Florida's congenial skies, free from howls and blasts of the storm and the cold of the midwinter season, has a strange tendency to cause a forgetfulness of the severity and length of the merciless winter which rules so ruthlessly in the north, and to sometimes cause an uneasiness, especially in the hearts of the farmers and business men, to imagine they hear a call to return quickly to the plow or the counter. As a result, many early go north.

But how different it often is from the imaginary picture. The song birds are hushed; the flowers are dead and buried; the babbling brook is stilled and helpless like some tortured prisoner, beneath a cruel, icy hand; earth lies sleep, inert, unresponsive beneath a blanket of heavy snow, a coldness and stillness ominous of a lingering winter pervades all and over and the over anxious traveler regrets too late following the lure of the imagination, and earnestly wishes himself back in the land of golden sunshine, blooming flowers and warbling birds.

OTHERS GETTING GOOD ROADS

The approaching bond election for good roads is both an opportunity for the people of St. Johns and a test of the progress of the county of which we have boasted to the world. Undoubtedly the election affords the county an opportunity to build a magnificent system of brick highways on a business basis, at the same time getting the taxpayers away from the present ruinous upkeep costs.

St. Johns county is not alone in the brick road line, and the bond issue for roads for that purpose is just a matter of experiment in Florida. Duval county has thoroughly tested brick roads and found the change greatly beneficial. Hillsborough county is now engaged in laying $1,000,000 worth of brick roads, after having spent nearly a million and a half dollars in ten years of roads that blew away in dust in dry weather or washed into ditches in the rainy season. Seminole county is laying brick roads. Orange county has bonded for $600,000 for the same purpose. Pinellas county is laying the beginning of a brick road system, and numbers of other counties in the state are taking action toward the same direction.

The first cost of a road is not the most important item of construction. It is the maintenance cost that depletes the tax payers funds, makes farm life undesirable, and results in poor stock and battered vehicles. The rock and shell road cost less in the laying, but the day a road of that material is completed it begins to be an additional expense and a constantly increasing source of annoyance. The vitrified brick roadway properly laid, lasts for a lifetime without a penny of repairs, and after years of service on one side may be taken up at a minimum cost and relaid, with some fifteen or twenty years of service left.

From the standpoint of the pleasure driver, the produce hauler, the farmer and the taxpayer, the proposed brick roads for the county solve the vexing problem of easy and cheap transportation. Not only this locally, but the system of brick roads will bring into the county thousands of dollars every year seeking investment? The people of St. Johns cannot afford from any point of view to have the election result other than in a large majority for good roads.—Hastings Journal.

patronage, and that they know something of what they may expect, is shown by the following extracts from the salutatory.

"This publication is begun in the very best of faith, and the prospect for its continuation is based on the hypothesis that the signs of the times justify its beginning as an additional publication."

"As to how long this daily shall continue its publication is a question that must be determined by public patronage. We feel that there is sufficient business in DeSoto county to justify a daily paper and we also have the confidence that the patronizing public will cooperate to keep alive one of the most valid assets in any section's development.

"Arcadia is quite if not the smallest town in Florida that had in it the publication of a daily paper, but Arcadia is a progressive town, and DeSoto is a progressive county, justifies a little longer shot of the extent of a business enterprise than do most towns or counties containing the greater population. It requires considerable business temerity to begin this publication, knowing as we do that there is only a slight margin in which to overcome the obstacles that we may encounter, but if a strenuous effort will suffice it, if prompt service and business application will profitably it, public patronage will maintain it, the evening paper will continue to be published every day except Sunday henceforth from this city."

MARVELOUS PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION
WILL OPEN UPON A COMPLETED ASSEMBLAGE OF THE TREASURES OF THE WORLD'S ARTS, SCIENCES AND INDUSTRIES

A conclave of nations unsurpassed in the history of the world will assemble at San Francisco when the marvelous Panama-Pacific International exposition opens on February 20, 1915.

Today, the Panama-Pacific International exposition overshadows and eclipses any commemorative and instructive exhibition in history. Progress in all phases of this most brilliant and comprehensive of world's celebrations visualizes the exposition as it will appear when the exhibits of the world are installed within its spacious halls, when hundreds of thousands of rare trees, plants and shrubs brought from far corners of the globe have transformed the grounds into a subtropical paradise and when from the Golden Gate the traveler will behold the vast Exposition City rising to great heights against the walls of the encircling amphitheater of the hills of San Francisco.

In the assured participation of the foreign nations and of the commercial and industrial interests of the world the Panama-Pacific International exposition stands alone among the great expositions of the past.

