Mother, daughter murdered

By Bill Kerna
STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - A 13-year old girl and her mother are dead after being held in their apartment Friday by a heavily armed man who appears to be the mother's despondent ex-boyfriend, police say.

Richard Edward Lynch, 45, is in custody after police say he killed Leah Cadey, 13, and Roseanna Morgan, 29, at the Rosecliff Apartments off Lake Mary Boulevard and Country Club Road. Lynch surrendered to police after more than a 90 minute standoff.

Witness Peggy Sue Sitterly, who lives in the apartment complex, said Lynch is "a jealous ex-boyfriend" of Morgan's who was "stalking" the family. "He'd been tormenting them," Sitterly said.

The Sanford Police Department received a 9-1-1 call at 5:14 p.m. saying that eight shots had been fired. Police officers responded in five minutes, and Seminole County deputies were already on the scene one minute earlier. Police from other agencies also responded.

"One of our dispatchers made initial contact with the suspect (Lynch)," Acting Sanford Police Chief Ray Bronson said. "He was despondent with a domestic type situation."

Police on the scene heard additional gunfire from inside apartment number 534 on the third floor.

"They didn't know if the shots were fired at them or someone inside the apartment," Bronson said. "They immediately secured the perimeter and evacuated the residents."

Morgan and Leah were being held in their apartment by Lynch.

Leah's step-father, identified by neighbors as Greg Morgan, and her seven year old brother John who lives in the apartment, were out fishing together at the time.

"We were searching frantically for him (John)," Bronson said. "We knew he lived there. He came home and learned of the deaths."

Lynch surrendered to Seminole County SWAT team members and hostage negotiators at 6:57 p.m., according to Seminole County deputies.

The bodies of Morgan and Leah had been lowered to a second floor balcony by SWAT team members, Bronson said.

Lynch was questioned at the Seminole County Sheriff's Office Friday night before being taken to the Seminole County jail.

Sanford City Hall valued at $5.84 million

By Bill Kerna
STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - A private firm has appraised Sanford City Hall at $5.84 million as the City and Seminole County continue negotiating toward the county purchasing the property.

The land where City Hall is located was appraised at $1,700 million, and the building was appraised at $4.131 million. The 56,377 square foot, two story building sits on six acres.

Diversified Property Specialists of DeBary offered the estimate. The county will also need to get an appraisal on the value of City Hall before negotiations can continue.

Mayor Larry Dale is in favor of selling the City Hall property at 300 N. Park Ave. as Seminole County can expand the County Courthouse, then building a new City Hall on a lot owned by the City across from Sanford Middle School on U.S. Highway 17-92 at the corner of 18th Street and French Avenue.

Commissioner Brady Lessard and commissioner-elect A.A. "Mac" McClanahan oppose moving City Hall out of the downtown area. The commission will discuss the appraisal at Monday's 3 p.m. work session in City Hall.

The cost of building a new City Hall has been estimated at $6 million.

"We've got to make sure we keep the Courthouse downtown," Dale said. "The Courthouse is more important to

Acting Chief Bronson seeks SPD's top job

By Russ White
Staff Writer

SANFORD - Wanting to be in step from the start, Acting Police Chief Ray Bronson is one of the first applicants to respond to the city's search for Chief of Police.

Bronson, 47, is approaching his 25th anniversary with the SPD. He has been acting chief since late last year when Joe Dillard announced his retirement and went on leave after undergoing knee replacement surgery.

An outstanding QUAD commander and investigator, Bronson has been recognized for his strong administrative skills and leadership as Acting Chief. He said on Friday he considered his knowledge of the SPD and ability to lead the department to be in his favor for the permanent No. 1 job.

"The city has my application," Bronson said Friday. "I would like very to be chosen as Chief. I've been a loyal member of the SPD for 25 years. I love the job and I believe I've done it well."

If the search for a top cop goes as planned, the chief's position will be offered by City Manager Terry VanDerworp on April 11. The chief would start work on May 28. Closing dates for receipt of applications is March 23. Salary for the job is $63,315 - $79,973.

Although Bronson has considered retirement if he did not become chief, he said Friday that he intends to stay on the force - most likely as a Captain and backup to No. 1. "I will stay, I won't retire," he said.

Mayor Larry Dale said Friday that he "loved Ray Bronson to death" and said he has done "an admirable job" as acting chief. "Personally, I'd rather Ray be No. 2 and we bring in some guy who'll be able to say 'I don't care how you did things here.' There will be less sniping that way," Dale said.

This past week the SPD and the Seminole County Sheriff's Office broke ground for a community police station on 13th Street, and Bronson said that another partnership will be formed at a station on the south side of the city.

Bronson's application is among the first two dozen received at City Hall - and the lone one from an officer at the SPD. Many more have called Human Resource Director Joseph Denaro and been sent a self-assessment questionnaire that requires 16 responses.

Candidates will be asked to describe their leadership styles, tell what is the last book they read relative to administering an organization, what are their strengths and weaknesses and what they think are the strengths and weaknesses of the Police Department accreditation process.

The Police Chief Profile requires a candidate to have a combination of equivalent experience and training that would provide the required skills, knowledge and abilities.

Whoever is selected does not have to have a bachelor's degree but it would help if he or she did, and help even more if the degree was a master's.

"A typical way to qualify" would be to hold a bachelor's degree, from an accredited college or university in Police Science, Social Science, Criminal Justice, Public Administration or a related field. A BA degree with emphasis in criminology or police administration will score high - a master's higher.

The city will conduct background investigations of 6-8 finalists prior to oral interviews by the human resource director in conjunction with law enforcement agencies including a psychological assessment.

Seminole County hires private firm to select manager

By Russ White
STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - The county has hired Slavin Management Consultants in Norcross, Ga. to recruit a new county manager.

Nancy Tallent, the human resources director for Seminole County, said that the firm has already begun to advertise for candidates in various publications. Tallent said that Slavin staff will collect the applications and report progress to the county.

The county wants to find a successor to Gary Kaiser as soon as possible. Kaiser, 51, is retiring on April 15. He worked for the county for 28 years and was its first public safety director before becoming the county manager in late 1996.

After a heated debate, the county commissioners decided to use an outside recruitment firm and then have a select committee of area leaders sift through the list of candidates, recommending as many as five or six to the commission.

'Mac' & Sanford are both winners

No one in Sanford is as proud or happy about "Mac" McClanahan's return to the city commission than Carolyn (Candy) McClanahan, his wife for 52 years.

"He really loves this city," Mrs. Mac said Friday.

"He loves it enough to run for the commission 11 times and once for the mayor's job," she said. "He's won five times and lost the others. He took the losses in stride, but I didn't. I'm a poor loser."

Mrs. Mac doesn't like to stick her head very far into politics. Never has, never will. She still thinks Eleanor Roosevelt went too far. Mrs. Mac will stand by her husband, quietly. "He's the person, who's the person," she said.

World War II had just ended when the McClanahans were married in Valdosta, Ga. She was 17, he was 21 and in the Navy. He was the type of fellow who believed a man could be judged by his fresh haircut and the shine on his shoes.

The McClanahans raised three children - two boys and a girl - and have seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Mrs. Mac was exercising Friday morning with her 4-year-old granddaughter, Kelly.