As a tribute to America's heroic task in the completion of the Panama canal 34 of the world's great nations have formally accepted the invitation of the president to take part in the celebration and are now engaged in preparing magnificent displays, which will illustrate their progress in every line of social and industrial activity. The Argentine leads with a government appropriation of $1,100,000 (gold), and in its magnificent pavilion will be presented the wonders of that far-away land. Canada will expend $200,000; Japan, $600,000; China, $800,000; Turkey, $300,000, and in the Turkish pavilion will be shown the rarest and costliest treasures of the Ottoman empire. New Zealand and Australia will make tremendous displays. Fifteen hundred manufacturers in Germany will make a collective exhibit, to be shown in a great German building; 600 manufacturers from England will present a combined exhibit.

More than 500,000 accredited delegates from all parts of the globe will attend a series of great international conventions and congresses to be held at San Francisco during the exposition. Among the congresses will be the great International Engineering congress, of which Col. George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, is chairman.

Thousands of visitors from all parts of the globe are planning to see the great exposition at San Francisco in 1915, and wonderful preparations are being made to transport and to care for them.

At The Methodist Church

A very interesting service, part of the year at the Methodist Sabbath School Sunday, March 22nd, was the following program, honoring the ninety-fourth anniversary of the birth of Miss Fanny J. Crosby, the world wide known hymn writer. All hymns sung were composed by her.

Biographical sketch, Miss Marion Phillips

Dr. Evans is one of the most pleasing speakers and is thoroughly in earnest on a subject that should be of interest to every Florida editor. He will demonstrate that with improved facilities this state can add millions of dollars to its agricultural wealth without any additional expense over present methods.

Secretary Appleyard says he has heard Dr. Evans on this subject and his talk is very interesting.

Miss Venus Ellen Harris of the department of home economics, Florida State College for Women, another interesting speaker, has accepted her place on the program.

Besides her husband, Mr. Joel Smith, she is survived by one son, Mr. Arthur Smith, formerly of Augusta, but now of Woodson, Mass.; two daughters, Mrs. W. G. Henderson of Rock Hill, S. C., and Mrs. W. T. Fields, of Sanford, Fla.; by one sister, Mrs. Oscar F. Taft, of Whitinsville, Mass., and five grandchildren.

For the past thirty-nine years Mrs. Smith has been a resident of Augusta, although a native of Providence, R. I.

She was a woman of rare loveliness of character, whose perfect refinement was evidenced in her very act, whose cordial warmth of nature won for her affection from all who came in contact with her. The deepest sympathy is felt for the family in their bereavement, those who have sustained a loss of a devoted mother and sister, and for her host of friends.

GREAT PRESS GATHERING

Mr. Myers Will Entertain Greatest Crowd in History of Association Tallahassee, Fla., Mar. 24. Secretary T. J. Appleyard of the Florida Press Association tonight received a letter from Mr. J. A. Evans, chief of the bureau of plant industry, United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I have yours of the 16th advising me that the executive committee of the Florida Press Association has requested me to deliver an address at the annual meeting at Fort Myers, Florida. I take pleasure in accepting this invitation, and appreciate the opportunity of meeting with your association. I would suggest the subject, 'Demonstration Work in the South'."

that coupons from Fort Myers to Jacksonville can be accepted in lieu of transportation over our line from Key West. If it is concluded by your association to take the vice president on this trip you will have no cause to complain at the rate that we will name you. This, of course, will have to be filed as a tariff, and it will be unnecessary for your members to be identified, and we can cover the sale of tickets.

If not, to give you special service so that you might get a good view of the Key West Extension. I very earnestly hope that I will be able to take this trip with you, and it will certainly afford me a great deal of pleasure to do it, if it is possible."

The special rates are progressing favorably, and it is hoped they will be published in the Sunday edition by March 30.

Secretary Appleyard is arranging for a syndicate story in all the Sunday papers from New York down, with illustrations, for Sunday, Mar. 29. He hopes to work up the biggest gathering of newspaper people to see south Florida, and note its advantages, that has ever been assembled outside of a national gathering. In fact, he hopes to make this Fort Myers meeting the crowning feature of his twenty-six years of service.

Consolation
When clouds o' erspread the smiling sky and all in life, it seems, goes wrong—
When sorrow breathes a mournful sigh and interrupts life's even song—
When Happiness goes on her way and leaves me not the smallest crumb
When woe comes that might have ought to cheer me on, are stricken dumb,
I cherish than my briar pipe, and smoke and dream of days to come
When silence fills the nursery room and all the youth and glee have fled—
When all the gold of life is gloom and all the part is pain and dread—
When I am old, and skies are grey, and tears o'erflow, though hard I try—
When friends all fall me, as they stray, and shun such derelicts as I,
I still shall have my briar pipe and time to dream of days gone by

The dance craze leads on and on to the Bridge of Utter Foolishness and Superlative Rot. The latest movements are patterned after bugs and are officially known as The Scarr Craw and the Bee Twist, neither one of which interests G. W. Spenser a single jot or tittle. Nor any other of us old ginks whose chests have slipped down gradually for these many years until now they rest where—well, where interfere with any sort of a crawl.