Friends and neighbors have been calling to congratulate Mac on his victory this past Tuesday. There was a victory party that night and the next big event is his swearing in next month.

"Mac" McClanahan is a legend in his adopted town on Sanford. (He was born in Mineola). His newest election triumph was a romp. Bringing Back Mac was a snap. The other two guys didn't have a chance.

Mac's arrival will make for a major change on the commission. He succeeds Kerry Lyons, a thirty something who looks twenty. Mac is 73, a retired Navy Lieutenant, a member of what broadcaster Tom Brokaw calls "The Greatest Generation."

"There's no doubt the commission will be different - a lot different," Mayor Larry Dale said Friday. "There's a considerable difference in age. Mac's an independent thinker. He's been in Sanford since the 1950's. His historical awareness will benefit us. And he's sharp enough to know about the growth and the changes."

Anyone who has dealt with Mac McClanahan knows he won't step away from a good fight. He doggedly insisted Sanford keep its police force when he served recently on the select law enforcement study committee.

There are tough calls on whether to sell City Hall to the county - and for how much. And on what to do about the out-dated police station. All Souls Catholic Church is interested in purchasing the property at the present station.

This is not the same Sanford that Mac McClanahan fell in love with a half century ago but that love is as strong - even stronger - today. His old school intentions are better than any new cruel intentions. Mac is Back, and who's going to complain?

Fire awareness week begins today in Florida

While continuing work to help prevent wildfires throughout Florida, a group of public agencies and private organizations see the upcoming Prescribed Fire Awareness Week as an important opportunity to bring more attention to the need for controlled fire in Florida.

Running from March 7 through March 13, Prescribed Fire Awareness Week has become particularly important in focusing on the need for wildfire prevention in light of the wildfires that consumed 499,477 acres throughout Florida in the summer of 1998.

By burning off dead vegetation that could be ignited by lightning or arson, prescribed fires have been beneficial in providing some protection to Floridians during the past decade. Since 1995, more than 7.9 million acres have been burned in prescribed fires throughout the state.

"Prescribed Fire Awareness Week is a tremendous opportunity to remind everyone of the need and value of prescribed fire in Florida," said Harry Neal, chairman of the Central Florida Prescribed Fire Council and a scientist with Post Buckley Schuh & Jernigan in Winter Park. "By helping to prevent wildfires in Florida, prescribed burning serves a critical function in protecting our residents and environment. The council works to encourage the increased use of prescribed fire under appropriate safe conditions."

In addition to wildfire prevention, prescribed fires help restore Florida's natural environment by controlling the growth of woody species of plants. Burning also helps rejuvenate and protect habitat for animals such as the Florida scrub jay, gopher tortoise, southern bald eagle, sandhill crane, deer and wading birds.

Former Gov. Lawton Chiles and the Florida Cabinet established Prescribed Fire Awareness Week in 1997 as the second week of March each year. Three prescribed fire councils were established in Florida in 1992 to help increase public awareness, with their memberships comprised of the public agencies and private organizations involved and interested in prescribed fires.

The Central Florida Prescribed Fire Council includes public and private entities that represent Brevard, Charlotte, Citrus, Desoto, Flagler, Glades, Hardee, Hernando, Highlands, Hillsborough, Indian River, Lake, Levy, Manatee, Marion, Martin, Okeechobee, Orange, Osceola, Pasco, Pinellas, Polk St. Lucie, Sarasota, Seminole, Sumter and Volusia counties.

Because the March deadline for a number of monthly law enforcement publications had passed, the city has been able to use a job line alternative to one of the association's publication. Thus there won't be a 30-day delay before the ad runs in the April issues of the publications.

Sitterly said she was outside working on her car when she heard gunshots.

"I could smell the gunpowder," Sitterly said. "It's a gun! It's a gun, I said. I started grabbing all the kids I could, even ones I didn't know, and got in the house."

Lynch made his first court appearance today (Saturday) at 9 a.m. He is charged with first degree premeditated murder, armed kidnapping, and burglary.

What should be next for the Sanford Police Department

One of the veterans of the Sanford Police Department said a year and a half ago that anyone who has worked in the department could work on any law enforcement force in the country. Sanford, he explained, was a small town with all the big city problems.

Today's burning question: Who's best qualified to run the SPD?

Should the city go to an outside chief? Someone who has a proven track record for law enforcement and has leadership skills? Someone who has never set foot in Sanford or the SPD building on French Avenue?

Or should the city call on old reliable - Acting Chief Ray Bronson? A man with 25 years of loyal and distinguished service. A hometown product?

And should the new chief be a college grad? Possess a master's degree in criminology or police administration?

It appears the city has a good game plan. That the process will be executed with procession. That a chief will be hired by April 11 and go to work on May 28.

The nationwide search is expected to attract 200 or more candidates. The field will be narrowed to 6 of 8. The finalists will be investigated head to toe. A screening committee will rank the best of the best. City Manager Tony Van Derworp will make the call. The City Commissioners will approve.

Would could possibly go wrong?

Well, history indicates the process won't be a lay-up.

The SPD was described as "dysfunctional" just a year and a half ago. An outside study indicated pockets of dissension and sniping. The report was so dismal the study suggested the city consider disbanding the force and letting the Sheriff's Office take over. Few agree this was the route to take.

So, gradually the SPD began to right itself. Joe Dillard, who is retiring as chief this month, began the rebuilding and Ray Bronson has run the force the past three months. Both men deserve praise and our gratitude.

The SPD is a better force than it was a year and a half ago. No one can say it remains "dysfunctional."

We trust it will never be regarded that poorly again.

We do not need a federal lobbyist

On March 4 you asked, "Does county really need a federal lobbyist?" You also reminded us that Seminole County employs former Florida Lieutenant Governor Bobby Brantlov and Ed DeFuy as state lobbyists at a cost of $80,000 per year.

We do not need a federal lobbyist, and we should dismiss our state lobbyists. Why? We are already paying for this service and should not have to pay twice. Those in Washington, DC who are supposed to represent our interests are called senators and members of the House. Those in Tallahassee who are supposed to represent our interests are also called senators and members of the state Legislature.

If those whom we have elected do not serve us in such a manner that requires us to pay for additional representation then we should elect someone else. To this end, newspapers should be mindful as to their endorsement policies. No bacon, no endorsement.

School children at risk without guard

Today I went for my walk to the store on Celery Avenue. I walked along with children down Mellonville coming off the streets of Rosalia Dr. and Randolph. A little girl fell into the street on Mellonville--luckily she did not get hit. These children have to walk on Mellonville to Celery to get to a crossing guard. There is only a partial sidewalk that ends putting the children right into a brush area and it's only on one side (the sidewalk) of the street up there.

Also a little boy got hit up there on Mellonville last year trying to get past those three large dogs--not even tied up--I thought there is supposed to be a leash law in Sanford. These children should not have to experience this to get to school.

Can you look into this matter for the children?

Parking law discourages shoppers

The decision by the police department to enforce the two hour parking limits in downtown Sanford will discourage people from shopping there. Every ticket to a shopper will incur a negative reaction to the area and shoppers will go elsewhere. The cities of Lakeland and Orlando are classic examples of what happens to small businesses when parking enforcement makes shopping intolerable. With the many antique stores in the downtown area it is impossible to shop them all in two hours. If the antique shoppers leave, you can kiss your downtown area goodbye.

If they (downtown merchants) have a problem with some employees of businesses taking up parking spaces for a prolonged time, then they should address that problem, not offend and drive off customers.

On Daly running for Longwood office

I read with interest your account of Mr. Daly's "withdrawal" from the Longwood City Commission Race. Mr. Daly did not go through the required process of qualifying as a candidate for the commission. Consequently, there was nothing for him to "withdraw" from. It leaves me to all municipal elections are nonpartisan. This leaves me to wonder why Mr. Daly found it necessary to discuss his "withdrawal" with members of the Republican Executive Committee.

Regarding his statement concerning his contract with the City of Longwood, it is more than "rumors and innuendoes" that his company, TSD Systems had fallen in breach of contract with the City. The City Attorney stated in a memorandum of October 2, 1996, "I have reviewed the letters from Jim Daly of TSD Systems concerning the purchase of computers and find no validity to his objections. Additionally, this will confirm that I met with you, Shelton Smith and representatives of TSD Systems concerning their contract to upgrade and maintain the City computers. At that meeting, Jim Daly of TSD Systems agreed to replace the hardware in one computer to prove that the upgraded parts he installed was not the problem. He further agreed that if this solved the problem, he would "turn tail, apologize and replace the hardware in the other upgraded computers." In fact, replacing the hardware did correct the problem. However, the only thing that Jim Daly "turned tail" on was his promise to replace the hardware in the other upgraded computers. In my opinion, TSD Systems is in breach of its contract to upgrade and maintain the City of Longwood computers. I believe that legal action for damages against TSD Systems would be successful. However, I agree with you that such an action would cost the City more money and time than it is worth. Further, Jim Daly, at that meeting, announced that he would no longer maintain the City computers and wished to terminate the agreement.

Alarmist campaigns don't always ring true

Remember the dioxin scare? Back in the early 1980s, the Environmental Protection Agency pronounced it the deadliest chemical known to humanity. By 1991, however, the federal government was forced to admit that it was wrong; that dioxin was virtually harmless.

"If it (dioxin) is a carcinogen, it's a very weak carcinogen," conceded Dr. Vernon Houk, the federal official who needlessly ordered the evacuation of an entire town in 1983 that was supposedly contaminated by the chemical.

How about the radon scare? In the early 1990s, the EPA calculated that the radioactive gas--to which an unsuspecting individual may be exposed when he or she takes his or her daily shower, the public was warned--was responsible for as many as 30,000 lung cancer deaths each year.

Yet, as it turns out, none of the cities or states or regions of the country with high readings of radon (which is produced by decaying natural deposits of uranium) have higher-than-normal rates of lung cancer. Moreover, not one lung cancer patient has ever been identified whose illness has been positively attributed to radon.

Now we have the MTBE

scare. Methyl tertiary-butyl ether is a gasoline additive. The chemical has been around since 1979, when it was initially added to fuel to increase octane, but the Exxon and Mobil and ARCOs and Chevrons have greatly increased its use over the past decade.

That's because MTBE is what is known as an "oxygenate." Cars and trucks fueled by oxygenated gas emit less smog-producing compounds from their tailpipes than those using the old-fashioned non-oxygenated gas.

It is for that reason that a 1990 amendment of the Clean Air Act required oxygenated gas to be used in smoggy Los Angeles, San Diego and eight other metropolitan areas throughout the country which, at the time, were suffering from poor air quality.

And since 1995, when service stations throughout California began selling gasoline reformulated with MTBE, the oxygenate is credited with reducing carbon monoxide pollution by roughly 10 percent in Los Angeles and San Diego, much to the better health of the 10 million or so inhabitants of Southern California's two largest metropolises.

An outfit that calls itself Oxybusters is trying to get MTBE banned by any and all means possible. It claims that the gasoline additive is a cancer-causing carcinogen. And they direly warn that not only is this killer chemical being discharged into the air by millions of cars and trucks, it also is leeching into the underground water supply of a number of municipalities, imperiling the health of their unsuspecting residents.

Oxybusters would have the Shell and Texaco and ARCOs and Amoco stop using MTBE in favor of corn-based ethanol (which places them in an eyebrow-raising alliance with the powerful corporate interest Archer Daniels Midland). However the oil companies prefer MTBE to ethanol because it's cheaper and easier to produce and transport.

And though the EPA tried to force the oil companies to use ethanol anyway to oxygenate their gasoline, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia ruled four years ago that, while the regulatory agency had "the authority to set a standard" for cleaner gas, it could not "mandate the manner of compliance or the precise formula" for the fuel. As to the problem of MTBE leeching into municipal water supplies, that has nothing whatsoever to do with the chemical's properties and everything to do with the failure of oil companies to keep their underground storage facilities properly maintained. It should also be mentioned that, when these underground gas tanks leak, the biggest danger to the water supply is not MTBE, but benzene and toluene, two indisputable cancer-causing chemicals.

MTBE has done much to improve air quality in Southern California and other smoggy, car-infested regions of the country. It would be ludicrous for lawmakers to accede to the wishes of scare-mongering environmentalist crusaders who seek to ban the oxygenate, not because it poses a scientifically proven threat to human health, but simply because these latter-day Luddites never met a chemical they liked.

My name is Lisa Ta and I'm a Florida Ecology student at Oviedo High School. Through the Florida Ecology course I have been made very aware of the development plans for Chuluota. As a registered voter I would like to know why. The Chuluota residents voted for a Comprehensive Plan to have one house per so many acres. Not only that but a Chuluota Small Area Study was held where residents voice their opinions about what they wanted. What it came to be that a majority of the residents didn't want development. However, for some reason the majority's opinion and their votes don't matter much, because it seems as if the development plans are going through anyway. So can somebody tell me why? Why is it that a County Commissioner voted to office by the residents, not doing what the voters elected him to do? Why is the majority not being represented? The citizens don't want the plan to go through. They like their lives the way it is, peaceful and away from urban development. That's the whole point for them to move and live in Chuluota. As a registered voter I would like to have my vote count. I would like to have my voice heard. So what am I to expect the next time I want something done in my community? Should I just not try for what I want and settle for what others want? Than what's the point of voting?

Lisa Ta
Geneva

As a student at Oviedo High School, currently enrolled in a class called Florida Ecology. I have some concerns about Chuluota development and urban sprawl that I'd like to share. I have lived in Geneva since 1995 and in Orlando (Pine Hills area) prior to that moving to a rural area was a welcome relief. I think living in the country has caused me to have a greater appreciation for nature. According to the Chuluota Small Area Study conducted here (meetings were held at the school) not too long ago, I was the only one who remained ruralistic. Many residents of Chuluota and surrounding areas attended those meetings opposing urban sprawl.

A mathematical way of describing a rural area is by the number of houses per acre, which varies from one house per acre to one house per five acres to one house per ten acres. But certainly not five houses per acre! If that were the case Chuluota would almost be a metropolis. Once that happens, where will it end? If we continue to push the boundary lines further, what will become of the suburbs?