A crusade to curb the cigarette habit among boys—and men, too—by application of nitrate of silver on the palates of the victims has been inaugurated by Recorder John J. McGovern, of Hoboken, N. J.

If the treatment proves a success it may be introduced in the public schools of the city, the recorder announces. I heard of the success of this treatment through the experiments of a German professor, said Recorder McGovern, and found that it had been tried by the Anti-Cigarette League in Chicago, and I obtained a copy of the prescription there.

At one session about fifty men and boys had their palates and throats painted by Drs. Joseph Londrigan and John Granelli, of the medical staff of the Hoboken board of education. All agreed that the taste was worse than the cigarettes, but each had a different version descriptive of what the taste resembled.

The taste will grow more repulsive by tomorrow, was the confidential whisper of one of the physicians to the recorder. If they smoke a cigarette or cigar for the next day or two the effects of the treatment will be sickening.

Each of the patients received a prescription providing a wash of the nitrate of silver to be taken after meals, when the desire for a smoke came upon him, and all were ordered to chew the bitter root of the ginseng plant as a further step toward a cure.

Congressman Claude L. Engle's bill for the relief of Florida fruit and vegetable growers is the best measure ever proposed of this kind. For years the fruit and vegetable growers of this state have been oppressed by discriminatory freight rates. From Chicago to Jacksonville a car of commodities can be sent for $42, yet the same car back to Chicago costs over $200.

Claude L. Engle's bill, if it passes, will prove a great blessing to Florida and will save hundreds of thousands of dollars to the farmers and fruit growers of the state. It is a shame the way the fruit growers have been treated. The discrimination has kept hundreds of prospective settlers out of Florida. Down the East Coast are thousands of idle lands that should be under cultivation. Florida can provide the whole nation with the best in vegetables and fruits, but the high rates have caused this discouragement. Congressman Engle has found the solution in a bill that proposes that the lowest rate between given points in the same direction shall prevail. His bill means that a Florida shipper will not have to pay three times as much to get his products to market that he would have to pay to receive the same weight from outside the state. Every fruit and vegetable grower in the state is naturally deeply interested in Congressman Engle's relief bill. It is a just measure and its passage means more to Florida than any bill that has been introduced in congress for many years. Being a just bill and one that will prove a blessing to so many people there is no good reason for any one opposing it. I knew that Claude could be depended upon to look after the general welfare of Florida, and this is a measure of many bills he has looking toward this end. This is constructive work and the operation of Claude L. Engle's bill means additional prosperity for Florida.

I reproduce the following from the Gainesville Sun for my dancing friends: "One of the notable features of the way middle aged and elderly people are renewing their youth. Many people sixty years and more are found trying the new twisting steps. In dancing crowds couples are apt to drop out soon after they are married. This is commonly attributed to the fact that married people have new interests and get over their fifty ways. But the feeling of musical rhythm and dance steps is a very fundamental one, not greatly affected by marriage and its occupations and cares. Perhaps the real reason is that dance customs give the young and popular girl such an unfair advantage. The belle of the ball is overwhelmed with invitations. Meanwhile, if a girl is a few years older, if her friends have dropped out of moved away, she is slighted. She may be a better dancer and more charming woman. But if the lordly men of the contemporary dancing set are not well acquainted with her they pass her one side. She soon gets tired of being a wallflower and quits. The host of dancing schools that are springing up all over the country to teach the new steps are run on a different basis. It is the business of the teacher to see that every one who buys a ticket gets a chance to dance. Partners are shifted around and home are wallflowers graze their will.

Ballroom manners are selfish. The men seek out their intimates and the best dancers. The fact that some nice girls having a miserable time never occurs to them.

While protests are being made against some of the coarser features of dancing, let some thought be given to the unmannerly treatment accorded to the "wallflower." In these days of equal opportunity much could be said for making half of the numbers "ladies' choice." Customs are pretty crude when so many graceful dancers are outlawed because they must wait until they are invited.

Says an exchange: "Eight hundred and thirty-five club women in Chicago had but three babies last year, which is too few." Quite so, but why seek out these special instances? You can doubtless find 800 women elsewhere who had 960 babies last year, and that was too darned many!

Phosphate in Orange County
Possible phosphate has been found in Orange county at Winter Garden, but it is not known how large an area is covered by the rich deposit. Mr. E. O. Newland, an old well digger, spent Sunday in Orlando, and in conversation with friends, told of a well he was digging at the depth of forty feet he struck a rich vein of phosphate passing down through strata of nearly one hundred feet of the mineral that is now making Florida famous. He is now down to a depth of two hundred feet and is passing through a dirty stone. Mr. Newland says that the strata shows a remarkable thickness at this particular spot, and that if it is of uniform thickness, untold wealth lies in the "Appala Mountains" of western Orange.