Sonia Goodrum
Geneva

Everyday I look outside to my backyard and I see woods. When I see the trees and the animals I think how nice it is to have this in my backyard. I wonder how nice it must be to be surrounded by woods like people living in Chuluota. I understand why they would argue against urban sprawl. We need to conserve what is left of our land. The Chuluota small area study held four meetings where neighbors and developers got together to deal with the issue. The outcome was that developers could build three houses per acre. That may not seem like a big deal but in reality, three houses per acre will cause lost land, and it will disturb our safe ecosystem. Most of the residents of Chuluota want their town to maintain its rural character. Why aren't they allowed to keep it the way it is? More developments mean more traffic, more money, and more destruction. The other issue being discussed in Seminole County is the Chuluota bypass. My opinion is that it is a good idea, only if it is there to resolve traffic. If houses start being built along the bypass then I think it is a bad idea. Chuluota does not need more rural areas. There may be room for a huge amount of homes, but does any area like Chuluota really need these homes? As a student involved in Ecology at Oviedo High School I believe that we need to keep Chuluota the way it is. Beautiful, quiet, and natural.

Patricia Coady
Winter Springs

I am an informed student and a registered voter. I live in Oviedo and personally I do not like how built up it has become. Chuluota is what the old Oviedo used to look like. It is a city with many trees and lots of wildlife. From my understanding you want to ruin all of this beautiful land overpopulated as Oviedo has become. This subject should be taken by majority rule and most of the citizens of Chuluota agree they want the Chuluota small area to stay rural. Even if you do not listen to the residents at least follow the Comprehensive Plan. If you feel you must ruin land at least only build one house per acre, one house per five acres, or one house per ten acres. A lot of people like to buy acres of land to build dream homes with enough land for farms. Chuluota is a quiet, nice, beautiful city. If you build all of these houses it will become a noisy, loud overpopulated city just like Oviedo.

When you build all of these houses, you will also need more schools, grocery stores, and gas stations, which will cause more land to be ruined.

There are very few places in Florida as Beautiful as Chuluota. You should be preserving this land. These are the lands that make Florida Beautiful. For once someone should listen to the people and do what they want. This country is supposed to be a democracy and that means listening to the people and making them feel like they have a say in how the country is run. Oviedo used to be a nice quiet town, where everyone knew everyone, now your lucky if you know your neighbor. One town has been ruined. Why ruin another one?

Erictin A. Dunn
Oviedo

I am a registered voter, a student at Oviedo High School, and am currently enrolled in Jay Getty's Florida Ecology class. In that class, I have learned about full-functioning ecosystems and how they can be affected by urban development. I am appalled that the county commissioners want to build-up the Chuluota area. By doing so, it can damage the function of the high recharge areas, thus decreasing the recharge of aquifers. The county commissioners should abide by their original plan--to leave Chuluota a rural area. By putting three to four houses per acre, the Commercial Realty Group will be disrupting the natural ecosystem of rural Chuluota and upsetting many residents in the area who want Chuluota to maintain its rural character. It is my understanding that Seminole County has a document called the Comprehensive Land Use Plan. This plan states how the land can and cannot be used. Well, I will tell you how the land should not be used. It should not be paved upon for roads and it should not be built upon for houses and stores. There is the wildlife which have made Chuluota their home, supposed to go if their land is taken from them? The fact is that there is no where for them to go and that many birds, deer, etc. will die as a result. So many areas in Seminole County have already been built-up, such as Oviedo. Why do we have to build-up Chuluota as well? The answer to that question is that we don't.

Christina Dye
Winter Springs

As an Oviedo High School student and a soon to be voter, I am strongly concerned about the plan to expand the Chuluota area. The urban sprawl that is planned for the East Seminole area, is not as beneficial as the developers are trying to convince the public. Aside from diminishing the wildlife habitats that presently live there, natural ecosystems are left totally bankrupt. Also, if this proposal is approved, it is a definite misrepresentation of the community's residents.

I am very aware of the benefits that a development can bring to any area. But while it provides residents with beneficial facilities, and convenience, others will suffer because of it. Since, I am currently enrolled in the Florida Ecology course at my school, today, more than ever before, I realize how necessary it is to help accommodate the needs of other living beings that share the planet with us. Wildlife habitats are in serious danger.

Over the past few years, all the development that has occurred in neighboring communities forced much of the wildlife to take refuge in the forest areas in Seminole County. Should this area be cleared away, it would leave the wildlife communities with no where to turn and eventually these habitats would slowly die out. Most species become extinct as a result of one primary factor, habitat loss.

In defense of the Chuluota residents, when the Commercial Realty Group proposed the idea to them, they responded with a resounding "no". Even though they realize they will benefit greatly from the development, they want the commissioner to realize that they are satisfied with the rural, "small town" atmosphere in which they reside. It seems that approving this plan would be direct defiance of what the residents really want. In support of conservation sincerely,

Raeann Boochus
Oviedo

I am a Florida Ecology student at Oviedo High School and I am soon to be a registered voter. I have a strong opinion regarding the Comprehensive Land Use Plan. The residents of Chuluota want to live in a rural environment. They moved and made their homes in a place that they felt was theirs. A place that was guaranteed protection against development and urbanisation.

The developers are saying repeatedly that they are helping residents of Chuluota by developing the area. "Convenience" will be brought to Chuluota. But is it really? These people are used to a simple, calm way of life. Development will only bring more people, more traffic, a lot of crime and a fantastic amount of pollution.

Sure the residents will be able to whip down to the store within a few minutes after development. But thousands of other people will be wanting to whip down to the store as well. The peace and serenity of this beautiful rural area will be bulldozed over. These people and this land were guaranteed protection by the state. Now, without reason nor warning Big Business and American Way are trying to destroy hundreds of peoples homes. So I ask: why change something that does not need changing? The people of Chuluota love their rural neighborhood. They love the peace. They love the quiet and the fresh air.

This land is rural and is promised to it's people to stay rural. So please to anyone who wants to destroy Chuluota and all it's attraction as a beautiful rural area-go make your money some place else.

A deeply concerned resident.

downtown businesses than City Hall. City Hall only has 80 to 70 employees, plus people who come in to pay a bill or whatever."

Seminole County owns 15 acres of property at Five Points in Lake Mary, and Dale said there is a possibility the County could move the Courthouse to that location.

"I hope we don't argue beyond reason," Dale said. "I expect there will be some argument, and that's fine. But, if we try to have our cake and eat it too we might not get a crumb."

Dale said building a new City Hall on U.S. 17-92 would help to revitalize the area.

"We already have a joint CRA (Community Redevelopment Agency, a special tax district) with the County on (U.S.) 17-92," Dale said. It would be better to place City Hall on a major road."

Dale said he wants a new City Hall to be more accessible to the public than the current City Hall.

"Downstairs when people come in nobody is there to greet them," Dale said. "People are always confused on how to get in. They don't know where to go. This City Hall is very poorly designed."

Manager

It is important, County Commissioner Randy Morris said, for each of the commissioners to feel comfortable about the person selected to be manager. "Who would want to be the manager in a place where there was disharmony?" Morris said.

By hiring a private recruitment firm to begin the process, the county commissioners believe the hunt will be held on a level playing field. By doing so they also are assured of privacy of names.

"This is important," Tallent said Thursday. "Sometimes candidates test the waters. They don't care to have their applications made public."

More than likely, candidates will not be named until the commissioners begin interviews of the half-dozen finalists.

Commission Chairman Carlton Henley said he wants the entire process done quickly. "We want to avoid the 16-month fiasco the county had the last time it did a nationwide search (in 1990)." Two of the top picks turned down the county offer then. Ron Rabun was hired and worked until 1996.

The county manager's job will pay in the $110,000 plus range - depending on the experience and qualifications of the person selected.

Assistant County Manager Cindy Coto may be the acting manager in case the process takes more than two months.

Sergio's is back in Sanford to stay

By Bill Kerns

STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - A landmark Sanford restaurant is holding a grand opening today (Saturday) in a new location.

Sergio's Italian Restaurant is opening at 2895 Orlando Drive, one mile north of Lake Mary Boulevard, behind ABC Liquor. After 10 years in Sanford's nearby Center Mall, Sergio's closed more than one year ago due to Seminole County road expansion. Owner Peter Rudez said he is glad to be back.

"I'm glad my customers are supporting me," Rudez said. "I'm glad to be back to serve my clientele, and I'm going to stay here. This is it."

The band Heart Attack Diner from Kingsnake Studios will perform tonight for the grand opening, with music starting at 9 p.m. Customers who buy one entree today can get the second entree of equal or lesser value for half price. There will be drink specials all night for the grand opening.

The restaurant offers daily lunch and dinner specials, with management and staff trained on crews ships to give premiere service. There will be live music on Saturdays until 1 a.m.

"We offer specialty Italian food fixed by order," Rudez said.

Manager Mick Music, who used to be an assistant manager on a cruise ship, said that waiters trained on cruise ships will help give customers an elegant dining experience.

"We have good service and the best food in the area," Music said. "You cannot find food like this in the area. We're very family operated. The atmosphere is like a home. Just walking in, it feels like a home."

Lunch is served 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., and dinner is served 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. There is a meeting conference room available.

Sergio's also offers a full liquor and sports bar, a 64 inch television, pool tables and darts, and daily drink specials.

"Something will be going on every Saturday night," Music said. "We'll have live music, karaoke, there will be a lot happening. This will be a place people can come to and have fun."

Peter Rudez is glad to be back cooking for customers in town

Where cash is king

The Small Business Development Center is under going a fundamental shift in its emphasis. No longer is the primary focus going to be on start up businesses. Now we are putting more effort into existing small businesses. This has put a new emphasis on that old adage "cash is king."

Over the years I have watched many businesses struggle because they were not vigilant in their cash management. I can also add some personal business stories of my own to this mistake. That is why I am so pushy about our clients doing cash flow statements and sticking to them. The average small business knows the value of a budget but considers themselves too busy to do such a boring task. Yet when you track the flow of cash through a business many management activities become obvious.

Do you need a seasonal line of credit and if so how much do you need? What periods of time are you flush with cash and what are you doing with it? Too many times I find that a form of checkbook management occurs. When cash is present we spend and agonize when we are short. This lack of planning and understanding of the cash flow cycle of ones business can be and frequently is fatal.

What I also find is that we get careless when we are flush. I am speaking from hard personal experience. My background includes many years in a highly seasonal business with large peaks and valleys. When the money was rolling in I would not be as tough on my accounts receivable. I wasn't nearly as cautious in my purchasing because I was having so much fun in the good times.

Small Business

But it is precisely these times that if managed correctly can provide for the slow times.

When is the last time you prepared your cash flow statement by month over the coming year? If you did, were you involved in the creation process or was this something your accountant came up with? Was your sales forecast real, and did it reflect your true collection experience? Frankly most of us consider the accounting function the most boring area of our business. If we thought the IRS would let us get away with it, we wouldn't even keep books. But what a short sighted view, just think what a difference it could make in your business if you managed your cash better.

Squeeze that cash, make sure that you are planning and getting the maximum benefit of your cash. Track your actual cash flow against your budget and deal immediately with any aberrations. This is lifeblood of your business and should be treated as the priority it truly is.

Baseball at its best

LONGWOOD - Friday night's Lyman-Lake Brantley baseball game was everything a sports-writer could hope for.

It was quick, fast-paced, the pitchers got the ball over the plate, and it ended in about 90 minutes.

That's when high school baseball is a pleasure. The game was close and the action was non-stop.

What a change from normal. Now, sportswriters love to cover sports; that's why we do it.

We just don't want to be doing it all night.

High School baseball would be a pleasure if every night were like the Lyman-Lake Brantley game.

But sometimes, I leave there with barely any sanity left.

Here are some pet peeves about high school baseball that have driven me crazy for years now and I'm just getting it out of my system. Please bear with me.

Pitchers need to spend more time concentrating on the batter and less time concentrating on third base, the dugout, the girls in the third row, etc.;

High school pitchers are not major leaguers. Getting the ball over the plate isn't that simple for them and it's the most fundamental pitching technique of all.

But too often, the pitcher seems more concerned with picking off baserunners, especially when they are inconsequential. I can't tell you how many times I've seen unnecessary runs score because a pitcher threw an errant pick-off into the dugout.

If a pitcher has a three-run lead, why is he worried about a runner on first? Worry about the batter, not the shutout.

And, please, stop trying to pick runners off of third base. Last year I can think of at least three times that runs scored because of a move to third.

Batters need to swing at the first pitch.

Thomas Boswell of the Washington Post, and probably the best baseball writer in the country, did some interesting research a few years ago. When batters put the ball into play on the first pitch they have an average near .380. Here's why: they usually see a fastball straight down the middle from a pitcher who is trying to get ahead in the count.

Why give away a strike and let the pitcher start playing games on the mound. Kirby Puckett and Tony Gwynn are two of the best first-ball hitters in recent memory, according to statistics, and they weren't exactly slouches.

Besides, what information can a high school batter get from a pitcher he's never seen before, based on a fastball down the middle?

Eliminate the bunt.: Baltimore Oriole legend Earl Weaver never cared for a bunt. His theory was, why give up an out to move a guy ahead one base when even the absolute best hitter in baseball has only a one in three chance of getting a base hit?

I once saw former Boston Red Sox manager John McNamara bunt in five consecutive innings to move his runners over and it didn't work once. Never give away an out. You only get 21 a game in high school, so make the most of them.

Please stop the parties at the pitchers mound.:

I don't care if the pitcher has the bases loaded with no one out and Mark McGwire is at the plate.

The pitcher knows what's going on. What in the world is a catcher going to tell the pitcher in a time like that?

In high school baseball, though, it's cause for a tea party. Usually the middle in-

Graves grounds Patriots

Matt Skelton was 2-for-3 with a double and drove in the insurance run to back the outstanding pitching of Kevin Graves as Lyman shut out Lake Brantley 2-0 in a 6A-3 and SAC baseball game Friday night at Lyman.

Lyman junior pitches a 'perfect' game in 2-0 win over Lake Brantley

By Jeff Berlinicke
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

LONGWOOD - Lyman pitcher Kevin Graves knew he had just pitched a pretty good game, he just didn't know how good.

Neither did Lyman coach Bob McCullough.

But Graves faced the minimum 21 batters in a 2-0 complete-game shutout of state power Lake Brantley in a Seminole Athletic Conference and Class 6A-District 3 contest at Lyman High School Friday.

Graves allowed only four singles and no walks. Three of the runners were wiped out on double plays and the other was thrown out stealing.

It was the equivalent of a perfect game for Graves (3-0), who registered his second complete game of the year for the Greyhounds (4-6).

"I just try to do my best every time out," said Graves, a junior on a young team. "I never expect to get blown away by anybody."

Lake Brantley isn't just anybody. The Patriots are two years removed from a state title (Lyman won it in 1996), and still has one of the most dangerous lineups in the county.

But, after Lyman was able to scratch out some runs, Graves never wavered and ended the game with a double-play inducing fastball.

"Kevin did a super job," McCullough said. "I couldn't have asked for a better effort."

The Greyhounds have gotten off to a slow start this season, but McCullough said he wasn't concerned. The Greyhounds started off playing in a few tournaments and, with a young pitching staff.

McCullough said the early part of the season was a learning process.

Lyman learned a lot, taking on a Lake Brantley team that came in at 6-1 and is one of four teams - Lake Mary and Oviedo the others - who should battle it out for district supremacy this season.

The Greyhounds struck first in the third inning. Lake Brantley struck back in the fourth. Please see Lyman, Page 3B

Lubrano tosses another shutout

By Tony DeSantis
CORRESPONDENT

OVIEDO - Oviedo High School's Paul Lubrano may be the luckiest pitcher in the Seminole Athletic Conference ... he always seems to be pitching when the other team doesn't score any runs.

On Friday night, Lubrano tossed his third consecutive shutout as the Lions blanked the Winter Springs Bears, 10-0, in an SAC game stopped in the bottom of the fifth inning by the 10-run mercy rule.

In his three starts so far this season, Lubrano is 3-0 with three shutouts and three complete games. Two of his complete game shutouts have come in five-inning, run-rule wins, but that's quibbling.

So far this season, Lubrano has surrendered four hits in 17 innings of work, striking out 21 (seven Friday night) and walking 12.

"What was most impressive about Paul's effort was that he didn't have his best stuff tonight," said Oviedo coach Kenne Brown.

"He wasn't very sharp, but he had enough poise to make good pitches when he had to."

Lubrano, who threw a no-hitter his last time out against Florida Air Academy, gave up just two hits against Winter Springs. He did, however, walk seven batters and ended up stranding eight Bears on base.

In the first and fourth innings, Winter Springs had runners on first and second base but were unable to score.

The Bears (who advanced a runner to third base in the second inning) loaded the bases in the top of the fifth inning before Lubrano killed the rally with a strikeout.

As Brown has been fond of pointing out all season, Lubrano wasn't solely responsible for the shutout.

Third baseman Kenny Starling made a brilliant play in the top of the first inning to turn a potential infield hit into an out.

In the third inning, shortstop Justin Holmes and second baseman Jered Goodwin combined to turn an inning-ending double play.

"This is a team game," said Brown. "Last Friday, Paul pitched a masterful game against Florida Air. Tonight, he didn't have his best control, but his teammates picked him up with some key defensive plays."

"The result was the same - a win for the team."

Lubrano also had considerable offensive support as the Lions collected eight hits (three for extra bases) against a pair of Winter Springs pitchers.

Javie Alvarez led the assault by going 2-for-2 with a two-run home run (his second in as many games). Holmes went 2-for-3 with a double off of the top of the right fielder. Please see Baseball, Page 3B ley pitcher Scott Myers (2-1) was matching Graves out of, but Matt Skelton led off the frame with a slicing double down the right field line.

After he was bunted over to third, Bill Hess hit a bouncer to second but Lake Brantley's Gabriel Figueroa fired home to cut off Skelton.

Hess then stole second and after Dave Milton was hit by a pitch, Graves singled to center to put Lyman up 1-0.

It was all Graves would need as he continued to mow down the Patriots. In the Lake Brantley fourth inning, Austin Peay-bound Justin Harris singled to left to break up Graves' no-hit bid, but was gunned down by Lyman catcher Kit Kaminsky.

Lyman got an insurance run in the fifth inning.

Freshman Chase Rozell reached on an error, and, after a walk, Kip Heater bunted both runners over. Skelton followed with a bleeder between short and third, and Lyman was up.

Belders join in while the rest of the infield gathers solemnly at second base to discuss strategy.

If a coach hasn't stressed situational strategy to his team by that time, he shouldn't be a coach.

Then the outfielders get together for a chat in center field and, of course, the batter and baserunners have to head to third base to discuss strategy on how to run.

If there are two outs, run on anything. If less, stay close on a fly ball, move on a grounder.

2-0. Graves did the rest. Adam Klingler led off the Lake Brantley seventh inning with a sharp single to left, but Graves followed with a strikeout and induced the game-ending double-play.

Skelton was 2-for-3 with a double and an RBI, while Graves was 2-for-3 with an RBI for Lyman, while Figueroa was

2-for-2 for Lake Brantley. The Greyhounds will play three games next week, hosting Lake Howell on Wednesday and LAKE MARY - Tony Corrao hurled a two-hit shutout and Jose Torres and Daniel Sanford drove in runs as Lake Mary blanked Lake Howell, 5-0, in a Class 6A-District 3 and Seminole Athletic Conference baseball game Friday night at Lake Mary High School.

The Rams (8-1), which also only had two hits, scored a run in the bottom of the third inning and then added four insurance runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to drop the Silver Hawks to 4-5.

Corrao, a senior righthander, raised his record to a perfect 3-0.

One of Lake Mary's hits came on a double by Torres.

Tony Corrao (left) and Maria Duval (above) both tossed two-hit shutouts to lead Lake Mary and Seminole, respectively, to district victories Friday night. Corrao's gem came in a 5-0 victory over Lake Howell, while Duval's beauty came in a 3-0 blanking of Deltona-Pine Hills.

victory of the season against just two losses and topped its district mark an unblemished to 5-0.

"Maria (Duval) pitched a real good game," said Seminole coach David Rogers. "The team was outstanding. The girls are playing at a real high level, right where they should be. They are really together right now, playing good team ball."

Duval, a senior righthander, struck out six in raising her record to 4-1.

Offensively, catcher Megan Ganitt, a freshman, was 2-for-3 with a double to lead the five-hit attack.

Also contributing were Duval (1-for-2, RBI), junior Angela Keefer (1-for-2), junior Lakeita Bryant (1-for-4) and freshman Joelle Moore and senior Melissa Witt (one RBI each).

The Fighting Seminoles have a big week in front of them as they go on the road to play district foes Oak Ridge and Deltona and defending Class 6A State Champion Lake Mary. The Tribe goes to Orlando on Tuesday for a 4 p.m. contest with Oak Ridge, takes on the Rams on Wednesday at 7 p.m. and then goes to Deltona to face the Wolves at 4:15 p.m. on Friday.

CASSELLBERRY - Sarah Smith scattered four hits and was also 2-for-2 at the plate as Lake Mary edged Lake Howell, 3-2, in a Class 6A-District 3 and Seminole Athletic Conference softball game at Eunice Smith Field Thursday afternoon.

The Silver Hawks, who lost to the Rams in the district championship game last spring, scored a run off Smith in the bottom of the first inning.

Lake Mary (8-1) tied the score in the top of the third inning and then took the lead for good with a pair of runs in the top of the sixth inning.

Lake Howell (4-4) scored its final run in the bottom of the sixth inning, but could get no closer.

In addition to Smith, who improved to 5-0 on the season, Jackie Crispell also excelled at the plate, contributing a double to the Rams five-hit attack.

Bander paced the Silver Hawks hitting, going 2-for-3, while DelMichele added a triple. Heather Borsum saw her record fall to 2-2 despite allowing only five hits.

Nothing less than straight A's will do

By Jeff Berlinke
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR
 Teague Middle School 8th-grader Christy Foley admits she has some struggles when it comes to math.

It's too bad everyone's struggles are so small. Christy has never achieved anything below an A since she began kindergarten.

With a fiercely competitive drive, she is determined to do the best she can, and now is trying to accomplish something else.

She has attended the College Gifted Program at the George School in Newtown, Penn., and wants the opportunity to go back this summer.

To do that, she needs to raise $2,550. And she has taken it upon herself to raise the funds.

"I attended camp there two years ago and I loved it," Christy, mature far beyond her years, said. "It can just be a bit expensive and I don't want to put another financial burden on my parents. I need to see if I can find some help on my own."

She is asking businesses or anyone else for a donation so that she can make a return to George School. It certainly made an impression the first time.

"I learned so much when I was there," she said. "I want to be ready when I start at Lake Brantley next year. I want to take A.P. Biology, Honors Geometry and Computer Programming and they offer great classes on all of them at George School."

She said she wants to be a journalist or a lawyer after college, but also realizes that computer skills are the wave of the future.

Her present is pretty booked right now. In addition to spending time studying, she is President of the Teague Junior Beta Club, a member of the school's symphonic and marching bands and also works long hours at TNN (Teague News Network).

For the Junior Beta Club, Christy puts in 145 hours of community service each year, helping at Wekiva Elementary School where her mother is on the faculty, and working at the Southwest Branch of the Seminole County Public Library. She's even offered incentives for fellow members of the Junior Beta Club.

"If our club can get to 1,500 hours of community service total, I'll take them to Busch Gardens," she said. "I'll do it because I love challenges. If I haven't done something, it sounds interesting."

She credits her parents for helping her along the way.

"My parents always tell me to never be disappointed if I just do my best," Christy said. "It's a great way that they have motivated me for life."

It was Christy's mom that heard about the George School three years ago. The school sits on 250 acres about an hour away from Philadelphia and offers motivated students an opportunity to increase their knowledge by taking rigorous academic courses. It also offers cultural experiences and exploration of some of Philadelphia's historical sites.

Christy has already started her fundraising efforts by tutoring and babysitting, but she needs help. Anyone looking to help Christy reach her goal should send contributions to College Gifted Programs, RE: Christy Foley, 120 Littleton Rd., Suite 201, Parsippany, N.J., 07054-1803.

Crooms test scores on the rise

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

The faculty and staff of Crooms Academy are proud of the pattern of improvement for the students on the standardized tests used to measure student achievement across the district. This improvement reflects the commitment of all the constituents of the Crooms community to improve student performance and raise academic achievement.

Analysis of ABACUS scores revealed significant improvement which has been achieved in a number of subject areas since the administration of these exams began three years ago. Over this span of time, the English 1 score climbed 26 percentage points from 35 percent to 61 percent. This progress represents a 74 percent increase in the school's average score on this exam. The algebra 1 score improved 15 percentage points from 33 percent to 48 percent. This progress represents a 45 percent increase in the school's average score on this exam. The American History score rose 6 percentage points from 19 percent to 35 percent. This progress represents a 16 percent increase in the school's average score on this exam.

Review of the cumulative HSCT scores also revealed an encouraging trend of improvement in the percentage of students passing this exam. The percentage of students reported to have successfully completed the Communications section of the HSCT during school year 1997-1998 was 51 percent. This represents a 27 percent increase over the percentage of students (41 percent) successfully passing this same section of the HSCT the previous school year. On the Mathematics section of the exam the percentage of students reported to have successfully passed this section during the 1997-1998 school year was 40 percent. This represents an increase of 38 percent over the percentage of students (29 percent) successfully passing this same section of the HSCT the previous school year.

The administration, faculty and staff would like to take this time to say thank you to all parents for your commitment to your child and Crooms Academy.

WIN AT BRIDGE

There is no substitute

There is one more slight suit problem. However, I wish to delay looking at that until next week. The final deal of the week is something that highlights the necessity for thought. Although you think you can see the hidden defense, don't forget to follow the advice of Claude Parent, a French scientist and philosopher. He pointed out: "We run carelessly to the precipice, after we have put something before us to prevent ourselves from seeing it." Ask yourself both what might go wrong, and if an alternative defense might be better.

How should the defense proceed against four spades?

It isn't so obvious for East to play three clubs of hearts. Dummy partner can ruff higher than the dummy. Yet if East plays that third heart, he ends up a loser. As West cannot beat dummy's top spade, declarer ruffs (or overruffs) in dummy, draws trumps, overtakes the club queen with dummy's king, and discards two diamond losers on the ace-jack of clubs. He gets no over-trick, but who cares when there were four top losers?

BRIDGE

East should have asked himself this question: "What if partner cannot beat dummy's top spade?" Then the best chance for the defense is to try to cash two diamond tricks. At trick three, East should introduce an interference. He should cash the diamond ace and look closely at his partner's signal.

If West can overruff the dummy, he will drop his lowest card to discourage a diamond continuation. But here, he will signal enthusiastically with the 10. Now East will lead another diamond to defeat the contract.

Peck has been touring his "one man show" in support of small regional theaters around the country. At the top of A Grand Evening with Gregory Peck, the audience enjoys a specially produced video montage of memorable moments from more than fifty years of film making. In the next segment, Peck tells amusing stories about his career, family and colleagues. In the final hour, the audience comes into the conversation with a question and answer session.

Tickets are now on sale at the box office, 454 S. Yonge Street, Suite B, Ormond Beach, FL or by calling 904/252-8200. Prices have been set at $25, $35, $50, and $75, as well as a golden circle ticket for $300 by invitation only. For more information, call (904) 252-3394.

Musical and original artwork by John Dees will welcome spring to the Florida International Festival Guild Garden Party held at the Mirador of Arts in Daytona Beach March 22 at 4 p.m. The afternoon's theme, "Melodies of Spring," is new; but the party's main attraction—the unveiling of the Festival Pin—is becoming a tradition.

John Dees, owner of Mainly Gold at 223-1/2 Seabreeze Blvd., Daytona Beach, will present his 1999 pin crafted especially for the Festival, which will come to East Central Florida July 23 through Aug. 8. This is the fourth time the local artist has donated his pin to celebrate the biennial event.

The 1997 festival pin, valued at $2,500, incorporated an underwater theme and music in gold accented with diamonds and cultured pearls. The lucky winner was Holly Ann Matthews.

Dees declined to reveal the theme of this year's design at this time, but he hinted it would surpass the fine quality of the previous pin. Deane Davis, 1999 Guild Chairperson, asked Dees to create an item saluting the festival's theme back in 1993. Since that day, Dees said the project has "taken on a life of its own."

In 1981, the London Symphony Orchestra (LSO) named Daytona Beach and Volusia County its "Official American Summer Home," although the 1999 Florida International Festival will host its more than 80 events in Flagler and Seminole counties as well as Volusia.

The Festival Guild is responsible for looking after the comfort and needs of the LSO's 100 plus members and those of other Festival artists during their stay in the Daytona Beach area. The Garden Party, co-chaired by Fern Dytke and Kathy Blase; and the Festival Pin are important parts of the Guild's fund-raising efforts. The Guild will raffish the pin for a suggested donation of $5 per ticket or $10 for three, and announce the winner at the Festival Guild Ladies Luncheon Aug. 6.

Tickets to the event are available for $15 each and include refreshments served by Guild members. For more details, call Volunteer-Guild Coordinator Beth Mason at (904) 252-1511, ext. 457.

RITZ Update

Helen Stairs, chairman of the Ritz Community Theatre board of directors, displays an advertisement that was used to promote the theater in the 1960s. Sanford's younger residents waited in long lines to get their "free" movie in exchange for six RC Cola bottle caps.

Theater expected to draw record crowds

SANFORD - By the end of the year, the million dollar restoration project for the Ritz Community Theatre could be finished. A study shows the theater may attract nearly 250,000 people into Sanford's Historic District per year.

The Ritz Theatre will host movies, live plays, recitals, classes in arts, dance and theater, lectures, youth ensembles, and other programs. "We hope to be a catalyst for cultural activity in the Seminole County community," Helen Stairs, chairman of the Ritz Community Theatre Project Board of Directors, said. "Magnolia Square has the potential to be a hub for cultural arts activity in the downtown area."

When the project is finished, about $1 million will have been spent to restore the Ritz Theatre since September 1996. A feasibility study in 1996 estimated that the theater will attract 245,000 people per year.

"We'll attract at least that many people," Stairs said. "I think that number is conservative. This is going to be a multi-cultural facility, with a variety of productions and presentations."

A new roof has been installed. Architectural design and engineering is complete, as is demolition of the interior of the building. An original window, plus lighting fixtures, paint samples, curtain material and a fountain in the lobby are stored so the original quality of the theater can be duplicated.

Steel trusses have replaced the wooden trusses. The crawl space and trap door that was used by magicians will remain under the stage. The orchestra pit will be restored.

The balcony floor has been replaced, and lumber is being stored to continue replacing the second floor. The handicapped ramps have been installed and rough-in electrical supplies are installed. All rough-in plumbing is complete.

All debris has been removed from the building, including the marquis. Water tie-in and sewer tie-ins were provided during the demolition of Second Street.

By September, of this year, $457,000 in Seminole County Community Development Block Grant funding will be spent to restore the Ritz Community Theatre. Work is underway on the doors and windows, mechanical, electrical, and plumbing systems.

The Ritz Community Theatre Project has been recommended for state funding of $279,551 by the Florida Department of State that will complete the project. Ritz Theatre supporters are lobbying legislators this month to approve the funding.

The state funding would pay for termite control, masonry, wood and plastic concrete, electrical work, and thermal and moisture work. All the work will be performed by licensed contractors.

The first phase of restoring the Ritz Theatre is complete. This phase included constructing the roof, interior beams, electrical work, plumbing work, installing handicapped ramps, as well as designing the stage and architectural engineering plans.

The Ritz Theatre, previously known as the Milne Theater, was constructed in 1921. The state-of-the-art theater had a 30-by-60 foot stage that is still intact. The theater's doors closed in 1984 due to declining attendance.

The Ritz Community Players currently give performances in a large renovated studio over Arts and Ends in Sanford's Historic District. The 1999 Season began with performances of Neil Simon's "I Ought to be in Pictures" from Jan. 29 through Feb. 16.

"We're doing plays, number one, so Ritz will stay in the public eye," Stairs said. "We want everybody to enjoy these plays. They also pay for insurance, telephone bills, things that you can't get grant funding for."

Live performances will only be a small portion of what the Ritz Theatre will offer, Stairs said.

The theater will also offer acting classes, ballet classes, serve as a magnet school for the arts, and it will be open for seminars, Stairs said.

"Children not exposed to the arts at home will have an opportunity to experience the arts here," Stairs said. "We don't want to have one dark night. That theater probably has the best acoustics ever built. There are no pillars. You can speak in a normal voice, and people can hear you in the balcony."

Stairs said the most common question she is asked is "who owns the theater?"

"The theater is owned by the community," Stairs said. "The community of Seminole County and the city can enjoy the theater."

The Ritz is raising money to purchase chairs in the theater by selling commemorative chairs for $500 each. A sample chair is being displayed at Arts and Ends. Chair sales will also help to provide at least one year of operation capital for the Ritz. Furnishings for the theater can not come out of grant money.

By July, the Board plans to hire a manager/director to arrange the 1999/2000 season.

The Ritz Community Players and the Production Committee are looking into staging a production in the summer that will give young people an opportunity to get involved.

"We want to involve more people," Ron Ross, President of the Cultural Arts Council, said. "We want to involve younger people."

Information on the Ritz is available by calling (407) 232-7323 or 232-2315.

Construction crews have refurbished the stage area of the Ritz Theatre. A band shell, that at one time housed an orchestra, has been preserved. Several artifacts that were discovered in the theater, such as film reels and projection equipment, have been contributed to the Sanford Museum.

The Webelos were led by firelight to a special ceremonial arch built by Troop 854. In a very special ceremony, the Webelos crossed over from Cub Scouts to Boy Scouts. Woman wants respect of 'almost' family

DEAR ABBY: My fiance and I had a child three years ago. (I know we should have waited until we were married, but we didn't.) I also have other children. When his parents learned I was pregnant, they wanted me to have an abortion. I refused. Ever since my daughter was born, they have become doting grandparents. They want her to themselves as much as possible.

Abby, they treat me and my other children badly, and they get upset when I call it to their attention. Please help to convince them to treat the children equally and to be civil to me.

ALMOST DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

DEAR ALMOST DAUGHTER-IN-LAW: Being an "almost" daughter-in-law is like being a "little bit" pregnant. Either you are or you aren't. Perhaps they are waiting until their son makes you part of the family before they feel comfortable treating you that way.

However, as disapproving as they may feel about your relationship with their son, they should be told that their obvious favoritism for their granddaughter is creating ill feelings among the other siblings. And they should curb it because it's unfair to her to be resented for something over which she has no control.

DEAR AUNT PHYLLIS: My deepest sympathy to you and to the child's grieving parents for your tragic loss. Thank you for wanting to alert other parents of small children that if they have pet doors in areas where children can play, those doors should be secured or the little ones confined to another area. Constant adult supervision is imperative.

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing to relate our tragic story in the hope that other lives may be saved. Last May, our beautiful 2-year-old nephew drowned in the backyard pool. His parents were diligent about safety gates, locks and latches in their home. They had thought of everything the baby could possibly get into.

Tragically, they didn't think of one thing - the pet door. While his mother was making homemade ice cream, he slipped through it and into the back yard. By the time she had raced through the house twice looking for him, it was too late.

This has been the most difficult thing our family has ever been through, and we will never get over it. I pray every day for his mother and father. The guilt and heartache they both feel are unimaginable.

Please, Abby, tell your readers that no matter how small a pet door is, a child may still be able to go through it. There didn't have to be a
